WINDOW SHOPPING in Hereford Thursday morning was a seemingly curious and confused pigeon. For a few minutes, he was the center of attention to other regular shoppers and merchants on Main St. as he flew from store to store. Hundreds of pigeons lost their homes earlier this month, when the huge trees surrounding Deaf Smith County Court House were uprooted. (Staff Photo)

United Fund Sets Goal Of $24,232

A goal of $24,232.50 was announced Friday by the budget and admission committee of the Deaf Smith County United Fund. The goal was set after the committee had screened applicants and granted tentative allocations to eight agencies, all of the local in nature.

The 1960 drive will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 18, with an intensive effort made to collect all donations and pledges in one day.

Heading the 1960 fund drive as campaign chairman will be Lloyd Pool. Advance gifts committee of the United Fund organization plans to start work about Oct. 1. Dick Barnard is president of the United Fund while Maurice Tannahill is serving as finance committee chairman.

Around Town

One thing about living in Hereford: you don't get to rest very long between projects. No sooner do we find that the old folks home definitely will be here than the budget goal is set for the United Fund and we're off and running again. But that's the spirit that makes Hereford a fine place in which to live.

School children get the day off Monday because of the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo. Despite some objections, school officials feel it is better to let all the children off for one day than to have a large number missing each day because of the fair.

He probably wasn't the only one, but Paul Jette got so enthused and excited at Friday night's football game that he paid his dues and joined the Whiteface Booster Club. President Jim Wiman might just set up a booth outside the gate and get a slice of new members if the Herd keeps winning. The Booster Club, by the way, will

F-M Road Work Starting Soon

Construction on Farm To Market Road 2587, 19 miles north of Hereford, is scheduled to begin in the very near future, it has been announced by William V. York Sr., Texas Highway Department resident engineer in the Hereford area.

Location of the project is from U. S. 385 about 19 miles north of the city to six miles west of the highway. Contracting firm is Gilvin - Terrill, Inc., of Amarillo.

The construction will consist of grading, structures, base and surfacing, and work is scheduled to be completed by Nov. 15 this year, with the exception of the final asphalt seal coat. The asphalt coating will be applied next April.

York pointed out that traffic would be routed through the project, and that motorists are urged to obey all warning signs and barricades which will be prominently displayed at all times.

Variety Keynote For Crop, Conservation Tour Tuesday

Final Decision: Golden Age Home Will Be In Hereford

Green lights flashed and "go" flags were waved Thursday night as Hereford officially became the site of a golden age home.

Original timetable of action for the home was discarded as the site became official.

A delegation of four persons from Hereford attended a special meeting in Lubbock Thursday night. Earnest Langley headed the group, which also included Woodrow Wilson, mayor of Hereford; the Rev. H. L.

Thurston, pastor of the First Methodist Church; and the Rev. Gilbert Davis, pastor of the First Christian Church.

They met with the board of the Homes for Older Adults of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference. After presenting pledges and donations totalling $116,000, a goodwill gift from this area, and an option on a suitable site, they were informed the home would be located here.

The board then named a special advisory committee from Hereford to work with the board's building committee. Appointed to this group were two Methodists, J. C. McCracken and Dyalthis Benson, and two non-Methodists, Jim Bob Allison and Palmer Norton.

The building committee was authorized immediately to retain an architect and proceed with plans for the home.

And officers of the special Methodist corporation were authorized to begin working with the Federal Housing Authority office in Lubbock to secure a loan for part of the building cost.

As soon as plans are ready and a loan is arranged, the

Benefield To Attend Sugar Beet Meeting

Lee Benefield of Hereford will represent the Hereford Sugar Beets Raisers Association in a special meeting at Denver, Colo. on Monday.

The meeting will be an open discussion about a Department of Agriculture proposal to discontinue sugar beet acreage allotments for 1961. The Sugar Division of the D of A is to head the discussion.

Also on hand will be O. R. Streichbein of Washington, D.C., legislative representative for the Texas beet growers.

The proposal, according to James W. Witherspoon of Hereford, a member of the association's special committee charged with trying to get more acreage allotment in proven producing areas such as this, seems to be a move to hasten Congressional action on the extension of the Sugar Act.

He stated that the proposed action would not make much difference to us, since the sugar

Springlake Girl Hurt In Wreck Coming To Game

A 17-year-old Springlake girl on her way to the Hereford-Dimmitt football game Friday night was injured in a two-car accident five miles south of Hereford on U. S. 385.

Jeanette Holbrooks, a high school student from Springlake, received a fractured facial bone on the left side of her face and was admitted to Deaf Smith County Hospital shortly after the accident, which occurred about 7:40 p. m. She was listed in good condition by her attending physician Saturday morning.

She was a passenger of a car driven by her brother, Johnnie Wayne Holbrooks, 19, when the Holbrooks automobile struck

Maize Harvest Starting Slowly

Following scattered and light showers Thursday night, harvesting of crops continued in Deaf Smith County Friday and Saturday.

Grain sorghum, some of it with a high moisture content, is going over the scales at a slow pace, elevator managers reported Saturday morning. Planting of the 1961 crop of wheat is at least half-finished, and the showers Thursday night were welcomed by most county wheat farmers.

A quality grade of carrots are feeding a fair market. The market is dragging now, but it is expected to pick up later in the harvest season, one vegetable shed operator reported.

Harvesting of lettuce should begin in about a week or 10 days. A shed operator who had inspected fields of lettuce Friday said the crop is "excellent." There is no indication on market at the present time.

One elevator manager said moisture of maize ranged from 14% to 17% per cent this week. Another said moisture content is from 13% to 15 per cent, and that combines had just scratched the fields.

Carrot harvesting will get in to full swing sometime in October and continue through November. Early sets of carrots were harvested beginning about a month ago.

An exceptional crop of cabbage has been harvested, a shed operator said. Some loads sold at about $35 a ton, he said.

Lettuce, a fast crop, usually feeds a fast market, he said. Last year, the crop and market both were above average in this county, the manager added. It will be harvested until the first frost of the season hits.

For the past month, farmers have been seeding wheat for the 1961 crop. More than 200,000 acres of wheat should be grown this year. Most of the crop seeded to date has been on irrigated farm. Much of the wheat has broken through the ground.

Harvest of cotton should be started before the end of the month. About 10,000 acres should be harvested, a cotton grower told the Brand Saturday morning.

From 150,000 to 165,000 acres of grain sorghum should be harvested this year. Most maize farmers in this area feel that the crop this year will have high yields.

Moisture which fell in this area Thursday night generally measured from .15 to .25 of an inch.

Some 100 persons or more are expected to attend the Soil Conservation and Crops Tour scheduled in east and west portions of Deaf Smith County Tuesday afternoon.

The tour is sponsored by the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District and various agricultural agencies and business people in Hereford.

The car caravan will leave the County Courthouse at about 1:30 p. m. Seven stops will be made, five of them west of the city.

All interested persons including farmers, merchants and business people, are invited, according to J. W. "Lefty" Thomas, County Agricultural Agent.

Stevens Death Ruled Suicide

Funeral services were pending Saturday for R. H. Stevens, 57, of Hereford, who was found dead of a pistol shot in a bedroom of his home at 209 Ave. H Saturday morning.

Justice Of The Peace C. B. Miles rendered a verdict of "gunshot wound, self-inflicted" in the death.

A chrome-plated, pearl-handle .44 calibre pistol was found near Mr. Stevens' left hand. The body was found lying on a bed by Mr. Stevens' mother, Mrs. Cora Stevens, who is visiting in Hereford.

Mrs. Cora Stevens said she was preparing breakfast when she heard the shot. The bullet entered Mr. Stevens' forehead. The man had been examined by a local physician in the home at about 6:15 a. m. Saturday, according to investigating officers. Investigating were officers of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department and Hereford Police Department.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Marcum - Scott Funeral Home in Hereford.

Mr. Stevens was born Feb. 24, 1903, at Noel, Mo. He had lived in Hereford for about seven years, and reportedly was unemployed at the time of death. Survivors are his wife, Ruby, of the home; four sons, Robert H. Jr., of Marysville, Wash., Kenneth, 227 Ave. D, Dean, who is in the U. S. Marine Corps at Camp Pendleton, Cal., and Dwane of the home address; his mother, Mrs. Cora Stevens, of Sulphur, Okla.; and seven grandchildren.

Hereford Riders Win Honors And Trip To State

Several members of Hereford Riders Club won first place for the second straight year in District 2, American Association of Sheriff's Poses and Riding Clubs, after final competition Sunday at the Will Rogers Arena in Amarillo.

Contests have been held once a month since April. Individuals placing first and second in each event are eligible for the state ASPRC contest to be held in Fort Worth Oct. 8-9.

At the Amarillo competition, high point winner in the men's senior division was Harold Beauchamp of Hereford. Cliff Johnson of Hereford was second and Ed Waldrop of Amarillo placed third.

'Faces Knock Off Dimmitt 28-0 For Second Straight

Hereford proved Friday night that it had two fullbacks as good as Dimmitt's Junior Coffey, and a defense that was far better.

While in the process of stopping Coffey, the Whitefaces powered to a 28-0 victory here over the Bobcats. It was the second straight win for Hereford . . . and the scores were identical.

But the victory was expensive, as the Herd's driving fullback Eddie Skypala received a broken collarbone late in the second period and will be out for most of the season. End Lee Kimball also received a facial cut and broken tooth, but his injury is not believed to be serious.

However, Coach Bobby Williams showed his bench strength had skill and know-how during the second half after a slow start. Skypala scored late in the first period on a one-yard drive over right tackle. The try for points failed and Hereford settled down to protect its six-point lead.

Hugh Clearman . . . new CROP chairman

Clearman Heads CROP Group

Hugh Clearman of Hereford Friday was elected new chairman of the Deaf Smith County Christian Rural Overseas Program.

Clearman succeeds Virgil Dodson of Hereford as county chairman of the organization, which each year collects commodities to feed the undernourished in other countries.

Colby Conkright of Hereford was elected vice-chairman of the county organization, replacing the Rev. V. W. Marmontell.

Dodson asked that he be relieved of the county chairmanship of CROP because of other commitments. He announced that he would still be an active member of the organization.

The group meeting Friday morning in the Western Wheel Inn set another meeting for Monday, Sept. 19, at 7 a. m., when they would select solicitors for contributions of commodities.

