"This is the lightest and longest spell we've had since I've been here," Deaf Smith County Hospital manager T. E. Seigler said Friday about the number of patients in the hospital. The count Friday morning indicated there were 14 patients in the 50-bed structure.

Members of the Hereford Boosters next Friday will vote on whether the organization should continue functioning as it is now, or disband and continue as a merchant's committee as was done before organizing, according to president J. P. Jones. Should the group continue under the present plan, nine new directors will be elected at the general meeting Friday, to be held in Jim Hill Hotel at 10 a.m.

Instead of "Going to bed and getting up with the chickens," one Hereford resident commented recently she was "Going to bed and getting up with the dusts." Taking advantage of favorable wind and temperature conditions, almost every airplane equipped for dusting or spraying have been airborne at dawn and dusk during the past few weeks.

So pleased with their "Krazy Daze" promotion, held June 23-25, directors of the Hereford Boosters voted Friday to hold the event again next year and set a tentative date as June 8-8.

Spudding Halted On Humble Well

Spudding in the Humble Oil and Refining Co. well was temporarily delayed the latter part of the week because of lack of heavy equipment. The equipment, however, should arrive at the location the first part of this week, according to Joe Reinauer. The well is located on the Reinauer Bros. property, 35 miles west of Hereford near the New Mexico state line.

Reinauer said the water well was dug and cased, and that the slush pit would be completed when the heavy equipment arrived.

In other oil activity, F. H. Lindsay No. 1, owned by Lease and Royalty, Inc., Saturday morning was drilling at 7,591 feet, 356 feet deeper than Wednesday. Drilling is still being done in limestone and shale, according to Howard Maroney, drilling supervisor. The rig is located eight miles southwest of Hereford.

The LaManche No. 1 well, just north of the Lindsay rig, is still temporarily shut down. It brought in a small amount of oil recently but salt water broke through with the oil.

Survey Reveals Life Span In Hereford Up 7.6 Years

NEW YORK, (Special) — The latest Census Bureau findings show that at the local age level, the life span in Hereford is up 7.6 years per person.

The report also shows that the median age of the Hereford population is 28.3, which is somewhat lower than the national figure of 30.3 years.

A recent report by the U. S. Public Health Service reveals that people at age 20 now have the expectancy of living to age 72.3 years, which is 9.6 years more than it would have been at the turn of the century.

The average baby born today will live 20.3 years longer than he would have lived if born in 1900.

For those at age 60 there has been an increase of 2.8 years, on the average, bringing their normal expectancy up to 77.5 years.

The number of these dividend years is different at different age levels. In Hereford, according to the latest Census Bureau findings, the median age of the population is 28.3, which is somewhat lower than the national figure of 30.2 years.

Local Farmer Is Injured in Wreck

A Hereford farmer wrecked his pickup shortly before midnight Wednesday and walked more than a mile while suffering from a crushed chest and punctured lung before he could reach aid.

In Deaf Smith County Hospital is Buren Sowell, 57, who lives 17 miles west of Hereford on farm-to-market road 1058.

Sowell was considered in serious condition when first taken to the hospital, but, according to the attending physician, is "doing good now."

Injuries were described as a "crushed right chest, punctured lung and multiple lacerations and bruises." About five ribs were broken in the accident and six stitches were required to mend a laceration, the most severe, on his upper lip.

According to Mrs. Sowell, her husband was driving to town after cutting of wheat on the J. P. Overstreet farm. (Continued On Page 2)

Construction To End at Airport

Hereford's Municipal Airport will be completed as soon as the runway and taxiway sides have been graded and worked, and CAA officials have approved it as meeting specifications, Dudley Bayne, city manager, said Thursday.

Laying of the hot mix was completed Thursday. Bayne said Odell Potet, contractor on the construction project, was supposed to move in with his heavy equipment Monday to push dirt up to the pavement and roll it level.

After that, only CAA's approval is needed before the $96,000 airport can be officially opened. Work began on the job in early September, 1957.

City Golf Tourney Qualifying Today

Several city golfers will shoot for medalist honors and qualification of the championship flight today at the local golf course in preparation for the annual Hereford Municipal Golf Tournament, July 4-6, professional Bud Posey said yesterday.

Others can continue qualifying through Thursday. Those who fail to qualify will turn in average scores.

Match play will begin Friday and last through Sunday, July 6. One match will be played Friday, one Saturday with the finals being played Sunday.

Palings will take place from 6-8 p.m. Thursday during the picnic lunch at the club house for all contestants. There will be eight players to each flight. Players will tee off at 9 a.m. Friday.

First round loser will go into consolation. Merchandise prizes will be given to winners, medalist winners, runner-ups and consolation winners.

CHARLIE SEED is the defending champion and he will be back to defend his title. He has won the city trophy for the last two years. Should he win this year's tournament he will take permanent possession of the trophy, which has been in existence since 1949.

Local York Rite Activity Planned

A two-day York Rite festival will be held here during July, with all members in the Hereford area participating, according to Sir Knight Bill Brady.

Tentative plans call for the conferral of the chapter degrees Saturday, July 19, with the orders of the Commandery conferred the following Saturday.

Full lodge facilities of Hereford Lodge No. 849 AF&M will be available for the activity.

The class will be named in honor of Sir Knight David H. Alexander, Hereford, who recently received his 50-year certificate as a Knight Templar from the Grand Commandery of Texas.

Mrs. Travis will serve as consultant for filing claims for Social Security benefits, application for account number cards and change of name cards or employer identification numbers.

Vegetable Harvest Underway Soon

FIRST ONIONS—Pictured above are workers harvesting the onions of James Paetzold on the farm of John Paetzold about four miles southeast of Hereford. The workers, a crew of 80, begun work on the seven acres of onions last Monday, and they are the first onions to come up in this area. Reports are that the crop will yield around six hundred sacks, while the grade could not be estimated. Other farmers started onion harvest Friday with full harvesting expected to get underway in early July. (Staff Photo)

Spud Market Expected at 'High Level'

HEREFORD'S vegetable harvest will begin the first of this week and is expected to be in full swing within the next two or three weeks, according to local authorities.

Despite spotted hail damage over the county which wiped out several fields, vegetable growers expect an over-all yield of the county to be not more than 15 per cent less than a five-to-10 year average.

Potato markets over the country show a trend to be better than any year in the county's vegetable history, other than 1956, one man said yesterday. Potatoes brought up to $2.50 that year.

Potatoes, onions, cabbage and carrots are expected to all be in full swing of harvesting by the week of July 14.

Market for potatoes at the present is $3.25 on a loaded basis for U. S. No. 1 size A reds. The June 26 Chicago price for Arizona reds, by carlot, was quoted as $4.25 to $4.50, delivered.

ESTIMATED YIELD for potatoes in the county this year is said to be between 135 to 150, 100-pound bags per acre. Average yield over a 10-year period is said by authorities to be about 175 sacks per acre.

Shippers say the California and Arizona growers have the market "pretty well taken care of, right now, but they will be out of the way in about another 10 days and we will have the only good potatoes for sale in the country."

Though one man said he thought the county's potatoes would be the best quality in our history, he added he did not think "we will ship any more potatoes this year than last because of damage from hail."

Sufficient labor manpower is expected by processors for vegetable sheds, as many of the workers have already arrived in town. Some concern is being shown by a few of the growers, however, because a very limited amount of Bracero laborers are available from Mexico.

Small patches of onions have already been harvested in the county, but the heaviest harvesting is not expected for another two weeks. Associated Growers and Jack Renfro are the only two known growers who have harvested onions here at this date.

One grower gave the opinion the onion market would be rather low this season. "I think the onion situation is going to be very, very disappointing as a whole," he said. He gave his reason as being damage from pink root infestation and hail, and said he figured the average yield for the area would be 60-70 per cent of normal.

The shipper went on to say he believed an over-all onion average to be 300-350 bags, 50-pound weight, per acre would be good. He said he liked to think of 600 sacks as a good average.

Some onion growers in the county have yielded as high as 1,000-1,200 bags per acre. More whites are expected to be harvested in the area this season. The white onion market is stronger this year, with jubos being stronger than mediums at the present.

Prices quoted are $1.50-$1.75 for medium yellows and $2.25-$2.50 for whites. Jubos are selling for 30-50 cents more in yellows, but not quite so much for whites.

One onion grower from Clovis, N. M., who was in town yesterday said his field was averaging only about 100 sacks per acre at the present.

