Bud To Blossom Club sponsored a "Seasonal Table Show" at McGee Furniture Store last week end as a climax to the year's study activities. Decorated tables representing the four seasons were placed in the display windows in a correlated setting of furniture, appointments and flowers.

The "Spring Table" in modern design was laid with green place mats with darker green accessories. Complementary china and a centerpiece of yellow iris and matching tapers gave an added springtime touch. The arrangement committee included Mesdames Delmo Williams, Glyn Bilbrey and Don Steele. (Mrs. Glyn Bilbrey, president, is shown in the picture.)

The "Summer Table" depicted a bridal scene in a French Provincial setting. A buffet table was laid with a pink cloth and centered with a mass arrangement of white irises, pink tulips, double spirea and beauty bush, flanked by pink tapers in candelabras. Ceramic bridal couple and bridesmaids in miniature completed the scene. The arrangement

Pupils Use 'Joy' Money For Others

By MRS. T. L. COLLINS
After reading a story in the fourth grade reader, Mrs. T. L. Collins gave her third and fourth grade pupils at Walcott School ten pennies each on Friday afternoon. The idea came from the reader.

She called the pennies "Joy" pennies and asked each child to spend them to make five people happy, with the exception of members of their class.

Written reports came back that the pennies were used for bubble gum, peanuts, jelly beans, mints, suckers, balloons, post cards on which the children wrote their grandparents, one donated his pennies to a collection for an orphan's home, and some bought gum for themselves.

A few in the class did not use the pennies, but returned them to Mrs. Collins.

Some showers of rain fell at Walcott on Monday and Tuesday evening, but no measurement was reported.

Walcott School children have watched a field lark bird's nest in the school yard for the past several weeks. Their nest is built on the ground. First the students observed three small green and brown speckled eggs, which now are hopping around the school yard with feathers.

The seventh and eighth grade pupils at Walcott School; Nancy Tyler, Elizabeth Burrus, Marilyn Tice, Vicki Burns, Sylvia Ivie, Larry Minks, Damon Davis, Rayford Wilkerson, Donald Tice, Carl Myers, Davie Sorrells and George Steward, were taken by bus to Amarillo Skateland for their annual skating party on Monday night.

Their teacher, Thomas Collins and Glenn Burrus drove the bus. Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Burrus accompanied the group.

The group ate a late meal afterward at a cafe, before leaving Amarillo.

The girls spent the rest of the night with Nancy Tyler at her home.

Mrs. Gerall Norton, Timothy and Charla from Bloomfield, N. M., came Friday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Gibson and Tony. The group was together for Mother's Day.

On Tuesday Mrs. Norton's husband came from Bloomfield to join his family for a longer visit with the Gibsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Buster Daniel and six children of Dumas, and Lester Lykes, came Sunday afternoon to visit Mr. and Mrs. Jim Adkins. They left late that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Burrus and family, including Margaret, who attends West Texas State College in Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Burrus and daughters, honored their mother, Mrs. Lenora Kribbs of Amarillo, with a picnic in Elwood Park there Sunday.

Earl Brown, second grade son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown, entered the Amarillo Oseopathic Hospital on Monday. He came home Wednesday but is still being treated. He has been absent from school all week.

Mrs. Joe Rader had a birthday on Tuesday, May 10. The evening preceding, her daughter, Mrs. J. M. Payne, Larry and Darla of Hereford, visited her and brought a birthday cake. They prepared supper, which included home-made ice cream. Payne came later to eat with his family and Mr. and Mrs. Rader.

Mr. and Mrs. Buel Monroe, Kathy, Jimmy and baby Joe, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Monroe, Tom, Paul and Thorton, went to Clovis, N. M. on Sunday to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Monroe. Others present for Mother's Day were Mr. and Mrs. Troy Monroe, Randy and Jan, Earl Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Fulcher and Mickey Marie, Lola Burk, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Smith and Mark, all of Clovis.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Tyler and family had her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hall from Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Womble and Dusty of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Hall, Kerry and Scott Norman, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Hall, John and Danny, as guests in their home for Mother's Day lunch, and an afternoon visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorin Creitz, Terry, Paula and Melanie of Adrian ate dinner Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Burns, Vicki, Marsha and Chris.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Myers and family went to Dumas on Sunday to visit her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Smith. Her mother, Mrs. Bessie Petticord of Amarillo, was there visiting. The Myers' came home that night.

cloth was an appropriate background for dark green appointments. Autumn leaves encircled a pottery bowl filled with tinsel wrapped nuts as the center attraction and tall green candles were placed at either side. Arranging the table were Mesdames Clinton Jackson, Pat Robinson and C. R. Higgins.

