Lindsey Gives Resignation

Jim Lindsey, executive director of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, resigned here Wednesday morning to accept a similar position as manager of the Santa Fe, N.M., Chamber of Commerce.

Jim Conkright, C of C president, called a special board meeting Wednesday to present Lindsey's letter of resignation. The board accepted the resignation, effective March 15, and extended "appreciation to Lindsey for his work with the local Chamber, as well as wishing him success in his new job," Conkright stated.

In his letter of resignation, Lindsey said he was "extremely pleased with my job with the Deaf Smith County Chamber, but this new position offers me an opportunity which I cannot ignore." This included a substantial increase in salary, Lindsey noted.

The letter also stated: "My association with the Deaf Smith Chamber will always remain a fond memory of mine, and I am sure that I will never be honored to work with a finer group of people. Hereford remains in my sincere opinion, a city with a bright future, and I am delighted to have had a small part in the direction of that future."

Lindsey said he felt the major accomplishment during his tenure was the construction of new C of C office facilities. The project had been "talked" for a number of years, Lindsey said.

Conkright said the search for a new manager would begin "immediately" and applications would be invited. He appointed a screening committee composed of the three officers—Conkright, Roy Faubion and A.J. Schroeter, along with directors Tom Burdett and R.W. Eades.

Lindsey, 32, came to Hereford in July 1971 from Durant, Okla., where he had served as head of the chamber of commerce there for two years.

He is married to the former Dianne Lee Rose of Tulsa and they have a 7-year-old daughter, Brenda Rose, Mrs. Lindsey is a sixth-grade teacher at Northwest.

Lindsey was an all-state quarterback at Tipton, Okla. High School in 1958 and played four years at Southwestern University. He will receive a scholarship valued at $500.

Saturday Deadline For Entry

Final date for entry in the 1973 Miss Hereford pageant is Saturday, Mrs. Joe Frank Clark, entry chairman, reminds young women between the ages of 18 and 28 who wish to appear in that event, and younger high school girls who may compete for the title of Miss Teenage Hereford.

The 1973 pageant is scheduled April 21 in the high school auditorium, where an entrant will be named Miss Hereford to represent this city in the Miss Texas pageant in Fort Worth next summer. She will receive a scholarship valued at $500.

Miss Teenage Hereford also is given a scholarship, for $100, but she does not advance to further competition. In addition, $50 is awarded the talent winner and $25 to the girl named Miss Congeniality in each age division.

Sponsored by the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, the local pageant is conducted under rules of the prestigious Miss America contest. The title winner may compete for the Miss Texas title and should she win that, for designation as Miss America in the annual national pageant at Atlantic City.

A number of entries are already registered in each age division here, but others are invited. Those interested may notify Mrs. Clark or another member of the entry committee, Mrs. J.W. Robinson and Mrs. Warner Lawson, or the pageant chairman, Mrs. Lynn Kester.

Judges from other cities, approved by the Miss Texas committee, will decide the winners; they will not be the same judges who served here last year, Mrs. Kester says. Judging is based on appearance, talent, poise and personality.

Committees from the Women's Division are working on pageant decorations and program. Choreography will be directed by Mrs. Terry Caviness and Mrs. Dwight McGee, both of whom have appeared in the Miss Texas pageant.

Abalos Announces For Commission

Paul Abalos, director of the school system's Parental Involvement Plan, announced Monday he will seek the office of city commissioner, Place 1. Abalos filed for the office and will be pitted against James Hull who filed last week. The office is being vacated by Lynton Allred who has decided not to seek re-election.

Abalos, 36, has lived in Hereford since 1962 and has been associated with the local school system since that time with the exception of one year. In 1969-70 he was with the Panhandle Education Service in Amarillo as a bilingual specialist.

Born in Rankin, Abalos attended school there and received his BS from Sul Ross State University. He later received his masters from West Texas State University.

He and his wife, Pilar, have five children. They live at 506 Sycamore.

In making the announcement, Abalos said "I feel like I know the needs of the community and I am interested in continued sound government."

Deadline for filing for the city election is March 2 and the election is scheduled for April 3.

The places up for the election are Place 1, Place 2 and the mayor's post. Hap Cavness has announced for re-election to Place 2 and is currently unopposed while Hull and Abalos are the only two that have announced for Place 1.

The mayor, Jim Sears, has not indicated whether he will seek re-election.

City Ponders Salary Hikes

BY MARSHALL DAY
News Editor

The city commission Monday authorized City Manager Dudley Bayne to "Put the pencil to the proposed new budget and see what can be done in the way of upgrading the pay scale of some city employees to avoid their being tempted away by other cities offering more."

The city already has lost one of its key persons and faces the possibility of losing another because other cities are offering more money. The commission asked Bayne to study the situation and come up with some recommendations for a special commission meeting next Monday.

The salary increase was one of several topics discussed at the regular meeting of the commission Monday night. The city also took bids on 350 trash containers, storm sewer and aerators.

Fabit Corporation of Lubbock submitted the low bid of $48,300 for the large trash containers. It was also noted that additional containers would be supplied the city for the same price of $138 each if the city so desires.

The bid by Fabit Corporation was $200 lower than the next bid.

Delivery of the boxes is expected within 120 days.

T.O.K. submitted the low bid on the city's storm sewer project along U.S. 60. The total bid was $42,145, about $6,000 lower than the next bid.

The storm sewer project consists of filling the large ditch along U.S. 60 between Schley and McKinley Streets. The ditch is on Santa Fe Railroad property on the south side of the highway.

A bid of $10,460 was submitted by Beckmann Engineering Company of Richardson for new aerators at the city waste disposal system. It was the only bid submitted and was about $2,000 lower than expected, Bayne told the commissioners.

In the area of salary increases, the commission expressed its concern over losing one key employee and the possibility of losing another because of the salary offered by another city. One employee was hired away by the city of Fritch and another has been offered a healthy pay increase to go to Abertamy.

Bayne told the commissioners Hereford's pay scale is comparable to or higher than most cities this size, but it appeared a salary hike for some employees is needed.

The budget being drawn up for the coming year includes a 5 to 5.5 per cent increase across the board for a cost-of-living increase, but Bayne said this probably is not enough in some cases.

He said because of state requirements for some city jobs, it is almost impossible to find persons suitable at a salary being offered here. He added that when such a person is lost to another city, it sometimes takes years to replace that person with "someone as knowledgeable."

"We have a great working relationship among our people, something many cities do not have," Bayne said. "It would be a shame to lose some of these people simply because someone else pays them a little more."

The city also has discussed providing a retirement plan for its employees as another added benefit to keeping them here. Plans already are underway along that line and some proposals are expected to be presented to the commission in the next few weeks.

Hospital Has Light Agenda

Deaf Smith County Hospital District directors met Tuesday morning for a regular monthly board meeting, with discussion of several programs and routine reports highlighting the session.

Ron Welty, hospital administrator, presented suggested policies on employee benefits to the board. Directors decided to study the recommendations and will probably take action at the next meeting.

Welty presented a population projection for Deaf Smith and surrounding counties for the next 20 years, in connection with future needs and planning. He also had statistics to show Deaf Smith General Hospital's "unique" position in comparison to other hospitals.