The Rev. H. L. Thurston, chairman of the state board of directors of CROP in Texas, challenged the county organization to help in a program to feed 50,000 of the "most undernourished school children" in Hong Kong, China, this year.

At a recent meeting held in New Orleans, the Rev. Thurston explained, it was pointed out there were some 150,000 undernourished children attending schools in Hong Kong. He added that 50,000 of them are badly undernourished.

Rice, he explained, constitutes the main food in their diets, and that the city can use all the rice it can get. He suggested that the county organization obtain a carload of maize, which could later be converted to a carload of rice to be sent to Hong Kong. Attending the meeting were

FOLLOWING HIS INTERFERENCE, Hereford quarterback Jim Collier (15) romps for 10 yards late in the third quarter of the Whiteface-Dimmitt Bobcat game here Friday night. Collier's teammate, center James Gentry, is shown blocking out Bobcat Gene Bradley in the foreground. After the play, Hereford was penalized 15 yards, but Collier was credited for the 10-yard run on a quarterback keeper play. The play was one in a drive for the Whitefaces' third touchdown. Hereford won, 28-0. (Staff Photo)

"I HEARD your mother chopping wood", say Doc Gibbs to son George in a scene from "Our Town," a Thornton Wilder classic American drama to be presented by the Hereford High School Thespian Society Sept. 26-27. Doc Gibbs, played by Troy Don Moore, left, scolds George Gibbs, portrayed by John Buck, for playing baseball instead of doing his daily chores. Except for a few chairs and table, the play requires no sets. The production will be presented as the annual All-School Play. (Staff Photo)

The Herd exploded for 14 points in the third period. Halfback Mack Cansler found a good hole in the line and twisted 35 yards for a TD with Wesley Poarch laying the key block.

Reserve - everything Curtis Ritchie, who knows the plays for both halfback slots as well as fullback, drove around right end for two extra points with 8:57 remaining in the third period.

Cansler tallied again just about six minutes later as he went to his right on a reverse for ten yards. The try for points was no good.

Hereford's final tally came as a result of its rugged defense. With time running out in the fourth period, Dimmitt went to the air and Cansler grabbed off a pass and zipped 63 yards before being dragged down by Coffey on the Dimmitt 2-yard line. Ritchie made the two yards his first try and Dennis Hodges went around right end for the final two points.

As in its 28-0 win over Canyon a week earlier, Hereford's explosive offense and hard-nosed defense kept Dimmitt off-balance all night.

The Bobcats had their first two outings, but found the Herd too much. Coffey was a constant threat from his fullback slot, but he just didn't have enough help to keep the Cat offense in motion.

On the opening series of downs in the game, Coffey and Little Gene Bradley carried for six yards on the opening play for Hereford, but Dimmitt held and the Herd punted.

Coffey and quarterback Jim Ratcliff, a sophomore, got three yards in three tries and punted.

Ritchie returned the kick 28 yards to Dimmitt's 32 and Hereford was ready for business. Skypala, Cansler and Hodges carried down to the one. With a fourth - and - one situation, Skypala drove over the right side and the Herd had a 6-0 lead. The drive covered 68 yards in 11 plays.

But Coffey almost gave the hysterical Hereford fans collective heart failure when he gathered in the return kick - off and bulled 62 yards. He was apparently stopped, but rolled off. Lee Kimball finally brought him down on Hereford's 18.

A Dimmitt fumble gave Hereford the ball and pulled them out of that hole. A Herd fumble gave the Bobcats possession in Hereford territory, but Butch Walterscheid and Eugene Baldwin set up camp in the Cat backfield to slow the drive. With fourth down and 25 to go, Ratcliff hit Coffey on a screen pass, but the Hereford defense gave the play a two yard loss.

Skypala was hurt on next to the last play of the first half as Hereford ran out the clock.

But the rest of the team came back ready to do battle in the third quarter. Dennis Hodges returned the kick - off 18 yards to the Hereford 36 and the push was on.

Quarterback Jim Collier guided the Whitefaces 64 yards in seven plays. He carried, along with Hodges, Cansler and Ritchie. Cansler scored on his 35-yard jaunt as Wesley Poarch cut down the last Dimmitt defender. Ritchie scored the two extra points.

On their second play, Dimmitt fumbled and Hereford took over on the Bobcat 44. Collier hit Hodges on a 21-yard pass play before Cansler, Ritchie and Collier carried to the 10. Cansler swung to the right on a reverse to tally and Ritchie got the two extra points.

Early in the fourth period, Hereford got in a hole but reversed the position when Cansler quick-kicked 68 yards. Late in the game, Dimmitt went to the air in a desperate effort to crack the scoring column. But Cansler grabbed off Ratcliff's fourth aerial of the series and whipped down the sidelines. He lost a footrace with Coffey and was brought down on the Dimmitt two. Ritchie blasted over left tackle and Hodges scampered around right end for the final eight points.

Coffey netted 73 yards on 15 carries, almost the entire ground gain for Dimmitt. But he was held to no gain four times and lost two yards on another carry. He averaged 4.9 yards per carry.

Jim Ratcliff, who promises to become one of the area's best signal-callers, threw 14 passes, completed 8 for 60 yards and had one intercepted.

Junior Wayne Meachum at end made two circus catches for Dimmitt.

Hereford coaches were high in praise for the entire team. Jim Pavlicek, who played just one series of downs on offense,

High point winner in the girl's junior division was Charlotte Williams of Hereford. Billie Woolbright of Hereford placed third in that division, and Konye Stalls of White Deer placed second.

David Hill of Hereford was high point winner in the boy's junior division. Phillie Fletcher of Amarillo placed second and Red Iker of Fritch was third.

Hereford winners of District 2 contests were:

was outstanding on defense. Eugene Baldwin and Butch Walterscheid spent a lot of time in the Dimmitt backfield while guard Edwin Thomas made Coffey his personal tackling dummy all night.

Quarterback Walker Parris, a junior who spent most of last season on the bench with a broken ankle, got into action the first time this year late in the fourth quarter. Parris had been benched with loose teeth suffered in a pre-season scrimmage.

Fred Martin, Clyde Whitaker and Curtis Ritchie all played fullback after Skypala was injured, and performed well.

One of the keys to the game was Dimmitt's four lost fumbles of their five bobbles. Hereford lost its only fumble.

Some of Hereford's future opponents didn't fare so well. Levelland got up - ended by Artesia, 7-6, while Seminole and Littlefield battled to a 10-20 deadlock. Dumas took its second loss from AAAA foes, losing to Borger 34-0, while Olton beat Springlake 32-13.

the rear of an automobile driven by Edwin Calvert, 47, of Nazareth.

Another passenger in the Holbrooks car, Betty Sue, 13, also escaped injury. Riding in the Calvert car were Calvert's wife and small child, who were not injured.

The wreck occurred as the two cars were slowing after passing a radar check point on the highway, according to investigating Highway patrolmen Carol Parker and Charles Skinner of the Hereford unit.

Damage to Holbrooks' 1959 model car was estimated at about $1,100. Damage to Calvert's 1955 model automobile was about $800. Patrolman Parker said.

The Holbrooks car left the highway to the right, and the other car came to a stop on the apron of the left side. Both cars were headed north, toward Hereford.

The injured girls were taken to the hospital by a Marcum-Scott ambulance.

Goal for 1961 operations is more than $700 smaller than the $25,000 goal for the current year. This will be the fourth year for a United Fund drive in Deaf Smith County. All three previous goals have been met.

The budget committee failed to grant requests from two groups, the Hereford Committee sought $4500, and the Texas United Fund, which asked for $600.

Hereford Athletic Club officials did not ask for an allocation. They had been included in previous United Fund budgets.

For comparison, here are the 1960 budget allocations from the United Fund: Hereford Athletic Club, $1000; Salvation Army, $2600; Campfire Girls, $2937.50; Boy Scouts, $5500; Red Cross, $7992; Youth Employment Service, $334; Heart Association, $600; Hereford Commission on Alcoholism, $400; Little League, $1050; and Pony League, $1050.

Slates from Pembrokeshire in South Wales were used on the original roof of the British House of Commons, destroyed in World War II.

meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the Community Center to see film of the Dimmitt contest and hear a scouting report on Muleshoe, Hereford's next opponent.

Football mothers are supposed to meet Tuesday, Sept. 20, in the Community Center clubroom. Time is 8 p. m.

When does 250,000 years of history make news? Well, lots of folks lately have been talking about bones that old out at James McAndrews' feedlots east of Hereford. Where the widening will take place, James has found a bunch of bones that have been judged a quarter of a million years old by some WT experts. They include skeletons of sabertooth tigers and small horses. Mrs. McAndrews said that any local classes or groups would be welcome to come and look.

Chairman Paul Harvey figures to have a full house for his merchants committee meeting next Thursday at 10 a. m. in the Jim Hill Hotel. They plan to elect a new chairman and most of these fellows have learned the hard way that the best way to get a job is to be absent when the vote is made. And Don Zimmerman is still laughing over the way he got Maurice Tannahill to collect for Christmas decorations on the east side of the 200 block of Main Street. Don was assigned the block, but took the work kit into Maurice and very seriously told him, "You should have been at the meeting. You got appointed to do this job." Maurice believed him, since this is typical, took the kit and made a canvass while Don tried to work up his nerve enough to tell Maurice it was meant to be a joke.

Shirley School PTA "Get Acquainted With Your Teacher" night will be Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the school cafeteria. Families are to bring basket lunches for themselves and one (hungry) teacher, the announcement says. Drinks will be furnished. The room having the most parents present will be given a prize.

Regular monthly meeting of the Financial Group of the merchants committee will be held Wednesday, Sept. 21, in the C of C conference room.

Hereford Chapter of the Texas Young Farmers will meet in regular session on Tuesday, Sept. 20, at 8 p. m. in the High School agriculture building. All young men between 18 and 35 are invited to attend.

All women in this area are invited to attend a free show at the Star Theatre here at 10 a. m. Wednesday, Sept. 21. The film, "Time and Two Women," shows that cancer can be cured. Mrs. Corrinne Neeley, execu-

With the time cut down, we look for a big crowd to attend the crop tour Tuesday afternoon. You'll be amazed at all that is going on around our farms and ranches.

Wow, what can you say that hasn't been said about Friday's football game. We regret Eddie Skypala's injury but are somewhat relieved when we realize that milk is supposed to help mend broken bones, since Eddie's dad is distributor for a dairy.

