Moisture Slowing Harvest of Wheat

Weather Joins Merchants

Well, there's this weather. It's just not sensible. It got mixed up with Hereford merchants taking their advice, went y.

For instance, Wednesday it was 80 degrees and balmy. And this is June. Last Wednesday morning it was 50 degrees and blue northern's nephew of d. Gray clouds scudded all morning.

Friday it was kinda May, was 80 degrees and balmy. Wednesday was more like June. It was 85 degrees and hot. Now, 85 degrees and hot. (Continued on Page 2)

Though farmers are having to contend with unusual weather conditions during the past few days, county elevator operators estimate at least 50 per cent of the 155,000 acres of wheat planted in Deaf Smith this year has been harvested.

Tuesday was the best day for cutting, operators report, as wheat was dry and almost every ripe field was being harvested.

Very little cutting was reported yesterday morning because of a late Tuesday shower, but operators said they believed cutting would get in full swing later that day and today.

Wheat sale price yesterday stood at $1.62 per bushel.

Ray Polan at Dawn Co. estimated two-thirds of the wheat in that area has been harvested. The other areas, however, are estimating only 50 per cent.

Girl Bitten by Rattler Saturday

For the second time this month a Deaf Smith county child was bitten by a rattlesnake.

Saturday afternoon on a farm 12 1/2 miles northwest of town five-year-old Evelyn Kay McMellian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McMellian, was bitten by a sand rattler while playing in the front yard of her home.

Gary Landers, 16 months, was bitten while playing in the yard of his home at 205 Higgins early this month. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Landers. Neither of the children were ever in critical condition, according to attending physicians.

Because of the quickness in getting Evelyn Kay to the hospital, the little girl was able to return home yesterday morning after treatment and observation.

THE BUSINESS session of the meeting will highlight the election of six new board members. Vacating posts are Coker, chairman, Bill Decker, Mrs. N. A. Brown, Mrs. Millard Nobles, Dr. A. T. Mims, and Bill Stanford, who resigned earlier because of heavy school duties.

The theme of the meeting will be discussed in symposium by various Red Cross group representatives. Coker will moderate the discussions.

Groups to be represented in the symposium and chairmen are home service, Pauline Howard, disaster preparedness, George Jowell, Junior Red Cross, Mrs. H. A. Cavness, water safety, Bill Hardwick.

First Aid, Marlin Gilliland, nursing services, Mrs. Steve Clements, blood program, Mrs. Lee Benefield, motor corps, Gladys Carroll, and staff aides, Mrs. F. L. Wilhelm.

During the symposium, Glenna Gault and Gary Tanahill will give reports on training they received recently.

Miss Gault, water safety instructor, recently returned from Ardmore Aquatic School in Oklahoma. Tanahill recently received Junior Red Cross training at Goddard School in Wichita, Kan.

Diving Classes To Start Monday

Diving instruction will start Monday at the Hereford municipal swimming pool according to L. B. Russell, manager.

The classes will be taught by Charles Houtchens of Dimmitt, a former Navy instructor. Classes are scheduled from 6 to 7 p.m. five days a week for two weeks. Fee for the classes will be $10.

"If necessary, we will have three different classes, beginners, intermediate and advanced," Russell said. He said interested persons can register at the pool from 2 to 6 p.m. any day through Monday.

Because of the quickness in getting Evelyn Kay to the hospital, the little girl was able to return home yesterday morning after treatment and observation.

ACCORDING TO the story told by the girl's mother, Evelyn and her four-year-old sister Teresa Lee were playing in the front yard near the corner of the house.

"The first thing I heard was Teresa yelling 'snake,'" said Mrs. McMellian, "and then Evelyn shouted 'I've been bit!'"

Mrs. McMellian said she saw the snake crawling away as she ran to her daughter but didn't bother with it when she saw the girl's left ankle was already swelling. She said she picked up the little girl and she and the two daughters drove to the field where the father was planting, and he brought them to the hospital.

"We've already killed three rattlers in the yard this year," Mrs. McMellian said, "and have seen many in the fields and roads. My husband stepped on one while coming out of the barn the other day, but it didn't bite him."

The McMellians moved to Hereford six months ago. They are presently living on the Cade Bros. farm.

Wilson Building Being Remodeled

Remodeling work started Tuesday on the Wilson building, 208 Main Street, following negotiation of a contract with Dixie Stores, according to S. O. Wilson, owner, who said that the building will be completely renovated to house a ready-to-wear store for the national chain.

"A complete new front, lowered ceilings, new lighting, tile floors, and complete heating and cooling system," are included in the contract said Wilson.

Mack Sigel of New York City is architect and contractor on the building, which is scheduled on an August completion date.

New Regulations Learned On Spraying of 'Hoppers

ALL DEAF SMITH county roads will not be sprayed to kill grasshoppers, it was pointed out Monday during a regular meeting of the county commissioners' court.

Because of specifications set by both federal and state cooperating agencies in spraying grasshopper infestation, only those bar ditches of roads fronting land on which the farmer is cooperating in spraying will be sprayed, Lefty Thomas, county agent, said.

Before the specific instructions were sent out by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture and Texas Dept. of Agriculture, it was understood by the county authorities all roads could be sprayed with the expense being split three ways. However, later correspondence changed the picture.

The federal agency is still extending aid to those owning grassland and land in Soil Bank, paying one-third of the cost per acre, not to exceed 25 cents per acre. This cost-sharing of aerial spraying in pasture lands also includes fence rows and road ditches, according to Thomas.

"Those wishing to have their pasture land and bar ditches sprayed should contact my office so we can take bids, which are required by specifications," said Thomas.

Thomas is located on the ground floor of the county courthouse. Federal and state agencies require that before spraying can be done, at least three bids must be taken and the lowest used before they would cooperate in the cost sharing.

Burial was at St. Anthony's Cemetery, under the direction of Kreig-Marcum Funeral Home. Father Raymond Gillis officiated.

The infant died at Deaf Smith County Hospital June 22, following a short illness. He was born May 15, 1958, in Austin. The Torres' came here about a month ago from Austin.

Surviving besides the parents are a sister, Darlene Torres, the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Torres Sr., of Hereford, and Mr. and Mrs. Flaibo Seledbo of Austin.

KRAZY DAZE ARE SUCCESS

Hundreds upon hundreds of local and area shoppers poured into Hereford the first three days of this week, taking part in the merriest shopping spree since business was first set up in the city.

When the shoppers weren't laughing too hard, they were picking up bargains well worth the trip into town, let alone the enjoyment they received.

Businessmen around town said the promotion was far better than the monthly Dollar Day.

Various suggestions to improve future Krazy Daze were offered by participating merchants, but all in all, they felt that the first attempt at this promotion was very successful and should be made an annual event, according to a survey made Tuesday.

The fun-packed Booster Club idea started Monday and ended Wednesday, and individual merchants, clerks, etc., got in the full swing of it from the very start. They contended that Krazy Daze was fun to the shoppers as well as the business people of Hereford, and non-participants missed out on a lot of fun.

Imaginative display-filled windows greeted curious shoppers when they came to town Monday. Attire ranged from tow-sack dresses to clown-type outfits, and any non-conformist was warned that he would promptly be thrown in a water told the court, "and that's to find food. There are a lot of people close to hatching areas who are going to be eaten up."

In other business the court authorized County Judge Homer Henslee to advertise for bids to pave an area around the Bull Barn, a request for air conditioning of a court room was made by Dist. Judge Harry H. Schultz; and a local firm was consulted to take over auditing county financial records. The court decided to advertise for bids to have the area around the Bull Barn paved. (Continued on Page 2)

Brown's Assailants Given Prison Terms

Prison sentences were given to two men in 69th District Court Monday after they pleaded guilty to robbing Ernest (Fatty) Brown, 79, here on April 22.

Daniel Garcia, 26, of LaQuente, Calif., pleaded guilty to charges of assault and robbery and was sentenced to not less than five nor more than 10 years in the state penitentiary at Huntsville.

Joseph Perez Galindos, 31, of Plainview was charged with robbery and being an accessory to a robbery. He pleaded guilty sentenced to five years in prison.

BROWN TESTIFIED in both cases. He said Garcia came to his isolated trailer house on Tierra Blanca Creek about 10 p.m. April 22, beat him, tied him up, threatened to kill him and then took a .410 shotgun, two coats, two hats, two razors and three watches. He said Galindos came up during the robbery and then drove off with Garcia.

Galindos took the stand in his own behalf and four witnesses from Plainview testified for him. In both cases Judge Harry Schultz followed the recommendation of District Attorney Frank McCown in giving the sentences.

