Hurst Man Arrested In Theft Ring Case

One man has been arrested and three more are being sought in connection with the massive theft ring uncovered here last week by local law enforcement authorities.

Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson said Tuesday that a Fort Worth man, Marvin Nicholas Keith, was arrested Monday in Fort Worth and bond was set at $50,000 for each of the seven warrants issued against him.

McPherson said three other men are being sought on six additional warrants and more arrests may be expected in the next few days. He also indicated that there may be arrests other than the four men already indicated.

Keith, believed by officers to be the head of the theft ring that has been operating in Texas since 1969, was charged with theft over $50 (three warrants), and receiving and concealing stolen property (four warrants).

McPherson said there will be no local arrests in connection with the theft ring.

More than $150,000 in heavy equipment and vehicles have already been seized by local authorities in connection with the theft ring.

A special grand jury met Wednesday in Hereford to consider the indictments against the men charged in the theft ring.

Tractors, trailers, buses, travel trailers, engines, and pickups already have been returned to local law enforcement custody and McPherson said more is expected within the next few days.

Law enforcement authorities throughout the Dallas-Fort Worth area and the Panhandle continued their search this week for additional equipment believed not to have been reported yet.

The break in the case came last week when local officers, upon tips from the Dallas-Fort Worth area, began working on the case. The evidence began to unfold rapidly after they discovered a local "fence" and the arrest of Keith at his home Monday marked the first charges leveled in the case.

Bronco, Pony League Registration Is Set

All boys interested in playing Bronco or Pony League baseball should register Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., in the Community Center, it was announced by BBoys Baseball, Inc. of Hereford.

Bronco League is composed of boys in the 8-12 age grouping, and Pony League for 12 and 13-year-olds. Boys who will be 8 years old on or before Aug. 31 are eligible for Bronco.

League officials reminded that all boys must sign up, even if they were on a team last season. Birth certificates are required for boys in the 11-14 age group. Tryouts are set April 9 for Bronco and Pony players, and the season begins April 30.

County Names Board

Deaf Smith County Commissioners had a short agenda for their second meeting of the month Monday, with highlights including the appointment of three hospital district board members, approval of a 40-hour week for road employees, and approval of a bookkeeping change on the county unit system.

Commissioners announced the appointment of Mrs. Harlan Vander Zee to the Deaf Smith County Hospital District board of directors effective in April. Reappointed for two-year terms were Tommy Carnahan and Dr. J.H. McCrary. Mrs. Vander Zee replaces Ed Line, board president, who asked not to be considered for reappointment. County Judge H.C. Williams said Line had informed him that serving on the board had been a privilege and pleasure, but he felt it was time for someone else to be named. Holdover members are Mrs. Charles Hoover, L.J. Straffuss and Ed Wilson.

Commissioners approved a recommendation by County Road Supt. Chuck Eppler that a regular 40-hour work week be set for road employees. In the past, a summer schedule was set for 45 hours and a winter

Date Changed

The date of the senior class play has been changed, according to school officials. The play will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the high school auditorium.

Additional chair seats for Whiteface Stadium, legislation affecting local education, the 1973-74 school calendar and school attendance for the past six weeks were the main topics of a Tuesday morning meeting of the Hereford Independent School District board of trustees.

The special meeting was called mainly to inform board members of the various activities going on in the system and to allow them to meet one more time before the April 7 school board election.

Supt. Roy Hartman informed the board that records show the system's enrollment is down from this time a year ago, but the average daily attendance is

BY KATHY MARGRAVE
Staff Writer

A community-wide foundation meeting for Hereford's Diamond Jubilee Celebration, scheduled for Aug. 25 through Sept. 1, was held Monday evening with an unexpected 175 persons in attendance.

Dale Young, general chairman for the celebration, said the large attendance showed the enthusiasm and need for the planned celebration. Young introduced Pat Haggerty, a representative of the Rogers Company, the firm hired to plan the massive celebration, who presented a run-down on the activities for the event.

Haggerty began by listing five objectives of a properly planned community celebration: Create new civic awareness among all citizens, uncover new civic leaders, stimulate local economy, honor our heritage and focus attention on tomorrow.

Haggerty said that the whole success of a civic celebration like the one planned for Hereford is the wholehearted and enthusiastic support of the community's own people.

In stating that "a celebration is something to be—not just something to see," Haggerty explained that celebration events should be planned in which the people can be actual participants rather than mere spectators to paid attractions. He suggested that representatives of every civic group in the area be invited to help plan and organize a series of events in which they will participate.

Work preference sheets were passed out at the door by members of the Pioneer Study Club. The sheet included divisions in which volunteer workers are needed, and persons at the meeting were asked to fill out a form circling the activities in which they would like to work.

The form was for the purpose of recruiting workers for the revenue division, women's participation division, men's participation division, queen contest committee, patron tickets sales, tickets sales, spectacle show, publicity, special events and office and headquarters workers.

The revenue division includes the compiling of a historical booklet. Workers would find sponsorship or ads and historical material. It also includes the merchandising of novelties, plate sales and coin distribution.

The women's participation division will include the forming of a "Belles" chapter, distribution of bonnets, merchandising, mailing, phone call crew, office and headquarters help and the planning of caravans to travel to area towns.

Men's participation division calls for the forming of a "Brothers of Brush" chapter and includes the distribution of hats, ties, merchandising, mailing, phone call crew, office and headquarters help, motorcade caravans planning and follow-through.

Queen contest committee will include workers to select awards, make nominations and arrangements for kick-off party, phoning, mailing and tabulation.

Patron ticket sales personnel would be required to be available for mailing, phone follow-up, seating and hosting.

Tickets division workers are asked to handle printing, ushering, box office and office work.

