4-H Club Dress Review In HHS Auditorium Friday

SOME 115 GIRLS from Deaf Smith County will feature their self-made dresses at the annual county 4-H Club dress review in the Hereford High School auditorium next Friday, July 18.

The girls are divided into two groups, 60 older girls who are completing the basic dressmaking course, and 55 younger girls in beginning dressmaking. The groups are then divided into divisions, divisions A, B, C, D, E and F.

In division A are girls nine years old and under who have never had any dressmaking experience before and are new to the club. Division B consist of girls eleven years and under who have been in the club and have some dressmaking experience.

Division D is made up of girls 14 years old who have been members of the 4-H Club less than three years, while division E are girls also 14 but who have been in the club at least three years.

The division E girls are the only ones eligible for competition at the district review in Amarillo.

Girls who have made garments for other people are classified in division F.

Dresses are to be judged for construction and appearance, with the girls modeling their own garments. A record book, which was due Friday, will also be considered in the judging.

A SCHEDULE for judging has been set up. At 9 a.m. Merry Maidens, County Wide, Happy Workers and Dawn groups will be judged. Doris Mahaffey, Willing Workers, Happy Homes and Sadie Lee Oliver groups will be judged at 9:45 a.m.

Twelve local women have been working with the younger girls, while Mrs. Prowell has been aiding the older girls.

Granite Wash Hit At Lindsay Well

Drilling at the F. H. Lindsay No. 1 well penetrated sprinkles of granite wash Friday, and a depth of 2600 feet was reached Thursday at the Humble Oil and Refining Co. well.

Though there was a little show of granite wash at the Lindsay well, drilling is mainly in limestone and shale formations. A depth of 870 feet was reached Friday evening.

Drilling at the Humble well is now in limestone and shale, and geologists report that formations seem to be running higher than expected.

The Lindsay rig, owned by Royalty of America, Inc., is located on Gregg County School land, labor no. 18. The Humble well is located on the Reinauer Bros. property, 35 miles west of Hereford near the New Mexico state line.

CONTRACT DEPTH of the Lindsay well was 8800 feet, and geologist said last week sediments were changing rapidly and they could run into something favorable in some of the granite wash sections.

The section between 7739 and 7780 feet, where a test recently was made, would be given special attention when electronic logs were run, they said.

Tentative plans for testing the Humble well were set at 10,000 feet, but Joe Reinauer said drilling would go deeper if necessary. The rig is good for 14,000 feet, he said.

City Golf Final Go

Finals in the annual City Golf Tournament will begin today with the championship flight of defending champion Charles Seed vs. Max Drever as the feature match.

In the semi-finals last week, Seed played his usual steady, cool game and eliminated Don Martin, 5-4. Drever stopped Bob Lindsey, one up.

Other semi-final matches saw J. A. Pitman defeat Joe Butler, 6-5, and Joe Kerr win over Jim Wood, 2-1 in first flight play.

Pitman and Kerr will square off in the finals today.

Arizona Laborer Has Stroke Here

Charles E. Hall of Tucson, Ariz., Friday was rushed to Deaf Smith County Hospital shortly before noon after suffering a stroke. His right side was reportedly paralyzed.

After spending Friday evening in the local hospital and extensive examinations, the man was transferred to Amarillo for care under a neuro surgeon there.

He is an employee of San Manuel Copper Corp. in Arizona as a laborer, but further information concerning his being in Hereford was not available at presstime.

Spud Harvest Expected In Full Swing This Week

Barring another rain, every vegetable shed in Hereford, and the entire vegetable district, is expected to be in full swing taking care of the huge potato harvest, according to authorities here.

Because of moisture and lateness of maturity in potatoes, very little activity has been seen on the spud scene so far.

However, authorities say, all should be in readiness the first of this week and things "will be picking up."

Hereford's shipping has been very light in comparison with previous years because of maturity.

Market prices, mainly due to a program being carried out by every vegetable buyer and shipper in the immediate area, have remained at about $3.25, local shippers say.

The new program, something entirely new to this area but old hand in other vegetable sections of the state, prevents any shipping of vegetables to market depots without first being sold. The program was entered into by more than 35 shippers in the area by verbal agreement.

"Rollers," as unsold produce is called when shipped to market, has been the cause of low prices in the past, authorities say, and none will be shipped from this district this year.

A new type of shipping is very likely to be introduced in this area, should Santa Fe railway decide to furnish equipment needed, called "piggy-back" shipping. It was requested by local shippers.

THE METHOD requires truck-trailer-mooring unit truck trailers which are loaded at the sheds, pulled to loading docks where they are placed on flatbed cars, shipped to markets and a reverse of the procedure made, eliminating additional handling and stacking of the perishable produce.

Austin Anson, executive vice president and general manager of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers, is acting as central information gatherer; operating in Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office.

Anson said the addition of the piggy-back system of shipping would enlarge the Panhandle's trade territory much more than it already is. He said the valley produce people had used the system in shipping cabbage and found it perfect.

Another reason Anson said he was so optimistic on the Santa Fe going along with local shippers' request for the system is that the entire valley territory has been shipped but one carload of cabbage from Hereford in eight years, and they would like to get the business.

Anson also commented that Santa Fe has the best delivery schedule of any railroad in Texas and all major shipping points from this area are on its line.

A meeting of the committee which was named Saturday night by the group of shippers and buyers here will be held this afternoon, Anson said. Purpose will be to name two new members for the committee, review progress made by the program in operation and plan the week's activities.

When asked for market prices on potatoes, Anson smiled, shook his head and said because he was not of a government agency, all information as to prices would have to be furnished by the growers and shippers. Prices during the past week have held at $3.25, and have shown no signs of weakening.

Merchants' Assn. Outlines Year's Activity in Meeting

A PLAN of promotions for the next calendar year was disclosed and chairmen named at the first official meeting Friday of the newly organized Hereford Merchants' Assn. This was the first meeting of the group since the Hereford Boosters were disbanded the previous week, taking on a new method of operation and organizing.

Six promotions were outlined by new chairman Gene Moore, including a store front clinic for businessmen; Mexican Festival; Main Street Mall for new car showing; Crazy Daze; Vegetable Festival; and another Mall plan for new farm implement showing.

A formal opening of the Hereford Municipal Airport was also discussed, with information on work done so far reported by city manager Dudley Bayne.

The store front clinic has been set tentatively for Aug. 7, in the Hotel Jim Hill ballroom, according to Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce manager Bill Lenderman. Ben Childers and Fritz Dodson are co-chairmen.

Sept. 16 has been set as the date for the Mexican Festival, with Paul Harvey chairman of the committee.

Co-chairmen Charlie Seeds and Monk Johnson will oversee all planning of the Main Street

Mall for new-car showing, to be held sometime in October after the last car dealer has had his own individual showing.

A repeat of the recent promotion called Crazy Daze has been tentatively scheduled again next year for June 8-9, Dub Reeves was named chairman.

A showing of the new farm implements sometime in the spring will be held on a Main Street Mall plan, also. Oliver Streu was appointed chairman to coordinate the event with all implement dealers. The showing was tentatively set for spring because, it was pointed out, all models are usually not out until that time.

The first annual Vegetable Festival, reportedly to be the largest event held in the entire Panhandle area other than the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo, is slated for the week of July 20, 1959.

Don Zimmerman is to be chairman.

Already scheduled is the three-day annual rodeo sponsored by the Hereford Riders. Pioneer Day will also be held sometime during the week.

Wanted Man in Oklahoma Jail

A man charged with forgery here is being held by the Sheriff's Dept. in McAlester, Okla. Charges of forgery were filed against Lester Hartfield April 15. Notification that Hartfield is being held in McAlester was made to Sheriff Charles Skelton Friday.

Hartfield will be returned to Hereford sometime this week.

Hereford Little League All-Star Team Selected

PLAYERS WHO WILL represent Hereford in the annual Area Little League tournament were introduced following the Yankee - Giant game Friday night and there were many surprised but happy boys.

Naming of the team had been long awaited. The players were selected at a meeting of the various team managers and coaches at the Hereford State Bank Wednesday night. After two hours and almost thirty minutes of serious discussion of about every player in the league, the men came up with 14 all-stars and two alternates. Each man at the meeting was sworn to secrecy, promising not to divulge the names of the players selected, in order to make the announcement Friday night more surprising.

Ability alone was not considered in their selecting, although it was the main factor. The boy's attitude, desire to play ball, his will to win and his actions away from the diamond were considered in the selections also.

THREE PLAYERS were unanimously picked early in the meeting. They were Van Smith of the Yankees, Barry Gabbart of the Dodgers and Ronnie Duncan of the Giants. These players were members of the all-star squad last year.

Others players chosen were

League Officials Appeal for Aid

An appeal for funds to send Hereford's Little League All-Stars to the Area Tournament in Pampa next week was issued today by B. F. Cain, vice president, and Joe Hodges, treasurer.

"All proceeds through the United Fund were earmarked for uniforms," said Hodges. "The league operated through the season in the black from proceeds raised by sale of concessions, sponsored by the mothers. However, additional funds will be required to send the boys to Pampa and, if they win there, to the district and regional play-offs."

Persons wishing to contribute were asked to leave donations at McDowell Drug, or at the Hereford State Bank any time during the coming week. The money will be used to buy meals, gasoline and pay for motels when required.

CATNIP—A new twist to the old "man bites dog" theory of news was added this week—"??? bites cat." Spot, the cat, seems to be "daring the mean-lookin' crittur to "try and bite me, too," as his fellow feline was bitten earlier. Nobody around town seems to be able to identify it, even a local veterinarian, who thought it might be a water-dog or a frog. If anybody can identify it, please notify Mrs. J. W. Johnson, owner of the bitten cat. Some of its features are a pattern of yellow, green and black at the back of its neck, and an overall color of yellow and green. Its tail is about a foot long. (Staff Photo)

An accident involving cars driven by Mrs. Laverue Decle Hartman, 21, 212 North St., and J. A. Pitman, 61, of Hereford, happened at 7:18 p.m. Friday near the intersection of Ave. I and Union.

