Flight lesson

Over 1,500 fifth grade students from Hereford and other area schools had a full-day field trip in Hereford on Wednesday as information specialists from NASA gave seminars and presented programs on the space program. The students also learned how to make and fly paper helicopters at the end of the day and celebrated their experience.

Reagan stumping for Bush

By WILLIAM M. WELCH
Associated Press Writer

Michael Dukakis is blasting Republican handling of the war against drugs and pledging not one dime of foreign aid for countries that resist anti-drug efforts. George Bush poked fun at Dukakis and declared, "I represent the mainstream."

With the race for the White House down to less than a week, the candidates were focusing predictably on the major industrial states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois and New Jersey.

The Democrats were in a hurry-up offense; the Republicans, with polls bringing only good news, were trying to avoid a stumble.

Republican national chairman Frank Fahrenkopf said GOP tracking polls suggested Dukakis was running below what he called a 40 percent national "base Democratic vote," and said a landslide victory for Bush is possible.

Recent nationwide polls show the GOP nominee holding a solid double-digit lead.

President Reagan was planning a final weekend return visit to help his vice president. He campaigned in Wisconsin and Ohio on Wednesday and scoffed at Dukakis' claims to be a Democrat in the Harry Truman mold.

"If he's Harry Truman, I'm Roger Rabbit," Reagan said.

Dukakis, in Chicago, assailed the Republicans' claim on Truman's memory. "Have they no shame?" he asked.

With Democrat Dukakis taking full advantage of national television interview invitations, Bush tossed another barb loaded with "the L word," or liberal label.

"It seemed like he appeared on every television show except Wheel of Fortune," Bush joked. "You see, he was afraid that Vanna might turn over the L word." Vanna White is hostess on the popular game show.

Still, Dukakis' television appearances prompted Bush to accept several of his own, including 30 minutes live on NBC's "Today" show today.

The campaign grew more heated for the vice presidential candidates. Democrat Lloyd Bentsen blasted Bush for selecting Dan Quayle as his running mate. The choice, Bentsen said in Illinois, showed "a real disdain, disregard for our country."

Quayle found himself caught up anew in a controversy over abortion.

While he ardently opposes abortion, even in cases of rape, Quayle told questioners he had no quarrel with a medical procedure known as dilation and curettage, or D-and-C, and said it would prevent conception if performed soon after rape.

The medical procedure is considered by many in the field of gynecology as a means of terminating a pregnancy.

Questions about abortion have hounded Quayle in recent days, particularly following his suggestion to a 12-year-old girl that she should go ahead and give birth in a theoretical situation in which she was raped by her father and became pregnant.

Dukakis, with fatigue from his frenetic pace showing in his voice, campaigned with Jesse Jackson in Philadelphia late Wednesday night where the former Democratic candidate received a rousing reception.

Dukakis, introduced by Jackson, sparked the crowd at Martin Luther King High School when he stressed his anti-apartheid theme.

"Nelson Mandela is still in jail and Manuel Noriega is still running Panama. It's time that changed," Dukakis said.

He earlier unleashed some of his harshest rhetoric yet, blasting Bush for anti-drug efforts and saying a day before that he would not necessarily halt aid to nations that refuse to cooperate with U.S. anti-drug effort.

"If you're against us, don't expect a dime of American foreign aid," Dukakis said.

"I'll work with other countries, but I'll be damned if I will allow those countries to send their poison into the United States of America," Dukakis said. "Maybe (Bush) thinks there are other things more important than the future of our children... I say you have to draw the line somewhere."

Bush spokesman Mark Goodin, responding to Dukakis' comments, said the Democratic nominee has distorted the GOP nominee's position on the issue.

"The vice president would never hesitate to use aid as a lever on the war on drugs," Goodin said.

CBS News reported Dukakis and his running mate had been told by their staff that they were likely to lose, barring some late turnaround in the race.

Dukakis spokesman Mark Gearan, asked about the report, said: "Not to my knowledge... We're unaware of anything like that." Gearan said Dukakis and Bush were even in California, according to the Democrat's own polling.

Rains predicts record turnout

AUSTIN (AP) — More Texans than ever before will cast ballots in the upcoming general election, due in part to the state's liberalized absentee voting laws, election officials say.

Secretary of State Jack Rains on Wednesday predicted that 5.988 million people, 73 percent of the state's 8.2 million registered voters, would cast ballots.

"I think we'll set three records on Election Day. More people will vote than ever before. A larger percentage of registered voters will vote than ever before. And more eligible voters (about 49 percent) will go to polls than ever before," Rains said.