Junior Coffey by himself is strong.

These announcements are expected to speed up somewhat the original timetable, which would have seen construction completed about September of 1962.

The Rev. Don Davidson, Abilene, executive director for the board, said the Hereford home likely will be built in two construction steps, the first structure to provide for about 60 residents, and the second to increase facilities to care for 150 persons.

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Hereford spearheaded the campaign for a home here.

The Hereford Area Foundation later was formed. It took over the project, raised the money and secured the site.

Plans call for a private efficiency apartment for each resident, congregate parlors, visiting rooms, dining room, library, chapel, television - viewing room, hobby shop, party room, snack bar, solarium, and infirmary, with provisions for a guest bedroom when needed.

Radiant baseboard heating, and individual brass door knockers and name plates on each apartment are included in present plans.

Appointed to a building committee to contact firms for preliminary designs for the home were W. W. Watkins, Rails; the Rev. Hugh Blaylock, Dimmitt; D. L. Adcock, Lamesa; Earnest Langley, Hereford; and C. A. Porter, Slaton.

The home will be open to persons of all faiths, but applications must first be cleared with a committee on admissions, Davidson explained.

He said that those who move into the home, in most cases, will pay for the actual cost of care by the month on a cooperative basis and on a non-profit program.

"At least 20 per cent of the apartments will be assigned to older adults who need help at financial levels, under a charitable program with church - gift tax consideration for each donor," the director added.

"No applicant will be required to give all he has to get into the home," he emphasized.

Davidson further stipulated that the "design for capital finance makes provisions for gifts, either memorials, freewill gifts, annuity investments for lifetime dividends to the donor, deferred membership, or immediate care residence."

Residents may furnish their own apartments as they wish so long as their plan meets safety codes and the citizenship code set up by a proposed council of members who will make their own rules. Members will be free to choose their own daily activities and schedules.

By JIMMIE GILLENTE

People all over the country are marveling at the way Hereford came through on the home for old people. A writer for a non-denominational church paper called Friday, and the main thing he wanted to know was: "What motivated the people of a community to support the drive in such an admirable fashion?"

When you boil it all down, this really is a key question. People all over the United States are faced with the same problem which the residents of Hereford are attempting to solve. A generation ago, it was presumed that children would take care of their parents in old age; else the parents saved enough to take care of themselves.

Today, even when the children are able and willing, the older folks are the ones who rebel. Like most other Americans, they enjoy their independence; they have reared their own children and, while they dote on their grandchildren, they seldom look forward to once again assuming responsibilities. The proposed Golden Age Home is over the top - but we haven't heard the last of it. The project may well become a nation-wide example, copied from coast to coast.

Jim Wiman did a good job of fumbling the other morning when it came time to pick up a coffee check. Someone asked how he managed to so adroitly out-fumble a bunch of pros. Answered Jim:

"I have short arms, deep pockets - and three teenage daughters."

A lot of people seem to be turning up with pneumonia these days. Time was when a tremendous percentage of the pneumonia cases were lost but, thanks to our so-called "miracle drugs," they are not the serious problem they once were. In fact, they do not seem to hang on so long as the average common cold, or "flu" case. A few days, and the pneumonia victim is up and about.

I have decided that Hereford is one of the most cosmopolitan communities in the world. This week I had an invitation to go fishing in Mexico with Dale Tinnin, Dub Reeves, Ross Latham and Ray Godwin, who took off Thursday for the Falcon Lake country. I was feeling sorry for myself when I got a call from another bunch who were talking about a fishing trip in Canada. Where else in all the world would you find another town this size with two such offers in a 24-hour period? I guess it's like Otis Hall says:

"Hereford is the best fishing spot in the country. You go 1,000 miles in any direction - and you'll find good water."

Charles Skelton, former sheriff who recently went into the cattle feeding business, says he can't decide if this private enterprise is all it's cracked up to be.

"I guess the first of September was one of the few times in my adult life I didn't have a pay check coming in," said Charles; "and to say the least, it gives you a funny feeling."

Interest is once again picking up in the Nevada land business. Ralph Hastings, N. D. Bartlett, Grady Rogers and Neil Cooper, to mention a few, feel as if they are beginning to get somewhere. Others report that "right of entries" are coming through, and several prospectors from this area are figuring on wells. There are a lot of problems, though; the most practical crops, markets, and reliable tenants rank high on the list, along with a comparatively short growing season. Most of the people I see are enthusiastic, and figure that the deal will work out well on a long-range basis.

Meanwhile, Mr. Khrushchev is raising quite a stink because he is not being given a run-of-the-country during his UN visit. This is a typical Commie tactic, it seems, based on the theory that the squeaking wheel gets the grease. Unfortunately, we cannot ban him from the meeting, but I go along with restricting him to the smallest bit of real estate possible.

Folks who return from matriculating their offspring in Hardin - Simmons University, have only the highest words of praise for George Graham, former Hereford superintendent, who recently became Administrative Vice-President of the school. Friends say that the Grahams are happy indeed, and that they are doing a jam-up, first class job.

I was most happy to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Bill Decker plan to continue making their home here after Bill sold his interest in the insurance business to J. W. Robinson, Jr. The Deckers are fine people, good citizens - and have contributed a lot to the growth and progress of the community. Bill gets teed-off at me because I don't share his enthusiasm for LBJ these days but, after all, if everyone who doesn't agree with me were to move away, I figure this would soon be a pretty lonesome place.

Hereford's 1960 football team got rolling against Dimmitt Friday night and pretty well established the fact that we are back in business. Bartley Dowell was no little upset when he listened to the 11 o'clock newscast and Bob Izzard reported: "Hereford nosed out Dimmitt 28 to 0." And don't kid yourself, Dimmitt has one of the stronger AA teams in the district. It's like Bill Morris said, "Those 10 Bobcats and 1 coon" are plenty rough.

Anyway, football is beginning to take over. A few more victories, and that's all you will hear. The town will go stark, raving mad.

Mrs. James Teas Feted At Showers

Mrs. James Teas, the former Miss Maxie Wiseman, was honored with a lingerie shower given in the First National Bank community room Aug. 27. Hostesses were Misses Toni Parker, Maribeth Gilliland, Susie Woodford, Jan Reese, Linda Reed, Joy Story, Brenda Beasley, Patsy Livesay and Mrs. Roger Shipley.

The refreshment table was laid with a cream-colored lace cloth over blue. Appointments were in milk glass, and the punch was blue, carrying out the bride's chosen colors.

Centerpiece for the bride's table consisted of an arrangement of garden flowers and milk glass containers, flanked by tall white wedding tapers.

Mrs. Teas was also feted at a miscellaneous shower Sept. 9 in the community room of the First National Bank. The table was covered with a blue linen cloth, and appointments were in

CROP Director Speaks At Meet

The Rev. H. L. Thurston of Hereford, chairman of the state board of directors of Christian Rural Overseas Program in Texas, told of his organization's plans for this year at the noon meeting of Hereford Kiwanis Club Thursday in I. O. O. F. Hall.

The Rev. Thurston gave a short history of CROP, which was started as a commodity program to feed the hungry overseas.

He said current plans are to acquire a carload of rice per week to feed some 50,000 starving children in Hong Kong, China.

Within hours of the first earthquake at Chile, 20,000 pounds of food were moved into the disaster area, he said.

Program chairman was Kiwanian Bob Philpot, who introduced the Rev. Thurston to the members.

Guest at the regular meeting was Chud Tarpley of Amarillo. James Gentry of Dawn, a student at Hereford High School, was introduced as the club's new Junior Kiwanian.

milk glass. The table decorations carried out the bride's chosen colors.

The table was centered with an arrangement of white asters in a milk glass container. Other table appointments were in milk glass containers. Other table appointments were in milk glass.

Gifts the bride had received were displayed.

Those acting as hostesses for the fete were Mesdames M. G. Kearns, Burney Kearns, Carl Schroeder, J. C. Reese, Marvin Knox, E. B. Hopson, Ernest McGee and Elmer Patterson.

Cynthia Knox registered the guests, who were received by Mrs. M. G. Kearns, the guest of honor, and Mrs. Roger Shipley, matron of honor in the wedding.

Hold First Meet Of American Field Service Committee

The first fall meeting of the local American Field Service committee was held in the home making living room at the high school Wednesday morning with Mrs. J. J. Durham, chairman, presiding.

It was announced that recent information from the New York headquarters of the American Field Service revealed that there are 1,865 exchange students in the United States in the program this year.

The service is encouraging the community to send students abroad in three programs. They are as follows: Northern and Southern Hemisphere program, as well as the summer program, since the program is developing so rapidly and more countries are becoming interested in the program.

Mrs. Frank Powell, finance

chairman, advised that any donations or gifts from individuals or groups for the exchange students should be put into the local American Field Service fund and that from that fund special needs of each student would be met.

Anyone wishing to make such a gift should contact a member of the local committee. She reported a balance of $597.68 on hand in the fund.

Mrs. Powell proposed two fund-raising projects to be sponsored by the Future Homemakers girls to benefit the fund. The first would be a chili supper in January and a benefit tea in an individual's home, perhaps in November.

Members of the committee voted to express their appreciation to local business and professional people for their generous support of the exchange student program. Special thanks were extended to local dentists and physicians for professional care given the students.

Rain Welcome Sight To Farmers In Area

by MRS. S. N. THWEATT
The moisture that fell last Thursday night was a lifesaver for the farmers. The wheat was in need of water since some that was planted was drying out and dying. The row crops were needing it very much. More would be welcome.

When you boil it all down, this really is a key question. People all over the United States are faced with the same problem which the residents of Hereford are attempting to solve. A generation ago, it was presumed that children would take care of their parents in old age; else the parents saved enough to take care of themselves.

Today, even when the children are able and willing, the older folks are the ones who rebel. Like most other Americans, they enjoy their independence; they have reared their own children and, while they dote on their grandchildren, they seldom look forward to once again assuming responsibilities. The proposed Golden Age Home is over the top - but we haven't heard the last of it. The project may well become a nation-wide example, copied from coast to coast.

Jim Wiman did a good job of fumbling the other morning when it came time to pick up a coffee check. Someone asked how he managed to so adroitly out-fumble a bunch of pros. Answered Jim:

"I have short arms, deep pockets - and three teenage daughters."

