Migrant Ministry Group Gathers For Summer Work

By DAN MUDD BRAND STAFF REPORTER. Thirteen young college and university students from various parts of the United States will arrive in Hereford next week to assist in building a social service center for Latin-American families of the Labor Camp.

Arriving in Hereford Thursday this week were work camp directors, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Story of Nashville, Tenn., who will direct the students on the project. In conjunction with five local churches and the United Council of Church Women of Hereford, the group will stay in Hereford for six weeks this summer for the building of a "community center" type construction adjacent to the Labor Camp. During their stay here, they will be carpenters, missionaries and ambassadors of good will.

Their two adult leaders were appointed by the United Christian Missionary Society, with headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind. Framework of the 24 by 64-foot Stran-steel building is scheduled to begin Monday of next week.

The students, scheduled to arrive Sunday and Monday, will include: David Baker of Tyler, Wayne L. Ewen of Bonham, James L. Fisher of Lubbock, Donald M. Henderson of Houston, Mary S. Jimenez of Corpus Christi, Joyce Lumpkin of Houston, Valerie Lynch of Houston, Susan Munsie of Decatur, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Merle Oleson of Sioux City, Iowa, and Roberta Steger of Crete, Ill.

GROCERY HIT FOR $150

While his younger companion stayed at the store, a car outside the grocery store was hit for $150. The car was a 1960 model gray and blue car from the parking lot of the First Baptist Church. The car was reported missing by Mrs. Charles Hoover of Hereford, that day was later recovered five miles southeast of Hereford near the Al Smith farm.

The robbery was reported to Hereford police at 10:37 a. m., and the car was discovered at about 3 p. m. Burglars Grab Watches, Camera Thursday Night

Twelve wrist watches and a movie camera, all valued at $236, were taken from a window display case at Lamm Jewelry Store by one or more burglars late Thursday night.

When the window was broken, the store's burglar alarm was tripped. The burglar alarm alerted a police car cruising in the vicinity of the store. The watches and camera were taken through the broken section of the plate glass window. In apparent haste, two wrist watches were dropped by the burglars and were found lying on the sidewalk.

Investigating police said the man, about 24 or 25 years old, made an 80-cent purchase and ordered Mrs. Dool to place the $150 from the cash register in a grocery sack.

Outline Finances, How To Get Into Proposed Home For Aging

Around Town

Fair skies and hot winds provided the needed keys to open the 1960 harvest season in Deaf Smith County this week. Combines began their slow, relentless paths across the golden acres while trucks painfully rolled out of the fields toward the towering elevators. No matter how many times you have seen such a sight, it never fails to stir you with an impact of this area's productivity. Yields are high and the farmers are happy. They escaped much of the destruction that was expected from a series of rains and storms that lashed across the countryside.

The Youth Employment Service in Hereford still needs jobs badly, a check Saturday morning revealed. Only eight jobs (Continued on page 6)

Pitman Named Demo Elector

John Douglas Pitman of Hereford was named by the State Democratic convention Tuesday as a presidential elector for the November general election. The convention was held Tuesday this week at Austin, Deaf Smith County delegates to the state party convention were Bill Decker, Charles Hoover and Clinton Jackson, with their wives serving as alternates.

Minor Changes Made For 1960 Festival Events

Two minor changes were approved Thursday during a breakfast meeting of the Hereford Harvest Festival committee.

This year, the Junior Chamber of Commerce will stage its Queen contest on Tuesday before the Festival on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 28-30. The contest on July 28 will be held in the Hereford High School auditorium.

Last year the contest was held two nights during the festival. The Festival Queen will thus be able to reign over all the many activities planned for the celebration.

In other action, the exhibits at the Bull Barn will be called "Farm and Home Show". Mrs. J.W. Thomas, who is in charge of the show, reported that all but seven of the 40 booths available have been sold. Festival chairman Raymond White asked that free entertainment be planned for the crowds during the Saturday barbecue and continuing on through the afternoon. Hereford Riders Club representative Harold Easley said (Continued on page 3)

Home In Hereford for Golden Age Citizens

Homes for older adults sponsored by church administrators have for their objectives not only health and comfort, but even rehabilitation for those who have "given up to bare existence until death". Beyond helping the members inside the home there is usually a program that seeks, and often succeeds, in rehabilitation for older adults inside the community but outside the home. This week we would talk a bit about "How can I get into this proposed home? If it is to be a Methodist home how can I hope to get in if I am not a Methodist?"

No person will be turned away because he or she is not a Methodist. Certainly it is (Continued on page 2)

Dragnet Still Out For Two In Daylight Armed Robbery

Hereford police, Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department officers and Texas Highway Patrol officers Saturday continued an area search for two armed robbers who held up Parkway Grocery in Hereford Friday morning.

The man who staged the armed robbery was described as being from 5-10 to 6 feet tall and weighing about 165 pounds. He reportedly had a heavy beard, and was wearing a khaki hat with the bill turned down, a gray short-sleeved sport shirt and work pants.

The youth sitting in the car was described as about 19 years old and had long blond hair. Mrs. Dool said the robber was in the store from five to 10 minutes before pulling the holdup. After he entered the store, he started walking around looking for items, she said, and in the meantime a customer and a soft drink distributor also entered the store.

"He looked like he was hunting for something he could not find," said Mrs. Dool. "I went over and asked if I could help him find something, and he asked if we stocked instant coffee (Continued on page 2)

Canadian River Authority Talk Slated Friday

A. A. Meredith, executive secretary of the Canadian River Municipal and Industrial Water Authority, will speak at a public meeting in the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom on Friday, June 24. The noon luncheon meeting will be sponsored by the Water Resources Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. Les Combs is chairman of the committee.

Meredith will review the history and organization of the authority he represents and to answer questions as to the advantages and possibilities of Hereford entering into the program. Former city manager of Borger, Merrell has been with the Canadian River dam project (Continued on page 3)

Wheat Tests Show Need For Cleaning

Light interest was indicated Wednesday, when only 11 persons inspected results of the wheat drill box survey which was made last fall by Deaf Smith County farmers, 4-H Club members and County Agent J. W. "Lefty" Thomas on the Harold Shearhart farm.

The tour was held Wednesday afternoon on the Shearhart farm, located northeast of Hereford, where plots were planted from samples taken from 50 farms and 24,312 acres of wheat.

Beet Group Sets Denver Meeting With Sugar Co.

Four members of the local legislative committee of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers have been requested to meet with officials of American Crystal Sugar Beet Company in Denver Monday morning.

Attending the meeting from Hereford will be Palmer Norton, president of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, and Hank Williams, James Witherspoon and Lee Benefield, representing the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association. This week, Benefield and Norton have been in Washington to work for passage of a sugar beet acreage bill to be presented in Congress. (Continued on page 2)

SEVEN COMBINES invade a wheat field located about 14 miles southwest of Hereford Thursday afternoon. At left, Maynard Buck and his son, John, admire the dryland wheat which is yielding from 25 to 30 bushels per acre. The grain tested between 60 and 62 pounds, and in spite of from 25-30 percent hail damage, Buck is well-satisfied with yields. Combines are becoming familiar again as rainstorms have come to a halt and the sun has been beaming on fields for the past week. (Staff Photo) true that in the very nature of the response to publicity, more Methodists will apply than will others. That means that the home will have more Methodists than other faith groups. But the basis for admission follows more closely other considerations.

First, suppose I have no property and only $300 cash saved and am living with loved ones who keep me under welfare on the $48 per month I receive from Old Age Assistance.

Then I will apply for admission to the home and will be given consideration just as carefully as will people of wealth. I will have to give the details of my estate position. If the percentage of guest care rooms in the home are already filled (and guest care rooms are forced to remain at a given portion of the home capacity) then I will have to wait until there is a vacancy in the guest care category. Guest care rooms are identical with those of monthly pay care members.

Suppose I have a small house worth about $4,000, which will rent for $40 per month, and a retirement check of $88 per month.

It is likely that I can make application for admission and get by with monthly care membership by agreeing to earn $10 per month in special assigned work about the home as long as I am able to do some work and by assigning the rent house to the home at my death.

I would have to wait until there was a vacancy in the monthly care category of the membership, because the rooms in which I am to live must be bought by some founder who owns them until he or she wants to live in them or who gives them to the home as a memorial gift to help people who are not able to pay for an apartment.

Suppose I have property that makes it easily possible for me to become a founder. What is a founder?

A home built on the founder plan is the most successful design for finance. That simply means that at least 60 per cent of the rooms or apartments are given to the home either by people who are to move into them, as soon as they are built, or by a deferred arrangement which may mean some years later, or by people who give the cost of the apartments as a memorial to some loved or respected individual.

Usually the complete home is built by borrowing the cost of many of the apartments to be used by guest care or monthly care members who cannot give the amount of the cost of the apartment they use, with the plan to finally secure each of those rooms as gifts from donors on a memorial or a deferred basis.

Founders are those who do give a gift equal to at least 60 per cent of the cost of the apartment in cash to get the dwelling built whether it be for themselves or for some other person's benefit.

People who have enough to make a Founder's gift and then pay the monthly care costs become the financial undergirding which makes the home a happy family which forgets entirely that some are both benefactors and beneficiaries while others are beneficiaries only.

Some who move into the home will have enough resources to give the Founder's gift for the apartment and pay cash enough for a life-care contract. That number will be limited to a small percent of the total membership for sound finance reasons.

Common chatter on the street often sounds as though the government is trying to get all our dollars. The truth is that in spite of growing costs of government and far too much socialism creeping into our culture the person who wants to give large gifts for the sake of humanity has astonishing tax protection and incentive provisions carefully guarded by our government.