The "Winter Table" carried out the Christmas holiday theme—a full skirted net cloth applied in Christmas tree design and sequins, with red underlay covered the table. The milk glass appointments for tea accented the traditional furniture of the dining area. Pine cones, red cranations and red candles enhanced the scene. Arranging the table were Mesdames Ernest Kendall, Glenn Williams, Ira Scott and Clinton West.

Despite our experience of over-guessing the census count in 1950, most of us came back and did the very same thing in 1960. I was figuring around 8,100 — and I talked with a lot of people who seemed to think we would top 10,000. When you stop to think about it, however, Hereford had done exceedingly well. We jumped from 2,584 in 1940 to 5,207 in 1950, then on up to 7,473 in 1960, giving a total gain of 4,889 in 20 years. Keep in mind, too, that we have no oil, no big industry, or special economic attraction. Hereford and Deaf Smith County are just "a good place to live"; consequently, we have had a gradual, substantial growth over the period.

Another thing that throws people off is utilities statistics. They count telephone connections, water meters, light connections and the like, then divide by a family unit number (probably 3-1/3). This is fine, except we are not average. A lot of places maintain two telephones, and we have many large homes with small family units. Because of the area per capita income, we invariably throw the statisticians a curve. The Plainview results will probably be a lot like our own. These are two of the growing areas which have a 100 per cent basic agricultural economy.

Rocky Lee wants to know if the Shriners charge extra for painting children along with trash barrels. Rocky says their son, Rick, came in well covered with aluminum paint after the Shrine crew finished his alley.

Those barrels do look nice, and they seem to have done more toward a successful clean-up week than any other activity in the community in a long time. Remember, all proceeds from the project will be used to finance the fifth annual Children's Free Clinic May 21. There is no outright charge for the paint job, but shrine members will be around this afternoon for donations from those who wish to help the clinic — and they hope to average out better than $1 - per - barrel.

C. N. McClure was all excited Thursday morning. He says that there was ice in the nozzle of his lawn hose on May 12.

Folks who travel up and down West Third Street are talking about the beautiful flower garden Mrs. J. E. Black has this year. Even husband, Jim, admits it is "pretty good".

J. M. Lee is no little worried over the surge of youngsters who are collecting horned toads. He is afraid that it is a school project, but I am inclined to think that some Boy Scout Jamboree prospects are collecting ammunition for swapping.

"You always find those horned toads around ant beds," says Mr. Lee, "and if we take very many out of circulation we will get things out of balance. Horned toads are most useful in this part of the country; they serve a real purpose, and I am afraid we will suffer if too many are removed."

... Travel Notes ... Back from the National Editorial Association meeting in Atlanta, Ga., last week, and firmly convinced that the South is about to rise again, Clara and I drove through Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and decided that this is probably the nicest time of the year to tour the South. Temperatures ranged between 68 and 75 degrees most of the time, trees were in full foliage, lots of flowers — and fewer tourists than later on.

We passed more trees than I knew existed, included several national forests. My wife admits that they have more trees than you find in the Panhandle, but insists that the Southerners could learn a lot from us; she says they don't even know enough to plant their trees in rows. We were quite surprised at farming methods, especially in Arkansas, where most of the plowing seems to be done with one mule and a walking plow. We saw very few tractors in Arkansas, Tennessee and Georgia, but encountered many in Alabama and Mississippi, especially in the delta country.

At one of the meetings I sat by Jack Holmes of Villa Grove, Illinois, who gave me somewhat of a job when he asked if I knew Ivan Block, whose brother operates an appliance store in Villa Grove.

After you leave Fort Smith, east, driving changes sharply. The roads are narrow, lots of hills, twists and turns; if you make 350 miles a day, you are doing well. We passed through Little Rock and decided they must have a tremendous Negro population; we estimated that we saw fewer than 15 whites in the city, but Negroes by the hundred.

Every town we hit in Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi seemed to feature the same approach as follows: a Rotary Club sign, a Lions Club sign, and a First Baptist Church sign. Often they had a Second or Third Baptist Church, then shifted over to proper names for designations. My long-time friend Joe Cook, formerly of Mission, Texas, is now publishing the paper in Louisville, Miss. and, incidentally, knows Jim Roberts who was reared in Louisville. I knew that Joe was a Baptist deacon, so I asked if he had any trouble locating a Baptist church when he moved south:

"Anyone who lives in Mississippi and is not a Baptist has been tampered with," declared Joe.

Paul Butler, national Demo chairman, and Thurston Martin, national Republican chairman, were on the same program at one meeting. Both were good speakers, of course, but there were many people from the South at the session, and Butler made them most unhappy when he declared that integration has been adopted as one of the Democratic Party principles:

"It is coming," declared Butler. "You had just as well make up your minds to accept — and like it — because that is how things will be."

