

Schools To Launch Building Program; Contracts Are Let

Hereford Independent School District Board of Trustees Tuesday night awarded contracts to builders covering the new elementary school to be built north of Hereford, the addition to Alkman Elementary and a proposed bus barn.

Low bidder on the base contract was Claude Martin & Sons, bidding $425,600 base bid for the addition to Alkman and the new 24 room elementary and a bid of $42,400 for the metal bus barn.

C. A. Gray submitted the low bid on plumbing for both the schools and the barn, while a combination bid from Hodges Electric on the three structures was low. Most contractors submitted combination bids on all three buildings, although there were a few who bid on just the bus barn.

C. A. Gray Plumbing Co. submitted a base bid of $81,180 for the school work and $2,900 for the bus barn plumbing. To be deducted from Gray's base school bid was $1,300 for Alternate 3 which the trustees chose to accept. Alternate 3 called for factory package electric temperature controls on all heating units rather than the special time-clock operated units which have been used in many schools.

The time-clock apparatus was included in the base bid. Trustees chose to ignore alternate 2 however, which allowed for a less expensive brand of heating equipment. The landmark unit included in the base bids are apparently commercial units, and were recommended highly by the architect, Herb Brasher of Brasher, Goyette & Rapier of Lubbock.

On the electrical work for all three structures, Hodges Electric of Lubbock submitted the low bid and was awarded the contract. Again, this bid was a combination bid, with Hodges bidding $42,819 for the two schools' electrical work and $1,885 for the bus barn.

Total contract price of the three units is $595,394. Construction will begin just as soon as possible, the architect said Tuesday during the called meeting of the Board.

Acceptance of the bids for cafeteria equipment was delayed since some of the bids submitted had not been received through the mail. This portion of the contracts will be awarded at a later date, according to Superintendent of Schools Darrell Williams.

The Board of Education also turned down all alternate bids on the general construction contracts except Alternate 1 which was for the bus barn construction.

Alternate 2 of the general construction bids was for paving around the bus barn, and it was the feeling of the Board that all bids were too high. Alternate 3 called for light weight concrete roof decking and Alternate 4 specified a certain type window for the schools. Both were refused by the Board.

Paving around the new elementary school was included in the base bid, however the paving bids submitted were for the area around the proposed bus barn.

Companies submitting bids and the amounts are as follows: Doyle Construction Co., Base Bid, $456,400, Alt. 1, $42,400; G.A. and S. L. Jones Construction Co., $454,940, no bid on Alt. 1; Knox, Gally & Meader, $438,219, Alt. 1, $41,309; Claude Martin & Sons of Lubbock, $425,600, Alt. 1, $42,400; Rose Construction Co.,

$459,000, Alt. 1, $53,000; Southwestern Bricklaying Co., $464,760, Alt. 1, $44,680; James T. Taylor & Sons, Inc., $447,668, Alt. 1, $44,550.

Companies submitting bids on the Bus Barn only were Panhandle Steel Buildings, $49,421; Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co., $58,795 and Stout-Steel Buildings, Inc., $24,558 (not complete).

Submitting mechanical bids (plumbing) were Anthony Co., $86,000 base bid, $3250 (Bus Barn plumbing, Alt. 1); O. W. Chisum and Co., $83,990 Alt. 1, $3,450; A. M. Plumbing Co., $85,700; Alt. 1, $2950; C. A. Gray Plumbing and Heating of Amarillo, $81,180; Alt. 1, $2,900 less $1,300 for the heating controls (Alt. 3); Malcolm Hinke, Inc., $83,900; Alt. 1, $3,206 and Nelson Plumbing and Heating Co. of Hereford bidding $3,075 on the Bus Barn work only.

Submitting electrical bids were Charles Electric, $42,000; Alt. 1 (Bus Barn); $2,800; Hodges Electric of Lubbock $42,819; Alt. 1, $1,885; Nipper Electric, $47,790; Alt. 1, $1,959; Owens and Hollingsworth, $43,671; Alt. 1, $2,170; Wallace Electric, $47,873; $2,927.

The new elementary school to be built north of 15th street will be a 24 classroom complex, while the addition to Alkman Elementary will include 8 classrooms, 1 music room, a workroom and additional rest rooms.

The bus barn construction will include 1 enclosed building with sheds for protection of the buses. Total area will be approximately 16,300 square feet.

Approximately 50 interested people were on hand for the awarding of the contracts. All trustees were present.

63RD YEAR — NO. 43

HEREFORD, TEXAS 79045. THURSDAY, OCT. 22, 1964.

City Is Operating Within Budget

City Manager Dudley Bayne issued a five-month budget report to the Hereford City Commission at their meeting Tuesday evening at City Hall, which showed the city finances in very good shape on the expenditures for the fiscal year of May 1, 1964 through April 30, 1965. Of the record $673,237 budget, expenditures for the first five months through Sept. 30 have totaled $260,379.01 thus far this year.

Man Will Bite Dog

This is a man-bites-dog story. Starting right away now Fido, who has enjoyed the sport of barking at the postman for these many years, is going to have all the joy taken out of his sport. And Fido is going to be most unhappy.

When Fido runs out to yap at the postman - and maybe take a small nip out of his gray uniform, the postman will reach into his bag and take out a small can. He'll direct the nozzle squarely at Fido. And that will be when Fido's fun will end.

Because the postal service is providing its carriers with a new dog repellent, Postmaster Nolan Grady said Wednesday. In fact, the postmen are being provided with a little booklet telling them just how to use the repellent.

Specifically the can contains 15 percent oleoresin capicum (that's the technical name for extract of cayenne pepper) and 85 percent mineral oil, propelled by an inert gas contained in an aerosol spray can.

And the pamphlet goes on to say: "Without a whimper, the dog will put his tail (they're assuming he has one) between his legs and retreat. Within 10 to 15 minutes, the effect of the repellent has worn off and the dog returns to normal. It leaves a yellowish coloration on the dog's hair which is removable by washing."

That's why we called this a man-bites-dog story.

Expenditures for the month of September totaled $47,940.74. According to the budget report issued by Bayne, the city has a balance of $383,076.75 remaining in the city budget.

With five months of the year gone, approximately 41 percent of the budget for the year has been spent and only the park, water and sewer departments are over their budgets thus far in the year.

The police department, which is operating under a $97,065 budget, has spent $38,473.96 thus far in the year and has a balance of $58,591.04 for the remainder of the year.

The street department, operating under a $83,980 budget for the fiscal year, has spent $48,343.86, leaving a balance of $35,636.14 for the remainder of the year.

The health department has a budget of $70,406 for the year, of which $27,824.11, leaving a balance of $42,581.89. The fire department is operating well within its budget of $14,672, with only $6,749 having been spent thus far in the year, with a balance left of $7,922.69 remaining.

The airport is operating better than perhaps any other department, under a $8,629 budget, of which only $346.31 have been spent, leaving a balance of $8,282.69 for the remainder of the year.

The water and sewer department, which was allowed $204,971 for the fiscal year, has spent $107,498 thus far in the year, leaving a total of $97,473 for the last seven months of the fiscal year.

Bayne told the commissioners that the overall outlook was very good and prospects for the remainder of the year appeared very favorable.

Bayne said that building permits issued thus far in the year have totaled more than $3.8 million through the month of September.

A decrease was expected by members of the commission in the building boom Hereford has experienced in the past several months, but as of the end of September, the trend has not declined.

Permits were issued in the month of September of 27 new houses and three big commercial construction sites.

In other business, the commission discussed bids presented by Plains and Caprock Machinery Companies of Amarillo and Browning-Farris Machinery Co. of Lubbock, on a new street sweeper for the city.

Commissioners decided due to the absence of Commissioners Gid Brown and Albert Maxwell, the acceptance of the bids would be tabled until the next meeting. Commissioners will go to Morton and Perryton to see the machines in operation, before accepting the bids.

The low bid was submitted by Caprock Machinery Co. of Amarillo for $10,885. The second bid was submitted by Browning-Farris Machinery Co. for $11,128 and the high bid was submitted by Plains Machinery Co. for $13,558.

Representatives of the Caprock and Browning-Farris companies were on hand for the meeting of the commissioners. Both representatives agreed to hold the bids open for two more weeks.

The bid of Kemp Auto was accepted by the commissioners on a tractor to be used by the city in mowing operations within the city. The bid by Kemp Auto was $2,245.47. The low bid was submitted by Case for $2,398.00.

Bids were also submitted by Hays Implement for $3,478 and H & W Implement for $2,578.00. (Continued on Page 3)

It's Play For Keeps Now

Whitefaces To Launch Conference Schedule

After resting up during their "off-week", Hereford Whitefaces will journey to Canyon Friday evening to meet the Canyon Eagles in the first 1-AAA conference scramble.

The Whitefaces, still elated by the 28-16 tromping they gave Lovington two weeks ago at Homecoming, will meet the Eagles with a 3-2 won-loss record.

The Eagles have a 1-4 record for the season, after losing bouts with Floydada, Levelland, Phillips and Oton. The Eagles edged by the Childress Bobcats for their only win of the season.