Under certain types of administration, annuity bonds can be purchased on homes that will almost pay for themselves to the estate purchasing them over a 10 or 12 year period with much of the returns being tax exempt and the principal of the bond being counted tax exempt.

In some cases up to 50 per cent, in some families set up temporary trusts, which are just the opposite of annuity bonds, whereby the capital investments are held in trust by the home administrators and all the income from the trust goes to help operate the home but at the death of the family or at a set time the original trust goes back to the family.

Arrangements can be made whereby the appreciation of the original trust, which may be an astonishing gain, can be left to the home and the family retains the first gift or trust without added income tax. Our people know far too little about how to make their dollars bless humanity in the tax provisions and boards of administration of such homes are prepared to help guaranteed job. City of Hereford Manager Dudley Bayne, who attended the meeting, indicated the city commission probably would participate in a re-evaluation study if the school and county commission decide to go ahead. Last Monday the county commission turned down a proposal from McMorries and Company to do a property study for the county.

Bayne met with the board to discuss the problems relating to paving Moreman Avenue. The street, which is not paved at present, is the only convenient access route to Northwest Elementary School.

Since the street is outside the city limits, there isn't much the city can do, Bayne explained. The school board agreed and no action was taken.

A revised school calendar was approved by the trustees. Fall term will start on August 29. The change was approved to allow more flexibility in teaching due to bad weather closings and to provide teachers more time to clear records and make reports at the end of the year.

Board members approved a request for about 70 Boy Scouts to spend the night in the old Stanton Junior High gymnasium on July 29. The Scouts are from Stephenville and will be en route to the national Scout Jamboree in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

All requested transfers for scholastics both into and out of the district were approved for the 1960-61 year.

A bid from Bryant Bros. Pipeline Construction Co. to install three - inch and two - inch water lines, sprinkling risers and gate valves from Northwest Elementary School to the high school baseball field and new football practice field was read. The bid was $1190.25 for materials and installation. The bid was passed for the present and is to be considered again during preparation of the budget. The plastic pipe would get water to the fields.

Superintendent Paul Stevens, and trustees Bill Gentry and B. F. Cain were asked to make a survey of needed repairs at the Dawn School and see that such repairs were made.

Eleven teachers were hired or re-assigned by the board. Among the group, Jerry Murphy has moved from the high school faculty to the post of assistant principal, classroom teacher and physical education instructor at Central School. Joe Brooks and Max Washington were approved for contracts as assistant football coaches.

greatly in this field of planning. Next week we hope to talk some about why the church belongs in this business, for it has quickly become a strong business and in many cases is doing wonderful things for those who are able to pay for commercial services.

Definite progress is being marked up each week on the Hereford prospects begun under the inspiration of the Business and Professional Women Club of the city with help from other organizations and individuals, especially the Hereford Area Foundation.

Two others also will work on the project, but their names were not available Friday, according to V. E. Dodson, chairman of the Hereford Committee on Migrant Ministry.

The committee, formed earlier this year to plan the summer work program, is made up of three representatives from each of the following churches: First Methodist, Wesley Methodist, First Presbyterian, First Christian and St. Thomas Episcopal; plus two representatives of the United Council of Church Women of Hereford.

Witherspoon, who has corresponded with Norton and Benefield, said it is doubtful if the old law limiting the acreage will be extended by this legislature. Failure to extend the existing law will be to the benefit of this area, he said.

The work of the local beet growers committee, he said, is largely responsible for the sugar act not being extended as it has been in previous years.

Witherspoon said the local growers now have the support of the congressmen and senators from Colorado, California and other beet growing areas in obtaining acreage for this area.

The meeting in Denver will start at 9 a. m. Monday. After this meeting, it is hoped that a more definite announcement can be made, Witherspoon said.

He added that this is the first time the sugar beet company has requested the presence of the local committee. Other times, they have granted appointments at the request of local legislative committee.

The acreage bill to be presented in Congress concerns establishment of sugar beet acreage allotments for the area between Clovis and Hereford, including parts of Parmer and Baily counties.

Plans for establishment of a plant near Hereford, center of the largest sugar - beet growing acreage in the area, already are well advanced.

Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa, 18th Congressional District representative, introduced the bill. Provisions would give 50 per cent of the proposed acreage increase allotments to farmers who have not previously engaged in beet farming; 35 per cent to growers who have been in the business 10 to 15 years; and 15 per cent to well - established sugar beet growers.

in small jars. "I told him that we had instant coffee in large jars only, and he seemed to want no more help after I told him that. He continued to walk around and I went back to the checking counter," she pointed out.

When a customer came in and walked back to the back of the store, the robber came to the counter and placed whipping cream and a large and small package of cookies on the counter, she said. He placed a dollar bill beside his purchases, which amounted to 80 cents, Mrs. Dool said.

"I opened the cash register, placed the dollar bill inside and looked up to give him his change after I closed the register," Mrs. Dool said.

He said "Give me that money," Mrs. Dool said. She said she started to say something, and he repeated, while holding a pistol, "Don't you say a word. Give me that money." He repeated the statement again, and ordered her to place the money in the sack with his purchases.

After the man left the store, she said, she alerted the customer and soft drink distributor to see where the car was headed while she called the police.

Heading community relations between the work camp and the committee is John Robertson of Lubbock, who represents the department of Migrant Ministry, Texas Council of Churches.

Robertson will be in Hereford four days each week for the remainder of the summer. He has been meeting with the local committee for the past six weeks in making preparations for the project.

A portion of the building will be erected by the Plains Steel Building Company of Amarillo, which will begin work Monday. Steel framework, exterior and insulation work will be completed about Wednesday.

Interior lining and work on facilities inside the building will be done by the students, under direction of the Rev. and Mrs. Story and Ed Warren of Hereford.

Dodson said water wells have been drilled, cased and developed under direction of the group's location committee, headed by Les Combs of Hereford. A pressure pump will be installed the first of the week.

Installation of a gas line is scheduled to begin the first of next week.

The building will provide a 16 by 24 - foot space for living quarters of a permanent staff. Activity area will be 48 by 24 feet.

The construction will be located on the paved road leading from U. S. 385 to Hereford Labor Camp southwest of the city. It will be built on the north side of the road, close to the Labor Camp.

Temporarily, the 13 students and two sponsors will live in a rented house at 710 Miles. They will move to the new building when it is suitable for living quarters.

Dodson said that more than $2,000 has been raised for costs of building, donated by various local churches, organizations and individuals. He added that many have donated material and labor toward the project.

A drive for more funds, with a $4,000 goal, will be held in this county sometime in July, Dodson pointed out.

The following persons were elected Monday night to aid Mrs. Lee Benefield, chairman of the financial committee, in organization and raising funds for the committee's building program: Bill Dameron, J. C. McCracken, Ellen Carter, Larry Summers and Charles Hill.

Robertson said the Texas Council's Department of Migrant Ministry carries on summer programs in 26 communities in Texas annually, but that Hereford's program is the only one to include a building project this year.

"We think the program here is particularly valuable as migrant workers tend to stay in Hereford longer," Robertson said.

While construction is in progress, the students will be working with Latin - American families. They will leave Hereford about Aug. 8.

The local committee recently adopted a statement of purpose that it shall have "a compassionate ministry to the spiritual and physical needs of the Latin - American people of Hereford and the Labor Camp".

"Community support in this program has impressed us very much," said the Rev. Story Friday.

Mrs. Story said that she and her husband have worked with bracero laborers before during summer projects, but "community support in Hereford is more pronounced than in other areas where we have worked."

The Rev. and Mrs. Story have worked on ministry projects in Hawkins, Tex., and in two camps at Flanner House, a community settlement project in Indianapolis. They have previously helped in programs for Latin - Americans in Illinois.

Robertson directs ministry work for nine programs in the West Texas area. Most of his time this summer, he said will be spent at Hereford. The volunteer ministry program is sponsored by the Texas Council of Churches, which includes 14 denominations.

The United Council of Church Women here started the first summer program for Latin - American residents six years ago, and was instrumental in forming the Hereford Committee on Migrant Ministry.

The building will be constructed on a three - lot area close to the Labor Camp. One lot was donated, and the other two were purchased at $500 each. The owner of the two lots donated $250 toward the project after the lots were purchased.

The students will come to Hereford at their own expense and will sponsor their stay here from their own savings accounts.

Representing several denominations, they will live together and rotate their responsibilities, such as carpentry on the building project, teaching Latin - American children and adults, studying, and other duties.

Students applying for participation in the project were carefully screened by the Indianapolis headquarters of United Christian Missionary Society. Most of the students submitting applications to work on the project are planning a vocation in missionary fields after graduation.

After the center is finished, it will belong to the committee for its goal of providing a year-around program to improve health conditions and general education among Latin - American families as well as providing a place for supervised recreation for youth.

Single-Ring Ceremony Read In First Christian Church

The First Christian Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Linda Carole Shaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Shaffer, 206 Grand Ave., and Marvin Welty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Welty, 115 Bradley.

Single-ring vows were read by the Rev. Gilbert Davis, pastor of the First Christian Church on Sunday, June 12, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The church was decorated with bridal baskets of white bridal tapers. Palm trees completed the setting and miniature wedding bells and lilies of the valley were tied to the pews with white satin bows.

Miss Tommie Kay Robinson was organist. She presented traditional nuptial music and the wedding marches. Miss Ann Wagoner, cousin of the bride, accompanied the bride's brother, Gordon Shaffer of Iowa, who sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Mrs. Gordon Shaffer of Anamosa, Ia., sister-in-law of the bride was matron of honor. She wore a ballerina dress of orchid crystalline over taffeta with a white lace head band and nose veil of illusion. She wore white accessories and carried a cascade of white carnations.

