HISTORICAL FACT ABOUT SUMMERFIELD

JUDGE L. GOUGH KNEW PIONEER IN DAYS LONG AGO

WAS MAN OF IRON

Walked 25 Miles to Water And Held Men in Line With Six Gun

The article in the issue of The Brand of July 28, regarding the new map of Deaf Smith county, just issued by J. Frank Poits, and containing facts on this section attracted the attention of Judge L. Gough, who was a pioneer here in those early days, and he has contributed the following additional information regarding John Summerfield, for whom the town of Summerfield was named:

"In your issue of July 28, you have a very interesting article, 'Historical facts thru Map Making.' In speaking of Mr. John Summerfield's surveying party you leave off at the Southwest corner of Section 347, Block No. M-6, thereby omitting a very interesting piece of history that occurred on that trip. From the mound at the Southwest corner, Section 347, Mr. Summerfield and crew went south eight or ten miles and established another mound and made a dry camp. Mr. Summerfield took two canteens and his six-shooter and proceeded south on foot to find water, and walked twenty-five miles to Runningwater Draw before he found any water. He satisfied his own thirst, rested a few hours and filling both his canteens walked the twenty-five miles to camp; when he got back to camp and gave the men all a drink they proposed to hitch up and drive straight to the water, but Mr. Summerfield said, 'No, you have now had a drink and we will chain from here to the water.' The men refused and Summerfield drew his two six-shooters and said 'Now boys we will chain from here to the water, or we will bleach here together.' They chained it.

"The writer first met John Summerfield in the spring of 1882, and there was a very intimate friendship established. We had considerable correspondence in later years and he visited in my home and I in his. In many respects John Summerfield was a very remarkable man, and I think had one of the best memories of any man I have met. The last trip that Mr. Summerfield ever made to the Plains was in the spring of 1890, and I drove with him in a buggy south past the mound at Section No. 347. Mr. Summerfield recognized the location almost two miles before we reached it. On that trip Mr. Summerfield related to me the incident above referred to, together with many more, some of which he had told me before. On one of these trips a band of Indians had been following the surveying party for days; the vigilance of Summerfield and his men kept the Indians from attacking them; but one day the chief raised a white flag and drove twenty-five ponies into camp and offered them to Mr. Summerfield for one of his 'big guns.' Summerfield modestly declined the offer.

Yours very truly,
L. Gough.

Scouts and Band To Stage Magical Show on Thursday

On Thursday night the Boy Scout troop, assisted by the Hereford Band, will stage a big spectacle and entertainment in the district court room to raise funds to finance their proposed camping expedition. The Scout Masters have been wondering where the necessary money to complete the trip were to come from, and the people are urged to help out the Scouts by patronizing this entertainment, which is promised to be a real treat and well worth seeing.

The Hereford Band, who were billed to render their regular Thursday night concert, have agreed to aid the Scouts by giving the concert indoors as a preliminary to the main event, an exhibition of Magic, given by Ramona, of Chicago, who has exhibited in every corner of Texas and who comes well recommended. A liberal offer has been made the Scouts and if the patronage is what the spectacle deserves the event will be a big success.

Ramona is said to be a real Magician, who has pleased thousands, and the combined entertainment should be well worth the attendance of a capacity house.

Cultivation of Grapes, in Connection With Irrigation Wells May be a Big Winner

In the search for the right lines of development work in every new country many schemes are presented and tried out. An overwhelming majority of them never pan out but now and then one turns out to be just what is needed and "sticks".

At Monday's luncheon of the business men G. A. F. Parker stated that one of these projects that had "stuck" and had proven its value, where properly used, was the now famous Hereford irrigation system. Mr. Parker expressed the belief that the irrigation farmers of this section were not using their water enough to get best results, but probably one cause of this in the past has been the high cost of fuel for the engines.

Proceeding with this line of thought, Mr. Parker called attention to another idea that has been in his mind, and in the minds of many others, for years, that constantly grows in importance from year to year. This idea is the propagation of grapes on the fine land heretofore, in connection with these unutilized irrigation wells.

