NEAL IS TO HEAD THE FAIR

Mrs. A. L. Gibson Takes Women's Division Meeting Monday

At a meeting of the Directors and committee chairmen, held in the interest of the County Fair Monday, it was decided that to insure the success of the Fair would be necessary to designate one man as General Manager, to whom committees could report, and who would make it his business to look after all details.

Other words to have a system and one head. Chairman McDonald stated that he had so many irons in the fire just now that he simply could not devote the time he knew would be necessary to make a go of it, but would help in every spare moment.

Accordingly, Leslie Neal was nominated and unanimously chosen as General Manager of the County Fair for 1919. The members of the Board will help Mr. Neal in every possible way, but will look after details and keep in touch with committees. He immediately took hold and announced that he had been offered a space in the Ford Garage building, where he will establish headquarters.

Thursday, Mr. Neal announced that Mrs. A. L. Gibson had agreed to take the Chairmanship of the Woman's Division of the Fair, and would announce her sub-committees and outlines of work in a few days. Homer Wilkerson was appointed Chairman of the Grounds Committee, and J. Biggs head of the Poultry Department.

Mr. Neal has written a letter to every committee chairman, asking them to meet to him at the Bookman's Cafe for lunch next Monday, when detailed plans are to be worked out. Anyone else interested in the success of the Fair will be cordially welcomed Monday.

Geologist Kreis' Report on Outlook

Joseph Kreis of Enid, Oklahoma geologist for the Hereford Oil & Gas Company, delivered an entertaining and instructive lecture on the geology of this county to an attentive audience at the Company headquarters last Monday night. Mr. Kreis for years was Chief Geologist for Standard Oil Company, with geologists under him, and is one of the top notchers in his profession. His formal report on the Hereford Oil & Gas Company on the prospects here follows:

GEOLOGICAL REPORT

An investigation of the territory covering your leases, north of Hereford, covering that area around and including the Star ranch, discloses very favorable geologic conditions. There appears nothing complex in the structure or in the deposit of oil. It is a section that has not been violently disturbed by tectonic forces, or by the less forces, responsible for the geologic conditions of that section.

During the past ages, it is believed that section of the country submerged, at least four times, and that each time when the water receded, the up-lift was from the extreme north. (Continued on page 4.)

Rattlesnake Bites Little Boy of Ten

Fleet Galloway, aged ten, son of W. A. Galloway, who lives northeast of Hereford near the Haskell school, was bitten by a rattlesnake last Monday morning.

The little fellow, in company with his brother, was returning home from the opening of the Haskell school, when struck between the thumb and forefinger of his right hand. His father applied coal oil and other home remedies, then hurried him to town, where Dr. Hicks gave immediate attention. After the physician had applied first aid, he slept for an hour or so and then was taken home by his father. His hand and arm were considerably swollen. Last accounts stated that the boy was doing very well, although not yet entirely out of danger.

Panhandle Short Line R. R. Revived?

Considerable interest has been aroused along the line of the old proposed Colorado, Hereford & Gulf Railroad by recent signs of a renewal of activity on this project.

Associated Press dispatches of September 5 carried the news that a charter had been applied for at Austin, asking for articles of incorporation for the Panhandle Short Line Railroad of Dalhart. According to these dispatches the charter specifies that the road is to run from Dalhart through Dallam, Hartley, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Castro, Lamb, Hale and Lubbock counties to Lubbock, a distance of 200 miles. Capital stock $300,000. Incorporators, who are also directors, are E. G. Cook, W. R. Ferguson, C. O. Vernon and others, all of Wichita Falls. The Attorney General of Texas approved the application.

Last week a gentleman, who, it was understood, represented the Santa Fe railroad, paid The Brand office a visit and inquired into the whereabouts of the old profiles, engineering data and other papers bearing on the right-of-way and dump of the old Colorado, Hereford & Gulf. Just exactly what is back of all this and what is in the air has not yet been ascertained locally.

Speaking of new railroads, the Tucumcari Sun of September 5 says, in part:

"Considerable suppressed excitement has been in evidence on the streets of Tucumcari this week on account of a corps of railroad surveyors which is at work locating a railroad right-of-way between Tucumcari and Farwell, Texas.

"Several surveys for this road have been made in the past, but as practically all railroad construction has been suspended since the world-war, the surveys were never followed up by any attempts at actual construction. Now, however, that the period of inaction is over and the railroads are beginning to reach out after new business, local people have strong faith that the Tucumcari-Farwell road will now be rushed to an early completion.

"It is currently reported that the survey now under way contemplates putting the road up the cañon through the Apache Cañon, but of course there is at present no way of telling the exact location of the roadbed.

"Anyway, Tucumcari people will watch developments with considerable interest, especially as it is understood that the proposed road, if completed by the interests making the present survey, will be run by electricity."

Roy Stocking's Sister and Brother Visit Him

Geo. W. Stocking and Miss Ruth Stocking, brother and sister of Roy Stocking, of Hereford, accompanied by C. A. Burton and son, Allan Burton, all of Clarendon, Texas, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stocking the past week, arriving here Saturday. Both the young men have only recently been discharged from the army.

547 NEW SCHOOL RECORD

Free Text Books Are Here Enrollment Larger Than Last Year

The Hereford Public Schools opened Monday morning with an enrollment of 547 children present for duty. After classification, over 3,000 text books were distributed. While not all the texts have yet been received, old texts have been substituted and school work in every way bids fair for a record year.

