Slow, Soaking Rains Bog County Harvest Operations

Slow, soaking rains bogged down the 1962 grain sorghum as general rains were reported across the Panhandle beginning Wednesday. No damage is expected to grain still standing in fields.

Rainfall measurements in most sections of the county generally totaled an inch or more.

Official rainfall measurement for Hereford during the period was 1.08 inches.

Wednesday's rainfall is reported to have totaled .78 of an inch with .30 of an inch falling in scattered rain showers Thursday and Friday.

Cool, damp weather, hitting the area, late Tuesday brought to an end ideal weather, but not before much grain had been cut and hauled to elevators.

In the Easter area, it is reported that only five to 10 per cent of the grain is still standing in the few fields left.

Some of the grain in the area, commented a grain elevator manager, will not be ready until after the first frost. It is standing good and little or none is down.

In the Dawn area, it is reported that 70 per cent of the grain sorghum has been cut. However, to the north, it is estimated that combining is complete in only 40 per cent of the fields.

"The harvest was going good until the rains," said elevator operator, "and several farmers have completed combining." A Hereford area elevator employee estimated that 75 per cent of the harvest in the county was complete.

"But, this takes into account the area to the south where most farmers have finished harvesting," he added.

All agreed that the general rains have not as yet hurt milo remaining in the fields. It is estimated that with good weather harvesting operations will resume again late this week.

During what was described as ideal fall harvest weather, grain producers were able to

United Fund Agencies Act In Varied Ways For County

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of three stories on the activities of the eight local agencies included in the Deaf Smith County Fund drive, which currently is underway.)

One of the participating agencies in the United Fund is the Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism. It was the first non-metropolitan council to be organized in the United States. Its sole purpose is to provide information about the disease of alcoholism and how to cope with it.

During the past year, the Council manned an informative booth at the Farm and Home Show of the Harvest Festival. It also paid the tuition of nine local people to attend a statewide meeting in Austin on the problems of alcoholism.

Members of the local council work closely with Hereford doctors, provides a great deal of literature and information to interested groups and individuals. Members of the council give between 20 and 25 programs to various clubs during each year.

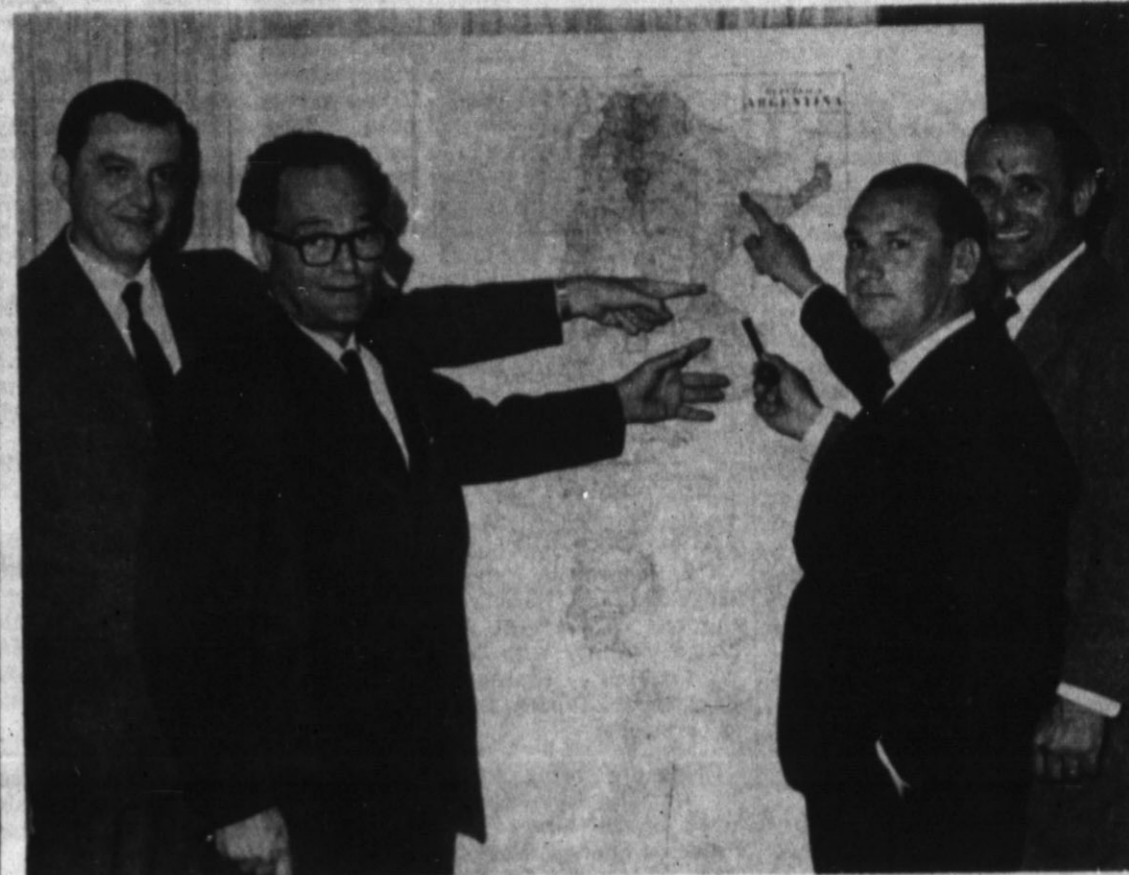

The council also pays the travel and expenses for a nationally-known speaker to come to Hereford during Alcohol Information Week.

Another local United Fund agency is the Salvation Army. Most of its work is with needy transients who do not qualify for state or county welfare. Food, clothing, lodging and transportation are the most frequent requests, with aid given according to need or the applicants' own resources.

Last year, 111 persons were given aid for travel and other associated need. An additional 80 persons were provided needed school supplies, equipment, clothing, drugs or other special needs. Last summer, nine children were sent to Camp Hoblitzelle for a week, while many others were given shoes so they might attend school.

In case of a disaster beyond local means, a Mobile Canteen would be moved in by the Salvation Army from Clovis or Amarillo.

One of their hosts here was George Warner, who visited Argentina and other South American countries 18 months ago boosting Texas seed varieties.

Around Town

One of the most popular occupations this past week (probably because there wasn't a ballgame to talk about) has been discussing what location of a sugar refinery in Hereford really would mean. A great many people are reflecting upon how it would change the town, alter the living conditions and boost the economy. About all we can add is, "Stick around and see for yourself."

Most unofficial, but with at least some foundation is the current rumor that a large canning firm has approached Holly Sugar Company with a request for part of the acreage west of town where Holly expects to locate its new refinery. The canning company, according to rumor, would like to locate a large plant here — and would employ around 450 people.

United Fund president Wayne Thomas and drive chairman Russell Carver report that the campaign is doing very nicely. Drive captains are urged to make reports, even incomplete, by Tuesday afternoon to Dean House at the Hereford State Bank. Thomas reported the following changes in drive captains: Ed Line is heading

1-AAA Conference Takes A Breather

Midway through the season, all District 1-AAA teams took a week off except for one.

Next Friday night, conference battles get underway all over the Panhandle and South Plains as six teams battled for the 1-AAA crown. The powerful Dumas Demons are an odd-on favorite to repeat for the district crown. Returning to the Demons this year were a number of lettermen from last year's state championship team. The 1962 edition of Demons is even larger and better balanced than last year.

That leaves the rest of the teams battling to knock off the favorite and trying to end the season as high as possible in the standings.

Perryton Rangers, new entry in the conference, is the only undefeated team in the loop, but many feel its opponents have been slightly weaker than those played by the other teams. The Rangers, however, will be out to prove they can play ball in the same league.

The other four teams in the loop have looked like yo-yos — up one week, down the next.

Hereford will open district play on Friday night in Phillips, against the tough Blackhawk.

The Whitefaces, with a 2-3 non-conference record, have lost three games to AA schools — Canyon, Dimmitt and Muleshoe — while beating an impotent AAAA Plainview team and upsetting seventh ranked Lamesa, a AAA powerhouse.

Junior fullback Jim Hancy is leading the team in rushing with 483 net yards in 89 carries for a 4.9 average. Senior halfback Arnold Powell has carried 82 times for 398 yards at a 4.7 average. Senior halfback Austin Hodges has carried 22 times for a

Special Session On Airport Lease Set For Monday

A special session of Hereford City Commission is to be held here Monday as commissioners meet with representatives of B and O Spray Service to discuss details of a proposed airport leasing contract.

The meeting was set at a regular session held last Monday as Dudley Bayne, city manager, told commissioners of the proposal made by the firm.

Also to sit in on the special meeting are members of the Airport Advisory Board Morris Easley, Hilrey Aven, and Lloyd

Need More Men For 'Messiah' Choir Program

A plea went out for more men here this week.

Men are needed for the Hereford Oratorio Choir, according to director Don Moore. The choir, comprised of individuals from throughout the county, is currently rehearsing for its presentation of excerpts from Handel's "Messiah."

At the present time, there are some 80 members of the choir and progress on the program is termed "excellent". However, director Moore stated that more vocalists, especially men, are needed. Those in charge of the choir hope to have at least 100 members for the presentations.

The choir will appear in the community Thanksgiving program here, and will present a

Band Competes At UIL Marching Event Thursday

Hereford High School's Big Domino Band competes in the University Interscholastic League marching contest to be held Tuesday in the West Texas as Bowl. The Hereford Band marches at 1 p. m. in the contest.

It will be the first of three League-sponsored contests which the band will enter this year. Bands compete for ratings of "I", "II", "III", and "IV" at the contest.

Director Ben Golehom declares that the Big Domino group will be "going after a I" in the contest.

Bands are rated on appearance, marching, and playing. Also competing in class AAA bands are Perryton, Phillips, and Dumas, as well as Hereford.

Last year the band received a first division award in both the marching and inspection at the contest.

Argentineans And Japanese View County Seeds, Feeds

Seeds and feeds in Deaf Smith County got close scrutiny from foreign visitors last week. Two different tours brought in a group of four Argentineans, interested in improved seeds, and a group of two Japanese, interested in local utilization of feed grains.

Arriving in Hereford Wednesday evening were: Dario Bignoli, Hugo Maldonado, Victor Spaggi and Enrique Pujals from the Argentine. They were honored at a dinner that evening in the home of George Warner, who made a similar trip to South America 18 months ago.

Thursday they toured Miller Seed Co., Scott Seed Co. and WAC Seed Co., then saw improved pasture grasses at the Howard Gault and Son ranch, plus commercial production of improved seeds at the George Warner farm.

Part of the tour was enhanced by a trip in a wagon, pulled by a tractor, as muddy roads threatened to stall the tour.

Call 25 Jurors In County Court Session Tuesday

Twenty-five Deaf Smith County residents are to report for jury service as the October term of County Court, Judge H. C. Williams presiding, opens at 10 a. m. Tuesday, Oct. 22.

Those named to report at County Court are Mrs. Leo Forrest, Elmo Fortenberry, J. D. Gilbert Jr., Gerald Hamby, Mrs. H. L. Hershey, Mrs. Raymond Higginbotham, Mrs. George Jowell;

Reavis Kerr, Ed Lemons, James A. McAndrews, Albert

Accompanying the group was Othel M. Neeley of Waco, executive vice president of the Texas Certified Seeds Producers, Inc., and Dr. James Bolster of Washington, D. C., representing the Foreign Agriculture Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Bignoli, from Buenos Aires, is head of "Operation Bee", a cooperative effort between the governments of Argentina and the United States for beef improvement. Maldonado, from Resistencia, is professor of pastures at Northwest University in Corrientes; Spaggi, from Rosario, and Pujals, from Pergamino, are seed producers and distributors.

Thursday evening, the group was honored at a dinner at the Hereford Country Club.

Addressing the group, Warner said, "In this day of a shrinking world, I feel that one of

Elmer Patterson Retires From Post Office Work

After getting by on $30 a month in the '20's, weathering the dusts of the '30's, watching Hereford grow into a city in the '40's, and surviving 38 annual Christmas rushes, Elmer Patterson retired from the office of assistant postmaster here this month.

