

Travel Is Exciting, Interesting Hobby

BY LORI HOPSON
Staff Writer

"Fun" to Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson of 428 Sunset Drive, ranges anywhere from riding camels in Egypt to following whales in an Alaskan commercial fishing rig and they've seen it all.

terested in traveling, and we've always done a lot of it in the last 30 years," says Mrs. Stevenson, who also boasts a collection of art pieces from around the globe. The couple lists Canada as a favorite, saying, "We've been to Canada many times—we love that part of the country."

of call," the Stevensons find something exciting and likeable about each one. "We had a lot of interesting experiences in all different places," says Mrs. Stevenson, and her husband is equally enthusiastic, describing each experience as worthwhile. Mr. Stevenson says he leaves travel plans to his wife, who has an extensive collection of maps, travel folders, and books on interesting sites all over the world.

"She scatters the whole top of the dining table with maps and books when she's planning a trip," he says. "It isn't hard for me to get the 'travel itch,'" she adds, "He usually leaves the planning to me."

Describing themselves as avid sports enthusiasts, the Stevensons say they've often made special trips, just to see an exciting baseball game or other sports event. "We've made several trips just to see big-league baseball," says Mrs. Stevenson, "and we've made special trips to the astrodome in Houston just to see a game."

Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson...traveling is hobby

The couple says they've traveled in excess of 100,000 miles by air, investigating any place of interest they read or hear of. For three years, they had a holiday trailer, which they took with them all over the continental United States.

"We've traveled thousands of miles by car, too," she says. Mrs. Stevenson has an orderly method for planning a trip to get the most out of it; reading extensively on the country or area the two plan to visit, and taking notes.

"When I'm planning a trip, I read everything I can find, and take notes," she says, "then, as we make a tour of a country, I refer to them. This way I get a great deal more than you would expect out of the trip."

For example, she says, she spent a great deal of time before a trip to Switzerland studying the workings of the Swiss form of government. "Then we spent several days at the Swiss parliament, just talking to people, and getting a better idea of how the government operated."

Mrs. Stevenson adds that 'tourist attractions' are not the main focus of interest in the couple's trips.

"I enjoy seeing what make a city a unique place," she says, "and how it works from top to bottom. Those things that are real life are so much more exciting than any tourist feature."

Mrs. Stevenson grew up in Hereford, graduated from high school here, and did not return for 43 years. However, she still describes Hereford as home. The two are long-standing members of the Polk Street Methodist church in Amarillo, where Mr. Stevenson is still an official board member. Now retired, he was an employee of 41 years' standing at Amarillo's Southwestern Public Service Company.

Active in Church work and WSCS, Mrs. Stevenson is also a member of Amarillo's Modern Study Club.

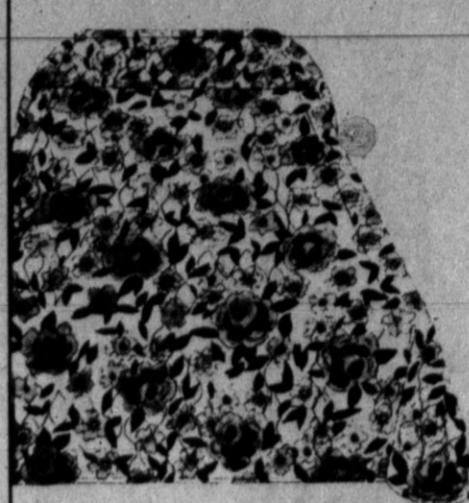

"I've sent in my resignation to the club twice," she says, "but they've refused it by unanimous vote each time. They just won't let me quit."

The Stevensons have also visited the Vatican in Rome, where they say Michaelangelo's Sistine chapel is beautiful, The Holy Land, which they describe as a "special highlight" of their travels; most of the European continent, South Africa, Mexico; and many other exciting, interesting places throughout the world.

"We love it," says Mr. Stevenson of the couple's traveling hobby.

"If we weren't traveling," says Mrs. Stevenson with a smile, "We'd be right here, planning another trip."

In memory of Mrs. W.H. Russell, whose recent death in Hobbs, N.M. claimed the last charter member of the Hereford Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, the charter was draped in a ceremony at the meeting Tuesday evening in Masonic Hall.

Mrs. Russell, a longtime resident of Hereford, served the OES chapter here as worthy matron in 1914 and was one of the original members when it was organized in 1906.

Past matrons and patrons of the chapter were honored Tuesday, with 20 present to receive gifts from the present worthy matron, Mrs. Arthur Clark. She in turn was presented a Valentine gift from members.

Work of the Ones committee was explained by a guest, Clara Lou Slack of Canyon, chairman of Ones in District 2, Section 3 which includes Hereford. Purpose of this committee is to promote a plan of unrecognized individual service to others, she explained.

