A COLLAPSED PORTION of a Community Grain, Inc., warehouse wall released about 2,000,000 pounds of moisture to the ground Thursday afternoon. The warehouse is located 10 miles south of Hereford in the Easter Community. Company officials estimated that about 15,000,000 pounds of grain would have to be moved to clear a repair area inside the structure. (Staff Photo)

Around Town

Weather continues to be the largest topic of conversation as the temperature remains below freezing. Even the self-proclaimed "old timers" are beginning to break down and admit this is the longest single stretch of sub-freezing weather they can recall. Having lived in this country for just 30 years, we still aren't entitled to voice such opinions.

One of the old timers is Vern Witherspoon, who is celebrating his 80th birthday Sunday, Jan. 24. All his friends are invited to drop by the Witherspoons' home 261 North Jackson, between 2 and 4 p.m. for coffee and cake. His children, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Witherspoon of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Witherspoon of Albuquerque, N.M. are sponsoring the open house.

One of the proudest men around town Friday was Jack Renfro. Two of his calves, shown by Jimmy and Becky Higgins, won Grand Champion and Reserve Champion honors during the livestock show. Of course, Mr. and Mrs. Karrol Higgins were pointing buttons over the accomplishment of their children.

County Council of Deaf Smith County will sponsor a workshop for all Parent-Teacher units in the county on Thursday, Jan. 28, from 7 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. in the new high school cafeteria. Mrs. Glenn Allred, president, urges all PTA officers and members to attend the meeting.

Maxwell Quits Highway Patrol

A member of the Texas Highway Patrol unit in Hereford for more than four years, Kenneth Maxwell Thursday tendered his resignation, effective Feb. 1. Maxwell said he submitted his resignation after careful consideration to devote more time to his private hauling business. He and his wife and two children live at 109 Ave. C. Local Highway Patrol unit Sgt. Dan Duggan said a replacement had not yet been named.

Community Grain Warehouse Bursts

A portion of the south wall of a grain-packed warehouse owned by Community Grain, Inc., collapsed Thursday afternoon, dumping about 2,000,000 pounds of moisture to the ground outside.

A repair crew from Behlen Manufacturing Company of Columbus, Neb., is scheduled to arrive here Monday to start repairs on the all-steel building, located 10 miles south of Hereford in the Easter Community.

Damage was believed to have been caused as result of weakened tie bolts embedded in a three-foot trough of concrete at floor level. The bolts measure 2 1/2 foot long and 1 1/2 inches in diameter.

The tie bolts were embedded in the concrete floor of the warehouse about 14 feet from the wall and anchored support rods leading to the wall.

Investigation indicated that the weakened bolts caused the side bolts of the wall to loosen, and that the interior weight pressure of the grain forced the bottoms of eight panels out, releasing the load.

The damaged portion of the eight-month-old structure was discovered at 2:15 p.m. Thursday. The main building contained about 700,000 bushels of grain.

Community Grain president Palmer Norton said that about 15,000,000 pounds of grain would have to be stored elsewhere temporarily to clear a repair area inside for crewmen. He said plans were to store the grain needed to be moved in barns owned by farmers in that area.

Norton said the Behlen Company already had fabricated panels needed for repair, but he was unable to estimate how long repair operations would require.

The 15-gauge galvanized steel building, 251' by 107' was added to the company last June. Bill Waldrup is secretary-manager.

Hereford Jaycees are urging all area talent to make arrangements to appear on their annual radio auction, scheduled to be held in the Hereford High School auditorium Sunday, Jan. 31, to collect funds for the current March of Dimes drive in Deaf Smith County.

The broadcast, in cooperation with KPAN, will be held from 1 through 5:30 p.m. All items to be auctioned during the program will be collected from residents by Jaycees Saturday afternoon, Jan. 30. All parishable items will be collected on the Sunday morning before the broadcast.

The Jaycees plan to give away a new portable television set in a drawing which will end the auction. Each dollar received by a resident, either by direct donation or by purchasing an item during the program, will entitle him to a ticket in the drawing box.

No date has been set for the annual Mother March. All Women who would like to participate in the collection project, individuals or organizations, should contact John D. Aikin at EM 4-1100.

About 3,500 mailers have been sent to county residents by Hereford Business and Professional Women's organization. County March of Dimes chairman Paul Harvey urged return of the mailers before Jan. 31, end of the drive.

Coin collection containers and posters were distributed last week at Hereford businesses by Boy Scouts and Jaycees. School card envelopes were distributed to Hereford school students this week.

A 13-year-old member of the Hereford 4-H Club pulled off a difficult feat Friday when he showed the Grand Champion calf for the second straight year.

Jimmy Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karrol Higgins, Route One, edged out his sister, 11-year-old Becky, for top honors in the 14th annual Junior Livestock Show, which is sponsored annually by the Hereford Rotary Club.

Jimmy's 1960-model calf earlier had been named to first place in the middleweight class while Becky was winning tops in the heavyweight class. Becky's entry was named Reserve Champion by judge Ray C. Mowery, head of the Texas Tech animal husbandry department, to close out the first of two days of action.

In the heavyweight group Jim Shearhart, Hereford 4-H, placed second and Walker Parris, Hereford FFA, was third. Lewis Barnett, Hereford 4-H, took second and Larry Minks, Walcott 4-H, was third in the middleweight class.

Political Pot Simmers As Filing Deadline Draws Near

Prospective candidates have just a little more than a week to file intentions to run for county and district offices scheduled for the May 7 Democratic primary here. Application deadline is Feb. 1.

Offices open for election include tax assessor - collector, county sheriff, county attorney, district attorney, county commissioners for Precincts One and Three, representative of 96th Legislative District and representative of 18th Congressional District.

Candidacy applications and oaths of citizenship must be signed by candidates seeking election before their names can be placed on ballots, said County Clerk, Ralph Smith. The deadline includes Monday, Feb. 1, Smith said.

If a runoff is required after first primary votes are tabulated, a second primary will be held June 4.

Perhaps the most interesting race will be for commissioner of Precinct One, with five filing candidates. They include W.H. Andrews, C.C. Bowman, F.W. Dool, A.N. Hopson, and Charles Sowell. Sowell presently holds that post.

Four have filed intention to run for county tax assessor-collector, including D.H. Alexander, Harry McCauley, Lanelle Mobley Miller and Wallace Shelton. Alexander is the present assessor-collector.

Unopposed candidates in county races are J. T. Guinn for commissioner of Precinct Three and J. Edward Line for county attorney. Both filed for re-election.

L. R. Cherryhomes, presently a deputy sheriff, and Lowell Sharp, former county sheriff here, have filed candidacy to run for county sheriff in the primary. Sheriff Charles Skelton has not filed for re-election.

Jesse M. Osborn has filed for re-election as representative of 96th Legislative District.

Walter Rogers of Pampa reportedly plans to file for re-election as representative of 18th Congressional District.

County tax collector Dave Alexander Saturday said his office had sold 1890 of the vital receipts, compared with 1640 which had been sold by Wednesday.

Once again, Alexander reminded the public that final day for buying poll tax receipts will be Saturday, Jan. 30, since the last day of the month comes on Sunday.

This leaves six days during which residents may purchase poll taxes. Between 2,500 and 3,500 are expected to be sold in the county this year.

Purchasers will get a lot for their $1.75, since this is a general election year. Citizens will be able to express their preference of choice among candidates for everything from president of the United States through U. S. congress, the state and county.

Alexander reminded the public that a state ruling makes it impossible for outside groups, such as the Jaycees, to sell poll taxes. All poll tax receipts must be purchased at the county tax office, he said.

Dumas Is First Of Four Foes On Road

Hereford Whiteface eagles face a rough task Tuesday and that's only the beginning. Now standing 1 - 1 in the District 1-AAA race, they will play at Dumas Tuesday night in the Demons' first home game.

The Dumas tilt, however, is just the first of four consecutive road games the Herd will play.

Dumas, in second place with a 2 - 1 record, has been rugged on the road, winning two of three. They downed Levelland 58 - 55 and Littlefield 61 - 40 before losing to Phillips 54 - 40.

Friday night they defeated the Dimmitt Bobcats 54 - 52 in a non - conference battle. They stand at 9 - 8 for the season, not counting a game scheduled Saturday night against Dalhart.

The Demons, coached by Rex Fox, have a tentative starting line - up of four seniors and a junior. Top scorer is John Moon-eyham, a 6 - 3 center who played as a reserve last season. Quinton Eppinette is a 6 - 0 senior; Donald "Duck" Cariker, is a 6 - 1 senior; Richard Lundy is a 5 - 10 senior; and Larry Tiner a 5 - 11 junior.