Both men were arrested in Plainview the same night of the robbery. They have been in jail in lieu of $10,000 bond each since being arrested. Galindos' 60 days of jail time will count on his prison sentence.

In another trial Monday, Jimmy Adrian Waits, 28, of Hereford pleaded guilty to burglarizing Pat Neill's Body Shop on May 6. Waits was given a two-year suspended sentence.

Roy Riley, convicted of child desertion in Feb., 1957, has his probation sentence revoked and will go to the penitentiary for two years. Riley's probation was revoked for failure to make support payments.

WITNESS—Ernest (Fatty) Brown, 79, is sworn in as a witness in the assault and robbery trial of Daniel Garcia (foreground) in 69th District Court Monday. Garcia pleaded guilty to charges of robbing Brown and sentenced to five-to-10 years in prison. (Staff Photo)

HUMBLE WELL DRILLING TO START SOON

Preparations for spudding in a new wildcat oil well in Deaf Smith County were almost complete Wednesday morning.

The well, staked by Humble Oil and Refining Co., is located on Rehnauer Bros. property 35 miles north of Hereford near the New Mexico state line. The crew was completing a water well and slush pit.

Joe Rehnauer said no heavy equipment had been moved in yet.

In other oil activity, F. H. Lindsay No. 1, owned by Lease and Royalty, Inc., was drilling at 7,385 feet in shale and limestone. The rig is located eight miles southwest of Hereford.

The LaMance No. 1 well, just north of the Lindsay rig, has been shut down temporarily. It brought in a small amount of oil last week but salt water broke through with the oil.

Mrs. Eubanks Returns From Trip Around Globe

"I ran out of health, money and enthusiasm all at the same time, so I came home," explained Mrs. E. C. Eubanks, 711 E. 3rd St. on why she cut her around-the-world tour time short and arrived in Hereford last week.

When she left the latter part of February, Mrs. Eubanks had planned to stay on her trip at least until November.

The caper, she explained, on making up her mind to return early was getting her hand caught in a bus door in Bologna, Italy. She returned as soon as her wound was healed.

Hereford's "Megellan," started on her world tour with a traveling agency. She had planned, after visiting the far and middle East, to leave the planned tour and travel at will over all of Europe, staying four to six months.

Mrs. Eubanks said, "I felt an undercurrent of hard feelings against the Americans everywhere." (Continued on Page 2)

BRIDGE REPLACEMENT—One of the oldest remaining bridges in the county is being replaced, and none too soon, according to County Commissioner Charley Sowell and residents who use the road, which has long been known as the "old Dimmitt road." where on the trip, but they were nice outwardly because they wanted the American dollar. The whole middle east is like a powder keg — liable to blow up any minute.

A friend in Vienna, Austria, she continued, said she expected to wake up one morning to find her country at war, and Hungary, also.

HER TRIP to Indonesia was cancelled because of a revolt there. She said her group had to stay in Hong Kong the time which would have been spent in that country, but none of her fellow travelers were much pleased with not being able to go, regardless of the state of affairs.

"There wasn't a single country in which I didn't like the people, though," she stated.

"We had to make a forced landing in Formosa, when our plane almost ran out of gas. They (the military on Formosa) told the pilot by radio that we couldn't land unless all blinds on windows were closed so we couldn't see. We spent two hours and 40 minutes on the island and all we got to see was the inside of the American officers' club."

MRS. EUBANKS had her hand treated at Bologna, known as the medical center of Italy. She said she lost the nail of her third finger on the left hand, and several stitches were required. "They changed the dressing on my hand three times in Vienna afterward and only charged me $1.60 for the whole thing," she said.

Other prices she mentioned paying were $6 for a permanent shampoo, color rinse and manicure in Naples, Italy, and $100 for a cashmere coat in Hong Kong which would be priced at more than $150 in the U. S. "One thing I'll never do again, though, if I ever get another chance," she stated, "and that's to take another trip with a traveling agency. Everything is rush, rush, and you hardly ever get to see the things you really want to see, nor long enough."

YANKS WIN 2 - HITTER

A third-inning uprising of nine runs and brilliant two-hit pitching by Danny Cates and S. D. Baize smothered the hopes of the Cardinals Monday night as the Yankees won their third straight, beating the Cards, 10-1.

It was a chance for the Cardinals to beat the Yankees for the first time this year and take over first place. However, the Yankees, as usual, were too much for them. The nine big runs in the third proved to be the difference.

Cates and Baize, who just last week had recorded a four-hitter against the Giants, apparently decided that wasn't good enough and combined their efforts again to throw a two-hitter. Only Lynn Cook and Henry Galvan got hits for the Cards.

THE GIANTS got back on the winning road Tuesday night and blanked the Dodgers, 5-0.

The Dodgers' out hit the Giants 4-3 but made eight costly errors. The loss dropped them into last place. It was the first win of second half play for the Giants.

In minor league play, the Cardinals beat the Yankees, 10-1, Monday and the Dodgers stopped the Giants, 14-2, Tuesday.

and a six-foot sidewalk built around the entire structure.

The area to be paved will include 75 feet on the south and west sides, 100 on the east and to the road, also about 100 feet, on the north side. L. J. Clark was employed as engineer for the job. Judge Schultz asked the court if there was a possibility of re-fergerated air conditioning the county court room for both district and county use. He said he would use it also, after selecting a jury and then moving from the district court room to the county.

The move would require installation of six more jury seats, which were also requested by the judge.

In explaining the request, Judge Schultz said, "On hot days like today the windows of the court room have to be raised and the outside noise is too distracting. The raised windows make very little difference in the coolness, also. I would appreciate it if you could see fit to do it."

No action was taken by the court on the request.

AT THE REQUEST of the court, Howard Brown of Brown, Graham and Brown, certified public accountants, met with the commissioners. The court asked Brown to entertain the proposition of auditing the county's financial books, a job presently being done by an Amarillo firm.

The court told Brown that if he decided to take the account it would probably be changed over about the first of the year.

mid. It's not the heat, it's the humidity. Course a little dust blew, too, just to remind you of the Panhandle now and then.

ALSO IT RAINED Tuesday — while the sun was shining — and it hailed a bit.

Sunday wasn't so bad, just neutral, like Switzerland.

But October was here Saturday. One of those dreary, drizzly days. Like you should go to a football game, except Detroit beat the Yankees, 1-0.

Also, it made the wheat farmers mad. What with rain Friday, drizzly Saturday and then rain again Tuesday and damp Wednesday, the combines couldn't cut. And the wheat standing there crisp and tan.

The safest forecast is that we will continue to have weather.

OUR CORNER

Two friends met for the first time in years. "How are thing?" one asked.

"I had a bad year last year," answered his friend. "My factory burned down, and I wasn't insured."

"That's too bad, sympathized the first man. "How is your wife?"

"Dead," came the unhappy reply. "Run over by a bus in December."

"I'm sorry to hear that, but how is the rest of the family?"

"My son got sent to jail."

"Gosh . . . that's tough. Then in search of a more cheerful subject, "How are you doing yourself?"

"Great!" came the jovial answer. "Business is wonderful—I sell lucky charms you know."

Indians Lead Loop As First Half Ends

Behind the hitting of Eugene Jennings, Ron Rayburn and Jim Haney, the Indians beat the White Sox, 12-7, Tuesday night to end the first half of Pony League action.

Jennings collected three hits, scored three runs and drove across one tally in five trips to the plate. Rayburn and Haney drove in two runs apiece.

The victory made the Indians first half champions with an 8-1 record. They had stopped the second-place Red Sox in a make-up game, 5-1, over the weekend.

The Red Sox outlasted the Tigers, 10-8, in Monday night's game, behind the clutch hitting of Johnny Buck and Gary Smith.

Buck had three hits in five times at bat, driving in two runs. Smith had two hits in five trips including a three-run home run in the sixth inning.

The Tigers moved into third place with a victory over the White Sox in a make-up game played over the weekend. They stopped the White Sox 4-1, driving them into last place. They will play a make-up game Saturday.

Also during the weekend two teams and six players were involved in the Pony League's first tryde.

The Red Sox dealt catcher Royce Turner, infielder Eugene Turner and shortstop Tommie Smithers to the White Sox for infielder Drew Kershen, outfielder Ron Bell and outfielder Dickie Pepper.

Church Group Plans To Attend New York Meet

Jehovah's Witnesses from the Hereford congregation today announced that plans are under way to attend an international convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in New York City this summer.

L. G. Reddoch, presiding minister of the local group, said the convention could well be the largest in the history of Jehovah's Witnesses. It is scheduled for July 27 through Aug. 3, and will be held in Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds simultaneously.

