Stravato refutes candidate's statements

By ANDREA HOOTEN
Staff Writer

An advertisement by Republican sheriff candidate Ted Langgood which alleged that Sheriff Joe Brown misappropriated funds used in a drug bust has received heat from Claudia Stravato, a former president of the High Plains American Civil Liberties Union who investigated the drug operation.

In the Oct. 30 advertisement in the Hereford Brand, Langgood said Brown was investigated for possible misappropriation of funds by an employee of the State Comptroller's Office.

Even though Langgood never linked Stravato's name with the comptroller's office, the end of the ad reads, "For more information contact Claudia Stravato" and lists an Austin number.

Stravato, who now is a deputy comptroller for the State Comptroller's Office, sent a letter to Brown, the Brand and to Hereford radio station KPAN dated Sunday, refuting Langgood's allusion that Stravato investigated the operation as a representative of the State Comptroller's Office. She also said Langgood never received permission to use her name.

The letter states, "The investigation into the 1985 undercover drug operation was conducted solely by the High Plains American Civil Liberties Union which I was president of at the time... There are numerous misstatements on the ad which must be clarified... Mr. Langgood has used some truth and twisted it to meet his own political needs."

Another statement in the ad which Stravato later refuted said, "The Investigator contacted the Attorney General's Office and was told that the accounting by Joe Brown was totally inadequate and at best irresponsible and improper."

Stravato said the Attorney General's office was never contacted about any financial irregularities, only about Texas Open Records issues.

"That's false," said Langgood, "because that's exactly what she told me on the phone when I called her a couple of weeks ago to ask her about what she found out. She said she had copies of cancelled checks she showed the Attorney General's office."

Langgood also said Stravato never clarified in their phone conversation that she conducted the investigation strictly as a representative for the ACLU.

"From my understanding, she was conducting the investigation on her own behalf. But the bottom line is that she did conduct the investigation and she found some things that were irresponsible on Joe's part in accounting for the funds," Langgood said.

In a phone conversation with the Brand, Stravato said she found no receipts nor vouchers from Joe Brown on how the money was used.

"It only reflects on the accounting system of the county, that's all," said Stravato. "When I talked to Ted in August or September, he wanted to know exactly what I thought about the entire investigation. All I said was that it was not appropriate the way the money wasn't accounted for. He even talked to me about the ACLU and that's why I'm so dumbstruck that there was no mention of that in the ad."

The Langgood advertisement mentioned that Brown gave $1,000 of unaccounted city-county money (used to fund the drug bust) only after he was threatened with legal action.

Police Lt. David Wagner, who wrote receipts for all the money used in the drug bust, said he can account for all the money used in the drug arrests, and Brown gave him the $1,000 before any investigation by the ACLU was instigated.

Brown said, "That investigator (Stravato) supposedly threatened me and I never even talked to her. I gave the money back three weeks or so after David asked me for it because we didn't know if we'd need to money to make some arrests. David knew I had the money and knew I was in control of it."

Bush confident, Dukakis looks for more votes

By WILLIAM M. WELCH
Associated Press Writer

George Bush, his lead holding firm in the polls, is confidently talking about the look of a Bush presidency and borrowing his opponent's "I am on your side" line. Michael Dukakis visited his ill wife and pressed his populism in the Midwest.

With the race for the White House in its final week, President Reagan was getting in some campaigning today with a stop on behalf of the vice president in Ohio, one of the battlegrounds. Before leaving California on Tuesday, the president derided Dukakis as "no Harry Truman, and he's no FDR."

New polls released a week from Election Day showed the Republican presidential nominee still leading solidly.

A CBS News poll conducted Saturday through Monday showed Bush ahead by 12 percentage points, 53-41 percent—virtually the same as the 13-point lead a CBS poll had shown a week ago.

But fully one voter in five said they could still change their minds before Election Day. The survey was of 1,066 probable voters and had a margin of error of plus or minus three percentage points.

An ABC News-Washington Post poll done Wednesday through Monday gave the GOP nominee a 13-point lead over Dukakis, 55-42 percent. The survey of 1,099 probable voters had a margin of error of four percentage points.

An ABC News poll in California showed Bush the leader by seven percentage points in the nation's largest state.

Dukakis aides contended their own private polls showed the Democratic presidential nominee gaining on his Republican rival in battleground states. Privately, some Democrats expressed doubts.

Dukakis was following a relentless schedule. Following evening appearances in Detroit and Kansas City, he made a late-night flight to Minneapolis where his wife Kitty spent a second night hospitalized with what aides said was a viral infection.

Spokesman Paul Costello said her fever had eased and she was improving.

The Democratic nominee was campaigning today in Minneapolis, Chicago, Pittsburgh, and Philadelphia, where he was joining former Democratic candidate Jesse Jackson at rally at a local high school.

Dukakis appealed to black voters Tuesday night at Detroit's Greater Grace Temple, where he said the Republicans have ignored the needs of inner cities and are insensitive to the plight of minorities.

Bush spoke to an evening rally in Waukesha, Wis., where he took a line directly from Dukakis' new populist campaign theme.