A RARE TREAT has been skating during the past week for Hereford youngsters. Since this isn't ordinary sport around here, most of the children don't have skates. Soliz Case Ends With Verdict Of 'Not Guilty'

A jury of five women and seven men found Eloy Soliz, 18, of Alice "not guilty" of the Sept. 3, 1959, rape of a 12-year-old girl after hearing testimony and considering arguments in an all-day 69th District Court session Wednesday.

The jury went into chambers at 4:50 p.m. and returned with the verdict at 10:50 p.m. District Judge Harry Schultz of Dalhart read the charge to the jury at 3:45 p.m. and the state and defense started closing arguments at 4 p.m.

Defense Attorney of Werner Gohmert of Alice told the jurors that he considered the case to be built on "circumstantial evidence" and he pointed out that Soliz and the girl, now 13, were married in Dodge City, Kan., on Nov. 20. He repeatedly objected when the girl was called by the state to testify, but he accepted the court's earlier ruling that the marriage of a 12-year-old is contrary to the policy of this state, which permitted the girl to testify on the stand.

Soliz was accused of committing the offense during the noon hour of Sept. 3 in a house behind a grocery store in Hereford.

Wednesday morning, the defense attorney presented a certificate which showed that Soliz and the girl were married Nov. 20.

The girl told the court that Soliz had not had sexual relations with her on Sept. 3.

District Attorney Frank D. McCown of Dumas took the witness stand and told the court that he was present at the 69th District FFA Session, dated Oct. 13, 1959, when the Soliz case was put before jurors. He told the court on the witness stand that the testimony that the girl had presented in court in regard to whether, or not a sexual offense had been committed was "contrary to testimony the girl gave in the Grand Jury session."

At the Grand Jury session, McCown said, the girl had testified that she had had sexual relations with Eloy Soliz, the defendant. Soliz was indicted for statutory rape at that Oct. 13 session.

The defense attorney objected when the district attorney called the girl to the stand for testimony on grounds that the marriage should be recognized in the court.

Jurors, selected for the trial included Mrs. William J. How-

What surprised all concerned was the large number of entries in the livestock show. Cutting down on the number of animals to be sold at auction, they figured, would decrease the entries. But the higher prices seemed to be an incentive for this was tabbed the largest show yet.

A couple from Kansas drove in to Hereford Friday morning to see a couple of nephews compete in the livestock show. They declared the roads in northeastern part of the Panhandle were still frozen solid.

Hereford's basketball team will play at Dumas Tuesday night as the Whitefaces battle to stay in contention for the district crown, which they have won for the past two years.

Hereford merchants, instead of their regular morning session, will have a noon luncheon meeting on Friday, Jan. 29, in the Jim Hill Hotel.

Guest speaker will be Robert F. Reilly, district manager of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce from Denver. He will speak on "Businessmen in Politics," with particular emphasis on expected legislation during the current session of Congress. The meeting is open to the public, but those expecting to attend are asked to call the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce office and make reservations, not later than Thursday.

This is the season for Chamber of Commerce banquets. For instance, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Norton will be at Dumas Monday night for that city's annual banquet. Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. John Sims and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson will attend the Dalhart C. of C. affair. Also on Tuesday, Mayor and Mrs. Woody Wilson will attend the Clovis Chamber banquet. The Chamber's industrial committee will be in Abilene Wednesday and Thursday for West Texas Chamber of Commerce industrial conference.

The tall, gleaming trophy won by the Hereford Athletic Club's high school boxers during the Plainview Golden Gloves last week is on display in the Brand office window. It marks the third straight high school team title won by the club this season in as many tries.

Gun-Totin' Coeds Get 'Big Bang'

By JUDY LEWIS
COLUMBIA, Mo. — Missouri University coeds are proving that if you can't get a man with a gun, you can at least get a rabbit.

Gun-totin' girls may be seen almost any dawn these days, accompanying campus sportsmen on early-morning rabbit hunts. And when a pretty coed draws a bead on a scampering cottontail, the admiration of her male companions is unrestrained.

Rabbit hunting has been a favorite sport of male students in these parts for years. But only recently have the girls joined the shotgun brigade.

Students say that they have taken up the sport to disprove the current belief that the new generation is too "beat" to do anything but brood morbidly, write glum poetry, paint modern or pound monotonously on bongo drums.

A rabbit hunt before breakfast, they point out, is healthful, wholesome, invigorating and fun.

The girls taking part in the new campus craze are not only the female agriculture students who prowls the campus in blue jeans and 10-gallon hats. Enthusiastically in their midst are sorority girls bent on proving that they, too, are interested in the outdoor life, and can shine on the hunting range as well as the dance floor.

The girls are shattering old beliefs about feminine squeamishness at the sight of blood or the sound of guns. The frontier instinct just naturally takes over when you tramp the hills and dales with a gun on your shoulder.

These sports-minded co-

Small Rim Gets St. Bonaventure To Put Better Arc On All Shots

By TOM BENTON
OLEAN, N. Y. — The youngster trying for a place on the St. Bonaventure freshmen basketball squad took aim from center court and let fly with a set shot.

The ball curved in a flat arc, apparently hit home, but spun wildly off the rim instead of swishing through the cords.

The youngster's mouth fell open. It was his first brush with Eddie Donovan's fiendish "tightener."

The regulation basketball ring is 18 inches. But Donovan, successful young coach of the Bonnies, devised a 12-inch inter-eds do everything, including fire the gun. Often they are seen in the role of retriever, when the faithful hound is not available. And this willingness and skill wins amazed admiration from the boys.

The best thing about it, say the young men, is that the girl hunters not only can get their rabbits — they also can cook them when the hunters come home.

What more wholesome start for an academic day than a rabbit bake for breakfast?

lor ring to fit over the basket for practice sessions.

It takes a real eye to put the ball in a 12-inch hoop. The varsity quickly dubbed the gimmick "the tightener."

Donovan views the device as a complete success.

"It's helped sharpen our shooting," he says. "It makes the boys put a little more of an arc to their set shots. They really have to hit the bulls-eye. We've used the smaller rim three seasons. I like to think it helped Tom Smith."

Smith, a junior from St. Francis Prep of Brooklyn, set a Madison Square Garden Holiday Festival scoring record, netting 48 points in the recent tournament. Two nights later, Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, made 50 points against Iowa.

"I like to see a high arc on all shots," says Donovan, now in his seventh season as Bonnie coach. "The smaller target also improves layups. You can't ram the ball up against the backboard any old way; you must lay it up softly."

Donovan doesn't pretend the thing is his own idea, although he has refined the ring so that it can be installed and taken down quickly.

The Bonnies can put the ultimate blame for their frustration on Dolph Schayes of the Syracuse Nationals. Donovan says he saw the original "tightener" last summer at Schayes' basketball camp.

CHANGE IN ORPHANS
OKLAHOMA CITY — Modern child welfare work is more concerned with youngsters from broken homes than with orphans, says a prominent Baptist child welfare worker.

"We change the name of our institution from Baptist Orphans' Home to Baptist Children's Home because there are very few out-right orphans in the home today," says H. Truman Maxey.

Maxey is executive director of the Child Care Department of the Baptist General Convention of Oklahoma which operates the Baptist Children's Home in Oklahoma City.

"There was a time," he says, "when a child placed in an orphan's home could expect to spend his or her childhood there. Today, most children placed in children's home stay there only a few years or less."

You'll Lose If You Gamble With Fire

"Clean that attic And the yard Stopping fires Isn't hard."

This simple rhyme written by a fifth grader in a fire prevention contest shows his awareness of the causes and dangers of fires.

Unfortunately, two few Americans take his lead.

Last year fires killed more than 11,000 persons in the United States — one every 47 minutes — and caused more than one billion dollars property damage. Ninety per cent of the fires could have been prevented.

Be alert to the causes of fire and inspect your home regularly.

One-fourth of all fire are started by careless use of matches or smoking; 15 per cent by the misuse of electricity. Nature's greatest fire starter — lightning — accounts for 9 per cent.

During the winter season your home is more vulnerable than usual for fire. Defective heating units cause 8 per cent of home fires and over heated chimneys and flues account for another 4 per cent. Have them checked before they're put in use.

Never overwork a heater or furnace that's giving insufficient heat.

Keep a metal screen in front of a burning fireplace and use care in handling hot ashes. Always deposit ashes in a metal container with cover. Keep wood, coal and flammable liquids away from the furnace, and the furnace room free of trash. Dispose of all trash regularly.