The manual training course seems quite popular with a large enrollment of boys and girls. The highest peak is reached, however, in History eight—a class of 54.

Athletic organizations are rapidly being formed. The doors of the school are open. Friends of the school are asked to visit often.

Mayor Knight To Arrive On Sunday

Mayor William M. Knight will arrive in Hereford probably next Sunday, according to a letter which he addressed to The Brand under date of September 8, written at Charleston, W. Va. The Mayor writes:

"Have been taking much pleasure in reading the Brand, but I hope to read it at home soon, beginning with the next issue.

"I will leave for Texas Wednesday. Think I will go via Dallas, as I have several matters there I wish to look after. I now hope to reach Hereford about next Sunday, or at least in time for breakfast Monday morning.

"Have had a wonderful trip and a wonderful time and the only sad moments have been those when parting from friends was imperative. I am delighted at the good news of general prosperity in the plains country.

"Lots of money from this town has been invested in Texas oil schemes and more is being invested every day.

"My very best wishes to you and yours."

Equalizing Renditions

Equalization Boards for the City and the Hereford Independent School District were in session Monday and Tuesday of this week. It is understood that both boards had quite a job of equalizing renditions in order to meet the increased cost of living in these strenuous times.

VOLUNTEER SUBSCRIBERS WANTED TO HELP BOYS AND GIRLS IN ATHLETICS

With the beginning of the school term Monday, the question of student athletic activities arises.

Did you ever see a good school that amounted to anything without the pride and loyalty among the students engendered by fighting, winning athletic teams? Those of us who have lived in what we call "school towns" know the vast difference in scholarship, leadership, school pride and general effectiveness between the one with real athletics and the one without them. Attendants of the first work for their school, boast for their school and will fight for its standard and its future if necessary. Go to Denton, or College Station, or Austin, or Sherman and watch the student bodies of the various schools located there cheering on their teams to victory or cheering them just the same in gallant defeat.

But it takes money to support athletic activities. Student members of athletic teams are always ready to provide for their individual equipment, but the general athletic fund for incidentals must be maintained to make individual work effective.

Hereford's schools are facing the question: Shall we have real athletic teams—football, basketball for both boys and girls, track and baseball teams, and an enthusiastic, loyal, aggressive student body, with high scholarship, or will we let it all go and just "get by," without enthusiasm or pride in our institutions?

The Brand believes the citizenship of this community will not see our student athletics go by the board for the want of a few dollars. We appeal to the citizens of this community to contribute what they can afford to the Athletic Council of our public schools, to be used in the discretion of the Board and Council in furthering clean and wholesome athletics in the Hereford schools during the present school term.

As a mere temporary arrangement, until the Student Athletic Council can take hold of things, Jim Lipscomb, at Burns Drug Store, has consented to act as Treasurer for this volunteer fund.

Contributions have been made to date as follows:

Carl Gilliland	$10.00
Burns Drug Store	10.00
Jim Lipscomb	5.00
C. S. Purcell	5.00
J. S. Jones	5.00
Hereford Brand	10.00
I. B. Holt	1.00

Those who are in favor of giving our boys and girls a chance at clean, invigorating, sensible athletics this year turn in your subscription to Mr. Lipscomb.

Lyceum Number For September 17

The first Lyceum number of the season, A. Mather Hilburn, Master Entertainer, was given at the Central School building last Monday night to a very good audience, considering the fact that it was the first number on the list and had not been extensively advertised. Mr. Hilburn's work was much appreciated.

Superintendent Fertsch announces that the next number will be on Wednesday, September 17, at the Central Auditorium, beginning promptly at 8:15 p. m. The attraction will be the Mozart Ladies Quartette, four artists in instrumental and vocal music. The program will consist of vocal and instrumental quartettes, together with costumed numbers, readings, trios, solos and duets.

Earl E. Wilson Returns

Earl E. Wilson and family returned to Hereford last week to make it their future home. The Wilsons left here last spring for Waxahachie, Texas, with the intention of residing there permanently, but, like so many other ex-Herefordites, they could not break away from the lure of the Plains, and have returned for good.

Inspector Makes Flattering Comment

Our Canteen Service has repeatedly been complimented during the past year for unusually efficient service, but perhaps the most striking compliment yet given these patriotic ladies was that contained in a private report on their activities to headquarters by Mrs. Claud McCartney, division inspector, who was here recently checking up the work. Headquarters was so pleased with this report that, accompanied by a nice letter of their own, they forwarded a copy of the report to Hereford. In part, the report reads:

"If you could have seen the (Hereford) Canteen in action on Labor Day it would have cheered and warmed your hearts, as it did those who were the recipients of a dainty lunch served. Both Continental trains were late and rolled in at noon. The soldiers and sailors were a bit slow about getting out, but finally did, and their first expression was: 'Working on Labor Day', to which the Captain on duty replied: 'Every day is your day.'

"The Canteen served lunch to the Division representatives, and it surely tasted good. The menu served the soldier men—and you can imagine how it was enjoyed—was: bread and butter, sandwiches, FRIED chicken, Angel Food cake, fruit, iced tea, post cards. (Can you beat it?)