Miss Diana Postel of Anamosa, Ia., served as flower girl, wearing a pink nylon net and taffeta frock and carried a basket of rose petals.

Rondell Roy Coltharp of Amarillo, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer, and candles were lighted by Joe Bob Wagoner and Pamela Sue Coltharp, both cousins of the bride.

R. C. Welty assisted his brother as best man, and ushering were Delton Ray Cochran, G. C. Merritt Jr. and Douglas Ramsey of Portales, N. M.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a traditional gown of rosepoint lace over net and taffeta. The molded bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and bracelet length sleeves crushed at the elbows. A floor length gathered bouffant skirt was of lace with alternating tiers of lace and ruffles at the sides and back. Her scalloped fingertip veil of silk illusion was of her own designing. It was attached to a regal crown encrusted with seed pearls.

A removable white orchid centered the bridal bouquet with encircling pink rosebuds and cascades of white satin love-knots.

For sentimental reasons, she carried out the traditional custom of "something borrowed and blue, old and new", and her pearl necklace was the bridal gift of the groom.

The bride's mother chose a Dior blue cotton lace dress, wearing white accessories. Mrs. Welty chose a beige eyelet dress for her son's wedding with pink accessories. Their corsages were of pink feathered carnations.

A reception at the IOOF Hall for close friends and relatives followed the ceremony. The serving table was laid in white over orchid and centered with an arrangement of daisies flanked by orchid tapers. The three tiered wedding cake was topped by a miniature bridal couple. Miss Dorcey Mutter and Miss Ruby Brewton served and Miss Gena Gwinn registered the guests. Miss Sandra Moore was at the piano.

Assisting in the house party were Mesdames Joe Wagoner, G. C. Merritt Jr., Bernie Northcutt, W. B. Nunley, John D. Owen, G. C. Merritt, David Seal and Miss Ann Wagoner.

For her wedding trip the bride chose a blue linen suit with white accessories and the orchid from the wedding bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School. She was a member of FHA, Future Nurses Club, D. E. Club, and was a member of Order of Rainbow for Girls. She has been employed at the Hereford Brand.

Her husband, also a graduate of Hereford High School is employed with the Phillips Petroleum Company in Grants, N. M. Out of town guests at the wedding included Mrs. Bob Postel and Diana, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Shaffer and son of Alamosa, Ia., Mrs. David Seal of Childress, Pam and Randall Ray Coltharp of Amarillo, Mrs. H. G. Enoch of Roswell, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Grady Ramsey and children of Portales, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Fred DeOliviera of Tucumcari, N. M.; Doranna Ramsey of Conchas, N. M., Mrs. M. D. Welty, House, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Troy Welty and Mrs. John Hampton and children of Twitty.

Of the samples which were cleaned, 16 contained no weed seed and only seven contained weed seed.

Of the 20 samples that were not cleaned, 10 contained weed seed and 10 contained no weed seed. No information on cleaning was available on seven samples.

The percentage of inert matter averaged 2.47 with a low of .19 per cent and a high of 7.36 per cent.

The 23 cleaned samples had an average of 1.92 per cent inert matter. The samples that were not cleaned had an average of 3 per cent inert matter.

Seventy-four per cent of the farmers treated their seed with a fungicide and 26 per cent reported that their seed were not treated.

The seeding rates varied from 22 pounds to 92 pounds per acre, but the average was 48.4 pounds per acre. Both dryland and irrigated seeding rates were included in the averages.

Johnson grass, a primary noxious weed, was found in three of the samples. One sample contained blue weed and another sample contained goat grass.

Sixty-two per cent of the samples contained no noxious or common weed seed.

Number of weed seed per 30 pounds of wheat included: 39, 48 and 117 Johnson grass on three samples; 78 blue weed on one sample, and 60 goat grass on another sample.

County Agent Thomas suggested that "We should, as wheat farmers, plant quality wheat seed, have the seed cleaned and treated and stay away from planting noxious weed seed and grain mixtures."

County 4 - H Club boys and their fathers gathered and catalogued samples taken last October. Providing financial support for the program were Hereford Grain Corporation, Pittman Grain Corporation, Miller

(Continued from page 1) since its inception. Persons planning to attend the luncheon should obtain meal reservations from the Chamber of Commerce office before 10 a.m. Friday.

Seed Company, W. A. C. Seed Company, Continental Grain Company and Scott Seed Company.

Plantings on the Shearhart farm consist of three 15-foot rows from each sample taken, with the various varieties grouped together. A sample of foundation seed of each variety was planted so the drill box samples could be checked for varietal purity.

Results of the test from the seed laboratory show the number of noxious and common weed seeds in the one-pound sample tested. The test also shows the amount of inert matter and the amount and kinds of other crop seeds.

The program was started as little is known about seed-borne diseases and fungus, which were revealed by the sample plantings.

Jack Bradley To GOP Convention
Jack Bradley of Hereford has been selected as an alternate to be one of four representatives from the Panhandle to attend the Republican National Convention in Chicago Aug. 25.

He was selected at the State G. O. P. Convention held in San Antonio Tuesday this week. Delegates from the Panhandle will include Mrs. G. M. McDaniels of Borger and Gwynn Morris of Amarillo, and John McLean of Pampa and Bradley will be alternates.

The 1,200 delegates attending the state convention endorsed Richard Nixon for president and Arizona Senator Barry Goldwater for vice-president.

The national convention will last about four days, according to Kenneth Rudd, Deaf Smith County Republican chairman.

The three county delegates attending the state convention included Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rudd and Bradley.

PLAN SALE
The Little League will have its annual peanut pottie sale Saturday, June 24. The boys in uniform will make a house-to-house sale Saturday morning.

Brand...
 Publisher Jimmie Gillentine, who was on hand to receive the honors, won a first place for his column "Hereford Bull". Among his entries were a column moving into a new home, only to have all his neighbors quickly put up "For Sale" signs in their yards and another about his tour of Ontario, Canada, with editors from all over the United States last summer.
 Second place honors came for news writing and for general appearance while the Brand garnered third place rankings in news pictures and editorials.
 The Moore County News of Dumas took first place in the semi-weekly category.

Vows Repeated In Church

Miss Kathryn Coulter King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Rodney King of Charlotte, N. C., became the bride of Cameron Gault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard William Gault, 804 E. 3rd Street, yesterday evening at 5 p. m. in a double-ring ceremony read in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Russell Wingert, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, read the service.

Votive candles tied with flowers and satin ribbon marked the center aisle of the church leading to the altar which was centered with a gold cross flanked by gold candles and white gladioli and Majestic daisies in the altar vases. The satin pillowd prie dieu, centering the immediate nuptial space, was flanked by fan shaped arrangements of gladioli and Majestic daisies. Wedding tapers with votive lights, burned in fourteen branched candelabra. A white wrought iron fence entwined with flowers and greenery, and emerald palms formed the background decorations.

Mrs. Bill Stanford, organist, and Gwin Morris, vocalist, presented the wedding music. Mrs. Stanford played a brief concert as guests were arriving and accompanied the soloist, who sang "Because" and "Ave Maria". Mrs. Stanford also played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the processional and recessional.

Mrs. Richard McNabb was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Phillip Kendall of Norman, Okla., the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Dick Wright.

They wore identical dresses of white chiffon over mint green taffeta with embroidered leaves across the shoulders. They wore matching accessories and head pieces of mint petals under net veiling, and carried cascades of pink Majestic daisies. Gene Moore served as best man, with David Neal Beavers, Joe Kerr, Dale Litsch and Phillip Kendall of Norman, Okla., assisting as ushers. Candles were lighted by David King, brother of the bride.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of Chantilly lace and silk tulle over satin. A Sabrina neckline was complemented by lace scallops with accents of iridescent pearls and sequins. From the long torso waistline a bouffant tulle skirt appliqued with hand clipped lace, which also accented the front and deep hemline, swept into a Cathedral train.

Her veil of silk illusion fell to fingertip length from a half-hat of hand clipped lace and iridescent jewels. She carried a bouquet of white butterfly roses and stephanotis centered with a Cattleya orchid.

Mrs. King selected champagne lace for her gown, fashioned over willow green silk with hip panels to the hemline. She wore a beaded lace crown hat. The bridegroom's mother wore a white silk sheath with jacket lined with blue organza and a matching hat of blue velvet trimmed in iridescent beads. Each mother wore a Cymbidium orchid.

At a reception held in Fellowship Hall of the church, the bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth made by the bride's mother, centered with a five branched candelabra flanked by vari-colored midsummer flowers. Silver appointments were used and the tiered wedding confection was topped with a cascade of white roses. Baskets of gladioli and Majestic daisies with Bells of Ireland were used all about the hall. Music for the reception was provided by Mrs. Austin Rose Jr. at her organ.

Members of the house party were Mesdames J. A. Pitman, Ed Warren, O. M. Dickey, H. C. Williams, H. L. Benefield, J. D. Neill and J. O. Hall. Mrs. David King, sister-in-law of the bride, registered the guests.

When traveling on a honeymoon trip to points in New Mexico and Colorado, the bride wore a broaded beige two-piece dress with matching accessories. Upon their return the couple will live in a new home on the family ranch near Hereford. Mrs. Gault is a graduate of Central High School, Charlotte, N. C., and the Stone School of Charm and Modeling. She holds a certificate as dental assistant through the American Dental Association.

Gault, a graduate of Hereford High School, graduated from Colorado A & M College in Fort Collins and holds a degree in Animal Husbandry. He is engaged in farming and ranching.

