Hereford youngster drowned

A Hereford youngster drowned Saturday in an accident at Greenbelt Lake near Clarendon.

Daniel Ramos Jr., 8, of Hereford, was swimming with a brother during a family outing at the lake when the two got into a deeper section of the lake not far from the shoreline, according to reports. The other brother attempted to save Daniel but the older brother almost drowned before being rescued by a man who was fishing nearby.

Efforts to save Daniel Jr. were futile. His brother was treated at the scene before being taken to Hall Memorial Hospital in Memphis, where he was treated and released. Daniel Ramos Jr. was born in Amarillo and was to have been a third grader this year at Aikman School in Hereford.

Graveside services were scheduled for 10 a.m. today at St. Anthony's Cemetery with Deacon Emilio Fuentes officiating. Arrangements were by Rix Funeral Directors.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ramos Sr., two brothers, Esrain Ramos and Julian Ramos; a sister, Dellin Ramos; his grandparent, Ponciano and Juanita Alejandre, both of Hereford, and Manuel and Augustine Ramos, both of Amarillo; and great-grandparents, Inez Alejandre and Maria Vasquez, both of Hereford, and Eapina Maldonado of San Antonio.

President will unveil drug strategy tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Bush, issuing an anti-drug battle cry, tonight will urge a crackdown on drug users and ask Americans to join a $7.8 billion war on narcotics whose funding source he has yet to reveal.

For his first nationally televised address to the nation, scheduled for 9 p.m. EDT, Bush will talk about drugs in what White House Press Secretary Marlin Fitzwater called "a personal message from himself to the American people that talks about the collective need of society to pull together to solve this problem."

Bush will "talk considerably about users and the need to crack down on them and who they are and why this is such a pervasive problem in our society," Fitzwater said Monday.

Bush today planned to discuss his drug plan with Cabinet members and members of Congress.

Just back from a three-week vacation in Kennebunkport, Maine, Bush rehearsed his speech Monday afternoon and went over last-minute refinements of the text. He got tips on delivery and style from his campaign media adviser, Roger Ailes.

All four major television networks - ABC, CBS, NBC and CNN - plan to broadcast the speech, which will be carried from the Oval Office.

The speech will outline the national drug strategy put together over several months by his drug policy coordinator, William Bennett, with assistance from advisers across the government. The strategy has been billed as a coordinated effort to link the drug-fighting programs by various government agencies in a more cohesive way than has been seen in the past.

Some details have been revealed, but officials have not disclosed where Bush will siphon off money from an already squeezed federal budget. Sources have said it will come from various categories in next year's budget rather than cutting back in one or two places.

Bush's package for 1990 will be close to $2 billion above the current anti-drug spending levels.

In his televised address, the president will dwell more on a general outline of his strategy than on its cost specifics. The White House planned to release those figures to the media today.

Bush will urge Americans "to think about what drugs are doing to our society, and the many ramifications that they have for other social programs," such as housing, medical care and education, Fitzwater said.

Fitzwater said the speech would be "an expression of the magnitude of the problem, what it takes to deal with it, what can we expect, how long it will take."

Among the details that have emerged is that Bush will earmark some $260 million in economic and military aid to the three main cocaine producers, Colombia, Bolivia and Peru. The final figure could go higher, administration sources have said.

It's war in Colombia Fighting between government troops, drug interests escalates as U.S. aid begins arriving

MEDELLIN, Colombia (AP) - More U.S. military aid was on its way today to bolster the government in its fight against drug gangs, which have battled back with bombings and are blamed for a bloody attack at Medellin's airport.

Five U.S. military helicopters were due to arrive today, following weekend deliveries of two C-130 transport planes and eight A-37 reconnaissance and attack jets.

Medellin police said four bombs exploded Monday night in or near the city - home base of the world's most powerful cocaine cartel, injuring two people.

Officials blamed the drug barons for an attack in which a man in a camouflage uniform fired an automatic rifle at a line of people waiting outside the Medellin airport terminal, killing one man and wounding 14 people before he was fatally shot by security forces.

"It was horrendous. I was hit. I fell," said Rodolfo Montoya, a Colombian who lives in the New York City and was hospitalized with an ankle wound.

Montoya, who was visiting his mother, said he and his wife had been on their way to Bogota, 150 miles south of Medellin, for a connecting flight to New York.

He said his wife had just passed the security inspection at the door and was safe inside the building when the gunman opened fire. Among the wounded were eleven civilians and three airport security officers.

Investigators were checking the fingerprints of the assailant in an effort to identify him. They said his car was towed away in case it contained a bomb, but a search found no explosives.

The Caracol radio network said some marijuana was found in the vehicle.

Five UH-1H helicopters were to arrive today at Bogota's main airport, carried inside a huge U.S. C-5 transport plane. The helicopters are the final big-ticket items announced in President Bush's $65 million special aid package for Colombia's anti-drug forces.

Two four-engine C-130 transport planes landed in Bogota Sunday and on Monday eight A-37 reconnaissance and attack jets, formerly stationed at Air National Guard units in Illinois and Michigan, were turned over to Colombia at a military base in the Caribbean city of Barranquilla.

"These aircraft, which will be piloted by Colombians, will strengthen our combat capacity," Gen. Alfonso Amaya, commander of the Colombian air force, said as the A-37s were delivered. The fast-climbing, twin-engine jets can be equipped with rockets and machine guns. Colombia already has some A-37s.

Other U.S. equipment promised to Colombia includes trucks, small boats, grenades, machine guns, rifles and bulletproof jackets for judges and other officials targeted for assassination by the drug gangs.

Civil aviation officials in the northwestern city of Monteria said a C-123 transport plane of the U.S. State Department's international narcotics division was firebombed early Sunday.

The U.S. Embassy said Monday it could not confirm the bombing but acknowledged that the plane was badly damaged by fire.

Colombia's government has been in a virtual war with the country's cocaine cartels since Aug. 18, with bombings, shootings and arson occurring almost daily. Medellin, population 2 million, has been one of the most violent spots.

Soldiers and policemen carrying automatic weapons continued to patrol Medellin's streets and an 11 p.m.-5 a.m. curfew remained in effect.

On Monday night, two bombs were thrown at Medellin offices of the government's Caja Agraria bank and one of the blasts slightly injured two passersby, police said, adding that damage to the buildings was slight.

The government of President Virgilio Barco ordered the crackdown on drug traffickers after a string of assassinations that culminated in the killing Aug. 18 of Sen. Luis Carlos Galan, the leading presidential candidate and an outspoken foe of the cocaine barons.

Almost a catch

A youngster has a Frisbee just slip through his hands while playing catch with friends over the weekend at Dameron Park in Hereford. Area residents enjoyed warm, clear weather over the last holiday weekend of the summer. Activities around town for kids in Hereford are now focused at schools, which opened today for the 1989-90 school year.

HUD had big warning

WASHINGTON (AP) - When a New York-based magazine for apartment builders wrote in July 1988 of influence-peddling in the Department of Housing and Urban Development, agency officials braced themselves for a scandal.

But the scandal didn't materialize until the following April when HUD's inspector general reported that developers and consultants were reaping millions of dollars and that there was a "widespread perception" of favoritism and abuse in the Section 8 Moderate Rehabilitation Program.

The allegations of fraud and influence-peddling at HUD are front-page news now. Samuel Pierce Jr., housing secretary during all eight years of President Reagan's term, will be the lead witness when a House subcommittee resumes its HUD hearings on Sept. 15.