"I'm certainly strong for this Chapter here. They are entitled to all the encouragement and good words you can give them."

Metcalf's Brother Here

Thomas Metcalf and R. Jackson, both of Shullsburg, Wis., non-resident property owners, arrived in Hereford last Saturday for an inspection trip. Both gentlemen are much interested in the oil development, and are here for the purpose of ascertaining first hand information. Mr. Metcalf is a brother of Frank Metcalf of Hereford.

These gentlemen stated that the largest zinc mine and plant in the world is located at Shullsburg. Uncle Sam erected a huge sulphuric acid plant during the war, the product of which was to be used against the Huns.

J. S. Warner Back

J. S. Warner, wife and children arrived overland Sunday from Russellville, Ark., where they have resided for several years, and will again make Hereford their home.

The Warners formerly lived here, and still have their home here. Mr. Warner states that they always expected to return to Hereford, and are glad to get back once more.

SPUDDIN' PARTY A BIG ONE

Nearly 3000 Hungry Folks Crowd the Grounds John Patton Hurt

Hereford's first spudding in party last Thursday, at the site of the Hereford Oil & Gas Company's well No. 1, turned out to be an almost unanimous affair, so far as attendance was concerned. It was simply a whale of a crowd. Practically all the business houses in town closed for the occasion, and everybody that did not have to walk was on hand—especially when the dinner bell sounded. The crowd was estimated to be close to 3,000 people.

Citizens of the town, interested in the project, were hosts and furnished meat, ice cream cones, cigars, lemonade, almost-beer, etc., in limitless quantities. That hungry crowd polished off a total of five husky yearlings without batting an eye, and cleared up the contents of five pots of the famous cowman's stew, on top of that.

A big shed for shade and meeting purposes had been provided, and here the speechmaking took place. Judge John P. Slaton was the principal orator of the day, and he was ably seconded by Prof. Noblett, the geologist, and Driller Ricketts. Mr. Ricketts quite surprised the crowd with the "punch" in his address.

Among the guests of the day were M. C. Nobles, W. M. Cunningham and J. M. Neely, all of Amarillo, president, vice president and secretary, respectively of the original Amarillo Oil Co., whose stock at first sold at $10 per share and is now listed at $11.50 per share.

One unfortunate circumstance attending the party was the breaking of a guy rope attached to the main cable line, whereby John Patton was knocked out and painfully hurt for the time being, although, fortunately, his injuries are not believed to be permanent. The cable shoe holding the rope gave way and a piece of it hit him in the chest. He was given first aid on the spot. No bones were broken, and it is believed that he will sustain no permanent injury from the accident. Driller Ricketts had his derby hat smashed by the same rope, and others nearby were thrown about a little, but a final check showed no fatalities.

Officials of the Company announced that they fitted the boilers to burn crude oil and they were drilling Thursday at a depth of sixty feet. Beginning next week a day and night shift will be started and the work rushed to completion.

Miss Mae Womack To Wed Sloan Baker

Miss Mae Womack, daughter of R. H. Womack, of Hereford, and Sloan Baker, son of Rev. W. M. Baker, former Presbyterian minister here, are to be married in the near future.

Announcement of the approaching union of this popular young couple came as an overwhelming surprise to the ladies of the Woman's Missionary Society of the church, which met with Mrs. Henry Hastings Wednesday afternoon in a social hour for the express purpose of giving the bride-to-be a departing shower. The young couple had originally planned to be married at Waxahachie, the groom's home, and the approaching event was to be camouflaged by the apparent intention of Miss Womack to attend Trinity University, located at that point. Hence the shower. The plan was afterwards altered, however, and decision made to have the ceremony performed in Hereford.

Mr. Baker is due to arrive in Hereford Sunday, when the time and details of the ceremony will be finally determined.

THE SPUDDING PARTY

No longer is spudding a mystery in Hereford. If anybody now should look us in the eye and ask if we have ever spudded, he'll never see us flinch. We will simply answer, "Sure, we've spudded," and we might add, just to be congenial, that we have no objection to spudding. We confess, we like to spud.

For the benefit of those who failed to go to the spudding party it should be explained that it was not a function in honor of the potato. The dictionary tells us that a spud is, among other things, and in addition to being a potato, "something short and thick; as (a) a small child or thickset man, (b) a piece of fried dough, (c) a baby's chubby hand, or (d) money." The spudding party had nothing to do with any of these things, although all of them were present.

Spud means about the same thing in connection with an oil well as the laying of a cornerstone does in connection with a building—only it's different. Again resorting to the dictionary, we find that "spud, v. t., spudded spudding," is defined as follows: "To work (the boring tool) by means of the bull wheel alone in starting an oil well."

There you have it. What could be simpler? If you drill an oil well, you must first spud. It is essential.

But Hereford's spudding party meant something more than is contained in the dictionary. It meant, probably, the beginning of a new era for Hereford.

