FRAMED by a charred barn window, Bill Howard, member of Hereford Volunteer Fire Department, helps extinguish a fire which destroyed a barn 2 1/2 miles northwest of Hereford Friday morning. The barn was located on an unoccupied farm owned by T. L. Kimball, 507 Ave. K. The blaze apparently started from a grass fire of unknown origin. No estimate of damage has been made. Firemen answered the alarm at 11 a.m. Friday. (Staff Photo by H. A. Tuck)

Maize Finished, Cotton And Sugar Beets Arrive Rapidly

Except for a few loads going to grain elevators from scattered parts of Deaf Smith County, harvest of the 1960 crop of grain sorghum is finished.

An estimated 170,000 acres of milo in this county suffered a drought in May and heavy rainfall during the summer, but the crop produced surprisingly good yields, it was reported by grain elevator managers.

Some 2,600 bales of cotton have been processed at local gins, now operating on a 24-hour basis. That total indicates harvest of cotton is nearly one-third complete.

Harvesting of carrots continues at an active pace, as it has for the past month. Market on medium large cello packaged carrots is now about $3 per 48-package carton.

Some carrot sheds have stopped processing as the supply continues to diminish. Some sheds, however, will be operating until mid-December.

Harvest of sugar beets is from 65 to 70 percent complete, but sugar content is a little below average for this immediate area, it was reported Saturday morning.

Yields on beets in this area are averaging from 21 to 22 tons per acre. Some yields are reaching from 26 to 27 tons per acre, however.

Heavy rains and heavy dew have caused leaf spot in some fields of sugar beets, which has attributed to the below-average sugar content. A leaf spot-resistant variety will be planted in this area in the near future, a beet grower said. Harvest of the present crop should be completed by the end of this month, he said.

Most of the maize dribbling over the scales was a portion of the crop which was killed by the first hard freeze in the county earlier this month.

Test weight on late-maturing wheat is running low, from 45 to 51 pounds. Mature wheat was ranging from 54 to 58 pounds.

Due to heavy rains earlier this year, moisture content of maize was relatively high. While two elevator managers reported moisture content from 13 to 14 percent, another said samples showed content at from 11 to 12 percent at the tail end of harvest.

An elevator manager said moisture content average for the entire crop had been estimated at 14.6 percent. He added that more pounds of grain were produced this year than in 1959, but that quality was lower.

Officers Seek Information On Missing Man

The Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department Saturday morning was still seeking information pertaining to the whereabouts of Grady Parsons, 1008 Grand Ave., who has been reported missing from Hereford since Thursday afternoon.

The 60-year-old Hereford man was last seen in Hereford Thursday afternoon. Sheriff Lowell Sharp said Parson's automobile was found parked near Western Battery and Electric Co., 137 N. Sampson, with key in ignition switch.

The man was reported missing by his relatives. Assisting in the search are officers of all area law enforcement offices.

Santa Claus Arrives Dec. 3

Santa Claus will arrive in Hereford at 3 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 3. He will stay until Christmas.

To celebrate his arrival, 4,000 small stockings of candy will be given free to children right after his arrival. Plans now call for Santa to arrive on the Shrine firetruck, parading up Main Street.

The candy will be distributed in the First National Bank parking lot, assisting in the distribution will be members of the Lions, Rotary, Kiwanis and Optimist Clubs of Hereford.

New decorations will go up on Hereford business streets on Sunday, Nov. 27. They will be erected by members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

During a special meeting Friday, at the Chamber of Commerce office, it was decided to officially open the Christmas shopping season in Hereford on Thursday, Dec. 1. A large color tabloid in the Dec. 1 issue of The Brand will include specials offered by local merchants, as gift suggestions.

SUGAR BEETS, eight carloads of them, were headed for the American Crystal Sugar Refinery in Rocky Ford, Colo., this week as harvest of the crop neared the 70 percent mark. Harvest of the 1960 crop should be completed by the end of this month. Sugar content was slightly below average this year due to leaf spot. (Staff Photo)

Sugar Company Officials Visit

Four officials from the American Crystal Sugar Company were in Hereford Friday to look at the sugar beet harvest in this area.

Visiting were H. von Bergen, president; C. W. Briggs, vice president and general sales manager; H. P. H. Johnson, general agriculturalist; and G. W. Nixon, manager of the Rocky Ford, Colo., plant.

Hosting the visitors were James W. Witherspoon, Lee Benefield, Henry Sears and C. Palmer Norton.

All the sugar beets grown in Deaf Smith County are processed at the Rocky Ford plant of American Crystal Sugar Company. Company headquarters is Denver, Colo.

District Future Farmers Contest Here On Tuesday

Hereford Future Farmers of America Chapter Tuesday will host Amarillo District, Area I, F. F. A. leadership contests at Hereford High School.

Some 250 F. F. A. members and their sponsors from 18 schools in the district will participate in the contests, according to Jess Robinson, sponsor of the host club.

They will be qualifying for Area I leadership contest to be held Dec. 3 in Plainview. Seven districts will enter the area competition.

Around Town

Hereford opens its 1960-61 basketball season Tuesday, Nov. 2, at home. The Whitefaces will host the Friona Chiefs at 8 p. m., with the B team game starting at 6 p. m. Last year the Chiefs upset the Herd in their only meeting.

It happened again in District 1-AAA. The Levelland Lobos won their fifth straight trip into bi-district by beating Littlefield. And the Phillips Blackhawks handed the title to Levelland by edging Dumas one point.

Now is the time for the youngsters to sit down, wet a pencil and write to Santa Claus. Letters can be mailed to: Santa Claus, care of The Hereford (Continued on page 2)

Students Get Four Days Off For Holiday

Students in all Hereford public schools will have an extended holiday vacation following Thanksgiving Day this week, it has been announced by school officials.

Thanksgiving Day is Thursday this week. All public schools will be dismissed at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, and classes will be resumed at the regular time Monday, Nov. 28, according to Paul Stevens, superintendent of schools.

Students at St. Anthony's Parochial School will be dismissed at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday and will return to classes at the regular time the following Monday, according to Sister Amabills. (Continued on page 2)

FRIENDLINESS OF HEREFORD residents beams from "Welcome to Hereford" signs erected at the five main entrances to the city this week. A project directed by the Interclub Council, the signs represent greetings from the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce and five local clubs, Kiwanis, Lions, Optimist, Rotary and Business and Professional Women. Below the organizations' plaques are listings of time and place if regular meetings. Signs were placed on the following entrances: north and south U. S. 385, east and west Highway 60 and west on Harrison Highway. (Staff Photo)

Picture Of Composite Farm From '59 Agriculture Census

The 1959 Census of Agriculture, conducted in Deaf Smith County last fall, counted 735 farms, it was revealed in a preliminary report issued this week by the Bureau of the Census, United States Department of Commerce.

The report showed total land in county farms was 856,848 acres. Average size of farm was 1,157.6 acres, and average value of farms, including land and buildings, in the county was $145,912.

Of the county's farm operators, 276 owned their farms, 209 owned part of the land and rented additional acreage, and 240 were tenant farmers.

The report showed average age of farm operators in the county was 46.9 years, and there were 55 farm operators 65 or more years of age. Of the 735 farms in the county, 687 were commercial farms.

Detailed statistics on crops, livestock and equipment will be released by the Bureau of Census at a later date.

The farm census conducted in this county in 1954 revealed that the value of products sold that year by farm operators was $17,602,859.

The value of all crops sold was $12,927,003 in the 1954 census, and that amount included $12,350,248 for field crops, $575,823 for vegetables, $31 for fruits and nuts and $901 for horticultural specialties.

The 1954 census showed the value of all livestock and live-stock products sold was $4, (Continued on page 2)

Brownwood Man Fined For DWI

Ernest Junior Barnes, 37, of Brownwood Thursday in Deaf Smith County Court was sentenced to 10 days in County Jail and fined $100 plus court costs after pleading guilty to charge of driving while intoxicated, first offense.

Barnes was arrested at 8:46 p. m. Wednesday about a mile south of Hereford on U. S. 385. Making arrest was Caral Parker of Hereford, Texas Highway Patrol officer.

The fine and jail sentence were levied by County Judge Don Zimmerman.

United Fund Is Still Under Goal

The Deaf Smith County Fund was still more than $7,000 short of its goal when drive officials Saturday morning announced current total at $16,475.46.

The goal for the 1960 drive is $23,232.50. The total collected to date is $7,757.04 short of the goal. Budget approvals of the eight member agencies total $22,332.50, which is $5,857.04 more than had been collected through Saturday this week.

United Fund treasurer Mark Woodall said from $466 to $500 is anticipated in the near future.

Rain made it impossible for the drive to be completed in one day this year. The one-day drive for funds was held in this county Oct. 18, and Lloyd Pool of Hereford was drive chairman.

Participating agencies this year are Little League, Commission on Alcoholism, Pony League, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts of America, Red Cross, Campfire Girls and Youth Employment Service.

Cornette Urges Experience For Boys In Scout Program

Let the boys have the experience themselves, Dr. James P. Cornette admonished more than 300 Cubs, Scouts and parents during the annual Scout Banquet here Friday night.

The president of West Texas State College, Dr. Cornette drew on his own Scouting background during the principal talk of the evening.

"For a democratic society, we must give children an opportunity to think for themselves, to have their own experiences for self-reliance and leadership," he said.

Dr. Cornette told the audience that he had started in Scouts as a boy in Russellville, Ky. His Scoutmaster was a young Presbyterian minister from England, Ernie Hart, who had been one of the original Scouts in England under Lord Baden-Powell, who had started the youth movement.

"When Ernie Hart was called back to England, I dropped out of Scouting because there wasn't anyone to take over as an adult leader."

"But much as we need competent adult leadership in Scouting, we must not do too much for our children. We must stand up and let them become self-reliant," Dr. Cornette warned.

Extend Scotch Golf Deadline

Hereford pro Bud Posey has extended deadline for playing qualifying rounds in the Scotch golf tournament here until 6 p. m. Friday, Nov. 25.

Only five teams had entered the tournament Friday. The event is being played on the John Pittman municipal links.

Players may pick their own partner, either a man or a woman golfer, and shoot 18-hole qualifying rounds by Nov. 25. Earlier deadline was Sunday, Nov. 20.

Eight teams will be placed to each flight according to qualifying scores. The tourney will begin Sunday, Nov. 27, and end Sunday, Dec. 18.

WATERMELON PICKLES made in summer will add spicy delight to winter meals. Use small heart, crescent and round-shaped cutters for attractive shapes.

Watermelon Rind Is Spicy Treat Pickled

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
A VICTORIAN LADY, after giving her recipe for preserved watermelon rind, added: "A very handsome sweetmeat, although rather insipid in flavor. The reader can judge whether, as the charity boy said of the alphabet, it is worthwhile to go through: so much and get so little." When it came to pickled watermelon rind, our lady avowed hers "very handsome and delicious." We note that her rule calls for plenty of spice — ginger, mace, cloves, cinnamon and turmeric. "Cut the rind into fanciful shapes," directs our outspoken Victorian. That's just what we suggest you do, using small cutters. Our recipe calls for powder-

New Concept For Treating Mentally Ill

By SY RAMSEY
LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Like many another state mental institution, nearby Central State Hospital is a dreary collection of old buildings stuffed with patients and low on funds. Dr. Walter Fox, the superintendent, thinks he might have a revolutionary solution. "We call it 'therapeutic use of outside space,'" he says. "The idea grew almost by accident." As a result doctors and therapists may be able to work outside with about 1,875 patients ed alum; you can get this at a drug store, but make sure it is labeled potassium alum. This variety of alum is the one most commonly used in food — notably in baking powder. It is a hardening acid suitable for preserving and is undoubtedly the alum called for in old-time recipes for pickling and that used to be known by druggists of yesteryear as "pickling alum" or "food alum." We make a point of this because last summer when we were trying watermelon pickle recipes in anticipation of this year's column, a young druggist sold us powdered ammonium alum when we asked for "pickling alum." On checking up we found that ammonium alum is used for medicinal purposes; while it is safe to use in foods a chemist whom we consulted guessed that it would not produce so fine a pickle as potassium alum.

SPICY WATERMELON PICKLE

Ingredients: 2½ pounds pared firm watermelon rind (cut into 1-inch shapes), 4 teaspoons powdered potassium alum, 2 pounds (4½ cups) sugar, 2 cups cider vinegar, 1 teaspoon whole cloves, ½ teaspoon whole allspice, 2 cinnamon sticks, green food coloring.

Method: Make sure green outer covering and all pink is removed from rind before cutting into shapes; there should be 2 quarts. Cover rind shapes with cold water in a large kettle (porcelainized iron or enamelware); bring water to a boil and cook 10 to 20 minutes or until tender crisp and rind can be pierced with a fork. Stir in alum; remove from heat. Cover and refrigerate overnight. Next morning drain; add sugar and vinegar. The spices in cheesecloth and add. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly until sugar dissolves. Remove from heat; cool; cover and refrigerate again overnight. Next morning bring to a boil; remove spice bag; stir in food coloring to make syrup desired green shade. With slotted spoon pack rind tightly into 6 hot sterilized half-pint jars; fill jars with boiling syrup, making sure rind is covered. Seal jars. Store several weeks before using. Note: This pickle keeps its firm transparent texture but it is not hard — crisp, as much as six or eight months of the year. The grounds will be revamped to provide six outside sections for six categories of patients. The most startling innovation will be a sculptured female figure phrenic (split personality) patients who have lapsed into childhood. "The statue will be a mother figure," Fox says. "The patients can sit in her lap, strike her and smear her with mud. There won't be any restrictions as there are inside the buildings." A scenic "passive" area will provide meditation space for patients seeking solitude. Lawn games will be arranged for those with built-up tensions. And a site for older people will include flowers and shrubbery to recall their youth. The cost? Possibly $15,000, says Fox, a fraction of what the same amount of treatment space inside might cost. The landscaping is just begun. Since the entire project depends on donations and advice there is no target date. Fox says the project was spawned when Mrs. John A. Serpell, a mental health official, saw the hospital's barren grounds on a bleak winter day. She contacted Edmund E. Ely, a Louisville landscape architect who spent months talking to patients and employees. "Then the idea of conducting treatment outside hit us," Fox says. "Landscaping is more than just beautifying the grounds." Fox says the philosophy behind the changes, which he believes might shorten rehabilitation time by half, is simple: "We assume the patient wants to be an individual. He needs privacy."

"indicates Conference games
Seventh Grade Dogies
The seventh graders will play their first basketball game Monday night. The seventh graders have never played in Conference basketball. The only basketball experience these boys have had was in grade school games between Central, Shirley, and Alkman schools.