A Senate subcommittee also will resume hearings this fall, but no date has been set. Meanwhile, the congressional tax-writing committees are working on ways to tighten the low-income housing tax credit that attracted many developers to HUD projects.

The moderate rehabilitation program began in 1979 as a lever to induce landlords to make modest improvements to bring low-income housing up to standards.

But HUD inspector general Paul Adams' April 26 report said there was little to indicate help was going to those who needed it most, and that rents on HUD-financed rehabilitation projects were mostly at the maximum allowable.

Among the reports about HUD: -Adams testified last month that at least $5.7 million was paid to 20 well-connected consultants who helped their employers win big HUD contracts on housing for the poor. The consultants included former officials of the agency and politically influential Republicans.

-Two HUD audits said rent subsidies were improperly inflated by $6 million for a housing project in Tulsa, Okla., owned by a partnership that includes four former HUD officials. There were similar reports elsewhere.

-Government records showed that HUD issued a waiver of regulations that allowed developers represented by Pierce's former law firm to keep lucrative HUD subsidies.

-Thomas T. Demery, assistant secretary of housing in the Reagan administration, attended fundraisers at which developers seeking HUD projects contributed to Demery's pet charity, FOOD for Africa. The Justice Department said it found no evidence Demery had criminally misused his office.

-Routing slips showed that Deborah Gore Dean, former executive secretary to Pierce, routinely authorized use of a signature machine to stamp projects with Pierce's approval.

There were danger signals along the way in the housing rehabilitation program, but they went largely unnoticed.

Football contest begins run today

All of you football forecasters get your pencils (and your sense of humor) sharpened: the Hereford Brand Football Contest begins its 13-week run today on Pages 6-7.

25 high school, college and professional football games will be included each Tuesday.

Persons entering the contest will also have to pick the winner and total points on the tiebreaker game each week. Entrants have until 5 p.m. Friday to bring their entries to the Brand office at 313 N. Lee or mail it to Box 673 in Hereford.

Entrants will have the "benefit" of using the "Fearless Forecast" predictions that will appear in the Brand every Thursday to help decide on the games. The panel will include Speedy Nieman, John Brooks and Sam Waller of the Brand, Rick Castaneda of North Plains Printing and Whiteface Booster Club president Temple Abney.

Hereford Bucks will be given to the first, second and third place finishers each week, with all weekly winners going into the grand prize game at the end of the contest for a chance at $100 in Hereford Bucks. Hereford Bucks can be used at any Hereford merchant.

Two nights of violence mar weekend in Virginia Beach

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) - Labor Day weekend ended quietly after two nights of clashes between police and black youths along the oceanfront strip.

Atlantic Avenue, jammed by an estimated 100,000 young people 48 hours earlier, was nearly deserted early today with many shops boarded up.

Students from predominantly black East Coast colleges made up much of the weekend crowd, in town for the annual Greekfest that marks the end of summer.

By Monday afternoon most of the students had left. Police in riot gear remained on every corner, however, and arrested several people Monday night for minor offenses.

During the weekend, at least 260 people were arrested, half area residents, and hundreds of summonses issued, authorities said. At least 43 people were injured, including 30 police officers and 13 youths. Property damage was in the millions of dollars, said Mayor Meyera E. Oberndorf.

At the start of the weekend, businessmen in the town of 260,000 year-round residents had hoped for a large turnout to offset a slow summer.

The turnout was greater than expected, but early Sunday dreams of a prosperous weekend evaporated.

City officials ordered police to clear Atlantic Avenue, the major thoroughfare that was packed from sidewalk to sidewalk for about 30 blocks.

As a wedge of officers moved down the street, they were pelted with bottles. Ahead of police, groups of youths began breaking out storefront windows and looting shops.

At least 100 businesses were looted before order was restored shortly before dawn Sunday. At the request of city leaders, a military police unit of the Virginia National Guard was called out by Gov. Gerald L. Baliles.

On Sunday night, city police, officers from neighboring localities, at least 200 state troopers and about 150 Guardsmen cleared an estimated 45,000 people from Atlantic Avenue. The beach section was closed and those on the beachfront were told to return to their rooms or face arrest.

"It appears to be a case of too many people in a confined space," Oberndorf said. "It appears to be a case of critical mass of people building up an rapid mood changes in a huge crowd."

Civil rights leaders said problems developed, in part, because the city failed to make any preparations for the visitors other than to call out the police.

"The city had no damn idea what it was getting into. It had no contact with the black community and no idea of the numbers involved," said Jack W. Gravelly, president of the state National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The NAACP said police overreacted, and that the city and merchants had made the students feel unwelcome. Gravelly said, however, that those responsible for the looting should be prosecuted.

Black leaders said had the crowd been predominantly white, police would have reacted differently.

Oberndorf called that "poppycock."

"All police reports and our videotape show that the city controlled response to situations that have arisen," she said.

But Gravelly said police heavy-handedness was partly to blame for the violence.

"Their response was to confront the students from a position of power," he said.

Thomas Jefferson is said to have invented the lever-operated double-door opener seen today on buses.

| 1 cup      | flour, sifted               | 1 cup   | brown sugar      |
| 1/2 tsp.   | baking soda                 | 1/3 cup | oil              |
| 1 1/2 cups | quick cooking oats          | 1/2 cup | skim milk        |
| 2          | egg whites, slightly beaten | 1 tsp.  | vanilla extract  |
| 1/4 tsp.   | cinnamon                    | 1 cup   | seedless raisins |

Sift together flour, baking soda and cinnamon. Stir in the oats. Combine egg whites, brown sugar, oil, milk, vanilla, and raisins and add to flour mixture. Mix well.

Drop batter a teaspoon at a time onto an oiled cookie sheet. Bake at 375° F. for 12 to 15 minutes, depending on texture desired. Shorter baking time results in a chewy soft cookie, the longer time in a crisp one.

Maintain hair style between salon visits

Savvy women know a great hair style begins with a terrific cut. It's the foundation every style is built on. But, maintaining the beauty and manageability of a salon-fresh haircut throughout its life cycle (all of the days, weeks and special events between salon appointments) can prove to be a challenge, even for women who are adept with their hair and dexterous with styling tools.

Most haircuts last about six to eight weeks, with slight variations according to particular cuts or hair types. But during its life cycle, each cut goes through several phases which alter its shape and affect its styleability. Here's why, according to the experts:

Why hair shape changes

Hair grows, and because it does, it is in a constant state of flux, changing from day to day. Although the strands grow independently, their growth pattern affects hair's overall formation and shape.

Changes in the environment can greatly affect hair also. Wind, sun, humidity and pollution all can cause changes in hair that will affect how it can be styled. Therefore, hair growth pattern and the environment, as well as inconsistent styling, are reasons why hair is flat one day, bouncy the next.

At the same time, other changes are taking place. As hair grows longer, its weight increases, diminishing its natural body and bounce. Straight, smooth looks lie closer to the scalp, while curly or wavy styles begin to drop as curls lose their crispness or shape. Daily thermal styling can cause hair to become dry or dull, while ends may get damaged, frizzy or unruly.

There are other factors at work which affect the way hair responds to styling during the life cycle of a cut. Changes in emotional or physical health, for example, can alter the way hair behaves. Pregnancy, stress, diet, exercise and hormonal imbalances are reflected in the way hair looks and feels. Certain medications or the absence of essential nutrients, vitamins and minerals can make hair lose its luster and vitality.

