A quick look at today's news

Local Stuff

SENIORS BUSY

•It's a busy time coming up for Hereford High School seniors. Here's a quick look at their schedule for this month:
 --May 15-graduation practice, 4 p.m., Whiteface Gym
 --May 16--Senior awards, 7:30 p.m., Whiteface Gym.
 --May 18-Senior prom, 6 p.m., community center.
 --May 19-Baccalaureate, 8 p.m., Whiteface Gym.
 --May 31--Graduation, 7 p.m., Whiteface Stadium.

COMMUNITY BAND

•If you're interested in playing in a Community Band, there'll be a meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the HHS band hall. Fingering charts will be available; nothing was said about oxygen. Organizers hope the band can participate in upcoming parades and other activities.

BLOOD DRIVE

•The Hereford High School National Honor Society will sponsor a blood drive May 15th from 2:30-7 p.m. at the HHS auditorium. High school students participating will be entered in a contest for a new car; adults will be entered in a drawing for a trip to Mexico, shopping spree at Furr's, a freezer with a 1/4 beef, color TV and 200 gallons of gas.

PET SHOW

•It's not too late to enter the Women's Division Pet Show, Saturday at 3 p.m. at Sugarland Mall. Entry fee is $2 per person, and entries will be accepted beginning at 2:30 p.m. at the Mall.

Sports Stuff

STATE MEET

•It's a busy day today in Austin for Hereford athletes: the golf team is in the hunt for a medal at the state golf meet; Brenna Reinauer opens play in the state tennis tournament; and Teresa Castillo runs both the 1,600 meters and the 3,200 meters tonight in Austin.

TV Stuff

TONIGHT

•What is this, "Military Night" on HBO (Ch. 20)? We suppose it is, with the fare offered. At 6:30 p.m., we roll out the thunder of Navy jets with Tom Cruise in "Top Gun," and at 8:30 p.m. Sean Connery goes deep with Alec Baldwin in "Hunt for Red October."

Weather

RAIN CHANCES

•There's a 30% chance of showers and thunderstorms, some possibly severe, today and Saturday. There is a possibility some of the storms could be severe, so keep an eye on the sky this weekend. The long-range forecast gives us a chance for rain through Tuesday.

Ready for Saturday's pet show

Danna and Duston Brooks and their dog, Buddy, are ready for Saturday's annual pet show, sponsored by the Women's Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. The show will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday at Sugarland Mall. Entries, at $2 per person, will be accepted beginning at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the mall. Over 20 trophies will be awarded at the show, and organizers said adults and children are welcome to enter.

Bush clips Sununu's wings on plane travel

WASHINGTON (AP) - John Sununu may be flying less frequently now that President Bush is curtailing his chief of staff's right to take government jets and is making him get an OK for all trips.

Bush said Thursday that "to ensure that military aircraft are used only when necessary," the White House counsel will review Sununu's travel request "on a case-by-case basis."

Instead of taking the aircraft on all his personal, political and official travel as he had done previously, Sununu must meet new requirements.

The policy, developed in the wake of disclosures about Sununu's frequent use of military planes, even for ski vacations and trips to the dentist, states:

"Official travel on the government aircraft will be authorized "where security, communications or scheduling needs require" use of the planes.

"Personal travel will be allowed only if those same requirements are met and there is "an immediate and compelling need for personal travel" such as serious illness of a close relative.

"Political trips will be barred - "to avoid the appearance that taxpayer dollars are being used to subsidize political travel" - unless the political activity is conducted as part of a trip that is primarily official in nature or the president approves the travel.

"The counsel's office must make the determination that a trip is primarily official in cases where personal or political activities are involved.

Under the previous policy, Sununu decreed which were official trips and which were non-official and required reimbursement to the government.

The new policy covers the chief of staff and national security adviser but does not extend to Cabinet members. The White House noted specifically that the secretaries of state and defense and the attorney general use government aircraft for all travel, "pursuant to longstanding policies" due to security and communications needs.

Bush had defended Sununu as acting within existing policy, but ordered his legal counsel, Boyden Gray, to conduct the review that resulted in Thursday's new rules.

Records on Sununu's travel released with the new policy show he took 76 trips, seven of which were classified as personal, from April 16, 1989, to May 4, 1991.

Sununu reimbursed the government $892 from his own pocket, while his private political fund, left from his days as governor of New Hampshire, reimbursed $8,274 in combination with other sponsors.

"I'm pleased with the review that was done," Sununu said in an interview with The Associated Press on Thursday. "I told them when they did the review I would agree with whatever assessments and recommendations that they made."

Workers' comp law ruled unconstitutional

EAGLE PASS, Texas (AP) - Supporters of the Texas workers' compensation system said they are confident the Texas Supreme Court will overturn a state district judge's ruling declaring the law unconstitutional.

But critics of the new compensation system said the ruling by Judge Rey Perez of Maverick County exposed the law as the unfair statute it is. The Texas AFL-CIO and several workers filed the suit.

"The court declares the entire enactment unconstitutional and void," Perez said in his decision Thursday. The judge said the law uses "arbitrary and unreasonable" impairment guidelines for injured workers and limits employees' access to the courts.

Attorneys for the state immediately gave notice they would appeal to the Texas Supreme Court.

Attorney General Dan Morales said his office anticipated the ruling and believes the state's position will be upheld by the higher court.

"My office is not just defending the specific details of the new workers' comp system in Eagle Pass," he said. "We are defending the integrity of legislative intent and seeking to avoid dismantling the progress made in addressing the crisis in workers' comp rates."

The Texas Legislature passed the business-backed workers' comp reform bill in 1989 after two grueling special sessions. Then-Gov. Bill Clements signed the measure into law.

House Speaker Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, said he was disappointed by the ruling. "I think it's a good bill and should be constitutional. I think the appellate court will find that also."

The Texas AFL-CIO filed the lawsuit in Maverick County on the Texas-Mexico border, where there is a large population of seasonal farm workers. The labor group contends those workers are among those discriminated against by the new law.

"Obviously we're very elated by the ruling. It feels like it vindicates the position we've taken all along," said Bill Whitehurst, co-counsel for the Texas ALF-CIO.

Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, said he wasn't surprised.

"The Workers' Compensation Act attempted to solve problems of compensation at the expense of caring employers and injured workers. This court trial has exposed this legislation as the special interest scheme that it was," Parker said.