A lot of people seem to be turning up with pneumonia these days. Time was when a tremendous percentage of the pneumonia cases were lost but, thanks to our so-called "miracle drugs," they are not the serious problem they once were. In fact, they do not seem to hang on so long as the average common cold, or "flu" case. A few days, and the pneumonia victim is up and about.

I have decided that Hereford is one of the most cosmopolitan communities in the world. This week I had an invitation to go fishing in Mexico with Dale Tinnin, Dub Reeves, Ross Latham and Ray Godwin, who took off Thursday for the Falcon Lake country. I was feeling sorry for myself when I got a call from another bunch who were talking about a fishing trip in Canada. Where else in all the world would you find another town this size with two such offers in a 24-hour period? I guess it's like Otis Hall says:

"Hereford is the best fishing spot in the country. You go 1,000 miles in any direction - and you'll find good water."

Charles Skelton, former sheriff who recently went into the cattle feeding business, says he can't decide if this private enterprise is all it's cracked up to be.

"I guess the first of September was one of the few times in my adult life I didn't have a pay check coming in," said Charles; "and to say the least, it gives you a funny feeling."

Interest is once again picking up in the Nevada land business. Ralph Hastings, N. D. Bartlett, Grady Rogers and Neil Cooper, to mention a few, feel as if they are beginning to get somewhere. Others report that "right of entries" are coming through, and several prospectors from this area are figuring on wells. There are a lot of problems, though: the most practical crops, markets, and reliable tenants rank high on the list, along with a comparatively short growing season. Most of the people I see are enthusiastic, and figure that the deal will work out well on a long-range basis.

Meanwhile, Mr. Khrushchev is raising quite a stink because he is not being given a run-of-the-country during his UN visit. This is a typical Commie tactic, it seems, based on the theory that the squeaking wheel gets the grease. Unfortunately, we cannot ban him from the meeting, but I go along with restricting him to the smallest bit of real estate possible.

Folks who return from matriculating their offspring in Hardin - Simmons University, have only the highest words of praise for George Graham, former Hereford superintendent, who recently became Administrative Vice-President of the school. Friends say that the Grahams are happy indeed, and that they are doing a jam-up, first class job.

I was most happy to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Bill Decker plan to continue making their home here after Bill sold his interest in the insurance business to J. W. Robinson, Jr. The Deckers are fine people, good citizens - and have contributed a lot to the growth and progress of the community. Bill gets tired - off at me because I don't share his enthusiasm for LBJ these days but, after all, if everyone who doesn't agree with me were to move away, I figure this would soon be a pretty lonesome place.

Hereford's 1960 football team got rolling against Dimmitt Friday night and pretty well established the fact that we are back in business. Bartley Dowell was no little upset when he listened to the 11 o'clock newscast and Bob Lizard reported: "Hereford nosed out Dimmitt 28 - to - 0." And don't kid yourself, Dimmitt has one of the stronger AA teams in the district. It's like Bill Morris said, "Those 10 Bobcats and 1 coon" are plenty rough.

Anyway, football is beginning to take over. A few more victories, and that's all you will hear. The town will go stark, raving mad.

Mrs. James Teas Feted At Showers

Mrs. James Teas, the former Miss Maxie Wiseman, was honored with a lingerie shower given in the First National Bank community room Aug. 27. Hostesses were Misses Toni Parker, Maribeth Gilliland, Susie Woodford, Jan Reese, Linda Reed, Joy Story, Brenda Beasley, Patsey Livesay and Mrs. Roger Shipley.

The refreshment table was laid with a cream-colored lace cloth over blue. Appointments were in milk glass and the punch was blue, carrying out the bride's chosen colors. Centerpiece for the bride's table consisted of an arrangement of garden flowers and milk glass containers, flanked by tall white wedding tapers.

Mrs. Teas was also feted at a miscellaneous shower Sept. 9 in the community room of the First National Bank. The table was covered with a blue linen cloth, and appointments were in

CROP Director Speaks At Meet

The Rev. H. L. Thurston of Hereford, chairman of the state board of directors of Christian Rural Overseas Program in Texas, told of his organization's plans for this year at the noon meeting of Hereford Kiwanis Club Thursday in I. O. O. F. Hall.

The Rev. Thurston gave a short history of CROP, which was started as a commodity program to feed the hungry overseas.

He said current plans are to acquire a carload of rice per week to feed some 50,000 starving children in Hong Kong, China.

Within hours of the first earthquake at Chile, 20,000 pounds of food were moved into the disaster area, he said.

Program chairman was Kiwanian Bob Philbot, who introduced the Rev. Thurston to the members.

Guest at the regular meeting was Chud Tarpley of Amarillo. James Gentry of Dawn, a student at Hereford High School was introduced as the club's new Junior Kiwanian.

The table was centered with an arrangement of white asters in a milk glass container. Other table appointments were in milk glass containers. Other table appointments were in milk glass.

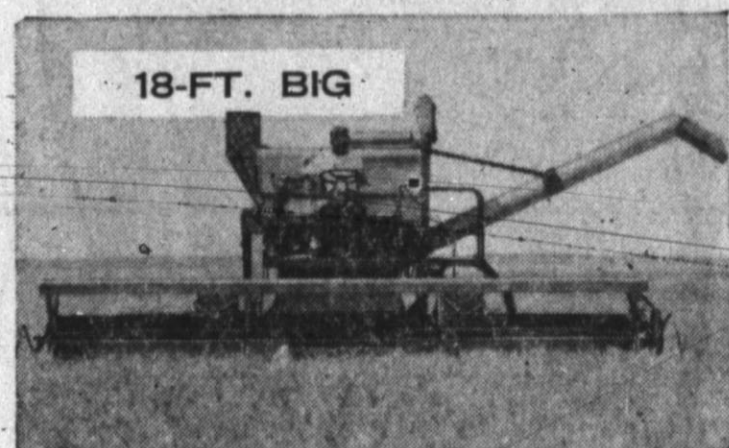

Gifts the bride had received were displayed.

Those acting as hostesses for the fete were Mesdames M. G. Kearns, Burney Kearns, Carl Schroeder, J. C. Reese, Marvin Knox, E. B. Hopson, Ernest McGee and Elmer Patterson.

Cynthia Knox registered the guests, who were received by Mrs. M. G. Kearns, the guest of honor, and Mrs. Roger Shipley, matron of honor in the wedding.

Hold First Meet Of American Field Service Committee

The first fall meeting of the local American Field Service committee was held in the home making living room at the high school Wednesday morning with Mrs. J. J. Durham, chairman, presiding.

It was announced that recent information from the New York headquarters of the American Field Service revealed that there are 1,865 exchange students in the United States in the program this year.

The service is encouraging the community to send students abroad in three programs. They are as follows: Northern and Southern Hemisphere program as well as the summer program, since the program is developing so rapidly and more countries are becoming interested in the program.

Mrs. Frank Powell, finance

chairman, advised that any donations or gifts from individuals or groups for the exchange students should be put into the local American Field Service fund and that from that fund special needs of each student would be met.

Anyone wishing to make such a gift should contact a member of the local committee. She reported a balance of $597.68 on hand in the fund.

Mrs. Powell proposed two fund-raising projects to be sponsored by the Future Homemakers girls to benefit the fund. The first would be a chili supper in January and a benefit tea in an individual's home, perhaps in November.

Members of the committee voted to express their appreciation to local business and professional people for their generous support of the exchange student program. Special thanks were extended to local dentists and physicians for professional care given the students.

REMEMBER WHEN?

