Temperatures Go Down, Up and Down Again

AT FORT WORTH

FFA Youths Win Championships

Two Deaf Smith County youths showing swine in the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show held in Fort Worth last weekend walked away with grand championships in their classes.

Winning the grand championships were Gilbert Sims, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sims, Route 4, and Monte Rowland, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Rowland, Route 1. Sims in winning a championship, also added a reserve grand championship showing a boar and a gilt in the senior breeding class of the Chester White Division. Both swine won firsts and then the championships.

Rowland, showing in the Landrace breed division, also won a first place in summer boar division, first in junior boar, fourth in senior gilt, and a sixth in junior gilt.

For Sims, a Hereford High School sophomore, this was his first entry in a major livestock show as well as his first grand and reserve championship.

The Hereford High Future Farmers of America member became interested in raising swine when he joined the chapter here as a freshman.

Rowland, a veteran showman, has been in the business since 1954. He and his father won a grand championship in the state Landrace breed show and sale in 1958.

Even though Monte has been showing, this was his first major win in the Fort Worth Show, the largest in Texas and one of the nation's major shows.

He is a freshman at Stanton Junior High and a member of the Future Farmers of America Chapter here.

TWO DEAF SMITH COUNTY youths, Monte Rowland (right) and Gilbert Sims, walked away from the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show with grand championships. Both had entries in breeding swine classes.

The Texas Panhandle is living up to its reputation as temperatures climbed over the state and in Deaf Smith County to unreasonably warm summertime highs.

The official temperature Friday in Hereford was a warm 80 degrees. However, the city's unofficial temperature climbed even higher to 85 degrees in the downtown section.

Temperatures for this time of year have been warm. High recorded Thursday was 75 with 72 degrees reported Wednesday.

Moisture amounts have been extremely light, with only .20 of an inch recorded here since the first of the year.

Just two weeks ago over the state, many areas were reporting record lows. Hereford's official temperature plummeted to a record low of 15 degrees below zero.

As still another cold front dipped into the Panhandle, temperatures were again dropping. By mid-day Saturday, the downtown thermometer read a cool 38 degrees and was still falling.

Grain Program; Election Slated For Gas Group

A two-purpose meeting has been called by W. H. Gentry, president of the Deaf Smith County Gas Users Association. The meeting will start at 7 p. m. Tuesday, Feb. 5, in the Hereford Community Center.

For part of the meeting, AS-C office manager Faust Collier will explain details of the 1963 feed grains program.

Principal item of business will be a report of the nominating committee and election of new county officers. Also to be elected is a director to the Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association from the county.

In addition, Ed Bennett of Hart secretary - treasurer of the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Association, will give a progress report on that organization.

Gentry emphasized that the meeting is open to all farmers, whether or not they are members of the association.

The nominating committee has suggested the following officers and directors for the coming year: W. P. Axe for president, Donald Hicks for vice president, and George Warner for secretary - treasurer. Jay Boston has been nominated to continue as director from the county on the board of the Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association, of which he is secretary - treasurer.

The director will be elected by the county board of directors, Gentry pointed out.

Serving as directors of the county group will be four persons from each of the county precincts. Nominated for one-year terms are W. H. Gentry, Raymond Higginbotham, Tom Robinson and J. B. Caraway, Precinct One.

Jay Boston, L. D. Pickering, Dick Godwin and Charles Noiland, Precinct Two; Chester Wiggins, Frank Zinner Jr., Gerald McCathern and Billy Wayne Sisson, Precinct Three; Tommie Carnahan, Jack Higgins, Bill Cornett and Robert Hickman, Precinct Four.

As still another cold front dipped into the Panhandle, temperatures were again dropping. By mid-day Saturday, the downtown thermometer read a cool 38 degrees and was still falling.

The wide variations in the weather have come following a mild fall and early winter. Little moisture has fallen as one cold blast after another dropped temperatures.

Many of the fronts blasting through the county have been driven by very high winds, adding to the discomfort of the near zero and below winter weather.

Farming operations in the county have been slowed and are almost at a standstill. However, as temperatures reached into the 70's and 80's farmers were able to get into fields to do some work the last of the week.

At one time, during the severe weather, the ground was reported to have been frozen to a depth of six to 10 inches. However, most areas have apparently thawed.

The severe weather has definitely hurt the grazing potential of the winter wheat crop causing many producers to ship cattle from the area.

Agricultural officials, grain men, and farm operators are hesitant to guess the amount of damage to wheat and have adopted a wait-and-see attitude.

It is apparently a consensus of opinion that the damage is not too great on irrigated lands. However, dryland wheat is reported to be in poor condition. Producers have been irrigating wheat since the latter part of November and especially during December as mild, dry weather prevailed.

All agree that moisture—snow or rain—is definitely needed. Even though variations in the weather have been extreme little loss has been noted in cattle and sheep within the county. Livestock in the area have suffered some from the cold, biting winds, however.

Since the wheat has not received sufficient moisture this winter, there has been a reported shortage of grazing. Cattle are being shipped out the area now.

C of C Banquet Tickets On Sale To Public Now

Tickets to the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet went on sale to the public Thursday with less than 340 tickets available, according to Bill Thompson, manager of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Thompson reported Friday that approximately 500 tickets had already been distributed. A total of 800 had been printed for the banquet.

William J. "Bill" Bird of San Francisco, one of the nation's most dynamic young business leaders, will be guest speaker. He is presently western vice president of Prudential.

Bird entered the insurance business following a successful career as a chamber of commerce executive. He has served both as a chamber director and on the staff of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

As an insurance executive, Bird is in charge of directing the company's operations in a number of western states, including Hawaii and Alaska.

The topic of his speech will be "George Wears Two Hats."

Preceding the chamber banquet, awards for thrift essay contest, sponsored by Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union, will be presented. Winners of the contest will assemble at Hereford High School at 6:30 p. m.

Those receiving the awards will attend the banquet as well.

Around Town

BY H. A. TUCK
 If you haven't gotten your tickets for the Chamber of Commerce banquet, you'd better hurry. There are some left, but they'll go quickly in the next couple of days. People who have heard Bill Byrd speak class him as one of the finest in the country. And, as usual, the meal will be scrumptious and the suspense will build until the Citizen of the Year is named.

Speaking of that award reminds me that there is seldom a tougher job than the one faced each year by representatives of various civic clubs as they try to narrow down the selection to one person from among a large list of nominees, all of whom are deserving of the honor. Although the Lions Club gives the award, the selection is really a broad-based project.

The subscription that Hereford Mayor Ray Cowser bought for the Mayor of Hereford, England, is having far-flung results. The Hereford Times printed an article about the exchange. Now we get a letter from Gloria Gregg, whose mother reads the Times. She would like to correspond with boys and/or girls about her age. Gloria says she is 21, slim, blonde, likes all outdoor sports and dancing. Her address is 53 Bailey Street, Brynmawr, Breconshire, South Wales, United Kingdom. On second thought, I may even write her myself.

This issue carries a story about two Hereford FFA boys who did right well in showing swine in Fort Worth. We always are delighted when any county youngsters do well. The ones who show cattle usually get most of the attention, but the ones who raise hogs also are proving that they can win.

A new, 16-page brochure has just been finished for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. It includes two full-color pictures on the outside cover and (Continued on page eight)

Poll Tax Sales Close At 2,403

Final poll tax list for 1963 in Deaf Smith County will include 2,403 names. This does not include the several hundred exemptions which are issued for persons over 60, persons becoming eligible to vote for the first time and new residents of the state.

County Tax office personnel said the final count was a good one for what is termed an "off year" in elections. It compared very favorably with the 2,773 poll tax receipts which were issued in 1962, a big election year.

However, residents will get good use out of their poll taxes in the immediate future. Elections already are slated for early spring to name a mayor, two city commissioners and for three Hereford school trustees.

Santa's Sleigh Booked Dec. 14

In a special meeting Thursday morning, directors of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce agreed to underwrite the appearance of a huge sleigh here next December.

The group approved a request by the Retail Trade Promotion committee for a return of the large sleigh, pulled by ponies, which spent Dec. 1 here. Despite cold and drizzle, more than 2,400 children rode on the sleigh during an eight-hour period, talking with Santa Claus and his helpers.