WHEAT HARVEST is approximately 75-80 per cent completed in the county, with only those areas which have been plagued by heavy moisture and late ripening wheat remaining to be cut. There are, too, some fields being cut which were struck down by hail and high winds where pick-up bars are required, and time is extended for completion.

No estimates have been given by grain elevators as to number of bushels harvested, but a complete tabulation should be available within another week, one man said.

Spudding in the Humble Oil and Refining Co. well was temporarily delayed the latter part of the week because of lack of heavy equipment. The equipment, however, should arrive at the location the first part of this week, according to Joe Reinauer. House Kills Sorghum Bill

A bill, HR 12954, which was to put grain sorghum on the same support price as corn and also place the crop on an acreage allotment was defeated before it could get to the floor for debate Wednesday afternoon in Washington.

The proposed new law, which was to modify "old laws" on the books which have been in effect for several years, was to affect spotted-grown cotton, grain, rice, wheat, wool, corn, grain sorghum and milk.

R. G. Peeler of Hereford, past president of the National Grain Sorghum Producers Assn., said yesterday "All they (the House) want to do is pass PL 480 and wool, a give-away bill. They are not going to try to pass any other bill, I don't think. They will probably try to bring wool and foreign aid (PL 480) in a gain and try to pass them."

Rep. Harold Cooley, Carolina, is chairman of the House Agriculture Committee and was the sponsor of the bill.

"City Democrats and the Republican party" were blamed for the defeat. Peeler said he was told the city representatives defeated it on the contention it might raise the cost of bread a cent a loaf and a cent to cent and a half per quart of milk. He also said the "city people thought they were subsidizing the farmer."

"Things don't look very encouraging to get anything done in legislation this year for sorghum," Peeler commented.

He said he had talked with Congressman Walter Rogers Wednesday morning and was told the Texan was having a hard time even getting the bill out of the rules committee at that time. "They got it out, but when it went to the floor they voted on the floor not to even debate on it," Peeler said.

Social Security Consultant Here

Mrs. Maurine A. Travis, field representative of the Amarillo Social Security office, will be in Deaf Smith County court house July 9 to furnish assistance and information on Social Security.

First Swim Class Ending Training

THE FIRST GROUP of swimming students for this year began taking their tests Saturday and will continue taking them through next week until as many as possible finish. Only junior life saving students are to continue.

Bill Hardwick, an instructor of the swimming classes made the announcement this week. He also said the adult beginners class is celebrating the completion of its course with a swimming party Wednesday night to which they are expected to invite their friends and families.

Second session of classes will start Monday, July 7, with adult beginners and intermediate groups at 6:30-7:30 a.m. and advanced beginners and intermediates at 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Registration can be made at the pool whenever it is open.

Those registering must qualify for the class for which they are enrolled, giving everyone an equal opportunity of instruction according to their ability.

Senior life saving classes will begin the week of July 7, Hardwick said. All who can qualify are 16 years of age or over and are urged to register. To qualify one must be able to swim four hundred yards continuously and float for one minute. Junior life saving is not a prerequisite.

In building toward a staff of qualified instructors, Hardwick points out that completion of senior life saving is necessary. Later on in the summer, if possible, the first phase of water safety instructors course will be taught, he said.

The Red Cross is making arrangements for baby sitter service in order to make it possible for mothers to aid in the swimming classes. Any mothers who are interested in this service should contact Mrs. Henry Neely at the Red Cross.

Tentative Schedule Set For Concerts

A tentative schedule for the 1958-59 Community School Concert series was set up by a planning committee Thursday at 5 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce conference room.

At least three programs will be presented during the season, the group decided. The first community concert, to be presented sometime during the fall, will feature the Amarillo Symphony in a combined program with the high school choirs.

Scheduled for the other programs will be a concert by the high school band sometime in January or February and a musical production by the high school choir, to be presented sometime in the spring.

The planning committee attending the meeting included Mrs. W. T. Carmichael, president, Mrs. F. L. Alexander, secretary-treasurer, Don Moore, Hereford High School choir director, and Charles Bell, high school band director.

Also attending the meeting was Eddie Melin of Amarillo, business manager of the Amarillo Symphony.

The group will schedule another meeting later in the summer to set definite dates for the series and to decide prices of concert tickets.

This will be the second year that community concerts have been presented in Hereford. The concerts will be presented in the high school auditorium.

Red Skins Crush Red Sox Friday

With the fine help of 13 base hits, the Indians got off to a good second half start by crushing the Red Sox Friday night 11-8.

Eugene Jennings and Jim Haney starred for the powerful, once-beaten Indians. Jennings collected four hits in four trips to the plate, scoring three runs. He also drove across one tally. Haney did almost as good. He picked up three base knocks in four times at bat. He scored two runs and knocked in two.

Gary Smith was about the only player in the game for the Red Sox. The first baseman had two for three, scoring two runs and knocking in one.

THE INDIANS had eight runs on the scoreboard before the third inning began. The win moved them into a first place tie with the Tigers.

The Tigers who have been playing some great ball lately, slipped into first place with a win of the White Sox, Thursday night, 5-3.

They notched all five runs in the second inning to make it easy for pitcher Terry Caywood, who gave up only five hits. White Sox hurler Roger Albracht pitched four-hit ball, but he lacked the support of his hitters and fielders.

Winning, the Tigers put themselves even with the strong, first half winners, the Indians.

Where Would We Be Without Color?

IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW

By BETTY BARIONE

IN THIS DAY and time, you can buy anything from refrigerators to bath soap in the color of your choice. More and more in recent years, advertisers have made their products appear glamorous by offering them in an array of "beautiful, decorator colors." And Mrs. Average Housewife is made to feel that she is doing something artistic when she buys a bar of soap to match the color of her bathtub.

Around Town

Psychologists long ago concluded that a person's choice of color was a definite key to his personality but only lately do we notice this factor's being used in sales approaches. For instance: a well-known manufacturer of hand lotion, in promoting its new dispenser (in a variety of decorator colors), gives you the impression they have gone to great lengths to make available a lotion dispenser in a hue exactly right for you. The advertising also includes a thumbnail sketch of your personality according to the color you choose.

Accordingly, if it's yellow you like, you have a sophisticated intellectual bent. Rather deep with profound ideas, lasting friendships, you can keep a secret!

"If you go for green, you delight in friends and travel. Generous, without expecting reward, your varied interests make you most agreeable company."

"If pink is your color, you like life. You're interested in the world and people in a nice way. Refined always, your strong point is feminine charm."

"If it's blue for you, you are a do-er. Never one to be silly, you're a good listener. Your ability to plan will accomplish a lot for you in life."

Am kinda curious about the colors not listed. Maybe one of these days a maker of things red, brown, purple and orange will give us a clue as to what we are like if we prefer one of those colors.

Am even curiouser about how the idea affects people who are color-blind. Hmhmhmhm

Group Gathers For Red Cross Meeting

About 50 area Red Cross representatives gathered for the Red Cross annual general meeting Thursday in the Deaf Smith County court room.

Elected new chairman of the board of directors at the meeting was Lloyd Sharp. Other officers elected were Kenneth Rudd, vice chairman, and Mrs. Doyle Rose, treasurer.

New members elected to the board were Chris L. Clark Jr., Bill Davis Jr., Marlin Gilliland, Mrs. Rose, Dr. Milton Adams and Mrs. John Jacobson Jr.

Carry-over board members are Mrs. Betty Turpen, Sharp, Rudd, Mrs. H. A. Cavness and Mrs. H. H. Miller.

Shower Honors Mrs. Schrader

Mrs. Max Schrader was honored Tuesday morning with a pink and blue shower on the patio at the home of Mrs. Howard Walker.

Pink and blue flowers in pink and blue flower pots made up the decorative theme around the patio. The centerpiece was an arrangement of pink and blue daisies and bells of Ireland in a silver bowl flanked by blue candles. A dressed doll sat in front of the arrangement. The table was laid with a pink cloth and appointments were in crystal and silver.

Pyrachantia bushes formed the background for the table. The gifts were hung on the clothesline with pink clothespins as the guests arrived.

Attending were Mesdames Billy Massie, Ed Dzulik Jr., Jim Pavlicek, Metwes, Bill Stengel, Wern Koelzer, Mark Koenig, H. J. Schumacker, Clarence Betzen, Tony Hoffman, George Turrentine, Albert Stengel and Jim McAndrews, who assisted the hostess.

Yankees Continue On Winning Road

The Yankees won their fourth straight ballgame of second half Friday night, stopping the lowly Dodgers on five hits, 12-4.

