Canadian Water Cost Is High, Affords Too Little

The proposed rate of 28.35 cents per 1000 gallons of water, offered to Hereford under the Canadian River dam organization, seems to have pretty well stopped negotiations along any line of probable participation on part of this community.

Hereford, in the first place, now sells and delivers water as low as 13 cents-per-1000 gallons for treated water, and participation in the Canadian River movement would skyrocket present city water prices around 40 per cent.

Because Hereford has no immediate water problem, our participation in the program would necessarily be one of general cooperation, and long range in nature. It would mean that our three city wells might leave additional water underground for irrigation use in years to come; also that the present supply would be supplemented by a dependable source. The water now used in the city would, of course, count up during the next 20 or 25 years.

On the other hand, when and if the irrigation levels drop so low that three or four city wells will make any tremendous difference, it is safe to say that the population of the town will thin down to the point where a water supply is no longer the problem we face even today.

Frankly, it seems to us that the river authority has priced Hereford out of the program. Whether by good reason, or otherwise, there appears little excuse for Hereford water costs to outdistance other proposed communities by such a large margin.

Nor is it likely that consumption of local water reserves would be extensively averted in case Hereford did pay the 28.35 cents and go into the program. Faced with such a water rate, present and future industries would, no doubt, sink their own wells and produce their own water at a much lower figure. At the 28.35 cent rate, the City of Hereford would no doubt, consume the minimum amounts contracted, then switch back to present city wells for most of the supply. These factors, needless to say, would eliminate water conservation even before it started.

In fact, the way we see it, the only possible result from Hereford's joining the river distribution system would be that of increasing our present water rates from 3 to 5 cents per 1,000 gallons — and this is a fairly expensive way to help ones neighbors. Had the cost been lower, or even in line with our present rates, the story would naturally be different.

Hereford is in a peculiar position on this particular question. We can always use more water, but we are not particularly "hurting" on the present supply. Our position is rather like a man with $100,000 in the bank who, when he needs $5,000, goes to the bank and makes a $5,000 loan at a stiff interest rate, rather than draw from his checking account.

The day could come when we would be sorry, but it seems to us, that entrance into the Canadian River water group would be a mistake. The reason: Too little to gain at too great a cost.

ARCHIE AND TEX ARE AT IT AGAIN . . .

Our Boys Talk Of Many Things, But Moreman Street Still Goes Unpaved

"Tell me," said Archie — even before he and Tex had time to sit down at their Thursday morning coffee break — "what's the low down on this Moreman Street paving?"

Those 'Skeeters' Are On The Move

Lawns, shrubbery and foliage go a long way toward making Hereford a better place to live. Unfortunately, the situation is true concerning mosquitoes as well as people. Following heavy rain in June, the City of Hereford has issued a blanket spraying order, and the machines have been moving each evening when the wind is not so strong as to make the results ineffective. No cases of encephalitis have been reported, to our knowledge, but these cases usually develop later in the season, after mid-July or in August.

In addition to the city alertness, which everyone appreciates, it is further pointed out that individual citizens can help the situation by securing "BHC Dust, 3%," and individually spraying the powder on dense foliage, heavy lawn grass and other plants subject to mosquito infestation. Ordinary drainage procedures will, of course, help in cases when stagnant pools might exist.

A little help along this line will go a long way, according to City Manager Dudley Bayne, who says that city spraying will continue every practical hour, so long as the condition merits. He also points out that home spraying, like city spraying, will probably be more effective late evenings, especially after the wind dies down.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Bradie

Strengthened by faith a retired businessman accomplished his greatest work and benefited mankind. After making a fortune early, Cyrus West Field lived a life of leisure, until the idea of a trans-ocean telegraph crossed his mind. Though he knew nothing of electricity and had never seen a cable, he set out to promote the enterprise, crossing the Atlantic 40 times in 13 years to realize his dream. The cable parted on the first cable-laying trip, destroying the work of years. It parted again on the second. The third try was successful; Field became a national hero. Four weeks later the cable failed and he was regarded with contempt. Six years later he tried again, only to have it part once more. Then another trip and complete success! "What hath God wrought," was his first message. "Often my heart has been ready to sink," he said, "on the decks of ships on dark stormy nights, I have almost accused myself of madness . . . one hope led me on, and I have prayed that I might not taste of death till this work was accomplished. That prayer is answered; and now beyond all acknowledgments to men is the feeling of gratitude to Almighty God."

WHEAT YIELD DOUBLES

Wheat harvesting in Randall County is approximately 60 to 65 per cent completed, according to John Brazzil, county agriculture agent. Since yields are averaging very high, Brazzil estimates that over one-fourth million bushels have been harvested so far. Most of the dryland wheat will be harvested by Saturday night, Brazzil said Tuesday, but some irrigated wheat is not quite mature. Harvesting will continue on into next week. Farmers have been "pleasantly surprised" by the yield of their wheat crops. Dryland wheat has been averaging from 20 to 25 bushels per acre, which is more than twice the county average. Although much of the irrigated wheat has not yet been cut, it is averaging from 35 to 50 bushels per acre.

DRYS LOSE SECOND ROUND

The case of whether or not Castro County is legally wet continued on the next step of winding its way through the Texas courts system Monday when the dry forces began preparing an appeal following the decision against them by the 7th Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo. Two judges of the three-man tribunal heard the case. In a decision reversing the finding of the District Court here, the appellate court in effect kept open the door for any political subdivision within a county in Texas to conduct local option elections and vote either wet or dry, regardless of the status of beer or liquor sales at the county level. An appeal will, in all probability, be made to the Texas Supreme Court by dry forces who have been battling results of an election called by Castro County Commissioners last year. The election, held on October 10, resulted in the precinct turning wet by a vote of 160 to 92.

HPRF RESEARCHING COTTON IRRIGATION

Research in cotton irrigation and fertilizer levels in underway for the third year at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway. The number of irrigation methods under study have been increased from six to nine for 1960. These methods include application of water compared to dryland cottons with water applied by nine various methods. All irrigation methods are being metered, and moisture blocks will determine soil moisture during the growing season. The September watering test has been discontinued, since this late irrigation has been found to reduce both quality and yield of cotton.

Fertilizer applications have been and will be made in the following proportions: 40-80-0, 80-80-0, and 120-80-0. These will be compared with results from no fertilizer applied.

SAFE FOURTH IS SOUGHT BY DPS CHIEFS

The Fourth of July, summer time's big holiday, is often just bad news to many families. For it is at this time that many lives are lost or ruined by highway carelessness during the heavy traffic that annually characterizes this time of year. Texas Department of Public Safety chief Homer Garrison Jr. has emphasized that some 4,000 cars in Texas will be damaged enough to require garage work during the weekend. Too, additional 1,500 persons will receive some sort of bodily injury — some that will cripple for life. Thus far in the state, the traffic fatality rate is down 11 per cent from last year. But the worst half of the year is still ahead, the half when usually 60 per cent of traffic deaths occur.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm tackles international affairs this week and probably comes out the loser.

Dear editor: I've got a neighbor out here who's a sorehead. Nothing ever suits him.

Take the matter of President Eisenhower's cancelled trip to Japan. He claimed riding down the main street of a world capital in an open automobile is no way to solve the world's problems, and if he wanted to talk to the Japanese Premier, send a plane over there after him and bring him back to Washington, where crowds are friendly and don't sit down in the middle of the street. Or call him on the telephone and save gas.

This neighbor doesn't understand international affairs. He doesn't understand prestige.

As I understand it, a lot of people throughout the world attach a lot of importance to prestige, and I wish I could get people in this vicinity to thinking the same way.

For example, take me. I'm constantly thinking of my prestige. Many's the time I could have been out on my tractor, going up one row and down another trying to make a crop, but I didn't. I sat on the front porch, working on my prestige. I've got sense enough to know if I was out there in the hot sun, people driving by would say, Look at him, out there in this weather, he must be mighty hard up, things must be shaky with his financial standing, must be overdrawn.

Weren't going to catch me risking that sort of reputation. I just set aside my personal considerations and ambitions and stayed in the shade of the porch, so thinking people could say, Now there's a financially secure man.

But what happens? People around here don't take the international view of things, they drive right on by and say, Look at him sitting there, no wonder he has Johnson grass in his crops, no wonder he can't make ends meet.

There's no hope for the world as long as it takes this backward view. I've been working on my prestige for years, but haven't brought very many people around to my way of thinking. It's not my fault, it's theirs. If they don't want to operate on the international level, let em stay provincial.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

Bankers Of Panhandle To Visit In Hereford

Next Wednesday and Thursday Hereford is to be honored by the presence of the Bankers of the Panhandle. This city should get ready to do herself as well as the bankers honor.

The homes of the town will be thrown open for the reception of these kings of the money purse. The first day will be given to organization and reports largely.

In the afternoon a trip will be made over the irrigated section and it is hoped that everyone who has a well will have it running that these men may see what a river of water we have.

Among the prominent speakers from the outside are C. G. Chandler, president of the Kansas National Bank at Wichita, and J. W. Hoopes, vice-president of the Federal Reserve Bank at Dallas.