The seventh grade Dogie coach is Archie Souter, who has led the seventh graders for the last two years. Souter graduated from West Texas in 1958, and has coached both basketball and football at Stanton since graduation.

Coach Souter is looking forward to a successful season this year. Last year's seventh grade team won second place in the Golden Spread Conference with 14 wins and only four defeats.

The seventh graders will have to rely on a pressing defense, and a speedy fast break, as they don't have much height on the team. Dwayne Jackson is the tallest player at 5'8". Their average height is only 5-3.

Coach Souter announced the Seventh Grade Dogie roster as follows: Steve Hodges, 5-3; Mike Moore, 5-4; Robby Lemons, 5-1; Gary Payne, 5-1 1/2; Randy Tool-ey, 5-4; Jimmie Young, 5-1 1/2; Wynn Buck, 5-0; Brant Knox, 4-9;

Gary Gore, 5-1; Roger Owen, 5-1; Jack Ferguson, 5-7; Edward Mims, 5-5; Jimmy Gutierrez, 5-4; Dwayne Jackson, 5-8; and Dari McWhorter, 5-1.

Eighth Grade Dogies
The eighth graders are coached by Jerry Don George. George is a 1958 graduate of Texas Tech and has been coach for the eighth grade here in basketball and football for the past two years.

George expects a good season for the eighth graders this year. Most of the eighth grade squad were members of last year's seventh grade team, which placed second in the Golden Spread Conference. The eighth graders of last season ended up with 23 wins and only five losses for an outstanding record.

Coach George announced the eighth grade Dogie basketball squad as follows: Frank Cain, 5-7; Lynn Cook, 5-6; Johnnie Dowd, 5-10; Dorman Duggan, 5-2; Terry Hill; Jerry McCaslin, 5-5; Alton Monroe, 5-9; Gary Roberson, 5-9 1/2;

Jim Shearhart, 6-3; Stan Sigman, 5-6 1/2; Gilbert Sims, 5-5; Gary Stagner, 5-3; Robert Strange, 5-5 1/2; Dan Thomas, 4-10; and Charlie Moreno, 5-3 1/2.

The eighth grade Dogies have an average height of 5-6, with Jim Shearhart as the tallest 6-3. With their height they should be a good defensive team.

Ninth Grade Dogies
The ninth graders are being coached by Alex Glass, 1956 graduate of Southwestern State Teacher's College. Glass, has been basketball and football coach at Stanton Junior High since his graduation. He is looking forward to a successful basketball season for the ninth graders.

Most of the ninth grade squad were members of last year's outstanding eighth grade team, which racked up 23 wins and only five losses. Coach Glass announced the following members of the Freshmen team: Jim Haney, Eugene Green, Steve Conway, Mike Ferguson; Earl Jackson, Wallace Shelton, Neal Lube, David Block, David Stevens, Johnny Northcutt, Bill Hill, Randy Carver, S. D. Baize, Larry Edwards, and Joe Wright.

All three teams seek your support during the coming basketball season, with their first game beginning Monday at 6 p. m. All the rest of Stanton's games will begin at 5 p. m. at the Junior High gym, excluding tournaments.

FRIO NEWS

Area Maize Harvest Nearing Completion

BY MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Maize harvest in the Frio Community is almost completed, and cotton stripping is, for most people, getting underway. The damp weather this fall has slowed the drying process in the cotton, so that this is unusually late for stripping to be starting. A number of persons were starting the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr. and family moved Friday of last week into the new red brick home which is being completed. The house is located about 100 yards west of the house where they formerly lived, one and one-half miles east of Hereford. The new house has three bedrooms, large living room, kitchen and utility rooms, numerous closets and two baths. The heating system is the type consisting of a network of hot water pipes embedded in the concrete floor. Baths are tiled, and floor coverings are carpeting and vinyl throughout the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Harder and sons moved Saturday into the house formerly occupied by the Sparkmans. The Harder house is to be moved to make way for the new four-lane highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dean and children, Debbie, Jimmy and Bobby came last week to visit a few days with Mrs. Dean's parents and brother, the Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Baldwin and Eugene. Others of the Baldwin children visiting with the family on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baldwin, Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer West and Linda of Hereford.

Sunday visitors in the Harlan Barber home were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jordan and sons of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Williams and children of Abernathy.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr. went to Littlefield Sunday to visit relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Barnet Saxon. When they arrived they learned that Saxon was ill in a Hale Center Hospital. The Sparkmans went to Hale Center to visit them there. Saxon has been ill for about eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hall, Roba, and Ronnie went to Amarillo Sunday afternoon to visit Hall's sister, Mrs. Odie Roberson of Wellington, who has been ill in an Amarillo hospital. She was able to be at the home of a brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Roberson. The Halls visited her there.

Mrs. Fannie Warrick accompanied the Halls so far as Canyon where she visited a niece, Mrs. Carl Ellis and her husband for the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Andrews and Verdelle Andrews were in Plainview Saturday morning for Verdell to see an optometrist.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles King and grandchildren David and Darlene of Amarillo visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Andrews and Miss Alma Andrews of Hereford and other relatives in the area on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Doughman and Kathy went to Edinburg last week to spend several days and to attend a convention of people in the insecticide spraying business.

Attending a birthday Saturday evening for David Huckert were Lynn Noel and Bill Cole. The party was held in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huckert.

Frio Jolly Workers 4-H Club met Friday in the Frank Robbins homes. Mrs. Robbins gave a demonstration on making puddings. Girls present were Edlana Vinson, Carlene Richardson, Jana Cole and Carol Robbins.

Several persons from the community attended the P-TA chili supper at Central School in Hereford on Friday evening. Most of the children from this area attend that school.

Edlana Vinson spent Sunday with Vickie Axe and Carleta Vinson spent the day with Kim Glenn.

Eating Sunday dinner with the D. C. Millers were Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr., Bonnie and Darlene and Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Stephan and daughters.

Mrs. Arthur Betts and Jimmy visited last week with her parents in Roswell, N. M. Her sister also resides in that city.

Mrs. Floyd Cole and Beverley visited Mrs. Don Mobley on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Clyde Renfro was also visiting there that afternoon.

Bill Cole and Stevie Robbins attended a meeting at the Bull Barn at Hereford Saturday afternoon. J. W. Thomas and Carroll Higgins were teaching the boys principles of grooming and showing club calves.

Ramona Hall ate Sunday dinner with Jana Cole.

The E. F. Voglers are doing an extensive remodeling job on their home. The kitchen is being enlarged with new cabinets and built in electrical cooking units added. A half-bath and other modern conveniences are included in the building plans.

Cheryl Cole visited after church Sunday with Sammie Vinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Andrews and Hal visited Mrs. Andrews' father, Bradley Burrus, and other relatives in the Canyon area Sunday.

Mrs. Lloyd Shultz visited her brother, Alton Hood of Lamesa recently, and brought him to a heart specialist in Hereford. Hood has been ill for several weeks.

Olta Parris and Clark Dobbs were among those who were ill with the "flu" during the weekend.

WMU met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Floyd Cole. Mrs. Frank Robbins was in charge of the Bible study from Corinthians. Others present were Mesdames H. M. Mobley, Owen Andrews, Lloyd Shultz, Earl Harkins, Glenn Andrews, James Dobbs, Clark Andrews and Henry Dobbs.

The WMU will have an all-day meeting on Nov. 29 in the home of Mrs. Owen Andrews. The program will be on fore-missions and will be directed by the program chairman, Mrs. Weldon Stephan. The morning program will begin at 10:50 and each member will bring a covered dish for the luncheon at the noon hour. The afternoon program will be concluded about 2:30.

The Thanksgiving for Frio residents will be held Wednesday night, Nov. 23, at the Community Center in Hereford. Everyone is to bring a basket supper. A speaker will be invited starting at 7:30 before the supper.

Quite a large number of young people and intermediates from the Frio Baptist Church went to Friona Thursday night to a youth program sponsored by the Llamas Altos Association of Baptist Churches. Mr. and Mrs. S. B. McLellan spent Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Owen Andrews. They had been to Colorado to visit their parents for a few days.

OFF THE Shelf

BY H. A. TUCK
An off-beat story is This Sporting Life, a novel by David Storey.

Arthur Machin is a bull-like man who becomes a hero as an outstanding Rugby League football player in England. He plays for a city team in Northern England and basks in the adoration that is given him by merchants, fans and children.

But the widow who is his landlady doesn't have much respect for him.

Machin plays well and hard on the field and off. He enjoys the good clothes and cars that his prestige earns, but still yearns for his drab, unimpressed landlady, Valerie Hammond.

He hardly even quivers when Diana Weaver, wife of Machin's employer, makes a pass at him.

Machin's dream is for the simple life, but his athletic prowess and fame scarcely make this possible. And as his need for Valerie increases, she becomes more cold and distant until Arthur finally destroys her.

David Storey's first novel is unusual for its character portrayals, but is a little weak in its plot. It is a current new release at the Deaf Smith County library.

Pistol - Packin' Annie Has Weight Thoughts

By VIVIAN BROWN
Newsfeatures Writer

"YOU'D THINK that Annie Oakley's main worry would be the next target. But 'tain't so. Gail Davis, the girl sharpshooter who plays the role of Annie in the movies and on television worries more about hitting the right combination to lose weight."

"I'm always on a diet when I'm in a show or making a movie. But when I let up for a while, wild horses can't keep me from hot fudge sundaes," says the 115-pound blue-eyed beauty, in New York to star at the rodeo at Madison Square Garden.

Gail has a roomful of equipment that spells out e-x-e-r-c-i-s-e. She has a vibrating table, bar bells, a belt massager, electric bicycle, electric hand vibrator, a beador exerciser with outdoor exercise.

"I swim in the pool, play golf, tennis, ride horses, walk and ride a bicycle," she says, with a sigh. "And I concentrate on low calorie energy foods."

Gail learned how to shoot tin cans off a fence in her home town near Little Rock, Ark. with a .22 rifle, majored in dramatics at the University of Texas, met Gene Autry, who taught her how to shoot a pistol, went off to Hollywood where she has made 14 movies in the last 10 years.

"It's practice that makes perfect in shooting," Gail explains. "We had an advantage in Arkansas. Daddy and I used to go out in the woods and hit targets, but neither of us ever suspected I would be a gun girl. I wanted to be a nurse, and daddy who was a doctor kept hoping I would follow him in medicine."

Gail's hobby is decorating her home in Studio City, Calif., where she lives with her husband, Richard Pierce, and 7-year-old daughter Terrie-Jean. "I'm always tearing out a wall here and there. I had a brainstorm about a year ago and decided to take out the front of the house, with a little help of course. The main idea was to make the living room wider and longer. It was supposed to be finished in three months but it has taken about a year."

If you haven't begun such a project but have been thinking about it, "don't," advises Gail. "It would be better to buy another house. It takes so much out of your life to remodel one. But now here I am getting itchy fingers all over again," she laughs.

But next time she says she will get the right person to do the job and make sure she has a firm estimate. This last job ran three times the original estimate.

Young Homemakers HD Members Meet

The Young Homemakers Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, Nov. 15, in the home of Mrs. James Stayton, 404 Jewell. Mrs. Tom Draper, HD agent, gave the program on "Clothing Storage Improvement."

In talking about storage space Mrs. Draper said in part, "Improve what we have and be better managers."

During the business session Mrs. John C. Robinson was appointed chairman of a committee to draw up a constitution for the newly-organized club. The club will then vote on the constitution before it is accepted.

Those present were Mesdames Phillip Shook, Melvin Shaw, John C. Robinson, and the hostess, Mrs. Bobby Manning was welcomed as a new member, and Mrs. Tom Draper was present as a guest.

The next meeting will be held in the community room of the First National Bank on Dec. 6.

Hold Rites For J. L. Park

Funeral services for J. L. Park, Rt. 1, Hereford, were held at 4 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 19, in the First Baptist Church here. Services were conducted by the Rev. Howard Scott, former pastor, and present pastor of the Field Street Baptist Church in Cleburne.

Mr. Park, 90, died in Deaf Smith County Hospital at 12:15 a. m. Friday after an illness of several months.

He was born in Lockersburg, Ark. Dec. 18, 1869. He came to Texas at the age of 10 from Arkansas, and moved to Deaf Smith County in 1902 from Bardwell. He was married to Miss Cassie Lindsey in December of 1899, in Bardwell. She preceded him in death April 22, 1955.

Mr. Park was a member of the First Baptist Church.

He is survived by five daughters, Miss Lucille Park of Dumas, Miss Edith Park, Denver, Colo., Mrs. Mable Greenhall, Wilcox, Ariz., Mrs. Lois Cavender, Amarillo, and Mrs. Ruth Donovan, Tulia; one brother, Burl Park of San Saba; a sister, Mrs. Edna Rowe, Hereford, and 12 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren.

Interment was in West Park Cemetery under direction of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Girls Won't Propose Even In Leap Year

By BEATRICE WEIN

Today few young people pay any attention to Leap Year traditions. However, girls at least are still aware of their old right to pop the question, even though they say that Leap Year has no significance for them.

The general feeling is that a girl might, without compunction, resort to every sneaky, underhand trick that might ensnare a boy—but to pop the question herself?
"I'd sooner die than ask a boy to marry me!" says a freshman college coed. "I can just hear the guy turning around 10 years later and saying, 'I didn't want to marry you, but you asked me.'"

Modern girls feel that they are so advanced in the scientific techniques of stalking, baiting and trapping the male animal that they don't need any unusual privileges to capture him.

Each girl to whom we spoke cited the same single situation in which she would take matters into her own hands: "If I were 39 years old and still single and I knew a man very well and knew he was mad about me but was very shy—then I'd brag him up fast! If Leap Year were handy, I'd use it as an excuse."

As to having their question-popping rights infringed upon, in Leap Year or any other time, most boys are against it but not adamantly.

"It would depend on which girl asked me," said one sophomore. "You could always refuse."

As far as general teen-age dating goes, though, both boys and girls have rather definite and conservative ideas about the relative attitude of the sexes. Girls still want boys to be dominant and the boys want to maintain it.

A few girls (and boys) did feel that girls asking for dates

NOT TOO SHORT!

URBANA, Ill. (AP)—Don't cut your lawn grass so short if you want it to remain attractive throughout the summer.

C. E. Ackerman, turf management specialist of the University of Illinois, says most home lawn grasses—blue-grasses, upright fescues and upright bent—do best when cut at a two-inch height every 7 to 10 days from June 10 to Sept. 10.

This height and frequency of cutting will help maintain a good relation between top growth and root growth, he said.

