That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says you can usually guess what a man stands for by what he falls for.

Spring officially began Tuesday, according to the calendar, and we noticed over the weekend that some farmers have started planting potatoes and onions. After a wild and woolly winter, we can hope Mother Nature has settled down for a spell!

The return of our POW's—and some MIA's—continues to be in the news, and it is thrilling to hear the most often repeated declaration by these men, "God Bless America". Many have suffered through long, lonely years of imprisonment, and they have not lost faith in America.

In fact, it appears their faith in God and country has been strengthened. There should be a lesson for us in these significant happenings.

Forgiveness saves the expense of anger, the cost of hatred, and the waste of energy.

A new twist on the name "Hereford" was brought to our attention the other day. Seems a man from downstate was travelling in this area and had trouble with his Ford, stopping on the side of the highway. He remarked to his wife that they would have to find a place for repairs.

Whereupon, their little girl—just learning to read—pointed to a highway sign and said, "We can get it fixed there, Daddy." The father looked and saw a sign for "Hereford". Asking his daughter what she meant, the girl replied: "The sign says Here Ford!"

Here's an interesting story now making the rounds in several newspapers:

"And it came to pass that two young fleas fell in love, and after a short courtship, married and settled down. They found a large, good-natured and inactive dog for a home. Theirs was truly an ideal life. Food, shelter and heat were provided. There was a housing unit in every wrinkle. Life was sweet and easy. All they did was eat, sleep and multiply.

Freedom from want and fear had been attained, and they and their offspring enjoyed the abundant life.

But the patient old dog, sore and unappreciated, grew weak and weary. Unable any longer to support the hungry and rapidly multiplying non-productive population, he finally staggered off into the woods and died.

Consternation reigned among the fleas! They held meetings, protesting that the economic system had let them down. Some even threatened to vote for the other party. There was talk of suing the old dog for lack of cooperation.

Many of those panicky parasites perished on the spot. Others, bitter in spirit, trudged off into the cruel world and died by the roadside, trying to thumb a ride on another dog.

Now the moral of this little story is that if too many people depend on society, industry or government to look after them, to provide them with security, they may end in want and distress amid the wreckage of the nation.

Men must never forget that there is no substitute for self-reliance, individual striving and thrift to provide for their future needs."

SPRING IS HERE—Bright sunshine greeted area residents Tuesday, marking the beginning of spring on a bright note. Here, the power plant on New York Street provided a silhouette effect in welcoming in the new season.

Bell Rate Hikes Are Tabled Again

BY LORI HOPSON

Staff Writer

Hereford city commissioners held a third audience with representatives of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in regard to the company's proposed rate increase in regular session Monday night. In two former meetings, the commission had indicated that it did not believe the increase to be in order as requested.

Bell representatives re-stated their reasons for requesting the increase, saying that it had been a total of 15 years since the company has had a rate increase approved.

"We offer many items and service other cities don't have," said local Bell manager Mike Patrick. "We desperately need rate relief now, if we are to continue to provide the service we have in the past."

Consulting engineer for the city, Bill McMorris, recommended after hearing the company's contentions, that the commission deny the company its rate increase as requested.

McMorris said that the company had been inconsistent in certain areas in arriving at its figures for its annual profits and expenses, using a low appraised depreciation rate in arriving at its rate base, and a high straight-line depreciation in computing its annual expenses.

McMorris suggested a mean, or balance between the two as a percentage for the commission to apply in setting rates for the company.

Hearing the Bell representatives for the third time, commissioners were called upon to act as a rate-setting body for the company, according to Texas court rulings. They have not yet made a decision, since Bell representative Dave Dillard, the company's district manager of Amarillo, requested that the commission hold its decision until he could present further information on the subject.

Commissioners agreed to hold their ruling on the case, and an additional hearing with Bell personnel may be held in a special meeting of the commission in the near future. City commissioners and Bell representatives met in November of last year in a fact-finding investigation session, where the commission reviewed Bell's request for a rate increase. The meeting was a follow-up on other meetings with the telephone company, held earlier in 1972.

From all outward appearances, the commission indicated in the November meeting that it was not inclined to approve the rate increase until more information was provided. Though rate increases for the telephone company is one instance where Railroad Commission regulation does not apply, the Railroad Commission does set an 8 per cent ceiling on the return of investment for businesses of this nature.

The city argued in the November meeting that Bell Telephone is receiving 7.4 per cent return on its investment according to figures presented in the rate proposal.

Present for the telephone company at Monday's meeting were Edward Line, attorney for the company, Patrick, and Dillard.

In other business, the commission accepted and approved the low bid on five police patrol units. Jones Motor company submitted the low bid out of three for the units, setting their figure at $13,441. Other bids were by Dick Norwood Chevrolet at $13,711 and Orval Watson Ford at $14,190.

Dale Young, general chairman of the planning committee for Hereford's Diamond Jubilee celebration, set for Aug. 25 through Sept. 1, extended an invitation to city commissioners to the Jubilee's planning session Monday at 7:30 in the high school auditorium.

"There seems to be an attitude of gloom and pessimism in the city now, and I think a Jubilee of this nature will involve a greater cross-section of people than any other event ever," he said. He encouraged commissioners to be present at the meeting, and give their full support in an effort to make the Jubilee a success. The commission closed its regular business with the agreement to purchase a tract of land in Veteran's Park at $110 per acre, out of city revenue-sharing funds.

Absentee Balloting Is At 'Zero'

No absentee balloting had taken place as of Wednesday morning in either the city election or the school board election, according to both the city office and the school tax office.

Absentee voting for the city election began March 14 and will end March 30 while absentee voting in the school board election began Monday.

Hospital In Eventful Meeting

—New Equipment, Therapy Room, Employee Benefits—

BY O.G. NIEMAN

Directors of the Deaf Smith County Hospital District, in an eventful monthly meeting Tuesday morning, approved the purchase of new delivery room equipment, authorized the installation of a physical therapy department, and adopted a new plan for employee benefits.

Ron Welty, hospital administrator, estimated the delivery room equipment would cost about $10,000. Part of the cost will be paid by Project Christmas Card, the annual drive sponsored by Hereford Medical Auxiliary to provide extra equipment.

Welty reported that the foundation has been poured for the new obstetrics wing, and brick work will start soon. If bad weather does not slow up the work, completion of the wing is expected in May and hospital officials hope to open the new delivery room facilities by June 1.

The board had previously discussed the possibility of contracting for a physical therapy service in the hospital. Welty said the new department would be added when the delivery room facilities have been completed, or about June 1.

Welty said directors had adopted an "improved program of employee benefits, including paid holidays and a better sick-pay plan." The board decided to do away with cafeteria meals (See "Hospital" Page 2)

Eying the time when there will be an all-voluntary Army, the Bureau of Budget has slashed the Selective Service Administration's budget by some $33 million, thus necessitating a cutback in selective service offices throughout Texas.

The local selective service office will be one of some 47 offices in the state that will be "co-located"—that is, combined with another office in a regional area.

Major Ernest M. Howard, information officer with the Texas Selective Service office, said Tuesday that the target date for the shut-down of the local office is in November.

However, he said, it could be sooner, depending "on a lot of things that could happen to either speed that up or slow it down."

The target date for having all the offices closed is Dec. 15 of this year.

"We are not married to any of these dates. They are tentative because so many things could change between now and then," he said.

The local selective service office, which employs one person on a full-time basis, will be "co-located" into the Amarillo office. All office work will be carried into the Amarillo-based office, but the local selective service board, which reviews potential inductees, will continue to operate as it has in the past.

"Your selective service board there in Hereford, which serves Castro, Parmer, Randall and Deaf Smith Counties, will continue to have board meetings at Hereford for the majority of the time. Things will remain as they have in the past, but the difference will be the office location in Amarillo now," Howard said.

At this time, there are some 107 selective service offices throughout the State of Texas. This figure will be cut to 63 by December, but Howard pointed out that this cut is not as severe as in most of the other states.

The reasoning behind the phasing out of the local office,

Fourth In A Series

'This Town Is No Different'—McBrayer

(Editor's note: This is the fourth in a series of articles dealing with the problems of drug abuse and effects in the area. Dr. Duffy McBrayer, a local physician, is active in fighting drug abuse and problems with public talks and lectures on the adverse effects of drugs and narcotics.)

BY LORI HOPSON

"I don't think this town is any different from any other town in the nation—or even in the world. Our first and foremost abuse problem is tobacco, followed, probably, by such things as aspirin and laxatives then by alcohol. These are all abused. We are living in a drug-oriented society."