Mr. Parker stated that it has long been well known here that this is a natural grape country as they make fruit every year if given water and attention and the insects are kept off the vines. True, some years the crop is heavier than others, but this is caused through the freezing of the first buds, which can in a measure be stopped with proper cannication. Everyone who tries grapes in this country, said the speaker, makes a go of it. Recently he said a wealthy banker and stockman of Arizona was his guest and visited some of the grape vineyards in this vicinity. This man, who has been around quite a bit, was amazed at the crops grown here and said that there was no reason why this land should not be worth $1,000 per acre if grapes could be grown so profusely in connection with irrigation wells.

"I believe," said Mr. Parker, "that the time will come when our grand-children will laugh at the struggles we are now undergoing to develop this country and wonder what on earth we wasted so much time for trying to find out what was best suited for this locality as a money crop."

The speaker called attention to the fact that there is always a ready market for grapes everywhere and that if irrigation well owners here would try out ten acres in connection with their wells they would hit upon a combination that would mean wealth and rapid development for this entire shallow water belt. He suggested that the Chamber of Commerce take up with the government, the Santa Fe railroad, the Capital Syndicate and the various grape juice companies the question of the raising, handling and marketing of grapes in this neighborhood, and pursue the matter to the bottom. After discussion this motion was adopted and the Secretary was instructed to accumulate the information at once.

Following Mr. Parker, Mr. J. J. Kester, president of the El Paso Cattle Co., who was a dinner guest, supported the idea in a strong talk, stating that if grapes could be produced here every year there was no question about the money crop of the future.

Swimming Pool is Possible if Plans Of Firemen Work

Those firemen, always on the lookout for something that will help along the cause of the public generally, have a new plan that has possibilities. The firemen are now in the midst of a drive for new club members, which is their sole means of financing themselves, and intend to use the money for one of two purposes, according to Chief Rockwell. First, they are investigating the possibilities of a Radio receiving set for their club rooms. If investigation demonstrates that the radio is not yet far enough advanced to spend any money on it here they will take up the second project, which has to do with a swimming pool.

As the preliminary plans of this latter project unfold it shows that the general idea seems to be to build a concrete pool somewhere on the brow of the hill overlooking the City Park so that the water can be drained down into the creek, and put it close enough to the Park at the bridge so that the firemen can take charge of said Park, beautify it, and make it a real pleasure resort for the people of this community. If the project develops it is proposed to sow this Park in Blue Grass and Clover, trim it up generally, and make it something worth while.

A good swimming pool here would certainly add to the enjoyment of life, and the dream of Chief Rockwell and his boys is being encouraged by all who have had the plan unfolded to them.

SCADS OF PEOPLE ARE VISITING BAPTIST ENCAMPMENT

A whole truck load of Methodist Missionary girls left Hereford Monday for the Baptist Encampment in the Palo Duro canyon near Canyon. They were chaperoned by Mesdames Ben Allen and Mary Monday. The truck was driven by Luther Hough.

Sunday it seemed as though half of Hereford's population went down to the encampment, which is said to be the largest thing of the kind ever pulled off in this section.

JUDGE RANDOLPH IS CAMPING AND FISHING AT THE CLUB

Judge H. C. Randolph of Plainview, who was recently appointed a member of the Commission on Appeals at Austin, arrived in Hereford this week and is enjoying the camping and fishing at Sulphur Park Country Club, of which he is a member.

Two Brothers Prospecting Over This Section

W. J. Jacobs of Albuquerque, N. M., and his brother, H. L. Jacobs of Kansas City, were prospecting here Monday. Later on in the day they went to Littlefield.

A Spectacular Run-away Was Staged Tuesday

A spectacular runaway, several hair-breadth escapes from sudden death, and a climax when an auto full of people was rammed by the rig-pole of a heavy farm wagon drawn by four horses abreast, featured the early afternoon Tuesday and caused a sensation up and down Main street.

The wagon and horses, the property of Charles Hodges, started from Harrison's elevator, came across the railroad tracks in low, increased the speed to intermediate in the first block on Main, and were hitting it up in high for fair by the time they reached the Brand office. An Oakland Six car, driven by W. A. Knox and occupied by his sons, L. R. Marion, Stamford and Willie as passengers, was just starting up at this point when the wagon-pole hit the rear of the auto squarely in the middle. The car was driven forty or fifty feet by the impact, the back was bent in, and the horses, rearing over the top of the rear seat, split the back covering of the top clear across and crumpled the top into the open car. The occupants ducked down into the interior and miraculously escaped injury. The four-horse runaway then proceeded into North Hereford, where they were finally stopped and brought back without injury to either horses or wagon.