According to November figures, the length of stay in the hospital here is five days. This compares with a state average of 6.3 days and a national average of 6.8. The cost-per-stay was tabbed at $381.38 for Deaf Smith General, compared to a state average of $443.28 and a national mean of $462.68. The occupancy percentage was listed at only 35.3 for the local hospital, compared with state and national marks of 64.9 and 70.1. A comparison of operating room visits per 100 admissions showed a 51.1 percentage locally, while the state average was 33.5 and the national mark was 31.6.

Dr. A.T. Mims presented the medical staff report, which included discussions on the abortion laws and a medical student intern program. Due to a Supreme Court ruling, Dr. Mims said it might become necessary to amend local hospital rules to comply with Federal laws on abortion.

The board briefly discussed kitchen facilities and the dietary program at the hospital. The possibility of installing food vending machines for employees and visitors was posed, with the ideas of concentrating on patient meals. Directors asked Welty to have a presentation on the matter at the next session.

Attending the meeting were Ed Line, board president; and Tommy Carnahan, Wanda Hoover, Dr. J.H. McCrary, L.J. Strauss, Dr. Mims, and Brand publisher O.G. Nieman.

Johnson Tabbed By Club

Bill Johnson, president of Jaycees, is the city's nominee for a position on the Group study exchange program being initiated by area Rotary clubs. Johnson, nominated for the program by Rotarian Jim Conkright, is one of 20 candidates who will vie for positions on the five-man team slated to spend five weeks in southern Finland.

The five men chosen for the program from Rotary district 573 will spend the five weeks in a large agricultural area. The exchange program will begin in June. Then, later in the year, a similar group from Finland will visit Texas for study of the areas agricultural industry.

To qualify for candidacy on the program, a man must be between 25 and 35 years of age, of high moral character, intelligent, cooperative, presentable in appearance, able to express himself clearly and logically and in good health. He must be enthusiastic and outstanding in his chosen field, and have a sound general education.

INTERSECTION MISHAP—A Lubbock truck driver had his trailer come loose from the cab of his truck Monday and flip over on its side at the intersection of Main and U.S. 60. It took workers over two hours to clear the intersection of the trailer and its steel pipes which came loose.

Truck Overtakes At Intersection

Workmen spent more than two hours clearing U.S. 60 near its intersection with Main Street Monday after a pipe-loaded trailer overturned.

The driver of the truck, R.D. Castleberry Jr., 44, of Lubbock, was not injured in the accident, which occurred about 9:50 a.m. According to investigating city police officers, who had to direct traffic around the intersection for more than two hours, Castleberry was attempting a right turn off of Main Street onto U.S. 60. As he went into the turn, officers said, the pin holding the trailer to the cab came loose and the trailer overturned.

The huge steel pipes on the trailer shifted during the turn and caused the trailer to flip. The pipes then came loose and rolled off into the intersection, blocking traffic.

Workers from two wrecking services and other trucks spent about two hours clearing the intersection.

Brick Streets Go Long Way Back

On March 30, 1926, the Jordan Construction Company, then of Plainview, contracted with the city of Hereford to complete a project which would include paving, water works and sewage facilities for a large portion of the city.

Now, almost 50 years later, a part of Hereford's history will be lost when the old brick pavement along Lee street will be torn up and redone in modern asphalt paving.

According to city manager Dudley Bayne, the change is necessary because the bricks were not laid on a permanent base, but on a layer of sand,

"Where there is no permanent base, there's no way to prevent the bricks from buckling and coming apart," he said.

The renovation of Lee and other city streets is a part of the $26,000 major street improvement project approved by the city commission in its Feb. 5 regular meeting. Lee Street is the only brick-paved street to be included in the project.

The Jordan company contract, or agreement, included work done later, in 1928, when Lee street from Fifth Street to what was then 10th street, was widened and given a new surface.

The earlier work, completed in 1926 on Main, Miles and Third Streets, included a concrete base under the brick paving, and was guaranteed to last indefinitely. However, the work done on Lee street did not include this base, and it was estimated at the time that it would last anywhere from 10 to 20 years. Also, it was not guaranteed by the contractor.

The city's contract with the Jordan company provided that the city would pay one-third of the paving costs on Lee Street, while property owners would be responsible for curbs and gutters, and two-thirds of the paving costs.

Total bill for the project was $17,721.17, with the city paying $5,146.23, and Hereford property owners along the street responsible for $12,574.94 of the total. The city engineers at the time, who filed the costs with city officials were members of a firm which went by the name of Montgomery and Ward. E.S. Ireland was Hereford mayor at the time.

H.B. Jordon, now of Amarillo, spent some time at the project site in Hereford, while his father, J.N. Jordon, and uncle, W.M. Hale, (both since deceased) directed operations. Jordan says the companies' top bricklayer, a Spanish-American man, could lay 50,000 bricks during a nine-hour day, and it took 16 men carrying brick to keep up with him.

Streets to be paved were first plowed smooth by a team of horses, and the dirt was shoveled onto a dumped wagon. The brick was then placed on a one-inch cushion of sand, and cracks and spaces between bricks were sealed light. They have become transformed into assets.

For local people who are assembling their 1972 income and expense figures in preparation for their Federal tax reports, those expenditures now look like money in the bank.

The reason? They represent tax deductions. The more that was spent for such purposes last year, the less that will have to be paid in April, when Tax Day rolls around.

Naturally, only those expenditures for which proper records were kept, capable of substantiation, can be claimed as deductions.

Deaf Smith County residents who itemize their deductions will be interested to know how much other people, with incomes similar to their own, have been listing as deductions.

How do their charitable contributions compare? What about local taxes, medical costs and interest paid on loans?

Helpful information along these lines comes from the Commerce Clearing House, an authority on tax law, based upon data released by the Internal Revenue Service.

It shows that, in general, families throughout the country with earnings equal to the Deaf Smith County average, have been listing deductions of $2,140, equivalent to 20 per cent of their adjusted gross income.

For those with lower than average earnings, the deductions taken usually represent a with a top coat of asphalt. Brick for the projects was sent by rail from a plant in Thurber, which has since gone out of business. It was vetted, or hardened for protection from iron-wheel traffic, and was carried from railroad cars on wagons and stacked along the curb on each side of the streets to be paved.

The bricks used were two and one-half inches thick, four inches wide, and nine inches long. They weighed eight pounds each. Jordan said the best bricklayer was paid top wages of $6 per day. Each of the 16 men required to carry bricks to him received 30 cents an hour. Bayne said that though it was necessary to renovate the paving on Lee Street and perhaps on some others in the future, he did not know whether it would become necessary to do away with the brick paving on Main, Miles and Third Streets, and other areas of the city.

He did mention the possibility that Union Street might be up for improvement sometime in the future.

Federal Restraints Seen On Sugar Beets

Predicting some federal restraints on the sugar beet industry in 1974, John Bunker, president of Holly Sugar Corp., urged Texas-New Mexico growers here Tuesday to establish a "history" on their land to assure adequate allotments in the future.

"We feel the demand for sugar will continue to be strong and stable, and we think sugar beets have a place in a balanced farm program," Bunker told directors of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association and area bankers in a noon luncheon here Tuesday at the Country Club.

The luncheon meeting was held prior to a Beet Seminar conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Bull Barn, where top speakers discussed all the latest research and production problems as experienced by producers. It was sponsored jointly by extension services of Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmer counties.