Spectacle show division includes a cast committee, stage managing, properties collection and supervision; during show, costumes distribution and care, backstage work on props, curtains, electrical, lighting, dancer, narrator and actor.

Publicity division involves gathering and writing, photography, distribution of flyers and special projects.

Special events division is the planning and executing of events for particular days, coordination between merchants with windows and public with items for display, parade work, hospitality center, information center, hosting dignitaries and decorating hospitality center.

Office and headquarters division requires volunteer help for typing, mailing, waiting on customers, giving information, phone work, making signs, art work and decorating interior and windows.

Absentee Vote Turn-Out Light

Absentee voting in Hereford's school board and city elections was reported slow Wednesday, with only two absentee votes on the records for the city elections, and five for the school board contest.

Any eligible voter who is unable to vote at the polls on the actual election date in either contest is eligible for absentee voting. Deadline for absentee voting in the city elections is 5 p.m. Friday, with the school board election deadline set for April 4.

Both elections will be held at the Community center, with polls open from 8 a.m. till 7 p.m.

Polls will also be open for voters through the noon hour. Election day for the city contests has been set at April 3, while the school board elections are scheduled for April 7.

Seats, Legislation Top Board Meeting

The date of the senior class play has been changed, according to school officials. The play will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the high school auditorium.

Additional chair seats for Whiteface Stadium, legislation affecting local education, the 1973-74 school calendar and school attendance for the past six weeks were the main topics of a Tuesday morning meeting of the Hereford Independent School District board of trustees.

The special meeting was called mainly to inform board members of the various activities going on in the system and to allow them to meet one more time before the April 7 school board election.

Supt. Roy Hartman informed the board that records show the system's enrollment is down from this time a year ago, but the average daily attendance is up, indicating students are spending more time in school. Last year, the average daily attendance dropped drastically during the third and fourth six-week periods, causing some concern with local officials.

Hartman pointed out Tuesday that there has been a noticeable reversal this year and that there was about 97 per cent attendance for the fourth six-week period.

"What this means is that, when the attendance is up, there is more money for the school district," he said.

Supt. Roy Hartman informed the board that records show the system's enrollment is down from this time a year ago, but the average daily attendance is Wartes will determine if there is enough interest to warrant the additional seats, then report back to the board at a later meeting.

Deadline Here

County tax assessor-collector Nell Miller reported Wednesday that vehicle registration for the county was running at about the norm, as compared to the same period of time in previous years.

"We're running just pretty well," she said. Mrs. Miller reported that the county tax office expected many area people to wait until the last minute to purchase 1973 license plates, and long waiting lines are forecasted for the final days before the April 1 deadline.

Robert W. Townsley, director of the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway department, said recently that many county tax offices over the state have expressed concern for the fact that many vehicle owners are putting registration off.

Even though the easy, computerized registration system has speeded the registration process in the last few years, if too many owners wait until the last minute, long waits in long lines at county tax will be inevitable.

A tentative school calendar also was presented to the board for the 1973-74 school year, indicating classes would begin on Wednesday, Aug. 22 following three days of pre-school workshops on Aug. 15-17.

The school calendar, as proposed, would have the first semester ending on Jan. 9 and the second semester beginning on Jan. 14. The Easter holidays would be five days.

The school system allowed for 183 days of school, which is three above the mandatory number set by the State. The three additional days were added to allow for make-up days in case of inclement weather.

On this year's calendar, 184 days were set up for school with four for bad weather. Hartman said if there is no loss of days to weather or other disasters, school will dismiss May 25.

In reviewing the current legislation that would affect education, Hartman informed the board he will travel to Austin next week for a hearing concerning the financing of school systems in the state.

Various other bills were discussed, including House Bill 900 where the county tax assessor-collector would become the one taxing authority for all bodies and the county commissioners would become the board of equalization.

Board members and administrators voiced concern over that bill.

1973 REGISTRATION—Vehicle registrations for the county was well over the half-way mark Wednesday, though tax office personnel expect last-minute crowds as the deadline nears.

Art Guild Plans Festival Display

Work of Hereford Art Guild members will be on display in Community Center as the group's part in the annual Community Fine Arts Festival of April 14 and 15, it was decided at the March meeting of the Guild Tuesday evening.

Preceding the festival this spring, classes in painting will be conducted April 10-13 by Martin Schaffner of Taos, under Guild sponsorship. They will be open to anyone interested.

Mrs. Joel Newman, president, announced that the Taos artist will conduct classes in portrait painting, beginning at 9 a.m. each day, and landscape painting at 6 p.m. Schaffner paints in both pastels and oils.

Sculpture was the subject of the demonstration Tuesday, with Mrs. Robert Hickman showing how clay modeling is done.

Participation in the Hereford Diamond Jubilee next summer was planned; details are yet to be arranged.

Members decided to hold their annual show and sale, which in past years has been during the holiday season, earlier in the fall. A Starving Artist sale, tentatively scheduled for April, has been postponed because of numerous other events set for that month this year.

Hostesses, Mmes. Flake Barber, Hilrey Aven and Alvin Smith, served refreshments to about 30 members.

UIL TROPHIES—Members of La Plata's mixed and girls' choirs came home recently with two awards for their performances in UIL contests held in Amarillo. Girls from the mixed choir, singing as a girls' group, received a I rating for their efforts, and the girls' choir received a II. Shown are Debbie Moore, Glenda Williams and Ann Zetsche, with their awards.

Painting Topic For Club

Appreciation of painting was discussed by Mrs. W.O. McCutcheon on the program of Lone Star Study Club Tuesday afternoon in the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Co. Mrs. J.C. Williams was hostess.