Canyon has only two starters returning from their team that placed third in the district last season. Tackle Wayne Collins, 199 pounds, guard, Joe Kerbel, 188 pounds, fullback, Dennis Haley, 187 pounds and halfback Wayne Brewster are standouts offensively for the Eagles.

The Eagles played in Class AA last season and came up to Conference AAA for their first time.

The Canyon team will be hard pressed to repeat the 4-6 mark it posted in the 1963 season.

Coach E. J. Webb in a pre-season interview said that the Eagles have more depth than in recent years, but have a definite lack of size and speed.

Hereford showed its come-from-behind spirit in the Homecoming game against Lovington, when the Whitefaces came back at halftime in an onslaught led by Walter Williams and soundly defeated the Wildcats in the second half.

Lovington led the Herd 8-0 at halftime, but the spirited Herd returned in the second half to win the game. Lovington was a preseason favorite to win their conference in New Mexico.

According to Head Coach Jack Meredith, the boys are all rested up and ready to go after conference play.

Canyon probably will be the weakest team the Herd will meet this season in conference play.

The following week the Herd will meet Perryton, here, for what should be a deciding factor in the final district standings.

The Herd will meet Muleshoe, there, the following week, in another district contest. The Mules are improved over their start during the season, and should prove quite a contender in the Hereford-Muleshoe game.

Tulla Hornets will be the final contest of the season for the Herd, before they travel to Dumas to meet the always powerful Dumas Demons, who seem to dominate this district.

In other District 1-AAA action, the Tulla Hornets will meet Perryton there in a night game.

The Dumas Demons will tackle the Muleshoe Mules as they continue in their undefeated season after stopping powerful Lawton of Oklahoma last week.

The Demons are favored to win the state AAA crown this year, after advancing to the quarter-finals last year, only to be stopped by Graham, 14-0.

The Demons were state champions of AAA for the two years before the past season.

Carnival Set By Citizens' Radio Club

The Hereford Citizen Band Radio Club will sponsor a Halloween Carnival, Saturday night, October 31, at the little Bull Barn, according to Tommy Crawford, publicity chairman for the group.

Also participating in the carnival with booths will be the Jaycees, American Business Club, Jaycees, 4-H Club Leaders, Rural Home Variety Club, Campfire Girls, Optimist Club, Young Homemakers Demonstration Club; Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Young Homemakers Club. All will have individual booths at the carnival, with profits going to their particular organization.

The purpose of this carnival, Crawford said, is to give the youngsters plenty to do Halloween night, keeping them off the streets and out of trouble.

The Citizens Band Radio Club, sponsors of the carnival, is headed by Leroy Bodkin.

The carnival will begin at 7 p.m. and will continue as long as there is anyone wanting to participate in the games. The games will include dart boards, ring toss, as well as many others.

Also available will be a "Chamber of Horrors". Crawford said there would be free prizes given throughout the evening, with the grand prize drawing coming at 10 p.m. Also there will be prizes given for the best costume during the affair.

Crawford urged all youngsters and their parents to be present for the Halloween Carnival. There will be a lot of entertainment available, he said, with very little money being spent.

UF Tells Its Story From The Air

United Fund Circulars 'Float' Over Hereford

Circulars by the thousands floated down on city streets Wednesday morning as a low flying plane passed over Hereford. And what was it all about? The United Fund.

In a last ditch effort to get the people of Hereford "enthused" about the United Fund and its efforts to raise a much needed $30,000, the organization approved the dropping of leaflets over the City of Hereford. Whether the stunt will get results or not, remains to be seen, but there's one thing for sure. It was the talk of the town Wednesday.

"Let's brag about Deaf Smith County!" the leaflet said. "One of the wealthiest counties in the Southwest."

"Building permits at an all time high... new industries moving into the area... bank deposits are smashing records... population increasing by leaps and bounds... land prices are at an all time record high," it continues.

"You are fortunate to be living in a highly diversified area. Fortunate to be in a community that has always taken pride in its accomplishments."

"Yet, this year as in the past, seven agencies that directly or indirectly effect practically every family in the county will lack in facilities because residents of this growing, wealthy county have refused to face the reality that the United Fund is not meeting its goal and cannot meet its responsibility."

"In 1963, 2500 children were reached by various agencies of the Fund. Many, many other services were performed."

"In 1964 the Deaf Smith County United Fund lags behind and shows less promise of meeting its goal than ever before. Deaf Smith County, in fact, lags behind most counties in the entire state."

"Wealth apparently isn't the answer."

"Individual responsibility as a citizen is the need."

The back side of the leaflet continues to chide the citizens of this community for their lack of enthusiasm.

"Individual gifts, in many cases, have been small. A $1.00 gift means just 14 cents per agency. To reach the goal gifts must be substantial and must be from a representative cross section of all citizens of this county," the leaflet said.

A quick check with the headquarters Wednesday morning indicated that the drive had hit the half-way mark with slightly over $15,125 turned in.

After three weeks of campaigning, fund directors felt that the drive was lagging. "We should be nearing the completion mark now," said Dean House, President of the United Fund.

"We realize that people are busy at this time," House comments "the public apathy that is causing our drive to lag."

The organization pointed out that the 1965 program has not been announced, adding "fair to good irrigated yields and relatively strong prices should not lull the grain sorghum producer into thinking that everything is all right for sorghum."

The organization, in its weekly report to growers in this county said, GSPA is attempting to focus attention on lower feed grain production from drought and program compliance this year, the need for larger carry-over stocks to meet expanding domestic and foreign markets ahead, and trade problems caused by U. S. "cheap" feed grains in world markets in order to try to keep for sorghum what has been gained in recent years.

The current feed grain programs expire with the 1965 crop.

The organization pointed out that "unless current programs can be maintained (as GSPA is striving to do) or replaced by new ones (as some are trying to do) during the 1965 legislative session, grain sorghum and other feed grains go back to the old 1958 programs."

GSPA offered these figures: "A million-pound producer will receive $4000 more this year in the market for grain sorghum than he did in 1960 under the old program."

The organization urged sorghum growers "and the industry" to work together and "support financially and morally, the work of their commodity group... or they will go back," adding, "they may anyway, but at least they'd go down trying."

Lomas' Guesses Cop Grid Prize

Picking the first-place winner in the Brand's weekly football contest this week wasn't much of a task; Bob Lomas, 209 Star, got 16 right to win the top money.

But when it came to picking the second and third spot it was a more difficult task because nine persons had 15 right. However, Duane Albracht, 619 Ave. J, who placed second, and Ansel McDowell, 507 N. Texas, won in the "tie-breakers."

Excise Taxes Take $869,000 In County

NEW YORK — The Government's so-called "nuisance taxes," which yielded Uncle Sam approximately $869,000 in Deaf Smith County during the past year, are up for revision.

These levies, properly known as excise taxes, cover such every day items as matches, gasoline, automobile tires, radios, cars, electrical appliances, telephone calls, cosmetics, leather goods, playing cards, amusements, cigarettes and liquor to name a few.

Some of them, such as those on jewelry and furs, started out as "luxury taxes." Others were imposed during World War II to raise money needed for arms and to discourage consumer expenditures for products that were in short supply. They were never cancelled.

Now, due to strong pressure from consumers, from business firms and from Congressmen themselves, steps are being taken to cut down on some of these taxes and to do away with others.

The House Ways and Means Committee has already begun hearings to determine what changes should be made.

Families in Deaf Smith County because they earn and spend more, on average, than families in most sections of the West South Central States, pay proportionately more to the Federal kitty in the form of excise taxes.

The annual contribution locally is estimated at $202 per household, as compared with the West South Central States average of $198.

Some of these taxes are called retail excise taxes and are easy enough for the consumer to spot. Others, designated manufacturers excise taxes, are not so visible. They are paid at the manufacturers end and are added to the cost of the product. The consumer, without realizing it, bears the burden.

Nationally, the various excise taxes yielded over $4 billion in revenue in 1963, the official figures show.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon recently came out for a thorough reduction in rates next year. He declared that many excise taxes no longer serve their purpose and are "an unnecessary nuisance to taxpayers and Government alike."

Pioneer Club Hears One-Time State President

Pioneer Study had as guest speaker, Mrs. J. W. Walker, Plainview past president of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, at their luncheon Tuesday at Hereford Country Club.

Speaking on "Women in International Affairs," Mrs. Walker explained why she thought women rate a place in matters of international concern. Starting with the axiom that American women represent a great nation, she cautioned against women downgrading themselves at home or abroad. In every way women, she pointed out, should be truly representative of the best in family life, the government, the nation.

Women, she observed, have unusual opportunity to travel, to circulate among other peoples, getting to know them, helping them know our people and our country and what it is attempting to do for other lands and their people. She cited her experiences in Italy, Malta, France; then she gave contrasts of our governments and theirs, our benefits and the problems of undeveloped countries (our opportunity for education as against the lack of education or chance to obtain it).

Women's influence carries with it responsibilities, Mrs. Walker stated. Four great problems stemming from the American home—juvenile delinquency, divorce, child neglect, and lowered moral standards—constantly challenge women, she noted, as to what women can do to improve matters at home and/or abroad. "Women are never too old to learn," she observed; then she listed some recommended readings, including "What Women Can Do for Peace."