BY CHARLIE SEEDS

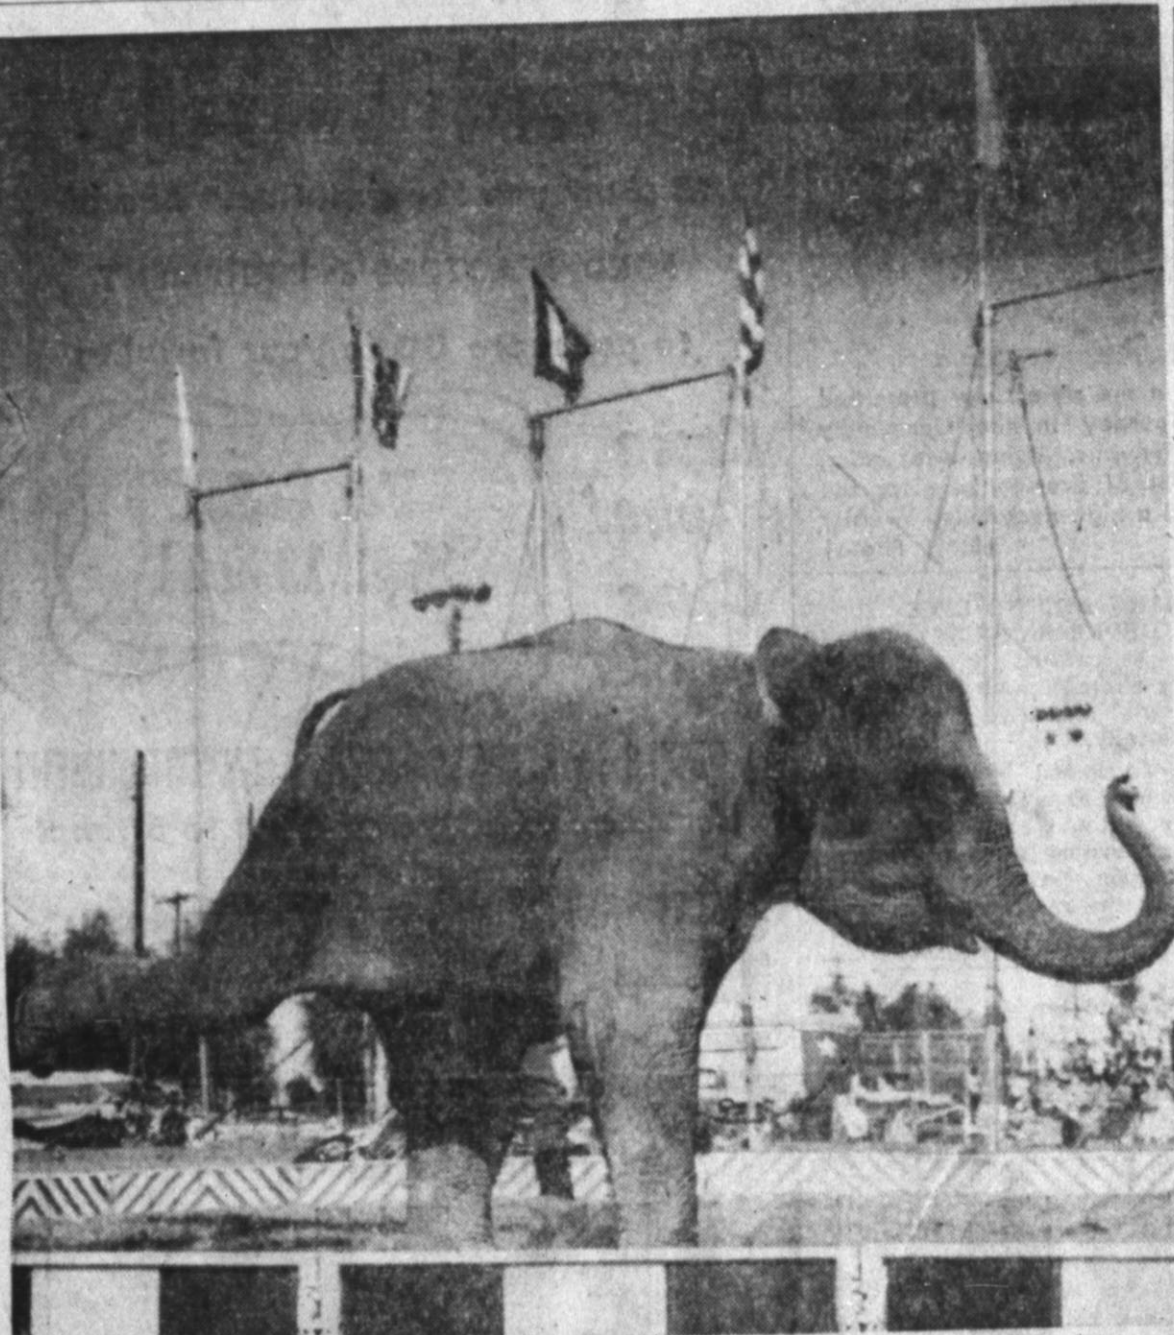

"NYLONS ON SALE" ... That's not a headline you'll remember, because when it first happened it wasn't front page news. But the year when nylon hose first went on sale was a significant event in modern history, as any woman — or man! — can tell you.

The production of this new kind of stocking material was a noteworthy example of applied science. The first sale of nylons was an experimental one, held in a department store in Wilmington, Delaware. The stockings had come from a single pilot plant of Nylon Division of the DuPont Company.

The response of American women was overwhelming. By Christmas of that year women everywhere were clamoring for nylons. Full-scale production of the sensational new stockings followed immediately after the first sale ... but production couldn't keep up with the demand. Something new had been added to feminine beauty.

Remember the year? Women liked the looks of the new nylons that year ... and liked the way they gave. Men looked for similar things that year in an automobile ... good looks and the promise of dependable service.

The year was 1939. ahead features that mean lasting value ... plus engineering that means dependable service ... you get all this in a new '60 FORD. Harvest Starts By Community Farmers

By Mrs. Hershel Miller, Jr.
Harvest time is here again. Bill Gentry has started his combines rolling through his irrigated maize but the one inch rain received last week has halted harvest temporarily. He had cut six loads. The moisture content ran from 15.35 to 19 per cent. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smith have recently come back from a month's vacation in the north-central part of the United States. They left from Dawn for Tulsa, Okla., where they visited with their nephew, Benny O'Dell; they proceeded on to the central part of Michigan where they spent two weeks visiting with Mr. Smith's family. They attended his mother, Mrs. Crawford's, family reunion. From there they went to the upper part of Michigan, crossed over the bridge at Mackinaw City, went through the 'locks' at Sioux St. Marie and on into Canada by boat. They then started home by way of Minnesota, the Bad Lands and Black Hills of South Dakota, making a stop at Mt. Rushmore to view the faces cut into the stone of the mountain. The Smiths also stopped at Cheyenne, Wyo., Denver and Colorado Springs; and on home by way of New Mex. Co. The Smiths report a memorable trip.

Mrs. H. S. Fuller left Monday by chartered bus from Amarillo with a delegation from this area bound for the State Home Demonstration Convention in Galveston. Mrs. Fuller is a state chairman and is also president of the Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Council. Mrs. T. J. Parsons is also going to the convention, but she is going by car. Mrs. Parsons is the vice-president for this district.

There are several new pupils enrolled in the Dawn School. They are: Alex Garcia, sixth grade; Pedro Garcia and Isidra Figueroa, fifth grade; Rosendo Garcia, Noe Orta and Juan Orta, third grade. These new students push the enrollment at Dawn Elementary School up to forty-nine pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gentry and Karen Sue from Amarillo visited and ate with his brother and family, the Bill Gentrys.

Mr. and Mrs. Molena and their grandchildren moved to Umlinger this week. He is employed at the Dawn Co-operative Elevator. Moving into the house vacated by the Molenas are new residents of the community, Mr. and Mrs. Benny Benham and sons. Benham is employed by Steve Bavousett. Mrs. Benham cooked for Dawn School Cafeteria last year.

The Dawn Baptist Church is getting their new educational building near to completion and a committee has been selected by the Womens Missionary Union to supervise the furnishing of the new kitchen, being built there. The committee consists of Mrs. Edgar Lemons, Mrs. Walter Lemons, Mrs. R. L. Johnson and Mrs. W. T. Beavers.

Attendance pins were given recently in the Dawn Baptist Church to Mrs. William Wimberley for nine months perfect attendance in Sunday School. Other awards went to Ann Gentry, six months, and to Billy Miller, three months perfect attendance.

Mrs. L. M. Harms of Amarillo visited Saturday and Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Stewart.

Mrs. Carl Wimberley and Phyllis visited with Mrs. Joe Pruet in Canyon and saw the Pruet's new baby girl, born September 1. The baby's name is Cynthia Jo.

Guests in the H. E. Hooten home over Saturday and Sunday of this week were his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hooten, Marian and Jim, from Silverton.

Visitors in the Ray Polan home over Sunday were Mrs. C. V. Williamson, Polan's sister, from Midland; Mr. J. L. Polan, Ray Polan's father from Dumas; Jerry Baird, Mrs. Polan's brother from Levelland, and Kay Packard from Hereford.

Mrs. Richard Henshaw and daughters, Dianne and Delane, Mrs. Jimmy Pugh and son Randy and E. W. Pittman all of Littlefield were week end guests in the Ted Richardson home. Also guests in the Richardson home were Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson. The Thompsons plan to move to this community. Mrs. Henshaw is Mrs. Richardson's sister and Mrs. Pugh and Mrs. Thompson are Mrs. Richardson's nieces.

Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson son are planning to move into the Walter Galley house on the Bill Gentry farm. Thompson is going to be employed by Ted Richardson. Ted, David and Gary went to Wilson, Okla. Saturday to get Thompsons' household furnishings. The Sunbeams meeting was held at the Dawn Baptist Church Sept. 7. Present were Ricky May, Tony Dale Burrus,

John R. Wheelock visited with Billy Wimberley on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. William Wimberley and Mrs. W. W. Wimberley visited with E. A. Oberst of Canyon this week. The Robert Oglesby home in Canyon was the scene of a family dinner Sunday. Those present were J. R. Oglesby from Mobeetle, the J. B. Caraway family, the Reese Stewart family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart and family and the Robert Oglesbys.

Tuesday of last week Mrs. Carl Wimberley attended a luncheon in Amarillo with members of the State Junior Council of Junior Federation of Music Clubs. Among those present were Mrs. D. L. Darden of Borger, Junior Counselor of the organization, and Mrs. Sam Seay of Amarillo, the Past State President. The three women discussed the State Junior Convention.

n't present because of illness. The Intermediate GA group met with Ruby Wimberley as counselor. Those present were Ann Gentry, Linda Lemons, Dortha Stewart, Peggy Jean Lemons, Walteen Beavers and Beverly Lemons.

The Womens Missionary Union met for a Prayer Program with Mrs. William Wimberley in charge. Others present were Mesdames Ed Lemons, Walter Lemons, LeRoy Johnson, Rea Cox, Charles Davenport, Walt

Beavers, Ray Stewart and Bill Gentry. Some passing tourists, Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Grando and two sons, from Eggera-ville, N. Y. met Carl Wimberley in Dawn and accepted his invitation to inspect our ways of irrigation and farming.

They proclaimed this as some of the most beautiful farm lands they had ever seen. They said that they especially liked it here because a person could see so far in all directions.

Are They Kidding . . . Or Do They Mean It?

Tax Roll Equalization Ordered By County Dads

When Deaf Smith County Commissioners this week turned thumbs down on the proposal to join the city and school district in a tax evaluation survey, they closed the door, on a topic of interest to every tax payer in the area.

The Commissioners did vote, however, to instruct the county tax assessor to begin immediately to correct all inequities. If the Commissioners honestly mean to follow through on the proposed corrections, the assessor will be a busy man indeed.

Making a correction of all county tax inequities would mean a complete revision of all city evaluations on the county rolls — or a complete revision of all rural properties — depending from which angle the chaotic mess is to be approached.

As things stand now, properties in the town of Hereford are paying on evaluations which generally run from 25 to 40 per cent of the actual cash value — and they will average more than 25 per cent. Most rural property, according to a recent survey of actual sales, pays on an evaluation of 4 to 14 per cent — and will average less than 10 per cent of the actual cash value. This means that the town property owner pays approximately $2.50 every time the rural property owner pays $1.00 on parallel values.

The condition was created several years back, following a city of Hereford survey, when Deaf Smith County and the Hereford Rural High School District took City of Hereford evaluation figures and applied percentage formulas. No overall adjustment was made on other evaluations in the county and school areas to balance the city increase.

Whether the correction is made through a general tax evaluation survey, or through the local taxing agency office, is certainly a matter of option to the boards governing the school district and the county. An equalization program recommended by school equalization boards several times, and has been considered by the Commissioners Court, which sits as the equalization board for the county.

We feel sure that none of our Commissioners would argue that our present situation is equitable. If they honestly expect to correct the condition through the tax assessor's office, well and fine. If, on the other hand, they are merely using a form of lip service to by-pass a tough problem and take advantage of innocent tax payers, we would say that they have neglected their sworn obligation to the people of Deaf Smith County.