The last international convention, attended by many local witnesses, was held in 1953 in Yankee Stadium and reached a peak attendance of 165,000 including overflow audiences.

Watchtower officials, Reddoch said, have arranged this year for the program to be held in both places, following the first presentation in Yankee Stadium.

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, governing agency for Jehovah's Witnesses, has been making special travel arrangements for foreign delegates. Many missionaries who have served in other lands will also be brought to the United States for the Bible convention. Purpose of the gatherings is to provide stimulus for the New World society of Jehovah's Witnesses in Christian association, Bible instruction and ministerial training. This, Reddoch said, is in accordance with provisions made for God's people in Bible days.

Reddoch said that it is not yet known how many Witnesses from the area will attend, but he added, special travel arrangements are being made by automobile, bus, etc. He said it may be necessary to make limited meeting arrangements or cancel local meetings altogether during convention time.

Hereford's Police Chief Has Colorful Background

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles by David Stoker on personnel of the City Police Dept., Sheriff's Dept., and Highway Patrol. The series is to better acquaint the public with members of the law enforcement agencies protecting Hereford and Deaf Smith County.)

By DAVID STOKER

It is difficult to say exactly what influences a man to become a peace officer. Indeed it is not money because the salary received is not very attractive. Surely it is not glory, because the officer receives little credit for the work he does.

In Chief Henry Aycock's case it might have been hereditary. His father worked as a peace officer in the Texas prison system, and his brother is presently serving as a detective on the Amarillo police force. What ever it was that led Hereford's Chief of Police to become a peace officer, it apparently has made him a happy person. Aycock really seems to enjoy his work, even if it becomes a little gruesome at times.

Aycock left the Amarillo force January, 1952. During this time of about three years, he says that he tried about everything: "I even ran a night club for a while."

January 1, 1955 he went back to law enforcement as a patrolman in Tulla. Before he left Tulla to come to Hereford he had risen to become assistant chief of police there.

He applied for the Hereford job and was interviewed by the city commission. The job was his on Jan. 16, 1957.

Aycock has had a great amount of experience in the field of law enforcement. He has attended the Texas A&M Police School, the Amarillo Police School and the various schools sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

He has since taught schools in Hereford on general law enforcement and fingerprinting. He also held a school in Tulla on basic law enforcement and criminal law.

When asked which portion of law enforcement he likes best, Aycock quickly answers, "criminal work. It offers a great challenge."

Aycock and his family currently make their home at 400 Star St. He and his wife, Carrilee, were married in 1948. They have one son, Kirk, who will soon be nine.

Aycock spends most of his spare time playing golf or going fishing. He especially enjoys a good game of golf. "I really enjoy golf, but my score certainly doesn't scare away the pros," he says.

He is an active member of many organizations. He is a member of the Hereford Lions Club, the Veterans Foreign Wars, the United Peace Officers of America, an American Red Cross First Aid Instructor, chairman of the District Health and Safety Commission of Llano Estacado Council of Boy Scouts and a member of the Texas Police Assn.

He and his family attend the Temple Baptist Church. Aycock can also be seen almost every night at the Little League or Pony League baseball games where he acts as an umpire.

AYCOCK IS a strong believer in the modern theories of law enforcement. "The biggest and toughest character in the town doesn't make the best policeman like it was believed in the past. Law enforcement today is more a science and the officer has to be a student of psychology. Personally I feel that the bigger officer looks neater in uniform but it certainly doesn't make him the better officer."

The chief is 'not the biggest man in Hereford but a lot of people truly think he is one of the best.

ENJOYS GOLF—One of Chief of Police Henry Aycock's favorite pastimes is playing golf. "The pros never have to worry about my score," he commented. Actually, Aycock shoots in the very respectable high 30's most of the time. (Staff Photo)

Mr. Morris, the elder, contributed in a far more tangible manner. George, incidentally, is vice-president of the Gainsville Community Circus, now in its 29th year — and 100 per cent local talent.

I hear that things are getting a little bit complicated over the permanent postmaster appointment. A heck of a lot of people have applied, all of which means that Congressman Walter Rogers and the Republican area leaders will have some headaches.

Lost of observers say they would rather be a rural carrier, anyhow because it is a better deal. I wouldn't like it, though. Most of those boys finish up before or around noon — and I hate to think how many different jobs my wife would dig up for me to do around the house. It's so bad, already, that I am afraid to go home; besides, the air conditioning isn't half as good as that at the office. Honest, though, the rural carriers are today the elite of the U. S. post service. If you don't believe it, just ask some of the city delivery carriers who makes his rounds on foot.

Mrs. Earl Eubanks is just back from another of her jaunts. As usual, she has a lot of interesting stories and some astute observations. She is somewhat appalled at the warlike atmosphere she encountered in the Far East. Mrs. Eubanks says she ran into several "powder kegs" — and that the feeling is in the air. "Tension everywhere you turn," reports Hereford's most diversified traveler.

D. C. Martin is just back from near Seminole, Okla., where he says they had 7½ inches of rain during the seven days he visited his parents. D. C. sounded as if he was really happy to get back to a drier climate.

George Stambaugh and the West Texas Rural Telephone boys believe they have evidence that a small twister struck in the Dawn area. Anyway, one of the lead cables was penetrated by a barb from a wire fence and, being rather high, there seems to be no other way it could enter. George says you cannot drive an ice pick into the cable, again indicating a most unusual impelling force. The fog drifted in Saturday, penetrated the minutely punctured area, and put 14 lines out of commission in the Dawn exchange. When the boys finally located the trouble, two miles east of Dawn exchange, they found the whole thing hard to believe.

On the first day of July, 1947, Aycock joined the Amarillo Police Department. While there he served as a beat patrolman, radio patrolman,

Francis Hardwick got all set to come to town in his Crazy Day rig (bathing suit and cowboy-chaps) Monday, but his little granddaughter, Marty, took one look, started to cry and said in that pleading tone:

"Take it off, granddaddy. Please-a-s-e take it off."

Needless to say, Francis shed the garb and came to town in more conventional attire.

Another thing that puzzles a lot of grandfathers are present day conditions. This week I overheard one say:

"Back in the depression no one had a job, and no one had any money. These days, everyone has a job, and still no one has any money. Dog-gone, if I didn't think the depression was better."

George C. Morris of Gainsville, kith and kin of the Alex Thompson clan, sent in a clipping from The Star Telegram which says Deaf Smith was practically blind, as well as deaf, but managed to do a whale of a job as the "eyes and ears of the Texas revolution." We will try to publish the article soon — maybe Sunday on the editorial page. It really is quite informative.

George Morris is somewhat of a historical figure himself, so far as this area is concerned. It was his father who gave the land for Dameron Park, thus laying the foundation for Hereford's present outstanding park system. Do you know of another small town or city so blessed with parks? What's more — if we didn't already have the land — how much chance do you think there would be to vote bonds and purchase property to establish such a park system. We are using Mr. Deaf Smith's name, but I'd say that

What I'd like to know is: "Why was George trying to drive an ice pick into the cable in the first place?" Knowing George, I am sure he had a good reason.

The political pot is beginning to boil. I guess it's that time of year. The candidates, especially, are getting more than a little interested. I still think the State Senatorial race in this district will be the hottest this campaign. I predicted this earlier and, before it is all over, there is due to be considerable fireworks.

The Crazy Daze got pretty crazy. They even arrested Clint Formby and I for not cooperating. I didn't open my mouth while the cop was standing there with the sawed off shotgun, but I was falsely arrested. I had a costume and, although it didn't show the hair on my legs like Bob Lamm's did (and Gene Moore wishes he could), it was OK. However, if they had any prizes — which they don't — I think they should go to Cawthon Bryant's Boy Scout rig and to Eula Lee Cave's baby girl ensemble. Someone else might have been better but, if so, they sure were crazy.

WITH A PARADE, a little more planning and another date, this Crazy Daze should become an annual promotion. However, it does need more general participating. A lot of stores went in half-heartedly and some not at all. Everyone had a big time — and there were some real good bargains. How about some letters from the shoppers? Did you like it or not? Looks as if the merchants are really trying these days. However, like everyone else, they need a little encouragement. Drop a letter to The Brand — or to the Chamber of Commerce. Maybe they will pull some more stunts. So far, the Mall experiment seems to have been the best.

There are standards for advertising, too!

What a fix we'd all be in without those standards of measurement for the goods you buy and sell. Imagine the confusion, waste and doubt in business transactions if we didn't have accepted standards of weights and measures—known values.