"I am on your side," Bush declared. "You are on my side."

But in Nevada, Reagan was mocking Dukakis for that same line.

"The liberals now are saying that they're on your side," Reagan said. "I guess they think that that will make it easier for them to reach their hand around and put it in your pocket."

While Dukakis kept a frenetic campaign pace, Bush was just the opposite. He campaigned enough to avoid seeming too confident.

Train derails east of city

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Eight cars of a Santa Fe Railroad train derailed Tuesday at about 9:30 p.m. five miles east of Hereford.

No injuries were reported, and Santa Fe officials are still trying to determine the cause for the derailment. Santa Fe spokeswoman Susan Metcalf in Chicago said this morning that the derailment involved cars 21 through 28 of the 59-car freight train that originated in California and was destined for Avar, Okla.

According to Metcalf, all of the derailed cars were double-stacked containers on flat cars. Preliminary damage estimates were $150,000 to the cars and $24,500 to the containers. The amount of damage to rails that were twisted in the derailment, signal damage, and damage to the contents of the cars could not be determined.

Metcalf said there were no hazardous materials involved in the derailment. She said that Santa Fe hoped to have the track, which is the railroad's main transcontinental line, reopened by 2 p.m. today. Metcalf said it could be "a couple of days" before the container cars are cleared from the site.

Since the derailment, 10 trains have had to detour through Lubbock, Metcalf said. That adds about 2 hours and 40 minutes to the normal time it takes for trains that pass through Hereford. Instead of turning west at Canyon, the trains must go south to Plainview and Lubbock, then northwest to Clovis, N.M.

Metcalf said the train was traveling about 40 mph at the time of the derailment. The posted speed limit at the location is 70 mph.

What's ahead in the world is not for the meek:

Election Day will be here in less than a week.

A Democrat told me "Remember the Hoover!"

If you cast your vote For Bush and the Hoosier."

But a Republican said, "It's your carcass,

If you cast your vote For Lloyd and Dukakis."

My ears are so red, they need analgesic

From all these ads And political rhetoric.

I'm asked to wonder about George's location.

Has anyone thought he was on vacation?

I'm tired of hearing That George is a wimp,

Accused of everything except smoking hemp.

And my breath I'm holding, until my face turns blue,

Until I hear the last About the ACLU.

I had to check the law About punishment capital,

To see about death For being a liberal.

'Seuse me for a minute, I've got a phone call.

It's prob'ly another Stupid election poll.

"Are you likely to vote?" A strange voice asks me,

"And if you do, which one is it likely to be?"

"With Mike or with George, With whom have you sided?"

Or are you still Among the undecided?"

"Are those the only choices?" I ask with a sigh,

"Because neither one Do I think will fly."

"It's one or the other," He says in a cynical voice,

"I'm really sorry, But there's no other choice."

I don't think I'm ready for the distinction

Of backing little Danny, or even Lloyd Bentsen.

"Look at it this way," He says, with a "maybe";

"Consider who you'd have For a First Lady."

"Eureka!" I shout, This guy's an Einstein,

He's found a way to make up my mind.

I'm a "Gunsmoke" fan, and wouldn't it be a pity,

To turn down the chance to vote for Miss Kitty.

35 pursue track licenses

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Racing Commission has heard from 35 prospective track operators so far who are interested in obtaining pari-mutuel horse and dog racing licenses.

Non-binding letters of intent filed with the commission showed interest in seeking licenses for all three classes of horse tracks as well as for greyhound tracks that will be allowed in Galveston, Nueces and Cameron counties.

Nancy Fisher, commission deputy secretary, said the agency has received five letters of intent from people wanting to build major, Class 1 horse tracks which are allowed in the Houston, San Antonio and Dallas-Fort Worth areas.

Another 15 voiced interest in obtaining licenses for intermediate, Class 2 tracks, and three letters were received about Class 3 track licenses. A dozen letters have been submitted so far from prospective greyhound track operators.

Tuesday was the first day formal applications could be filed for Class 2 tracks, those which will have pari-mutuel horse racing 44 days a year or less. Applications for those tracks will be taken until Dec. 30. Applications for the other classes of tracks are to be taken later.

Ms. Fisher said the 15 letters of intent about Class 2 licenses had come from Bandera, Blanco, Duval, Fort Bend, Goliad, Harris, Jackson, Lubbock, Marion, McCullough, Parker, Randall, Tarrant and Travis counties.

Letters regarding Class 1 tracks had been received from Harris, Brazoria and Guadalupe counties, Ms. Fisher said.

Bull

65-year-olds in the U.S. than there are teenagers. The median age of Americans will continue to rise because the largest single group of people—the baby boomers—are already in their 40s.

"This large voting bloc becomes more conservative with age, and people become income-insecure. People say no more taxes, no more bond issues. How are we to make people secure enough to keep the growth going?" Cisneros asked.

The four-term San Antonio mayor cited a Rand Corporation study that shows by the year 2000, 48 percent of California will be Hispanic, Asian or black. The same ethnic groups will make up 60 percent of Los Angeles County. He added that the changes in ethnic makeup are also happening in Florida, Texas, Arizona, Colorado, New York, New Jersey and Illinois.