The speaker defined some of the principal schools of painting and showed prints to illustrate. She spoke of painting as a hobby, displaying some of her own work and a painting of Texas Hill Country scenery done by another club member, Mrs. H.E. Henslee.

Members discussed the work of the two club members to complete the program. Miss Mildred Elliot gave the Thought For The Day.

Decision to cooperate in next summer's celebration of Hereford's 75th anniversary was reached after reports from representatives of the club who attended the open meeting Monday evening for presentation of community-wide plans.

Greeting cards were signed by members to send to Mrs. Virgil Dodson, a patient in an Amarillo hospital, and Mrs. S.A. McCathern, recovering at her home from a broken ankle.

Those present included Mmes. Jim Bookout, Jim Higgins, Ray Suit, M.H. Wiseman, Robert Thompson, R.G. Blue, Gaston Baer, J.J. Durham, C.D. Kelton, S.S. Williams, Hardy Benson, Ed Warren and C.O. Phillips.

Miss Sims Is Honoree

Work and fun were combined Monday evening when friends of Noel Sims were invited to join her in making rice bags for her wedding.

Miss Sims and John Hagar are to be married April 7 in First United Methodist Church.

Kay Hagar and Mrs. Kenney Hagar, both future sisters-in-law of Miss Sims, were hostesses for the event in the latter's home, 408 Ave. J.

Miss Sims was presented small kitchen gadgets and each guest also brought her own favorite recipe as a gift. Chips, dips and cokes were served informally to the guests throughout the evening.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Doctor's Fee

Harold's wife died shortly after undergoing an operation. When a bill arrived from the surgeon, Harold decided not to pay. In due course, the matter wound up in court.

"Obviously, the operation was a failure," Harold pointed out to the judge. "Why should I have to pay for services that were useless?"

However, the court ordered him to pay up. The court said a doctor's services are to be measured by the quality of his work, not merely by the results—and this doctor had performed the operation in a proper manner.

"The marvelous skill of the greatest surgeons in the world," added the judge, "is sometimes futile."

This case states the general rule of law about medical fees. Furthermore, unless a specific sum has been agreed upon in advance, the doctor generally has considerable leeway—within reason—in deciding how high the fee will be.

May he take into account the patient's ability to pay? That is, may he charge a higher fee to a rich patient than to a poor one? Most courts say yes, sometimes on the theory that high-paying work will allow him to take on more low-paying work.

CLUB HONOREE—Gene Welch, right, who lives near the Summerfield Community, was recently honored as one of the nation's top sorghum producers at the DeKalb Sorghum Masters Club National Meeting in Chicago. Welch produced 10,054 pounds per acre. Looking over the souvenir booklet with Welch is Carrol Lackey, district manager for DeKalb.

Nevertheless, the basic standard of due care remains constant, whether the fee is large or small—or even nonexistent. In one early case, a doctor was accused of neglecting a charity patient. In his defense, he insisted that he had less responsibility to be careful when he was working for nothing.

But the court disagreed, and held him liable on grounds of malpractice.

The judge commented: "Whether the patient be a pauper or a millionaire, whether he be treated gratuitously or for reward, the physician owes him precisely the same measure of duty and the same degree of skill and care."

Golf, Track, Tennis Teams Tune Up For Relays

Hereford's track, golf and tennis teams will be participating in the Amarillo Relays' multi-sports carnival Friday and Saturday. Preliminaries in the two-day track and field meet at Dick Bivins Stadium start at 12 noon Friday, and finals will be run Saturday. The junior varsity teams will have their preliminaries at the Caprock track Friday, add finals will be at Bivins Stadium. First-round action is also set Friday in tennis and golf.

As many as 50 schoolboy teams are expected in the three-division track meet, with schools as far away as El Paso, Clayton, N.M., Guymon, Okla.,

and Wichita Falls being represented.

Hereford, with three team championships in four meets, will be among the top-rated teams, along with Pampa, El Paso Irvin, El Paso Burges, and Amarillo High. Other schools entered include Lubbock Coronado, Dunbar, Plainview, Borger, Dumas, Palo Duro, Perryton, Canyon, Caprock, Tascosa, Wichita Falls Hirschi, Midland Lee, Levelland, Muleshoe, Wichita Falls Rider, El Paso Riverside, Guymon, Clovis, El Paso Andress, and Ysleta.

Two sprinters tied their best marks of the season—Terry Champ clocking a 22.6 in the 220-yard dash and Barry McNutt hitting a 22.8.

Hereford's soph set two school records in the practice meet, clocking off a 3:37.2 in the mile relay and a 45.8 in the sprint relay.

Running on the soph mile relay team were Mike Munnerlyn, Doug Charest, Jay Williams and Kent Hollingsworth. The 440-relay team was composed of Barry Allen, Williams, Hollingsworth and Darrell Hutton.

Don Cumpton thinks this will strengthen the team in both events. On the varsity mile relay team at Amarillo, Cumpton plans to open with Champ on the first leg and follow with Sheffy, Luther Mays and Nieman. Mays ran a 2:00.5 time in the 880 on the WTSU track Monday, just missing his best time of the season—a 1:59.7 recorded in the Hereford meet.

Boxers To Sponsor Tourney

Hereford Boxing Club, after missing a tourney because of weather earlier this spring, will feature West Texas AAU Junior Olympic champions here Friday night in a tuneup for the regional bouts in New Orleans. Bouts will start at 8 p.m. in the Bull Barn.

Coach Harold Wheeler announced this week that some 15 to 20 bouts will be on the card, and admission is only $1 per person. Seats will be on a first-come basis, and proceeds of the tourney will be used to send Hereford's three district champs to New Orleans.

Felipe Luna, Frank Celaya, and Mike Castro won district titles and will advance to the regionals in New Orleans June 6-7.