They used three hurlers in Van Smith, S. D. Baize and Danny Cates. Smith threw no-hit ball the three inning he was on the mound. The three combined their efforts and struck out 12 of the last place Dodgers.

Robert Strange, Baize, Steve Hodges and Charles Moreno led the hit parade. They each collected two base hits.

The Yanks had their big inning in the fourth. They scored eight big runs to bury the Dodger's hopes.

The Cardinals, behind the four-hit tosses of righthander David McNelly, blanked the Giants Thursday night, 5-0.

McNelly went the distance and was never in trouble. The Cards scored three vital runs in the first inning to give McNelly plenty of insurance.

The Cards now stand one game back of the red-hot Yanks. In minor league play, the Cardinals remained in first place by stopping the Giants, 15-6, Thursday night. The second place Dodgers nosed out the Yankees, 11-10, in Friday night's action.

Mozelle Telchik On Honor Roll

Searcy, Ark., Mozelle Telchik, senior home economics major, was named to the honor roll for the spring semester at Harding College. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Telchik 222 Av. E. in Hereford.

Miss Telchik was graduated in 1955 from Hereford High School, where she was vice president of Future Teachers of America, Band Sweetheart, FFA Sweetheart, and Most Versatile. At Harding she is president of the Gata women's social club, a member of the newspaper staff, yearbook staff, and Modern Language Club.

Beauty At Home

Q. What is the best way to pencil very light-colored eyebrows?

A. You must exercise great care to avoid drawing a distinct line that will give you an artificial look and harden your general appearance. Little backward strokes against the "grain" of the hair, then brushing the hairs down, is the best procedure.

Q. What bleach do you suggest for stained hands?

A. Lemon juice is a good all-over bleach for hands, and for some types of stains. Fruit and berry juices from canning, medicine and dyes, will usually yield to chlorine bleach.

Q. How can I make up to counteract the appearance of thin, hollow cheeks?

A. You can add an illusion of roundness by applying a lighter shade of foundation in the hollow depressions of your cheeks than on the rest of your face.

Q. I'm worried about my naturally blonde hair, which has begun to take on a dull and drab appearance. Is there something I can do to help brighten it up?

A. Add the strained juice of two lemons and one tablespoon of salts of tartar to a quart of hot water. Wet the hair and apply this solution, rubbing in thoroughly through the hair. Rinse and dry.

Q. What is a good cleansing compound for a blackhead-infested skin?

A. Mix a tablespoon of oatmeal and one of cornmeal with soap and water, then rub this over the blackhead area. Scrub with a complexion brush, and rinse.

Q. What can I do about a scorch stain on one of my cotton dresses?

A. If the scorch is a light one, and not too deeply ingrained, you might be able to remedy it. Wet the spot with water and cover it with a thick paste of laundry starch. After this dries, sponge it off with peroxide, iron the article, and place in the sun for a few hours.

Q. Please suggest a good treatment for whiteheads on my skin.

A. Apply a paste of almond meal and warm water to the infected areas, and allow to dry. Then scrub with circular motions, using a clean cloth. Rinse the skin with warm water, then splash with cold water.

Q. What is a good exercise to help whittle down the hips and buttocks?

A. Here's a real "rock and roller" which should prove effective. Sit on the floor tail-fashion, with legs crossed near the ankles. Roll away over on your right hip, catching your weight with your right hand. Then reverse this movement, rolling to the left.

Q. How wide should the mouth be lipsticked?

A. Your face will look well balanced, with good proportions, if the ends of your mouth are just below the iris of each eye. This makes your mouth the same length as the distance between the centers of your eyes.

Q. What is a formula for a good bleaching facial mask?

A. Add buttermilk to three tablespoons of ground oatmeal until you have a paste. Thin this out with some lemon juice until it is of the right consistency to spread smoothly. While the skin is still moist after washing, spread the paste generously over it, and allow to remain until thoroughly dry. Remove with tepid water and a soft cloth. If this seems too drying to the skin, apply some cold cream after it has been removed.

GOVERNMENT GRATITUDE

GENEVA, Switzerland — The German government has presented its Order of Merit to two world Christian Leaders — Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, general secretary of the World Council of Churches, and Dr. Carl Lund-Quist, executive secretary of the Lutheran World Federation, for "all you and your organizations have done done for us in Germany during our most difficult trials and greatest distress" of the post-war period.

WINNING FIRM—The law firm of Witherspoon, Aikin, Thomas and Langley recently won a case in the state Supreme Court for Dumas Independent School District which concerns about three-quarters of a million dollars. Local Lawyers Win Supreme Court Case

The local law firm of Witherspoon, Aikin, Thomas and Langley, Attorneys at Law, was recently notified the Texas Supreme Court had ruled in favor of a case they were handling for the Dumas Independent School District which involves about three-quarters of a million dollars.

The Dumas schools were asking that Phillips Chemical Co. show reasons why it should not pay school taxes on land leased from the federal government for the purpose of private enterprise.

Federal government is exempt from paying any type of taxes on lands it owns.

Phillips Chemical Co., a subsidiary of Phillips Oil Corp., has been leasing a munitions plant constructed during WW II, Cactus, since 1949 and has contended it was not liable to pay school taxes on government land.

The Dumas schools employed the Hereford law firm in early 1953. The case was then tried in trial court, court of civil appeals and then the Supreme Court, Mar. 12 this year. Opinion was handed down June 18.

Should Phillips appeal the case to the U. S. Supreme Court, which is believed will happen according to the Moore County school board, the nation's highest court must grant a writ of certiorari before it can be tried in Washington. The court has the power to refuse the writ should it feel the Texas Supreme Court has ruled correctly and all question has been removed that Phillips must pay taxes on the land. Because of a new statute passed in 1950, the school district felt it had a claim for taxes on the property. Approximately three-quarters of a million dollars are charged against Phillips Chemical Co. by the school, accrued since 1950 in taxes, penalty and interest.

Phillips pays the government about $1,026,000 annually for the lease. One of the main products of the plant is ammonium nitrate fertilizer.

The local firm works for other school districts on a retainer basis, including Sunray, Canyon and Bovina independent school districts. Happy and McLean school districts have engaged the firm, also.

Officials Announce New Light System

Officials of the Top o' Texas Rodeo Association in Pampa announced this week a complete all-new lighting system is being installed on the rodeo grounds. This new lighting system, which is nearing completion, will give the Top o' Texas Rodeo, scheduled for Aug. 4-9, one of the best lighted arenas in the Southwest.

Goat Mayo, veteran rodeo producer of Petrolia, Tex., will bring his rough line of bucking stock to Pampa for the fourteenth consecutive year. Mayo will be in the arena to direct the events, including calf roping, double muggin, bull riding, bareback bronc, saddle bronc, and bulldoggin.

In addition to these, the Cowgirls' Sponsor Contest will be a part of the show each night. Cowboys and Cowgirls from a wide area will be competing for several thousand dollars in cash prizes.

In addition to cash prizes several beautiful trophies will be awarded to all-around winners in the several events. A special hand made saddle will be first prize in the Cowgirls' Sponsor Contest.

Two days prior to the main show will be the Top o' Texas Kid Pony Show with night performances on Aug. 4-5, featuring boys and girls between the ages of five and 15 years. A very unique performance is always staged by the small fry.

A special attraction has been added to the show for Friday, Aug. 8, in the form of a Beef Calf Scramble. This contest, open only to 4-H Club and F. F. A. Chapter boys of Gray, Wheeler, Roberts, Hemphill, Carson and Ochiltree Counties between the ages of 13 and 16 promises to be a very entertaining event. The Ruby Nance Band of Oklahoma City will be on hand to play a thirty minute concert in the band stand each night before the show and to cue the entire show.

The Rodeo Dances, held nightly, Wednesday through Saturday, will feature Leon Mcauliffe and his Cimarron Boys direct from the Cimarron Ball Room, Tulsa, Okla. They will also be heard each night in the arena as a special feature of the show.

PAY CLIMBING

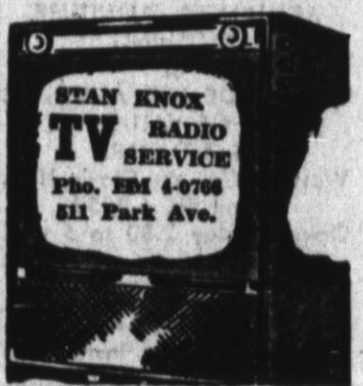

CHICAGO — Findings of a survey by the Rev. Albert C. Hoover, director of the Methodist statistical office, show that the cash salaries of 499 young ministers over a period of 10 years rose from an average $1,769 to an average $4,517 — a 155.6 per cent increase.

