Two men die in fiery Monday crash

By KAY PECK
Staff Writer

Two men were killed Monday morning in a fiery two-vehicle accident on the outskirts of Summerfield.

Juan Morales, 36, of Hereford and Mario Richard Chavez, 24, of Clovis, N.M. were both pronounced dead at the scene of the accident. The 1977 Chevrolet pickup driven by Chavez and the 1979 Freightliner driven by Morales were both demolished in a head-on collision.

Department of Public Safety reports indicate that one of the vehicles apparently crossed the center line as it was traveling on U.S. Highway 60.

The impact of the collision was so great that the Freightliner was detached from its front axle. In the aftermath of the accident, the axle rested in the middle of the highway while the remainder of the truck was in the ditch, several yards from its front wheels.

Both vehicles caught fire in the accident. Several units from the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department were called to the scene to control the blaze.

Graveside services for Morales were scheduled for 2 p.m. today at St. Anthony's Cemetery. Memorial services were to follow at 2:30 p.m. in San Jose Catholic Church with rosary, also at San Jose, at 7 p.m.

Morales, a native of Mexico, had lived in Hereford for 16 years. He married Janie Gonzales in 1972 and was employed by Moreno Trucking. He was a member of San Jose Catholic Church.

Survivors include:

Morales' wife; two sons, Johnny and Beningo, both of the home; two daughters, Criseld and Angie, also of the home; four brothers, Natividad Morales and Baldezar Morales, both of McAllen, and Guadalupe Morales and Horacio Morales, both of Mission; four sisters, Ofelia Alvarado of Mission, Carolina Casias of Mexico, Consalo Ramirez of McAllen and Maria Martinez of Austin.

Collapse of worker comp system eyed

AUSTIN (AP) - Key legislative and industry figures say a Dallas insurer's decision to quit writing workers' compensation policies may be a sign that the system is headed toward collapse.

They also say it could prod lawmakers to adopt proposed reforms in the system that have been favored by business.

Dallas-based Texas Employers Insurance Association told policyholders last month it will stop selling and renewing workers' compensation policies because of rising losses.

While no one predicted an immediate breakdown in the $3 billion-a-year workers' compensation system, several legislative and industry observers said it is spiraling toward collapse.

"This may point more alarmingly than anything else to the real deterioration of the system," said Kay Doughty, executive director of the state's Office of Consumer Counsel.

Although rates charged to employers have risen 148 percent since 1985, "it may be that rates haven't gone up enough," Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said. The industry has a request for another 34.9 percent rate increase pending before the State Board of Insurance.

The decision by Texas Employers to get out of a market it has dominated in the state since 1913 could tip the balance in the Legislature toward House members who have called for radical changes in how disputed claims by injured workers are resolved.

Lawmakers are scheduled to return in special session Nov. 14 to try for the third time this year to overhaul the system.

Rep. Richard Smith, R-Bryan, the House leader on the subject, said, "One of the arguments of the opponents of reform is that we don't have a problem, that they (insurers) engineered this problem to drive up rates and get reforms at the expense of workers - that it was all a bluff."

"When the largest, oldest insurer in the state drops its business, that's not a bluff," he said.

Weed District directors appointed by court

County okays new insurance

By KAY PECK
Staff Writer

The difficult task of analyzing and awarding bids for employee medical insurance was undertaken by Deaf Smith County Commissioners during a regular commission meeting on Monday.

"Good gosh Gertie!!" said Commissioner John Stribling (Precinct 1), as he expressed his reaction to the drastic increase in insurance premiums.

In a bid submitted by Blue Cross-Blue Shield, the company with which the county currently carries health insurance, the premium per employee went up from $113 per month to $197.96 per month.

The bid accepted by the commissioners has a per month premium of $158.84 for each person. The policy includes a $300 deductible for all employees.

In the past three years premiums for individual employee health insurance have gone from $55 per month to the new figure of $158.84, it is learned from County Judge Tom Simons

This bid was presented by John S. Brewton of Brewton Insurance Agency of Dallas. The county's new health insurance is through Washington National Insurance Company.

Some consideration was given to a bid through Washington National for a policy which would require employees to pay a $500 deductible.

"I think we've hurt the employee about enough already this year," said Commissioner Austin Rose Jr. (Precinct 2).

Rose was referring to a recent decision against a proposed pay raise. The pay increase was denied as a part of steps to balance the county budget.