Patterson began working at the Hereford Post Office back in the days when postal employees could call the name of every Hereford resident, and a letter cost only two cents to mail. The penny post card was also in style in March of 1923 when he became an assistant mail clerk.

Retiring officially on Oct. 1, Patterson was honored at a testimonial dinner held Saturday evening. Some 40 post office employees, their wives, and other friends were on hand to bid Patterson a happy retirement.

During the dinner, postmaster Noland Grady presented a plaque to Patterson honoring his more than 38 years of post office service. Another plaque was presented by Billy Hutson, who replaced Patterson as assistant postmaster.

During the retirement dinner, it was pointed out that the old slogan "The mail must go through" was upheld by Patterson.

In a citation issued by Postmaster General J. Edward Day, Patterson was commended for accumulating a total of 3,000 unused hours of sick leave.

Commenting on the citation, Patterson stated "I worked when there was a job to be done."

Starting as a sub-clerk, Patterson served in various capacities at the post office until being named assistant postmaster in 1940.

"During the time I worked at the post office, I was able to meet many people that I would not have had the chance to know otherwise. It has been an honor and a privilege to serve the community," Patterson stated.

"At the post office I had the opportunity to witness the growth of Hereford in a first hand manner. By looking at the CONSTRUCTION OF THE new addition to Hereford High School got underway here last week as the area behind the school was graded and holes were bored for the concrete foundation. The addition at the

Young Homemakers Study Decorating

Texas Young Homemakers of America met Oct. 16 at 7:30 p.m. in the Home Economics Department of the High School with Mrs. George Zetsche, president, presiding over the meeting.

Mrs. David Brumley presented to the group a program on Interior Decorating. She stated, "Design to suit your taste and your own individual needs. Decorating is a personal art and you need a good imagination. Color is your most important factor, choosing colors that please you and your family."

Mrs. Brumley, went on to say, "Walls should be of one color so that colors in fabrics and furniture blend in better. Use scatter rugs to separate if carpeting can not be used. These scatter rugs can be most eye catching."

"Your bath should be attractive and cheerful. The kitchen should be the most cheerful room in the house. If it is necessary for more than one child to share a room many types of material can be used for room dividers," she pointed out.

Attending the meeting were: Mesdames Larry Dobbs, James Dobbs, Clark Andrews, Layton Sawyer, Kenneth DeHart, Bob Hicks, Jess Robinson, Elmo Fortenberry, J. J. Durham, Howard Hunter, George Zetsche and David Brumley.

SISTER VISITS

Mrs. Leon Etchison of Muncie, Ind., long time friend to Mrs. Cawthon Bryant, spent several days visiting in the Bryant home. She flew home on Wednesday.

MONA'S COFFEE BREAK

What'll Induce A Dirty Boy To Clean Up? Love!!

By Mona Jette
For years, my son had been just like any other normal, dirty-faced little boy; loud-mouthed and rambunctious in particular and a holy terror in general.

Then, practically overnight, there was a miraculous change. No longer did he rush off to school dressed like he had been dredging the bottom of a missionary barrel. He became personick about his snirts and trousers and even learned to use a nail file. His burr haircut was plastered against his square head with, unmistakably, that "greasy kid stuff."

My first thought was he had gotten a head injury in those bloodthirsty games of football

Does Select First Officers

The Benevolent, Patriotic Order of the Does, Hereford Drove Number 176, met at the Elks Lodge recently with Mrs. Joe W. Cook Jr., Supreme First Counselor, Lubbock Drove No. 92, presiding.

Plans are being formulated for a public installation of officers of the newly instituted Drove on Sunday, Nov. 4. Irene Cook, Supreme Deputy, and Lubbock Drove No. 92, will perform the Installation Rituals.

Elected officers to be installed are: Mrs. Carl Hollingsworth, President; Mrs. Richard Clark, 1st Counselor; Mrs. Billie Miller, Senior Counselor; Mrs. Neil Young, Junior Counselor; Mrs. W. B. Finley, Secretary; Mrs. Delbert Bainum, Treasurer; Mrs. Ray Smith, Inner Guard; Mrs. K. C. Kelly, Outer Guard.

Mrs. Ralph McCullough, three year Trustee; Mrs. Joe Kendall, two year Trustee; Mrs. V. D. Powell, one year Trustee; Mrs. John B. Cooper, Conductor; Mrs. Henry Turner, Assistant Conductor; Mrs. Cecil Coker, Musician; Mrs. Robert Miller, Assistant Musician; Mrs. C. D. Keltom, Chaplain; Mrs. Jack Mitchell, Mrs. John Schieder, Mrs. Howard Gore, and Mrs. Bobby Riddle, Color Bearers; Mrs. Earl Evans, Mrs. Leonard Haney, Mrs. Bud Hopson and Mrs. Bill Kendall, Attendants.

held in the back yard. He wasn't old enough to be pledging a fraternity, so that was out. He already possessed his age group's status symbol, the bicycle. I should have blessed my lucky stars and let well enough alone; but if I knew anyone, I knew Lil' Paul, and he was definitely sick.

Several days after this mysterious transfiguration, I drove to the school to pick up the children. Each classroom was led out the front doors by the teacher, who stood at the door until all the students were on their way home. I couldn't figure out why the teachers stood there; whether they were so glad to get rid of the little monsters they couldn't really believe they were gone or to prevent murder as the kids scrambled over one another in their rush to get outside.

My son came running over to the car and yelled: "Hey, Mamma! Look at my teacher!" I looked over at the door and saw a petite brunette with big blue eyes. She didn't look much older than the children she taught.

"Her name is Mrs. _____ and her husband is an assistant sumptin' and she has a baby and I'm gonna marry her when I grow up!"

This statement, spoken in one breath, was punctuated with a sound made by pursing the lips and emitting an ageless expression of admiration, commonly called the wolf whistle. That was the way the big mystery was solved. Sick, my foot! Lil' Paul was in love!

I couldn't help thinking: "Just wait until all the daddies get a load of this." Northwest's PTA will probably do a booming business this year. There's nothing like a Mrs. Blankenship to improve a parent-teacher relationship. (And from the way my son has been acting lately, it was working pretty well in the teacher-student department.)

Several Saturdays later, I drove downtown to pick up my son and several cohorts, who had taken in a movie. As the boys chattered among each other in the back seat, I turned my head and casually asked, "Do you boys still like your teacher?"

Mrs. Louis Woodford. Attending the coffee were some 60 women. It was given by supporters and friends of Walter Rogers, representative of the 18th Congressional District. (Staff Photo)

One towheaded little friend smiled from ear to ear (or should I say leered?) and answered: "Yes, Ma'am. She's a real dish!" (And this child is the son of a PREACHER!) My son had to get his two cents worth in. "Boy, is she pretty! And she has a perfect figure, too."

With this remark, he gave me a sheepish look and added, "But not as good as yours."

Well! It looks as tho' I'm raising a diplomat. But on second thought, he had made first compromise with life. He is extra fond of my pumpkin pie, and he just realized that sometimes good food is just as desirable as good grades. None the less, I was flattered, even if the little stinker had become an accomplished liar.

When the school pictures were handed out, the adored teacher gave each of her students a little colored snapshot of herself. Lil' Paul promptly gave it the place of honor on his dresser, propped against his battered football helmet. Every time he walks by the shrine, he stops and views the now wrinkled snapshot with reverence and lets out a lovesick sig.

This has been going on for weeks. And from the scuttlebutt I can gather from the groups of children who have a runaway through my kitchen (Ours is the 25 Mile Avenue Refueling Station), it may go on forever. My one consolation is that my son is not the only one afflicted with this dreaded disease, seemingly contagious. I also understand she receives any number of love letters daily and practically bushels of red, highly polished apples.

But this is one love affair I won't worry about. Look what it's accomplished. Anyone who can encourage that filthy little ragamuffin of mine to stick a toe in the bathtub is bound to be an angel from heaven. She accomplished with one smile what I haven't been able to do in eight years.

Last night at the dinner table the kids were tossing their usual verbal insults at each other and someone brought up the name of Kathy. Lil' Paul gave me a sneaky, sideways glance and turned brick red.

Uh - oh! Grab your hats, folks, here we go again. And to think that I have years of this ahead of me. Guess I might as well start reading

"Dear Abby" and start praying a little harder.

But that still doesn't stop me from wondering. Just who in the world is Kathy?

We know the things you've heard said about Walter; we are also familiar with his record — and his unselfish service to the people of this district, which is one of the few in the United States where the Congressman has consistently "voted for the interests and wishes" of the people he represents . . . regardless of pressure and party affiliations. ## Mrs. Wiley Roberson Given Big Surprise By Her Club

Mrs. Wiley Roberson was hostess to the La Afflatus Estudio Club Oct. 16 at 3:00 p. m. Thirteen members answered roll call on a religious experience.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Emmitt Hale, and then turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. Gordon Elliott, Mrs. B. R. Reddell and Mrs. Hap Higgins, presented a program built around the TV program "What Is My Line."

Four members of the club made up the panel: Mrs. A. N. Hopson, Mrs. Wiley Roberson, Mrs. Emmitt Hale and Mrs. Hap Higgins. Other members present were the contestants.

Each member had been asked to bring a gift to be awarded a prize. Mrs. Wiley Roberson was the lucky member and won all the gifts.

Mrs. George Suggs was the last contestant and she reversed the plan. She asked the panel questions dealing with the club and its organization leading up to the presentation of a plaque and life membership to Mrs. Wiley Roberson.

It was noted that the club was organized in the same house that Mrs. Roberson now lives in. She was the moderator when the club was organized in Jan. 1931. A very devoted club member throughout the years and an unusual good record in attendance led up to her being chosen for these honors.

Those sharing in the pleasure of presenting this to Mrs. Roberson were: Mesdames C. E. Beauford, A. H. Cook, Gordon Elliott, Emmitt Hale, A. N. Hopson, Hap Higgins, Jo Johnson, B. F. Markham, B. R. Reddell, Wiley Roberson, Jerry Robinson, George Suggs, and Leroy Suttle.

Those attending were: Mesdames John Jacobsen Jr., Lefty Thomas, Eugene Noel, Steve Clements, Esther Springer, H. H. Miller, J. V. Perrin, Bill Dameron, Corrine Neely, Miss Della Stagner, James Ellis Higgins, Oliver Streu and Bill Hardwick.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Quattlebaum packed a lot of interest into a trip last weekend. They attended the Texas - Oklahoma football game at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, drove to Fort Worth that evening for the TCU-Texas Tech football game, then saw the annual Prison Rodeo at Huntsville the next afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Rube Bullard recently moved to Denton, while Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Shaw and children have moved to Amarillo.

Thomas stated that the sessions will differ from soil fertility meetings previously sponsored by the extension service. Subject matter will be covered in greater detail.

Subject for the first meeting is to be nitrogen and its function in plant growth. Second meeting of the series will be a discussion on phosphorus and potassium.

The final program will include a dinner and presentation of diplomas.

Sponsoring the series will be the Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Plant Food Educational Society.

Each member is to bring a guest. The public is invited.

Jimmy Brown, the Cleveland Browns' star ball carrier, threw three passes during the 1961 season. He completed one for 37 yards and a touchdown.

Your Red Cross In Action

By Ramona Noel

Many activities have been happening this month centering around our Red Cross here in Hereford.

Three representatives from this county attended the Panhandle Association of Red Cross Chapters in Amarillo the last part of September. The themes of the meeting were "Aid to the Veteran" and "Public Relations." Those attending were Mrs. H. H. Miller, Mrs. A. T. Frye and Mrs. Corrine Neely.

Nickie Dameron and Margaret London are our newly trained Volunteers chairman and co-chairman respectively.

When Nickie was asked to accept this place she replied, "I believe in the volunteer work of the Red Cross." Both of them have done volunteer work in Red Cross before.

L'Allegria Study Club has begun a Standard First Aid course and plan to continue on to the Advanced First Aid on completing the first course. The first four hours of the 12-hour course have covered several phases of first aid on film. These are some of the best film that many of us had ever had the opportunity of viewing. From this class, after completing both courses, there are hopes that we will get a large number to continue and get their instructors certificate. In this area we are short on instructors of first aid and feel that many more will go on to get their instructors when a group this large is taking the course.