Many Southerners predict that the overwhelming Negro population will elect judges, sheriffs, clerks, JP's in a few years and the Whites will be on the outside looking in with a situation much like the Mexicans now hold in New Mexico. They also predict extensive corruption and graft.

We stopped to have coffee with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dean of Bessemer, Alabama, on the way back home. The Deans are parents of Mrs. George McLean, and are wonderful people. After meeting them I can see where Catherine gets her Southern drawl. Mr. Dean says that the Alabama delegation will go to Los Angeles, but he feels sure they will not be seated. Like I said, the South is about to rise again — and out of the whole thing may come a strong Third Party, based probably on states rights.

Martin contended in his talk that the two parties have swapped places.

"The Democrats now want to settle everything in Washington," said the Republican chairman, "while the Republicans want to settle things on the community or state level."

I figure the South will probably go Republican on the presidential election, but the party does not fully represent their desires. The stage is truly set for a Third Party. If not this year, it will come the next round.

We also found out the true story about General Lee's surrender at Appomattox. It goes like this, according to the Georgia folks:

"General Grant had met with reverse after reverse, so made up his mind to surrender. Grant had the papers drawn, dressed in full uniform and started for the Confederate headquarters to plead with Lee for mercy. "Lee, meanwhile, was sitting in his tent planning his next move, when he looked up and saw Grant approaching. Mentally, he compared the man to fellows like Jew Stuart, Beauford, Albert Sidney Johnston, and other Southern generals, so he decided this man must be one of the Confederate flunkies who had picked up some old Federal clothing. Naturally, he figured that the man had come to polish his sword, so he unbuckled it and handed it to the flunkie.

"Greatly surprised, Grant accepted the sword and presumed that Lee was proposing to surrender."

"Lee was equally surprised when he discovered what had happened but, being the Southern gentleman he was, he would not go back on his word. And thus ended the war between the states."

We had to travel 2,500 miles to get this information, but I guess it was worth it. Most people came to the meeting by plane, but driving is a lot of fun, including the battlegrounds at Shiloh and Lookout Mountain. The only thing that worries me is how in the world they ever founded, or maintained, a Methodist Church in Tennessee. They sure did slide under the Baptists at Shiloh.

You know, these mommas are the backbone of so many organizations that it's hard to figure out how we could function without them. And sure enough, here are a couple S. O. S. calls for their help:

All mothers of Hereford High seniors are requested to be present at the H. H. S. auditorium on Monday, May 16, at 3 p. m.

And the mothers of Little League ballplayers will have bake sales on Wednesday, May 18, at Cooper's Market, Piggly Wiggly and Safeway. Sales will start at 9 a. m.

John T. Bean, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Texas, will visit Hereford Lodge 849, AF & AM, for a Past Masters' night celebration on Thursday, May 17, at 7:30 p. m. Bean, who is from El Paso, will be the honored guest at a dinner for Hereford Master Masons before the meeting.

Children from the Fowlkes Kindergarten in Hereford will present a free musical circus on the stage of Hereford High auditorium on Friday, May 20, starting at 8 p. m. The public is invited to the free performance.

In other action, delegates unanimously passed a resolution to support Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas for the Democratic presidential nomination. They further resolved to support the party presidential nominee, regardless of who it might be.

Elected as delegates to the state party convention were Bill Decker, Charles Hoover and Clinton Jackson, with their wives serving as alternates. Bill Davis and H. A. Cavness, and their wives, also were approved as alternates.

Louis Woodford was elected permanent chairman of the convention and Mrs. Bill Messick was named secretary.

A resolution of appreciation for his services as County Judge of Deaf Smith County was passed unanimously for Homer E. Henslee.

A resolution demanding more economy and efficiency in government, more states' rights and denouncing additional taxes, pressure groups and federal encroachment in private affairs was passed by the delegates.

Delegates to the state convention will not be bound by the unit rule, a vote of the delegates decided.

At the close of voting for selection of two candidates for county offices, motions were passed making the action of the county convention unanimous.

The Sunday Brand Women's Section

Mrs. John McLean, Society Editor

Hereford, Texas, Sunday, May 15, 1960

Section Two

Many a lovely lass will be wending her way to marriage come June. For June is the traditional favorite with brides and bridegrooms. In early Roman times, engaged girls who found their hearts skipping a beat dashed out to the local oracle before setting the day. Perhaps the sages decided June a good month to encourage young love and to please the goddess Juno.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By CHARLIE SEEDS

It was one of the most famous trials of the century, and debate over it rocked the nation. Tennessee had passed a law forbidding the teaching of evolution in public schools. An obscure teacher named John T. Scopes had defied the law. Now he was on trial.