The presence of Texans on each presidential ticket is a big reason for the prediction, said Randy Erben, assistant secretary of state.

Republican presidential nominee George Bush and the Democratic vice presidential candidate, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, both are from Texas. Bentsen also is running for reelection to the Senate.

"He (Rains) thinks Bush and Bentsen, the (state) Supreme Court races, absentee voting liberalization and other factors, such as some hot local races and a record number of registered voters, means a huge turnout," Erben said.

In the 1984 presidential election, a total of 5.38 million votes were cast. The 1980 presidential total was 4.5 million.

A big factor in this year's high voting prediction is the new absentee voting law, which allows people to cast absentee ballots without giving a reason.

Absentee voting ends Friday, but Erben said it already has generated record interest.

"It just makes sense. You don't have to stand in line on Election Day, you don't have to take time off from work, you've been able to vote on Saturdays and Sundays," he said.

"In addition, we've urged them to put absentee voting stations where people ordinarily go — shopping malls, community centers — places that make it a lot more convenient to vote."

Absentee voting began Oct. 8, and Erben said he thinks the more liberal law had changed the whole concept of voting.

"It changes the road map for Texas elections," he said. "You don't have an Election Day any more, you have an election period."

Application begins Monday for 1988 Stocking Fund

Opening of applications for Hereford's Christmas Stocking Fund is set for Monday at the Red Cross office at 224 South Main. Applications for the 1988 CSF campaign will continue through Dec. 9, except in the case of emergencies. Applications may be made from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The Christmas Stocking Fund is a non-profit organization not affiliated with any other organization. CSF works to alleviate some of the hunger and need of the community's less fortunate during the Christmas season. The holiday charity is funded solely through donations from individuals in Hereford and Deaf Smith County. A committee of 15 anonymous volunteers representing a broad cross-section of the community administer CSF.

The county Red Cross office provides office space and accepts applications for the program.

Applications for CSF assistance must be made in person at the local Red Cross office. All applicants are required to have proof of Deaf Smith County residence, including some description of where they live other than a box number. Documentation such as a driver's license, bill, tax receipt, I.D. card, or rent receipt showing the applicant's local address, from a source other than the individual, will be required.

CSF policy stipulates applicants may not receive assistance for more than two successive years.

A CSF spokesman said the extensive number of CSF applications and limited funds mean an application does not automatically guarantee assistance will be forthcoming.

The Christmas Stocking Fund has enjoyed back-to-back record-breaking fundraising efforts over the past two Christmas seasons. After nearly passing from the scene in Hereford in 1986, a call for volunteers salvaged the program. CSF set a new record of $10,626 in donations in 1986.

A new all-time high was set with the 1987 campaign as donations totaled $13,056. A CSF spokesman says the 1987 proceeds provided help for over 150 households.

CSF volunteers launch their program early so they may do a thorough job of screening, which helps insure proceeds go to help the community's most needy.

The Hereford Brand has served as CSF contributions since inception for the program and will do so again this year. The Brand publishes listings of contributors and their donations.

CSF will begin fundraising immediately after Thanksgiving.

Heloise, the second-generation tips expert, discussed the longevity of her column, "Hints from Heloise", and explained how the feature has attracted and expanded readership through the years when she spoke to members of the National Newspaper Association in San Antonio over the weekend.

Heloise was one of several featured speakers at the convention which Lavon and I attended Wednesday through Saturday. I was attending another session when Heloise spoke, so here is Lavon's Report on Heloise's talk:

What began as a $10 bet and a dare in 1959 is today a daily and Sunday feature column appearing in more than 500 newspapers in 20 countries. The column has retained its readers, according to the author, by following a few certain rules: talk to the reader instead of writing to them, encourage customer relations, assume nothing and keep column subjects up with the times.

She explained that her mother, Heloise Cruz, mentioned her column idea to a friend, who responded by saying, "You're nothing but a housewife."

The discussion went on for half an hour and ended with a bet—$10 she couldn't get a writing job at a newspaper, having no journalism experience. Her mother's persistence

Supreme Court candidates face-off

Race warming up

AUSTIN (AP) — The face-off between Democratic and Republican candidates for the Texas Supreme Court continues without letup in political advertisements and comments.

On Wednesday, campaigners for GOP Chief Justice Tom Phillips displayed TV ads showing former prominent Democrats John Hill and John Connally, now a Republican, speaking out for Phillips.

