Around Town

We've often gotten into trouble, but nothing to compare with this late, departed duck. Flying south last week, probably to avoid the snows, he hit a telephone line southeast of Hereford. He flipped over and wrapped himself securely by the neck between two lines. This is the third time such a thing has happened to the West Texas Rural Telephone. The photo was taken by Ogle Riddle, one of the linemen who went out to find the trouble.

Only 952 citizens had bothered to buy their poll taxes in the county by Saturday morning. Just four days remain to get one, with at least three important elections coming up in the near future: special Senator's election, school board and city commission. City election will be held April 11.

For some fine food, and a chance to help out one of the most worthwhile projects in Hereford, be sure and attend the American Field Service meal Friday, Jan. 27, from 5-8 p.m. in the Hereford High School cafeteria. You can have your choice of chili or fish, prepared by the homemaking students. All proceeds will be used to help send a Hereford student abroad for a summer.

Butane Fumes Overcome Farm Couple Sunday

Winter's number one killer, asphyxiation, almost claimed the lives of a young farm family Sunday night west of Hereford. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Groves and two children, Angela, age two and Robert Jr., three weeks old, were rushed to Deaf Smith County Hospital Sunday night at 11:30 p.m. Gilliland Ambulance Service answered Mrs. Groves' call after the family was overcome by butane fumes from an invented open-faced stove in their home. The young couple had just moved into the house situated on the Oscar Easley farm 16 miles west of Hereford. Mr. and Mrs. Groves were given emergency treatment for butane intoxication at the hospital and were released Monday after being kept overnight for observation.

Hubcap Thefts Jump

Hereford police Wednesday continued investigation of a sudden rash of hubcap thefts within the city reported by motorists over the past weekend. Four of the thefts were reported by residents who had parked their cars either at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn parking lot or the parking lot at Hereford High School. The first theft was reported by Harold Balls of Hub, who had parked his 1961 model automobile at the Bull Barn lot. Four hubcaps were taken from the automobile at about 3 p.m. Friday. Four hubcaps were taken from a 1961 model car which had been parked at the school parking lot Saturday. James Gentry, Route 1, Hereford, reported the hubcaps were

Farm Groups Organize For Civil Defense

A United States Department of Agriculture emergency planning committee has been organized in Deaf Smith County to work in conjunction with Civil Defense officials in time of an area or national crisis. It has been announced by Faust Collier, manager of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office in Hereford. At initial meeting of the committee recently, County Agent J. W. "Lefty" Thomas was named chairman, and members include Walter Johnson, supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration in Hereford, Don F. Newman of the Soil Conservation Service, and Collier as representative of the ASC office. Major objective of the committee's plans is to have a "built-in-readiness" for planning emergency activities essential for meeting food needs and other agricultural requirements in time of crisis. The committee will meet on-call of the chairman and will work closely with area Civil Defense officials. The committee was formed to work under direction of the state USDA Emergency Planning Committee which was organized last year. In the state organization's November meeting, the committee announced plans to help in establishing a committee in each county in Texas. Purpose of the state organization is to coordinate efforts of the various agencies of the USDA in case of national emergency. (Continued on Page 2)

George Warner Will Look At Foreign Seed Market

BY DAN MUDD BRAND STAFF REPORTER George C. Warner of Hereford, as representative of the Texas seed industry, next month will leave for South America with a team of three other men to investigate possibilities of developing a foreign market for foreign crop seed exports. The team will take part in a market development project designed to investigate the factors influencing United States foreign seed exports in an effort to maintain and expand the market for U. S. seed in Argentina, Chile, Uruguay and Venezuela. "Objective is to determine the possibility of getting those countries to use seeds produced in Texas," said Warner, who is manager of Miller Seed Company in Hereford. The team of four will begin their survey immediately after arriving in Santiago, Chile, on Feb. 17. Their survey will continue through March 22, and they will return to Houston on March 23. Other members of the team are: Othel Neely of Waco, executive vice president of Texas Certified Seed Producers, Inc., who will be a representative of the association; Dave Foster of Southwest Agricultural Institute, with headquarters in San Antonio, who will be technical representative; Horace G. Bolster of Washington, D. C., seed marketing specialist of the Foreign Agricultural Service, United States Department of Agriculture. "We feel that we have techniques of production, harvesting and processing which enable us to produce good quality seed in volume," Warner explained, "and to do so with enough efficiency that we should be able to supply markets in those countries with this high quality seed, and at prices which will merit their using this seed." Texas Certified Seed Producers, Inc., has been working on the idea for this survey two years, Warner said. He added that it took that length of time to get the trip organized. Foreign Agricultural Service will contribute services of Bolster and international air travel while Texas Certified Seed Producers contributes the time of its three representatives and all expenses and local travel in each of the four countries. Bolster will arrive in Hereford Feb. 13, and for a day will be shown activities of seed producers in this area, including processing and storage facilities.