Mrs. Corrine Neely and several First Aid instructors have been giving programs to Home Demonstration Clubs on "Unconsciousness" under their Civil Defense heading. Other clubs have had nurses and other capable people presenting the program.

Mrs. J. J. Durham, new instructor for "Aid to the Sick and Injured," began three classes in High School Home Makers Classes the middle of October. She plans to have three more in the spring. This has not been taught in the school for a few years and we're glad to have it back. Mrs. Esther Springer teaches "Mother and Baby Care" classes for Red Cross in the same work with Mrs. Durham.

A large group turned out for the Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter Board of Directing at the First National Bank. It was the first of a series on Public Relations for Red Cross, a national and local theme this year.

For those that might be interested, a story was carried in the September Readers' Digest about Hurricane Carla. There are several mentions in the article in which Red Cross played an important part. See you in the newspaper!

Recharge Well Experiments Are Told At Meeting

Hereford Young Farmers met in the Vocational Agriculture Building Oct. 16 at 7:30 p. m. with Charles Frye presiding over the meeting.

Jim Valliant of Plainview presented the program on water conservation through recharging wells. Valliant is in water conservation research at Halfway Experiment Station. He pointed out that at the present rate of pumping water on the High Plains that there will not be a drop of water left in 32 years.

He also stated, "One tenth of an inch out of every 20 inches of rain fall gets back into our underground supply. This is nothing to compare with what we are pumping out. If every lake on the high plains had a lake pump or a recharge well and each one of us would practice good conservation practices our water would last much longer."

During the business meeting a report was made that over half of the money to pay for the protein analyzer had been raised.

Twenty members were present for the meeting with two guests.

ATTENDS MEET

Kendall Williams, business manager of the Hereford public school system, was in Dallas Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday to attend the National Association of School Business Officials convention.

Autumn Weather Aiding Farmers

By Mrs. S. N. Thweatt
Farmers were taking advantage of pretty fall weather early last week. Those with maize were out harvesting, while others are away from home harvesting for other farmers.

Some are cutting weeds and others are binding bundles. The wheat is almost all sowed, and that planted early is up and looking good. The wheat needed the top moisture that came with rains last week.

Harold Bass delivered cattle last week. The buyer is Guy Flert, who was purchasing for feed lots outside the county.

Mrs. Josie Busby, mother of Mrs. Bruce Coleman, now is at her home at 2610 41st St. in Lubbock.

James Ray Coleman flew Bruce Coleman and two other men to Kingsville recently. Davie Sorrells and Charles Bass rode in the Play Day event for Riders Clubs at Lubbock two weeks ago.

Mrs. Elton Sorrells, Mrs. Bill White and Mrs. Eldred Brown visited Mrs. S. N. Thweatt Saturday morning. Mrs. Thweatt had just returned home after spending five days in an Amarillo hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ray Coleman and sons, Teddy, Rex and Joe, of Amarillo were guests in the home of Mrs. Ruth Coleman on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Doc Thweatt, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Cloud, Mr. and Mrs. Bus Thweatt and Mrs. James Ray Coleman, all of Amarillo, visited Mrs. Thweatt while she was in the hospital.

Mrs. Ernest Brown suffered an ankle injury Saturday morning and was taken to Hereford for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Sorrells, Davie, Linda and Debbie were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Brown visited later in the evening.

Tom DeShazo took about 20 boys on an all-night camping trip Saturday night. They camped on the Duggan Ranch near the Sims community. They fished and cooked hamburgers.

Walcott PTO met Friday at 8 p. m. Thomas Collins' room presented the program and Charles Duvall of Hereford spoke on Physical Fitness. Miss Paula Green's and Mrs. Thomas Collins' classes came to Hereford last week to ride the Hereford fire truck and to tour the Hereford Bakery. Mrs. C. W. King of Rosedale, N. M., Mrs. Eldred Brown and Mrs. Floyd Brown were in Amarillo Thursday.

Texas Election Outline Given For Wyche Meet

Wyche Home Demonstration Club met Oct. 18 at 2:30 p. m. in the Friendship Room of the First National Bank with Mrs. E. C. Hewitt serving as hostess.

Mrs. H. L. Ward, vice-president, called the meeting to order. The club collect and minutes of the last meeting were read.

Mrs. H. R. Short introduced the speaker, Mrs. C. F. Newsom, Citizenship Demonstrator, who presented the program on the Texas Election Code.

Mrs. Newsom gave voting qualifications, explained exemption eligibility and absentee voting. She also said, "If you wish

Mrs. Kovacs Tells Experiences Under Communist Regime

Ford 4-H Club held its citizenship meeting at the Community Center on Columbus Day, Oct. 12.

Joyce Bezner, president of the club, presided over the meeting. Singing was led by Diana Hickman and Janice Galley. Marty Childress was the ritual leader.

Mrs. Ludwig Kovacs, guest speaker, told the group about schools and life in Yugoslavia before the coming of the Communists and of the great changes in their way of life under Communism.

Mrs. Kovacs continued, "When the Russian refugees came into Yugoslavia the people had to leave all their possessions behind. I could not imagine such a thing, but later had to do the same thing in order to get away from the Communists."

After the program was over Mrs. Kovacs answered many questions asked by the group. Joel Williamson expressed the club's thanks to Mrs. Kovacs and presented her with a cake.

Members present were: Joyce and Tommy Bezner, Gloria and Juanita Salinas, Janice Galley, Diana Hickman, Cathy Crist, Joel, Kim and Lisa Williamson, and Marty Childress.

Guests present were: Mrs. Robert Hickman, Becky and Susie, Mrs. Clarence Hicks, Gary, David and Deenie.

Adult leaders were: Mrs. A. J. Bezner and Mrs. L. K. Williamson.

Club will hold its next meeting on Friday, Oct. 26.

Dr. Abner McCall, president of Baylor, was quoted as saying, "The Amendment has drawn strong opposition from city and county officials, school authorities, attorneys and many others, particularly in rural areas."

She quoted the Texas Election Law which requires that in addition to ballots defectively printed, all defaced and mutilated ballots and all ballots that have not been used be deposited in ballot box number 4.

In conclusion Mrs. Newsom advised the group to learn all they can about candidates and amendments before Nov. 6.

Those attending the meeting were: Mesdames H. L. Ward, H. R. Short, Norman Hodges, L. B. Worthan, C. F. Newsom and hostess, Mrs. E. C. Hewitt.

Basket Luncheon Held At Church

By Mrs. Owen Andrews

Following church services Sunday, the congregation had a basket luncheon. It was the final day of a Layman's Revival, which was concluded with the evening services. Leon Hockett of Rails was guest speaker and Bill Skipper of Abernathy led the singing.

In the afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Parris, Mr. and Mrs. David Yandell, Mr. Lloyd Henry Dobbs, Mrs. Lloyd Shultz, Jana Cole and Carol Robbins went to the Hereford Good Will Center to help with the afternoon program for Latin-Americans.

The Rev. B. H. Baldwin, Edgar Vinson and Mrs. Jack Rogers met with a committee at the First Baptist Church in Hereford recently to discuss plans for the center. It was agreed to enlarge the kindergarten enrollment from 15 to 25 students.

Mrs. Jack Rogers and Mrs. B. H. Baldwin attended a District WMU meeting in Littlefield on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Andrews helped the Alvin Smiths move into their new home in Hereford last Thursday evening. The next night they helped Veradelle Andrews move into the house vacated by the Smiths.

Mr. and Mrs. David Yandell, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Robinson and Staci were in Amarillo on Thursday.

Jimmy Barber of Texas Tech was home visiting his parents, the Harlan Barbers, last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Andrews are building a new, three-bedroom brick house a quarter mile north of Friso Baptist Church. Clark's parents, the Owen Andrews, are building a new home about two and a half miles further north.

From three-quarters to an inch of rain fell in the community on Wednesday. All of it was soaked up as it fell. A few farmers already have completed maize harvest and the wheat will benefit from the moisture.

Arthur Betts and Mark Shadden went to Colorado last week on a hunting trip, expecting to be gone several days.

Harlan Barber left Thursday with his brother-in-law, James Bullard, and Sammy Yates, both of Lenora, for a hunting trip in Colorado.

Mrs. Barber and Virgil are planning to spend the weekend in Lenora with Mrs. James Bullard and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Dobbins and Mrs. Joe Scott are visiting relatives in Searcy, Ark., and that vicinity this week.

Friso Home Makers Club plans to visit an antique show in Lubbock on Tuesday, Oct. 23. Mrs. Carlton Dobbins is in charge of arrangements for the trip.

Edgar Vinson has been spending a lot of time in Monahans, where his father, S. D. Vinson, is hospitalized.

MRS. BILLY DIRKS nee Patricia Skypala

Skypala - Dirks Wedding Read

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Skypala of 510 McKinley announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Patricia Irene, to Billy Gene Dirks, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Dirks of Route 2.

Ceremony was read Oct. 11 at Farwell by the Reverend Tomlinson, minister of the First Methodist Church. Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Shelton were the couples only attendants.

After a short honeymoon to New Mexico the couple are at home at 903 Union Street.

The groom graduated with the '60 class from Hereford High School and will be employed with his father at the Dirks Drilling Co.

Omitted from the guest list at the R. M. Gunn birthday celebration recently were John Taylor of Olton, Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Kelly, Hereford, and Mrs. Roy Landers, who was one of the hostesses. Of the three cousins present at the dinner, Mr. Jim Madole of Clovis, N. M., and R. M. Gunn have reached the 87-year mark. John Taylor will be 87 in February. Mr. Taylor's five daughters were all present for the occasion including Mrs. R. J. Caviness, Mrs. R. W. Ball, Mrs. Gene Mitchell, and Mrs. Ansel Miller, all of Olton, and Mrs. Eddie Vaughn of Grand Prairie.

Gunn says he was born in Missouri in Morgan County, close to Barnett. When they moved to Oklahoma, they moved in four wagons. Near Joplin, Mo., the steam from a pipe ejecting from a mine frightened Gunn's team of mules and they ran away. He couldn't hold them so let them run. They skirted the road around town and eventually rejoined the "train." Speaking of wages in those days, he says $2.50 was considered good pay for a day's work with horses or mules.

Guy Lawrence went to Detroit, Mich., last week to attend a AA meeting. While he was gone Mrs. Lawrence visited her daughter Mrs. Forrest Ricketts and family at Tulsa. Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts are operating a printing shop in Tulsa.

John David Bryant, Cawthon Bryant and his mother Mrs. D. H. Bryant attended the funeral of the Rev. Lester Taylor at Rule last Friday morning. Rev. Taylor was pastor of the First Methodist Church at Rule. His wife is the former Sara Agnes Bryant.

Mrs. Leon Etchison of Muncie, Ind., spent the weekend here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cawthon Bryant. Mrs. Etchison and Mrs. Bryant were school friends when they attended school at Ralls. On Sunday night the Bryants and their guest were visitors in the Merlin Kaul home at Westway.

Mrs. Sam Steele and her daughter, Mrs. Bob West of Ft. Sumner, N. M., Mrs. Fay Brown along with several others from Dalhart attended the meeting at the First Christian Church Tuesday night when Mrs. Genevieve Parkhurst of Woodward, Okla., was the featured speaker.

Rural women who attended the Rural Homemakers Day, sponsored by the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce in Amarillo Thursday included Mesdames T. J. Parsons, Bess Werner, H.L. Hershey, E.C. Hammett, Norma Jolly, Doris Burgess, Jessie Lee Fuller, Ruth Gandy Alice Gilliland, Ruth DeHart, Alice Rudd, Neil Hodges, Bell Williams, I. H. Smith, Lucille Olson, Mable Vaughn, Betty Olson, Louise Packard, Wilma Bryon, and S. D. Love.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Steele of Ft. Sumner, N. M. were visiting relatives here last weekend. They were guests in the home of his sister, Mrs. J. C. McCracken, and on Friday Steele flew to Chicago where he was a delegate to the Methodist Church to the National Laymen's Conference. Mrs. Steele visited her sisters, Mrs. Cliff Estes and Mrs. J. T. Gilbreath, until he returned on Sunday. This week the daughter of the Steeles, Mrs. Bob West and her family, are en route to Chicago to the Conference having been elected Methodist family of the Year from their district. They stopped at the McCracken home here en route.