The good news is: Despite all of the factors affecting hair, there are salon-tested ways to gain control of your style, maximize its potential and work around its limitations throughout the life cycle of any given haircut.

How to maintain look

The hair styling pros take into account not only your need for maintenance, but the importance of styling versatility during the life cycle of a cut. Hair, like makeup, should be easy to adapt from casual or conservative daytime looks to more dramatic or elaborate effects for evening.

The active, multi-faceted life-styles modern women lead demand the kind of style that can be varied quickly and easily for different occasions or moods.

The key to maintaining a cut, changing or rearranging it, is to set up a hair care regimen consisting of shampoos and conditioning products customized for particular hair types. Also, essential are a variety of high-quality styling aids that allow you to maintain, control and adapt your hair throughout the life cycle of a cut.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I saw myself in that letter from "Michigan Mom" whose husband gets a big kick out of scaring their son.

I am 44 years old, a college graduate who was considered exceptionally bright. I am also single, never having been able to sustain a stable relationship with a man. My father used to play those same little "scare" games on me. Now I am unable to trust people. I don't know what to expect from them, nor do I know what they expect from me.

I've always been a people-pleaser, eager to do extra work and say just the right thing, anything to be well-liked. Why? because I never felt I was good enough just as I was.

To Michigan Dad: Knock it off! Your son's strength won't come from having the daylights scared out of him by someone he has been taught to respect and look up to. Kids have enough to cope with these days just growing up.

His strength will come from learning to overcome obstacles with your loving support. He will be able to trust himself only if he knows that he can trust you.

If you still think it's funny to watch your son jump a foot when you come from behind and grab him, picture this: Thirty years from now you may still be supporting him, because he refuses to do anything for fear he'll fail.--Too Late for Me

DEAR T.L.: You said it better than I could and I thank you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My daughter "Anne" moved back home after her marriage broke up 14 months ago. She is 23 and works four days a week.

Soon after the separation, Anne brought an expensive car and a waterbed on credit. Within four months she was unable to meet the monthly payments so she quit her job and went to Texas with a girlfriend and stayed out of work for three months. When she came back to town she filed for bankruptcy and worked out an arrangement with her creditors and the court so she could keep her car.

Now she has a $300 car payment and a $300 payment to the bankruptcy trustee. I realize that she can't afford her own place, so we don't ask her to pay rent. Because she is living in our house, we feel that she should follow the same rules that apply to our 19-year-old son. He must be in by 1 a.m. (and he always is). He helps out in the house and keeps his room fairly neat.

Our daughter thinks because she is 23 we can't tell her what to do. She stays out until 4 and 5 a.m., her room is a disaster--food all over, drinks and glasses everywhere. Her clothes are on doorknobs and under the bed.

While I am at work she goes into my bedroom and helps herself to whatever she wants. If the door is locked, she gets a knife and opens it. I haven't mentioned the boyfriends. They are bums and moochers.

We've told her a dozen times that she must abide by the rules or find another place to live. She says she has no place to go. Now what? Can you help us? -- Borderline Wacky, in Chesapeake, Va.

DEAR VA.: Your daughter sounds wildly irresponsible and pathetically immature. She is also mother-deaf. Get into joint counseling and let her hear from a third party what she must do in order to stay under your roof. If she fails to shape up, give her the boot.

Feeling pressured to have sex? How well-informed are you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet "Sex and the Teenager." Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: Teens' c/o Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562. (In Canada) send $4.45.)

Two nights of violence mar weekend in Virginia Beach

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) - Labor Day weekend ended quietly after two nights of clashes between police and black youths along the oceanfront strip.

Atlantic Avenue, jammed by an estimated 100,000 young people 48 hours earlier, was nearly deserted early today with many shops boarded up.

Students from predominantly black East Coast colleges made up much of the weekend crowd, in town for the annual Greekfest that marks the end of summer.

By Monday afternoon most of the students had left. Police in riot gear remained on every corner, however, and arrested several people Monday night for minor offenses.

During the weekend, at least 260 people were arrested, half area residents, and hundreds of summonses issued, authorities said. At least 43 people were injured, including 30 police officers and 13 youths. Property damage was in the millions of dollars, said Mayor Meyera E. Oberndorf.

At the start of the weekend, businessmen in the town of 260,000 year-round residents had hoped for a large turnout to offset a slow summer.

The turnout was greater than expected, but early Sunday dreams of a prosperous weekend evaporated.

City officials ordered police to clear Atlantic Avenue, the major thoroughfare that was packed from sidewalk to sidewalk for about 30 blocks.

As a wedge of officers moved down the street, they were pelted with bottles. Ahead of police, groups of youths began breaking out storefront windows and looting shops.

At least 100 businesses were looted before order was restored shortly before dawn Sunday. At the request of city leaders, a military police unit of the Virginia National Guard was called out by Gov. Gerald L. Baliles.

On Sunday night, city police, officers from neighboring localities, at least 200 state troopers and about 150 Guardsmen cleared an estimated 45,000 people from Atlantic Avenue. The beach section was closed and those on the beachfront were told to return to their rooms or face arrest.

"It appears to be a case of too many people in a confined space," Oberndorf said. "It appears to be a case of critical mass of people building up an rapid mood changes in a huge crowd."

Civil rights leaders said problems developed, in part, because the city failed to make any preparations for the visitors other than to call out the police.

"The city had no damn idea what it was getting into. It had no contact with the black community and no idea of the numbers involved," said Jack W. Gravelly, president of the state National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The NAACP said police overreacted, and that the city and merchants had made the students feel unwelcome. Gravelly said, however, that those responsible for the looting should be prosecuted.

Black leaders said had the crowd been predominantly white, police would have reacted differently.

Oberndorf called that "poppycock."

"All police reports and our videotape show that the city controlled response to situations that have arisen," she said.

But Gravelly said police heavy-handedness was partly to blame for the violence.

"Their response was to confront the students from a position of power," he said.

Thomas Jefferson is said to have invented the lever-operated double-door opener seen today on buses.

Raisin-Oatmeal Cookies

Special thank-you hugs come with these cookies. A welcome lunch box or after school treat. The kids won't want to share them with their friends.

- |            |                    |         |                  |
|------------|--------------------|---------|------------------|
| 1 cup      | flour, sifted      | 1 cup   | brown sugar      |
| 1/2 tsp.   | baking soda        | 1/3 cup | oil              |
| 1 1/2 cups | quick cooking oats | 1/2 cup | skim milk        |
| 2          | egg whites,        | 1 tsp.  | vanilla extract  |
|            | slightly beaten    | 1 cup   | seedless raisins |
| 1/4 tsp.   | cinnamon           |         |                  |

Sift together flour, baking soda and cinnamon. Stir in the oats. Combine egg whites, brown sugar, oil, milk, vanilla, and raisins and add to flour mixture. Mix well.

Drop batter a teaspoon at a time onto an oiled cookie sheet. Bake at 375° F for 12 to 15 minutes, depending on texture desired. Shorter baking time results in a chewy soft cookie, the longer time in a crisp one.

Maintain hair style between salon visits

Savvy women know a great hair style begins with a terrific cut. It's the foundation every style is built on. But, maintaining the beauty and manageability of a salon-fresh haircut throughout its life cycle (all of the days, weeks and special events between salon appointments) can prove to be a challenge, even for women who are adept with their hair and dexterous with styling tools.