Among activities of the program will be the invocation by the Rev. W. M. Baker; address of welcome, Mayor William M. Knight; officer's reports, a review of Hereford irrigated farms, arriving at barbecue and fish fry; a few remarks by J. W. Hoopes, vice-governor; Federal Reserve Bank, Dallas; and a general discussion.

25 YEARS AGO

Hereford's Fourth of July entertainment and State Park Celebration are shaping up as just about the best event of the kind that West Texas will offer this year. Sponsored by the American Legion, the program will be sufficiently varied to suit the fancies and preferences of all.

So many are the attractions that officials have difficulty in choosing the main one. Morning fireworks, the first daytime display of the kind in this section, will start things off. The shooting will be at the city park.

Following that will be a short program of speaking by park officials and visiting dignitaries. The speaking program will be on the platform at the city park between 11:30 and noon.

Beginning at noon, Henry Cloyd and his gang of meat handlers will take charge with a barbecue and picnic dinner for the throngs who will be on hand. At 1:30 will come the baseball game between Hereford and Friona. Then will come the rodeo. It will take place in the pens and corrals immediately west of the ball field.

An outstanding attraction will be the dance at the platform in the shade of the big cottonwoods in the park.

In addition to all these attractions the visitors may fish in the Tierra Blanca or swim in the fine big pools. And the golf course will be open to every linksman who would like to do a bit of shooting.

Wheat Crop May Be 'Plus Money'

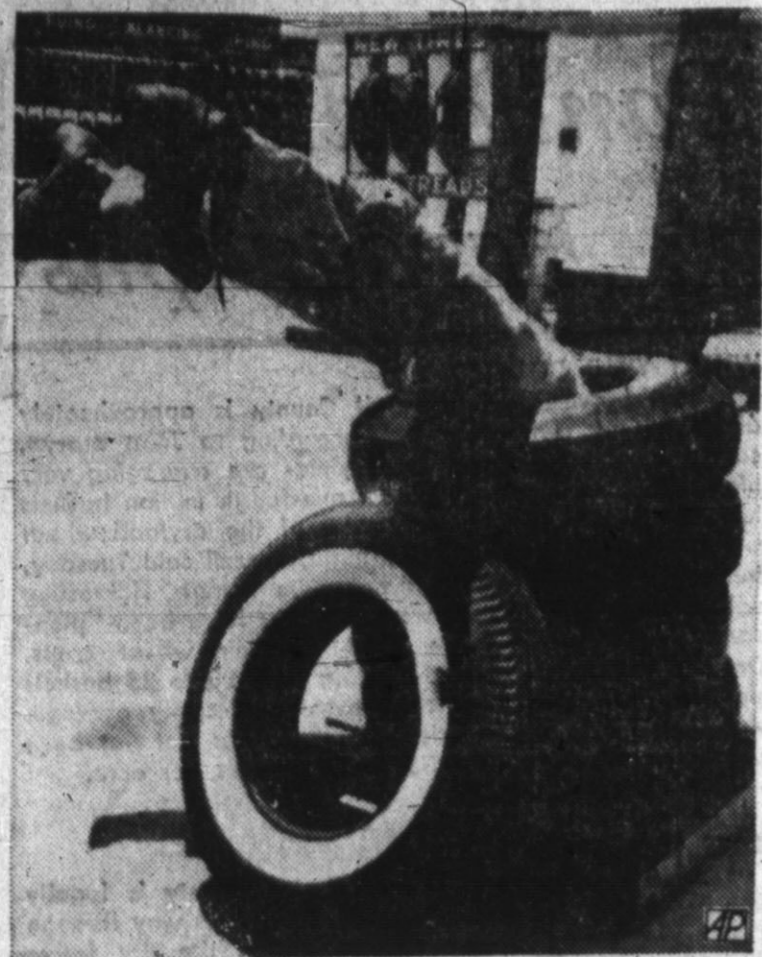

"How's business?" This is an old question, subject to many different answers. Mostly, though, we'd say that business in this section of the country is good — and bids to become even better.

Farmers are enjoying bountiful yields from the 1960 wheat and, to many producers, the wheat crop will come in the form of "plus money"; money, that is, above the normal income. The money will go for many things, including debt payments, appliances, new automobiles and homes.

The area was once dependent upon wheat as basis for economic existence, but in recent years has shifted to grain sorghums, cattle and truck farming. Wheat is no longer king and, consequently, does not hold the importance it once merited throughout the area. Even our elevators see the annual wheat crop in a new light as they fill bins each year with the more dependable grain sorghum yield.

Wheat, on the other hand, is better supported as a basic commodity in the farm program and will likely afford a greater margin of profit to the grower. This is especially true in the dry land areas where so many producers have been pleasantly surprised in 1960.

If these other diversified crops continue to yield, as in past years, it is safe to calculate that many producers will find themselves in better shape as a result. Such is the history of wheat. It may not be too dependable but, when it hits, brother, it is really nice!

Precinct 2 Commissioner."
"They'll really get things loused up if they listen to that Brand bunch," declared Archie. "Besides, if we wanted those newspaper folks making the decisions, we would have to elect them in the first place. All that newspaper is good for is to read the funnies and to use to — Well, I won't say it!"
"I don't know," argued Tex. "Looks to me as if they were trying to give both sides of a public question — and that's part of what a newspaper is for."
"All of which is a red herring, and ain't gettin' no streets paved!" declared Archie. "What I want to know is do I have to wade mud knee-deep next year to get my kids to and from school? Everything else is beside the point."
"Right," agreed Tex. "If half the time, effort and ingenuity spent in squabbling had been directed toward getting the pavement down, there wouldn't be any quarrel in the first place."
"What we need is somebody like Mr. Khrushchev to come along and tell us we can't pave the street," avowed Archie. "Then everyone would roll up his sleeves, go to work and get the job done. We'd show the so-and-so."

"Maybe you've got something," agreed Tex. "I guess all of us are a little bit too prosperous and too smug for our own good. I remember when I used to walk down the railroad track to school and, one frosty winter morning I put my tongue down to the track — and it stuck. I could hear the train whistling off in the distance, and I would have been glad to wade mud up to my neck to get away."
"Did you get loose?" inquired Archie, intensely interested.
"Naw, I'm still there!" answered the indignant Tex.
"And the street still ain't paved," added Archie.
"I guess we will just have to wait and see what happens," said Tex. "If the city or the county or the school district doesn't do something, maybe the Lord will provide an answer. I always will figure that's how I got my tongue off that railroad track."
"You pay the check," said Archie, dashing out the back door. "I see the boss coming. Sometimes, I think that man drinks more coffee than I drink. Only difference, it costs him money."
"Right," yelled Tex, fumbling for the 20 cents, "because I doggone sure am not going to pick up his check, paying or no pavings!"

Harwood Garage Scene Of Theft

By MRS. R. L. PINNELL
Harwood Garage was the scene of a robbery Monday night, which included the loss of all Fred Harwood's power equipment. Estimated loss was $400 to $500.

John Whaley, employee of the company, lost all his hand tools which were grouped in one large container. The largest single item, and the most expensive, was the theft of his air-powered wrench.

The garage, which has been operating the last several weeks, with the harvest rush and increased traffic on Highway 66, had remained open for business until 10 p.m. so thieves entered an old, slightly used door, on the west side of the structure.

"No attempt was made to bother the safe", Harwood said. "No clues have been turned up."

A wrecked 1958 model car which had been hauled in from the highway was stripped of three tires and a radio. Oldham County Sheriff Day Thompson, was summoned for investigation.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By CHARLIE SEEDS

It was a crime that shocked the nation. America's hero of just a few years before had not been forgotten... and the tragedy that struck him and his family was headlined and discussed from one end of the country to the other.

First there was the terrible headline. "LINDBERGH BABY KIDNAPPED!" Then followed the anguished search for the child and the negotiations with the kidnapers. Ten weeks later the baby was found dead.

The investigations went on. Over two years later the kidnapper was finally found and arrested, and it was not until the following year that the kidnapper was brought to trial. The evidence convinced the jury, and the verdict came in - guilty! The man who stood silently in that courtroom and heard the verdict which condemned him to death was Bruno Richard Hauptmann. Remember the day of that tragic crime?

Remember the year? America was going through a trouble time that year. Cars cost a lot less by today's standards... but they weren't easy to buy, and a man shopped around for the highest trade and the best terms.

The year was 1932. We believe in giving the highest possible trade - in allowances consistent with good business... and we can arrange the best terms you can find on a new 1960 FORD. Steve Hodges Hurls No-Hit, No-Run Game As Yankees Down Giants 19-0

Steve Hodges turned in the first no-hit, no-run game of the Little League season Tuesday night as the Yankees defeated the Giants 19-0.

He faced just 23 batters in the six innings of play, allowing five walks and striking out 12. He did not let a Giant base-runner get past second base during the game.

Meanwhile his Yankee teammates were collecting runs almost at will as they took advantage of ten hits, ten Giant errors and ten walks.

The Yankees scored five runs on two hits in the first inning. Robby Lemons singled, Hodges Terry Hill and Danny Lester walked, Jim Allison got on by error and Wynn Buck singled. They added 12 more runs in a mammoth second inning. Gene duvall, Lemons and Hodges got on by errors, Hill singled, Danny Baize walked, Lester was on by error, Allison singled, Buck walked, Duvall walked, Lemons and Hodges were safe on errors, Hill and Baize walked, Lester was safe on a fielder's choice and Allison doubled.