Autumn flowers and place cards with autumn motifs added to the decorations. Luncheon hostesses were Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. Fred Barrett, Miss Roberta Campbell, and Mrs. W. C. Hromas.

City Attorney, Earnest Langley explained to the commissioners that the bid proving more beneficial for the city could be accepted.

Commissioners voted to table a discussion of the fibrous sewer pipe, which the commission recently passed an ordinance prohibiting its use within the city limits.

The commission, on a motion by Commissioner Lloyd Sharp, voted to place a fifty-cent fee on a tax certificate. The commissioners agreed that the present method of not charging for the receipts, was not in line with the county and school offices, both of which charge the fifty-cent rate.

Installation of a storm sewer along U. S. 60 was approved by the commission at a cost of $3,600. The sewer must be extended to allow the widening of the highway to Holly Road.

In final business, the commissioners approved the annexation of a lot belonging to R. E. Lee Jr., subject to approval of plat and petition for annexation. Mayor Ray Cowser, City Manager Dudley Bayne, City Attorney Earnest Langley and Commissioners W. L. Davis Jr. and Lloyd Sharp were all present at the meeting.

The next commission meeting will be held Nov. 2 in the next commission room of city hall. Everyone is invited to attend.

Nutty Situation Helps Autumn, Holiday Cooks

Although this year's crop of tree nuts is a third less than that of last year, bakers and homemakers have nothing to worry about. They'll still have lots of nuts for fall and holiday baking.

The 1963 crop was a record high. So the drop in production this year isn't as bad as it seems. It will be above average. In fact, production of some tree nuts may actually be up.

and Mrs. Jimmy Brown, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hale, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Perrin and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Brown.

The almond crop is forecast at 30 percent above average; walnuts, up 14 percent. The pecan crop is, however, especially short supply. But even here there's no problem. A substantial carryover from last year will put plenty of pecans on the market—and into cookies, cakes and candies.

Bruce Miller is having a field day. After the upset victory of Arkansas over Texas last Saturday, Bruce has been making the most of his opportunity to chide Longhorn fans. He's quick to point out that it took the Razorbacks of Arkansas to topple mighty Texas from the nation's No. 1 spot.

Southwest Conference football has been such in past years however, that anything can, and usually does, happen when top conference teams meet. A Southwestern conference team had rather spoil a perfect record for one of its sister teams, than to beat any other team in the nation, twice. So, as we said before, anything can happen in the Southwestern Conference.

Arkansas, by the way, has a perfect season to date, but they had best be wary. That's when the going gets rough.

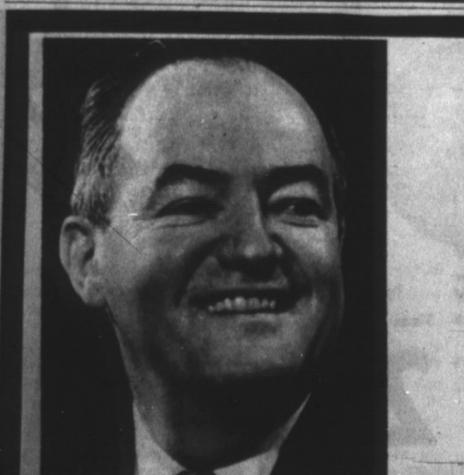

Incidentally, the rumor that has been circulating concerning Texas A & M putting Kyle Field in the soil bank isn't true. The Aggies will be playing the Razorbacks there, Saturday, October 31. The field may go in the soil bank after that.

By the way, the Hereford ????????

REP. ROGERS WRITES

Future Generations Face Serious Water Problems

One of the great challenges of our time is to use our talents to develop programs and techniques that will assure future generations an adequate supply of usable water. We must develop and conserve this most precious of resources to enhance the growth of our economy and strength of our Nation.

Americans today use more than 300 billion gallons of water per day—an amount that will be doubled by 1980 and tripled by the year 2000. At the end of this century, a few areas of our Nation such as the Pacific Southwest will be either exporting water long distance or meet-water sources. Other areas will be approaching maximum use of available natural sources of water.

In Texas we have a growing industrial complex. Industrial demands for water are huge and expanding. This is understandable when we consider that it takes 65,000 gallons of water to produce just one ton of steel, 240,000 gallons of water to produce a ton of newsprint, and 7 gallons of water to process a single gallon of gasoline. The amount of water consumed by our principal water-using industries of the Nation in 1954 was just over 20 billion gallons a day. The amount consumed today is twice that and it is estimated that by the year 2000 it will reach a total of around 170 billion gallons per day.

On top of this you can add the air conditioners, automatic washers, backyard swimming pools, and all the rest that go along with a modern, affluent society. The increased use in Texas is undoubtedly above the national average. All this indicates that water is destined to become more and more valuable for municipal and industrial purposes. Municipal and industrial supply as already become the most important water use in Texas and most of our conflicts will revolve around such use.

ahead to improve the water situation in the Pacific Southwest.

In Texas, I am certain that decisions regarding development and use of water resources should be and can be made by the people of Texas—by racing up to responsibilities and working in a true Federal-State-private enterprise relationship. The Federal role in this effort will be what the State wants it to be but the State cannot expect to have the final say on development unless it shares the responsibility and the burdens.

The Governor's conference was a forward step in bringing together the people seeking constructive solutions to this vital problem.

WALTER ROGERS
MEMBER OF CONGRESS
18TH DISTRICT OF TEXAS

Letter To The Editor

Editor:

Texans beware!

Why? Because as a native of Texas (and Hereford), I hold dear the clean air of decency and individualism which I believe still exists there and I want it to stay.

I now live in Torrance, Calif., a suburb of Los Angeles. The county of Los Angeles has an inflow of 1500 people a day; its population has increased to over 6 million in ten years. This is one county, the largest in the nation. California itself has passed New York in population.

I believe Texas possibly can expect virtually the same migration in the next decade on a state-wide level, with many of the same problems.

Texas has as much, if not more wealth than California, material and natural.

Agriculture is the number one business in both states.

The aerospace industry is comparable.

Both states have valuable coastlines.

Both border on Mexico and employ Mexican nationals to harvest crops.

Both states have fine universities, public, private and parochial schools.

Both have houses of worship dedicated to God, filled with people seeking His Way.

Why do I compare? Because I believe our two states to be similar in many respects and I want to point out in a small way what has happened in California as a result of apathy on the part of people—many of whom were recent residents of other states.

We Californians have allowed the fast pace of living to blind us to the fact that our state government is tainted by scandal and corruption and is wholly subservient to the ever-enlarging federal government.

The wealth of California is rapidly being drained into various, Washington "pork barrels".

The California aircraft industry is not allowed to bargain fairly for contracts.

The coastlines are controlled by a union boss whose loyalty to our country is doubtful (a matter of public record).

The "bracero" or farm labor program is being cancelled by the state at the end of this year, endangering valuable crops.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

$107 Million Boost Asked In College Expenditures

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — An increase of $107 million in state expenditures for higher education and double tuitions in state colleges and universities is proposed.

Texas Commission on Higher Education recommends a $457, 100,000 budget for upper level institutions during the 1965-67 biennium. Figure includes $307, 500,000 for 22 state-supported senior colleges and universities.

Tuitions under the Commission's recommendation would be hiked from $50 to $100 a semester. Last increase was in 1957, when the rate was raised from $25. If the Legislature approves this hike, revenues would be boosted $33,000,000 — leaving some $74,000,000 more needed from tax funds.

Overall budget increase of 45.2 per cent would permit a 25 per cent faculty raise. Previously, the Commission had asked a $5.9 million supplement appropriation for faculty salaries.

Commission also recommended "phasing out" Texas Southern University's law school.

CONNALLY'S NEW JOB I Gov. John Connally returned from the Southern Governors' Conference in San Antonio with a new honor and a new assignment.

Already chairman of the National Democratic Governors' Caucus, he was unanimously elected chairman of the Southern Conference of chief executives.

In a three-day session, the governors discussed a variety of state problems and adopted 14 resolutions. Among the latter was one urging a federal constitutional amendment to permit states to take other factors than population into consideration in reapportioning their senates. Resolution was aimed at nullifying a U.S. Supreme Court decision ordering both houses of state legislatures apportioned on the basis of population alone.

Three governors blocked action on Alabama Gov. George Wallace's resolution calling on the federal government to leave operation of public schools entirely in the hands of states.

Some public schools often forget to educate children while concentrating on non-academic "brain picking" tests and "mental health" programs designed for the "whole" child — whatever that may be.

The governor of California appointed a judge who has contributed articles to the "Daily Worker" and who was editor of the "New Masses," cited as a Communist periodical by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. (Also a matter of public record).

Yes, even some churches, in alarming numbers prefer to espouse "civil rights" and "social" redemption instead of individual responsibility to God, to ourselves and to our country.

Texas, to a degree, is faced with many of these problems now, as are all of our fifty states, but not all of them and not to such intensity.