Most haircuts last about six to eight weeks, with slight variations according to particular cuts or hair types. But during its life cycle, each cut goes through several phases which alter its shape and affect its styleability. Here's why, according to the experts:

Why hair shape changes

Hair grows, and because it does, it is in a constant state of flux, changing from day to day. Although the strands grow independently, their growth pattern affects hair's overall formation and shape.

Changes in the environment can greatly affect hair also. Wind, sun, humidity and pollution all can cause changes in hair that will affect how it can be styled. Therefore, hair growth pattern and the environment, as well as inconsistent styling, are reasons why hair is flat one day, bouncy the next.

At the same time, other changes are taking place. As hair grows longer, its weight increases, diminishing its natural body and bounce. Straight, smooth locks lie closer to the scalp, while curly or wavy styles begin to drop as curls lose their crispness or shape. Daily thermal styling can cause hair to become dry or dull, while ends may get damaged, frizzy or unruly.

There are other factors at work which affect the way hair responds to styling during the life cycle of a cut. Changes in emotional or physical health, for example, can alter the way hair behaves. Pregnancy, stress, diet, exercise and hormonal imbalances are reflected in the way hair looks and feels. Certain medications or the absence of essential nutrients, vitamins and minerals can make hair lose its luster and vitality.

The good news is: Despite all of the factors affecting hair, there are salon-tested ways to gain control of your style, maximize its potential and work around its limitations throughout the life cycle of any given haircut.

How to maintain look

The hair styling pros take into account not only your need for maintenance, but the importance of styling versatility during the life cycle of a cut. Hair, like makeup, should be easy to adapt from casual or conservative daytime looks to more dramatic or elaborate effects for evening.

The active, multi-faceted life-styles modern women lead demand the kind of style that can be varied quickly and easily for different occasions or moods.

The key to maintaining a cut, changing or rearranging it, is to set up a hair care regimen consisting of shampoos and conditioning products customized for particular hair types. Also, essential are a variety of high-quality styling aids that allow you to maintain, control and adapt your hair throughout the life cycle of a cut.

Roberts-Bezner team captures HCC golf crown

Ken Roberts and Frankie Bezner captured the championship of the 12th annual Hereford Country Club Member-Guest Golf Tournament Sunday, edging out three-time champs Ron Weishaar and partner Ken Metchley of Topeka, Kan.

The Roberts-Bezner team had a low-ball 64 Saturday and came back with a two-man scramble score of 66 Sunday to win by two shots. Bezner fired a 66 to spark the team on opening day. Weishaar and Metchley had a 67 low ball and 65 scramble for a 132 total.

Temple Abney and partner Duane Pittman of Stratford finished third in the top flight with a 137 total. There were 32 teams in this year's tourney field. John Stagner was tourney chairman for the HCC event.

A special 9-hole, 3-par tournament was held Monday for those who stayed to play. Rick Roden shot a 29 to win the championship flight and John Sherrod was runner-up with a 30. Finishing third was Jeff Shelton with a 31.

In the traditional "Freeze Out Derby" Sunday afternoon, Charles Skinner and Gene King emerged as the winners on the sixth hole. The sideline event matches players with the 10 high scores and the 10 low scores on opening day. Dave Workman and Max Moss were second and Ron Weishaar and Clint Savoini of Amarillo were third.

The country club hosted a cocktail party Saturday evening, a buffet dinner Sunday and a champagne breakfast Monday. The tourney also featured 23 prizes donated by local firms for individual daily contests--such as closest to the pin, longest putts and longest drives.

Flight winners for the tourney:

Kosub, Cornelius all-tourney

Spikers claim second at Cantaloupe Classic

The Hereford Whiteface volleyball team ran their season record to 9-2 Saturday in finishing second at the Cantaloupe Classic in Pecos and almost knocked off the host team for the title in a rematch of last year's area playoff match.

Libby Kosub and Shantel Cornelius were named to the all-tournament team for their play over the weekend.

The Herd swept through Friday's pool play to advance to the championship bracket, posting wins over Monahans, Alpine and El Paso Del Valle to gain a berth in the quarterfinals.

Coach Brenda Reeh said the Herd's play was the best she had seen from a Hereford team during her tenure.

"I think our kids reached an entirely new level of play," Reeh said. "There were so many good teams in the tournament with such strong volleyball traditions.

"That gave us the tough competition we've needed in our pre-season."

The Herd reached the finals with wins Saturday over Fort Stockton and Snyder in the quarterfinals and semifinals, respectively.

Herd vs. Fort Stockton

Hereford continued its tournament success, downing the Panthers, 15-1, 15-8, in the quarterfinals.

Jill West was the Herd's leading server, scoring 10 points including four aces for the match. Nikki Self added seven points with a pair of aces.

Poppy Richardson led with six kills while Kosub added five and Cande Robbins four.

Cornelius added four stuffs and five digs for the match.

Herd vs. Snyder

In downing the Tigers, 15-9, 15-3, in the semifinals, Cornelius led the Herd with nine points on serve and Kosub had seven service points.

Robbins and West each had four kills while Kosub had five digs.

Herd vs. Pecos

The Eagles handed Hereford only its second loss of the season, 15-13, 10-15, 15-13, in the tournament's championship round.

West recorded 10 service points with three aces to lead the Herd. Self added eight points with two aces while Robbins had six service points with three aces.

Kosub and Robbins each scored seven kills and West added six. Kosub also led in service receptions with 17 and Richardson was credited with 11. West led with 11 digs.

Kosub and Robbins added 10 digs to the effort.

"The whole weekend was a super confidence builder for us," Reeh said. "These kids believe they can beat anyone now. I hope we can maintain the intensity we played with this weekend as we go into our last pre-season week and then into district play.

"If we can keep building on top of where we are now, we ought to be tough."

The Herd returns to action at 8 p.m. this evening against the Clovis Wildcats at Clovis, N.M., and will compete in the Borger Invitational Tournament on Saturday before opening district play against Dunbar at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Hereford High School Gym.

JV sweeps at Canyon

The Hereford junior varsity split into two teams Saturday and swept a pair of matches at Canyon, upping their record to 6-1.

Against the Eagle JV, Hereford dropped the first game before coming back to win the match, 13-15, 15-4, 15-1.

Freshman Angie Jowell led with 16 service points while Sarita Romero added eight.

In the second match, members of the JV got a taste of varsity competition against the Eagles, who did not compete in volleyball last year, coming away with a 15-5, 15-5 victory.

Jennifer Bullard led the Herd with eight points on serve and Lori Sanders added seven.

Junior varsity coach Lynn Gilbreath said the year's layoff

Regina Lewis takes all-around title at Canadian rodeo

Hereford's Regina Lewis took the All-Around Cowgirl title Saturday with 23 points at the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association rode at Canadian.

Lewis posted wins in barrel racing and goat tying in addition to third place in breakaway roping and eighth in pole bending.

Lewis ran the cloverleaf barrel pattern in 17.555 and tied her goat in 9.621. In breakaway roping, Lewis turned in a time of 5.777 and recorded a 22.538 in the poles.

Kyle Vanlandingham finished eighth in boys' ribbon roping for Hereford at 19.418.

The Hereford rodeo team will compete Saturday at the TSHSRA event in Spearman.

Connors gains quarterfinals at Open

NEW YORK (AP) - Back in his favorite tennis setting, Jimmy Connors put aside the issues of age and stamina, replacing them with some oldtime verve and nerve to advance to the quarterfinals of the U.S. Open.