Commissioners spent some time reviewing and analyzing a number of bids submitted for county health insurance. The discussion was complicated by the variety of options available. One proposal, presented by "Jigger" Roland of Multi-Flex Benefits System, would have allowed the county a potential savings by being partially self-insured.

"As tight as the budget is, we can't expose to the county to the risk of being self-insured," Commissioner Stribling said.

Members of the board of directors for the recently approved Deaf Smith County Noxious Weed District were appointed by commissioners on Monday.

Those appointed were: Ralph Diller for Precinct 1, Mike Betzen for Precinct 2, Don Fortenberry for Precinct 3, Jerry Borman for Precinct 4 and Commissioner

Stribling as the member-at-large.

In other business, commissioners opened and awarded bids for gasoline and diesel fuel and for printing and office supplies.

Conway Oil Co. was awarded the bid for the county's fuel needs for the coming fiscal year. That bid, the low bid, was for 2.5 cents per gallon above refinery cost.

The Office Center was awarded the bid for office supplies after that business submitted the low bid of $2,789.39 for all supplies listed in the bid specifications. The bid for printed materials went to First Printing with a bid of $5,700.80.

Commissioners received one bid for printed supplies which was lower than the First Printing propos-

Scout's project climaxes with memorial ceremony to war dead

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

The men and women of Deaf Smith County who have died in service to their country are now memorialized on a permanent plaque at the Deaf Smith County Courthouse in Hereford.

The memorial is the work of Cameron Gulley, a Hereford High School senior. The project was done in his efforts to attain Eagle Scout status, the highest honor in Boy Scouts.

"I have helped review many of these projects over the years, and I think this is one of the very finest of all the projects I've seen," said Nolan Grady, who knew many of the persons named on the plaque.

Saturday's ceremonies, on the second floor "porch" of the courthouse, included patriotic singing, the reading of the names on the plaque, "Taps," and a memorial dedication address by the Hon. John Boyd, a judge on the Seventh Court of Appeals in Amarillo.

"This (memorial) is exactly what we need at a time like this," Boyd said. "This is an overwhelming thing to commemorate the war dead, and this is a time of emotion rather than words."

"It is especially fitting that groups should pay respects to our war dead, to honor them and gain strength in our own lives.

"... A measure of an individual is in meeting challenges, and how long our country exists depends on how long individuals continue to meet those challenges. These are brave men and women who met the supreme challenge, death itself, the final, supreme test of dedication and love. They paid the most precious price that could be demanded."

After Judge Boyd's address, the crowd was led by Helen Rose in the reading of the names on the memorial.

At the top of the plaque, it says, "Dedicated in loving memory of all from Deaf Smith County who gave their lives in military service at home and abroad that the lamps of universal learning and brotherhood may burn forever brighter."

The names on the plaque include: World War I--Cliff C. Cotchell, John Gililand, James M. Henington, Joseph J. Owen and Wilbur Renfro;

Also, James C. Gililand, Claude Dean Goldston, Wade Cleveland

Also, Elmer L. Mathies Jr., Donald Ray McCullough, Frank William Montfort, Troy W. Newman, Richard H. Parsons, Ovid F. Pinkert, Thomas J. Robbs, Herman Macyl Roberts, Leo C. Rogers, Floyd Elwood Smith and James W. Spradley Jr.;

Also, Pat Lee Stagner, Horace B. Stanfield, Carter Vaughn, Clifford H. Vaughn, John E. Weaver, Louie E. Wedel, Roy Arthur Wederbrook, Clyde H. Whitaker Sr., Wendal Kermit Wilson and Garland Robert Wolfington;

Korean War--John C. Airhart, Allen Lynnwood Hallum, Roger Hartman and Gerald R. Shirley;

Vietnam War--Thomas Galvez, Stephen E. Jesko, James E. Pavlicek Jr., Alva Simmons, David Solomon and Arthur C. Tjerina;

And, others--Bruce L. Miller Jr. and Virgil Ray Terry.

Gulley, the son of the Hon. David Wesley and Jane Gulley, worked for over six months with veterans organizations and through research to find the names of those who had died in the service. He then enlisted the help of civic clubs and others to help pay the cost of the plaque and other expenses.

Memorial plaque is dedicated

Ray Jenkins, center, a music instructor in the Hereford schools, plays "Taps" during a dedication ceremony Saturday for a memorial to county citizens who died while in military service. The project was the work of Cameron Gulley, right background, who is working toward his Eagle Scout badge.

COUNTY

This bid was rejected because of a stipulation that all jobs be printed at one time.