AMERICA AND ENGLAND

Dr. J. H. Jowett, famous London preacher and formerly pastor in New York City for seven years gave an address on the Sunday after the signing of the Peace Treaty in which he made comparisons of American and British characteristics. The address was published in the British Weekly and from it we quote the following:

"Anglo-American friendship would be sealed by the Lord Jesus as one of the reconciling ministries of the world. In this bond a thousand other bonds will obtain consistency and strength. The Treaty of Peace will depend for its life and endurance on the intimate friendship of the American and British peoples. Mischief workers are busy on both sides of the Atlantic, gathering up old hatreds to feed the fire. Here and there the fire is getting hold again. Whereunto shall it grow? I ask my congregation if we are going to allow the mischief makers to have it all their own way. . . . I believe that the heart of the British people is essentially sound, that the hard schooling of the last five years has not been wasted, that the leanings of the Nation to which we belong are toward magnanimity and comprehension."

The people of these two Nations are bound together by ties of blood, and of common interests. More than this, they are bound together by a common task and in large measure a common destiny. Had you ever thought what would become of the world if these two nations should become enemies? Together they are the hope of the world so far as nations can be the hope of the world. He who does anything to create friction between the two peoples is a public enemy.

The secular press of his country is full of reports of the reception of an Irishman who is called the President of the Irish Republic. He has been received in this country as though he were the head of a real government. Mayors of cities introduce him and crowds cheer him extravagantly wherever he goes, and in some way all this gets published far and wide.

We confess that we are unable to understand the Americanism of a citizen of the United States who can get his consent to consort with these Sinn-Feiners anyway. When Belgium was gasping for life and France was bleeding white and the British soldiers were marching from Canada and Australia and India, and Italian soldiers were holding their Alpine heights—all of them holding back the beasts who sought to crush civilization that they might have power themselves—these same Sinn-Feiners were trying to betray the allied cause and give Germany a stranglehold on the throat of England and of the world. As soon as the war was won they were the first to claim its benefits.

We must not forget that the Irish are themselves divided on the policy which the British government should exercise toward Ireland. Furthermore this is at bottom a religious question and certainly it is an internal question with Great Britain, and one with which we have nothing to do.

It is about time that we in this country learn that by the time we get through attending to our own business it will be bedtime.—Texas Christian Advocate.

A DESEVED HONOR

It is not often that the people of the eighteenth district of Texas have cause to regret a vote by their representative in Congress. It is a matter of pride among his constituents that Marvin Jones habitually is on the right side in the big considerations that confront the government.

But we question seriously if he accurately reflected the sentiment prevailing here when he chose to cast the vote of this district in the House against the bill to confer upon the commander of the American army on the battlefields of France the permanent rank of General.

Mr. Jones' explanation of his negative vote—that no American soldier in the war should be so highly honored—is not entirely satisfactory. George Dewey, after his successful performance at Manila Bay, was made an Admiral of the Navy for life. When Congress bestowed this honor on Dewey the entire nation applauded, and never was it hinted afterwards that it was an undemocratic action. It is no disparagement of the hero of Manila Bay to say that the work done by Pershing in France was of greater service to mankind than was Dewey's triumph.

Three other members of the House voted with Mr. Jones against the bill. The total vote in favor of the bill was 273. In taking sides with the very small minority Mr. Jones formerly an enlisted private soldier, voted against his former commander in chief.

It is admitted that Gen. Pershing's management of the American forces in France has not been without criticism. We doubt, however, if any considerable part of this criticism will be justified in the final verdict of history, and we are quite certain that the fair-minded people of this congressional district do not relish the thought that they, through their representative, have been placed in the unique position of standing almost alone in the country in opposing a proper recognition of the services rendered the world by General Pershing.

"The first thing that Gen. Pershing did that was of great importance to the American forces was to insist that his forces should fight as 'an American army,'" declared Representative Julius Kahn, of California, chairman of the House of military committee. Mr. Kahn, who made a most searching study of the situation on the battlefields on the other side, made it very clear in his fine tribute, just what this decision of the American commander meant, not only for America and for its troops, but for the Allies as well. For, as Mr. Kahn puts it, in gaining his point, General Pershing gave the American army a morale which was equal to anything and "brought the war materially to a speedier conclusion." But this decision of General Pershing did not prevent him giving our Allies a complete co-operation and support that, as all know, early in the spring of 1918, already turned the tide against Germany, whose downfall was in sight in July and admitted in August.

Representative Bee, of Texas, recalled that Gen. Pershing was living in San Antonio when he was summoned to Washington, and from Washington was sent to France. Mr. Bee said:

"In behalf of Texas, the field of his activities, under whose mellow moon he studied the problems of war, along whose far-flung border he pursued his training as a soldier and equipped himself for his splendid service, and because we knew him as a soldier and loved him as a man, and found him a splendid type of American, we pay on this day this deserved tribute to John J. Pershing."

We believe that Mr. Bee and not Mr. Jones—and we say it regretfully—spoke for the eighteenth congressional district of Texas on this occasion.

On his last day in France, after all his records had been sent to the United States, General Pershing declined to appear before a Congressional committee investigating war expenditures, and the people of the United States will uphold him in his action. The committee's request was a combination of impudence and bad manners, and deserves no sympathy.

"Uncle John" Shell, the Tennesseean, who is 131 years old, remembers when opposition to the Monroe doctrine was just as violent, proportionately, as is the opposition now to the league of nations. And the Monroe doctrine has been a bulwark of national safety for more than a hundred years.