I know many fine people in California, as I do in Texas. I do not mean to harshly indict this fine state, but I believe that indifference and ignorance should not be allowed to wrap its chains around good people everywhere.

Edmund Burke said, "All that is necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing."

Texans beware!

Jane Womble Smith

The economies of both Texas and the Nation will flourish or falter, depending on how we handle the approaching water crisis. This was a major point I made Friday in addressing the Governor's Conference on the Management and Development of Natural Resources in Texas.

The meeting, called by Governor Connally, was held in Dallas, and it was my privilege to address the meeting in my capacity as Chairman of the Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

In discussing the need for wise conservation policies, I told the group that as the water needs in our State grow conflicts will develop. There will be conflicts between areas of origin and areas of maximum need. There the tremendous amounts of water needed to provide water-oriented outdoor recreation opportunities. We must not let these conflicts deter us from sound and logical planning and development that is based on one basic measure — the public interest.

The problem is how to satisfy vastly increased needs from a basic water supply which does not increase and which is already taxed to the point that individuals, cities, industries, and States are contending over the right to use the available supply.

The successful accomplishment of this task requires the concerted and coordinated action of Federal, State, and local governments as well as private initiative in non-public endeavors.

Nitrogen Tests Aid To Farmers

By W. F. "Bill" Bennett,
Agronomist

This is the third of a series on soil test results. The first two were on Soil Reaction and Organic Matter. This week, let's discuss nitrogen and nitrogen recommendations based on soil test results.

Most soil testing laboratories do not run a specific nitrogen test. Instead, the nitrogen status of soil is determined by estimating nitrogen release plus a knowledge of the factors affecting nitrogen release.

Nitrogen release can be estimated by use of various types of tests. Organic matter content is commonly used. Another type of test determines the nitrification rate under lab conditions. Other tests include procedures for ammonium nitrogen, nitrate nitrogen and other forms of nitrogen in the soil.

After an estimate of nitrogen release has been made, it is necessary that this be related to other factors affecting production. These would include past cropping history, past fertilizer use, soil type, availability of irrigation water and yield potential. On this basis, it can be seen that information sent to the laboratory with your soil samples may be just as important as the organic matter or nitrogen release test.

The soil chemist that interprets your results and makes nitrogen recommendations usually relies heavily on the information you send. So when you submit soil samples to be tested, be realistic in listing your expected yield level.

MAN OF YEAR — J. Garland (Cotton John) Smith, KGNC radio and TV farm director, Amarillo, has been named "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" by the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association. He will be presented the award at the agent's annual banquet Oct. 29 in College Station.

Texans beware!

Why? Because as a native of Texas (and Hereford), I hold dear the clean air of decency and individualism which I believe still exists there and I want it to stay.

I now live in Torrance, Calif., a suburb of Los Angeles. The county of Los Angeles has an inflow of 1500 people a day; its population has increased to over 6 million in ten years. This is one county, the largest in the nation. California itself has passed New York in population.

I believe Texas possibly can expect virtually the same migration in the next decade on a state-wide level, with many of the same problems.

Texas has as much, if not more wealth than California, material and natural.

Agriculture is the number one business in both states.

The aerospace industry is comparable.

Both states have valuable coastlines.

Both border on Mexico and employ Mexican nationals to harvest crops.

Both states have fine universities, public, private and parochial schools.

Both have houses of worship dedicated to God, filled with people seeking His Way.

Why do I compare? Because I believe our two states to be similar in many respects and I want to point out in a small way what has happened in California as a result of apathy on the part of people—many of whom were recent residents of other states.

We Californians have allowed the fast pace of living to blind us to the fact that our state government is tainted by scandal and corruption and is wholly subservient to the ever-enlarging federal government.

The wealth of California is rapidly being drained into various, Washington "pork barrels".

The California aircraft industry is not allowed to bargain fairly for contracts.

The coastlines are controlled by a union boss whose loyalty to our country is doubtful (a matter of public record).

The "bracero" or farm labor program is being cancelled by the state at the end of this year, endangering valuable crops.

Once said of Hubert Humphrey's ADA:

"I want nothing to do with that Left Wing Outfit"

WHY? Are these reasons sufficient?

(Here are authentic direct quotes from the ADA "WORLD", their official publication)

"The level of federal spending must be raised several billion dollars."

"We urge that the Un-American Activities Committee of the House of Representatives be discontinued."

"We urge the abolition of the Attorney General's list of subversive organizations."

"We urge . . . diplomatic recognition of the Peiping regime, free trade with Red China . . . surplus food shipments to (them)."

"We should welcome the Castro regime into the South American Alliance for Progress."

"The President should have standing authority to extend loans and grants to the Communist countries of Eastern Europe."

(The ADA has also publicly called for recognition of East Germany, turning the Panama Canal over to the UN, and the Guantanamo naval base over to Fidel Castro.)

DO YOU AGREE WITH THE ADA?

LBJ, whose voting record in the Senate was to the left of John F. Kennedy's, has by picking Hubert Humphrey, revealed that the Democratic Party is now controlled by the ADA.

Breakdowns in foreign policy under Democrat Administrations during the last 14 years have resulted in nearly 70,000 American boys being killed in combat fighting communism. If we are ready to accept ADA policies, then have these men died in vain?

Help Save The Democratic Party -- VOTE REPUBLICAN!

Your hatred hurts you.

For every action there is a reaction. If we love we are loved. If we give we are given. When we learn this and believe it we have learned God's plan for us.

No man can live alone. He needs his neighbor. God told us this many times, "Love thy neighbor as thyself." God also told us who our neighbor was . . . everyone, even our enemy.

It is hard for us to accept this unless we realize that our hatred hurts us. Hatred drives out love. That is why God told us to love one another. The more we love the closer we come to God who is perfect love. Truly we are our brother's keeper.

Letter To The Editor

Editor:

Although not much of a politician, I have become more and more concerned about the mudslinging, character attacks, and personal charges and countercharges, not only by our candidates for public office, but by private citizens supporting them. Recent letters to the editor in the Brand, more than anything else, prompted me to write this letter.

It seems to me that most of the recent arguments made by either presidential candidate or his supporters had to do more with character and personality than anything else. While it is important to have honorable men in high government office, I think this business has been exaggerated to the point that it clouds the real and vital political issues that should determine how we, the voters, choose a particular candidate. As a result, we become confused and cannot vote intelligently.

I think that we must assume that both presidential candidates have at least some degree of character due to the fact that both have achieved great stature in America, each believes in God, and both chose to become public servants. While it seems possible that there may be a great deal of corruption in Washington history shows that there always has been a degree of dishonesty, not only in the Federal Government, but in addition, retain faith in our government and in our country. After all, our country, as well as its economy is based upon and is dependent upon our faith.

In business lately, I have felt more and more pressure from some of my customers to vote this way or that, or I might risk losing their business. As a result, I have caught myself inadvertently tending remarks concerning politics. I can't help thinking that these people don't really believe in and want the two-party system if they would fall out with me for voting for someone in the other party. It seems to me pressures of this kind, along with chques, and the practice of reciprocity (you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours), whether in politics or in business, are unhealthy because they work against free and open competition. Heaven help us if either of our great political parties should ever collapse.

I have respect for anyone who stands up for what he believes, whatever his belief, if it is honorable. It is sad that we brand every person a radical who has the courage to speak out for what he believes, or if he differs with a popular view. Personally, I have great respect even for a number of politicians against whom I intend to vote.

Why can't we live in the political tradition of these words, "Sir, I completely disagree with what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it." How quickly would our feelings of partisanship disappear if during breakfast some morning we heard a radio program interrupted with something like this: "BULLETIN — U. S. INTELLIGENCE AGENTS HAVE JUST UNCOVERED A PLAN FOR AN IMMEDIATE SNEAK ATTACK FROM THE SOVIET UNION." Eugene Campbell

Contests Offer Opportunities For Many Hereford Students

Interscholastic League contests offer many opportunities for students. The contests available for students at HHS are many this year.

Among the speech events is the debate contest. Here, a student puts to use the best principles of argumentation and evidence to present an effective case for or against a given proposition.

In conferences B and A, one team may be entered from each school and may be made up of two boys, two girls, or a boy and a girl. In conferences AA, AAA, and AAAA, a school may enter in its district meet two teams, one of boys and one of girls.

A student who enters the extemporaneous speaking contest will learn how to present clearly the facts about a subject. Each member school in all conferences may enter one boy and one girl. If no more than four schools are entered in the district, schools may double representation with permission of the district executive committee.

"Persuasive speaking is somewhat more challenging than extemporaneous speaking," states Tye Hillger. In persuasive speaking, a student learns to analyze a current issue. Then he determines a point of view for himself, and organizes and delivers an extemporaneous speech. In this speech, the speaker seeks to persuade his listeners to agree with his viewpoint.

Persuasive speaking strengthens the views of listeners who already believe as the speaker does. But even more so, it brings those of neutral or opposite views around to the speaker's beliefs.

A student learns the art of communicating to an audience in the poetry interpretation contest. Each member school in all conferences may enter one boy and one girl in either the senior boys or senior girls division. If no more than four schools are entered in either division in reading contest, his contest the district, schools may double representation. The selection entered, may be one poem, a part of a poem, or a combination of several poems.