Pitman was issued a ticket for negligent collision while backing. No injuries were reported. Damage estimations to the vehicles have not yet been determined.

Both Cannon and Amarillo Air Force Bases will put on air shows, but on separate days.

A huge barbecue is to be served for the public, speeches will be heard and, possibly, an airplane given away to some lucky person. However, plans for the latter have not yet been formulated.

Alternates were Robert Strange of the Yankees and Jim Higgins of the Giants.

Smith plans to have the Little League park completely worked over before practice begins fully. "The boys will be playing in some of the best parks, equipped with some of the best facilities. They might as well get used to playing on the best," he said.

The team will open against Canyon in Pampa, July 22.

Youth Undergoes Ninth Operation

A 14-year-old boy underwent skin grafting surgery in Deaf Smith County Hospital Saturday morning — the ninth such operation since he was severely burned Oct. 28, 1957.

Gerry Lynn Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurmon Holt, received his burns when a gasoline can exploded that was sitting too close to a fire he was starting near his Farmington, N. M., home. He was hospitalized there until late in January.

The Holt family recently moved to Hereford, and the father is presently employed by Chester Minyen as a farm hand.

The repeated surgery has been required on the boy's chest, where grafting has failed to heal. This is his first operation here.

Hospital manager T. E. Selger Friday said the local hospital had recently acquired a first in the Panhandle. The instrument, called an Ultrasonic Instrument Cleaner, reportedly cleans delicate instruments in a matter of minutes where it formerly required an hour or two scrubbing by a nurse. Instruments are placed in a vat of water and detergent, the motor turned on, releasing sound waves which strike the metal, creating a vacuum which knocks off any foreign particles.

NEW YORK — Art Carney started his acting career as a lonesome entertainer.

"I was too shy to go out for the high school drama society," admits the longtime television comic who is now starring in the Broadway drama, "The Rope Dancers."

"Because of my timidity, I began developing solo stuff." His talent at imitations finally won Carney a break in show business and, he adds, "gradually I got over the shyness."

Top O' Texas Rodeo To Feature 'Kelly, Hollywood Wonder Dog'

Top o' Texas Rodeo officials announced this week that contracts have signed for the appearance of "Kelly, Hollywood's Wonder Dog," who will be featured nightly at this year's show.

Kelly starred in the motion picture, "Kelly and Me." A Technicolor production by Universal-International Studios.

At a meeting of committee chairmen this week, the various divisions of the show were in final planning stages. The new lighting system, which will increase the light in the arena by about five times, has been completed.

Five car loads of gaily bedecked cowgirls distributed 1,000 window cards in the Top o' Texas area Thursday of this week.

On July 28, Rodeo Headquarters will open in the lobby of the Pampa Hotel, at which time advance sale of reserve seats will begin and all entries will be taken.

The Rudy Nance Band of Oklahoma City will play at the show each night, and Leon McAuliffe and his Cimarron Boys of Tulsa, Okla., will play for dancing nightly.

A full schedule of downtown entertainment is being arranged by Pampa merchants.

Indians Regain League's Lead

Righthander Jim Haney hurled a smooth five-hitter as the Indians stopped the Tigers, 14-1, Monday night and jumped back into first place.

Haney's teammates provided him with some good support picking up 13 base hits. Leading the attack were Eugene Jennings, Dickie Slaughter, and Ken Loerwald.

Jennings had two for five driving in three runs and scoring two, Slaughter had two hits in three trips to the plate. He also scored two and drove home two. Shortstop Loerwald had two for four, with two runs batted in.

The Indians also were helped by ten Tiger errors.

Haney had trouble only in the opening inning when the Tigers scored their only run on a double by Jay Boynton and a single by Joe Mack Hale.

The White Sox and Red Sox had a slugger's battle Tuesday night with the White Sox winning in a football score, 17-14.

It was the White Sox first win in second half play. They dropped the Red Sox into a tie with the Tigers for second place.

Top hitters were Joe Guerra of the White Sox and Virgil Strange of the Red Sox. Guerra had three for five, scoring three runs and driving across two. Strange had three for four. He scored two runs. Marcus Jacobson also had a good night, banging out two hits in his three times at bat. He also drove in three runs.

Teach Child to Swim At Six, Kiefer Advises

By EDWARD S. KITCH
CHICAGO (AP) - Adolph Kiefer, the 1936 Olympic 100-meter backstroke champion, still is in the swim.

In fact, in or out of the water, Kiefer is doing his bit to advance swimming as a sport and recreation.

Both Dale and Jack already are breaking records as they prove themselves chips off the old block. In age group competition, Dale has accomplished the breaststroke, backstroke, free style, butterfly and individual medley - a combination of several strokes.

"Those who swim the most, swim the best," says Kiefer. To make swimming more convenient, Kiefer plans to install a new 25 by 60-foot pool in the backyard of his Northfield, Ill., home.

"We expect to have all the swimmers over to utilize it. It will be strictly a training pool," says Mrs. Kiefer. "Then we'll have an hour just for bathers."

Kiefer says the secret in teaching swimming is to start a child early, at age 6 or 7.

Harry Holiday of the University of Michigan.

While serving with the Navy during World War II, Kiefer trained more than 11,000 swimming instructors.

SUGGESTS ALCOHOL SOLUTION

GREEN LAKE, Wis. (AP) - A Jesuit priest, speaking at a Methodist School of Alcohol Studies here, suggested the formation of community organizations to promote sobriety - including tee-totalers and moderate drinkers. Thus, said the Rev. John C. Ford, of Weston, Mass., the two main schools of thought on temperance could work together for the cause.

KNOX CITY VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson and Dick left Friday morning for Knox City to visit her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich Lee. The group planned to go to Sonora on business. The Wilsons plan to return Tuesday.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I clean a white Panama hat?
A. Use a suds of white laundry soap, adding ammonia until the water feels soft; then add for each pint of suds one tablespoon of glycerine. Wash the hat in this, using a soft brush, lay on a board and dry in the shade. Or, clean it by rubbing with a cloth saturated with peroxide of hydrogen.

Q. How can I clean a sour sponge?
A. Try rubbing a fresh lemon thoroughly into the sponge and then rinsing it several times in lukewarm water. It will become as sweet as when new.

Q. How can I waterproof shoes?
A. Apply castor oil to the shoes about twice a week, and they will be waterproof.

Q. How can I eradicate honey-suckle that has spread over quite an area of ground?
A. About the only successful method is to dig it out by the roots, then cultivate the ground severely with something that will smother any remaining roots.

Q. How can I remove grease spots from a carpet or rug?
A. By rubbing with a mixture of fuller's earth, oxgall, and water. Rinse thoroughly with clear water, then rub as dry as possible with a dry cloth.

Q. How can I make certain that cream will not curdle?
A. If the sweetness of cream seems uncertain, stir a pinch of soda into it. This will prevent curdling even in hot coffee.

Q. How can I remove blood stains from fabrics?
A. Soak in cold water for about an hour and then wash in warm water and white soap. If the stains are old, they can sometimes be removed by wetting with cold water and covering thickly with powdered starch. Allow to stand for several hours, then wash. If this is not effective, it might be necessary to use a bleaching solution after soaking.

Q. How can I remove the silk easily from corn when preparing it for canning or for the table?
A. Use a small hand brush. It performs the work much quicker and easier than the fingers.

Q. How can I get rid of red ants?
A. Place a saucer containing a little paregoric near the haunts of red ants, and they will soon disappear.

Q. How can I give a grain effect to wood?
A. Beauty of finish and the greatest possible grain effect can be obtained with a treatment of linseed oil applied directly to the bare wood.

CLAIMS THE SECRET
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Dr. James Peterson, University of Southern California domestic expert and author who has been married 23 years, says adaptability is the secret.

As an illustration, he said an engraved wedding ring his wife ordered for him as a surprise was too large for his ring finger. Rather than have it cut down and destroy the sentimental engraving on the inside of the ring, he always has worn it on his second finger.

Legumes In Rotation Best For Fertilization

By MAX SCHRADEK
It is often asked why it is necessary to grow legumes in the rotation when there appears to be other equally effective means of maintaining the soil fertility at a fairly high level.

This is, of course, true. There are many methods that appear to do a good job in respect to maintaining production. The local practice of shredding, chopping, disking and fertilization of residues is a very effective means. The residues are returned to the soil where the decomposition is hastened by the action of fertilizers. These residues are very important, but there is another factor to consider that is equally so.

The crops that are a regular part of our rotations are ordinarily very shallow-rooted. Under some circumstances they grow quite deep, but the usual depth does not go much farther than our plow or often-called hardpan. In other words we aren't using crops that can provide for keeping this part of our soil open and permeable. Most of the plant food and moisture is taken from this shallow area. The greatest part of the moisture storage is thus limited by the depth to the plow pan. The soil-improving crops best adapted to penetrating this nearly impermeable layer are our grasses and legumes. Grasses, being perennial plants, develop quite slowly. They commonly need several years of growth to give the greatest benefit. This would hardly fit most farmer's rotations, so actually the next best bet is that of legumes.

Legumes are able to do what our other crops are unable to do. Their root systems are capable of penetrating the plow-pan, thus opening up the soil for greater storage of moisture and plant food. The roots produced serve to distribute organic material deeper into the soil, leaving pipelines open for the more rapid intake of moisture. Crops that follow are able to develop better root systems.