Luna and Castro won senior division titles in the 95 and 90-pound classes, while Celaya won the 110-pound class in the intermediate division. Senior division is 14 and 15-year-olds, while intermediate is 12 and 13-year olds.

The sports committee of Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce is handling ticket sales, with Mac Tubb as general chairman. Tickets will also be sold at the door.

The district tourney at Amarillo produced 20 champions, and Wheeler hopes to have many of them at this tourney—going against the district runners-up. Several exhibition matches between beginning boxers may also be included on the program.

'Seconds' are tires with slight appearance variations. (They're also known as 'blemished' tires in the trade.) The variation is on the surface only—like dots in the whitewall area or minor discoloration. This does not affect the quality construction of the tire in any way. They meet the high standards associated with the JCPenney tire. You get a good quality tire but at a price way below that of the same tire without blemishes.

Small Talk

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

THERE HAS BEEN a series of programs lately in extension clubs and garden clubs here, about cultivation of mini-gardens. The idea is to encourage people to grow food in limited space.

Some of the club women, looking over this county's unlimited space, have remarked that it isn't a pertinent idea here, but in a lot of circumstances it is.

For people living in apartments, for instance, or with yards mostly covered in grass, or in the case of older people who have been enthusiastic gardeners but now can't cultivate an entire lot, or for gourmet cooks who like fresh herbs in winter as well as in outdoor growing season—some mini-gardens are indoors.

The name may be new, but lots of people have grown mini-gardens for years. Mrs. Wirt Phillips, at a Pioneer Club lunch lately, was talking about getting tomato plants ready to set in flower beds...said she always grows some vegetables among the flowers, and that's one of the scientifically-recommended practices.

STEVE CAVNESS, a Hereford sophomore at Trinity University, has been named to the dean's list of the San Antonio school for last semester, indicating grades of A in courses that carry grade points.

A psychology major, Cavness is the son of Dr. and Mrs. H.A. Cavness, 129 Texas.

Miss Scott is the daughter of the Paul R. Scotts 236 Centre, and a freshman at McMurry.

'New Concept' Outlined At Meet

A "new concept in cooperatives" was outlined to approximately 140 farmers and cattlemen here Monday night by the management team of American Grain & Cattle, Inc. Planned as a nationwide cooperative, officials said it was being created "to secure a fair and reasonable price for grain and cattle." Farmers showed considerable interest in the presentation here Monday night, but another meeting will probably be held before it can be determined how many will choose to become members.

Other stated goals of AGC include: (1) to furnish a loan program as time demands to enable the producer to orderly market his grain; (2) to provide operating credit for the producer where it is not available from local lending institutions; (3) to bring together all segments of producers of grain and cattle, plus the facilities and systems for the accomplishment of these goals.

Gerald McCathern, local grain producer, presided at the informative meeting and introduced the management team from AGC. After slides were shown to outline the program, Harold Nelson, AGC official from San Antonio, held a lengthy question-and-answer period.

Nelson credited with being the key man in putting together a cooperative marketing and bargaining system on a national scale with milk producers, told the group that farmer participation is the "secret to success." When enough farmers and associations join the AGC movement, the volume of grain and cattle will be large enough to become a major factor in the market, he emphasized.

Nelson said the Capper-Volstead Act was passed by Congress many years ago for the express purpose of granting agricultural producers the opportunity to join together under the cooperative umbrella and to market their commodities from a position of strength. This has been done successfully with other ag commodities, he added, but never with grain and cattle.

AGC was launched, Nelson said, with $5.5 million in assets from American Grain Co., with grain facilities in Corpus Christi, Plainview and Hart. The facility in Plainview is the largest single terminal in the southwest, with a capacity of approximately 28 million bushels. Plans also call for a feedlot of about 40,000 head capacity to be constructed at Hart within six months. In addition, Nelson reported, negotiations are underway with numerous elevators and feedlots to merge with the association.

Several farmers at the meeting expressed concern as to how local grain elevators—co-ops and independents—would be effected by such a program. Nelson told the group that AGC "is fighting anyone."

He said they hoped to interest co-ops and other associations in joining the movement. He claimed that local co-ops, as well as individual farmers, were competing against each other and "beating the price down." Nelson said a nationwide co-op could unify farmers under an orderly marketing plan that would assure fair prices.

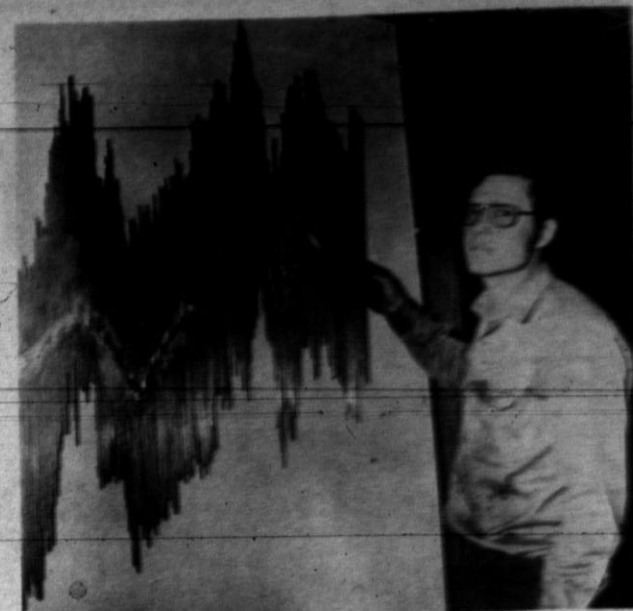

It was pointed out that farmers become a member of AGC

by signing a three-year agreement. Nelson emphasized that members are committed to the marketing agreement, delivering all grain produced to the association—except that retained for own use on the farm.