Great care should be taken in using portable heaters — they can be very dangerous. They should always be level and in a spot where there is no danger of tripping over them. Be cautious in filling oil or kerosene heaters and wipe off any spillage immediately. Never fill a heater when it is hot or in use.

Gas heaters should be vented to the outdoors unless specifically approved for unvented use. Oil and gas heaters use up oxygen while burning, so the room should always be ventilated when one is in use. Don't use an electric heater in the bathroom where water increases the shock hazard.

Keep all heaters a safe distance from bedding, clothing, furniture and other combustibles.

Be careful in wearing robes or dresses with flowing sleeves — they're a hazard, especially for elderly people. Painful, often fatal, burns sometimes occur when a person wearing such sleeves reaches across an open burner.

Be certain fuses are of the right amperage — a proper fuse is a "safety-valve."

When you need to repair or extend wiring, call a competent electrician. Buy only electric appliances and cords listed by Underwriter's Laboratories, Inc. Don't run wires under rugs, over hooks, or in a place where they may be subject to wear or mechanical damage.

Consult an electrician when you replace a large appliance — it may require more current than your present wiring can carry.

At next Christmas time, keep the tree outdoors until ready to set it up. While it is outdoors, occasionally throw water over it to keep it moist and fresh.

When you bring the tree into the house cut the bottom of the trunk diagonally and put water with sugar in it into the hollow part of the stand that holds the tree.

Never place a tree near the fireplace, stove, television set, radiator or electric bulbs. Use non-inflammable decorations of glass or metal, and "fire-proof" snow in decorating the Christmas tree.

TOSS IT OUT! Don't let piles of junk accumulate in attics or basements. An accidentally dropped cigarette or electrical short nearby could ignite the papers, clothing and paint, and the fire could be out of control before it was noticed.

Champion Woman Surfboard Rider Says It's Great Weight Reducer

By PATRICK McNULTY
SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Marge Calhoun is a honey blonde with four loves: her husband, two daughters and a 10-foot surfboard.

Here is Marge's usual day after daddy's off to work and the kids to school: Marge loads her balsu surfboard into the family station wagon and — winter or summer — drives to nearby Malibu Cove. There, if the waves are right, she spends the day riding the Pacific combers with other surfing enthusiasts. Is she any good? Marge is the world champ.

In Hawaii last November, Marge won the International Surfing Championship for women. And she did it on a day when the waves at Makaha beach were curling large enough to scare husky men shoreward. Marge spent a month in the Islands while husband Tom stayed home with his contracting business and their two daughters.

On a thrifty budget, Marge and a surfing girl friend, Eve Fletcher of Burbank, Calif., rented an old pickup truck for $80. The truck was their hotel and transportation. Each day Marge and Eve would drive around the island of Oahu looking for the best waves. They would bed down in the truck wherever sunset found them — Makaha, Haleiwa or, perhaps even Waikiki.

Marge won the international when the waves at Makaha were 12-foot high. A few days later, she tackled 18 footers. No place for a woman, but Marge rode the giant combers that gave many of Hawaii's best a good excuse to watch from the beach.

A false step on a wave that size can topple rider and board into a Niagara-like maelstrom. One surfer said it's like a mouse tumbling in an automatic washing machine.

Marge had a good scare. A collision with another board sent her rolling down the face of a booming breaker. her board slammed into coral 50 feet under. Marge, too, hit bottom and the churning wave held her there a good minute. She admitted seeing stars before eventually floating to the surface. A few moments later, she was riding an equally scary breaker.

An expert spring board diver and skier when she took up surfing four years ago, Marge improved quickly. She has this tip for women: surfing is great for reducing. Statuesque well-tanned Marge lost 15 pounds and 2 inches from her waist after a few months. Today 5-foot-8 Marge has no problem keeping her weight at 135 pounds.

Marge's daughters, Candy, 15, and Robin, 12, love the water, too. So does husband Tom, but he likes skin diving better than surfing.

The Calhouns live in a modernistic house built by Tom a few hundred yards from the ocean. So there's no problem getting to the beach.

Marge would like all the Calhouns on hand when she defends her championship next year in Hawaii. But Tom's business and the girls' schooling makes it difficult for them to get away.

"But it would be nice to have a rooting section," says Marge.

WALCOTT NEWS

Several Inches Of Snow Covers Ground In Area

By MRS. T. L. COLLINS

The Walcott area has kept approximately three or four inches of snow on the ground that fell on Saturday in the late afternoon and night. School was held all week because of the highway maintenance crew and several men and their work in clearing bus routes. The children enjoyed sliding on the driveway in the school yard but it was too cold to throw snowballs except Thursday.

Final semester tests were completed, graded and report cards were taken home this week. The following Walcott students took home "A" report cards: first grade, Margaret Minks, Danny Hall, Wendell Webb, Gale Jack, Willet Wyly, Barbara Brown and Tommy Timberlake, second grade, Debra Wyly, Nadine Tice and Sherri West; third grade, Nancy Minks; fifth grade, Phyllis Tice; sixth grade, John Perrin, Gay Wyly and Masha Burns.

Walcott school gained two new boys on Tuesday of this week who have been going to school in Dimmitt. They are Bobby Gene in the third grade and John Williams, sixth grade.

Lloyd Collins from Perryton came Tuesday afternoon to visit his brother, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Collins. He was returning from Truth Or Consequences, N. M.

The Walcott 4-H clubs met on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Glenn Burrus met with the girls. J. W. Thomas, Deaf Smith County agent from Hereford, showed a film to the boys.

Larry Minks and John Perrin are Walcott 4-H club boys who are showing their club calves in the Junior Livestock Show held in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn on Friday and Saturday.

Kathy Monroe fell on the slick snow while playing at recess at school on Thursday with her left hand turned back. On Friday she fell hurting the same arm. Her mother, Mrs. Buel Monroe, took Kathy to a doctor and X-rays showed a "green fracture" to her arm, as a result of the fall. She is not to use the left arm for three weeks which is a handicap since she is left handed.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Minks, Mrs. Waldron Melton and Mrs. Garland Solomon from Hereford returned to their homes and children on Thursday night from Denver, Colo. They had attended the National Western Livestock show (the number one "Hereford" show in the United States). Their interest there was two carloads of Hereford bulls from Dameron Ranch shown there.

These bulls won first place for Dameron Ranch in their "Senior Calf" class in spite of the fact that the judging was done with wet snow falling all the while. All the bulls taken from Dameron Ranch in the Walcott community to the show in Denver were sold there.

Waldron Melton was expected home on Friday night, Mr. and Mrs. McHavin are to return the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Payne, Larry and Darla from Hereford spent Wednesday evening in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rader.

Several children have had snow - fun riding on sleds in the community this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bayne, Carolyn, a seventh grader, and baby Sharon, who have lived on the Dick Godwin farm since last summer, moved to Friona on Saturday.

FIRST PLACE in groups of two calves fed cooperatively went to Gary Guseman and Lewis Barnett of Hereford. They edged out three other Hereford boys, showing Hereford calves, to take top honors. (Staff Photo)

'The Music Man' Reviewed For Club

Mrs. Jack McCracken reviewed "The Music Man" Broadway musical, by Meredith Wilson, at the Calliope Club meeting held with Mrs. N. E. Milburn Thursday evening.

In giving a brief summary of the book, Mrs. McCracken said: "The Music Man" is largely a re-capitulation of things that happened to and about Meredith Wilson when he was a boy in Mason City, Ia. It is the story of a rascally, but attractive salesman of musical instruments and band uniforms, shuttling about the midwest and prevailing on small town people to outfit school bands on the promise of teaching its members to play.

"He cannot read a note and invariably left town on a through freight. After collecting his money and breaking a few local hearts in River City, he truly falls in love. He is exposed, however, and finally forgiven. When the truth becomes apparent the city people are happier, if poorer, for his presence.

Mrs. Ernest Langley, president, conducted a short business session, when reports on the tile project for the Community Center were heard. The tiles are now being glazed and will be placed as soon as that process is completed.

ROCKET TRIP TO THE MOON!

If and when Uncle Sam decides to launch a space craft, he will have no problem in recruiting a crew to man the ship. Newspaper advertising can do the recruiting job. In fact one such advertisement has been run in one newspaper. It brought a flock of responses from prospective space travelers.