He did it with a 6-2, 6-3, 6-1 romp over Stefan Edberg Monday night, a victory so thorough that one of the games Edberg won was on a default when Connors got into one of his old fashioned debates with the chair referee. He was fined $2,250 for his rowdiness, but it was probably worth every penny to produce this unlikely triumph.

"I went out and played the kind of match everybody dreams of playing, hitting the ball that way and just making things happen,"

Connors said. It was the kind of match he isn't supposed to be capable of playing anymore, not at age 37, not two days after he was so severely crippled by cramps that he needed intravenous liquids.

But this is the Open, his favorite tennis playground, a tournament he has won five times on three different surfaces.

"I love this place," Connors said. "The atmosphere, the people. You open the gates and they flood in, everybody's pushing and showing. They're animals."

"But I put myself in that group. That's the way I've always played, like an animal my whole life. To be put in a cage with these people is a lot of fun."

Against Edberg, a finalist in the French and Wimbledon tournaments and seeded No. 3 in the Open, Connors played brilliant tennis. There was none of the old-fashioned fist-pumping and playing to the crowd. Connors said he was too worn down for those kinds of histrionics.

Certainly after the way he finished Saturday's straight-sets victory over Andres Gomez, there was speculation Connors might not even be able to show up for the next round. His legs cramped up and his body went rigid, forcing emergency treatment.

He practiced for 15 minutes Sunday, declared himself ready, and beat the 23-year-old Edberg convincingly.

"To still be able to play that kind of tennis in the Open and reach the quarters, to play like that and beat him, it was an excellent feeling," Connors said.

The victory earned Connors a quarterfinal date with sixth-seeded Andre Agassi, who took out Jim Grabb 6-1, 7-5, 6-3.

Also moving to the men's quarters were ninth-seeded Tim Mayotte, who defeated No. 7 Michael Chang 7-5, 6-1, 1-6, 6-3, and top-seeded Ivan Lendl, who survived a grueling 3-hour, 45-minute duel with No. 16 Andrei Chesnokov, finally winning 6-3, 4-6, 1-6, 6-4, 6-3.

On the women's side, defending champion Steffi Graf overcame a slow start, winning the last 10 games in a 6-4, 6-0 rout of Rosalyn Fairbank to reach the quarters.

Also advancing were No. 8 Helena Sukova, who defeated Larisa Savchenko 4-6, 6-1, 6-2, No. 3 Gabriela Sabatini, who beat No. 15 Conchita Martinez, 6-1, 6-1, and Arantxa Sanchez Vicario, a 6-2, 6-2 winner over Barbara Paulus.

While Connors played Edberg in a half-empty stadium, the grandstand was packed to watch the struggle between Lendl and Chesnokov.

The match turned in the final set when, after battling to deuce seven times, Chesnokov held serve for a 3-2 lead. However, it was the last game the Soviet player would win.

"He wasn't missing," said Lendl, who survived 72 unforced errors. "If I look at it now, there were a lot of moments when I could have gone down. I decided if I was going to go down, I was going to go down swinging."

Mayotte said serves were the key as well in repeating his Wimbledon wipeout of Chang, the French Open champion and youngest Grand Slam event winner in history.

"I can take his serve, and feel like we're starting better than equal, which I need to be if we're both going to be in the backcourt," Mayotte said.

Graf struggled through a slow start against Fairbank and was broken in the first game. She battled back, winning the last 10 games and continuing her straight-sets march through the tournament.

'Pokes cut roster to 47-man limit

IRVING (AP) - Scott Ankrum was picked in the 12th round by the Dallas Cowboys almost as an afterthought.

"Oh, the guy has some speed let's see what he can do," said coach Jimmy Johnson.

Working against Ankrum were a series of injuries at Texas Christian, ranging from hamstring pulls to a broken ankle.

"I knew I would have to get through camp without getting hurt and I knew I needed to impress them right away," Ankrum said.

He did both and made the team on Monday when Johnson announced the 47-man roster.

Eight rookies including Ankrum made the team but among the veteran casualties were wide receiver Ray Alexander and running back Junior Tautalatasi.

"I think the things I showed on the special teams is what did it," Ankrum said. "I never had a feeling I had the team made but I can tell you I was fighting for a spot. I wasn't going to let any of the older guys intimidate me."

Ankrum, who played every offensive position but lineman at TCU, was involved in a shoving match or fisticuffs of some sort at almost every Cowboys scrimmage. And he scuffled with an opposing lineman during the Cowboys' exhibition at the Los Angeles Raiders.

"We were very pleased with Scott because he's a physical wide receiver who also added a lot to our kicking game," Johnson said. "That was the difference when we looked at our number three, four, and five wide receivers. We wanted them to be able to contribute to the special teams."

Alexander, in his third year, caught the pass that set up the Cowboys' winning field goal in a 30-28 preseason victory Saturday over the Houston Oilers. He was Dallas' leading receiver last year with 54 receptions.

Others cut included free agent tackle Scott Adams of Georgia, linebacker Rod Carter, a 10th-round pick from Miami; defensive tackle Chuck Ehin, who was picked up in a trade with the Baltimore Colts; tight end Keith Jennings, a fifth-round pick from Clemson; free agent tight end Anthony Jones; fifth-round pick and defensive tackle Jeff Roth of Florida; free agent tackle Ricky Siglar of San Jose State; free agent defensive lineman Tony Simmons of Tennessee; free agent linebacker Ken Tippins of Middle Tennessee State; and Greg Gilbert, a free agent linebacker from Alabama.

The other seven rookies on the active roster included quarterbacks Steve Walsh of Miami and Troy Aikman of UCLA; fullback Daryl Johnson of Syracuse; linebacker Randy Shannon of Miami, defensive lineman Tony Tolbert of Texas-El Paso; offensive guard Mark Stepnoski of Pittsburgh; and wide receiver James Dixon of Houston.

Dixon was picked up off waivers from Detroit last week.

"He gives us some things on the special teams we want to look at. We like his speed," Johnson said. "He made some plays the other night and we thought it might be beneficial to look at him again."

Dixon set numerous Southwest Conference pass receiving records last year and was the top receiver in the nation.

Johnson said not to set the Cowboys' roster into concrete.

"We could still make some changes depending on what we see on the waiver wire Tuesday afternoon," Johnson said. "We might not make any changes but we'll just have to see."

The Cowboys are still looking at help at defensive tackle and linebacker.

There are three rookies on Dallas' injured reserve squad, tight end John Duff of New Mexico, linebacker Kevin Peterson of Northwestern and linebacker Willis Crockett of Georgia Tech.

"We feel real good about our draft," Johnson said. "There were some disappointments like Rhondy Weston in the third round. But Ankrum and Shannon were real pleasant surprises considering that we got them in the 11th and 12th round spots. Tolbert also showed us he can play and we got him in the fourth round."

Giants comeback beats Reds, 9-8

By DICK BRINSTER AP Sports Writer

Roger Craig delivered no motivational speech to the San Francisco Giants. In fact, he had given up.

With the Giants trailing the Cincinnati Reds 8-0 after six innings, the San Francisco manager began sending his starters to the showers and putting the scrubs in to play out the string.

They reeled off clutch hit after clutch hit in a comeback never to be forgotten, and beat the Reds 9-8.

"What a team contribution! ... Unbelievable ... incredible," said Craig, who used 25 players. "I got a lot of guys in the game because I wanted to give them a chance to play. Did they ever play!"