The attorney for the defense was the most famous criminal lawyer of his time, Clarence Darrow. Opposing him for the prosecution was an even more famous name . . . William Jennings Bryan.

Bryan, now an old man was still eloquent. He built his case around a literal interpretation of the Bible, stoutly maintaining that Eve had literally been formed from a rib of Adam, and that the world had been created exactly 4,000 years before.

Darrow was equally persuasive for the defense . . . but when the two famous lawyers had finished and the verdict came in, Bryan had won his case. Scopes was found guilty.

Remember the year? There were great debates in those days over cars, too, and over the merits of the roadster and the closed sedan. But when it came to buying, a man couldn't be persuaded by a silver tongue. He wanted real savings.

The year was 1925.

We won't give you any fancy oratory when you come in to see and drive a new 1966 FORD. But we will give you real savings. That goes for our big stock of late model cars, too. So, for better deals, see CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO., INC., 146 East Second, Phone, EM 4-2727.

25 Years of Service to Rural Texans

The month of May marks the 25th anniversary of the greatest advancement in the history of rural America . . . electrification. It took a century from the invention of the electric motor . . . and a half century from the invention of the incandescent lamp . . . And when no one else would do it . . . rural people borrowed money and built their own electric systems. But the miracle was accomplished. Today the Electric Cooperatives are looking ahead to the next quarter century . . . staying ahead of the demand in rural areas . . . installing heavier lines and improved equipment to offer a steady, dependable, low cost electric service.

While they cannot look back . . . still in this Silver Jubilee year there is a prayer of Thanksgiving in the hearts of millions for the courage that struck a spark to burn the dark with the Light That Did Not Fail.

With one out Darrell Dameron walked, Channer got on by fielder's choice, Gene Sparks singled, Johnny Cheatham singled, Terry Hulsey was hit by a pitched ball, Kenny Justice singled and Guerrero was safe on an error as three runs scored.

There wasn't any more scoring until the top of the sixth, when the Giants added four more runs.

Sparks walked, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and came in on an error. With two away, Hulsey walked, Justice singled, Guerrero was safe on an error and Sydney Shaw and Dameron singled.

In the bottom of the sixth, the Cards finally got a pair of runs. Steve Knox started out with a single, pinch-hitter Roger Suttle singled, Larry Brown walked, Ed Mims was safe on a fielder's choice and Tug Collier Channer got credit for the win. He was relieved in the third by Guerrero. They allowed just three hits, all singles. Guerrero also gave up two runs.

Channer was charged with the loss, as he hurled the first three innings. Ed Mims came on to take over mound duties in the fourth.

The Giants were charged with six errors while the Cards had eight.

The Giants also pulled off two double plays. In the first inning the play went Dameron to Cheatham to Justice to Channer. In the second inning it was Channer to Guerrero to Sparks.

In the minor league game Thursday evening, the Dodgers and the Giants staged a track meet contest, with the Dodgers winning 28 - 14.

OFF THE Shelf

By H. A. TUCK
A Departure From the Rules by Anthony Robinson is an excellent novel of the peace-time Navy.

It's the story of the USS Dobbs, a destroyer, and of the officers and men who lived and served aboard her.

It concerns their ambitions, their loves, their heroism and their parts in the worst peacetime disaster of the United States Navy.

Lieutenant (jg) Allan Byrne was a bright, hard-working and efficient gunnery officer. Although a Reserve officer from Yale, he knew his work and how to do it.

It was a "happy ship" until Gerald Karst took command. He wasn't a Captain Quigg, but he insisted on discipline and strict military procedures. He was out to make a name for himself.

Byrne seemed to be the symbol to Karst of all that was wrong with the ship and Byrne must be whipped into line.

But Byrne wasn't easily changed. And falling in love with Joan Karst, the Commander's teen-age daughter, didn't make things any eas-

Dodgers Rally For Win Over Giants

After being held scoreless and hitless for the first four innings, the Little League Dodgers exploded for five runs in the fifth inning and another in the sixth to drop the Giants 6-5 in a tight opener for both clubs Tuesday night.

Both teams were scoreless through the third.

In the last of the fourth, the Giants scored three runs on two hits. With two out, Kenny Justice doubled, Alex Guerrero and Robert Wagner were safe on errors and Johnny Cheatham got on by fielder's choice.

The Dodgers finally scratched, and with a vengeance, in the fifth. They scored five runs on two hits. Gary Story was on by error, Dan McWhorter was hit by a pitch, Roger Owen walked, and David Evans was safe on an error. With two out, Douglas Watson doubled and Greg Johnson singled.

Giants knotted the score 5-5 in the last of the fifth, scoring two runs on two hits. Terry Hulsey doubled, Kenny Justice was safe on an error and Alex Guerrero singled to drive in the runs.