"It's not something to be afraid of, but something to prepare for...these predictions are mathematically predictable as an actuarial table." Cisneros said education is the key to survival for Americans as demographics change or we risk creating "a permanent underclass" that can't break out of the cycle of poverty. He called for good schools, better-paid teachers and a better educational system.

Clements told NNA members that Texas' economy is on the rebound and the future looks bright for the state. The governor pointed out that nine state agencies have been consolidated into the Texas Department of Commerce during his term. "It will help businesses grow and show others what Texas has to offer," he predicted. He also touted progress on tort reform, trucking regulation, and legislation that strengthens the Texas Open Meetings Act.

Clements deviated from his speech to take a verbal jab at Democratic presidential candidate Michael Dukakis, but it didn't go over too well with some of the conventioners. "No Democratic president has ever been elected and not carried Texas, and I guarantee you it ain't going to happen this time," Clements said.

Other top speakers at the convention included Alex Haley, the Pulitzer Prize-winning author; Walter Anderson, editor of Parade Magazine; Anne Richards, Texas treasurer; and Heloise, the popular syndicated columnist.

Letters on Class 3 tracks — those which will race 16 days or less annually — were received from Comal, Gillespie and Kimble counties, she said.

Under the state's new racing law, dog racing will be allowed only in three counties, and Ms. Fisher said seven letters of intent had been received from Cameron County, three from Galveston and two from Nueces.

In a related development, Assistant Attorney General Bill Conover, in a letter released Tuesday, said that since the state racing law prohibits the Racing Commission from limiting the number of Class 2 tracks licensed, another method could be considered to avoid "oversaturation" of race meetings.

In a letter to Comptroller Bob Bullock, a Racing Commission member, Conover said the panel should study creating a "racing circuit" plan like those used in states such as California to avoid the problem.

Ms. Fisher said the circuit concept has been under study by Texas racing officials.

"It depends on what (race) dates the tracks ask for in their applications," she said. "But certainly, we will not want to have a large amount of overlapping dates. If we grant 10, 15 or 20 Class 2 licenses, we don't want them all running at the same time."

Polls distort campaign

NEW YORK (AP) — Political pollsters have plied their trade in stormy weather in the presidential election's final weeks, buffeted by complaints that their work is distorting the campaign and alienating voters.

Democrat Michael Dukakis has led the criticism — not surprisingly, for he's trailed George Bush in the polls. But Republicans also have questioned the effect on the race of the emphasis on poll results.

"The question is whether these polls are giving the impression to the American people that their vote doesn't matter," Frank J. Fahrenkopf Jr., the Republican Party chairman, said Tuesday. "There is that danger."

The public, as well, is down on the polls. In recent Gallup surveys, 45 percent said reporting who's ahead in polls is bad for the country. As many said polls do not improve press coverage of the election. And even more said polls should not be reported in the final weeks of a presidential campaign.

The sentiment likely reflects disquiet with the way polls have muscled in on the political discussion this year. Bush and Dukakis have been scored in more than 90 major national surveys, six times the number in the 1964 election.

"I think people are a little tired of all the horserace polls," said Andrew Kohut, president of the Gallup Organization.

Judge candidate stumps here

Judge Mike McCormick brought his campaign for Presiding Judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals to Hereford Tuesday as part of a two-week campaign swing through West Texas and the Panhandle.

McCormick, a Democrat from Lockhart, was elected to Court of Criminal Appeals in 1980. He is opposed on the ballot by David Berchmann, Republican.

"With the crisis in the criminal justice system and demand for an independent judiciary, I offer the voters of Texas solid and proven leadership," McCormick said here Tuesday. "I am the only candidate with appellate judicial experience as well as a strong background in the administrative and legislative duties required of the position. And, I am the only candidate supported unanimously by law enforcement."

McCormick served as executive director of Texas District and County Attorneys Association for four years and was on the board of the National District Attorneys Association for two years before being elected a judge. His legal background also includes being a member of many state bar committees, a lecturer at criminal law seminars, and author of numerous criminal law manuals and articles.

His wife, Kathy, accompanied him on his visit to Hereford. They have two children—Kelly, 17, and Karen, 15.

Landry likes Aikman but not worst record

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Tom Landry doesn't want a ticket to the Troy Aikman sweepstakes but if fate hands him one he'll take it and Aikman.

Aikman is the UCLA quarterback considered by scouts as the most likely to be the top pick in next spring's NFL draft. Of course, the worst team in the league gets first choice.

"I'd like to finish winning everyone of our games," Landry said. "Some of us may not be here next year if we don't win some."

However, Landry said if Dallas does finish as the worst team then he'd pick Aikman.

"I don't care how many quarterbacks you have you would want one like him," Landry said. "He might be able to make an impact as a rookie."

Landry has strongly endorsed quarterback Steve Pelluer despite the Cowboys' five-game losing streak, predicting "he'll blossom out and make the keys plays to make a difference."

Landry said Pelluer is "tough mentally and will fight back. Of course, the supporting cast has to come along, too."