These are some of the comments of local physician Duffy McBrayer on the problems of drug abuse and use in the nation and in the local area. He continued to say that this has some good aspects and some bad.

"People are educated now that there are some drugs that cure diseases, that have never been possible to cure before, and that's good. But the reverse side of the point is that we also expect things from drugs which we can't get. We expect when we feel bad to feel good, and when things are not going right—a tranquilizer or a couple of stiff drinks, and you can be Mr. Suave."

"This is all drug abuse. I don't know whether there's a cure for that or not. I suspect that when man begins to rely on his inner self, and all the psychological and theological implication of that, until he begins to look into himself, and find a way to deal with his environment and his fellow man in a satisfactory and non-anxious or hostile way, he's probably going to rely on drugs, crutches and things outside of himself.

"This is what the whole 'drug scene' was all about. Space out, leave this 'military' 'Shal complex' of the 'leave it to the polluters, make this world which is not pretty, a pretty place."

But unfortunately, according to Dr. McBrayer, quite the opposite is true. He added that under the extended influence or the abuse of any drug, one begins to lose whatever "inner self" he had to begin with.

"Most of the drugs, alcohol, tobacco, whatever; all of them will cause problems both psychological and physiological. Pretty soon you begin to pay a price for this crutch, whatever it is. With cigarettes it's emphysema, or cancer; with liquor its embarrassment, physical disorders and finally death. That's a tremendous price to pay."

Dr. McBryer said that a corollary might be made with drugs which are currently "in vogue."

"The road to 'rack and ruin' on those drugs, if abused, is as certain as any other road to destruction.

"As far as the problem we have locally, I don't know there may be kids behind every tree smoking marijuana, I just don't know. We know about those who have been apprehended or have done something anti-social. I don't know about it personally, because users don't get sick, at least not initially. Twenty years from now, nobody knows. The advocates of marijuana say it does no harm. That may be true, and I hope so.

"I hope, on a national level, that we continue to investigate it, and if it turns out that marijuana is totally and completely safe, and cannot be abused to the point of causing illness as tobacco and alcohol can, I think it would be foolish not to outlaw whiskey and cigarettes and make marijuana available to those who desire a crutch, but I surely wouldn't want to do it any other way."

He added that no one has a sure answer to the drug abuse problem, and that this is a question which is going around all over the country.

"What do we do with people who are involved? Obviously the threat of a felony rap is not enough, although it surely would be for me. That means no graduate school, no professional school, medical or law school. You can't ever hold public office, work for the state or the civil service. It's really serious. It makes a DWI charge look like a Sunday picnic. I really don't understand why anybody smokes it. Obviously the penalty is not the answer, because people are daring it every day."

"No matter what it does to their brain and their body, they're risking their entire career, whatever it might be."

He said that education is an unsure answer to the problem of marijuana use, because there is so little known about the drug.

"We really don't have much to educate people about. If there is some individual person who is having a problem with it, then I think it would be very appropriate for him to talk with whomever he trusts, such as parents, attorney, physician; and level with them. Then he can get help. There is help in guidance, psychological counseling, and in the case of hard drugs, there are withdrawal programs—all kinds of help is available."

Dr. McBryer said that many young people are beginning to challenge those in the over-20 generation with some hard-to-face questions.

"They're saying 'OK, you tell me, don't smoke grass, don't take speed or acid; and you come some from work, open a fresh pack of cigarettes for the night, and before it's hello, kiss my foot or anything else, you're pouring that double martini. You have three of those, and then you gorge yourself on steak and potatoes, when you're already about 40 pounds overweight. You have a glass of wine with the meal, a little brandy with your coffee, and you're asleep before the ten o'clock news, and you're telling me to stay away from drugs.—That doesn't make sense. I know it doesn't make sense, and so does anyone who thinks about it. That's the old 'do as I say and not as I do' and nobody buys that anymore."

at noon and evening, but is increasing salaries to offset this benefit.

Directors approved the installation of vending machine foods and drinks, available 24 hours a day for employees and visitors. "We are too small to provide cafeteria service, and we can now concentrate on food services for patients," Welty announced.

Under the new benefits plan, employees will receive full pay on sick leave—being allowed five days a year with one to two years service, and 10 days a year with more than two years service. In addition, the hospital is offering income protection insurance for employees, with the hospital paying a portion of the cost. The same health and life insurance plans continue, as well as the same vacation policies.

While discussing long range plans, directors decided to undertake a study of upgrading facilities in the old wing of the hospital. Welty said the board is also considering the possibility of installing laundry facilities in the hospital. This would probably be accomplished within the next six months, he added.

Gary Stagner appeared at the board meeting to summarize the third annual report of the Public Health Clinic. He expressed appreciation to the board and to Deaf Smith General Hospital for their cooperation in helping provide the clinic. It is now housed in one wing of the hospital.

Welty reported that a new portable x-ray machine was put into service during February. The machine was donated to the hospital by Mrs. W. Ralph Jones of Kansas City, Mo. A routine medical staff report was made by Dr. A.T. Mims.

Attending the meeting were directors Ed Line, Tommy Carnahan, Mrs. Charles Hoover, Lawrence Strauss, and Dr. J.H. McCrary. Ed Wilson was absent due to illness.

There are some 15 offices located in the northern portion of Texas from an area from Brown field eastward to Wichita Falls. Of those 15 original offices, three already have been co-located and the ultimate goal is to shrink the original number to only six.

Cleta Ailshie is executive secretary of the local selective service office. She has been with the selective service office for seven years, five of those in Hereford.

as well as many others throughout the state, is that with the all-voluntary Army concept, there will not be as great a need for selective service offices. The cutback will take more than 100 persons off the selective service payrolls, though Howard said most of these will come off the larger-populated areas.

"Another reason," Howard said, "is that the budget is being cut nationally from $88 billion to $85 billion for operation of the Selective Service Administration.

"Since we are not inducting right now and are looking for an all-volunteer Army in the future, the Bureau of the Budget feels we need to cut back."

Howard said about 80 per cent of the Selective Service Administration's budget is used in salary for its employees. Since there has been no inductions for some time, and likely not to be in the near future, Howard said, there is no longer the need for so many people.

They show that individual income and employment taxes collected throughout the state last year came to $7,126,000,000, with local residents producing some 0.14 per cent of the total.

And this year, if the administration's expectations are realized, the receipts will be even greater.

Based on the budget it submitted to Congress recently, it counts on such taxes totaling $11.9 billion more, nationally, than last April.

Because of the economic gains made in the local area in the past year, notwithstanding the fact that there was more unemployment than usual, local residents will be bearing their full share of this increase.

Their payments to Washington this year will total approximately $10,824,000, it is estimated.

During the next fiscal year,

Taxes Once Again In Spotlight Here

With the day of reckoning, April 16th, rapidly approaching, taxes are once again in the spotlight in Deaf Smith County.

The big question among local residents who are busy doing their arithmetic is how much of a bite the government will be taking this time.

Will it be bigger than it was last April when personal income taxes from the local area, including employment taxes paid via withholding, added up to approximately $9,976,000?

All indications are that it will, because incomes were larger in 1972, on average, than they were the previous year.

The size of the tax load borne by Deaf Smith County residents is estimated from figures released by the Internal Revenue Service covering the State of Texas as a whole.

They show that individual income and employment taxes and will continue through April 4.

In the city election, incumbent H.A. (Hap) Cavness is unopposed in his bid for reelection to Place II. Two contenders, James T. Hull and Paul Ahalos are vying for Place I, an office vacated by Lynton Allred who is not seeking reelection. Incumbent Jim Sears stands unopposed in the mayor's race.

Four persons are seeking election to the two open positions on the seven-member school board. Incumbents Ed Loerwald and Clark Andrews were joined in the race by Danny Martin and Ron Zimmerman.

The school board election is scheduled for April 7 and the city elections will be held April 3.

which begins on July 1, 1973, the President plans to put the brakes on Federal spending in order to get the country into a sounder financial condition.

His expectation for the coming fiscal year, as projected in the budget, is for personal income and employment taxes reaching $163.9 billion, which is $11.3 billion more than is coming in this year.

For Deaf Smith County taxpayers to meet their proportionate part of this increase, it is estimated that local incomes will have to advance by about 7.4 per cent during 1973.

Caprock Upsets Herd

Would you believe that Hereford outdid the Caprock Longhorns but lost a 21-1 decision at Amarillo Tuesday?