Last spring Farr Tours, a travel agency, published an ad in a Florida newspaper with the headline, "Space Available Now! New Deluxe Ion Rocket Ship to the Moon." The advertisement was a gimmick intending to show what the agency's offerings might be in 1967.

When the travel agency received 150 requests for reservations, the copy writer who prepared the advertisement concluded that newspaper advertising could sell anything. "It proves again that people read newspaper advertising and act on it," he said.

Hardly more than a tenth of the world's population lives at elevations above 1,000 feet. Nickel plating is used principally to protect other metals from corrosion.

By JIMMIE GILLENTEINE
It took a long time, but it finally happened. Even Carl Perrin seems to think that we have had enough moisture for a spell. Carl and Taft McGee were exchanging "Hello's" Friday, and Taft glanced out to notice that it was snowing again.

"What do you think of this?" asked Carl.

"It's fine," replied Taft. "We need a lot more."
Carl made his way on toward the back, shaking his head -- and when an old boy like Carl Perrin, who has lived out northwest so long, figures we have had enough January moisture, you can put it down that we really have had enough.

I mention this, of course, to afford myself an opportunity to do a little more back-patting. I probably never will score another prediction like this one, and I don't want to let anyone forget that I kept talking all Fall about the "plus moisture and the cold, hard winter."

Double congratulations to Lefty Thomas and the Rotarians. The annual 4-H Livestock Show this year was truly outstanding. Despite the weather, the crowds were good -- and the animals were in tip-top shape. Maybe I appreciate the livestock show so much because we went so long without one. However, we have been making up for lost time during the past 14 years and now we don't have to take a back seat for any other county in the territory.

Have you paid your poll tax? Only one week remains to get this chore done -- and I hope we set a new record. There are enough candidates for County Tax Collector and Commissioner of Precinct 1 to almost set a record if all of their relatives plunk down the $1.75. Besides, they are talking about dropping the poll tax in Texas. This might be the last opportunity you have to buy one.

Freight costs have been eating into the profit side of the ledger of most retail merchants during the past two years, and a lot of people including mail order buyers will face the same hazard come Feb. 1, when an average 17 per cent increase goes on parcel post packages and catalogues. This boost will, of course, be passed along to the customer whenever possible by most firms -- and it will be quite a little item.

George Stambaugh used to tell me how the kids in his generation held big skating parties on Tierra Blanca Creek. George still has his skates -- or did a few years back -- but now that he has an opportunity to use them, I don't hear much out of him. Besides, where is the joker who has been declaring that this country is getting warmer, even predicting that the whole earth may some day break into a blaze?

Being a native Texan, all I have to say is that I wouldn't like to face this sort of weather 10 months out of the year, which is pretty much the deal in Alaska.

The "tax squeeze" must be letting up these days. At least, I see Dub Hair, Blue Turpin, Howard Brown, Bart Dowell and some of the other fellows drinking coffee, just like old times.

Remember, if you can dig up any work at all, call Mrs. Neelcy at the Red Cross office. A lot of folks have been booking these workers -- and many, many people honestly need the work to keep their wives and children warm and eating one or two meals a day. This is one sure way to get ahead on the spring cleaning spree. Do it now, while you can get help; if you wait, they may be doing farm jobs when you need them. We had a young man scrub down the woodwork in The Brand Office. He was efficient, thorough, fast and cheerful. You just couldn't ask for a better deal than this former Navy boy, who really knows how to wash down woodwork. A lot of people may find it different, but we felt that we really got our money's worth.

Even Atha Melver thought so, and when a woman admits that a man does a good cleaning job... Well, brother it really is a good cleaning job.

Among the plutocrats who are smart enough to go south during the cold season are five Hereford ladies in Phoenix, Ariz.: the group includes Mrs. Matt Gilliland, Mrs. Henry Hastings, Mrs. Joe Prowell, Mrs. Myrtle Wright and Mrs. Alex O. Thompson. The ladies drove out last week with the idea of basking in the sunshine while Mrs. Thompson visited her sister and the other four rot an apartment. The only trouble right now seems to center around the fact that Phoenix is also recording some "unusual weather."

Meanwhile, there are probably no other five better known or more beloved ladies in this area than the above quintet -- and if you don't think they can take care of themselves (TV style) just mull over the closing sentences of a letter recently received here by a friend of Mrs. Gilliland:

"We got in a traffic jam, and a man called Myrtle a fool -- but they didn't have a fight."

Farmers Union Holds Meeting

A recording of the speech which Sen. Hubert Humphrey (Minn.) delivered at the December Texas Farmers Union convention highlighted the Deaf Smith County Farmers Union meeting held in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Friday night. Bill Gentry, county president, informed the group on new resolutions which were adopted at the Ft. Worth state convention last month. L. B. Wortham, vice president, presented a general report of the convention.

Andy Anderson of Amarillo, district representative of Blue Cross and Blue Shield, discussed basic features of a group insurance plan for local members of Farmers Union.

In the playback of the tape recording, Sen. Humphrey explained that the "farmer is receiving 38 cents of each food dollar spent by the consumer, which is just six cents more than in the depression year of 1932." He went on to say that farmers' income has declined 36 per cent since 1952, while non-agriculture income has risen.

Sen. Humphrey advocated a "Food For Peace Plan," which would "not only reduce our surplus food but would feed women and children in several countries where people are starving."

CHARTER MEMBERS of the WSCS of the Methodist Church are shown being served refreshments at the Birthday Tea held in the home of Mrs. John N. Jacobsen Jr. Sunday afternoon. They are Mrs. W. J. WSCS Honors Charter Members Coordinating with the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church project for 1960, charter members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service were honored at a silver tea given in the home of the local president, Mrs. John N. Jacobsen, Sunday afternoon. The tea was in the form of a birthday celebration marking the 20th year of activity since the Methodist churches were unionized and the WSCS was organized.

Fourteen charter members were present. They included Mrs. Norman Gray, whose charter membership was in Thalia; Mrs. Ed Warren, Childress; Mrs. H. L. Benefield, Oklahoma City; Mrs. H. W. Gaston, Lorraine; Mrs. H. L. Thurston, Perryton; Mrs. E. L. Adams, Buhl, Idaho; Mrs. J. J. Durham, Arkansas City, Ark.; Mrs. R. L. Fuhrmann, Oklahoma City; Miss Flora Foreman, Amarillo; and

Mesdames John N. Jacobsen Jr., J. F. Ward, W. J. Stanford, G. W. Newsom, and Jim Black of Hereford. Refreshments were served from table carrying out the WSCS colors of blue and gold. A lace cloth with gold underlay laid the table, and the birthday cake formed the centerpiece. White tapers burned at either side. Mrs. John N. Jacobsen Jr. president, and Mrs. Grant Hanna, vice-president, presided. General arrangement committee included Mesdames Spicer Gripp, Art Stoy and Jim Black. Mrs. Norman Gray was chairman of the house party committee, assisted by Mesdames Nora Gillis, H. L. How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I keep watercrusts fresh and crisp for several days?

A. Wash and drain the watercrusts, then place it in a heavy paper bag in the refrigerator—keeping the bag in the moderate cold section.

Q. How can I forestall the constant fraying of lamp cords near the sockets?

A. You can put an end to this nuisance by dabbing on a couple of thin coats of fresh white shellac.

Q. Please suggest a way I can fill in some deep, ugly-looking nail holes in my plastered wall.

A. Mix up a little talcum powder or cornstarch with a few drops of water, and force this mixture into the holes, smoothing it off with your fingers around the edges.

Q. Please suggest a way to clean leather upholstery.

A. You can do a nice job with a soft cloth dipped into ordinary milk—or, better still, the beaten white of an egg. When this had dried, go over the surface again with a clean soft cloth.

Q. How can I prevent the ice trays from sticking in the freezing unit of my refrigerator?

A. Try rubbing the outside of the trays with salad or cooking oil.

CUSTOMER REMEMBERED
AKRON, N. Y. — A reminder of the popular political campaign custom of pole-raising stands about a mile from here at the intersection of routes 5 and 93.

It's the Grant Club, a 30-foot-high oak pole. In the late 1800s and early 1900s, it was a custom to bring a pole from a nearby woods and hoist it into place while bands played and crowds sang. It usually bore a banner with the candidates' names.

The original Grant Club was erected in 1872, but deteriorated, and another was put up in 1904. It serves now as a guide post on the routes to the village of Akron.