The Yankees added their final two runs in the fifth inning. Hodges walked and Hill was safe on a fielder's choice. Both came in on errors.

Gene Drummond was the losing pitcher. He was relieved in the third by Alex Guerrero.

Paul Stevens Speaker At Optimist Club

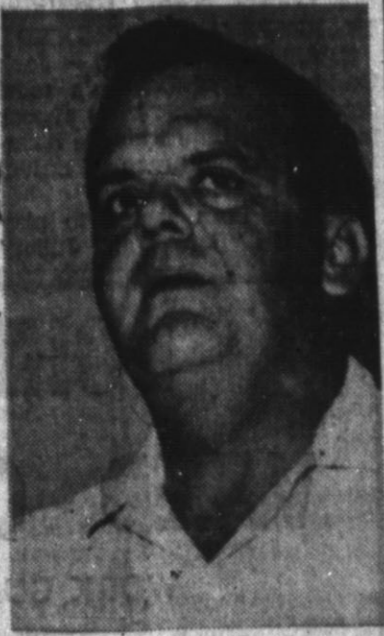

Paul Stevens, superintendent of Hereford Public Schools, spoke to the Optimist Club Tuesday about the school finance system.

"School finance is based on the number of days the children are in actual attendance," Stevens said.

The total attendance of all children for the year is divided by 26 which is the average number of students in a class. The result is called a class teaching unit and by these figures the schools are allowed so many teachers.

The state pays a base salary for the number of class teaching units in the school system. The state pays $42,000 for transportation expenses.

The state also pays a base salary for the special teachers in the school system, but does not pay anything for the substitute teachers. The substitute teachers' salaries must come out of the local fund.

"The people of this area demand good schools and don't mind paying for them if they are good," Stevens said.

Ralph Fullwood Accepts Position

Ralph Fullwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fullwood of Hereford, recently accepted a job with Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N. Y., for men only.

Fullwood is to be a research associate in the Department of Nuclear Engineering. He will be in charge of operation and development of the electron accelerator that is used in experiments.

He also will develop the instrumentation for doing certain experiments and will actually perform various experiments.

The work is mostly a mixture of micro-wave techniques similar to the ones used in radar and transistor circuitry.

Fullwood had been attending the University of Pennsylvania. He was graduated from Hereford High School and received his B. S. degree from Texas Tech., Lubbock, and his Master's degree from Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

Warren, Duncan Pace Indian Attack On White Sox, 21-3

With Lynn Warren's strong pitching arm and Ronnie Duncan's booming bat leading the way, the Indians took an easy 21-3 victory over the White Sox Tuesday night in Pony League action.

Warren pitched no-hit, no-run ball for four innings before tiring slightly. He gave up a walk in the first inning, but set the White Sox down in order for the next three stanzas while the Indians were building up a commanding lead.

In the second, the Tribe tallied three runs. Gary Royal singled and went to second on a wild pitch. Wayne Edwards was safe on an error. Royal scored on a passed ball. David Stevens walked and took second and scored on a passed ball.

Gayland Otts added one run for the Tribe in the third. He got on by fielder's choice, stole second and came in on an error.

In the fourth, the Indians made it 8-0 with four more runs. Kovacs singled and Billy Hill tripled to drive in two runs. Ronnie Duncan tripled to score Hill and tallied himself on a passed ball.

In the last of the fifth, the White Sox got their first run. Robert Garcia walked and stole second. Paul Drager's single drove him in.

The Indians got another run in the sixth on Ronnie Duncan's home run.

The Pale Hose came back in the last of the sixth to score a pair of runs. Ronnie Roberts singled, S.D. Balze singled, Joe Hernandez walked to load the bases and Darrel Christianson doubled in two runs.

In the top of the seventh, the Indians chalked up 12 runs. Royal was safe on an error. Edwards singled, Stevens doubled in a run. Kovacs got on by error to plate another and Billy Hill's double added another score.

With two on base Duncan hit his second homer of the night to add three runs. Gary Stagner singled, Warren walked, Otts singled, Royal got on by error, Stevens singled and Larry Minks got on by error. A double by Duncan scored two more runs, but the track meet was ended as Duncan tried to stretch his hit to three bases.

Duncan got four hits and five runs batted in on a double, a triple and two homers. Stevens, playing his first full game since moving to Hereford, got two hits and scored four runs in four trips.

Warren gave up just three runs on five hits, walked three and struck out ten.

S. D. Balze was charged with the loss. He gave up eight runs on four hits, struck out ten and walked two. Joe Hernandez finished the game. He was touched for 13 runs on ten hits while striking out three and walking one.

OFF THE Shelf

By H. A. TUCK

Acknowledged master of fiction about India is John Masters, who recently became a citizen of the United States.

His latest is The Venus of Kompara, an intriguing story about the discovery of ancient gold bars and statuary.

The story is based on fact and is concerned with a few short weeks in 1890.

Mohan, the young ruler - apparent of the area, is primarily interested in getting a large dam finished to give his people better farm land.

His thoughts, and actions, are interrupted by the sudden appearance of Rukmini, a wandering dancer who claims to be a queen. Their love is a sudden and violent affair.

The contractor, Foster, discovers the leg of a statue promptly called the Venus of Kompara. Work on the dam almost ceases while they search for the rest of the Venus.

Mr. Foster, a strange man in a region doing research work, seemed to sense a mystical bond between the sensuous Rukmini and the statue.

Mr. Kendrick, the British resident, considered everyone an obstacle to his frustrated desires to be high up in the colonial government. His wife, Barbara, began to change in her search to find herself.

The primitive villagers of Kompara want the search for the Venus stopped. Among other things they entice a pair of man - eating tigers into the area.

When Rukmini disappears, events move to a dramatic climax.

Through the entire book, Masters maintains constant suspense and intrigue. His description of the fears and explosive violence of the tiger hunts are particularly effective.

Summary: John Masters has written another good book about his favorite subject. It should rank with his other excellent books, such as Nightrunners of Bengal, Bhowani Junction, Coromandel and Fandango Rock.

A TRIBUTE To Uncle Sam!

With the world's brow full of worry wrinkles and all of us praying for a workable peace, the beloved old "Uncle" who symbolizes our nation becomes the most important "relative" we can have! So let's pause now and then, in our busy preoccupations and silently thank God for the strength of our Government. Stephen Decatur said "right or wrong, this is my country." And the spirit of his loyalty lives on today as never before. It may be that our statesmen are not always far, visioned, but their sincerity is never questioned nor their motives impugned. United we stand, the United States of America . . . the Land over which Uncle Sam is continuously watchful!

DAWN NEWS

Monday Harvest Best This Season

By MRS. CARL WIMBERLEY
With the resuming of harvest following the rain, Monday was reported by the local elevator managers to be the best run so far this season. The peak is expected to be reached this week with the hot, dry weather prevailing.

Yields this year on wheat and barley are considerably higher than last year. Dryland wheat, most of which is harvested averaged an estimated 30 to 35 bushels per acre.

Irrigated wheat is making 50 to 80 bushels an acre with some farmers estimating they will average a yield of 60 bushels to the acre. The eighty-bushel yields are mostly in spots or on small plots.

As one elevator manager expressed it, "Barley yields this year are running wild." Yields of 70 and 80 bushels to the acre are reported by many. Much barley was planted this year.

Box cars for shipping out grain have been scarce so far this season and grain is being shipped out in gravel cars when they can be obtained.

'Recorder' Fans, Don't Whistle Dixie

By W. G. ROGERS
NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—The big boom in music nowadays is a whistle.

It's the recorder — not the tape recorder, but the ancient instrument, a cousin to flageolet, penny whistle, and flute, with eight stop holes for finger tips, and one at the end to blow in. They range from soprano to bass, or from something you could tuck in your pocket, like a pencil, to something the size of a walking stick.

La Noue Davenport, a jazz playing Texan who switched from trumpet to recorder and is now president of the American Recorder Society, says more than any other music instrument — in his own family he must have at least four for himself, wife and their two sons.

Davenport and the Society have other astonishing figures about the recorder's phenomenal rise to popularity:

Then years ago this city could boast one player of stature, and a handful of amateurs; now it has a big handful of masters and an estimated 75,000 to 100,000 amateurs.

New Yorkers in this season alone could have heard perhaps 100 concerts, and there were others in Austin, Tex., Chicago, Cooperstown, N. Y., Kansas City, Milwaukee, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Wichita, Kans., Baltimore, San Diego and Santa Barbara, Calif., and certainly scores of other cities. In 1940 there were 1,000 recorders sold, now it's one million a year.

The recorder sound, Davenport says, is produced exactly like that in the organ pipe. Except for a flute, it's regarded as the instrumental sound closest to the human voice; pitch is adjustable; intensity varies; it is always of one magnitude, with no change loud or soft.

Davenport, just before he left for Europe on an ANTA tour with Pro Musica players, explained some reasons for the recorder's popularity:

"It is said to be easy to play. That's true, though only in a special sense. Its enormous advantage for the amateur is that he doesn't need to train up a particular set of muscles — a flute player, for instance, must begin with only five minutes of practice at a time. At his first try, too, the recorder amateur can play music that satisfies him. The instrument is inexpensive, from $10 to maybe $35 normally, whereas an oboe can cost $500.