Backup quarterback Kevin Sweeney will get a chance only if Pelluer is not operating "effectively," Landry said.

Landry said "I can't predict when that would be. It would have to be from a feel I have in the arena."

He said Sweeney, who has looked good in practice, can't handle as much offense as Pelluer.

"We would have to work from a restricted game plan for him although he (Sweeney) is well trained," Landry said. "He has spent his life in football. I still won't do anything that I don't think is in the best interest of the team to win."

Landry said Pelluer should bounce back from his worst performance of the year. Pelluer suffered two interceptions in a 16-10 loss to Phoenix and completed only 9 of 31 passes.

Dallas made only 1 of 13 third-down situations. Pelluer suffered a sore shoulder during the game but should be ready to start against the New York Giants on Sunday.

"Like most quarterbacks he has his good days and bad days, just like Joe Montana and some of the others," Landry said. "He can't use the sore shoulder as an excuse. I can remember Roger Staubach and Don Meredith all banged up hanging out there on a limb throwing the ball."

Landry said Pelluer was handicapped when starting center Tom Rafferty had to leave the game with an injury. Rafferty snaps in the shotgun formation so Pelluer had to go from the T-formation in obvious passing formations.

"The timing is different and using the spread formation gives the quarterback an extra second to read the defense," Landry said. "We'll have to work on that this week with the new center (Bob White)."

Landry said the Cowboys' goal for the rest of the season was to remain competitive.

"We're not a sorry team," he said. "It's just a matter of learning how to win. If you start feeling sorry for yourself you're just going to get beat again."

"If we can survive and play well then we know where we are for next year. We play all the contenders now. I just hope we can keep staying in the games."

If the Cowboys lose on Sunday, it will be their first six-game losing streak since the expansion season of 1960.

The oddsmakers opened with the Cowboys seven point underdogs.

The first newspaper edited for and by blacks, Freedom's Journal, was published in 1827 in New York.

Maroon 8th wins

The Hereford Junior High eighth grade Maroon team defeated Dumas 34-0 on Tuesday at Dumas to win the district championship.

Both teams entered the game 7-0 on the year.

"We really came to play," said Hereford coach James Salinas. "It was probably our best defensive game of the year, and the offense executed very well. All of the kids did a great job of preparing for the game."

Petey Colvin scored three first-half touchdowns on runs of 49, 22 and 56 yards, and Jason Paetzold added a two-point conversion run after the first touchdown to give Hereford a 20-0 halftime lead.

In the second half, Chris Brummett scored on a 59-yard run followed by a two-point pass from Richard Sanderson to Ronnie Gomez. Sanderson scored the final touchdown on a three-yard run.

In other games Tuesday:

-Michael Ramirez scored on an 80-yard kickoff return as the 8th Maroon B team lost at Dumas, 18-6;

-Chama Hernandez scored on a touchdown run for the 8th White A team, which lost 24-8 at Borger, while the Hereford White B team lost, 6-0;

-Alejandro Nava scored on a 97-yard run for the 7th Maroon A team in a 26-6 loss to Dumas. Dumas defeated the Maroon B team, 32-6, while the 7th White teams both dropped 24-0 decisions to Borger.

Claudia D. Stravato Answers Fact No. 7...

... in Ted Langgood's ad appearing in the Sunday, Oct. 30th edition of the Hereford Brand.

HIGH PLAINS
AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION
P.O. BOX 10204
AMARILLO, TEXAS 79106
October 30, 1988

Sheriff Joe Brown
Deaf Smith Sheriff's Office
Deaf Smith County Court House
Hereford, TX 79045

Dear Sheriff Brown:

A political advertisement in the October 30 issue of The Hereford Brand using my name was brought to my attention. Ted Langgood ran the ad and did not notify me or get my approval to use my name.

The investigation into the 1985 undercover drug operation was conducted solely by the High Plains American Civil Liberties Union which I was president of at the time. The American Civil Liberties Union does not involve itself in partisan political races. It acts only in support of the Bill of Rights.

There are numerous misstatements in the ad which must be clarified:

1. Sheriff Joe Brown was not investigated for misappropriation of funds by the State Comptroller's Office.
2. There was never any allegations of misappropriation of funds by the State Comptroller's Office or the Attorney General's Office.
3. The Attorney General's Office was never contacted about any financial irregularities, only about Texas Open Records issues.
4. I was not then, nor am I now, an "investigator" for the State Comptroller's Office.

Mr. Langgood has used some truth and twisted it to meet his own political needs.

Respectfully,

Claudia D. Stravato

Saints feel backlash after winning ways

By DAVE GOLDBERG AP Football Writer

Nearly two years ago, after going 7-9 in his first season, Coach Jim Mora was asked about his hopes for the 1987 New Orleans Saints.

"I'd take 9-7," he smiled. So the Saints went 12-3, raising expectations to an almost impossible level for fans who had never experienced a winning season in the team's 21-year history, something the New Orleans brass knew well.