The first settlement at Baltimore was made in 1662.

BIG TIME NEW YORK — Two plays are heading for Broadway that were originally planned for display in small off-Broadway showhouses.

Brendan Behan's "The Quare Fellow" and "Nothing Personal" have been earmarked for Main Stem casing because of the difficulty of finding appropriate auditoriums elsewhere.

The term, ballot, meaning "little ball," stems from classical Greek jury practice. White balls meant acquittal, black balls, banishment.

BINGO FIGHT CONTINUES NEW YORK - Protestants in New York state, who conducted a losing campaign against the recent adoption of a constitutional amendment to make bingo games legal under a county option plan, say the fight isn't over. The official organ of the Protestant Council of New York said legal bingo can still be defeated in county votes.

Congress Battle Spotlights Texans

By TEX EASLEY WASHINGTON, (AP) - The congressional battle over President Eisenhower's proposed reorganization of the Defense Department spotlighted two Texans who took opposite sides on this issue. He joined with Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) in leading the fight against the president's recommendations. Lined up with those backing the president was Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock and Colorado City, second ranking Democrat on the House Appropriations

Says the star of the recently closed musical "Copper and Brass": "In the past three years I've worked only eight months. I've got a pile of scrapbooks full of fabulous notices. But where do they leave me? In the kitchen." Miss Walker says from here on she is going to concentrate on seeking jobs in television.

ADD ODD CATCHES
SPRINGFIELD, Ohio — Three fishermen came up with some odd catches.
Larry Freet, 13, of Springfield, went fishing and came home with 450 golf balls. He found them in Honey Creek near here. But he had to return them to the Troy operator of a golf driving range from which authorities said the golf balls had been stolen.
And in Dayton, two fishermen also netted a big catch that same day. Ronald Apple, 21, and Dennis Seibert, 16, snared a tackle box containing about $1,100 in checks and $50 in coin from the Stillwater River. Authorities said the box and money were taken in a Dayton supermarket burglary in which the loss was reported at $4,300.

Hereford's Most Complete Tire Service . . .
OK Rubber Welders, located at 1005 East Highway 60, offers to the public the most complete tire service in the area. In fact, all across the nation OK stores are serving the driving public with the finest at the lowest cost.
Established in 1946, Hereford's OK shop takes its place among city's oldest in the tire recapping, repair, and retail business. Nowhere is there to be found a more reliable and capable crew than an OK crew.
Since June 1st of this year, it has been under the capable manager of Dick Sawyer, formerly of a Dallas, Texas, shop. Dick has been with the corporation for five years and comes to the Hereford store with a great deal of experience that will be of great value to his customers. During the short time that Dick has been in this area, he has installed all the latest equipment in order that they might give their customers the finest available work, whether it be a simple tube repair or a major repair or recapping. The latest in recapping is the pneumatic process, and OK store gives you all the benefits of this method without any extra cost whatsoever. This method has cut recapping time by two-thirds, thus giving the customer a tremendous savings in time — to say nothing of the savings, pocketbook-wise.
Along with the new machinery, the OK store is now handling several new lines of tires, all premium and first line, plus the standard corporation type. This is just one of the many ways that the OK people have for the public to make a bigger savings.
All tread types and sizes can be purchased through the shop and if it should not be in stock it can be quickly obtained from their wholesalers with little wasted time on the part of the purchaser.

While folks are still busy cutting wheat, the onion harvest is getting started. Some of the yields are going to be excellent, too. Before onions get well underway, they will also start digging the early potatoes. Taft McGee had 10 big Red Triumphs Tuesday, and they all came from one hill. By the middle of the week it looks as if several growers might be digging potatoes. Things should keep right on humming through August and into September. Produce prices aren't so hot right now, but they are beginning to pick up and a lot of growers are dreaming of some good prices during the season.

R. G. PEELER was telling me that the grain sorghum bill got killed Thursday by the "City Democrats." Peeler says these boys give the farmers more trouble than the Republicans (not including Ezra T. Benson). Come to think of it, the political parties might eventually line up that way: "City vs. Rural Areas." However, it looks to me as if they are all working toward the same goal, after everything is said and done.

This looks like one of those weeks when I can't think of anything to write about. Reminds me of our son, Buz, who is attending a camp near Las Vegas, N. M. We got a one-sentence letter from him the other day. All he said was: "Well, I've got to close now; it's time to eat lunch. Love, Buz."

We decided he was doing OK, or he would probably have written several pages complaining about this and that. Boys are a lot like people. They seldom cry until they get hurt.

Mayor Ray Godwin had better be careful when H. Roe Bartle, the mayor of Kansas City gets here to speak at the annual C-C banquet next January. Bartle was the chief speaker before Optimist International in Dallas last week and borrowed Dallas' Mayor Thornton's car and chauffeur to visit his granddaughter in Ft. Worth. Paul Crume reports the and Mrs. Holmsley was a music teacher in the local schools during the past year. The couple has made many good friends in the area. We sure hate to lose them, but Sterlin is an old boy who should go a long way in the newspaper field — and he thinks this Ft. Worth deal is a good opportunity.

During the rash of weddings, I have attended several and couldn't help but notice that they are leaving the word "Obey" out of the ceremony these days. Out of curiosity, I sidled up to a local pastor and asked about it.

"When Bartle got to Ft. Worth, his granddaughter wanted to know where he got the car and he explained with some pride who it belonged to. "Grandfather, and wash all over," exclaimed the little granddaughter. "We don't even mention Dallas or Love Field around here."

Two old boys, a bit worse after a night on the town, were ready to go home. One, noticing that the other was weaving considerably, asked: "Why don't you take the bus home?" "Good idea," replied the wobbly friend, "but how'm I gonna get it in my garage?"

Don Zimmerman is learning the woes of a columnist. He is in on the radio program each morning where the sponsors do the talking and, in discussing people who ride those little carts while playing golf, Don said that John Patton and Dale Tinnin might as well hire someone to do their playing for them. John heard about it, grabbed up his shotgun and dashed across the street to give Don a bad time. Don was out, but John still has the gun handy — and hopes that no one will tell Don that it has no firing pin.

Personally, I go along with Zimmerman. Golf is a poor enough game at best, and when you eliminate the element of exercise, it really is getting to a low point on the totem pole. Sterlin Holmsley took off Saturday for Ft. Worth, where he expects to join the staff of the Star Telegram. Sterlin has been with The Brand about a year.

TWO WEEDS ON BROADWAY
NEW YORK (AP) — Now there are two generations of singing Weedees in the long-run musical "The Most Happy Fella."

Richard Weede, 26-year-old son of star Robert Weede, who has the title role, has just joined the cast. Both are baritones. By virtue of plot complications, the younger Weede presides over the stage wedding of his real life father at each performance.

Which reminds me about Ralph Smith. I heard that his hobby is tying trout flies — and that he can really turn out some good lures. A lot of people just won't go fishing without a "gen-u-ine Ralph Smith fly." He sells 'em, though. I have been trying to get him to give me some samples, but Ralph insists that I should take up golf. If they put shock absorbers and motors on those little carts, I might just do it, too.

Byrle Elliston got back from Farmington, Tex., a few days ago and has been busy scratching chigger bites ever since. Byrle says he had just about forgotten how worrisome chiggers can be. The Friona paper has a recipe he should clip out and keep for his next trip.

"All you do is rub alcohol over the chigger-infested area and then sprinkle fine sand on top of the alcohol," says Dave in the Star.

"This will give the chiggers ideas — after they digest the alcohol — and they will peit themselves to death with stones of sand."

If chiggers are anything like people, I'll bet it works, too.

Clothing Subject At Club Meeting

Mrs. Argen Draper presented the program on "Best Lines in Clothing" at the meeting of the Westway Home Demonstration Club Thursday, June 26, in the home of Mrs. Charles Owen. "Buying clothes and patterns is not easy," Mrs. Draper said. "A short person should wear vertical lines to make her feel taller and a tall person should strive to look shorter. A tall person should never wear princess type dresses. Make your face the center of interest when dressing."

A nominating committee was selected during the business session. They were Mrs. Kenneth Rudd, chairman, Mrs. George Turrentine and Mrs. Joe Wagoner.

City Patrolman Has Seen Lots of World

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles written about members of the three law enforcement agencies serving Hereford and Deaf Smith County.)