"At first sight it is not an overpowering challenge, such as a piano.

"It has a fine repertory to draw on: Bach, Handel, Scarlatti, Vivaldi, and among modern composers, Britten, Hindemith, Pjerscheff, Bartok, and some compositions of my own and also of Erich Katz, who was the Recorder Society's music director from 1946 to 1958."

The Society (headquarters 114 E. 85th St., New York) publishes music, and a quarterly called American Recorder. Founded in 1939 by Suzanne Bloch, daughter of composer Ernest Bloch, it has 16 chapters and 7,500 members, some in foreign countries, and there are comparable societies in England, New Zealand, Australia and elsewhere.

Arnold Dolmetsch, in Haslemere, England, was influential in arousing interest in the recorder, as well as other ancient instruments, at the start of this century in 1902. At Haslemere his son, Carl, who also has been in the States, continues work with recorders.

Among Society members heard at a seasonal wind-up concert here were Davenport, Martha Bixler, Marleen Forsberg, Bernard Krainis, Shelly Gruskin, Friedrich von Huene and Frieder Eggers. More than 200 persons attended, listened raptly and applauded warmly. It was sort of a family party where friends met friends, and resembled rather a college-town audience than the groups usually seen in Carnegie Recital Hall.

But as an indication that recorders may be more fun to play than to listen to, another group attracted the smallest audience this concert — goer ever saw at a Town Hall program in May.

Mrs. Wertenberger Honored At Coffee

Mrs. O. Wertenberger was favored at a surprise coffee-shower given in the home of Mrs. J. W. Thomas, Saturday morning, Mrs. Earl Plank was co-hostess.

The coffee table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with a large pineapple filled with fresh fruits. Leaves, nuts, and fruits surrounded the centerpiece.

Gifts were opened and admired and refreshments were served to Mesdames Albert Farris, Eugene Naugle, Lucille Smith,

Scientists Look For New Laws Of Life

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Being orderly, Nature has its laws for life as well as laws for atoms, weather, and stars.

Years of research by many scientists have disclosed some of the laws for life.

"But we suspect new laws remain to be found to explain living systems, and how and why they behave as they do," says Dr. Ernest C. Pollard, Yale University biophysicist.

He and associates have set themselves the task of finding still hidden laws of life. The knowledge could bring benefits for human health and longevity.

How do you go about finding new laws?

"One way is to take old principles or theories and push or

Relativity and quantum mechanics were discovered by this process, by finding situations where old principles of gravity, electricity and magnetism did not explain behavior in atoms, or other phenomena.

So the Yale group is starting with simple forms of life in the search for absurdities or misfits in present theories.

One is extremely tiny bacteria, barely visible in microscopes, nicknamed PPLO, for pleuro pneumonia-like organisms.

Each is so small that it shouldn't contain more than 100 protein molecules with which to carry on its life processes, Dr. Pollard says. Each molecule in turn is governed by specific elements in the bacteria's genetic material, or DNA.

Dr. Harold Morowitz is trying to count the proteins, and if he finds more than 100, this would be an absurdity and call for revision of present thinking.

Larger bacteria are being examined to learn if there is only one way in which nature creates genetic DNA. By theory, the DNA in a cell duplicates itself before a cell divides, so that half of the DNA is always "old". And theory says this duplication is done in only one way.

Another search is for the mechanisms by which genes are sometimes shifted in their order so that the DNA is not duplicated exactly. This failure is one cause of genetic changes or mutations.

Human cells grown in tissue culture are being examined by Dr. Reginald Dearing to learn the precise effects of radiation, particularly radiation like that from cosmic rays.

Living cells are subjected to bombardment by heavy ions or particles produced in a cyclotron. This radiation produces immediate effect — rather than delayed effect as X-rays do — and the damage or effects increase as the exposure is increased. Such experiments so far indicate that humans could be protected from cosmic ray radiation in space travel, Dr. Pollard says.

It may take 5, to 50 years to turn up new laws of living systems. The search is a prime example of basic research, to learn how nature works.

It might contribute to practical benefits, or the prize could be simply satisfying scientific curiosity.

Points...

As the Methodist Church looks over the census the best we can hope to do is to provide homes for one half of one per cent of the people who are now over 65 and in the underprivileged bracket or living on less than a thousand dollars per year and alone. That also requires us to trade a Methodist census number for a census number of some other faith when the need for care is there. A home at Hereford would be only the beginning.

Another point of decision is confronted when we decide how much responsibility we are willing to take away from children of parents who need the home? We do lasting damage to children when we take full responsibility for their parents and leave them none of it. Where shall we draw the line and keep good Christian public relations?

Also pertinent to our problems is the question, "While we seek to care for this one half of one per cent inside our homes what shall we be doing in the way of a program for those who are outside the home but need so much to be kept eager for life and on their feet?"

Still another question with a difficult point of decision is "When shall we give up one of our members to senility and let him or her refuse to really try any longer to stay active because they complain and we may lose the understanding of the family?" Much of what is best for the Older Senior Citizens becomes quite unkind and inconsiderate in their way of thinking. The family sometimes shares the opinion.

What shall we do with the fact that after one of our homes is ten years old that at least one fourth our members become part time infirmaries or custodial cases or acute hospital cases but loans from F.H.A. will allow us only one bed in twelve for infirmary care?

Shall we risk bad public relations by pointing out that this provision is the request of the private commercial interests in straight Nursing Care Homes who can get 90 per cent loans and do not want us setting standards in the field; or shall we cheat some by placing infirmaries in nearby rooms to infirmaries services or shall we give up and force our Senior Citizen to watch his or her spouse go away from our home and from each other to a straight nursing care home?

Which is the Christian thing and the best thing for our members? Can we really draw the line between an Elderly Housing Project and a Nursing Care Home and can we get that over to F. H. A. in time to help our cause?

(To Be Concluded)

Darrell Christianson also helped out as he blasted two homers over the fence. In the first inning, the Reds scored a run when Jackie Andrews walked and came in on a stolen base, wild pitch and an error.

The White Sox went in front 2-1 in the second as Robert Garcia walked and Christianson homered.

It was tied 2-2 in the bottom of the second as Eddie Thompson scored after getting on by fielder's choice.

Romping out in front 6-2 the White Sox were never headed after they went to bat in the third. Gaylan Ward and Pete Encinas walked and Baize doubled. Joe Hernandez singled, went to second on a fielder's choice and tallied on an error.

In the fourth, the White Sox added three more runs. Paul Drager, Christianson and Encinas walked and Baize doubled. Then Baize scored on two passed balls.

Jerry Don McCaslin chalked up a run for the Red Sox in the fourth on a single and three passed balls.

In the last of the fifth, the Red Sox closed the gap with three runs. Andrews and Robert Strange walked and Steve Coneway doubled. Coneway stole third and came home on a wild pitch.

The Pale Hose turned the game into a rout in the sixth inning with nine runs. Baize opened with a double, Garcia walked and Christianson hit his second ball.

SLIDES OF MONARCH BUTTERFLIES were the Dan Turrentines when they visited last brought from their home in California by week in Westway. (Staff Photo)

Daniel Turrentines Find Antique Business Interesting

By Mrs. MERLIN KAUL
Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Turrentine of Pacific Grove, Calif., who have been visiting relatives and friends in the Westway Community the past week, find the antique business here interesting and variable.
They spent the past week visiting with his mother, Mrs. Bess Werner, and his brother, George Turrentine and family, both of Westway.
Turrentine attended school at Hereford High School and Westway. He also attended Texas Tech. in Lubbock. He completed his college work at San Jose State College in California, where he studied merchandising. He met his wife, who was an art major, while attending college.

The Turrentines have been visiting auctions in Amarillo where they found several articles which they will take back home with them. They are preparing for a large Antique Show at Pacific Grove after they return to their home.

Twenty-seven cities from all areas of the United States will be represented at the show. Mrs. Turrentine is especially interested in antique jewelry, and is always alert for pieces she also looks glass or china to use in her displays. She is in charge of the shop in Pacific Grove.
When she and her husband were visiting the P. H. Gilliland at their motel in Amarillo last week she met a Mrs. Foster of Odessa who said that she had often visited her antique shop.

Turrentine and his father-in-law do the auctioning part of the business. They are owners of LaPorte Auction Studio in Monterey. Many times they have sold out an entire estate. In selling various items sometimes it is hard to recognize an original.
For example, they once sold a painting by an English artist for $12.50 and when the buyer had it checked, he found out that it was an original - it sold for $1250 the next year.
When people come to the LaPorte Auction, they come to spend the day. They can browse through the studio, have lunch at the snack counter, listen to Auctioneer Dan or his father-in-law.

Turrentine stated, "We like our work for the variety it gives - it is fascinating - and it is an education with always something new to learn."
Pacific Grove is also the winter home for Monarch Butterflies. They arrive in October and reside in pine trees close to the ocean where there is no frost. A reason is not known, but they always come back to the same trees as that of its ancestors.
They hang suspended in great clusters on the under sides of branches and their folded wings blend in with the landscape. On sunny days, they descend in swarms on lawns. No one catches a live butterfly - it is against the law.