TROUBLE COMPOUNDED

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Miffed when he found a parking ticket on his car, Lawrence Ricks, 20, threw it in the street. A patrol man saw him and Ricks had to pay $7 court costs for littering in addition to his $5 illegal parking fine.

to records."
"If a boy has to make himself feel manly by taking a girl out to impress her and spend money on her, he's an idiot," says one of his sophomore friends. "I don't have too much bread around (beat talk for money) and as long as the girl is agreeable, I think going Dutch is a good idea."

"The idea of a date is company, not for a girl to get a free movie and hamburger. If a girl really wants to go out, she should be willing to share the costs."

"If the captain of our basketball team would ask me out," says a dreamy-eyed freshman, "I'd gladly pay for myself and him and the rest of the team too!"

The turn-about dance or party for an occasional change rates the high approval of boys and girls alike. In most high schools they are the best-attended social events of the year.

So evidently the boys need a little coaxing from the weaker sex, but as long as they don't coax too hard, everyone's happy.

Short Of Stature, Long On Talent

By PETER HOFFER
VIENNA, 49 — The youngest student ever admitted to the famed Vienna Academy of Music is a 9-year-old American girl with blonde curls, a ready smile, and remarkable mastery of the keyboard.

Giorgiana Bender, daughter of a retired United States Air Force officer, has been the "Wunderkind" (child wonder) of the academy since she was accepted for the six-year course of piano studies in the spring of 1958.

Georgy, as she is called by her parents, was born at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio, when her father, Lt. Col. George F. Bender, was stationed there. The family moved to Riederer in upper Bavaria when Bender retired from the Air Force.

"Georgy loved to play the piano from the very start," says the child's mother. "She would pick out little tunes on the keyboard and finally I decided to give her lessons, when she was only four." The mother is an amateur pianist.

Says Georgy, showing her talented hands:

"I always liked to play the piano, ever since I can remember. When other girls were outside, I liked to practice. In the beginning, when I could not read notes, I played from memory, but now I can play nearly any classic piece of music if it is within the reach of my hands."

If life is tough for a "Wunderkind," Georgiana does not show it. She looks happy. After lessons and four to five hours of daily practicing, she has little time for play. But she loves her dolls and teddy bears of which she has a large family, all lovingly cared for.

Among the first to recognize her astonishing musical talent was German composer and professor Richard Trunk. He advised the Benders to let little Giorgiana have regular instruction from a music teacher and at the age of 5 she entered her first public piano competition at Munich, emerging first in her age group.

Georgy, only 4-ft., 2-in., cannot reach the piano pedals and has a special pedal attachment so that she can play.

BY JIMMIE GILLENTE

Two things seem to be paramount in the news this week. One is the large number of people being stung by wasps, and the other centers around a general rampage on the part of Hereford's small-fry. Could be, too, that people are prone to notice such things more since the election is over.

A lot of youngsters have pulled so many things down through the years that you seldom run across an original wrinkle.

Larry Anders, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Anders, 311 Avenue K, did come up with a new one Thursday night, however. While the sink was full of greasy dishwasher water, 3-year-old Larry stuck the vacuum cleaner nozzle into the water, flipped the switch. In nothing flat, the machine sucked all of the water from the sink and distributed it in rolling waves all over the floor. Needless to say, the young man is learning at a most tender age how it feels to be in the dog house.

I hear that Mrs. H. A. Tuck was a victim of both perils Friday. She was stung twice by a wasp and, when she finished doctoring the spots, she looked out the window to see son Tommy and a neighbor lad scolding ailly hammering the spokes out of Tommy's bicycle. Consequently, when Tommy goes to the dog house, he now walks.

H. L. Hershey says to quit writing about politics, and concentrate on the "blue moon" we are going to have in January. How he knows, I cannot figure, but he says it will happen—and he hopes it will shine on a nice blanket of snow. He says any weather forecaster who is not a faker would have all the dope. He further says this is where we got the expression, "Once in a blue moon," then added again that we will see a blue moon in January. Thank goodness Roy Phillips was there, and I have a witness. "Just mention it," declared Mrs. Hershey, "and someone will give you some more dope. I'd like to hear a little more about it myself."

Meanwhile, Thanksgiving is just around the corner. Out in this country we have more for which to be thankful than probably 99 percent of all the other places in the world. This really is the truth of the situation.

A bunch of local sports took off Friday to go over in New Mexico and scout the quail situation. The idea is to locate the birds before the season opens, then go back and run them down. Sort of like scouting a football team before the next game, I guess. Anyway, it seems to mark a new era in the annals of sportsmanship.

R. J. Cramer, the trap shooting expert, was predicting the other day that another 10 years will find only "controlled hunting" on special game preserves. This has already happened in the East, and is fast spreading into the Southwest. Mr. Cramer has had a lot of experience in raising game birds, and further says that the one bird which would thrive most in this area is the pintail grouse. He figures any further efforts to stock this country with game birds should be along this line, but says he cannot find desirable stock anywhere in the country. His experiments show that 100 caged quail will drink three gallons of water a day; he says they also must have sand — or they will die within six days. Pheasant do not thrive here, according to Mr. Cramer, because we do not have a sufficient amount of rock shale which is necessary to their existence.

This reminded me of how surprised I was as a youngster to see people feeding coal to hogs. Even more surprising, the hogs would eat the stuff. On account of remembering this experience, I figure that Mr. Cramer could be "right on the money" with his conclusions.

I am always leaving my hat here, there and yonder. The poorer the hat, the easier it is to locate. I have one old, beat up job that folks will call and ask me to come and get. Mrs. Leo Price even brought it to me one time when I left it in the drug store. It was some consolation, in tracking down my own hat the other day, to learn that Irving Alexander is likewise a "hat leaver." Twice I have run across his hats when I was looking for mine. The big difference is that he gets them wholesale, while I am forced to pay retail. I never did completely lose one, but I have mislocated as high as three at a time — and have done a lot of worrying and looking in cafes and drug stores.

Dick Ross says a guy who has no more hair than I have should notice it immediately when he walks out into the cold air without his hat. Sounds logical, but it just doesn't work out that way.

I notice that they keep changing the election returns, which is not good. Everybody took their medicine, and there is no use stirring up trouble. I know at least one old boy who would have to pay back a lot of money in case the thing reversed — and it would upset international relations no end to switch horses at this point. Besides, even the sponsors of these investigations admit that they do not have an outside chance. Why not let sleeping dogs lie?

I figure that my dyed-in-the-wool Demo buddies have already given me all the static they can and, as things go wrong during the next four years, I can always say: "I told you so."

Cuba Discussed During Session

A round-table discussion featuring Cuba was the highlight of a recent meeting of the L. A. E. Club, which met Tuesday afternoon in the Community Room of the First National Bank building.

Mrs. Gordon Elliott led the discussion by giving a brief geographical and historical background of the island. She stated that although Cuba is only 90 miles from the shores of the United States, the American people generally have little understanding of the problems which are creating such turmoil in that country. Cuba, in recent years, has become a "hot spot" in diplomatic circles and has become a fertile field for communism, Mrs. Elliott explained to club members.

La Madre Mia Holds Meeting

Mrs. Walter Kirkland was hostess at a meeting of the La Madre Mia Study Club, held Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank.

Mrs. Harold Morton presented a program entitled "Migrant Development In This Area." She brought out the fact that the Jode family in John Steinbeck's The Grapes of Wrath illustrate only a portion of the migrant's life.

The migrant ministry, Mrs. Morton concluded, has done the most work in this area. They have cooperated fully with private, local and national agencies to develop better conditions for the migrant.

A business meeting was held, and clubmembers voted to contribute to the Community Center project, which is that of obtaining kitchenware for use at the Community Center affairs. They completed plans for the Guest Day Tea, slated for Nov. 11.

Collum-Dufur Vows Read

Mrs. Billie Wayne Dufur nee Tommie Louise Collum

(Photo By Pinto)

Colors of red, white and green decorated the Immanuel Baptist Church in Amarillo Saturday evening, Nov. 5, as Tommie Louise Collum and Billie Wayne Dufur were united in marriage by the Rev. E. W. Taylor, pastor.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Collum of Amarillo. Dufur's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Dufur of Hereford.

A candlelighted arch, decorated with red and white chrysanthemums and accented with greenery formed the background for the altar, which was embellished with white gladioli and red and white chrysanthemums and complemented by green foliage.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor length dress of nylon tulle and alencon lace. The bodice was designed with a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves which were accented with matching elbow-length lace mitts. The bouffant tulle skirt featured a panel of re-embroidered alencon lace, and a finger-tip veil of illusion was caught at the crown with a tiara encrusted with pearls. To complete her wedding ensemble, the bride carried a Bible topped with a bouquet of white orchids.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Carol Collum. She was attired in a red velvet dress and wore a white satin hat and white shoes. The bridesmaid, Bonnie Wagner, and bridesmatron, Mrs. Jolene Hoelter, were dressed identically to the maid of honor.

Bestman was Ralph Holloway, and John Hoelter and Bob Tompkins served as groomsmen.

Lanell Duke and Sandra Browning assisted as candlelighters and flower girls were Vicki and Terri Miller. Ring bearer was Ray Ellison and David Allison and Don Jones acted as ushers.

Nuptial music was provided by Nancy Bain, organist, who accompanied Joe Fristoe as he sang "Because," "Whither Thy Goest," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is a graduate of Palo Duro High School and Amarillo College. At AC she was a member of Sigma Phi Chi, national sorority, and the College Players. She is employed as a secretary for the Timeplan Finance Co.

Dufur is a graduate of Hereford High School and Texas A&M. In high school he was active on the basketball team and was a member of the 4-H Club. He is currently employed

Dawn Music Club In Tuesday Meet

Mrs. W. H. Gentry and Mrs. H. E. Miller Jr. were hostesses to the Dawn Music Club when they met in Mrs. Gentry's home Tuesday afternoon.

International music was the theme for the program. Mrs. Jim McCabe told of the music of France. She stated:

"There has always been a close relationship between folk songs and church songs in France."

"The music of America was discussed by Mrs. Clarence Betzen. She brought out the fact that 'Hall Columbia' was used first in our national anthem. 'The Star Spangled Banner' was adopted as the official national anthem in 1931.

Mrs. H. V. McCabe, in discussing the music of England, stated that the folk songs of Great Britain were soft, melodious stories of love and the sea. Mrs. E. C. Reinauer spoke on the music of Canada.

"O, Canada" is used as the national anthem by the French Canadians, while "The Maple Leaf Forever" is used unofficially by many others.

Mrs. Robert Strain told the story of the Chinese national anthem, which was written by Dr. Sun Yan Sen, to unify in spirit the Chinese people.

National anthems were sung by the group with Mrs. Miller leading and Mrs. Strain playing the accompaniment. These included "The Marseillaise," "Star-Spangled Banner," "God Save The King," "O, Canada," and the "Chinese National Anthem."

Art Exhibit Is Scheduled Today

The Hereford Art Guild is sponsoring a solo exhibit today at the Community Center beginning at 1 o'clock featuring the works of Mrs. Ernest McGee.

Mrs. McGee, who paints in oils and egg tempera, is one of this area's leading artists. The public is invited to attend, free of charge. Refreshments will be served.

Music In Industry Featured At Meet

"Music In Industry" was the topic of the program at a recent meeting of the Music Study Club, which was held in the home of Mrs. Bill Bradley, 110 Star.

Mrs. A. O. Thompson was in charge of the program in the absence of Mrs. Steve Clements, and introduced the first selection on the agenda, which was "Valse," composed by Durand and presented by Mrs. Bill Stanford.

Mrs. C. J. Mountz, Mrs. H. K. Fox, Mrs. W. E. Dameron, Mrs. A. O. Thompson and Mrs. Lowell Sharp combined to form a quintet and presented "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," by Victor Herbert.

De Rima Smith Is Honored On Eighth Birthday

A skating party held Saturday afternoon honored De Rima Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Smith, 140 Beach, on the occasion of her eighth birthday.

Guests gathered in the honoree's home, where De Rima opened her birthday gifts before the group proceeded to the local skating rink.

The skating table carried out a Cinderella theme, and was centered with a birthday cake decorated in pink and white.

Those attending were Gay Womble, Kay Lynn Alexander, Teri Beth Line, Mona Gibson, Doris and Linda Malone, Marilyn Smith, Dana Riddle, Ruby Perkins, Ricky Lee and Mrs. Jack Wardlaw and Debbie and Larry from Plainview.

Members Meet In President's Home

Mrs. Harold Beauchamp presented a program on "The Written Word" at a meeting of Xi Epsilon Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, held in the home of Mrs. Norman Moore Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Beauchamp read several letters, both serious and humorous, to illustrate the power of the written word.

Mrs. Clyde Russell discussed the short story, the essay, and the differences between an outline and notes. She quoted Francis Bacon by saying:

"Reading maketh a full man; conference a ready man; and writing an exact man."

Mrs. Ronald Babione, who has had experience in both creative writing and news reporting, completed the program by discussing the difference between the two medias. She also compared creative writing with other forms of expression.

During a short business meeting, Mrs. Guy Cornelius and Mrs. Charles Bell were welcomed to the Exemplar Chapter. The two women have completed their time with the Ritual of Jewels Chapter and received the Exemplar Degree.

Chapter members present for the meeting were Mesdames Ronald Babione, Harold Beauchamp, Bob Brotherton, R. J. Cramer, Byrdie Fellers, James Mercer, Norman Moore, Clyde Russell, Max Stipe, Ray Sult, Ernest Wade, J. D. Whitaker, Ann Woodward, Charles Bell, Guy Cornelius.

Hostesses were Mrs. Harold Beauchamp and Mrs. R. J. Cramer.

Bay View Club Meets In Jack Gililand Home

A program on "The Middle Ages," under the direction of Mrs. E. W. Harrison, highlighted a recent meeting of the Bay View Club held in the home of Mrs. Jack Gililand.

Mrs. Colby Conkright reviewed "Jeffery Chaucer of England," written by Marchette Chute.

During a short business session, club members voted to contribute to the Federated Clubs' project of furnishing the Community Center with kitchenware.

They also discussed packing a Christmas Box for the mental hospital located at Wichita Falls.

Plans for the Christmas party scheduled for Dec. 15 in the home of Mrs. Conkright were completed.

Present were Mesdames D. H. Alexander, Philip Barkley, H. L. Benefield, Colby Conkright, C. W. Fisher, W. J. Gililand, Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine, Francis Hardwick, E. W. Harrison, George Heard, W. S. Kerr, J. W. Kirby, Paul Mathers, Ansel McDowell, R. B. Miller, Carl Perrin and J. W. Spradley.

WOMEN OF INTEREST

Vivacious Red-Head Enjoys Driving Truck

BY MONA JETTE WOMEN'S EDITOR

"Togetherness" is a word that has been cropping up more and more in recent years for the American husband and wife.