This year, the sleigh will return to Hereford on Saturday, Dec. 14.

STUDENTS HAVE PEP RALLY

High School Cleared As Bomb Scare Proves Hoax

Hereford High School was emptied Friday afternoon as school officials, law enforcement officers and firemen checked out the building for a reported bomb.

The call reporting the bomb was received at the high school office at about 1:45 p. m., according to P. L. Stevens, school superintendent.

According to the caller, he continued, the bomb was set to explode at 2:05 p. m.

As law enforcement officers and school officials were being alerted according to a prearranged plan, high school students were evacuated from the school building.

"We felt reasonably sure the call was a hoax," stated the school superintendent, "but for protection of the students, the building was evacuated."

He added, "We can't afford to take the chance that it isn't a practical joke."

The procedure used to check the building out had been set up following a bomb scare at Stanton Junior High last March. Following the incident, school and city, county and state law enforcement officers worked out a plan for checking school buildings.

As the agencies were alerted by school officials Friday, assistance was given by Hereford Police Department, Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Office, Texas Highway Patrol and Hereford Volunteer Fire Department.

The building was completely checked in 15 minutes but students were held out of classes an extra five minutes as a precaution, Stevens said.

With that much help, it isn't take long to completely check a school building," the superintendent commented.

School officials appreciated the assistance given by local and state law enforcement officers who helped him add.

An ironic note to the incident occurred as Hereford High school students assembled across the street from the building for an impromptu pep rally in the warm, 80 degree weather.

The seriousness of a prank is underlined by the fact that such incidents are punishable under both Texas and Federal statutes.

Under state laws a person convicted of such an offense shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $200.

If the mail, telephone, telegraph or "other instruments of commerce" are used to report a fake bomb, the incident may be tried as a Federal offense.

Persons convicted of such offenses may be imprisoned for not more than a year and fined up to $1,000 or both.

Two Incumbents, Clearman Seek Trustee Posts

Interest in the approaching election for three school trustees picked up here last week. Two incumbents and one other candidate announced late in the week. They joined one other candidate who filed Monday.

Olin Parris, a farmer and flying service owner, and Bill Gentry, farmer, both filed for re-election. Each of them is concluding his first two-year term on the seven-member board.

Also filing as a candidate was Hugh Clearman. He is a former county agent here and is manager of WAC Seed Company. Clearman has three daughters and lives on the Dimmitt Highway.

Filing earlier for one of the three seats was Albert Maxwell. The third trustee whose term expires, B. F. Cain, has not yet announced whether he will seek re-election. He has served two terms on the board.

Deadline for filing as a candidate for the school board is 30 days prior to the election, which will be held Saturday, April 6.

FIRST DISTRICT LOSS

Herd Loses In Overtime; Hosts Littlefield Tuesday

Inability to hit the basket in the first and fourth periods ultimately cost Hereford a ball game Friday night in Perryton. Leading by five points in the final three minutes, Hereford saw the Rangers catch up and force the game into overtime.

Then the Rangers poured in eight straight points before Hereford could scratch. The Rangers' 62-58 victory was their fourth in District 1-AAA play against three losses. For Hereford, it was their first loss after five straight wins and put a new light on conference action.

For Dumas trampled Littlefield 72-27 and Phillips beat

Levelland 61-48. That puts Dumas just one game out of first place with a 5-2 record as the defending district and state champions try to repeat. Phillips is 4-2.

Hereford now has four games left. Tuesday night, they host Littlefield. On Feb. 8 they go to Dumas, return home Feb. 12 to play Levelland and end regular play at Phillips on Feb. 15.

Littlefield gave Hereford quite a scrap before losing 69-58. The Wildcats opened their season with a 64-57 win over Levelland. Then they lost five straight: to Dumas, 40-26; Hereford, 58-69; Phillips, 61-64; Perryton, 32-67; Levelland, 42-46; and Dumas again, 27-72.

A large delegation from Hereford made the long trip to Perryton in an effort to beat the Rangers' home-court jinx. Winners of just four pre-conference games, they have won four games in district and all of them have been at home. On the road, they have lost all three games.

The Rangers opened quickly, racing to a 13-4 lead in less than four minutes as Dwight McGee hit two field goals for the Herd. Then Ronnie Welty hit for three points and Jim Haney got five while Perryton (Continued on page eight).

DESPITE HIGH WINDS, some Deaf Smith County farmers were at work in their fields Friday as temperatures during the end of the week went past the 80-degree mark. Farm work during January was brought almost to a standstill as temperatures dipped to as low as 15 below, freezing the ground from six to 10 inches below the surface. Cropland in the area is extremely dry since the first of the year.

of Credit Union activities.

Guest speakers for the affair were Miss Heather Gordon of Johannesburg, South Africa, and Frank Hergert of Nuremberg, Germany. Both exchange students described their home lands and told of their experiences with the American Field Service which sponsors their year at Hereford High School.

Both students pointed out the need for more appreciation of the freedom which Americans enjoy, and then urged listeners to be alert to protect their liberty.

Other highlights of the meeting included a panel discussion on the topic "Do You Know", which was presented by Mrs. Pauline Howard, Mrs. Galdys Braly, and Mrs. Dyalthia Benson, Credit Union staff members.

The panel discussion outlined the function of the local organization and reviewed its policies and services.

Mrs. Dyalthia Benson, Credit Union treasurer, gave the annual financial report. Highlighting the report, she disclosed that the Credit Union returned a total of $125,817.20 to members through dividends during 1962.

She also pointed out that the local Credit Union continued to grow during 1962. Assets and liabilities of the H.T.F. C.U. increased by over $113,000 during the year, climbing from $2,579,815 in 1961 to $2,692,854 at the end of 1962.

Mrs. Benson also reported on the progress of Credit Union Migrant Services which are carried on with Latin Americans during the summer months.

Admitting that the Credit Union's branch office at the Labor Camp did not enjoy rapid acceptance, she commented that the branch has served a valuable purpose in that it has helped to acquaint Latin Americans with Credit Union services.

She added that there are now some 35 migrant families who are maintaining savings accounts at the Credit Union.

Robert Thompson, president of the Credit Union Board of Directors, announced that the annual election will be held next week. He also commented on the success of the union.

Following the business session, door prizes were awarded to members present. Among the recipients of prizes, Mrs. Willard Witherspoon won the portable television set.

After the meeting adjourned, many of the members and guests attended an open house of the Credit Union offices here. Special guests for the meeting were 19 representatives of out-of-town credit unions.

BY TWO POINTS

Dogies Win Tenth

Stanton seventh graders claimed their tenth victory of the season here Thursday night as they edged Coronado Junior High of Plainview by two points.

Hereford managed a 17-15 win over the Plainview school. Dogies have a record of 10-1, with their only loss at the hands of Clovis.

Dogies came from behind to tie things up at the end of the third quarter, and then limited their guests to only two points in the last round to take the win.

Stanton scoring attack was led by Cliff Crowell with his six points. Johnnie Cornelius followed with four and Sidney Shaw netted three. Two each by Jerry Fowlkes and Gary Goodin completed the Dogie scoring account.

In the first quarter, baskets by Shaw and Crowell were all that Stanton could muster as they lagged to a 4-7 deficit.

Hereford cut the Coronado lead to two points at the half. Cornelius and Crowell tallied field goals and Shaw contributed a charity toss to make it 9-11.

Dogies pushed in four points in the third quarter to tie the game up. Goodin and Crowell netted two each while the Herd's defense allowed Plainview only two in the period.

Score stood 13-11 all going into the last round. Once again Dogies limited their guests to only two points. Markers by Cornelius and Fowlkes gave Hereford the two-point margin for the win.

IN THRILLING CLIMAX

Stanton Takes One-Point Win Over Coronado Frosh

Hereford and Plainview Freshmen started a new game in the fourth quarter here Thursday and then the Stanton Dogs managed to edge out Coronado Junior High by one point in a thrilling climax.

Stanton had a seven-point lead at the half, but their guests fought back to tie things up in the third quarter at 36-36.

An excited crowd watched as Dogies poured in 15 points and held Plainview to one less in the climax.

Steve Hodges sparked Stanton in the final round with eight points and in the entire game with a total of 23. Hodges was the only Dogie netting double figures.