After the butterflies arrive the school students and town citizens participate in the Monarch Butterfly Festival. This is a gala occasion for the people, a colorful affair beginning with a parade in which all school students participate. Different classes portray some phase of the butterfly's life, and all classes make banners to greet the Monarchs.

Butterfly eggs hatch into the fuzzy caterpillar which goes into the chrysalis. Teachers collect the chrysalis and take them into rooms for children to watch the butterfly hatching process. The chrysalis must be hanging in just the right position so that the wings will develop normally. Wings must be thoroughly dry before the butterfly can fly.

If the wings touch anything so that they do not unfold in a natural manner, they are ruined.
Butterflies stay in the trees until spring and then leave. No one has been able to determine the location or the distance they travel. A lodge by the "butterfly trees" bears the name, "Butterfly Lodge."

Hold Rites For Former Resident

Funeral services for Charles Arthur (Sandy) Jowell, a former resident of Hereford, were held Saturday at 3 p. m. in Elliott Memorial Chapel in Abilene, where he made his home.

He was the son of Mrs. Nona Jowell of Hereford and a nephew of Roy Jowell of Hereford.

Mr. Jowell died at 12:25 Thursday morning, after a long illness.

He is survived by his wife, Alice; a son and a daughter; two sisters and a brother.

When making fudge, pour candy into buttered ice - cube trays without the dividers. When candy is almost firm push the divider about one eighth of an inch into top and the candy will be marked for even cutting.

A SEASONAL SIGHT came into focus this week as vegetable sheds started handling $4.25, one of the best ever for this area. Most vegetable shippers were handling potatoes only a few hours each day as the market climbed to peak as most Texas Lake country you can go and go and go. Sometime, I am going to ask Dan Guseman how far it is from the northwest boundary to Bates. There are quite a few heads of antelope in the extreme northwest area, especially in the Adrian country.

By JIMMIE GILLENINE
Many, many people are asking what effect Congressional and Administrative abandonment of their "soft policy" toward Cuba will have on Hereford's proposed beet sugar refinery. The answer is anybody's guess, depending on what develops on all fronts.

Until now, the United States seems to have had the idea that some disgruntled Cuban might step from behind a palace pillar and sink a load or two of buckshot into Mr. Castro. This happened to Kingfish Huey Long in Louisiana, and could occur in Cuba. If it does happen, the U. S. would probably want to pick up where things were dropped some months back; they would want to buy sugar from Cuba, they would want to reopen the hotels, boom the tourist trade and keep the refineries running.

Things are changing, though, and our general attitude is quite a bit cooler. Frankly, the "firm policy" is not likely to hurt the proposed Hereford Refinery in any fashion - and it could be a tremendous help, perhaps even the determining factor. When you consider that it would take three years to get our sugar mill in business - even if things were already set - you get a different view. In the immediate future, it is probable that we will get a beet acreage boost, however, and that is a step in the right direction.

Charlie Seeds says he wishes we would keep The Brand windows a bit cleaner. He has a hard time seeing through to find out if any of our coffee drinkers are available. I sure had a rough time changing the subject on this one.

The Homer Brumleys, in addition to farming and milking a hundred or so head of cows, have their workout out for the coming 12 months. Homer took over as president of the Lions Club, Wednesday, and his wife, Madlyne, was already in harness as president of the B&PW Club. Either of these offices is a family chore, and both at the same time afford a tough assignment.

I always heard that the automobile had a good moral influence on the country in that it stopped horse stealing and, by the same thinking, the Brumleys should come to appreciate what few moments of peace and quiet they do uncover.

Earnest Langley was packing his car the other evening in preparation for departure to the State Bar Convention, so I dropped over to give him a spot of sage advice. Right off, Earnest informed me that he is unquestionably the most capable, most experienced and most proficient luggage packer in Hereford. Furthermore, he pretty well sold me on the idea.

"When a man's family includes a wife and four daughters," declared Earnest, "he either becomes the best luggage-stower in town - or he stays at home!"

"Did you ever pack an automobile for five people, then face the problem of where to put four canteens? Well, that one is easy; you just put each canteen in a separate paper sack, and insert the sacks behind the spare tire, on top of suitcases, etc."

About this time, I asked what happened in case he had to change a flat. A pained expression crossed Earnest's face, and he said he thought he heard his wife calling him in the house. I couldn't hear anyone calling but, after Earnest left, there wasn't much else for me to do but go back across the street. I never did find out about the spare tire business, but I decided that boy really knows how to pack a car - especially with canteens.

This looks like another one of those years when we have to pay money for potatoes. When spud prices are good, the growers go to town, but when prices sink down around a $1, their friends do much, much better, generally getting all of the potatoes they want merely by going out and digging them.

Fireworks are coming back, and they are going to present a problem. Time was when the only 4th of July pastime was shooting baby giants. Now days everyone takes out his boat and heads for a lake - and when those crackers start banging in dad's new plastic job, there's bound to be trouble.

Francis Hardwick tells me that Hereford has gained a tremendous reputation through interest in alcohol study clinic in Austin this year. For our size town, we had a whopping big delegation, and most of them were sincere, deep thinkers on the subject. He says that the Star Telegram will do a series of articles, including one of progress of the study in Hereford. Perhaps some magazines, too, several of which were represented at the sessions.

Very few people realize the large size of Deaf Smith County; it has 1,507 square miles and is almost twice as big as most Texas counties. Out in the Garcia Lake country you can go and go and go. Sometime, I am going to ask Dan Guseman how far it is from the northwest boundary to Bates. There are quite a few heads of antelope in the extreme northwest area, especially in the Adrian country.

Oliver Streu tells me he has the chore of getting together a long-range planning committee for the Chamber of Commerce. The members will remain anonymous, and the idea will be to point out community needs for 1965, and thenceforth. If you have any suggestions, write them down and mail them to Oliver Streu, care C-C, Hereford. Sign your name if you want, otherwise skip it. The big idea is to face the real problems, then attempt to solve them. It sounds like an excellent idea, if people will cooperate.

Meanwhile, if you can remember when Hereford merchants all remained open on July 4th because of the harvest peak, you are probably too old for the draft.

Canton, Auxiliary Hold Friday Meet

The Patriarch Militant Canton and Auxiliary No. 30 met at the I. O. O. F. Temple Friday night. Captain Chevalier A. R. Rogers and vice-president Lady Ruth Rogers presided at the meeting.

Past Captain Chevalier Ben Conklin conducted drill practice for the fall inspection. Refreshments were served by Lady Anna Conklin and Lady Ruth Rogers. The next meeting will be July 15.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, which sponsors religious instruction given Roman Catholic youngsters attending public schools, has launched a year-long observance of two anniversaries that shaped its teaching program.

One is the 75th anniversary of publication of the Baltimore catechism of 1885, the question-and-answer text used for most Catholic religious instruction. The other is the 25th year since establishment of the confraternity's national center here.

A mass in the National Shrine of Immaculate Conception here April 2 marked the start of the observance.

Since the Giants and Dodgers moved to California they have averaged more than 40,000 fans for 25 games in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

WESTWAY NEWS

Raymond Garrett Escapes Injuries In Truck Mishap

By MRS. MERLIN KAUL
Raymond Garrett, who lives on the Mayo Phipps farm, sustained only bruises in a truck mishap last Wednesday morning. Raymond had taken a load of wheat to the elevator and was about a mile from home when the tie rod on the truck broke. The truck went across the ditch, through the fence and turned upside down in Kenneth Rudd's pasture. The truck was nearly a total loss.

A truck loaded with wheat from the Luther Lesly farm turned over at the lake north of Westway Tuesday. The driver walked away unhurt. Another load of wheat from the D. T. Reed farm three miles north of Westway and one and one-half miles north turned over the same day. And again the driver was unhurt.

With most of the wheat in Westway community harvested, potato and onion harvest has started. Onions were being pulled and topped at the J. C. Morrison, Ernest Flood and Jack Renfro farms. Potato vines are being beaten off and Pat Ranspot has started digging.

Maize and feed crops are showing up in the fields this week after being planted last week. The good moisture underneath along with the hot temperatures has brought the feed up to good stands.

Everyone is reminded of the Fourth of July picnic Monday night on the lawn at the Merlin Kaul home. Everyone is asked to bring picnic supper and paper-plates and cups for each family. Children may bring sparklers and older people may have other fireworks outside the yards.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Turrentine and children, Sherry and Billy of Pacific Grove, Calif. have been here the past week visiting in the home of his mother, Mrs. Bess Werner, and his brother, George, and family. On Friday they went to Amarillo where they visited in the home of Dan's cousin, J. M. (Red) Simpson.

Several events have been given in their honor including a visit to the Escabada Ranch with hosts the Joe Reinners. Supper was served at the spring at the ranch by the Reinners boys, Joe, Jim, Bob and Art. Besides the hosts and the guests others present were Mr. and Mrs. George Turrentine, Janice, Carol and Patty, Mrs. Bess Werner and Dr. and Mrs. Larry Byers and Stephen and Mary Alice.