Some of the leading publications for men have come out strongly against it; claiming it is just another womanly wife to keep them off the golf courses or home from hunting trips.

The average woman of today doesn't want to spend every waking moment with her husband. Freedom for individual pursuit is still a main prerequisite for a happy marriage. It is the desire for a happy marriage through sharing hobbies and after-work activities and the importance of building a solid home life that cause the American Female to wail:

"You don't spend enough time with the family."

For years, wives have stood shoulder to shoulder with their husbands. It might be just helping get a small, private business on its feet, or taking a job outside the home to provide a little extra income to lessen the financial load. And in the Hereford area, many farm wives help in the planting and harvesting of crops.

Jo and Harvey Brock moved to this area in 1932 from Floydada. Harvey farmed over 300,000 acres on part of the land located about eleven miles north of Hereford belonging to A. D. Guggenheim of Amarillo. Jo and Harvey, with their farm crew, raised cotton, sugar

Will Exchange Vows In January Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Schulte of Route 1, Hereford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Ann, to Teddy Fangman, son of Mrs. Helen Fangman and the late Walter Fangman of Route 3, Friona.

The couple plan an early January wedding which will be solemnized in St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Hereford High School where she was active in Choir, F. H. A., and served as Office Assistant in the principal's office her junior and senior year. She is presently employed as secretary at the Hereford State Bank.

Fangman, a graduate of Friona High School where he was active in football, basketball, track and F.F.A., is presently engaged in farming at Black.

Valeda Study Club Entertains Guests At Recent Meeting

Special guests were entertained at a recent meeting of the Valeda Study Club when Mrs. Ansel McDowell reviewed a current best seller, Farewell To Fear, by Tommy Kaitlen.

Guests present for the meeting were Mesdames Irving Alexander, C. E. Leasure, Arthur Stoy, Gerald Wildon, Clinton Massie, Bobo Spaulding, Elmer Fryar, Jerry Brown, George Werner, Waylon Smith, Richard

Mrs. Jim Wiman Speaks At Club

Mrs. Jim Wiman was guest speaker at a meeting held Tuesday night in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas building by the Young Mother's Study Club.

Mrs. Wiman spoke on "Balanced Family Life" and stressed the importance of individuality in daily living.

During the business meeting, clubmembers discussed the bake sale to be held Nov. 23 at Piggly Wiggly. Plans were also completed on the project to bring food to go to a needy family for Thanksgiving.

Mrs. James Arney was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Charles Springer, president and hostess, served refreshments to Mesdames Bruce Fink, Howard Hunter, Joe Lindsey, Dallas Phillips, Ed Rlan, Weldon Roberson, Glendon Sanders, A. W. Self, Pete Wilson, Don West, Homer Ruid and Jerome Dunderstadt.

beets, lettuce, maize and other crops.

Jo first began helping her husband during grain harvest. She acquired her commercial license and started delivering grain to the elevators.

The members voted to have a gift exchange at the December meeting, with the price not to exceed $125.

It was voted to send two dollars to aid in sending the Quail High School F. H. A. Chorus and the "Madrigal Singers" of Texas Tech to the National Convention of the Federation of Music Clubs in Kansas City next spring.

Also present at the meeting were Mrs. Steve Bavosett, Mrs. R. L. Johnson, Mrs. Ray Polan, Mrs. J. B. Caraway and Mrs. Carl Wimberley.

"The first time I drove in, I was scared to death," grinned Jo. "I just knew I couldn't hit the scales. But I haven't missed them yet."

From then on, Jo was a familiar sight as she came buzzing down the highway driving a little bobtail truck. Then, in February of 1960, her husband sprung a bombshell by buying a White Freightliner, with a 7,200 pound load capacity.

"He kept trying to get me to drive it, but I wasn't about to get behind the wheel of that monster," she said.

Harvey let the issue ride for awhile. Then, one day as they were driving into town, he pulled over to the side of the highway, got out, and told Jo to take over.

She slid under the wheel as Harvey clambered into the truck. Then, clenching the wheel tightly and using all her willpower to keep her knees from shaking, Jo was off.

"I had to stop after driving two or three miles. I was a nervous wreck," said Jo with a big hoot of laughter. "But I liked it."

Jo is now considered a veteran driver, but still surprises people from Eldorado, Ark., to Lake Charles, La. They can't get used to seeing a woman behind the wheel of the huge truck, especially when it is carrying a 18-ton load.

"I wish you could have seen one woman in Palestine, Tex.," she said. "She looked once, nearly fell down, then looked again. When she reached the curb, she stopped and watched us until we were out of sight."

Jo always travels with a relief driver. The cab of the truck is big enough to be equipped with a bunk behind the driver's seat, complete with sliding drapes.

She drives for a four or five hour stretch, then lets the relief driver take over while she rests.

"It's a lot harder than you think," confessed Jo. "And you can get awfully tired."

To look at Jo, you wouldn't think she had driven a huge truck over 56,000 miles since June. She is a green-eyed redhead, who admits she is more comfortable in slim-jims or slacks. But she can get "gussied up," as she calls it, and look like any attractive woman who has things to do or places to go.

Jo and Harvey have no children, but have a loyal pet in Duke, a mammoth Boxer. Duke considers himself one of the family and is the Brock's pride and joy.

For hobbies, Jo enjoys bowling and playing golf. She averages in the 140's, bowling for Pitman Grain, and was runner-up a few years ago in the City Championship Golf Tournament. She also is presently serving as president of the local Women's Golf Association.

In spite of her truck-driving duties, Jo is an excellent homemaker. Her house is exquisitely furnished in Early American style furniture and she is looking forward to moving into a new home recently purchased in Westhaven Addition.

In spite of what men like to think, most women are quite a bit like all other women. They all want the same things out of life... a happy home, a lot of activity to keep their hands and minds busy, and a little relaxation to vary the routine.

These are the good things, and most men must want them, too. If they didn't, then why did they marry in the first place?

These are the best things. And if "togetherness" enters into it, what else is marriage?

Dawn...

1	Res.	1304	$8.70		$11,344.00	95	$10,775.
2	Gar.	528	$3.48		$1,837.00	95	$1,745.
3	Basem.	336	$3.75		$1,260.00	95	$1,195.	$1,000.00	$14,715.00

RURAL ACREAGE

FARM HOMES, IRRIGATION WELLS and other improvements will be surveyed and measured for accuracy. Each house, lot, building and improvement will be surveyed, just as in town . . . then placed in a group to determine the tax value. Due to location, most rural homes will carry a lower cost group than will similar town property. AGE and CONDITION will be considered, just as in the City Limits.

EACH PROPERTY OWNER will have an opportunity to talk with the Survey Crew leader to express his ideas concerning the property.

ALL RURAL ACREAGE will be designated as to character of land, slope, lakes, creeks, draws and topography will be considered. Designation will be made on Cultivated Land and on Grass Land; irrigated and dry land farms will be designated. Soil texture location from town and all-weather roads will also be designated in helping to arrive at the overall value.

Again, the Survey Crew Leaders will be glad to talk with you concerning each piece of acreage property in the county. If you miss him, be sure to call for appointment.

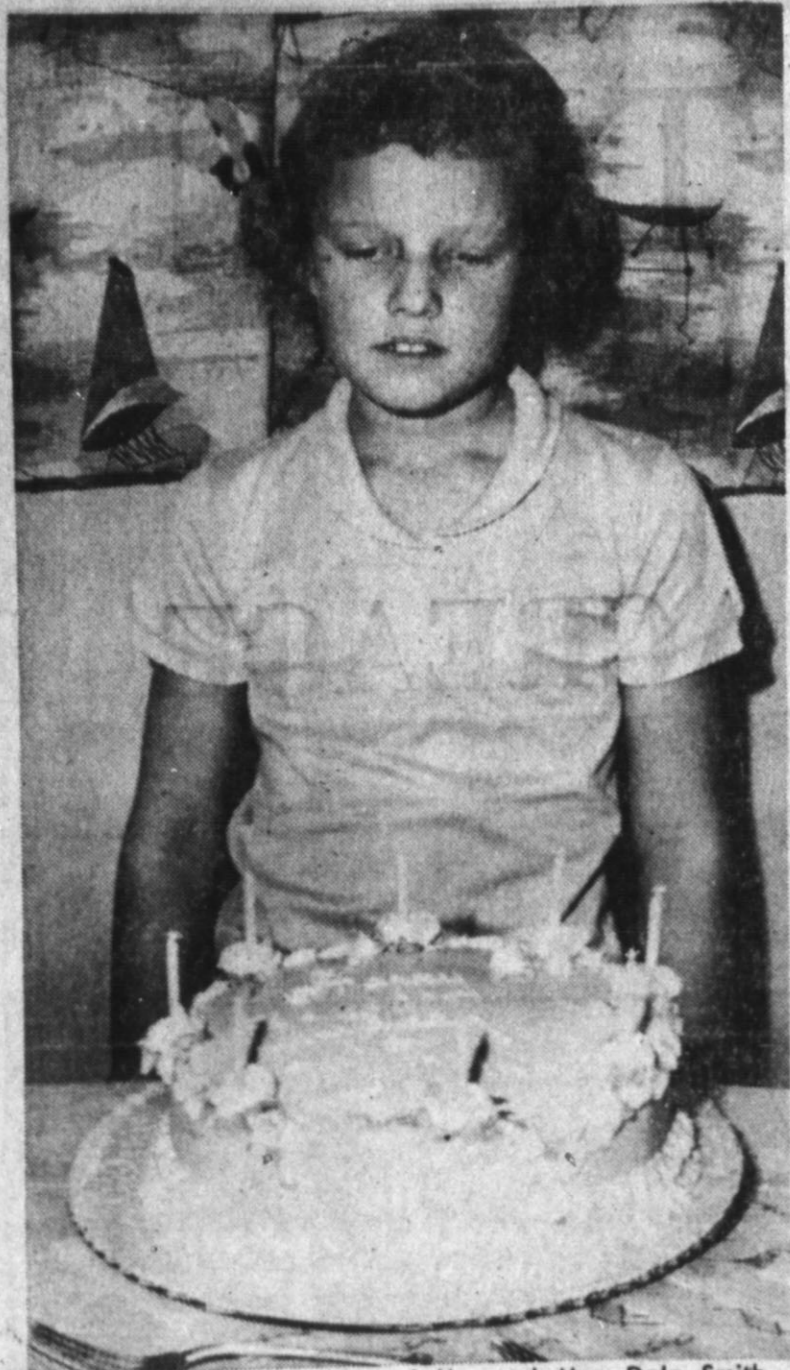

The Object of this survey is fair and equal taxes to all property owners.....

YOUR COOPERATION WILL BE APPRECIATED.

WHEN THE SURVEY GROUPS COME TO YOUR PLACE THEY WILL DISCUSS DETAILS, TAKE MEASUREMENTS AND EXPLAIN THEIR METHODS.

IF NO ONE IS AT HOME A LETTER WILL BE LEFT IN YOUR DOOR. YOU MAY CALL THE SCHOOL TAX OFFICE FOR AN APPOINTMENT.

Careful Ground inspection will be made on each piece of Property in the City and in the Hereford Rural High School District.

Major Estes, the supply officer of the Second Armored Rifle Battalion, 58th Infantry, entered the Army in 1942. He is a 1940 graduate of Hereford High School and a 1947 graduate of A&M College, College Station.

Give Turkey New Flavor With Oyster Dressing

Another year is quickly drawing to a close, the harvest is in, and the time for Thanksgiving is with us once again.

Housewives thumb furiously through old cookbooks or flip madly through the latest magazines, searching for the "perfect" recipe to please their families.

Mrs. Argen Draper, Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Agent, offers this delightfully different recipe for stuffing your Thanksgiving turkey.

- Oyster Dressing
(For 12-16 pound bird)
- 3 or 4 quarts bread crumbs (bisuits, cornbread, etc.)
 - 1 1/2 cups fat and broth
 - 3 eggs
 - 1/2 cup onion
 - 1 T. salt
 - 1/4 t. pepper
 - 2 cans oysters (10 ounce size)
 - 1 1/2 t. lemon juice
 - 1 1/2 T. parsley
 - 1 t. poultry seasoning
- Mix lightly with fork. If a compact dressing is desired, moisten with hot water or scalded milk.
- Fill bird loosely with stuffing and lace tightly. Any extra dressing may be placed around bird or baked in a separate dish. Bake at roasting temperature suitable for bird.

The perfect complement dish for a turkey is a fruit salad. This is not a new recipe, but sometimes the best things are the ones that have been around a long time.

- Ambrosia Salad
- 1 large can drained fruit cocktail
 - 1 large can drained crushed pineapple
 - 1 small jar chopped maraschino cherries
 - 2 small apples, diced
 - 2 small oranges, peeled, deveined and sliced
 - 2 bananas, chopped
 - 1 cup chopped pecans, walnuts or Brazil nuts
 - 1 cup shredded coconut
 - 1/2 pint whipped cream, seasoned with sugar and a drop vanilla
- Combine ingredients in large bowl and mix well. Chill until serving time.

WHAT A LEMONADE!
BALTIMORE (AP)—D. Austin Semler has been able to grow only one lemon on the potted lemon tree in his basement. But he's proud, anyway. The one he has measures 10 inches in circumference.

Lone Star In Meet

Mrs. C. D. Kelton and Mrs. S. S. Williams were co-hostesses at a recent meeting of the Lone Star Study Club, which met in Mrs. Kelton's home. Mrs. Joe Kendall gave the devotional and introduced Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Dodson, who were in charge of the program. The program carried out the theme of Texas, and colored slides were used to illustrate the narration. Slides were shown of several beauty spots in the state, with Big Bend, Palo Duro, Lake McClellan and the fall foliage at Miami included. Present were Mesdames H. E. Henslee, J. J. Durham, Norman Moore, V. D. Powell, Coy Phillips, Joe Kendall, John Jacobsen Jr., S. S. Williams, Vivian Major, Jim Higgins, Robert Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Dodson and the hostesses.

FIGHT AGAINST POACHERS

PIERRE, S. D. — Blackout lights, familiar to combat soldiers of World War II and Korea, are finding a new purpose in South Dakota. Game wardens are using them to increase the safety factor in chasing down persons poaching game by night. The state service began installing the blackout lights on patrol cars after two wardens were injured when their vehicles collided head-on as they were attempting to trap a deer poacher.

DO YOU REALLY UNDERSTAND THE BIBLE?

Many people maintain that the Bible is so simple and clear that any one can understand it. Yet today the Christian world is divided into conflicting opinions as to what the Bible means.