Meanwhile, Phillips' Democratic opponent, Justice Ted Robertson, claimed that Phillips' limit on campaign contributions "is nothing more than a sham."

A 30-second Phillips ad shows former Gov. Connally saying, "Tom Phillips has everything it takes to be a great chief justice — intelligence, judgment and above all, integrity."

Former Attorney General Hill delivers basically the same message.

Karl Rove, campaign consultant for Phillips, told reporters the Connally ad is running in the more Republican areas of West Texas, the Panhandle and North Central Texas, and the Hill ad is running in South Texas and East Texas.

Another Phillips ad, shown in all but the Laredo market, says every major Texas newspaper and all bar polls endorse Phillips.

Robertson said it has been "common knowledge for months that the $5,000 cap offered by the 'reform' campaign of Justice Tom Phillips is nothing more than a grandstanding trick to fool the voters."

"The fact of the matter is that the Phillips campaign has been using the phony cap to raise more money than has ever been raised by any Supreme Court candidate in Texas history — all behind the mask of 'clean' politics," Robertson said in a statement.

"To rid this election of the spectre of corruption, Chief Justice Phillips should return the monies raised in flagrant defiance of the spirit, and not just the letter of his own self-imposed contribution cap," he said.

Yet another statewide TV ad, for Democratic Justice William Kilgarlin, calls Kilgarlin the "leader of the (court) reform movement," according to his campaign consultant, Richard Jensen.

Jensen said the ad identifies Republican opponent Nathan Hecht as the "handpicked" candidate of Gov. Bill Clements, says Hecht has received 82 percent of his campaign contributions from special interests, and has been endorsed by corporate law firms and insurance interests.

Hecht, a Dallas appeals judge, said, "As far as I know, he (Kilgarlin) has not used the word 'reform' all year long, and now he says he's the leader of the reform movement."

"The campaign advertising has been absolutely astonishing to me," Hecht said. Negative campaigning is one thing. False is something else.

Campaign consultant Rove said, "I think the vast majority of people, a significant plurality of the people, are still looking for cues. They know something is wrong. I get a sense there's going to be a lot more individual picking and choosing."

Reagan giving last-minute boost to Texas Republicans

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Republican Chairman Fred Meyer says President Reagan will try to round up more last-minute votes for George Bush and the state GOP ticket with a rally Saturday at a rodeo arena.

Meyer, who predicted a strong turnout at the polls, contended Democratic vice presidential hopeful Lloyd Bentsen has lost credibility with Texas voters.

Gov. Bill Clements, Sen. Phil Gramm, former Sen. John Tower and George W. Bush Jr. also will attend the 2 p.m. rally at Mesquite Rodeo Arena in the Dallas suburb, along with various candidates for state office, including Texas Railroad Commission and Supreme Court, said Meyer.

"In this visit, President Reagan is going to come in and lift our level of enthusiasm and we are going to work right until 7 o'clock on Nov. 8 to deliver the biggest vote we can for George Bush and all of the rest of our candidates," said Meyer.

He said voters are beginning to realize that Bentsen, who is also running against Republican Beau Boulter in the Senate race, supports stands of Democratic presidential hopeful Michael Dukakis that most Texans oppose.

"It's the last few days of the campaign and we wanted to bring out one of our biggest guns," said Mark Sanders, spokesman for Bush's state campaign.

Meyer said he expected a capacity crowd of more than 70,000 people for the rally.

"We are not taking anything for granted," Meyer said. "We want that big turnout at the polls that (Secretary of State) Jack Rains projected. The bigger the turnout, the bigger the Republican victory."

"I hope that 78 percent, or right at 6,000,000 voters, go to the polls on election day."

Meanwhile, Dukakis-Bentsen state campaign chairman John Sharp said in a statement that a "hastily pulled together Texas schedule for President Ronald Reagan has just been constructed."

"Combined with Gov. Dukakis' and Sen. Bentsen's aggressive campaigning of late and the release of the new poll numbers for Texas, the Republicans are beginning to get nervous about winning Bush's 'home state' of Texas," said Sharp.

"If the GOP has a 'lock' on Texas, then we must ask why one of the scheduled stops for Reagan is the Republican stronghold of Dallas," Sharp said. "This new 'Reagan poll' is confirming what our internal tracking polls and the public polls are revealing. Lloyd Bentsen's stature and long coattails are making this a horse race in Texas."

Sanders and Reggie Bashur, deputy campaign director for Bush's Texas campaign, discounted Sharp's comments. Sanders said the visit has been planned for about a week.