We believe it is just as necessary for us to tell you what you get for your advertising dollars, in terms of known circulation value, as it is for you to do business with your customers on the basis of recognized standards. That's why this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

WHAT IS THE A.B.C.? The Bureau is a cooperative and nonprofit association of 3450 publishers, advertising agencies and advertisers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

WHAT A.B.C. DOES FOR YOU. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office and makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. He has access to all of our books and records to obtain the FACTS that tell you what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper.

WHAT A.B.C. REPORTS TELL YOU. The circulation FACTS obtained by the A.B.C. auditor are condensed in easy to read A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; where the circulation goes; how it was sold and many other FACTS about the audience we provide for your sales messages. Make your advertising investments on the basis of this audited information. Ask for a copy of our A.B.C. report.

OFF THE Shelf

By way of introduction, this column's purpose is to review books, offer criticism, list new books in the library and attempt to induce people to read more books.

The article will more than likely include some misguided opinions, an excessive use of the word "wonderful" and some soapy propaganda from the book jackets.

The author does not claim to possess qualified opinion or excessive knowledge on the subject, only a genuine appreciation and admiration for good literature.

Please address all differences of opinion, comments and requests for favorite or not-so-favorite books to be reviewed to Off the Shelf, in care of The Hereford Brand.

The new York Times Book Review lists best sellers of fiction novels as Anatomy of a Murder, by Traver; Ice Palace, by Ferber; The Winthrop Woman, by Seton; A Summer Place, by Wilson; North From Rome, by MacInnes; The Greengage Summer, by Godden; The Travels of Jaimie McPheeters, by Taylor; The Northern Light, by Cronin; Strangers When We Meet, by Hunter; The Mountain Road, by White; Reilly and Son, by Moll; Rally Round the Flag, Boys!, by Shulman; The Days Dividing, by Shelby; The Macereb Plaza, by DeVries; and A Death in the Family, by Agee.

A recent Book of the Month selection and still listed as a best seller is The Winthrop Woman by Anya Seton. It is the story of a Puritan woman who didn't see eye to eye with her religious teachings.

It seems that in those days the head of a Puritan household chose the husbands for all the young women who were related to him — daughters, nieces, daughters-in-law and, if chance offered it — even the kitchen maid. In the life of the heroine, Elizabeth Winthrop, the head of the household happened to be her uncle.

To prove her independence, Bess set about choosing her own husband who, incidentally, turned out to be her uncle's son, Henry. But Uncle Winthrop decided his plan was moving to America and Henry, with a brace of brandy under his belt, contrived to get himself drowned as soon as he arrived. With the family firmly stationed in America, Lady Seton's four years of research comes in rather handy.

When Bess married again she bowed to the will of Uncle W. and was wed to a jewelry merchant turned farmer. Well, he went crazy and had to be put away, leaving Bess with a whole raft of children and a big plantation to manage. It turned out that she managed all right, though, and proceeded to get herself a divorce. But she couldn't get legal permission to marry Will Hallet, a man years younger than she, so they had a private ceremony — just the two of them — and after quite a few difficulties, everything turned out all right.

The book is liberally sprinkled with historic facts, but the use of nicknames for everyone is a little confusing.

The Winthrop Woman closely resembles Catherine Gaspin's Sara Dane. Both women are emotionally stronger than any of their many men, both books skip over the years like wheat chaf, both books are set in a pioneer country and in both books the children are mentioned being born, then they are generally forgotten.

Try reading The Winthrop Woman — you'll learn a lot about religion and history without even realizing it. You'll find it at the county library.

Titles and authors of fiction books arriving in the library this last month are Long Is the Dividing, by Seiby; Centenary at Jalna, by De La Roche; The Fancher Train, by Bean; Paroah, by McGraw; Daybreak, by Slaughter; The Northern Light, by Cronin; The Great Gold Mountain, by McCague; The Wine Princes, by Mackay; Seramble Six Hurricanes, by Moore; The Bankrupts, by Gianville; Oooh, What You Said, by Kober; Seidman and Son, by Moll; The Slot, by Claggett; The Selfish and the Strong, by Schuster; None But the Brave, by Franklin; The Human Element, by Fores; The Cup of Strength, by Paul; Hong Kong, by Gardner; Night March, by Lancaster; The Royal Succession, by Druon; The Final Face of Eve, by Lancaster; The Blanket, by Murray and The Italian Wife by Humphreys.

Non-fiction books received recently are Born Innocent, by Burnham; Doctors to the World, by Morgan; House in Mexico, by Beals; My Fair Lady, by Lerner adapted from Shaw's Pygmalion; Mother Climbed Trees, by Lindsay; Buttons in the Back, by Kirtland; First

Feather Pillows
A bright windy day should be chosen for washing feather pillows. Fill the tub with hot suds and plunge the pillows in, feathers and all. Then put through several waters, shake briskly, and hang on the line to dry. During the day, shake several times so that the feathers will dry. They should be replaced in the fresh air every sunny day for a week following this treatment.

Perspiration Stains
Perspiration stains should always be removed from a garment as soon as possible, as the longer they are allowed to remain the harder they are to remove.

Leather
The well-beaten white of an egg, rubbed into the leather of a shabby brief-case, traveling bag, or other similar article, will do much to take away that faded look.

Cocktail
A cocktail, excellent for adding to one's vitality, is as follows: Yolks of one egg, juice of one or two oranges, juice of half a lemon, two teaspoonfuls of honey. Beat these ingredients together and drink every morning.

Smooth Legs
Women who are determined to remove the hair from their legs should use the finest grade of sandpaper instead of a safety razor, and they will get better results.

Starch
Starch will give stiffer results if one teaspoonful of epsom salts is added to the starch and dissolved in the usual manner by boiling.

A Cleanser
A very good cleanser for painted walls can be made as follows: Two ounces of borax in Richard Boyd Sims and Virginia Ruth Estep, June 24.
Bobby Lee Tyler and Zora Olivia Edwards, June 24.
Divorces Filed
Epifana Martinez vs. Natividad Fernando Martinez, June 23.
Civil Suits
Regarding Jane Evalyn Newsum. Removal of Disability of an Order.
Divorces Granted
Leroy Morrison vs. Jerry Theresa Fambrough-Morrison. Frankie Lorene Porter vs. Billy John Porter, June 23.
Richard W. Finley vs. Elizabeth J. Finley, June 23.
Roxy Hulsey Shirley vs. Alvin L. Shirley, June 23.

2 quarts of water, and 1 teaspoon of ammonia. Use about half this quantity to each pail of water. No soap will be necessary.

Woolen Blankets
Do not put the woolen blankets through a wringing machine. Hang them on the line dripping wet, and when dry, beat them until they are soft and fluffy.

Shoes
Remove the oil and grease stains on brown or tan shoes by using lemon juice.

Odors
When one is cooking anything that has a strong odor, put a small pan of vinegar into the stove or on it, and there will be no smell of cooking in the air.

Hereford Girl Recognized For Work in Dumas Church

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Miss Colline Brown, a former resident of Hereford, is now educational director of the Methodist Church in Dumas. She was recently the subject of a woman's page feature by Anna Catherine Thomason, society editor of the Moore County News in Dumas. Miss Brown is the daughter of Mrs. C. L. Brown, 216 W. Fourth St.)

By ANNA THOMASON

"IT'S A PRIVILEGE to work with people," says Miss Colline Brown, educational director of the First Methodist Church of Dumas.

This talented 24-year-old-miss who came to Dumas in September, 1957, has not only been an asset to the Methodist Church, but to the community as a whole.

Colline is a 1954 graduate of West Texas State College, with a major in sociology. While attending WT she won the following honors: In 1951, she was elected band sweetheart; in '53, personality princess, and was a candidate for Homecoming Queen; she was a member of Tau Beta Sigma, Wesley Foundation and played in the WT Band. For four consecutive years, she worked as assistant cataloger in the college library.

Following her graduation from WT, Colline worked as secretary to the First Methodist Church in Hereford; however, due to her intimate love for people, she soon realized a secretarial position was not her calling in life.

She soon accepted a position as hostess for the Drowsy Water Dude Ranch in Granby, Colo., which to her, was very interesting. Among her duties there was meeting guests, assisting with reservations and with correspondence. A large per cent of the people she met, were from Chicago and the West Coast, she said.

After four months on the dude ranch, Colline decided to return to Hereford and teach Health, Music and Physical Education in the public schools. Upon completion of the school term in June, Hereford Methodist Church was in need of an education director and that position was filled by Colline.