Hereford Man Hurt In Wreck

A 53-year-old Hereford man was reported in good condition at Deaf Smith County Hospital in Hereford Wednesday morning after he received a knee injury in a two-vehicle accident at the intersection of Park and 25 Mile Ave. in the city Saturday afternoon. Injured was Edd Louis Cardinal, who lives on Plains Ave. in the city, driver of a 1950 model car which collided with a 1958 model pickup truck driven by Sammie Bradford, 30, of Hereford, at about 1 p.m. Saturday. The knee injury required surgery at the hospital Tuesday. Bradford reportedly received (Continued on Page 2)

Mothers March Collects $830

Some 65 women who conducted a Mothers March in a door-to-door campaign Monday night collected $830.16 for the Deaf Smith County March of Dimes. It was reported by drive chairman Bruce Fink of Hereford. The amount was collected in a two-hour annual march which began at 7 p.m. The drive was under direction of Kappa Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority in Hereford. Women's clubs taking part in the campaign, and drive chairmen, included: Young Mothers Study Club, Mrs. Charles Springer; Les Meres Study Club, Mrs. Cliff Kerr; L'Allegra Study Club, Mrs. Joe Lyons; La Madre Mia Study Club, Mrs. Joe Henry; Kappa Iota Chapter, Mrs. Larry Summers; Veleda Study Club, Mrs. Gid Brown; and Child Study Club, Mrs. Morris Easley. Also taking part were two volunteers, Mrs. Paul Harvey and Mrs. Ed Johnson. Fink said Boy Scout Troop 52 in Hereford collected $8.91 by selling balloons for the M.O.D. drive at the Junior Livestock Show Saturday in the Bull Barn. Short Snowstorm Sends Temperature Tumbling

A mighty blast of Arctic air this week gave the county its first storm of the year... and its first moisture.

Snow started falling about noon Tuesday and continued with some interruptions until noon Wednesday. But the forecast calls for more snow flurries through the weekend.

From spring-like readings in the middle 60's, the temperature plunged to a shivery nine above Wednesday morning with only slight warming predicted.

Deaf Smith County got from 2-4 inches of snow from the storm as it sat right on the edge of a huge storm area that covered the South Plains and Central Texas.

Winds that accompanied the front whistled across the Panhandle at rates up to 60 miles per hour.

Stockmen fear the type of storm which blasted its way from the north. Continued high winds would have caused the cattle on pastureland to drift before the wind. But the storm's relatively short duration prevented any such major losses as have occurred in the past when the winds continued for longer periods.

All roads remained open Tuesday and Wednesday, although U. S. Highway 60 southwest to Clovis was reported in places with drifted snow and ice. It was listed by the Highway Department as "hazardous" and travel was discouraged.

Dumas residents who were in Hereford Tuesday night for the basketball game reported that U. S. Highway 385 north from here was slick and snow-covered in places north to Vega, but was clear from there north.

Some drifting and icing occurred on U. S. Highway 60 east to Canyon and U. S. Highway 385 south to Dimmitt was slick in spots.

The South Plains bore the brunt of an ice storm that sent telephone and electrical poles crashing to the ground. Heavy (Continued on Page 2)

Old Landmark Coming Down

A Hereford landmark is disappearing. It heard the happy-go-lucky cry of cowboys come to town, the jingle of spurs on a springy wood sidewalk, it echoed the whip-cracks of teamsters trying to push double spans through hub-deep mud.

Standing guard along Main Street, it watched Maxwells and Stanleys and Locomobiles take over transportation; it saw brick, chrome and glass replace lapboard and shingles.

Being demolished now is the old Dameron Building, which was built in 1904 by W. B. Dameron at Third and Main.

In its place will be built a new shingle story brick building covering the entire lot. When completed, the building will be 50 by 140 feet.

City Products Corporation of Des Plaines, Ill., has signed a long-term lease for the new building. The corporation will arrange for the retail occupant of the building. This has not yet been determined, according to Travis Dameron, trustee for the Dameron estate.

