Charge Youth In June 16 Burglary

Bond for a Hereford youth was set at $2,500 Saturday morning after he was charged with burglary by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department. Arrested in Hereford Friday and charged with the felony offense was Joe Ybarra, 18, of the Labor Camp. Deaf Smith County Sheriff Lowell Sharp said the youth admitted to the burglary of Lamm Jewelry, which occurred June 16 this year. The arrest was made by County Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Maxwell.

Ybarra's bond was set in the office of Justice Of The Peace C. B. Miles at 10:30 a. m. Saturday. Sheriff Sharp said all merchandise except one watch was recovered. Apparently one watch was lost in flight, Sharp said. At the time the offense was investigated, Hereford police reported twelve wrist watches and a movie camera, all valued at $236, were taken from a window display case at Lamm Jewelry Store. Police reported that a three-by-ten foot display window was broken on the north side of the building, which is located at the corner of Main and W. Fourth St. When the window was broken, the store's burglar alarm was tripped. The burglar alarm alerted a police car cruising in the vicinity of the store. Investigating police said the watches and camera were taken through the broken section of the plate glass window. In apparent haste, two wrist watches were dropped and were found lying on the sidewalk just under the broken window. Other used wrist watches inside the display case were not touched. Hereford police patrolman Edward Robinson investigated at 11:38 p. m. on the night of the burglary.

Two Democratic Congressmen, Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa and Sen. John C. Stennis of Mississippi, stated their views on the coming election in strong terms before an audience of cheering Democrats in Hereford Friday. The two spoke at a political coffee in the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom, where about 200 persons had gathered to drum up backing and enthusiasm for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket.

Speaking first, Congressman Rogers hammered on the background of the Democratic party and its platform. Starting with founding father Thomas Jefferson, he backed the Democratic party for its progressive spirit. He acknowledged that the platform adopted in Los Angeles was not acceptable to all persons, but said, "We have a national, progressive party which includes persons from all sections of our society. All of them are entitled to be represented and heard. He cut at the Republican claim that the GOP has kept Red China out of the United Nations and drew applause when he said, "Government by Hagerty, Heister, and hindsight is not going to win the cold war."

Commission In Special Meet About Hiway 60

County Commissioners spent all day Thursday in a called session to discuss right-of-way along U. S. Highway 60 east from Hereford to the Randall County line. C. W. "Chili" Smith, Texas Highway Department district engineer; Pete Steiner, right-of-way agent for the THD, both of Amarillo; and Vernon York of Hereford, resident highway engineer, were on hand to talk with the Commission. "I want to have that road (from Hereford to Randall County) included in the December bid lettings if it is at all possible," Smith commented. He explained that all condemnation suits must be completed and the state must have possession in order for the contract to be granted. Commissioners approved five awards made by a special Commission following condemnation hearing during the past ten days. These include awards to C. Palmer Norton, Frank Tackett, J. B. Hagar, V. J. Owens and C. C. Stewart. The awards ranged from $1,550 to $16,750. (Continued on page 2)

United Fund In Drive To Reach Goal By Tuesday

A renewed effort to reach its goal of $23,632.50 will be made Monday and Tuesday by the Deaf Smith County United Fund. Rain made it impossible for the drive to be completed in one day, as had been planned for last Tuesday. Lloyd Pool announced Saturday that the target had been set for Tuesday, urging all sollicitors to finish their areas by that time. By Saturday morning, only about $8,800 had been turned in to Mark Woodall. This is only slightly more than one-third of the total needed for the budget approved for 1961. Included in the fourth annual county United Fund drive are eight local agencies. Their budgets were set after review by the budget and admission committees. Two organizations were turned down, another was included but dropped out on orders from its state headquarters. Still another group, included in previous budget, made no request since it still

The large number of absentee ballots already filed may be attributed to the fact that a President and Vice-President will be elected on Nov. 8. The Constitution Party has listed candidates for President and Vice President and nine candidates for state offices. The Prohibition Party has filed only candidates for President and Vice President. Four proposed Constitutional Amendments also are listed on the ballot. Voters may vote a

Political Interest High As Absentee Balloting Begins

An atmosphere of political activity began in Deaf Smith County Courthouse Wednesday, when absentee balloting for the Nov. 8 General Election opened. By Saturday morning, 38 absentee ballots had been cast in the County Clerk's office, indicating that the election will hold more than passing interest to residents of this county.