Senior boys and senior girls are the two divisions in the prose helps a student to learn more about the thought and content of worthwhile literature.

Each high school is permitted to enter three contestants in the number, sense contest. The contest problems are presented to the director of the contest by the State Office.

In the ready-writing contest, each high school may enter two contestants. In nature, the composition must be one that informs the reader. It must be approximately 1,000 words in length.

The slide rule contest includes all manner of problems, involving only the following slide rule operations: multiplication, division, squares, cubes, square roots, cube roots, and placement of decimals. Each high school is allowed to enter three contestants in this particular contest.

Each school entering the short-hand contest shall be required to enter two, as a minimum. All tests will be five minutes in length; and official material must not be practiced before the test. However, it is permissible to have warmup tests.

'Ugly American' Is HHS Book of Week

One of President John Kennedy's programs while he was in the White House was the Peace Corps. The idea behind the program is simple: an average American can create good will for the United States in foreign countries by constructively helping and by just being himself.

The same idea comes through in THE UGLY AMERICAN by William J. Lederer and Eugene Burdick. Both Lederer and Burdick are master storytellers. Mr. Burdick's novel THE NINTH WAVE was a Book-of-the-Month Club selection. Captain Lederer, one of the nation's most delightful tellers of tales (ALL THE SHIP'S AT SEA and ENSIGN O'TOOLE AND ME) is a ranking Naval officer and an authority on Southeast Asia.

THE UGLY AMERICAN is a story about men and women in Southeast Asia. It tells about an ambassador who refuses to learn the language or personality of the country to which he is assigned. There is a man who is severely beaten because he tries to start a milk industry that will help the people of the country. A Catholic priest wages a lonely, victorious battle against Communism on its own grounds. There is a wealthy, but ugly engineer and his wife who leave their home to live in a bamboo hut. It is a story about people making mistakes and being a little corrupt.

Lucky, Lucky Louis had been Ambassador Sears' nickname when he was in politics in the United States. Sears had not been too much worried when he lost his last election. He had been in politics long enough to know that the party owed him something.

"What kind of job would you like, Lucky?" they asked. "A Federal judgeship with a nice, long tenure," he answered promptly.

"Okay, but there won't be an opening for two years. In the meantime, Lucky, how would you like to be an ambassador?"

The authors clearly state that the characters are indeed imaginary and that country of Sarkhan is a fiction. But the small and sometimes tragic events have happened... too many times.

Four years after Emma and Homer Atkins complete their work in Sarkhan, they moved back to Pittsburgh. One day Emma got a letter in a letter in a large handsome yellow bamboo envelope:

"Wife of the engineer: I am writing you to thank you for a thing that you did for the old (Continued on Page 9)

Hereford Freshmen Take Fifth Straight Victory At Plainview

By Steve Sigman
Freshman Football Reporter

Hereford freshmen took their fifth victory of the season Thursday night by downing the Red Pups from Plainview by a score of 16-0.

It seemed that during the first half the Hereford defense would never stop the hard charging Coronado offense, but great defensive efforts by Charley Stone, Max Bridges, Johnny Cornelius, and Barry Johnson stopped the Red Pup offense.

Tryouts Begin Monday For All School Play

Tryouts for the all school play, "The Mouse That Roared," will be held Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 26 and 27, in the study hall starting at 7 until 9.

"I certainly hope that a lot of students try out this year for the all-school play. Quite a few did last year but the small size of the cast limited the selection," said Mr. Tye Hillger, speech director. The cast in this year's play includes 14 women and 19 men.

"If enough students do not try out for the play, some of the actors may have to double up and play two parts," said Mr. Hillger.

Students who have not had much acting experience are urged to try out. "Some of the parts are not too long and won't (Continued on Page 9)

Payne Brothers Named HHS 'Teachers Of Week'

The two teachers of the week are Floyd Payne and Lloyd Payne. These two Hereford High School teachers are brothers. Floyd Payne teaches algebra and geometry while his brother Lloyd teaches chemistry and biology.

Lloyd Payne attended Sul Ross State College where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in chemistry and biology. He was a pre-medical student until Payne has hopes of attending medical school in the future.

Lloyd Payne believes in "using reasoning powers and logic instead of rote memorization in the teaching of science, especially chemistry and biology."

Floyd Payne thinks that "mathematics is the basis of sciences. Everyone should have some math, not necessarily trigonometry or calculus, but the basic elements of math. A man could be cheated by not knowing some simple equations. Modern math is the language of the computers."

Lloyd Payne is married and has a two month old baby daughter named Kim Chree.

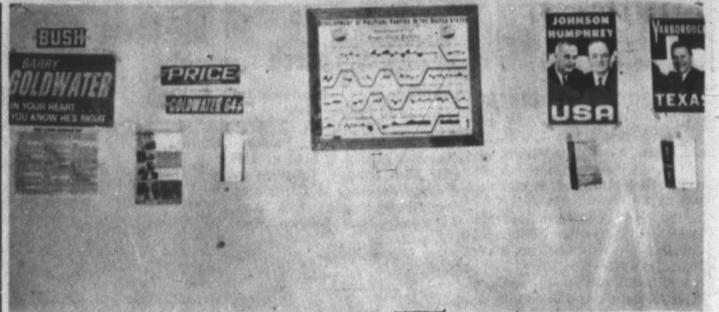

Uvalde, Tex., where he spent his freshman and sophomore years. He spent his junior and senior years of high school at Del Rio, Tex. Floyd Payne has been married four-and-one-half months.

Herd Players Good In Lovington Game

(Editor's notes: This is a first of a series of outstanding football players selected by the coaches. The idea was suggested by Coach Jack Meredith as a means of recognizing good football players.)

Determination, diligence and improvement make up the better qualities of football players of the week. In an all-out effort to become better teammates, George Muse, Frank Cain, Terry Hill and Wynn Buck are constantly on the move toward greater improvement.

The homecoming game against Lovington two weeks ago proved to be most exciting for them. "Getting 23 tackles and seeing that we had come from behind in the second half to win the game was my biggest thrill," commented Terry Hill, Varsity co-captain, offensive-center and defensive linebacker.

Muse scored two points on a touchback and made 15 tackles during the game. George is a co-captain, offensive and defensive tackle.

"Muse never quits trying, he hustles and hits well." During the rest of the season the coaches state that fans will see even more improvement in Muse's playing and on initial movement.

As offensive quarterback, defensive halfback, and co-captain, Frank Cain has proven himself a good ball handler, passer and hitter. "He runs with authority and selects plays well," stated Coach Jack Meredith. He will improve on play pass position.

"Buck is a tough runner, he gets the extra yard for us. He has shown the desire to play, has done a good job and is improving all along. He is dependable, his blocking and faking is and will show improvement," commented the coaches.

"Hill is one of the most improved boys on the team and is a good captain. He fights with determination and consistency, his co-operative attitude makes him one of the best hitters on the varsity," Meredith said.

Being agreed that playing Canyon will be a challenge, the boys discuss possibilities of the game. "Canyon is much improved over its performance during the first part of the season, tomorrow night will be their homecoming, so they will surely be up, but so will we," Muse said. "Canyon will be tough. If we play like we can, we'll win the game and be on our way to a district championship," Hill added.

"They have a good team, but we realize the importance of district games and will be ready."

"The Eagles are better than most people think so we will definitely have to be ready for them," Cain explained.

Hoof Prints

Not much happened last week in the field of sports, since the Whitefaces were idle. They have had two weeks now to prepare all important conference opener tomorrow night. The Herd travels to Canyon to meet the Eagles. The game will be held in Buffalo Bowl, game time being 7:30.

The B-Team played the Nazareth Varsity team Friday night at Whiteface field. It looked pretty dim in the first quarter for the Bees as the Swifts contained them, but Herford exploded in the second quarter and won the game 26-14. Tackle Mark Hicks has been out with an ankle injury for two weeks, but he is expected to see action tonight.

The Freshmen blanked Coronado of Plainview 20-0 Thursday night. The Fresh turned in a fine performance, especially on defense.

The Hereford-Canyon game tomorrow night should be a great contest. Everyone who can should travel to Canyon and cheer the Herd on to victory. BEAT CANYON!!!

Seniors Will Begin Buying Invitations

In January, seniors will begin purchasing their invitations to the commencement exercises. Senior honorariums met Wednesday, Oct. 14, to select two representatives from each room to select the style of invitation.

Thursday, the representatives met with Battle Harris, a salesman of Southern Engraving Company in Canyon, and Billy Buck, advisor to the senior class. He showed them several different styles in the Class III division.

Invitations will feature the Whiteface insignia on a white, wood embossed background. On the inside, there is an insert for the name card with a small graduation cap under it.

The students also looked at two types of thank you notes and various other articles. One other is a memory book which the seniors may purchase for $2.

Football Glory Not All In Scoring

By Sandi Thomas

Football — a game of glory and of self-sacrifice, but mostly glory. The players don't sacrifice much. They don't mind being in bed early while everyone else is out "painting the town" — they're tired anyway.