TILSON DEFENDS RATIFICATION OF SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

Many Conclusive Reasons Why The Legislature Did Right by Adopting Resolution

Editor Brand:

In view of the fact that the edict has gone forth from Bob Henry, Jim Ferguson, Joe Bailey & Co., that every member of the 36th legislature that voted to ratify the National Woman Suffrage amendment "is an embezzler of power" and must be relegated to the shades of private life, I beg to make a few observations on that line and allow the people to determine if this charge is true.

In the first place, I deny that the question of woman suffrage per se was ever submitted to the people for their decision. The proposition submitted was a double-barreled affair. Two propositions were embraced in one amendment—one enfranchising women and the other disfranchising unnaturalized foreigners.

All probably understand that our present constitution provides that any alien who will declare his "intention" to become a citizen, is entitled to vote, having complied with the other requirements. Now, every alien, even the ignorant Mexican, has such an appreciation of the right of the ballot that he would not vote for his own disfranchisement, therefore, he must vote against woman suffrage. Hence, we are justified in concluding that all foreigners and their friends, voted against the amendment; many no doubt, would have favored woman suffrage submitted by itself.

Now, let's see who defeated the amendment. In 13 counties in Southwest Texas, where there is a large foreign element, they gave over 17,000 to the 25,000 majority against the amendment. Everyone knows that there is a large foreign element in other portions of the state, and that they all voted against the amendment because of this disfranchising clause and considering the light vote cast in the election, it is fair to conclude that a large per cent of the votes against the amendment were highly interested foreigners.

Again, in the primary and general election in 1918, the prohibition and woman suffrage question were the paramount issues and practically every member of the 36th legislature was elected on these issues. Then, in addition to this the democratic station at Waco declared convention submission of an amendment to the Federal constitution, to the various legislatures giving the right of suffrage. Women on the same terms as men and that the legislatures ratify the same when so submitted.

Now, I say that in consideration of the above facts, the legislative and unmistakable instruction of the democratic voters of Texas, and had they voted otherwise they would have assumed the role of dictators of the people and sure enough "embezzlers of power."

In the 123rd district, which I have the honor of representing, the vote was overwhelmingly in favor of ratifying the amendment. So I am prepared to meet Bob Henry and Joe at Philippi. There are other equally as good reasons for voting for or better. One is because it is ratification. Another is because it is right and just. Another is because it is immensely and intensely democratic. No man can offer a reason for male suffrage that will not apply equally to female suffrage. Their intelligence, patriotism, self-sacrifice and devotion to duty suffers nothing in comparison with men. This is abundantly evidenced in every great ordeal or calamity that befalls a people never was there exhibited in the history of the world higher examples of noble daring, dreadful suffering and heroic endurance than by the women, especially of the South, during the war between the States. The same can be said in reference to the late war. Their interests, their duties and responsibilities being the same, then not their privileges be the same. Then why deprive her of the privilege of making the laws? (Continued on page 6.)

Geologist's Report

The rise was so moderate and gradual that no great erosions existed during any of the periods of dynamic action.

During the mountain making epoch, the folding in this section was so gradual that the slopes or anticlines were broken but little, and consequently are long and very extensive. I take this to be splendid, because when the folds are frequent, the oil has more opportunities to escape. When the anticlines are unbroken for great distance, there is great opportunity for the accumulation of oil in great quantities.

A large anticline with the beginning somewhere south of the town of Hereford, extends north and west, including your leases. This anticline covers many miles of territory, and on this anticline we find several folds as per map enclosed. These folds extend principally northeast and southwest.

It is known that oil does not accumulate even under the folds or anticlines, unless there is porous rock or sand to absorb it. Therefore the search in your section was necessarily more exhaustive than usual, because of the difficulty in locating the sand deposits.

These deposits were laid down by rapidly running water, which found its way to the Gulf, and which from the evidence at hand, we concluded flowed east and south in a south-easterly direction, carrying erosions from the higher altitudes north and west, and laying down the sand in lenticular streams, broadening in places; so we believe splendid pools will develop in your section. Oil will be found where the structures cross these sands.

An examination of the formations made of the adjoining sections, shows evidence of the development of bitumen, and of fossils in the older shales. This is shown on both sides of your property, and we believe the same occurrence can be relied upon here.

Therefore the depth at which oil is found in your section is in the vicinity of the old shale deposits, and the depth at which the main body of oil will be found is approximately 2200 feet. This will be found in sands laid down co-ordinately with the marls and clays which composed the shales.

There are several layers of sand above this, and where the process of folding was sufficient to cause an opening in the impervious covering, you will find the oil percolating through to the upper sands, which in your section in places will bring oil at 1500 feet, 800 feet, and just below the quarternary, which in several places in your vicinity will be within 300 feet of the surface.

I do not believe oil will be found in commercial values at this shallow depth, but where these sands are encountered in drilling, careful observation should be made and expert advice taken upon these observations, so that anything commercial at shallow depth need not be overlooked.

It is more profitable for small companies to develop shallow fields, than to attempt deep drilling. A deep test failure, unless backed by ample capital, is often disastrous, and if deep drilling can be avoided by the small Companies, it should be done. This however is the commercial side of your proposition, and the business sagacity of your directors will no doubt lead you to a correct solution of all problems.

The section in which your leases are located, is bound to become an interesting oil field, and conservative and careful development is advised. We would recommend drilling with a Standard rig. Do not use a Rotary. You will have some trouble with quick sand, if you are not careful, in the first few hundred feet, but with an experienced driller and using caution, trouble can be avoided. With the exception of the first two sands, you will find your sand deposits rather compact. For this reason, if there are oil indications in the lower compact sands, your well can be improved by careful shooting. (Continued on page 6.)