"We would have been as well off going 9-6 as 12-3," General Manager Jim Finks, who with Mora has turned the Saints in three years from a joke to one of the NFL's powers, said last January before reality set in with a 4-10 playoff loss to Minnesota. "But you just can't do that. You don't go out there and say,

"Enough, we've got our quota of wins."

Now, the predictable has happened.

A single loss becomes a disaster to New Orleans' once victory-starved fans, who have made the little ditty "Who 'Dat say 'dey gonna beat 'de' part of the Capatois of one of the nation's most distinctive cities.

So there it was in the New Orleans Times-Picayune Monday, the anonymous critiques of fans queried after the Saints had lost 12-10 to the Rams Sunday — their second defeat in nine games this season; their fifth in the last 24 over two years.

"I don't think the Saints are as good as everybody around here thinks they are," one unnamed fan was quoted by the newspaper. "I think they'll be lucky to win two of their next seven games."

"The Saints' play-calling is the sorriest in football," said another.

And so on, even to criticism of Mora, last season's NFL Coach of the Year and one of the top six coaches in the NFL.

Why? Probably because they were 12-3 instead of 9-6 last year.

Finks and Mora know they've made a winner of a team that, with few exceptions like Pro Bowl linebacker Rickey Jackson, is made up of average talent, particularly with Jackson's bookend on the other side, Pat Swilling, sidelined with a pulled abdominal muscle.

They know that in a balanced league, one torn ligament or sprained ankle can turn the Washington Redskins into the Detroit Lions or Atlanta Falcons. Washington, with both its cornerbacks playing injured, hardly looked like Super Bowl winners in their 41-17 loss to Houston Sunday night.

They know that the New York Giants went from NFL champion to 6-9 in one season and that week-to-week results are hardly more predictable. A week after they had been anointed as this year's Super Team, the Bears lost 30-7 to New England, a team that three weeks earlier had been beaten 45-3 by 2-7 Green Bay.

And while New Orleans fans seem to have things in better perspective than, say, those in Denver, who seem to think the presence of John Elway guarantees them the right to get clobbered in the Super Bowl every year, Finks, et al., knew the backlash was coming.

Moreover, despite the 7-1 start, turned into 7-2 by the Rams on Sunday, there's no guarantee that — as the anonymous fan said — they won't lose five of their last seven.

Their first six wins were by a combined total of 30 points against Atlanta, Detroit, Tampa Bay, Dallas, San Diego and Seattle, whose combined record is now 15-39. Their next six games are against the Redskins, Rams, Broncos, Giants, Vikings and 49ers, whose combined record is 33-21.

They're also hurt. They've lost two left tackles, Stan Brock and Bill Conz, and the third-stringer, Daren Gilbert, allowed the sack that might have cost Sunday's game. Swilling remains iffy and two of their top three running backs, Dalton Hilliard and Craig "Ironhead" Heyward, were both hurt Sunday, one of the reasons one of the league's top running attacks was limited to 33 yards.

But what's really going on is that Saints fans, who until two years ago expected to lose every week, now expect the opposite.

Top 5A schoolboy teams roll on

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ AP Sports Writer

The top four ranked teams in Class 5A of The Associated Press Schoolboy Poll outscored their opponents by a combined 190-0 in games last week, led by No. 1-ranked Sugar Land Willowridge.

Willowridge shut out Houston Sharpstown 49-0, and No. 2 Houston Yates blanked Houston Austin 56-0, with Willowridge maintaining its lead with 13 first-place votes and 191 points.

Sweetwater in 4A, Daingerfield in 3A and Refugio in 2A didn't win as convincingly and Bartlett in A had an open date but they held onto their No. 1 ranks in balloting by The Associated Press panel.

Third-ranked Marshall beat Tyler Lee 42-0 and No. 4 Arlington shut out Jesuit 43-0 but the string of shutouts ended with No. 5-ranked Odessa Permian, which lost to Midland Lee 22-21.

Permian, 6-2, dropped into a 10th-place tie with newcomer Gariand Lakeview, which beat South Garland 21-10 for its ninth straight victory this season.

Sweetwater, 8-0, defeated

Monahans 24-7 and received 13 first-place votes in 4A balloting while runner-up Kerrville Tivy got six first-place votes.

Tomball, ranked fourth last week, was upset by Brenham 21-19 and dropped to 10th place this week.

Denison, which beat Highland Park on a field goal after time had expired 13-10, moved up from fifth to No. 4, replacing Tomball.

There were no losses and no changes in the rankings in classes 3A and 2A.

Daingerfield received 18 of the 20 first-place votes cast and held a 197-162 point lead over No. 2-ranked Springtown.

Daingerfield, 9-0, neared a perfect season with a 21-12 victory over Linden-Kildare and Springtown beat Boyd 14-0.

Refugio, 8-0, headed toward the playoffs with a 46-7 victory over Bloomington and received 13 first-place votes to three for No. 2 Hughes Springs. Bartlett had an open date but had no trouble protecting its Class A lead with 13 first-place votes and a 188-173-point margin over second-ranked Flatonia.

Ex-Kansas coach defends his actions

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Larry Brown, who coached the Kansas Jayhawks to the NCAA basketball championship last spring, says the NCAA went a long way to find a violation in his program and is upset university officials continually have criticized him.