How would you interpret the following passages from the Bible: "I say to thee, thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my Church, and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." (Matthew XVI, 18ff). "For, behold, henceforth all generations shall call me blessed." (Luke I, 48). "Receive the Holy Spirit; whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven them; and whose sins you shall retain, they are retained." (John XX, 23). "He who believes and baptized shall be saved." (Mark XVI, 16).

Catholics recognize the complete Bible as the inspired Word of God. If you wish to know the Catholic interpretation of the above mentioned Bible passages as well as other beliefs of Catholics, write for a free pamphlet explaining Catholic teachings. This free pamphlet is sent through the courtesy of the Knights of Columbus, a religious and patriotic organization of more than one million Catholic men. (Continued from page 6) visited Mrs. R. C. Weathers in Hereford and attended the assembly program at Junior High.

Mrs. Paul Rudd was in Amarillo on Monday of last week.

Mrs. Kenneth Rudd attended a Home Demonstration Club reporters' meeting in Hereford Monday afternoon.

That evening Mrs. Rudd attended the Aikman PTA meeting.

Kit Curtis Rudd was honored on his fourth birthday Thursday afternoon. Among those sharing cake and ice cream with him were Mrs. Kenneth Rudd, Teresa, Susan and Paul, Mrs. Paul Rudd, Mrs. Homer Rudd and Colleen, and Mrs. Harold Rudd, Lynn, Patsy, and cheryle.

Mrs. Kenneth Rudd, Teresa, and Susan attended a fitting and dressing demonstration for 4-H Club members at the Bull Barn in Hereford Saturday.

Glenn Williams, who led the opening prayer.

The business was discussed and all members were reminded to come to the church on Consecration Day Nov. 21 to do God's will as a Christian Steward.

An offering was received to buy a Christmas gift for James Nickols at Juliette Fowler Home, Group II sponsors this young man on his birthday, at Christmas, and at graduation.

Mrs. Ray Suit presented the lesson using as her topic, "Our Churches Look to the Future," emphasizing the work done by Christian workers among the migrants.

The devotional was led by Mrs. Clyde Russell, using as her theme Thanksgiving and a comparison of our modern day Thanksgiving and the Pilgrims in 1789.

The closing prayer was repeated in unison by the following members: Mesdames Glenn Williams, C. R. Smith, Ray Suit, Claud Ricketts, F. S. Smith, George Must, Robert Veigel, J. J. Clark, Clyde Russell, Carl Williams, Nona Jowell and the hostess.

Personal like and dislikes of store managers can affect the sale of certain types of meat, reports the National Assn. of Retail Grocers. "Some retailers will not handle lamb or pork," the report says, "simply because they do not like it themselves."

FANCY MEETING YOU
MILWAUKEE — Detectives William Schendel and Joseph Miszewski were happy to see the motorist who ran into their squad car.

The driver was Raymond Howard, 44, for whom the two detectives had been looking for almost two months on a theft charge.

Population of Monaco, better known as Monte Carlo, is 20,422 permanent residents. This does not include transient devotees of games of chance in the gambling casinos.

Christian Women's Fellowship Meets

Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church met in the home of Mrs. Carlos Vaughn on Nov. 16. The meeting was called to order by the leader, Mrs.

Right Around HOME with MYRTLE

SURE, CHARLIE--WHY DON'T WE PLAN IT FOR SATURDAY? THAT'S MY DAY OFF--AN' IF TH' WEATHER'S NICE WE'LL HAVE TIME FOR 18 HOLES AND WE CAN STILL CATCH TH' FOOTBALL GAME ON T.V. DOWN AT JOE'S.

HEAR THAT?? HE'S OFF SATURDAY--IF WE LAY OUR TRAP RIGHT, WE CAN GET TH' AWNINGS DOWN AND THE STORM WINDOWS ON BEFORE SPRING THIS YEAR!!

I'LL HIDE HIS GOLF CLUBS, AND YOU CAN ACCIDENTALLY SEND ALL HIS TROUSERS TO THE DRY CLEANER!

YEAH! YOU CAN WEAR OVERALLS TO TAKE DOWN AWNINGS BUT NOT TO A COUNTRY CLUB!

YOU'VE NEVER BEEN TO FREDDIE'S CLUB!

FRANKLY--I WOULDN'T KNOW WHAT TO DO IF I HAD THE FREE TIME. I DON'T REALLY WANT A DAY OFF.

OFF FROM WOT?

I TOLD YOU HE WAS STARTING TO CRACK UP LAST WEEK WHEN HE PUT HIS EGG SALAD INTO HIS BRIEF CASE AND ATE TH' McFARLAND CONTRACT!

POP PROMISED TO TAKE SAMPSON AND ME TO THE MOVIES, BUT IF YOU NEED HIM-- YOU CAN HAVE HIM-- JUST GIVE US TH' MONEY!

WE CAN TRIPEND WITH TICKET DOUGH FOR A LITTLE THACK!

WHAT TO DO ON HIS DAY OFF USED TO BE A TERRIBLE PROBLEM FOR ARNOLD TOO!

HOW DID YOU EVER SOLVE IT?

SHE PUT ME ON AN EIGHT-DAY WEEK!

IF YOU DON'T MIND, BOSS-- I JUST DROPPED IN TO GET A LITTLE REST!

I'VE BEEN NEEDING A REST, BUT I WOULDN'T KNOW WHERE TO GO IF I HAD TH' TIME!

WHY DON'T YOU JUST GO AWAY AND GET LOST SOMEWHERE?

WHAT D'VA MEAN?--DON'T WORRY 'BOUT THE WATCHDOG AROUND HERE, AND I HAVEN'T HAD A DAY OFF FOR THREE YEARS!

DON'T WORRY ABOUT IT, GRAMPA! IT MUST BE ALMOST TIME FOR 'EM TO PENSION YOU OFF!

HI, SIS! ISN'T THIS THE NIGHT WE'RE HAVING THE DUTCH TREAT AT THE PICKLEHEIMERS?

YES, AND YOU'RE LATE. GET SHAVED... I'M GOING AHEAD WITH THE TURKEY.

OH, NO! IT'S TOO HEAVY FOR YOU TO CARRY, SISTER. I'LL BRING IT.

OKAY, BUT HURRY!

HI, FOLKS!

YOU'RE LATE!

GOODNESS, LUCILLE. WHAT A BEAUTIFUL TURKEY!

JUST PUT IT ON THE TABLE, BROTHER.

BOYS, THIS IS A PEACE DINNER.

YES, DOVEY AND I THINK IT'S SILLY OF YOU BOYS TO BE ALWAYS FEUDING!

RIGHT YOU ARE. BYGONES ARE BYGONES, EH, SWEENEY? NOW TO...HEY, WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THIS BIRD?

OH, DEAR ME! IS IT THAT TOUGH? IT SEEMED REAL TENDER WHEN I TOOK IT FROM THE OVEN.

HA! HA! MAYBE YOU NEED TO SHARPEN YOUR TOOLS, ELMO.

WHAT I NEED'S AN AXE!

BROTHER, YOU NINNY! THAT WASN'T EVEN A REAL TURKEY!

OH, HA! HA! CAN'T YOU TAKE A JOKE? I LEFT THE REAL TURKEY OUTSIDE ON THE STEPS.

COME OUT, YOU FATHEAD, AND SEE WHERE IT IS NOW!

THREE HAMBURGERS.

SEE THAT FELLOW AT THE END? DON'T GIVE HIM ANYTHING BUT THE CHECK.

WE AREN'T SPEAKING TO HIM.

Electoral Vote System 'On Pan'

That American institution, the Electoral College, is in the spotlight following the

Another Lesson In Cat Skinning

Numerous people in this area have been inclined to critically compare national news coverage of the Louisiana integration episode with a similar incident in Detroit, and it does seem that the criticism is at least partially justified.

From what we have observed, parents in Detroit were riled to a comparable point with those in Little Rock and Louisiana. In very few instances, however, did the Yankee situation command lead story position or top headlines.

At the same time, it is only fair to submit that the city, school and state governments in Detroit were not openly hostile as were those in Arkansas and Louisiana. Certainly, this does make a tremendous difference in that it shifts the incident from "group protest" to a basis of "official rebellion."

Out of the entire situation comes a conclusion that personal feelings of people in the North are probably no different from personal feelings of people in the South. They are handled on a different basis, however. The Yankees merely "zone" the colored students out of many schools, whereas Dixieland is making an effort to "legislate" them out. Neither section has, or probably will go in for genuine integration until the colored man proves himself on a currently accepted level, at which time the problem will cease to exist.

Meanwhile, the South might well study the Detroit case with extreme interest. It reminds us of an old frontier adage: "There are more ways than one to skin a cat."

County Judge Is Important Post

Residents of Deaf Smith County this week saw a shift in the important administrative position of county judge, when Homer Henslee resigned the post and was succeeded by Don Zimmerman, judge-elect.

For many years, we have been fortunate in the type of men who have held this position, and Judge Henslee was no exception. Time after time, he pursued the demands of the office well beyond the call of required duty. Judge Henslee also held onto the post during recent months against the advice of his doctor and his family.

In addition to distributing justice through the county courts, the judge must also be a capable business man and must supervise the remaining county school operations. Certainly, the task is far from an easy one, and our area can attribute much of its progress to the high calibre of its county judges during recent decades.

Looking back on Judge Henslee's long period of service, The Brand is proud to join his friends in saying "Thank You", and to welcome Judge Zimmerman on the same basis. Both officials, we feel, are well above the average in Texas or, for that matter, any other of the 50 states.

recent Kennedy-Nixon election. Most people, as a result of the election, seem to have fixed ideas.

In this particular instance, the Electoral College, will agree with the popular vote, which has not always been the case. What if it had not? What if Nixon had actually polled a few more thousand votes and led in the popular vote count?

Opponents of the Electoral College are quick to point out that the present system fairly well leaves the election of our President up to six or eight states. The argument is definitely one with considerable merit.

On the other hand, the outcome of the recent election would still be unknown if we operated on a popular vote count — and conditions of an even closer vote would make the situation much worse. At the same time more precincts would "hold out" on returns making a fertile spot for trickery similar to that which Texas has often seen in Duvall County and other so called "machine" precincts.

Only twice has the Electoral College gone against public opinion — and then not in recent years. A change, it seems to us, will be more in order when this happens in the present century, and especially if it should occur two or three times consecutively. To say the least, it merits extensive consideration and careful thought before any action should occur.

Let's Compare Value Of Risks

While our nation forges ahead in fields of science, business, automation and mechanical achievement, it seems that the American people are drifting further and further away from self-discipline.

Science, for instance, has been able to lengthen the life span measurably, but more and more people are throwing away their lives in traffic collisions, unnecessary accidents around the home, and through hunting casualties. A large percent of the people who die from these causes need not have been killed; driving a little slower, exercising proper caution and making a few minor inspections would have enabled most of them to have lived out normal lives.

Failure to classify and think of the consequences causes many of the needless deaths. If people studied the odds on the same basis of a professional gambler, we would see much safer and saner driving habits on our Texas roads.

An awakening is definitely in order. What it will take to make the average person realize his full risks and compare the cost with the possible profit or gain, we do not know. We do know however, that too many of us are prone to ante up our lives, the most valuable possession we own, against 10 or 15 minutes of time, which we seldom need or use to good advantage.

Defense Squabble

The military forces of our country are supposed to be models of the effectiveness of discipline. But there has been little demonstration of it in the higher levels of military administration.

When there were a secretary of war (Army) and a secretary of the Navy independent of each other as cabinet posts, there was friction and rivalry. So a Department of Defense was set up with the subordinate secretaries of Army, Navy and Air Force. This was according to military theory for effective organization. But the theory has not worked out as well as it might have.

Now President-elect Kennedy proposes to eliminate the secretaries of Army, Navy and Air Force to give greater power to the secretary of defense.

This kind of organization and reorganization can go on ad infinitum without obtaining the reforms that are needed. What we really need is someone with authority to knock heads together regardless of form of organization. In this and other countries, military people are traditionally quarrelsome and jealous. We are paying billions annually for the support of our military machine. The least that we can ask of officials who are responsible for it is that they put the interest of their country before their own selfish interests.

If Congress goes along with President-elect Kennedy's suggested program, it should emphasize his recommendation that the secretary of defense be given "stronger power" to keep the unruly military heads in line. And upon becoming president, Kennedy, who will also be commander in chief, should see that the secretary of defense maintains order. —Dallas News

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Bradie

The spirit of Thanksgiving is manifested in the graces of the faiths: Protestant: "Bless, O Lord, this food to our use, and us to Thy service, and make us ever mindful of the needs of others, in Jesus' Name. Amen." Jewish: "Lift up your hands toward the sanctuary and bless the Lord. Blessed art Thou, O Lord our God, King of the universe, who bringest forth bread from the earth. Amen." Catholic: "Bless us, O Lord, and these Thy gifts, which we are about to receive from Thy bounty, through Christ our Lord. Amen."

Thanksgiving Day Filled With Family Traditions

BY MRS. R. L. CRISWELL "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord: and to sing praises unto thy name, O Most High."

"Make a joyful noise to the Lord, all ye lands. Serve the Lord with gladness; come before His presence with singing. "O give thanks unto the Lord for he is good; call upon his name; make known his deeds among the people."

First Thessalonians, Chapter 5 and Verse 18 tells us, "In everything give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you."

Mark 8, Verse 6, tells us to be thankful for our meals; John 6, Verse 11, to be thankful for our food; in Daniel 6 Verse 10, to be thankful for our private devotions and prayers; in Isaiah 12, Verses 1 through 6, to be thankful for the mercies of the Lord, and in Psalms 35, Verse 18, for public worship. "I will give thanks in the great congregation: I will praise thee among many people."

Several of the Psalms begin with "O give thanks," so it is no wonder that the people, the early settlers of our country planned a day of Thanksgiving. As they looked at the bountiful harvest of food and other things for their welfare, they saw enough and more to last out the long cold winters. When they thought of the hungry winter of the past year, they were truly thankful to God for his goodness.

They had come to this land for a new home, a place to worship God, a place to live in freedom of worship, thought and deed. They were thankful, indeed, and they set about building a nation in which their children could grow up and live and love and worship God.

God saw fit to bless our land and smile on our people in their everyday work and in the lives of our statesmen as they pointed the way in government. And now, our nation has almost lifted itself by its own bootstraps and we have a nation, a country so rich not only in material blessings but also in the freedom for each man to make or break himself—so great that people all over the world live in a dream of one day coming to America to live.

We have much, much to be thankful for, so much that it is almost overwhelming to think of it all. Let's do be thankful; thankful each day and send such a wave of thanks heavenward on Thanksgiving Day that the Lord will listen to our prayers that we may live in peace and help others.