Mrs. George Turrentine and daughters Janice, Carol, and Patti went by train to Dallas

AT KIWANIS CLUB

Speaker Outlines Danger Of Atomic Attack, Fallout

A Lubbock attorney, Kenneth Hobbs, speaking at the noon meeting of Hereford Kiwanis Club on radiation protection, told club members that a person can adequately protect himself from the dangers of fallout from an atomic blast.

The speaker, in his opening remarks, pointed out that 17 years ago a B-29 bomber on a mission over Japan in World War II began a new era by dropping the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima.

"In 17 years since the first use of the atomic bomb," he commented, "we have developed an almost perfect delivery system—the intercontinental ballistic missile."

He also pointed out that since the advent of the long-range bomber and the ballistic missile the United States has "ceased to become a nation that can repel with impunity" an attack.

As he spoke, he classified the four types of writers and speakers who describe the destruction and after-effects of an atomic attack.

The first group he labeled as the "Lady Macbeth Scientists"—those who helped in the construction of the atomic bomb.

These are the men who predict doomdays in an atomic war, he commented.

The next group he described as the "Better Red Than Dead Club"—a highly emotional group which "ignores the practical political fact that any nation that defends itself can survive."

A third group he labeled the "Sunshine Group" and commented that they ignore some of the basic facts concerning nuclear explosions and radioactive fallout.

The fourth group writing and speaking on nuclear war, he continued, are the realists who try to present all of the facts.

"Neither the United States nor Russia will start an atomic war," commented Hobbs. "However, such a war could be started by a situation like Cuba or by accident."

The Air Force says, the Lubbock attorney stated, that accidents are unlikely, but there have been five which have nearly caused a war.

"Surprise attacks are highly unlikely with the vast array of warning radar. Intelligence agents would also report troop movements, the canceling of leaves for military personnel and the calling up of reserves."

"But, a mistake could come with drastic suddenness," he warned.

As yet, no defense has been perfected to stop the ICBM, he continued. The Air Force predicts that only 40 per cent of enemy missiles and manned aircraft would be destroyed before they reach their targets.

Hobbs pointed out that major targets for the initial attack on this country would be major military bases, industrial complexes, and population centers with military value.

Most of those killed during the first day, he stated, would die from blast and heat effects.

"Losses would be so great in such a war there would be no winner," commented Hobbs. "However, we would not go back to the Stone Age as some have predicted."

"We would go backwards 50-70 years. Wages would be lower and you would have to work harder and longer hours for less pay. Times would be hard."

During his speech Hobbs commented on the devastation a 10-megaton bomb would cause if it hit Lubbock as well as the danger of radioactive fallout in the Panhandle if other area cities were attacked.

He pointed out that this area would be endangered if an atomic explosion were detonated at Roswell since prevailing high altitude winds blow from west to east across the area.

Winds at 70,000 to 90,000 feet would spread a cigar-shaped, radioactive cloud over the area in about two hours, he told the group.

"Radioactivity in the cloud would be 3000 roentgens—enough to kill except those who are protected by a deep shelter," Hobbs commented.

He pointed out that radiation sickness from fallout is caused by gamma radiation. It goes into the bone marrow and attacks the blood.

Radiation sickness is something that a person does not take a pill and is through with, he told the group, but a cumulative effect.

A dose of 100 roentgens is not fatal; up to 400 causes sickness; from 400-600, one-third of the people die; up to 900, the death rate is 75 per cent, and over 1000 is a lethal dose, he stated.

"I am not trying to minimize the problem," he said. "For 180 years the men of this country have gone out to defend this country. This time all will be affected."

"The only real hope we have is that man's mind which invented the atomic bomb will find a way back to God and his love," he concluded.

acting as case worker for investigation. Four local men serve on the committee which helps decide when and how much aid should be given.

Red Cross activities in the county are many and varied. Best known of these probably is the water safety program. Of the 15 qualified instructors in the chapter, nine of them taught more than 400 persons, with more than 60 per cent earning some type of certificate. Ten others are ready to become instructors.

More than 300 students in Stanton Junior High took Junior First Aid instruction in physical education courses and 18 nurses' aides at the hospital took the Standard First Aid course. This group plans to take the advance course this winter. One study club now is taking first aid courses.

Nursing Services is another part of Red Cross, with two instructors teaching "Mother and Baby Care" and "Aid to the Sick and Injured" in the home-making department of the high school. These classes also are taught to adults in the summer.

The home service and disaster service is a mandatory operation of the chapter, although much of this work is confidential. Locally, assistance was given to 42 servicemen and/or their families, 12 veterans and/or their families, and some 200 civilians. Victims of two fires were aided last year, but this total already is up to more than 40 persons aided from two fires this year.

Twelve uniformed Gray Ladies head up the volunteer services. This group provides service at the Amarillo Air Base hospital and the Retraining Unit. It also aids local invalids and soon will help at King's Manor retirement home. A Motor Corps has been organized for six years, with a second group being trained at Dawn. growth of the post office it is easy to show the growth of Hereford.

"When I started work there were two clerks and one sub-clerk. There were no city carriers, and only one rural carrier. That route was 35 miles long.
"Now there are a postmaster, an assistant, a mail foreman, four clerks, three sub-clerks, four city carriers, one part-time carrier, four sub-carriers five rural route carriers and a parcel post delivery man — and we still get behind at times," he pointed out.

Always active in community life, Patterson recalls that Hereford was one of two towns in the Panhandle which did not show a decrease in population during the period when the area was called "The Dust Bowl."
Patterson and others worked at a booth in the Dallas State Fair for many years, advertising the county's agricultural attractions. There he showed movies he had made here.

"It was a trying period," he recalled. "It was really hard on the postmen." Patterson recalls trying to deliver the mail when the dust was so thick that he couldn't look down and see his own feet. "Hereford more than doubled between 1940 and 1950, and then increased its size about half again from 1950 to 1960," he pointed out.

"When I started work at the post office, it was easy to call the names of almost everyone who lived in Hereford. But now it is a far different story.

Patterson is also active in church work, and now serves as an elder in the Church of Christ. Along with his wife, he has taught classes for many years.

He and his wife have raised three children here. Two are married and another attends college. He is proud to say he has four grandchildren.

As assistant postmaster, Patterson has been largely responsible for supervising mail operations for the city. Often he left the office to deliver mail for carriers who were unable to be on the job. He was able to perform the duties of all post office personnel, and knows all mail routes.

Commenting on his work at the post office, he stated, "I never asked anyone to do a job that I would not do myself."

However, the ideal weather for grain sorghum has held up cotton stripping in the county since a frost is needed to kill plant foliage.

A gin operator commented Saturday, "A freeze is needed to kill leaves on the plants. Stripping of the crop will begin the following week."

The crop looks good and to the south it is as good as last year, he continued. But, to the north, heavy hailstorms during the early part of the summer held back cotton and reduced production.

Motorists Urged To Get Vehicles Inspected Early

Owners of automobiles, pickups and trucks are being encouraged to get their state vehicle safety inspection sticker now to avoid an inevitable last minute rush.

The six and a half month safety inspection period opened in the state on Sept. 1 and closes on April 15, 1963.

Since the period is so long, stated Sgt. Bill Wells, area supervisor, no allowances are made for bad weather.
"Inspections cannot be made when the streets are wet," he pointed out. "From now until April 15, we in the Panhandle usually have a seige of bad weather which eliminates many days."

He also commented that this is the "ideal time of the year to have a motor vehicle inspection since the owner will know it is safe for winter driving conditions."

Another reason why the Department of Public Safety is urging early inspection, he said, is that many vehicles are out of state at the deadline.

"Inspections are made only at certified garages, which include most authorized automobile dealers and major garages," he concluded.

Football coaches and members of the Hereford Booster Club have been giving high school principal L. B. Russell a hard time this week. It seems that they think he's a "doubting Thomas". Russell, along with junior high principal W. C. Quattlebaum, went to a convention in Houston last weekend, and was unable to attend the Hereford-Lamesa football game. Curious as to the outcome of the game, he bought a Houston paper. After he saw the score, he went out and bought another paper. Reluctantly, he admits he thought there might have been a typographical error. As you recall, Hereford upset Lamesa 27 - 14.

Russell, however, shrugs it off. He thinks he has a larger problem on his hand. Construction has fenced off a major part of the high school parking lot and a place to put student cars has become quite a headache.

We also hear that construction of the new First Christian Church sanctuary has hit a snag. Walter Wertz of Amarillo had a crew digging foundation pier holes. They hit the remains of an old prairie dog town and it has given them fits. For some reason, they just won't do what seems to be most logical and just pour concrete down the pier holes until all the underground tunnels are filled.

Miss Roberson Performs With A Capella Choir

Sandra Roberson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeWard Roberson, 402 Union, will perform with the Baylor A Capella Choir in the Cotton Bowl on Sunday.

Miss Roberson is a junior at Baylor University and sings soprano with the choir.

The choir, under the direction of Dr. Euell Porter, will be providing the religious music portion of the initial meeting of the "Youth For Their Country and Lord" movement to be held in the Cotton Bowl.

Three numbers, "Psalm 100" by Schuz; "Almighty God of Our Fathers", by Will James, and "Canticle of Joy" by Shure, will be presented by the A Capella choir.

Hereford JayCees are working hard to collect 45,000 pounds of grain locally for Boys Ranch. Pledge cards are available at local elevators and club members also have the cards. The drive is to end Dec. 9, after which the club will truck the grain to Tascosa for use by Boys Ranch.

St. Anthony's Guild is to mark its 25th anniversary here with a dinner starting at 6 p. m. in St. Anthony's school auditorium.

We are quite disappointed that a group from Greece didn't come to Hereford this past week. We had four men from Argentina and two from Japan, but could have used some representation from Europe to make our cosmopolitan atmosphere complete. It wouldn't surprise us at all to see a bunch of Eskimos come tramping through the Panhandle next week. And I'm sure we would thoroughly enjoy them, as we have all the visitors who have come here from all parts of the world.

Some visitors dark, others fair, give Hereford a wordly air. Some like beef, others eat rice. But universally, all are wonderfully nice!

Mrs. McDowell's Father Succumbs

S. K. Parsons Sr., 76, father of Mrs. Ansel McDowell, died at 6:30 p. m. Friday in his home at 1401 Amarillo Street in Wellington.

Mr. Parsons, born in Bonham on Dec. 13, 1885, came to Wellington in 1914. He retired as a cotton merchant several years ago. He had been a member of the First Christian Church for 64 years.

Survivors include the wife of the home; a son, S. K. Parsons Jr. of Wellington; a daughter, Mrs. Ansel McDowell of Hereford; one sister, Mrs. Simp Moore of Bonham; one brother, Harry Parsons of Tallhina, Okla.; six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in Wellington Saturday at 3 p. m.

the best things we can do is get to know each other better. I hope this doesn't happen, but it is conceivable that, in our lifetime, the Western Hemisphere will have to stand as a bulwark of freedom against the encroachments of Communism.

Speaking briefly, the visitors said, "I hope this trip will aid our technical growth. I believe that we feel very close in our thinking... What you Texans have made of this country is superb. In not too long a time, perhaps Argentina can develop its democracy as you have... The most important thing in life is our friends. I hope that from this moment and forever, you'll be our friends."

Neeley said, "Contrary to what many think, I believe that trade between nations can develop friends. I hope that the past 17 or 18 days (the length of the tour), that we have shown that we are concerned for others."

As a result of the tour, it is hoped that Argentina will be able to develop a plan for using improved Texas grasses on its vast range country. One of the visitors pointed out that the huge cattle industry in Argentina, the nation's largest single business, was dependant completely upon cattle born, raised and fattened on native grass.