In the top of the sixth the Dodgers managed to get one crucial run. With two outs, Roger Owen doubled and John Gilbert singled him in. The Giants went down in order in the sixth.

Doug Watson started for the Dodgers, but was relieved by Owen in the fourth. Owen got credit for the win.

Terry Hulsey opened for the Giants, with Alex Guerrero coming on in the sixth. Guerrero was tagged with the loss. The Dodgers were able to get only four hits, but used them to score six runs, while making four errors.

Giants got five runs on six hits and were charged with five miscues.

In the minor league game, the Cardinals blasted the Pirates 12-7 in a game that was called after five innings.

On a dark night in the Pacific, the huge carrier Wake sliced entirely through the Dobbs. The two halves sank almost instantly, with a toll of 206 lives. Only Byrne and one other man survived.

The Court of Inquiry on the collision brought out the human weaknesses of the Dobbs . . . at least most of them. The Court also was called upon to judge the moral fitness of Lt. Byrne.

This is an exciting book, filled with ships and sailors. But it is only fit for adult reading. Parts of the novel are rather raw on human passion.

A Departure From the Rules by Anthony Robinson is good reading, with a nicely-balanced problem hanging until the last page.

Another good fiction choice is John Braine's Room At The Top. Significant is that the book is typical of the newer authors from England who have brightened their styles and become more readable.

Joe Lampton was a civil servant with an eye cocked to success. Although he is a good accountant and is destined to become the head of his department, he's out for bigger conquests . . . both in jobs and in women.

He moved from Duffton to Warley in search of opportunity. His charm and good looks led him into amateur theatricals, where the field was studded with attractive, and often willing, women.

Alice was ten years his senior and married, but that didn't prevent a torrid love affair. Another conquest was the lovely, lighthearted Susan, whose station was too far above his to make romance practical.

MOTHER'S DAY GUESTS
 Mother's Day guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William McGehee were their daughter, Mrs. R. O. Hupp of Long Beach, Calif., who will make an extended visit here with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Nichols of Plainview, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cowart of Olton.

WINDFALL FROM SISTERS
 CASPER Wyo. — Two spinster school teachers, whose top salary was $2,815 a year when they retired in 1945, have left an estate of $127,000 to the Casper First Christian Church.

The Casper First National Bank, administrator of the estate, isn't sure where or how Marie and Mosa Ross accumulated the huge savings on their meager earnings.

Mosa died in March, 1959, at 82, leaving her estate to Marie. Marie died Jan. 25, 1960, at 87, leaving the $127,000 estate to the church.

Above all the story you can hear the snarl of young youth, brilliantly told.

This is John Braine's first novel, although he has been writing since he was seven. If future books have the sustained power and drama of Room At The Top, he should become one of the best novelists of his generation.

A Departure From the Rules is from Deaf Smith County Library. Room At The Top was read in the Signet Book edition.

More Important Than Census Growth, We Now Have

Facilities Adequate To Accomodate Citizens

Preliminary census figures were released this week giving Hereford and Deaf Smith County a gain of approximately 43 per cent.

Deaf Smith County, in fact, is one of the few non-metropolitan counties in the nation to show a 43.5 per cent gain which includes 1,592 new rural residents.

From Coveralls To Shrine Fez

The Shriners will be around this afternoon for "donations" in connection with their recent barrel painting spree, and proceeds will be used to finance the fifth annual Children's Clinic, slated here for May 21.

Their cause, in addition to being worthwhile, has considerable merit in the manner which they have chosen to operate. Instead of selling the paint jobs in advance, the shriners pitched in and painted every trash barrel in town with the idea of leaving payment on a donation or honor system basis.

Through this clinic hundreds of area youngsters have been helped toward normal and improved lives, thanks to the Oasis Shrine Club and to the specialists who contribute their time.

The finance plan this year kills two birds with one stone in that it provides two important distinct community services. Without the clinic, the barrel painting project is one in which the home dweller gets value received for his $1 or more — and the clinic services makes this money deductible as a donation.

Let's Divide Precinct 2 Election Box -- And The Sooner The Better

Precinct 2 is getting too big for its pants.

If you don't believe this, just ask any of the election judges who served the voting box in the first primary; or, for that matter, ask folks in the Texas Election Bureau at Dallas or any interested citizens in Hereford and Deaf Smith County, including Brand employees who stayed up all Saturday night in a futile effort to give complete election returns.

In round figures, a total of 2,809 ballots were cast — and 1,047 of these ballots were tabulated in the Precinct 2 box.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

"Learning," says an African tribal proverb, "is a light that leads to everything lovely."

Lutheran missionaries Wes and Roslyn Sadler have brought the light into what was once the darkness of Loma land in the West African state of Liberia.