Hereford Hosts Lobos After 54-51 Loss To Hot Demons

Hereford made mistakes Tuesday night and Dumas didn't. That made the difference as the Demons took a crucial 54-51 victory from the Whitefaces in 1-AAA district cage action.

With their backs to the wall, Hereford will host the Leveland Lobos Friday night. Hereford now has a 2-1 record in district play while Dumas is 4-0. Leveland has lost to Phillips and Dumas thus far.

In order to stay in contention for even a share of the loot title, Hereford must win its remaining five conference games. This would include a victory over the Demons at Dumas in the final game of the season, assuming Dumas can win its next three games.

A first quarter as cold as the snow and wind outside spelled defeat for the Herd Tuesday. Missed shots and bad passes enabled Dumas to gain a lead it never relinquished. Shooting Larry Tiner gave Dumas a 3-0 lead before Carl Miller broke the ice for Hereford with a free throw.

Dumas shot to a 12-3 lead with 2:30 left in the quarter before Hereford was able to find the range. Ahead 15-10, Dumas widened the gap by two points on Tiner's pair of free throws.

Three personal fouls were called on Miller during the quarter. He was benched for all the second quarter. (Continued on Page 2)

County Gives Old Jail Stay Of Execution

Deaf Smith County's old jail got at least a week's reprieve Monday. The jail, located at Fourth and Schley, is scheduled to be razed in the near future. Commissioners met Monday and opened bids to demolish the now-vacant building. They voted to recess until 1:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 30, to consider the matter further. They read and approved a contract with McMorries and Company of Amarillo for the appraisal of all county property. The move had been approved in a special meeting last week. McMorries estimated he would complete his property valuation work by July 1, weather permitting. (Continued on Page 2)

More Than 600 Tickets For C-C Banquet Sold

Ticket sales for the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet, slated Feb. 3, passed the 600 mark Wednesday. Sales open to the general public on Monday with less than 200 available.

Because of many inquiries at the Chamber of Commerce office, the menu for the banquet was released today. The meat courses will include roast beef with pot roast gravy, smoked turkey and hot fried fish sticks. English peas, country pot to salad, garden fresh green salad with Roquefort and 1000 Island dressing and a gelatin mold with orange dressing round out the menu. There will be condiments of carrot sticks, celery, rosebud radishes and relishes. Hot rolls with butter, coffee and pie will finish up the dinner to be catered by Walter Jetton of Fort Worth.

In a telephone conversation with Paul Harvey's office Tuesday the Chamber office was informed that the topic of his talk would be "All Men Are Not Created Equal."

In confirming travel arrangements it was learned that Mr. Harvey will fly his own Apache to Hereford Municipal Airport following his 5:30 p.m. broadcast which he will originate from Amarillo's radio station KFDA. He will leave immediately after the banquet for Abilene where he is scheduled to appear the following night.

Big Truck Stop Is Planned For West Hiway 60

A $100,000, all-modern truck stop should be in operation on west Highway 60 by June 1 this year, it was announced this week by O. R. Sanders, who will be operator of the proposed super service station. The station will accommodate automobile motorists as well as truck drivers, will be owned by Allred Oil Co. of Hereford. The main building, which will be 54 by 66 feet overall, is to be constructed of cement block. The station will afford complete service to truckers and to local and passing motorists. In addition, sleeping accommodations will be offered in (Continued on Page 2)

TIPPED into a roadside ditch, a truck loaded with sacks of cottonseed hulls was pulled back onto Harrison Highway about two miles west of Hereford Tuesday morning. Although position of the truck indicated a major highway accident, the rear wheels dropped off into the ditch when the driver

O. H. Buchwald of Melrose, N. M., attempted to back the truck into farm to market road from the highway. No damage to the vehicle was reported by Highway Patrol officer Charles Skinner of Hereford. (Staff Photo)

It was not "open house" in the sense that the Sparkmans were doing the inviting, the invitation being a general one at the church.

Recent visitor of Mrs. H. M. Mobley was her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. W. Taylor of Odessa.