On the local, state and national level, the Democratic Party will have Republican Party opposition in various races. Absentee balloting will continue through Friday, Nov. 4, at 5 p. m. Absentee votes will be accepted through mail or at the County Clerk's office. Local races of interest are for County Clerk and County Tax Assessor-Collector, both with Democratic and G. O. P. candidates. Unopposed Democratic candidates are on the ballot for election to five posts, including County Attorney, County Sheriff, County Judge, and County Commissioners of Precincts One and Three. All district races have only

Around Town

It was a fine day and the public responded with a good turnout Saturday for the Fall Mall. And like so many other things, it took behind-the-scenes work to get it ready to roll. Rotarians spent long nights cooking their fine barbecue. And at 6 a. m. Saturday, employees of the city of Hereford were setting up barricades, getting cars moved off the Mall area of Main Street and sweeping every inch of the display areas.

If we could just get fine band music for our Harvest Festival parade like we had for the Mall, the Festival would really be a top-notch affair. Charille Bell, by the way, had charge of the entertainment for the Mall; Marshall Wilson was general chairman and Pack Brogdon was in charge of the auction.

Some visitors in town Friday afternoon from Levelland came around just positive that we had built a beautiful new courthouse. When we pointed out it was the same building that was erected 50 years ago, they declared that, at the very least, the marble and stonework outside must have been cleaned. Again we demurred. About that time, the visitors saw some other folks from Levelland and stopped them, saying, "You've got to go look at that courthouse...it's the prettiest thing, and it's 50 years old!"

Despite our comparative lack of age, we were about to retire from the newspaper (Continued on page 5)

Suspects Held For Memphis

Two Hereford men were scheduled to be turned over to authorities in Memphis this weekend after arrest by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department here Thursday night. Arrested at 9 p. m. in the 100 block of Second St. Thursday was Lionel Lechuga, 25, 332 Ave. G, who has been charged with assault with intent to murder in Memphis, according to local authorities. Arrested at the same time was 23-year-old Hereford man who was being held for investigation on armed robbery for the Memphis sheriff's office. Formal charges had not been filed against the man. Making the arrests were County Sheriff Lowell Sharp and deputies Kenneth Maxwell and Bill McCarver.

McCann Leads Lobos Past A Battling Herd In Loop Game

Hard-running fullback Ronald McCann led the Levelland Lobos to a 14-6 victory over the fighting Hereford Whitefaces here Friday night. It was the first conference outing for both squads. The win put Levelland into a tie with Phillips, as the Blackhaws battered Littlefield 22-6 in the other district battle. Dumas was idle. Phillips will be host to the Hereford Herd next Friday night. With remarkable balance and speed, the 168-pound McCann tore through the Hereford defense for two touchdowns, the second after Hereford had tied the score at 6-6. The entire game was a bruiser for both teams. Levelland scored late in the first period and held off Hereford for the remainder of the half. Early in the second half, Hereford scored, but lost the chance to go ahead on a penalty call. Levelland roared back immediately to score and then turned back all of the Herd's efforts to even the contest again. The game started with Hereford fullback Eddie Skypala back in the line-up after missing three and a half games from a broken collarbone. But on the first place from scrimmage, Skypala was hurt again. On the same play, Levelland grabbed the ball. But two plays later, Levelland fumbled to Hereford. It almost seemed like an "Alphonse-Gaston" act as Hereford ran seven plays and fumbled. Levelland ran five plays and punted. Hereford ran three and punted. Waiting to grab it was McCann, who scooted 51 yards down the west sideline until he was up-ended by quarterback Jim Collier on the Hereford 11. McCann used brute power for the next five plays to cover the distance. He dived over the final yard to score the initial TD. Lobo quarterback Gary Mc (Continued on page 3)

Later in the year, concert and sight reading contests will be held. (Continued on page 2)