FEATURED IN PAPER—Former Hereford resident Colline Brown, daughter of Mrs. C. O. Brown, 216 W. Fourth St., was featured in an article recently appearing in the Moore County News, Dumas, where Colline is working for the Methodist Church. (NEWS Staff Photo)

In June of 1957, she did summer rural work with the Town and Country Commission in South Georgia. There she visited "Epworth by the Sea," which may be described as the stomping grounds of John and Charles Wesley, founders of the Methodist Church.

While in Georgia, Colline taught in vacation church schools, and a youth camp in connection with the Georgia Camp meeting, and worked with youth encampment.

Following her return from Georgia, she came to Dumas to work as educational director with Rev. S. M. Dunnam for whom she had worked before. "We are indeed fortunate to have this talented young girl. She is one who can work with any age group and feel at home. I think any minister will agree that a dedicated young person, as a leader, is an asset to any church," Reverend Dunnam said.

Colline says one of the greatest joys of her work has been an association with different pastors, who are dedicated to the work they are doing.

When Colline was asked just what the job of educational director entailed, she thought for a minute, and said, "It certainly isn't one that requires a routine schedule. There is never a dull moment in the work. I am supposed to know the answer to almost any question. Once I was called on the phone and asked to list the colors of the rainbow," but she added, "There isn't a moment I don't enjoy."

Only a few of her duties are listed here: she works with organizations of educational work; keeps groups posted concerning various conferences and camps; assists with the organization of leadership training vocation and church schools; serves as a sponsor in accompanying youth on out-of-town trips; orders literature for the church-schools and serves as an assistant in recruiting teachers and leaders for church schools.

Colline plans to spend her vacation this summer attending a leadership school at Mt. Sequoia, at Fayetteville, Ark., where she will be working toward becoming an accredited instructor for church leadership schools. Rev. Clifford E. Trotter, the minister with whom Colline is now working, said "She is perfect for the job."

If Colline's hobbies could be summed to one it would be music. She loves vocal music, and to sing at weddings is one of the things she considers a privilege. She also enjoys group recreation and working outside.

She is a member of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Although Colline is a devout Methodist, she certainly isn't narrow on the subject of religion. She lives with Dorothy Bernson, who is secretary to the First Baptist Church and with Peggy Moore, who is an active member of the Church of Christ. No more congenial relationship could be observed anywhere than between those three girls. Their home life is almost as exciting as life in Grand Central Station.

"Although they cook, clean house and eat together, there is never a dull moment nor a cross word. One among many, Colline Brown is serving a worthwhile cause, doing it in a commendable way, and enjoying every minute of it."

YOUNG MODERNS Brothers, Sisters Air Pet Peeves

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

One of the major problems of some adolescents is a brother or sister, younger or older. Sometimes the little problems created by their existence in the life of an adolescent seem insurmountable.

There's the teen-ager, for instance, who has a 10-year-old brother she describes as "peeping Tom," and it so happens that's his name.

"I caught up with his peeping activities," says she, "when my steady date and I were sitting on the porch. I heard a noise and looked behind the porch swing and there he was hiding and spying. Now he taunts me by telling others about our conversation, and that I called this boy 'Cookie.' My mother refuses to punish him, and he is driving me crazy."

Another young modern rebels against older sister's popularity and brains.

"I just hate to go to school because they all compare my work to my sister's," she says. "She is two years older, 19, and went to the same school I'm attending. The teachers are forever reminding me that she was better in practically everything. Even the gym teacher made the crack that my sister 'didn't have two left feet like mine.'"

A brother's girl friend can prove a nuisance, especially when she's anti-sister. Writes a sister:

"My brother used to take me out in his car, and sometimes he would go to dances with me, but now he has a girl friend who doesn't like me, and takes up all of his time. The other day she called me a little pest because I sat next to them in the soda store. My brother lets her wrap him around her little finger."

Then there's the perennial complaint about "Daddy's girl." A 16-year-old finds:

"My father prefers my sister two-to-one. As a matter of fact when my sister was my age she got a bigger allowance, and my father has taken her to more places than he takes me. She even goes fishing with him. Sometimes my mother goes, but they usually tell me to stay home and study."

An 18-year-old college freshman can't bear little sister's "taking ways." It seems that her 12-year-old sister dresses up in her clothes when she's not around. She complains:

"She ruins the heels on my dance slippers, breaks my pearls, gets runs in my stockings and spots on my good clothes, all in the line of play. I have asked her a hundred times not to rely on my wardrobe for her fun, but she takes my possessions and Mary Lou, anyway. There is no way to lock up my things."

The wonderful thing about having sister or brother trouble is that a great many people have had the same problems, and so everyone is likely to understand Mary's "bad disposition" toward her younger sister or little Susie's "hate" for big sister, if that is any comfort. Then one day everything resolves and it seems hard to believe that an admired big sister once was a threat to little sister's security, or that head girl in the family ever complained about little sister's growing pains. It's all part of growing up in the average household.

D. CHATTER Agents Attend District Meeting

By ARGENT DRAPER
Last week when the agents attended the district meeting in Amarillo we had lunch as guests of Producers Grain Corp. The talent tour members were still in Amarillo Monday. I saw Peggy Brown and Pete Plank and they are both having a good time. They are always proud of well trained 4-H members. Frank Triplett, manager of P made a statement that the talent tour was held in Since then there has been an every year for outstanding 4-H boys and girls. There are 232 talent tour members. Mike Baird and Ramey were in an argument over the elevation of Hereford. To settle the argument a marker at the south door of the Courthouse was checked. The elevation is 3822.50

That last week I called to Mrs. Tooley as chairman of the Leaders 4-H Council. She is helping harvest a good crop and Linda was cooking. Linda told me that she was having meat loaf, mash, peas, tossed salad and a cobbler. If she had had bread muffins that would have been one of my favorite recipes. That people know how to cook is easy. The 4-H Club girls are learning how to cook how to keep house will find much easier. Recipe of the week: Pound Cake

Cottonseed Meal Used in Rations

COLLEGE STATION — Cottonseed meal can now be used in swine rations with excellent results. This statement was not true a few decades ago. In fact, early results from the feeding of cottonseed meal to hogs indicated that one might never be able to feed it in practical hog rations. However, newer methods now available for processing and evaluating the protein quality and gossypol content have provided a way to make cottonseed meal that can be used safely in complete feed mixtures or in protein supplements for swine. The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has just released a bulletin on this subject. It is entitled "Use of Cottonseed Meal in Swine Rations." When the complete ration for hogs contains not more than 0.01 per cent free gossypol, the pigs will make good gains, according to the bulletin. No pigs have died nor have any shown the slightest symptoms of cottonseed meal injury in these experiments when the ration contained 0.01 per cent or less free gossypol. The bulletin states that this means cottonseed meals containing 0.04 per cent or less free gossypol are safe for swine feeding. The rations fed contained liberal amounts of good quality protein. The protein supplement of swine rations is the principal feedstuff the farmer has to buy. Since cottonseed meal is rich in protein, and since it is a feed available in a wide area at all times, it is important to know more about its use in hog rations. Copies of the publication are available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for Bulletin 898.

Work On Stadium To Begin July 1

AMARILLO (Special) — Final plans have been completed for West Texas State College's new 20,000-seat football stadium and work is scheduled to begin about July 1. An area campaign to raise $300,000 is the first item on the agenda. That goal is the amount needed by West Texas State to assure completion of the modern and spacious plant, which will be built at an estimated cost of $700,000 and be ready for the 1959 season. The college already has $400,000 earmarked for the structure. Located in a natural bowl setting on the Amarillo-Canyon Expressway, it will be two miles north of the college campus and 15 miles south of Amarillo. It will be situated just east of the Expressway and the overpass that was built specially for stadium traffic. The structure, which will have the distinction of seating more people than any other plant in the Panhandle, will be composed of two 10,000-seat stands, facing east and west. When the need arises, it can be expanded to seat 50,000 fans. All 20,000 seats will be completed in 1959 will be below the ground level. The press box and concession stands will be located on ground level and team dressing rooms will be at the south end. "The new stadium will give West Texas an opportunity to bring big-time college football to the Golden Spread," said Frank Kirnbrough, Buffalo athletic director. "We are attempting to bring to fans of this great football and the stadium is one of the key factors." The Buffaloes, who this year have reached major status in football, will play a home schedule of five games in 1959, the first in the new arena. It will be dedicated Sept. 26 with the University of Arizona, a Border Conference rival, furnishing the opposition. Then come visits from Mississippi Southern, Oct. 17; Hardin-Simmons University, Oct. 24; Drake University, Oct. 31; and Virginia Tech, Nov. 7. Headquarters for the West Texas State Stadium Fund have been opened in Amarillo at 418 Polk Street.