The win gives Hereford a season record of 13 wins and only three losses.

Four by Hodges and a two-pointer by Robbie Lemons were all Stanton could manage during the first quarter, as Coronado mustered an 8-5 lead.

But Stanton came to life in the second quarter. Dogies teamed up to rip in 21 points. Roger Owen put in a nine-point spree in the round to spark the Dogies to take command.

Gregg Richards put through four while Hodges connected one for two. Gary Payne sank a two-pointer and then followed through with the free throw which followed. Mike Moore converted a charity toss and later hit a basket to give Stanton a 27-20 halftime advantage.

Dick Rigler brought Coronado back in the game as he poured in 12 Plainview points in the third quarter. Combined with four others by teammates, his rallies were enough to tie things up at 36 as the period closed. Rigler amassed a total of 30 points for Coronado, by the way.

Stanton and Plainview matched points in the fast-moving fourth quarter, but the Dogies managed the final tally for the win. Owen opened with a two-counter, but Plainview hit twice in rapid succession to take a two-point margin.

LeRoy Williams countered for Hereford with one of the key hot Rigler hit another for Plainview. Then Owen took a turn at the charity line and hit one of his two tries. Hodges scored seconds later and then made two free ones which resulted.

Dogies' five-point lead was short-lived as Plainview hit two more quick ones. Hodges scored, then Coronado retaliated to make it 49-50. With 12 seconds remaining, Hodges hit the final marker of the game and Stanton won 51-50.

Calliopean Study Club Topics Are Youth, Age

Mrs. Lorraine Fowlkes, president of the Calliopean Study Club, called the club to order on Thursday, Jan. 24, at 8 p. m. in the home of Mrs. C. J. Crump.

Mrs. Alton Fraser and Mrs. D. C. McWhorter were in charge of the program. Mrs. Fraser discussed, "What Is Old Age?" as her topic. She said, "Old age should not be considered forward to the treasures in store for those who grow old with charm, who has a loving sharing and busy view of things."

"Our Youth Today" was the subject that Mrs. D. C. McWhorter chose to discuss for the group. In this discussion she said, "The youth of today have freedom never thought of 30 years ago; also they are not given enough responsibilities in this modern age." Mrs. McWhorter went on to say, "Princeton University has had the courage to outlaw cars, because it is better for education. Some of our leaders today can see an awakening in our American students that want to do better in their school work and want to do things to better the world."

Those present for the meeting were: Mesdames Paul Conaway, B. F. Cain, Lorraine Fowlkes, Alton Fraser, Roy Grubbs, Ernest Langley, D. C. McWhorter, W. J. Messick, Carl Perrin, one guest, Mrs. Jon Fraser of Dallas and the hostess, Mrs. Crump.

Plank Doesn't Use Siesta, But Is Beginning To Tire

(Editor's Note: This is the seventh in a series of articles written for the Brand by Pete Plank of Hereford, who is nearing the end of a tour of Uruguay. Sponsored by the International Farm Youth Exchange program, he spends time with various families throughout the country.)

People here ask me why I don't take a "siesta". I tell them, "Life is too short and if you sleep more than eight hours a day you are cheating yourself". It is quite a pity that more people don't take advantage of all the wonderful opportunities the Good Lord has provided for us in this, His beautiful world.

I wish you could take a look to the north of this farm where I am now staying. It is grass as far as the eye can reach. It is a ranch that originally had 35,000 acres, but which has recently been divided up between five sons.

Yesterday I went with a neighbor to visit his farm. I never know where I am going or when I will be back. We left here at 2 p. m. and I thought we would be back in an hour or so. This man is the leader of the 4-H Club here and the first "farmer" that I have talked with that is really making great strides with new ideas. He has an orange grove and took me to where he was budding small plants and raising his little trees. It was all very interesting. I tell you when I return from this trip I should have an education in a wide field. We walked over his entire farm tree by tree and he told me about them.

I was about "pooped", but then we got into this pickup of which he is very proud, and go to the neighbors. The pickup was purchased two months ago. It is a 1951 rebuilt International with a new paint job and cost $3,000. At the neighbor's place, we walked over his citrus grove, all 100 acres of it. We finished about 8:30 and I thought surely we would go home but no we had to go to the house and talk. We made it home about 10 o'clock, there I found some club members waiting to take me to a dance so I quickly changed my clothes and went with them. I didn't get home until 2 a. m. and had to get up at five and milk. My host mother wanted to take me to church but my host father didn't want to take us so he figured out something for us to do. We cultivated the sunflowers. We ran the middles-out with one lister and an old horse while the tractor sat at the house. I walked behind the plow while my host father drove the horse. They have a problem here with ants. The ants had nearly eaten everything up before they poisoned them.

On this farm the government has built a dipping vat for the control of ticks. It is necessary to dip every 20 days. There are 14 neighbors that dip cattle here. This was a good chance for me to meet more of the people so I helped all of them. On Wednesday it rained so we didn't dip cattle until in the evening, so we planted corn (flint corn) by hand, behind the plow. This was ground they had cut-outs of and burnt, the stubble. They won't use any fertilizer because it is rented land.

I just ate dinner and I thought I was going to be sick for the first time. I haven't eaten anything in the way of meat since I went to Artigas, except sheep. This family here butchers sheep and sells the meat. We eat the kidneys, lungs and intestines. I can stand the intestines and kidneys but we had small lungs and I just couldn't get them down.

I am really disappointed in myself because I thought I was getting to where I could stand anything they put out. In Artigas the mother of my host brother invited me to eat sheep heads with her. I didn't shy a bit and I think this disappointed her. Every family I have been with has done something like this.

I helped one of the peons make a hitch for a plow so he could use two horses instead of one to cultivate his corn. It is hard for me to accept the fact that the peons know more than the owners. It is real torture for me to see my present host father ruin the land that it took nature centuries to build. He doesn't care because he is only leasing the land and his lease expires in three years. Uruguay is very small and one city, the capital, contains more than half of the people. Salto, the place I am living close to now, is quite a modern city but few of the streets are paved. Uruguay has 19 Departments (states) and I have been in 11 so far. I have noticed there are two distinct influences here in Uruguay - one is American and the other is European. The American influence is here in Northern Uruguay, close to Brazil. In the southern part you find the European influence most prevalent.

The schools here vary from community to community but they are all under Federal control. Everything goes through one office. This office is headed by one person who hires all of the teachers and takes care of the management. The larger towns are the only ones that have high schools and the children only go to school four hours a day. Part of the four hours is spent in the study of music and dancing.

The leaders of the 4-H clubs, which sponsor me, are usually school teachers and the club members are made up of the students although there are also a large percent of older people in the clubs.

Jan. 21st - It has been raining all day and we were really needing it. I have been living with my new family for the past week. When I left my last family they gave a party for me, with the help of the neighbors, which lasted all day. I didn't arrive here until 9:30 p. m. and then we visited so it was late when we went to bed. We got up at 5:30 a. m. and the 4-H Club, 53 in all, went on a truck to visit the government-owned sugar company. We had lunch close to the Uruguay River. After lunch we visited in the town of Constitucion.

We have been cutting potatoes to plant. They use small ones to plant and eat the big ones. Everyone here plants a garden. My host family here have four children, one girl and three boys. They seem like a wonderful family. Their farm has about 125 acres in it. They milk 15 cows and raise wheat, corn, sunflowers and peanuts.

The youngest boy is the "goer". They have a Massey-Harris combine and two tractors. The house is nice but Herd...

Entering the second period behind 14-19, Hereford finally found the range. Although Perryton led 27-20 and 31-24, the Whitefaces came back strong. Haney and Earl Jackson carried the load for the Herd, while Ferguson, Austin Hodges and Welty each added a basket. Welty stole the ball with 1:45 left and raced in to tie the score 31-31. Hodges hit quickly to put Hereford in front.

McGee hit two free ones, but big Don Hoyer dumped in one for the Rangers. Jackson hit a long one just before the half to put Hereford ahead 37-33. Hereford's lead was cut by one point in the third period. The Rangers took a 41-38 lead at one point, but Robert Strange connected, Haney hit two free ones and Hodges hit for a 44-41 margin. Boyer, again closed Around...