Spending Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Owen Andrews were their grandchildren, Cay and Ann Zetsche, Rocky and Kirk Andrews, Cay's and Ann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Zetsche, attended the wedding of George's brother, James, to Miss Ava Nette Dagley at the chapel of the First Methodist Church in Lubbock at 3:00 p.m. Sunday. The Floyd Cole family recently attended a birthday dinner at the Harold Shearharts for Jim Shearhart.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dobbs have had a letter from Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Sudduth, who are spending the winter in Arizona. They are located at 219 East Delano Street, in Tucson. They report that they are enjoying themselves although they are a little disappointed that the weather is so cool at night, with frost occasionally.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dobbs had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Harder. On Monday Mrs. Dobbs was honored with a birthday dinner at the Henry Dobbs home. Others there were Mr. and Mrs. Clark Dobbs, Dusty and Cindy, and Larry Dobbs, who spent the semester holidays here, from West Texas.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Henry Dobbs was honored at a birthday dinner in the James Dobbs home. The Clark Dobbs also were there.

The Cardinal automobile was headed north on 25 Mile Ave., attempting to make a left turn onto Park Ave., when it collided with the pickup truck driven by Bradford which was headed south on 25 Mile Ave., a police report showed.

The injured man was taken to the hospital by Arnold Betze of Hereford. The accident was investigated by Hereford police patrolman James Neal.

Damage to the automobile was estimated at $200, and damage to the pickup at $100 by the investigating officer.

Clee Meharg, manager of the Southwestern Public Service office in Hereford, appeared to ask that his company provide service for the new county barn, which is under construction.

L. D. Burns of Dumas, associated with McMorries and Burns, municipal engineering consultants, talked briefly with the court, offering his services when they might be needed.

Commissioners voted to raise the county's donation to Boys Ranch from $15 a year to $50 per year.

Location of the truck stop will be on the south side of west Highway 60, taking in all the area between West Texas Drilling Company and the Big Red Barn.

"Abstracts are now being processed by company attorneys, and as soon as possible, contract will be let," Sanders said Thursday.

The station will be set back from the highway to allow plenty of parking area for trucks and cars, Sanders said. The property is 600 feet deep.

Sanders said the station probably would be called "West Highway 60 Truck Stop." He will lease the business from Alford Oil Co.

Overnight accommodations for truckers will include bunks, showers, a lounge and a broker's office.

Plans for the proposed cafe are still in early stages, Sanders said, but he added it would probably include a dining area and short order room. The cafe would be a separate building.

Sanders said that no station in Hereford at the present time offers a tractor and van bay inside a building. The truck stop

Although it was the first moisture of the year in the county, it was of little benefit. In Hereford, only 11 inch of moisture was received from the dry powder snow.

The heavy winds went most of the snow scurrying off fields, and pasture land to pile up in ditches and along fence rows.

Most serious effect of the brief storm was to halt major construction projects, including raising of the level of U. S. Highway 385 four miles north of town and the widening of U. S. Highway 60 in the city limits and east from Hereford to the Randall County line.

will offer that service and will have plenty of room inside for automobile service, he pointed out.

Power washers, a steam cleaner and other modern equipment will be housed in the cement block structure. Diesel fuel and butane will be available in addition to gasoline, and Phillips products will be sold.

The station also will serve as a state vehicle inspection point, Sanders said.

The station and bunk house have been in planning stages since last fall, and it is hoped that it will be opened by the last of May, Sanders said.

Tuesday's basketball game between Hereford and Dumas was one that left the spectators limp from excitement and nervous exhaustion. Dumas played its usual game, calm and deliberate, while Hereford's shooting from the floor was less than adequate early in the game. But Hereford isn't out of the race yet. It plays Leveland here Friday night and needs your support. Hereford can end up with a tie by winning its next five games, including a second tilt with Dumas.

Board of the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs will meet at 3 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 28, in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Company building.

Johnny Johnson, former school teacher and now employed by an irrigation pipe company, Tuesday morning announced his candidacy for the board of trustees of the Hereford Rural High School District. He became the fourth candidate to file for one of two seats. Filing earlier were Don Banguos, Dr. Wes Owen and Labry Ballard. Incumbents Tom Robinson and W. P. Axe have not yet announced whether they will seek reelection.

Hereford...

But at the half, Dumas still maintained a 25-20 edge.

Miller and Ronnie Caster paced Hereford during the third stanza as play got rougher. Dumas went into a semi-stall for most of the period, but still matched Hereford's 11 points for the quarter, holding a 36-31 margin.

With 4 minutes still remaining, Hereford pulled within one point of the calm Demons, 43-44 and matched baskets moments later. But Dumas took advantage of its opportunities, holding the ball until an opening presented itself. The Demons also scored much-needed points at the foul line to pull away.

Free throws kept Hereford in the game during the fourth quarter as Whitefaces tossed in 12 of its 20 points from the foul line. Dumas marked up 8 of its 18 points the same way.