Fertilized legumes are important to a fertile soil. The nitrogen and bacteria growing in their roots serve to spring loose other minerals. They not only give excellent protection to the soil, but add needed plant food by breaking down the mineral foods into a form that can readily be assimilated by the following crops. They are capable of making available to crops certain plant foods that are tied up and ordinarily unavailable. No other crop has this capability. Its roots alone provide an enormous amount of organic material in addition to that on the surface.

This organic material is badly needed at the lower levels of the soil. These areas, too, must be kept permeable and fertile. Soil in this condition is better equipped to absorb and store moisture for the growing crops. It means a source of plant food from all levels.

There are a number of adapted annual legumes, any of which is capable of bringing new life to soil. Cowpeas, winterpeas and vetch can be used in interplanting with sorghums or other crops. Vetch has shown good results when interplanted with wheat and grazed. Interplanting doesn't give the quick results of a solid planting, but after being continued in use for several years it approaches that of a pure stand.

Yanks Win Season Final; Finish Loop Undefeated

This season's Little League ended Friday night as the Yankees won their fifteenth straight game of the year by crushing the Giants, 9-2.

The Yankees, undefeated for the year, took the victory without the services of their top player, Van Smith, who was out with an injured foot.

It was catcher Steve Hodges and "old reliable" S. D. Baize that won it for the Yanks. Hodges collected three hits in four trips to the plate and Baize did the same.

Danny Cates and Baize shared the mound duties again and yielded only seven hits to the Giants.

Although it was late in the season, the Dodgers finally played some good ball, beating the Cardinals Thursday night, 17-7.

They started strong and finished strong, picking up nine runs in the first three innings and eight in the last two.

All-star Barry Gaggart and Dey Barton led the Dodger attack. Gaggart had two for four, scoring three runs, while Barton had two hits in three times at bat.

David Marcontell and Lynn Warren shared the pitching chores, giving up only seven hits.

In minor league play the Cardinals topped the Dodgers, 15-4 and the Giants blasted the Yankees, 26-14.

Hi-Plains Is Named Certified FHA Agcy.

The Hi-Plains Savings and Loan Association has been designated as a certified agent for approval of FHA loans, according to James Headstream, manager, who said this week that FHA home loans for Deaf Smith, Castro, Parmer and Randall Counties may now be approved locally, rather than having to be processed in Lubbock as in the past.

Announcement of the FHA designation coincided with 10 months operation by the loan firm, which opened its doors in Hereford on Aug. 26, 1957.

Headstream said that the firm now has savings accounts in the amount of $647,451.95; also 73 home loans in the area, totaling $615,888.96, and 22 Title I FHA loans amounting to $24,481.18.

Dividends paid by the association on Dec. 30, 1957, totaled $2,911.05, while dividends paid on June 30, 1958, amounted to $8,674.85, paid to 412 shareholders.

Repair Work at Hospital Begins

Extensive work began last week removing and replacing gas, water and steam lines to and underneath the old section of Deaf Smith County Hospital, it was stated Thursday evening at a regular meeting of the hospital board of directors.

The lines, worn mostly through age, were beginning to leak, manager T. E. Seigler stated. He presented a section of gas line to the board members showing them the extent of corrosion.

Applications to become members of the hospital medical staff were approved by the board for both Dr. Bruce Beattie and Dr. Lawrence Beyer. The two new physicians joined the Hereford Clinic July 7.

A letter informing the board the hospital had been accredited for another year by a national board was read by Seigler. Being accredited, board president Dr. A. T. Mims explained, only means that the hospital is operating at standards set by leading medical authorities in the nation.

Accredited hospitals must have a minimum of 25 beds to qualify. The county hospital received its first accreditation last year.

Three recommendations were made as result of an investigator's visit in May, enlargements to the kitchen, drug room and laboratory. Immediate study is being made for the kitchen's expansion, but, according to Seigler, the laboratory and drug room are sufficient for the present. However, he said, study will be made toward improvement.

Nuptials Read In Summerfield

The Summerfield Baptist Church was the scene of 6 p.m. rites Tuesday, which united in marriage Miss Shirley Ann DeLozier and Robert Baldwin. The Rev. B. H. Baldwin, pastor of the Frio Baptist Church and father of the bridegroom, officiated. The reception following the ceremony was held in the educational building of the church.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. G. H. DeLozier of Summerfield.

Candelabra and baskets of white chrysanthemums and greenery formed the decorations at the altar.

Miss Ann Lookingbill, organist, and Gene Streun, vocalist, provided the traditional wedding music. Music included "Through the Years" and "The Wedding Prayer" by the vocalist. "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" was also played during the ceremony, and wedding marches were played for the processional and recessional.

Mrs. Oran Howell and Miss Dorothy Wright of Dimmitt served as the bride's attendants. They wore identical pale blue full-skirted dresses and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations.

Darold Baldwin, brother of the bridegroom, was his best man and Lee DeLozier served as groomsman. Ushers were Godfrey Baldwin and Eugene Baldwin.

Cynthia McMinn and Lollie DeLozier lighted the candles and Linda Noland registered the guests as they arrived.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of white lace with fitted bodice having a low round neck and short sleeves, and full-gathered skirt. Her scalloped veil of illusion was attached to a half-hat, encrusted with seed pearls and rhinestones. Elbow lace mitts completed her costume, and she wore a single strand of pearls with matching ear rings.

The bridal bouquet was of white carnations tied with pale blue satin streamers, and was carried on a white Bible.

For the reception, the bride's table was laid with a white cut-work cloth over blue. Decorations were the attendant's bouquets, and a three-tiered wedding cake.

Dawson-Clark Vows Read

Candelabra and baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums flanked an arch of greenery and white pom pom chrysanthemums at Kreig-Marcum Chapel Saturday, when Miss Patricia Dawson became the bride of Richard Clark at 2:30 p.m. The Rev. Jerry Dawson, cousin of the bride and pastor of the First Baptist Church of McDade, read the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dawson, 219 Lee Ave.; and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Clark, 235 Ave. I.

Mrs. Jack Burrus, organist, played a medley of nuptial music preceding the ceremony and accompanied Miss Colline Brown of Dumas, who sang "I Bring a Love Song" and "If I Could Tell You." Mrs. Burrus also played "Because" during the ceremony and the traditional wedding marches.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Donna Sue Guseman, and bridesmaids were Patsy Cowart and Susie Loerwald. The honor maid wore a princess-style dress of foam green crystalline over taffeta, styled with puff sleeves with shantung shoes to match. The bridesmaids' dresses were styled identical to that worn by the honor maid in shrimp color. All three carried nosegays of pink and white rosebuds, arranged with fluffs of material to match their dresses.

Becky Dawson, niece of the bride, served as flower girl, wearing a dress similar to that of the honor maids, with scattered rose petals from a lace basket.

Darrell Dawson, brother of the bride, served as best man, and groomsmen were Bobby Ramey and Rex Cowart. Ushering were Charles and Reese Dawson, both brothers of the bride.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of lace and silk organza over taffeta. The torso bodice was detailed with iridescent sequins forming rosebuds to outline the Sabrina neckline. The bodice met the voluminous skirt, worn over hoops, in a deep point in front with bustle in the back.

The skirt terminated in a chapel-length train. A regal crown of tulle and net, embroidered with seed pearls, held her waist-length veil. She carried a white Bible, topped with a single white orchid showered with white satin streamers, and a handkerchief, carried by her paternal grandmother and great-grandmother.

Mrs. Richard Clark, formerly Miss Patricia Dawson. (Angel Photo)

The bride's mother wore a pink lace sheath with white accessories and a white gardenia. Mrs. Clark, the bridegroom's mother, wore blue lace with white accessories and a white gardenia.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. G. H. Logan, 305 Star St. The bride's table was covered with a shrimp-colored cloth, overlaid with a white linen cut-work cloth and centered with shrimp-colored gladioli. Rose Dawson ladled punch, Ruth Dawson served the wedding cake and Margie Oakley presided at the guest register.

Others in the house party were Mrs. Fannie Starrett of Crosbyton, Mrs. Bill Hicks of Plainview, Jeni Logan, Mrs. Ira Ott, Mrs. J. C. Mayfield and Mrs. G. H. Logan.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to points in Colorado, the bride was wearing a mint green suit with matching shoes and white accessories, and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School, where she was a member of Tri-Hi-Y and served as secretary and treasurer for Distributive Education Club. She is employed by the Deaf Smith County Electric Co-Op.

Mr. Clark, who also attended Hereford schools, is presently employed as assistant parts manager for the Orsborn-Norwood Chevrolet Company. After July 21, the couple will reside at 235 Ave. I.

Engagement, Marriage Plans Are Revealed At Tea Saturday

Miss Virginia Sigle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Sigle, 135 Star, will become the bride of Byron F. Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Bennett of LaGrange, Ill., Aug. 23.

The engagement and approaching nuptials were revealed at a tea given in the Sigle home Saturday afternoon from 3 to 6.

Receiving the guests at the tea were the honoree, her mother, and her sister and sister-in-law, Miss Marilyn Sigle and Mrs. Don Sigle, both of whom will serve as attendants in the wedding.

Decorative arrangements marked the refreshment table, and seasonal flowers were used throughout the house. The bride-elect's chosen colors of pastel pink and azalea pink were repeated in appointments. The table was laid with a bluish pink taffeta cloth, overlaid with an embossed pale pink net cloth and skirted with ruffles of net. Centering the table was a tiered epergne-arranged with pale pink candles and pink sweetheart and American Beauty rosebuds.

The approaching nuptials were revealed on wide pink satin ribbons with "Virginia and Byron - August 23" inscribed in silver. Pink-tinted tea cakes and filled sandwiches, along with other tea dainties, repeated the chosen colors.

Members of the house party included Mesdames Norman Gray, Bert Boomer, Cecil Billingslea, Alton Warren, Norma Wilson, Stanley Slagle, Richard Pickins, W. S. Fluitt, and Ray Johnson.