Gov. Ann Richards said through her press secretary, Bill Cryer, she knew when the law was passed there were problems with it. Cryer said the appellate process probably will take a year.

"In the meantime, we're going to be working to overhaul workers' compensation," Cryer said.

Hereford's tax rate ranks low

Hereford citizens paid local property taxes for the 1989-90 fiscal year that ranked in the bottom 20 percent of the state, according to an annual report by the Texas Research League.

In the Panhandle cities researched, only Dumas had a lower tax burden. Hereford ranked 310th out of 382, while Dumas was ranked 363rd. Tulia had the highest tax burden among area towns and was ranked 42nd in the state. Also ranked in the top 100 were Perryton(69), Canadian(86) and Borger(93).

City residents taxes for city, school, county, and hospital district totalled $1,664.8 per $100 valuation for the 1989-90 year. The total, based on "true" tax rate, is calculated by adjusting the ratio of appraisal to market value in order to more accurately compare districts. Local property taxes were appraised at 92.5 percent of value.

The total tax burden was $1,462.9 in Dumas, $1,698.3 for Childress, $1,733.0 for Pampa, $1,804.9 in Canyon, $1,819.5 in Dimmitt, $1,939.4 in Dalhart, $2,109.1 in Amarillo, $2,144.5 at Borger, $2,160.1 in Canadian, $2,208.6 at Perryton and $2,336.1 at Tulia.

The highest rate in the state is paid by Crystal City, whose tax burden is $2.89 per $100 valuation. The least among those researched was Highland Park in Dallas, with $1.1031. Lowest in West Texas was Seminole(ranked 377th) at $1.2849 per $100 valuation.

Hereford's total was based on 38.84 cents for the city, a 72.59 cent-levy for the school, 43.44 for the county, and 11.61 for the hospital district. Actual rates for the current year are 42 cents for the city, 91.43 for the school, 46.97 for the county, and 13.2 for the hospital district.

Translated into dollars, the $1,664.8 combined rate meant that homeowners of a $80,000 home paid $1,332. If exemptions were taken for a homestead, the owner paid $1,293, and if owned by a senior citizen, $1,066.

Comparisons in the area on a $80,000 home, with homestead exemption: Hereford $1,293; Canyon $1,406; Pampa $1,347; Borger $1,417; Perryton $1,539; Dumas $875; Dalhart $1,193; Amarillo $1,653.

Tax rates in Texas increased 9.7 percent in 1989-90, according to the report. This increase occurred despite a $15 billion drop in property values, as local governments raised tax levies by $745 million to a total of $11.3 billion.

Local governments in Texas relied upon the property tax to finance 37.1 percent of their budgets in 1989. Counties relied upon this tax for 45.7 percent of general revenue; followed by school districts, 43.4 percent; cities, 29.5 percent; and special districts, 12.9 percent.

The report gives high marks to county appraisal districts. "The valuation of property in Texas for tax purposes continues to improve with ratios in most counties clustering around full 100 percent of market value," said Gary Wood, president of Texas Research League.

Property taxes

Here is a comparison of the tax burden on area cities and their rank in the state (the higher the rate, the lower the rank) and the taxes on an $80,000 home.

	Total tax rate	Rank
Dumas	$1.4629	363
Hereford	$1.6648	310
Pampa	$1.7330	277
Canyon	$1.8049	248
Dalhart	$1.9394	181
Amarillo	$2.1091	105
Borger	$2.1445	93
Perryton	$2.2086	69

Taxes on an $80,000 home

	Total rate	Homestead	Over 65
Dumas	$1,076	$875	$617
Dalhart	$1,248	$1,193	$1,084

Armenian town surrenders arms

ARTZVASHEN, U.S.S.R. (AP) - Surrounded by tanks and fearful of attack, residents of this mile-high Armenian town in the rugged mountains of Azerbaijan reluctantly gave up their weapons to the Soviet army and were left in peace.

Artzvasheh's 3,000 residents handed over 11 machine guns, 27 hunting rifles and a handful of grenades Thursday, avoiding the fate of at least six other villages seized by Soviet troops in the last 10 days along the Armenian-Azerbaijani border.

"They said they would destroy the town, and I think they would have," Artzvasheh police Sgt. Agvan Yeremian said. "It's all the same to them that women and children and old people are living here."

Artzvasheh, 90 miles northeast of the Armenian capital Yerevan, is a predominantly Armenian town four miles inside Azerbaijan.

Bridal shower held for Misti Hardin

Misti Lynn Hardin, June 29 bride-elect of Jimmy Lee Chancellor, was honored with a morning bridal shower May 4 in the home of Beth Gearn.

Welcoming guests with Miss Hardin were Barbara Hardin, the honoree's mother; Fredda Hardin and Vera Dell Davis, the honoree's grandmothers; and Harreit Chancellor, mother of the prospective groom.

Joyce Allred invited guests to register. Refreshments of hot spiced punch, coffee, pineapple muffins, apple cinnamon muffins, fruit plate, and sausage balls were served from a table centered with a floral arrangement and accessories of muted purple and lilacs. Also, decorating the table was an antique silver service with antique crystal.

The shower honoree was presented a microwave oven by hostesses: Beth Gearn, Jean Petty, Oleta Tisdale, Alene Tindal, Joyce Allred, Barbara Manning, Jo Ann Hill, Barbara Cochran, and Joyce Duggan.

Odor eaters that will keep your refrigerator sweet: charcoal, dried used coffee grounds, a piece of vanilla bean or vanilla-soaked cotton, baking soda or a wad of crumpled newspaper.

Hints from Heloise

EARRINGS

Dear Heloise: My little girl has pierced ears but she doesn't wear earrings all the time.

When I put earrings in her ears, I put antibiotic ointment on the posts. It helps the earrings go in easier and the medicine keeps her ears from getting infected. — Christi Harris, Port Washington, N.Y.

HANDBAG SHOULDER STRAPS

Dear Heloise: I like shoulder-strap handbags, but one of the two straps invariably slips off my shoulder constantly. I finally came up with an idea that works great for me.

I machine-stitched a 2-inch strip of self-adhesive tape to the one strap at the shoulder and the other piece of it to the second strap. They now automatically snap together nicely when I use the handbag.

Of course, the tape pulls apart easily when I want it to. — Virginia Weiss, Lehigh Acres, Fla.