Mrs. Ray Walters accompanied her from Canyon, and Mrs. Joe Adcock of Roy, N.M., was another guest. Hosts for the meeting were Messrs. and Mmes. Lynn Kester, Charlie Noland and Marvin Coffey.

Announcement was made of an OES school of instruction to be held here April 19, and of the yearly observance of Masonic night Feb. 27, when members of the Masonic Lodge and their wives will be entertained with supper at 7 p.m. in the hall.

Art Students Win Top Honors In Show

Five Hereford students will have a chance at national Scholastic Art awards after receiving the Gold Key award, the region's highest, in recent judgments at the Regional Scholastic Art Show in Amarillo.

Student art work was put on display Feb. 10 and showings will continue in the mall at Amarillo's Western Plaza through Feb. 24. Winning Gold Key Awards in the high school division were Donna Grady, who placed in graphic design and Sheryle Deyke, in opaque watercolor. Both students receive art instruction under the supervision of high school art teacher, Elaine White.

In the junior high division, Joe Perez received the Gold Key award for pen and ink and Angela Hartman won Gold Key honors for watercolor and enamel on copper.

Of the 100 Gold Key winners at the show, where students represented schools throughout the Panhandle area, 82 will be selected for showing at the National Scholastic Art show in New York City. The national competition is sponsored by Scholastic Magazine.

Junior high students in the show, under the instruction of Jon Birdsong—either in the classroom or privately—placed 12 out of 20 entries in the show.

Winning certificates of merit on the junior high level were Lana Clark, textiles; Elaine Frische, Rhonda Thompson, and Mark Inman, watercolor; Armondo Rodriguez, charcoal and watercolor; Angela Hartman, two certificates for watercolors and Helen Lesly, also in watercolor.

On the high school level, students under the direction of Elaine White placed seven pieces in the show. Rhonda Stephan received two certificates of merit for work in charcoal and pencil; Terri Swindell received certificates for watercolors and ink. Also entered were works by Jennifer Smart, apparel design; and Melissa Johnson, textile design.

"I feel that we did quite well," Birdsong said. "Our art program is not as strong as say, Amarillo's, because they begin their art program in about the fourth grade, where ours does not begin until the seventh or eighth grade. Considering the number of entries, we definitely made a really strong showing."

Hereford students in the junior high competition at the show included students from both Stanton and La Plata.

Birdsong added that the purposes of the show are basically to allow students a chance to gain a better understanding of what they, and students throughout the area are accomplishing in the field of art and to allow the public a chance to see what area students are accomplishing.

"Too often," he said, "our shows are limited to adults or guild members and students are left out. This show gives the student some way of judging himself against others."

Gold Key winners who will represent the Panhandle in the national competition, scheduled for sometime in the late spring, will be announced later this month.

Women Of Bible Topic For Club

Beginning with Eve, women of the Bible were sketched on the program of Valeda Study Club Tuesday evening, with Mrs. Bill Brady as the speaker. The club met in Mrs. Billy Wayne Sisson's home.

The speaker told briefly the fascinating stories of Old Testament women, from pious Hannah to wicked Jezebel, then of Mary, the mother of Christ, and other women of the New Testament who followed Jesus during his life or aided Paul on his missionary journeys.

Members discussed possible service projects for the club and will decide on a major project after a report from the service committee, Mrs. Howard Birdwell and Mrs. Red Durham.

Scouts Meet With Governor

Two Hereford youths were among nine scouts from Llano Estacado Scout Council who went to Austin recently to meet with the governor.

Libby Word, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Word, an Explorer scout, and Danny Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Collins, an Eagle Scout, represented Hereford in the meeting with the governor, Feb. 9.

Since Llano Estacado is nationally chartered, the council sends representatives to report to the governor on yearly activities.

Scouts from Amarillo, Dumas and Dalhart also were represented.

Scouts Compete In Winter Events

Explorer scouts from the Llano Estacado Scouting Council participated in the Explorer Winter Olympics held Feb. 9, 10 and 11 at Red River, N.M.

Jerry Helfenbine of Hereford, district executive in Tierra Blanca and Randall scouting districts, accompanied the 125 scouts from Stratford, Dumas, Amarillo, Canyon and Hereford who participated in the olympics.

The events included down hill racing, ski jumping and courses in intermediate and beginning skiing.

Loerwalds Win Key Club Honors At Spring Rally

Steve Loerwald, local Key Clubber, was elected to the position of Lieutenant Governor of Division 33 of the Texas-Oklahoma Key Club and Kiwanis district, at the division's annual spring rally here Sunday.

David Loerwald, also a local Key Club member, received the official support of Divisions 33 and six in his bid for treasurer of the Texas-Oklahoma district. The new treasurer will be selected at the district meeting April 28.

About 150 Key Clubbers, representing 14 area high schools, and 25 Kiwanians were present for the rally, which featured sessions on leadership and responsibility in Key Club.