"I really have reservations about ordering all my printing at once," said County Clerk David Ruland when asked for his input.

A system for numbering and lettering county roads was approved by commissioners. This system, presented by Commissioner Rose, starts from the southeast corner of the county and uses numbers to identify all east-west roads and letters to identify all north-south roads.

"If the emergency people have this (road identification), it really simplifies things," Judge Simons said.

The road numbering system will be utilized in the 9-1-1 emergency telephone service which is to be implemented in the area within the next two years.

County employees will be making signs to post at intersections along county roads.

Commissioners also discussed a request for a change of voting location in Precinct 3. The matter was tabled after Commissioner Troy Don Moore volunteered to research the request.

Discussion was generally negative about a request to open a branch for absentee voting at the Senior Citizen's Center.

"I'm afraid it would open a can of worms," Commissioner Stribling said.

"I see some possibility of it being a snowball effect," Judge Simons said.

Commissioners felt that approval of this request would lead to a number of other locations also wanting to offer absentee voting.

A resolution expressing support of Proposition 3 was approved by commissioners. This proposition deals with the possible sale of bonds to provide funds to assist agriculture in the state of Texas.

Septic tank inspection within the county was also discussed by commissioners. The county is currently looking for an individual who would be authorized to inspect septic tanks.

"I think we ought to advertise to see who wants to do it," Commissioner Johnny Latham (Precinct 4) said.

Commissioners approved Latham's suggestion and will be advertising for a septic tank inspector.

Agenda items tabled by commissioners were:

A deferred retirement plan, line item and fund transfer amendments to the 1989-90 budget, and a request for permission to lay a water line along side a county road in Precinct 2.

Demos tread lightly on tax issue

WASHINGTON (AP) - Democrats say they must take care not to head into the 1992 presidential campaign as the party of taxes while Republicans take credit for the war on drugs.

"In fighting with the president for our vision of America's future, let's not lead with our chin," party chairman Ronald H. Brown told a meeting of Democratic strategists Monday.

"When we entangle ourselves in talk about taxes before we lay out clear long-term goals and objectives, we dampen the public-spirited response of Americans who want to believe that we can act together to make a difference," Brown said.

Robert G. Beckel, a veteran Democratic political consultant, said the response of some Democrats to President Bush's drug speech identified their party with higher taxes.

"Within 24 hours of the news cycle, they (the Republicans) got drugs and we got taxes" as issues, Beckel said.

The Renaissance painter Raphael painted more than 300 pictures of the Madonna.

Much larger than any lion, the Siberian tiger sometimes measures up to 13 feet long, including the tail.

In New York City

Cowgirl Hall of Fame Restaurant honored

The 1989 Neiman Marcus Christmas Catalogue will be unveiled by Gene Shallit in New York City this month on the "Today Show". The catalogue will be revealed to the press at the Cowgirl Hall of Fame Restaurant located in New York's Greenwich Village.

Among those attending the special press party will be Margaret Formby of Hereford, the president and founder of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center, and Fern Sawyer, 1976 Cowgirl Honoree from Nogal, N.M.

Last spring, Nieman Marcus selected the Cowgirl Hall of Fame Restaurant to stage their annual catalogue press party. The release of their Christmas catalogue is always looked forward to by Neiman's many customers for its wide variety of gift selections, but anxiously awaited by almost everyone for its prestigious "Not To Be Found Anywhere Else-His & Her Gift." The His & Her gift is a fiercely guarded secret until the unveiling.

Two large Christmas trees decorated by Neiman Marcus in a Southwestern motif will make for a festive holiday spirit even though thoughts of Christmas may still be far away for many. The store also plans to have two mounted cowboys at the entrance to the restaurant adding to the atmosphere of a Southwest Christmas. The menu being planned by Cowgirl's chefs include fried okra served in red bandanna-lined baskets, miniature corn and jalapeno muffins, Texas barbeque and other Texas goodies.

Cowgirl Hall of Fame Restaurant opened in New York this past March and is supported by a licensing agreement with the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center in Hereford. Each quarter, one of the Hall's Honorees is showcased at the restaurant with her memorabilia and with favorite food selections from her state on the menu.

Spikers take third at Borger tourney

The Hereford Whiteface volleyball team finished third Saturday at the Borger Invitational Tournament in the Herd's final tune-up before opening district competition.

After opening the tourney with wins over Dalhart and Amarillo High JV, the spikers lost in the semifinals to defending Class 4A state champ and tournament winner Dumas. The Herd knocked off Borger in the third place match to up its season record to 12-3.