The comeback began as a distant rumble, given life in the seventh by the last of the regulars, Will Clark and Terry Kennedy. Cincinnati's Tim Leary was cruising with a two-hitter when Clark hit his 21st home run and Kennedy his fifth.

"I've been around for 11 years and I've never seen a game like that," Kennedy said. "Usually when it's the sixth or seventh inning and it's 8-0, it's almost automatic. When Will and I hit the home runs, it was almost incidental."

That's what winning pitcher Ernie Camacho figured.

"When we were down 8-4, Chris Speier said, 'We're going to win this game,'" said Camacho, who struck out the side in the eighth and watched as Steve Bedrosian worked out of a ninth-inning jam.

The victory, coupled with Houston's 7-5 loss to Los Angeles, gave the Giants their biggest lead of the season, seven games in the National League West. San Diego, getting two homers and a career-high seven RBIs from Jack Clark, staged a big comeback of its own to beat Atlanta 10-9 and move into a second-place tie with Houston.

In the East, front-running Chicago dropped New York 4 1/2 games off the pace with a 7-3 victory. St. Louis beat Montreal 4-1 to remain 1 1/2 behind the Cubs while dropping the Expos to four back. Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 7-5.

Cubs 7, Mets 3
Ryne Sandberg hit his career-high 27th home run and reliever Les Lancaster pitched four shutout innings.

Rick Sutcliffe, 14-11, escaped three bases-loaded jams in five innings.

David Cone, 12-7, lost for the second time in 11 decisions despite striking out 11 batters in eight innings. He allowed Sandberg's homer in the first.

O's, Jays keep pace

By The Associated Press

The Baltimore Orioles suddenly remembered how to hit home runs. Unfortunately for them, Toronto's Fred McGriff never forgot.

McGriff broke a scoreless tie with his league-leading 36th homer, a two-run shot in the sixth inning, and the Blue Jays defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-2 Monday night to maintain a one-game lead over Baltimore in the American League East.

Meanwhile, the Orioles, who hadn't homered in their last six games, got a two-run blast from Cal Ripken in the third inning and a game-winning solo shot from Tim Lulett with two out in the bottom of the ninth to beat Cleveland 5-4.

"This was the biggest thrill of my career," said Lulett, who, after playing most of 1985, 1986 and 1987 in the majors with the White Sox, languished in the minors the last two seasons. He was called up late last month by the Orioles, who had signed him as a free agent last November.

In other AL games, it was Boston 8, Oakland 5; Detroit 5, Kansas City 1; New York 2, California 1, and Texas 8, Minnesota 5. Milwaukee and Seattle were not scheduled.

Cleveland reliever Rod Nichols had retired 15 batters in a row before Hulett settled matters with a smash into the Orioles' bullpen in left field. In 13 games since being recalled, Hulett has two homers and nine RBIs.

Cleveland, which led 3-0 in the first inning against Dave Johnson, tied the score 4-4 in the eighth inning when pinch hitter Mike Young singled home Cory Snyder, who doubled off Mark Williamson for his fourth hit.

Cleveland starter Greg Swindell yielded four runs in 3 2-3 innings, including Ripken's two-run homer in the third.

Red Sox 8, Athletics 5

Dwight Evans homered and Mike Greenwell continued his hot hitting with three hits and an RBI to back John Dohson's strong pitching.

Dohson, who missed four weeks with a muscle strain in his right elbow, held Oakland to two runs and four hits until the ninth and won his first game since July 27.

The Red Sox took a 2-0 lead in the first. Marty Barrett drew the first of Mike Moore's seven walks, went to third on Ellis Burks' pop fly double and scored when Greenwell's one-hopper glanced off the leaping Moore's glove for an infield hit. Burks, whose double extended his hitting streak to 13 games, scored on a wild pitch.

Tigers 5, Royals 1

Fred Lynn hit his 300th career home run and rookie Doug Strange hit his first as Detroit ended Bret Saberhagen's eight-game winning streak. Saberhagen, 17-6, had won 14 of his last 15 decisions. He pitched seven innings, giving up four runs.

Doyle Alexander, 6-16, won his first game since July 25, allowing four hits in 6 2-3 innings. Alexander's record in the month of September since 1983 is 27-6.

Lynn, who had an RBI single in the first inning, hit his milestone homer - his 11th of the season - in the seventh to put Detroit ahead 4-1. Strange's home run in the second inning had given Detroit a 2-0 lead.

Yankees 2, Angels 1

Don Mattingly's solo homer broke a tie in the sixth inning and gave the Yankees their first five-game winning streak of the season. With emergency starter Clay Parker - Chuck Cary showed up with a torn fingernail - winning his first game since July 1, New York completed a four-game sweep of the Angels, who have lost five straight.

Mattingly hit his 18th home run off Jim Abbott, 11-10. Parker gave up six hits in 7 1-3 innings, including Chili Davis' RBI single in the first. The Yankees tied it with an unearned run in the second thanks to a pair of errors by shortstop Kent Anderson.

Rangers 8, Twins 5

Julio Franco went 3-for-3, including a tie-breaking two-run single in the sixth inning. Brad Arnsberg hurled four innings of four-hit shutout relief for the victory and Jeff Russell pitched the ninth for his league-leading 32nd save.

The Rangers took a 7-5 lead with four runs in the sixth with the help of five walks from rookie reliever Mike Dyer, who did not give up a hit.

The Twins scored three times in the first inning off Mike Jeffcoat, two on Brian Harper's home run.

Padres 10, Braves 9

Clark, who has 17 RBIs in the last eight days, hit a grand slam in the seventh inning and a three-run homer in the eighth.

The Padres also got a three-run homer from Darrin Jackson.

Cardinals 4, Expos 1

Pedro Guerrero, batting .400 against Montreal and .419 with runners in scoring position, hit a game-tying single, and shoddy defense led to the rest of the runs as surging St. Louis beat slumping Montreal.

Tips for microwave potatoes given

NEW YORK (AP) - A potato is a nutrient-dense food. One medium potato provides 50 percent of the daily RDA for vitamin C, 15 percent for vitamin B6 and 8 percent for iron, thiamin and folacin.

One medium potato (6 to 8 ounces) contains only 110 calories.

Potatoes are an excellent source of complex carbohydrates. Nearly 100 percent of a potato's calories come from complex carbohydrate and protein. Potatoes also contain plenty of dietary fiber, especially if eaten with the skin.

According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the average American consumes 120 pounds of potatoes annually.

"Americans ate more potatoes than any other vegetable last year - more than twice as much by weight than the No.2 vegetable, tomatoes. This made potatoes the second greatest source of vitamin C in the American diet, after oranges," the January 1989 issue of the "University of California, Berkeley Wellness Letter" reported.

A baked potato can be cooked in the microwave in 3 to 5 minutes; 7 to 10 minutes for boiled potatoes. Just follow these tips from The Potato Board, which is based in Denver.

BAKED POTATOES

Scrub a 6- to 8-ounce potato; pierce with fork. Place in microwave on rack or paper towel. Cook on high (100 percent power) 4 to 6 minutes, turning once. After removing from oven, let stand 2 minutes. Baking time can vary depending on size, shape and variety of potato.

To test for doneness, hold the potato with a cloth or paper towel and firmly press. The potato should give only slightly under your fingers right under the surface; the center will still feel firm.

Cooking Tips:

- Be sure to pierce the potato skin once on top and bottom before cooking to release steam that may build up later.