Nelson explained that the co-op will have grain members and beef members. A farmer's grain is pooled with other producers across the nation, and the producer would receive a payment each quarter—based on the percentage of the pool sold that quarter. Provisions are made for the grain member to participate in the cattle program, and memberships are also open for beef members only.

A number of farmers attending the meeting Monday night picked up membership forms for more study, and another meeting is expected to be called by AGC in the near future.

Metal Sculptor To Give Show

Tim Gearn...with work of art

Tim Gearn will present a metal sculpture show at the Music Stand, beginning Sunday and running through the month of April.

Gearn, who is co-owner in Tagco, a beef packing service business, will have some 20 pieces of sculpture on exhibit during the month in what has now become a monthly event at the Music Stand.

Artists and sculptors from Hereford have been given the opportunity to display their work at the Music Stand and Gearn's exhibition marks another in the series.

Gearn, 26, has been working in metal sculpturing for the past four years. Most of his work that will be on display is wall decor while there will be some table model pieces.

A Hereford High School graduate, this will be Gearn's first public showing of his work. The pieces on display will be priced for sale.

Club Hears Facts, Fancies On Dreams

Scientific findings about dreams, as well as folklore and superstitions, were related by Mrs. George Olson as she spoke to Valinda Study Club members Tuesday evening in Mrs. Gid Brown's home. Her topic was "Dreams And What They Mean."

She told of the different stages of sleep which have been discovered in recent experiments, and the types of dreams experienced in each level, from light dozing to deep sleep.

Facts that interested the club members included: People who don't remember their dreams are those who simply don't care; dreams in color indicate sensitivity, and creative persons often dream solutions to their problems.

Mrs. Richard Ottesen conducted business, with discussion of the club's part in preparations for the celebration of Hereford's 75th anniversary in August.

Other members present were: Mrs. Armon Lauterback, J.D. Gilbert, Lawrence Rutherford, B.W. Simon, George Ritter, John Pindexter, Gwynne

Mrs. Phil Coker, also a hostess, was unable to attend. The hostesses all took part in serving refreshments and registering guests.

SOUND FOOTING

If you want a Firm Foundation, — Sound Footing for a lifelong walk... here it is. The Foundation this man stands on can serve as compass to guide you; — a blueprint for better living. It is filled with do's and don'ts that groom one for Heavenly company. The Psalmist prayed, "Establish my footsteps in Thy word, and let not any iniquity have dominion over me." This man's foundation points the way to Go. Actually, it is the Book of Life... is your name written there? It offers peace of mind and comfort of soul to those who take it seriously. Attend church regularly and read of the things it offers one to hold to when one is no longer able to hold the Book... it offers Sound Footing.

The Bull Corner

With student council elections last week at HHS, many questions were raised by the students as to who to vote for—what qualifies the candidate and the student leadership required.

But what is student leadership, its role and is it really needed. Now that the elections are over we, the Whiteface staff, felt that this would be an excellent time to ask the students at HHS what role does student leadership play in HHS?"

"I think most of our leadership is like it is supposed to be, but some of our leaders are chosen unfairly. Not just the really popular people should get elected offices, but people who are the best qualified for the office."—Joan Frische, senior.

"It helps for the students to show that it too, is a part of the school and can work."—Sylvia Castro, sophomore.

"I feel that the right kind of leadership is one where the students of the school get to have some say-so in the activities of the school. Not having to go through the elected person to have their opinions brought forward."—Melissa Johnson, senior.

"I feel that the role of student leadership is very important in HHS, yet I also feel that without the support of the students of a class it is very hard to achieve anything and puts more pressure on the leader of that class, therefore, without the support and unity of the entire class, it makes the role of student leadership very difficult."—David Crume, junior.

"The student leadership in HHS plays a very major role. Leaders such as student council, make major decisions concerning themes for homecoming parade, and the color of the paper for the float which student council decided later not to have."—Bill Carrothers, senior.

"Student leadership is important because in order to have a good school, you must have some good leaders. For example, this year, we did not have a student body president and I think this hurt us in several areas. There are a lot of people in our school willing to help on different projects what they need is a leader they will listen to and one they will respect and that's what you should look for when choosing officers for the school."—Steve Nieman, senior.

"Student leadership in HHS to me means helping the school to become better, making school more enjoyable and everything that we enjoy doing just as long as it is within the rules."—Angie Martinez, junior.

"Student leadership is the most important factor of a student body. Student leadership should make the rules and enforce them, they're in a high position to where they should be able to take more of the governing the school in a just manner. Leadership in HHS is like not having any at all, because we don't have the power to express ourselves to where we think things should be. The leadership in HHS is just to sit in the position, not run it."—Danny Harris, senior.

"I feel that leadership in a school could be beneficial to both the student body and the administration if both were to consider the matter seriously. Being a leader isn't the same as being 'popular'."—Lorraine Hudson, junior.

"I think that student leadership plays an important role in Hereford High School. They know more about what students want, and what action to take place in doing this. They understand more and tend to do something about it."—Rosie Castro, senior.

"The students do not have a role of leadership in HHS because of the conservatism of the administration. Too many of us are in the 3 per cent."—Paula Haug, senior.

"I think from the student election speeches made last week that the student leadership is fine. I feel that the students are capable of making mature decision and valuable judgements. We say a movie last week "Future Shock," which aroused a pessimistic concern on the part of many adults. I have no doubt the youth of today being optimistic and capable of handling the many problems which confront them. The world will be in better hands in coming years."—Fred Rattiff, choir director.