Herd vs. Dalhart

Hereford had little trouble in its third meeting of the season with the Golden Wolves, taking a 15-1, 15-5 win in the opening round. Dalhart has scored a total of 16 points against Hereford in five matches.

Nikki Self served for seven points in the match and Jill West recorded five kills for the Herd.

Libby Kosub and Jessica Dearing each added a pair of aces on their serves and Cande Robbins added three kills.

Herd vs. Amarillo High JV

Hereford advanced to the semifinals with a 15-4, 15-11 win over the Sandie junior varsity.

Self served for 10 points with three aces and Kosub contributed six kills and eight receptions of serves.

Shantel Cornelius added three service points and five kills while Poppy Richardson scored on all six of her serves.

Herd vs. Dumas

Dumas gave the Herd a look at what to expect in the district race, handing Hereford a 15-8, 15-13 loss in the first meeting between last year's playoff teams.

Kosub led with 10 service points and three aces plus six kills for the Herd.

Self had five service points while Cornelius, Richardson and Cande Robbins each had two kills.

Herd vs. Borger

Hereford bounced back from its loss to Dumas with a 15-5, 15-0 win over the hosts to claim third place for the tourney.

Richardson led with nine points on serve and Kosub had eight service points, four kills and five digs.

Self added five service points and Cornelius had eight kills and two aces on her serve.

Robbins had four service points with two aces and West added a pair of kills.

outcome of the Dumas match to have been in our favor, but it wasn't to be this time."

The Herd opens District 1-4A competition at 7:30 tonight at the HHS gym against Dunbar and travels to Dumas on Saturday.

"We get another shot at them (Dumas) Saturday," Reeh said, "so we'll study the films and work on correcting our mistakes."

"But we must concentrate on Dunbar first. They are tougher this year and will definitely test us."

Giants boot Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) - If it were a painting, Giants coach Bill Parcells might have stuck New York's 27-24 victory over the Washington Redskins in a closet.

"It wasn't a Rembrandt, I'll tell you that. We were struggling," Parcells said after watching the Giants and Redskins combine for three interceptions and four fumbles Monday night.

After blowing a 14-0 lead, the Giants battled back from a 24-21 deficit in the closing minutes to beat their NFC East rivals on Raul Allegre's 52-yard field goal as time expired.

Despite the turnovers, the teams combined to put on quite an offensive show. Washington quarterback Mark Rypien threw for 349 yards and two touchdowns and, not to be outdone, Phil Simms completed 11 of 19 throws from 255 yards and a pair of scores.

All told, Washington had 457 total net yards and the Giants accumulated 390.

"We were having trouble stopping them, that's quite obvious, and they had trouble stopping us," Parcells said. "It was a typical Giants-Redskins game."

Typical in the result, too. New York has now beaten Washington in six of the last seven non-strike games.

"We just had so many plays in there where we turned the ball over or had the ball in our hands and couldn't get it done," Redskins coach Joe Gibbs said. "It was a bitter loss."

Former Atlanta Falcon Gerald Riggs, in his first regular season game with the Redskins, gained 111 yards but fumbled twice, each time as Washington was driving for an apparent score.

Also, Earnest Byner, acquired from Cleveland during the offseason, dropped a sure touchdown pass on the goal line that forced Washington to settle for a field goal.

Still, the Redskins could derive some satisfaction from their rally from a 21-10 fourth-quarter deficit to take the lead. A 6-yard scoring pass from Rypien to Art Monk made it 21-17, and 54 seconds later Monte Coleman took an interception into the end zone from 24 yards out.

In a game in which the offenses did a better job of stopping themselves than the opposing defenses did, the Giants won the game with two flawless fourth-quarter drives.

Down 24-21, New York got the tying field goal on a 54-yard march that was highlighted by a 44-yard pass from Simms to Odessa Turner.

Then, after forcing Washington to punt, Simms directed the Giants on a beat-the-clock possession that covered 36 yards in 44 seconds. With six seconds left, New York turned to Allegre, who ended it with a kick that just crept over the crossbar.

"It felt good as soon as I hit it," said Allegre, who earlier missed a 42-yarder.

Although Rypien had the better numbers, Simms got the victory. Fighting against a defense that sacked him four times, the 11-year veteran did everything he had to do to get the Giants their second straight opening day triumph over the Redskins.

Simms staked the Giants to a two-touchdown lead in the first half by throwing scoring passes of 30 yards to Turner and 62 yards to rookie Dave Meggett.