Mr. Knox and passengers were shaken up, but otherwise unhurt. Mr. Hodges had just unloaded some wheat and had gone into the elevator office when one of the horses caught a foot over a trace, went to kicking, and then bolted. Several very narrow escapes were noted as the big outfit swept madly up Main street.

Marvelous Spuds Raised Here Without Irrigation

R. W. Botsford brought in to The Brand office Tuesday a sample of Irish potatoes raised on the S. J. Rice farm, about six miles southwest of Hereford. The spuds were raised without irrigation. Mr. Botsford informed The Brand just how it was done, and this is the substance of the information at hand: The potatoes should be planted shallow, two inches of soil being all that is necessary. After planting the entire patch is covered with straw from six to eight inches deep. The straw will keep the soil mellow, retain the moisture and kill the weeds. No hoed or cultivation is necessary and at digging time the potatoes require little work for they lay between the soil and the straw, clean. Mr. Botsford said he used the Irish Cobbler variety, planted them early, and the potatoes need no irrigation, and he has successfully raised this variety for three straight years.

G. C. Major Has Gone For Visit to Relatives

STILL LOCATED IN MOHAIR CANYON

CHARGES FILED IN THIS COUNTY AGAINST FOUR MEN

More complete details of the raid last week by Sheriff Purcell and other officers on a still in the northwest part of Deaf Smith county have been obtained since the Sheriff returned home.

From reading the article in the Amarillo News concerning the raid many people here received the impression that this still was in Oldham county. As a matter of fact it was located in what is known as Mohair Canyon, on the Jackson ranch, about forty miles northwest of Hereford, inside the Deaf Smith county line. This is a very rough, broken strip and an ideal place for such "goings on".

Sheriff Purcell had received a tip by letter concerning this still, and finding from preliminary investigations that the operators were apparently mostly Amarillo men he took up the matter with Sheriff Rouch of Amarillo, so that both officers could work at the two ends of the chain. The day the raid was made, last Wednesday, Ranger Captain Frank Hamer, who is stationed at Amarillo, was picked up to assist as armed resistance was not thought improbable. Deputy Sheriff Albert Bivens of Amarillo completed the party of four.

After a search through the Canyon the still was found, together with a very complete camping plan, with sleeping quarters in one place and cooking place in another. It looked as though the entire layout had been carefully planned in military style, fully prepared for surprise and defense.

Following the raid Sheriff Purcell went to Amarillo, where the details were worked out and cases prepared. Federal charges were filed at Amarillo against Boss Jackson and George Smith, and in Deaf Smith county three charges have been filed against Jackson, two each against A. E. Austin and Gordon Rice, and one against George Smith.

The officers are still working on the case.

The Dimmitt Picnic committee have issued a cordial invitation to the people of Hereford to come down and enjoy themselves, and present indications are that the invitation will be accepted en masse.

Rains Fall Over Larger Part of Plains Country

This section has been visited with two rains since Friday, totaling a half inch in Hereford although much heavier in some spots and much lighter in others. The first came Friday night and measured two tenths of an inch, and the last on Sunday night. Practically every section of this immediate part of the Plains has received a share of this much-needed moisture with the exception of a strip running across the county from east to west, north of Hereford. The northwest portion of the county has had only light showers to date and is the only portion really suffering at present.

The Sunday night rains extended in a circle from the northwest around through the east, on south, and everybody from Clovis on the west to Willard on the northeast report a lot of moisture. The rain came in the nick of time to save a lot of crops, and more will be needed in a few days. Prospects are still good, however, and optimism is the order of the day.

LOOSE CHANGE

SOVERTOWERING the tallest building in the world, The Woolworth, a monument to nickles and dimes, is a phantom structure of 1c pieces which shows the might of pennies, if we will all but pause, think, act.

A great International banker estimates that the United States carries fortunes around in its work pockets every day, year in and year out. The average is $3.50 each for every soul of our 105 million population.

That means 315 million dollars, idle dollars, which should be earning $12,000,000 annually—or $1,200,000,000 pennies, which would pile higher than the Woolworth Building.