And how, you say, may we help others? We do have traditions, and if you have none in your family, it is high time you started one. I know of one family that reads the 103 Psalm, then each one, beginning from the youngest to the oldest, tells of the thing he is most thankful for. After this is done, the father leads in a prayer of thanksgiving before they begin their Thanksgiving dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Plank have established a tradition and it has grown from home to home. She says she has no idea how many people have told her that they, too, had begun it in their homes and do it three times a day. Its beginning was during the time they kept four or five little children that were suddenly left homeless.

In an effort to get them all to the table at one time, each joined hands and waited for the others to join in, then they repeated in unison this blessing for food and loving kindness, and after all, Christianity is in (Continued on page 2)

HARVEST IS IN FINAL STAGE

With the weatherman cooperating most of the time, Moore County's important grain sorghum harvest rushed into its final stages locally this weekend with good yields reported from all corners. County Agricultural Agent Martin Gossett said this weekend that cutting operations were approximately two-thirds to three-fourths complete and elevator operators agreed with the estimate. Yield estimates on the irrigated acreages were ranging from 4,500 to 5,000 pounds per acre with very few dryland fields harvested yet. However, one report was that the average for acre would be about 2,500 to 3,000 pounds. Only dark spot in the picture was the moisture content of loads which was running about 13 to 15 per cent. One operator reported that most of the grain brought to his firm was too high in moisture content for government loan, running approximately 14.5 per cent. Cold, wet weather earlier last week delayed cutting operation some with farmers expected to try a fresh attack on the grain by the weekend. Reports of good fields were given on farms in the Sunray and Midlewell area. One of the best was reported by the Moore County Grain who said Hugh Gearhart had been averaging about 7,050 pounds to the acre at his farm 11 miles southwest of Dumas.

EXTENSION PROGRAM ADOPTED

A 1961 program for the Agricultural Extension Service in Castro County was adopted at the annual meeting of the County Program Building Committee recently. Committees on 4-H, foods and nutrition, clothing, house and furnishings, family life, education, farm and home management, crops, livestock and farm machinery, and safety presented long-range objectives and annual goals for next year's educational efforts towards the solution of problems listed. Committee reports designated demonstrations, activities and programs to be carried out in accomplishing the goals. Responsibilities for these educational efforts were delegated to the county extension agents, the planning committees, leaders in various phases of home making, agriculture, and 4-H, extension specialists, and local resource people. The 4-H program aims include a wide variety of activities for boys and girls and the organization of more community 4-H clubs in the county.

MERCHANTS TO GIVE AWAY BICYCLES

More than 40 Littlefield merchants will be giving away bicycles and gift certificates as the third annual Christmas Stockin' Festival begins in Littlefield on Nov. 25. At the meeting of the retail merchants council Thursday morning a total of 30 merchants were giving away a bicycle each, and approximately 10 were giving away $25 gift certificates, bringing the prizes to a grand total of $1,750. Head of the Stockin' committee Orval Murray urged all merchants to get their money into the Chamber office and also to call the office if they were interested in giving a bicycle or gift certificates. According to the plan set-up Thursday the gift certificates (each worth $25) would be given away on Friday, Nov. 25, opening day of the festival, and the bicycles would be given away at noon or shortly thereafter on Dec. 23. Plans for the big downtown parade were discussed again and the group has agreed to offer $175 in cash prizes for the three most beautiful floats.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm seems to be dragging his feet on a new idea his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: Here it is only a week after the country has elected a new President and some things have already moved forward.

For example, the mail service — not the mail service generally, it's about where it always was and I don't have any complaints about it, but a particular idea for the mail service.

As I understand it, the post office department in Washington is experimenting with a new type of mail delivery in which you write a letter on a special piece of paper, fold it into an envelope, drop it in a machine. The machine then opens it, looks at it, finds out where it's going, transmits it electronically to its destination, then tears up the original. On the receiving end, another machine reproduces it, seals it, and hands it over to the local post office for delivery.

I have been thinking about this system and I have my doubts. In the first place, if the machines can deliver a letter from New York to the Hereford post office, it won't be long before somebody wanting to move even further forward will figure out how to have it delivered electronically to my mail box, and I'm having trouble enough keeping my present mail box propped up without having to maintain an electronic brain machine alongside it.

In the second place, I don't ever remember having received a letter on any day that I'd have been any better off or more informed if it had gotten to me two days earlier. Very few people have any thoughts or messages to convey to me that are important. And I don't know of anybody, congressman, governor, sheriff, newspaper editor, who would be any better off or any more informed finding out what I think two days earlier than he can find out now. I take the position that if it takes me a week to think up an idea, anybody waiting on it, can wait an extra day and not be hurt. In some cases he could never hear and be just as well off. And this thing works vice versa.

It may be important to get a guided missile to its destination in thirty minutes, but very few thoughts are that devastating.

I think this country ought to move forward, even if it has to go around me to do it, but electronic mail service may not be in that category. I'm not interested in this country's spending money to get my monthly bills to me two days earlier than I'm getting them now.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Louis Smiths Attend Funeral For Uncle

BY MRS. S. N. THWEATT
Mr. and Mrs. Louis Smith and sons, David and Dale, attended the funeral of an uncle, T. W. Montgomery, at Olton Saturday. Mr. Montgomery had been ill for quite some time in an Amberst hospital. Mrs. Montgomery plans to continue her teaching in Littlefield.

James T. Guinn Jr. and family of White Deer, and Mr. and Mrs. Bena Shidmore of Shamrock visited in the J. T. Guinn home Sunday.

Cultural HD Club Meets

The Cultural Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Ira Scott Friday, Nov. 11, for a demonstration by Mrs. M. W. Sumner on gifts from the kitchen.

Mrs. Sumner demonstrated applesauce cake, peanut brittle, and unbaked cookies. Mrs. Earl DeHart gave a demonstration on gifts of crafts.

Mrs. DeHart said in part, "A hobby has been defined as a creative effort designed to relax people from tensions and strains from every day work and worry."

Roll Call was answered with "A handmade gift I treasure." A Thanksgiving supper is slated for Nov. 22 at 7 p.m. for the members and their families.

Those present were Mesdames M. W. Sumners, George Parker, Earl DeHart, J. T. Richardson, P. M. Houser, Ralph Packard, Grady Parsons, C. E. Johnson, Ira Scott, J. G. Gandy, R. W. Hill, a visitor from Morton, and Mrs. Kenneth DeHart, also a visitor.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 18 in the home of Mrs. M. W. Sumners. The meeting is scheduled to start at 9:30 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Crow, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Mann, all of Friona, visited Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. E. Rouse.

Mr. N. A. Brown and Mrs. and Mrs. Floyd Brown made a business trip to Amarillo Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Buse and two sons Ronnie and David visited Sunday in Portales, N. M., with Mrs. Buse's brother, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jones.

Mrs. M. C. Kelly of Bovina visited her sister, Mrs. G. E. Pinkerton on Thursday. Mrs. Kelly plans a trip to Elk City, Okla., in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Roberts spent Sunday with their son Douglas in the Virgil Watson home.

Mrs. Elton Sorrells and daughter visited Mrs. S. N. Thweatt Monday morning.

Mrs. Floyd Brown, Mrs. Eldre Brown and Mrs. Joe Merrill were guests of Mrs. B. E. White Friday noon.

S. N. Thweatt made a business trip to Amarillo early Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Bruce Coleman and Cinda, Mrs. Floyd Brown, Mrs. Bertam Jack and Mrs. Ernest Brown and son Dinnie were guests in Miss Green's classroom at Walcott School Friday afternoon. Mrs. Elton Sorrells and daughter were also guests.

Gary Coleman celebrated his seventh birthday Friday. His mother and sister, Mrs. Bruce Coleman and Cinda, made a birthday cake for him.

Dwight Rouse, son of Mrs. J. E. Rouse, of Farmington, N. M., visited her last week.

Frank Ford and his son Frank Ford Jr. made a trip to Lubbock over the weekend, where they saw Mrs. Frank Ford and Johnnie.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt made a business trip to Lubbock Monday. The maize was mostly cut, and cotton gathering was just starting. Mrs. Thweatt conversed over the phone with a brother in Lubbock.

being kind. "Our Father as we bow our heads, we pray thee bless our daily bread. Help us to try our best to be, kind and loving God, like thee."

Being reminded three times a day to be "kind and loving, Lord like thee," must be a help in remembering that we should be kind and loving toward one another.

Erik Okseter, the exchange student from Norway, is making his home with the Planks and he was so impressed with the family circle of prayer that he quickly learned to say it in English so he could join in with the family.

This is a tradition that your children will remember as long as they live and will keep it in their own families when they grow up and establish homes of their own. Let us hope there will be many, many others that will teach it to their youngsters and start a tradition of thankfulness on Thursday, Nov. 24, 1960.

Beckie Bell, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell, 1101 Union, told me that her grandmother saved every printed prayer from news papers and magazines and placed them in a lovely blue bowl. At each meal some one of the family was chosen to select one of the prayers and read it as a blessing or grace.

Now, she said, "My father is saving them too. I love them all and sometimes I just sit down by the blue bowl and read them all, one by one." Did you know that Sarah Josepha Hale, editor of "Godey's Lady Book," is the mother of Thanksgiving Day as we know it today. She, no doubt, felt in her heart that we should thank God for our material blessings as a nation and in some way induce the President to make the first proclamation since the day of President Washington, and thus began a precedent which has been followed by each succeeding President.

This proclamation was made in 1863, almost 100 years ago. Who was that President? It was none other than President Abraham Lincoln.

Each year since that time the President of our United States of America has proclaimed our Thanksgiving Day to be on the fourth Thursday in November. President Franklin D. Roosevelt tried to change the date to the third Thursday in order that the two holidays, Thanksgiving and Christmas, would not be so near; but it caused a great confusion as the people were not too happy with the change and in some years both dates were celebrated in different states.

But the old tradition time of the fourth Thursday sort of slipped back into place, even though the proclamation was given for the third Thursday. And now it is proclaimed on that day, the traditional fourth Thursday in November. May we always keep it and give thanks for our blessings, both spiritual and material.

That You May Hear and Understand The Truth Matt. 13:23

If we can fix the time of the establishment of the Church, the place and its giver, it will be the one spoken of in the Bible.

- IT'S ORIGIN
1. Time—Pentecost—A. D. 33 — Acts 2:46, 47.
 2. Place—Jerusalem—Luke 24:46 - 47; Acts 2:1-5.
 3. Founder—Christ—Matt. 16:18.
 4. Foundation—1 Cor. 3:11; Eph. 2:20; 1 Peter 2:4-6.

This gives the Time—Place—Founder—and not once does it imply that it is an organization of man or of men.

- THE ORGANIZATION OF THE CHURCH
1. Head—Jesus Christ, Eph. 1:22, 23; Matt. 28:18; Matt. 17:5; Col. 1:18.
 2. Members—Immersed penitent believers. Act 2:38-41; Rom. 12:4, 5.
 3. Evangelist, Pastors and Teachers. Eph. 4:11; 2 Tim. 4:5.
 4. Elders or Bishops. Acts 20:28; 1 Tim. 5:17.
 5. Deacons—Acts 6:1-6; 1 Tim. 3:8-13.
 6. Congregational in Gov't. Acts 6:3-5. Under supervision of elders. Acts 20:28.
- No other organization given in the Bible for man today or any other day since the day of Pentecost.

THE NAME IT WEARS

1. Name of the Church.
 1. Church of God—God planned it — 1 Cor. 1:2.
 2. Body of Christ—In activity— Eph. 1:22, 23; 1 Cor. 12:27.
 3. Church of Christ—Ownership—Pom. 16:16; Matt. 16:18.
 4. The Church—One in Unity— Acts 8:1; 9:31.
 5. Flock of God—To be Fed—1. Pet. 5:2.
2. Name of Individuals.
 1. Disciples, Learners, —Acts 6:1; John 15:8.
 2. Saints—Holy in Character — Rom. 1:17; Acts 9:13.

 4. Children—Relation to God — Gal. 3:26; Rom. 8:16.
 5. Heirs—with Christ in reward — Rom. 8:17.
 6. Christians—Followers of Christ—Acts 11:26; 26:28, 29; 1 Pet. 4:16.

No man made names for the church or His followers.

THE CREED

1. Faith in Jesus Christ. Matt. 16:16; Acts 8:37.
2. Made with the mouth—Matt. 10:32.
3. It is abiding and never changes. Heb. 13:8.

THE DISCIPLINE

1. The Word of God alone. 2 Tim. 3:16, 17.
 2. Speak as Oracles of God. 1 Pet. 4:11.
 3. Not beyond the written Word. 1 Cor. 4:6; Rev. 22:18, 19.
 4. It is sufficient. 2 Tim. 3:16, 17.
- SIN OF DIVISION IN THE LORD'S BODY
1. Christ prayed for Unity. Jno. 17:20, 21.
 2. Paul pleaded for Unity. 1 Cor. 1:10-13; Rom. 16:17, 18.
 3. The Bible Condemns Division. Gal. 5:19-21; Rom. 16:17; 2 Jno. 9-11.
 4. Division is carnal and not of God. 1 Cor. 3:1-3.
 5. The Divine Basis for Unity. Eph. 4:1-6; Heb. 8:5; Rev. 22:18, 19.

ORDINANCE OF THE CHURCH

1. Lord's Supper.
 1. When Kept. Acts 20:7. (Every first day of the week).

Two of these specifically tell when to do them and to change it is to change God's plan of doing his work and worship. Namely, Lord's Supper and Giving must be done on the first day of the week to be done according to God's plan as revealed in the Bible.

Requirements To Make One A Christian

1. Hearing the Word is essential. Rom. 10:14.
2. Belief, the foundation principle. Acts 16:31; Mark 16:16; Jno. 20:30, 31; Heb. 11:1, 6.
3. Repentance of sins. Acts 17:30; 3:19; 2:38; Lk. 13:3.
4. Confession of Christ. Matt. 10:32; 16:16; Acts 8:37; Rom. 10:9, 10.
5. Baptism into Christ. Acts 2:38; Matt. 28:19; Mark 16:15, 16; Rom. 6:4; Col. 2:12; Heb. 10:22; Acts 22:16; Tit. 3:5.

What I Must Do To Be Saved Makes Me A Member of the Church of the New Testament or Church of Christ.

The universal need of mankind is salvation from sins and as it is given in the Bible and tells us what to do and how, there is no excuse for anyone being lost today who is willing to accept the Word of God and abide in its teachings. But the Bible and the Bible alone is able to tell man what to do to be saved.

Since the religious world does not have much difference over the teachings of the Bible on Faith, Repentance, and Confession there is no need for great discussion being given them; but much can be said about the teaching of the religious world upon the subject of baptism and its reaction upon man, as to the necessity of baptism and to how it may be administered.