(Continued from page one) another full color photo across the two middle pages. Between them are great masses of information about Hereford and the county. The brochures will be officially "unveiled" at the Chamber banquet. They are designed to be given to tourists, prospective residents and business executives, as well as schoolchildren from other areas who want to know more about this area.

Bill Gentry wants every farmer in the county to attend the meeting that has been called for Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the Hereford Community Center. It will give them a chance to hear details of the 1963 feed grains program, and to ask questions about it if they wish.

Perryton is being called the "spoiler team" of District 1. AAA right now. They knocked off Dumas in their opener, then whipped Hereford Friday night. All of their four wins have been at home and the only team that hasn't visited them yet is Phillips. Hereford really amazed the Perryton folks with the large delegation that showed up. It was just one of those nights for Hereford, they couldn't get the scores when they needed them. That is going to make it rough from here on in. Hereford needs to win all four remaining games to take the conference title outright. And that will have to include Phillips, and Dumas on the road and Littlefield and Levelland at home. Littlefield will be here Tuesday night and the Herd would welcome your attendance at the game.

Having my name on the top Of this column's no claim to fame. It's just there so everyone Will know who they're to blame.

This 200 acres is planted to sunflowers and will be ready to harvest before I leave. I don't know how much letter writing I am going to get done here as the family likes to talk a lot. They all have a good sense of humor which I appreciate very much. I am sure glad I made this trip but if I had it all to do over again I don't know whether I could make it or not.

not "swanky". The boys built the house themselves. The boys custom cut for all of the neighbors and rent 200 additional acres of land. This 200 acres is planted to sunflowers and will be ready to harvest before I leave. I don't know how much letter writing I am going to get done here as the family likes to talk a lot. They all have a good sense of humor which I appreciate very much. I am sure glad I made this trip but if I had it all to do over again I don't know whether I could make it or not.

The gap before Welty and Strange each connected. Then came three straight foul calls with the Rangers hitting two of three attempts. Hereford entered the final period leading 48-45. Boyer opened with a quick basket, countered by Welty. Buddy Bolerjack shoved in a rebound for the Rangers, but Welty again hit from the corner.

The pace slowed at that point, with the clock showing 6:29. Both teams missed scoring opportunities until Hodges hit a jump shot with 5:53 left. That put Hereford in front 54-48. But Roger Wright connected on a jump shot, Paul Haywood hit one of two free throws and Wright hit again with 1:30 left to knot the score 54-54.

Officials called Hodges for double dribbling with 50 seconds left and gave Perryton the ball. But David Baker was called for charging with 34 seconds remaining and Hereford got the ball back. The Whitefaces moved the ball around, waiting for one shot. Finally, the pass was to Haney who was fouled as took the ball. With seven seconds left, Haney hit 12 of 14 free throws in the game.

Perryton controlled the three-minute overtime period completely and Hereford couldn't have bought a basket if it had had the keys to Fort Knox. Haywood hit quickly for the Rangers. Bolerjack made one of two free throws and Boyer scored from in close to make it 59-54 with 1:25 left.

Jackson missed a free throw. Then Welty fouled out and Bolerjack again hit one of two free throws. Another foul call gave Haywood two chances and he made them both for a 62-54 lead and 36 seconds left.

Jackson finally broke a scoring drought of almost six minutes as he hit with 27 seconds left and Billy Hill netted a long one with two seconds showing.

Ironically, Hereford made 16 of 21 free throws during the game, while Perryton hit just 10 of 20 but the Rangers were hot from outside.

Don Boyer, 6-5 1/2 center, got 19 points for the Rangers. Roger Wright hit 15 and Paul Haywood had 11.

Haney had 14 and Welty 13 for the Herd.

IN WIN 14

Hereford Defeats Plainview, 31-20

Hereford eighth graders jumped to an early lead and then held on to it in a game against Coronado Junior High of Plainview here Thursday night. Eighth grade Dogies marked a 31-20 win on their season record to give them a total of 14 wins and only two losses this year.

The victory was a team effort as everyone on the squad took to the hardwoods for action during the game. Larry Noland and Jim Allison hit for seven Dogie points, Bill Watts got six, Gene Duvall scored five, and Billy Frank and Mike Davis hit two each.

Dogies cashed in on free throws in the first quarter to jump in the lead. Noland hit a two-counter and then a free one while Frank converted a charity toss and Duvall counted two of them. Stanton led 6-2 after a full quarter of play.

Coronado came to life in the second quarter to score eight but Stanton's five were good enough to keep them in the lead at the half. Davis and Duvall hit baskets for Stanton and Noland added a free throw to make it 11-10. Allison netted a pair from the field. Noland got three points, Watts and Frank both got two, and Duvall got one for Stanton in the third quarter as the Dogies advanced to a 23-13 lead. Dogies allowed Coronado only three points in the third quarter, all of which were free ones.

Formby Is Guest Speaker At Federated Club Meeting

Reception room of the Community Center was the scene on Thursday, Jan. 31, at 1 p. m. for the regular covered dish luncheon and business meeting of the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs.

All the tables were decorated in red valentine motifs of cupids and hearts with red place mats decorated in white lace hearts.

Mrs. Clint Formby was in charge of the program. She introduced Miss Jo Ella McGee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McGee, who sang "Getting to Know You" by Rogers, "I Resolve" by Foutenell and "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho." She was accompanied by Mrs. Cecil Parker.

Speaker for the luncheon, Clint Formby, was introduced by Mrs. Raymond White. Formby chose to speak on "Individual Responsibility" and described several types of individuals as hitchhikers.

They include the tax squeamer; a fellow that goes to church, but doesn't care to take part; eases out of giving any donations, no matter what it is, and he doesn't want to serve actively in a club, someone may ask him to do something. These are what can be called hitchhikers.

He went on to say, "We need to except individual responsibility in our community in order to have a good one."

Formby's quote from Arnold Toynbee gives a definite trend of thought in that each individual should take more responsibility in order to make a stronger person of himself and a better community, "Every nation will live or die, however way it meets the challenge of Club."

"We're all in a rut and afraid of change. Each one of us should re-evaluate our lives and our community. Mental and spiritual growth need to be practiced more," he said in conclusion.

Mrs. W. C. Hromas, president, presided over the short business meeting that was held after the luncheon and program.

Hostess clubs for the luncheon were: Hereford Music Study Club, El Nino Study Club, Farm and Ranch Club, Bud to Blossom Garden Club and the North Hereford Home Demonstration Club.

TRAINING TAPE READERS

NORWALK, Calif. (AP) — Numerically controlled machine tools operated by punched tapes are among the radical changes in the machine tool industry which has caused a "second industrial revolution," according to Paul Henry, chairman of the metals division at Cerritos College.

"Now many machine operations are programmed on a punched tape somewhat similar to a piano player roll," Henry explained. "A tape reader supplies commands to the machine."

Smith Named As Best Speaker At Toastmasters

Alvin Smith claimed the traveling trophy for the best speech at the regular weekly meeting of Hereford Toastmasters held here Tuesday.

Smith spoke on "The Art of Mugwumping", dealing with a neutral and noncommittal state of mind.

Also presenting prepared speeches during the evening were J. Raymond Flores, "Gestures Tell The Story", and Virgil Dodson, "Years Will Bring Material Learning."

Serving as toastmaster for the evening was Dr. Milton C. Adams with Ed Dziuk Jr. as general evaluator. Bill Penn was Table Topic chairman with discussions dealing with the City of Hereford.

of Hereford.

Tying for first in table topic honors were Irving Alexander and Dr. Adams. Kenneth Coker and Kenneth Rudd tied for best evaluator.

Bob Brooks was a guest of the club. Members present included Hardy Benson, Smith, Rudd, Penn, Dziuk, Flores, Alexander, Dr. Adams, Dodson, and Coker.

Radioisotopes are a handy substitute for the cumbersome X-ray machines used to photograph structural materials. Powerful gamma rays from the isotopes penetrate steel but require no electricity.

Parts of Southwest Africa are so dry that one mining center distills fresh water from the sea and even condenses some water from fog.

After gold, South Africa's most valuable export is wool.

Girls Team Beats Channing; Wins Thriller In Overtime

By Ann Beavers
Friday night in the Adrian Gym, the Adrian Matadors played Channing. The Adrian girls won their game but it was nip and tuck all the way.