That's exactly what happened, but it's easier to understand when you consider the Whitefaces committed 10 errors and five of Caprock's seven hits went for extra bases.

The loss left Hereford with a 3-6 won-lost mark going into 4-AAAA baseball action. The Whitefaces host Plainview Friday at 6 p.m. in the district opener. Coach Aaron Bourland will likely have Ricky Locke on the mound.

In Amarillo Tuesday, Hereford collected nine hits, compared to just seven for the winners. Using walks and errors, with some timely extra-base knocks, the Longhorns scored in six of the seven innings in running up the one-sided score.

Let's Cook Something

Texas CowBelles Head Naturally Cooks Beef

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

PURPOSE OF THE COWBELLES organization is to promote use of beef; March and April are Texas Grain-Fed Beef promotion months; so the president of Texas CowBelles, Mrs. Jack Carrothers of 119 Texas, naturally has beef recipes in mind as her favorites.

The Hereford housewife who was chosen president when a state CowBelles group was formed last year has other things on her mind this spring, related to the organization of women who are interested in the cattle industry.

One is a Beefmobile Showcase, a van which will travel to various Texas areas where there are CowBelle groups, for educational displays starting in mid-April.

Another is a state meeting April 24 and 25 in Lubbock, with delegates expected from all nine of the area groups formed in Texas since a state branch of the national CowBelles came into existence.

THEN THERE IS A TEXAS Grain-Fed Beef Cookoff sponsored by Texas Agricultural Products association with a $500 top award and other cash prizes to be given in May. TAP is sponsor of the spring promotion months which CowBelles are supporting heartily, Mrs. Carrothers explains.

Also, a CowBelle cookbook is in the making, featuring recipes and buying guides for cooks with limited time.

Adding to all these activities, Texas CowBelles started a project which is being adopted nationally, to send a gift of beef to each of the prisoners of war now being released by North Vietnam, to reach him as soon as he returns to his home.

But in the current rush, it's difficult for Betty Carrothers to say that she is unusually busy with CowBelles' concerns. She hasn't been idle since the day she was picked for the presidency of the new state organization.

TRAVELING ABOUT THE STATE as she helps organize local clubs, writing innumerable letters, talking with visitors and by telephone, working with various organizations of cattle breeders, raisers, feeders, processors and marketers, she stays fully occupied.

When she became state president her husband warned her of the time the office would require, she says, but she simply reminded him that he had spent as much time when he was an organizer of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association a few years ago.

The Carrothers have lived here since the summer of 1962, when he became manager of Friona Cattle Feeders. He is now president of Friona Industries, which includes not only feedyards but firms to supply feed and other products used in cattle feeding.

HE HAS BEEN ASSOCIATED with the cattle industry since graduation from college and a job in Billings, Mont. The family lived there and in Colorado before moving to Hereford.

The oldest son, Bob, is with a cattle feeding-marketing firm at Greeley, Colo., now; Steve is a junior engineering major at SMU, Bill a senior in Hereford High with plans to major in photography at SMU, and the only Daughter, Cathy, is an HHS sophomore.

Mrs. Carrothers is enthusiastic about the Beefmobile project, which Lloyd Senn, an Amarillo television announcer, has organized. It will carry literature and posters made by CowBelles, charts comparing beef price increases with those for other foods, and information on beef cuts and cookery.

VISITING EACH CITY WHERE CowBelles are organized, it will enable the local members to stage displays similar to that held recently by Hereford CowBelles in Sugarland Mall. Visitors at each stop will register for a drawing, with beef cuts as prizes.

Plans are complete for the state convention at Lubbock, where a reception will be held the evening of April 24 and a general meeting the next morning in Lubbock Country Club. In the afternoon Bonita Bohnsack of the National Meat Board will speak and conduct a workshop for beef promotion chairmen.

For the beef cookoff, in addition to the top award there will be $200 cash awards to winners in each of three divisions; tender cuts, less tender cuts and variety cuts. Entry blanks may be obtained from Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Austin 78711. Deadline for entries is April 30.

This will be the second annual beef cookoff. Mrs. Carrothers gives the grand prize winner's recipe from last year:

TEXAS BEEF PARTY DOGS

- 2 lb. ground beef, lean
- 2 lb. minced dehydrated onion
- 1 lb. minced dehydrated green pepper
- 1 tsp. salt
- Pepper
- 1/2 tsp. celery salt
- 1 cup coarsely crushed Old London blue cheese and cracker crumbs (or cheddar cheese)
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 tsp. lemon and pepper seasoning
- 12 slices bacon

ALAS, FRANCE

The cost-of-living index in France rose during the month of December by 0.5 per cent, bringing the total increase for 1972 to 6.9 per cent.

Combine all ingredients except the Texas beef and bacon; mix thoroughly. Add ground beef and mix well. Divide into 10 or 12 equal parts. Make each part into the shape of a wiener about an inch thick. Wrap each with a strip of bacon and secure with wooden toothpick. Place on broiler rack and cook with oven set on broil. Broil top side till golden brown. Watch closely so bacon does not burn. Turn and broil other side. These may be cooked on outdoor barbecue, over low-burning coals.

Club Elects Officers

Election of officers was the main event for Alpha Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at its meeting Tuesday evening.

They are Mrs. James Shearer, president; Mrs. R.J. Cramer, vice-president; Mrs. Howard Gore, recording secretary; Orlene Williams, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Schneider, treasurer; Mrs. Delbert Banium, civil defense.

Those to serve on the City BSA Council are Mmes. Max Slape, Joe Story, Gore, Banium, Shearer, and as alternate, Mrs. Hix Roberson.

The club met at community center with Mrs. Chuck Laing hosting the meeting.

Also during the business meeting the members voted for the girl of the year, who will be revealed at the Founders Day Dinner April 30.

The club was asked by the General Federation of Women's Clubs to submit five names for the Outstanding Young Women of America for 1973. Mrs. Joe Frank Huckert, a member, won this award in the recent past.

Members present were Mmes. Nolan Grady, Hix Roberson, Harold Buschcamp, John Schneider, Delbert Banium, Howard Gore, Max Slape, James Shearer, Orlene Williams and R.J. Cramer.

The five stores are located in the greater Oklahoma City area, in Lawton, Oklahoma, and in Santa Fe, N.M.

Texas Heroine's Story Told Club

One of Texas' famed true stories of pioneer years, the capture of Cynthia Ann Parker by Comanche Indians, her life with the captors and finally her recapture by Texas Rangers, was related to members of La Affiliatus Estudio Club Tuesday.

Mrs. A.H. Cook gave the program at the REC Medallion Room, where Mrs. Lottie Clark was hostess. The speaker reviewed one of numerous books which have been written about Cynthia Ann, who was captured in an Indian raid on an East Texas community early in the nineteenth century.

A small child then, she grew up with the Comanches, married one of their chiefs, Nocona, and after her return to her family was homesick for her husband, children and Indian friends.

Mrs. B.F. Markham opened the program with the Thought For The Day, giving facts both serious and humorous about former U.S. presidents.

Business, with Mrs. Sam Morgan presiding, included the resignation of Mrs. A.L. Hewitt as vice president. The office was left vacant for the present.

Also at the meeting were Mmes. A.B. Higgins, T.W. Roberson, S.C. Ramey, A.N. Hopson, Emmett Hale; Misses Madeline Bell and Della Stagner.

Mrs. J.C. Brown Named Club Head

Electing officers for next season, La Plata Study Club named Mrs. J.C. Brown president to take office in May, at a Tuesday evening meeting in Mrs. Ken Rogers' home. She will succeed Mrs. Pat Hughes, who will act as the next parliamentarian.

Mrs. Jack Brown was named vice president, Mrs. Rogers secretary, Mrs. Jake Webb correspondent, Mrs. Ray Seale treasurer, Mrs. O.G. Nieman historian-reporter.

Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Nieman were selected to represent the club at the open meeting Monday when plans are to be made for community-wide observance of Hereford's 75th anniversary next August.

Mrs. Tommy Carnahan and Kathryn Acton were guests introduced by Mrs. Jack Brown to present the program on cancer detection, showing films supplied by Deaf Smith County chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Other members present included Mmes. Kenneth E. Hurt, Louis Woodford, W.D. Askew, Ansel McDowell, Alex Glass, J.D. Neill, Harlan VanderZee, Jay Boston, Don Taylor, Pete Cash, Raymond White, Urlin Streu, Frank Prowell, A.J. Schroeter, Nancy Richie, and Major Schroeter.