Two Charged In Theft Over $50

Bonds for two Hereford women were set at $1,000 Friday after they were charged with theft over $50, a felony offense. Charged were Dominga Ramirez, 36, 126 25 Mile Ave.; and Alice Castillo, 34, 127 Ave. B. They were charged in connection with the theft of a billfold reportedly lost by Jesus Varela of Hereford in a local cafe sometime between 10 p. m. to 11 p. m. Tuesday, according to Hereford police. The billfold contained $518, which included a $25 check and the balance was in cash. Miss Ramirez allegedly found the wallet in a booth, police reported, and $50 found in possession of Miss Castillo was believed to have been part of the money in the wallet. Police said the wallet, papers and the $25 check were believed to have been burned. About $405 in cash has been recovered, according to police. Miss Ramirez was arrested at about 9 a. m. Friday at her home. Making the arrest was Hereford police patrolman L. R. Cheryhomes. Miss Castillo was arrested at her home at about 10 a. m. Friday. Making the arrest was Hereford police Capt. L. B. Bartlett. Both were turned over to Deaf Smith County authorities. Miss Castillo was released after making bond Friday.

Democratic

"I am a conservative, Southern Democrat," Stennis said by way of introduction, then proceeded to explain why he would support the nominees for president and vice president.

"I was for Johnson at the convention, he was my first choice," Stennis admitted. "As majority leader, Lyndon B. Johnson has done more than any other one man to pull the Eisenhower administration through its rough spots. He didn't exploit the openings that were offered him, since his country comes first. He lends definite strength to the ticket."

"Kennedy has one of the best, quickest, most through minds of this generation," he continued. "He speaks his mind, hits issues fairly and squarely, and believes completely in the separation of church and state."

Stennis asserted the Democratic party was sincerely trying to wrestle with the problems of the little man, the small businessman, the farmer and the professional man.

He cited figures showing bankruptcy for business is higher now than it was in the depression years.

"On the military preparedness program, he said that the U.S. was engaged in a terrible struggle to narrow the gap between it and Russia in missile development while holding the communists at bay with a strong armed services program."

"I would like a balanced budget," he commented, "but other things must come first if we are to keep our guard up."

Stennis also blasted the present farm program as weak and by state land-grant colleges about how the bottom would drop out of the farm economy if price supports were to be removed completely. "Wheat would go to 40 cents a bushel, cotton to 21 cents and corn to 80 cents," he declared. "And already our net farm income has dropped by 3.5 billion dollars."

"The Democrats will do more to help the farmers, to keep prices as high as possible and still keep goods flowing to the market. If we get prices too high, we will be defeated by foreign imports and synthetic substitutes," Stennis said.

Senator Stennis also blasted the U. S. stand at the United Nations and the move of Cuba into the Russian camp.

"We must re-appraise our stand in the U. N. We have allowed membership to increase from 51 to the astounding total of 99 nations. Why we admitted 16 nations from Africa alone during the last session of the U. N. These nations are so weak and so lacking in leadership and basic skills that they are pray for any power that comes there."

"We must look to some kind of Western Alliance, since the U. N. has hit its peak and appears to be on its way down. America has used the U. N. for a firm foreign policy."

He also blasted America's stand against Cuban insults and grabs of foreign investments in the country. "If something isn't done soon, they (the Russians) will come in and put in missile bases and submarine bases on Cuba, just 90 miles from the United States."

"We should have long since given them some of Teddy Roosevelt's medicine with a big stick."

"We can have no hopes for strong allies in the Far East. We must build our neighbors on this continent, in Central and South America. We must tell the world that we're going to re-assert the Monroe Doctrine. It has been successful for 100 years and now we have hit it with our left hand and abandoned it. We have abandoned our firmness."

"I am going to vote for those I think have a better grasp of this nation's problems and will work harder to solve them and will lead America into a period of strength and dignity," he concluded.

Master of ceremonies for the meeting was Louis Woodford, county Democratic chairman. Also on the platform were Mrs. J. T. Musiek of Austin and Charlie Gibson of Amarillo, head of the Kennedy-Johnson campaign in the 18th Congressional District.