On Saturday they were guests at a Mexican supper in Amarillo with Mr. and Mrs. George Turrentine as hosts.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Thomas Jr. accompanied them to tour the Jack Renfro home near Hereford. They were especially interested in the antique pieces in the Renfro home. Since they are in the business of buying and selling antiques, they have been attending some auction sales of antiques since arriving here.

They left Thursday to visit in the F. W. Dodson home in Hale Center, then to Carlsbad, N. M. to visit the Cayen and on to El Paso to visit in the home of Dan's sister, Mrs. Gene Roach.

Mr. and Mrs. Day Ridgeway, Tom, Martha Ann and Mark of San Antonio came Sunday to visit in the home of his aunt, Mrs. Bess Werner. Ridgeway has made the Air Force his career and this is their first vacation in six years. They were stationed in England for two years and in Georgia one year before being sent to San Antonio. Ridgeway has the distinction of having the highest score ever made in marksmanship. Ross Joe Landers began working at the onion shed in Hereford this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Turrentine went to Canyon Wednesday to see F. W. Dodson, former teacher at Westway, who is enrolled in school there. Dodson is taking some science courses preparatory to teaching this fall.

The Tarrentines missed seeing him as the class had left that morning for a trip to White Sands, N. M. Mrs. Dodson is teaching summer classes at Plainview.

Mrs. Bill Carter and daughters, Billie Jo, Kay and Gay spent Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Carter at Wildorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Blakney of Frio were visitors in the C. A. Saucy home last Friday night.

Mrs. Merlin Kaul and Judith Morrison attended the wedding of Barbara Jacobs and Roger Shipley at the First Methodist Church in Hereford Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks, Sylvia and Rodney left the first of the week for wheat harvest in Nebraska.

Mrs. Bill Carter was honored with a cradle shower last Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Elmer Combs. Contests were conducted after which the gifts were presented in the form of a Detergent Test. The table was centered with an arrangement of blue and pink daisies and candles tied with pink ribbons. Dainty refreshments were served to Mesdames Merlin Kaul, C. A. Saucy, H. E. Owens, Cliff Combs, Emmett Johnson, Kenneth Rudd, Wilbur Thomas, Joe Landers, Homer Rudd, Paul Rudd, Harold Rudd, Joe Wagoner and G. C. Merritt Sr., Kenneth Carter and Jan and Beth Anderson of Wildorado, R. L. Dodson of Summerfield and Mona and Mike O'dell, Misses Cinda Swain and Anna Johnson.

Dan Thomas was a guest of Lewis Barnett of Hereford Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldron Melton and daughters, Adair and Denise, left last Sunday morning for points in Old Mexico. They will stop at San Antonio en route where they will visit the Jack Allmon home. and homer, Milton Meharg got on by error. Drager was safe on an error, Ward walked and Ronny Roberts doubled Baize singled, Hernandez walked and Garcia singled.

BOXER ORDAINED
PERRYVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A former professional welterweight fighter has become a Roman Catholic priest. The Rev. Matthew C. Daugherty, 40, was one of 11 priests ordained recently for the Pittsburgh diocese by Bishop John J. Wright. Said Father Daugherty: "I guess some people are surprised that I became a priest — you know, a kid who was always scrapping."

SAME MAN, SAME CRIME
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Thirty years ago the late Detective Robert Rieckoff was wounded while arresting Harold Rist for forgery.

Recently Rieckoff's son, Roy, now a Milwaukee detective himself, took a 49-year-old man into custody on a worthless check charge. It was the same Harold Rist.

DeMille's Works And His Dreams Live On

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD — It's more than a year since Cecil B. deMille died, but his impact on Hollywood — even from the grave — is something to behold.

The famed director's staff has moved from the Paramount lot on the edge of Hollywood. But he helped to build to his rambling house at 2010 deMille drive there's no lessening of the work load.

One big task is answering fan letters, many written as if he were still alive. Even the publicity staff is at work because somewhere a deMille movie is being shown.

His "King of Kings," made nearly 35 years ago, has never been out of release. His latest, "The Ten Commandments," probably will have the same type run.

I recently toured the deMille home with Mrs. Cecelia Boughdady, his pretty granddaughter. It is half home and half museum because of the many honors conferred on deMille.

DeMILLE REMINDER: Mrs. Cecelia Boughdady, granddaughter of the late Hollywood director Cecil B. DeMille, holds the crown of thorns used in deMille's classic film, "The King of Kings."

But that's not the main reason for the museum-like atmosphere. "Grandfather never threw anything away," explains Mrs. Boughdady. "After his death, we looked in the drawer where he kept all his socks. There was a memo, dated 1912, to call a Mr. Russell. He had to move it every time he put on fresh socks."

His copies of London Punch — every issue — go back to 1905, the National Geographic to 1908. There are memorabilia from each of the 70 movies he made. Hollywood, talking about a movie museum, could get a good start in deMille's house.

The camera used to make "The Squaw Man" in 1913, along with that historic film's first shooting script, are there. That was deMille's first movie. Gifts and honors, no matter how trivial, are kept. One Christmas a member of his publicity staff, frustrated at what to choose, sent a cotton bag. With a card attached from Paul Sinsheimer, it read: "So you've got everything? Well, here's a sack to put it in."

deMille used it as a chair cover. His favorite rocking chair is in the living room — completely out of place with the decor but there it will remain permanently. With deMille's death, the old chair got a stature it didn't have during his lifetime.

Honorable Egg Roll Very Fine

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
YOU COOKS who whip up quick Chinese main dishes may be ready to try an elaborate concoction. Here are Egg Rolls — those crisp appetizers enjoyed in restaurants. We found this recipe works well.

CHINESE EGG ROLLS
Ingredients: 1 cup sifted flour, 1 cup water, 3 eggs, 1 cup finely chopped cooked shrimp, 1 cup finely chopped celery, 1/4 cup fine chopped water chestnuts, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 2 tablespoons corn oil, 1/2 teaspoon salt, extra corn oil.

Method: For skins beat flour, water and 2 eggs vigorously with rotary or high speed of electric beater for 5 minutes. Set aside 15 minutes. For filling mix shrimp, celery, chestnuts, onion, 2 tablespoons oil and salt. Preheat a heavy 6-inch skillet until a drop of water bounces about when dropped on it. Lightly grease skillet with oil before each baking. Holding pan above heat pour in about 2 tablespoons of batter; tilt pan to spread and coat bottom; cook just until set and edges curl slightly. Turn skins onto clean, dry dish towel; continue making skins this way with rest of batter. Place about two tablespoons of filling in center of each skin; brush edges with remaining lightly beaten egg. Fold nearest edge over filling; fold sides over about one inch. Roll skin away from you and seal with beaten egg. Fill an electric or sturdy flat-bottomed deep skillet 1/3 full of oil; heat to 375 degrees. Fry a few rolls at a time — about 8 minutes or until lightly browned, turning to brown all sides. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes 10 to 12.

FREEZER DIRECTIONS
Wrap fried or unfried Egg Rolls singly in freezer paper or foil; freeze. Reheat fried rolls in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 10 to 15 minutes; or they may be reheated in deep fat if slightly undercooked during first frying. To cook unfried rolls after freezing, allow rolls to come to room temperature and fry according to directions in Egg Roll recipe.

NO SALE
NORMAN, Okla. — A stamp vending machine that was out of order frequently spurred one post office patron to leave a note attached reading: "You fight rain, snow and hail; why can't you whip this cotton pickin' machine?"

ing on the picture under orders — written before his death — of deMille.

Adrian Girl Weds New Mexico Man

Miss Melanie Weidner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Weidner of Adrian, and Deryl Sewell, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Sewell of San Jon, N. M., were united in marriage on Saturday June 25.

The double-ring ceremony was read in the New Mexico home of his parents by the Rev.

J. R. Manning, pastor of the Adrian First Baptist Church.

Miss Ninette Pounds played traditional wedding music preceding the service and the traditional wedding marches.

Attendants were the bride's sister, Miss Madeline Weidner, who wore a pink sheath with white nylon overskirt, and Buckshot Gore served as best man.

The bride wore a street length dress of white lace over taffeta fashioned Princess style with "V" neckline and long tapered sleeves. Her finger ring veil of illusion was attached to a head piece of matching lace and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and lilies of the valley. A reception followed the wedding ceremony in the home, after which the couple left on a short trip before going to Ajo, Arizona Air Force Base where he is stationed.

Miss Barbara Jacobs Weds Roger Shipley

Before the altar of the First Methodist Church at 3:30 in the afternoon of June 26, Miss Barbara Jean Jacobs became the bride of Roger Kent Shipley. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend H. L. Thurston, pastor.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Jacobs, 212 Kibbe Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shipley, 128 Avenue D.

A gold cross and ignited wedding tapers centered the altar background with seven branched candelabra, tall baskets of shrimp-colored gladioli and palm trees completing the setting.

A program of organ music preceded the ceremony with Mrs. Bill Stanford playing nuptial selections, and accompanying Gwen Lackey who sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "Always". The traditional wedding marches were used. Candles were lighted by Sammy Tisdale.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Mrs. Jim Lady, matron of honor, Marilyn Sigle, Luigena Guinn and Maxie Wiseman, bridesmaids.