A program on Europe by Mrs. Elmer Kimball was given to El Llano Study Club during its meeting Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Melvin Thompson with Mrs. John Jacobsen as co-hostess.

Mrs. Kimball showed slides of her trip to Europe, telling mostly of Germany, Switzerland and France. She and her husband visited friends and relatives in Germany and she told of her experiences there. Mrs. Bob Word presided over business in the absence of the president, Mrs. R.C. Hoelscher.

Small Talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

THOSE LITTLE QUOTATIONS that women's clubs put at the top of program notes in their yearbooks—often are clever and sometimes have a message worth noticing, whether or not it has anything to do with the day's program.

The one in La Afflatus Estudio Club's book for the Tuesday program had no relation to the talks that members heard, but it caught my eye and maybe you haven't heard it:

"The driver is safer when the roads are dry; the roads are safer when the driver is dry."

ALWAYS A SAD SIGHT in a town is one of its older houses, maybe once a very nice home but ill-used and abandoned, falling to ruin and cluttered with junk. And always a welcome sight is one in that class, reclaimed.

That's the house on the corner where South Main meets Country Club Drive. It is in a conspicuous place, and has appeared more and more hopeless the last few years until it made you wish somebody would drop a lighted cigarette in the tall weeds around it.

Now its yard is cleaned, its fence braced up, its outside repaired and painted until it is a credit to the neighborhood. There has been no major remodeling job, mostly just a lot of hard work, I suspect, but the old house looks like a home again.

Whoever it is that lives there and fixed that place up, I hereby nominate to receive the Good Example of the Year award in the spring cleanup campaign, if there is such an award. If not, there should be.

MRS. L.J. IWIG, who lives in the Ford community on the Vega Highway, has been in and out of a Canyon hospital for treatment of back injuries received in one of our recent March winds.

Hereford Woman's Brother Is Buried

Funeral services for Rayford Martin, 38, of Lockney, brother of Mrs. Mike Patrick of Hereford, were conducted Friday in the Church of Christ at Lockney and burial was in the cemetery at Flomot.

Mr. Martin, a farmer at Lockney, is survived by his wife and three sons, also a sister at Plainview in addition to Mrs. Patrick.

A sign outside of Sugarland Mall hit her when it was blown down and she became one of the several casualties resulting from the more-than-brisk breezes that have caused considerable damage hearabout lately. A wind doesn't have to be a tornado to do damage, you know.

THE WHOLE CARROLL McDonald family was back in Hereford on the weekend, visiting around with various friends for the first time since they moved to Lubbock in the winter. McDonald was Southwestern Public Service manager here, and got a promotion to an office in Lubbock.

He and Ramona and their daughters, Brenda and Rozanne, are missed by numerous friends here.

Stanton Choir Wins Second Sweepstakes

The Stanton Junior High mixed choir won its second sweepstakes award in as many years Tuesday at University Interscholastic League Region I competition.

The 45-member mixed choir, directed by Douglas Morris, won a sweepstakes award last year—the first time in nearly 15 years, according to Morris.

Hereford Artist To Show Work

An exhibition of art, the work of Joyce Hickman of Hereford, will be presented by the West Texas State University department of art from 2 to 5:30 p.m. Sunday in the ballroom of the activities center on the WTSU campus.

After the Sunday opening, the exhibit will be on view Monday through Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. Work is in mixed media.

Mrs. Hickman is working toward a masters degree in art, and taught last semester in the WTSU department of art under Dr. Emilio Caballero, chairman of the department.

She studied art with private teachers at Corpus Christi, Uvalde and Hereford, and attended Del Mar University before completing studies for a BS degree from WTSU in 1970.

She holds memberships in Alpha Chi, Kappa Delta Pi, Kappa Pi and the West Texas Watercolor Association.

Wife of Robert Hickman, who farms north of Hereford, she lives at 814 Ave. K. The Hickmans have three daughters.

Mrs. Travis Bentley of Amarillo, Becky and Susie of the home.

First prize in watercolor and mixed media was awarded her at the Tri-State Fair of 1971. Her work has been shown at the Museum of Modern Art at Oklahoma City, Texas Tech annual watercolor exhibition of 1971, at the opening of Amarillo College Art Center, and the Country Store Gallery in Austin.

She is represented in private collections at Oral Roberts University at Tulsa and North Texas State University at Denton. A showing of her work in the Music Stand Restaurant here is planned during May.

Of her preferred medium, Mrs. Hickman says a choice is difficult: "It was as great a pleasure to get one piece of metal to become a part of another in acetylene welding, as to achieve that first successful watercolor, the one in five or ten that satisfies."

Her biggest surprise in selling art, she says, was to find people willing to pay well for furniture in their home, but expecting to buy a painting for a few dollars. She has been amused that buyers expect an oil painting to sell for more than a watercolor, despite the fact that the latter is longer lasting, never fades or cracks.

She believes Americans are just recognizing the value of art in psychotherapy, in that art stimulates contemplative and creative ability as few other areas can.

Myths About Cats Exploded

Does a cat really have nine lives? There are many feline faux pas that have gained acceptance down through the years among cat owners—but even the most patriotic cat has but a single life to give for its country—er, owner. Let's explore some of the more common misconceptions about cats, and in the process discover some interesting petlore myths about our feline companions.

... All cats love milk. Very young kittens usually like milk, but most mature cats can either take it or leave it. In fact, cats are often tea-tolerators of the worst degree, and derive a great deal of their moisture or water intake directly from their food.

... The path of a black cat is bordered with misfortune. This is only true if the black cat happens to evoke the anger of another cat slightly larger in stature. Then our black cat may be in for an unfortunate confrontation, one he's not likely to win. But if a black cat crosses your path you won't necessarily be in for bad luck. However, be very cautious if two black cats cross your path. Three black cats and you'd better stay indoors for at least three days.

... Cats transmit leukemia.

This was a popular misconception recently, and the lingering thought that cats may transmit this disease to humans still prevails. The results of current research and experimentation has revealed that there is apparently no transmission of cat leukemia to humans.

... The best way to pick a cat up is by the scruff of the neck. Ouch! How would you like your cat to pick you up by the scruff of the neck?

... A cat can heal its wounds by licking them. Certain enzymes present in saliva will aid in clearing a wound of damaged or dead tissue, and in this respect the process of healing may be accelerated. But licking an open wound directly does not cause it to heal. In fact repeated licking may hamper the healing process by continually breaking down scab formation.

... Cats love mice. Cats are usually fascinated by any quick-moving object. Really, though, a tasty tuna fish snack would please your cat as much as any a la carte mouse would. Well, almost as much.

... A cat is more intelligent than a dog. Statistics show that there are as many Ph.D.'s among felines as there are among canines. This one ends in a draw.

And while we're talking about furry creatures, does anybody really believe that a rabbit's foot is lucky? If so, you might ask yourself, how come the rabbit lost the foot in the first place?

Spring Fashions Shown At Lunch

Fashions for spring were paraded to musical accompaniment, with members of Hereford CowBelles as models at the club's March luncheon Tuesday in Hereford Country Club.

Shape Up For Spring was the theme of the style show, with Teddy Alexander commenting on fashions from Gaston's of Hereford and Alexander's of Amarillo. Mrs. Tom Burdett, pianist, played as models paraded, and as a background for luncheon conversation.

Mrs. Lynton Alfred sang solos, accompanied by Mrs. Burdett, to introduce each section of the style show. Selections included the theme song of the 1973 Miss Hereford pageant, Let A Smile Be Your Umbrella.

This spring's styles are suited to West Texas women, "who don't want to bother with fashion, but just want to look good," Mrs. Alexander said as she pointed out daytime clothes on simple lines but in bright colors, keyed to varied activities, and soft, clinging feminine dress for evening. Models were Jean Reissner, Sandra Reissner and her small daughter, Laurie, Ruth Newsom, Nancy Jousseand, Carole Wood, Jack McCracken, Tina Reissner, Patti Threentine.

Also Ella Marie Veigel, Berna Ottesen, Pat Lawson, Arlis Stewart, Billie McCauley, Lisa Heights, Ruth Warner, Kay McWhorter, Joanne Simmer, Linda Reissner and Pat Hill. Hostesses for the luncheon were Misses Richard Caldwell, Phoebe Carstens, Ann Black and Elmer Kimball. They decorated the club ballroom with spring blossoms featuring sunny yellow, branches of flowering fruit trees and big tissue butterflies in deeper shades of yellow. Lunch was served to approximately 100 members and guests.