Texas Farmers Threatened by Grasshoppers

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, — First drought, then floods; and now grasshoppers have come to plague disaster-weary Texas farmers. After touring the affected area in the Panhandle, Gov. Price Daniel called it the worst grasshopper infestation in 20 years. Unless checked, he said, the hoppers could destroy much of the crops and pasturage in 26 counties.

County, state and federal agencies worked with landowners to get crews to spray hatching grounds along roads. State Agriculture Department, Highway Department, National Guard and Defense and Disaster Relief Office are cooperating in the battle. Aim is to try to kill the insects before they leave the hatching grounds and start chewing their way into crops for which farmers had high hopes this year. Another threat is fund shortage. At a cost of some $3,000 a day for spraying crews, Texas Agriculture Department's emergency funds dwindled fast. Governor Daniel expressed hope that some federal assistance might be obtained. COX APPEAL DENIED — Ex-Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe has lost another round in his fight against a two-year prison sentence. Court of Criminal Appeals, by a 2-1 decision, upheld the trial court conviction on charges of consenting to accept a bribe. Cox's attorneys have one more recourse left — filing a motion for a re-hearing. Since the appeal court recesses June 28, this could not be considered until it reconvenes next October. Cox's troubles rocked the state last Spring, during the 1957 legislative session. They began when Howard Harmon of San Antonio, onetime head of the Texas Naturopaths, made public a tape recording of a hotel room conversation with Cox. Harmon and state's attorneys contended that the conversation reflected an effort by Cox to

Process to Aid Cotton Materials

Your local dry cleaner may soon be able to apply wash-wear finishes to your cotton clothes, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announces. Scientists of USDA's Agricultural Research Service, working with the National Institute of Drycleaning at Silver Spring, Md., have developed several crease-holding, wrinkle-resisting resin finishes that are inexpensive and may be applied by standard dry cleaning equipment. Cotton wash-wear garments have been on the market for some years, but the finish always has been applied to the fabric before it is made up into clothing. This has made it difficult or impossible to get flat seams, hems or pockets, or to press in flat pleats. The new process may be found especially helpful in setting permanent pleats in women's cotton skirts. The most promising of the new finishes developed by USDA. (Continued On Page 2)

4-H Club Girls Guests at Meet

The 4-H girls were special guests at the meeting of the Dawn Home Demonstration Club Friday, June 20, in the home of Mrs. W. T. Beavers. For the program, Mrs. Jim McCabe presented a talk on telephone etiquette. In her talk she pointed out that it was only being considerate when making a phone call to give your name, and if the party you have called is not there, make a definite plan to either call back or leave your number to be called. Another thing to be considered in using the phone is the convenience of the party being called. For instance, don't call at a meal time, nap time or other time when it might be inconvenient for the party being called. If you should accidentally dial a wrong number, never just hang up. Instead, apologize briefly as "I'm sorry, I must have dialed a wrong number," then hang up, she advised. Mrs. R. L. Johnson brought the portion of the program concerning conversation in public places and party conversation. During the business meeting, names were drawn for "secret pals." A gift exchange was planned for the first meeting in September. A nominating committee, composed of Mrs. H. S. Fuller, Mrs. Jim McCabe and Mrs. Orval Galley, was elected to assemble nominees for the officers to be elected in September. Mrs. A. H. Husmann was welcomed as a new member. Others present for the meeting were Mrs. Zed Stewart, Mrs. Norman Tucek, Mrs. Muri Little, Mrs. Orval Galley, Mrs. R. L. Johnson, Mrs. Marion Russell, Mrs. Ray Stewart, Mrs. J. E. McCabe, Mrs. W. T. Beavers and the 4-H girls present were Jean Burrell, Phyllis Jo and Judy Husmann, Beverley Betzen and Wainie Beavers.

Peach Crop Is Plentiful

COLLEGE STATION — July is peach and ice cream time. However, in the past few years there has been a scarcity of peaches to go with our plentiful supply of ice cream, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Good news this year is that the largest peach crop since 1947 will move to market in July to team up with ice cream. This is why these foods are featured items on the July Plentiful Foods List. The forecast of the 1958 peach crop in the nine Southern States, which produce the bulk of the nation's early peaches, is 44 per cent larger than the 1957 production, and also 53 per cent above the 1947-1956 average. Other foods considered in plentiful enough supply to rate spots on the July Plentiful List are watermelons, fresh and processed lemons, potatoes, summer vegetables and vegetable fats and oils. Among the summer vegetables expected to be in good supply are such items as sweet corn, tomatoes, cabbage, green beans, lettuce, cucumbers, green peppers and onions. USDA determines what foods are plentiful every month by a survey of the major food suppliers in this area.

Funk vs. Romero Saturday Night

A double main event, featuring Dory Funk vs. Ricky Romero and Bob Geigel vs. the Great Zorro, will highlight the wrestling cards at the Bull Barn beginning at 8:30 p.m. Saturday. Both bouts are scheduled to be best two out of three falls or sixty minute time limit events. Dory Funk and the Great Zorro battled Saturday night and the Great Zorro was the winner. Funk won the first fall and then Zorro won the second. Funk was unable to return for the third fall because of the vicious claw hold he received from Zorro in the second. The other event saw Ricky Romero best the Great Bolo, two falls to one.

experience as a lawyer and judge.

An 1891 amendment to the Constitution requires that Criminal Appeals Court judges have the same qualifications as Supreme Court judges. At that time the requirement for the high court was seven years experience. In 1945 the Constitution was amended to require 10 years experience for Supreme Court judges.

Despite the time lapse, the effect of the two amendments is to require 10 years experience for Criminal Appeals judges, according to the ruling in the Woodley-Purcell case.

Result is that Woodley will be unopposed in the primary and win automatic re-nomination for another six-year term.

LINE-JUMPING THREAT — Another Supreme Court ruling on an election dispute poses an Election Day dilemma for Dallas voters.

It held that Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor official and self-styled "Stevenson Republican," is entitled to oppose Cong. Bruce Alger on the GOP primary ballot.

Cantrell's candidacy is interpreted as a move to inconvenience Dallas conservative voters. Election results for 1956 indicate a good percentage of "Big D" voters threw their strength behind conservative Democrats at precinct conventions and primaries, but supported Republican nominees for national offices in the general election. Presumably, unless conservatives are on hand to vote, Cantrell's friends might scratch GOP-favorite Alger in his own primary. But it's a two-edged sword that applies equally to Dallas liberals. If they go to the Republican primary to help Cantrell, they can't vote for liberal Democratic contenders for state office nor fight conservatives for Democratic precinct control.

LIKE A JURY? — Defending the State Board of Health's closed door meetings, Comm. Henry H. Holle said: "The Board is like a jury. You get the verdict, but you can't get in on their comments."

The State Health Board has authority to allocate federal funds under the Hill-Burton Act to match local funds for hospital building. Its policy has been to announce names of hospitals approved to receive funds, but not those rejected or why.

Newsman had been openly critical of the Board for barring the press from its meetings. Holle said minutes of Board meetings were available to the public after formal approval at the next meeting — three months later.

MORE MONEY FOR LAND — Texas Veterans Land Board has made its third $12,500,000 sale of bonds to finance land purchases by veterans.

This brings to $37,500,000 the bonds sold since last December. Land Office spokesmen say it gives the program enough money to carry it until August, 1959. A total of $200,000,000 in bond issues was authorized by voters in a recent constitutional amendment.

For a time the program was at a standstill because the Board was unable to find bond buyers who would accept the three per cent or less in interest which the state is allowed under the constitution to pay.

TRY, TRY AGAIN — Texas

Supreme Court is again being asked to referee the battle of appointments that has brought the state insurance liquidation to "utter chaos."

Latest deadlock developed when Insurance Commissioner William A. Harrison fired Liquidator James M. Williamson (in office only 10 weeks) and replaced him with C. M. Landeau, formerly first deputy. But Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts, one of three Austin judges handling insurance receivership cases, refused to accept Landeau as receiver for the cases in his court. He named another attorney. Other two judges accepted Landeau.

On behalf of the Insurance department, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has petitioned the Supreme Court for mandamus to file a writ of mandamus voiding Bett's action. His petition charges Betts with usurping powers assigned the insurance department. It says of two receivers in one office "creates utter chaos."

In a previous effort to get a ruling that would unsnarl authority over liquidation, the high court held the judge could appoint a receiver if the insurance department failed to do so.

Golf Tips:

A good follow through is essential to the golf swing. If the follow-through is not correct, any type of poor shot may result.