Send a money- or time-saving hint to Heloise, P.O. Box 795000, San Antonio TX 78279 or fax it to 512-HELOISE. I can't answer your letter personally but will use the best hints received in my column.

Zora Rader to celebrate birthday

The family of Mrs. Zora Rader will be honoring her with an 88th birthday party Saturday, May 11, at the Sirloin Stockade.

Mrs. Rader was born May 10, 1903, in DeLeon, Texas. As the oldest living member of the Thomas children, she will be surrounded by two sisters, Myrtle Goertz of Littlefield and Ada Durham of Hereford; two daughters, Ruth Davis of Idalou and La Verne Payne of Hereford; seven grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren. A host of nieces and nephews also plan to be at the celebration.

ST. THOMAS EPISCOPAL CHURCH

St. Thomas Church will continue the celebration of the Easter season with the Holy Eucharist on Sunday, the Sunday after the ascension of our Lord. Although we have one more week of the season of Easter, the emphasis has begun to shift from "our resurrected Lord with us" to "waiting for the return of our Lord," in preparation for the celebration of the gift of the Holy Spirit on the Day of Pentecost on Sunday, May 19. Father Threewit will preach on our Lord's great prayer for His followers in the 17th chapter of the gospel of John.

The regular Wednesday healing and eucharist will resume this week, at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. Morning prayer will be said daily at 8 and evening prayer will be said on Friday at 6:30.

Visitors are most welcome to any of these services. Anyone needing information or transportation may call 364-0146 or 364-0939. A nursery is provided Sunday at 11 a.m.

BACK PAIN?

An aching back may be more than just an irritation - it could indicate that your spinal column is out of alignment. A thorough chiropractic examination will reveal the problem, so that proper treatment may begin.

After Thursday's first round of the State 4A Golf Tournament in Austin, Hereford High School's girls team stands eighth. The Lady Whitefaces shot a 387 on Austin's Jimmy Clay Golf Course.

The Andrews girls lead the tournament after firing a 327 Thursday, putting them 42 strokes ahead of second-place Little Cypress-Mauriceville at 369. After that, though, the pack tightens. Bastrop is third at 370, followed by Henderson at 374, Wharton at 377, Sulphur Springs at 385, Corpus Christi Midway-Tuloso at 386 and Hereford at 387.

Hereford coach Stacey Bixler sees possibilities for his team to move up in the standings in today's second and final day of competition.

"We played a lot better the second day at regionals (compared to the first day at regionals)," he said. "We talked to the girls and feel good about how we'll do."

The team had a little trouble adjusting to the unfamiliar course, Bixler said. Jimmy Clay, with water hazards, out-of-bounds and lots of trees, is vastly different from the typical Panhandle course, and the team only got to play nine holes of the practice round Wednesday, Bixler said. In addition, the course was very wet.

"It was like walking on a sponge," he said. Bixler said he expects some improvement today.

"Now everybody's been around (the course) once, and we've seen some things that will help us," he said.

Paula Britten paced the Lady Whitefaces by shooting 91, and Dusty Saul was right behind at 93. Cecelia Albracht shot 101, Jennifer Prater had a 105, and JoJo Lytal, who went to Austin as the alternate, stepped in to shoot 102 when Stephanie Walls fell ill.

Porter's late basket stops Jazz

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) - The Utah Jazz almost pulled off one of the biggest comebacks in playoff history. In the NBA, though, almost doesn't mean much.

Thanks to Terry Porter's inside basket with 3.6 seconds to play, the Portland Trail Blazers escaped with a 118-116 victory Thursday night to take a 2-0 lead in their best-of-7 Western Conference semifinal series.

"Things kind of snowballed down the stretch and nothing went right for us," Portland coach Rick Adelman said after his team blew a 23-point fourth-quarter lead. "But the bottom line is we have two wins."

In another Thursday game, the Boston Celtics defeated the defending champion Detroit Pistons 109-103 to knot their best-of-7 Eastern Conference semifinal series at 1-1.

Tonight, Chicago is at Philadelphia and the Los Angeles Lakers travel to Golden State.

Karl Malone scored a career playoff high 40 points for the Jazz, half of them in the final quarter. He was 10-for-10 from the free throw line in the final quarter and 20-for-22 for the game.

"Every time Karl touched the ball, it seemed like he went to the line," Portland's Jerome Kersey said.

Porter, who bruised a left thigh in a collision with Mark Eaton earlier in the game, came off a pick on the game-winning play and found himself alone inside. Clyde Drexler got him the ball with a bounce pass, one of Drexler's career playoff high 15 assists.

"(Mike) Brown deflected it and I had to go and get it," Porter said. "It went around the world, but it went in."

Porter's status for Saturday's third game won't be determined until just before tipoff, the Blazers said. Portland reserve Mark Bryant also is questionable because of a sprained left ankle.

The Blazers won Game 1 by 20 points, and through the first 1 1/2 minutes of the fourth quarter, Game 2 looked like an even bigger blowout.

"Everybody thought the game was over, including Portland," Malone said.

The rally gave the Jazz reason to believe things will be better when the series moves to Salt Lake City. Still, coming close wasn't good enough, Malone said.

"We didn't come back to say we were in a good fight. If anything, it's frustrating," he said.

Celtics 109, Pistons 103

Larry Bird was back, but the Celtics found a new hero in rookie Dee Brown, who scored 15 of his 22 points in the final period at Boston Garden. Brown matched his regular-season scoring high, had a game-high eight assists and grabbed a key rebound in the final minute.

Bird, who missed Detroit's 86-75 series-opening win with back spasms, had 16 points and eight rebounds in 42 minutes.

Reggie Lewis led Boston with 23 points, while the Pistons were paced by Joe Dumars with 29 and Mark Aguirre with 24.

Detroit played without guard Isiah Thomas, who sprained his right foot when Brown landed on him late in the opener.

The next two games in the best-of-7 series are scheduled Saturday and Monday at Auburn Hills, Mich., where the Celtics are winless in eight games.

Foyt realistic about Indy

HOUSTON (AP) - A.J. Foyt is an eternal optimist, but he is realistic about his quest for an unprecedented fifth victory in the Indianapolis 500.

"It's going to be hard, but I'm not going to give up," he said Wednesday in Indianapolis.

"Last year, we didn't get enough practice and we didn't have the right setup for the race. And this year, because of the accident, we're late."

Foyt, 56, from Houston, suffered multiple fractures in his feet and legs in a crash last September, and he was on crutches in February. He was unable to put his Lola-Chevrolet through the winter testing that is considered essential to Indy success.