Area Heads Are Guests Of Rebekahs

Both were introduced to speak of purposes and work of the respective branches of the Odd Fellow organization. Cannon is president of the Panhandle Association of Odd Fellows and Mrs. Cannon of Rebekahs in the same area.

Ann Freeman, noble brand, introduced the guests. Mrs. John Jacobsen Jr. was hostess who served refreshments to 16 in a social period.

It's very easy to give up, but it takes real grit to keep up.

Program To Promote Benefits Of Potato

A new program initiated by the National Potato Promotion Board will be introduced as a nationwide advertising and education campaign this month. Howard Gault of 208 S. Texas is Texas' representative to the board.

The NPPB program is designed to promote the consumption of potatoes by making Americans aware of how and why potatoes should be in their diets. Headquartered in Denver, Colo., NPPB is self-help program established by the national potato growers who also finance the program through production assessments.

The board's administrative committee recently approved the advertising and public relations program created by Botsford Ketchum of San Francisco, according to Robert L. Mercer, NPPB executive manager.

Programs such as the Today and Tonight shows, and the Wide World of Entertainment with Jack Paar and Dick Cavett will carry spots promoting potatoes as low calorie and high nutrition foods.

Magazines such as readers Digest and Family Health, will also carry advertisements showing the low calorie-nutrition feature of potatoes, as will industry-oriented newspapers.

A separate educational effort will be developed to show medical and dietetic professionals why potatoes are vital in the daily diet. The NPPB also will show the teenager-tomorrow's potato buyer—about potatoes through home economics classes, school lunch menus and young audience magazines.

"We're not overlooking our own backyard either," Mercer said. "We want to work closely with the produce and grocery trade to improve potato care

New Laws Change Benefits

You generally hear nowadays about women lacking equality with men-but it's been the other way—around in figuring retirement benefits under social security, according to Travis C.

and handling procedures, thus increasing the profit potential for all. Finally, we'll keep communication channels open by sending regular publications to the entire potato industry to tell them about new NPPB developments."

Briggs, social security district manager in Amarillo. "For example," Briggs said, "a woman of 65 who has always earned the maximum amount that could be credited for social security would get about $289 a month if she retires now. But a man who is the same age and has exactly the same earnings would get only $259."

The new social security law will eliminate that difference over the next 3 years, he said. Under present law, benefit amounts for both men and women are based on average earnings, but average earnings are figured up to age 62 for women and up to age 65 for men. "Both men and women can strike out some years of low earnings but because the different ages are used it works out that men must use 3 more years of earnings than women do in figuring the average yearly earnings on which the monthly benefit rate is based," Briggs said.

Under the new law, men who reach 62 in 1973 will be able to drop an additional year of low earnings, men reaching 62 in 1974 will be able to drop an additional 2 years, and men reaching 62 in 1975 will drop an additional 3 years.

Youth Needs Told By AAUW Guest

Youth needs in Hereford, for recreational facilities and other community services, were discussed by Jim Lindsey, Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce executive, as guest speaker Tuesday evening to the American Association of University Women branch.

A city of young people, Hereford's population has an average age of 29, Lindsey said. Many needs of youth are the same as those of other residents, he continued, and at the present population level the community's needs tend to be more than the population can support; so continued growth is a basic need.

He spoke of activity of the Chamber's sports committee, which at present is investigating the possibility of a YMCA to help provide recreational facilities including an indoor swimming pool.

Involvement of all citizens in community progress will provide the answer to needs in the long run, Lindsey concluded.

He was introduced by Mrs. J. Raymond Flores, program chairman, at a meeting in Community Center.

Mrs. Colby Conkwright presided for business. Members decided to send three delegates from Hereford's new branch to the state AAUW convention at Midland in April. They are to be elected next month.

Hostesses were Nancy Richie, Lonidene Edmonson, Betty Robinson, Mmes. Philip Shook and Pruitt.

HHS Students Will Enter DE Contests

3 Are Valentine Party Hostesses

One of a number of Valentine parties adding cheer to the late winter season in Hereford was a brunch in the Country Club Saturday morning, with Mmes. Joe Frank Clark, W.H. Griffin and C.O. Taylor as hostesses. Guests who called during two hours were greeted by the three, all wearing floor-length dresses of Valentine red and identical corsages of white flowers and clusters of tiny red hearts.

A large lustre urn held a fern tree in the middle of the table, with white chrysanthemums, sprays of hearts and red bows. Tables were covered with red cloths and those where guests were seated had as centerpieces small paired fern trees ankled with white roping. A bowl of red and white carnations was on the piano where background music was played.

Mrs. Clark's daughter, Cindy, assisted in receiving callers, and Colleen Malone was in charge of the cloakroom.

By fours, groups of the hostesses' friends served in turn at the refreshment table, pouring punch and coffee at either end of the oval table. Mmes. Bill Davis, Wayne Thomas, Pete Caviness and Melvin Cordray poured for the first callers, then Mmes. O.G. Hill Jr., Steve Clements, William K. Golden and James Durham.