Just before the impact of the club to the ball, the head should be steady. As the ball is hit, both hands should follow straight out after the ball in its flight for a distance of about two to three feet, according to the stature and swing of the golfer. The head should not move until after the ball is hit. On full shots, after the follow through, the finish should result with the weight on the sole of the left foot and the hands high. On short shots, pitches or clips, the follow through will be no longer than the length of both hands reaching straight towards the hole after the ball has been hit. A steady head here is more essential than in the longer shots.

DA and industry is under test now and results so far are good. The finish appears to hold pressed-in creases well, yet to resist wrinkles. Various cotton fabrics have been tested with highly satisfactory results. These were: cotton prints, denim, sateen, cord, broadcloth, gingham, corduroy, and suiting materials.

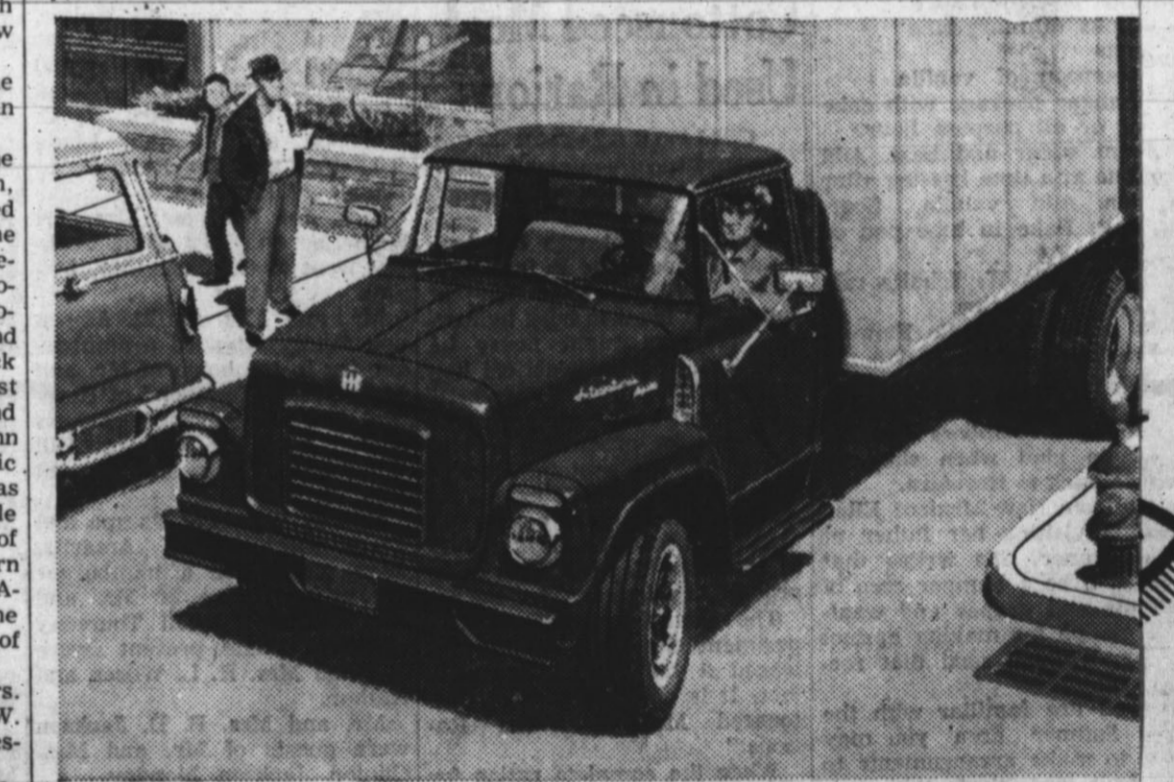

The process for dry cleaners consists of wetting the garment in a special resin solution, then shaping, pressing, drying and heat-setting the finish in a single operation, followed by treatment to complete the setting of the finish. Finally the garment is washed and tumble dried before delivery to the owner. Because it is necessary to get just the right amount of resin solution into the garment, to have pressing equipment at uniform temperature, to hold the garment on the press for just the right length of time, and to use the same care in the aftercare, it is not a job to do at home.

The finish will not last the life of the garment but cost studies indicate it should be inexpensive enough to justify renewal.

George Heard Writes:

Slow Operation Normal In Mid-East Countries

EDITOR'S NOTE: George Heard of Hereford is still working for the Iraqi government at an oil refinery in Baghdad. In this letter he tells about the problems of his job and other facts of life in the Middle East.

Folks: My letter writing has received the attention lately. There are several reasons for this being lazy.

The principal reason for this is that I have been busy with my job. After being here a year I am doing the thing that I thought I was going to do the first month I was here. It is not that I have been loafing all this time. I had a lot to do trying to determine what had been done for the lab and then getting to get a place to put stuff. At first estimate I thought I would have a lab up by the fall of the year. I found so many things that were not ordered that I used the estimate to the end of 1958.

When I began to see how slow construction proceeds here, as we still were not opening, so Margaret and I went vacation in Spain. So after a year and a month the lab operating partially and on 1, we finally got the thing in operation.

The procedures are normal in the Middle East. The opening of a new hotel here has been delayed its opening for several months. Last year an industrial exhibition delayed its opening a month late. Then a thing gets started it is not to get stopped. Iraq had a development week point out its progress. It has been going on for more than a month now. I had a similar celebration at the refinery. After several months delay in getting the lube oil refining section going, we went through a series of delays in having a dedication ceremony. The last few days were a frenzy of preparation. As most of you know, oil refineries are usually kept very clean as a matter of efficiency and safety. But we had a few other unusual things to do as the King of Iraq was to attend.

The most noticeable thing about having the King is his tent. If the affair is large there may be more tents. We had four so our affair rated rather high. A small affair gets only one tent. This happens every time the King leaves or arrives by plane. When King Saud of Arabia visited here last year, the airport rated three tents. A new street was recently opened and it rated two tents. These tents are very fancy embroidered equipment. I have taken some pictures in color of them.

The King also has to have carpets in his tent. There was almost an oversight in the carpet matter and on the last day before the ceremony, one of the ministers noticed that the red carpets for the King to walk on from his tent through the refinery were forgotten. At the last moment the purchasing agent found some sleazy looking runner material made of jute to roll out for the royal feet to be protected from the ground. The joker to all this preparation was that the King had not been advised that he should protect his shoe soles and he took a cross country stroll through the lube plant looking at the things that took his fancy. I am not sure that they ever got him on the carpeted route.

The chief engineer here seems to have the misfortune to be the fall guy for the refinery manager's wrath. On the morning of the dedication ceremony, relations between him and the manager were particularly strained. It was over a curtain that was draped over the polished bronze plate that says something in Arabic about the refinery. The curtains were supposed to fall away from the plate when the King cuts a string with his golden scissors. I do not know who designed or fabricated the contraption, but I do know the chief engineer had nothing to do with it. Most things of this nature don't work properly so the manager decided to try it out. It did not work either so he calls the engineer, the engineer calls his wife to bring needle and thread, and his wife rounded up a seamstress and several women, and they remade the thing with only a few minutes to spare. As no women were allowed at the dedication, they did not finish in time to leave without being seen by the King and his party, so they were put out of sight in the nearest building. In another nearby building, the girls from the refinery offices were allowed to peek through the blinds at the king.

The houses at the refinery got a coat of paint for the occasion. That is, the side next to the road got the coat of paint. The purpose of the paint was two fold — to make the houses look better, and to cover the cracks in the walls. As many other ministries had representatives present, our ministry of economics could not let them see that they had been cheated in the construction of the houses. They also made all the mudhutters who live along the road to the refinery clean up the junk next to the road. This was a big job as that meant moving all the fuel supplies, weeds, sticks and handmade cow chips.

Last winter we joined the Alwiya Club which is an old English Club here in Baghdad. We do not take advantage of all of its facilities, but we do enjoy the swimming pool. There are three pools for different age groups and around the pools shades with chairs and tables. A counter is close by for drinks, and sandwiches and, of course, the ever present English tea. All this provides a lot of relief from the Baghdad heat. There are also several well kept tennis courts. The large garden is really a wonderful thing for the Baghdad nights. Five to six months here Baghdad has wonderful nights for outdoor activities and the Alwiya Club provides the best facilities for this. Many like night swimming and the outdoor movies beat anything yet brought up in a stateside drive in. The dinners this time of year are served in the garden. Both Toastmasters and Rotary Clubs have dinners in the garden six months of the year.

The Club is still British or English and its general appearance shows it although they have made a few concessions to the Americans. The food is mostly English and not too good. Lots of style and service (if you have time) and not too much flavor. This year they are making some improvements. It has looked too unkept. It really looks like the English in their rumpled coats and baggy pants. They have relaxed the rules some and no longer require coats in the summer. They still require long sleeves and ties in the evening.