Lubbock Fashion Event Drawing Local Interest

By ARGEN DRAPER

Next Tuesday is a big day in Lubbock and for the people in West Texas who like fashion. This is the second All-Cotton Fashion Show, which is sponsored by the Clothing Department of Texas Tech. It will be held in the Lubbock Auditorium, and the showings will be at 1:30 p. m., 4:15 p. m. and 8 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 26. If you wonder if it is worth your time and effort ask Mrs. Paul S. Corbett, and Mrs. J. T. Richardson, who went there last year.

Mrs. Dick Barnard and Mrs. Milton Adams, who are majors in Clothing and Textiles, would really enjoy the showing.

Monk Johnson and Seale Stevens, who sell the brand of patterns that are used in the fashion show, will be very interested in this.

As the West Hereford Home Demonstration Club meets on Tuesday and the Bippus Home Demonstration Club meets on Wednesday, I doubt if I will be able to attend, but I will depend on some of you to give me the details.

The Bippus Home Demonstration Club is considering entering the Community Improvement contest. I am really hoping they do enter as they have already done a lot to improve the building and they are an ambitious neighborhood. Some of us will do our best to help you plan a good program for community improvement. Christine Fortenberry is the president of the club and has some good ideas for club work this year.

There are some order blanks for trees from the Texas Forest Service. These trees are for windbreak planting stock. The price is $1.50 per hundred. The species available: Austrian pine, ponderosa pine, red cedar, Chinese elm, cottonwood, Sycamore, Osage orange, Arizona Cypress, Mulberry, slash, and loblolly.

The shipment will be prepaid either parcel post or express. No order for less than 100 trees of one species will be accepted and the order must be for 100 or more trees. Orders must be received before March 1, and payment must be remitted with the order. When you order you agree to: plant the trees in Texas, refrain from using or reselling the seedlings for ornamental purposes, and protect

Bud To Blossom Elects Officers

New officers named were Mrs. Glen Bilbrey, president; Mrs. Ernest Kendall, first vice-president; Mrs. Don Steele, second vice-president; Mrs. Bill Patton, third vice-president; Mrs. Pat Robinson, recording secretary; Mrs. Ira Scott, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clinton Jackson, treasurer; Mrs. C. R. Higgins, reporter; Mrs. Delmo Williams, federation director; and Mrs. R. A. Daniel, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Don Steele presented the program using magazine illustrations to augment a discussion of "Form in Arrangement."

Members present were Mesdames Glyn Bilbrey, R. A. Daniel, C. R. Higgins, Bill Patton, West, Don Steele and Ernest Kendall.

With this fine moisture that we have already had, this may be the right year for adding to or beginning a windbreak to stop wind and sand and to help the homemaker with making housekeeping easier.

At the office, we have a newsletter that has been sent to some interested persons on "Managing Your Time and Energy". This is available if you are not satisfied with the way you manage your time. Also, we have an Extension bulletin to help you analyze your use of resources and a pattern to help you plan better use of time and energy. Come by or write and we'll mail you this newsletter.

Along the management line, we are planning a meeting to be held in Hereford on "Budgeting Your Money". If you want to be invited, tell us or call the office.

We sure will miss the Poultry Division of the Junior Livestock Show. Due to lack of interest in poultry, the 4-H leaders thought it advisable to postpone this until there is further interest in poultry. The leaders are ready to promote any other type of show to give recognition to area boys and girls. Anyway, we will be at the Livestock Show as a spectator for the first time in a number of years.

I have a few ideas. This committee makes up the sub-committee on clothing for the County Program Building Committee. They have planned three very interesting programs on clothing. One for special inter-

Kiwanians Hear Insurance Plan

Harvey J. Brewington, vice-president of Western Fire and Indemnity Company of Lubbock spoke on the new merit drivers insurance plan at the noon meeting of Hereford Kiwanis Club Thursday in IOOF Hall.

Brewington explained that it is "not a new plan" as it is now mandatory in California and is used in Canada.

He went on to say that records of 40,365 Texas drivers were used in deriving three-year averages. He said a total of 72.92 per cent had neither accidents nor moving violations during that period, and that they will be eligible to realize a 20 per cent discount on insurance.

Guests at the Kiwanis Club meeting included T. R. Jewell of Littlefield, and Leo Page, Marvin Madison and Clyde Alsop. Program chair man was Troy Rowland.

A number of very fine compliments have come from those attending the planning meeting in Stinnett last Thursday. Miss Loreta Fowler, Mrs. H. L. Hershey and Mrs. T. J. Parsons gave a program on How to Introduce a Speaker. Why don't we get them to give this to us at Council in February? There has already been a long program planned for January.

January Council meets on Monday, Jan. 25th. This is a change from the year book.

What Good Are One More Week Service Clubs? On Poll Taxes

The past week-end recorded completion of the fourteenth annual Junior Livestock Show in Hereford. Needless to say, it was another successful event.

Wrapped up in the maze of accomplishments through the annual show is the answer to an old question, "What good does a service club do, anyway?" The Hereford Rotary Club, as sponsors, originated the livestock show to answer a definite need. Of still greater importance is the fact that they have continued the project year after year — and they have always turned out one of the outstanding livestock shows in the Panhandle.

Good coming from the project, in addition to immediate results, can be best told by the young men and women who take part in the various divisions. Since that original Rotary livestock show in 1946, many of the first youngsters who entered the various events are now staunch citizens of the community. A few of them are even members of the sponsoring club and some, no doubt, have sons and daughters of their own who are taking part in some phase of the 1960 show.

Service of this type cannot be measured by any single yardstick. It is the sort of service that builds communities and keeps them abreast of new developments. It is the nearest thing we have seen to the Rotary International motto, which simply reads: "Service Above Self."

Farmers Are A Peculiar Breed

Farmers seem to be a peculiar breed, all within their own.

Russia, for instance, stepped out front in science and rocket shooting; they claim to have industry well in hand and any new development which reaches the market, seems to have been invented previously by a Russian. Premier Khrushchev announced last week, however, that the Soviet is recording the poorest harvest in four years. They just flat cannot get people to grow things on a parallel with the free world.

Even in the United States, the farmer is always classified as an independent thinker. Efforts to unionize the farmer were long ago dropped by union leaders. Farmers, too, are more prone to express their frank opinion on any given subject, including politics.

On the other hand, if our farmers were placed under a forced-labor system with the state confiscating crop yields, it is likely that our own farm production would drop sharply.

As things stand, each of our farmers is honestly a business man. The harder he works and the more he thinks, the higher his profits stand to go. In addition, he is about the only fellow in the United States who has a cinch on something to eat — and this is still true, despite our present high degree of specialization.

More important, possibly, is the ownership and living on one's own land. This urge has been present in mankind down through the history of civilization, and it will likely continue to exist on through the ages to come. Invariably, it goes hand-in-hand with man's struggle for survival.

Frankly, we doubt if Communism can ever produce outstanding yields in agriculture. The factors involve conflicting opposites. A general in the army, a scientist or a merchant will listen to reason. But a farmer — "Never!"

Why will an American citizen volunteer into the armed service, risk his life defending his right to vote, then fail to take the trouble to secure his poll tax?

Trying to answer this question would put gray hairs on a psychologist, but it happens hundreds and thousands of times each year all over the country. Meanwhile, that same fellow can and will tell you hundreds of reasons why every American should pay his poll tax, (where necessary) and definitely speak his piece at the polls.

With elections on the offices of U. S. President, Governor of Texas, numerous district and county offices in store, 1960 bids unusual activity on the political front. An "election year" of this type usually records heavy poll tax sales.

At the present time around 1,700 people, approximately half of the county estimate, have paid their poll taxes. Only one more week remains in which to make the payment and qualify yourself to vote.

Much Interest In Soliz Case

Justice is the ultimate objective of all court cases, both criminal and civil, and we are frequently impressed with the general thinking of American juries. Such was the situation this week in an unusual trial appearing on the district court docket in Deaf Smith County.

An 18-year-old boy, charged by the State with rape of a 12-year-old girl, was found "not guilty" after due deliberation by the jury. The girl in question, now legally married to the defendant, testified that the man had not committed the offense, a situation contrary to earlier findings of the grand jury.

There were, of course, several viewpoints involved. We can understand why the State of Texas, once drawn into the situation, would pursue it to conclusion. A crime is still a crime, despite lack of any apparent injury; otherwise, returning stolen property would provide a "no guilty" verdict for every thief.

In this particular case, however, most people appeared pleased to see the couple re-united. Apparently happily married, leading a productive life and involving no further encounters with the law, sending the husband to the penitentiary would break up the home and likely create a difficult problem for the wife.

All in all, the case might be termed an example of our laws serving the people, rather than having the people serve the laws.