PROTECT THIS INCOME WITH HAIL INSURANCE

During 1959 in Texas alone, more than one and one-half million dollars in crop hail damage claims were paid by insurance companies. Statistics show that equally that amount of loss was suffered on crops that were not insured. Your Texas Farm Bureau agent can give you complete details of the Farm Bureau policy that allows you more insurance per acre than any other policy. Texas Farm Bureau maintains their own staff of adjusters so you are assured of fast equitable payment on all your claims. A former Hereford resident, Mary Barbee, has been recognized in the Continental Press, house magazine for Continental Gin Company, for her outstanding work in the Lubbock office of the Continental Gin Company. Her husband, Ed Barbee, is a former manager of Bradley Mill in Hereford.

Oscar Holmes and Sammy Ponder of Hereford were to leave Saturday night for Camp Hoblitzelle near Dallas. The camp is operated by the Salvation Army. They were selected by the Deaf Smith chapter of the Salvation Army, of which Lowell Sharp is chairman. Tigers were taller than Indians Friday night in Pony League action as the Bengals clawed the Redskins 14-11. Mike Ranspot was the winning pitcher, while Lynn Warren took the loss.

In Little League play, the Yankees dropped the Giants 17-5. Yankees Steve Hodges and Jim Allison homered as did Andy Channer for the Giants. Hodges and Terry Hill hit three for four for the Yanks. Hodges also had an unusual experience when he was called out in the fifth inning for passing another base-runner between third and home.

Madame Ali Ghitto of Amarillo will be in Hereford Monday morning, June 20, to interview parents about enrolling their children (particularly girls) in a proposed charm school here. She will be in Pioneer Natural Gas Company's Flame Room from 10 a. m. until noon. She will also organize a class in beginning French for persons from school age through adults.

The Brand will carry a full picture report on two local Scout Troops at Camp Don Harrington in the Thursday issue.

Lawn care versus health care

Even with a power mower available, small boys today are disdainful of anything under two dollars for mowing your lawn. Since the average lawn gets cut twenty-five times a season, that's fifty dollars or more a year. Yet the average family does not spend much more than this on doctor bills... not as much on medicines.

the penalty there-of. I wish I had the gift of writing that would leave an impression on the minds of people and cause them to ponder this matter.

When a person is indicted the second time for DWI, it is by law a felony, and he may be sentenced to a term in prison. Here are some of the bad things and sad things concerning this law.

First: A prison term has never cured a person from drinking. I can see how it could make him worse... he has one more thing in his memory to try to drown. I believe (and I'm no authority on diseases of the mind OR body) that alcoholism starts in the mind. People have frustrations, complexes, feelings of neglect and numerous other reasons that start them to drinking. It makes them see things in a lighter view (at first), it makes them seem bigger to themselves, the load doesn't seem as heavy... Then after a time alcohol becomes a physical need, a crutch (a weak and broken one, though they know it not) to make them stronger. Then it's downhill all the way.

Second: Doctors, hospitals and research clinics are in agreement that alcoholism is a disease. Then why a prison term for illness? They aren't treated for this disease. They are serving time as punishment for having a disease. Someone is going to say, "They brought it on themselves, this disease!" This is my answer: "More and more, every day, doctors are finding out that the majority of our diseases are brought on by ourselves, one way and another, though we don't realize we are doing it". If a person afflicted with epilepsy, or heart disease, or any other disease that can cause a person to black out while driving an automobile, he isn't imprisoned... he is taken to a doctor or hospital for treat-

Texas Real Estate Head Speaks Here

W. Vernon Walsh of Brownsville, president of the Texas Real Estate Association, spoke to the Hereford Real Estate Board in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel at noon Thursday.

Walsh was accompanied by Ervin W. Luedtke, executive secretary of Texas Real Estate Association.

In his speech entitled "Your responsibility as a citizen in your community", Walsh said to be a citizen is a great honor and we as citizens have responsibilities to our country, community welfare, and our homes. "Our civilization sprang from bondage by faith in God which gave us courage, cooperation, wealth, well being, then apathy and back to bondage," stated Walsh.

Our forefathers pledged their sacred honor, lives and fortunes for the future generations, while the present generation cares only for itself. It remains to be seen if we can preserve our government and our independence, said Walsh.

"Freedom is like the air we breathe - never missed until we no longer have it."

Walsh has served two terms as vice president of the Texas Real Estate Association, and nine years on the association's board of directors.

Walsh is a member of the National Association of Real Estate Board's Institute of Real Estate Management and is the past vice president of the Farm Brokers' Texas Chapter No. 22.

He was appointed to the Texas Aeronautics Commission by Governor Allan Shivers and served for six years, during three of which he was chairman. Also John Ben Shepperd appointed him to serve as an honorary member of the Attorney General's Staff.

Sixteen persons attended the meeting.

ment. (If he isn't being taken to the morgue!) Then why can't this DWI law be changed to a sentence of so long in a hospital for treatment? A state board of doctors could fix the time of treatment required. Alcoholics are in the minority who will voluntarily get to a doctor or hospital for treatment. Then too, a lot of them can't afford a prolonged stay in a private hospital. Alcoholism is one of the greatest diseases the Nation is cursed with. How are these people going to be rehabilitated? Not in prison or in jail! We have collections for research and treatment of cancer, heart disease, multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, T.B. and others, but not a penny for the disease that is the cause of more heartaches, broken homes, and financial ruin, then any other disease on the face of the earth... Alcoholics have something worse than a germ chasing them... they have nagging devils.

Third: The prisoner isn't the only one paying or serving the sentence! His family pays also, and probably more. They have to live under the stigma of having a loved one in prison. One speaks of a defendant paying his "debt to society". He owes society nothing in the case of alcoholism. Society help put him where he is. If I was sitting on a jury, I would search my heart deep and long before I sent a person up for DWI... only in case of injury or death to others. And even that isn't quiet right. If all the DWI-ers in the small town of Hereford were arrested, bar none we would have a jail the size of the court house and then it would be crowded.

We ARE our brother's keeper, whether we want to be or not. What are we going to do about this problem? I REST MY CASE...

It's Father's Day

Father — "Dad" as we lovingly call him today — is a word said with reverence and love by all. It means home and love, peace and refuge from all kinds of problems to children of all ages. It means warmth and tenderness and fond memories of childhood. "Dad" — three little letters that mean the rules we live by, that spell out a yardstick for living for boys and girls as long as they live.

ALL SET TO GO — Neil Cooper takes a good look at the motor of Jimmy's Go-Kart well in advance of the races. Small David tries out the wheel for size and Patty wants to see what makes it go. This happy group looks forward to fun with their boat at Conchas Lake every summer, and a trip to Disneyland is being planned for August.

COMPANIONSHIP — Music hath its charms for both Dad and "Chichita," a chihuahua who never fails to take her place for listening when Sandra plays for her Dad, Ben Childers. Sandra and her Dad also enjoy horseback riding and ski trips to the lake. A graduate of Hereford High School, she plans to attend Baylor University in the fall.

'Flower Styles' Theme Of Red Sox Gain Decision Local Garden Club Show Over White Hose, 8-5

Flower styles in period, contemporary and modern designs were displayed at the Hereford Garden Club Flower Show held Friday afternoon, June 10, in the Community Center.

Mrs. O. G. Hill was general chairman of the show. Judges were Mrs. W. J. Carver, Mrs. E. C. Brittain and Mrs. J. M. Farnsby, all of Plainview.

Commenting on the show, the judges said, "The educational display of the theme 'As old fashioned as yesterday, as versatile as today and as modern as tomorrow'."

"The educational display which was done by Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, was a portrayal of an 'Instructor's Dream", an arrangement in keeping with the theme.

"Current magazines of the state and district, books on various garden club subjects and arrangements were all used. Truly an Arrangers' Dream was the display of mechanical aids such as containers, color swatches, harmony, and qualities of color and the unusual blend of background material."

The sponsored displays of Hereford florists were seen in the waiting room, and the artistic and horticulture divisions were placed in separate rooms with staging easy to see without moving exhibits, Mrs. M. T. Rutter was staging chairman. Blue ribbon winners in the Artistic Division were Mesdames Frank Brinkman, R. L. Wilson, J. P. Slaton, S. S. Williams, M. T. Rutter, Jennie Clark, Emmett Hale, O. G. Hill, W. C. Hromas, Ralph McCullough, A. L. Manjeot, R. W. Mitchell and E. Ramey.

Winning Blue Ribbons in the Cultural Division were Mesdames Frank Brinkman, R. L. Wilson, J. P. Slaton, S. S. Williams, M. T. Rutter, Jennie Clark, Emmett Hale, O. G. Hill, W. C. Hromas, Ralph McCullough, A. L. Manjeot, R. W. Mitchell and E. Ramey.

The Red Sox took advantage of every break, using three hits to score eight runs and down the White Sox 8-5 Thursday night in a Pom' League game.

Displaying his best form of the year, S. D. Baize had four innings of no-hit ball to his credit, although the Redlegs had a 5-1 lead.

Jack Andrews led off for the Reds, getting to first after striking out. The catcher failed to hold the third strike. He went to second on a steal and took third as Barry Gabbert grounded out. Andrews came in as Robert Strange grounded out.

That one run lead lasted until the top of the fourth, when the Red Sox added four more runs, still without a hit.

Gabbert got on by error, Strange struck out but reached first on a catching error, Steve Coneway walked and Jerry Don McCaslin was hit by the pitcher. Johnny Northcutt hit a sacrifice bunt to squeeze in a runner and Eddie Thompson was put out at first after the catcher dropped the ball on another strike out.

The White Sox scored their first run in the last of the fourth. With two out, Baize walked, Paul Drager was hit by the pitcher and Darrell Christianson singled.