By DAVID STOKER

"In this business something new happens every day, you meet lots of people and you get to do and see a lot of things the average person wouldn't."

This was the answer given by patrolman Eugene Martin of the Hereford Police Department when he was asked what he liked about police work. Martin is a young man who has seen a lot of the world.

His story begins back at Nogenaport, La., where he was born to Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Martin, March 9, 1929. Martin received most of his schooling in Shreveport, before he joined the U. S. Navy at the age of 15.

For one year and three months he was right in the thick of World War II. "They then found out how old I was and sent me home," he says. He was there, however, long enough to see a lot of action at Iwo Jima, Guam, Japan and North China.

He returned home and immediately picked up his studies at Fairbank High School in Shreveport, remaining there long enough to get the overseas itch again. This time he was the right age and no one complained when he joined the Marine Corps.

While in the Marines, Martin got his high school diploma. This was in 1946. He was in the Marines for three years and kept most of his time working with prisoners of war.

After discharge from the service and went back to Shreveport where he established a grocery business in January of 1950. The business failed to bring profit and in 1951 he moved to Amarillo and found a job with a paint company. Still dissatisfied, he quit and on Jan. 16, 1952, went to work for the Amarillo Police Department.

He was following a long line of peace officers in his family. To begin with, his father was a deputy sheriff in Louisiana. He also has an uncle who is a deputy sheriff. He has a brother who is currently serving on the highway patrol in Louisiana.

Martin must have liked Amarillo for he stayed there until September of 1957. When he left he was a patrol sergeant in charge of 12 men.

This time he set his sights on Los Angeles and its police force. Here he ran into hard luck. The police force in Los Angeles has very strict requirements and except only the certain ones who can pass the qualifications. Martin passed everything but his physical — he was too short.

To keep money in the house Martin worked as a guard for an airplane company in San Diego County, California.

In December of 1957 he returned to Texas to seek work as a policeman again. He worked in Irving, Tex., as a fill-in for those who were on vacation. He was an accident investigator under chief W. J. Cooper for one month.

He came to Hereford in January of 1958, not as a peace officer but as a used car dealer. This lasted until he picked up his badge in April and started working for the city Police Dept. He hasn't left since.

Martin and his wife, Mary, currently make their home at 814 Blevins. They were married in Texarkana in 1951. They have one daughter Angela Gail who was born May 9, 1958. They are members of the Hamlet Baptist Church in Amarillo.

Martin's hobby is collecting water skiing a great bit. Eugene Martin has been a lot of places. However, it looks as if he might be satisfied now, because he talks of Hereford in a very contented way.

Vows Exchanged In Frio Church

In a single ring ceremony held in the Frio Baptist Church, Miss Virginia Ruth Estep became the bride of Mr. Richard Sims with the church pastor, the Rev. B. H. Baldwin, officiating. The service was performed at 2:30 p.m. Friday afternoon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Estep of Wyche Community, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Sims of Sumnerfield.

Baskets of white daisies, combined with stock and greenery, decorated the altar. Music was provided by Mrs. Owen Andrews, who played nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Olin Parris, who sang "Wither Thou Goest." She also played the traditional wedding marches and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" as vows were exchanged.

Sue Strange of Roswell, N. M., served as bridesmaid. She wore a beige linen frock with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage. David Sims served his brother as best man. The bride wore a white pi-que dress, fashioned with fitted waist and full street length skirt. She wore a small white hat and carried a bouquet of pink carnations tied with white satin ribbon, on a white Bible. Her only ornament was an heirloom gold locket.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church Fellowship Hall. The refreshment table carried out the pink and white colors used in the wedding. Mrs. Wanda Chaney poured punch, and Mrs. Imogene O'Neill of Roswell, N. M., served the wedding cake.

The groom graduated from Hereford High School with the 1958 class, and his bride attended Hereford High School. They will make their home in the Frio Community, where he is engaged in farming.

Girls Make Reports On Achievement Day

SLIM JIMS—Stella Jo Wiseman, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Wiseman, shows Zell Crump, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Crump, a pair of "slim jims," one of her original creations she showed at the high school home-making department's Summer Achievement Day meeting Thursday in the high school auditorium. Both girls participated in the summer program. (Staff Photo)

Ninety-two girls taking summer projects from the Hereford High School home-making department met for the annual Summer Achievement Day program Thursday in the high school auditorium.

Each girl gave an oral report on her individual projects. Mothers attending the meeting were introduced by the girls.

A covered-dish lunch was served at noon, at which time farewell gifts were presented to Mrs. Joel Hodges and Mrs. Phillip Shook, resigning teachers in the department. Their resignations become effective June 30.

Also attending the meeting was Mrs. Sandra Gregory, apprentice teacher from Texas Tech, who will spend the last three weeks of July assisting Mrs. J. J. Durham, home-making teacher.

Girls taking the course in summer home projects will receive a half credit for work. The course is offered in June each year.

Group work the girls have performed includes play school, a training lab which gives them a chance to observe the playing habits of pre-school children, and charm school.

FOR THE LOVE OF TEACHING

OMAHA (AP) — Because Dr. T. D. Fitzgerald loves to teach, he doesn't mind a 900-mile commuting trip.

Once every two weeks, Dr. Fitzgerald travels from Alliance, Neb., to Omaha to spend a day teaching in the Creighton University department of preventive medicine and public health which he formerly headed. He returns to Alliance that night.

"I've been doing this since 1953," Dr. Fitzgerald says. "It's a voluntary arrangement."

4-H Club Dress Review July 18

One hundred and fifteen girls from Deaf Smith County will enter their self-made dresses at the annual county 4-H Club dress review in the Hereford High School auditorium, July 18, Dorothea Prowell, assistant Home Demonstration Agent, said Friday.

The girls are divided into two groups, 60 older girls who are completing the basic dressmaking course, and 55 younger girls doing beginning dressmaking.

They will model their own dresses, and the winner will represent the county in a district contest at Amarillo. Dresses are to be judged for construction and appearance.

A record book kept by each girl on her dress will be turned in July 11, and it will be considered in the judging, also.

Twelve local women are working with the younger girls, and Mrs. Prowell is assisting the older girls.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By CHARLIE SEEDS

In a small town in the Canadian backwoods, a country doctor named Allan Roy DaFoe went on a routine mission. A 25-year-old woman, already the mother of six children, was going to have a baby. Her name was Mrs. Oliva Dionne. What happened after the doctor arrived electrified the world... for Mrs. Dionne gave birth to five little girls, who became the most famous babies in the world, the Dionne quintuplets. Their combined weight was less than ten pounds all together at birth.

Dr. DaFoe saw to it that all of the quintuplets survived. Yvonne, Annette, Cecile, Emilie and Marie. The world took the quintuplets to their hearts. Within a few years 3,000 visitors a day would be counted coming to their home just to see them. The world has never forgotten the Dionne quintuplets, whose early years were eagerly followed in press and newsreel by millions... but do you remember when they were born?

Remember the year? A family man in those days, with a few mouths to feed, couldn't afford to gamble when he bought a car, new or used. He looked for the best deal he could find... and bought from a reliable dealer he could trust. The year was 1934. Whether you're in the market for a new 1958 FORD or a good late model used car, we can offer you a better deal. Right now we have a terrific selection of good, reconditioned used cars... backed by our reputation for dependability and honest dealing. Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts at a reception in Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was laid with a white net cloth over satin, centered with four white candles in a candelabra based by the bridesmaids bouquets. Mrs. H. M. Hanson of Dallas, aunt of the bride, and Charlotte Moore presided. Those making up the house-party were Mesdames Louis Woodford, Jim Bookout, Jimmy Allred, Bruce Woodell of Dimmitt, and Wayne Dyer. Dorothy Faye Daniels presided at the guest book. For a wedding trip to points in Colorado, the bride wore a blue and white sharkskin two-piece dress with white accessories and straw bag. She wore the orchid from the wedding bouquet as a corsage. The bride is a 1958 graduate of Hereford High School, serving as president of Future Nurses Club and Junior Red Cross in her senior year. When the couple left on a short honeymoon trip to Lake Brownwood, the bride was attired in a pink cotton frock with a fitted waist and full skirt. She wore matching accessories and a small pink hat with a tiny veil. Her corsage was the orchid detached from the wedding bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Vinton both attended Hereford High School. He is presently engaged in farming on the Melvin May farm near Hereford. They will be at home at the Fullwood Apartments after July 1.

Farm Women Not Only Have, but Do . . .