When Wes and Roslyn went to Loma land 18 years ago, the Loma tribe had no literature and its 30,000 members could not read.

The Sadlers prepared a primer in the Loma language and began to teach. Then came a dictionary, booklets on religion and health and the Loma Weekly, the only non-English language newspaper in Liberia.

Now with the Lomas buying about 16,000 booklets yearly and the newspaper selling out each edition, the Sadlers are taking on a new challenge.

They are heading the Africa-wide work for the Committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature of the National Council of Churches, training missionaries and Africans in literacy projects.

Their goal: Knowledge and faith—the light that leads to everything lovely.

FOURTH OF A SERIES

Are Experienced Older Workers Being Wasted?

(Editor's Note: The following is fourth of a series of six articles on programs of the senior citizens of Texas, which recently appeared in the Houston Post. As members of the Hereford Area Foundation are currently attempting to locate a Methodist Church home for the aged in Hereford, the series is carried in The Sunday Brand as a public service.)

The aged population of Texas today is not self-supporting. The Public Welfare Department reports that of the Texans 65 and over, 42.5 per cent are receiving Old Age and Survivors Insurance (Social Security); 33.8 per cent are receiving Old Age Assistance and 29.6 per cent are receiving some form of veterans compensation.

The more than 100 per cent is accounted for by over-lapping. For instance, 17.8 per cent of those receiving Old Age Assistance also draw Social Security payments.

Staff members of the Texas Research League, now engaged in a study of the welfare program, report that in 65

Texas counties the biggest single source of income is Old Age Assistance.

The Texas Employment Commission has worked out projections showing that by 1965 there will be 67,000 more jobs needed by persons over 45 than are needed today.

Nobody is interested in statistics until he becomes one, but the statistics quoted herein give some insight into the employment and income problem of older workers.

Every year more and more elderly citizens become part of the statistical picture of Texas employment, and unemployment.

Many older workers feel they cannot afford to take jobs paying more than $1200 a year because they would lose their Social Security income.

Those interested in the lot of the older workers think industry should relax its rule of mandatory retirement at 65.

The Texas Legislative Committee on Aging has advanced these arguments among others in behalf of the older workers:

If business continues to refuse to hire persons 65 and over, it is wasting manpower which will be needed even more by 1975.

Business always carries its share of the tax burden. If business does not hire the aged, it will still indirectly have to pay them. Both business and aged would profit in production, money and dignity if the age barrier were removed in the employment picture.

One reason generally offered for forced retirement is to make room for "younger people". By 1975 the "younger people", or those in their prime, will have plenty of room since there will be so few of them. By that time the "depression babies", a slim crop, will be entering their forties and the labor market will be depleted of prime workers. Information is available from your County Judge.

(This is another digest of a series of articles from The Houston Post.)

45 YEARS-AGO

Large Crowd Attends Baccalaureate Service

Commencement week was ushered in at the courthouse Sunday evening, when Dr. Faris delivered the Baccalaureate sermon to the class which this year will be graduated from the Hereford High School.

The auditorium and balconies were filled with the friends of the class who had assembled to do them honor and to listen to an address which past experience had taught them would be rich in wisdom, in inspiration and in genuine helpfulness; nor were they disappointed, for although Dr. Faris had had a strenuous day, having given the address to the high school class at Canyon in the morning, his discourse had lost none of the fire and the earnestness to which such an occasion always inspires him.

A thrill of pride and admiration passed through the audience as the large class, twenty-three in number, marched into the hall and took their places, for no matter whether they be friends or even acquaintances, nor whether their ranking high or ordinary, everybody feels a proprietary interest in the e graduates of the public school.

They have attained a real intrinsic value to the community and stand for its progress along educational lines, so the class was claimed by each individual in the audience and the evening's entertainment was all the more enjoyable on that account.

Some excellent music, including a large mixed chorus and a vocal solo by Miss Irmer Wilson with piano and violin accompaniment was rendered.

This initiatory program was followed on Wednesday evening by the closing exercises of the 7th grade. Miss Dameron presented a class of about 40 bright boys and girls who were granted certificates of entrance to the high school.

VANDALS BREAK CITY WINDOWS

Bottle-hurling vandals chalked up several hundred more dollars worth of broken windows in Levelland early Tuesday morning, although they failed to inflict damage in at least two of the nocturnal attacks. Windows in Safeway Supermarket, Chamberlain Sheet Metal and Levelland High School were broken Tuesday morning, while bottle attacks on the Southwestern Public Service Co., and General Telephone Co., buildings resulted only in glass splinters from the missile volley as no windows were broken in the latter two business houses.

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm probably is taking a very backward view of space travel, his letter this week indicates. That's typical.