It is an interesting story as to how the Americans were allowed to become members of the club. Prior to the second world war, no Americans were members. During the Rashid Ali uprising which was attributed to the Germans by some and attributed to general anarchy by others, the English were in a bad way. Open season was declared on both English and Jews. Many were killed and others fled to the protection of the British Embassy and the American Ministry. There was no Embassy here for Americans then. The U. S. Minister kept them under his protection until the British forces from Habaniya could arrive.

After the war the club was opened to a limited number of Americans as a gesture of thanks and good will. We are allowed two out of nine members on the board. Our membership amounts to about one fourth. For all their peculiarities, I have enjoyed the English Club and have gotten to the point that I understand most of their language.

The unsettled condition in the Middle East and the Arab world has not affected us very much. Our mail is more unsteady than usual and things coming ocean freight via Beirut is in a mess. The American school here depends on APO mail service. Some of that is now coming by boat which makes supplies and correspondence courses difficult. We do not worry too much about personal safety and people here seem to treat us well. As to the news of what is happening here, I do not know as much about it as you do as our news service is not good. We have to depend on European editions of the Herald Tribune several days late, Time and Newsweek and the censored stuff we get out of the English language paper. The Arabic papers are even more confusing. The propaganda campaign in the Arabic papers and radio is terrific. I am sorry that I do not know the language so I would not have to depend on translations. Egypt, Syria and Russian sources have one line, Lebanon another, and Iraq and Jordan another. One source will claim Iraq has troops in Lebanon, another will claim Egypt has. There are some things that I do not know. Gasoline and lube oil are being sent from here to Jordan rather than from Lebanon. It is understood that Syria is in a bad way for supplies of many kinds.

It has been interesting to observe the reaction of the Arab people to the events taking place. In general most of them are anti-British, anti-American, anti-French, anti-NATO, anti-everyone except Arabs. But on a personal basis, they treat us well, and I do not hear of them treating the British or French individuals badly. I have asked about this attitude and it boils down to the average Americans attitude of disliking Hitler, but liking Germans, or being against an organization, but liking the members. The Americans are bad because the U. S. belongs to NATO, the French belong to NATO, the French are killing Algerians, the Algerians are Arab Moslems, these Algerian Arab Moslems are considered brothers, therefore, the Americans are contributing to the killing of the brothers of the Iraqis.

But they say they do not feel badly toward me personally, because I am not responsible for my government. They know this is true because they say that their government does not rep-

The melon lice are again making their appearance in our Texas melon fields and now is the time to fight these small but destructive insects. The insects, feeding on the venal side of the leaf, cause a loss of nourishment at that particular part. This causes the leaf to curl and hides the insects in such a way that it is impossible to reach them with a spray.

If possible, the vines should be sprayed before the leaves curl, using an elbow extension rod so that the spray can be directed from below. In small fields the curled leaves can be cut out and destroyed. By doing this large colonies of lice that are hard to reach with a spray are destroyed.

Although it has been operated for several months, many citizens do not know that Hereford has a genuine, dyed-in-the-wool broadcasting station. It has — and it is the innovation and invention of local lads. This station is owned and operated by Rex Tynes Jr., and associates. Spaulding Bartley is the announcer. The station is located at the home of Rex Tynes, and develops from 5 to 25 watts, according to requirements.

These boys have shown a great deal of inventive genius in the construction of their broadcasting apparatus, much of it being homemade, and they deserve the praise of all. Tune in on Station WIAQ on a frequency of 940 kilocycles, at 10 to 11:30 a.m., 2 to 3 p.m. Later broadcasts may be heard at 5 to 7 p.m.

resent them; therefore my government must be against me. They can also go through a line of similar reasoning about the money the U. S. contributes to some group not liked by them. Another series of similitude statements proves that everyone who speaks Arabic is an Arab, particularly if he is a Moslem and everywhere any Arab person has been in the past 1,000 years is Arabic territory.

Lest We Forget: To be "rich toward God" is true wisdom. The more you possess spiritual riches, the more humble will you be before God. Indeed, a poor pious man is, in God's estimation, as high a character as exists on earth. When God's only-begotten Son became incarnate, this was the character He assumed. Seek to conform to Him, and you need not desire anything beyond. Nothing is of any value without piety; nor can anything add to piety when it fully occupies the soul.

A most cordial welcome to you.

"LET ME PRAY"

in simple words that are full of meaning. Let me say The Lord's Prayer every day with a fearless and grateful heart.
With a sense of Divine concern for daddy, and mummy, and sister, and all our friends — let me ask that thine ear be open and that you will hear me, Father. Thou hast commanded me to come as a little child; to be humble as a little child; to have faith as a little child. Here I am, so please bless me and make me one of thine own. Bless our pastor, and our church and help us to grow in the grace and knowledge of God.
With firm faith that sees beyond the failures of men — Father, you have let me pray."

It will continue to in appreciable news valu- ng as there are untold i- that can be brought up one time. The question is, how can Mr. Eisenhower and Adams stand the heat. ther cases of misconduct, as some would say, "im- dent" conduct, during this nistration were short- e because their news val- played out quickly. They were somewhat like a shoot- ing star on the political hori- zon. The brilliance of their original flash was promptly dimmed by the quick sever- ance of any ties or connection with the White House. How- ever, the present situation presents a horse or perhaps, a vienna, of another color. This is not a case where some distant relative whose fall in- to disgrace could be charged off to some inadvisable poli- tical marriage along the way. Politically speaking, this in- volves the blood kin in the immediate family, which pro- bably explains Papa's reac- tions. Although to many it may ap- pear as a comedy of errors, the interwoven threads of tra- gedy must not be overlooked. The fact is that this country was built upon several basic prin- ciples. One of these was "equality under the law." In other words, a man was to be judged from a standpoint of complete fair- ness, regardless of his station in life, his material wealth, or his creed. Yet, transactions such as those in which Sherman Adams, the assistant to the President of the United States, and proba- bly the most powerful man in the world next to the President, was involved, would indicate that there is an avenue through which favored treatment may be had; and area in which a man could operate without being subject to the same rules, regulations and laws as the other people of this country; a status that would enable one man to receive preferential treat- ment in obtaining profitable contracts paid for by the tax- money; a situation whereby the friendship with a man high in government would entitle one man to concessions that were not available to others. It is the doubts and the sus- picions created by the Sherman

Adams-Bernard Goldfine per- formance that might constitute the termite that could destroy the underpinnings of our entire government. How can any man who bids on a government contract, or has a case pending before the Federal Trade Com- mission, or an application be- fore the Federal Communica- tions Commission, or even a case pending in a court, help but wonder whether or not he can expect a fair and impartial hearing or trial, or whether on the other hand his adversary or opponent has an inside wire to the White House that can ob- tain a personal interview with those who will sit in judgment on the matter in which he is interested. It makes no difference which political party might be in power. The constitutional rights and guarantees would have little significance under such a system. The best interests of this country can only be served by a thorough, complete and fair revelation of all of the facts sur- rounding all of the transactions. The right of the people to know must not be violated. WALTER ROGERS Member of Congress 18th District of Texas

Grandmothers Going Modern

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Has your grandmother joined a harmonica band? Are there tinted threads among the grey? Is grannie bowling too frequently to crochet? More power to her, says Mrs. Sylvia Stalcup of Akron, national president of the Grandmothers' Club. After 20,000 miles of traveling as the nation's No. 1 official grandma, Mrs. Stalcup reports modern conveniences have gotten grannie out of the house and into all kinds of activities.

"Today's grandmother is adventurous enough to try the chemise, vain enough to watch her figure, chic enough to tint her hair if she feels like it, and agile enough to wear 3-inch heels." As for the harmonica band, Mrs. Stalcup says 18 grandmothers in Akron play in them. Bowling is also popular with the nation's grandmothers, she says.

But the nation's No. 1 grannie is all for banishing the grandmother who tries to be a matriarch. "The grandmother should never, never try to dictate to the younger members of her family. She can give advice, but only when it's asked for." Mrs. Stalcup offers some other "don'ts" for grandmas: Don't babysit too much, don't play favorites among your grandchildren, and don't live with your children if you can help it.

There's a lot to look forward to when you become a grandmother, she says. "The rearing of your own family with all its trials — as well as its joy — is behind you. In the role of grandmother you don't have the responsibilities you used to, but you have all the joys over again in your grandchildren." And what is Mrs. Stalcup, already four times a grandmother, looking forward to? "Becoming a great-grandmother."