That great sum represents only the normal 4 percent earnings of money we carry in our pockets as loose change. Think of the wheels of industry the principal would turn if deposited in banks and put to work.

You owe it to the nation, to your own prosperity, to put all loose change to work.

It will create a reserve fund of surprising strength for you in a very short while, if you make deposits regularly.

Then comes intelligent investment and financial independence.

J. S. WYCHE DES- CRIBES NEW MEXICO HOT SPRINGS

It will irrigate 180,000 acres in New Mexico and Texas, and 20,000 in old Mexico. Along the river valley near here are old irrigation ditches, nearly obliterated, that were used for irrigation purposes, perhaps hundreds of years ago. A population of 1,200 is claimed for the town. Hot Springs was surveyed by the government about two years ago and the people obtained deeds to their lots. A good many houses had already been built, and trying to accommodate the streets to these houses caused them to be crooked in places and wider or narrower in others. The town has three or four good hotels and apartment houses, two government and four or five private bath houses.

Baths at the government bath houses are free, except one charges a small amount (5c per bath) to pay a keeper. The other has no keeper and is free to all.

The private bath houses charge 20c a bath with extra charges for towels and blankets, unless you have them. Mud baths cost $1.00 each. Turkish baths 40c. After a bath has been in the water a few minutes they begin to perspire freely, after remaining in the bath 20 to 30 minutes they come out, wrap a blanket about them and lie down to take a good sweat. One bath house gives mud baths also. The mud is contained in a wooden vat 6x3 feet, and is heated by steam pipes passing through it. The bather sits in the mud up to their neck and perspires. After 20 to 40 minutes they come out, stand under a warm shower bath and the mud is washed off. They are now ready to wrap up and have a good sweat. These waters are highly impregnated with minerals; government analysis show they contain radium.

"People are here for all kinds of troubles and diseases, and some wonderful cures are claimed. Quite a bunch of 'cutbacks' on hand, one of which am I.

J. S. Wyche."

To the Editor

Comparatively few persons using radio sets are familiar with things electrical. The apparatus is harmless enough and consequently amateurs do not consider that there is possible peril in installing the outside aerial. In East Cleveland recently a youth was killed when the antenna of his radio set crossed an electrical distribution set. The boy was killed outright. So was his father in attempting to rescue him. The tragedy was shocking, but like most tragedies it carried a warning.

In the interest of SAFETY and to prevent similar accidents, you are asked to give the radio "fan" this warning.

Do not string wireless aerials over, under or close to any other wires. They might come into contact with highly charged wires and be dangerous.

Do not attach wireless aerials to poles carrying wires of any sort. Contact with live wires might result, causing death, injury or fire.

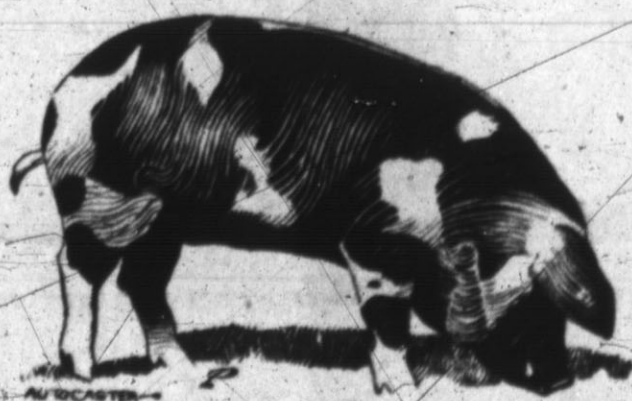

ALWAYS be sure to attach wireless antennas to substantial supports and remember it is quite practical to operate a radio receiving set with an indoor aerial. Parents, especially are requested to cooperate in carrying out these safety suggestions.

"Higher or Lower"

"Upper or Lower?" politely asked the man at the Pullman window. "What's the difference?" asked G. Martaleck. "Well, you see the lower is higher than the upper," said the aroused Pullmanite. "And the higher price is for the lower. If you want it lower you will have to go higher. We sell the upper lower than the lower. In other words, the higher the lower. Most people don't like the upper, although it is lower on account of its being higher. When you occupy an upper you have to get up to go to bed and get down to get up. You can have the lower if you pay higher. The upper is lower than the lower, because it is higher. But if you are willing to go higher it will be lower. Which will you have?—Southwestern Machinery.