They don't mind drinking plain water in their cherry-lime drinks. It's good to taste something flat for a change. But the workouts are the most fun — who could do without the bumps and bruises? And that "dragged out feeling" is really a great thing everyone should experience.

Who ran the most touchdowns? He deserves all the credit. Sure, the linemen did a little blocking, but the man with the ball could have managed without them.

Yes, the spoils are indeed his. He could have centered the ball to himself and then run down field to catch his own pass. Who needs the other players — a little straight-arming will stop the opponents good and proper.

Then we have the coach — that dear little man who does nothing but stand on the sideline and see just how many of his players he can cripple. He only has to know 11 movements per play. What of it? The player has to put into action his own play. That's harder than trying to remember 11 at a time — much harder.

Besides, the coach has only to restrain himself from running out on the field during a game. He has no problems. He can suppress his eagerness and hope that his players will do as he says. He doesn't have to get out there and show them what it is to be down; it's only a matter of words — the right ones.

The substitutes deserve the least credit of all. They get into the stadium free and get a ringside seat throughout the game. They really get a big kick (in the bruising kind) out of working out all week so they can sit on the bench Friday night.

What could be more enjoyable than dressing up to play end, guard, and tackle — sit on the end of the bench, guard the water bucket, and tackle anyone who tries to steal it.

Take heed to this fair warning — don't ever go to a B-team or freshman game because you'll be bored to death. What's so exciting about watching a bunch of rejects toss a ball around? They're another bunch that enjoys working out all week for hardly any rewards — but at least they get to play.

Compared to varsity fans, how many go out to watch these "underdogs"? But don't worry about it — they don't deserve support anyway. Wait until they work their way up to the varsity, just as their predecessors did.

Stop for a while to consider what has been said. Of course, the outstanding players really do deserve the glory — no one is trying to deprive them of this. But we should just stop to think of all the people involved in order for one player to gain his glory.

Editors' Notes:

During the next couple weeks, politics will be seen, heard, discussed, and argued. Even of HHS is getting into the picture: government classes are having LBJ and Goldwater debates. The wall in Coach Williams' room looks like a campaign office split in two. Just look at the news in this issue.

The Teenage Democratic and Republican parties have been going full swing. Too bad some of these potential office seekers can't vote. (Just gotta wait three or four years, seniors.)

The enthusiasm for each of the candidates is strong and definite, to say the least, among the students. A cartoon in the Sunday BRAND entitled, "I'd Rather Fight Than Switch" describes the scene perfectly.

An apology is overdue to Mr. and Mrs. David Self. Mr. Self married Gwendolyn Wright. This was reported wrongly in the issue about the 1955 graduates.

Tryouts for the all school play will be Monday and Tuesday. This play will be more of an "all school play" than ever since the cast includes 14 women and 19 men. Every high school student has a chance to be in the play which is "The Mouse That Roared."

The Whiteface band goes to marching contest next Tuesday, Oct. 27, in Canyon. They are trying for a I rating in both marching and concert so that they can again win sweepstakes. I've often wondered how many miles a band student walks during football and marching season. The figure would probably be fantastic.

Talking of numbers, I read an article that said Hereford bank deposits were showing sharp gains. I wonder who puts that money in banks. It surely couldn't be high school students. (Or am I the only one who still has the same bank balance that I had four years ago?)

The National Honor Society has been going through the school records "trying" to find new members. Only 15 per cent of the senior class who have a B average can be members. Ten per cent of the Juniors and five per cent of sophomores who have averages of B plus can become members. Freshmen have to wait until they are sophomores (or Juniors, or seniors, whatever the case may be).

The new members will be notified Thursday and will attend a NHS call meeting. A salad supper is planned for Monday, Oct. 26, for all members with an initiation for new members. (I hear that there is going to be a real, informal initiation this year.)

Some students participating in the Interscholastic League went to Odessa last Friday and Saturday for a workshop held there. Those that went were Pat-ty Stoy, Maura McAndrews, Beckey Elliott, Cynthia McMinn, DI ann Stindt, Glenn Polan, Shelly Rush, Vickie Inman, Lynda Jacobsen, Linda Glenn, Billy Jo Witherspoon, Gerald Leatherman, John Lohr, Jean Kiehl, Galen Evans, Ralph Knox, Carla Stengle, Beverly Betzen, Jon David Miller, and Fanelda WILLIAMS. Mr. Ear Reese, Mr. Tye Hilger, and Mrs. Tob Painter sponsored the trip.

Anyone can still enter the contests; they are not limited to those that went to the Odessa workshop. Freshmen have a great opportunity to begin now and gain valuable experience. Sometimes scholarships are available to winners of state UIL contests.

State contests bring to mind Maura McAndrews. She entered the Public Speaking 4-H contest. Her speech entitled "Man's Future" won state. If she wins the national contest, she will attend the 4-H Congress in Chicago this November. So far, she says it has taken her since June to get her silverware for winning state. Belated congratulations Maura.

The article about outstanding football players was suggested by Coach Meredith. Too often, we spectators know nothing more about a football player than his number and if he is in our English class. I hope this series can bring out more facts about those who play outstanding football.

Tomorrow is the big night. The game with Canyon is a conference game plus homecoming for Canyon. Good, extra special luck team, I really think that it will be Canyon that is going to need the luck.

Plans for CROP are already underway. I suppose it's Stanton Jr. High against High School again this year to see who can raise the most money for CROP. I'm planning on disguising myself as a Beetle and going around soliciting food on Halloween, until then—Trick or treat, anyone?.

ver, Colo., addressed the convention preceding presentation of American Farmers Degrees. Azle, Tex., is one of the three Texas FFA chapters that received a gold emblem. Used by members in all recognized units of the organization, the gold emblem is made up of five symbols: the owl, the plow and the rising sun within the cross section of an ear of corn, which is surmounted by the American eagle. On the face of the emblem appears also the words "Vocational Agriculture", and the letters "FFA".

The owl is symbolic of wisdom and knowledge; the plow is the symbol of labor and tillage of the soil; the rising sun is emblematic of progress and the new day that will dawn when all farmers are trained and have learned to cooperate; the corn is native to America and grown in every state; and the eagle is indicative of the national scope of the organization.

"The Mouse That Roared" is a story about a small European country, which is three by five miles, that decides to declare war on the United States. The cause for declaring war was the fact that the United States was producing and selling wine, which was the national as well as chief product of Grand Fenwick, for less money. Their goal is to lose the war and then collect the aid. Their plan backfires and Grand Fenwick wins the war.

The female lead is the Duchess Gloriana. Once, in order to buy her a mink coat, Grand Fenwick asks for $50,000 in foreign aid. The United States sends $500,000 just to avoid any more trouble. The outcome is outstanding: Grand Fenwick becomes the first country to land on the moon.

Tully Bascum is the leader of the expeditionary force to the United States. He and Gloriana provide the romance.

Count Mountjoy is the Secretary of State and is a leader of the anti-wine dilutionists. Mr. Bentner is the head of the dilutionist party. Another prominent character is Professor Kokintz who is eccentric, absent-minded, and the inventor of the Q-bomb.

QUICK LUNCH OR GRILL-YOUR-OWN — Stack to your liking sandwiches made of your favorite bread — white whole wheat, rye, French, or other — alternating slices of cheese, ham, or cold cuts. SATURDAY SUPPER
Mushroom Chicken with Noodles
Cooked Vegetable Salad
Fresh Pear Pie with Cheese
MUSHROOM CHICKEN WITH NOODLES

1 can (6 ounces) sliced boiled mushrooms
Chicken broth (see Note)
1/3 cup butter or margarine
1/3 cup flour
1/4 pound processed sharp cheddar cheese, diced
Cooked chicken (see Note)
4 ounces wide noodles, cooked
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
Drain mushroom liquid into a measure and add enough chicken broth to make 2 cups. In a saucepan over low heat melt the butter; stir in flour. Add broth mixture; cook and stir constantly until thickened and boiling; simmer for several minutes stirring a few times. Remove from heat; stir in cheddar cheese until melted. Mix with mushrooms, chicken and noodles. Turn into a 1 1/2-quart casserole or six 8-ounce baking dishes. Sprinkle with Parmesan. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until bubbling hot — 25 minutes for large casserole and 15 minutes for small dishes. Brown under broiler. Makes 6 servings.

Note: For chicken and broth simmer a large broiler-fryer with 1 pint water, 1 cup diced carrots, 2 quartered medium onions, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1 branch parsley and 1/4 teaspoon thyme until tender — about 40 minutes. Strain broth. Discard skin and bones from chicken and cut into strips.

Attorney General Explains Warren Commission

In a talk to the 69th Judicial Bar Association here Saturday night, Attorney General Waggoner Carr explained the Warren Commission's report on the assassination of President Kennedy and the wounding of Governor Connally.

Speaking to members of the bar and their wives, Carr gave a rundown on the entire report, explaining highlights. He said that all leads in the investigation were followed with conclusions being arrived at only after careful study.

Nothing was withheld in the report, he said. Every rumor was traced to its source, and then discounted or explained.