It was a bruising, shoving game from the opening whistle. Two Demons left the game because of fouls. Joe McCormick with 4:20 left in the third period and Jim Morgan with 1:05 remaining in the fourth.

Although foul shots were the only thing that kept Hereford in the game, they also cost vital points when missed in the last period. Hereford missed five free throws in the fourth quarter while Dumas missed eight.

Larry Tiner continued to pace the Demons as he poured in 23 points. Glenn Staggs added 12 for the winners.

Carl Miller got 16 points during the three quarters he played. Dennis Hodges tossed in 10 for Hereford.

On Feb. 16, they will go to Houston and depart from that city for Santiago, Chile. They are scheduled to arrive at Santiago on Feb. 17.

The team will do survey work in Chile Feb. 18 through Feb. 27. Their survey will take them from the northern part of the country to the colder and wetter areas in the southern portion of Chile.

On Feb. 28, they will go to Buenos Aires, Argentina, and conduct their survey through March 10. On March 11, the team will depart for Uruguay, arriving in that country on March 12. They will stay in Uruguay through March 16.

The four men will depart for Caracas, Venezuela, on March 17. They will conduct their survey in that country from March 18 through March 22.

While in those four countries, the team will have the following objectives:

Visit South American range areas to study and evaluate existing forage resources;

Visit agricultural experiment stations to evaluate the performance of U. S. seeds and to compare it with the performance of local varieties and those imported from countries other than the United States;

As he formerly was a seed grower at Uvalde, Tex., Foster will contribute to the team's work by reason of his knowledge of conditions that are appropriate to the warmer regions of the state.

Most of Warner's activities in seed production have been in the cooler and dryer regions of the state.

With the two men's knowledge of the contrasting climates in this state, the team should be able to determine and evaluate which varieties produced in Texas would be appropriate in those four South American countries.

Warner has been in Hereford since July, 1952. For five years he was agronomist for Ruhmann Grain and Seed Company in Waco.

Warner was on the staff of the department of agronomy at Texas Agricultural Experiment Station for 10 years prior to accepting the post in Waco.

Three of the countries, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay, have a climate similar to ours, Warner said. He pointed out that parts of Venezuela are higher and thus have a cooler climate, although the country is closer to the equator.

The Texas seed industry which Warner will represent includes growers, processors and handlers of seed (handlers of the finished product.)

While in those four countries, the team will have the following objectives:

Visit South American range areas to study and evaluate existing forage resources;

Visit agricultural experiment stations to evaluate the performance of U. S. seeds and to compare it with the performance of local varieties and those imported from countries other than the United States;

'Deaf' Smith Says

TO: The spirit of General Sam Houston
 FROM: The spirit of Scout Erastus "Deaf" Smith
 SUBJECT: My Chamber of Commerce in high gear

Sam, I thought with the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet being such a big production here that other activity would just about come to a halt. But that sure isn't the case.

By the time you get this report there will be a delegation in Abilene attending the Industrial Development conference of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Mark Woodall and another member of the industrial committee will fly down with C of C manager Bill Thompson to hear a discussion of such topics as "The City's Responsibility in Industrial Development" by Steve Mathews, Executive Director of the Texas Municipal League. Another topic which has concerned Hereford in the recent negotiations with a major meat packing industry will be "Competition

From Across The State Line." This will be discussed by a panel of professional industrial development people.

Just last week the Water Resources committee flew to Big Springs for a meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Water Resources committee. Les Combs, Paul Conaway, J. D. Kirkland, Bruce Fink and Bill Thompson represented my Chamber while John Aiken and T. L. Sparkman Jr. were representing the High Plains Water District.

Tuesday night the officers and directors were very properly installed by Paul Marable, General Manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Paul reminded the officers of the responsibility for area growth which each assumed when he accepted the office to which he was elected. The new directors were instructed in their duties, the relationships between the Board and the committees and the staff, and of the privileges of steering the growth and development of the area.

President Palmer Norton, after looking at the financial statement, concluded that the only reason he was re-elected president was because the Chamber couldn't afford to buy the usual plaque presented to the outgoing president. He has been real busy visiting with those county civic leaders whom he has selected to head the important committee activities of the Chamber of Commerce for 1961. These committees will all be ready to swing into action without any delay.

He has devised a new organizational plan wherein all of the activities of the Chamber of Commerce fall into six departments, each department headed by a director. There will be some twenty four committees under the new organizational set up. The departments are Business Development, Community Betterment, Agriculture and Livestock, Legislative Action and Economic Education, Internal Affairs and Publicity and Public Relations.