They were followed by Mmes. Jimmy Roberts, Pat Malone, Harlan VanderZee and Ansel McDowell and for the final half-hour, Mmes. L. Keith Simmer, Homer Garrison, Jack Wilcox and Charles Walden.

Centered above the table was a white latticed globe twined with smiles, from its white silk ropes extended down to the table edge, each fastened with a cluster of white flowers and fern tied with narrow red ribbons which formed streamers to the floor.

HOLIDAY PARTY HOSTESSES—Color and gaiety of the Valentine season were evident at a brunch Saturday morning in Hereford Country Club, with red hearts and flowers decorating the ballroom. Receiving callers for two hours were, from right top photo, Mmes. W.H. Griffin, C.O. Taylor and Joe Frank Clark, the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Clark's daughter Cindy; left. Among the friends who took turns pouring coffee and punch, from left lower photo, were Mrs. Wayne Thomas and Mrs. Bill Davis, who have just filled Mrs. Pick Harman's cup.

QUEEN AND PRINCESSES—After the coronation ceremony at the annual Beta Sigma Phi Valentine Ball Saturday evening, Mrs. D.D. Fitzgerald Jr., who was named queen, posed with Mrs. John Fink left, sweetheart of Alpha Iota Mu Chapter, and Mrs. Tom LeGate, Kappa Iota sweetheart. All were named favorites of their respective chapters by secret balloting of members. The 1973 queen represents Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter.

Banquet Honors FHA Sweethearts

Love is, was the theme this year for the annual Future Homemakers of America banquet Friday evening in Hereford High School cafeteria, which was decorated in pastels of green, blue, yellow and pink.

Tables were lighted with candles in net holders, made by the La Plata FHA girls and the programs, made by Stanton girls, were pastel colors with Love is characters accented on the front.

The main event of the evening was the crowning of the sweethearts, one from Stanton and La Plata and two from high school. The two girls from high school were Donna Walter-schied, Chapter I sweetheart, escorted by David Loerswald, and Melinda Bradley, Royal Rose sweetheart, with Mauri Montgomeri acting as escort.

The Stanton sweetheart was Linda Mendez; escorting her was Armondo Rodriguez, and the sweetheart from La Plata was Debbie Feagley with Paul Grubbs as escort.

The sweethearts walked down a runway accented by small topiary trees, with snails, ladybugs and flowers placed along the path. Behind the platform where the coronation took place were large Love is characters surrounded by pastel net, which the high school FHA girls made.

Twig Rose, Royal Rose Beau, was master of ceremonies, while Gary Hicks, Chapter I Beau presented the sweethearts. Honored as guest speaker was Steve Graham, who tried to explain what love really is.

Tonya and Company entertained the group after dinner and played a special arrangement of For All We Know during the presentation of the sweethearts.

The eighth grade homemaking classes of both schools served the meal to 160 people attending.

Special guests honored at the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Don George, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Glass, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Laubin and Mr. and Mrs. Martin, principals and assistant principals of the three schools and their wives.

Also honored as guests were the chapter parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Vogel; Mrs. Feagley, Mr. and Mrs. Billy W. Sisson and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Green; the sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Prowell, Mr. and Mrs. M.T. Bulsmith and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bradley.

Also CVAE sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Witkowski and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Barkowsky.

Acupuncture used in delivery in Italy

Dr. Luciano Roccia used acupuncture in a Caesarean delivery in Turin recently, and Mrs. Anna Imbricese, 25, mother of a baby girl, didn't show "slightest signs of pain."

Dr. Roccia, who studied the method in China, used eight silver needles to paralyze the woman's nerve centers.

Holiday Dinner Is Given

Clubs adding Valentine parties to this week's social schedule included El Llano Study Club, which entertained members' husbands with a dinner Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Caviness.

On the hostess committee with Mrs. Caviness were Mmes. Raymond White, Ivan Block and Olen Caviness, who decorated tables for dinner and games with symbols of the holiday.

After dinner, games of 42 and bridge supplied entertainment. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sedlachek of Pipestone, Minn.

Members and their guests were Messrs. and Mmes. Lloyd Kirkeby, Fain Cesar, R.C. Hoelscher, Labry Ballard, R.W. Eades, Melvin Thompson, Elmer Kimball, Ben Childers and Boyd Foster; Mmes. Jim Bookout, John N. Jacobsen Jr. and Tom Hamblett; the hostesses and their husbands.

Russia and Prussia agreed on a partition of Poland on Jan. 23, 1793.

Convention Hostess Plans Made

The event toward which Beta Sigma Phi members here are turning their chief efforts this year, the annual area convention which comes to Hereford next fall, occupied the sorority's city council at its meeting Monday evening in Hereford State Bank Hospitality Room.