Thirty-six members of the bar and their wives attended this meeting at Hereford Country Club.

In the football news, the Stanton Dogies' seventh grade lost their game Tuesday, Oct. 13, to Dimmitt by a score of 6 to 12. The eighth grade kept the school's honor, though, by defeating Dimmitt 28 to 6. They will play Tulla here this afternoon. The Freshmen won their game with Coronado last Thursday by a score of 26 to 6. The B-Team defeated Nazareth varsity last Friday 26 to 14.

Congratulations to George Muse on being selected as FFA Beau for the year. This is the first year the FFA girls have done this. Not too long ago they had a Hobo Day, in which the girls worked at odd jobs anyone would give them. They made about $100. Their Informal Initiation was held Oct. 14; the formal initiation will be in the high school auditorium next Monday at 7 p.m.

The junior high band marched at the B-Team game last Friday, that this band is really good!!

All the campfire groups of Hereford got together last Friday night for a Hootenany.

On the weekend of homecoming, several kids went to Ruidoso for a big trail ride, parade and barbecue. Among those who went were Patty Nobles, Candi and Lynne Poarch, Sabra Tra-week, Ronald Ott and Rodney Brooks. The group (composed of adults and little kids, too) left Friday and got back Sunday.

The Hi-Y boys are supporting a little boy in Korea. They have had no regular meetings but at one executive meeting they discussed projects for the year. They will vote on new members at their next meeting.

The Thespians are planning an all-school play for Dec. 4 and 5. They are still trying to decide which of two plays to present. All you Romeo and Julietts warm your voices up and get ready for try-outs.

Last Friday seemed to be a Key Club took a hayride out to the Country Club where they danced and goofed around. About 50 kids were there.

About 30 Rainbow girls (dates included) met at Denise King's house for their hayride last Friday night. They rode around and... Then they went back to the lodge for sandwiches.

The Student Council is making new student handbooks and student directories. An orientation committee has also been set up to welcome the new students.

The kids in Mr. Richardson's homeroom are sponsoring a smash ear tomorrow in front of the auditorium to start the conference games with a loud bang! Boys will be charged 10 cents while girls get a cut-rate of five cents.

John Perrin and Roddy Allred recently returned from a FFA trip to Kansas City. While there, they listened to talks and attended about three meetings a day.

Saturday night junior high kids get to dance at the Community Center from 8:00 to 10:30 for 25 cents.

COMMITTEE ON AGING — Governor's Committee on Aging, chaired by State Senator Walter H. Richter of Gonzales, will ask the next Legislature to establish a permanent Texas Commission on Aging.

Purpose of the Commission would be to work with community groups interested in the problems of Texas' senior citizens and to coordinate efforts of local organizations with those of state agencies.

CITRUS CROP UP — Texas' 1964-65 citrus crop will be four and a half times greater than last season's 740,000 boxes, reports USDA's Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

CLRS estimated a 3,400,000-box fruit crop for the coming season, including 2,400,000 boxes of grapefruit and 1,000,000 boxes of oranges.

Widespread showers and heavy rains in the Falcon Reservoir watershed of the Lower Rio Grande Valley were credited with assuring proper fruit sizing.

state property tax and leave the revenue source to local governments.

In two speeches during the past week — to county judges and commissioners and to the Texas Municipal League — the governor called for a "phasing out" of the ad valorem levy by the state. That will require a constitutional amendment, and, what Connally termed, a "period of readjustment."

Although the tax provides only 2.7 per cent of the state's revenue, the Legislature, usually hard pressed to balance the budget, has been slow to act on abolishing the $40 million a year revenue source. "There will never be a convenient time," acknowledged Connally. "All we need is the extra courage to do what should be done."

This step, he said, "is the most tangible way I know to put meaning in our plea for more local self-government." Connally also told municipal officials that city problems should be solved at the local level. He warned against continued search for solutions at the state capitol level.

The Municipal League, as expected, recommended still another source of revenue for local government. City officials told their TML board of directors that legislation authorizing cities to levy a municipal sales tax, subject to local voter approval, should be considered.

Directors in a mid-December meeting here will consider this proposal and almost certainly adopt it as one of the League's top legislative projects for 1965.

TEACHER PAY RAISES BACKED — State Board of Education has thrown its weight behind teacher pay raises.

Proposal was one of 11 legislative objectives agreed on at a meeting here. Texas State Teachers Association is pushing for a $45-a-month raise for classroom teachers. Board of Education did not specify any dollar amount.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court got off to a brisk start in its 1964-65 term, handing down 100 decisions on the opening day, last week.

In the most spectacular of the rulings, court refused a State Bar request to block attorney Melvin Belli — he who lambasted Texas and its courts after his client, Jack Ruby, received the death sentence for shooting Lee Harvey Oswald. Should Belli try to enter another Texas case, the new opinion stated, his qualifications will be subject to review by the court in which the case is pending.

— Declined to hear a suit attacking the Texas Water Commission's approval of a $12,500,000 dam and reservoir on Little Wichita River, a Wichita Falls city project. Landowners protested the site.

trustee's sale of West Texas land on which Billie Sol Estes defaulted in payments. This ruling led standing an earlier decision in favor of four landowners from whom Estes leased the property after allegedly conveying it to them.

— Held that Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler must accept an oil and gas lease a Taylor County landowner insisted he executed with Trace Mining Company.

— Refused to hear arguments in former State Sen. Doyle Willie's suit to regain his Fort Worth city council seat.

— Dismissed for want of jurisdiction an appeal from a lower court order that a Starr County precinct election contest must be heard by the trial court.

Court of Criminal Appeals, in its first decisions of the term, reversed three convictions in line with a U.S. Supreme Court landmark case holding affidavits accompanying search warrants must contain enough facts to show basis of suspicion.

OFFICES EYED — Offices being readied for the President in the new federal building at Austin became a campaign issue last week.

F. Clifton White, national director of Citizens for Goldwater-Miller, charged that the ninth floor layout added $2.5 million to cost of the building.

General Services Administration reported original contract price was $7.3 million and cost has risen to "just under $8 million" due to "change orders" and a labor strike. GSA, however, refused to permit reporters to inspect the premises to check White's story of a Taj Mahal-type luxury, a 10-foot fireplace and teak panels.

Some newsmen managed to get by guards and inspect the place anyway. One found it nice but not particularly lavish. Under his tape measure, the fireplace shrank from 10 feet to 52 inches.

Johnson's staff frequently works at a hotel in Austin while he is visiting at his LeBlanc ranch nearby. The government provides office space for former Presidents Eisenhower, Truman and Hoover.

CARR REPORTS — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr's report on the assassination of President Kennedy criticized overzealous news coverage of subsequent events in Dallas and concluded that law enforcement agencies should improve their methods of exchanging information.

Governor Connally, who received the report last week, concurs in Carr's recommendations which include the following:

— That lawyers and news media get together with officials and agree on working relationships designed to prevent "future disorder and confusion in pretrial activities, deficiencies in security for prisoners (and to improve judicial ethics in criminal trials." (News media, including representatives of the Texas Press Association, already are meeting with a State Bar group on trial news coverage.)

— That federal, state and local law enforcement agencies study how to keep each other better informed and recommend tighter security measures for high officials and distinguished guests in the state.

Carr's 5,000-word summary report, supported by 17 volumes of data, appeared particularly critical of the FBI's failure to inform local police that Lee Harvey Oswald was in Dallas.

Attorney General said he believed his decision to shelve plans for a Texas court of inquiry into the November 22 assassination and the wounding of Connally was wise, in view of the thorough job done by the Warren Commission. However, he said, he is ready to call such an inquiry if further investigation appears needed.

MENTAL HEALTH — A 26-member group, planning improvements in Texas mental health services, recommends a central State Department of Mental Health.

Under the proposal submitted, all mental hospitals and clinics and present State Health Department services in the field would be transferred to the new agency. The full 112-member Mental Health Planning Committee scheduled an October 16 meeting here to complete its work and make recommendations to the next Legislature.

TARGET — Legislation to correct "double contracting" abuses is being drafted on recommendation of the Texas House General Investigating Committee, and is backed by at least 10 trade associations.

Rep. Bill J. Parsley of Lubbock, committee vice chairman, will sponsor the legislation. Double contracting basically involves misrepresentation of down payments on residential real estate.

HARD-DRINKING YOUTHS — Texas Liquor Control Board reports that the increase of reports on consumption of alcoholic beverage by minors is "startling."

In 1959, spokesman said, only 1,314 criminal cases were filed against boys and girls under age 21 for buying, consuming or possessing alcoholic beverage in a public place. In 1963, the TLCB filed 4,848 such cases.

Liquor Administrator Coke Stevenson Jr. said, "We've been concerned about the increase in juvenile drinking at public places, such as beaches and dances, and we are constantly reminding our agents to be on the lookout for such violations."

WATER — Source of water supplies for Texans in the year 2000 will be the subject of a massive hurry-up research job by the Texas Water Commission and other cooperating state agencies and consulting engineers.

Report will be complete by November, 1966, if the Legislature provides $1,125,000 needed for the work.