The feminine attendants wore shrimp pink organdy dresses fashioned over taffeta with fitted bodices and full skirts with matching cummerbunds. Each wore a small white tulle veil trimmed in seed pearls and carried bouquets of shrimp pink chrysanthemums.

The bride's cousin, Deborah Kay Jacobs, was escorted by Jeffrey Shipley, nephew of the bridegroom, as she carried and scattered rose petals from a small white basket. She wore a pastel green nylon frock with white net hat. Patricia Ann Jacobs, cousin of the bride, carried the rings on a white heart-shaped satin pillow. Her dress was white nylon and she also wore a white net hat.

Mr. Lady served his brother-in-law as best man and ushers were Don Sigle, Durwood Jacobs, the bride's brother, and Lynn Boomer.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a train length gown of white lace and bridal satin. The fitted bodice featured a high neckline and long fitted sleeves. The full satin skirt, worn over hoops, opened redingote fashion in front to reveal a gathered lace panel. Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a regal crown beaded with tear-drop pearls. For sentimental reasons she wore her grandmother's wedding band. The bride carried a bouquet of tiny pink rosebuds which lay on a white Bible cascaded with white feathered carnations and satin streamers.

Mrs. Jacobs chose a toast colored lace sheath for her daughter's wedding with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore mauve lace with accessories of toast and fan. Their corsages were of carnations.

Following the wedding a reception was hosted by the bride's parents in Fellowship Hall.

The bride's table was laid with an egg-shell lace cloth over a cloth of shrimp pink. An arrangement of shrimp pink chrysanthemums was placed at one end of the table and a large punch bowl at the other. The wedding cake, was decorated in pink and white and topped with miniature white satin wedding bells.

Assisting at the bride's table were Sandra Roberson, Rosie Strange, Joan Rogers and Ann Wingert. Lois Christman registered the guests.

For the wedding trip to points in Colorado the bride wore a champagne lace suit with box-type jacket and matching accessories. After July 5 they will reside at 211 Avenue C.

Mr. and Mrs. Shipley are both graduates of Hereford High School. He attended West Texas State College at Canyon and is presently employed at Suits Auto Store.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tisdale and Sammy of Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Painter, and Mickie of Dodson; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Smith of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Shipley and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Edwards of Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Jacobs and family of Postales, N. M., and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pledger and family of Alamoso, Colo.

LIBERTY

"God grants liberty only to those who love it and are always ready to guard and defend it."

—Daniel Webster

As America celebrates Independence Day — Monday, July 4th — let us not forget the importance of these famous words.

Cards Fall Before Yankee Power 14-3

Breaking loose from a close game, the Yankees walked away from the Cardinals Thursday night to nab a 14-3 decision.

The Yanks just had a 4-3 lead until the fourth inning, when they cut loose for ten runs in two innings.

Scoring in the top of the first was Yankee Robby Lemons, who smacked a homer.

In the last of the first, the Cards went in front 2-1. Mark Manning and Steve Knox walked and came in on a single by Jerry Fowlkes and a sacrifice by Ed Mims.

Both teams were scoreless in the second.

In the third, the Yankees went in front on a three-run splurge. Terry Hill got on by fielder's choice. Danny Baize got on by error and Danny Lester and Jim Allison singled. Two errors aided the Yanks.

It became 4-3 in the last of the third, as the Cardinals tallied one run on Gary Payne's homer with none on.

In the fourth, the Yankees cut loose for four runs. Lemons walked, Steve Hodges singled and Danny Lester got on by error. With one on, Allison blasted one over the fence.

Six more runs were added by the Yanks in the fifth. Gene Duval singled, Lemons, Hodges and Hill walked and David Marcontell got on by error. Lester singled and Wynn Buck sacrificed.

Danny Lester got credit for the victory after pitching the first three innings. He was relieved by David Marcontell, who shut out the Cards for the last three stanzas.

Absorbing the loss was Gary Payne. Roger Suttle came on in relief.

ALMOST PERFECT
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — For three years Spotty, a shepherd dog, had a perfect attendance at Menlo Park school.

Rain or shine Spotty followed his owners, Linda, Rickey and Tony Padilla, to school.

Principal Jacques Fajnum was so impressed that while handing out certificates at the end of the school term, he showed a special certificate and read the inscription — "This certifies that Spotty had completed the school year, as prescribed by the Board of Education, by attending school every day."

Tony was sent out to bring in Spotty for the presentation.

Spotty, for the first time in three years, had skipped school.

The Cincinnati Reds had three 20-game winning pitchers in 1923 — and they failed to win the National League pennant.

Russell, Fitzgerald Vows Exchanged In Ceremony

In a candle-light ceremony held in the First Christian Church at 7:30 in the evening of June 24, Miss Linda Russell became the bride of E. F. Fitzgerald, Jr., with the Rev. Gilbert Davis, pastor, reading the double-ring service.

The church was appropriately decorated with baskets of white gladioli and background greenery.

Branching candelabra holding white wedding tapers gave illumination for the setting. Miss Carol Ann Newell, at the organ, played a concert of wedding selections preceding the ceremony and accompanied Miss Carol Sneed who sang "Because," "O Promise Me" and "The Lord's Prayer." Traditional wedding marches were played by Miss Newell as the bridal party entered and left the church.

The bride's attendants were her sister, Mrs. Joe Neely of Amarillo, matron of honor, and her cousin, Betty Kay Russell of Loveland, bridesmaid. The matron of honor wore white lace over yellow tulle styled with fitted waist having cap sleeves and low round neckline, and full skirt. Her head piece was a half hat in shades of yellow with full circular veil of tulle and she carried a nosegay of white feathered carnations tied with yellow satin ribbon.

The bridesmaid's dress was of yellow chiffon over tulle, matched those worn by the matron and both wore yellow shoes to match their dresses.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Russell, was given in marriage by her father. He escorted her to the altar which was marked by a white satin kneeling bench and tulle for her wedding. The were lighted by Mrs. Wendell Robertson of Amarillo.

The bride chose a Schuffe embroidered nylon sheer over tulle and tulle for her wedding. The gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice, modified Spina neckline, short sleeves and matching mitts. Bridal sequins outlined the neckline and sleeves. The voluminous floor-length skirt, worn over hoops, was attached to the elongated bodice in the back by soft bows of nylon. Her fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a half hat of Alecon lace sprinkled with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a drop necklace of pearls and tiny diamonds, a gift of the groom. She wore her maternal grandmother's locket pinned inside her gown and a penny in her shoe for luck, and carried out the traditional custom of something old, new, borrowed and blue.

The bride carried white Bride's Roses centered with a single yellow orchid arranged on her white Rainbow Bibie. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Fitzgerald Sr., selected Don Jackson as his best man. Serving as ushers were Bill Fitzgerald, Leslie Sharp and Joe Neely of Amarillo. For the wedding the bride's mother chose a pink lace sheath complemented by pink accessories and pink rosebud corsage. The mother of the bridegroom wore blue lace with beige accessories and a white rosebud corsage.

A reception held in St. Thomas Episcopal Church social hall, the bride's table was laid with a decorated cloth over yellow. The attendants' bouquets formed the center attraction and punch and a three-tiered wedding cake were served. Members of the houseparty included Eugenia Alexander of Lubbock, Dollie Jo Foxwell of Amarillo, Carol Ann Newell and Mesdames Pat Ferguson, Bobby Shelton, H. L. Hershey, C. C. Ellib, Ira Scott, Pat Robinson and Mrs. Jim Ricketts of Portales, N. M. When the couple left on a wedding trip to Carlsbad and other New Mexico points, the bride was wearing a grey sateen frock with yellow accessories and the yellow orchid from the wedding bouquet. They are now residing at 1234 Avenue K. Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald are graduates of Hereford High School. She was a member of F.E.A. Tri-Hi-Y, was class secretary her junior year and served as cheer leader. He was a member of the Hi-Y, was active in sports and was chosen personality king his junior year. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Alexander and Eugenia of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Thomas of Newport Harbor, Calif., Mrs. Archie Dougherty and Lane of Clovis, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Russell and Marilyn of Pothville, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Russell, Betty Kay Russell and Casey Hefack of Loveland; E. E. Fitzgerald and Mrs. W. C. Spomer of Greenville, grandfather and aunt of the bridegroom; Mrs. Jim Ricketts of Portales, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Neely and children, Mrs. D. Singleton and children; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wagner, Mrs. Margaret McMillen and children, Roseanna Mubienhump, John W. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Spake, all of Amarillo. The rehearsal dinner, hosted by the bridegroom's parents, was held in the Sneed Cafeteria.

Barbara Ann Martin Marries David Heck

Mrs. Lena Martin has announced the marriage of her daughter, Barbara Ann, to David Allen Heck, son of Mrs. Ida Campbell. The wedding took place in the First Methodist Church yesterday at 8 in the evening with the pastor, the Rev. H. L. Thurston, performing the ceremony. The ceremony was performed beneath an archway entwined with huckleberries. Altar decorations consisted of arrangements of white and pink carnations in tall baskets flanked by seven branched candelabra holding white wedding tapers. Candle lighters were John Heck and Mike Perry.