Ideas for a convention theme were discussed; each chapter will be asked to submit proposals for a theme to be selected by the council. Also, fund-raising for the convention was planned tentatively.

Reports on the annual Valentine Ball last Saturday were made by committee members. Mrs. Archie Dwyer was hostess for the meeting.

Jim McNeese of Amarillo, representing the National Livestock Marketing Board, will serve as moderator for the panel which will include area men familiar with various aspects of livestock marketing.

Mrs. Bob Josseland, president of the CowBelles, asks that members make reservations for themselves and their husbands when they are called by telephone committee members.

Signing of the charter will be completed by eligible members of the organization, which was formed here last year. Although the charter list is now closed, membership remains open to all women interested in any phase of the cattle industry, Mrs. Josseland says.

Notable Women Of City Honored

Especially honored among 19 guests present for Pioneer Study Club's annual guest day luncheon Tuesday were Mrs. Orville Smith, Hereford's Citizen of the Year; Mrs. Lynn Kester, Woman of the Year in the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division, and Mrs. Danny Martin, selected as an Outstanding Young Woman of Texas by a national publication.

The club and guests had lunch in Hereford Country Club, for entertainment Mrs. Ted Panciera, a member, reviewed Jane Goodsell's humorous sage of an American housewife, 'I've Only Got Two Hands And I'm Busy Wringing Them.'

Mrs. Herman Ford introduced the reviewer and quoted a verse, One Smile, after the invocation by Mrs. A.L. Manjeot. Mrs. Panciera introduced the book as a valid picture of an American woman today, with a sound philosophy in a cloak of humor.

Her audience laughed at the series of incidents which they recognized as normal scenes of a day-in-the-life of a homemaker.

Miss Roberta Campbell presided and asked members to introduce their guests. In the latter group were Mmes. Don McCullough and Ray McCullough of Amarillo; Mmes. Earl Lance, Guy Walser, Reed Williams, Nona Jowell, C. Ora Cockrell, Charles Watson, A.N.

Let's Cook Something

Teen TOPS Sponsor Sees Incentive In Club Aim

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

HABITS CAN BE CHANGED easier by teenagers than by adults, and change in eating habits is the only thing that can control overweight in most cases; these are the simple facts behind the Teen TOPS clubs for adults, spelled out in initials of the slogan, Take Off Pounds Sensibly. Adult clubs have been helping members toward that goal here for a number of years, but this is the first teen club.

Mrs. J.B. Digby, sponsor of the group, subscribes to the TOPS aims and to the theory that habit is a big factor in the low-calorie diet which is necessary if the person with a weight problem is to keep off unwanted pounds.

AS A MEMBER OF CALORIE Patrol TOPS Club she learned that habits of overeating and snacking between meals can make weight loss very difficult, and she believes that her own tendency to overweight stems from childhood habits in a family of hearty eaters, and parental injunctions to "clean your plate."

When she saw her daughter developing the same problems, she decided that the TOPS Club idea would help teenagers if they had their own club. Mrs. Ancil Greenway assists her in sponsoring the group, which is open to all those interested.

"But some girls have peculiar ideas about a TOPS Club," Mrs. Digby says. "We've had a lot of inquiries from girls who think that simply joining the club will cause them to lose weight! Of course there are some adults who have a vague idea that this is true, and we just have to tell them it isn't so, unfortunately.

"AT FIRST I THOUGHT maybe the girls wouldn't listen to me because I'm large, but they see I can understand their difficulties, and we can encourage each other to work toward our weight goals. That's what TOPS clubs are for."

A person with a tendency to gain weight must first have a real desire to stay slim, she believes, then must understand her calorie needs, choose a diet that meets those needs and have the determination to stick to it.

"That isn't easy, especially for a teenager with friends who are eating fattening foods," Mrs. Digby adds. "I keep telling the girls to eat the school cafeteria meals instead of getting over into the snack line, and to watch those between-meal nibbles, but I know how hard it is."

IN THE FIVE MONTHS The club has been organized, two of the members are within a few pounds of the weight they set at first as their goals, and this accomplishment helps the others who lose pounds more slowly.

Members set their own goals "and the kids like this because it isn't something somebody tells them to do, but something they decide themselves," Mrs. Digby says.

She likes to cook, and is interested in the low-calorie recipes that TOPS members swap. Since fresh vegetables usually have few calories and plenty of needed vitamins and minerals they are popular with dieters and a tasty dressing to flavor a salad without adding calories is always in demand. Here is one of her favorites.

SWEET-SOUR SALAD DRESSING

3/4 cup white vinegar
3 tb. corn oil
2 tb. water
1 tb. sugar
3/4 tb. salt
1/4 finely chopped green onion
2 tb. slivered or grated carrots.

Put all ingredients in a pint jar, cover and shake to blend. Just before serving, add 1 tb. sesame seeds and shake again. This makes about 1 1/4 cups dressing and has about 50 calories.