Dear editor:

People gazing up at the stars at night have been wondering for thousands of years what's out there in space, although I've found you can wonder what's out there while gazing at the sky in the daytime, no use waiting till dark, and I got to thinking of an idea yesterday while I was reading an article in a newspaper.

According to this article, a famous scientist who's a specialist on space exploration, Dr. Werner von Braun, says it's very likely that life exists in the universe outside the earth.

There is good reason to assume, on purely scientific grounds and on evidence adduced by observation, that life exists elsewhere in the universe," he said. "Our sun is one of 100 billion stars in our galaxy. Our galaxy is one of billions of galaxies populating the universe. It would be the height of presumption to think that we are the only living thing in that enormous immensity."

All right, if you assume there is life out there, you might as well assume it's intelligent, or at least as intelligent as we are, maybe a lot more, which doesn't take too much intelligence to imagine.

All right, here's the thing: we're spending billions of dollars to send somebody out there to see what the other people are like.

Why don't we sit tight and let them send somebody down here to see what we're like?

We ought to be just as interesting to them as they are to us, especially if they showed up during a national political convention or in the middle of a first class war. If they're so all-fired intelligent, why don't they show up?

Why do we always have to take the lead? It reminds me of Americans who are always dreaming of visiting Europe. My theory is just to go about my business here and let the Europeans dream of visiting me. I can't imagine why any European would want to visit me, and I have a notion a lot of Europeans can't understand why Americans want to visit them.

I say if there's life out in the universe, let em look me up. It's the same distance from there to here as it is from here to there.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Boardman said if you "love" an alcoholic long enough and hard enough, he can be cured. Boys and girls have to decide for themselves what their answer will be when a drink is offered them, if was pointed out, if they never take the first drink, they'll never have a drinking habit.

The following fifth grade boys and girls - Kenneth Wilkerson, Ronnie Buse, Adair Melton, John Avera, Carolyn Webb, Thomas Davis and Phyllis Tice - were each presented a Gideon New Testament by Principal Thomas L. Here, the Downings visited their parents briefly before going home. Walcott's school board held its monthly business meeting on Friday night, May 6.

Later, Mrs. Melton, Mrs. Perrin and Mrs. Minks went to visit Mrs. M. S. Downing, mother of G. W. Downing, at her home in Canyon. She talked to them about working with Mosaic tile in art projects among other subjects.

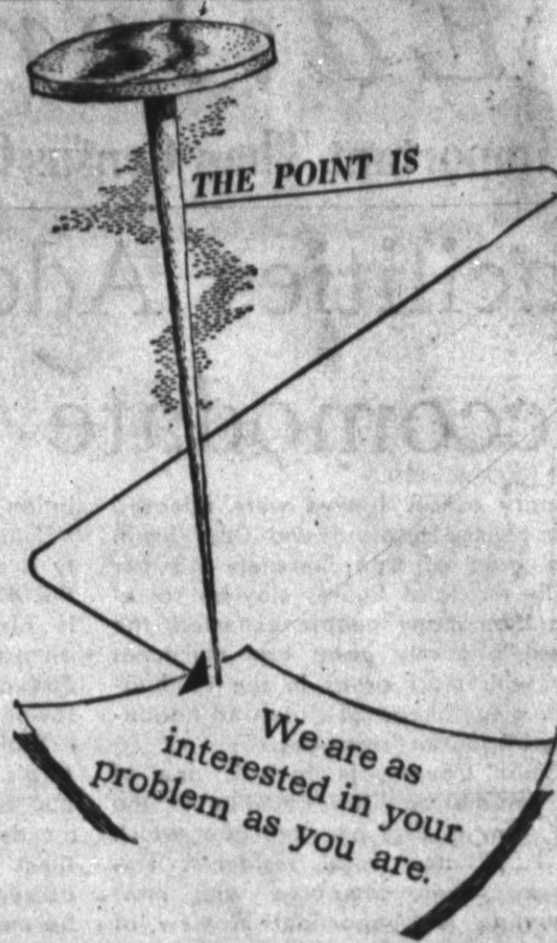

It was a perfect day for this outing, all had a nice time, but they were glad to get home late that afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldron Melton and daughters made a business trip to Amarillo on Friday. Denise was checked by the ear specialist there again.

'Deaf' Smith Says

To: The Spirit of General Sam Houston
 From: The Spirit of Erastus "Deaf" Smith
 Subject: Trade Promotion Efforts of the Chamber of Commerce

Sam, I went in and visited with Paul Harvey, chairman of my Chamber of Commerce's Trade Promotion committee. "Just what is the job of the Trade Promotion committee?" I asked Mr. Harvey.