The group left for Amarillo Friday afternoon, enroute back to Houston and then to Argentina.
Arriving in Hereford about noon Friday for a short visit were two Japanese who are interested in local use of grain sorghum. Both are from the Nishin Flour Milling Co., Ltd., to Tokyo, one of the nation's largest milling and feed manufacturing companies. Shigeru Fukushima is chief of the Feed Manufacturing Division of the company while Shigeru Honda is chief of the Central Experiment Station of the company.

Accompanying them to Hereford as interpreter was T. Tamada, a representative of the Japan Cotton Company in Dallas.

The group was escorted to Hereford by Nolan Chandler of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association. The group was on the High Plains Oct. 17 - 22, stopping at Hereford Feed Yards here. Since 1959, Chandler explained, "Japan has increased its grain sorghum imports from none to more than 500,000 tons.

Fukushima and Honda came to the United States to see results of total grain sorghum feeding, having been concerned about feeding 10 to 15 per cent maize in rations.

The meeting is to be held at 7:30 p. m. in the City Manager's office.

According to the proposal, as reported by Bayne, the firm, owned and operated by Robert Doughman and Olin Parris, would lease all facilities at the Hereford Municipal Airport.

In making the proposal, the firm offered to pay $500 a month rent for the facilities. Under the terms of a contract to be drawn up, the firm would handle aircraft refueling and hangar rentals.

Also to be supplied by the firm would be aircraft maintenance, charter flight, instruction, and aircraft rental services.

yards on his only return.

Powell has averaged 15.5 yards on his four kickoff returns; Hodges averages 14.5 on his two; end David Dowell has 14 yards average on two; Ronnie Duncan has 13 each on his two; end Eugene Green has 20 yards on his only return and Haney has an eight-yard average for two.

Powell leads in pass receptions with 5 for 43 yards; Green has caught four for 40; Dowell has two for 34; senior half-back Charles Kelly has one for 22; Duncan has three for 14 and Haney has one for 10.

Kelly has two interceptions, returned 45 yards; Steele has one for three yards; and Hodges has one with no return.

Hodges has completed 7 of 13 passes for 68 yards; Cain has 8 of 24 for 66; Haney has 1 of 4 for 29 yards. The team has lost 6 of its 18 fumbles.

Steele leads in defense with three unassisted tackles, 36 assisted tackles, 18 assists, one fumble recovered, one pass knocked down and one intercepted for 60 points on total defense. Haney has 51 points; Green, 42; guard John Kovacs, 24; Hodges, 24; Duncan, 23; tackle Neil Lueb, 22; Powell, 19; tackle Dick Rogers, 17; Dowell, 16; guard J. Carter, 16; Johnson, 12; end Mike Ferguson, 8; Kelly, 4; and quarterback Jim Higgins, 3. Gang tackles accounted for 96 more defensive points.

Except for passing, Hereford holds the edge in statistics during the first five games. Hereford has scored 78 points to 66; has 69 first downs to 50; has 937 yards net rushing to 520; has an average gain per play of four yards to 2.7 yards;

Hereford has completed 16 to 42 passes for 163 yards, with three intercepted for no return. Opponents have hit 15 to 43 passes for 308 yards with four interceptions runback 48 yards; the team has punted 20 times for an average of 33.8, while 24 kicks netted the opposition just 32 yards. Hereford has returned punts 67 yards to 43; has kicked off 17 times for a 42.2 average, compared with 15 kicks for 38.4. Hereford has returned kickoffs 181 yards, while the opponents have done much better with 287 yards.

Hereford lost 6 of 18 fumbles, while the opponents have lost 8 of 16. The Whitefaces have had 34 penalties for 160 yards, while their foes have had 31 infractions for 155 yards.

Hereford has had the ball for 312 offensive plays, compared with 275 for the opponents.

All this, however, will be meaningless as the Whitefaces try to hold their own in the always tough I-AAA District, often called the "Little Southwest Conference" for its stunning upsets and keen rivalry.

Future Homemakers Honor Parents At Annual Banquet

By Ann Rowan
A Southern Plantation decor was used last week when the Adrian Future Homemakers chapter held its annual Parent-Teacher banquet at the Adrian cafeteria.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Bernard Gray. Mrs. Johnson, chapter sponsor, extended the welcome and explained the work and goals of F.H.M.

Terry Williams, Dwight Hayes, James Whaley and Garrie Reed served as waiters for the banquet.

The chapter president, Paul Crizet, introduced the members and guest and presented the F.H.M. Award, Billy Perry, with a gift from the chapter.

Victor Burns was crowned personality queen by her predecessor, Paula Crizet. Kathy Kromer crowned Phyllis Peters as her successor as Future Queen. Both queens were given gift certificates for their F.H.M. pins.

Presenting entertainment for the affair were Phyllis Peters, Carol Niles, Dorris Horton, Terry Williams, Dwight Hayes, James Whaley, Garrie Reed, and Paula Crizet. Kathy Kromer paid tribute to members' parents. Chapter members sang their official song to close the meeting.

Nominations for Halloween Carnival King and Queen have been named. There will be a King and Queen for the first six grades, and another reigning couple for the top six grades.

Those nominated are: Robbie Sisk and David Brownlee, first grade; Teddy Hale and Calvin Reed, second; Beth Loyd and Joe Ferrin, third; Barbara Hendrick and Billy Loyd, fourth; Patty Fortenberry and Jim Ferrin, fifth; Kathy Garrison and Mike Perry, sixth; Carl Ferrin and David Grubbs, seventh; Charlene Pulliam and Clinton Brown, eighth; Marsha Burns and George Harwood, freshmen; Dorris Horton and James Whaley, sophomores; Sue Brownlee and Terry Williams, juniors; and Paula Crizet and Sign Brown, seniors.

Refreshments were served to parents and friends present. The Twinkling Bluebirds from last year are now Tanya Campfire Girls. "Tanya" is an Indian name which means "love, honor and respect". The girls also selected individual Indian names, which is one of the requirements for Trail Seekers Rank.

Jamie Edmonson, president, presided over the meeting. Secretary Pat Cooper read the minutes and called the roll. Those present were: Pat Cooper, Jamie Edmonson, Cecilia Gomez, Mita Gomez, Deborah Hodges, Barbara Huckert, Mary Ellen Huckert, Blanche Hengel, Connie Hodges, Joann Trotter, Shirley Turner, Kay Ann Eiler and a new member, Jennie Adams. Mrs. Robert Silver and Mrs. Neil Hodges were leaders. Kiska Hodges was a visitor.

Refreshments were served by Pat Cooper and Jamie Edmonson.

FARMING AND RURAL INTERESTS

BY FRANK FORD
Deaf Smith County Farmer, Business Man
And Republican Candidate for STATE REPRESENTATIVE
(Sixth Article of a Series)

There has been much talk lately about moving the small "marginal" farmers to the cities where they can be "retained". This has come from both political parties, and regardless of who says it, I think it is folly. Farming is a way of life, a good way to raise children, and there is already unemployment in the cities.

It is predicted that within a short time, 80% of the U. S. population will live in the big metropolitan areas. If one political party can control these big cities in the Northern and Eastern U. S. by encouraging decadence through large welfare handouts, and at the same time take the rural areas of the South for granted then I think we'll regret it.

We will find ourselves with tight controls and restrictions, ever-decreasing allotments and opportunity, and insufficient political power to do anything about it. The time has come for a healthy two-party system in Texas to insure that we are not taken for granted by any administration.

QUIET, SPUD! YOU'RE TALKING IN YOUR SLEEP!

GOOD HUNTING, FELLOWS!

PIGMY GIRAFFES — HUMPH... I JUST CAN'T BELIEVE THERE ARE SUCH ANIMALS IN EXISTENCE!

IF YOU HAD THE DREAM I HAD LAST NIGHT, TIM, YOU WOULD BELIEVE IT! THEY WERE SO REAL!

Right Around HOME with MYRTLE

JUNIOR CONQUERS SPACE!

ARE YOU SURE THERE'S JUST A LITTLE FIRECRACKER IN THAT SILLY MISSILE?

COURSE I'M SURE! IT'S JUST A TINY ONE LEFT OVER FROM THE FOURTH OF JULY!

NO, MYRTLE. NO! GET JUNIOR OUT OF THAT CONTRAPTION AND DROP THAT MATCH!

FIVE--FOUR--THREE--TWO--ONE--ZERO--BLAST-OFF! WHEE-E-E!

MYRTLE! DON'T TELL ME YOU'VE CUT A HOLE IN MY NEW WASH-TUB!

JUST BECAUSE JUNIOR HAD AN UNCLE WHO WAS HALF SKYE TERRIER, HE THINKS HE'S AN ASTRONAUT!

MY THIRD HUSBY WENT INTO ORBIT ONCE WHEN HE GOT HIS TAIL UNDER A ROCKING CHAIR!

WE FORGOT TO GIVE JUNIOR HIS POWDERED BONE RATION AND A 'SPACE THUIT'!

I'LL NEVER FORGET THE TIME YOU SHOT ME OUT OF A CANNON DURING OUR TOUR WITH THE CARNIVAL, EMILY. I OVERSHOT THE NET AND LANDED IN A HOSPITAL BED!

IF YOU HAD LISTENED TO ME AND ENTERED THE CANNON HEAD-FIRST, YOU'D HAVE LANDED ON YOUR FEET!

I'M GLAD WE WERE BORN WITH WINGS, AREN'T YOU, ALICE?

IF YOU STICK YOUR TAIL-FEATHERS IN MY EYE ONCE MORE YOU'LL WISH YOU'D BEEN BORN WITH A TWO-STAGE ROCKET TAKE-OFF!

MYRTLE'S JUST LIKE HER FATHER — ALWAYS SHOOTING OFF!

FOR PITY TAKE! IT WORKED! WE LAUNCHED A MITHILE, MYRTLE!

HEY! I WAS WEIGHT-LESS FOR A SECOND, BUT I'M MAKING MY RE-ENTRY RIGHT NOW!

GRANDMA

by Chas. Kuhn

GRANDMA, YOU SURE CAN BAKE TH' BESTEST COOKIES!

NO, SIR, WE JUST COULDN'T GET ALONG WITHOUT YOU, GRANDMA!!

COLOR THIS ONE, KIDS!

MY, GRANDMA, ALL TH' KIDS THINK YOU'RE WONDERFUL!

MAYBE SO, BUT THEY NEED A SORT O' PUSH AT TIMES T' SHOW THEIR APPRECIATION!

ONCE IN A WHILE I FEEL TH' NEED OF A LITTLE PRAISE T' SORTA PERK ME UP!!

SO I CIRCULATE TH' RUMOR I MIGHT RETIRE FOR GOOD, FROM ANY MORE BAKING!!

AN' THAT ALWAYS BRINGS TH' KIDS AN' COMPLIMENTS IN DROVES!!

Student Assembly Programs Feature Homeroom Classes

The Dogie

Published monthly by the students of Stanton Junior High School

The Sunday Brand, Sunday, Oct. 21, 1962.

Section Two

DOGIES OF THE MONTH at Stanton Junior High School were selected by the coaches. Selected for the honor in the seventh grade was Charlie Stone, left. In the center is Jimmie Allison, eighth grade Dogie, and at right is Gene Drummond, ninth grade Dogie. Dogies of the Month are selected by the coaches regularly as an honor for their athletic performance and sportsmanship. (Brand Staff Photo)

Mrs. Ramey's homeroom presented the assembly program Oct. 10. Sherri Marsh led the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance. Wanda Fuhrman was the announcer for the program. "The Yellow Rose of Texas" was sung by Deborah Thomas, Audrey Campbell, Judy Lookingbill and Patsy Smith. The skit, "The Modern Melodrama" starred Patsy Smith, Ren Lee and Ken Bob Shannon. "Operation Bunny Nose" had Marvin Evans as the specialist, Larry Dearing the patient, Glen Thomas as Dr. Killpatient, Don Bill Hair, Dr. Ben Crazy; and Joyce Loftin was the nurse. "The Mail Thief" cast was Wesley Carter as Judge Roy Bean, Rodney Goheen and Eddie Carthel as the deputies, Ren Lee as the mail thief, and Greg Herring as the outlaw. The program was concluded with the homeroom and audience singing "Texas Our Texas".