All plans for the annual meeting and banquet appear to be shaping up and another record attendance is anticipated. Paul Harvey will fly his own Apache to the Hereford Municipal airport. He will originate his 5:30 broadcast from the studios of KFDA in Amarillo, then fly down here. He will be met at the airport by Chamber officers. Sam, that's my report for this week. How are things down south?

Chili-Fish Supper Is Slated For Exchange Student Fund

BY WHITEFACE STAFF
 Hereford has been sponsoring exchange students since 1949, and an annual Future Homemakers of America Chili-Fish Supper has been scheduled to raise money for this purpose. Friday, Jan. 27, at the Hereford High School cafeteria. Exchange students are brought to America through American Field Service. A placement committee finds a home and approves it for them to stay in. The AMF has never rejected one of the homes in Hereford. There are two requirements that have to be met regardless of whether a student is coming here or going abroad. The applicants have to be a junior at the time they apply and they must have had two years of any foreign language. AFS makes the final choice. Four HHS students have made application to participate in this program. They are Sharon Hill, Drew Kershen, Kathryn McClain and John Buck. These students have already developed some interesting ideas on being an exchange student. Sharon Hill isn't particular about the country to which she will go if she is picked to be an exchange student. Her parents would be very happy if she were able to go and she thinks that it would be a great privilege to go abroad. The first thing she plans to do is she is chosen is to thank the sponsors for getting her interested in going and to "run and call Mother and tell her." Sharon would like to live with a big family, perhaps about six. When asked if she would get homesick, she replied: "I'll probably have too much to do to get homesick, but at night I suppose I will and when there's nothing to do." She also said that if she ever had a chance she would like to return someday. "Whoever is chosen will have my support and I will be very happy for them," she added when asked what she would do if she didn't get to go. Sharon would like to be an exchange student because "I think that the most important thing is to meet and make friends with the people of other countries and to bring their ideas home to America." Drew Kershen says that if he is chosen he would probably get homesick but he wouldn't be in a hurry to get home. He would like to go to Spain or Italy because it's warm there and he has studied Spanish in high school. He said with a grin that his parents were "ready and willing to let me go." The first thing he will want to do after he is chosen is to go on a shopping spree. Mrs. Hill would like to stay with a family of about four. If everything goes all right while he is over there he would like to return in later years.

If he is not chosen he thinks that he'll be a little bit disgusted. He wants to go abroad to gain more knowledge, which is, and has been for a long time, his ambition. Kathryn McClain wants to go to South America for the experience and for what she can learn and for several other reasons. If she does get to go, the first thing she will do is to tell everybody she knows. She wants to be an example of a good American, she longs to travel, and she would love to live in and see as many countries as possible. It really doesn't matter to her which country she goes to — she just wants to go. She said that she will definitely not be homesick. She would like to be placed with a medium-size family. It remains to be seen if she will get to return someday. John Buck would like to go to France as an exchange student because he has heard so much about that country. He really doesn't think he will get to go but he would like to go for the experience. "My parents will like it," he says with a twinkle in his eye. If he is chosen he will want to tell his parents first. He doesn't think he will get homesick, but that, like a lot of other things, remains to be seen. He might be able to return someday and he doesn't care if he doesn't get to go to the country that he would like to.

BY WAIN MILLER

 An unhappy ending was forced upon the Hereford Bees as they were upended by the tall Dumas Demons 51-60 here Tuesday night. Looking for their 14th win, the Hereford Bees host Levelland here Friday night with game time at 6:15. Losing their last two contests in fourth quarter shortcomings, the Herd is expected to have better results against the Lobos Friday night. Dumas jumped to a 14-8 lead during the first quarter. The Herd came to life in the second quarter with a 28-30 challenge at the half. Area Congregation Sets Circuit Meet Jehovah's Witnesses of this area will hold their semi-annual circuit assembly in Levelland, Feb. 17-19. Lloyd Reddoch, presiding minister of Hereford Congregation said "Texas Circuit No. 9's assembly will be built around the theme, 'Be Taught of Jehovah.'" "We are looking forward to this assembly with great anticipation," Reddoch said. "The directive agency, Watchtower Bible and Tract Society is revamping all of the present 204 circuits in the United States to make room for 54 new circuits, with 16 to 18 congregations to the circuit." Recently, 308 circuit and district overseers from the United States and Canada completed a 16-day intensified schooling course at the world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses in Brooklyn, to equip them to be better teachers and overseers in putting the new program into operation. "The step-up in the program," Reddoch said, "is due to criticalness of the times we are living in and in the light of Hebrews 10:25 which admonishes, 'Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together... but exhorting one another; and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.'" The last local assembly was held in Altus, Oklahoma.