Experience

Continued from page 1) Christian literature and evangelism in that country," said Grisham. "A religious freedom is now open in Argentina, and we feel the distribution of Christian literature is what the Lord wants us to do."

He explained that the government in the country was recently changed from a dictatorship to a republic.

While in Argentina, they will work with the Iglesia Cristiana Evangelica (Christian Evangelistic Churches.) They will work with two other former residents of Hereford now in the country, the Rev. and Mrs. Orval Swindoll, The Rev. Swindoll was co-pastor at the Avenue Baptist Church in Hereford in 1951.

In addition to circulating Christian literature, they will also work with native evangelists in establishing self-supporting New Testament churches. They also hope to establish a Bible school for Christian adults.

From 1954 through 1956, they were missionaries in Ghana, West Africa, where they also were teachers in a Bible college. Their youngest daughter was born in West Africa.

Grisham first became interested in printing at Wayland College in Plainview, where he worked his way through college for three years in the printing department. For two years he worked in the printing department of Associated Credit Bureaus of the Pacific Northwest in Portland, Ore.

From January through July, 1957, he worked in the advertising department of the Hereford Brand. Both consider Hereford as their permanent address.

At the request of Associated Credit Bureaus, he returned to the company in Portland and was manager of the department when he decided to continue work in the missionary field this year.

Through individual sources, he purchased the lithographic equipment during the past three years. He received the B. A. degree in Bible at Wayland in 1953, and his wife, Avis, has had two years of college.

"The urgency of the Gospel being preached in its fullness to the underprivileged nations is our only hope to combat the move of communism in these areas," he explained. "We feel that the greatest means that we can use is through the use of the printed page."

"If they can be reached for Christ before communism converts them," he added, "then there is hope for their nation and for the world. Communism each year sends out between 35,000 to 40,000 missionaries, and Christianity of all faiths sends out only a small percentage of this number."

Grisham and his family moved to Hereford in 1947. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Grisham, Route 4, Hereford.

Mrs. Grisham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Culp, 328 Ave. I. They will stay with the Culp's until they leave for Argentina.

The 30-year-old missionary said "Russia brings in thousands of native graduates from all over the world into Russia each year to train them in the principles of communism. They then return to their own countries to work as communist missionaries to convert their people to what they feel is the answer to the nation's problems."

"How can we, as Christians,

He added that communist missionaries stress the printed word. "They took Red China through the printed word," he said. "Unless we are able to combat these forces with equal or better strength, then we have no point in going."

Investigate Two Burglaries Here

Hereford police Saturday continued investigation of two burglaries reported in the city Friday morning.

Businesses burglarized were the Murl Parker Repair Shop, 119 Lee, and Bell Service Station, First and Lee streets.

The repair shop burglary was committed some time Thursday night, police reported. Taken from the business were an electric razor, 50 pennies, a merchant's book of green stamps valued at $12 and a book marker. The office was ransacked and a soft drink machine was damaged, police said.

Investigating Hereford patrolman Claude Roper reported the window at the rear of the shop was broken in gaining entry.

Taken from the service station, burglarized some time between 9 p. m. Thursday and 7 a. m. Friday, were six candy bars and five soft drinks. A sharp instrument was used in opening the candy machine, according to investigating patrolman Bobby Roberts.

McCann...

Continued from page 1) Millan's run for two points was short, but Levelland had a 6-0 lead with 55 seconds left in the first quarter.

Led by all-state guard Edwin Thomas, the Lobos were stopped on another goal-line rush at the Hereford six-yard line. The last of the second period was battled out in mid-field.

End Wesley Poarch kicked off to start the thirdquarter, went downfield and recovered McCann's fumble on the next play to set up Hereford's only score.

From the Lobos' 39, Hereford was stymied by a penalty and punted. A personal foul call on Levelland gave Hereford the ball on the Levelland 24.

Halfback Dennis Hodges made four on a pitch-out and halfback Mack Cansler set up score with a 19-yard jaunt on a reverse. From the one, quarterback Jim Collier wedged his way over to score.