At the end of the game the score was tied up 42 to 42. They played two min. overtime and Channing made a point. With just a few seconds left to play one of Channing's girls fouled and two free shots and made them both, making the score 44 to 43 in Adrian's favor.

The Adrian boys were not so lucky, but it was an exciting game. Channing won with a score of 62 to 50.

High scorer for the night was Carolyn Carr, Channing, 26, and Donna Brownlee with 20 points. The boys were Jerry Muncy, Channing, 21, Billy Perry Adrian, 16 points.

The Adrian Caprock 4-H Club met at the home of Mrs. John Horton last Thursday. There were two demonstrations given. First a table setting demonstration was given by Scherrie Beavers followed by a demonstration on making rolls and good nutrition given by her leader, Mrs. John Horton. Those attending were Scherrie Beavers, Patty Fortenberry, Betty Whitten, Martha Grubbe, Kathy Garrison, Donna and Karla Patterson, Patty Zaring and Jackie Loveless.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Casz Jackson of Bard, N. M., was the setting for the January 10 marriage of their daughter, Linda, to Danny Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wagner of Adrian. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. E. F. Jackson of Tucumcari.

Reading the double ring ceremony at 2:50 in the afternoon was the Rev. V. W. Allen of San Jon. Red and white roses decorated the rooms. Nuptial selections were provided by Mrs. Leslie Robbins, organist. Mrs. Raymond Liles sang "Whither Thou Goest". Miss Nedra Jackson, cousin of the bride served as maid of honor. Wayne Jackson, brother of the bride, was best man and another brother, Franklin, was ring bearer. Montie Sasser served as usher.

A reception followed the ceremony and the couple departed for Longview, where they will reside.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Joe Beasley and daughter, Dorris, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Price of Fresno, California. Mrs. Luther Wagner and Mr. Jess Fincher of Adrian.

The O. L. Knowles family were Sunday night dinner guests of the Marion Ferguson family.

The Marion Fergusons attended the funeral of Mrs. J. R. Overstreet in Amarillo at the Blackburn Shaw Funeral Home Thursday. Also attending were Calvin Peters and M. A. Ferguson Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. David Pais and baby from Glennio have moved to Adrian and will be employed at the 66 Cafe soon. Mr. Jim Donnell from Amarillo visited the D. P. Doherty family last Thursday. Mrs. Jimmy Briggs and son from Friona visited the W. C.

Regular meeting of the La Madre Mia Study Club was held in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank on Thursday, Jan. 24.

Roll call was answered and committee reports given during the business meeting presided over by Mrs. Richard Pickens. Social committee reported on plans for the valentine party to be given for the husbands of members on Feb. 9 at 7:30 p. m. in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

Mrs. Dale Wynn presented the program with a book review on James A. Michener's book, "Hawaii", a novel of a land and its people. She stated, "Although it is a work of fiction, the book is true to the growth and history of Hawaii."

Michener covers the history from the geological beginning of the islands to the migration of the Polynesians, the coming of the missionaries and the Chinese and Japanese. The hardships of developing a new land and the absorption of many cultures into one are brought to life by characters strong in their loves, hates and determination to survive. He brings Hawaii from the empty Pacific to the threshold of statehood.

Members attending were: Mesdames Joe Brooks, James Brownlow, Ben Gollehon, Joe Hacker, Dean Herring, Joe Landers, Bill Lankford, Joe Loeke, G. C. Merritt Jr., James McDowell, Richard Pickens, John Smith, Eugene Sparks, Joe Whitley, Dale Wynn and the hostess, Mrs. Harold Morton.

Miss Anita Joy Story Weds Dan William McDowell Here

In an impressive double ring ceremony at the First Methodist Church in Hereford, Miss Anita Joy Story, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Story, became the bride of Dan William McDowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ansel L. McDowell, on Saturday, Jan. 26, at 6:30 p. m.

Pastor of the church, the Rev. Herschel L. Thurston, read the wedding vows in front of an altar decorated with aise candelabra and white milk glass votive cups tied with white satin bows. Two Swedish Steel Spiral candelabra with white glass votive-cups entwined with smilax and four potted palms flanked the white satin kneeling bench at the altar.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was dressed in a full length gown of white imported slipper satin. The fitted bodice had a decollete neckline outlined with a narrow collar delicately embroidered with seed pearls and crystal bugle beads with long fitted sleeves ending in a point over the hands. A large peplin in the back of the dress accented the bouffant skirt of white satin which ended in a chapel train. Completing the ensemble the bride wore white peau de sole shoes and carried a crescent style bouquet of white rose buds centered with three white orchids surrounded with white, maline and seed pearls. Her veil was magilla style of alencon-net outlined in re-embroidered applied lace. The only jewelry that the bride wore was a ring that belonged to her maternal grandmother.

Jan Story, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor with Mrs. Nancy Patterson of Lubbock, Mrs. Sandra Downing of Abilene, sisters of the bride, and Miss Kay Lemons serving as bridesmaids. They wore floor length dresses of emerald green velvet highlighted with a satin midriff and back panels, a square neckline scooped at the back with wide unpressed pleats at sides extending to the back, setting off the flat front of the graceful skirt. To complete the ensemble they wore white long gloves and matching emerald green shoes, a single strand of pearls, gifts from the bride, with head pieces of scalloped tulle outlined with seed pearls and carried green feathered roses made of camilla foliage surrounded by white feathered mums. Linda McDowell of Lubbock, niece of the groom, served as flower girl wearing a emerald green velvet dress and a head piece of tulle. James McDowell, nephew of the groom, was the ring-bearer.

Mrs. John Sims, organist, played nuptial selections during the ceremony and accompanied Mrs. R. C. Godwin as soloist, who sang before the wedding "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" by Gounod. At the close of the ceremony, Ron Downing of Abilene, brother-in-law of the bride, sang "Wedding Prayer" a cappella.

Mother of the bride wore a bond colored sheath of imported Italian silk with elbow length sleeves and matching accessories accented with a white orchid corsage with golden throat. Mother of the groom wore a jewel blue peau de sole dress with its graceful bodice sculptured to the body with elbow length sleeves and a shallow scooped neckline dipping to a modified V at the back. The skirt was tunic styled, the shorter overskirt entirely circled with a wide band of designer roses. She wore matching accessories and a white orchid with golden throat.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church. Serving table of the bride was laid with a madeira linen white cloth with appointments in silver. The bride's bouquet was laid in front of a silver twisted candelabra holding five white tapers. The wedding cake was three-tiered with colonnades and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Suzanne Langley, Jerre Bea Noland, Mary Behrends and Joyce West served at the bride's table.

Helen Sears and Susie Woodford registered guests at the wedding with Shari Prowell and Sara Gilentine serving at the registrar during the reception. Assisting at the reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Don Martin, Mr. and Mrs. John Pool, Mrs. Andy Behrends Sr., Mrs. L. B. Lookingbill, Mrs. Charles Noland, Mrs. Mack Noland, Mrs. J. B. Noland, Mrs. J. W. Witherspoon, Mrs. Earl Springer, Mrs. Deward Roberson and Mrs. C. W. Allen.

For the wedding trip the bride chose to wear a bone-colored sheath dress of raw silk and a full length bell styled matching coat and hat with matching lizard bag and shoes. Her corsage was the orchid lifted from the bridal bouquet. The couple now is at home in Norman, Okla., where both are students at Oklahoma University. He is studying dentistry. The bride is a 1962 graduate of Hereford High School and was a freshman student at West Texas State College in Canyon. She was a past Worthy Advisor of the Rainbow for Girls, a cheerleader in her senior year and a member of the Student Council for four years, serving as secretary and vice president. McDowell is a 1962 graduate of Hereford High School and is now enrolled as a freshman student at Oklahoma University in Norman, Okla. He was a member of the Key Club, Student Council, Thespians and earned four letters in baseball. Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: S. K. Parsons and Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Parsons of Wellington; Dr. and Mrs. Ansel McDowell of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Sandy K. Parsons of Dimmitt; Mrs. Marie Godwin and Mrs. Lou Watkins of Vega; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Behrends and David from Dimmitt; Mary Behrends, Ronnie Botkin, Janis Berry, Jim Conkright, Jan Sosnowy, Joyce West and Suzanne Langley, from Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Behrends Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Bill Behrends, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wieland and Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy, of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. John Mills from Muleshoe; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Downing of Canyon and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Campbell of Lubbock.