MRS. DIGBY LEARNED to cook as she was growing up, the oldest of a family which included six boys. Her mother taught her by the old-fashioned method of "a pinch of this and a handful of that," without measuring ingredients. She still uses that system for most cooking, and she "cooks from scratch," seldom using ready-mixed foods.

Born at Spur, she came with her parents to Hereford when she was eight years old and as Mabel Martin attended local schools. The Digbys live at 809 Miles and have two teenage daughters, Donna Kay and Kathy Ann.

Local Youth Chosen For Special Program

Participants in the classroom sessions, representing areas from Washington to Hong Kong, are scheduled to attend the program in such a way that each class represents a geographic cross-section of students.

The program is aimed at giving the student a firsthand view of American government in action. Briefings will be held at actual sites of decision making in Washington—including Capitol Hill, the White House and the Pentagon.

Since its inception five years ago, over 5,000 high school students from every state in the U.S., United States territories and dependent schools abroad have participated in the program.

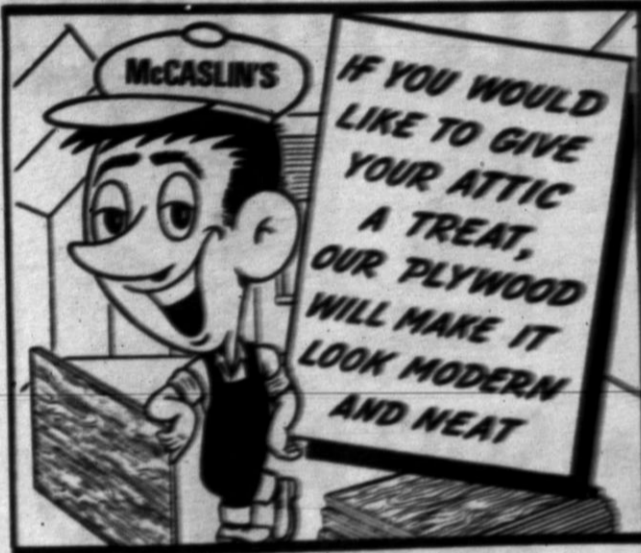

Local Art To Be Shown At Capitol

The artistic talents of the Texas Panhandle-South Plains will be showcased in an exhibit to be displayed in the office of Sen. Max Sherman of Amarillo throughout the legislative session in Austin.

The show, in which artists of the region are represented, is being coordinated by Dr. Emilio Caballero, chairman of the West Texas State University art department.

Caballero will go to Austin to supervise the hanging of the exhibition in Sherman's office on the first floor inside the east entrance of the Capitol.

"Many people do not know of the excellent art work we have in this part of the state," Caballero said, "and this show will provide an excellent opportunity to introduce our artists to the Texas public."

Plymouth Witch Is Book Heroine

Two new books featured at the Deaf Smith County Library are Daughter of Satan and Lizzie and Caroline.

Daughter of Satan is a moving and exciting novel of witches and Puritans... The atmosphere is re-created with skill and authenticity.

DAUGHTER OF SATAN

By Jean Plaidy

Tamar seemed doomed to a violent death when the witch hunter came to Plymouth. Intelligent though untutored, she attracted the attention of Bartle Cavill, the lusty gentleman-adventurer home from the Spanish Main.

These two men attracted her as she attracted them but for different reasons, representing as they did, the one passion the other piety.

an adventure of a different kind the founding of a nation in which men and women might be free.

The Lizzie, therefore, set sail for Halifax, and the perils of this journey were thrice compounded by the sinisterly assorted crew on board.

In time the Lizzie's fortunes would mesh with those of Caroline Fling..... Eleven-year-old Caroline's voyage was in a sense figurative, though risky also.

And from Old Plymouth to New Plymouth in search for a new life came Tamar, the passionate Pilgrim, the woman whom many believed to be the daughter of Satan.

LIZZIE AND CAROLINE

By Ruth Moore

For the Lizzie Macomber, an aged, two-masted schooner, last of a long and illustrious line, the voyage was starkly real.

to ply Chesapeake waters, but then at 60 he decided to remarry and the bride-to-be lived in Nova Scotia.

The Lizzie, therefore, set sail for Halifax, and the perils of this journey were thrice compounded by the sinisterly assorted crew on board.

In time the Lizzie's fortunes would mesh with those of Caroline Fling.....

Eleven-year-old Caroline's voyage was in a sense figurative, though risky also, especially to those who got in her way.

And from Old Plymouth to New Plymouth in search for a new life came Tamar, the passionate Pilgrim, the woman whom many believed to be the daughter of Satan.

Small Talk
BY SUE COLEMAN

IT ALWAYS AMUSES me to hear (and you can hear it pretty often) a weather newscaster at 6 p.m. reading that same old morning forecast which says today will continue cloudy.