SCRIPTURAL BAPTISM AND WHY

Christ was baptized but ONCE, hence ONE WAY and PURPOSE. "For there is no other way but his way," "ONE Lord, one Faith, one BAPTISM." Eph. 4:5.

1. Is Baptism a Command? If so, where?
 1. Positive Command by Christ, Matt. 28:18-20. Christ not with one not Baptized. Mk. 16:15, 16. Christ spoke these words.
 2. Positive command of Apostles: Acts 2:38. Peter on Pentecost.
 3. Positive Command here also. Acts 22:16. Paul had to be baptized. Had a vision, yet baptism required.
2. Purpose of Baptism.
 1. Entering into Kingdom. John 3:3-5.
 2. Washing away sins. Acts 22:16.
 3. Remission of sins. Acts 2:38 (Saved or salvation). Mark 16:15, 16.

4. Putting on the Christ. Gal. 3:27.
5. Obedience to Christ. John 15:10-14, 14:15, also 14:1.
6. Saved by baptism. 1 Pet. 3:21.

The one who wants to obey Christ will do these things and will keep his word.

What Does Baptism Symbolize?

1. Christ's Death. 1 Cor. 15:1-5.
2. Christ's Burial. Rom. 6:1-5.
3. Christ's Resurrection. Rom. 6:5.
4. Who were Baptized, Who May be Baptized?
 1. Those who are taught, make disciples, Matt. 28:18-20.
 2. Those who believed. Acts 5:14; Mk. 16:15, 16; Acts 16:31-33.
 3. Those whose hearts were opened to Lord. Acts 16:13-15.
 4. Believers, both men and women. Acts 8:12.
 5. Those who hear and believe. Acts 18:8.
 6. Those who repent of sins. Acts 2:38. (Repent and be baptized both). No order to baptize anyone who does not believe and repent.

What Scriptural Baptism Requires.

1. Water. Acts 10:47; Acts 8:36, 38.
2. Going to the water. Acts 8:36, 38.
3. Much water. John 3:23.
4. Going down into the water. Acts 8:38.
5. Coming up out of the water. Mark 1:10; Matt. 3:16; Acts 8:39.
6. Born of water. John 3:5.
7. Form of burial. Col. 2:12.
8. Form of resurrection. Rom. 6:4, 5.
9. Obedience to Christ. Luke 6:46 and John 14:15.

Immersion meets all requirements of Scriptural baptism while sprinkling and pouring meet only one—that is WATER.

6. Sprinkling and Pouring are Found in the Following Passages in the N. T.

1. Heb. 9:13; 19:21; 10:21; 12:24; 1 Pet. 1:2 and are all for the sprinkling of blood.
2. Matt. 26:7-12. an ointment. Luke 10:34, oil and wine; John 2:15, money.
3. John 13:5. Water for foot washing. Acts 10:45. Pouring for Holy Spirit. Rev. 14:10 and 16:17 concerning the wrath.

Sprinkling requires water, little water, water may be brought, stay out of water, no burial, no resurrection, no form of birth can be had in few drops. Heads alone wet.

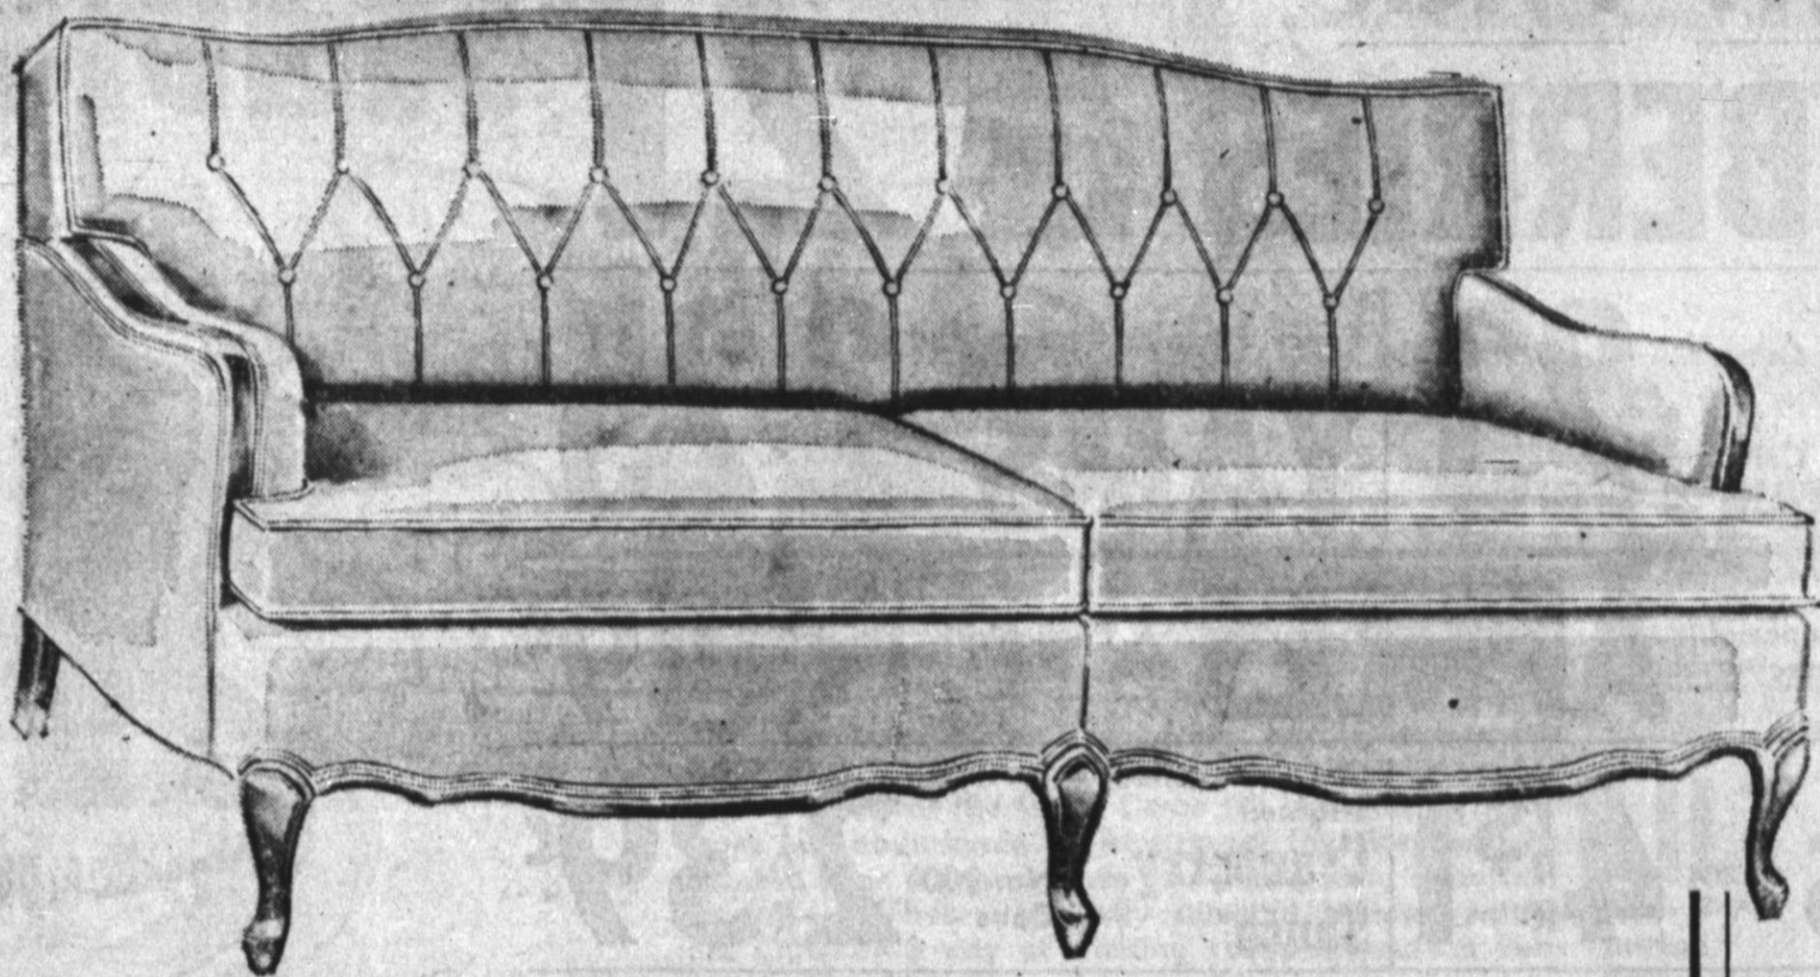

WHO WILL WE OBEY TODAY, CHRIST AND HIS WORD, OR MAN AND HIS ADDITIONS? 1 COR. 4:6 AND REV. 22: 18, 19.

Win One Class Members Meet

The Win One Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church met in Fellowship Hall Tuesday, Nov. 15. Theme of the program was "Thanksgiving Blessings." Mrs. C. M. Hicks, president, presided over the session. Mr. William McGehee gave the secretary's report and Mrs. Hicks gave the financial report in absence of Mrs. Clyde Cavanaugh, treasurer. Roll Call was given by each member expressing thanks for the blessings of life. The devotional by Mrs. D. H. Bryant carried out the Thanksgiving Theme. Members present were Mesdames Clemmie Randall, Andy Thomas, Laura Thomas, A. C. Pierce, C. E. Boone, D. H. Bryant, C. B. Williams, E. W. Harrison, J. E. Byer, Dorothy Ross, A. M. Benefield, A. C. Thompson, I. H. Spratt, William McGehee, C. M. Hicks, W. A. ... Miss Lula Botsford and Miss Nettie Green. Refreshments were in keeping with the season. Hostesses were Mrs. McGehee, Mrs. Hicks and Dorothy Ross.

Walcott Girls' 4-H Club Meets

The Walcott Girls' 4-H Club met recently with Dianne Jack, president, presiding over the meeting. Roll call was answered with "My Bedroom Storage Problems." Nancy Minks, drill leader, led the 4-H Ritual, after which Miss Loreta Fowler gave a demonstration on how to have enough closet space. Elizabeth Burrus made a motion that the girls have a Christmas party and invite the Walcott 4-H Boys' club. The motion carried, and the group drew names for Christmas gifts. Eighteen attended the meeting. McGehee, Tom DeShazo, T. J. Parsons, E. C. Hammett, Alvis Jolly, Taft McGehee, Leon Coffin, P. L. Carmichael, H. L. Hershey, and C. V. Burges. The next meeting is scheduled for Jan. 3 with Mrs. T. J. Parsons.

REMEMBER WHEN?

BY CHARLIE SEEDS
He was a boyish looking young man with an Irish name and a friendly, freckled face. He was unknown... but an "accident" brought him world-wide fame. His was the big news stories of the year, and it brought a new phrase to the language, incorporating the nickname his exploit won him... "Wrong Way" Corrigan. What had he done? In a light, frail, single-engine plane Corrigan had set out on a routine flight, heading for Los Angeles. He became lost, he said later, and didn't realize that he was flying over the Atlantic Ocean. When this famous "wrong way" flight ended, Corrigan had set his little plane down in Dublin, completing one of the most incredible trans-ocean flights in the history of aviation! There were some who couldn't believe that Corrigan had become "lost." But accidentally or on purpose, "Wrong Way" Corrigan became the man of the hour. Remember the year? America was pulling out of the depression then, and there were more new cars on the road. But, remembering recent years, buyers looked for real savings... and a dealer they could rely on. The year was 1938. When we say we'll give you real savings on a new 61 Ford, we mean savings you can count! We mean a higher trade-in and the most convenient monthly payments available. And our reputation for reliability makes it possible for you to buy with confidence at CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO., INC. W. Hwy 60 and Phone EM4-2727

KENILWORTH, N. J. (AP)—Jack Birgel runs a pet shop but says he has two personal pets that are not for sale. One of his prize possessions is an albino lung fish, native of Africa. The other is a giant fruit-eating Indian bat. The fish, about 28 inches long, is said to be one of only six ever found and one of the two live ones known to be in existence. Birgel values it at about $1,000. The bat, which has 30-inch wingspread, consumes its weight in food daily. Birgel says he has given it the freedom of the house.

Heart Association Group Holds Meet Here Tuesday

"The first positive means of preventing or alleviating coronary heart disease and hardening of the arteries in the brain and other parts of the body should become available within the next few years," according to a representative of the Texas Heart Association who spoke during a meeting Tuesday evening of the Deaf Smith County Committee of the Heart Association.

"The great momentum acquired by research during the past ten years will inevitably lead to important breakthroughs within the next ten years," stated Miss Harriet De Lapp of Amarillo, area consultant from Texas Heart Association, as she described a few of the discoveries that can be expected from an accelerated program of research in diseases of the heart and circulation.

Two films "Congenital Heart Defects" and "Coronary Disease" were introduced by Bruce L. Miller of Hereford, who had been appointed acting chairman of the group by Francis Hardwick, who previously spearheaded local activities.

4-H Club Leader Council Meets

Plans to sell light bulbs as a money-making project were discussed at a meeting of the 4-H Club Council Monday evening, Nov. 14. Those present decided that there would be a one-day drive in the city Feb. 4.

Tentative plans for the Christmas party were also discussed but no date was set. A motion was made to change the meeting place from the Bull Barn kitchen to the community Center for the winter.

There has been a Unit Study added to the 4-H club work this year. The achievement banquet held recently was termed as a huge success.

The next meeting of the council is set for Jan. 9.

Abilene Minister In Meeting Here

Ernest R. Harper, guest speaker in a gospel meeting beginning Sunday, Nov. 20, at the Central Church of Christ here, has gained national recognition as speaker on Herald of Truth program sponsored by the Highland Church of Christ, Abilene, of which he is a minister. Congregations throughout the nation support the Herald of Truth, which is heard weekly over ABC and NBC from New York City each Sunday. He has been one of the regular speakers on the program since 1957.

All meetings are open to the public and visitors from throughout the High Plains area are expected, especially for the Sunday afternoon program, which is an area-wide meeting. The visiting evangelist has been with the Highland congregation since 1945, serving as local minister until 1956; since then he has devoted most of his time to the national radio and television programs and to evangelistic work. He has engaged in several widely-publicized debates which have been published in book form and is the author of several other books, including Standing in the Old Paths, Living Issues, Misapplied Patterns, and Haper's Debate Charts.

A native of Arkansas, Harper attended Freed-Hardeman College; Henderson, Tenn., and Union University, Jackson, Tenn., in 1925 and has done local work there and at Highland, Allen, and Jackson, Tenn., and in Little Rock, Ark., before coming to Abilene.