Hostess Party On Thursday, Jan. 13, Mrs. Ansel McDowell and Mrs. Joe Story gave a courtesy luncheon at the Hereford Country Club for the hostesses to the bridal shower for Miss Joy Story. Those present included Mesdames S. K. Parsons Sr. of Wellington, grandmother of the groom, Clinton West, Ira Scott, Pat Robinson, John Jacobson, Mrs. Deward Roberson and Mrs. C. W. Allen.

LOT FELL ON MATTHIAS COLUMBUS, Ohio — Judge John M. Matthias used a family Bible when he took the oath of office for another six-year term on the Ohio Supreme Court. It was opened to the Book of Acts, first chapter, 26th verse. "And they gave forth their lots, and the lot fell upon Matthias, and he was numbered with the 11 apostles."

JUST AN INNOCENT COLLECTOR MODESTO, Calif. — Charged with possession of brass knuckles — a deadly weapon — a man offered a glib explanation: "They're at least 50 years old. They're antiques."

"THE SWEETEST BUYS IN TOWN"

Vows Read In Enid For Miss Robertson and Lynn Boomer

First Methodist Church of Enid, Okla., was the scene Sunday, Jan. 20, at 3 p. m. uniting Miss Anita Kay Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Robertson of Enid, Okla., and Lynn Taylor Boomer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Boomer of Hereford.

Dr. Bert F. Sturdivant, pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony at the altar with a background of jade greenery and arched candelabra holding 28 white tapers. Other greenery and baskets of white gladioli were used on either side of the white satin-covered prie dieu.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of antique candlelight peau de

A peau de sole sash and bow accented the empire line. The belled skirt was highlighted with a wanton back sweeping into a chapel train. Her illusion veil was caught to a coil of peau de sole petals with tiny lace roses centered with pearls. A cascade design of white roses and white hyacinth florites with matching satin ribbons.

Carolyn Robertson, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Mary Lou Day of Enid and Pat Graff of Tulsa were the bridesmaids. All were dressed in emerald green velveteen dresses with bell skirts highlighted in green satin. Headpieces were three centered rosebuds atop scalloped veils. They carried white bouquets of gladioli caught with patterned off-white satin ribbons.

two-piece ice blue Forstman wool suit with contrasting accessories and a white rose corsage.

ON SECOND GLANCE

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Passers-by thought a fellow Huntingtonian had gone berserk when he suddenly seized a red, white and blue trash can, turned it upside down and dumped out its contents on busy Fourth Avenue.

The truth was he had mistaken the can for a mail box, and had "mailed" nearly a dozen letters just minutes before.

English contains many technical words of Arabic origin, including alkali, alcohol, alchemy, algebra, amirgani, zenith, nadir, cipher. Moslems used the cipher, or zero, more than two centuries before it appeared in Europe.

If anyone called Nitro, W. Va., a "boom town," the residents might frown at the pun: But they really couldn't complain. For the city got its name from the explosives manufactured at a large federal plant there during World War I.

Weather...

clear over and out the corral on the other side. It was said that cattle drifted into that burned-out, snow-covered area from as far north as the Canadian River.

No fuel and no mail came to Hereford. The town was cut off from the rest of the world. Finally about a week later, the Santa Fe pushed a big engine through with a snow plow on front and cleared the deep cuts and grades.

It was estimated that 19 inches of snow fell, but it wasn't level. The one redeeming fact was that the snow came in early winter and melted in about three weeks. The rest of the winter was very mild, as if by way of apology.

Soon after the storm, I rode down the XIT drift fence, about seven miles north of where Friona now is located. That blackened area was a desolate sight. Dead cattle were strewn along the north side of the fence and entangled at the fence corners.

I remember a real bad winter in 1911-12, and so do other residents who were here then. We had 65 days of unbroken snow; dark, murky days when the sun forgot to shine and many of them below zero. Thousands of cattle perished and men lost all their sheep. One man took his life because he could not stand to hear his starving cattle bawling for feed. Grass was very short and practically no feed was raised in the summer of 1911.

My neighbor, I. M. Dillard, and I were almost out of groceries and our coal bins were nearly empty. Someone had to make a trip to town. He was quite a bit my senior and walked with a limp. But he had a team of fine young mules, so I went and he furnished the team.

I broke the trail that morning and put on groceries and about half a ton of coal. I knew I would have to load lightly for the team to make it back through the snow. Although I hurried, night caught me miles from home on the open prairie. It wasn't snowing, but a high wind had come up, packing snow in the tracks I had made that morning. The trail was gone and there were no landmarks; nothing but cold, penetrating wind, a black, cloudy night and snow everywhere.

The team became so weary they could pull the wagon no longer. To make matters worse, I was hopelessly lost. I knew that it was very cold, since the thermometer had been nine below zero - when I drove out of the wagon - yard in mid-afternoon.

I unhitched the mules from the wagon, tied one to the other's hame and rode one. I reasoned that if I could just manage to stay on that mule, riding bareback, it would take me a long time to freeze.

I had to get home; a pretty wife and baby daughter were waiting for me. Santa Claus had put a present or two in my overcoat pocket and I couldn't let him down.

I remembered that the wind was from the northeast, as it nearly always is when we have our worst weather. I went with the wind until I came to a fence I recognized and finally got home.

Then the bad winter of 1918-19 followed another dry summer when little feed was grown. In some respects it was worse than 1911-12. We had more sunshine, but it was much colder. Then, I guess I thought it was worse because I had 75 cows and very little feed. The snows came about Dec. 20 and finally melted the last week in March. Most heavy loads were hauled by sleds. On New Year's Day of 1919, it was 18 degrees below zero. The death loss to cattle was enormous. Starving horses gnawed rafters of the sheds, as high as they could reach, and the boards on the corral fence.

Skinning crews were organized, as only the hides could be salvaged from the cattle. After that, mortgage contracts forms included hides as well as livestock.

Grass was getting green and we were getting ready to turn the cattle out when another terrible blizzard struck on April 9. Many of the cattle were weak and died that night. I have a friend who lost 125 head. I guess I was lucky. I lost just three head that winter.

One thing you always realize about this country is that the weather can be extreme... but one minute, freezing the next. These may not have been the worst storms ever seen around here, but they are the ones that have lingered in the minds of those who were here a long time.

Rally By Chiefs Earns 42-40 Win

Hereford's rampaging Sky Chiefs had a narrow escape Tuesday night in the Amarillo YMCA League. They rallied late in the fourth quarter for a bare 42-40 win over San Jacinto Nazarene. It was the Chiefs' eighth win against one loss.

The Sky Chiefs trailed 5-9 at the end of the first period, were behind 9-15 at the half and 20-27 at the end of three quarters. However they overcame the deficit to win by two points.

This came in spite of 24 fouls called against the Chiefs. There were eight infractions whistled against San Jacinto.

Bobby Shelton had 14 for the Chiefs, David Seal got 11, Chick Hicks 10, Jim Arney four and Joe Kerr three. Jim Davis got 19 to lead the losers.

Miss Gordon Tells Chapter Members About Her Africa

One of the most delightful programs of the current study year was heard by members of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at their meeting on Tuesday evening, Jan. 22, in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank. Mrs. Bill Kendall served as hostess for the meeting.

Program chairmen for the evening were Mrs. Irving Alexander and Mrs. Charles Laing with topics assigned from the Chapter's study theme, "The Grand Tour."

Special guest speaker was Miss Heather Gordon of South Africa, exchange student at Hereford High School. Miss Gordon interjected the sparkle of her own personality as she described her homeland and her family's life in South Africa. Showing colorful pictures and maps she brought with her from Africa, Miss Gordon displayed both rural and metropolitan scenes, and pointed out differences in the various parts of Africa. She reminded her audience that her native home is found in the region of the southern coast where there is no jungle. To highlight her illustrations, Miss Gordon used photographs of her family and home.

Concluding her entertaining resume, Miss Gordon stated that her aim whenever she appears on a program in the United States, is to make people aware of South Africa and to help her friends here to be informed and concerned about her native land.