Reserve fullback Clyde Whitaker's kick for one point was signaled good, then nullified by a 15-yard penalty against the Whitefaces. Collier's pass to cover the 18 yards was incomplete, but Hereford had a tie with 8:45 of the third quarter remaining.

But the Lobos quickly marched from their own 41 to score and go ahead. McCann, halfback Bobby Williams and halfback Ronnie Fietz pounded out yardage in big chunks. McCann finally powered over right tackle for the final yard.

Then Ted Turnbow came in to pass for two big points to end Ronnie Simpson with 2:51 left in the third period.

And that was the scoring, but Halfback Dennis Hodges, and fullback Curtis Ritchie tried to get Hereford back in the game. Collier kept calling the plays during the march that carried inside the Lobo 10.

Hodges ripped off 13 yards, then spun for 11 more. Cansler went 11 yards on a reverse and Ritchie got four up the middle. Hodges ripped off 21 more on a burst up the middle to set the ball on the Levelland 10.

Hodges was stopped, Cansler got one and Collier's two passes were incomplete as the drive sputtered to a halt.

Midway through the final period, Levelland cranked up an aerial circus. McMillan threw to end Pat Campbell for 20 and for 5, then hit Simpson for 16 after being thrown for losses by Thomas and Butch Walterscheid. But the ball went over to Hereford on its own 5 and 25 yards to go after a penalty.

Collier's 15-yard pass play to Hodges just wasn't enough and Levelland was deep in Hereford territory as the game ended.

Penalties at crucial times, plus two lost fumbles, hurt the Herd chances as the lightly-regarded Whitefaces threw a scare into the cocky Lobos.

It was the second loss of the season for coach Bobby Williams' battling Herd against three wins and a tie. The victory set Levelland's record at 4-2.

The next day he was driving to a speaking engagement and his car collided with another. He continued on foot.

PIONEER REAR ENGINE CAR MILWAUKEE —A rear engine automobile built in Detroit 25 years ago has gone on display at the Brooks Stevens Automotive Museum here.

A Boston syndicate hired R.C. Hoffman, an automotive engineer, to develop the auto with the hope that three of the major companies of the mid-1930s would combine and produce it.

The car, powered by an X-8 cylinder engine, was first driven in Detroit on Aug. 7, 1935. But the four-door 179 inch auto was the only of its kind built.

Stevens says the auto industry apparently decided the public wasn't ready for a rear-engine car in those days.

'60 Family Picnics Are Salty Affairs

By VIVIAN BROWN
SAND FLEAS have replaced ants at the family picnic. The boating fervor has made sandy shores favorite picnic spots. A boating picnic is popular because it offers fun to the entire family. Dad and the boys can fish, the girls can swim and mom can relax with a good book, her knitting, or join the others in their sport. Transporting food is easy. An ice chest can keep cold drinks and perishables. Foil for wrapping perishables is handy as is new type transparent film bags which come on a roll, snap off when needed. They can be used later to pick up trash at the picnic spot.

Hard boiled eggs, peaches, grapes, cherries, plums may all be protected by packing them in egg cartons before wrapping in wax paper, foil or putting the carton in a plastic bag. Salt and pepper should be covered with an adhesive strip. If a table cloth be used, pebbles or rocks may be sewn in the corners of it to serve as an anchor. Matches can be dipped in paraffin or colorless nail polish to keep them dry. Charcoal comes already packaged, ready to ignite with a match. Far sighted types take along a few bricks to take along a grid, unless you take along a charcoal broiler.

The boat cushions serve as seats when you find a place to anchor, and if the boat is Large enough to house a bridge table, it can be used for the al fresco meal. If one does not have an insulated chest or other cooler, you can make a temporary one. Take a convenient-sized carton, line it well with newspapers, both bottom and sides. Fill the bottom of the box with ice cubes. Cover with another thick layer of newspapers. Place the food on top of it. Put another layer of paper over it. Place another layer of ice cubes and paper on that. This should keep food cold for hours.