Mrs. Duvall's homeroom dramatized the song "Ahab the Arab". The cast included Sylvia Phipps as Fatima, and Annelisa Kovacs as Ahab. Others in the cast were Jack Thomas, Phyllis Warrick, Jo Ann McDowell, and Joe James. The Sudo Commercial was given by Suzanne Seigler and Kenneth Eastman. The show after the commercial was "Sing Along with Mitch" with Andy Channer as Mitch Miller, and the homeroom students as the singers.

Dr. Kurt Singer Speaks In First Southern Show

By Carolyn Boynton
This year, for the first time, Stanton Junior High is taking part in the Southern School Assembly Programs. These are scheduled throughout the year. The admission to these assemblies is 15 cents, although it is not compulsory for any student to attend. Stanton Junior High students saw one program entitled "Spies and Traitors". This program was given by Dr. Kurt D. Singer, who has worked for the United States government as an espionage agent. Dr. Singer's program was informing and was given in a delightful way.

Next program will be Oct. 22 when Bruno Zaffina, a cartoonist and entertainer, will give a "chalk talk". Stanton is looking forward to these programs which are scheduled as follows: Chalk Talks, Oct. 22; Marionettes, Dec. 19; Joss Winds, Jan. 15; Physical Education, Feb. 6; Capt. Dry, Feb. 27; and Science, April 3.

GETS AWARD

Mary Bourn, 711 East Fourth, recently received a diamond pin set from the Avon Company for outstanding sales work here.

School Spirit Is More Than Support Of Sports

by Charlene Lindeman
What is school spirit? Can it be given or taken away as a drivers license? Can it be shared between schools? Can it actually be defined? School spirit is a feeling that dwells in the heart and minds of students, teachers, parents. School spirit is not only giving encouragement to student athletes on the football field or basketball court, but it is taking pride in school associations, the faculty, and also in the students' grades.

and can deteriorate because of let downs, disappointments, and lack of interest of the students. School spirit cannot be forced on any individual and attempts to do so may break all feelings toward a school. The question that seems to be most controversial on the campus is "Can school spirit be shared between schools through friendship?" Being enthusiastic is showing pride in your school and this feeling can be transmitted to other students. Students feel the most enthusiastic toward the school in which they are enrolled. This feeling may be shown best by attending the games and pep rallies and participating in school events. Some students may not show their school spirit as readily as others and these students should not be discriminated against. School spirit can be shown in pep rallies, games and assemblies. It is shown by yelling with the cheerleaders and for the team. It can also be shown by being a good loser. In assembly, school spirit is shown by sitting quietly and giving full attention to the program. We would like to congratulate the cheerleaders on the fine job they are doing and also the homeroom students and teachers for the excellent programs which are being presented in the weekly assembly programs.

Don't Block Traffic

By SYLVIA PHIPPS
Halls are a pretty hopeless situation — especially when people are going right, left, back and forth and even zig-zag! When you turn a corner you never know just what will happen. If you are lucky you only drop two books, if you are not so lucky you may find yourself down on the floor with your books scattered all around you and you must begin amidst the hurrying feet. Clearing the hallways would present a much better situation and would not be too difficult to obtain if the students would follow a few simple suggestions. Don't stop at lockers and gather a crowd. This blocks traffic and those who are held up might hear the words "go get a tardy slip!" and it might not be their fault. Another thing to remember is "keep to the right and keep moving." This will help only if every one takes notice of this and complies.

Two New Teachers Join The Faculty

Mr. Kenneth Shaw
One of the new science teachers at Stanton Junior High School is Mr. Kenneth Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Shaw of Hereford. Mr. Shaw's interest and hobbies include fishing, hunting, exploring caves, and botany experiments. In high school he represented the Civil Air Patrol at the Congressional Dinner in Washington, D. C. Mr. Shaw attended Southwestern State College, Weatherford, Okla., where he majored in biology and minored in government. He received his masters degree from West Texas State College and plans to get his doctors degree in education. Some of the organizations in which he has been a member are band, Cadet Majors, Circle K, F.T.A. and Tri - Betae. Mr. Shaw has always been interested in science, although not until his sophomore year in college did he decide to teach. Concerning Stanton school spirit and students, he thinks they are very commendable, cooperative, and friendly.

MISS SUE HESS
Miss Sue Hess is one of the new teachers in Stanton. She teaches Spanish and Girls P. E. and also has classes in conversation and Spanish at Northwest Elementary.

Miss Hess is one of the sponsors for the cheerleaders. In this capacity she attends the out of town football games with the cheerleaders. This job is a very enjoyable one she states. Miss Hess attended Southwest Texas State Teachers College in San Marcos and Sul Ross State College in Alpine. Spanish and physical education were her major fields. Miss Hess does not mind telling her age, which is 22 years old. Outdoor sports and watching television are her favorite ways to spend leisure time.

MAKE TRIP

Mrs. Bertie L. Stuart and grand-daughter, Mrs. Evelyn Thomas, of Coffeyville, Kan., have been guests here in the home of her sister, Mrs. Bessie Givan. The group went to Albuquerque, N. M., to visit Mrs. Stuart's son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Stuart. They were gone five days. Mrs. Stuart and Mrs. Thomas left for home Tuesday.

AMARILLOAN HERE

Earl Smith, former Hereford High School teacher, was in Hereford last week visiting. He now is director of Kids, Inc., in Amarillo.

IN NEW MEXICO

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Patterson were in New Mexico three days last weekend to make the "color tour" in the mountain country. They toured Eagle Nest; Red River, Taos and Santa Fe.

Stanton Junior High Names Cheerleaders For The Year

By Retha Kelly
Cheerleaders were chosen by the student body Sept. 11, for the 1962 - 63 school year. The cheerleaders are required to meet the same qualifications as the homeroom officers. Cheerleaders leading yells at the pep rallies and games are Karen Blackwell, freshman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blackwell; Jo Ann Ferguson, freshman, daughter of Mrs. Louise Ferguson; and Sidney Bayne, freshman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Bayne; Eighth grade cheerleaders are Charlotte Babione, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Babione, and Chris Meredith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Meredith.

FHA Members Have Program On Auto Safety

First meeting for the F.H.A. was held Oct. 8, in Stanton Junior High Auditorium. Royce Ann Gilliland presided at the meeting.

The program on traffic safety was presented by Sergeant Bill Wells of Hereford and Sergeant Cecil McNeal of the Amarillo Safety Patrol. A film, "Broken Glass", was shown. This film showed the need for wearing seat belts. After the film the program was concluded by a question and answer session.

FISHING VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Don Zimmerman and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Noel, his sister from Canyon, returned Tuesday from a two week fishing trip to Guaymas, Mexico. Fishing was good; they caught more than they could bring home.

HOME FROM COLLEGE

Among those home from West Texas State College last weekend were Grady Persons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Persons of Dawn; Bill Miller, son of Mrs. Norman Miller of Dawn; and Jimmy Dziuk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dziuk Sr.

ATTENDS TEXAS TECH

Sue Proffitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hudson, is attending Texas Tech at Lubbock where she is a sophomore majoring in elementary education.

In the seventh grade are Jan Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Miller, and Suzanne Hart daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hart. When asked about the school spirit this year they all agreed that it is good, but could be improved and more support is needed at the games.

Students Help Oct. 31 During CROP Campaign

By Annelisa Kovacs
Trick or Treat for CROP will get underway Oct. 31, at 8:30 p. m. in the First Methodist Church. This program is sponsored by a group of churches. The purpose of the drive is to supply needy people with food, tools, seeds and livestock. CROP is the Christian Rural Overseas Program.

CROP serves 50 countries and in the past, 145 million pounds of food has been sent to countries such as China, South America, Africa and Japan.

In Hong Kong CROP is the basis for 10,000 undernourished children getting their daily meals. This is only one seventh of the 70,000 refugees that are in need of food.

Volunteers from the junior and senior high school will be given badges and containers at the First Methodist Church before setting out to their assigned streets. This is the way many teenagers will use their Halloween night helping others.

VISITS SON

Mrs. J. A. McMahan of Tulsa is in Hereford visiting her son and family, James McMahan.

Clear-Cut Political Issues Face Voters In General Election Nov. 6

With the General Election a scant three weeks off, interest in politics in the area is noted to be definitely on the upswing. Many people predict that Texas will join the Republican ranks this year, and

More Jobs, But Less Employment

"Water, water, everywhere, and not a drop to drink". The classic phrase of literature expresses, perhaps better than any other, the situation faced today in the labor market of America. Idle millions of people have established a new unemployment record in the nation, while harassed employers search frantically for capable help. Nor is the circumstance limited to the cities, where it gets more recognition, but is found in such places as Hereford, where restaurant owners, and cafe operators lead the van in a parade of people who are looking for capable, interested employees.

Meanwhile unemployment files grow and expand, classified pages scream for employees — and would be employers continue to pull their hair in huge numbers.

What causes such a situation? The answer is not easy. In part, it no doubt can be traced to the compensation available to unemployed people; it is also traceable to lack of education and training on part of the would-be job seeker.

Mostly, though, it seems to stem from an attitude of independence on the part of the job hunter, made possible by the two above reasons. Too many would-be employees these days lay down the terms of their employment, rather than conform to policies of the firm from which they seek employment. Others feel that certain types of work are beneath their dignity and pride, and this feeling extends to the point of accepting a federal unemployment dole rather than accept certain types of positions.

Meanwhile, the condition is becoming worse instead of better. In a few scattered areas, such as West Virginia coal mine district, there is possibly a drastic need for employment, but for the most part the great American unemployment problem is a far cry from conditions existing back in the 1930's. To say the least, these few persons who are willing to work hard, apply themselves to their jobs, conduct themselves in a dependable manner and make an effort in behalf of the firm which provides their livelihood, are forging ahead faster than any other group of people in the history of America. They are thriving in a cast era of security, advancement and well being.

The whole circumstance is probably an example of the "growing evils of socialism" about which we hear so much. While it is possible to enjoy one's work, it is also probable that very few people in this country work for the sheer enjoyment of their toil. Most people work because of the rewards involved and, if they get near the same reward without working, it is only logical that the circumstance will continue to become more complicated and more hopeless.

We have long complained about Uncle Sam's role as international benefactor, but we are beginning to wonder if it is not better to throw away millions on other nations, rather than upon ourselves. Otherwise, we may soon "kill the goose which lays the golden eggs".

this particular area—which went GOP in the last two presidential elections — will be a Lone Star "hot spot" in political activities.

Considering the record of Congressman Walter Rogers, which tends to be conservative, it is further probable that more "split votes" will be cast in this section than ever before in history. Mr. Rogers, regardless of the things one hears in political speeches, has established an enviable record in Congress, and has earned many friends in the conservative ranks.

Frank Ford, the Hereford man who is seeking election as State Representative on the Republican ticket, is exactly opposite to Rogers. Ford will pull many votes from the Democratic slate in the general election, chiefly because he is respected on the local level. His opponent, Bill Clayton, is also running on a conservative Democratic platform, and this was the basis upon which he secured the nomination earlier in the year.

The governor's race, however, seems to be the key to politics in this territory. Conservatives and ultra-conservatives declare that they will vote for Cox, regardless of his GOP banner, because they do not wish to endorse the Kennedy administration. John Connally, Demo nominee, on the other hand, swept into the position of nominee on a basis of being the most conservative candidate in the Democratic camp.

When you boil it all down, the issue pretty well winds up "Kennedy vs. Conservatism" — and this is the manner in which most people will cast their votes Nov. 6. Integration, despite its widespread effects in the South, will not likely be an tremendous issue in this territory; already, this point is over-shadowed by such topics as "Farm Program", "Labor Affiliation" and "Government Spending".

Frankly, we doubt if very many people will change their votes at this stage of the game. The issues are clear-cut, and too many people have become zealous in their support on both sides. All of which, it seems to us, is a good description on democracy in operation.