Brown, who now coaches the San Antonio Spurs of the NBA, said Tuesday he was upset about sanctions imposed on the basketball program by an NCAA Infractions Committee, which penalized the university for recruiting violations.

Brown says he gave a student-athlete $364 for a plane ticket to see his dying grandmother and later told the NCAA about the payment.

He said he later talked with NCAA officials and did not believe sanctions, if any, would be major and said he would not have left Kansas if he believed the penalties would be so severe.

"The bottom line is we know what expense (the NCAA) went to and how much time they (spent trying) to figure out the things that we were doing and to see if there was any pattern and they couldn't find anything," Brown said.

"That makes me feel good, but it hurts us all because there are new kids in that program and a new coaching staff and they are going to suffer.

"I just know that we ran a clean program and I know the expense the NCAA went to try to investigate our program," he said.

Kansas on Tuesday was put on a three-year probation for recruiting violations and will not be allowed to defend its title.

It will be barred from postseason play in the first year of the probation and will not be allowed to give paid campus recruiting visits in 1989 and will be stripped of one scholarship during it at period.

Reports have linked former Memphis State guard Vincent Askew to the probe although the NCAA announcement did not identify anyone. Askew was recruited by Brown and spent the summer of 1986 on campus. He then returned to Memphis without playing for the Jayhawks.

"It says in the infraction (report) about a kid visiting his grandmother because she was ill. I gave him exactly $364, which was the price for the roundtrip ticket and we told the NCAA about it. The kid's grandmother who raised him passed away a short time later," Brown said.

"I'd give it to anybody if they told me his grandmother was passing away. It was something I wasn't trying to hide," Brown said.

"If you talk to me about giving a kid a pair of sneakers or driving a kid to the airport. To me that's not the intent of cheating the NCAA," he said. Brown, who brought his three assistants with him to San Antonio, said they repeatedly have been bashed by the Kansas administration who did not appreciate them delivering a winning program.

Hints from Heloise

FROZEN WAFFLES
Dear Heloise: My family loves frozen waffles. However, it seems that when I would get them to the table they would be cold.
So, to alleviate this problem I now heat the syrup. I place the syrup in a pan of hot water for about 10 minutes.

Now when the waffles are on the table we pour the hot syrup over them.
It is delicious! — Nancy Averna, San Diego, Calif.
TOOTHPASTE
Dear Heloise: Stop! Don't throw away that empty toothpaste tube. Put the cap on and hold it under hot water for a minute or two.

Mash the tube (flattened) between your fingers toward the cap and you will find you have enough toothpaste for several days. — A Reader, Shreveport, La.

Calliopian Club members 'fly' to Australia

Margie Mims served as hostess when Calliopian Study Club met in her home recently. The program, entitled "Under the Southern Cross", was given by members who had traveled to Australia this summer with the Hereford Chamber singers. Club members received boarding passes as they arrived at the meeting and became passengers on Qantas Airlines for a simulated trip to Australia. Stewardesses, Linda Gilbert, Jane Gulley, Claudia McBrayer and Jan Walser, seated the passengers and served orange juice and peanuts.

Captain Mims put the plane on cruise control leaving her free to narrate the in-flight film "Welcome to Australia." She was assisted by her husband, Dr. Trow Mims. Following the film, passengers were served Australian dessert called Lambkins with fresh fruit salad and hot tea.

The flight crew had assembled an interesting display of souvenirs and photos for passengers to view and discuss.

FIRE SPRINKLERS ARE BIG BUSINESS

NEW YORK (AP) — The automatic fire-sprinkler business is huge, with annual sales of nearly $3.5 billion, with no competition from overseas, reports Metalworking News. The publication notes that about 16 million sprinkler devices have been installed in North America, with about 15 million of the total in the United States. The devices and systems are not imported. Until recently, automatic sprinklers were primarily installed for commercial and industrial users. Since 1983, however, they have begun to be installed in residences, with the most recent count placing installations at 100,000 living units. Piping represents about 70 percent of the material used in a sprinkler system, and industry estimates place piping requirements at about 400 million linear feet per year.

Accent on Health

Fatalities Led By Heart Disease, Cancer

Heart disease and cancer persisted as the most frequent causes of death in Texas in 1987, killing more than 65,000 Texans, according to the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas Department of Health. Heart disease once again was the leading killer, claiming 40,037 lives, while cancer led to 25,327 deaths. Cerebrovascular disease ranked third, claiming 8,181 victims, and accidents caused 6,402 fatalities. These four killers were responsible for 66.7 percent of the 119,734 deaths last year. Completing the top 10 list of death causes were (5) chronic bronchitis, emphysema, asthma, and allied condition—3,874; (6) pneumonia and influenza—3,484; (7) suicide—2,180; (8) diabetes—2,127; (9) homicide—1,948; and, (10) the kidney disorders nephritis, nephrotic syndrome, and nephrosis—1,435. Other causes were reported for the remaining 24,739 deaths. The death rate last year was slightly less than 7.1 per 1,000 population, based on an estimated population at mid-year of 17,027,166. According to Dr. Robert Bernstein, Texas Commissioner of Health, the risks of death, especially from heart disease and cancer, could be drastically reduced through good health habits.