The Holly chief, referring to the damaging weather conditions on this year's crop, told growers that "if misery loves company, it's been a bad year everywhere, agriculturally speaking." Bunker also predicted the phasing out of more farm support programs by the federal government.

Bunker also noted that the sugar industry operates under a different setup, and added that "all indications are that the government would like to keep the sugar program as is."

On introducing Bunker to directors and bankers, James W. Witherspoon, executive secretary of the association, expressed appreciation for the cooperation Holly had extended growers under the adverse harvesting conditions this year.

Jay Boston, president of the association, recognized longtime director Raymond Higginbotham at the luncheon, and he made a plea for growers to continue having sugar beets as part of their farm program. He gave some examples of the high net return on beets.

In the afternoon session at the Bull Barn, various areas relating to the sugar beet industry were discussed by top officials.

James Valentine, area soil chemist, discussed fertility of the soil while Dr. Arthur B. Onken, agriculture Research Station in Lubbock, discussed the advancements made in fertilizer research.

Dr. Robert Berry, area plant pathologist, went into detail on the control of disease in sugar beet crops, pointing out the use of fungicides and the rate, volume and interval of application to the beet crops.

The importance of irrigation, including the sprinkler irrigation, was thoroughly discussed by Leon New, area irrigation specialist and Dr. Steve Winter of the Bushland Research Center discussed the research that has been conducted and that which is proposed.

larger proportion of their income. Conversely, those in the higher brackets have smaller deductions, percentage-wise. The range is from 16 to 25 per cent, according to the latest IRS figures.

For example, local families at the $8,500 level will have deductions of $1,800 if they conform to the norm, while those with incomes of $12,500 will be deducting about $2,280.

A breakdown of the $2,140 in deductions that is usual among those with incomes similar to the Deaf Smith County average shows $290 for charitable contributions, $720 for interest on loans and other debt, $740 for local taxes and $390 for medical and dental expenses.

Whitefaces Close Out Season With Big Win

BY O.G. NIEMAN
Publisher

The hustlin' Herd cagers closed out their 1973 season on a bright note Tuesday night at Lubbock, rolling to an impressive 62-47 win over the Coronado Mustangs and taking second place in the second round of 4-AAAA action. The victory left the Whitefaces with a 4-1 mark in the second round and a 23-10 won-lost record for the season. The Herd was 6-4 in district play for the season, with the four defeats coming by a total of 10 points in the close league race. Monterey downed the Snyder Tigers Tuesday night to win the second half title and force a playoff with Snyder for the crown. Snyder won the first half with a 5-0 mark, and Monterey duplicated the feat in the second half. Hereford took the lead midway of the first quarter against Coronado Tuesday and pulled away in the third period after holding only a 29-22 advantage at intermission. The Herd built up a 23-point advantage, 53-30, at one point in the final quarter. Coach Ron Mayberry used all 10 of his players during the final game and eight of them got in on the scoring. Luther Mays, one of the team's best shooters, led the way with 14 points, while Gary Hicks and Mike Mayberry each added 10 points in the attack. James Harris, who gave way to the hot-shooting Mays part of the way, and David Tipps were the only players failing to score. Hereford hit only 6 or 14 free shot attempts, but the Whitefaces more than doubled Coronado from the field. The Mustangs hit 21 of 28 at the charity line but had only 13 field goals, compared to 28 for the Whitefaces. Hicks led the battle of the boards for Hereford, while Mayberry helped open up the inside plays by connecting from long range. Hereford hit only 35 per cent from the field, but the hustlin' Herd put up 89 shots. Coronado hit on 13 of 54—only a 24 per cent shooting mark. The talented Whiteface team was favored to win the district title in a pre-season poll, but all-state candidate Keith Kitchens was sidelined with a broken foot and several other temporary injuries to key players hurt their chances. The 'Faces lost two games to Monterey by a total of five points, lost to Snyder by one point, and was upset by Coronado in the first round by three points. Nine of the 11 players on the varsity squad are seniors, with only Dan Vander Zee and James Harris returning next season. Both the junior varsity and sophomore teams had losing seasons, pointing to a tough rebuilding job next year. Coronado won the junior varsity game with a close 45-36 decision. Hereford led at halftime by 22-17, but the home team got the lead in the fading minutes and held on for the win. Dennis Noggler led Hereford with 17 points. The JV wound up with a 9-20 record. The Herd sophomores went into three overtimes before losing a 67-64 decision to Coronado. The game was tied at 53 when regulation play ended. Junior Morales had 16 points for Hereford, while Lynn Tarr and James Arney added 14 and 11 points, respectively. The soph ended with a 1-15 record.

HICKS ON REBOUND—Hereford's Gary Hicks (41) went high into the air to snare a rebound during action Tuesday night at Lubbock. The Herd scored a 62-47 win over Coronado in the final game of the 1973 season with Luther Mays, Hicks and Mike Mayberry pacing the scoring attack. David Duvall (45) is also visible in the action photo. Hereford finished with a 23-10 record and was third in district play with a 6-4 record.

Locals Attend Water Meeting

Members of Water Inc., heard reports Saturday in Amarillo on the progress of the proposed project to import Mississippi River water to the Texas Panhandle and Eastern New Mexico area. Between 30 and 40 local Water, Inc. members attended the day-long sessions at the Villa Inn in Amarillo. Norman Flaigg of Austin, area planning officer for the Bureau of Reclamation, explained to members that an exact figure was being withheld on the expenditures for the project, until final drafts can be prepared between the Bureau of Reclamation and the Mississippi River Commission. Cost figures will be reviewed during a special hearing scheduled for late March, according to Duncan Ellison, Water, Inc., executive director. Keynote address for the meeting was delivered by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, a former critic of the Texas Water Plan, who said that he would appoint a commission within two weeks to study the state's water problems. Flaigg said the 8.5 million acre feet of water available for importation to Texas is still a reality. According to earlier reports, approximately 3 million acre feet of storage will be made available for the water supply at Marshall, Tex. Since the system will only be in actual operation during one-third of the year, Flaigg stressed the importance of reservoir storage facilities.

John Ford Chosen In Pro Draft

John Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford of Amarillo is a former Palo Duro JV gridster, was a sixth-round draft choice of the Buffalo Bills in the NFL player draft. Ford is the grandson of Mrs. Myrtle Ford and the nephew of Lexie Ford, both of Hereford. He attends Henderson College, Arkadelphia, Ark., where he will graduate in June, and attended Palo Duro High School in Amarillo before his family was transferred to Arkansas with the close of Amarillo Air Force Base. He spent much of his boyhood, and later his summers in Hereford with his grandmother.

Clan Holds First Reunion

A hardy Scottish clan, whose ancestors used to dance to the tune of "The Campbells are Coming" in their family tartans of black watch plaid, gathered in Amarillo for their first family reunion Saturday and Sunday.

Directly descended from the Duke of Argyll, and of the much older House of Argyll, the clan originated in Highlands West, Scotland, according to local realtor Gene Campbell. He and his father, Martin Campbell, are the only direct Campbell descendants who reside in this area.

Campbell says his grandparents, William Franklin Campbell, and Jessie Claudia Wilhelm, (herself a descendant of the notorious Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany), were married in the late 1890's in Comanche County, Texas, where she had been raised.