Weather Still In Spotlight

Progress and civilization have wrought many changes — but the weather continues on as man's greatest foe. Such has been the situation throughout the history of mankind, and we see little possibility of any great basic change in the future.

"Ella", the latest hurricane, is now descending on Florida and, before long, we will be reading about blizzards and snow storms around the nation. Rainfall in Deaf Smith County this week brought to an abrupt halt one of the area's most successful grain sorghum harvests — and so it goes, regardless of where you reside.

Every place on earth has its drawbacks when it comes to weather. Some are perhaps worse than others, but no place appears to be ideal. We now have heating systems, air conditioning and other methods to combat the weather, and these things are a tremendous help. Still, the weather is a contributing factor in all of our lives — and we judge it will continue in this role long after most of us are gone.

Mark Twain came closer to summing up the situation than anyone we know when he said, "Everybody talks about the weather, but no one does anything about it."

My Newspaper What It Means To Me

National Newspaper Week, Oct. 14-20
By VERA JOSEPH, Businesswoman

A newspaper can be virtually all things to its readers — an amusing and entertaining companion and, at the same time, custodian of community will and conscience. It must serve as a peculiarly cool-headed witness to world happenings outside the observational scope of its individual reader, report them to him and, to some extent, evaluate them for him. Covering the world, it must yet continue to make articulate the aspirations and civic indignations of its own city and state.

A newspaper is a fact finder, a teller of tales, a recorder of oddments which may include a child's lost dog, an actress' painful choice of a fourth husband or a button manufacturer's sales meeting. In its larger aspect, it is both a window and a mirror — the reader, seeing himself reflected, may also see dramas and delimitations which are not his own, but yet may alter completely the shape of his civilization.

And seeing, he must come a little closer, in fear and love, to saying with John Donne, "No man is an island, entire to itself. Any man's death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind."

—DALLAS MORNING NEWS

'Return Of The Square'

(Editor's Note: The following is a speech made by Charles H. Brower, president of Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, Inc., advertising agency, before the Dallas Advertising League in Dallas on Oct. 9. It was so interesting, we wanted to share it with others.)

Back in the days before the phrase "Going to His Eternal Rest" meant getting a job with the government, Mark Twain arrived in a small town where he was scheduled to make a talk. Noticing that his lecture was poorly billed, he stepped into a store and said:

"Good evening, friend — any entertainment here tonight to help a stranger while away his evening?"

The storekeeper straightened up, wiped his hand and said: "I expect there's going to be a lecture. I've been selling eggs all day."

50 YEARS AGO

Women's Suffrage Right Forms Topic For Debate

As announced, the much-talked-of debate between two local orators was duly, and orderly pulled off at the court house last Friday night. The interest shown was evidenced by the large crowd that filled the district court room to its capacity. The subject discussed as stated was: Resolved that women should have the right to vote; Hon. Bill Ray championing the affirmative and Hon. Elmer Dameron taking the negative. There were to be six judges, three men and three women, but only four reported. They were: Mesdames W. E. Hicks, and A. C. Elliott, Messrs. Hughes and J. E. Garrison. At the close of the debate they rendered their decision: two for the affirmative and two for the negative. And so this all-important question has not been decided. There were also a full set of jury judges, but they have not concurred in the decision.

25 YEARS AGO

Actual construction work on Rural Electrification lines got under way here Wednesday morning as workmen began assembling poles and hauling them to locations east of town. H. V. Hennen, project supervisor, also announced the wholesale power rate for the project as approximately one per cent per kilowatt hour. The announcement of the rate followed an agreement between the Texas-New Mexico Utilities Company and the REA Authorities. Working on a sliding scale with several regulation, the wholesale rate will run around one cent, he said. Although the corporation was not at liberty to announce the retail rate, Mr. Hennen did add that two factors would be added to the wholesale rate, including a sinking fund to retire the government loan for building of lines, and operating-maintenance cost of the lines. Estimating upon the basis proposed for usage, a fair guess as to actual rate would be approximately one and one-half cents per KW for pump use, and from eight down to two cents per KW for domestic use; domestic rates will likely carry a minimum rate and will vary with the amount of electrical energy used. However, no flat rate will likely be charged for power used in operating wells and the consumer will pay for what he uses and no more.

There is safety in numbers. The progress may be slow and the glory may be small, but the work is steady. Their eyes are on the clock rather than on the calendar. The Coffee Break is more important than the Big Break.

And more and more girls are more interested in filling their nails than in filling what needs to be filled. The other day I overheard two girls in an elevator (not a BBDO elevator, needless to say), and one said to the other, "Heavens, no, don't learn shorthand. If you can't take dictation, you won't have to stay after 5."

We have always had our share of free-loaders in this country. And, as Channing Pollock once said, every generation produces its squad of moderns who march with peashooters against Gibraltar. But only in the past quarter century, it seems to me, has non-involvement become an accepted way of life. For when we were poor, we had to sweat it out. We couldn't afford detachment from the life and fate of our country. And one of the great dangers of affluence is that it permits such detachment.

I'm going to talk quite a bit about a six-letter word today. Why six letters? Because modern literature has snapped up all the four and five-letter words as its own. The only time a novelist uses a long word, these days, is when he adds an "i-n-g." So I am going to start on six-letter words.

The word is "square" — S . . . Q . . . U . . . A . . . R . . . E . . . Back in Mark Twain's day, it was one of the finest words in our language, among the top ten on any lexicographer's hit parade. You gave a man a square deal if you were honest. And you gave him a square meal when he was hungry. You stood foursquare for the right, as you said it, and square against everything else. When you got out of debt, you were square with the world. And that was when you could look your fellow man square in the eye.

Then a lot of strange characters got hold of this honest, wholesome word, bent it all out of shape and gave it back to our children. Convicts gave it the first twist. To them a Square was an inmate who would not conform to the convict code. From the prisons it was flashed across the country on the marijuana circuit of the bopsters and hipsters. Now everyone knows what a Square is. He is the man who never learned to get away with it.

RECORD ENROLLMENT CROWDS SCHOOLS

More students than ever before are attending Olton schools and classrooms in the lower grades are beginning to show signs of popping at the seams. That report from Supt. Johnny Clark Jr. was given Olton trustees at a regular meeting Tuesday night. "We're having growing pains and classes are crowded especially in the elementary school," Clark told the board. "If we get more students, we're going to need to do something to relieve the situation," he added. And, Clark said he anticipates still more students, mostly transients who will be coming into Olton as the cotton harvest steps up. Official enrollment figures released Tuesday night show that 1359 students are enrolled here. The total tops by almost 100 the previous high record last fall.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR SCHOOL SITE OPEN

Negotiations for the purchase of a 30-acre tract of land in southwest Quanah for a future school site were initiated Tuesday night at the October meeting of the board of trustees of the Quanah Independent School District. The land is being offered for sale by Mrs. Ella Malone, retired Quanah school teacher, for $50,000. The board unanimously approved a resolution Tuesday night authorizing Rex Sullivan Jr., board attorney, to begin negotiations for the purchase of the property. The offer to sell the land was presented by Ed Malone, Vernon druggist and son of Mrs. Malone. The board had previously considered other property in that area but were unanimous in the belief that the Malone property was the best site for a future school.

COMMISSIONERS BALK ON FIRE BILL

Two Randall county commissioners Monday declined to approve a $500 rural fire fighting bill presented to the county by the City of Canyon, but County Auditor E. T. Cummings says the bill must be paid anyway. Refusing to okay the bill were Commissioners C. Y. Johnson and B. R. Jones. This was a continuation of the hassle in commissioners court over the existing contract under which the City of Canyon furnishes rural fire protection. The county is in contract to pay the city $100 for each rural fire call. The county also furnishes the city a fire truck.

GROUP PROTESTS RATE HIKE

The Floydada City Council met on Monday night at the city hall for the purpose of discussing commercial electric rates with local users. Some forty or more customers were on hand to voice complaints of their increased bills following recent rate schedule increases and installation of demand type meters. Light commissioner Lon Davis served as moderator and called on George Reich, electrical engineer with the Joe E. Ward Company of Wichita Falls, to give the council's views and position when the new rates were put into effect. Electrical power users present were concerned with commercial rates that are now listed under general service. Some showed instances where their power bill is higher than it would be if their places of business were being served in neighboring towns such as Lubbock. The council has asked the engineer to give further study to this particular bracket and make recommendations for a new rate schedule for users here.

FOOTBALL STADIUM MOVE CONSIDERED

The proposed move of the Perryton High School football stadium came up for considerable discussion Tuesday evening in the office of Superintendent Gilbert Mize. A Panhandle firm specializing in stadium construction, Vibra-Whirl Corporation, met with the trustees and offered a "turn key" job on the proposed construction. The Panhandle firm's proposal included shaping the field, planting grass, moving the north grandstand from the present location, constructing a new grandstand for home fans, lighting, press box, rest rooms, fencing, concession stands, ticket offices and cinder track.

THE BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm looks at an international problem this week, then backs away.

Dear editor: A lot of people have been worrying about what to do about Cuba and I got to thinking—not because I didn't have anything else to do, that's a waste of thought, the time to think is when you have got something else to do — and I have decided the people aren't thinking big enough.

Say somebody figured out what to do about the Cuban problem; it wouldn't last. Another problem would crop up some place else. We've had one crisis after another for years now and I've decided the thing to do is put all our crises into one pile.

As I understand it, there are 103 countries in the world, as best the map makers can find out, and the way to eliminate all minor crises and put them in one lump is to arrange for each of the 103 to have guided missiles trained on all the others. Each country should have guided missiles zeroed in on every major population center in every other country. I'll admit this would be a mess of guided missiles, but it's the only way out.

Then after you get all these missiles in place, invent a special radar firing device that'll set off all of them if just one of them goes off.

With everybody in the world then looking down the barrel of a guided missile, who'd be interested in shooting first?

You have no idea how reasonable people get when they're blocked on all sides. Man is supposed to be the only animal with reasoning ability, but I understand when a forest fire breaks out, the rabbits and the foxes, the antelopes and the mountain lions, all begin reasoning that the only way out of the mess is to run together for awhile.

On the other hand, come to think of it, this hundred percent guided missile idea might not work after all. Sparrows might build a nest in the firing device of a missile down in Afghanistan, trigger the thing, and send the world up in smoke. Or a minor dictator might get mad at his wife and pull the trigger just for spite.

Maybe it's better to worry with all these little crises. Now you take the Cuban problem . . .

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Return...

A Joe who volunteers when he doesn't have to. A guy who gets his kicks from trying to do something better than anyone else can. A boob who gets so lost in his work that he has to be reminded to go home. A guy who doesn't have to stop at a bar on his way to the train at night because he's all fired up and full of juice already. A character who doesn't have to spend his evenings putting in a basement workshop and his weekends scraping the bottom of a boat because he's putting all that elbow grease and steam into doing a satisfying job on the job he's getting paid to do. A fellow who laughs with his belly instead of his upper lip. A slob who still gets all choked up when the band plays "America the Beautiful." A square, and strictly from Squiresville.

His tribe isn't thriving too well in the current climate. He doesn't fit too neatly into the current group of angle players, corner cutters, sharpshooters and goof-offs. He doesn't believe in opening all the packages before Christmas. He doesn't want to fly now and pay later. He's burdened down with old-fashioned ideas of honesty, loyalty, courage and thrift. And he may already be on his way to extinction.

He and all the rest of us are living in a country today that is quite different from the one that we were taught to love. Parents have successfully defended in court their children's right to ignore the flag salute. Faculties and student bodies have found it distasteful to publicly take an oath of loyalty to their country. And the United States Military Academy has found it necessary to place a sign beside its parade grounds at West Point reminding spectators that it is customary for men to remove their hats at the passing of the banner that was once unashamedly referred to as "Old Glory."

The force of government is directed more fully toward the security of the weak than the encouragement of the strong. In business, it is said the way to survive is to emulate the turtle — grow a hard shell and never stick your neck out, just as the young man in the army was taught by his fellows to keep his mouth shut, his bowels open and never volunteer.