Award Winners Set Stiff Pace

Outstanding farmer awards were made this week to Ira Scott and to John Lewis. The annual recognition, sponsored by the Hereford Lions Club, represented extensive research and careful investigation on behalf of a club committee. Scott was selected on a general excellence basis, while Lewis was given special recognition in the phase of conservation.

In addition to representing the highest achievement possible in one's chosen profession, the annual awards hold all the more meaning in view of the fact that the Hereford territory includes some of the best balanced and most modern farming methods in the nation. Conservation was stressed on both farmers during the review of achievements but, as Chairman Charles Hoover pointed out, "It is pretty hard to be a successful farmer these days, and not practice conservation."

Another striking feature included in programs of both winners was that of diversification. Cattle provided an important phase in the methods of each man; grass land, balanced grazing and rehabilitation were actually stressed over normal yields and general crops. Because both men have been successful through their farming operation, there seems little question but that a balanced program is definitely to be desired in this section of the country. The fact that Scott has become one of America's foremost certified seed grower was not even mentioned in the review.

Ultimate good of the recognition will, in the future, be only an anti-climax for the two winners. The real value of the program rests in how well other people observe the successful operations and gain ideas which they can put into general practice, thus conserving their own lands, and establishing better balanced and more successful farm homes all over the territory. Certainly, no two better examples can be found anywhere in the country than the two 1960 winners.

Let's Not Swap 'Isms' With Reds

Nations, like people, sometimes become so engrossed in their striving for an objective that they lose concept of their ultimate goal. The circumstances have possibly been best expressed as "not being able to see the forest because of the trees."

Unfortunately, this situation could most easily develop in the current cold war between Russia and the United States. Even at this moment Russian leaders, plagued by American success — especially in the field of agriculture — are beginning to adopt well-camouflaged ideas from the profit system; observers further expect the trend to expand and to grow.

Our own nation, on the other hand, has indicated through both national party platforms that we can definitely expect expansion in the field of Socialism, which is certainly a trend toward Communism. These things are clearly seen in such phases as education, old age assistance, medicine and compulsory social security insurance.

Ironic though it may be, the situation seems to us extremely serious. For one thing, we feel that private enterprise is far superior to socialism, or communism, especially in the final outcome when national security, freedom and personal happiness are tabulated. By our standards of success, should we win the cold war through such an exchange in ways of life, we would still be the losers.

Whether the trend is caused through individual greed, too much propaganda, or too little interest in our national affairs, we do not know. We do feel, however, that the people of our nation should weigh carefully the future of the country, and occasionally place the welfare of our nation above our own individual or immediate gains.

Freedom is always worth preserving, but we have gained little if the price of preservation is freedom itself.

Does Our Youth Travel Too Fast?

It must have started, I think, with long pants for little boys. Wherever it started, however, it grew, we in this lovely land are the victims of a vast foolishness of our own creation.

Of a sudden, a childish childhood is somehow disgraceful. A tot who can't do a reasonable facsimile of Fred Astaire at eight is socially retarded. The pet who hasn't "gone steady" by the time she reaches junior high is labelled a wallflower. And the lad who hasn't his own car at 17 is underprivileged.

And this is bad and sad, for it throws the living of a long and happy life out of kilter. The peaks are passed while the children are still in the valley. The thrills are gone before they can be properly appreciated.

When all the good "firsts" are crammed into a few immature years, what can we expect but a seeking and searching for new experiences down the more devious paths of life? — Exchange.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

Gen. Henry Martyn Robert, a devout Christian who built the great sea wall at Galveston, Tex., possessed the methodical mind of an engineer. He was dismayed at the disorder that prevailed at public meetings, particularly those of his church, for there was no standard procedure to govern assemblies in the late 19th Century. And so he devoted many years to perfecting Robert's Rules of Order, which are still in use today. Gen. Robert helped finance publication of his book and devoted the profits of a later book to medical missions. He once refused payment for a college lecture saying: "I have had all the compensation I expect or desire in the consciousness that I have done what I could to stimulate the students to study the Bible. A man who knows anything is in debt to those who are less fortunate and he can only pay the debt by imparting the knowledge."

Families' Personalities Are Reflected In Homes

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Decker have one of the loveliest homes in south Hereford. The building in itself has been remodelled twice since they bought it.

Now it has a sun room, living room, dining and den area, three bedrooms and bath, and a dining den area along with the kitchen area, which is divided from the den dining area by a built in snack bar and shelves and utility room.

The whole house is a dream of efficiency with its paneled wood walls, carpeting and tiled floors.

Margaret says: "I did not want a formal home, just a livable one and that is what we tried to make it. I can assure you that it is indeed livable. The color scheme which is carried out throughout the house is of pale green and different shades of brown and gold. Wood paneling for the walls is a soft brown and easily kept shining."

The sun room is furnished with wrought iron and upholstered in a pale orange. The window reflects this color with a row of Crossandra blooming in matching color.

Rock maple in Early American furnishes the other rooms with variations for each room and its owner. From each window is a perfect view from different curves of Tierra Blanca Creek. The summer view is something to see, but it does make one wonder as to its beauty when covered with a blanket of snow.

As one looks from the living room window, he can see the grain elevators outlined against the late afternoon sun, only the architecture showing as the mechanics, grain trucks and other workaday articles of the elevators are concealed by tall cottonwood trees growing along the creek, thus giving the scene a sort of "castle in the wood" aspect and one that is very lovely.

The double garage faces a double terrace, planted with Valeriana Florabunda Roses. This is also the entrance to the home as steps lead up to the Dutch door, flanked on either side with red geraniums.

The back yard is enclosed with shrubbery, and here Mrs. Decker has a garden of flowers. She grows giant dahlias in all the bright colors, but her taste runs to the yellows and golds. She has one dahlia, larger than a dinner plate, in a polished wood bowl. Its pale lemon color was accented by the golden brown of the wooden bowl.

The Deckers have two children, Sue and Mitchy, 7 and 6 years old. South Main is indeed one of Hereford's most beautiful areas, and there is room for more lovely homes to be erected there.

The Don Moore home is among the newer homes built on South Main, and the location was chosen because of its privacy, its nearness to town and the fact that it seemed always to have a cool breeze blowing.

The Moores have five children; the oldest is married and he and his wife live in Chicago, where they are attending Roosevelt University. He is majoring in philosophy and social studies and his wife in elementary education. They plan to do social work in the settlement and community houses of that city.

Ted will attend Harvard, and Sandra Kay, a senior at high school, is planning a nursing career. Amanda is in her first year of junior high school, and Cyrus attends Shirley in grade four.

Now here is the lovely part of the story. The family has done most of the construction of the home and all the finishing work. The cabinet work was done by Arthur and George Tiefert, but the finishing was all strictly a family affair.

"It is built of Hereford brick," said Moore proudly of the double fireplaces; one located in the dining area; one in the living room. The kitchen fireplace has several clinkers woven into the brick pattern, and there is a special place for the old stone churn that has been in the Moore family for a number of years.

Moore's mother used it to churn butter, forty pounds per week, and molded butter by hand and sold to keep her boys in college. They plan to have the old round oak table sanded and polished to be used with the Bavarian china, given to Mrs. Moore by her brother.

The cabinet has a special meaning as in it there are two bins especially made with sieves — these are for sugar and flour.

Then there is the coat closet with an unusual wall paper consisting of a pattern of writing. "Be My Guest" is written in many languages.

DAM PROJECT ENDORSED

If the people of Levelland and 10 other participating cities give the Canadian River project the same sort of support it received at a public meeting here Friday, residents in all the cities should be drinking Canadian River water within a decade. More than 20 community leaders, who turned out to hear the "facts" about Levelland's future water at a session to which all residents were invited, gave the project unanimous standing vote of approval after Mayor J. Spencer Ellis asked for an indication of how they felt. The action was taken after the group heard Lubbock Engineer Clarence Cooper tell them there would probably still be enough water left to drink in the underground water formations here after irrigation becomes unprofitable. But he added of this type of water, "It gets pretty expensive, sometimes." Cooper told the group that the City of Levelland would face the prospect of paying as high as $500 per acre for water rights and buying as many as 80 acres of such rights per year in order to get enough water as the production of wells decrease and underground water becomes scarcer. Members of the group present suggested that typical water bills showing present costs and that the same bill would cost after the dam is completed should be publicized prior to elections which are scheduled here and in other cities later this fall.

AIRLINE STOP HERE?

The possibility of major airline service to Terry County Airport will be investigated by Brownfield Chamber of Commerce. Decision to push for the facility was made Wednesday, during the chamber directorate's September business session. As a result, a group will appear October 10 in Amarillo before officials of the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Interest in a "stop" here has been expressed by Trans-Texas Airlines and by Central Airlines. Said Director Burton G. Hackney: "We should be moving toward more and better air facilities. This is the air age." In other business Wednesday, the chamber discussed requests from residents that Tahoka Road (State 380) be projected westward until it joins with 380 to Plains. Tahoka Road becomes Powell Street west of Lubbock Highway, is a dead-end street at Fifth Street. Interest in such a project has been in evidence for several years. The chamber's Roads and Highways Committee was asked Wednesday night to investigate the project.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editors note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm ponders a serious matter this week, his letter reveals. He'll probably get over it.

Dear editor:

There's one thing about history that I've never been able to understand. Well, that's just a manner of saying it, actually there are thousands of things about history I've never understood, and even more I don't even know about, but the thing that I'm referring to now is this:

How is it that a fateful crossroads in history always looms up simultaneously with a Presidential election?

As long as I can remember, I can't recall a time when, every fourth year along in September, the fate of the world wasn't considered to be hanging on the outcome of the election in November.

I don't understand how this comes about, but it does, and what is even more surprising is how the American people always seem to make the right choice. At least they always must have, as so far the world never has collapsed yet after an election in the United States. When I haven't had anything else to do, I've often sat and pondered what would happen to the world if all the defeated candidates for President had been elected and the successful ones had been defeated. I figure the world would have collapsed fifteen or twenty elections ago, but how it could have continued to collapse every four years thereafter, is a puzzling thought.

Understand, I'm not belittling the importance of the Presidential race, but I sometimes think the candidate and their supporters get a little out of touch with reality. The world is not nearly as collapsible as some people think.

These are critical times all right, and something ought to be done about it, but so far I haven't been able to find anybody who knows exactly what.

For example, take Cuba and Castro. Up to now, the only thing I've read about the Cuban situation that any expert cares to go on record with is this: The United States takes a very serious view of the Cuban situation.