AGRICULTURAL SHOW WILL BE A "GARDEN OF EDEN"

$10,000 IN PREMIUMS FOR COUNTY AND INDIVIDUAL FARM EXHIBITS

Prospects for an Agricultural Show that will be the best ever held in Texas are most encouraging, according to President Jno. N. Simpson, of the State Fair of Texas, in speaking of the Victory Fair, to be held in Dallas in October.

From all sections of the State space reservations have been made for individual exhibits, that will be made in great variety and in superior quality.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the Panhandle-Plains Counties, Rio Grande Counties, and counties in East, North, Central and South Texas, will all make splendid displays of the products of the farm, the orchard, the garden, and the ranch.

The $500.00 special premiums offered by Dallas Cotton Exchange for best bale of 1919 Texas cotton; and the $300.00 special premiums offered by Texas Land & Mortgage Company, are proving excellent magnets. The agricultural and horticultural displays at the Victory Fair will form a veritable "Garden of Eden" on Texas soil.

WHEN EVERY MOVE HURTS

Lame every morning, achy and stiff all day, worse when it's damp or chilly? Suspect your kidneys and try the remedy your neighbors use.

Mrs. W. B. Anthony, Hereford, says: "Not so very long ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills with great results. My back ached all the time and I could hardly stoop over and when I did such sharp, stinging pains would catch me in the small of my back I could hardly straighten up. Every muscle in my body was sore and it hurt me to move. I was tired and worn out all the time. I also had dizzy spells and felt weak. My kidneys were weak and irregular in action and there were other symptoms of kidney trouble which were annoying. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and began using them. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me entirely of all the trouble."

and shaping the destinies of a country in which she lives? Taxation without representation has caused more blood shed than almost any other one thing.

Article 4 of the United States constitution guarantees to every state a republican form of government, which is a government of the people by the people and for the people and if women are not people then please tell me what they are. Article XIV declares "that all persons born or naturalized in the U. S. are citizens thereof," and this includes women. It also says "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the U. S." Now, if women are citizens and no one will contravert this proposition, how in the name of justice and common sense has it been possible in the face of these constitutional provisions for either the U. S. or any state, to deprive our women citizens of this voting privilege. Our state constitution says, Art. 1, Sec. 2, "All political power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority and instituted for their benefit." Now, I repeat, women being people and largely responsible for political, as well as social conditions in our state; upon what theory of justice can we afford to annul or paralyze her influence and efforts in the politics of our state or of a voice in framing the laws and shaping the destinies of our country?

But in order to remove all doubt or excuse for quibbling, the congress of the United States submitted an amendment declaring "that the right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged on account of sex." The 36th legislature almost unanimously, wisely, and from every standpoint of right and justice, ratified this amendment, and so far as I am concerned I have no apologies to make to Jim Ferguson, Joe Bailey or any one else.

I have said, this proposition was immensely democratic, but I say that the method by which it is to be brought about is intensely undemocratic, because the parties most directly affected are not allowed a voice in its determination. Many an American woman with revolutionary blood in her veins, born on American soil, educated in American schools, familiar with American history and ideals, bubbling over with patriotism and love for American institutions, has seen the process by which her state and country have denied her a voice in her own government through the votes of men born in other lands, many of them unable to speak our language, some unable to even read their ballots, many of them born and raised under a monarchial, autocratic or despotic government and knowing little or nothing of our American institution, but automatically enfranchised by the laws of our land. And this character of men have been withholding from half of the best and noblest class of our citizenship the inestimable and sacred right of the ballot or of self-determination.

T. J. TILSON.

der lying formation or structures, and to ascertain facts, it becomes necessary to trace your formation beginning in other sections. For this reason your field may not be as attractive, until a discovery is made, after which I believe you will have one of the most sought after sections in Texas. The search in your section developed the fact that fossil remains are imbedded in the different stratas of marine deposits.

The character of these fossils, suggest very clearly that the formation is of marine origin. Though it is useless to discuss these questions, a very comprehensive and chronological array of facts could be given, this however, may be uninteresting. From these facts, it is often impossible to form a conclusion, however, let me say that in your section, like in other sections of Texas, the material out of which oil is created, was profusely developed, and did exist and that this material was imperiously engulfed and distilled into oil.

There remains no question that the oil was covered by an imperious covering and has not escaped. It is also evident that it lies within reach of the drill in the beds of sand that were laid down during the early ages, or, at the time the maris and clays engulfed the material that made the oil.

With all these conditions so favorable, the conclusion is that you have a field of great promise. An accompanying map gives you an idea of the location of the structures, also of the lenticular deposits of sand on your leases. The preferable locations for drilling, have already been pointed out to you, and marked.

Respectfully submitted,
Joseph Kreis,
Consulting Engineer.

HANDS, ARMS, LIMBS ASLEEP

And Was Run-Down, Weak and Nervous, Says Florida Lady. Five Bottles of Cardui Made Her Well.