He is behind the other drivers in preparing his car, and he has only 17 days to catch up.

It is a daunting task, but Foyt is getting some technical help from an esteemed engineer, Bob Riley, who designed the Coyote that Foyt drove to victory in the 1977 Indy 500.

"The week before A.J. got hurt (in Elkhart Lake, Wis.), we made plans to do some testing," Riley said.

Foyt's practice speed reflects the lack of testing. Bobby Rahal was running 226 mph Wednesday; Foyt went 216 mph.

"I had a problem with the wind earlier and was getting a lot of buffeting," Foyt said. "But we made some changes to the windscreen, and it helped a lot. We played with the springs today, but the car is still rolling a little bit too much."

Foyt is busy adjusting his automobile, but his body is at least as much a concern. He has undergone a remarkable rehabilitation, but he still walks with a severe limp and has considerable pain in his feet, where much tissue was damaged.

The throttle pedal in Foyt's car has been widened to accommodate a right foot that is more swollen than his left.

Foyt was not allowed to participate in last month's Phoenix 200 because he lacked sensation in his toes. Now he has feeling, but it is painful. When he walks over a floor in sneakers, he can feel a grain of salt like it's a pebble jabbing his foot.

There is also the question of stamina. There is no doubt Foyt can handle the four laps of qualifying Saturday, but 200 laps over the 2.5-mile oval is another matter.

Many race fans wonder why Foyt is even attempting such an ordeal.

But they just don't know A.J. "When I make up my mind," he said, "I usually stick to it. Before the accident, I had planned to run at Indy, and this was going to be my last time. We just hadn't made the announcement yet."

To those who wonder why Foyt continues to compete when he has not won in 10 years, the driver said: "I don't play golf. I've never had any other sport, no other entertainment. I was just born to race."

The Indy 500 probably will not be his last race; he plans to finish the CART schedule that ends next October in Monterey, Calif.

Then, he intends to retire as a driver but to continue to operate a team for Copenhagen, his sponsor.

Trevino wants win in Dallas

FRISCO, Texas (AP) - In a storied 25-year career, Lee Trevino has chalked up numerous accomplishments. But winning in front of his hometown Dallas fans isn't one of them.

That could change this weekend as Trevino for the first time plays the $400,000 Reunion Pro-Am seniors tournament in this town just north of Dallas. The 54-hole tournament begins Friday.

Trevino, 51, is second on the senior tour money list this year with $242,835 from 10 events after becoming the senior circuit's first million-dollar winner in 1990.

"I would love to win here in my hometown," Trevino said. "It would be very special. I feel rested, I like the (Stonebriar Country Club) course, and I am very pleased with the way I hit the ball and putted (this week)."

Though Jack Nicklaus is idle, Trevino faces tough competition for the $60,000 first prize in the 54-hole tournament. Arnold Palmer is in the field along with defending champion and Dallas native Frank Beard, seniors leading money winner Chi Chi Rodriguez, and No. 3 money earner Bruce Crampton.

Palmer has been so occupied this year that he's played only four tournaments and ranks 56th on the money list with $18,817.

"I haven't been playing very much or very well and felt like I needed to compete," said Palmer. "I feel that I have to win someday soon or it (his playing schedule) is going to dwindle down to a very few appearances."

Red Sox' rally cooks Rangers' Goose

BOSTON (AP) - For years, as the ace of the New York Yankees' bullpen, Rich Gossage thrived on pitching against the Boston Red Sox. The current edition of the Red Sox knows little of Gossage's past performances, though, and the 39-year-old Goose no longer is golden.

Gossage, who nailed down the Yankees' victory in Boston in the only divisional playoff in AL history in 1978, couldn't retire a batter as the Red Sox rallied for five runs in the seventh inning Thursday night for an 8-4 victory over the Texas Rangers.

In the only other American League games on Thursday, Toronto beat Chicago 2-0 and Detroit beat Minnesota 3-0.

After starter Scott Chiamparino gave up a leadoff double to Luis Rivera and reliever Mike Jeffcoat walked Wade Boggs - the only batter he faced - Gossage, 3-0 in 11 previous relief appearances this season, got the call.

Jody Reed spoiled Gossage's return to Fenway Park with a line single to center, scoring Rivera with the tying run. Then Gossage walked Ellis Burks on a 3-1 pitch, filling the bases, and walked Jack Clark, forcing home Boggs with the go-ahead run. John Barfield became the fourth pitcher in the inning and surrendered a two-run double to Mike Greenwell and a sacrifice fly to Tom Brunansky.

"A two-strike hit by Jody, a couple of walks, a two-strike hit by Greenwell, and it was all over," Texas manager Bobby Valentine said. "You're going to be good and you're going to have some off nights. Tonight, we had a little of both." "Reed was the key guy there," said Gossage, who escaped the loss charged to Jeffcoat (1-1). "I have to get him, but I didn't. Then it kind of snowballed from there."

Greenwell, who also tripled and singled, then popped to short while trying for a home run and the cycle in the eighth, noted that the Red Sox' patience, rather than their usual aggressiveness, at the plate paid off. "Everybody was real patient in that rally," Greenwell said. "No one tried to be a big hero. Everybody just wanted to get on base, and it was a good inning for us."

With their fifth victory in six games, eighth in 10 and 14th in 18, the Red Sox remained atop the AL

East, one-half game ahead of Detroit. Dennis Lamp, who replaced starter Tom Bolton in the sixth, picked up his second victory in three decisions with help from Jeff Gray in the eighth and then Jeff Reardon in the ninth.

Blue Jays 2, White Sox 0
David Wells allowed three hits in eight innings and Joe Carter drove in both runs with a homer and a single. Wells (3-3) struck out a season-high eight and walked one before Duane Ward finished with perfect relief for his ninth save in 10 opportunities.
Melido Perez (1-2) struck out 11 in 6-2-3 innings for the visiting White Sox, who have lost six of their last eight games.

Tigers 3, Twins 0
Cecil Fielder homered and Dan Pety combined with Paul Gibson on a seven-hitter as visiting Detroit won for the eighth time in nine games. Pety (1-1) allowed six hits before Gibson finished for his third save.

Fielder, who led the majors with 51 homers last year, hit his fourth this season with one out in the fourth after Alan Trammell walked. Mickey Tettleton hit his fourth home run of the season in the seventh off Kevin Tapani (2-2).