The couple will be married in the Hereford First Methodist Church. Sorority sisters at the University of Colorado will serve as attendants in the wedding.

Miss Sigle is a graduate of Hereford High School and a 1957 graduate of the University of Colorado at Boulder. For the past year she has been employed with the Rilco Laminated Products Co. in St. Paul, Minn.

Mr. Bennett graduated from the University of Colorado in 1956, and was employed in a training program with the Standard Oil Company of Indiana before entering the Army. He will complete his army service in Korea about Aug. 1. After their marriage, the couple plan to make their home in Chicago.

Tyler - Edwards Marriage Is Announced By Family

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Edwards, Rt. 3, are announcing the recent marriage of their daughter, Zora Olivia, to Bobby Lee Tyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tyler, Rt. 3.

The wedding took place at 2:30 p.m. Sunday June 29, in the Grace Gospel Church with the Rev. H. V. Fields conducting the single-ring ceremony.

Miss Nelda Mae Barnett, pianist, played the traditional wedding marches, and baskets of gladioli and greenery were used in decoration at the altar.

Attendants were Miss Sandra Moore and Gary Wayne Tyler. Miss Moore wore a white nubby-weave cotton frock made with fitted bodice and full street-length skirt.

A matching stole was caught in the back by a single pink rose. Lace gauntlets completed her costume, and she wore a wide-brimmed matching lace hat. She carried a white Bible, topped with pink and white carnations.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Bill Byers, 421 Ave. I. The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth, and Miss Judy Dodson and Mrs. Dwayne Byers served punch and wedding cake.

Decorative arrangements of lilies, daisies and gladioli marked the entertaining rooms, and guests were served from two tables.

Watch Step On Summer Blind Date

By VIVIAN BROWN

Summer is the season when blind dates thrive, when romantic mountain and beach belles expect to meet their heroes in some unexpected place — emerging unannounced from the briny deep, in the moonlit glow of a garden party, or even in an air-conditioned movie.

The girl who accepts a blind date should be aware of the importance of the social amenities involved.

1. The boy should not be a friend of a friend of a friend. The person who recommends a blind date should be someone of responsible character — parent of a friend, a relative, respected teacher. It is the duty of that person to know the blind date well.

2. There should be others present on the date. Another couple who have known each other for a long time or dated many times before is a safe bet.

3. You have no obligation to the blind date, no matter who has made the introduction. If he is surly, a speed-demon, a parking problem, boorish or a bore, it is your privilege to cut the evening short. Give him the brush-off just as you would any other date. Aunt Myrtle may be a good friend of his mother, but that doesn't always give a clue. A dotting mother can make a son sound like Prince Charming to willing listeners.

4. When a blind date is suggested to you it is a good idea to ask the age of the boy, and get some information about his background. If he is out of your sphere as far as mutual interests go, it is better not to accept the date. (For example: You hate sailing, and he owns a boat, and all he lives for is a day on the water. If the date is to be for a sail, don't think that by accepting it you can change his mind at the last minute.)

5. It's a good idea not to seek a blind date or act too eager about one that someone is making for you. In the worst possible taste is the telephone call from a girl to a boy discussing a proposed blind date. The boy and girl should be properly introduced by the person who is the go-between.

It is true that one can be pretty lonely at a summer resort, responding invitingly to an anonymous note or phone call, prompted by the same loneliness on the part of the male. Sometimes if the suggestion is made that the boy find a mutual friend for purposes of introduction, there is no harm in accepting the date. It is folly, however, to accept a date over the phone from a stranger to meet

Indiana Director To Conduct At West Texas State Music Camp

CANYON (Special) — One of the nation's top college band directors, Dr. Ronald D. Gregory of Indiana University, will be a guest conductor and instructor at the sixth annual West Texas State Music Camp, Aug. 4-15, at West Texas State College.

Director of bands at Indiana, Dr. Gregory will conduct the camp's Symphonic Band, which will be composed of the best musicians, to be chosen by audition. The Symphonic Band is one of three concert groups to be organized for the camp, along with a reading band, a choir, twirling and instrumental ensembles.

The camp gets underway with registration and organization on Aug. 3, and continues with daily rehearsals, section meetings, and a full schedule of music activities through Aug. 15. Camp director is David L. Kaplan, assistant professor of music at WT.

Dr. Gregory became director of bands at Indiana in 1956 and quickly brought the university's four bands — Marching Hundred, Symphonic, Varsity, and ROTC — into prominence. He was formerly director of bands and chairman of music education at the University of Utah, and director of music in the Franklin, Ohio, public schools.

The bandsman, now president of Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary fraternity for bandsmen, earned his B. S. and M. A. degrees at Ohio State University and his Ph. D. from the University of Oregon. He is currently Indiana State Chairman of the College Band Directors National Association.

A member of the American Bandmasters Association, Dr. Gregory will also serve during the summer as a guest conductor at the International Peace Gardens in North Dakota, the Indiana University Summer Music Clinic, and the Western States Band Clinic in Los Angeles. He has served as guest conductor, clinician, and adjudicator in 30 states.

The West Texas Music Camp, with an enrollment of 300, will feature concentrated study of instruments, twirling, choral work, and other classes, as well as a well-rounded recreational program during its two weeks. A number of concerts by the camp bands will be open to the public, and a "grand finale" concert by all groups will wind up the camp Aug. 15.

Zucchini: A Versatile Squash

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A cook who gets on familiar terms with the member of the squash family called zucchini won't be sorry. Its mild but versatile qualities have enchanting possibilities.

Zucchini is sometimes called Italian squash, and it is often used and enjoyed by cooks who have fallen heir to recipes from Italy. It is usually about eight inches long, a pretty dark green with lighter stripes. On the thin side, it resembles a cucumber, but smaller and larger zucchini do find their way to market.

For many dishes, zucchini does not need paring. But it does have to be dunked in cold water and thoroughly scrubbed because the green surface is slightly grooved and rough.

One of the most delicious ways to use zucchini is in salad. Thin unpared rounds of the vegetable are given a few minutes boiling in water, then drained and chilled. The slices may be added to a bowlful of greens and tossed with dressing. Or they may be marinated in olive oil, wine vinegar, salt, pepper and prepared mustard and served on a platter of antipasto.

Try the following delicious way to combine the squash with eggs. When you first add the slightly beaten eggs to the zucchini that has been cooked lightly in oil, it may seem there is more oil than necessary. But as the vegetables and omelet are lifted from the sides, the oil is absorbed and it keeps the eggs from sticking to the pan. We like this dish for lunch with crisp bacon and hot buttered toast. Put the buttered toast in a low oven to keep hot and get crisp.

ZUCCHINI OMELET
Ingredients: 1/4 cup corn oil, 2 cups thin sliced unpared zucchini (2 that are each about 8 inches long), 4 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon white pepper, 1/4 cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese.

Method: Heat oil in 10-inch skillet. Add squash and cook gently, stirring occasionally until lightly browned and tender—about 5 minutes. Beat eggs, with salt and pepper, enough to combine yolks and whites; beat in cheese so that there are no lumps. Pour over squash and cook over moderate heat. As mixture sets, with wide spatula or pancake turner, lift edges and tilt pan so soft portion runs down to bottom of skillet. When still slightly soft on top, cut in wedges in pan and turn each wedge over to brown the other side lightly. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Note: This omelet turns out well if cooked in a 10-inch square electric skillet; use setting designed for omelet (probably 300 degrees) turning heat down while cooking squash if it is browning too fast. The mixture will make a thinner layer than if cooked in this size round pan, but it will be easy to turn.

WORTHLESS THEFT
ELRIN, ILL. (AP)—John P. Knowles parked an old-fashioned kitchen sink he replaced with a new one in the back yard, but someone stole it.

He has made the sink naper a sporting offer.

"If this fellow will drop a round, I will gladly turn over the two antique faucets, and I won't even ask him any questions," Knowles said.

Residents have been busy working at the Community House.

The windows have been washed and curtains are being made for them. A new cess pool has been dug to improve the plumbing. The floors were sanded, and a finish put on them.

The grounds surrounding the building have been leveled and all the weeds were mowed. Among those working on the three day project were Harold Head, Donald Bingham, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Maul and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Landers, Mrs. J. C. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wilson, Mrs. W. D. Patter-

He said he would appreciate letters from his friends. His address is Harley W. Alsop, OR Division, USS Salisbury Sound AV-13, % PFO, San Francisco, Calif.

How To Win Friends And Be Popular

By VIVIAN BROWN

Every girl wants to be popular. Some girls can earn popularity effortlessly just by being themselves. Other girls must avoid being themselves to maintain popularity.

A new book by Joyce Jackson, "Guide to Winning Friends and Popularity," emphasizes personality pointers.

Conversation, she says, is recreation. People enjoy it. "The first requirement of good conversation," points out Miss Jackson, "is knowledge. Ask questions to stimulate conversation, but never ask anything personal that would not be in good taste."

"Sometimes a person, eager to show friendliness, will tell intimate details of family affairs. . . never good material for conversation."

It's a good idea not to confide in people about how poor you are or how abusive relatives are to you, she says. These are personal problems best not discussed in conversation. She adds:

"Try never to contradict your conversational partner. . . you may not agree with his choice of candidates in the forthcoming election, but try to keep the conversation from degenerating into a solid argument. Change the topic of conversation, the moment your pleasantness toward it starts diminishing."

Most people talk too much anyway, says Joyce Jackson explaining: "They drop that extra bit of gossip which was not at all called for. . . they add extra comment about themselves which makes them appear to be braggarts."

Miss Jackson says she remembers the advice she once overheard at a meeting of salesmen, to whom the speaker said, "If you can sell your product by saying 'ba' then for heaven's sake don't say 'ba-ba'."