CONGRATULATIONS TO Linda Collins, who has been judged the Betty Crocker

Homemaker of the Year from Hereford High. Now she is in competition for the state title which carries a $1,500 scholarship.

The award is made on the basis of a written exam open to all high school girls and now to boys as well.

HERE AND THERE: At the Pioneer Club lunch Tuesday Mrs. A.N. McRight was on crutches and said she had fractured a bone just below her hip.

A piece of the rehearsal for the Community Players next show, Come Blow Your Horn, which I saw this week convinced me I want to see it all.

From the 'sample, it's funnier than Barefoot In The Park, which the Players did last year, or The Odd Couple, another comedy by the same writer, Neil Simon.

KAREN SCOTT, Hereford student at McMurry College at Abilene, was with a team of students which went lately to St. John's United Methodist Church at Stamford in a Christian Outreach program.

Two Aggies from Hereford, Randy Herr and Steve Olson, have earned distinguished student ranking at Texas A & M by making at least 3.25 grade points of a possible 4 in the fall semester.

Herr is a freshman, son of the Reynold Herts, and majors in electrical engineering.

Olson, son of the George Olsons, is a junior animal science major.

Another honor student is Neil McAndrews, who attends the College of Santa Fe and made the dean's honor list.

He is a drama major, a freshman at the college and the son of Mr. and Mrs. James McAndrews.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
After reading Mrs. Zetsche's letter in the Sunday Brand, I feel I should answer.

It would seem everyone is blaming the bus driver for the tragic accident. I guess you could say he was the sole blame, but I'm a bus driver also and I know what this mother feels for the safety of her children as we have six that rode busses all their school lives till this year.

But, as all drivers will tell you, those children are something else when on the bus. I have anywhere from 65 to 72 students. If the parents would be strict with their children concerning their conduct on the bus, our job wouldn't be nearly as hard. But, when you know you have the very lives of those children in the palm of your hand you do the very best you know how and pray the Lord will help you do even better, but when you have to drive the bus and referee a fight at the back of the bus at the same time, well, I think you can see my point.

I'm not complaining because I think my bus kids are the greatest and I wouldn't have any other route, but just had to tell it like it is from a driver's point of view.
Oh, yes, and do you know if parents would learn to stop when those red lights are flashing (on the bus). That means stop in any language. How can we expect our young people to stop when mama and papa don't stop. Those bus flashers are just as important as train flashers.

Thanks for listening.
Mrs. Baker,
Driver of 31

Dear Editor,
This is the time of year when business houses, such as fertilizer, equipment and seed companies, are wooing the farmers for their business by inviting them to meals and programs for their enjoyment. This is an excellent way of advertising, I think, and must be well attended as the invitations of this sort get more numerous each year.
I have only one complaint, but I think it is a legitimate one.
Two businesses here in Hereford have sent their invitations "For Men Only" For men only! Well, now let's see who operates most the farms in our county. I said "operates," not "manages" nor "runs" (whatever that vague term might mean).
Generally the farmer "manages" the farm with hired hands or, if he is lucky, a son or two to help out. This is the way it is set up. But, who runs to town for repairs, or drives the truck or tractor to help out, or takes meals to the field to keep combines rolling, or helps round up cattle, or hoe cotton or sugar beets; and how about record keeping? Who helps pay bills, worries about crop failures and falling market prices? I could fill this page with various and sundry tasks the farm wife does to help her husband, often at an inconvenience to herself.

And then for businesses which handle only farm merchandise to not realize that we farm wives hold an important position in the operation of our farms. Or perhaps they just "don't want to be bothered" with women.
I'm not promoting Women's Lib. I just know of hundreds of farm wives who have sacrificed so many things so that money can be reinvested in crops and livestock, and I think they are not being recognized.
So may I publicly thank all of you businesses who have set up a morning or an evening of fellowship for our hard-working farmers. And shame on you who don't want ladies present!

Sincerely,
Mrs. F.A. Marnell

Dear Editor
What a wonderful era in which to be living as Americans. How proud we can be to carry on the unfinished work of our forefathers in pursuing the right to life, liberty and happiness in this great nation. In looking back, we saw how fortunate we are now, with our heritage from our ancestors, and how truly blessed we are with great natural resources, knowledge and abundance of every good thing as we approach the Millennium, or Golden Age, as stated in Revelations in the Bible, when Peace shall reign supreme over the world.
Our President, Richard M. Nixon, has urged us to seize the Bicentennial as an opportunity to forge a new spirit of '76. The now is so important! Every citizen must take it upon himself and realize his duty to his country to see visions of the future on the new horizon in '76 and do something lasting so that after that day has passed, the message will linger and future generations will be inspired to carry on in that same great manner with the Spirit of '76.