Changing Times Finds Farm Wives Fast Becoming 'Belle of the Ball'

A few years ago there was a song hit entitled, "How Are You Gonna Keep 'Em Down on the Farm?"

Times are changing, as ever, and some statistics presented this week by Home Demonstration Agent Argen Draper indicates a trend that may, once again, completely alter the picture, however.

In Deaf Smith County an average of 10 per cent of Home Demonstration members belong to five different clubs; 99 per cent of these women live in homes wired for electricity, and a high ratio have radio and TV sets.

This is a far cry from the time when the farm wife carried water from an open well, labored far into the night by light from a kerosene lamp, made her underwear from flour sacks and gathered up the eggs each week for spending money.

Today, the farm wife is more often the "belle of the ball." Her children ride to school in buses, while the town kids walk.

The club participation says that she is interested in serving her fellow man, that she is active in social affairs and, even more important, that she is a well-balanced American woman who likes people and enjoys life.

When you pursue the implications, it also says that the farm wife is growing socially and agriculturally, where the average city woman may well lag in years to come.

How this reversed situation will reflect in the future is also a matter of speculation. History in early Virginia records that the farm women were the aristocrats of the age.

Naturally, we do not know. However, we do predict a growing interest of women for the easier, more luxurious life on the farm.

"How Are You Gonna Keep 'Em Cooped Up in the City, Once They've Seen How Folks Live on the Farm."

More Integration Troubles

'You Can Lead A Horse To Water, But You Can't Make Him Drink'

Integration of Negro and white students in public schools is once again under fire in Arkansas.

This same question, which once led the United States into the chaos of civil war, seems far from being answered.

Graduating with the Junior High students this year was one Negro girl. The occasion created no hostile assemblies, caused very little personal comment—and seems to have fairly well established a community precedent.

Slips That Pass But Not 'Unseen'

Like all other newspaper editors, we get a bang out of mistakes that see print in neighboring newspapers.

We got a laugh from Kenneth Hogue's front page column "My Akin' Backl," in the Dalhart Texan Friday after his quiet town was besieged with more than six hundred lions and their ladies . . . visiting Dalhart for their annual convention.

Remarks Editor Hogue:

"We at the newspaper, have had a lot of fun out of the pre-publicity phase of the convention. Tuesday's story about the ladies part of the convention read in part, 'the ladies can enjoy coffee, tea, and the like, have light refreshments, play bridge or participate in other varied activities!'"

"Several Lionesses called to see about registering for playing bridge and several husbands threatened to lock their wives up during the convention."

We're convinced Editor Hogue has an honest mistake on his hands. And there are the other kind. We, for example, still are asked now and then about the celebrated Hallowe'en punch recipe we ran in which a "quart of Old Granddod" mysteriously found its way into the otherwise sober ingredients.

With our punch and your convention . . . we should be able to promote some excitement in Dalhart, Mr. Hogue.—Moore County News (Dumas).

Hereford, of course, is no Little Rock. Neither is it an Atlanta or a Dallas, but it does seem probable that some method of local option might well be adopted to solve the situation.

Theoretically, we definitely approve of the aims and intent of integration on a basis of constitutional democracy. At the same time, anyone who was reared in the South will find it difficult to accept integration with the same outlook and attitude of Yankee citizens.

Integration unquestionably places a tremendous burden upon the Negro. This is true from every standpoint. Unquestionably, his immediate circumstances were better prior to the court rulings, especially in the Deep South.

Much like the old saying, "You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink," people will always rebel at what they term to be injustice—and that is how most Southerners feel about integration.

Unsung Heroes

Appearing in the news these days are reports of installation of new officers by various civic and service clubs of the community.

Like any other endeavor, some club leaders take more interest and do a better job than others, but, for the most part, the group leaders are generally efficient, conscientious and intensely interested.

When you carefully analyze the situation, a greater part of the community's activity and growth can be traced directly to the achievements of the various service clubs.

Faulty Hearing, Eyesight Didn't Hinder 'Deaf' Smith

By V. H. TORRANCE FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM

A man so deaf he couldn't hear himself think unless he had absolute silence, and whose vision was so poor as to disqualify him for almost any trade except umpiring, was the eyes and the ears of the Texas revolutionary armies.

He was Erastus (Deaf) Smith, for whom the Panhandle county is named. Do you know another political or geographical entity that proudly flaunts a man's physical affliction like a battle standard?

Smith was a New Yorker. He came to Texas in 1817, left, returned in 1821, and four years later became one of the first colonists of Green DeWitt's grant, of which Gonzales was the capital.

DeWitt's colony was on the Indians' highway to the cities of the Rio Grande, and until Capt. Placido Benavides' militia discouraged them, they rode that way with insolent frequency to kill and burn, and to steal horses and girls.

AFTER A RAID had all but wiped out Gonzales, Smith went to San Antonio, where he married a Mexican, and when Texan-Mexican relations became critical in 1835 his inclination was to keep out of the storm that was brewing.

A biographer has said Santa Anna's order for the arrest of the leaders of the land speculators and of the war party changed his mind. That assertion is illogical and implausible.

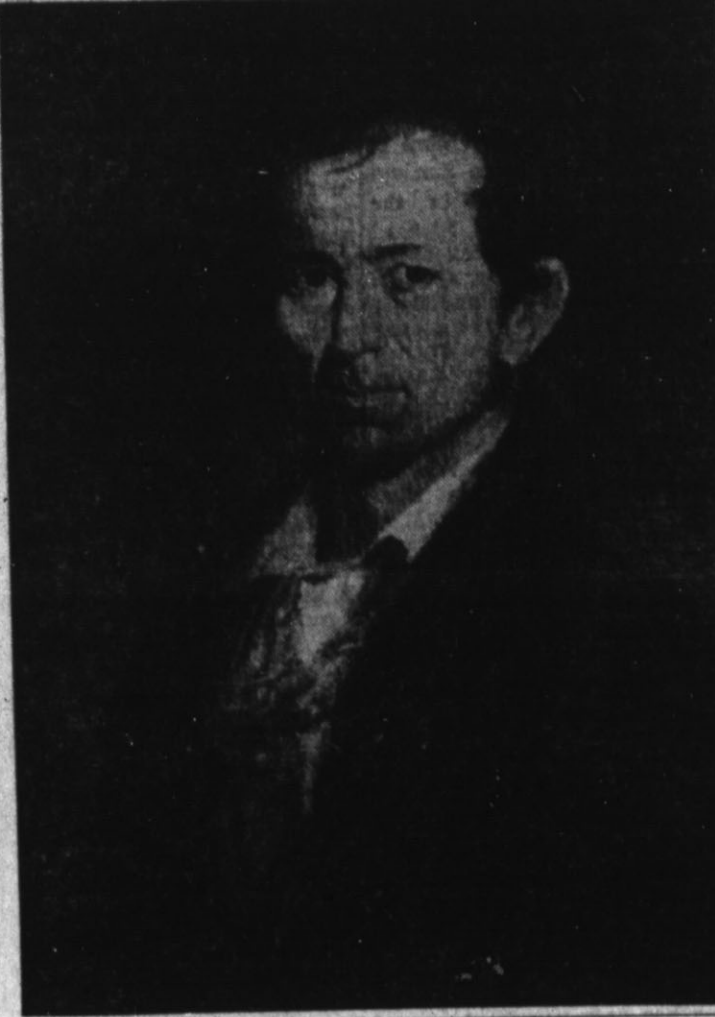

All Smith's ties were with the colonists and the Mexicans, all of whom had nothing but hard words for the men on Santa Anna's list of most wanted. Perhaps Juan Seguin, or Francisco Ruiz, or some other red-hot advocate of independence talked to him.

Whatever his motive, Smith went to Gonzales and joined Austin's army, and he was in the Conception mission fight Oct. 28. That was the shoot-out, you'll remember, that ended in the celebrated wrangle between Bowie and James W. Fannin.

THE NIGHT of Dec. 5 the Mexican deserter Lt. Jesus (Comanche) Cueller led two storming columns, one under Ben Milam and the other under Francis Johnson, against San Antonio.

Smith marched with Johnson, and they were together on the roof of the Veramendi house when both were wounded.

Milam, who had come from the Garza house up the street to see how Johnson was getting along, was killed there.

Much that we have been told about the Alamo fight is attributed, authentically or otherwise, to Mrs. A. M. Dickinson. She was in the etidale from the beginning. She saw 182 Texans, including her husband Cap. Almaron Dickinson, killed. It is difficult to accept her as an impartial witness.