In the fifth, the Redlegs scored one run. The Reds used their first two hits, and both were big ones. Gabbert doubled and came in on Coneway's triple.

The Reds added a pair of scores in the sixth. Northcutt and Roy Pettyjohn walked and came in on Andrews' single.

Still trying hard, the White Sox came on with a run in the sixth. Baize doubled off the wall and came in on Christianson's double.

The White Sox added three runs in the seventh, but couldn't catch up. Milton Meharg walked and Joe Hernandez singled before Ronnie Roberts and Baize put together back-to-back doubles. Roberts later scored on an error.

Danny Loerwald got credit for the win. He gave up five runs and scattered eight hits during the last four innings after allowing no hits during the first three. He struck out five and walked six while hitting one batter.

Baize was tagged with the loss. He struck out 15 and walked just three while giving up three hits. He hit two batters. Joe Hernandez worked the last inning for the White Sox. He struck out two, walked one and hit one. He gave up no runs and no hits.

Also, a more complete outline of Camp Fire camp activities will be announced later.

REALIZES AMBITION
NEW YORK (AP)—Christopher Plummer is realizing one of his main acting ambitions in first London appearance.

Plummer, who has scored several Broadway successes, is to have the title assignment in Tyrone Guthrie's modern-dress version of "Hamlet," due for spring presentation.

The Canadian-born actor's most recent role here was the devil in "J. B." During the play run Plummer told interviewers that a role he had long wanted to play was the melancholy Dane.

By May, Syracuse University had taken orders for 16,000 tickets for the Army-Syracuse football game to be played in Yankee Stadium next Nov. 5.

A TRIBUTE TO FATHERS!

There's an old saying that "mother knows best." Well, it seems to us that Father, bless him, should come in for some compliments, too, once in a while. It is true, of course, that upon mother's patient shoulders rests the upbringing of our children. And that is as it should be. But let's not forget that Pa is generally the family breadwinner and it is up to him to pay the bills. When day is done and he comes home, make things as cherry and loving as you can. Have a nice dinner ready. Lay out his slippers and his beloved pipe. Show him how much you love him by being kind and considerate. He may not tell you how he appreciates these attentions. But he will... all good fathers do!

Cardinals Outscore Dodgers 15-10 With Big 2nd Inning

Cardinal Little Leaguers used a ten-run attack in the second inning en route to a 15-10 victory over the Dodgers Thursday night.

The teams came to a 2-2 tie in the second, but that didn't last long. The Dodgers started off the first with two runs on no hits. John Gilbert and Doug Watson drew walks and used stolen bases and two errors to score.

In the last of the first, the Cards tied it up. Mark Manning singled, Jerry Fowlkes singled, Gary Payne got on as Fowlkes was erased and Mike Watts got on by error.

In the second to gain an 8-2 lead. Greg Johnson singled, Roger Owens walked, Bill Watts doubled and John Gilbert got on by error. Then David Evans walked, Doug Watson got on by error and Gary Story and Dan McWhorter walked to shove in the runs.

Two more runs were added in the third by the Cardinals, giving them a 14-8 lead. Payne opened with a homer with none on. Watts got on by error and came in as Brown and the two Knox boys drew walks. The Dodgers added their last two runs in the fourth. Mike Higgins singled and was erased at second as Doug Watson got on by fielder's choice. Story walked and both runners came in on a single by Greg Johnson. Mims scored the Cards' last run in the fourth with two outs as he got on by fielder's choice and went to second on a passed ball. Mike Watts was safe on an error as Mims came in. Payne was credited with the victory, receiving aid from Mims in the third. Roger Owens took the loss. He was changed in favor of Doug Banner in the second.

Paint Stains

For paint stains on clothing, turpentine, kerosene, and cleaning fluid are all good solvents. None of these, however, is reliable if you have allowed the stains to become stale. For stale paint stains, try combining equal parts of turpentine and acetone (or nail - polish remover) so long as the fabric involved is not acetate rayon, and use it as you would ordinary cleaning fluid.

Brown Sugar

Brown sugar can be softened and made easier to measure by placing it in a flat baking pan and placing in the oven for a few minutes. However, it should be watched closely to prevent burning.

Luggage

After writing on the label for your luggage and the ink is dry, go over it with the end of a warm candle. This will protect it against rain during the trip.

Silver Fish

To put silver fish to flight, use five - per - cent DDT water or oil spray, or dust 10 - per - cent DDT powder in their haunts, and leave it for a few days. The spray may be wiped on floors and shelves with a cloth, if preferred, or applied with a paintbrush.

Recent Bride Is Feted At Party

A shower tea, given in the home of Mrs. Louis Woodford, 216 Star St., on June 2 honored Miss Linda Shaffer, whose marriage to Marvin Welty took place on June 12.

Other hostesses for the pre-nuptial party included Mesdames James P. Brogden, Harold K. Shearhart, P. L. Carmichael, Elmer Combs, R. L. Wilson, Clyde Russell, S. O. Wilson, Ray Suit, George Muse, Melvin Sumner, Bert Brown, Ira Scott, John Hunter and Guy Lawrence.

Receiving the guests were Mrs. Woodford, Mrs. James Shaffer, mother of the bride, Mrs. Woodrow Welty and the honoree.

The tea table carried out the colors of orchid and pink used in the wedding. Centering the table was an arrangement of pink roses and love birds, complementing the orchid cloth overlaid in white lace.

Wheat And Barley Trucks Appearing

By MRS. CARL WIMBERLEY
Approximately three dozen loads of wheat and barley came into the Dawn elevators Wednesday. Moisture content ranged from 13 to 15 per cent. The Tuck brothers reported some dry land wheat on the R. A. Frye farm to be averaging 30 bushels to the acre.

Local managers of the elevators expect harvest to be going strong as soon as the ground is dry - probably by the first of the week.

Mrs. Willard White of Plainview visited in Dawn last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Frye.

Mrs. Carl Wimberley, Phyllis Wimberley and Marilyn Christian of Stinnett made a trip to Sweetwater and surrounding towns Friday and returned home Saturday. Phyllis and Marilyn attended the Friday evening wedding of Jane Etheredge and Jerry Branson in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Etheredge in Roby. Phyllis and Marilyn assisted in the reception which followed.

Later they visited Ruby Jones in her home at Trent and spent the night with Minta

Formby Makes Official Visit

Clint Formby, Lieutenant Governor of Division 7, Texas Kiwanis Clubs, spoke to the Hereford Kiwanis Club Thursday, June 16 in terms of serving the community and the church as an individual.

"The philosophers say that today people do not have any convictions and do not stand up for what is right, but follow the crowd and live off society," said Formby.

This year the Kiwanis motto, "Freedom is up to you," and the Kiwanis program emphasizes the role of the individual in all phases of community life.

To back up his statement that people are creatures of habit and dislike taking risks, Formby cited a survey taken by Fortune Magazine. The surveyors asked college students if they would rather have a job paying $150,000 a year which would entail a risk and a chance of loss, or if they would like a secure job paying $15,000 a year with no risk of loss. The students took the $15,000 job. Fortune used this to indicate that people are losing their initiative, he said.

Besides losing their initiative, people have stopped being curious; curiosity gave us electricity, automobiles and airplanes, said Formby.

"If you don't have a philosophy and have never had an argument with a friend concerning a controversial subject, then you better check yourself. You are probably following the crowd too much," said Formby.

Miller Presents Lions' Program

Bruce L. Miller, of Hereford, who has recently been named by the Air Force to the position of a Liaison Officer to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, provided a program in slides for the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday.

Miller's post here is to exchange and assist outstanding young men in applying for admission to the Air Force Academy.

The recently established Academy at Colorado Springs is able to enroll 2,500 cadets for a four-year program and has a total of 183 credit hours in the social sciences and humanities, said Miller.

The cadets are taught by "top notch men", 85 per cent of whom have master of arts degrees and 15 per cent of whom have their worth of Canyon, principal of the school.

Main business transacted was the selection of members for the various committees. These were as follows: finance, Mrs. May, Mrs. Ted Richardson, and Mrs. Fuller; yearbook, Mrs. Higgins, Mrs. H. H. Miller and Mrs. Galley; program, Mrs. H. D. Fowler, Mrs. Richard Golden and Mrs. Polan; doctorate.

Hospitality, Mrs. Golden, Mrs. Tony Burrus and Mrs. Laverne Schenk; health, Mrs. H. H. Miller and Mrs. H. E. Miller Jr.

Men eligible for the academy must be between the ages of 17 and 22 and unmarried. They must be male U. S. citizens of a good moral character and in good physical condition. Miller suggested that the young men who might be interested in the academy should start making application when they are juniors in high school.

"The mission of the academy is to provide instruction, experience and motivation for the cadets so they will graduate with the knowledge, character, quality of leadership essential to their progressive development as a career officer in the United States Air Force," Miller pointed out.

Officers Elected By OES Past Matrons

Former Local Girl Weds Joe Ed Andrews In Abilene

In a double-ring ceremony Tuesday evening, June 3, in the chapel of the First Baptist Church of Abilene, Miss Judith Raye Haseloff became the bride of Joe Ed Andrews of Hereford. The Rev. Edwin L. Skiles, pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Haseloff of Abilene, formerly of Hereford, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Owen Andrews of Hereford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in a formal gown of lace over satin. Lace appliques dotted with sequins and pearls outlined the off-- the - shoulder neckline, and enhanced the bouffant skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her shoulder-length veil was held by a band of seed pearls and she carried a single white orchid resting on a white prayer book.

Miss Jo Ann Cannon was maid of honor and Pamela Haseloff of Vernon served as bridesmaid. They wore street-length dresses of blue lace over taffeta styled with bouffant skirts, and carried nosegays of blue and white daisies.