Governor Connally, moving water to top priority along with higher education, gave the Commission $48,000 from his emergency fund to get the work stepped up. The Commission already has switched 12 of its engineers and geologists from regular duties to planning work.

Connally will urge the Legislature in January to provide the necessary money for water planning.

Mrs. Roy Grubbs Tours Taos Art With Interior Designers

Mrs. Roy Grubbs, 102 Rio Vista, recently accompanied a group from Amarillo Interior Decorators and the Dallas Interior Designers Guild to Taos, N. M., to visit art galleries there.

Membership will be by invitation only as special qualifications will be required, Mrs. Grubbs said.

The 45 who went by chartered bus were entertained by the head of Taos Art Association at Stable Art Galleries with a coffee. Later they toured other art galleries.

Members of the Amarillo group are forming an organization similar to the Dallas guild.

Stark Attends Dallas Seminar

Wayne Stark of Hereford attended an advanced underwriting seminar Oct. 15 and 16 in Dallas, devoted to a study of business insurance and in insurance for estate conservation, according to Earl Manning, C.I.U. Regional Vice President of the New York Life Insurance Co.

This seminar is part of an extensive agent education program conducted by New York Life on a continuing basis throughout the country.

Demos To Join State Setup

Deaf Smith County Young Democrats, at their meeting Monday at Democratic headquarters, decided to affiliate with the state organization.

Attending were 30 members of the organization, presided over by Don Jackson, president of the group.

Speaker was Louis Woodford who explained the differences between conservatism and liberalism. Nancy Gripp, secretary, said. The group also discussed projects as set up by President Johnson for young Democrats.

Mrs. Fuller Recovers In Amarillo Hospital

Mrs. H. S. Fuller, Dawn, is now in Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo, recovering from major back surgery of early October.

She is expected to remain in the hospital another 10 days or two weeks. Improving rapidly, she is now able to receive visitors, according to members of the family.

Miss Holt Gives Swiss Travelog For Calliopians

Miss Clara Beth Holt, medical research laboratory technician, was guest speaker for Calliopean Study Club at their recent meeting in the home of Mrs. D. C. McWhorter, 210 North Texas.

In illustrated travelogue, Miss Holt took her audience with her to the International Congress of Medical Technologists in Switzerland last summer. The colored slides she showed included her tour of several other European countries on that trip abroad. After explaining about her work here for the laboratory, Miss Holt coordinated it with her attendance at the lectures and program of the Switzerland meeting.

Presiding, Mrs. C. J. Crump reminded club members of the next club meeting, a bridge luncheon at the Country Club today.

Noises Bother Top Athletes, Says Sam Snead

By Harold V. Ratliff

Associated Press Sports Writer Sam Snead, the famous golfer, discussed the question of noise as a bother to athletes, on a New York television show. Snead brought out a point that was new as far as the sports writing profession is concerned. Why Sam never expressed it in his many tiffs with the press over the years is unknown, unless he has just now figured it out. Snead said a golfer wasn't bothered by noise if it was steady and general — like an airplane flying over while he was putting or a general hum from the crowd watching him at work. "It is the one little thing that happens like a man talking, a camera grinding or somebody stepping on a twig against the silence of everything else that bothers the golfer," he declared. Our experience is that everything irritates a golfer, even if it's a slight movement in the crowd, and that everybody talking or making noise runs the golfer wild. It is understandable because sharp noise can break a man's concentration in an exacting sport where a single bad shot can lose a tournament. But the observation here, from a writer who has covered golf for 30 years, is that the boys of the links and other sports overdo it. I recall when Willie Hoppe, the greatest billiard player of all time, stepped back from the table and indicated the crowd it would have to be quiet or he wouldn't play further. A swinging light cord that created a faint tapping was the noise Hoppe complained about. At Tyler, in the National AAU swimming meet, a diver stepped back and declared loudly: "Somebody at the end of the pool moved." The movement was more than 100 yards away. Baseball and football players don't worry about noise; in fact, they like it. The roar of 60,000 fans at a football game gives the player an enthusiastic pick-up. The hooting of the fans doesn't cause the baseball player to even hesitate. It can make the umpire mad but it never hinders him in his work. Golfers explain the difference with this: "You are closer to the spectator than the player in football and baseball. The golf fan is right at your shoulder, looking over it and watching you putt or drive. He is so close that the least little verbal expression

Antelope Farm Has Problem: A Vicious Ram

WICHITA FALLS, (AP) — It seemed like an interesting thing to do — raise African antelopes — but now Mrs. C. H. Riggins isn't so sure. The one male in her little herd has turned into something like a battering ram and ribs aren't safe around him. "He has gotten the idea that he can whip me," said Mrs. Riggins of Ole Boy, the name she gave the male. Mr. and Mrs. Riggins acquired Ole Boy and his mate, Little Girl, when they were infants about a year ago. Both were gentle then. They even enjoyed riding in the family automobile. He is now the size of a small calf, weighing about 150 pounds. He is not too big for Mrs. Riggins to handle. She says she has to "take him down" every now and then just to let him know she can. But "he will slip up on you if you don't watch him." When he slips up to a human, he butts. Riggins had an unfortunate experience of being caught inattentive. He suffered a cracked rib. Consequently whenever anyone enters the area where the antelopes are kept, on acreage a few miles from the city, they enter armed with a stick. It isn't necessary to hit the animal. He'll back off from a threatening swing. Little Girl, who has no horns, is friendly and smaller. The antelope produced twins a few months ago. Little Girl took a dislike to one of them, and the Rigginses had to bottle feed the infant. The babies are identical in appearance but completely opposite in nature. The bottle-fed antelope is affectionate and will nuzzle an outstretched hand. The other is aloof and obviously prefers the company of her father. The animals appear to be more goat than American antelope, from their size and conformation. They are a soft reddish brown with distinctive black markings on the lower portions of their bodies. The antelope appear quite happy and come running when Mrs. Riggins beats on a pan to let them know it is feeding time. Even Ole Boy comes joyfully, but with the air of one who would be still happier if he could sneak up on a human. A highway program even larger than the present one will be needed for Texas in 1972, according to T. Lawrence Jones, deputy federal highway administrator.

bothers you. He can talk to you on your round because he is right at your elbow." But Jimmy Demaret, a golfer, explodes that theory. It was in the Texas Open some 15 years ago that Demaret sent word to the press room that he would like to have a conference on the ninth green. Everything was in a stew because Demaret, Vic Ghezzi, Al Besse-link and others were going to skip the Rio Grande Valley Open at Harlingen to play in the Mexican Open. The Valley Open was hot and bothered because it was losing some name golfers who could bring out the fans. Anyway, the press went to the ninth green and when Demaret putted out, he stood there and talked with the newspapermen for about 10 minutes, giving then his views on the situation. Then he resumed play and shot a three under par for the day. From then on, when a golfer complained that some slight noise has caused him to miss the putt, we took it with a grain of salt. Cary Middlecoff took care of the situation himself one time. He was being bugged by the clicking of an amateur photographer's camera, so when he prepared to drive and heard the noise start, he just held at the top of his swing until the camera has used up all its film. It didn't disturb Cary in the least; he went on and won the tournament. ENGAGEMENT ORDEAL NEW YORK (AP) — All Jack Smith and his fiancée, Kathleen Stephens, wanted to do was look at some engagement rings in the shop of jeweler Edmund Coleman. But while they were looking at rings, two gunmen walked in, handcuffed Coleman, and took Smith with them as hostage. A sharp-shooting patrolman wounded the two and Smith returned to his fiancée.

NO DEAL HONOLULU (AP) — When Fleet Marine Force Pacific Catholic chaplain J. E. Ryan left for a tour of the Far East, he named Chaplain John J. Glynn and Chaplain John J. Glynn to relieve him. One of the GLYNNS IS A Navy lieutenant stationed at Pearl Harbor; the other is an Army major at Tripler Army Hospital. They aren't related. Read The Classifieds

Points, picas, agate lines, and ABC

Along about 1886, publishers joined with representatives of allied trades in voluntarily adopting common standards of printer's measurements. This is called the "point system." Today, point, pica, and agate line are rigidly defined units of measure universally understood and used in our industry.

In 1914, publishers joined with representatives of advertisers and advertising agencies, and once again voluntarily adopted a common set of standards — this time, to measure circulation values. Further, publishers cooperated in setting up an organization to maintain these standards, and to use them in measuring and reporting the circulations of publications.

In helping to set up this organization, publishers willingly gave advertisers and advertising agencies majority voice in its operation, its standards, and its application of these standards in measuring circulations.

This year the Audit Bureau of Circulations marks its fiftieth year of providing the basic measures of circulation values. Along with more than 4,000 other members, we pause with pride to salute the accomplishments of this outstanding example of self-regulation in industry.

Through the reports issued by the Audit Bureau of Circulations, we, along with other ABC publisher members, voluntarily and regularly give you, the buyers of advertising, more verified factual information about ourselves than is available for any other media at any time.

The distribution of your sales messages in this newspaper is a measured fact, verified by independent audit. Measured facts also provide the basis for our advertising rates.

Whether you use inches or points, ABC is your yardstick for measuring circulation values.