"We think we have a great opportunity in Texas," said Meyer, adding that Reagan has "a lot of fond memories" of the state.

Bull paid off, especially after she offered to work three months without pay. "Hints from Heloise" became a success and the daughter carried on when the originator died in 1977. "Mother just told me to sit down and write the way I talked," reports Heloise. That worked, and so did streamlining the column and answering some 2,000 to 3,000 letters a week. Pointing out that she learned to never assume the reader will know what you're talking about, Heloise gave several humorous examples.

She also explained that the panty hose didn't run as easily; the candles wouldn't drip as much, and the sweater wouldn't shed as much—if they were all refrigerated beforehand.

"Hints" is not just for housewives, stressed Heloise. "We have computer information, consumer information...no matter who you are, Heloise has something for you."

While appearing on TV's "Hour Magazine" with Gary Collins, she jokingly said if you need your tennis shoes dried quickly, put them in the microwave. A man later wrote her asking for a check for $45 as he had tried the tip and it ruined his shoes. He sent her one shoe as proof, so Heloise mailed him a check for $22.50.

"You make one person happy, and they tell 10 others," she philosophized. "You make one person unhappy, they tell 100."

Heloise stressed that—following her mother's footsteps—she always tested her hints before using them in the column, or she checks with chemists, the Federal Trade Commission or other experts.

"You never realize your family is different until someone tells you," she said, recalling a time a friend came over and reached into the refrigerator for ice. There were a girdle, panty hose, candles and a cashmere sweater.

She said she tried to explain to the friend that the girdle was a test suggested by a lady who found if the garment was kept in the freezer, it would keep her cool during church.

Eighteenth Century Views by Canaletto, an exhibition of 32 etchings from the William A. Gumberts Collection, Santa Barbara Museum of Art, will be on display at the Amarillo Art Center from Nov. 5-Dec. 4.

The exhibition is made available through the Srah Campbell Blaffer Foundation of Houston.

Many great painters have been attracted to the art of etching, a printmaker technique which produces a greater richness of line than conventional drawing and makes the artist's work more widely available in multiple editions. Rembrandt, Goya and Picasso are among the many artists who mastered both media.

The Venetian 18th century view painter Antonio Canal, known as Canaletto (1697-1768), was one of the most popular European painters of his time. He had many imitators but no equals, and his reputation remains undiminished to the present day.

During his career, Canaletto also produced 32 etchings, and examples of each are included in this exhibition. Besides views of Venice and other Italian cities, Canaletto created imaginary interpretations of views and scenes from the ancient world.

Canaletto's view paintings, or vedute, have always been admired for their recreation of the clear and intense light of Venice. In his etchings, Canaletto produced intimate scenes capturing space and light through his original use of large open spaces of blank paper. The imaginary scenes created by his experimentation with informal approaches and new subjects give us a lyrical view of a charming world freed from the restrictions of space and time.

The Amarillo Art Center is located on the Amarillo College campus at the corner of 22nd and Van Buren Streets. For further information or to arrange guided tours, please call 806-371-5050.

TIPS ABOUT RETIREMENT

CLEVELAND (AP) — Many people are surprised to discover they won't have the ready funds they expected when they retire, says Bert Zahn of National City Corp.

Zahn says steps can be taken before retirement to close the gap. He says people in their 40s and 50s should consider contributing as much as they can to tax-deferred savings plans.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 9-year-old son has Tourette syndrome. Last year he had a very hard time in school and was the subject of ridicule and embarrassment. He makes loud noises, grunting, snorting and barking.

Whenever we go anywhere people turn around to look at our son as if he is making those sounds to attract attention or to be annoying.

I hope you will print this letter, Ann, and educate a few million people. It would be a service to those of us who live with the problem every day.

Tourette syndrome is a neurological disorder that usually begins between the ages of 2 and 16. Symptoms are involuntary blinking of the eyes, head jerking, flailing of arms, throat clearing and making peculiar noises.

I am fortunate to belong to a wonderful support group. These people who share the problem have been enormously helpful. My son is now on medication, but nothing helps as much as understanding and acceptance by his peers and others.

Anyone wanting information about this disorder should write to: Tourette Syndrome Assoc., 42-40 Bell Blvd., Bayside, N.Y. 11361. (Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.) I am a —Hopeful Mother Who Has Larned to Cope

DEAR MOTHER: Here's your letter with an added word from me.

Every schoolteacher who has a Tourette child in class should make it a personal mission to educate other students and protect that child from ridicule.