"I think the school should give the students as much leadership over the student body as possible, but the students that are given this leadership, must be capable, and sensible enough to obtain this responsibility, otherwise it will be taken away."—Rhonda Stephan, senior.

"If one of all, student leadership at HHS plays a very ineffective role. The outward signs of their leadership or work has died, probably because of the lack of confidence of school officials."—Donna Gardy, senior.

"The role of student leadership has become an almost nonexistent entity within Hereford High, due, as some say, to lack of communication between student and faculty or due perhaps to other underlying difficulties. Needless to say, however, the students must have more effective voice through student leadership in coming year."—Terry Swindell, senior.

Five Student Teachers Join HHS Teaching Staff

As many of the students have noticed, there are five new faces that have joined the teaching staff at HHS. They are student teachers Myrna Keener, Ron Leach, Ed Holwig, David Brink and Bonnie Masten.

Mrs. Myrna Keener is student teaching for Mrs. Olgesby in bookkeeping, while majoring in business education and minoring in English at West Texas State. She wants to teach in Tulsa after completing her studies. Her hobbies include her three sons, playing the piano, reading and riding motorcycles with her sons and husband. Mrs. Keener thinks that the students of HHS are pleasant, friendly, and easy to get along with.

Ron Leach is also a student teacher for Coach Mayberry teaching P.E. and will also help with Spring training. Mr. Leach's major is P.E. and his minor is history. He is currently attending WTSU and has no particular place at which he wants to teach. His interests include golf, tennis, and hunting. Mr. Leach thinks that the students of HHS have a good attitude toward school.

Mrs. Bonnie Masten is student teaching for Mr. Hodgson teaching drama and speech. Mrs. Masten is majoring in Speech and minoring in Spanish at WTSU. Her interest include people, words, skiing, gardening and cooking. She thinks that the students of HHS are a great group.

Ed Holwig is a student teacher for Coach Mayberry and is teaching P.E. and will help with Spring training in football. He is currently attending WTSU and wants to teach in Pennsylvania. Mr. Holwig is majoring in P.E. and minoring in history. His interests include outdoor sports such as golf, fishing and hunting. Mr. Holwig's opinion of HHS students is that they are nice, normal students.

David Brink is student teaching for Mr. Gordon teaching geometry and analysis. Mr. Brink's major is mathematics and his minor is physics at WTSU. He would like to teach at HHS. His interests include sailing, hiking, and tennis. Mr. Brink thinks that HHS is a fine school but that it needs to be academically tougher.

Victimless Crimes Get No Complaints

(This third in a series of stories on organized crime in Texas deals with so-called "victimless crime." It is the latest in a series of stories designed to make the public aware of the types of organized crime existing in Texas. This series is part of a public education program developed by the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council with assistance from the Texas Criminal Justice Council, the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, the Texas Department of Public Safety, the Office of the Attorney General of Texas and local law enforcement agencies.)

Organized crime, and its attendant various areas of vice, is seeking a foothold in Texas, but law enforcement officials at all levels have a close eye on the picture.

The moral shock of so called "victimless" vice—prostitution, gambling, and corruption—has faded with the times. For the most part criminal activity of this "blue" nature continues without complaint. If there is a victim, he is usually a willing victim.

But someone always loses—often the "victim's" family.

In the consensus of three Texas metro vice squad chiefs: "Nobody gets as upset over prostitution as they used to. The only time we get a complaint is when a person gets clipped or something."

Most professional gamblers willingly admit that a bettor is a sucker, that the odds are overwhelmingly against the bettor. Gambling experts have estimated that for every dollar bet legally, five to seven dollars are wagered illegally.

As one famous East Coast bookmaker used to tell his aides, "Boys, don't be envious of any rich customer. No matter how much money he makes in his own business, remember if he keeps playing the horses, he's working for us."

From the nickle numbers bet to the sophisticated computer-calculated wager, Texans trusted lady luck to the illicit tune of $4.8 million a day...$33.9 million a week...$815.2 million a year on one sport—professional and college football—for one season: September 1, 1971 through January 15, 1972.

The Department of Public Safety figures do not include bets on horse racing, baseball, basketball or other sporting events. These unlawful gambles put over $97.5 million into the criminal purses of an estimated 847 individuals currently known to be operating in organized bookmaking activities in the state. Says DPS Director Colonel Wilson Speir: "We found that football betting on a dollar volume basis is greater than all other sports booking combined in Texas."

"In contacting other agencies and researching DPS intelligence files, we determined that for the average bookmaking case, to make a raid, or get enough evidence for a search warrant, required 360 man hours of surveillance work."

Lacking enforceable legal aids and statutes, law enforcement personnel work under a handicap in deterring organized gambling practitioners. Badly needed is a law which would permit electronic surveillance under court supervision.

Intelligence information reveals that a number of bookies used $30 to $50 per day for public pay telephones to obtain lines (the odds) and make layoffs (a bookie's insurance whereby he balances his bets on each side of an event) from out-of-state and Texas sources.

Colonel Speir gave some more dollars-and-cents examples of the scope of organized bookmaking in Texas:

...A bookmaker averages 12 per cent return on his betting volume. For the '71-72 football season, this amounted to a tidy $97.8 tax-free million;

...On the average, college bets make up 66 per cent of the bets taken, pro football the remaining 34 per cent; ...The gross investment or bankroll for a bookie to operate and stay in business in Texas is $30 thousand (for an estimated criminal investment of $17.6 million);

...A raid on a bookie costs him about $3 thousand (new location, losing bettors and business as a result of the raid).

Prostitution, gambling's kissing cousin, is another "victimless" crime according to the DPS definition: one that implies a willingness on the part of the consumer to participate—with no complaints afterward—in organized criminal activity.