The only trouble with this is that Castro doesn't seem to take a very serious view of our serious view. This makes the situation even more serious, but no nearer solution. Or take the Congo, or China, etc.

I will do my best in November to keep the world from collapsing when I go to vote, but it's an awful responsibility to put on my shoulders, and I may not have the materials to do it with.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

n't present because of illness. The Intermediate GA group met with Ruby Wimberley as counselor. Those present were Ann Gentry, Linda Lemons, Dortha Stewart, Peggy Jean Lemons, Walteen Beavers and Beverly Lemons.

The Womens Missionary Union met for a Prayer Program with Mrs. William Wimberley in charge. Others present were Mesdames Ed Lemons, Walter Lemons, LeRoy Johnson, Rea Cox, Charles Davenport, Walt Beavers, Ray Stewart and Bill Gentry.

Some passing tourists, Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. Grando and two sons, from Egbertville, N. Y. met Carl Wimberley in Dawn and accepted his invitation to inspect our ways of irrigation and farming.

They proclaimed this as some of the most beautiful farm lands they had ever seen. They said that they especially liked it here because a person could see so far in all directions.

Are They Kidding . . . Or Do They Mean It?

Tax Roll Equalization Ordered By County Dads

When Deaf Smith County Commissioners this week turned thumbs down on the proposal to join the city and school district in a tax evaluation survey, they closed the door on a topic of interest to every tax payer in the area.

The Commissioners did vote, however, to instruct the county tax assessor to begin immediately to correct all inequities. If the Commissioners honestly mean to follow through on the proposed corrections, the assessor will be a busy man indeed.

Making a correction of all county tax inequities would mean a complete revision of all city evaluations on the county rolls — or a complete revision of all rural properties — depending from which angle the chaotic mess is to be approached.

As things stand now, properties in the town of Hereford are paying on evaluations which generally run from 25 to 40 per cent of the actual cash value — and they will average more than 25 per cent. Most rural property, according to a recent survey of actual sales, pays on an evaluation of 4 to 14 per cent — and will average less than 10 per cent of the actual cash value. This means that the town property owner pays approximately $2.50 every time the rural property owner pays $1.00 on parallel values.

The condition was created several years back, following a city of Hereford survey, when Deaf Smith County and the Hereford Rural High School District took City of Hereford evaluation figures and applied percentage formulas. No overall adjustment was made on other evaluations in the county and school areas to balance the city increase.

Whether the correction is made through a general tax evaluation survey, or through the local taxing agency office, is certainly a matter of option to the boards governing the school district and the county. An equalization program recommended by school equalization boards several times, and has been considered by the Commissioners Court, which sits as the equalization board for the county.

We feel sure that none of our Commissioners would argue that our present situation is equitable. If they honestly expect to correct the condition through the tax assessor's office, well and fine. If, on the other hand, they are merely using a form of lip service to by-pass a tough problem and take advantage of innocent tax payers, we would say that they have neglected their sworn obligation to the people of Deaf Smith County.

Award Winners Set Stiff Pace

Outstanding farmer awards were made this week to Ira Scott and to John Lewis. The annual recognition, sponsored by the Hereford Lions Club, represented extensive research and careful investigation on behalf of a club committee. Scott was selected on a general excellence basis, while Lewis was given special recognition in the phase of conservation.

In addition to representing the highest achievement possible in one's chosen profession, the annual awards hold all the more meaning in view of the fact that the Hereford territory includes some of the best balanced and most modern farming methods in the nation. Conservation was stressed on both farmers during the review of achievements but, as Chairman Charles Hoover pointed out, "It is pretty hard to be a successful farmer these days, and not practice conservation."

Another striking feature included in programs of both winners was that of diversification. Cattle provided an important phase in the methods of each man; grass land, balanced grazing and rehabilitation were actually stressed over normal yields and general crops. Because both men have been successful through their farming operation, there seems little question but that a balanced program is definitely to be desired in this section of the country. The fact that Scott has become one of America's foremost certified seed grower was not even mentioned in the review.

Ultimate good of the recognition will, in the future, be only an anti-climax for the two winners. The real value of the program rests in how well other people observe the successful operations and gain ideas which they can put into general practice, thus conserving their own lands, and establishing better balanced and more successful farm homes all over the territory. Certainly, no two better examples can be found anywhere in the country than the two 1960 winners.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

Gen. Henry Martyn Robert, a devout Christian who built the great sea wall at Galveston, Tex., possessed the methodical mind of an engineer. He was dismayed at the disorder that prevailed at public meetings, particularly those of his church, for there was no standard procedure to govern assemblies in the late 19th Century. And so he devoted many years to perfecting Robert's Rules of Order, which are still in use today. Gen. Robert helped finance publication of his book and devoted the profits of a later book to medical missions. He once refused payment for a college lecture saying: "I have had all the compensation I expect or desire in the consciousness that I have done what I could to stimulate the students to study the Bible. A man who knows anything is in debt to those who are less fortunate and he can only pay the debt by imparting the knowledge."

Families' Personalities Are Reflected In Homes

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Decker have one of the loveliest homes in south Hereford. The building in itself has been remodelled twice since they bought it.

Now it has a sun room, living room, dining and den area, three bedrooms and bath, and a dining den area along with the kitchen area, which is divided from the den dining area by a built in snack bar and shelves and utility room.

The whole house is a dream of efficiency with its paneled wood walls, carpeting and tiled floors.

Margaret says: "I did not want a formal home, just a livable one and that is what we tried to make it. I can assure you that it is indeed livable. The color scheme which is carried out throughout the house is of pale green and different shades of brown and gold. Wood paneling for the walls is a soft brown and easily kept shining."

The sun room is furnished with wrought iron and upholstered in a pale orange. The window reflects this color with a row of Crossandra blooming in matching color.

Rock maple in Early American furnishes the other rooms with variations for each room and its owner. From each window is a perfect view from different curves of Tierra Blanca Creek. The summer view is something to see, but it does make one wonder as to its beauty when covered with a blanket of snow.

As one looks from the living room window, he can see the grain elevators outlined against the late afternoon sun, only the architecture showing as the mechanics, grain trucks and other workaday articles of the elevators are concealed by tall cottonwood trees growing along the creek, thus giving the scene a sort of "castle in the wood" aspect and one that is very lovely.

The double garage faces a double terrace, planted with Valeriana Florabunda Roses. This is also the entrance to the home as steps lead up to the Dutch door, flanked on either side with red geraniums.

The back yard is enclosed with shrubbery, and here Mrs. Decker has a garden of flowers. She grows giant dahlias in all the bright colors, but her taste runs to the yellows and golds. She has one dahlia, larger than a dinner plate, in a polished wood bowl. Its pale lemon color was accented by the golden brown of the wooden bowl.

The Deckers have two children, Sue and Mitchy, 7 and 6 years old. South Main is indeed one of Hereford's most beautiful areas, and there is room for more lovely homes to be erected there.

The Don Moore home is among the newer homes built on South Main, and the location was chosen because of its privacy, its nearness to town and the fact that it seemed always to have a cool breeze blowing.

The Moores have five children; the oldest is married and he and his wife live in Chicago, where they are attending Roosevelt University. He is majoring in philosophy and social studies and his wife in elementary education. They plan to do social work in the settlement and community houses of that city.

Ted will attend Harvard, and Sandra Kay, a senior at high school, is planning a nursing career. Amanda is in her first year of junior high school, and Cyrus attends Shirley in grade four.

Now here is the lovely part of the story. The family has done most of the construction of the home and all the finishing work. The cabinet work was done by Arthur and George Tiefert, but the finishing was all strictly a family affair.

It is built of Hereford brick, said Moore proudly of the double fireplace; one located in the dining area; one in the living room. The kitchen fireplace has several clinkers woven into the brick pattern, and there is a special place for the old stone churn that has been in the Moore family for a number of years.

Moore's mother used it to churn butter, forty pounds per week, and molded butter by hand and sold to keep her boys in college. They plan to have the old round oak table sanded and polished to be used with the Bavarian china, given to Mrs. Moore by her brother.

The cabinet has a special meaning as in it there are two bins especially made with sieves — these are for sugar and flour.

Then there is the coat closet with an unusual wall paper consisting of a pattern of writing, "Be My Guest" is written in many languages.

DAM PROJECT ENDORSED

If the people of Levelland and 10 other participating cities give the Canadian River project the same sort of support it received at a public meeting here Friday, residents in all the cities should be drinking Canadian River water within a decade. More than 20 community leaders, who turned out to hear the "facts" about Levelland's future water at a session to which all residents were invited, gave the project unanimous standing vote of approval after Mayor J. Spencer Ellis asked for an indication of how they felt. The action was taken after the group heard Lubbock Engineer Clarence Cooper tell them there would probably still be enough water left to drink in the underground water formations here after irrigation becomes unprofitable. But he added of this type of water, "It gets pretty expensive, sometimes." Cooper told the group that the City of Levelland would face the prospect of paying as high as $500 per acre for water rights and buying as many as 80 acres of such rights per year in order to get enough water as the production of wells decrease and underground water becomes scarcer. Members of the group present suggested that typical water bills showing present costs and that the same bill would cost after the dam is completed should be publicized prior to elections which are scheduled here and in other cities later this fall.

AIRLINE STOP HERE?

The possibility of major airline service to Terry County Airport will be investigated by Brownfield Chamber of Commerce. Decision to push for the facility was made Wednesday, during the chamber directorate's September business session. As a result, a group will appear October 10 in Amarillo before officials of the Civil Aeronautics Authority. Interest in a "stop" here has been expressed by Trans-Texas Airlines and by Central Airlines. Said Director Burton G. Hackney: "We should be moving toward more and better air facilities. This is the air age." In other business Wednesday, the chamber discussed requests from residents that Tahoka Road (State 380) be projected westward until it joins with 380 to Plains. Tahoka Road becomes Powell Street west of Lubbock Highway, is a dead-end street at Fifth Street. Interest in such a project has been in evidence for several years. The chamber's Roads and Highways Committee was asked Wednesday night to investigate the project.

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editors note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm ponders a serious matter this week, his letter reveals. He'll probably get over it.

Dear editor:

There's one thing about history that I've never been able to understand. Well, that's just a manner of saying it, actually there are thousands of things about history I've never understood, and even more I don't even know about, but the thing that I'm referring to now is this:

How is it that a fateful crossroads in history always looms up simultaneously with a Presidential election?