In the business period with Mrs. Jousseand presiding, attention was called to local members of Texas-Growth-Defeat Month, including credit announcements. Mrs. Beane Lawson announced that entry blanks are available now at markets for the Texas-Growth-Defeat Book-off and urged members to complete for the $500 and $200 cash prizes.

Teen TOPS Cited For Goal Achievements

First certificates to be presented members of Teen TOPS Club, which was organized here last fall, were given at the Monday meeting to Bonnie Day and Sandra Finley, who recorded weight loss of 11 and 13 pounds, respectively, from last Oct. 3 to Jan. 1.

Purpose of the club is to help its members Take Off Pounds Sensibly; its name comes from initial letters of words in the slogan. Both the certificate winners have lost additional weight since Jan. 1, as they continue to achieve weight loss goals. Their mothers, Mrs. Marvin Finley and Mrs. Jerry Hix, were guests at the meeting Monday, when new officers were elected.

Miss Finley was named secretary, Doris Hill treasurer, Miss Day weight recorder with Desiree Brown as her assistant, and Kathy Ann Digby reporter. Mrs. J.B. Digby is sponsor and Mrs. A.L. Greenway leader.

The club, meeting at 4 p.m. each Monday in Community Center, is open to all interested teenagers, boys as well as girls. TOPS Clubs for adults have been in operation here several years, but this is the first for teens.

Its programs offer information on low-calorie food which members may use in diets approved by their doctors, and there are also social occasions. The club is affiliated with national TOPS clubs; weight loss goals are recognized locally and in the national organization.

greeted by Mrs. Black, the honoree, Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. Herring. Monica Herring invited callers to register.

Tea was served at a table covered with net over white satin, the lace-trimmed cloth reaching the floor. In the center was a permanent arrangement of red and white flowers, presented after the party to the bride-elect.

Flowers on the registry table were in the same colors, selected by Miss Gilbert for wedding decorations.

Hostesses included Mmes. Harlan VanderZee, Calvin Goodin, Lynton Allred, Rex Lee, Bartley Dowell, Bobby Owen, Elmore Rains, Jimmy Mercer, Ray Frye.

Also Mmes. Edgar Vinson, Tommy Carnahan, Clyde Rush, B.F. Cain, Robert Hickman, Clint Formby, Leroy Williamson, C.E. Leasure Jr., W.E. Sparks and Mrs. Bill Lankford of Amarillo.

Complimentary to Noel Louise Sims before her April 7 wedding to John Hagar, a shower-tea was given Saturday in the home of Mrs. Jack Brown, with Mmes. Bill Blackwell, Bill Brewer, Kim Blackwell, Florence Fluitt, Joe White and Lloyd Smith as other hostesses.

Daisies and snapdragons decorated the tea table in blue and yellow, colors the bride-elect has chosen for her wedding.

Her grandmother, Mrs. Clyde Spiller of Carlsbad, N.M., poured coffee. An aunt, Betty Solt of Roswell, invited guests to register.

The honoree's paternal grandmother, Mrs. George Sims of Roswell, was also present, as was Mrs. Paul Hoff, grandmother of the bridegroom-elect.

Other out-of-town guests were Georgia Solt of Roswell, cousin of the bride-to-be, Mrs. Doyle Webster and Carla Webster of

Amarillo and Mrs. Vista White of Santa Rosa, N.M. Miss Sims is the daughter of the George T. Sims and her fiance's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W.P. Hagar. The wedding is to take place in First United Methodist Church here.

State Happenings

Gov. Dolph Briscoe submitted as emergencies 14 bills dealing with creation of water districts and their operations. The House passed 138-0 a bill to restrict influence on speakership elections. The House appropriations committee chairman has proposed a four-months' welfare budget until uncertain cost factors are decided. A House-passed comparative negligence bill has received approval of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee. The Court of Criminal Appeals says it has the heaviest work load of any appellate court in the U.S. and is eight to nine months behind in its docket. Medical facilities at Lubbock, Eastland, Temple, Rockdale, El Paso and Houston received $2.2 million in loans and grants approved by the State Board of Health. The Governor's mansion will be open to visitors on Saturdays and Sundays in addition to weekdays. Hearings are scheduled over the state next week on changes in laws affecting fish, game animals and fur-bearing animals.

Drive Nets 30 New Members

Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce 1973 membership drive netted 30 new members, with Rex Easterwood signing up the most new members. Easterwood, with 26 points, received the television set given by the C of C to the top worker. Opal Norton was second place worker with 20 points and received a clock radio. Third place worker was Irene McKinster with 20 points. She was presented a radio. Points in the membership drive were determined by the type of membership signed up.

La Plata Choirs Participate In UIL Contests

Two points were received when an individual was inducted and four for a business. The drive, which began March 1 and ended March 16, was headed by Jeff Carlile with Charlie Bell as co-chairman.

The 35-member girls' choir received a I, or superior rating in concert and a III rating in sight-reading while the 45-member mixed choir brought home a II rating in concert and a III in sight-reading. "I'm very pleased with the concert performances by the two choirs, however, we do hope to improve on the sight-reading," Brink stated.

What's Exciting About A UCLA Win?

By ANN RUDY
Copley News Service

I'm not one of those wives who complain because her husband is forever watching sports on television. I say a woman has no right to gripe as long as her husband is doing what annoys her right in his own home. It's when he goes out to do it she has to start worrying. So I'm not complaining. But I am going to make a comment.

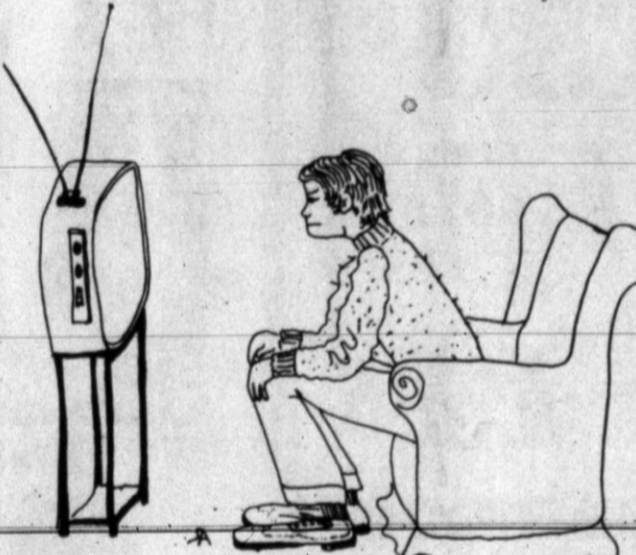

What, do you suppose, possesses a man to sit down in front of a television set and watch UCLA play basketball? They've won over 60 games in vegetables to add freshness to family menus may be grown in little space, even indoors. Choice of varieties suited to this locality, and other details of garden planning were discussed by Mrs. Draper. Mrs. Phillip Miller was a guest.

a row, so what's to see? When a team wins that often they should step decently aside and let somebody else have a turn. They call themselves sports? It's like a hostess keeping the door prize and keeping it. And it certainly isn't fair to my husband who hurries home from work hoping to see a real game. Frankly, I think the networks are showing reruns. If they aren't, they should. It would save them the trouble of dragging all that cumbersome TV equipment out in to the night. "Listen," I said to my husband, "Why don't you watch something that has a little suspense going for it — like the Partridge Family? Aren't you interested in seeing if they can get any worse?" He kept his eyes on the TV and waved me to be quiet. "Shhhhhh!" he said. "UCLA is only 30 points ahead. This is exciting." Shows you what conditioning will do. And the next morning other grown men actually write about the game on the sports page so the same guys who sat through it all the night before can read about it over their coffee. I ask you. But UCLA basketball games have done one thing for me I never thought would happen: thanks to them, I've become a sports expert. Whenever anybody at a party mentions basketball now, I don't have to look down into my glass and contemplate my ice cubes. I simply roll my eyes and say, "How about that UCLA? Another win!" Who says women don't know much about sports?

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Early senate approval was forecast by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby for HB 3 to strengthen the open meetings law.

The bill was cleared by a criminal matters subcommittee of the Jurisprudence Committee last week.

The shield bill (HB 10) to protect newsmen from forced disclosure of information sources was due consideration in the criminal matters subcommittee this week. It will be expanded to include definitions contained in a U.S. Senate bill and probably amended to provide for a State Supreme Court mandamus proceeding to compel disclosure of information sources under certain cases, according to Senate sponsor, Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena.