McGriff, Jordan provide NL highlights

SAN DIEGO (AP) - Check out the next baseball highlight show and you'll probably see Ricky Jordan and Fred McGriff on their home run trots. Then check out the blooper reel. You might see McGriff there, too.

Jordan homered twice on Thursday, giving him three homers and eight RBIs in two days, as the Philadelphia Phillies beat the San Diego Padres 9-6 in the only National League game played Thursday. McGriff hit a pair of two-run homers for the Padres, moving him into third place in the NL with seven. He extended his career-best hitting streak to 14 games, matching Brett Butler of the Los Angeles Dodgers for the major-league high this season.

McGriff also added some humor on his first home run, which came with the Padres trailing 7-1 in the fourth inning. As he rounded first, McGriff tripped and sprawled face-first in the dirt.

"When I hit to the opposite field, I'm never really sure," the left-handed hitter said. "So I've got to run real hard. But I've got some bad shoes. I've got to get some new shoes.

"I was embarrassed a little bit. I was watching the highlights on the scoreboard. They were showing guys falling down, and I said to myself, 'That will never happen to me.' Now, I'm sure I'll make 'This Week in Baseball'." McGriff said.

"At the time, we were down 7-1, and so there wasn't a lot of room for laughter," Tony Gwynn said. "But it was funny. He didn't think it was gone, and so he tried to stretch it into two (bases) and he took a header. "But when you hit a ball like that, who cares? He could crawl all the way around the bases."

McGriff is 24-for-55 (.436) with six homers during his streak. Jordan, who was 4-for-5 on Thursday, is 14-for-29 (.483) with 13 RBIs in his last eight games. He has four homers for the season.

So, can Jordan hit 40 homers this year? "Don't look for that, no," he laughed. "Fred McGriff might. I'm just trying to hit the ball into the alleys. I'm a line-drive hitter. You look - I'll be hitting line drives to left in batting practice tomorrow."

Jordan, who hit a grand slam in Philadelphia's 5-2 victory Wednesday night, hit leadoff homers in the second and seventh innings and added a two-run single in the five-run fourth.

Jordan's first homer was to left-center field off loser Derek Lilliquist (0-2) and the second was straight down the left-field line off John Costello.

"He's seeing the ball and is right on anything they throw," manager Jim Fregosi said.

Terry Mulholland (4-2) allowed eight hits in eight innings and equaled his career high with eight strikeouts. He was chased by McGriff's second homer and Mitch Williams finished for his seventh save.

Lilliquist gave up nine hits and seven earned runs in 3 2-3 innings.

The Phillies won two of three games in the series, their first since Lenny Dykstra and Darren Daulton were injured in a car accident. They are 5-2 against San Diego this season and have won five of their last six series against the Padres.

Astros' Scott out for month

HOUSTON - Houston Astros ace starter Mike Scott won't be hurling any fastballs any time soon.

The Astros have put the former Cy Young Award winner on the disabled list for at least another month, allowing him to recuperate from tendinitis in his throwing shoulder. "He just wasn't progressing the way we wanted him to," Astros general manager Bill Wood said. "It's a deliberate process, and we didn't want to cause it to get worse." Scott, who underwent surgery on the shoulder in December, was told to stop throwing altogether and quit rehabilitation work while his right rotator cuff heals.

"It's back to square one," Scott said. "I've never done anything like this, but what we were doing wasn't working. We just have to try something else."

Scott, 36, has not pitched since April 13, when he gave up six hits and five runs in three innings against the San Francisco Giants. Scott, 0-2 with a 12.86 ERA in two starts, was placed on the disabled list April 14.

Scott began to work the shoulder in recent weeks, throwing lightly during a recent homestand and then working the shoulder harder during the Astros' recent trip to Chicago. It was then that his arm began to feel worse and the Astros went back to consult with team physician Bill Bryan.

"We tried resting it; we tried light throwing and throwing a little harder," Scott told the Houston Chronicle. "It was getting worse instead of better. It was disappointing."

Howe said Scott probably will remain with the club through the current homestand that ends May 16 against the Pirates. Scott probably will go to his home in California where he will rest until the team's next swing through the West Coast.

"Maybe the best way to keep him from throwing will be getting him away for a while," Howe said. "We want him to have total rest for about a month. He just hasn't responded so far, so we have to try this."

Wood said Wednesday that the Astros wouldn't bring Scott back until he is fully recuperated, but said surgery is out of the question.

"I don't know what will happen down the line, but it isn't something we're thinking about for the 1991 season," Wood said. "If he had more surgery, it would just be too long before he could pitch again."

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

SALOME: ONE OF THE BIBLE'S DRAMATIC CHARACTERS, HAS INSPIRED STORIES, PLAYS, BOOKS, OPERAS, AND MORE THAN ONE MOVIE! NUMBERS OF ARTISTS HAVE PAINTED THIS SEDUCTIVE, DESTRUCTIVE YOUNG WOMAN WHOSE DANCE SO ENRaptured KING HEROD THAT HE VOWED, "ASK OF ME WHATSOEVER THOU WILT, AND I WILL GIVE IT THEE." THAT RASH PROMISE COST JOHN THE BAPTIST HIS HEAD WHICH SALOME DEMANDED—AND GOT—ON A PLATTER! BUT...

ALEXANDRE REYNOLDS' PAINTING—SALOME METROPOLITAN MUSEUM OF ART, NEW YORK

NO ONE KNOWS IF HER NAME WAS SALOME—IN FACT, SHE HAD NO NAME AT ALL! IN THE TWICE-TOLD TALE (MATT 14:6-11, MARK 6:22-28) SHE IS NEVER CALLED ANYTHING EXCEPT "THE GIRL" OR "THE DAUGHTER OF HERODIAS." THE NAME SALOME APPEARS BUT TWICE IN THE BIBLE (MARK 15:40, 16:1) AND DESCRIBES ONE OF THE WOMEN WHO, ALONG WITH MARY MAGDALENE AND MARY MOTHER OF JESUS, WENT AT THE CRUCIFIXION—HARDLY THE KIND OF WOMAN WHO WOULD DO A SALACIOUS DANCE BEFORE HER STEP-FATHER!

Holly Andrews is awarded scholarship

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 192 met in regular session Tuesday evening with President Clara Trowbridge presiding and conducting the opening ritual.