He said that people at any age can benefit from lifestyle changes. Young people, Dr. Bernstein said, should be aware that most heart disease in older people is the result of many years of bad habits.

He stressed that smoking is the single most preventable cause of heart disease and cancer.

Signs of developing heart problems—diabetes, high blood pressure, and tendencies toward obesity—usually can be controlled with the help of a physician, Dr. Bernstein said. In addition, high blood cholesterol levels and lack of exercise can be corrected by individuals, he said.

Dr. Bernstein said that ways to prevent cancer include: having regular checkups, since early detection is a key to curing cancer; maintaining a proper diet, by avoiding high fat foods and eating more fruits, vegetables, and cereals; using a sunscreen and protective clothing in the sun, since skin cancer is directly related to the amount of exposure to the sun's rays; and avoiding exposure to chemicals and other cancer-causing substances such as tobacco, asbestos, vinyl chlorides, and polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs).

Milk supplies safe

Consumers can feel confident that milk supplies in the food chain are totally safe from any problems of aflatoxin as a result of tests conducted to assure food safety.

Dr. Al Wagner, a food technologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said that monitoring and testing programs for milk supplies are designed to produce quality food products. "Milk—or other foods—that do not meet tough standards are automatically withdrawn from the market," Wagner said.

Another expert in the area of dairy food safety, Kirmon Smith of Austin, director of the division of dairy products with the Texas Department of Health, said consumers can have great confidence in the safety of the milk supply.

"We have strict screening programs under way that sample and test tankersloads of milk coming into Texas, as well as testing programs for individual dairy farms in the state. Any milk that does not meet our strict standards is immediately withdrawn and does not get into the food chain," Smith said.

Smith said that through the testing program, milk containing aflatoxin levels above the maximum allowed (.5 parts per billion) has been traced to 1.3 percent of the dairy farms in Texas, or about 30 Texas dairies this month.

"These milk supplies were discarded immediately, so consumers should have no concerns about these dairy products. Furthermore, our testing program is continuing to assure that future supplies also are safe," Smith said. Wagner said that the widespread drought in Texas, the Mid-West and other grain-producing areas of the nation has created possible toxic problems with feed. Aflatoxin, a type of mycotoxin produced by fungi, can be toxic to livestock fed the contaminated grain.

Whether grain is contaminated with mycotoxins can be determined by a blacklight test, but a more sophisticated test is needed to determine the actual aflatoxin levels. Feed samples can be sent to the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory at Texas A&M University, or to commercial companies, for testing.

UTILITY ISSUES GRANTS FOR ENERGY SAVING

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (AP) — A local utilities company is entering into an unusual partnership with a hospital association to finance and encourage energy efficiency improvements, reports Energy User News magazine.

The company has issued a $111 million, capital-grant revolving loan fund with loans up to $200,000 per hospital available at zero interest for terms of up to eight years to members of the Connecticut Hospital Association.

Improvements including energy-efficient lighting, variable-speed motors and thermal-storage systems are cited as measures that could particularly benefit health facilities having high thermal loads and round-the-clock operations.

Energy-improvement plans will be evaluated on the basis of the amount of energy saved per dollar spent. The first loans are expected to be awarded in 1989.

No gain. No pain.

Keeping your weight at a moderate level may scale down your risk of heart attack. So maintain a healthy diet and lighten up on your heart.

FIRE SPRINKLERS ARE BIG BUSINESS

NEW YORK (AP) — The automatic fire-sprinkler business is huge, with annual sales of nearly $3.5 billion, with no competition from overseas, reports Metalworking News. The publication notes that about 16 million sprinkler devices have been installed in North America, with about 15 million of the total in the United States. The devices and systems are not imported. Until recently, automatic sprinklers were primarily installed for commercial and industrial users. Since 1983, however, they have begun to be installed in residences, with the most recent count placing installations at 100,000 living units. Piping represents about 70 percent of the material used in a sprinkler system, and industry estimates place piping requirements at about 400 million linear feet per year.