Hearing was delayed until April 10 on HB 6 to broaden accessibility of information on government records pending a Legislative Budget Board estimate on the cost of the act to the state.

TAX BILL SEEN—Legislators will be forced to write a new tax bill due to demands of higher education and welfare, the chairman of an interim House Revenue and Tax Committee maintain.

If the regular session manages to get by with no tax bill, lawmakers will be called into special session to pass one, predicted Rep. Don Cavness of Austin. Rep. Joe Wyatt of Bloomington, co-chairman of the committee, shared the gloomy forecast, adding that federal welfare guidelines will cost the state an extra $100 million a year.

Cavness also cited the estimated $28 million a year cost of adult education bill and a $13 million-cost measure to insure teachers a duty-free lunch hour, plus the multi-million-dollar bilingual education bill.

Both lawmakers also referred to the federal case involving validity of the state's method of financing public school education.

Texas, the committee found, ranks 40th among 50 states in tax load but has among the most regressive tax systems. The committee recommended a permanent revenue and tax staff, increased use of bond income for appropriation, use of private collection attorneys and a monthly reporting option.

18-YEAR-OLD RIGHTS APPROVED—Full rights of maturity for 18- to 20 year olds received tentative senate approval by a 19-11 vote.

The Senate also passed legislation to slow creation of new state-supported colleges by requiring prior approval of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System. Still later, senators voted to extend collective bargaining rights (but not the right to strike ) to policemen and firemen. Local governing bodies would have an option to grant the rights or order elections on the issue.

CRIME RATE DOWN—Major crimes are on the decline in Texas, according to a new Department of Public Safety report.

Col. Wilson E. Speir, DPS director, said the number of crimes last year was 2.2 per cent below 1971—the first measurable decline since 1954. Translated into crime rates, the 1972 figure was six per cent below the 1971 rate per 100,000 population.

The decrease, Speir said, was only the fourth since DPS began compiling its Texas Crime Report 30 years ago. Decreases were noted in murders, aggravated assaults and thefts. Small increases were observed in rapes, robberies and auto thefts—with a larger increase in the burglary category.

The urban crime rate overall was down 5.7 per cent, with the rural rate off 5.8 per cent.

Crime clearance rates remained at 26 per cent. Clearance rate for murder improved from 86 per cent to 89 per cent, with further improvements noted in robberies, aggravated assaults and thefts.

Many factors are responsible, said Speir.

The DPS chief cited improved law enforcement effectiveness through training, education, more personnel and better facilities, as well as improvements in other parts of the criminal justice system and "a growing awareness and concern on the part of the public that crime must be impeded."

The crime statistics break down to one major crime every minute, a murder every five and a quarter hours, a rape every three hours and 45 minutes and a robbery every half hour.

AG OPINIONS—Atty. Gen. John Hill held key parts of the House-passed lobby control bill constitutional, but said some provisions are not.

For example, said the Attorney General, a section that attempts to force registration of those who make expenditures to solicit other persons by advertising to communicate with legislators goes too far. Lobbyists opposing the bill before the Senate Jurisprudence Committee said it abridges rights of citizens to communicate with their legislators.

In other opinions, Hill held: +Federal and other police agencies cannot be told about arrests of juveniles which have been removed from official records.

+Andrews County commissioners are without authority to lease part of a county hospital for private medical offices.

COURTS, SPEAK—Court of Criminal Appeals overturned a 300-year sentence in a Wichita County murder case on grounds that a statement by a man in a prison cell must meet standard requirements.

The Court, in another case, held identity of narcotics informers can be ordered divulged if that is important to the trial.

A state law making it a felony to steal meat was upheld by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The State Supreme Court concluded marriage of a cancer patient could not be annulled on grounds witnesses did not hear her words at a wedding ceremony.

APPOINTMENTS—Former State Rep. Bill Bass of Canton was named to the new State Constitutional Revision Commission to replace Arlington Mayor Tom Vandergriff. A state vacancy occurred when Dallas attorney-banker Harry Shuford resigned.

Lieutenant Governor Hobby named Ms. Madelin Olds of Corpus Christi vice-chairperson of his March 20-21 Citizens Conference on Ethics in Government.

The new Texas Offshore Terminal Commission named Robert L. Nelson its acting executive director and Larry Teaver, former aide to ex-Gov. Preston Smith, a temporary consultant.

Big Spring Cops Title, Whitefaces Are Third

Big Spring rapped Pampa for the championship of the Deaf Smith C of C Baseball Tournament here Saturday, while host Hereford edged Levelland for third place and Canyon won the consolation crown.

The champion Steers rapped out 15 hits—9 of them for extra bases—in scoring a 17-7 win over Pampa in the finals Saturday afternoon. Big Spring had home runs by Willie Williams, Greg Crawford and Orlando Olague. Williams also had a triple for the champs.

Hereford built up a 6-2 lead and held off a Levelland rally to win a 6-5 decision in the third-place contest. Ricky Locke pitched a four-hitter for the Whitefaces but five errors kept him in trouble. Carey Black's two-run double, along with run-scoring singles by Wallace Hill, Terry Poindexter and Ricky Peters, led the Hereford batting attack.

Hereford took a 2-0 lead in the second inning and never trailed the Locos. A walk, a single by Dwayne Davison, and Black's double brought home two runs. The Herd added a run in the fourth on Davison's ground out.

The Whitefaces upped the margin to 6-2 in the fifth as David Loerwald singled, moved to second on a passed ball and scored on Hill's single. Davison walked, and the scoring was completed on singles by Dexter and Peters.

Canyon clipped Dumas, 9-5, to take the tourney's consolation crown. Ed Lair was the winning pitcher and he also contributed a triple to the cause. Ronnie Cates had two triples for the Canyon team.

Big Spring dominated the all-tourney team with four players, including ace hurler Earl Reynolds who broke his leg in the Friday game against Hereford. Others from Big Spring were outfielder Orlando Olague, and infielders Willie Williams and Ricky Steen. Pampa placed catcher Bobby Hendricks, shortstop Toddy Black, and outfielder A.J. Brewer.

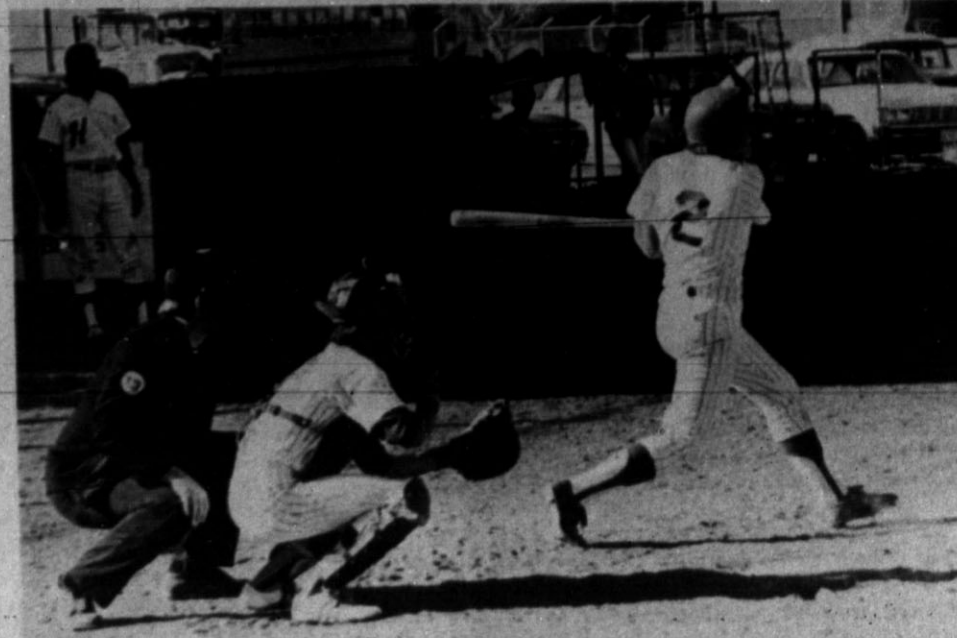

Hereford had infielder Steve Loerwald on the all-tourney nine, and Canyon placed outfielder Bill Moore.

Big Spring drew a bye in the first round of the tourney, then eliminated both Hereford and Pampa in five-inning games. The Steers led by 10 runs after five frames of the games, beating Hereford by 12-2 and the Harvesters by 17-7.