Campbell was born in 1873 in Campbellville, Ky., and died in 1949. Born in 1882, his wife died Sept. 9, 1964.

things about the family," says Campbell, "is that when my grandmother died, she left all her family intact—about 78 children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. None of them have ever even had any serious illness, and none were lost before her death."

He adds that the clan has grown to about 90 members now, all as healthy and active as the Scottish highlanders from which they descended.

Campbell says the 1973 reunion is the family's first such gathering, though plans are being made for a similar get-together in 1975, in the Dallas Ft. Worth area. The group met Saturday at an Amarillo inn, and toured various points of interest throughout the area, including a trip to Palo Duro Canyon.

daughters and three sons. Most of the members of the clan reside in the Dallas-Ft. Worth area, but some have their homes as far away as California, and Chicago, Ill.

Members of the Campbell family have been through both World Wars, the Korean and Vietnamese conflicts. There have been some pretty close calls, says Campbell, but they've all managed to stay alive and healthy with the rest of the family.

"And with a family as large as ours," he adds, "That's pretty rare."

JETLINER CRASH

An Air India jetliner crashed on Mont Blanc in France, killing 117 persons on Jan. 24, 1966.

Though in their sixties, all of William and Jessie Campbell's offspring are still living and healthy, according to Campbell. The immediate family consisted of seven

SOON-TO-WED COUPLE—Ren Lee of Hereford and his pretty fiancée, Linda Kay Gibbons of Arlington, plan an afternoon wedding March 10 in Woods Chapel Baptist Church of Arlington. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Gibbons of that city; Lee's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rex Lee, 304 Centre. A lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force, he is stationed at Vance AF Base at Enid, Okla. He earned a degree from the University of Texas at Arlington after graduation from Hereford High. Miss Gibbons was a January graduate of Oklahoma State University, Stillwater.

Responses Vary To Adult Courses

"We had a good response to some classes, and some we didn't," said Richard Robinson, director, of Monday's registrations for adult education courses sponsored by

Hereford Independent school district's community education program. Because of adequate response, courses in commodities, bridge, conversational Spanish, typing, women's recreation and watercolor will be offered through the public schools. Courses will meet weekly until about May 25.

Other courses offered, which did not receive adequate response to make the curriculum were general crafts, shorthand, bookkeeping, drafting, community chorus and powder puff auto mechanics.

"The really popular course we had was the women's recreation," said Robinson. "We had 51 signing up for that course." The class meets once each week at La Plata Jr. High. One other class, the course in watercolor, will meet at Stanton Jr. High, and the remainder will meet at Hereford High School Hereford High School.

Teachers for the course were recruited from the school system, and in some cases, such as in the drafting course, from other areas.

"We try to determine the need for offering the course, then we look for instructors around the school system and find someone proficient in these areas. Then also, we look in other areas that might be outside the realm of school courses," said Robinson. He added that if anyone has ideas of courses they might be interested in seeing offered by the program, they may send a card to him in care of Hereford High School, where he is vocational director. "I was gratified at the response that we had on some courses, and somewhat disappointed at the response to those we didn't have enough interest in to go ahead and offer. Our intention is to offer the courses we feel people in the community want," he said. "We were pleased that the community education registration this time was more successful than it was last fall, so we feel that we are learning more about what people want."

Guest Tells Insurance Facts

Explanation of the no-fault automobile insurance plan which is under consideration in the Texas legislature as well as in other states, was given to La Aflatus Estudio Club Tuesday afternoon by Lloyd Sharp, member of a local insurance firm.

Meeting in the REA Medallion Room, the club heard Sharp discuss changes proposed in the complicated laws relating to automobile insurance over the nation. He said the problems of this type of insurance have become so pressing that he believes they will become subject to federal regulation if they are not solved in the states.

Mrs. Sam Morgan was hostess for the meeting and Mrs. B.F. Markham was the program chairman who introduced the guest speaker. Sharp answered members' questions after his talk.

Mrs. A.B. Higgins gave the Thought For The Day, expressing the general feeling of thankfulness in America at release of prisoners of war from North Vietnam.

Other members at the meeting were Mmes. S.C. Ramey, Claude Ricketts, T.W. Roberson, Glenn Witherspoon, Lottie Clark, A.H. Cook, Marlin Gilliland, Emmett Hale, A.L. Hewitt, A.N. Hopson, Walter Johnson, and Miss Della Stagner.

Nottingham, England, police ended their search for a green dog recently when they found and returned the terrier, who had played with a bottle of dye, to its bemused owners.

Supper Has Theme

WEST COAST RELATIVES IN EARTHQUAKE

A Mexican supper entertained members of Young Mothers Study Club and their husbands, with several other guests, Tuesday evening in the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Co. Folk games were played after the supper.

Mrs. Bud Thomas and Mrs. Chesley Johnston were the hostesses, who decorated tables in a south-of-the-border motif.

Messrs. and Mmes. Floyd Neill, Buddy Edwards and Kenneth Frye were guest couples.

Members and their husbands present were Messrs. and Mmes. Burl Spears, Jerry Tisdale, Harvey Milton, Robert Devin, Eldon Howell, Travis McPherson, Stan Solomon and Jim Brink.

Mrs. Cora Johnson of 301 E. Sixth in Hereford reports that her daughter's family, the Sam Hoovers of Arcadia, Cal., were one of many families involved in the minor earthquake that hit portions of California Wednesday morning.

According to Mrs. Johnson, no one in the Hoover family received injuries.

DPS Official Talks To Club

Larry Bigham, Department of Public Safety officer, was guest speaker at the recent Junior Law Enforcement Club's meeting.

Bigham explained the training a person could expect to go through if he wished to become a highway patrolman, and the many tests that have to be completed before qualifying for the job. He stressed the importance of college and experience from doing an actual job.

"A willingness to be helpful is an important quality needed for the job of patrolman, and only those persons with a real wish and the needed capabilities can become a qualified patrolman," Bigham stated.

Here is my watch. If it is to be of value to me, it has to be a watch I can count on. When I look at its face, I must know beyond doubt, that it can be trusted. If I have to be forever checking it, it is of little use to me, and certainly it is not fulfilling the purpose for which it was created. Life too, is that way!

If a man is to be of value, he must be the kind of person that can be counted on. His face must radiate dependability. If those who live about you have to be forever checking on you... you are not fulfilling the purpose for which God created you. Now, Paul said, "those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do; and the God of peace shall be with you."

Help us to attend church worship every week and to draw near to Thee. May we gather in thoughts that stray and control feelings that may be troublesome. For sin give repentance, for sorrow give trust, for strife of passion and care grant rest. Through this timepiece illustration, may we be led to bring our lives to Thee, that we may test and measure them by thine unerring law.

Cathy Emerson Is HHS Basketball Queen

In the final pep rally of the year, before the game against Snyder, the basketball team presented the basketball queen and her attendants to the student body.

The tension rose as Mike Mayberry announced Cathy Emerson as the 1972-'73 basketball queen, escorted by David Duvall. Her attendants were senior Sharon Powell, escorted by Alan Cornelious; junior, Susan Wartes, escorted by Dan VanderZee, and sophomore, Melissa Henry, escorted by Terry Scott.

Cathy is the daughter of Mrs. Martha Emerson.