Avoid annoying mannerisms too, if you'd be popular, she advises. She lists some of these as: Scratching the head, biting the fingernails, locking and unlocking the fingers, talking with a cigarette in the mouth, or filing the fingernails, all within eyeshot of other people.

It's good to know, she says, that the hostess should be complimented on the meal, without singling out one specific dish and asking her how it was prepared. This goes for her home, too, in that a casual comment such as "your home is beautiful" is more fitting than comments about furniture, piece by piece.

Physical appearance reflects your personality, also. Be careful when you shop for clothes. Do not buy anything when you are tired, and don't be influenced by other people's opinions. Use the nail polish, lipstick and other cosmetics that you feel go with your personality.

A cultured voice is soft, low-pitched, slow speaking. It says "yes" instead of "yeah," reminds Miss Jackson. She also points out that good clothes will do you no good, if you do not have good posture. Walk with your head up, your shoulders back, or otherwise do not expect that you will command much admiration from onlookers.

It requires about 35 gallons of sap to make one gallon of maple syrup.

A 'Lady' Defined Past and Present IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW

By BETTY BABIONE
In the current issue of LOOK magazine, there is a comparatively short article with the intriguing title, "Is here a Lady in the House?" Author Russell Lynes has taken an informal poll in an attempt to determine a modern-day definition of a lady. And he puts before the reader a provocative question: "Have our ideas of what a 'lady' is, changed for better or for worse?"

Looking back over the past 58 years, and about that many different connotations of the word "lady", Mr. Lynes compares the rigid and precise rules regarding ladies to the present day when, apparently, a lady cannot be specifically defined.

For the lady of 1900 there were a dozen definite-dos and don'ts:

1. A lady never raises her hand's above her shoulders in public. (I can't remember, if I ever knew, why this stipulation is made — much less why it rates the number one spot on the list.)
2. A lady never smokes. Only actresses and foreign women smoke. (My, how attitudes have changed about this one!)
3. A lady never crosses her knees. (Never?)
4. A young lady never ventures out unchaperoned in the evening, even when she is with a crowd.
5. A young lady never goes to a bachelor's lodgings for tea, even though there is a crowd, unless the party is properly chaperoned. (Since this and number four specify "young" lady, I assume that old ladies were exempt from these rules.)
6. A lady never goes into the street without her hat and gloves.
7. A lady never uses lip rouge. (Bright she might have been, but couldn't look it.)
8. A lady never removes her gloves when making a formal call.
9. A lady never calls a new acquaintance by her Christian name unless requested to do so.
10. A lady never engages in argument at any social gathering.

ing. (This one has changed less than any, if at all.)
11. A lady always sits with the base of her spine against the back of the chair. (So there couldn't be such a thing as a "spineless" lady.)
12. A lady never discusses her children, servants, clothes, ailments or dwelling except with her intimates. These are the five forbidden "D's" — descendants, domestics, dress, diseases and domiciles. (Here again, the attitude has changed very little.)
So far as present day ladies are concerned, the author found that definitions overlap but they almost never coincide.

He discovered that a great many women don't think of themselves too well. On the other hand, they expect to be taken for ladies by other people. . . .

"Most men think of their mothers as ladies, since mothers in most cases set their sons' standards of feminine deportment. . . .

"Teen-age boys are likely to divide all women over 20 into two categories — "ladies" and "babes".

"To most men in their twenties, ladies are women over 40. . . .

"To many working women (a category which includes over-busy housewives as well as office workers), ladies are women who have leisure to be immaculately groomed, to smell good, and to sit and listen while others talk."

To be sure, "our notions of what a lady is have changed and are still changing. It is a better word than it used to be. It no longer bears any relation to idleness or the command over the services of others. The implication of social parasite has gone, and so has every trace of snobbishness. No lady is ever rude or overbearing to those who serve her, for she does not think of them as her inferiors."

My favorite definitions, which Mr. Lynes listed as being "modern," are these: "A lady is a woman who creates an atmosphere in which people behave their best," and "A lady is a woman who makes a man behave like a gentleman."

That last one, I suppose, calls for the definition of a gentleman.

INSTALLATION—New officers of the B&PW Club were installed Monday evening at a meeting in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank. They are, from left to right, Mary Bourn, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Madlynne Faughn, treasurer, Mrs. Marie Sears, second vice-president, Jackie Lisenbe, first vice-president, and Mrs. A. man. But me thinks we've carried this idea far enough for one column.

Notes to Gertie, who has been so busy with canning chores that she has no time for chat 'n' gossip these days: Mae Nell Youts is about the happiest person in town, and understandably so. Her hubby returns home from overseas this week.

Another happy person is that lovely little Mrs. George McLean. Catherine (pronounced with a soft, Southern accent if you please) just seems to radiate happiness. . . . And among her many talents is an extraordinary ability to say "just the right thing" to everyone. . . . George imported his pretty bride from Alabama (and Cupid looked exactly like Mrs. Dick Godwin I am told). . . . Congratulations, George, and a great big Texas-size welcome to Hereford, Catherine!

Mrs. John McLean now has two daughters-in-law by the name of Catherine, and she is very proud of both.

At church: the H. C. Williams family have been leaving their Methodist pew vacant in order to hear daughter Sheila play the organ at the Christian Church for a few Sundays.

At the swimming pool: the Wayland Smiths were introducing their tiny daughter to that most wonderful pleasure — cool water on a hot day. . . . and Pat Loerwald was taking advantage of an afternoon off from the reception desk to soak up some sun at poolside.

At the movies: Les Combe and Palmer Norton, two fellas who can surely dish out the good-natured kidding, managed to control their enthusiasm so as not to spoil the ending of "Witness for the Prosecution" for the innocent souls waiting in the lobby.

At Lions Club: a general flurry of activity in preparation for their annual carnival which begins Saturday 19th. And Boss Lion Neil Cooper will get back from the Chicago convention just in time to do his "lion's share" during the carnival after all.

In the kitchen: there has been so much interest in one of Wilma Hill's recipes which wasn't listed in the Cookie

Lady Issue of The Brand, that I decided to pass it on to you here.

These are very simple to make, take no baking (how nice for summertime!), and are as delicious as any baked cookie you ever tasted. For want of a better name, I call them Mary's Minute Marvels — the recipe originated with Mary A. Hill (Mrs. Forrest Hill of Amarillo) and the mixture is boiled for one minute and the result is marvelous!

Mix well in a saucepan: 2 cups sugar, 1 cube oleo, 2 level tablespoons cocoa, and ¼ cup milk (just a little more than ½ cup if canned milk is used).

Allow the mixture to come to a boil and boil for one minute exactly.

Remove from stove and add ¼ cup peanut butter, 3 cups quick oats, and 1½ teaspoons vanilla.

Mix and drop by spoonful on wax paper. Let cookies set on paper for 1½ to 2 hours, until dry and stickiness is gone. And there you have it — happy eating!

Wesley Society Meets Tuesday

"The World Federation of Methodist Women" was the theme of the program given at the regular meeting of the Wesley WSCS, held at the Methodist Church Tuesday evening, with Mrs. Floyd Dunavant in charge.

Mrs. Howard Gore reported on activities in West India and Mrs. Glenn Watts reviewed the women's work in Argentina. Mrs. Alvin Smith presented a short discussion on Methodist societies in Korea. Material given was taken from recent issues of "The Methodist Woman."

The devotional was directed by Mrs. Smith.

Two new members, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Ruth Fetter, were welcomed to the group, and Mrs. Travis Venable was a visitor. Eleven other members attended, and the business program was conducted by Mrs. Gladys Lane, newly-installed president of the society.

Hike On Sewer Charges May Be OK, But Will They Ever Come Back Down

Members of the City Commission Monday night discussed, but took no action on a proposal which would increase Hereford residential sewer charges from 60 cents to $1 per month. One of the chief arguments in favor of the proposal centered around the fact that present charges, comparatively low, are not sufficient to meet payments on bonded indebtedness of the city in a year when water income is sagging sharply as a result of unusual abundant rainfall.

Percentage-wise (66 2/3%) the increase is a stiff one. Overall, however, the total amount will not be extremely great to the individual user, jumping from $7.20 to $12.00 per year. Compared with other towns and cities, it will continue to be a low annual charge. Seen from a health and sanitation standpoint, very few people would be inclined to complain about the cost boost.

By the same token, however, it would be only fair that the rate again be lowered in dry years, when water consumption increases to the point where bond retirements can be handled without the extra revenue. To us, this presents a general complaint which is more or less justified. Usually, when blessed with any surplus, the governing body increases its budget, adds new facilities and, otherwise, manages to get rid of the surplus funds. Seldom are rate raises replaced with rate reductions; once the trouble has been overcome.

Some people may feel that the City Commission should not operate on such a short margin that a dry year could result in possible default on bond payments. To the contrary, we feel that such operation is well in line with making available any possible future reductions. Had the sewer rate been boosted several years back, it is probable that the funds would have been earmarked for other places—and that still another rate boost would be required at the present time. We definitely feel that application of rate increases should not be applied until the revenue is needed and, as the commissioners indicate, that time is now.

Someway, somehow, it is imperative that the City of Hereford meet its obligation on bonded indebtedness. Since most of the current financial strain was created through installation of sewerage improvements, it seems logical that the consumers on this particular utility should pay the additional charge, rather than an increase on water revenue, taxes or from some other phase of city government.

As we pointed out, Hereford rates—even at $1 per month—will still compare favorably with those of neighboring cities and towns. This yardstick, after all, should provide the basis for any proposed adjustment. It should also be carefully investigated by any individual who might be inclined to fight or criticize the rate increase proposal.

UNIFORM POTATOES . . .

Better Markets Open New Vista

A campaign to stabilize marketing of potatoes from the Panhandle-Plains area was announced last week following a meeting of area growers and shippers Saturday. Assisting in the movement will be officials of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Association.