We have come quite a way since Theodore Roosevelt told us, "Far better it is to dare mighty things, to win glorious triumphs, even though checkered by failure, than to rank with those poor spirits who neither enjoy nor suffer much, because they live in the gray twilight that knows no victory or defeat."

What has happened to us, I think, is that we have changed from an exporting country to an importing country.

I do not mean that we have let the world drain all of our gold away, although that is bad enough. I do not mean any imbalance of trade, as threatening as that may be. I mean that we have been importing instead of exporting ideas.

The United States of America was once the greatest exporter of ideas the world had ever known. We created and sold abroad the idea of individual dignity, responsibility and freedom. We created and sold the idea of government of the people, by the people and for the people — an idea that is still being bought today. We exported the idea of freedom of worship... the idea of an unfettered press... the idea that those who are taxed should be represented...

It is hard to find a basic idea that America has exported since you and I were young. We have, I think, bought in the bazaars of Asia Minor the idea that an honest man is either a fool or a liar. From our most mortal enemy we have bought the idea of a strong government for weak people. We have bought abroad the ideas of "Let Jack do it," of "What's in it for me?" and the gesture of the neatly shurged shoulder.

But, most of all, we have been gullible patrons of the export firm of Sigmund Freud, who has sold us the idea that all men are born feeble, that we should abandon our ancient disciplines as too stark for the poor souls that we are, and to seek our salvation through group support. Freud's discovery that man was not adjusted to his world, and could never be truly adjusted, justified the lazy cynic and condemned the square. For if you can't win, what is the use of trying? And here was the first great authority who said you cannot win.

The other day, I am told by a friend, his young son came home from his progressive school proudly exhibiting a book that he had won for excellence in Natural History.

"However did you do that?" the delighted father asked.

"The teacher," answered the son, "asked how many legs an ostrich has, and I said three!"

"But an ostrich has only two legs," the father protested.

"I know," said the boy, "but I came closest. All the other kids said four."

This may be funny. But it is not so funny that our colleges are loaded today with youngsters who are hardly prepared for high school — kids who cannot do simple arithmetic and who cannot spell simple words. This, too, was an import — the idea that the dull discipline of the three R's was disturbing to little Johnny's ego. So we got real scientific and went to work on the Poor Little Kid and his Id, with the result that today hardly any school that really is a school is without a class in remedial reading. It would save considerable money if the class were held in the very highest level of our teachers' colleges and were called "Remedial Thinking."

For surely we ought by now to know as much as chickens, ducks and monkeys know — there is no learning without discipline.

Our museums today are exhibiting on their walls paintings by people who never learned to paint. It used to be a sort of joke that you could not tell which was the top and which was the bottom.

But recently a museum did hang a bit of modern art upside down. It was days before it was discovered, and I still do not know how they knew.

Non-books are being thrown together and sold by non-writers who never bothered to learn how to write. And murky poems are being ground out by scraggly poets who sing them to their friends because they are unreadable. Here, for example, is a deathless line that was obviously written in San Francisco: "O man, there is onion - constructed in hot garbardin."

LIFE magazine describes our beatnik geniuses as "fruit flies... some of the hairiest, scrawniest and most discontented specimens of all time, who not only refuse to sample the seeping juices of American plenty and American advance but scrape their feelers in discordant scorn of any and all who do."

Some of their output is worse than trash: some of it goes beyond making fun of Mom and Dad and Marriage and Automatic Dishwashers and Suburbia. Here are a few lines from a shocking poem about the Crucifixion:

He was a kind of carpenter from a square-type place like Galilee
Who said the cat who really laid it on us all was his Dad.
There is more, but I wouldn't even read it to you.

Always tearing down these days. Never building up. Always knocking. Belittling. Down - grading. A sneer rather than a grin. A mocking laugh rather than a belly laugh. Poking fun at other people rather than at ourselves.

And what, by the way, ever happened to laughter? Once we were a laughing nation. We laughed easily and deeply. The corn may have been as high as an elephant's eye — but we laughed, and it was good for us. We laughed at Lincoln, and Mark Twain, and Artemus Ward, and Mr. Dooley, and Petroleum V. Nasby. And later we laughed at the gentle humor of such columnists as Don Marquis, F.P.A., and H.I. Phillips. We laughed at Will Rogers, because he made us laugh at ourselves. Remember the sly, dry way he spun that rope and spun those yarns and got off those wonderful quips of his about life in general and politics in particular?

We laughed at Robert Benchley. Remember when a magazine sent him on an assignment to Venice and he wired back, "Streets full of water. Please advise."

Today I think there is one true comic on the stage and one real humorist writing a column. I am talking about Bob Hope and Art Buchwald. Others are cynical, sly and bitter. We laugh when we are told that everyone but squares knows that Mr. A or Mr. B is funny, but we don't know why we are laughing.

We refer to our humor as sick, sick, sick and it is, is, is. Mother used to get cards on Mother's Day, expressing in some way the fact that she was loved and wanted. Now if she is lucky she gets a card that shows Whistler's mother flat on her back and a caption that says, "You're not the only one who's off her rocker." Otherwise she may get a card that says "Want to lose 15 ugly pounds? ... Then cut off your head."

Mort Sahl, to me, represents the cackling of despair. And even Bob Newhart, clean and clean - cut and buttoned-down as he is, cannot resist the temptation to give a hot foot now and then to our national idols.

I claim we need those idols. And I am not going to be amused by a skit in which Lincoln's publicity man tells him to "write it on envelopes; Abe and take in a show!"

Laughter today is stored in Hollywood in cans, just as the gold was once stored at Fort Knox. It is taken out as needed and pasted onto TV films. And the laugh track tips us off to when things are funny.

But I want to laugh when I am amused. And I want to decide what I think is funny. And this, I suppose, will mark me as a square. And if it does, I will be in pretty good company. For this country was discovered, put together, fought for and saved by squares. It is easy to prove that Nathan Hale, Patrick Henry, Paul Revere, George Washington, Benjamin Franklin and almost anyone else you care to include among our national heroes were squares — by simply thinking what they might have said had they not been squares.

Nathan Hale:
"Me spy on those British! Are you trying to be funny? Do you know what they do with the spies they catch? I'll give you a news flash, chum. They HANG them."

Paul Revere:
"What do you mean — me ride through every Middlesex village and town? And in the middle of the night yet. Why pick on me? Am I the only man in Boston with a horse?"

Patrick Henry:
"Sure, I'm for liberty. First, last and always. But we've got to be a little realistic. We're a pretty small outfit. If we start pushing the British around someone is going to get hurt."

George Washington:
"Gentlemen, I am honored. But I do wish you would try someone else. Let's say General Gates. I'm just getting things organized at Mount Vernon. Also you might say I had already served my time. Against the French you know."

Benjamin Franklin:
"What we really need as Ambassador to France is a young man. I'm 70 years old! It's time a new generation took over."

It is perhaps a significant fact that what such men actually did say has been quietly sneaked out of our schoolbooks. This Week Magazine made a survey recently of school history books issued before 1920, compared with those issued since. Nathan Hale said, "I regret that I have but one life to give for my country" in 11 of the old texts and in only one of the new texts.

Patrick Henry said, "Give me liberty or give me death" in 12 out of 14 earlier texts and in only two of 45 recent ones.

But John Paul Jones set the record. He said, "I have not yet begun to fight" in nine of the old books and in none of the new ones.

Maybe cutting down a cherry tree is a square thing to do... and maybe throwing a dollar across the Rappahannock is a waste of money rather than a test of strength... and maybe nobody stands up in boats anymore (especially in mid-winter)... but there are lessons to be learned in all of them, and school books are for learning.

Maybe these aggressive and nationalistic statements went the way of contact games, which have been largely abandoned on our school grounds. Maybe the educators thought our children would be more interested in Peter Rabbit, who goes hippety - hop. Maybe the Russians are a lot smarter than we think.

Or maybe it is just because these fellows, and all of their fellows, and all of their ideas, are square!

When Dwight D. Eisenhower was President he appointed a Committee on National Goals to decide where we were all going. Perhaps a first step should be a commission on National Heritage to make sure that some of us at least remember where we have been.

Arnold Toynbee, the historian, says, 19 perished not from external conquest but from the evaporation of belief within.

Today, our country still has a choice. I believe it has already begun to make that choice. I believe it is going back to its old beliefs in such things as ideas, pride, patriotism, loyalty, devotion and even hard work.

We are great believers in statistics in this country — and while the things that really count can never be measured even by the most advanced computers — sheer head-counting seems to indicate that people are beginning to struggle for better things.

Twenty years ago, half of us belonged to churches. Today 64 per cent of us do. It is perfectly possible that the churches are full and the people are empty — but the statistics are on our side.

Sales of classical records have jumped 78 per cent in the last three years. Advertising, perhaps, but the statistics are on our side.

Millions of people are visiting museums, millions more than a decade ago.

We spent over a billion dollars on books last year, and people are taking 670 million volumes out of our public libraries each year.

There are 50 per cent more symphony orchestras than there were 10 years ago. And expenditures on all cultural activities have increased 70 per cent in the past 10 years — to a total of more than 3 billion dollars.

You might point out to me that 3 billion dollars spent for culture, stacked up against 50 billion spent for war still isn't much. But you will have to admit that there is definite movement. And in the right direction too.

Since the turn of the century, the percentage of our population that has graduated from high school is up ten times. And the percentage that has gone to college is up seven times. And the percentage in higher education who are in there trying to get higher marks is encouragingly higher than it used to be. Yes, there are indications that the day when it's smart to be smart is finally at hand.

But the greatest thing that has happened, of course, is that our nation has a whole new set of heroes. Named Glenn and Grissom and Shepard. Named Carpenter, Cooper and Schirra. Named Crews and Bock and Twining; Smith Sorlie and McIntosh; named Knole and Hoover. The towns they came from have nice small names; Sparta, Boulder, East Derry, Mitchell, Shawnee, Brownwood.

These lads apparently lived too far from the big city and grew up to be squares. For who but a square would volunteer his life for his country's good?

They are not even ashamed of their feelings.

John Glenn says he gets a funny feeling down inside when he sees the flag go by. Imagine that.

He's proud of his small town, proud of his small college. Proud that he belonged to the Boy Scouts and the YMCA.

I hope that some of him rubs off onto the next generation.

For the forces of conformity are still strong. Too many of us are still sitting it out instead of sweating it out. Too many of us haven't got the guts to stand up straight and dare to be square. Because the opposite of square is round, and being round is so much simpler. Responsibilities and problems roll off nice and easy and we can just roll down the path, without any bumps, being careful to stay in the middle, because that's where the most comfortable ruts are.

Too many of us know the short cuts, and too few know or care where the path leads. Too few of us dare to leave the path, because the path is always the easy way, the way most people go. But there is no path to the future, no path to greatness, no path to progress. No path to outer space or to inner satisfaction.

How shall we fight for personal independence? How shall we avoid the group poop, the vortex of mediocrity, the great nothing of cynical sophistication and bored non-participation?

May I suggest that we all join the S.O.S.? The S.O.S. — the Society of Squares. It doesn't even exist but it could. Not a left-wing organization. Not a right-wing organization. Just an organization with wings!

We might have to go underground for awhile to avoid being trampled to death by the coast-to-coast rat - packs of cynical saboteurs and the canned wit commandos whose devotion is to destruction.

But we would come out.

We might even have a secret handshake consisting mainly of grabbing the other guy's hand as though you meant it and looking him in the eye.

We would be for participation and against sitting life out... for simplicity and against sophistication... for laughter and against sniggering... for America and against her enemies... for the direct and against the devious... for the honest way against the easy short-cut... for a well-done job and against the goof-off... for education and against the pretense of learning... for building and against tearing down... for the boys and girls who excel and against the international bedroom athletes...

We have, at least, the satisfaction of knowing that our problem is not new.

When Benjamin Franklin was told that the war for independence was over, he said, "Say rather the war of the revolution is over — the war for independence has yet to be fought." And today — 179 years later — the war for independence has still to be fought.