Tommy Sparkman was best man, and Robert Haseloff, brother of the bride, was groom-man. Johnny Haseloff and Larry Dobbs were ushers.

Mrs. Charles Horton of Wichita Falls, organist, and Charles Horton, vocalist, provided the wedding music.

The bride's mother wore orchid and the bridegroom's mother wore a grey frock with matching accessories. Both wore a gardenia corsage.

Following the wedding the couple was honored at a recep-

It's Time To Stand Up And Be Counted

Tax Equalization Basis American Way Of Life

The Commissioners Court this week turned thumbs down on a proposed tax evaluation study in cooperation with the City of Hereford and Hereford Rural High School district.

In our opinion, the court officially turned its back on equality and justice, the two most important tenets upon which this nation was founded and upon which it has grown and prospered.

We make this strong statement, because it is common knowledge that inequalities do exist among all three taxing bodies; because an equalization program is demanded by a majority of the population, and because existing inequalities are already recognized by the subdivisions, especially the county and school district.

Not even those who oppose an equalization survey will contend that evaluations between the three agencies are fair and equal. Two recent equalization boards for the school district have, for instance, officially protested that taxes are not equal — and have officially recommended a program of this type.

No doubt, we will hear much about costs of an equalization survey, and about sending money out of the community. It is equally probable that we will hear several watered down proposals. When all is said and done, however, an equalization survey between the three groups is the method through which taxes will be equalized.

The question of equalization of taxes is stipulated in our federal constitution, and in our local level regulations. The laws on this subject are plain and clear. We are amazed that anyone would admit that he does not approve and endorse equalization of taxes. We have said before, and we still say, the person who does not accept and meet his tax obligations is infringing upon his neighbors and fellow citizens.

The startling things about the Commissioners Court decision this week was not that they failed to employ any specific group, but that they openly said they had no future plans for an equalization program of any type. The hundreds of people who are disappointed concerning the situation have several methods of recourse.

The commissioners, when they analyze the fact, we believe will make an effort toward tax equalization and, consequently toward pursuit of equalization of taxes in a democratic and American manner.

Teenagers Offer Local Challenge

The Youth Employment Service has a problem: 40 youngsters want jobs; but only three employers have asked for workers.

If no work exists, which we doubt, the answer is simple. If the employers are fearful of putting confidence in the youngsters, or if they have been negligent in listing their needs, the project merits a strong dose of public relations. Meanwhile, it seems to us that both the employer and the employees deserve a bit of scolding.

On part of the prospective employee, we would say that a little enterprise would go a long way. Some youngster might well organize a window washing crew for the summer months, and he could sign up many customers at reasonable prices. The same would be true concerning yard work, lawn mowing and grass tending while families are on vacation. Jobs today, as always, go to those who go after them.

Most of the prospective employers, on the other hand, have individually declared time and time again that juvenile delinquency is a problem.

There Is Plenty To Do In Your Home And City

By MRS. R. L. CRISWELL Do you like young people? Most of us do. You know the old saying that "if you want to stay young, cultivate the companionship of young people, and if you want to die young, try to keep up with them."

The energy of youth is often coveted by those who are not so young. Teenagers hate to be called children, but their childishness shows in many more ways than one. We often hear them say that there is nothing to do in Hereford. But have you really tried to find something constructive to do, something that will teach the ways of life?

Let's take a look at a few things that are crying to be done. A lot of adults would do more of them, but they must be about the business of making a living and there really isn't time, or else they have used all their energy in the day's work.

45 YEARS AGO

Steers Fed In County Bring Excellent Price

D. L. McDonald got his returns last week from five cars of cattle shipped from his farm here to the Kansas City market, and they are indeed very gratifying; not only to Mr. McDonald and Messrs. Webster and Schutte who fed them, but to all those really interested in the welfare of the Panhandle country.

These cattle sold on the market for $8.80 per hundred, and the only steers that beat them that day were a bunch of heavy, corn fed cattle that had been fed a long time.

They weighed here 1,367 pounds and after the shrink they brought over $108 per head. One of the gratifying things about this lot of cattle is that they were finished on feed raised right on Mr. McDonald's farms. They were bought last fall weighing 1,031 pounds, and got on a full feed of silage, alfalfa and ground maize about January 1, the feeding period being about thirty pounds of silage, ten pounds of alfalfa hay and ten pounds of ground maize per day, and some cane hay at last.

All this feed was grown on this irrigated farm. They made a gain of 336 pounds per head. These cattle did not make big money for the feeder but they furnished a home market for feed at a little more than market value. But for the fact that stocker cattle are too high in comparison with finished cattle, they would have made a handsome profit.

25 YEARS AGO

After July 1 it is going to cost much more than right now to pay state and county taxes, be they for 1934 or for former years. Through June 30 any taxes can be paid with addition of only five percent penalty. This was provided in a law passed late in 1934 which remitted all interest and penalty on delinquent taxes.

This year the penalty has been changed, increasing at the rate of one per cent per month until it is now five per cent. It will jump to eight per cent on July 1.

Besides the penalty, interest at the rate of six per cent will be charged. The interest will be figured from the time the tax payment became delinquent. Thus, if 1924 taxes are still due they can be paid now with addition of only five per cent to the principal. But if one waits until July 1 there will be added 66 per cent interest and eight per cent penalty.

Besides the interest and penalty, there will be added a collection charge which will vary and amount to as much as $3.00 per receipt issued.

MOSQUITO CONTROL OUTLINED

Effective means of controlling mosquitos and their effects on sleeping sickness were discussed in detail by Bill Powers, of Lubbock office of the State Health Department at a meeting held in the school auditorium Thursday night. Powers emphasized that the controlling of mosquito infestations is a county problem and that separate efforts for the most part don't do too much good.

LIONS RESCHEDULE RODEO

It may be the "Soaring Sixties" for the astronauts but in Dumas this weekend it was the "Soaked Sixties" for thousands of visitors to the Lions Club's 13th annual Dogie Days celebration. The deluge started Monday and daily showers forced cancellation of the cutting horse contest, the three-day rodeo and interrupted operation of the rides and midway.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editors note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm is alarmed over a new proposal, which somebody apparently was kidding him about.

Dear editor: According to an article I read in a newspaper which fell out of a teen-ager's car as he rounded a corner out near my farm yesterday, Congress is working on a new minimum-wage law, but I couldn't find a word about a minimum wage for farmers.

I was talking about this with a neighbor this morning and he said he had been giving some thought to this problem too and had concluded the way to solve the farm problem is to pay a farmer a guaranteed wage.

"Yeah, but how you gonna figure out how many hours oshewrks?" I asked him.

"Easy," he said. "I already figured it out. Just put a timeclock on his tractor, one on his barn door, one on his pasture gate, etc., and at the end of the year he'll have an accurate record of how many hours he worked. Then the government could decide how much per hour he ought to have to hold his own with steel workers, T.V. repairmen, etc., figure up how much he got for his crops, and send him a check for the difference."

Now I have no objection to getting checks from the government, they're handy, they're neat looking, you can cash them anywhere, but I would like to say right now I have absolutely no use for time-clocks. I just don't want any accurate record of how many hours I spend on a tractor. It's un-American. It's none of the government's business.

Farming is sort of like editing a newspaper. How would you like to have to punch a time-clock every time you sat down to your typewriter? With the clock running only while you were actually typing? Farming is the same way. If you're entitled to sit and stare at your typewriter, why don't I have the same right to sit and stare at my tractor? Or my grubbing hoe, or my axe, or anything else? You don't pay yourself by the number of sheets of paper you run through your typewriter, do you? No. And I don't want to be paid by the number of trips I make up one row and down another.

Editing and farming both ought to be kept on a high intellectual level.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

HOW FRIENDLY IS YOUR HOMETOWN?

Archie Finds He Can No Longer Call Everyone By First Names

"How long you lived here, Tex?" asked Archie when the boys met for their coffee break Friday morning.

"About 12 years," answered Tex. "You were born here, weren't you Archie?"

"Yeah," he replied, "and I am beginning to think that I don't know many people. Time was when I knew everyone in town by his first name. It makes me wonder, maybe, if I am the friendly fellow I always figger me to be."

"It's tough, moving to a new town, all right," agreed Tex, "but the fellow who moves in has also got to be a little bit on the friendly side if he gets along. I've moved lots of times — and that's what I finally decided."

"How do you get acquainted?" questioned Archie.

"The best way is going to your church, or the church of your choice. There you meet nice people, and they are glad to have you. First thing off, you are going to Sunday School. That's how we met, remember? If you belong to a service club, that's another way — and you just naturally meet a lot of folks while mowing the lawn, cutting weeds, chatting over the back fence or drinking coffee. The main thing is to be friendly yourself — and I figure you've got it made."

"Why are some towns more friendly than others?" asked Archie.

"I don't know exactly," replied Tex, "but the difference does exist. I guess folks are too busy or too self-centered to pay proper attention to strangers, and a lot of towns have sets and cliques, which seem to remain aloof."

"What did you think about Hereford when you moved here?" questioned Archie. "Is this a friendly town?"

"You pretty well answered that question when you asked it," replied Tex. "As long as folks are interested in whether their town is friendly or not, it is naturally going to be friendly. When they don't care, things will be different."

"I guess you've got something, there," responded Archie. "I wonder why the churches and service clubs and Sunday Schools and other outfits don't sponsor two or three projects or programs each year on 'How to be friendly to new-comers?'"

"That's a good idea, Arch," declared Tex. "Why don't you mention it to Bill Thompson over at the Chamber of Commerce, and to some of the club leaders. You surprise me, Arch. I never knew you had so much civic pride. I believe you're going to be another Dale Carnegie, yet."