Antigone Selected As HHS All-School Play

Try-outs for the all-school one-act play contest were held last Thursday and Friday in the HHS auditorium. Chosen for the one-act play contest this year was Antigone, the ancient Greek legend revised by Jean Anouilh in Paris during the reign of the Nazi regime.

The contest is held each year at Lubbock Estacado High School and is sponsored by the University Scholastic League under the direction of the Texas Tech University Drama Department. The contest will be held April 6th in the High School Auditorium.

The play involves two sons and two daughters of Oedipus, lately departed king of Thebes, and his brother-in-law Creon, who has become king.

Antigone, one of the sisters defies Creon's righteousness and edict, by burying one of her dead brothers, whom Creon had refused to bury. For this she is punished by being buried alive. This sets off a chain of suicides which brings about Creon's own ruin.

Receiving roles in Antigone were Nancy Brink as Antigone, Gordon Gearn as Haeman, her fiancé, Jamie McAndrews plays Creon and Ismene is played by Layne Young.

Also receiving roles were James Davis as the Chorus, the guard is played by Frank Smith and a page by Sherry Faubion.

VICA SLATES BAKE SALE

Members of Hereford High School's VICA Cosmetology class will sponsor a bake sale Saturday in Sugarland Mall, beginning at 11 a.m.

Funds from the sale will help in sending VICA officers to their state workshop in Austin, where they will receive their cosmetology licenses.

High School Library Receives Bookends

Last year, the First Christian Church sponsored two boys from Thailand so they would have the opportunity to attend a high school in America.

In appreciation toward the hospitality which Hereford showed to them while they lived here with the Gene Brink family, the boys sent the Hereford High School library a pair of genuine teakwood, hand-carved bookends from which are in the shape of an elephant.

Mrs. Mozelle Neil, the HHS librarian remarked "We are delighted to receive these bookends and appreciate their thoughtfulness. It is an example of the good will that can be created by young between countries of the world."

The library received these bookends in January. They were sent to Mrs. Gene Brink who delivered them to the library.

VICA Prepares Students For Leadership

"It brings out the real persons in themselves," exclaimed Mrs. Vanna Belle Thurlow as she was asked what she thought about VICA and how it affects the student.

VICA is an organization composed of students and teachers, formed to help the students help themselves. VICA, as a whole, is made up of five parts, auto mechanics, building trades, electrical trades, cosmetology and ICT.

Students taking auto mechanics learn to work on motors and all moving parts of cars. In building trades, students learn to build houses. The major project this year is the construction of a large building by Shirley Elementary School. In electrical trades, the students learn about electricity and its properties and then put it to use by working on radios and tape recorders. They band together with building trades and help with the electrical parts needed for the operable class room. Cosmetology is made up of young women who learn to style wigs and human hair. Industrial Cooperative Training, ICT, provides on-the-job training in various fields for students who do not intend to go on to college.

The club, which is the second largest high school organization in the nation, has as its motto, "preparing for leadership."

FHA Boys To Compete In Houston Stockshow

Eleven FFA boys from the Hereford area will be traveling to Houston for the annual Houston Livestock Show--the largest stock show in Texas and one of the largest in the United States. The boys will leave Sunday evening and will return March 3. They will be taking 16 pigs, 16 head of cattle and four lambs.

Attending the stock show will be, sophomores, Robert Pope, Truman Reagan and Terry Yerby; juniors, Jay Boren, Gary Cotton, Ted Eicke, David Hutchins, Jim Marsh and Jess Robinson and seniors, Johnny Alford and Jim McNeely.

The group will be accompanied by Marcus Phillips, agricultural teacher at HHS.

Senior Class Plans Activities

With the second semester of school well under way, the senior class has begun to look at activities surrounding the last days of school.

The senior all-night party which is given by the senior parents has been decided on and plans are being carefully carried out, thanks to the work of co-chairmen Mrs. Charles Hoover and Mrs. O.G. Nieman. Site of the party will be the West Texas State Activity Center in Canyon. The center offers an indoor swimming pool, basketball court, bowling alley and a ballroom. Music will be provided by Black Water Draw, a group based in Amarillo. The party will follow graduation from 11 p.m. until 5 the next morning.

Graduation has been set for Thursday, May 24. Maroon gowns with a maroon cap and maroon and white tassels have been selected by the seniors.

This year's senior banquet is currently in the planning stages with preparations to begin soon. A major money making project to help pay for expenses of the senior banquet will be the senior play, Up The Down Staircase.

He is active in Key Club, FCA, TACH, CYO and Athletics at Hereford High School, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ohlig.

Ohlig To Compete For Future Nurse

Miss Future Nurse or should it be Mr. Future Nurse? On March 16 in Amarillo, Tony Ohlig will be competing against girls from around the Panhandle for Miss Future Nurse. Tony is the first boy from any high school to compete for the award.

Each application must include a thousand word essay, stating why he thinks that he should receive the award. He must also have a letter of recommendation from his principal.

The award is a scholarship to either West Texas or North Texas State in the amount of two hundred dollars.

Tony is planning to be an anthropologist after he completes his education.

He is active in Key Club, FCA, TACH, CYO and Athletics at Hereford High School, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ohlig.

HHS Print Shop Includes Photographic Facilities

The complete combination print shop which is used in helping the printing trades students work with machines, includes both Letterpress and Offset processes, and complete facilities for photographic work.

In the Letterpress portion of the room there is a 10 by 15 Chandler and Price press and an open press with a good selection of foundry type.

The Offset portion of the room includes an ATF Chief 15 Offset press, an ATF plate burner, and a NuArc light table.

The art of printing trades is using many machines and learning the parts of these machines.

A few items that are used to reproduce forms include the thermofax, spirit duplicator, and the electric mimeograph and the offset strip printer.

One thing the Hereford High School Print Shop has that most print shops lack is the file system of negatives and plates.

These are used on the offset press to print forms.

The thirty mesh paper cutter is the heart of the bindery. Other pieces of equipment in the bindery include a paper folder, the perforator, the plastic binder, the laminator, a foot operated stapler, an electric paper drill, a padding press, and a collator.

A modern well-equipped darkroom set-up includes a NuArc process camera which makes it possible to develop line and halftone negatives, and the Omega enlargers for use in making photographs.

Little Dribblers Set To Kick Off Monday

The 1973 edition of Hereford's Little Dribblers' Basketball, Inc. program got off the ground last week with the drafting of players for each of the three leagues, and the season's first tip-off will be Monday. The names of the teams and players are shown below along with the schedules of the three leagues. Boys tried out last Saturday at Stanton gym and were drafted in a meeting Saturday night. The Major League and Minor League teams will have one work-out before Monday's first games of the season. The teams have been assigned work-out time and place and they are: —Minor League teams of Aggies, Wranglers, Rebels, Badgers, Wildcats and Frogs will work out from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday at the high school gyms. —Minor League teams of Owls and Raiders will work out at the high school from 1 to 3 p.m. Saturday. —Major League teams of Celtics, Bullets, Bucks, Lakers and Suns will work out from 10 a.m. to noon Saturday at Stanton. —Major League teams of Hawks, Royals, Pistons, Knicks and Warriors will work out from 1 to 3 p.m. at Stanton. A record number of boys tried out for the Little Dribblers' program this year, according to the Hereford Jaycees, the sponsoring organization. However, there still are not enough coaches to go around in the three leagues, and persons interested in assisting with the program are urged to contact a Jaycee. Little Dribblers', Inc. is in its third year in Hereford and is a basketball program designed for boys 8-12 years of age. The teams play in leagues and the winners of the two zones in each league meet at the end of the season to determine the over-all champion. An all-star team is selected in the Major League and is comprised of the best players, in the opinion of the coaches. The allstars team together for competition in regional matchups with other cities to determine the eventual national champion.