- When a potato bursts or explodes, it is often not because of overcooking, but because of heat and steam buildup under a skin when no holes were pierced.

- Cook potatoes on a paper towel to absorb any excess moisture.

- Cook all potatoes on high (100 percent power).

- Potatoes will continue cooking during standing time, but they should not be covered. Use a terrycloth towel to hold in the heat but keep them from becoming soggy.

BOILED POTATOES

For sliced boiled potatoes: Scrub a 6-ounce potato. Slice 1/8-inch thick. Place in microwave dish. Add 1 tablespoon water; cover with plastic wrap. Cook on high (100 percent power) 4 to 5 minutes. Let stand 3 minutes.

For cubed boiled potatoes: Scrub a 6-ounce potato. Cut into 1-inch cubes. Place in microwave dish; cover with plastic wrap. Cook on high 5 to 7 minutes. Let stand 3 minutes.

To test for doneness, potatoes should be easily pierced with a fork but still remain slightly firm. They should not break apart when pierced.

Cooking Tips:

- Peel and cut up potatoes to release steam during cooking.

- If salt is added to the dish, stir into the cooking liquid or shake out at end of cooking to prevent surface from overcooking.

- Potatoes must stand for 3 minutes after cooking, with wrap on to hold in steam.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Former first lady Nancy Reagan says fear wasn't keeping her away from a school in a gang-infested neighborhood; she simply was never invited.

Board of Education member Rita Walters had criticized Mrs. Reagan, saying her refusal to appear next month at John Muir Junior High School to present an anti-drug grant was an insult to the community.

But Deputy Police Chief Glenn Levant called a news conference Tuesday to clear up the controversy, saying it turns out to be "much ado about nothing."

Mrs. Reagan will present a $50,000 Nancy Reagan Foundation grant for school anti-drug programs on Sept. 14 during Drug Abuse Resistance Education Day ceremonies. Part of the money was earmarked for the John Muir school and the school board staff told Walters the former first lady wouldn't go to the Los Angeles neighborhood because of security concerns.

A newly hatched alligator is just eight inches long. It will grow about a foot a year until it reaches the average adult length of six to eight feet.

Social Security

DO YOU HAVE A QUESTION CONCERNING SOCIAL SECURITY? ADDRESS IT TO JIM TALBOT, SOCIAL SECURITY OFFICE, SUITE 16, 3601 W. 15th, AMARILLO, TX 79102. YOU WILL RECEIVE AN ANSWER IN THIS COLUMN OR BY MAIL.

QUESTION: My doctor wants me to have an electrocardiogram (EKG) since I have been experiencing some angina attacks lately. Will medicare cover the EKG?

ANSWER: Any diagnostic test or procedure that is considered part of your treatment is covered by Medicare. After you have paid the $75 deductible, Medicare medical insurance will pay 80 percent of the approved charge for that service. You will be responsible for the remaining 20 percent which is the coinsurance amount. If you have a policy which supplements medicare, it may cover what Medicare does not. Contact your medicare carrier for details.

QUESTION: I became disabled nearly 2 years ago and receive disability benefits. When my Medicare starts in 24 months, will my family be able to receive medical care under Medicare, too?

ANSWER: Although your wife and children can get Social Security benefits as your dependents during the period of your disability, unless your wife is age 65 or older or a child is disabled, you are the only individual who is entitled to Medicare protection on your record.

QUESTION: What is a "PASS" and how can I get one?

ANSWER: A "PASS" is a plan for achieving self-support. It is one of the work incentives provisions in the SSI program and allows an SSI recipient to set aside income and resources for up to 48 months to achieve a work goal. Suppose, for example, that you want to get some additional vocational training to enhance your job skills, or you want to purchase a piece of equipment to help you in your job. You can set aside income toward the cost of these items and that money will not be counted as income or resources. In order for your "PASS" to be approved, you must have an attainable work goal, a specific saving/spending plan, and a clear accounting of the funds you set aside. You can get help in developing your "PASS" from a vocational counselor, social worker, your employer, or a Social Security office employee. When you submit your "PASS", Social Security will evaluate the plan and decide whether it is acceptable.

QUESTION: I recently heard that drug addicts and alcoholics can get SSI payments. Why is this?

ANSWER: A Disabled person who is medically determined to be a drug addict or alcoholic may be eligible for supplemental security income payments.

QUESTION: My best friend's father died suddenly last month and she is very concerned that she will not be financially able to start college in September as planned. I suggested she apply for Social Security benefits, but she things she's too old for child's benefits. Can't she get some kind of benefit from Social Security?

ANSWER: Perhaps, but only until she attains age 18. Students older than 18 can continue receiving benefits only if enrolled full time in an elementary or secondary school, and only until age 19. Benefits may be paid beyond that age if the child is under a disability that began before age 22. If your friend has not yet attained age 18, suggest that she contact Social Security. She may be able to get benefits for several months.

QUESTION: Last week I applied for Social Security disability benefits. A neighbor told me that the disability payment I have just started receiving from my employer could affect the Social Security benefit. Is this true?

ANSWER: Private disability benefits from an employer are not included among those sources of income subject to offset. The Social Security disability benefit is subject to the offset provision only when a worker's compensation benefit or a public disability benefit is involved.

QUESTION: What is the difference between a reconsideration of a claim and a hearing in an appeals case?

ANSWER: A reconsideration is the first step in the appeals process. In a reconsideration, all the evidence on record, plus any new evidence obtained since the original decision, is re-examined by someone other than the individual or individuals who made the first decision. A hearing is a formal, higher, level review before an administrative law judge, conducted if the claimant is not satisfied with the reconsideration decision.

Planning a wedding?

Engagements should be announced at least SIX WEEKS BEFORE the wedding date to ensure publication. Couples submitting engagement announcements after the deadline must choose to have either the engagement or the wedding photo published. The engagement announcement must include the date of the wedding.

Wedding and anniversary information should be submitted to The Brand the Monday before the next Sunday publication date. Wedding information submitted eight days or later after the wedding date will be shortened.

Black and white photos are preferred for engagements, weddings, and anniversaries but color photos may be used if suitable for reproduction. Lifestyles reporters do not take photos for engagements, weddings, anniversaries, or showers.

Shower forms are available at The Brand, as are engagement and wedding forms. This information will not be taken by phone.

CLASSIFIEDS

364-2030

THE HEREFORD BRAND Since 1901
Want Ads Do It All!

YOU WANT IT, YOU GOT IT CLASSIFIED

364-2030
313 N. Lee

CLASSIFIED ADS

Classified advertising rates are based on 14 cents a word for first insertion ($2.80 minimum), and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN.
1 day per word	.14	2.80
2 days per word	.24	4.80
3 days per word	.34	6.80
4 days per word	.44	8.80

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid-word lines-those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $3.96 per column inch; $3.25 an inch for additional insertions.

LEGALS

Ad rates for legal notices are 14 cents per word first insertion, 10 cents per word for additional insertions.

ERRORS

Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Try poaching method when preparing foods

By NANCY BYAL
Better Homes and Gardens Magazine
Food Editor

Poaching is a low-fat cooking method because the food cooks in simmering liquid - water, broth, wine, milk, fruit or tomato juice, or a combination of liquids - with no fat added. It's especially good for delicate-textured fish because there's no turning or stirring.