Kathleen, Fla.—Mrs. Dallas Prince of this place, says: "After the birth of my last child... I got very much run-down and weakened, so much that I could hardly do anything at all. I was so awfully nervous that I could scarcely endure the least noise. My condition was getting worse all the time... I knew I must have some relief or I would soon be in the bed and in a serious condition for I felt so badly and was so nervous and weak I could hardly live. My husband asked Dr. about my taking Cardui. He said, 'It's a good medicine, and good for that trouble', so he got me 5 bottles... After about the second bottle I felt greatly improved... before taking it my limbs and hands and arms would go to sleep. After taking it, however, this poor circulation disappeared. My strength came back to me and I was soon on the road to health. After the use of about 5 bottles, I could do all my house-work and attend to my six children besides.

You can feel safe in giving Cardui a thorough trial for your troubles. It contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, but is composed of mild, vegetable, medicinal ingredients with no bad after-effects. Thousands of women have voluntarily written, telling of the good Cardui has done them. It should help you, too. Try it. E 74

NO DALHART FAIR

A general meeting of the membership of the Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday evening in the spacious dining room of the DeSoto Hotel, where the members enjoyed a magnificent picnic dinner to the tune of Buck's Orchestra.

President Thompson, after giving a resume of the work of the organization, proposed as the main subject of the evening, Shall Dalhart have a fair this year? The Directors of the organization last week voted for the fair, and appointed committees to hold it but after considerable round table discussion at the general meeting, it was decided by a majority vote not to hold it. The reasons urged were that it would interrupt the farmers, who because of a shortage of help, will need all their time in harvesting their crops. Another reason advanced against the project was that there is not ample time in which to advertise, collect exhibits, and make contracts with amusement companies.

QUITE AN EXPERIENCE

Sheriff Griffiths had an experience one day this week that he will not forget for some time to come. He received notice that some light fingered individual, who had been working at the G. G. White ranch, had left for parts unknown, and had relieved Mr. White of a watch, a Colt automatic and some other things. In company with Dr. Goettsche, Mr. Griffiths proceeded to Darrouzett, where he had an idea that the thief had gone. On driving into that town, the first man they saw was an individual who answered in some measure the description of the man wanted. It would seem that the thief suspected the men on the trail, and he made tracks for a lot of box cars that were on the track. The sheriff followed after, and the doctor, armed with a 30-30 rifle, hid behind his person, carelessly strolled on the other side of the cars. On turning the corner of one of the cars, the sheriff ran into the front end of a big, late model 45, and a command of "hands up." An order he could not disobey with any measure of safety—and, therefore he complied with the order. The thief now proceeded to relieve the sheriff of his gun; and at that moment the doctor and his 30-30 dropped around the corner. That long rifle promptly covered the holdup man, but there being some danger of hitting Mr. Griffiths, the doctor held his fire until he got the thief into proper range—and then, another order rang out: "hands up!" And the thief, believing that that rifle was too big for comfortable digestion, promptly put his hands in the air. He is now safe and sound in the county jail waiting the action of the Grand Jury. Sheriff Griffiths is to be congratulated on getting his man, who may possibly know something of other wrong doings that have been committed in this vicinity during the past few months. He is to be congratulated on taking with him on his trip a man who has a cool head and a steady hand in an emergency.—Higgins News.

The extra miles they give mean just so many extra dollars counted in real money.

And there are further actual economies in the saving of gas, oil, repairs and depreciation.

The reason of all this is in the tires themselves—their liveliness, ruggedness and sturdiness.

There are five United States Tires—a type for every make of car.

BOB MALONE SERIOUSLY INJURED BY MULE

Thursday morning, Sept. 12, about 6 o'clock, at the Knight ranch, twenty miles west of Plainview, Robert Malone, son-in-law of L. A. Knight, was seriously injured by a mule. It seems that he was leading a horse with a rope, and some of the employees of the ranch were driving some mules out of a pen. One of the mules ran against Malone, knocking him down. The mule trampled him in the face. The right ear was slit and lacerated, the right cheek badly bruised and the back of his head hurt. It was about two hours before a doctor could be secured from town. He was brought home later in the day, and is reported in a satisfactory condition.

WHITE WAY ALMOST ASSURED

It is proposed to have a White Way in Dalhart extending throughout the paved district, and it is probable it will go along with the paving. Figures have been obtained for the posts and lamps, and also the electric current, and a number of property owners have agreed to incur their part of the expense of getting the way installed. It is understood that the City will furnish the current. A proposition has been made by the Light Company to the city, offering a reduced rate for this service.—Dalhart Texan.

BRIDEGROOM IS HAZED BY HIS FRIENDS

Bert Vaughn is a member of the Plainview volunteer department. More than two weeks ago he and Miss Lorena Wade were secretly married, and did not announce the fact until Wednesday morning. Last night Bert and his bride went to a picture show. Some of the fire boys cranked up Bert's car, and when the engine got to running Bert recognized its cough and came out of the show. He was caught and taken across to the watering trough at the court yard and ducked in the water. Then he was tied to the rear of the fire truck and led about town, and as a finale he was tied to a post and a hose turned on him.—Plainview News.