Washington cut the gap to 14-10 on a 24-yard field goal by Chip Lohmiller and a 48-yard Rypien-to-Ricky Sanders touchdown pass late in the third quarter.

On the ensuing series, Simms was sacked on first down and the RFK Stadium crowd was rocking. But the veteran quarterback coolly tossed a 31-yard completion to Zeke Mowatt and followed that with a 20-yarder to Mark Bavaro.

Four plays later, Otis Anderson barreled into the end zone on a 14-yard run to make it 21-10.

Anderson, playing in place of the injured Joe Morris, averaged four yards a carry and finished with 93 rushing yards.

Vincent to be elected as Giamatti's successor

MILWAUKEE (AP) - Fay Vincent, the former movie studio head who came to baseball last year as A. Bartlett Giamatti's deputy, will be elected commissioner on Thursday. The Associated Press has learned.

Vincent most probably will be elected to a 4-year term, until April 1, 1994, said a source familiar with the owners' plans, who spoke on the condition that he not be identified.

"It will be smooth, simple. No opposition," the source said on Monday.

A quarterly joint meeting of American League and National League owners is scheduled for Thursday at Milwaukee. Baseball's nine-man executive committee, which has been running the sport since Giamatti's death on Sept. 1, is scheduled to meet today at Milwaukee and the owners from each league will meet separately on Wednesday.

A commissioner can be elected only during a joint meeting of the leagues and must receive three-quarters of the votes, including at least five from each league.

Vincent, 51, is the former chairman and chief executive officer of Columbia Pictures Industries Inc. He joined Columbia in 1978 after David Begelman, the former chairman, was found to have forged checks.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am engaged to be married next February. My fiance and I are having a serious disagreement that comes up every time we discuss our wedding plans. It's about a friend he insists on inviting. The man has AIDS.

I have made it plain that I do not want "R" at the wedding, even though I realize that the virus cannot be transmitted by just being in the same room with a person who is infected.

What if someone should accidentally use R's fork, or drink out of the same glass? What if he should sneeze across the table or, heaven forbid, give me a kiss of congratulations? Very few people know R's condition, but if the news should leak out between now and then, I'm sure many of the guests would be afraid to attend. Also, is it fair of us not to tell people about the risks they may be taking?

It makes me angry that this man is putting a crimp in our wedding plans and causing so much trouble between my fiance and me. A word from you would be a great help -- Westchester Dilemma

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been married to a wonderful man for 20 years. He treats me like a piece of Dresden china, and everyone says I am lucky to have him. We get along beautifully and have no major problems.

Will you please tell me why I am having an affair behind his back? I cannot figure out what on earth is wrong with me. I realize that what I am doing is cheap and tacky (also dangerous), but I don't want to stop.

If we should get caught I know that I would get on my hands and knees and beg my husband to forgive me. He doesn't deserve a cheating wife.

I also should tell you that I think I love the other man, Ann, but in a different way. There is a certain excitement to sneaking around, and maybe that is part of it. Deep down I know I am playing with dynamite. Counseling has not provided me with any answers. Please help me before I wreck several lives. (P.S. The other man is also married and has a family.) Sign me -- Bananas in Rochester

DEAR BANANAS: Find another counselor at once. You already understand that this risky behavior is a turn-on. Now you must find the strength to give it up. A good therapist can provide the emotional support you need. Don't underestimate the importance of this. Your future happiness is at stake. Get going.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please tell me why some of the very finest restaurants have toothpicks available on the way out? I find it extremely unappetizing when people pick their teeth in public. Can you explain this? -- New York

DEAR NEW YORK: A toothpick can be a blessing when you need it. (I always carry one in my bag.) But toothpicking should be done in private.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I laughed when I read Lewis Grizzard's song title, "When My Girl Returns from the Ladies Room, Will I Be Too Old to Care?" Here's another one: "When My Boyfriend Gets Through Blow-Drying His Hair, Will He Have Any Left?" -- "Proseville" in Sacramento.

Do you have questions about sex, but no one you can talk to? Ann Landers' booklet "Sex and the Teenager" is frank and to the point. Send a self-addressed, long, business-size envelope and a check or money order for $3.65 (this includes postage and handling) to: Teen, c/o Ann Landers, P. O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0552. (In Canada send $4.45.)

Local student graduates

Elida Acosta of Hereford was among the 1,052 Southwest Texas State University students who were candidates for degrees awarded in summer commencement ceremonies Aug. 11-12.