Titian replica

An original painting by Titian, 16th Century Italian master, an exact replica of his Bacchanal of the Andrii which hangs in a Madrid museum, has been discovered in Rome.

Prof. Mario Panepucci, an art expert of the Rome High Court, said the painting, completed in 1530, "is an original and not a copy—it bears Titian's signature 'Ticianus.'"

BASEBALL ACTION HERE—Hereford's David Loerwald connected with the ball in this action photo from a tourney game here over the weekend. The Whitefaces won third place in the C of C sponsored tournament, while Big Spring won the championship. The Canyon Eagles captured the consolation crown. Hereford's Steve Loerwald made the all-tourney team.

George Olson, Hereford, had two of the top-selling cow-calf combinations at the March 10th Five States Shorthorn and Polled Shorthorn Show and Sale, Guymon, Oklahoma. Olson received $885 and $860 for two of his pairs.

This sale drew cattle from four states and buyers from five states. The 44 head averaged $553.

In the B division, Hereford advanced to the finals in all four events—winning two and placing second in two.

Chris White, Jim Hetzel and David Zinser led the way for Hereford's winning cause. White won the B singles championship over Jack Norman of Canyon—7-5, 6-3.

Hetzel and Zinser defeated the Dalhart doubles' team by 3-6, 6-4, 6-2, to win the title in B doubles.

In girls' action, Patty Emerson was defeated in the finals, 6-2, 6-4. Loraine Acton and Leesa Rose also lost in the B doubles finals to Perryton—6-1, 6-0.

The Whiteface teams will go to Borger for a tournament Saturday.

Fund Will Aid Infant's Family

A fund has been set up at the Hereford State Bank to help provide for hospital expenses of the Leaton Noyes family. The Noyes' daughter, three-month-old Cynthia, was born with a heart ailment which eventually became an emergency situation.

Though Cynthia is recovering now from surgery in Houston, doctors have informed her parents that she will need additional open-heart surgery at four years of age. The fund has been set up to help meet the expenses of both the Houston surgery and future treatment.

Mrs. Noyes said that the surgery her daughter underwent in Houston was performed for the purpose of connecting the two main arteries of the heart and provide more blood for the lungs. The Noyes' noticed shortly after the baby's birth that she was having difficulty in breathing, and turned blue when she cried.

"They were a very frightened pair," says Mrs. Reynold Herr, originator of the fund for the Noyes. "They're still frightened because they know this child is going to have to have extensive surgery in the future."

Mrs. Herr also expressed the hope that the Noyes Baby Hospital fund would help the family to meet the medical expenses which would be involved.

"This young couple had been married a year in December, and had just bought a new home. They really weren't prepared for this kind of emergency."

Mrs. Noyes said her daughter spent almost two weeks in the Houston hospital, though the surgery itself took only about an hour. She says the fund is a real "help" to the family.

Witkowski To Attend Meet

Wheat producers from throughout the nation, including one from Hereford, will converge on Washington, D.C. Sunday through Thursday to exert a united effort in interest of current and future administrative and legislative actions affecting wheat and wheat producer income.

Participating from Texas will be officers of the Texas Wheat Producers Board and Association, including: Ken Kendrick, Stratford; Leo Witkowski, Hereford; Dwight Bezner 72 Buick, Doug Roberson, 71 Honda; Jimmy Anderson, 73 GMC; Randall A. Arnold, 73 Chev.; Gerald W. Sledge, 71 Chev.

Jim Noyes, 72 Ford; Beverly Friemel, 72 Ford; Merlin S. Weber, 71 Ford; Garth Merrick, 73 Pont.; Kenneth Justice, 71 Chev.; Harold Sears, 73 Chev.; Daniel R. Padilla, 72 Chev.; Percy M. Wilson, 73 Chev.

Hamilton, Olney; C.L. Edwards, Panhandle; Bill Nelson, Amarillo and Tricalca Committee member Ronald Ker-shen of Canyon.

Workshop sessions with administrative and legislative leaders will be conducted in wide range of subjects, including: future farm programs; international trade and monetary policy; cost of living council; as well as agricultural research and extension direction.

Activities will be a Congressional Breakfast, Wednesday, to be attended by members of both the Senate and House of Representatives.

Keynote speaker at this function will be the Honorable W.R. Poage of Waco, Chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture.

The National Association of Wheat Growers, the wheat producers national legislative and service organization, Great

Plains Wheat, Inc., and Western Wheat Associates, both regional producer supported export market development organizations are acting as sponsors and coordinators of the week-long wheat sessions. Each of these groups also has their own board of directors and committee meetings scheduled in order to develop and direct policies to meet the changing wheat situation and related economic conditions.

Kendrick, Chairman of the Texas Wheat Producers Board and Witkowski, President of the Texas Wheat Producers Association said that these Washington sessions are not a "one shot deal", but are part of the continuing producer-supported efforts to gain improved farm income through liaison with those making decisions affecting the production, marketing or public policies of wheat.

Veteran's Affairs

Q—Why has the Veterans Administration's budget been cut for the coming year?

A—The proposed VA budget of $12.2 billion is more than the budget for the current year. In ten years, 1965 to 1974, appropriations for veterans benefits and services have increased over $6.8 billion, or 125 percent.

Q—I am a Vietnam veteran interested in training under the G.I. Bill, but I am not sure what courses to take. Can VA help me decide?

A—Yes. Eligible veterans may receive vocational counseling from VA at no cost to help them derive greater benefits from their training. Application should be made to the VA office nearest the veteran's home.

Q—How many spinal cord injury treatment centers does VA have? How many prosthetic treatment centers for amputees?

A—VA has 15 centers for treatment of spinal cord injury patients and 18 prosthetic treatment centers for amputees. These are geographically dispersed around the country.

Q—My brother is a Vietnam veteran and VA has rated him totally and permanently disabled as a result of service-connected injuries. Our family doctor says he needs psychiatric care, but we can't get him to go to a VA hospital. Could he get VA outpatient psychiatric treatment?

A—Yes.

ABORTION BOOM
The Supreme Court's recent decision that no state can interfere with a woman's right to obtain an abortion during the first 12 weeks of pregnancy is expected to result in some 1.6 million women seeking abortions in 1973.

Family Tragedy Is Story Theme

Exposure of the secrets of a respected midwestern family, through the reckless romance of a teenage daughter in World War II years, is the theme of a new novel by Kathryn Morgan Ryan, The Betty Tree.

It is available now at Deaf Smith County Library, among new fiction that includes a psychological novel of suspense, The Stake In The Game, by Evelyn Berckman.

Use of the library is open to all county residents, with books for both adults and children, also numerous reference works on varied subjects.

THE BETTY TREE

by Kathryn Morgan Ryan
The Lansings were prosperous and respected. The leading family in the small drowsy town of Mascoutin, Iowa, they took pride in a heritage that stretched back to the days of the frontier.

But in the summer of 1942, as the winds of World War II were rising over the prairie grasses, the Lansing family was drifting helplessly toward a disaster that would destroy its facade of respectability.

The Betty Tree is the sometimes shocking, always engrossing story of the corruption of this family's innocence and th exposure of its long-buried secrets.

James Hartley Lansing, the patriarch of the family, once hunted buffalo on the open plains. But his breed, too, was dying out. For of his two sons, one, Chris, was an alcoholic who was trying to drown the guilt of having fathered an illegitimate, idiot son.

The other, Tone, was a successful doctor who had married Ellie for convenience, but who was still tortured by the memory of a dark love. And then there was Hartley, Tone's beautiful, headstrong daughter.

At 17 she was all too eager to learn the ways of life beyond Mascoutin. Her restless yearnings made her easy prey for dashing Lt. Minor, a pilot who was stationed at a nearby airbase. Minor was handsome, with a seductive charm that masked a twisted soul.

A hunter whose joy was in the kill, Minor stalked not only Hartley, but the entire family. Wreaking vengeance for the humiliations of his own cruel childhood, he would not be satisfied until he had stripped the Lansings of all respectability.

The Betty Tree derives its name and its structure from the ancient morality plays and folk dances. The characters perform their fore-ordained roles in the developing disaster against a vividly drawn scene of small-town life in the open spaces of Middle America.

A prairie landscape convulsed by the impact of war, a family doomed by an inability to utter the words of love and warmth that might bind it together—these are the timeless themes of The Betty Tree.

Tree, a savage and compulsively readable novel.