W. S. S.

Almost two million and a half dollars, $2,469,838.81 to be exact, will be distributed to citizens of the Eleventh Federal District on September 15. This vast sum will be distributed by the United States Government. It is a semi-annual interest payment on the Third Liberty Loan. The Treasury Department is urging that a large portion of this Liberty Loan interest be re-invested in War Savings Stamps or Registered Treasury Savings Certificates. The money will thus be kept working—the interest will make more interest. There were 719,110 individual subscribers to the Third Liberty Loan in the Eleventh District. Each one of these is urged by the Treasury Department to put this interest, and as much more as can be spared, into War Savings Stamps and Registered Treasury Savings Certificates. By so doing, they are continuing to help the Government and are investing dollars of low earning capacity so that they will work unto the day when they are worth more. Liberty Loan interest coupons may be exchanged for War Savings Stamps at postoffices or banks. It is not necessary to cash them first. The Eleventh District is far behind on its War Savings Stamp quota for the year. Here is an easy opportunity to overcome a portion of the deficit. Buy War Savings Stamps and Registered Treasury Savings Certificates.

U. of Texas Football

The football coaches of the University of Texas with a squad of about 60 men will go into training at Austin, September 15. Captain L. T. Bellmont, director of athletics, together with William J. Juneau, C. E. Van Gent, Berry Whitaker, William J. Disch, Roy B. Henderson and J. E. Ettinger, will cooperate in bringing the best material to be found in the University into form for the season.

Lieut. Maxey Hart of Austin, who has just returned from overseas, will re-enter the University this fall, and expects to be a member of the football eleven. After the armistice Lieut. Hart spent several months at Campbridge University. He played on the American student teams at that institution, adding to the laurels he had won at the University of Texas.

Bertram Hedick, the 190-pound fullback, who busted holes through all opposing teams in 1916, will return to the University this fall.

Homer Waits, the star fullback and forward passer of the '16 and '17 teams, will also be on hand.

Rip Lang, whose brilliant end runs and great kicking won the A. and M. game in 1916, is reported to be considering returning.

"Tillie" Ferguson, the stocky little general of the undefeated 1918 team, and Bill Brennan, of the 1917 team, will be back at quarter.

Alvarro McCallum and Lee Sens will be back, and will round out the strongest veteran backfield ever got together at the University of Texas.

The ends will be taken care of by Maxey Hart and Bob Blaine.

Tynan of the 1916 freshman and George Hill of the 1918 regulars will be back also.

Doc Graves, the captain-elect, who gave the A. and M. half-backs fits with his hard tackling and his receiving of forward passes last year will bid for the end position.

For the tackle positions, Big Falk of the 1918 team and Sam Harwell of the famous 1916 are already back, and it is probable that Sylvan Simpson and Ned Boynton of the 1915 team will return.

At the present time, the center of the line appears to be weakest, as only two old letter men will be back, Albert Penn and Bachman Greer. The line presents one of the best opportunities for the incoming freshmen to show the stuff that is in them, and already several promising high school men have signified their intention of coming and showing the others that they have the material in them that will make the Texas line this year the strongest it has ever had.

Every position on the team is open, and every man will get an absolutely equal chance, whether he has ever been at the University before or not.

Report of Circle Number Three

The members of Circle No. three were graciously welcomed into the elegant and hospitable home of Mrs. R. N. Mounts, last Wednesday afternoon.
 After the dear old-time song, "He Leadeth Me," Mother LeGrand made an earnest prayer, for all lines of the work.
 Mrs. Connell led the devotional by reading the fifteenth chapter of John, which shows our relationship to Jesus, as the 'vine to the branches of the vine'. There were helpful comments by members.
 Mrs. Bradley not only had charge of the lesson, but conducted the entire meeting in a very satisfactory way. The questions and discussions on the lesson were very interesting.
 Mrs. Mounts had splendid minutes of last meeting.
 When the roll was called each responded with scriptural verses appropriate to the occasion. The number of visits reported was very encouraging.
 The committees reported on personal service.
 In response for new business, a suggestion was sent in for a uniform for the girls at High School. Other mention was that flowers be sent from the Circle to Mrs. Thompson. There was other business but space forbids further mention.
 Mrs. Connell made a very precious closing prayer, in which the absent were remembered.
 Next meeting at Mrs. Bradley's. All are cordially invited to be present.

Meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Frank Potts on Sept. 3rd, 1919, with mesdames D. W. Hawkins, Roy Stocking and Potts as hostesses. Promptly at four o'clock the president, Mrs. Ashbrook, called the house to order and the opening song, "In the Service of the King," was sung. Mrs. Black then led in prayer. Elizabeth Stegall gave a humorous reading that was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Thompson's violin solo was quite a treat. The devotional service was then led by Mrs. Ashbrook, the scripture lesson being found in Matt. 10th chapter and the study and thought given to same made it a splendid service. The business of the meeting was next in order, reports of officers and committees were given and accepted and new business taken up. Among other things the Missionary Society decided to endorse a regulation blouse for our High School girls.
 It was our pleasure to have Mrs. C. C. Chennoweth, Mrs. H. H. Hawkins, Miss Mattie Swisher and Mrs. Cannon as our guests for this

THE OAKLAND SENSIBLE SIX

The wide demand for the Roadster rises from two sources. Busy men, such as sal-men and physicians who desire facile, economical transportation, form a large proportion of the users of this type of car. It is also preferred by others who wish to command the extra chassis ability usually present under a roadster body. It is to these classes of users that the Oakland Sensible Six Roadster makes an exceptional appeal at this time.