The movement is unquestionably long overdue and, beyond any doubt, should be extended to other commodities (lettuce, carrots, cabbage, etc.) produced in the area. It should, in the first place, eliminate some questionable practices which are bound to arise in loosely supervised marketing of any commodity. Most important of all, though, will be the establishment of a standard quality on all products from the area.

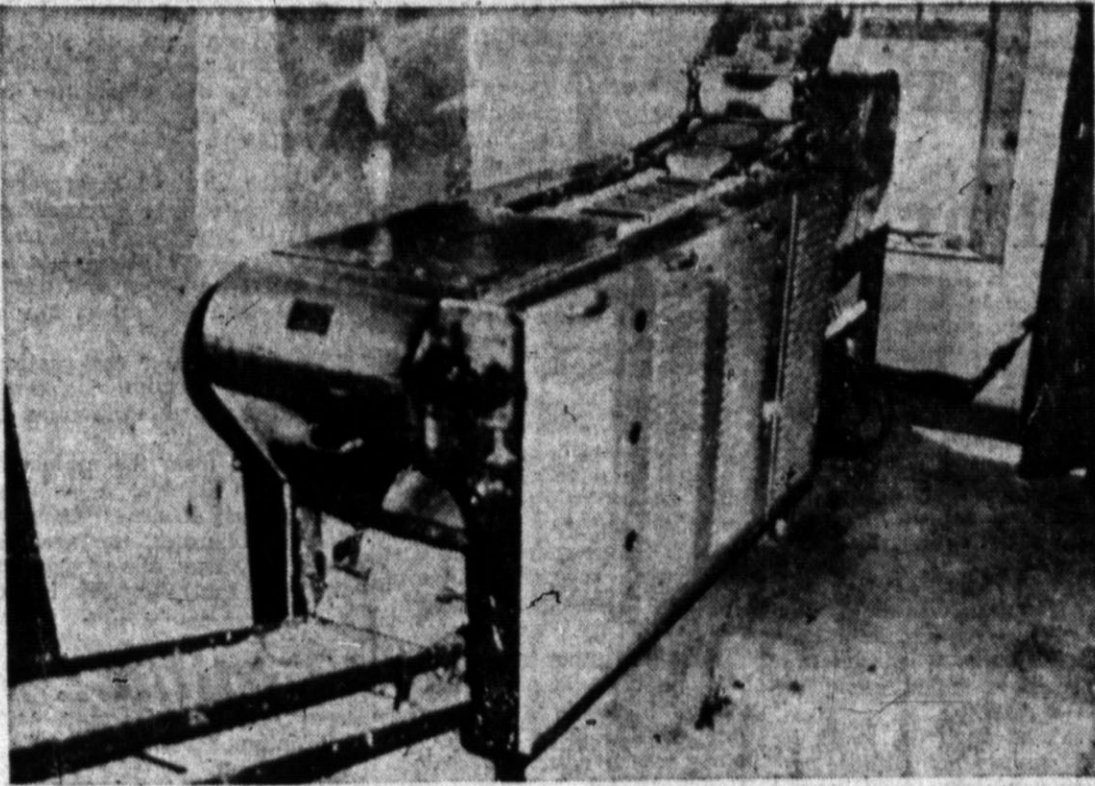

Central market buyers over the country have come to accept Plains produce as "Hereford produce" and, when a bad car shows up they are less inclined to buy the next car offered; it also gives them a chance to "talk down" prices on commodities from this territory.

In Amarillo, for instance, housewives refused to buy Hereford potatoes a few years back. A survey showed that some few growers had marketed "Hereford potatoes" without processing, grading or washing the produce. Despite the fact that they bought the potatoes for $1.50 a hundred, the housewives were prone to forget the price, and to blame the three to five inches of dirt in the bottom of their sack on all Hereford-grown potatoes, regardless of the source or brand.

Local growers and shippers are not strong enough to establish trade brands to the point of demand and acceptance on the part of consumers, especially in more distant territories and, consequently, all produce from the area will be accepted as "Hereford produce," despite the packer, grower or trade brand. In the face of such a situation, therefore, the alternative is to establish marketing standards which will be beyond reproach. Idaho growers have done an outstanding job along this line, as have California fruit growers with their famous "Sunkist" label.

Outside of the trade, the current attempt to stabilize marketing will hold little interest but, after everything is said and done, it could easily be a movement of epoch making consequence. It could open the door for tremendous growth and expansion of an industry which may well re-shape the economy of the entire territory.

Stabilized marketing is unquestionably the best news we have heard from the vegetable front since "Tater Joe" grew the first crop of potatoes here in 1937.

HERE THEY COME—Pictured above are tortillas being made at the Hereford Tortilla Factory, located southwest of town. About 9600 tortillas come off the conveyor belt daily. The product is sold in every grocery store and super market in Hereford and surrounding cities. It is presently selling better than any product of its kind, and "business is getting better every day." (Staff Photo)

'WE THOUGHT WE COULD PROFIT' . . .

Daily Growth Reigns At Tortilla Factory

By DAVID STOKER

Mix white corn with lime and then add water and you're rich!

That seems to be the formula for success of three men who opened a tortilla factory in Hereford last November. The factory, located southwest of Hereford at the Labor Camp, started small and has since grown into a very profitable business, and it seems to be getting bigger every day.

Ramiro Ramirez, Cipriano Ramirez and Mike Castro came to Hereford from San Benito, a town in the Rio Grande Valley. There, they had run a small tortilla factory. It seems that the weather, however, led them to Hereford.

"It was too hot down there, so we moved here because of the better weather," says Ramiro Ramirez. He is 26 years old and has had the most schooling of three, having a high school education. He received his diploma while serving in the Army.

"We also knew there were a lot of Spanish people around here, and since nobody else had a tortilla business, we thought we could profit," he says.

And profit they did. The floor space of their establishment was originally 14 x 16 feet. It has since grown to a much larger 28 x 42 feet, and they expect

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Housing Migrant Labor Suggestions Given For

What, if anything, should the citizens of Hereford and Deaf Smith County do to improve the housing situation for migrant laborers and their families?

MRS. J. L. BARNES—We should have better houses for them and better conditions. I also think the town should be in sections.

JIMMIE ALLRED—I'm not well enough acquainted with that subject to know what could be done. I'll admit that there is a problem, but I'm afraid I'm not qualified to know what should be done.

MRS. A. L. GREENWAY—Well, I think they should provide for them. If they want to keep the migrant workers here, they should provide some better places for them to live.

ARLIN SMITH—I think that we should block off a section of Hereford and separate the different types. It would be better for everyone concerned and would certainly be better for the town.

MRS. O. F. NIXON—I think they should build them some houses in one certain part of town and not have them scattered all over the town.

WAYNE CARTEL—I think there ought to be a section developed for those people and good housing units. They don't have to be fabulous, but they should be modern. We don't have a very good situation here now and I think something really should be done.

MRS. DON W. MOORE—I think we should do something in order to keep our workers here. They are very important to our community. But I don't know whether it should be the city and county instead of the churches.

REV. ALBY COCKRELL—I think we should by all means help them to have better housing and make available houses to them. They are necessary to our economy here and we should do our best by them.

MRS. FLOYD WEST—I think there should be some kind of an ordinance passed whereby some of these old buildings that are being rented to them would be condemned.

J. C. REESE—if we are going to continue as a vegetable producing area requiring labor, I feel we should do something to improve the housing for them, but as to what, I would have to do some studying about it.

MRS. J. O. LEE—For one thing, I think they should paint the houses and clean them up to be as nice as they expect their own homes to be.

SANFORD SMITH—For Hereford itself, I think it would be a good idea to have zones. I think every class of people would be happier. I don't think we especially need new buildings, but a better sanitation program would be a great help.

BOND SALES CLIMB

During the first five months of this year, the citizens of Oldham County purchased $11,087 in Series "E" and "H" United States savings bonds. The announcement was made this week by Raymond L. Thompson, chairman of Oldham County savings bonds committee. "We have now achieved 50 per cent of our 1958 goal of $22,000," Thompson reported. During the first five months of this year, Texans increased their purchases of savings bonds 4.3 per cent. Nationally, the sales have increased eight per cent during this period. Texas sales for the first five months of this year were $75,816,519, which represented 43.3 per cent of the 1958 goal of $173,000,000. This increase in sales is a result of efforts of the savings bonds volunteers who are conducting share-in-America campaigns in most of the major cities and counties throughout the Lone Star State.—THE VEGA ENTERPRISE.

COUNCIL AWARDS BID

Wintroath Pump Co. of Hereford was the low bidder for the "sopping-up" of city well No. 4 at a special meeting of the city council Thursday night in Friona. The council opened bids from the four bidders, Clowe and Cowan, Farmer County Pump Co., Massey Bros. Drilling Co., and Wintroath Pump Co., at 8 p.m., after lengthy study, the bid of Wintroath was accepted at a low bid of $3105-20. The bid includes the price of a new GE electric 60 hp motor and new pumps and bowls designed to raise the capacity of the well from the production of around 450 gallons per minute to 650 gpm. The bid-faking and contract letting procedure occupied the council for a major part of the three-hour meeting.—THE FRIONA STAR.