Televised Intercollegiate Debate Tournament Starts

Texas has been selected to initiate the first televised intercollegiate debate tournament, "Young America Speaks," according to J. Rex Wier, the program's associate producer and assistant professor of speech at The University of Texas.

The 30-minute program got underway on Sunday, Jan. 15, and is scheduled for 11 more weeks. It features seven Texas members of the Southwest Conference, plus seven other Texas colleges and universities in an elimination debate tournament.

The Sinclair Refining Company, sponsor of the series, will award $1,000 to the scholarship fund of the losing school each week and $500 to the scholarship fund of the winning school. The regular commercial time will be donated to prominent Texans who will speak on various topics concerning Texas.

The program was originated and will be produced by Harvey Marlowe of Los Angeles, and the format is based largely on the forensic rules and standards of intercollegiate debate. Some changes have been made to permit better pacing, greater excitement and a new manner of scoring to maintain a competitive spirit throughout the debate.

Any high school debate coach who wishes to examine a copy of the actual television script, along with an explanatory letter, should write to J. Rex Wier, director of forensics, Department of Speech, The University of Texas, Austin 12.

The schedule of debates (all times 5 p.m.) is:

January 29 — Capital Punishment — Baylor University, aff.; Southwest Texas State College neg.

February 5 — Abolish Rights To Work Laws — University of Texas, aff.; NTSC, neg.

February 12 — Admit Red China to UN — ACC, aff.; Texas Tech, neg.

February 19 — Abolish Merit Auto Insurance — SMU, aff.; University of Houston, neg.

February 26 — Abolish Poll Tax — Rice, aff.; Hardin-Simmons, neg.

STUDENT'S LAMENT

Now I lay me down to sleep
My homework piled up in a heap.
If I should die before I wake
I have but four requests to make.

And tell Coach Kitchens I'm glad I'm dead.

Put my English in my hand
Tell Miss Wall I didn't understand
Lay my Algebra by my side
And tell Coach Brooks that why I died.

TEACHER OF THE WEEK

Miss McKenzie's Career Rewarding

"I think teaching is one of the most rewarding vocations a person could choose," says Miss Myrtle "Tinkey" McKenzie.

Miss McKenzie has taken over Mrs. Knight's shorthand and typing classes for the last semester of school. She has just finished her studies at West Texas College and will graduate in May with her class.

Miss McKenzie's hometown is Levelland. After graduating from the Levelland High School, she went to West Texas College.

Swimming, sewing and reading are some of Miss McKenzie's hobbies and pastimes.

She enjoys listening to "Wonderland by Night" and eating her favorite food, steak.

In July, Miss McKenzie will marry Bill Mayfield, a physical education major at West Texas College. After her marriage she plans to stay in Hereford and teach.

Senior Class Personalities

Sandra Frank has a secret ambition to be a model. Sandra was born on July 29, 1943, in Slaton. She is the daughter of W. G. Frank.

The most embarrassing moment Sandra can recall was when Ruth pulled the chair out from under her in Mr. Johnson's biology class.

Sandra would advise all underclassmen to "go to school and get all you can out of it but have a good time while you're doing it." Sandra plans to attend Draughon's Business College in Amarillo next year.

Sandra's opinion of going steady is, "It has its advantages and disadvantages but I think you can have more fun going with everyone. It all depends upon how you feel about the person."

A Tale Of Twenty Boys

TWENTY BOYS
BY DREW KERSCHEN

On a sunny day, twenty boys left,
To help dear Uncle Sam;
To save their wives,
Sweethearts and their land.
Now they're just one of many
who lay,
In far away countries, grave
on grave.
And there isn't much that I'm
able to say,
About the precious thing they're
proud they gave.
And now for the boy whose life
is worst,
Because his soul died that day,
His nineteen friends could no
longer stay

They weren't ready to die,
They were all fighting
To help dear Uncle Sam:
To save their wives,
Sweethearts and their land.
Now they're just one of many
who lay,
In far away countries, grave
on grave.
And there isn't much that I'm
able to say,
About the precious thing they're
proud they gave.
And now for the boy whose life
is worst,
Because his soul died that day,
His nineteen friends could no
longer stay

And he wishes he were dead and knows he is cursed.