The three applicants for the $250 scholarship were presented by Argen Draper, scholarship chairman. Each gave a short resume and were interviewed. Voting by ballot, the Unit selected Holly Andrews to be the recipient. The scholarship will be presented at the Annual Hereford High School Awards Program scheduled May 16.

Beverly Hopkins from Colorado was introduced as a guest. Other special guests included Holly Andrews, Traci Brush and Gail Walterscheid.

Viola Wagner, cheer chairman, reported that five birthday cards, one sympathy card, one 50th anniversary card and one get-well card had been sent to members during April.

Those helping with the monthly bingo party at king's Manor Retirement Home were Lester and Viola Wagner, Emily Pavlicek and Trowbridge. Approximately 20 residents participated in the afternoon activities.

Poppy Chairman Bea Cargo gave plans for Poppy Day, May 22, as proclaimed by Mayor Tom LeGate. Headquarters for the day of distribution will be at the Hereford State Bank. Special arrangements will be made this year for poppies to be placed at some of the local churches. Members will be working during the day at various locations in town. All members who can be asked to assist. The Unit voted to participate in National President Ruby Paul's project which is the restoration of the Faith of Our Fathers Chapel located at Valley Forge. A contribution of 15 cents per member will be made.

It was also voted to send a $5 contribution per month to the Amarillo VA Medical Center through the Gift of the Month program.

The nominating committee was elected. Betty Jo Carlson, Mildred LaFever and Beverly Jesko will present a slate of officers at the June meeting.

The 4th Division Convention will be held May 24-26 in Amarillo. Hanson Post #54 will be hosting with the Harvey Hotel designated as the headquarters. Delegates elected to attend are Trowbridge, Troyce Hanna, Lou Ann LaFever and Argen Draper. Alternates are Pet Ott, Beverly Jesko, Ruth King and Alta Hudson.

Girls State Chairman Troyce Hanna reported delegates Lindsey Radford and Melissa Cloud have been contacted and they are up to date on requirements for attendance at the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State to be held June 11-21 at Texas Lutheran College in Seguin.

The Unit will assist the Legionaries on Friday, May 24, at which time flags will be placed on veterans' graves at the three cemeteries for Memorial weekend.

The meeting was adjourned with the closing ritual by President Trowbridge.

Members of the American Legion joined the Auxiliary for refreshments served by hostesses, Pet Ott and Artie Frost.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been dating a man exclusively for the past two and a half years. Both "Alfred" and I have been married before. His daughter is getting married this spring, and I have been told that I am not going to be invited to the wedding. The reasons: My presence could create some discomfort and the guests' attention might focus on me rather than on the bride and groom.

I am very hurt by this, Ann. I have a good relationship with Alfred's daughter, and everyone in the family, including Alfred's ex-wife, has met me or is aware of my existence.

We have talked about this for hours, and I cannot understand why he is so insensitive. He even said that if my daughter were being married he would not wish to attend the ceremony.

I am becoming very angry. Can you help me see this in a different light? P.S.: I have been invited to a brunch for family members the day after the wedding. Some of the people who will be there know that Alfred has a lady friend but we have never met. I don't feel that I should attend the brunch if I am not welcome at the wedding. Am I wrong about this? -- Anguished in Philadelphia

DEAR PHILADELPHIA: My best hunch is that Albert and his daughter, out of respect for the bride's mother, would prefer that you do not attend the wedding. You should accept this and not try to bulldoze your way into a social situation that could cause ill will and embarrassment.

By all means accept the brunch invitation. To refuse because you weren't invited to the wedding would be childish as well as ungracious.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am writing about "Chicago Closet Case" who wrote to you about her panic attacks. Please advise the woman that help is just around the corner. I am referring to the organization designed to help people with the exact symptoms she described to you in her letter.

The organization is Recovery, Inc., an excellent support group that is located right in her city. The address is Recovery, Inc., 802 N. Dearborn, Chicago, Ill. 60610.

Please tell that poor woman to contact this group at once. In the meantime, suggest to her that she take 10 deep breaths, exhale slowly when she is having those panic attacks and tell herself, "I am NOT dying. I am going to get through this. I will be just fine in a few minutes." Repeating these sentences will relieve her anxiety in a matter of minutes.

I don't wish to discourage the woman from going to a doctor, but it has been my experience that the emotional support of the people who attend Recover meetings is the most effective help of all.

We at Recovery have a saying that is comforting and gets us through those attacks. It is this: "Symptoms and sensations are distressing but not dangerous. They come and go and will run their course if you don't attach any importance to them."

You have helped so many people through your columns, Ann. Please help others to help themselves through Recovery, Inc. -- T.S. From San Antonio

DEAR T.S.: I'm a great booster of that organization. It's terrific -- and it's free. Anyone interested should look in the phone book or write to the Chicago headquarters for information.

Is that Ann Landers column you clipped years ago yellow with age? For a copy of her most frequently requested poems and essays, send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $4.85 (this includes postage and handling) to: Gems, c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562. (In Canada, send $5.87.)

Is traveling safe during pregnancy?

It's June and you're planning your annual summer vacation. But you're pregnant this year. Is it safe to travel?

For most women, traveling during pregnancy is safe. You should check with your doctor, though, before making your plans. He or she can help answer your questions and offer advice on the best time and means of travel for you.

The second trimester -- the fourth through the sixth month -- is generally the best time to take a trip. During these months, morning sickness is usually no longer a problem and your body has not gotten bulky enough to make getting around difficult. If you are able, most doctors recommend scheduling vacation or business travel for the second trimester.

When deciding upon transportation to get you to your destination, you'll probably find that the best means is one you enjoy most. Cars, planes, and trains are all good choices.

Travel by car offers the convenience of being able to control when you stop and when you eat and move around. Plan frequent rest stops when you are on the road so you can keep your circulation going and avoid becoming uncomfortable from sitting too long. It is also a good idea to wear loose clothing and to use a pillow behind your back to help keep you comfortable.

Remember to always use a seatbelt when traveling by car. During pregnancy, the belt should be fastened snugly across your shoulders and low on your hips under the bulge of your abdomen.

The advantage of plane travel is that you can get to your destination quickly. Some airlines have policies about traveling during pregnancy, so check airlines procedures before making flight plans.

For the most comfortable flying, try to arrange to sit in the forward part of the cabin where the ride is more stable. If possible, choose an aisle seat so you can walk around easily. Eat lightly to avoid air sickness and wear layers of clothing to adjust to temperature changes in the cabin.