For best results, follow these poaching pointers: (1) Use a skillet large enough to hold the fish in a single layer; (2) Use enough liquid to come halfway to the top of the fish; (3) Bring the liquid to boiling before adding fish; (4) Don't overcook fish. Allow 4 to 6 minutes per half-inch of thickness; (5) Test for doneness by poking the tines of a fork into the fish at a 45-degree angle. Gently twist the fork and pull up some of the flesh; it should look opaque and separate into flakes.

VEGETABLE-TOPPED HALIBUT

- 1 small yellow summer squash
- 1 small zucchini
- 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) - Mr. Blackwell, the celebrity fashion critic known for his annual, acerbic worst-dressed list, is glad to see the Beverly Hills Police Department recognized for its nativeness.

The department won a special achievement award in a national best-dressed police contest sponsored by the National Association of Uniform Manufacturers.

"I think it's because in Beverly Hills there is a greater sense of grooming," Blackwell said.

The Oregon Territory was established in 1848.

- 1/2 of a small onion, sliced and separated into rings
- 1/4 cup water
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 teaspoon finely shredded lemon peel
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 6 halibut steaks, cut 1-inch thick (about 2 pounds)

- One 14 1/2-ounce can tomatoes
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1/4 teaspoon dried basil, crushed
- Dash bottled hot pepper sauce

For sauce, halve yellow squash and zucchini lengthwise; cut into 1/4-inch-thick slices. In a medium saucepan combine squash, zucchini, mushrooms, onion, water, garlic, lemon peel and salt. Bring to boiling; reduce heat. Cover and simmer 4 minutes or until nearly tender. Drain and return vegetables to saucepan.

Meanwhile, in a large skillet bring 1 cup water to boiling; add halibut steaks. Add more water to half-cover fish, if needed. Return to boiling. Reduce heat; simmer, covered, just until fish flakes easily with a fork. Allow 4 to 6 minutes for each 1/2-inch thickness of fish.

To finish sauce, cut up tomatoes. Stir together undrained tomatoes, cornstarch, basil and pepper sauce. Add to vegetable mixture. Cook and stir gently over medium heat until thickened and bubbly. Cook and stir gently for 2 minutes more. To serve, spoon sauce over poached fish. Makes 6 servings.

Woman's Health

PRE-PREGNANCY FITNESS

By George W. Morley, M.D.
President, The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists

Having a healthy baby takes more than luck. Among other things, it means eating well, getting adequate rest and exercise, and avoiding harmful substances like tobacco and alcohol during pregnancy. You can improve your chances of having a healthy baby even more by making sure you are fit and well-nourished before you become pregnant.

Why is pre-pregnancy fitness so important? Most women don't realize they are pregnant until 5, 6 or 7 weeks after they have conceived. These early weeks may be among the most important for your baby's health and development since that's when the major organs are formed. Poor nutrition and harmful substances can interfere with that growth.

If you are planning to become pregnant, you should consult with your doctor. He or she can determine before you become pregnant if you have a medical condition such as hypertension or diabetes that requires special supervision. Your doctor can also advise you about any medication you might be taking. Most importantly, your doctor can counsel you about your health habits such as diet, exercise, and smoking and drinking.

A balanced diet is basic to good health whether you are pregnant or not, and a mother who eats well before pregnancy is more likely to give birth to a healthy baby. Proper nutrition means eating foods daily from the four basic food groups--vegetables and fruit, bread and cereal, milk and cheese, and meats, eggs and beans--and avoiding excessive sweets and fats. Ask your doctor if you should be taking a vitamin supplement, too.

Besides following a good diet, you should be exercising before pregnancy--it tones your body, improves circulation, and provides a general sense of well being. By being fit beforehand, you can assure yourself a more comfortable and active pregnancy, and you will find it easier to recover from delivery and get your figure back once your baby is born, but no scientific evidence exists that shows exercise will shorten labor or reduce the chance of complications.

Although nothing can guarantee a perfect baby, being in tiptop shape before you become pregnant will give your baby the best chance for a healthy start in life. You'll also reap the health benefits too.

Dreams help in waking hours

Are you aware that many dreams offer help with daily living? A woman had this dream while she was on vacation: "In the dream I am sitting at the hotel table with my in-laws (they weren't really with me on this vacation). A little pig wearing a dress comes toward us, walking on its hind legs. I know it is my little piggy. I say, 'Oh, isn't it darling! I can't wait to take it home and share it with the kids.' Suddenly I realize--if I take it home it will grow and grow and become a big problem. I wake up."

This dream was a reminder that it is okay, within limits, to be a little piggy and overeat while on vacation. But, if this overeating is continued at home, the dreamer will get fat and have a big problem.

Sleep on it! The Practical Side of Dreaming is a book that alerts readers to dreams as a source of practical advice. The author, Janice Baylis, PhD., began studying dreams because of a friend's warning dream. They were meeting at a store parking lot and car-pooling to work. One morning Mabel phoned and asked Janice to meet her in the residential street around the corner, instead of their usual place. She did. While Mabel was getting into Jacice's car, they heard an enormous crash. An airplane had landed upside down in the corner parking lot where they had been meeting! Then Mabel confessed that she had dreamed about the plane crash just the night before.

Sleep in It! has chapters about dreams that have helped dreamers in every area of daily life; Physical and health, financial, job, interpersonal relationships, self-growth, creative projects and spiritual understanding. You, too, have this practical guidance speaking to you every night.

"Janice's purpose (in Sleep in it!) is not so much to spell out principles of dream interpretation, but rather to have us learn by osmosis (just soaking it up) by hearing dream after dream after dream. I find it to be a very effective method. If you want to improve your third ear for dreams, this book is to be highly recommended," stated Henry Reed in a review published in the A. R. E. Journal.

A RARE LANGUAGE

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man -- (AP) -- One of the world's rarest languages is Manx, an old Celtic tongue similar to Gaelic.

It is spoken by a handful of people here on the Isle of Man. This island of 222 square miles in the Irish Sea has a population of about 55,000 and one of civilization's most ancient parliaments. The Tynwald Court, consisting of the Council and House of Keys, is over 1,000 years old and uses the Manx tongue in some of its formal proceedings.

Hints from Heloise

DEAR READERS:

As people grow older, their needs and abilities change. Homes can be furnished and decorated in ways that make them safer and more comfortable for older people. Most of these changes can be made easily and inexpensively.

The Hartford Insurance Group has designed and built a demonstration home to show how simple many of the modifications can be. "The Hartford House" looks like a typical home, but it incorporates 102 ideas for modifications that can benefit people of all ages. Some examples:

Use contrast to make objects stand out, such as light-colored furniture against dark floors, and red or orange colors against blue or green. Where floors are at different levels for different rooms, signal the change by using flooring in strongly contrasting colors.

When wet, rubber flooring in the bathroom is less slippery than tiles and will help prevent falls, plus provide better cushioning if someone does fall. It also makes the bathroom quieter than ceramic tile does.

Lever-type door handles and faucet handles are easier to use than round ones for people with limited strength or problems with grasping objects. C-shaped cabinet, closet and drawer handles also make gripping easier.

All 102 hints, plus a list of suppliers for many specialty items, are in a free booklet from Hartford Insurance. Send a stamped (25 cents), self-addressed, business-size envelope to The Hartford House, Hartford Plaza, Hartford, CT 06115.

The pamphlet is of a substantial size and the postage is actually more, but in the interest of public service, Hartford will pick up the tab for this extra cost. We'd like to extend our thanks to them and commend their commitment to helping others. -- Heloise