Another symptom that you didn't mention is the shouting of obscene words in inappropriate settings, such as the classroom, church and public gatherings.

If this should occur for no apparent reason, the person in charge should speak to the parents about having the child checked out by a neurologist. He or she could be suffering from Tourette syndrome.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am writing about newspaper smut and I don't mean pornography. I am talking about the black stuff that gets all over everything because of the ink.

When I pick up our newspaper it's the same as picking up a handful of charcoal. It blackens clothing, upholstery, carpets, you name it. Every time I put a newspaper down,

I must wash my hands before I touch anything.

Some people won't allow a newspaper in their home for that reason. Will you please tell the publishers to clean up their act?—Southern Cal Compalint

DEAR S.C.: According to Gene Bell, vice president of operations at the Chicago Tribune, the ink problem is one of the biggest headaches in the industry.

"Low-rub" ink is expensive. The Chicago Tribune uses it. Other major papers are considering switching to it. If the paper you are reading right now is leaving marks on your hands, let your publisher know how you feel about it. But, bear in mind, you might have to pay more for the improvement.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: After trying to have a second child for six years we finally have a lovely little girl. Our son (now 7) is so jealous of his baby sister that we are afraid he might hurt her. What should we do?—Warren, Pa.

DEAR PA.: Be sympathetic instead of judgmental. Say, "I know you don't like sharing our love, and that's OK, but you must never hurt the baby because she looks to you to be her friend and protector." Also, make an effort to spend more time with the older child, alone, and give him a few special privileges.

What are the signs of alcoholism? How can you tell if someone you love is an alcoholic? "Alcoholism: How to Recognize It, How to Deal With It, How to Conquer It" will give you the answers. To receive a copy, send $3 and a self-addressed, stamped business-size envelope (45 cents postage) to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11562, Chicago, Ill. 60611-0562.

To The Voters of Deaf Smith County,

I have been approached by many concerned voters asking "Why should I not vote for Joe Brown?" I have come forward, in the open and given the facts about Joe's lack of administration in the Sheriff's office. Unlike my opponent, I do not use my supporters to do my talking for myself.

I asked over and over again to debate Joe in the public, face to face, man to man. He still refuses to do so, and with good reason. Joe has attempted to cover up and mislead the public through his newspaper ads, but if he had to face me in a debate, the truth would come out. Joe Brown said that he would run on his record, and not answer my allegations. I have presented his record to you, the public.

Some say this has been a negative campaign, but all that has been revealed is Joe's negative performance as a sheriff. Joe has attempted to maintain his "good ol' boy" image by allowing his mis-guided supporters to do his dirty work. That won't work either.

It's time to step out from behind your supporter's protection, Joe Brown, and face me like a man! Do you, Joe Brown, want to question my record? Then face me in a debate! Do you, Joe Brown, want the statistics on our response to domestic violence? Then face me in a debate! Do you, Joe Brown, want to know how to handle internal investigations? Then face me in a debate!

I have some questions for you. Would you answer them in an open debate, before you had a chance to make excuses or cover up the truth? Joe Brown said that he doesn't debate because he is "shy" in the public and can't speak well. He addresses civic clubs, and speaks before hundreds of people, so don't swallow that one! Joe said that I, Ted Langgood, am a politician. I have never run for political office in my life. I am good law enforcement officer, and I am a good administrator, but a politician, I am not.

Sincerely, Ted Langgood

Notice to Texas customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed tariff revisions October 3, 1988, with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) that would increase the FCC Approved Customer Line Charge 60 cents per month for residence and single line business customers.

In addition, Centrex customers with lines installed or ordered before July 28, 1983, will incur a $1.00 increase bringing their monthly charge to $5.00. New rates would be effective December 1, 1988.

This charge is part of a plan authorized by the FCC in 1984 and designed so that business and residence customers would more directly contribute toward the cost of providing local telephone service.

In the past, these increases have resulted in a decrease in interstate long distance charges. Some additional proposed decreases in interstate long distance charges also have been announced.

If you have any questions, contact your local business office at the number listed in the front of your White Pages directory.

Herd facing big Bulldogs

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

Borger may not be the best team Hereford has played this year, but it will definitely be the biggest.

"They're just huge," said Hereford coach Don Cumpton. "They have one defensive tackle (6-1 Marcus Jones) that weighs 295 pounds, another one that weighs 241 (6-2 Allen Brown), an offensive tackle (6-1 Chris Sims) that weighs 275, and their tailback (6-0 Donnie Wright) weighs 206.