Misunderstanding Is Curtain Of Isolation

By REINHOLD ENSZ
BERLIN (AP) — A curtain of misunderstanding and indifference is separating American and German teen-agers in Allied-occupied West Berlin.

More than 100 American teen-agers — the sons and daughters of American military men and diplomats — live in a tightly-knit community here, but only a few of them have German friends.

"Dating Germans is frowned on by the kids at school," says pretty Carol Willoughby of Muskogee, Okla., a 17-year-old cheer leader at the U. S. Army's high school. "The American teen-agers here tend to stick together and have very little to do with German kids. I think it is mostly a matter of ignorance."

Miss Willoughby, whose father is a major, says some Americans arrive with a hostile attitude throughout the week. He may also be heard in a daily radio program from Radio Station KPAN here at 8:45 a. m. this week. A special feature of his work here will be the showing of the pilot film of the Herald of Truth television program at the Central Church of Christ building, Plains at Sunset Drive, next Sunday at 3 p. m.

All meetings are open to the public and visitors from throughout the High Plains area are expected, especially for the Sunday afternoon program, which is an area-wide meeting. The visiting evangelist has been with the Highland congregation since 1945, serving as local minister until 1956; since then he has devoted most of his time to the national radio and television programs and to evangelistic work.

"They come over here," she says, "with the idea that a war is still going on. I have two younger brothers and I know they were expecting the continuance of a war movie when they came."

Other students confirmed her impressions. Says Carolyn Weyand, 17, of Berkeley, Calif., president of the high school's student council:

"Our kids are isolated. Life seems to revolve around the Army movie theater, the PX and the youth club. Prejudice against Germans develops as a result of this isolation."

"The kids think the Germans are different types and they tend to criticize them for it," Miss Weyand points out that foreign students are star attractions at schools in the United States. But here, where there could be daily contacts, there are almost none.

"It's a shame our kids don't get out," she says. "As a result, Germans think Americans are snobbish. The Germans are very surprised when they find out that we are ordinary people."

Gordon Rankin, 17, of Timonium, Md., another senior at the Army high school, says, "I go out of (the community) very seldom, but I go out more than the others."

"There are more girls than boys at the school here and they get awfully mad if you date a German girl. The American girls pounce on you if you even dance with a German girl. He's not exactly looked down upon, but he is kidded about it."

Rankin, whose father is an intelligence officer, says one reason he hesitates to get out of the community is the fact that Germans stare at Americans, especially at the light-colored, flashy clothing the Americans frequently wear.

"It's really embarrassing when you ride on the U-bahn (subway) the way the Germans stare at you," Rankin says. "I know a couple of Germans and I like them. The ones who seek you out are nice, but some of the delinquent types you see on the streets look at you as they want to stomp you right into the ground."

Howard Salisbury, 16, of Pasadena, Calif., son of the U. S.

Army's Berlin command post marshals comments. "Some of the American kids tend to think the Germans are beneath them because we are here as occupiers. But when they get to know some Germans they find out that they are just like anybody else."

All agreed that a big factor in keeping German and American teen-agers apart is the different dating customs.

"The German boys," says Miss Weyand, "sometimes get fresh."

American girls prefer to keep things on a friendly basis." Miss Willoughby comments: "German boys have asked me for dates. I turned them down because I don't know what to expect and I would be completely ill at ease. And I think they would be too."

The lack of contact isn't the fault of the U. S. Army. It has tried in various ways to get the American and German teen-agers together, but met with little response from the Americans.

The principal of the high school, David Cook, of Concord, N. C., says, "I suspect that parents have something to do with this isolation. But the Americans sometimes do have a tendency to be rude."

Sands Claim Babylon

By WILTON WYNN

BABYLON, Iraq — A sullen stork stood on his sun-baked nest of twigs and sticks on top of a crumbling column. A lizard scampered across the sand to the shade of the solitary statue of a lion.

The stork and the lizard are about the only inhabitants left in fabled Babylon where King Nebuchadnezzar once lived in unparalleled splendor.

When driving south from Baghdad, you have to watch closely for the road sign "Babylon" or you would miss the great city altogether.

Babylon lies in the desolate plain between the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers, far from the nearest town. To reach it, you drive 70 miles south of Baghdad and turn to the right off the main highway.

Ahead you see a dusty mound, now partly destroyed. Crumbling fragments of walls, streets and towers cleared out of this mound are the remains of Babylon.

When you stand on this dusty pile of rubble in 120-degree heat, with almost no shade as far as the eye can see, you wonder how this ever could have been a place of beauty and freshness.

What happened to Babylon? Politically, Babylon reached end when conquered by the Medes and the Persians in the time of the Prophet Daniel. But nature was even crueler than the Persians. The treacherous Euphrates River changed its course sharply westward, leaving Babylon to dry up in a waterless desert.

And, like the Euphrates, history has bypassed Babylon ever since.

Enough excavations have been done in Babylon to give a fair idea of how the place was laid out. Still standing is the famous Ishtar Gate through which passed religious procession dedicated to the ancient goddess of fertility.

The Ishtar Gate is made up of two massive baked-brick pillars between which runs the asphalt-paved "Street of Processions." In low relief on the walls of the gate are beautiful carvings of mythical animals, unicorns and griffons, gracefully executed and well preserved.

In the time of Nebuchadnezzar, those walls and their animals were glazed and richly colored. Today, only the brick remains, but the animals still are beautiful.

The best-preserved object in the area is the statue of the Great Lion of Babylon, standing solitary guard in what was once the courtyard of the Palace of Nebuchadnezzar. The massive granite lion is crushing a man beneath him, symbolizing the power of the Babylonian kings.

The saddest spectacle here is the ruins of the Hanging Gardens, one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World. King Nebuchadnezzar married a woman from the mountainous northern region, and she sadly missed her cool mountain home. To please her, the king constructed a vast garden of artificial terraces, vineyards, and groves. Water from the river was pumped through the terraces to simulate cascades.

The Hanging Gardens today look like a pile of rubble. The brick piles which supported the terraces still are there, but not a blade of grass or shrub of any kind grows there.

This desert scene is a far cry from the great city of artists and scientists, poets and engi-

ELECTRIC BASEBOARD HEATING—nearest thing to the sun's natural warmth!

Gentle, constant warmth—like the warming rays of the sun—but never sudden gushes of hot air followed by cold blasts. You'd like electric baseboard heating for that kind of comfort alone.

But there are still more advantages: warm floors without drafts—separate temperature control for each room—no loss of floor or wall space.

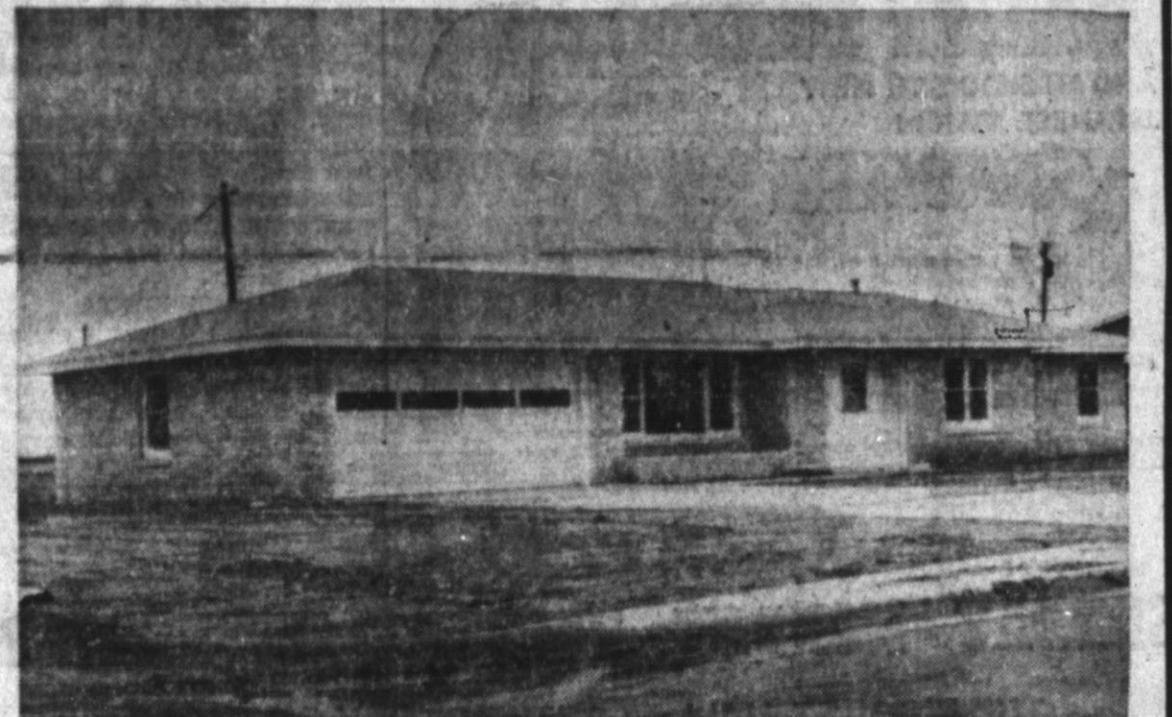

Your Public Service manager enjoys talking—about electric heating. Ask him how you can put baseboard heating in add-on rooms as well as new or older homes.

She Traveled The World For Recipes

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
ARE YOU bound for travel or kitchen-bound? Either way you can have a fine time with Charlotte Adams as your guide.

Mrs. Adams spent "a wonderful, hectic, unforgettable year" visiting restaurants in 36 countries outside the U. S. A., tasting their best dishes and collecting directions for making them. Her down-to-earth descriptions of the restaurants plus recipes are in her latest book, "The SAS World - Wide Restaurant Cookbook" (Random House).

So many delicious ideas for stay-at-home cooks in this offering! Here is a slight sampling.

In Burma rice is cooked in fresh coconut milk along with bay leaves and onion. "Try it with curry," Mrs. Adams urges.

For a superlative Viennese ending to a meal sprinkle dessert pancakes with chopped almonds and top with rich chocolate sauce.

Interested in a flavorsome first course? Ratatouille from France is the answer, served hot or cold. "Actually it is just a vegetable stew," Mrs. Adams says, "but what a marvelous blend of flavors!" To make it

Method: Cut the hard-cooked eggs in half. Mix the meat with cardamom, mint, salt, pepper and coriander. Cover each egg half fairly thickly with the mixture. Fry in the first 2 tablespoons butter to brown on all sides, adding more butter if necessary. Melt the second 2 tablespoons butter in it fry the onion, chilis, turmeric, garlic and ginger until the raw smell disappears (about 5 minutes). Add yogurt and chicken stock and heat through. Serve the Kofta (croquettes) in the sauce. Serves 4.

CHARLOTTE ADAMS, author of a new cookbook on worldwide restaurants, prepares an exotic dish from India.

eggplant, tomatoes, zucchini squash, onions and green pepper are fried separately in olive oil until soft but not brown, then they are put together and mixed lightly with crushed garlic and parsley.

Describing a modern restaurant in Calcutta, Mrs. Adams explains: "No liquor is served here, as is true in all Indian restaurants, but fresh lime and soda make a delightful pre-meal drink."

From this restaurant comes the recipe for exotic Nargis Kofta which Mrs. Adams likes to serve at buffet suppers because she can prepare part of it ahead. The Kofta (croquettes) are cooked, wrapped in transparent plastic wrapping and chilled; at serving time the sauce is quickly made in a chafing dish (or skillet) and the Kofta reheated in it.

NARGIS KOFTA
Ingredients: 4 hard-cooked eggs, 1 pound ground chuck, 1 cardamom seed (ground), 1 teaspoon minced mint, 1 teaspoon salt, freshly ground pepper, 6 coriander seeds (ground), 2 tablespoons butter (about), 1 medium onion (sliced thin), 4 to 6 red chilis (ground), 1 teaspoon turmeric, 1 clove garlic (mashed), 1 cup yogurt, 1/2 cup chicken stock, 2 tablespoons butter.

Method: Cut the hard-cooked eggs in half. Mix the meat with cardamom, mint, salt, pepper and coriander. Cover each egg half fairly thickly with the mixture. Fry in the first 2 tablespoons butter to brown on all sides, adding more butter if necessary. Melt the second 2 tablespoons butter in it fry the onion, chilis, turmeric, garlic and ginger until the raw smell disappears (about 5 minutes). Add yogurt and chicken stock and heat through. Soviets Building Largest City Above Arctic Circle

MURMANSK, U. S. S. R. (AP)
— The scrawny tree's trunk is only four inches in diameter — yet it was planted more than a century ago.

There is no grass, and only two months of the year will flowers and shrubs grow.

I saw no pets — cats, dogs or birds — during my brief visit here. Living is difficult enough for humans.

Three months of the year there is total darkness; another three months have 24 hours of daylight.

Under these conditions the Soviet Union is building here the biggest city in the Arctic; the country's only ice-free port with unhampered access to open sea the year round.

Since 1945, the dreary city's population has grown from about 100,000 to 226,000. While it processes 400,000 tons of fish and handles four million tons of freight a year, its importance is perhaps only beginning.

Discoveries of aluminum, phosphate fertilizer, nickel, cobalt and other ores have added new industries. And the port is becoming more strategic as a naval repair yard.

A place of exile during the czars, the city lies 900 miles north of Moscow on the extreme northwest corner of Russia where Norway, Finland and the Soviet Union are separated only by snowy waste. Remnants of the city go back 500 years or more.

Today it stretches 16 miles along the shore and in some places goes four miles inland. It is built in four units, each with schools, movie houses and shopping district so people do not have to travel far during the long, cruel winter. There are few private automobiles.

Despite the Gulf Stream, whose warm water keeps the port open, this is polar ice country. Just a few miles east is land that never thaws.

A warm wind blows from — of all places — the north to bring a January thaw. Cold winds blow from the south from icy Russian steppes. Birds migrate south to north instead of north to south for the winter.

The shores are still dotted with hulks of ships sunk by the Germans during World War II when the port was bombed more than 1900 days.

The Soviets have tried to imbue people here with a pioneer spirit, and have succeeded to a degree. But there's little doubt that many of them are here for the premium pay — 40 per cent above Moscow standards, plus the Soviet form of fringe benefits which includes six weeks summer vacation in South Russia.

Apartment houses, public buildings and schools are going up at a fast rate, and, while drab, provide thick-walled shelter for a climate disagreeable in summer and winter.

The city and port are dotted with Communist Party slogans and the influence of the Soviet regime is felt everywhere. Even the reindeer herders who used to follow their flocks around the frozen tundras, sometimes in Russia, sometimes in Finland, now are going together on a collective reindeer farm, their roving days ended.