She was taken to Santa Anna, who showed her every courtesy, gave her a horse, and sent her to Houston with the warning that the fate of the Alamo garrison would be the fate of all rebels and filibusters.

It was Deaf Smith who conducted Mrs. Dickinson, with her infant daughter, Angelina, and Travis' Negro servant, to Houston. No doubt Smith supplemented her account with information picked up from his Mexican kinsfolk and friends.

THE TIME Smith's faulty vision tripped him, it resulted in the premature burning of San Felipe.

That town had been the stomping ground of Travis, Samuel Williams, R. W. Williams and others on Santa Anna's proscription. When word of the Alamo reached there, San Felipe was understandable jump-

py. They prepared to jump to the Sabine if necessary.

While they made preparations, they sent Smith up the road a piece to keep his eye skinned for soldiers in gray uniforms. He may have seen a herd of horses or of deer, a flock of turkeys, a swarm of mosquitos — they get that big down there.

Whatever he saw, Smith mistook it for the Mexican army. He burned the breeze getting back to town, and in a few hours San Felipe was burning — to destroy any value it might have for Santa Anna.

When the fleeing colonists learned that Santa Anna had not reached San Felipe for several days they began wishing they had saved out some of the things which they had, in their haste, left in their burning houses.

They began asking each other, not pleasantly either, who gave the order to burn the town anyway. No one seems to have blamed Smith. Capt. Moseley Baker, never an ardent admirer of General Houston, said Houston did it. The general denied it.

SMITH ATONED for that a few weeks later. It was he who set Santa Anna up for the kill. He captured the Mexican galloper Capt. Miguel Bachiller carrying dispatches to Santa Anna from his second-in-command, the Italian general, Vicente Filisola.

From those dispatches Houston leaped the name, weight and position of all the players. It was upon this information that he halted his retreat and turned to bay at San Jacinto.

Deaf Smith, bad eyes and all, detected General Cos moving into the Mexican position with 400 reinforcements.

Houston, gratified to have this information, did not care to have his people know they had 400 more to deal with. Publicly.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Citizens Say Hereford Adequate For Shopping

Do you feel the merchants of Hereford are offering you the same merchandise and services available in other cities of comparable size?

MRS. R. L. DOWELL—I couldn't make any comparison. I never do any shopping out of town.

DOUG WOMBLE—Yes, I think so.

MRS. HELEN COFFMAN—Yes, I do. I prefer shopping here because it's so much easier to get around.

JOHNNY McIVER—Yep.

MRS. FRANK ANNEN—Well, I never have shopped very much in other places. I used to live in Dimmitt and I can't tell very much difference.

JEFF ROBERSON—Why, sure they do.

MRS. S. O. WILSON—I haven't traded in many other cities of the same size. I either go to a larger city or I stay at home and shop.

J. ROY OSWALD—Well, I believe so. Yes, I'm sure they do.

MRS. SAM MORGAN—Certainly, I think they have as good merchandise as anyone else. It's just as cheap and there is just as big a variety.

JOE L. HAMILTON—Oh, yes, I sure do.

MRS. C. O. BROWN—I certainly do. I've always had just as good service and merchandise as I have found anywhere else, and lots of times it's better.

BOB LAMM—Well, for a town of any size, Hereford has the best bargains of merchandise. The operating expense of a Hereford business is lower than in a larger town and the savings are passed on to the customer. Take any item and compare it for quality and you will find better value than in any other high-plains town.

MRS. MAY FRALIN—I certainly do.

JIM BLACK—Why, I think it's more so. I think you can get anything in Hereford at a better price.

the "busiest people in town"—even without their club affiliations. Much of their work is accomplished through the burning of midnight oil and through the contribution of additional hours from their leisure time, or from their own personal business. Growth of the numerous clubs during recent years has increased the demand made upon all officers.

A pat on the back from friends and members is well deserved by the retiring officers, while all of the assistance you can give the new ones will help to make their job easier for the coming 12 months. Meanwhile, we do appreciate their sacrifice—and we know that hundreds of other Hereford residents hold the same sincere feeling.

STORE FRONT TALK

If a town wants to keep its customers at home and wants to build up their "incentive to buy," store front remodeling may go a long way toward doing it.

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his hindweed farm probably is in the wrong location for the test he proposes this week, but that's his lookout, not ours.

Me and some of my neighbors were sitting around out here yesterday afternoon discussing the grave matter of gifts and whether or not a man can accept 'em without obliging himself to return the favor.

One of my neighbors said it was impossible for a man in public office to accept a gift without developing a warm spot for the man who did the giving, and another said it was, while a third said it might be possible, but he wasn't sure he wanted to deal with a man who could accept a present from you and still be just as cold toward you as he was before.

Well, now, I'll tell you. As I understand it, the problem of gifts to public officials has been bothering public servants ever since somebody sent George Washington a can of powder for his wig, and I have decided it's time to put the thing to a test. It's time to pit a man's character against a batch of gifts, and if nobody else wants the job, I'll take it on. I don't mean there aren't a lot of public officials who don't want the job, or who haven't already got it, but I mean somebody who wants to take on the job out in public. Accepting a gift that doesn't come to light unless a Congressional investigating committee stumbles on it is one thing, but what I'm talking about is accepting it in broad daylight.

Now right off I'd like to say that I don't have much use for a vicuna coat, don't believe it'd be practical to plow in, and a $2400 rug would be wasted in my house until I got the roof fixed, and while I intend to get it fixed, I figure that's my business. It's a man's job to provide a roof for his family, all right, but there's nothing in the contract that says it has to be leak-proof.

However, I could use a few things, like a new tractor, a set of spark plugs, two new tires, some new fences—provided they're installed, just as soon have an oriental rug as a bunch of wire and posts I have to put up myself—and a few sides of bacon, a television set, and any number of other things, and if my friends want to shower any of these on me, I will accept them and keep a close check on my reactions to see if a man can accept gifts without being influenced one way or the other.

Before I start though I'd like to point out that it has been my observation that when people start sending gifts to Washington, everybody else howls in protest, but when Washington starts sending gifts to the people, let's change the subject.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

The Texas army incorrectly believed themselves jammed into a three-sided pocket composed of Buffalo Bayou, the San Jacinto River and the Mexican army with Vince's Bridge the only escape. To prevent any of the boys from leaving, Houston sent Smith to destroy the bridge.

Houston then passed the word that the bridge was gone, permitting the troops to believe the only way home was through the Mexican army.

- A wholesale firm is one which sells in quantities to a retailer who intends to re-sell the merchandise to his individual customers.
- The reason the wholesaler can sell at wholesale is because he does sell in quantities—and does not have to deal directly with each individual retail customer.
- A good question to ask then is: How can a wholesaler print and distribute thousands of catalogues to individual consumers, stand the cost of each sales transaction and still sell at "wholesale" prices?
- The answer is: He can't. He is mis-using the word "wholesale."
- By actual comparison, the cost of some merchandise listed in such catalogues is even higher than that charged for comparable items by the retailer.

CAUTION - CHECK THE PRICES IN THE "Wholesale" Catalogue YOU MAY SAVE MONEY!

preparation of food. It has become a family center and a part of the living area.

An open plan kitchen generally has no wall partition between it and the dining or living areas although low partitions and dividers are retained in many cases to provide some separation between the cooking area and the area where food is served.

An open plan kitchen simplifies housekeeping, and in new home construction it lowers building costs. Chiefly, the open plan kitchen fits in with the spirit of family living and casual entertaining which are dominant in today's homes.

THE DECOR and arrangement of open kitchens must be keyed to the rest of the house. In order to achieve continuity, the colors of cabinets and appliances in the kitchen should be continued or repeated in adjacent living areas. Materials for the kitchen floor and ceiling should blend with materials in nearby rooms.

Sound-deadening materials and ventilating equipment are especially important. New appliance design, influenced by the open kitchen trend, have produced such features as light, flush-to-wall installation of free-standing ranges, a wide variety of built-in and stack-on range units and a wide choice of sizes and colors.

In the open kitchen most appliances are in clear view from adjacent living areas. For this reason their selection and arrangement must meet new requirements in appearance.

MUCH MODERN decorating emphasizes the use of one color, throughout an entire floor or level, although each room may have its own color accents. Skillful planning of the kitchen with respect to the rest of the home thus becomes important.

One designer credits two factors for the popularity of the open plan kitchen. He says:

"Attractive kitchen equipment, coupled with the growing acceptance of open planning in the home, have placed the kitchen within the living confines. The kitchen is no longer the ugly duckling of the house. It has become a showplace.