Accent on Health

Fatalities Led By Heart Disease, Cancer

Heart disease and cancer persisted as the most frequent causes of death in Texas in 1987, killing more than 65,000 Texans, according to the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas Department of Health. Heart disease once again was the leading killer, claiming 40,037 lives, while cancer led to 25,327 deaths. Cerebrovascular disease ranked third, claiming 8,181 victims, and accidents caused 6,402 fatalities. These four killers were responsible for 66.7 percent of the 119,734 deaths last year. Completing the top 10 list of death causes were (5) chronic bronchitis, emphysema, asthma, and allied condition—3,874; (6) pneumonia and influenza—3,484; (7) suicide—2,180; (8) diabetes—2,127 (9) homicide—1,948; and, (10) the kidney disorders nephritis, nephrotic syndrome, and nephrosis—1,435. Other causes were reported for the remaining 24,739 deaths. The death rate last year was slightly less than 7.1 per 1,000 population, based on an estimated population at mid-year of 17,027,166. According to Dr. Robert Bernstein, Texas Commissioner of Health, the risks of death, especially from heart disease and cancer, could be drastically reduced through good health habits. He said that people at any age can benefit from lifestyle changes. Young people, Dr. Bernstein said, should be aware that most heart disease in older people is the result of many years of bad habits. He stressed that smoking is the single most preventable cause of heart disease and cancer. Signs of developing heart problems—diabetes, high blood pressure, and tendencies toward obesity—usually can be controlled with the help of a physician, Dr. Bernstein said. In addition, high blood cholesterol levels and lack of exercise can be corrected by individuals, he said. Dr. Bernstein said that ways to prevent cancer include: having regular checkups, since early detection is a key to curing cancer; maintaining a proper diet, by avoiding high fat foods and eating more fruits, vegetables, and cereals; using a sunscreen and protective clothing in the sun, since skin cancer is directly related to the amount of exposure to the sun's rays; and avoiding exposure to chemicals and other cancer-causing substances such as tobacco, asbestos, vinyl chlorides, and polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs).

Consumers can feel confident that milk supplies in the food chain are totally safe from any problems of aflatoxin as a result of tests conducted to assure food safety.

Dr. Al Wagner, a food technologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said that monitoring and testing programs for milk supplies are designed to produce quality food products. "Milk—or other foods—that do not meet tough standards are automatically withdrawn from the market," Wagner said. Another expert in the area of dairy food safety, Kirmon Smith of Austin, director of the division of dairy products with the Texas Department of Health, said consumers can have great confidence in the safety of the milk supply.

UTILITY ISSUES GRANTS FOR ENERGY SAVING

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (AP) — A local utilities company is entering into an unusual partnership with a hospital association to finance and encourage energy efficiency improvements, reports Energy User News magazine. The company has issued a $111 million, capital-grant revolving loan fund with loans up to $200,000 per hospital available at zero interest for terms of up to eight years to members of the Connecticut Hospital Association. Improvements including energy-efficient lighting, variable-speed motors and thermal-storage systems are cited as measures that could particularly benefit health facilities having high thermal loads and round-the-clock operations. Energy-improvement plans will be evaluated on the basis of the amount of energy saved per dollar spent. The first loans are expected to be awarded in 1989.

drought in Texas, the Mid-West and other grain-producing areas of the nation has created possible toxic problems with feed. Aflatoxin, a type of mycotoxin produced by fungi, can be toxic to livestock fed the contaminated grain. Whether grain is contaminated with mycotoxins can be determined by a blacklight test, but a more sophisticated test is needed to determine the actual aflatoxin levels. Feed samples can be sent to the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory at Texas A&M University, or to commercial companies, for testing.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just read one woman's response to the divorced father who was troubled by his children's lack of interest. You said children suffer most by divorce. How true.

In my case the animosity was not between our divorced parents. One never spoke ill of the other, either during or after the divorce. The problem began when Dad remarried. His new wife did not want him to have anything to do with us. From the day he married her he has treated me like a stranger.

The last time I talked to Dad was five years ago, when I called him long-distance to tell him that he was going to be a grandfather. After that call they suddenly had an unlisted number.

I've written him several letters, none of which was answered. I was certain that his wife had intercepted them and thrown them away, but I learned through a relative that he did indeed receive my letters.

I now have two beautiful children. They are Dad's only grandchildren, and he has never seen them. Believe me, Ann, I don't want to take him away from his wife, I just want to enrich his life with these adorable girls.

I'm trying to deal with feelings of anger, rejection and hurt, and it's not easy. I am heartsick that my father's new wife has succeeded in getting him to cut all ties with his family. She is depriving him of the joys of grandfatherhood and robbing us of something precious, too. Please comment on this, Ann.—Cut-Off in Va.

DEAR CUT-OFF IN VA.: Don't put all the blame on your father's new wife. He is at least as culpable as she.

No matter how domineering and mean-spirited a woman may be she cannot alienate a father from his children "for no reason" unless he is a spineless, lily-livered wimp. As time goes on he will probably mourn the years that were lost and wish that he could live them over.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Golfers at my club are passing around and howling at your column that carried the headline "Golf Versus Sex." I'd like to make another comparison.

The question I'd like to pose is this: Which would a bingo addict choose if she had to make a choice?

My wife belongs to a car pool. The women travel five evenings a week to different bingo palaces. I don't see how they stand the smoke, the cheap perfume and the perspiration, but not one of these women would miss a game unless she was hospitalized.

Recently I posed this question to my wife: "Assume there are two doors. One leads to a lavish bedroom with a bar, a stereo, a water bed and room service, and I was there waiting for you. The other door leads to the bingo emporium. Your seat is reserved, bingo is on the house and your cards are on the table. Which door would you choose?"

My wife thought for a few minutes, carefully evaluating both options. Finally she asked, "How many cards?"

Actually she's a great lady and that line has become a standard joke in our house. Just sign me—herbert K. in Lanham, Md.

DEAR HERB: Thanks for my laugh for the day.