International Air Marks Luncheon

The international aspect of Hereford's population was stressed at a luncheon Saturday when women from Oriental, South American and European countries were guests in the pioneer West Texas background of Deaf Smith County Historical Museum.

Mrs. Joe Railey was the hostess who had the idea of inviting several women from other countries who now make their homes here, to become better acquainted with each other and with other Hereford women.

She was inspired by her experience of living 15 months in a foreign country, Venezuela, when her husband's work took them to that South American nation a few years ago.

Mmes. Austin Rose, Henry Sears, George Turrentine and Justin McBride, all active in the museum here, added the further idea of serving the lunch in its fine arts room and giving the guests a close look at Pashandle culture of the past as shown in museum exhibits.

They arranged a serving table with a massed bouquet of spring flowers at one end and vari-colored papers opposite, and quartet tables with cloths of different bright colors, each centered with a single tall candle.

Also assisting were Mrs. R.W. Eades and Mrs. Lynton Allred of First Baptist Women's Missionary Union, which has sponsored programs to welcome foreign-born residents; Mrs. Jim Culpepper and Mrs. Troy Foster, who use the Laubach method of teaching English, and Mrs. Bill Farras, who has been associated with a number of the women from other countries in the Newcomers Club.

The special guests were Mmes. Jaime Cuellar, Rory Elizondo, Tomas Baldares, Gene Batterman, Bill Kester, Charles Stanton and Frank Betune.

After lunch, the group toured the museum and conversed informally.

HEAVENLY DRAMA—Members of Dawn Extension Club sprouted wings on the white robes they wore to present a comedy skit with a safety lesson, at the February community supper at Dawn recently. Titled Foofish Kates At The Pearly Gates, the playlet depicted a gathering of housewives who departed their earthly lives by careless use of home cleaning agents. Seated in front, from left, are Mrs. Carl Parnell and Mrs. Pat Smith; back row, Mrs. J.B. Caraway, Mrs. Jerry Stewart and Mrs. Don Middleton. The extension club was the hostess group at the meeting in Dawn Community Center.

Panel Underlines Role

Women interested in the beef industry are "the greatest untapped public relations source for promoting the use of beef," stated one of the panel speakers to Hereford CowBelles and their husbands at a lunch Tuesday.

"Their influence is valuable to the industry; they can tell the other 95 per cent of American housewives the facts about meat prices in comparison to other food prices," continued Dr. Charles Smallwood, dean of agriculture at West Texas State University, one of five speakers.

Those facts he mentioned were cited by other panelists. Tom Hamlett, plant manager here for Armour & Co., said all CowBelles need to inform themselves about the economy of the beef industry, able to refute some current statements about high prices which have inspired consumer resistance.

Hamlett told the effect of lessened demand for beef from the viewpoint of the packing plant.

Ed Campbell of Lubbock, meat merchandiser for the Furr

Food chain, spoke as a retailer. It is important to tell the industry's story to the consumer, he said, stressing that there has never been better meat on American tables than that available the past few years.

Pat Malone, executive vice president of First National Bank, emphasized that capital must be attracted from other parts of the nation to finance the expanding beef industry of this area, and this depends upon getting information to investors.

Bob Carter of Plainview, state director of the National Livestock and Meat Board, explained that group's work on publicity and asked cooperation of the CowBelles in making the best use of its materials. He presented a plaque to Hamlett, conveying the board's appreciation to the new Armour plant here.

Moderator for the panel was Jim McNeese of Amarillo, representative of the board, who introduced speakers after commenting that Texas and Iowa have seen-sawed in recent years as No. 1 meat-producing state in the nation, but Texas seems to have taken the lead definitely.

Approximately 125 persons lunched at Dickies Restaurant, with members' husbands as special guests. On the hostess committee were Mmes. David LaFleur, Sam Self, Warner Lawson and W. R. Thurber.

Mrs. Reece Lawson reported activities of the national CowBelles convention at San Antonio last month, where she was a delegate.

Mrs. Bob Josseland welcomed guests and directed business. The constitution and by-laws of the new Hereford group were given a first reading; members will vote on them at the next meeting, in the Country Club March 20, a style show luncheon.

Yearbooks were distributed by Mrs. Joe Reinsauer Sr., program chairman.

Residents Are Board Members

Two Hereford residents have been elected as board members of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, Inc., producers of "Texas," the musical drama by Paul Green.

Earnest L. Langley and Mrs. Jack Restivo were elected to serve in 1973 and 1974 as board members for the foundation at the 12th Annual Meeting of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, Inc., held recently in Canyon. The two Hereford residents, were among 35 persons elected to serve on the board of the foundation.

Joe Githler of Canyon, president of the foundation, commented at the meeting on the state of the organization, Panhandle communities were reporting that the Foundation has funds enough on hand to carry through the preparations and rehearsal period for 1973 without borrowing. He also spoke of the construction of rest-rooms and enlarged barbecue area in the Palo Duro Canyon which the state is planning this spring with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Executive Vice President Raymond Ballard, mentioned that the "Texas" booth appears in nine travel shows this year, and also mentioned that the State of Texas supports the "Texas" production and draws on the "Texas" staff for help.

Over 100 persons from 11 Panhandle communities were present at the meeting.

Family Gatherings Give Scope To Culinary Bent

BY TRACY HOPSON
Brand Staff Writer
OLD FASHIONED HOME COOKING IS Lydia Hopson's favorite type of food to cook. "I really enjoy cooking things, not fancy but wholesome."
Mrs. Hopson married A.N. Hopson in 1935 at Roosevelt, Okla., and moved to Hereford in 1936. "I couldn't cook a thing when we first married, so I bought a good cookbook and started to learn," she explains.
Along with cooking, she enjoys crocheting and painting. She often passes the time crocheting gifts for relatives and friends.

SHE HAS ALWAYS ENJOYED COOKING and is happy when members of her family are in town to enjoy the big meals she prepares. She has one son, Nathan, three daughters, Sue and Jean of Oklahoma and Connie of New York, and nine grandchildren. She is always busy preparing meals when the family is home for holidays.

One favorite food of all the family is angel flake biscuits.

ANGEL FLAKE BISCUITS
Sift together 5 cups flour, 3 tablespoons baking powder, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, then add 1 cup shortening and cut in until dough and shortening are pea size.

Dissolve 1 package dry yeast in 3 tablespoons warm water, add 3 cups buttermilk and softened yeast to dry mixture, then mix well.

Store in an airtight container in refrigerator. Drop on floured board, knead gently and shape into biscuits. Place on a greased pan and let stand ten minutes, then bake at 450 degrees for ten minutes.

* MRS. HOPSON IS A MEMBER of the First Christian Church, and is active in the Rebekah Lodge.