Dr. Michael Abbott, executive vice president of SWT, delivered the keynote address at the undergraduate ceremony Aug. 12 in Strahan Coliseum. The student speaker was graduating honor student Rick Kinnerly of San Antonio. There were 835 candidates for bachelor's degrees awarded in the undergraduate ceremony.

Dr. William Bechtel, professor of Curriculum and Instruction, was the keynote speaker in the Graduate School ceremony Aug. 11. One-hundred-ninety-eight graduate students were candidates for master's degrees conferred in Evans Auditorium.

Man Caught With Classified Information

Claims information regularly published

Neighbors today were surprised to learn Melvin Kline, a seemingly quiet, well-mannered man was making extra money with classified information. When questioned earlier this morning, Kline professed surprise that everyone wasn't using the classified section to earn extra income and get rid of unwanted items. "It's common," he said. Recent studies tend to bear Kline out. Consumer Data Service reported that over 85% of the public read the newspaper and over 80% of those read the classifieds. Kline claimed widespread use was being made of the classified information. "But you have to act quickly," he remarked. "If I have something to sell, I can be in the paper by tomorrow. I do that a lot now," he confessed. "With classified, whether I'm buying or selling, I can reach a large market instantly. And it's easy...just pick up the phone."

Local confesses he profited from classified information in newspaper

"Sure, I've made some money from classified information, but so can anyone who reads the paper."

The information's all there." Response Analysis Corp. studies indicate the public does exactly that, with 98% preferring the newspaper over radio and 68% preferring the newspaper instead of TV. Kline was last seen in the company of an unidentified man carrying two outboard motors.

"Something for everyone" to be featured at fair

The Amarillo Tri State Fair, scheduled for Sept. 18-23, not only offers livestock, display exhibits and big-name entertainers, but will also feature many other acts and shows that are free with your gate admission to the fair.

Appearing on the outdoor children's stage three times daily will be the David Sturges' Marionette Show. The Sturges' Marionette Revue entertains audiences for 30 to 45 minutes featuring six to 10 routines. The elegantly-carved marionettes, beautiful costumes, upbeat music and meticulous manipulations combine to create a memorable experience for children of all ages. Also, for the youngsters, the popular educational petting zoo, featuring some 20 different animals, will be open each day of the fair.

For the older folks, Billy

Ledbetter will perform twice nightly on the main outdoor free stage. The Ledbetter Show will feature vocal and instrumental music of country and the 50's. His comedy impressions of Elvis, Ray Charles and Marty Robbins are sure to delight all viewers. Then the racing pigs will again be at the fair to run two heats four times daily at the Pork Chop Downs Track.

Other special entertainment will be the West Texas Sheep Dog Championship Trails for the third year at the fair. Performances will begin in the Bill Cody Arena at 5 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 20, 21. Sheep dogs from throughout the southwest will fetch, herd and pen sheep for prize money and awards.

Parents' Day at WTSU scheduled

Parents' Day at West Texas State University is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 16. The annual event welcomes and honors parents of WTSU students by inviting parents to visit their children on campus and meet their children's friends, teachers and mentors.

The day begins with registration and a faculty-staff reception for parents and students from 10-11:30 a.m. in the Activities Center on the WTSU campus. A hamburger cookout is planned from noon-1 p.m. on the lawn between Terrill Hall and Cornette Library, followed by a style show from 1-1:45 p.m. and a football talk by WTSU Head Coach Steve Graf from 1:45-2:15 p.m.

Residence halls and church centers will have open houses from 2:15-4 p.m. A display of equestrian skills is scheduled from 3-4 p.m. at the WTSU Horse Center. The WTSU-Lamar football game will begin at 7 p.m. in Kimbrough Memorial Stadium. Parents of the Year will be announced during halftime of the game.

Parents are also invited to the Residence Hall Association Casino Night, an annual residence hall fundraising event at 7:30 p.m.

Each year, students nominate their parents for Parents of the Year, a way for students to honor parents since 1978. To nominate parents, students must submit an essay to the Parents of the Year Committee which will read all nominations and make a selection. Criteria for selection include encouragement by parents of their children's college education and loyalty, support and interest in WTSU.

Last year's Parents of the Year were Bob and Rita Morgan of Hereford. The Morgans were nominated by daughters, Debbie Arroyos, WTSU class of 1983; Cindy, WTSU class of 1988; Tina, WTSU class of 1992; and son, Barry, WTSU class of 1984.