—QUOTABLE QUOTES—

ROY CRAIG in The Stamford American: A recent grand jury in Dallas criticized the "laxity in traffic control about schools," expressing amazement that the mothers picking up children appeared to be the greatest offenders.

That must be a common fault. A similar situation exists at Stamford schools. Mothers pull over to the wrong side of the street, stop out in the middle of the traffic lanes and do just about everything that they shouldn't when they take Junior to school or go pick him up.

Second offenders seem to be people when they go to church. Or rather, you might properly say, it is the people who don't go to church but drive by to pick up those who did. Double parking on the part of these people make through traffic all but impossible around churches at dismissal time.

WILLARD JONES in The Hamlin Herald: A McCauley farmer, it is reported, bought two hammers at a general store and within a short while returned to buy four more. He returned still later to buy eight, and then to buy 16. This time the merchant asked him what he was doing with all the hammers.

"I'm selling them," the farmer replied. "What are you getting for them?" the storekeeper asked.

"A dollar and a quarter."

"Man, you can't make any money that way," the merchant protested. "You're paying a dollar and a half for them."

"It still beats farming," the farmer replied.

"A boy in a bank where you may deposit your most precious treasures . . . the hard-won wisdom, the dreams of a better world. A boy can guard and protect these, and perhaps invest them wisely and win a profit — a profit larger than you ever dreamed."

"A boy will inherit your world. All your work will be judged by him. Tomorrow he will take your seat in Congress, own your company, run your town. The future is his, and through him, the future is yours. Perhaps he deserves a little more of our attention now."

There is just one thing I do not like about driving a car and that is I can't see everything I would like to see, or perhaps

I should say try to see. One cannot observe everything along the highway as we get along at a 50-mile or more clip, but I did see a tree house on Union Avenue that intrigued me so much I stopped and talked with the young lad who had built it.

"My daddy made the first one," said Larry Fuhrmann. "It was pretty small and I decided I wanted a new and bigger one. I took what little money I had and began working on it. I worked at odd jobs to get more money to build it larger, but my money ran out and so did the jobs, so I had to stop where it is."

"My friend, Darrell Christensen, helped me. We had a lot of fun doing it. We like to take snacks and fruit and things and go up just to talk and loaf and really enjoy it."

"One night we were going to spend the night in it and took a lot of things up, but a cloud came up and lightning began playing around. We were glad to come down and sleep under a roof. I do not want to sleep out in the rain, but I plan to sleep out a lot when the weather is suitable."

"I like the color red, so I just painted it red so it would show up more among the green leaves when spring comes." When asked where he got the idea of a tree house (I had visions of his reading Robinson Crusoe, The Swiss Family Robinson or perhaps The Tarzan books), he said, "No, I haven't been reading books. I just wanted a tree-house."

This reminded me of a story of the boy in grammar school when his teacher asked him to write a sentence using the adjective, "pretty." He scratched his head, pulled his hair and was ready to give up when the teacher asked him if his father had a pretty secretary. He wrote busily for a few moments and came up with this: My father had a pretty secretary but my mother candor" (canned her).

My Brand is delivered by small boys, and some time they have a little difficulty in keeping their sales slips straight. I have always paid for two months instead of one as my working hours made it hard for the boys to collect. I had noticed in last April that I had been billed irregularly as the boy collected for March and April and a few days later came by to collect for April and May.

Busy about the house one evening I heard a heavy knock at the door; wondering at the house-shaking knock I hurried to the door, but before I got to it there was another knock even heavier than the first.

As I opened the door there stood a small boy with sparkling brown eyes. "I'm collecting for the Brand. As you know we collect in advance." I explained to him that I was paid through June.

"May I see your sales slips?" he said, rather cockily. He gave (Continued on page 5)

INCREASED INTEREST RATES BRINGS REVISIONS

Opening of the North Plains Savings and Loan Assn. and boosts in the interest rate paid by the counties three other banking institutions has apparently triggered a wave of transfers from checking to savings accounts. Financial statements published this week showed demand deposits, or checking accounts, to be down more than $140,000 in comparison with last year's totals from the First State and First National Banks of Dumas. Almost identical increase in the time deposit, or savings account, figures. Contradicting the trend, the Sunray State Bank showed a major increase in demand deposits and a small drop in the savings account during the past year. One of the biggest factors, however, was opening of the county's first savings and loan organizations. By Dec. 31, 1959, the firm had recorded $486,483.55 in time deposits, but that figure skyrocketed immediately after the new year started, officials said. Directors of North Plains Savings and Loan did not break down their totals this week but announced that their total assets had passed the $1 million mark after four months of operation. The savings and loan firm now pays four per cent interest on deposits, while the bank current rate is three per cent maximum permissible for banking institutions.

The banquet committee chairman, Jack O'Dell, stated, "In order to give those attending the banquet an outstanding program, comfortable seating arrangements and the best in service, plans had to be established for a specific number of people. My advice to the public is to get your tickets early for an entirely different kind of Chamber Banquet. The banquet will be held at La-Forge Hall on the SWTJC Campus at 7:15, Feb. 9 and admission per person will be $2.50. The new Chamber officers and directors will be presented at the annual meeting. One of the highlights of the evening will be the announcement of the "Outstanding Citizen's Award" recipient. The winner of this award has been selected but will not be named until the annual meeting. The outstanding climax to the evening will be "The Chordsmen Chorus," a chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America. This singing group sang their way to second place in an International Chorus Contest held in Chicago last year. The Chordsmen consist of about 45 men and from that group three separate quartets will present a variety of numbers. Also the entire chorus will present some special arrangements.

WIND RIPS AREA

High winds accompanying a thunderstorm in the area Wednesday night fanned a fire resulting in $5,000 loss at a chicken house west of Littlefield and caused extensive damage in east Olton. About 1,200 17-week-old pullets were lost in the fire which destroyed a combination egg processing and brooder house owned by P. S. Hanks. The fire broke out about 2:30 a.m. Thursday. High winds made the blaze get out of hand before firemen arrived. Hanks estimated the loss at about $5,000 including $2,000 to the building. Hanks said the chickens were worth about $1.60 each, making a loss of about $2,000. He also lost an egg washer, deep freeze and other equipment valued at about $1,000.

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm seems to be against progress, his letter this week indicates. It's not the first time.

Dear editor:
One of the main troubles with life these days is that most people are bogged down with progress, and there's no escape in sight.

Everybody who has been to a big city along quitting time in the late afternoon knows the automobile at that hour creates more problems than it solves.

Or take farming. We don't have any traffic congestion, but we've got a surplus that's just as bad.

What brings this to mind is an article I read last night in a newspaper an insurance salesman left out here. According to it, scientists are working on a scheme to prolong the life of fresh fruits and vegetables ten times what it is today. By using some sort of atomic radiation, they claim they can make an orange or a head of lettuce stay fresh at least ten times longer.

They claim this will be a step forward, but what they're fixing to do is put fresh fruits and vegetables in the same shape we've gotten all other agricultural products.

Say you're the Secretary of Agriculture. Up to now, while you might be pressed down with worry over surplus of corn, wheat, cotton, etc., you at least could smile when you thought of lettuce. Oh, there might be a surplus of lettuce for a few weeks, but you could get an inner glow out of remembering the problem would soon wilt, and a month from now the surplus, however tremendous, would disappear, instead of hanging around for years staring you in the face like wheat.

But no, scientist aren't satisfied with a situation like that. What they're working on is a scheme to make lettuce store the Secretary of Agriculture in the face for months and maybe years. Not only lettuce but tomatoes, cabbage, green beans, watermelons, oranges and anything else you can think of.

If scientists had us farmers' and the Secretary of Agriculture's best interests at heart, what they'd be doing is leaving the fresh fruits and vegetables alone and working on a brand of wheat for example that expires six months after it's harvested. If it wasn't made into flour by then, it'd disintegrate. If the same thing was worked out for corn, cotton, etc., the surplus problem would be whipped and all national magazines could stop worrying about what the farmers are costing the government.

Your faithfully
J. A.

Sanky Trimble.

Former Brand Newsman Feted

A man who started his journalistic career in Hereford has set a new newspaper record in New Mexico.

He is Sanky Trimble of Albuquerque, Associated Press chief of bureau for New Mexico.

Trimble Jan. 23 was awarded first place in news reporting in the 1959 E. H. Shaffer Memorial Journalism Awards sponsored by the New Mexico Press Assn.