"Quit it," answered Archie with a self-satisfied grin. "I'm just a regular guy, but I do like to have friends — and I want my hometown to keep its reputation."

"So long as we have guys like you, don't worry," advised Tex. "Just meet 'em half way, pat on the back — and first thing you know you can borrow five bucks from the old boy when you get into a jam. It works every time."

"By the way, since you brought the subject up, and we're good friends, would you mind getting the coffee check this morning?" said Archie. "I just paid the light bill, and I haven't got a cent of change."

"You sure did a lot of talking to stick me with the check," avowed Tex with a grin, "but I guess I talked myself into the deal, at that."

 Agency stems from lack of work on the part of the youngsters. These very people who yell to high heaven because the youngsters do not work are the ones who contribute to their idleness by failing to cooperate with the program.
 Both sides of this question are valid. Instead of arguing about who is right or wrong, we need some positive action. We have a good set-up in our Youth Employment Service. We need to "make" some jobs, if necessary — and certainly we need to use these youngsters as much as possible on legitimate jobs in the community. If the youngsters, too, will develop a bit of initiative and meet the employer half-way, it seems to us that a worthwhile program will be on its way.

 If some of the applicants were to volunteer their time to help the Youth Employment Service telephone each prospective employer in the area, for instance, the problem might automatically be solved.
 Meanwhile, machines are rapidly replacing men and women in all types of industry. The boy or girl who finds it difficult to locate a job this summer, may well find it much more difficult in years to come. A little effort along this line now, might be worth even more in future years than the job it could secure today.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By CHARLIE SEEDS
 It seems there's nothing really new in women's fashions... because the experts can always point to a fashion of twenty years ago... or a hundred years... that was really the same idea.
 But this was a big, abrupt change, and it swept the country by storm. They called it the "New Look."
 The phrase caught on... and so did the long skirt which was its chief feature. There had been a time when women's skirts crept up as high as the knees... but now they were many inches lower.
 Even men knew all about the New Look. They couldn't help it. Their wives' dresses were suddenly all too short and out of style. Nothing would do but a new wardrobe with the new look. And there was many a man who would have liked to tell of an upstart French designer named Christian Dior.
 Remember the year? Cars were scarce that year. There were long waiting lists of prospective buyers. A buyer had to take what he could get in model, extras and trade.
 The year was 1947.
 Times have changed in the car market since then... and today's buyer is in the driver's seat. You can pick your exact model and accessories when you buy a new 1960 FORD from us... and you'll get real savings in trade and terms. We're ready to do business your way.

TOBACCO SHOP RESTORED

WINSTON - SALEM, N. C. — The latest addition to the Old Salem Restoration is a pre-Revolutionary War tobacco shop.
 The shop was founded in 1771 by Johann Matthew Miksch, a German immigrant. The recent dedication of the 187-year-old building, fore-runner of today's 1 1/2 million tobacco shops in the United States, was another step in the program to restore the early Moravian village of Old Salem.
 The restoration is being undertaken by Old Salem, Inc., a non-profit educational organization established by local citizens in 1950. Chief speaker at the tobacco shop dedication was James P. Richards, president of the Tobacco Institute, Inc.

CAMPAIGN

NEW YORK — Northern Ireland will bring its campaign for new industries to New York during the British Exhibition June 10-26.
 The country, which has attracted 141 new industries since World War II including nine from the United States, will show models of 14 plants being constructed to American industrial representatives.
 Although 25 per cent more people of Northern Ireland are employed today than 20 years ago, the country still has a large surplus labor problem, says the Northern Ireland Development Council, which is conducting the search for new industry.

Every Little Girl Wants New Dress

BY DOROTHY ROE
 THE SURE WAY to the heart of any girl, big or little, is to give her a new dress.

Little girls thrill to the joy of new finery from playpen age up. And along about this time of year all girls are thinking of spring.

So what better time is there to start your spring sewing, and whip up some gay new dresses for your favorite small glamor girl.

A fine idea is the sleeveless dress and cover-up bolero, which can be worn with the jacket now, without it as a sun dress in summer.

The sample dress made by local sewing center experts uses a washable acetate and rayon fabric in solid color sunny yellow for the dress, and a coordinated print for the bolero. Select the pattern size by the child's chest measurements. Self-fabric is used for piping at waistline and for the four covered buttons down the back of the notched bolero, giving the outfit a custom look. It is recommended that button-holes be stitched twice, using the buttonholer attachment to your sewing machine.

 A neckline zipper should be inserted in the back of the dress bodice. A nice finishing touch for this crisp, full-skirted little dress is to attach a frilly petticoat. The ruffling may be done in next to no time by using the ruffling attachment on your sewing machine.

 Veteran seamstresses advise making two or three dresses in different colors from the same pattern, saving time by using the assembly-line technique and producing a new spring wardrobe for a lucky little girl.

THE ELECTRIC CO-OP MEANS

SO MUCH

TO RURAL TEXANS

The hands that hold the phrase above could be those of most any citizen who shared the darkness of rural Texas 25 years ago. For it was then that rural people organized the first electric cooperative... borrowed money at interest and built the rural electric system that no one else would build.

Today principal and interest on these loans are being repaid... in many instances well ahead of schedule while the rural community enjoys the countless blessings electricity has brought.

Modern electric systems, efficiently managed, offer top flight service to remote areas of the state.

The electric cooperatives are keeping pace with rural development with heavier lines and improved service.

The electric cooperatives that mean "so much" today will mean even more in the future.

7 Inches Of Rain Pours Down Upon Soggy Fields

BY MRS. MERLIN KAUL

More than seven inches of rainfall was recorded in the Westway Community last week. Wednesday and Saturday were the only two days no rain fell. Two inches were recorded on Monday night, two and one-half inches on Thursday night and one-half inch on Friday afternoon.

A small shower was reported in the immediate vicinity of Westway Sunday night, but in the northeast part of the area, hail which covered the ground ruined wheat, potatoes and barley.

Mrs. Preach Merritt reports that it was "red hail"—ice mixed with top soil. Plenty of sunshine Monday and Tuesday has brought considerable drying but combine men say that the ground is still wet underneath; too much so for the combines to get into the fields yet.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Pence, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Springer and Janice and Caroline Measles of Seminole were guests last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Merritt Jr., at Hereford.

They had planned to visit the G. C. Merritt Sr., family in this community, but the lake near the Merritt place was over the road so they stayed in town and the Preach Merritts went into town and visited there.

The rains last week created a recreation area. The lake on the John Kalka and O. G. Hill farms had risen Friday night and was running over the highway. Saturday and Sunday numerous fishermen visited the lake and some reported that they had caught fish.

The lake south of Pat Ran- spot has covered the road completely and that road will be impassable for some time.

Those present included Buck Green, vice-president; Mrs. Joe Landers, secretary; Mrs. Merlin Kaul, treasurer; Kenneth Rudd, past president; also Mrs. Kenneth Rudd, Teresa, Susan, and Paul, Merlin Kaul, Mrs. Owens, Dennis, David and Stan-

If the weather remains favorable, students and instructors of the Westway Vacation Bible School, will hold a picnic at Dameron Park in Hereford after the morning service on Sunday, June 19. Each family is to bring a basket, dinner, paper plates and cups for the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Odom, Sherry and Ricky of Hub were guests Sunday in the home of his brother, J. B. Odom.

Mayo Phipps of Friona was a visitor in the Harold Head home Monday night.

The Harold Head family went to Carlsbad, N. M. Friday and took the trip through Carlsbad Cavern on Saturday. They, with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Head of Hereford, then drove to Hobbs where they attended a family reunion on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rickman and children of Austin Road were dinner guests in the LeRoy Rickman home on Sunday.

Guests entertained at a "cook-out" Saturday night at the T.B. Thomas home included Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Thuet of Post, Mr. and Mrs. Ben L. Thomas, Sandy, Dusty and Ginger of Romero, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Rabern, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrison and Judith.

Jim Thomas has gone to Questa, N. M. to look after business interests there. He will be gone several days.

The John Rodriguez family has moved recently to Hereford from the Clinton Jackson farm. Brenda Shelton of Hobbs, N.M. was a guest last week in the home of her uncle, LeRoy Rickman.

Diedra Thomas was a guest of Kathy Barnard at Hereford Monday night.

Dan Thomas went to Post with Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Thuet Sunday and has gone to Brownwood on a fishing trip.

Mrs. LeRoy Rickman, Johnnie, Linda and Debbie, Kay and Gale Minyen have been attending Vacation Bible School at the Avenue Baptist Church in Hereford the past two weeks.

Mrs. T. B. Thomas will leave Friday with other members of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority to attend a Convention at Austin.

Sunday dinner guests in the T. B. Thomas home included Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Thuet of Post, Mr. and Mrs. Ben L. Thomas, Sandy, Dusty and Ginger of Romero, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Rabern, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrison and Judith.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Jones, Peggy and Jill of Shreveport, La. are guests this week in the home of her uncle, Herbert Owens. Mrs. Owens took Mrs. Jones and the girls to visit relatives in Olton and Kress on Wednesday. They visited Mrs. Owen's sister, Mrs. J. A. Carruth and family, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Owens Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carlisle, all at Olton, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Carlisle at Kress.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carlisle and Craig of Knox City spent Saturday in the Owens home.

How Can I?

Q. What can I do when the wax polish on my furniture begins to look streaky?

A. This is the time to remove the old wax that's gotten mixed with dirt and has collected on the surface. Mild soap and lukewarm water will serve the purpose, but don't let the soap remain on the furniture for any length of time. Be sure, also, to polish or re-wax the furniture immediately after the washing.