NEW SIREN INSTALLED

A new siren, designed for both fire and tornado warning, was installed at the top of a 30-foot tower behind the City Hall Friday by members of the Littlefield Volunteer Fire Department. The 10-horsepower siren, which weighs about 400 pounds, was sent through test paces Friday afternoon. It's designed to send a clear, sharp signal out five miles in all directions when wind and weather conditions are right, Fire Chief Mo Dunagin said. Even when weather conditions aren't favorable, the siren will be heard at least two miles away in any direction, Dunagin said. The warning device has 12 horns, which blow in every direction. The steel tower which supports the siren was moved to its site behind the City Hall late Thursday. The 30-foot structure is seated in concrete. The new siren replaces one which had been used since 1924. The old one had only one horn, facing north, and it was difficult to hear only a few blocks away unless weather conditions were favorable.—COUNTY WIDE NEWS (Littlefield)

Judges for the contest will be Forrest Weimhold of the Levelland Sun, Wendell Tooley, associate publisher and advertising manager of the County Wide News and Lamb County Leader and Mrs. Jean Rambo, wife of Publisher Tom Rambo of the Hale Center American. A trophy will be awarded the winner of the bathing beauty contest. Prizes will be given the two runners-up. Trophies will go to the top three contestants in the Little Miss contest.—THE OLTON ENTERPRISE.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his hindwood farm seems to be having trouble keeping up with the international news, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

When it comes to geography, I don't have any trouble in finding my way into Hereford, and if put to it could find my way to Dawn or Dimmitt, and if somebody would furnish the car and pay for the gas and go along to drive I guess I could make it to nearly any town in this country, by trial and error, although I'm perfectly satisfied to stay where I am, but after I get very far away from home, I'm lost.

For example, every once in a while, I'd say on the average of every three months, a new trouble spot breaks out in the world and the newspapers play it up and it sounds bad, although generally I don't know what they're talking about. Right now the world's trouble spot is Lebanon, wherever that is, and a while back it was Algeria, then Saudi Arabia, Seoul, etc. I'm not really familiar with these places. I'm just copying them down from old newspapers I've been saving.

Now here's the thing. They never do seem to solve any of these problems, they just run their course in the papers a few weeks and no more is heard about them, while a brand new trouble spot breaks out some place else.

This skipping around from trouble spot to trouble spot is confusing, and I'm proposing that the world pick out one spot, preferably, one that's easy to spell and pronounce, and let it serve permanently as the world's trouble spot. It doesn't make any difference where it is, so long as it's sitting on a powder keg and has some woods and mountains nearby for rebels to hide out in. It also needs a palace for the official government to hole up in, and there ought to be a good landing field for the U. S. to rush aid in on.

Outside of this, about all they'll need is a comfortable place for the reporters to stay, and the trouble spot will be in business.

The way I see it, one trouble spot's as good as another, and it's sheer waste and a tax on a man's mind to shift it around every few months.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sirs,
I would like for you to put an article in the paper for me, please.

I have a contract with the Sante Fe Railroad to Cooper grain cars. Since January we have had several grain cars slashed with a knife and ruined by a person or persons unknown.

This looks like the work of children, because I don't think an adult in his right mind would do this.

It is getting to be serious when two or three cars ready for loading grain are ruined in a week.

These cars stay on the switch tracks until the elevators get ready to load them, and persons not connected with handling them should stay away from them.

Texas May Someday Have A Seaside National Park

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texans someday may be able to enjoy a seaside national park in their state as well as a mountain park.

Under serious study now by the National Park Service is a proposal to acquire virtually all of Padre Island along the gulf coast between Corpus Christi and Brownsville. An act of congress would be necessary.

It was in 1935 that Congress authorized Big Bend National Park. It wasn't until 1944 that the land was acquired, donated by Texans to the government, and that mountain park along the upper Rio Grande actually established. Now, with Rep. John Young of Corpus Christi and Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen pushing the Interior Department, that agency is making studies to determine the desirability and economic feasibility of the proposed Padre Island National Park.

Late in May, representatives of the National Park Service's southwest regional office at Santa Fe, N. M., joined with Washington officials to make a field study of the island.

While headquarters awaited compilation and analysis of data obtained before issuing recommendations, the chief of planning for the park system, Leo Diederich, made public detailed findings of a 1955 study of potential seashore park areas from Main to Mexico, including Padre Island. Only an outline of that study had been publicized in 1955.

Padre Island, according to that study, is the largest remaining and unexploited stretch of coastline in the nation. The study recommends strongly that the island be developed for public recreational uses.

Here is a thumbnail history and description of Padre Island, which is a little over 100 miles long and varies in width from about 220 yards to a little over two miles.

The 1955 report says: "Padre Island was the domain of the savage, cannibalistic Karankawa Indians when the first Spanish fleet sailed along the beach in 1519."

"Down through the years its bleak expanses invited little permanent settlement until around 1800, when the Spanish priest Padre Nicolas Balli, from whom the island took its name, obtained sovereign right to the island and carried on extensive grazing operations with longhorns and mustangs. "Cattle have continued to be the main residents of the island."

The report proposes that 98 miles of the island be incorporated into a park. This would be all but a small portion at each end which already has been developed by the public at Corpus Christi and Brownsville-Port, Isabel.

This land in 1955 was estimated to have a value of about $3,400,000. It then was owned principally by two men.

"Owner of the largest portion is Albert H. Jones of Kansas City, Mo., who has 56,000 acres fronting on nearly 60 miles of gulf," the report stated. "Another 19,300 acres, in a 27-mile strip, is in the name of Gilbert Kerlin with the firm name of Sherman, Sterling and Wright, New York City."

"The only other comparatively large tract is one that, according to Kleberg County records, contains 22,190 acres, formerly in the name of Jesse T. Kyle."

The island is described as having no trees, but containing a covering of vegetation, with shifting sand dunes and a perfect beach.

"The 98-mile stretch of undeveloped beach at Padre Island," continues the report, "presents an opportunity for beach recreation of a type unmatched by any other area along the Atlantic or Gulf coasts."

"Although the lack of vegetation detracts somewhat from its appearance, the endless sweep of broad beach, grass-topped dunes and wind-swept sand formations has a singular appeal."

"The admirable recreation qualities of Padre Island commend it for preservation as a public use area."

"Separated from the mainland by Laguna Madre, a shallow sound which has a maximum width of 10 miles, the area is described as an almost perfect sanctuary for migratory birds.

to increase in size even more.

A characteristic of their product is the brown and white paper label, which is packaged with the tortillas. The three men designed the label themselves and currently have them made at the Ink Spot Printing and Office Supply Co. A record of the number of labels they have had printed is more proof that their tortilla business is making them money.

In December and February, the men ordered 5,000 labels, in April they ordered 10,000, and in June the amount jumped up to the 25,000 mark.

The factory's tortillas are presently being sold in every grocery store in Hereford, Dimmitt, Plainview, Friona, Canyon, Tulla, Muleshoe, Olton and other panhandle cities. They are delivered in two trucks.

Three months ago the factory made the addition of Mexican bread, and the addition has helped the business considerably. The "bread is selling in stores very good, they say."

"When we first started selling our Mexican bread," says Ramico, "we only used about four sacks of flour a month. Now it takes ten sacks or more."

The men package their own products, and if one should walk into the factory at about 3 p.m., he would find some rather busy people. The factory is running at a full swing then.

The Sunday Brand, Hereford, Texas, Sunday, July 13, 1958

there are seven or eight employees working at the factory. "We don't make much money ourselves, yes," says Ramico, "because we put everything we make back into the factory so that we can grow and someday really make money."

Their product is currently selling better than any of its kind in this area. A lot of sales are made to the people at the camps as well as in grocery stores.

"Business is getting better everyday," says Ramico. About 9000 tortillas come out of the factory everyday, and one might say that tortillas are selling like hot cakes.

Military Duty Influenced Civilian Life of Local Man

By DAVID STOKER

Before he re-entered the Navy in 1946, Sgt. Leon Atchley had never thought about being a policeman.

"I was just an old farm boy and had hardly ever saw a policeman. I had always been afraid to speak to one," he says.

But the training he received as a general master of arms in the Navy influenced him to become a law enforcement officer. He is currently sergeant of the Hereford Police Department and has been on the force since January of 1957.

Life for Leon Atchley began in Gillham, Ark., near Little Rock. He was born there on Sept. 5, 1924 to Mr. and Mrs. Garden D. Atchley. He never knew much of Gillham for his parents moved to Mangum, Okla., and took up farming when he was five months old.

ATCHLEY GREW UP in Mangum, but most of his schooling was received at Willow, Okla., a town near Mangum. In high school Atchley was very active and successful in athletics. He participated in basketball, baseball, boxing and swimming.

After high school graduation, Atchley immediately entered the U. S. Navy. He saw a lot of action in the South Pacific during the heat of World War II. Two of the fleets he served on received presidential citations. Atchley was discharged in January of 1946, but was quickly called back. The Navy needed a man who could train recruits.

It was this term in the Navy that Atchley received his first police training. Acting as a master of arms (about the same as a military policeman), he found that law enforcement was his line.

Following his second discharge Dec. 2, 1949, Atchley went to Elk City, Okla., and started working for the police department there. This was in February of 1950.

Atchley worked there until May of 1951, and then he packed his bags and left for the Amarillo Police Department. This was the first of three different times he was employed by the Amarillo force.

He worked there for nine months before he found a job with the Atomic Energy Commission in Amarillo as a supply guard. It was here that Atchley got his first real police training. He went to police school seven months out of the eight he was there.

In 1952 he returned to the Amarillo Police Department, this time remaining for about 18 months. His absence this time had to do with his farm in Willow.

"My tenant was doing a poor job keeping my farm up, so I had to go back and fix things up. It took me about two years," he says.

After the two years of farming, he came back to the Amarillo Police Department and stayed this time until he came to Hereford in January of 1957.

He and his wife, Betty Jean, make their home at 313 Ave. I. They were married in Oxnard, Calif., April 3, 1947.

Flower Champion Reveals Formula

FANTASTIC FLOWER—Mrs. W. Keith Myers shows off Calumet Beacon, her prize-winning African violet. It is two feet wide.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "You don't need a green thumb to grow African violets, you need a dirty finger."

Four years ago, Mrs. W. Keith Myers was a failure at raising this beautiful tropical plant.