Trains are also a good way to travel during pregnancy. You don't have the worries of driving, and you have plenty of seat room and space to walk around. Buses are probably the least comfortable choice because of the narrow aisles, small lavatories, and infrequent stops.

If you plan to travel abroad, be sure to talk to your doctor about special concerns and precautions, including immunizations that may be required. In general, when traveling anywhere, pay attention to your physical feelings and don't overdo it.

Rituals observed by Beta Sigma Phi chapter

Alpha Alpha Preceptor Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Tuesday in the home of Lynda Brown for rituals and the installation of officers.

Preceptor Laureate Rituals were held for Beverly Redelsperger, Jan Walsler, Alene Tindal, Karren Ruland and Barbara Burkhalter. Order of the Rose Rituals were held for Nan Gauthreaux and Brenda Thomas.

Installed as officers for the 1991-92 year are Barbara Burkhalter, president; Gerry Taylor, vice-president; Alene Tindal, recording secretary; Beverly Redelsperger, corresponding secretary; and Murlene Streun, treasurer.

President Virginia Jackson called the meeting to order and members stood for the opening ritual. Roll call was taken and the minutes from the previous meeting were read and approved. Communications received included correspondence concerning the state service project. A motion was made to cast the chapter ballot for the Childrens Dialysis Unit of the Baylor College of Medicine. It carried.

Appreciation was extended to secret sisters by Rose Marie Robinson, Murlene Streun, Beverly Redelsperger, Gerry Taylor, and Karren Ruland. Appreciation was extended by President Jackson for the Girl of the Year honor. The treasurer's report was given by Streun.

Standing committee reports were given with the end of the year party set for Tuesday, May 21, at 7 p.m. at the home of Brenda Thomas. Members are to bring finger foods and to dress very casual for the campfire cook-out. Hostesses will be Gerry Taylor, Thomas, Rose Marie Robinson, and Nan Gauthreaux.

The next meeting of City Council members will be held Monday at 7 p.m. in the Southwestern Public Service Reddy Room. Retiring council members are to bring a salad and the new council representatives are guests for the evening. New officers will be elected and installed.

Hostesses Lynda Brown and Tindal served refreshments of strawberries and cream, mini-muffins, coffee, and Coke to Jackson, Burkhalter, Redelsperger, Streun, Taylor, Gauthreaux, Ruland, Thomas, Walsler, Vida Grady, and Robinson.

NEW YORK (AP) - Donald Trump's ex-wife, Ivana, says she wants to marry again, but not necessarily to another headline-making entrepreneur.

"I will marry again... I like a man in my life," Ms. Trump said in an interview to be broadcast tonight on the ABC program "20-20."

And what kind of husband does she want?

"Not another tycoon," she said. "I'm just looking for love. I'm looking for somebody whom I can be with, laugh with, do things with."

Ms. Trump also warned model Maria Maples, who is frequently seen with Trump these days, not to expect him to remain faithful to her.

"I don't think so. This is why I would never want him back," she said.

NEW YORK (AP) - Actress Ruth Warrick said playing the first wife of Orson Welles' newspaper tycoon in his masterpiece "Citizen Kane" was the crowning point of her life.

Warrick, 74, reminisced about Welles at a party Thursday marking the 50th anniversary of the black-and-white film and its re-release in theaters last week.

"It crowned my life at the beginning and now it is crowning my life again," she said of her role in "Citizen Kane." Since 1970, she has played Phoebe Tyler Wallingford in the daytime soap opera "All My Children."

Warrick recounted how she landed her role in "Citizen Kane."

She said the actor-director-writer told her: "It's not a long role but it's a key role. It's very, very important. She's the niece of the president. We are to be married in the White House and she must be a lady. And there are no ladies in Hollywood."

"I have to thank my mother and my grandmother who said every day of my life, 'Now, Ruth, be a little lady,'" she added. "I was brought up to be a lady - which is usually the last way one gets into show business."

Three more tornados kill 37 in Bangladesh

DHAKA, Bangladesh (AP) - Tornados, squalls and flooding aggravated Bangladesh's distress today, with weather officials predicting more trouble ahead. At least 37 people died when three more tornados ripped apart their homes. Bangladesh weather officials Thursday said another major storm was brewing in the turbulent Bay of Bengal and could strike by the end of the month, but they could not predict its force. The government says nearly 126,000 people died in the cyclone - the Indian Ocean's version of a typhoon. It has not revised the official figure in six days, despite the discovery of many more bodies. Three U.S. cargo planes carrying more medicine and humanitarian relief were expected to reach Dhaka later today for survivors of the April 30 catastrophic cyclone, the first in a chain of natural disasters. Japan announced today it will provide $7.5 million in emergency aid and an additional $1.5 million in food aid for Bangladesh storm victims, bringing the amount of Japanese assistance to $20 million. So far about $400 million in international aid has been pledged for the survivors. Officials today said at least 37 people died when three tornados roared across separate districts of this low-lying delta country on Thursday, tearing apart mud and straw homes and disrupting communications. The government's Relief Ministry said 13 people died in the Siraganj district in the northwest, 12 perished in Noakhali in the south, and 12 died in Habiganj to the northeast. About 500 people were injured. Two other twisters hit Tuesday and Wednesday outside Dhaka, killing a total of 53 people, officials said. The Relief Ministry said flooding in northeastern and eastern districts has marooned at least 100,000 people and destroyed crops as constant rain swelled the mighty rivers fed from the Himalaya mountains that flow across Bangladesh. No deaths have been reported from the flooding. India also reported disastrous flooding in its eastern states bordering Bangladesh. Nine people were reported killed in Assam, where the Indian army was summoned to help rescue efforts. The state of Mizoram, which juts into Burma, has been cut off by flooding for several days. The English-language Daily Star reported today that 250 people have died from an epidemic of diarrhea on the island of Kutubdia and the districts of Bashkhal and Bhola, three of the hardest hit cyclone areas. Officials of the Red Crescent relief organization confirmed disease was raging through the coastal belt, but they could not give a death figure. World health organizations have warned of a fearful cholera epidemic from water contaminated by the corpses of thousands of people and the carcasses of tens of thousands of cattle and buffalo floating in the water. Bangladesh, with about 115 million people, is one of the world's poorest countries, with a per capita income of $170 a year. It is frequently struck by killer storms, cyclones and other natural disasters. Prime Minister Khaleda Zia's government, installed seven weeks ago, has been accused in Parliament of inadequate relief missions to the southeastern coast savaged by last week's cyclone.