Well now I'll tell you I'm glad I wasn't just on a ten-minute coffee break because I'd have never made it. It seems that trade promotion isn't just a series of bargain days but includes a lot more.

For instance, the big Harvest Festival celebration which was launched as an annual project was originally an idea of the Trade Promotion committee back when Gene Moore was chairman and was the brain child of Don Zimmerman. Then the Latin American Festival came under the co-sponsorship of this committee. Christmas decorations have been a real problem that this committee wrestles with every year. Last year Dub Reeves suggested that Hereford businessmen should attend area festivals such as the Cotton Festival in Dimmitt and the Maize Festival in Friona. A costume (high hat with wide white band proclaiming the wearer as an "Ambassador of Good Will" of Hereford) and a walking cane was ordered to be worn on such occasions and let the folks in those areas know that we were interested in them.

From time to time the committee has discussed with the sheriff, the County Attorney and with the Chief of Police certain problems of shoplifting, credit risks, and hot check enforcement and prosecution. These have been informational meetings aimed to provide the businessman with the knowledge to protect his customers and himself from the lawless.

The trade promotion committee has also faced the very difficult task of trying to establish a uniform set of closing hours and establishing holidays upon which the majority of the business community can agree. Some of the longest and most difficult meetings have been concerned with these problems.

Of course bargain days are also a major concern of the committee. The Easter parade, the monthly "First Monday" pro-

A SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY was held in honor of Fleming Hsen and Mari Niinisto, exchange students in Hereford High School, Tuesday night following formal installation of FHA officers. Social Security Benefits Depend On Credited Wages

Hal Geldon, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Office, announced recently that the social security benefits payable to a farm worker and his family in the future depend upon the amount of wages credited each year to the worker's personal social security account.

It is the farm employer's responsibility to file a social security report of the wages of any worker who is paid $150 or more cash in a year, or who worked for him on 20 days or more during the year on a time basis. But it is up to the farm worker to see that his wages are being reported properly.

One way a farm worker can be certain his social security account is growing year by year is by making sure his employer has his correct social security number. Geldon pointed out. He should also get in touch with the nearest social security office once a year in order to check the amount of wages being credited to his social security record.

Geldon also stated that if a worker has never had a social security number, or has lost it, he may get a new number or a duplicate of his old card by filling out an application at the nearest post office or social security office.

If a woman has changed her name through marriage since she got her card, she should apply for a duplicate card showing her married name.

motions, Krazy Daze, Back To School, Spring, Summer and Fall opening sales all are planned through Trade Promotion sub-committees.

Summing up all of what Mr. Harvey said, Sam, I understand the work of the Trade Promotion committee to be the creation of a feeling of good will in the trade territory towards the businessmen of Hereford and the creation and maintenance of the desire to shop in Hereford. Sam, like the members of the tourist and conventions committee, I am mighty proud of the retailers of Hereford. They are doing an exceptionally fine job in trying to meet all of the shopping needs of the area and are doing far more than their share towards building a better Hereford in which to live and to make a living.

Next week, Sam, I want to tell you about the International Parks Highway Association which will be having their convention here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday - May 19, 20 and 21. That's another group of voluntary workers doing a fine job building their communities all up and down U. S. 385 and 85 and in Canada, too.

the first eight grades of Adrian School presented "Voices of Nature", an operetta for children's voices, in the high school auditorium.

The five scenes were directed by Mesdames F. A. Kromer, Hazel Chilton, A. P. Jones and Jim Sessions. Almost 80 voices blended together in the performance.

Costumes carried out the theme of the operetta. Mrs. Gene Moore was pianist and Mrs. Kromer directed.

On Saturday the school attended the end-of-school picnic. The first six grades enjoyed a train trip and dinner in Ellwood Park. The fifth and sixth grades with their teacher Mrs. Jim Sessions visited TV station KVII. After dinner the students saw the movie "My Dog Buddy" and swam at the Youth Center.

The high school enjoyed picnics at Palo Duro and on the Matador Ranch.

Superintendent A. P. Jones has announced graduation plans which will include Baccalaureate Services Sunday, May 15, at the First Methodist Church at 11 a. m. The Rev. Gene Moore will be speaker.

a negro truck driver, who had lost a daughter and his home in a Christmas season fire, and the reaction of Houston's citizens to his tragedy and heroism.

The truck driver explained his seemingly superhuman feat with the simple statement "A man don't know what he can do until another man is hurting." The article was written by Elise Miller Davis, an Amarillo housewife and mother.

Election of officers for the coming year were read by the secretary. These include president, Mrs. R. L. Pinnell; vice-president, Mrs. Leland Burns; secretary - treasurer, Mrs. Jim Stocks; flower committee, Mrs. T. E. Davis, Mrs. A. G.