Gleaming chrome, colored porcelain, planters and brick walls have turned this cubicle of hot drudgery into one of the most desirable areas in the home. Efficient exhaust fans are carrying away the cooking odors.

"I believe that in the next few years, with the continued development and use of air conditioning and exhaust equipment, the kitchen as we have known it will completely lose its identity and will become merely one area of an extremely open planned home."

Willey won only five games and lost 10 in 1956. He is a native of Cherryfield, Maine. He is the fourth pitcher to win the American Assn. most valuable player designation. The others were Herb Score in 1954, Gene Conley in 1953 and Steve Gerkin in 1947.

Start Now To Combat Hay Fever

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.

Hay fever is a form of allergy that occurs at a definite time of year. The term "hay fever" is certainly not a good one, since there is very seldom any fever associated with this condition and hay almost never has anything to do with it. The disease is caused by pollen and develops in those individuals — children and adults — who have an allergic sensitivity to the pollen. A better name for the disease would be pollen allergy. Nevertheless hay fever is a firmly entrenched term and probably will continue to be used.

The attack of hay fever is ushered in with an attack of violent sneezing and a flow of clear watery fluid from the nose. The eyes are likely to be red and to water freely. Often the eyes are more than normally sensitive to bright light. There may be headache, and a general feeling of lassitude. Hay fever victims seldom sleep well. Children may be cross and irritable. (Some adults with hay fever may be pretty crochety too!)

The disease is caused by airborne pollens. Spring-hay fever is due to pollens of trees — maple, oak, elm, birch, cottonwood, pecan. Midsummer symptoms come usually from grass pollens — timothy, sweet vernal, Bermuda or orchard grass, or from the fungus spores of wheat and corn rust. Late summer and fall hay fever, the most common variety, is usually due to pollen from the ragweed family of plants.

The symptoms vary in severity depending upon the amount of pollen in the air and on the weather conditions. Some years seem much worse than other years. Symptoms are likely to be more severe on dry windy days and in the early morning. Heavy rains tend to reduce the pollen count and make the hay fever victim more comfortable.

A careful history helps in making a diagnosis of hay fever. A combination of symptoms such as described above that comes on pretty regularly at the same time of year every year is certainly suggestive of hay fever. In addition the seasonal appearance of the symptoms suggests the general class of pollen causing the trouble. There are in addition certain laboratory tests that can be used to confirm the fact that the disease is of allergic origin and not an infection. Once this much is determined, then a few skin tests can be done to determine which particular pollen is responsible. This knowledge will reduce the number of skin tests needed to pinpoint the offending pollen.

Treatment of hay fever is divided into three parts. In the first place avoidance of the pollen is wonderful treatment if it can be managed. If the symptoms last only a few weeks plan a vacation at this time and go where the pollen is not present. This is of course not possible for many families. The next best bet is an air-conditioner that filters the pollen out of the air.

When complete avoidance of the pollen is not possible the next best treatment starts well before the hay fever season and consists of shots to desensitize the patient from the particular pollen that gives him trouble. With most hay fever sufferers this pre-season treatment gives marked relief.

The third kind of treatment is directed at the symptoms themselves and consists of anti-histamine drugs given either as nose drops or by mouth. In severe cases some of the new steroid group of drugs proved valuable. Needless to say treatments need to be under the careful supervision of a doctor.

Rogers Candidate For Re-Election

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE 30TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT

Although I announced my intention of becoming a candidate for re-election as your State Senator several weeks ago, I wish to take this opportunity to make the customary full statement in your newspaper.

Naturally, it is not possible to relate here all that I would prefer that you know about myself and my record. I will hit some of the major points, and urge you to contact me or those in a position to know about any questions you might have. It is my desire that my personal and political record be an open book to you.

I have served four years (two terms) as State Representative and six years (one and one-half terms) as your State Senator. I am 43 years of age, a farmer, cattleman and businessman. I am a native of the South Plains-Panhandle area, as are my wife, two daughters and son. I served in the uniform of the United States Army for three years during World War II, and have a college education.

At different times during the past four years, I have been threatened and warned not to seek re-election. Some of you who know me best have been threatened with embarrassment if you did not persuade me not to make this race. The story behind this is a long one, and touches on many things that have happened in Texas politics. Some of them are covered below — others I will discuss later.

I made my first race for the Texas Senate in 1952. There was a great hue and cry to "clean up the mess in Washington." I was an oddity among candidates THEN. I charged then that "Austin is as rotten as Washington" and that "moral integrity is needed most." I demanded a law requiring state officials and legislators to file, for public record, a statement showing their income and its source. I was quite unpopular in some circles.

In 1954 I, and a few others, urged investigations into several state matters including the Insurance Commission, certain land transactions in which the State was involved, and State contracts. For my efforts I was slandered. A few months later the lid blew off.

NOW, no candidate would dare run for high office without a pledge "that honesty and integrity must be restored to our State government."

Andy Rogers is the only candidate in this race who has supported and voted for lobbyist control, lobbyist registration, and a code of ethics for legislators; for anti-loan shark legislation and compulsory financial statements of State officials' incomes.

Andy Rogers has authored more strict laws on the sale and distribution of narcotics and filthy literature and bootleggers than any other candidate in this race.

I have made many good friends among those who work for the interests of our district. I have made good enemies of those minority blocs whose interests conflict with the interests of our district. Some of these minority blocs have done well for themselves in Austin. But their position is now threatened. They are desperate to continue feathering their nests at your expense, to protect their "darlings," and to gain new ones.

I am on their list for extermination. They will stop at nothing and stoop to anything. Their methods of political slander, deceit and Legislative control have been perfected to an art. And, as has been said, "the perfection of art is to conceal art."

It is well known in Austin and Dallas that the Top brass of the loan-sharks, electric utility monopolies, gas pipelines, the liquor lobby and others are licking their chops over the slick tricks and schemes they have cooked up to deceive you about your Senator.

Actually, theirs is an old tune with a few new verses — only a little face lifting to bring their show up to date. I have suffered economically, socially and politically at their hands. But I have not run from them in the past, and I will not do so now or in the future.

TAXES AND ECONOMY

There is no need for either a sales or income tax for Texas. No other state has ever abused its citizens on tax matters as has Texas. A few examples: Nearly 55 per cent of present taxes collected in Texas are consumer (or "hidden") sales taxes. The consumer gasoline tax is more than that paid on all crude oil. The consumer cigarette tax is larger than the total natural gas tax. Other states, even communists, can buy our gasoline tax free, but you pay 5 cents per gallon. Other states tax OUR natural gas up to ten times as much as we do. Roughly, 70% of both of these Texas products are consumed outside of Texas. Few of the really big industries in Texas pay more than a proportional TOKEN of taxes, compared with the average businessman, farmer and worker.

Last year two (2) groups had their taxes reduced — natural gas producers and part of the Texas electric utility monopoly. Two (2) groups had their taxes raised — 10% increase on YOUR car and truck licenses and a doubling of tuition on students of State Colleges.

CONCLUSION: Stating such acts is often political suicide in Texas, but we merely need legislators who will see that these out-of-state corporations pay their share of the load while exploiting our resources. I have fought for this.

LABOR

I will continue to fight to maintain a strong and workable RIGHT-TO-WORK law in Texas.

This should be supplemented by a little Taft-Hartley law for Texas, as our present labor laws are a hodge-podge and leave loopholes unfair to business, labor and the public.

APPOINTMENTS AND MORE REPRESENTATION

I was one of a dedicated group that forced legislative redistricting. West Texas gained NINE new Representatives and THREE new Senators thereby.

For the first time in history, since I have been your Senator, our immediate area (District) has had a Chairman and member of the Highway Commission, Chairman of Water Engineers, The State Water Planning Board, the State Dental Board, the State Optometric Board, the Public Safety Commission, two of seven members of the State Board of Colleges and others.

These appointments are made with the advice and consent of the State Senate. Such things don't "just happen," and have never happened to us before.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

Our young people are our greatest resource. In 1952 I stated that we were "destroying our future with a false economy school program." We have made some advances. In these, Andy Rogers has been in the forefront.

AGRICULTURE

The economy of our Senatorial District is based, first and last, on agriculture. No present member of our State Legislature has a record to surpass my efforts in this field. This record was made on such legislation as has been requested and approved by the farmers, ranchers and businessmen of our District. Andy Rogers' record includes accomplishments and efforts regarding underground and sur-