Supercollider costs going up

WASHINGTON (AP) - A high-ranking Energy Department official acknowledged the "final" $8.25 billion price tag for the superconducting super collider didn't include expenses that could push the total cost above $9 billion. Internal DOE documents also indicate the agency has serious doubts about being able to win significant foreign contributions, which would lessen the cost to taxpayers of building the giant atom smasher. Reps. Howard Wolpe, D-Mich., and Sherwood Boehlert, R-N.Y., chairman and ranking member of the House Science, Space and Technology subcommittee on investigations and oversight, released the documents Thursday at a five-hour hearing on the SSC. Sherwood accused the DOE of playing fast and loose with the facts after wrangling with high-ranking officials over the cost of the project and sources of funding. He also accused the SSC's Texas backers of attempting to discredit witnesses who suggested there may be significant risks in producing one of the collider's key components. Boehlert complained the DOE's cost estimates were "changing by the hour, depending on who's talking." Under questioning by Boehlert and Wolpe, DOE official Joseph Cipriano acknowledged the $8.25 billion cost, billed as the final price tag just four months ago, did not include expenses

Cowboys' Irvin in altercation

DALLAS (AP) - A man who volunteered to serve as a referee for a charity basketball game said two off-duty police officers and two Dallas Cowboys teammates had to restrain wide receiver Michael Irvin after the player hit him in the face.

Willie Summerling, 42, filed a complaint Thursday, alleging Irvin punched him in the mouth during the contest Wednesday night, splitting his lower lip and shattering his dental plate.

Detectives investigating the incident said a Class A misdemeanor assault charge may be filed early next week against Irvin. The charge carries a maximum penalty of one year in prison or a $2,000 fine.

"I was going to let the whole thing ride until I thought about the principle of the thing," Summerling said. "We're talking about a guy who should be a role model, and he's acting like this in front of a bunch of kids."

The game between a team made up of members of the Cowboys and a team comprised of on-air personalities for a Dallas radio station, KKDA-AM, was played before more than 2,000 people, many of them children.

Irvin declined Thursday to discuss the incident.

Rich Dalrymple, director of public relations for the Cowboys, said Irvin told him there "wasn't anything to it."

"He said he and one of the officials just had a heated exchange," Dalrymple said.

Summerling said the incident occurred after he and two other officials warned Irvin to tone down his behavior during the fund-raiser for two Dallas community centers.

Earlier, Irvin grabbed him from behind and shouted obscenities at him after the referee called a technical foul on former Cowboys linebacker Eugene Lockhart, coach of the Cowboys' basketball team, Summerling said.

Dalrymple said Irvin told him he merely tapped Summerling on the rear end, and Summerling "wheeled and threw an elbow at Michael."

Then, shortly before halftime, Irvin threw a basketball at Summerling and punched him after a foul was called on Irvin, Summerling said.

Dalrymple said Irvin told him he flipped the ball to Summerling, who slapped it back at Irvin.

"The guy was coming straight at Michael, so Michael put out his arm to stop him, and they were separated," Dalrymple said.

Irvin apologized to the official and to the fans at halftime, Dalrymple said.

KKDA assistant news editor Paul Turner said event organizers asked Irvin for the apology.

"They told him it was not the kind of behavior we would expect from one of the city's role models. But as far as I'm concerned, Irvin's apology ended it all," Turner said.

KKDA sports director Chris Arnold said both Irvin and Summerling were swinging their fists. Arnold called the incident "a playground, heat-of-the-moment type thing."

Summerling confirmed that he swung at Irvin, but said it was only in self defense.

Willowridge team could break barrier

AUSTIN (AP) - Sugar Land Willowridge's 400-meter relay team is more than three no-names and anchorman Mike Miller.

Miller, a favorite in the Class 5A 100- and 200-meter events at the University Interscholastic League track and field meet, has taken the baton with a lead in every race the Eagles have run this year.

The Willowridge relay team of Terrance Blayne, Bennie Hughes, Davis Smith and Miller will try to become the first high school team to run under 40.0 flat when they defend the Class 5A state title Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

The next best thing to a great fishing or hunting trip is going to a sportman's show. The Fairgrounds in Lubbock will host the West Texas Sportsman Show this weekend, featuring former Dallas Cowboy Randy White.

Dr. Loren Hill, an old friend of mine who did the research for the ColorMeter and PhMeter, will attend this show. As the head of the zoology department at the University of Oklahoma, Hill leads the OU research station at Lake Texoma. It is worth the drive to Lubbock just to attend a Friday or Saturday evening seminar by Dr. Hill and learn the latest developments in understanding the behavior of bass and other gamefish.

After spending three days last fall on Ute Lake with Ted Miller as he prepared for the western regional Redman, I can assure you that fishing a gizzard or a SlugGo and winning big money takes a special talent. Ted has that kind of talent and is willing to share information at his seminars. If you want to learn more about light line fishing or clear water fishing, don't miss this chance to talk to a real expert and one of the nicest guys on the B.A.S.S. trail.

Trout fishermen (or those who wish they could catch trout) will want to get a front row seat for the seminars by Ti Piper as he reveals the how and where of fishing in New Mexico. Ti will have a fly-tying demonstration at his booth, and it is fascinating to watch how some yarn and feathers becomes a tempting morsel for Mr. Trout.

Register with Martin Marine to win a fishing boat. Win great door prizes and see new boats, RVs and even a gun show. A copy of this column will save you $1 at the gate (limit one).

Congratulations to Dondi Brame of Borger for braving the winds and winning our most recent Fun Tournament on Lake Meredith. This ardent fan of Oklahoma University had placed in the top 10 at virtually every Fun Tournament before besting the field with a trophy largemouth weighing 5.91 pounds.

Pampa angler Jimmy Baggett finished a close second with a monster 5.45-pound smallmouth. Good job, Jimmy. Third place was earned by Ed Whitefield of Spearman with his healthy 4.53-pound smallmouth. During the next Fun Tournament Sandy Carroll of Pampa will report on his secret submarine technique.

The next Baylor Lake Big Bass Tournament is Saturday, starting at 7 a.m. It is limited to the first 100 anglers, and the entry fee is $50 until midnight Friday, when it increases to $60.