Vice squad chiefs point again toward today's liberalism as a reflection of public attitude on prostitution.

"It's the change in society itself...today there's by far a greater liberal attitude toward morality."

"Some people have a more permissive attitude toward prostitution." However, what you get in addition to prostitution, is its companion crimes.

The prostitute "works" to support her procurer and often to support a drug habit. When business gets bad due to arrests the procurer often steals. He sells his stolen goods to the fence, who ups the price and resells the merchandise for a profit.

(In the underworld, fencing hardly registers as a crime but as a method of receiving the benefits of discount buying without having to go to a shopping center.)

Profits from fencing help swell the purses of organized criminals—profits which are often used to fund heroin trafficking and other crimes. DPS intelligence information reflects that "many persons involved in criminal violations with respect to prostitution are (or were) also involved in the following criminal violations: narcotics, auto theft, burglary, theft, fencing, stolen goods, armed robbery, murder, assault, bribery, graft, blackmail, gambling and bookmaking."

In the words of Dallas Police Chief Frank Dyson: "Prostitution goes hand in hand with other types of crime. "Prostitution is involved in shoplifting in a large way; prostitution is involved in drug traffic in a large way; prostitution is involved in highly organized crime and in violence."

Organized crime is not a legal category and thus is not legally punishable. Legal recourse comes from one-at-a-time attempts to cripple those elements of organized crime (i.e. prostitution) which operate contrary to the laws of the state.

Texas law prohibits prostitution and engaging in prostitution. Other laws make it a crime to keep a bawdy house or employ prostitutes.

Living outside these laws can be expensive. Brothel prostitutes split 60-40 with the house; according to the DPS report. Prostitutes working with procurer split 50-50.

DPS analyses of prostitution uncovered a number of circuits working in and out of Texas, saying that a prostitute averages 10 to 14 days at each circuit location. As a result of local and state enforcement agency investigations, many arrests have been made.

From the independent streetwalker to the professional circuit call girl, prostitution contributes millions of dollars to organized crime coffers, the DPS believes.

It used to be that you could point out the prostitutes on the streets, comments one young woman. "They wore spike heels, no hose and lacy evening dresses in the middle of the day. But now they dress like everyone else and you can't recognize them."

"I hear a lot of them are college girls; some are married," she added, "working to earn extra money."

Such was the case in one county where DPS undercover operatives broke up a call girl operation in hotels.

Charges of pandering were brought against a 47-year old security guard who claimed to have 300 women working for him. Authorities estimated the number was more like 50.

Testimony revealed that some clients paid $100 an hour for the girls to come to their rooms.

As has been pointed out, changing morality has little to do with either prostitution or gambling in Texas.

They are businesses—lucrative ones. The customer rarely, if ever, considers the legality of the vice in question.

As long as the public is willing to participate, there will be a market.

Split Is In Offing

The true liberal-conservative split will probably surface in the House of Representatives this week, State Representative Bill Clayton stated today.

Representative Clayton said that bills will likely be up for debate which will show the "philosophical indication", or the difference in the way the two elements of the House think about certain issues.

The so-called "reform" bills have brought differences of opinion, Clayton said, but added that some legislators were committed to reform regardless of whether or not they were workable or in the best interest of the citizenry.

Clayton, who spoke to both the West Texas Water Institute in Lubbock and the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers Association in San Antonio last week, noted that the legislative calendar was crowded, with controversial issues beginning to surface this week.

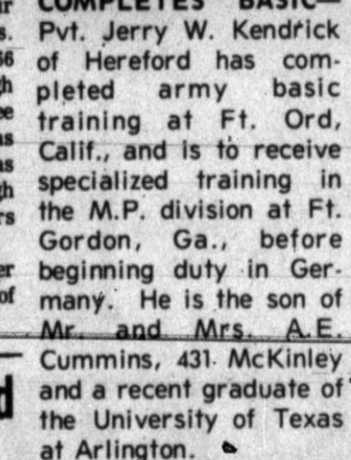

Clayton's bill to provide Texas with a "truth in lending" section to the consumer credit act is due to be debated in the House this week, along with his resolution requesting the Commissioner of Agriculture to make a study of our present branding laws and those of our neighboring states.

An extravagant and explosive "Ice Experience" is coming to Amarillo when Ice Capades presents its newest edition at the Civic Center Coliseum on Wednesday, April 18th for a five day engagement.

Unique innovations, unusual talents and "out of this world" sounds make the all-new spectacular one of the most contemporary ever presented on ice.

Three bright new faces join the cast of international skating champions this year: Julie Holmes, the beautiful 1971 World Silver Medal winner and member of the 1972 U.S. Olympic Games team, and U.S. Junior Pairs Champions, Richard Ewell and Michelle McCladdie, the first black skaters to hold a national skating title.

A colorful, up-beat production entitled "It's great to see you again" opens the show as Ice Capades' skating photographers welcome the audience and set the scene for the introduction of glamorous Swedish star, Gisela.

Novelty and comedy acts are stronger than ever this year. The Remarkable Romano family return this year with their incredible bicycling skills. # Congressional Breakfast Is Farm Legislation Arena

Leo Witkowski of Hereford, a member of the Texas Wheat Producers Association, was in Washington Wednesday when participants in the seventh annual Congressional Breakfast on Capitol Hill were told that "three subjects of especial consequence require your favorable consideration."

Witkowski, along with five other members of the state association, heard Ray Davis, of Potter, Neb., president of the national association, outline the three items to be considered. They were:

—New legislation, including continuation of the Agricultural Act of 1970, certificate payments and Public Law 480;

—Full representation for agriculture in U.S. trade policy, and —Solution of the transportation problems that frustrate free flow of U.S. farm products to market.