As long as I can remember, I can't recall a time when, every fourth year along in September, the fate of the world wasn't considered to be hanging on the outcome of the election in November.

I don't understand how this comes about, but it does, and what is even more surprising is how the American people always seem to make the right choice. At least they always must have, as so far the world never has collapsed yet after an election in the United States. When I haven't had anything else to do, I've often sat and pondered what would happen to the world if all the defeated candidates for President had been elected and the successful ones had been defeated. I figure the world would have collapsed fifteen or twenty elections ago, but how it could have continued to collapse every four years thereafter, is a puzzling thought.

Understand, I'm not belittling the importance of the Presidential race, but I sometimes think the candidate and their supporters get a little out of touch with reality. The world is not nearly as collapsible as some people think.

These are critical times all right, and something ought to be done about it, but so far I haven't been able to find anybody who knows exactly what.

For example, take Cuba and Castro. Up to now, the only thing I've read about the Cuban situation that any expert cares to go on record with is this: The United States takes a very serious view of the Cuban situation.

The only trouble with this is that Castro doesn't seem to take a very serious view of our serious view. This makes the situation even more serious, but no nearer solution. Or take the Congo, or China, etc.

I will do my best in November to keep the world from collapsing when I go to vote, but it's an awful responsibility to put on my shoulders, and I may not have the materials to do it with.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Let's Not Swap 'Isms' With Reds

Nations, like people, sometimes become so engrossed in their striving for an objective that they lose concept of their ultimate goal. The circumstances has possibly been best expressed as "not being able to see the forest because of the trees."

Unfortunately, this situation could most easily develop in the current cold war between Russia and the United States. Even at this moment Russian leaders, plagued by American success — especially in the field of agriculture — are beginning to adopt well-camouflaged ideas from the profit system; observers further expect the trend to expand and to grow.

Our own nation, on the other hand, has indicated through both national party platforms that we can definitely expect expansion in the field of Socialism, which is certainly a trend toward Communism. These things are clearly seen in such phases as education, old age assistance, medicine and compulsory social security insurance.

Ironic though it may be, the situation seems to us extremely serious. For one thing, we feel that private enterprise is far superior to socialism, or communism, especially in the final outcome when national security, freedom and personal happiness are tabulated. By our standards of success, should we win the cold war through such an exchange in ways of life, we would still be the losers.

Whether the trend is caused through individual greed, too much propaganda, or too little interest in our national affairs, we do not know. We do feel, however, that the people of our nation should weigh carefully the future of the country, and occasionally place the welfare of our nation above our own individual or immediate gains.

Freedom is always worth preserving, but we have gained little if the price of preservation is freedom itself.

Does Our Youth Travel Too Fast?

It must have started, I think, with long pants for little boys. Wherever it started, however, it grew, we in this lovely land are the victims of a vast foolishness of our own creation.

Of a sudden, a childish childhood is somehow disgraceful. A tot who can't do a reasonable facsimile of Fred Astaire at eight is socially retarded. The pet who hasn't "gone steady" by the time she reaches junior high is labelled a wallflower. And the lad who hasn't his own car at 17 is underprivileged.

And this is bad and sad, for it throws the living of a long and happy life out of kilter. The peaks are passed while the children are still in the valley. The thrills are gone before they can be properly appreciated.

When all the good "firsts" are crammed into a few immature years, what can we expect but a seeking and searching for new experiences down the more devious paths of life? — Exchange.

Local Resident Kills Eagle South Of Town

Mr. W. M. Watson was exhibiting an eagle around town last Friday morning that he had brought down from its flight by his unerring marksmanship. It measured six feet 7 inches from tip to tip of wings. His talons were like the irons on a big grab hook, and its thigh was like a mule for strength and hardness. It was killed on the road from Dimmitt to Hereford. The eagle was sitting on a telephone pole and they turned their car toward it but the bird flew when they were some 200 yards away but they drove swiftly enough to get within seventy-five yards when the third shot brought it down. Isaac Hatcher, of Emporia, Kansas, is here looking over his holdings. Last fall Mr. Hatcher shipped 140 head of spring calves to Emporia from his ranch here. He has had them on alfalfa feed up there and came down bragging what a wonderful growth they had made. On visiting his ranch this week he got the shock of his life when he beheld the brothers and sisters of his Kansas fed calves looking just as good, with nothing to eat but this native grass. He says it cost him close to $10 per head for feed up in Kansas, while the calves left here the cost will hardly exceed $2 per head.

Switzerland, one of the exchange students, lives with the Moores. She speaks several languages; perhaps she can add an addition to the wall paper in one or more of the languages.

The living room is lower and opens onto the patio with sliding full length glass doors. Plans for a step terraced garden and landscaping are included when there is time from the building and finishing.

Home is where the heart is and since the children have not only helped in the actual building, but have chosen colors and helped combine two house plans to make one, this home will indeed be a treasured memory to the family as a whole. Truly an American family.

Since both Mr. and Mrs. Moore are teachers, I asked Moore what he thought of the special programs in science, here and in Russia. He said: "We do not need a crash program in science as we are ahead of ourselves in science. We do not know how to apply the knowledge we have, in understanding and getting along with people in everyday living. We need the social studies, the art of living and the application of culture and art into our everyday living."

It seems that Russia is getting into hot water with so many highly - educated people and that Khrushchev is bemoaning the fact that none of the young people want to spend their lives in doing manual labor. It just goes to show that people are people and very human whether they live in Russia or in the good old U. S. A.

HAT NEARLY HAD IT

DES MOINES, Mo. — Mrs. Robert Kurtz bought a hat at a rummage sale for 25 cents, then went to call on a friend who was in the hospital.

"I don't like those fur things on it," Mrs. Kurtz told the friend, and started yanking at the little fur pieces. Just then another woman burst into the room, exclaiming:

"That's my hat. I left it at the sale by mistake. I just paid $35 for it."

OUR TOWN CAN ONLY GROW AND PROSPER IN THE HANDS OF SUCH FINE FOLKS.

SOME PEOPLE WILL do anything for attention, and this headliner act with the Gil Gray circus made the crowd really hold its breath. The young lady can afford to look nonchalant, as a net stands ready to catch her if she falls. (Staff Photo)

SOME MEN JUST WON'T CONFORM, and this one never will, not as long as he can continue bringing down the house doing everything upside-down. This was just one of the many acts presented to the school children and their parents Wednesday afternoon at Gil Gray's Shrine Circus, courtesy of Hereford Merchants. (Staff Photo)

POPULAR AND 'HOE-DOWN' music provided entertainment for the 300 area firemen and their wives who convened in Hereford Tuesday. Gerald Martin was on the guitar and Hereford fireman Glen Nelson played violin and guitar. (Staff Photo)

FILL 'ER UP — WITH ROCK
ST. LOUIS — Bartender Valentine Tatitch had more trouble than usual, this time, in complying with the order to "fill her up."
A car broke the paving over a 120-year-old well on the parking lot next to the cocktail lounge where Tatitch works. It took more than a ton of rock to fill the old well to the water level.

Plant Vetch, Wheat For Improvement

Luther Lesly, chairman of the board of supervisors for the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District, encourages planting vetch and wheat for grazing and soil improvement.

Vetch and wheat can be used as an intermediate grazing crop between winter wheat and summer pasture or irrigated grasses which will provide a green grazing crop year around. This type of cover will also aid in preventing wind and water erosion when the major crops do not furnish adequate cover, added Lesly.

Vetch and wheat will improve soil tilth, aid in conserving moisture and increase infiltration of water by rainfall. This type of crop will aid in maintaining the organic matter in the soil which is gradually declining.

Now is the time to plant vetch and wheat for an effective winter cover crop and for grazing next spring.

OLD FIRE SYSTEM
LANCASTER, Ohio (U) — While tearing up sidewalk around City Hall, workers found evidence of a fire-fighting system used years ago.

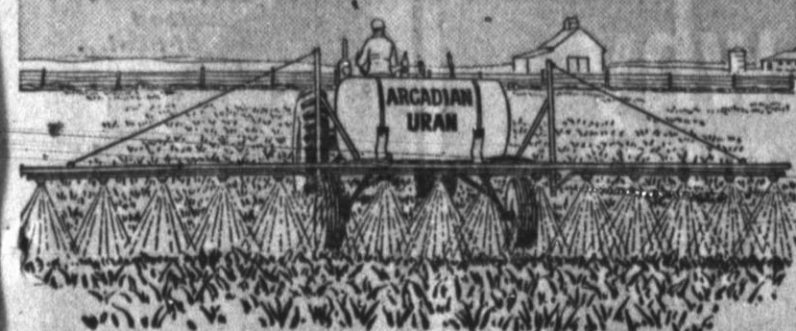

It was a 15-foot cistern, full of water. Service director Russell Evans says such cisterns were scattered about the city to provide water for firemen before the day of the hydrant and pipeline systems.

A thin coating of paraffin wax on garden gloves makes them soil and water resistant and prolongs their life.

IT JUST WOULDN'T BE a circus without the clowns, and Gil Gray's Shrine Circus had them all, both funny and sad. The little squirt on the left caught it all afternoon from his larger partner, but the audience loved it. (Staff Photo)

HEY! I FORGOT MY HAIRNET! And his hair wasn't the only hair that was standing on end. Nothing thrills a crowd like the trapeze artists, and these were no excep-

Q. How can I make my rather rough lips smoother and softer?

A. Have you ever thought of trying lip pomade? These sticks come in white or, if your lips are very pale and colorless, in a light rose shade. Pomade makes your lips soft and smooth, and keeps them that way.

How Can I?

Q. How can I make it easier to take medicine?

A. Try placing a bit of alum in the mouth for a moment before taking the medicine, and it will usually overcome any unpleasantness.

Q. How can I soften the leather in a pair of cheap shoes?

A. Try placing two scrubbed potatoes in each shoe and letting them stand overnight.

Q. How can I make a better and quicker job of waxing my wood and asphalt - tile floors?

A. Pour your wax into a small jar, with several holes punched in its lid. You can thus make an easier and more uniform job of sprinkling the wax on the floor. Then smooth out evenly with your mop or applicator, and the job is done.

Q. How can I make my windows and mirrors sparkle?

A. Try using rubbing alcohol on them. First rub with a well saturated cloth, then polish off with some paper toweling.