The people of America must be concerned, for this great nation was founded "of the people, by the people and for the people", as our Declaration of Independence states. Thus, each one of us must do his part in a concerted effort to bring about the desired results, in the ushering in of an Era of Peace for all mankind.
In the panhandle of Texas we are endeavoring to make local history live. June 11, 1972 St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Hereford celebrated its 50th Anniversary and a book was published of the History of the church and the early parishioners and Fathers.
During the summer, in Canyon, Texas there is the performance of the musical drama, "TEXAS" in the amphitheater, involving people working with people, using local talent and students from West Texas University. This is a thrilling experience for all to witness, reliving the history of this area in its natural setting of the canyon out of doors.

At the Ranch Headquarters Museum in Lubbock, Texas on the campus of Texas Tech, great things are looming on the '76 horizon. Last year the Governor proclaimed October 7th as Ranch Day in Texas and people in this area are working furiously to move historical buildings from their sites to the Museum and restore and preserve them for posterity; to be completed by 1976.
Recently our family donated Las Escarbasas Ranch house, or the headquarters house of the famous XIT Ranch's fifth division, presently owned and operated by my husband and son. We are happy and proud to have a small part in this project.

The people of Hereford are toying with the idea of placing a statue on the Courthouse lawn at the base of the flag pole, to be unveiled in ceremonies July 4, 1976. So far, this is just wishful thinking but God-willing, we hope to accomplish this project and that it will be something in the future to remember July 4, 1976.
What are YOU doing or what are your aims for the Bicentennial of the American Revolution? What are you doing to make local history live?
Sincerely
Mrs. Joe Reinauer Sr.

Dear Editor:
As I watch live television coverage this morning I breathe a special prayer of 'thanks' and write these lines:
WITH MIXED EMOTIONS
With much deep empathy
I am 'stepping into the shoes' Of many Americans today.

A great historical flash back came on, To Lincoln's life-story and great name
As they told of thieves, who tried to kidnap
His long-deceased body, for ransom—such shame!
On Staten Island, men are still digging
Into that terrible holocaust,
Of twisted steel and concrete rigging
For ever forth, who were needlessly lost.

We Saluted!

The Valentine hearts of loved ones Must swell with joyful anticipation Of life together, many for first time As they re-enter the home-front situation

Highway Deaths Show Increase

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 12 accidents on rural highways in Deaf Smith County during the month of January, according to Sergeant W.E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in nine persons killed and seven persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 49 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region No. 5 for January, 1973 shows a total of 572 accidents, resulting in 16 persons killed and 207 persons injured as compared to January, 1972 with 586 accidents resulting in nine persons killed and 217 persons injured.

The Highway Patrol Supervisor reminds the motorists that it takes 16 times the normal distance to stop a vehicle on ice than on good dry pavement. The icy weather will still exist in these winter months.

Try to convince a snowbird that summer vacation days are longer than winter school days.

Social Security

About 17 million disabled people can get Medicare health insurance under a change in the social security law—the first people under 65 to become eligible for this protection since the Medicare program began in 1966.

Starting in July 1972, disabled people who have received social security or railroad retirement disability payments for 24 consecutive months or more can get help from Medicare in paying for their hospital and doctor bills and other covered services, according to Travis C. Briggs, social security district manager in Amarillo.

These rights will include disabled workers, disabled widows and disabled dependent widowers between 50 and 65, disabled mothers 50 or older who get social security benefits because they have young or disabled children in their care, and people who get benefits because they were disabled before age 22.

Starting in July, people under 65 who need kidney transplants or dialysis for kidney disease also will be eligible for Medicare if they have worked long enough in jobs covered by social security. This health insurance protection also will be available to insured workers' wives or husbands and dependent children who need dialysis treatments or kidney transplants.

Eligibility begins the 24th month after the month dialysis begins and lasts through the 36th month after the month dialysis ends or the patient had a kidney transplant.

Medicare has previously been available only to people 65 and over.

The protection has been extended to severely disabled people under 65 because on the average they require seven times as much hospital care as other people—and three times as much service from doctors. Many severely disabled people can't get private health insurance for financial or other reasons.

People who are getting monthly social security payments because they are disabled will be notified if they are eligible for Medicare. But widows 50 or older who have been severely disabled the last 2 years but haven't filed a claim based on their disability because they're getting checks as mothers caring for young or disabled children will have to apply for disabled widow's benefits to be eligible for Medicare.

The hospital insurance is funded by social security contributions from employees, employers, and self-employed people. The medical insurance is funded by individual monthly premiums and general revenues of the Federal Government.

Medicare is administered by the Social Security Administration of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Dr. English Speaks

Dr. John English, speaker and guest artist, gave the program during the Newsmen's Club luncheon Tuesday at the Community Center.

The upcoming style show was discussed during the meeting. It will be March 6 at the First Baptist Church. Committees were appointed for the Contest and Dinner.

Members were reminded to attend the Third Year Husband and Valentine Party which was Thursday evening at Big Dolly's Restaurant.

A business meeting is scheduled tonight in the home of Mrs. Ronald Bridges to begin at 7:30.