Q. How can I most easily clean the white side walls of my automobile tires?

A. One of the easiest and most effective methods is to use the kind of steel wool pads that are filled with soap.

Q. How can I remove old varnish from furniture before re-varnishing?

A. By using three tablespoons of washing soda to one quart of water, applying this with a rough cloth.

Q. Can you suggest an efficient way of locking two or more card tables together into one long table for a family gathering or picnic?

A. This can be done by setting the adjacent pairs of legs into snug-fitting tin cans. Be sure to use cans that provide a fit for the two legs and are high enough to keep the lengths of the legs together.

Q. How can I remove white rings left on a table top by too-hot dishes?

A. Place a few drops of camphorated oil or sweet oil on the ring, let soak in for a few minutes, then polish off with a soft cloth.

OPTOMETRY: The Art and Science of Visual Care

"Oh, what a shame!"

Jimmy had to put on glasses—and he's so young!"

"Yes, Clara, he did. But you know what . . . Dr. Roberts said that such an eye problem as his couldn't have been corrected 25 years ago.

"Back in those days youngsters with Jimmy's eye problem grew up unable to do well enough in school to make passing grades. Then, children's chances of achieving much in life were very poor.

"Now, thanks to optometric science, Jimmy is able to learn and to adjust himself. We're SO grateful that optometry could provide him an equal opportunity to live a good normal life."

A professional optometric examination might mean the difference in your child's future.

Sun Is Welcome Sight After Weeks Of Rain

By MRS. S. N. THWEATT
Sunday was a "real summer day" after two weeks of rainy weather. Wheat farmers are ready to cut their wheat. Others in the community were waiting for the fields to dry so they could continue work in them.

Glenn Burrus reported four and one-half inches through Saturday night. The S. N. Thweatts reported a little over four inches last week. The Taylors near Messenger Bridge reported almost five inches. The rain was needed and has been beneficial, although it postponed harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt made a business trip to Levelland Sunday, June 5, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hagan, a niece of Mrs. Thweatt's. Mrs. Thweatt's brother, Carl Hagan, met them in Levelland.

Sunday afternoon on the way home the Thweatt's went by Eula where they attended the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Medlin, old friends of Mrs. Thweatt.

Mrs. Buddy Medlin, Mrs. Buck Medlin and Mrs. Galbert, daughter of the Medlins, were hostesses. Granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Medlin served. The cake was a tiered white wedding cake with a bride and groom mounted on top. The centerpiece was an old-time buggy. Approximately 80 attended. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Potter Brown of Panhandle, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Galbert and family of Broken Arrow, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cohean of Anton, Miss Cecil Lynn and father of Littlefield.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Davis of Pampa were guests of the N. A. Browns Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Coleman and children Gary, Cindy and Jeff made a trip to Lubbock Friday.

Frank Ford and family visited his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ford Jr. of Fort Sill, Okla. recently. The Fords have a new baby girl.

Mrs. Ruth Coleman and mother, Mrs. G. E. Pinkerton, visited in Amarillo recently. Mr. and Mrs. Walker of Oklahoma City, were also visitors in Amarillo at their daughter's home, Mrs. James Coleman.

Mrs. Ruth Coleman was honored with a surprise birthday dinner in the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Coleman, Sunday, June 5. Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman and sons Teddy, Rex and Joe, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Coldiron and sons David and Ronnie, all of Amarillo, and Mrs. G. E. Pinkerton were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown and sons Earl and Roger visited Mrs. Brown's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Shadix, of Rosedale Sunday, Mrs. C. W. King of Rosedale was also guest of the Shadixes Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Merrill and family attended church in Hereford Sunday and ate dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Merrill. The Joe Merrills are moving to the Bob Wyly place south of Garcia Community House.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Tyler have bought the house where Merrills were living from Mrs. Charley Brown of Clovis. The Tylers will be moving in the near future.

Mrs. J. E. Rouse made a trip to FARMINGTON, N. M. with a grandson to visit her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Rouse, and returned Monday.

The Messenger Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Elmer Northcutt Friday. Only four members were present due to rainy weather. Mrs. N. A. Brown, Mrs. Floyd Brown and Mrs. Ernest Brown and Mrs. J. E. Rouse were present.

The next meeting will be June 24 at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Glenn Burrus with the Walcott 4-H Club members as hostesses. Messenger HD Club women will give the program, which will be by Mrs. E. M. Jack, on cabbage slaw; Mrs. Loyce Brown, meat or cottage cheese; Mrs. Floyd Brown, flaming half-pears.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Johnson and sons Bill and Wayne have moved to their new home north of Walcott School.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lady of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. George Bumpass of Hereford were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H.D. Buse.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Hudson and children of Hereford are new in the community. They live in the L. A. Smith home. Mr. and Mrs. Bill White and children visited in the home of Bill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther White Sunday in Hereford.

Robert L. Odam Returns From Berlin, Germany

Specialist 5 Robert L. Odam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Odam, 510 W. Fourth Street in Hereford, is home on furlough from West Berlin, Germany. Odam spent four years overseas in Berlin, where he married.

His wife and baby son are with him. He will be stationed in Los Angeles, Calif., while in the States.

Also visiting in the Odam home over the week end are his sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Mercer of Silverton and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lowry and daughter Arlene of Henrietta, Tex.

says Mrs. Bill Gowdy, Boise City, Okla.

"And, I really appreciate it," continues Mrs. Gowdy. "Before moving into our Medallion Home, we lived in a home that did not have proper wiring and it just seems like I spent most of my time putting in new fuses. In our Medallion Home I never have that trouble. But, best of all, our wiring job lets me have the electric appliances I need to do my housework efficiently and effortlessly."

IT ONLY FEELS LIKE POWER STEERING

Corvair's ingenious design simply places the engine in the rear. That means less weight on the front wheels and a lighter, happier feel in the curve of your hands. No power assist is needed in a car that's naturally nimble. See what a fresh engineering approach can do? From handling and parking ease right on, there just isn't anything ordinary or conventional about Corvair. Look at its practically flat floor, four-wheel independent suspension, fold-down rear seat. Its air-cooled rear engine that never needs water or antifreeze or radiator repairs... and leaves engine heat and noise back where you've been. All these special advantages are standard in every Corvair. Just wait till you see how much they add to your driving pleasure. But why wait!

Beauty At Home Barbara Ruth Powell Bride Of James Q. Montgomery

Q. Will you please prescribe a treatment for refining a coarse type of skin?

A. Very good for this are egg packs. Beat the white of an egg lightly, and apply to the skin, patting this well in. Cleansing cream is then massaged into the skin over this pack. Remove, apply nourishing cream, with the usual up - and - down rotating motions. After removing this cream, sponge the face with witch hazel. The yolk of the egg is then applied and permitted to dry on the face. This should be removed with towels or cotton dipped into tepid water. Follow with freshener. Do this at least once weekly - or oftener.

How Can I?

Q. How can I make a simple, harmless, and effective whitener for my dainty curtains and fine linens?

A. A tablespoonful of powdered borax, added to the final Baskets of white gladioli and candelabra holding white wedding tapers flanked the altar of the new Avenue Baptist Church Sunday afternoon when Miss Barbara Ruth Powell became the bride of James Quinton Montgomery at 2 p. m.

The bride's parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Clarence F. Powell, 128 N. Twenty - Five Mile Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Luke Hill of Roswell, N. M. are parents of the bridegroom.

The bride's father, pastor of the Avenue Baptist Church, officiated at the ceremony.

Mrs. Howard Scott, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Betty Stephan, who sang "I Love You Truly", "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Miss Perrine Girard of Roswell, N. M. was maid of honor. She wore a black dress with a corsage of white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Frances Costas of Amarillo, cousin of the bride, and Wilma Jean Henderson of Clovis, N.M. Their dresses were of white cotton trimmed in pink and gold, and their corsages were of white carnations.

Flower girls were Susie Hill of Roswell, N. M. sister of the bridegroom, and Vickie Lynn Lynch of Muleshoe, a cousin. Their dresses were pink and orchid, respectively, and they carried white baskets of flower petals.

Bart Montgomery of Farmington, N. M. assisted his brother as best man. Ushers were Arnold Ray Powell and Charles Henderson of Clovis, N. M. carried the rings.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Homer Powell of Lubbock, wore a street - length dress of pastel blue jersey over blue slipper satin. The lace bodice was finished at the neck and bracelet length sleeves with satin banding. The very full skirt was attached to the bodice by a cummerbund. She wore a small flower half - hat and carried a cascade of white feathered carnations and a white Bible.

The mothers of the couple wore navy dresses with white carnation corsages.

Following the service a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the Church. The bride's table was laid with a blue cloth covered with lace with an arrangement of white gladioli as the centerpiece. Assisting with the serving were Norma Jean Warrick, Billy Jean Barnett and Carolyn Hammett, Audrey Mae Self served at the guest register.

After the reception, the couple left immediately for their home at 2807 Avenue U, Lubbock. For traveling, she wore a beige and white polka dot frock and her corsage of white carnations.

Out - of - town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. George Herrington, Mrs. Ina Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Hill and Susie, Mrs. Sadie Toby, Herb Finney, and Miss Perrine Girard, all of Roswell, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Hutchinson and Dorothy, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henderson of Clovis, N. M.; Mr. and Mrs. Owen Smith and Mrs. Alma Cook of Fort Sumner, N.M.; Mrs. C. L. Lynch and children of Muleshoe; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bagwell of Brownfield; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Powell and son of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. L.G. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Costas, G. W. Lynch and Mrs. Monteen Lynch of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Montgomery of Odessa; and Bart Montgomery of Farmington, N. M.