It marked the first time anyone has won three firsts in any of the three writing categories in the 15-year history of the contest. Trimble previously topped the news reporting field in 1948 and 1954 and in addition has won five secondary awards in news and feature writing and photography.

Trimble at one time lived in Hereford with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Trimble and attended grade school here for a time. He got his journalistic start on the Hereford Brand when Dewitt (Judge) Landis was editor and publisher. Trimble later worked on newspapers in Plainview, Clovis, San Angelo and El Paso before joining The Associated Press in 1945.

Rev. Wingert Is Speaker At Club

Roll call was answered with "A Child's Prayer" at the Friday evening meeting of La Madre Mia Study Club in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank.

Mrs. Ted Hardwick introduced the Rev. Russell Wingert, guest speaker, who spoke on "Our Religious Responsibilities to Our Children." He recommended considering the whole child not just his physical or intellectual aspects. He said "It is important to instruct and guide children spiritually. Every adult has a responsibility, not only to their own children, but to all children. We should strive to instill faith, honesty, integrity, compassion and humility in their minds and hearts and they will have a better chance of facing the world. God gave us our children but it is our responsibility to raise them as children of God."

Mrs. Bobby Williams served as hostess for the meeting. Mrs. Harold Morton, president, presided over a business session when plans were made for the annual Husbands "Sweetheart Party" which will be held on Feb. 13.

A couple of jokes:
When I heard of Dr. Gray's Louisiana coffee made in a cowbell, and that it must be boiled until the clapper stood straight up before it was ready to drink, I must tell a Texas story of water.

Two cowboys were hunting strays on a very hot Texas day. They had been without water for some time and were getting a little desperate. They saw a shallow creek in the distance with two clumps of trees, but a half mile or so apart. They separated, each going to a clump of trees and if they found water they were to signal that the water was fit to drink. This they did, and as the second one came up he asked if the water was OK. "Yeah", drawled his partner, "but yer might hev to chaw it a little."

Away back when the pioneers lived in half dugouts and used prairie fuel for keeping warm in weather such as we are having now, and old cowboy and his wife lived in one of these prairie le homes, having no stove but a small fireplace to keep the little home warm. It was a habit of the wife to put a pile of prairie fuel near the bed so she could throw it on the fire without having to get up in the cold. The old cowboy had a great love of chewing tobacco, so much so that he had to have a chew or two at night. Since he slept near the wall he would wake his wife to hand him his tobacco.

One night she was very tired and having stacked the fuel near the bed, had gone soundly to sleep. He waked at the usual hour and asked for his tobacco. Not fully awake, she reached out in her sleep and handed him the first thing her hand touched. All was quiet for a little while, when a plaintive voice said, "Mandy, air ye sure ye giv me the right tobacco?"

And the club member who told who told her friend that "Our club plans to put a litterbug (bag) in each car before the year was gone".

After giving statistics concerning "Alcoholics Anonymous" they gave facts on alcoholism, which is considered the number three health problem in the Deaf Smith County area. They pointed out that alcoholics cannot be cured, but the disease may be arrested.

In conclusion Cook asked questions on the subject which were answered by Hardwick.

Members attending were Mesdames Doc Carter, Sidney Kerr, Eugene Noel, Nelson Reiger, Ervin Robinson, John Smith, Wade Thompson, Delmo Williams, Clarence Vazey, and the hostess, Mrs. N. B. Clemmons was a special guest.

The temperature at Bootleg corner, Monday was two below zero. Tuesday was a sunny day but the snow still wasn't melted. It wasn't only winter in the area but far down the state as far as Wichita Falls and Farmersville.

He and Mrs. Thweatt left Hereford at 7 p.m. and drove to Farmersville, reaching there at 5:30 a.m. They attended the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Reese Spain, at 2 p.m. Sunday and spent the night with a cousin. Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Spain and returned home Monday at 6 p.m. The Thweatts drove in snow and fog most of the way Saturday night.

Monday they ran into snow at Childress on their way home. At Silverton the roads were iced over so they traveled on icy roads from there until they reached home at Bootleg.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt spent last weekend in Levelland doing some work on rept houses.

S. N. Thweatt made a business trip to Littlefield Wednesday.

Progressive HD Club Has Meet

The Progressive Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Dale Hallows. The program was on Food Faddism, presented by Mrs. T. J. Parsons, foods leader.

She pointed out, "How can food faddism be more effectively combatted? I believe that there are two main avenues of approach to this problem: the first is an effective program of nutrition education in which the facts about nutrients, food values, diets and diet therapy are presented in an enlightened and appealing manner so as they convey sound nutrition information without minimizing the symbolic value of food."

The second is to improve the standards of the practice of clinical nutrition by physicians in our country. The family physician should be the first court of appeals in matters of health.

Unfortunately, many practitioners of medicine are not fully informed in the field of nutrition and diet therapy, and hence are not prepared to consult with patients about the faulty diet practices which constitute the basis of faddism.

This was taken from the article written by Robert E. Olson, M. D., Department of Biochemistry and Nutrition, Graduate School of Public Health, University of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. H. L. Hershey was selected as club nominee for the district meeting. Mrs. Taft McGee was selected as club nominee for the County THDA chairman. The club voted to send the "Messenger" to all of their members.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By CHARLIE SEEDS

It was a revolutionary change. Many a Hollywood star's career came to an end because of it... and many another star was born. For this was the year when the first full length "talkie" was released.

Actually, it wasn't really a "talkie", for it contained only 291 words spoken aloud. But its songs took the country by storm, and even this first crude attempt at sound heralded the dawn of a new era of entertainment.

The star was the famed Al Jolson. The picture, "The Jazz Singer," in which Jolson appeared in blackface and sang the songs which became identified with him, and brought tears to the eyes of millions of movie fans.

Silent pictures still dominated the theater marquees that year... but this was their last silent gasp, for "The Jazz Singer" was an important first, and because of it movies would never be the same again.

Remember the year? More and more Americans were discovering the pleasure of motoring that year. If a man couldn't get a new car, he bought a used one... and he expected to get a lot of safe, useful service out of it.

The year was 1927. We have a big selection of safe, dependable used cars in our stock... trade-ins on the popular new 1960 FORDS. Explain Course At Noon Meets Of Lions, Optimists

Two representatives of the Dale Carnegie Institute presented programs at Hereford Optimist Club and Hereford Lions Club noon meetings Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Optimist Club meeting was held in I.O.O.F. Hall Tuesday and the Lions' meeting was in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel Wednesday.

The representatives, Joe Hood and Forrest Criswell of Lubbock, are currently taking applications for a 14-week course to be held in Hereford. The course is sponsored by the Lions Club.

Hood explained that the Dale Carnegie course was started as classes in public speaking in 1912.

Purpose of the course, he explained, is to teach persons to be themselves, become effective speakers and to develop memory. The course offers training in leadership and human relations.

"More businesses and large and small companies are realizing the benefits of the course every day," Hood said.

He cited that many fail in their work by not taking advantage of opportunities, not recognizing opportunity and not setting goals. "We don't try to make 'new men' in the Dale Carnegie course," Hood explained.

Beta Sigma Phi City Council Slates Musical Comedy Show

A musical comedy, "Around the World in a Daze", will be presented Thursday and Friday, Jan. 28 and 29, in the Hereford High School auditorium. Curtain time is 8:13 p. m. for the show, which is being sponsored by the Beta Sigma Phi City Council.

Proceeds from the show, which will include about 100 local persons in the cast, will be used for various Beta Sigma Phi projects. Chief project of the group is furnishing toys for children in Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Starring in the production will be Charles Bell as the announcer; Betty Babione as Mabel Melvina Mullins; and Don Baugous as Casper Perkins.

Briefly, Casper is a meek, unassuming bachelor who wins a trip around the world on a quiz show. Since the prize is good for two people, his landlady Mrs. Mullins manages to worm her way into the trip.

The pair first visit in Denmark, where fairy tales are acted out by small children. In the Scandinavian countries, they see a typical polka. But it's in Paris, under the influence of the Paris Darlings, that timid little Casper begins to loosen up and enjoy the affair.

A jet liner whisks them back to the United States in time to see the annual Sadie Hawkins Day race, after which they visit the Orient for a garden party and the Middle East for a peek into a Sultan's harem.

The finale finds the tourists back in Hereford.

"Around the World in a Daze" is being directed by Charlotte Gibbs of Jacksonville, Fla.

The Paris Darlings will be played by Camelia Ann Anderson, Mary Edna Jones, Helen Davis, Merle Carmichael and Cathy Billbreay.