The Congressional Breakfast was sponsored jointly by the National Association of Wheat Growers, Great Plains Wheat, Inc., and Western Wheat Association. It has become a highly popular farm-oriented event which gives wheat growers an effective opportunity to meet informally with large numbers of U.S. Senators and Congressman.

Davis said that after 44 years of agricultural program legislation, this is not the time to do away with farm programs.

"We don't think it's right, through low farm prices, to have farmers subsidize the rest of the nation, as too often they have done," Davis said. "We do think it's right, and necessary to continue to have the supply management and income safeguards of farm programs because, no matter what is said about the nobility of agricultural independence, in a world dominated by big enterprise the individual farmer, alone, doesn't have much voice."

He said the belief that farmers today are prosperous is a myth. Farm income, per capita, is 20 per cent lower than non-farm. Farm prices, at least for crops, are little different from 20 years ago but farm machinery costs have doubled and many other costs are up even more. Farm prices have improved but still are a long way from equality with other enterprises.

Dramatizing agricultural difficulties, he said that during the last 12 years more than 6 million men, women and children have left the farm.

"I suggest that the modern environmentalist, in his proper concern for survival of the bald eagle, the osprey and the sandhill crane, may want to add the American farmer to his list of endangered species," he said.

Davis said that the average American family is able to afford today's food prices better than it could afford 1960 food prices. He cited Department of Agriculture figures which show that in 1960 the average American family spent 20 per cent of its income on food; in 1972, only 15.5 per cent on food.

"I'm afraid that for many years this nation has taken it for granted that it's a natural and desirable condition for farm prices to be low and food prices to be cheap," Davis said. "We don't expect this of other things."

Davis told the legislators that wheat growers favor continuation of the Agricultural Act of 1970 for a period of 5 years, with the wheat loan act at a minimum of 50 per cent of parity.

The National Association of Wheat Growers has been active since 1950. It directly represents wheat growers in 11 commercial wheat states and, Mr. Davis said, reflects also the concerns and needs of all wheat growers across the nation.

Scouts Cited At Gathering

Packs, Troops and Posts were honored Saturday during a day-long Scout-A-Rama held for district scouts at the Little Bull Barn.

Scouts from the surrounding area converged on Hereford to participate in the erection and display of booths. Three groups were presented the top awards, five received second place awards and one Explorer post was cited for its exhibition.

A first place ribbon and a national presidential ribbon were presented to Pack 50 of Hereford Troop 16 of Vega and Explorer Post 133 of Hereford.

First place ribbon winners were Pack 16 of Vega and Troop 154 of Hereford. Second place winners were Pack 53 of Hereford, Troop 151 of Hereford, Troop 51 of Hereford, Troop 50 of Hereford and Troop 52 of Hereford.

The award were presented Saturday evening after judges spent much of the day viewing the booths.

The booths depicted the various activities of the Cub, Boy and Explorer Scouts and the work they have conducted throughout the past year.

Adult Leaders Of 4-H Program In County Organize

Rowland and Mrs. Jim Ogle, who was named vice president, will be delegates to the District I Leaders Association. Mrs. Ogle reported on a recent trip she made to a leaders' training session in Albuquerque.

Edwin Garnett, area 4-H and youth specialist with Texas Extension Service, directed the organization meeting, explaining the set-up of 4-H work from local clubs up to the state specialists. 4-H members plus leaders plus parents contribute to the success of the organization, he emphasized.

Officers here include Mrs. Marvin Welty as secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Bruce Terry reporter.

All parents of 4-H members, as well as adult leaders in the program, are invited to be active in the Leaders Association.

Good intentions need careful nursing to keep them healthy.

Hereford Poet To Aid Project

Lois Kershen of Hereford began the special project Monday and will continue in assisting with it through the first two weeks of April.

Simultaneous programs will be held in Laurel and Jackson. The project in Hattiesburg is funded by the Mississippi State Arts Commission with a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Hattiesburg Arts Council.

A pilot program was conducted in Jackson last year.

The program is being coordinated by Mrs. Lida Rogers of the Arts Commission, Mrs. Betty Varner of the Arts Council, Mrs. Tommie Wallace of the Hattiesburg public schools and Dr. Gordon Weaver, director of the Center for Writers.

Blue Collar Jobs Down

As in most parts of the country, technological advances have caused many changes in the employment picture. With machines taking over many operations, fewer production workers are needed for the same amount of output.

By the same token, however, there has been a steadily growing need for people in clerical and management jobs.

It has led, in Deaf Smith County, to a sizeable increase in the proportion of white collar workers. The local rise, since 1960, is 8.9 per cent.

Throughout the rest of the United States, there was a 5.2 per cent rise and, in the State of Texas, 7.4 per cent.

The findings are based upon detailed figures from the Department of Commerce and the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Classified as "white collar" in the government's reports are professional, technical and kindred workers, managers, proprietors, clerical and sales people.

In the "blue collar" group are mechanics, construction workers, craftsmen, factory operatives and others engaged in the transportation and maintenance of goods and equipment.

Not included in either category are service workers and people employed on farms.

In Deaf Smith County, at the time of the 1960 census, the white collar contingent constituted 30.0 per cent of the local labor force, the government figures showed.

Now, because of the changes that have taken place since then, there are approximately 30.9 per cent in the white collar group.

The great difference that existed at one time in the earning capacity and living standards of the two types of workers has been disappearing.

The blue collar worker has been getting more and more affluent.

Since 1955, the last year in which the labor force was equally divided in terms of blue and white collar, the gap has been widening. Nationally, there are now 11 million more in the white collar ranks than the blue collar.

The findings are based upon detailed figures from the Department of Commerce and the Bureau of Labor Statistics.