MY ENGLISH CLASS
BY CARL McCASLIN

Oh, science it is awful,
But that English class is worse,
For every morning you're compelled,
To say some little verse,
Yes, it's pantomime and gesture,
Then some parliamentary law,
And you're never at your leisure.
It's the worst I ever say,
Then there comes that word
production,
And the story-telling, too.
And you're always just so busy,
For they're all so hard to do,
And your heart it almost leaves
you,
When that speech you start to make,
And Mrs. Laceywell kindly tells
you,
That it's only for your sake.

(Editor's Note: Drew Kerschen and Carl McCaslin are both English III students at Hereford High.)

Mystery Girl

Miss Guess Who

Miss Guess Who is an active junior and she does a lot for her school and her friends. Some of her favorites are: food, fried chicken; book, Saratoga Trunk; song, "Try Me"; movie, "Home From The Hill"; subject, shorthand; and color, blue. Her hobby is sewing and her pastime is having fun with friends. Her pet peeve is people who fake friendship.

Miss Guess Who said that her most embarrassing experience was when she was in the fifth grade and one day at recess Suzanne Langley, Shari Prowell and Shirley Thompson pulled her car-cin off.

Miss Guess Who was asked what she'd do if she had but one day to live and she replied, "I'd be happy by being with my mother and daddy and have lots of fun with my special friends."

When asked who was the most outstanding person she'd ever met, Miss Guess Who said, "Coach Kitchens, because of his personality."

After graduation Miss Guess Who plans to go to college, but doesn't know which one yet.

Last week's Miss Guess Who was Elva Leen Martin.

Jeep The Peeper

(By Whiteface Staff)

Howdy. Since there has been so much talk lately about graduation plans, Jeep happened to remember the graduates of past years. If you are one of these and have done anything newsworthy, Jeep would appreciate hearing from you.

If a school bus could talk; it would probably say something like this: "Oh, just for the Easter holidays to get here."

Have you ever seen the articles in the Lost and Found Department in the office? Jeep just happened to be nosing around there and he saw everything from scarves and books to lipstick, glasses, and keys. Check in the office, maybe some of the lost articles are yours.

Russian Theme Song: "You'll wonder where you're father went if he talks about the government."

Jeep made three New Year's Resolutions. One to not slam locker doors, two to not talk during classtime, and three to forget the other two. He wonders how well everyone else is sticking to their lists.

This cute little item came from "Boy's Life" magazine. A green little chemist. On a green little day. Mixed some green little chemicals. In a green little way. The green little grasses now tenderly wave. Over the green little chemist's Green little grave.

While wandering around the HHS halls Jeep saw several new but familiar faces. We're speaking of course of Geneva Logan, Jerry Moss, Sammy Tisdale, David Highers, and Shirley Hodges.

The journalism students have been flashing their new pins around school this past week. Some have gold pins and some sterling silver. The guards are made like an open book with a torch down the middle and the numerals '61 on either side. The pin is inscribed HHS and Journalism with a quill and ink bottle in the center.

Also included in the new selections are books from various fields, such as Structure and Function of The Human Body, by Ralph N. Balliff, which is a short exposition of human anatomy and physiology and is well illustrated; The Human Body in Health and Disease, by Ruth L. Memler, a concise introduction to body structure and function; The Boy's Book of Verse, by Helen Dean Fish, an anthology of both old and new poems;

Betty MacDonald's The Plague and I, which is a light-hearted, informative and often hilarious story of a year spent by Mrs. MacDonald in a tuberculosis sanatorium; Bears In The Caviar is a highly amusing account of a young American diplomat's zany adventures in Russia, Germany and Afghanistan, by Charles W. Thayer; and Turncoats, Traitors and Heroes; Spies In The American Revolution, by John Bakeless, contains true and thrilling stories of espionage in colonial America.

THE MAIN LINE

Here are two tracks, — two roads, — two ways to go. From this point, apparently, both lines lead to coveted destinations. True, they point in different directions and their terminals are drastically different. The Great Teacher once warned, "There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the ends thereof are the ways of death." Brother, you can't reach Heaven going in opposite directions. You've got to get on the main line and keep on going if you expect to enter by the narrow gate. We can move to the right or to the left — to life eternal or to certain death... which way will ye take? Your church offers valuable help in determining the main line. For he said, "The path of the just is as a drawing light that shineth more and more into the perfect day."