It's a good idea to keep coolers — whether homemade or not — out of the sun while you travel to the picnic grounds. Even a well-insulated cooler will show the effects of having been in the heat when it is opened.

business this week when we received the following letter. We can't figure out whether it was sent as a joke or not. Anyway, it said:

"Dear Sir:

"Last year you printed an article, at least I think that it was your paper, that interested me very much. But I have forgotten what it was. I lost my notes on the subject and can't find the paper. Will you please send me another copy of same, or better still, just print it again, if it was your paper. A Subscriber"

Now, we'll do most anything for a subscriber. But we are baffled about this one. We hope the writer will find his notes soon so we can fulfill the request.

The Big Spring Daily Herald carried a picture last Sunday of the six returning lettermen of the Howard County Junior College basketball team. One of them is Ken Clearman of Hereford, who is co-captain of the Jayhawks. Ken, you will recall, was a starter on the 1958-59 Whiteface squad that won, second in state.

Dr. C. E. Hicks will be guest speaker at the Deaf Smith County Council PTA meeting on Thursday, Oct. 27, at 8 p. m. The meeting will be held in the board room at the school administration building. His topic will be understanding emotional problems to improve human relations. An executive session has been called for 7:30 p. m. by Mrs. Glenn Allred, president.

Leveland managed to win over Hereford Friday night, but they had a battle on their hands for all 48 minutes. The Herd hasn't beaten the Lobos since 1949, but came mighty close this week. We were proud of the Whitefaces and the battle they made during every play.

Next week, the Herd goes to Phillips to try the best team in the district. The Hawks have won six without a loss and have had just 13 points scored against them. As usual, Hereford will be the underdog but has the potential to sneak up and pull the feathers off the black and orange birds. Tickets for the game are on sale now at Dub's Man's Shop. And if you dread that long drive, check at Dub's or McDowell Drug about the chartered buses the Whiteface Booster Club wants to take over.

Regular meeting of the County Commission is slated for 10 a. m. Monday.

All-day singing will be conducted at the Bippus Church Sunday, Oct. 30, starting at 11 a. m. A basket lunch will be served and everyone is urged to attend.

New Fireplace Faces You Can Do Yourself

By VIVIAN BROWN
Want to give your fireplace a new face?
It's easy with some individual touches of wood paneling, brick or stone. There's a mighty do-it-yourself movement in development areas to individualize look-alike fireplaces.
Even if your neighbor also chooses stone, yours can be different. Varied textures and a wide range of muted colors now are available in lightweight quarried stone. Modern methods of pre-cutting stone thin and in easy-to-handle pieces make limestone, granite, blue-marble and sandstone practical for interior decorative use.
One rainbow-type sandstone blends muted shades of pink, gold and grey. There are shades from charcoal to gold in corrugated and rough effects to smooth surfaces of slate or polished marble.
To those who would like a fireplace in their present home, Frank Tufaro of the Building Stone Institute, says:
"It is not difficult to add a fireplace to a ranch or split-level house, although certain basic cautions must be observed." He offers these suggestions:
1. The foundation of the fireplace must be grounded securely in the earth for safety and it is essential that careful attention be given to fulfilling local regulations when flues are constructed, leading to a chimney.
2. A fireplace should be designed in proportion to the size of the room. The traditional placement of the fireplace as an inviting vista as one enters the room is now alternated by construction of corner fireplaces and side positioning.

3. The closer the brick work of the fireplace is to the flame, the more it is heated. A small opening is likely to heat more

Invalids Get Charm Steps In Hospital

By NORMA GAUHN
Madeline Ketch thought she had 20 different diseases after listening to her customers talk about their operations.
She also thought she should have had nursing training for the job she took on: running the beauty parlor in the new 25-million-dollar Washington, D. C., Hospital Center.
"It took about a year to build up business," Mrs. Ketch recalls two years later. "Now I work six days a week and have two beauty operators working with me."