Chapter president, Mrs. Robert Walker, led the group in their opening and closing rituals and conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Harold Beauchamp gave a report of the City Council activities, which included the naming of the various committees for the society's Sweetheart Dance to be held Feb. 8 at the Jim Hill Hotel. The annual dance is to be a private affair this year, with no invitations being mailed as for past events.

City Council appointed the following to head the dance committees: Mrs. Larry Summers, general chairman; Mrs. Carl Hollingsworth, decorations; Mrs. Ronald Babione, ceremony; Mrs. John Schneider, reservations and admissions; Mrs. Howard Gore, publicity.

Also included in the City Council report was an acknowledgment from Grlstown, U.S.A., for the fruit sent them by the local sorority members at Christmas time.

Johnson, Charles Laing, Robert Walker, Ann Woodward, Bill Kendall, Hicks Roberson and Miss Heather Gordon.

Concluding the business meeting, members discussed their recent participation in the Mothers' March of Dimes.

Those attending the meeting were: Mesdames Harold Beauchamp, R. J. Cramer, Ed N.

By Melvin Young
Did you ever wonder why the Hereford area is one of the largest producers of food and fiber in the nation? We think it's due at least in part to the type of farmers we have here. We believe the area farmers are the most progressive in the nation. This has been demonstrated over and over down through the years by the fact that they are almost always among the first to try and prove a new method of farming, raising yields and cutting costs per pound produced. Of course, we are blessed with rich soils and an abundance of water, which are prerequisites for any prosperous community, but we have watched with interest as farmers of the high plains area, continually experiment with new methods, trying new varieties of seed and working out solutions of old and new problems to constantly improve their farming and their farms. They were among the first to realize the value of fertilization, they have been leaders in the soil and water conservation programs, they were among the first to try crop diversification, skip-row planting, flame cultivation and in general experimenting each and every year to find out how to get the most production out of every acre of land at the lowest cost.

When faced with diminishing acreages on wheat, the farmers of the area turned to such crops as onions, potatoes, carrots, beets and cauliflower, and thanks to their ingenuity and resourcefulness, Hereford and the surrounding area is now considered the "Salad Bowl of the Southwest".

Certainly, without farmers of this caliber, the farm economy of this nation would lag seriously, for methods tried and proven in this area soon sift back to the less fortunate sections of our own state and the nation as well.

Of course, there are millions of words written each year about the problem of over production in the United States, and it is a problem of tremendous scope. On the other hand, we feel that we are fortunate to be faced with this problem, rather than, as is the case in so many nations of the world, underproduction and starvation.

J. K. Baker dropped by the office Thursday morning to report that he and Mrs. Baker had just returned from an extended vacation and Caribbean cruise. Mr. Baker also brought by a copy of the Haiti Sun, which fortunately, is printed in English. Although some of the names encountered in reading through the paper are beyond my comprehension, I could master the text of the thing, and that's a lot better luck than the Bakers had aboard the Franka C, an Italian cruise ship that took them on their nine day excursion. J. K. reports that although 95 per cent of the passengers were English speaking people, almost none of the ship's crew could speak the language. However, they managed to make the trip without incident and got back to Hereford in good shape, loaded with the usual tourist paraphernalia such as Voo Doo dolls, Mahogany Borigo Drums, etc. Their travels carried them from Port Everglade, Fla., to Port-au-Prince, Haiti, via San Juan, Puerto Rico; St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands and Nassau in the Bahamas.

In visiting with Mr. Baker, we discovered that in 1957 they had made a similar trip to the Hawaiian Islands, and we enjoyed very much reminiscing with him about the "Pearl of the Pacific". We were fortunate enough to have spent 19 months in this Pacific paradise shortly after the close of World War II, and although the islands have changed, since the war, many of the old landmarks and tourists attractions still remain.

Ever seen a grown man cry? We understand Marshall Wilson, manager of Piggy Wiggly in Hereford, was almost to that state of mind when he discovered that he was plagued with a good case of chicken pox. We're happy to report however that Marshall has recuperated and is back on the job.

Meanwhile the super market give-away is getting bigger and better with cash prizes, color TV sets, three minute phone calls to any place in the world, and, as we noticed in one of our exchange papers, one super market is giving a free trip for two to the Bahamas. It's getting to the point where you just can't afford to diet anymore.

And speaking of groceries, if you're looking for a good steak, you don't have to leave Hereford. We have just returned from a trip downstate, and being on an expense account, we just naturally ate steaks. However, we were sorely disappointed in the quality of both the steak and the preparation. We've decided that on the next trip, we'll eat hamburgers and wait until we return home to enjoy the steaks.

Charlie Holt is back in town and telling the story about a friend of his up in Oklahoma who is in the business of training cutting horses. Now everyone knows that a good cutting horse has to be fast on his feet in order to cut out the calves from the herd, but Charlie says his friend really has the system for the training of these critters.

He uses a tom cat instead of a calf, and when the horse gets good enough that he can keep the tom cat from getting out of the corral, he's ready to go on the market. I was beginning to doubt some of Charlie's stories, but John Damron and Herb Bippus were present while Charlie was spinning this tale, and they vouch for the old boy's honesty, so who am I to get all shook up?

Residents' Kin Dies Recently

D. W. Hollard, 74, from Sulphur, Okla., and father of Mrs. George Sumner and grandfather of Mrs. Floyd Messenger and Mrs. Jennie Wilson, all of Hereford, died in Sulphur on Jan. 14. Mr. Hollard was born on April 11, 1888, and had lived in Hereford from 1948 to 1957.

Other survivors include: four daughters, Mrs. O. B. Sumner of Center, Colo., Mrs. Jim Shirley of Sulphur, Okla.; Mrs. Grover Benton from Shawnee, Okla., and Mrs. George Sumner of Hereford; two sons, Weldon Holland of Plainview and James Holland of Greenville, Tex.

Hereford Bees Lead, Fall Behind, Come Back To Win

A game between the Hereford Bees and the Phillips Bees turned into a real rockin' affair here Tuesday night.

The lead rocked back and fourth before the Hereford Bees finally got on beat to walk away with a win in the last stanza.

Charley Moreno and Neal Lueb teamed up to lead the winning combo for Hereford. Moreno led scoring efforts with 18 points while Lueb tallied a total of 17.

Also netting double figures was Kenny Justice with 11 and Frank Cain with 10.

Proving to be a thriller throughout, the game saw Hereford take a one-point lead after the first quarter of play and then extend the advantage to seven by the end of the first half.

But then it was Phillips' turn to take the lead, as the Black Hawks fought back to claim a one-point edge entering the final round. Hereford allowed the Hawks only momentary glory, however, as the Herd regained control for a 69-61 win.

Phillips and Hereford matched in the field with 24 field goals each. But the Hawks, fighting to try to come from behind during most of the game, were charged with 26 fouls while Hereford heard the whistle only 19 times.

Scoring difference came at the free throw line as the Whitefaces converted 21 one-pointers and Phillips managed only 13.

The win gives the Whiteface Bees a district record of four and one. Only conference loss was in the district opener against Perryton, but the Herd was trying to make up for it in Perryton Friday night.

Next action for the Bees will be here Friday night as Littlefield comes to town. Game gets underway at 6:15 p. m. with a Charley Moreno sparked the Herd to a 16-15 edge during the first quarter. Moreno hit two field goals and added a couple of free ones for six points. Gary Stagner tossed in a two-pointer, Cain hit a field goal, and then Stagner connected again.

Lueb got a charity toss, Gary Roberson made one from the field, and Justice scored a free throw. After a close first quarter, Whitefaces ripped in 24 points in the second quarter to take the lead.
Cain converted three free ones and then got one for two in the second round. David Stevens tipped in two rebounds, Gary Roberson hit for two points, and Moreno got another pair.
Neal Lueb sparked the Herd's advance during the period, however. Lueb ripped the cords from the field four times, and then tacked on three free ones for a total of 11 points. Hereford took a 40-33 advantage into the dressing rooms at the half.
But the Whitefaces cooled off considerably in the third quarter and allowed the lead to slip away.
With only two minutes gone, Phillips had whittled the margin to 42-39. And then the Hawks used a hard pressing defense to take over a 50-52 lead with 2:10 to go in the third quarter.
Hereford managed 14 points in the quarter. Lueb bulls-eyed four from the free line. Stevens added a one-pointer, Cain got a free one, and then tallied from outside. Moreno hit a two-pointer and Justice closed the quarter with two quick scores for four points.
In the fourth quarter the Herd came charging back to take command. Justice scored two quick field goals to put the Whitefaces back out front.
Scores by Moreno and Lueb put the Herd back in a safe position, and the Whitefaces began a semi-stall with 4:10 to go in the game, coasting in for a 69-61 victory.