THE STAKE IN THE GAME

by Evelyn Berckman
For Heather Millard, her 25-year-old marriage is moderately happy, occasionally rewarding and above all safe. She adores her husband, likes her charming son and hopes to fulfill her cherished dream of studying painting seriously in Paris for a year.

But suddenly, through a lie motivated only by affection the security Heather knows is shattered.

How she finds strength and ultimately liberation, how she discovers unfamiliar depths in her family, her friends and herself, how she restores her broken existence—paradoxically—not through gain but by loss; these are some of the exciting elements that add up The Stake in the Game.

In a psychological novel of deception and suspense, Evelyn Berckman explores the world of a woman who is both almost destroyed and finally saved by the multiple facets of love.

'Log Jam' Looms In State Legislature, Says Clayton

The passage of needed legislation has bogged so far down that it has reached alarming proportions, Rep. Bill Clayton stated today.

With the session over half over, only ten bills have been signed into law. According to Clayton, legislators are working five days a week, sometimes 12 hours a day, but they are accomplishing little in a morass of committee hearings and sessions that stretch endlessly while amendment after amendment is debated on the house floor.

This time last session, more than 100 bills had already been passed and signed into law.

"Something must be done, and soon," Clayton said, "or this session is going to end up with the worst log jam in the history of the State."

If legislators could clear up bills in committee before they reach the floor, wasted time in needless debate could be avoided, Clayton added. Different techniques, or methods, must be developed, in order that legislators can get to the heart of these bills before they reach the house floor, he said.

Although committees were reduced from 45 to 21 in the House this year, so many standing or permanent sub-committees have been created that, for all practical effects, more committees are operating than last session. Also, instead of knowing what committee a bill might be referred to, three bills on the same subject might now go to three different committees, also complicating the whole system.

Clayton said that over 1,500 bills had been introduced into the house this session, and only ten had been passed.

"It's getting obvious to everyone that something must be done, and fast," Clayton added.

Only those live who do good. Sharing kindly and generously is the only way most men can ever become great. Let us remember our opportunities do not come dressed up on Sundays; they just happen along, every day, in overalls. True helpfulness is spontaneous: it finds its occasions in life's daily round... then, give your less fortunate neighbor a ride to church. Sharing our loaves and fishes multiplies what we have left. After feeding the 5,000 Jesus had twelve baskets full... the miracle of a few sardines and sandwiches.

Nets One Billion $$ A Year

Texas' Crime Termed 'Big Business'

(Editors note: this is the first in a series of five stories dealing with the rise of organized crime in Texas and the steps being taken to combat it. The series is released by the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council. Attorney General John Hill and Colonel Wilson E. Speir serve as co-chairman of the council. Information is provided for the series in conjunction with the Texas Department of Public Safety, with assistance from the Texas Criminal Justice Council, Law Enforcement Assistance Administration and local law enforcement agencies.

Organized crime has become a billion-dollar-a-year business in the State of Texas.

Governor Dolph Briscoe, in his first address to the Legislature, said "...it is correct to say Texas is in the frontier stage of organized crime, but we still have time to react and do something about it."

Attorney General John Hill and Colonel Wilson E. Speir, Director of the Department of Public Safety, are acutely aware of the problem and both have it high on their priority list.

Hill and Speir are co-chairmen of the Texas

Organized Crime Prevention Council which consists of the state's top law enforcement personnel.

The Council has compiled some startling information. —Gank killings, used effectively to gain promotion up through the ranks, are still occurring in and around the major metropolitan areas.

The majority of the gangland murders are believed tied to narcotics trafficking and underworld power struggles.

—Bookmaking is perhaps the largest money maker for organized crime in the state.

Bookies realized a gross profit of $98 million from both college and professional football games during the 1971 season alone. Bets totaled some $815 million which means about 12 per cent "off the top" went into the pockets of organized crime.

"Bookmaking is the most intricately organized field in all of crime," Colonel Speir commented, "and our investigations have just touched the surface but we are making progress."

—Prostitution is prevalent in many areas, especially those with sizeable populations.

Available information places the average gross weekly income per prostitute in Texas at $1,400 for those working in the more sophisticated operations.

This is usually split on a 60-40 basis with the "House" or the procurer. Prostitutes, in many instances, are lured into that "profession" to obtain money to support a costly narcotics habit.

—At least eighteen separate narcotics smuggling rings are known to be operating in Texas cities. There are several hundred major traffickers who have been located and identified by various law enforcement agencies. Vigorous prosecution at all levels of law enforcement has been stepped up on drug pushers. Arrests are increasing statewide.

The "take" in Texas on illicit drug traffic is almost impossible to reduce to dollars and cents, partially because of strong indications that in addition to supplying users in the state, the pushers also supply the markets in at least nine other states. Texas drug rings are known, for example, to supply connections in Chicago, New York and Miami.

A Bexar County grand jury report last spring "isolated" nine criminal organizations connected with narcotics headquartered in San Antonio and the surrounding area. Since then San Antonio police have put several of these out of business and are actively working on the others.

The report said "no indications of a direct connection with the Mafia" was found in San Antonio. District Attorney Ted Butler says, however, "organized syndicates are directly connected as purchasers and sellers of illegal drugs."

—Poetically, or jokingly, dubbed the "Wheels of Crime," no less than 40 auto theft rings have been uncovered in Texas. Last year in Dallas alone car theft hit near the $7 million mark.

Statewide there were 48,323 auto thefts reported in 1971. Valued at over $50 million, these hot cars were "fenced" in Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, California, Mexico and even Europe.

Not only are cars stolen to be stripped of their valuable parts but also resold after changing the true identification. Texas law enforcement officials state flatly that stolen vehicles figure heavily as transportation for crooks involved in armed robbery, kidnapping and other offenses.

In the theft area, the problem of the "fence" is a major one. Many of them recruit newcomers, especially youths for a car heist, with the thieves thus launched on criminal careers. Narcotics, car theft rings, the "fence" (purchaser of stolen goods), and book-making are areas in which law enforcement officials feel stronger laws are needed.

Specifically, they refer to the political hot potato of electronic surveillance. Federal court ordered electronic surveillance, which includes but is not limited to wire tapping, is legal under the Federal Omnibus Crime Control Act, but the Texas Legislature has yet to authorize it in this state by statute.

"While not in favor of just opening it up entirely, we badly need such a law. But we must see that proper controls such as a court order based on probable cause, proper supervision and discretion are used," said Colonel Speir.

"In seeking this type of limited law to assist our law enforcement personnel, we must be certain to build in adequate penalties for those who would undertake to illegally invade the privacy of law-abiding citizens," Attorney General Hill pointed out.

But organized crime in Texas is not limited to gambling, prostitution, narcotics or auto theft. There is evidence the policy rackets have moved into the Gulf Coast area. "The Numbers" long has been a key part of mob business throughout the United States, but apparently isn't that big a threat in Texas yet. Poor people are the major customers for numbers racket operators. Loan sharking has not found too fertile a field in which to operate in Texas, although there is some evidence it exists. Organized crime also has quietly moved in legitimate business in Texas in recent years, and symptoms of criminal justice to take over legitimate business operations surfaced in Texas during 1972.

A major Texas newspaper reported one "text book" example in a coastal city. The owner of a small company was lured into joining a "mob-controlled conglomerate" by fantastic offers of credit, stability and dizzy promises of rapid financial success. In the end, the firm's assets were raided (transferred and milked) and the company was left bankrupt. Lawsuits pending in Texas courts list charges of "fraudulent advertising of assets resulting in an increase in stock prices," "conspiring to gain control," and "attempting to dissipate the assets of both the company and the holding company."

One federal crime fighter recently noted "more and more racketeers are going into securities transactions." In recent months several Texas banks were defrauded in an illicit securities scheme that began in San Francisco and had ramifications in New Jersey.

"Cities hit in this one scheme included Houston, El Paso and Lubbock," investigators said. One of the oldest tools of organized crime is the application of pressure to coerce potential victims. Operators within criminal ranks will resort even to murder if the purpose suits their bosses. Even office holders are not immune from being the object of criminal conspiracies.

For example, one office holder found himself the target of an alleged plot which resulted

Christie Enters Barrow In Test

His barrow will be consigned to the St. Ansgar (Iowa) Test Station, located some 15 miles south of Austin. He is responsible for transporting his barrow to the Test Station during the weekend of May 11-13.

Barrows which complete the test and which qualify for the live show at the National Barrow Show will be divided into weight classes within their breed. Following the live show, the barrows will be slaughtered and appraised in a production-related carcass contest.