Some of her customers come in with fractured backs, legs, arms. Others are post-operative cases, unable to get out of a wheelchair.
"I have to be like a nurse," Mrs. Ketch explains. "Some women are really ill and I've learned how to handle them with sympathy. When I hired a second operator, I found one who was also a practical nurse because it's so important to know how to move wheelchair patients."
Mrs. Ketch recalls one customer who was partially paralyzed. "But she wanted to look nice for her husband so she underwent two hours of discomfort for a permanent."
Many women are reluctant to let their friends know how gray they have become during a long hospital stay.
"If they can't get out of a wheelchair," Mrs. Ketch says, "I rig up special tubes, bowls and aprons for a color rinse."
Nearly all hospitals offer beauty services of a beauty operator who comes in to give shampoos, sets and haircuts. The new Washington hospital is one of few with its own beauty shop in the building.
"Doctors are getting to know the importance of beauty care in therapy," Mrs. Ketch says. "All our work with patients has a doctor's okay. The part of my job I like most is having women tell me how grateful they are for their hairdos."
Mrs. Ketch's shop is also open

A Price Tag On Services?

Would you spend $3 so that 300 boys could play baseball in the summer? Would $5 be too much to give for more than 500 people to learn swimming and water safety. Would you donate $3 or $4 to a family whose home had been destroyed by fire or who had no food? Could you deny $2 to a drunk who honestly wanted to get sober and stay that way?
If you knew that 50 cents or a dollar would help a teenager get a job and stay out of trouble next summer, would you deny him? Would you refuse to spend $5 so that 800 children might learn new skills and enjoy other outdoor experiences?
"No, I would not turn them down," you cry indignantly. But we have turned them down. We have denied them. And the proof points accusingly at us from the meager total reached this week by the Deaf Smith County United Fund.
There is no excuse for this pittance. There is only blame. You are to blame. I am to blame. We have not given to the United Fund.
"Oh yes, I have given," you exclaim self-righteously. Yes, you gave. You handed one of the volunteer solicitors a dollar. Or smugly wrote a check for $3, thinking all the time that it could be deducted from your income tax.
A United Fund was organized in Deaf Smith County four years ago. Its purpose was to take advantage of a single large effort, cut down on the time donated by volunteer workers to various fund-raising projects and discouraged the many drives which had plagued residents with irritating frequency.
True, it hasn't eliminated all the drives . . . and probably never will. But it has provided an authentic United Fund effort to which everyone can contribute.
But the fallacy comes when too many people begin to think they should contribute as if only one organization was involved.
If each of the eight participating agencies came around separately, you would give each of them at least $1 and some of them would get more. Would you rather be solicited once . . . or eight different times?
If the United Fund fails, all of us are losers. We have failed to support our local needs.
Perhaps you don't like one of the agencies involved. Fine, that's your choice. But don't penalize the other agencies. You can specify any particular groups to which you wish to contribute.
If you can't give as much as you would like right now, just sign a pledge card and a bank draft to give a little every month.
If this drive fails, we have only ourselves to blame and we are the losers.

efficiently than a larger one where more heat goes up the chimney.
4. Windows within the range of vision also tend to detract from enjoyment of the fire. If needed for light, decorators suggest that they be located above the line of vision.
5. If barbecue equipment is introduced into the family room as an adjunct to the stone fireplace room divider, now popular with homemakers, highly efficient metal hoods may be obtained to conduct smoke safely away from the room.

HD Club Has Thursday Meet

Mrs. Allen Klein was hostess to the North Hereford Home Demonstration Club Thursday afternoon when it met at the Bull Barn.

During the roll call, each member gave the answers to three questions: (1) What I will do to improve myself before the next meeting (2) A daily practice for self improvement (3) The person I would like to be.

Miss Roberta Campbell introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Alice Cox, who presented a program on "Self Improvement" using Mrs. Marvin Kendrick as a model. Mrs. Cox demonstrated the proper method to give a facial and explained the importance of using proper application of eyeshadow and carefully choose a shade to complement the costume worn. She also demonstrated the proper grooming and care of eyelashes and brows.

A Thanksgiving dinner has been planned for club members and their families, set for Nov. 16 at the Bull Barn.

The following members were announced as officers for the coming year: Mrs. Clinton Ward, president; Mrs. Marvin Kendrick, vice-president; Miss Roberta Campbell, secretary; Mrs. Allen Klein, assistant secretary; Mrs. Gaylon Bryan, treasurer; Mrs. R. Young Homemakers Hear Mrs. Steele At Recent Meeting

The group welcomed Mrs. Don Steele, guest speaker. Mrs. Steele presented a program on "Self Improvement," and explained to the members that charm must come from within, and is not put on like makeup or a new dress.