A hobby enjoyed by both her husband and herself is collecting antiques. Two of their favorite pieces are an old pump organ and a roll top desk.
Mrs. Hopson enjoys working in the summer in her rose garden and vegetable garden.

"I just love fresh vegetables and fruit, and enjoy growing my own," she says.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopson both come from large families and frequently travel to various places to unite with their families.

"If not traveling to the reunions," she smiles, "we are usually having them."

Golden Wedding Reception Held

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C.R. Lovelady, 138 N. Texas, was celebrated with a reception in Hereford Country Club Sunday afternoon, with 85 guests registered from other cities and states as well as Hereford.

Hosts were sons of the couple and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Lovelady of Atlanta, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lovelady of Albuquerque, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Lovelady of San Jose, Calif.

The marriage of Smiley Willoughby and C.R. Lovelady was solemnized Feb. 23, 1923, in Texola, Okla. They came to Hereford from Amarillo three years ago to make their home after living in various cities.

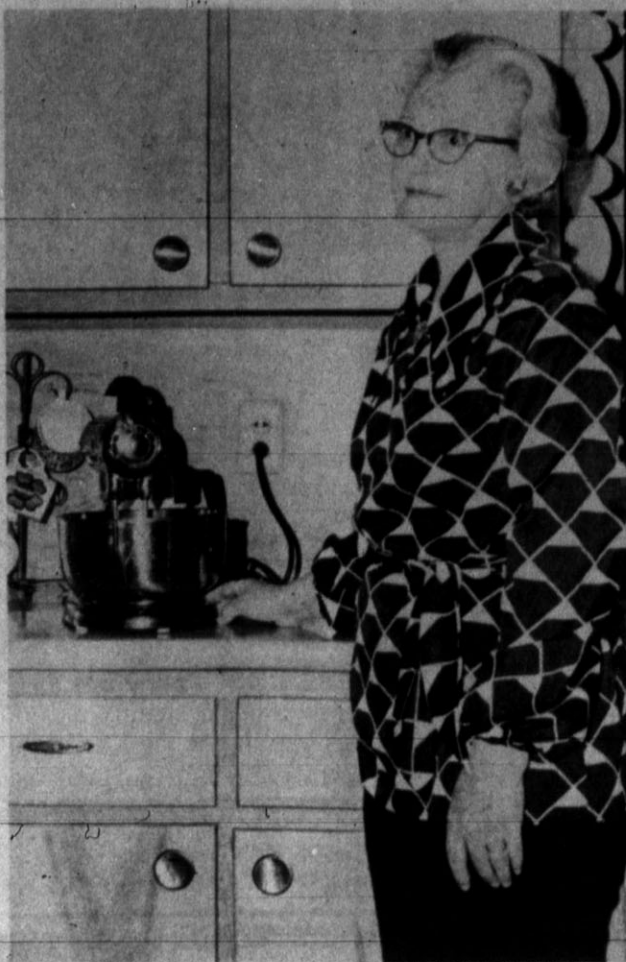

RECIPE OF MRS. HOPSON'S is for Mississippi Mud Cake, which is enjoyed often by friends and relatives.

MISSISSIPPI MUD CAKE
Melt 3 sticks oleo and add 2 tablespoons cocoa, 2 cups sugar, 1 tablespoon vanilla and 4 eggs, beating while adding eggs. Then mix 1 1/2 cups flour, 1 1/2 cups coconut, 1 1/2 cup nuts and add to oleo mixture.

Beat 2 minutes and pour into an oblong greased pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes.

When removed from oven pour a 7 oz. package of marshmallow creme on the cake while it is still hot, let cool and then ice.

For the icing, heat 1/4 lb. oleo, 6 tablespoons milk and 3 1/2 tablespoons cocoa, add a box of powdered sugar, then beat well.

Wyman Leads Arthritis Drive

Jane Wyman has been named national campaign chairman for The Arthritis Foundation's 1973 fund-raising drives.

The appointment of the Academy Award-winning actress was announced at a press conference in New York recently by Charles B. Harding, chairman of the board of the Foundation, and Daniel E. Button, president and executive director of the organization, Dale Young chairman of the Hereford Arthritis Unit announced today.

Other relatives from out of town included the John Willoughbys of Amarillo, Miss Helen Timin of Austin; Laurie and DeAnn Lovelady, Mr. and Mrs. David Bridnell, Douglas Lovelady and the David Lovelady of Albuquerque.

The family now includes 12 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Jane Wyman... to lead campaign

Miss Wyman told reporters her position is no sinecure. "I'm not a casual joiner," she said. "When I do belong to an organization, I'm a working member."

Her record backs her up. Miss Wyman has been a leading volunteer for the Foundation's Southern California Chapter in Los Angeles for a number of years. She has the major responsibility for recruiting talent, producing and presenting that chapter's telethon, a key fund-raising event.

Miss Wyman also serves on the Arthritis Foundation's national board of directors and is a member of the executive committee. This committee does the real work of operating the Foundation, according to board chairman Harding, "making key policy decisions that affect our efforts to bring help and hope to the 50 million Americans who have arthritides."

Players Open Comedy Tomorrow

Two brothers, one just turned 21, reserved and unsure of himself, the other ten years older, bright, good-looking and still single, are central figures in the very funny plot of Come Blow Your Horn, the Neil Simon comedy which Hereford Community Players will stage tomorrow and Saturday.

Curtain time is 8 p.m. both days in the former Yardstick location at Sugarland Mall, where seats have been paced to leave center stage space for a production in-the-round. Meredith Wilcox is directing and Juanita Owen is producer for the three-act comedy.

Playing the older brother, Alan Baker, whose modernistic apartment is the setting of the entire play, is David Moxon, while Gordon Gearn appears as Buddy, struggling to make the break with parental dominance which Alan has already achieved, almost. Both are making first appearances with the Community Players.

Their parents, New Yorkers of Jewish heritage, American born and American in dress and manner but tending to old-world thought, are enacted by Polly Bullard and Andy Shuval. As the mother, who is happy only when there is trouble to be remedied by cooking the victim's favorite dishes, Mrs. Bullard has a large share in the laughable lines but is a sympathetic figure also.

She has appeared in a former Players production, Mystery of Rhodes Manor, as the Irish woman sheriff, and was director of the poignant comedy, The Curious Savage, in 1970.

Shuval, seen as the pompous seantor in that play, in his current role portrays a successful businessman, blustering to his sons, who like to dramatize himself. Because Alan is past 30 and still unmarried, his father dismisses him as "a bum" while he tries to push Buddy back into a minor place in the family business.

Girls in the life of the brothers are enacted by Paula Haug and Denise McCullar, also newcomers to Players' casts. Mrs. McCullar is Peggy, a frivolous showgirl crazy to meet a producer who can give her a chance in the movies.

Miss Haug has the part of Connie, who like Peggy does her acting in television commercials but is willing to leave a career for something better.

She is the daughter of Joyce Haug, who plays Aunt Gussie and is remembered for an amusing performance in last year's comedy, Barefoot In The Park.

Developed in the Great Western Sugar Company Agriculture Research Center, introduced in limited quantities in 1971, this new hybrid has outperformed them all in field and yield tests. Now we have enough seed to supply Holly growers here in Texas as well as our own. That means YOU can share in the higher profits others have enjoyed these past two seasons.