This spring, her fantastic Calumet Beacon, measuring 24 inches across and filled with clusters of double blue and white flowers, took first place in the annual show of the African Violet Club of Greater Kansas City. She won 26 ribbons with 27 plants entered against hundreds of competitors.

How does one go from failure to success? "I felt so frustrated when I saw the beautiful plants at the first show I attended three years ago," Mrs. Myers confessed. "I went to the library and got books on violets and I asked a lot of questions of other growers."

At the next show she attended, one year later, she took eight plants and won six ribbons. These winning plants were raised in windows with natural light. She still grows them this way, but also raises them in trays under fluorescent light in the basement.

What are the fundamentals of successful violet raising:

"Proper care — not casual care. Reasonable humidity. A schedule for fertilizing. Good sterilized soil. Good light."

Explaining her "dirty finger" remark, Mrs. Myers said one

Second Summer Term To Begin

CANYON (Special) — After a long July 4th week end, students of West Texas State College returned to the campus Monday to begin the final week of the first term of summer school, and final examinations were taken Friday.

Registration for the second term will be held July 15, and class instruction starts July 16. Summer commencement exercises will be held Aug. 22 in Buffalo Stadium.

Slated during the second term are two weekend tours to Central City, Colo., the sixth annual West Texas Music Camp, and a Reading Conference sponsored jointly by the WT education department and the Texas Association for the Improvement of Reading.

First weekend tour will be for the Red Rocks Music Festival in Denver and performances of opera at Central City July 18-20. The second tour, for drama, will be Aug. 9-11.

The annual West Texas Music Camp will be held Aug. 3-15, and will attract some 300 area high school musicians to the campus. The Reading Conference, July 29-31, usually draws more than 400 teachers and other school representatives to sessions conducted by well-known reading consultants.

VISIT IN BORGER

Mrs. W. W. Wells and Mrs. Fred Fox were in Borger recently visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Davis, formerly of Hereford.

reason so many fall with violets is that they overwater. One of the best ways to tell when a violet needs watering, she said, is to touch the dirt with a finger. If the soil feels dry, water it. With 400 plants to care for, her finger gets quite a workout.

Now It's The Liquid Look

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Newsfeatures

Indications are that fashions will at least be different for fall.

Designers apparently have heeded the cries of the anguished U. S. male and are making a definite effort to turn out clothes which will make women look like women again, and not like sacks of potatoes.

A new concept called the "liquid look" was introduced at a recent showing of advance fall fashions from an assorted group of designers. Most of these manage to reveal the basic outlines of the feminine form, in one way or another.

There is, for instance, a tightly fitted gold sequin sheath, almost covered by a flowing stole of transparent brown silk organza — this designed by Frieda Snioff. And that astute magician among designers, Cecil Chapman, has done a figure-molding sheath in satin, veiled with filmy chiffon in the new barrel silhouette, caught in just above the knees with a wide velvet band tied in front at the slit in the narrow hemline.

Others employ various devices to achieve a newlooking silhouette, while revealing feminine curves.

Husbands please note.

FREE LANCE LAWYEN

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sheriff L. C. Boies has turned down an offer of help from two prospective lawmen. They wrote him:

"We are starting a police station and we need your permission to put people in our jail."

The two jailers are 13 and 10. Sheriff Boies thanked them for their interest and promised to send a deputy to show how they can be of help but said he's happy with his present jail system.

Clarabeth Holt On Honor Roll

STILLWATER — Clarabeth Holt of Hereford, a freshman in arts and sciences at Oklahoma State university the past semester, was one of 1,706 students named to the Dean's Honor Roll for outstanding achievement.

Only students carrying 15 or more credit hours were eligible for the honor, and they were required to achieve a B average with no grade under C. Registrar Raymond Girod said.

The honor roll listed students from 307 Oklahoma towns, 31 other states and 12 countries and territories outside U. S. borders.

NON-SINGER FAD CONTINUES

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway's new fad — casting non-singers for leads in musical comedies — is continuing. Ben Gazzara has been picked for "Goldilocks," a tune show scheduled to arrive here next October.

The trend started with Rex Harrison in "My Fair Lady," continued with Judy Holiday and Sydney Chaplin in "Bells Are Ringing" and Robert Preston in "The Music Man."

REMEMBER WHEN?

By CHARLIE SEEDS

Their names were Freeman F. Gorden and Charles J. Currell. A lot of people never knew them by those real names... but millions knew their voices and the characters they portrayed. And no one who listened to the radio in those days failed to hear, to know and to delight in "Amos 'n' Andy" when they were first heard on the air.

That was a year when America needed a laugh, for the bubbling prosperity of the past decade had burst, and the country was heading into a trying time. For the decade that followed, and long afterwards, these famous radio characters continued to give Americans many moments of forgetfulness and laughter.

"Amos 'n' Andy" became the oldest continuous series on the air. The year in which their voices were first heard was a real landmark in the history of radio, one which a lot of people can still recall.

Remember the year that was a year when people who had gambled before weren't in a mood to gamble any more. A car buyer wanted a sure thing... a good car and a deal that meant legitimate savings. The year was 1930.

It makes good sense for today's car buyer to want to get all the real savings he can on a new car deal... and that's just what we're offering on the value-packed new 1958 FORD. Just give us a try... and we'll prove what we mean by savings... with a higher trade and the most convenient terms, plus the finest service when you need it. CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO., INC. 145 E. The Best Cooks Choose Gas for Top-Burner Cooking Because It Assures Precision Control for Perfect Results

The added ingredient that puts magic into every recipe in your cookbook is the perfectly regulated Gas flame. Say you have a favorite recipe that requires an instant temperature change — from a quick, intense boil to a slow, gentle simmer. Only a Gas range can give you such drastic changes because only Gas permits such an infinite variety of heats. And only with Gas do you get such instant response when you turn it on... no Heat Hang-over when you turn it off! Not only that, your completely automatic Burner-with-a-Brain — the top burner that actually turns every pot and pan into an automatic utensil — puts an end forever to scorching, burning, and boil-overs. Let us give you all the facts to compare... then visit your gas appliance dealer, soon.

BEST FOR BROILING and BAKING, too!

Closed-door broiling is advisable only in a Gas Range where the clean gas flame actually consumes cooking vapors that otherwise would escape into the kitchen causing unpleasant heat and odor.

Perfect baking results are assured in a Gas Oven where the heat source is not subject to variation... and where the thermostatic control is the most accurate yet devised by mechanical science.

YOUNG MODERNS
Crazy Hats
Are Newest
Beach Fad

By VIVIAN BROWN
This is the year when it's fashionable to keep your head covered when you are basking in the sun, even if you are the so-hat type in winter. Hot sun can burn your hair as well as your skin and a hat, no matter how fanciful, provides a practical protector. In fact, there is a trend to the crazy hat, one that is enlivened with such weird things as trout flies or vegetables.
A pretty, packable hat of terry cloth may be made easily, and does lend a charming note to a beach costume. You may use a towel for it, and if you have some extra towels make a matching poncho. Cut the towel for your terry hat to 25 inches long on one side, 39 inches on the opposite side and 14 inches on either of the two other sides. This is shaped sort of like a lamp shade when you are finished. Hem it all around and sew fancy hooks and eyes to the four corners. Now, hook the two short sides around your head in front, pick up the other two corners, run them in opposite directions and hook them in back.

TERRY TURBAN — Make it yourself with turkish toweling and hooks to cover a wet head on the beach. Handy, too, when that home permanent wave is setting.

Sitting gorks, kindergarden beads or other silly things on a cord, fasten them to curtains or drapery hooks, and attach them into a turban for ear rings.
If you decide to make the little beach coat, sew two matching bath towels together leaving space for your neck.
This terry turban comes in handy too when you give yourself a permanent. Directions usually call for winding a towel around the head, so why not be pretty while your wave is setting. Newer home permanents without lotion simplify the waving process because the waving material is in end papers, no smell or drip.
These are developed for the new breezy, casual hairdos, and you can even get one custom made for your particular hair, so your wave is just the way you like it. This prevents too much or too little curl. This process from straight hair to waves takes only a short while, so you can relax on your porch and look pretty while you take your hair beauty treatment.
If you are going to cavort in the sun, do it gracefully. It is incongruous that some girls who spend a great deal of money on their sun outfits, oil themselves to a disenchanted stage or are such avid swimmers that they spend the summer looking like drowning rats, hair and swim suits dripping wet from early morning until late at night.

Bible Words for Today

LUKE 5:16 — "He withdrew to the wilderness and prayed."

Learning to listen to God in this noisy, demanding world is a difficult yet essential discipline for the 20th Century disciple. Voices and activities clamor for our attention.

The Master faced the same dilemma. In order not to lose sight of His mission He withdrew often into quiet places with God. His disciples were willing to work for the Lord, but they were reluctant to work for power. There was so much to do, the crowds were so demanding; the activity was so impressively important. It was easy to rationalize their failure to wait on God. They were busy being disciples. But the Master knew how quickly their active lives would be deflected from spiritual purposes. He drew them into creative stillness with God.

The modern disciple must learn that attentive silence before God is not a waste of time away from constructive activity. Without such discipline there can be no discipleship. God speaks to us in silent places.

HORSEY TALE

DePUE, Ill. (AP) — Farmer Forrest McKenney has the most likely contender for the title of the "oldest living horse in the country."

His Shetland pony, "Dolly," now toothless and crippled, is 60 years of age, well past the usual life span for horses which is in the 20s. "Gip" Pierson identified Dolly as the same pony his father purchased as a 2-year-old when Pierson started school at age 6.

Pierson now is in his late 60s. He made positive identification by a scar above the Shetland's eye, resulting from a cut he sewed together when he was a youngster.
Dolly now eats mostly grass, McKenney said.