The Polka number will include Cindy Jones, Joe Frances Deavenport, Penny Jones, Ann Mercer, Gayle Newell, Kay Dirks, Beverly Roberts and Patty Roach.

Remainder of the cast will be named later.

Tickets are available from Beta Sigma Phi members or will be sold at the door.

North Hereford H. D. Club Meets

The North Hereford Home Demonstration Club met in the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn for a luncheon meeting during the afternoon Thursday.

Roll call was answered with: "What I Plan To Work On To Improve My Home Management", "Something I Do That Has Improved My Management" and "A Time-Saver For Me."

The program was presented by Mrs. Argen Draper, Home Demonstration Agent, who explained how to manage work in order to save time and energy and how to have more time for relaxation.

She also said: "Watch others and see how they manage and see if you can improve on it. Try to space your time so as not to run out of time before the job is finished, because in these busy days lack of time is our most difficult problem. Have knowledge on how long it takes to do a job and see that you do it in the required or pre-set time."

The club's by-laws were read and approved, and members agreed to donate to the following organizations: the United Fund, March of Dimes, Cancer Fund and to Campfire group sponsors.

Next meeting will be held Feb. 4 in the home of Mrs. R.E. Barrett, and the subject of the meeting will be on landscaping. A program on "New Shrubs" will be given by Mrs. Frank Brinkman.

Members present included Mrs. C.L. Whitehead, Mrs. Clyde Smithers, Mrs. Marie Ward, Mrs. R. A. Fullwood, Mrs. Zella Kendrick, Mrs. June Roberts, Mrs. Fred Barrett, Mrs. Otto Olson, Mrs. W. H. Russell, Mrs. Frank Barrett, Mrs. Aubyn Hodges, Mrs. Belle Williams, Mrs. R. E. Barrett, Mrs. Christine Pettyjohn, Roberta Campbell, Mrs. Argen Draper, Mrs. Martin Wag-

La Plata Club Program Is Given By Foreign Exchange Students

Two foreign exchange students presented the program at the La Plata Study Club meeting held in the home of Mrs. Leroy Aven Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Frank Prowell, program chairman, introduced Miss Mari Ninisto of Finland, and Fleming Hansen of Denmark, who told something of their countries' history, telling of their traditional customs and of political groups and government.

Both compared the women of their countries with American women and told about their schools.

Miss Ninisto said "Life on the surface in Finland is much like life in America but the women spend much more time in the home and with their cooking. While patterned after the western world Finland has more political parties but their main desire is to remain friendly with the rest of the world."

Fleming Hansen said that "Denmark is not as concerned about Communism as is America, for there Communism is on the decline". He expressed gratitude that he has been able to see the life of normal America while here and said his country, like England, is governed by a King and outsiders see little of the middle class or normal portion of Denmark. Members present were Mesdames M.C. Adams, Jack Brown, C. L. Chisholm, Rex Lee, Ansel McDowell, Elmer Patterson, Frank Prowell, Bill Thompson, Raymond White, Louis Wood, L. G. Hutson and the hostess.

HE GETS PROMOTION

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — George, a mannequin at Warren Air Force base post exchange, got his promotion to captain.

A wave of newly-promoted officers caused a shortage of first lieutenant bars at the base. The exchange's supply was sold out. An enterprising young first lieutenant got his new bars. He spotted the bars on the store dummy and traded them for a set of captain's insignia.

PARTNERSHIP POWER FOR PROGRESS

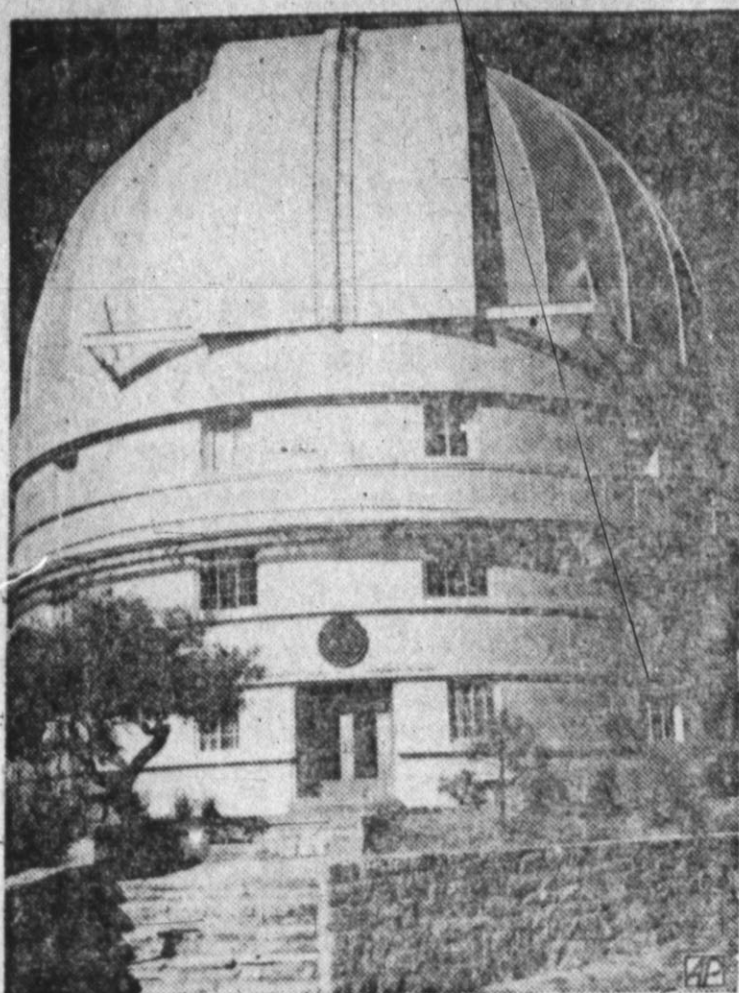

As the population of Texas grows and rural industry expands, the need for dependable electric power also increases

The Rural Electric Cooperatives of Texas are meeting that challenge. As new power demands are made, heavier lines and equipment are installed. Expert "trouble shooters" are alert around the clock to restore service after damage from wind and weather.

This steady dependable electric service and the expert attention that makes it dependable are the proud achievement of the membership of the Electric Cooperatives of Texas. They borrowed money at interest to build the electric systems that are providing Partnership Power for Progress.

BAD OPENING

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Owners of a newly remodeled drive-in theater still shudder at the thought of their grand opening. A pony which was to provide free rides for children became ill. A miniature train broke down after a few trips. Someone cut loose a $300, 30-foot-long helium-filled balloon which has not been seen since. Rain drenched the premises for hours.

Four Inches Of Snow Falls In Community

By MRS. CARL WIMBERLEY

Four inches of snow fell in the vicinity on Saturday bringing .30 of an inch of moisture. Little wind accompanied the snow so there was only slight drifting and country roads have been passable. The Dawn Music Club will

Foot Care

Feet grow thin or fat as their owner expands and contracts. If your shoes feel tight, the best reducing treatment is a foot bath in epsom salts. The formula is: Four teaspoons of salt, two quarts of water. Soak the feet for 30 minutes.

Kitchen Burns

Burns are, of course, an occupational hazard in the kitchen. One suggested quick remedy consists of placing the burn against the refrigerator coils — which relieves the initial pain and hastens its healing.

Copper Cleaning

Copper can be cleaned easily and economically if it is rubbed with a half - lemon dipped in salt, then rinsed in hot water and polished with a soft cloth.

Food Note

A favorite combination in Italy and France is fresh fruit and cheese. Try the following together for a tasty and healthful dessert: Roquefort cheese and slices of pear . . . Liederkranz and grapes . . . Camembert and wedges of apple . . . and Swiss cheese and sections of orange.

Cleaning Bottles

Glass bottles and decanters are sometimes difficult to clean. Try cutting some lemon into small pieces, dropping these into the bottle, half - filling with water, and then shaking well.

Enamel Over Enamel

When applying enamel over enamel, you can prevent its running by adding a little cornstarch to it.

Book Carrying

Here's a tip to pass on to the junior book - carrying students in your family. The totting of several books under the arm can be made much easier if you slip a piece of paper between the front cover of one book and the back cover of the next book, and so on with each book.

OFF IT COMES

LINDEN, N.J. (AP) — You know how hair is. Like Topsy it just grows and grows. With Felicia Jo Deraska it grew for 12 years — the length of time she's been around — untouched by barber's snippers. She got a haircut recently. The whole family showed up to watch it.

After it was over, Felicia exclaimed: "It's wonderful!" Says her mother: "The haircut has changed her whole personality."