Clayton Makes Austin Report

(Editor's Note: State Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake, from the 91st Judicial District, sent the following report to the Brand for the information of his constituents.)

According to those who have seen our state government function for many years, the present session of the State Legislature has accomplished more in the first weeks than at any previous sessions. By the end of last week, there had been 260 bills introduced in the House of Representatives and 157 bills introduced in the Senate.

The Appropriations Committee, of which I am a member, has had meetings daily for two weeks. We have heard the budget requests that were presented by all of the state-supported colleges and universities and requests from the Judicial branch.

This Committee will continue the daily meetings until all budget requests from the various state agencies have been heard. At the end of these hearings, the Committee will present a bill to the House of Representatives containing the committee recommendations for the financial operations of the state for the next biennium.

I have introduced House Bill 15, part of Governor Connally's legislative program, which would outlaw future common-law marriages in Texas.

I am co-sponsoring House Bill 50, which is of particular interest to our section of Texas and legislation which I think is needed in all of the state. This bill, if passed, would provide for increasing the speed limit on such roads as it would be appropriate, not to exceed 70 miles per hour.

Legislation will be considered that would give some relief to the license fee charged for anhydrous ammonia tanks.

As the session of the legislature progresses, and issues in which you are interested come up for consideration, I hope that you will let me hear from you. It is important to me to know your thinking about the various issues.

MONA'S COFFEE BREAK

For Laughter Galore,
Just Mention Biscuits

By Mona Jette
Every family has a private joke and around our house it's biscuits. Perhaps some of you don't find a thing amusing about biscuits. In our household, all one has to do is mention the word and my husband doubles up in a fit of laughter. Then he gives me a sly glance, pokes me in the ribs with a sharp elbow and laughs even harder.

It all goes back to when we were first married. I had excelled in my cooking classes in high school home economics and was pretty proud of the fact that I had conquered the egg beater and measuring spoon before marching down the aisle. Sewing was something else. Proof of my proficiency in this field was shown by a "C" earned for a dress I made during home ec classes and the "A" I received on a skirt and blouse made for a home project. (Credit for the better grade goes to Mother and her trusty Singer.)

Big back to the kitchen! The first two months after our honeymoon were spent in Corpus Christi with Paul and Jan, my husband's parents. Since we were planning to go to college the middle of August, the in-laws had insisted we stay with them for the duration of that summer. That way, we could save our money and be prepared for the expenses of tuition and books, plus the minor necessities of food and a roof over our idealistic heads.

Reluctantly, and kissing a fond farewell to our vine-covered cottage for a while, we agreed. Therefore, my chief culinary accomplishments consisted of brewing coffee and fixing eggs, bacon and toast in the mornings.

Jan was absolute ruler in her kitchen and I suppose the only reason I was allowed into that kingdom in the mornings was because my husband had to be at work by 6 a. m. Jan wasn't one of those women who bounce out of the bed, bright-eyed and rarin' to go, at the crack of dawn. Neither was I, but since it was my only chance to shine at the frying pan, I made the most of it.

So, my glee could be understood when Jan and Paul announced that they were going to spend the following weekend in Houston, visiting relatives. I was overjoyed at the thought of having the kitchen, that forbidden domain, all to myself for two whole days.

Saturday afternoon found me bustling around the kitchen, feeling very "housewifely" in a frilly apron, humming a catchy tune and planning a mouthwatering menu of all my new husband's favorite dishes. First, I mixed a tossed salad, adding some tiny slivers of the sharp cheddar cheese he liked so well. Then, I lovingly prepared Southern fried chicken, crisp on the outside, steamy and tender inside. The creamed potatoes were perfect, fluffy and white, and I honestly don't think a l'u m p could have been found with a microscope. Cream gravy... it was beautiful! And I couldn't help a smug grin of satisfaction as I admired my perky asparagus spears, nestled in a tangy cheese sauce. It all looked and smelled out of this world.

Sneaking a look at the kitchen clock, I saw that I had just enough time to prepare hot biscuits before my husband came home. Oh, boy! Good old homemade biscuits, golden brown and so light they would probably float right out the window!

Reaching for the flour canister and prying up the lid, I stared in dismay at the small mound of flour sitting like an overgrown marshmallow in the bottom of the can. Why, that wasn't enough flour for ONE biscuit, much less a whole pan full! In a panic, I flung open cabinet doors, searching for more flour. But there just wasn't any to be found. Then my eyes fell on a box of biscuit mix. I had never used it before, but it was better than nothing. Maybe my husband wouldn't know the difference. Ignoring tiny pang of guilt at this first deception, I opened the giant box of mix.

Getting out a small mixing bowl, I measured out the prescribed amount of mix, added the milk and began to stir. The dough seemed a bit too stiff, so I reached for the milk carton, meaning to use only a spoonful or so. My hand slipped and milk gushed out into my bowl.

"Oh, well," I thought, "I'll just add a little more mix." But first I needed a bigger bowl, since the one I was using was beginning to overflow. On and on it went. Too much mix... too much liquid. And bigger and bigger bowls. Something was wrong! The silly stuff was growing! I wouldn't have been surprised if the dough had started bubbling and sending up clouds of noxious gases.

Suddenly, like the voice of doom, I heard my husband say: "What in the world are you doing?"

Whirling around to face him I nearly slipped on a blob of dough on the floor. A mist of fine, floury dust almost hid my view of my huge-eyed hubby, staring at me like I was something that had just stepped off a spaceship from Mars. My eyes darted around the kitchen. Everything was coated with a film of white, polka-dotted with little lumps of dough and every inch of available counter space was taken up with sticky mixing bowls of every size and color. Looking down at myself, I knew why he hadn't recognized me. I'd heard of people being tarred and feathered. But dipped and breaded?

My husband walked, or rather tiptoed, toward me, trying to avoid stepping in the puddles. Reaching my side, his long arm snaked out and he flicked a dot of dough from the tip of my nose. Then he pointed at the sink.

"What," he whispered, "is that?"

My flamed eyes followed his quivering finger and I tried to appear casual as I squinted at the throbbing, gelatinous mass threatening to burst the sides of its final resting place... a red plastic dishpan!

Blinking my furry, white eyelashes, I gave him a nonchalant shrug and squeaked: "What do you think it is, dopey? It's biscuits!"

That was the day I realized how much I loved my husband. Without a word, he picked up the dishpan and wobbled out to the trash can with my monstrous concoction. Coming back in, he grabbed a mop and broom and commenced to help me clean up the mess.

Later, he raved over the delicious dinner, which was slightly cold, and ate three slices of light bread without looking at it. Somehow, I made it through the meal, resisting the impulse to run into the bathroom, lock the door and butt my head against the tiled walls.

When we retired for the night, I couldn't sleep. I kept tossing and turning, my nightgown twisting around my legs, which only increased my irritation.

Then, I became aware of an odd sensation, as though our bed were being gently rocked. The curious rocking became stronger and I leapt from the bed to flip on the light. My husband let out an ear-splitting snort, raised himself to a sitting position, swung his legs over the side of the bed and roared with laughter.

I could have killed him! I stood over him in indignant aloofness, glaring with burning eyes. He took one look at me and laughed harder, tears streaming down his face. I could feel my shoulders start to twitch and I thought: "Ha, you big bully! Just for that I'm going to cry!"

Screwing my face up, I got ready for a good brawl. But when I parted my lips, it wasn't a heartbreaking sob that escaped. It was a high, insane giggle, followed by another! My husband pulled me to his lap and we sat there shrieking like lunatics until we were exhausted.

So that's the reason why he laughs when he hears the word "biscuits". It's also the reason I seldom make them. Those brown and serve rolls are very tasty, and besides, I'm just a devout co-wid.