Mrs. Bill Stanford, organist, and Mrs. Olive Stewart presented the wedding music. Eveleen Martin attended her sister as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Judy Coffin and Kay Shirley. They wore pale blue dresses with fitted waists, puffed sleeves and full skirts. They also wore white and pink carnation corsages. The flower girl, Sandie Caison, was dressed similar to the other attendants and scattered carnations from a small lace basket. The ringbearer, Cheryl Parker, wore a pale green dress and carried the rings on a satin pillow.

The best man was Jordon McCutchen and ushers were Monroe Parker and Mark Heck. The bride given in marriage by her uncle, Joe Friemel, wore a white lace and tulle gown fashioned with a fitted bodice having a low round neckline and long petal point sleeves. The floor length full-skirt of lace with panels of tulle at each side, fell into a chapel train in the back. Her veil of illusion was caught to a beaded crown, and she carried an arm bouquet of pink and white carnations. Following the wedding a reception was held in Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Heck was graduated from Hereford High School and is employed at the Amarillo News Globe. Heck is employed with Fedway Department Store in Amarillo where the couple will make their home. The couple left immediately after the reception for a honeymoon trip to Red River, N. M.

BUST THEIR BEER BUST

ELY, Minn. (AP) — Teen-agers in the senior class at Ely High School thought they had a perfect hideaway for a pre-graduation beer party. They used a jeep shuttle to haul students into a roadless, swampy area in tangled brush country near here. But officers kept ahead of the plotters. They watched the direction of the traffic flow, then used commando tactics to sneak up on the party, rounding up all but a few of the more than 40 teeners and two barrels of beer, one of them half empty.

TEEN BUYS FIRE ENGINE

GRANBY, Conn. (AP) — When the North Granby fire department decided to sell a 1923 fire engine, teen-ager Julie Peck came forward. She paid $300 for the engine after admitting to being "a real fire buff."

The first Smith College freshman didn't say what she intended to do with the fully-equipped engine.

RUTHERFORD & CO.

JUST LIKE FREE
EVERGLADES, Fla. — County commissioners here have found they already own 230 acres of land they'd been dickering for two years to buy from the federal government.
 It seems that when the government decided the county, some land years ago the legal description took in 1,330 acres but the deed listed only 1,103 acres.

In the campaign to buy the additional land for county purposes, the commissioners had gotten officials to agree to sell the 230 acres for $28,000 and had even made a $600 down payment — which will be returned by the government.

Jane Holtzclaw Wed To Rev. William Robinson

Miss Jane Holtzclaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Holtzclaw of Lawrence, Kans., and the Reverend William Edgar Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Robinson of Hereford, were united in marriage Sunday afternoon, June 26, at 4 o'clock in the Lawrence First Christian Church. Dr. Gentry A. Shelton, Professor of Christian Education, Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, performed the double-ring ceremony. Large baskets of white gladioli marked the steps leading to the altar which was banked with greenery. The communion table held a flower arrangement placed in front of the natural wooden cross. Two pairs of seven-branched candelabra holding ivory tapers and entwined with smilax, illuminated the chancel setting.

As the guests assembled and candles were being lighted, Mrs. Maurice Clarkson played a program of nuptial music on the organ. Miss Charlsia Von Gunten, accompanied by Mrs. Clarkson, sang "O Perfect Love" (Barney) and "Wedding Prayer" (Dunlap). Following communion received by the couple.

Miss Von Gunten sang a communion benediction by Bach. The bridal music from Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's Wedding March were used for the processional and the recessional.

Mrs. Donald L. Jarrett of Fort Worth attended her sister as matron of honor. Her gown of pink silk chiffon over taffeta was styled with fitted bodice trimmed with pink rosebuds, a scoop neckline and full skirt. Her headpiece of twisted nylon trimmed with pearls and short veil matched her dress. She carried pink and white gladioli blossoms tied with pink ribbon.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Daniel Wiley, Corpus Christi, Mrs. Richard Zigler, Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Richard Morrison of Kansas City, Kans. Their dresses and headpieces of blue chiffon were identical in style to that worn by the matron of honor and they carried pink gladioli.

Tapers were lighted by Miss Jacalyn Erickson of Baytown, Mo. and Miss Melanie Poor of Seneca, Mo. They wore pink embroidered silk organza over taffeta with circlets of shattered pink carnations in their hair.

Loren P. Anderson of Bethel, Kans. served as best man for the Reverend Robinson. The other male attendants were Henry Holtzclaw Jr. of Lincoln, Nebr., brother of the bride, the Reverend Richard Zigler of Richmond, Va., and Raymond Brewton of Mineral Wells, Texas, a cousin of the bridegroom.

Ushers were Donald Jarrett of Fort Worth, Bob Bruse of Oklahoma City, Reece Whittington of Amarillo, Dr. Richard Morrison of Kansas City, Kans. and Don Dibble of Guyton, Okla.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a Princess-style gown of imported silk taffeta. The molded bodice, enhanced with peau d'ange lace and seed pearls was fastened down the back with tiny covered buttons, and featured a scalloped sweetheart neckline and short sleeves. The lace-trimmed bouffant skirt with lace front panel, and side fullness of taffeta, swept into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was edged in French lace and was held in place by a tiara of lace and ribbon.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with shower-ribbons of white satin. For sentiment, she wore her maternal grandmother's wedding band and her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Jane Louise Holtzclaw of Lincoln, Nebr. small niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress of white nylon was trimmed in lace and she carried a flower basket filled with pink rose petals.

The bride's mother wore a delft blue shadow lace dress over taffeta with pink flower hat, white accessories and a corsage of pink Aristocrat roses. Mrs. Robinson chose a toast colored embroidered silk organza over taffeta, worn with matching hat, beige accessories and a pink delight rose corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church Fellowship Hall, which was decorated with baskets of gladioli and greenery. The couple received with their parents and attendants. During the reception music was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Walker.

The refreshment table laid with a white linen cloth with pink net overskirt, held a four-tiered cake topped with a wedding bell surrounded by a wreath of fern intermingled with flowers. White tapers burned in candelabra.

The couple cut the first piece of cake with a silver knife a gift to her paternal grandmother in 1886. Mrs. Paul Ehy of Baytown, Mo., Miss Jean Davis, Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Harold Barr and Mrs. Stanton Ball of Lawrence, Kans., presided at the punch bowls. The cake was served by Mrs. Henry Holtzclaw of Lincoln, Nebr. and Mrs. Sam Bogart of Fort Worth.

Miss Judy Forrest, Liberty, Mo., was in charge of the guest book, and Mrs. William Lane of Kansas City, Mo. was at the gift table. Members of the houseparty included Mesdames H. L. Dunkerley, Joe Skillman, Jarvin Brink, Douglas Beene, J. W.

Test Your Own Lighting Quotient

By VIVIAN BROWN
IF THERE IS a flaw in the home decor that has been precisely planned down to the last painting, it is likely to be in the lighting, says Marvin Gelman, half of a team that specializes in giving lighting advice. "Homemakers spend countless hours and thousands of dollars to get the right paint, wood finish, floor coverings and other furnishings. But these fine details will be lost if they are not seen in the proper light," says Gelman.

Colors can become muddy or distorted and patterns and textures of lovely fabrics can be lost if the house is too bright or there is too little flexibility in light levels, he says. Gelman and his partner, Marvin Dworkin, specialize in lighting services for homes, stores and displays and offer this checklist for the amateur decorator who would like to check her lighting quotient:

LIVING ROOM . . . It should be warmly cozy and livable, efficient in terms of activities such as reading, card games, conversation groups, dining areas. Fluorescent light in the living room is likely to be less flattering to people and objects than incandescent light. Opaque shades on lamps can not be counted on to achieve general luminosity as they merely shed light straight upward or downward.

The recessed ceiling type lights may be used for soft, general illumination. "Linear" lighting, in which bulbs are concealed behind decorative cornices or recessed in the ceiling to light one or more walls are especially good where there are pictures or special wall murals. Supplementary fill light—table, floor lamps or fixtures suspended from the ceiling add warmth and sparkle to focal areas of interest.

DINING ROOM . . . Diffused light from wall sconces will not do justice to silver, china, glassware. But avoid a central pool of light over the table in a room of darkness. Wall light is necessary to give proper dimension to the room and join the table light to bring out the true colors and design of flowers and table linens.

KITCHEN . . . Is the lighting up to date? Cool white fluorescent tubes behind glass, plexiglas or plastic will accomplish a high-level of light which is shadowless, and strictly functional.

BEDROOM . . . The reading light. This may be accent small, dim or too far away. Pin spots in the ceiling will focus on reading material with a minimum of disturbing "spill" light for non-readers sharing the room. There should be a soft subdued lighting effect for quiet relaxation in addition to reading light. This may be accomplished with bedside table lamps.

BATHROOM . . . Perimeter lighting around the bathroom mirror will offer visibility for shaving or makeup. It may be accomplished with bulbs or fluorescent tubes. A double light system is a good makeup guide, warm tones used for evening, and bright daylight bulbs for a makeup gauge to the outdoors. An overall diffused lighting

SNOB APPEAL
BALTIMORE (AP) — The real estate man said some of his new houses didn't sell well at all while priced at $11,000 and advertised in a conventional manner. But they were snapped up, he said, when he described them as appropriate for junior executives and jacked up the price to $13,500. He got the idea from a best-selling book on social climbing.