They've profited from its superior germination (guaranteed 90%), and the greater purity and higher sugar content of the harvest - up to 16% more extractable sugar per ton of beets, an average of $15 in extra profit per acre - figuring in the extra cost of the seed.

Small Talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

THAT LUNCHEON GIVEN Saturday for several foreign-born women who now call Hereford home, was a delightful occasion for the natives who acted as hostesses as well as for the eight special guests.

It should give some of the women's organizations an idea for more of such rather small, informal parties to welcome the women—and there are getting to be quite a number of them—who come from other countries to live here.

Jo Railey had the inspiration for this party by remembering how "lost" she felt when she lived in Venezuela several years ago while her husband was working there—a stranger and unable to speak the language of people around her.

EVEN WITH ENOUGH English to understand and be understood, someone coming from a faraway country has enough problems finding her place in a new land, and could use some people-to-people sociability. Of course Hereford people pride themselves on friendliness, but a special effort like this could help.

In one place I lived, a women's club sponsored organization of an International Club to include not only foreign-born women, but plain old Texans who had lived in foreign countries.

They made it their business to greet newcomers from other countries, who were almost sure to find someone in the club with at least some common interests with them.

THE SPONSORING committee noticed at once, something that has struck me in meeting women from abroad—virtually every one of them is most attractive and a delight to know.

Since most of them are wives of American men, you just have to conclude that our men pick the cream of the countries where they work or soldier. Like the luncheon honorees: Sylvia Bethune, Mary Cuellar, Chang Elizondo, Mary Baldarez, Plung Emmons, Helmi Batterman, Regina Kester and Mary Leese Stanton.

And it wouldn't take long to find as many more here, of whom the same thing could be said.

CONGRATULATIONS TO Mr. and Mrs. A.A. Head, 239 Ave. K, who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a party Sunday afternoon in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, the Harold Heads.

THE CAST FOR A WTSU drama department production which opened last night to run through a Sunday matinee, lists the name of Randy Clements, Hereford student.

The play is Mary of Scotland, Maxwell Anderson's noted drama about the beautiful and tragic queen. Randy has the role of one of the Scottish nobles, Lord Douglas. Curtain time is 8 p.m. through Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday in the Branding Iron Theatre on WTSU campus.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,
 Finally the seeds have been planted concerning our youth and the needs that they so desperately seek. I write as a parent, for even though my children are still younger, the days when they come and ask "What can we do?" and there is nothing.
 We recently had a discussion of parents at the First Christian Church and the question was raised, What is our biggest concern as parents? The answer came from all parents that they knew that their children have nothing much to do except go to the show and dragging the drag and maybe a dance or two.
 Certainly our town the size that it is has so many needs. But, as these needs are discussed and pondered, we should keep our children in the conversation. As long as our youth are bored their spare time, this indicates that we adults need to be more concerned with youth.
 This does not mean that we are obligated to fill all their spare time, but we are obligated to give them something to do if they so desire. We should cringe at the thought of our children treating their youth as we have treated them. I'm sure that we would all be surprised at how our youth would respond to our genuine concern for them.
 It is a fact that if Hereford does get a "Y" the personnel would have to be really dedicated to the youth and with the desire to make it a going organization.
 I feel so that at all times our youth should be included in all plans. For, it is their needs that we would be discussing and no one knows better than they do.

Thank you,
 Mrs. Larry Dobbs

 The Christian Youth Organization will sponsor the haunted house. Joe Schumacher is chairman for the country auction and Edward Schilling co-chairman. They ask that persons who will give good usable farm equipment or other useful articles for this sale, notify either of them.
 Country store merchandise will include home baked and canned foods, art and craft items, hand-sewed, knitted and crocheted articles. Mexican food, hamburgers, ice cream, soft drinks and coffee will be on sale as refreshments.

The contest is a part of the chapter's observance of February as American History Month. Subject of this year's essays was A Patriot of 1776. Waters writes as follows: A PATRIOT OF 1776 The people who built our nation came from many lands. Some were Protestants, some were Catholics, some were Jews. Many came seeking freedom of religion, while others came to live in a country where men could rule themselves.

Haym Salomon came to America for both these reasons. He was born in Lissa, (now Leszno), Poland, January 6, 1780, of Jewish-Portuguese ancestry. In his youth Salomon traveled widely, acquired an excellent knowledge of foreign languages, and, returning to Poland at about the age of 30, he became an ardent advocate of Polish independence.

He had to flee from Poland, went to the Netherlands and then to the New World in 1772. He had fought for freedom in Poland, and last, but he felt it would be different in America. Salomon's previous association with the cause of liberty in his native country drew him naturally to the side of the American Whigs and later to the move for American independence. His views on liberty became known almost as soon as he arrived in America and he was asked to join a group of patriots who called themselves the Sons of Liberty.

They wanted the colonies to be completely free of England. Salomon was a merchant and had a brokerage firm in New York at this time. Haym Salomon was completely devoted to the American cause and was willing to help in any way possible to obtain independence.

In 1775, war came to America. The British seized New York and set up headquarters there. They learned that Salomon was a member of the Sons of Liberty, and arrested him as a spy and he was imprisoned.

The British used him as an interpreter and assigned him to the Hessian general, Heistes, who placed him in the commissary department. The Hessians were soldiers the English had hired.

While working with the Hessians, Salomon made use of his ability to speak German and induced the soldiers to resign or desert. He even talked some of them into joining the American army and fighting against the British.

Since the British did not realize what he was doing, they set Salomon free. He returned to his business and also acted as an under-cover agent for the Hessians. He also helped American prisoners of war to escape.

The British became suspicious of Salomon, and arrested him again, this time sentencing him to death. He was charged with being an accomplice in a plot to burn the King's fleet and destroy British warehouses. This was in August, 1778. He bribed his guard and escaped to Philadelphia.

He managed to get his family to Philadelphia and became one of the best-known businessmen in the city. His personality and keen discernment soon made him a successful financier. His ability and patriotic activities brought him to the attention of Robert Morris, who was in charge of money matters for the American Army.

Salomon offered his services to the Continental Congress. He became paymaster-general for the French who fought in the Revolution. He handled most of the money loaned to America by other countries.

Salomon was one of the largest depositors in Robert Morris' Bank of North America, and this contributed to maintaining the new United States government's credit.

Salomon also advanced direct loans to the United States Government in excess of $20,000, and in addition gave generously of his own resources to pay the salaries of government officials and army officers. He also made advances in pay to many soldiers, foreign agents, and was known to contribute to the outfitting of an entire regiment of soldiers.

The war for freedom was ended at last. Haym Salomon felt very proud of his country, and was glad he had been able to help.

After the war, Salomon suffered heavy financial reverses. The government never repaid him what he had loaned to help in the war. He planned to return to New York, to reopen his brokerage firm, but these plans were interrupted by his sudden death on January 6, 1785 at age 45.

His death was undoubtedly hastened by illness contracted during his imprisonments. Haym Salomon had given his fortune, as well as his health, for his country.

These acts furnished a singular outstanding example of unselfish devotion to the American cause, particularly when it is remembered that his family was left practically penniless at his death.

We remember Haym Salomon as one of the great patriots of the Revolutionary War. In the city of Chicago, there is a statue that honors him. George Washington is the central figure in this statue. On his left stand Robert Morris, and on the other side stands Haym Salomon.