The members discussed the possibility of conducting a school on sewing with wool in the near future.

Those present for the meeting were Mesdames Charles Brothers, Phillip Shook, Melvin Shaw, Jack Campbell, Richard Clark, Don Steele, and a new member, Mrs. James Stayton.

A table arrangement of pink dahlias in an antique china container was also used. Mrs. Roy Haberer, Dmmitt, served the cake while Mrs. Bonnie Haberer, Earth, presided at the silver coffee service and crystal punch bowl. Pastel cones, fall mums and other cut and potted plants

Cecil Meadows, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Earth. Mrs. Haberer moved with her husband, the late John Haberer, from Nebraska to the Big Square community in 1910, arriving there July 1. Ten years later the family moved to Hereford where Mrs. Haberer

Paschel - Harwell Vows Exchanged In Amarillo

Sacred Heart Cathedral in Amarillo was the scene for an impressive double ring ceremony uniting Joan Kay Paschel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Paschel of Hereford, and Don Montgomery Harwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roddy Harwell Sr., of Vega, Monday evening, Sept. 12.

The Reverend Meier read the ceremony before an altar adorned with basket arrangements of white stock and gladioli. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a sage green suit complemented with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of white sweet-heart roses.

Mrs. James Robert Scott, sister of the groom, attended the bride as matron of honor. Larry Paschel, brother of the bride, served as best man. The bride's mother chose a navy silk dress with white accessories for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Harwell, the groom's mother, was attired in a navy blue suit, complemented by white. Both wore corsages of white roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal party and members of the families were feeted with a dinner at a fashionable restaurant. The bride's parents served as host and hostesses.

The bride is a graduate of Adrian High School and at the time of her marriage was employed at the Vega Telephone Company.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Vega High School and is a Group II of the Christian Women's Fellowship met on Wednesday, Oct. 19, in the home of Mrs. Nona Jewell. The leader, Mrs. Glenn Williams, opened the meeting with a prayer.

A business session followed, at which time the women were reminded that Sunday is Women's Day in the church and throughout the Brotherhood. It is also the 40th anniversary of the United Christian Missionary Society and the Brotherhood is launching its ten-year program for the Decade of Decision, 1960-1970.

A short devotional was presented to the group by Mrs. Carl Williams, who was also in charge of the program. The subject of the lesson was "Our churches serving the institutions when they are founded and what they have accomplished today."

She gave a brief history of five different institutes for the Christian churches' sponsor. They are the Mexican Christian Institute at San Antonio, Hazegreen Academy in Kentucky, Yakima Indian Christian Mission, Whitewan, Wash., All-people's Christian Institute at San Antonio and the Southern Christian Institute at Edwards, Miss.

Maybe it is just by baking a cake. If you love the kitchen, this is probably the best place to be, anyway. Or if your forte is sewing, try slip-covering an old chair, or completely change your living room's appearance with crisp new drapes and cover a chair in matching material.

It really is just as Jo Steele says, "These things just don't happen. You have to learn to develop your talents."

It's taking that first step that's the hardest. Just make sure it is in the right direction.

Jo spends many hours speaking to various clubs and civic organizations on this subject. Her warm and vivacious personality has made her a favorite with all who come in contact with her.

Mrs. Steele confesses to one homemaking sin. She says she isn't a good cook, but as none of her family were present, this should be taken with a grain of salt. With her capabilities, cooking should be a breeze.

Mrs. Don Steele is a prime example of today's woman. Busy and alert, and above all, happy in the fact that she is a woman.

Doctor's offices are crowded every day with females in all age ranges who complain of headaches, and a host of mysterious "aches and pains." Some are neurotic, granted, and probably ready for the psychiatrist's leather couch.

But there is really no excuse for being bored. Hobby clubs flourish in every community, and more women are discovering everyday the benefits to be derived by just forgetting about your troubles for a little while by being creative.