"They're just huge. They're probably, overall, the biggest team in the district."

And the Bulldogs will present some other problems for the Whitefaces when the teams meet at 7:30 p.m. at Bulldog Stadium in Borger.

"They run a little bit of everything on offense," Cumpton said. "They have been throwing quite a bit, and last week they ran the Wishbone. Most of the year they have been using the Wing-T, running the trap and the bootleg and the reverse.

"They'll come out in the Wing-T and jump into the Wishbone, and sometimes they'll run a little one-back spread formation and throw the ball.

"The defense has to stay alert because they run so many different formations. We can handle it if we are alert and know what they do best out of each formation. If we are mentally sharp, we'll be all right.

"Wright is a pretty good football player. He's pretty impressive. Matt McIntosh is a big weapon at wide receiver, and he's a returning all-state punter. Lamar Tillman is a big threat at flanker, so we have to be on our toes for all those guys."

On defense, Cumpton said the Bulldogs simply stack all those big guys on the line and dare you to run.

"They will force you to the corner," Cumpton said. "They've got Wright at outside linebacker, McIntosh at safety, and Bodie Hill at middle linebacker. Some of these guys have played for two or three years, and they're all pretty good."

Cumpton said Borger is better than its 2-6 record.

"They've been up and down all year," Cumpton said. "Sometimes they're good, and sometimes not so good, but, shoot, we've been through that, too. You can't be deceived by their record: they have some talent, and they've got some very capable people. They just haven't been able to put it all together too many times."

A leg up on the opponent

Cumpton hopes his team is ready to play.

"We've got plenty of incentive: we've got to win out," Cumpton said. "We have to be prepared to play, and I think we will. I think our guys understand that. They realize that this is an important game because it can determine our future.

"I think it will be a good game.

"Course, I can't speak for them, but it should be a good game. We've always played good up there: They were in the playoffs last year and we went up there, beat them 24-7, and had a good time."

Cumpton said offensive tackle Bud Shirley is the only Hereford player

GIVEAWAY GAME

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The whole world heard the historic home run by Bobby Thomson of the New York Giants that gave his team the National League pennant in a three-game playoff with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1951.

It climaxed a four-run rally in the ninth inning of the deciding game.

Eleven years later, the San Francisco Giants did the same thing to the Los Angeles Dodgers but without the fireworks of a game-winning homer. In fact, it was sloppy play by the Dodgers that enabled the Giants to win the third and deciding playoff game.

After each team won a game, the Dodgers took a 4-2 lead into the ninth inning. The Giants scored four runs to win the game and did it on just two singles. The Dodger pitchers handed out four bases on balls, made a wild pitch, and there was one error.

Hall of Fame Southpaw Lefty Gomez, who was 6-0 in World Series play, says his fondest memory is the time he got four hits in one game.

Ditka recovering from heart attack

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — Doctors say the next several days will tell how soon Mike Ditka will be allowed to resume his coaching duties after suffering a mild heart attack at the Chicago Bears' training facility.

Nursing supervisor Joan Miteff said early today that Ditka's condition remained unchanged from Wednesday — serious but stable.

But Ditka's wife Diana told reporters, "he's doing fantastic," after she left Lake Forest Hospital Wednesday afternoon. "He's too ornery," she said.

"Barring anything unforeseen, we expect him to recover nicely," Dr. Jay Alexander, a cardiologist, said Wednesday. "The next several days will tell us how quickly we'll let him get back on the field."

Ditka, 49, complained of chest pains early Wednesday after his daily workout, assistant coaches said. They brought Ditka to the hospital, and he was alert and conscious when he got there shortly after 8:30 a.m., Alexander said.

Ditka will require hospitalization for at least five to seven days, Alexander said. He said the coach was given medicine to open a blocked artery, and the chest pains stopped when the medication was given.

Alexander said the area of Ditka's heart involved in the attack appeared to be extremely small and confined to the bottom wall of the heart.

The cardiologist also said he did not believe Ditka's workout caused the heart attack.

"It would have happened anyway," he said.

Bears president Michael McCaskey said he would name an acting head coach later in the week.

In keeping with his reputation for being headstrong — both as an NFL coach and player — McCaskey said Ditka resisted the first attempts by the coaches to get medical attention, but finally agreed to go to the hospital.

Hereford at Borger

WHEN, WHERE: Friday, 7:30 p.m., Bulldog Stadium, Borger.
LAST YEAR: The Whitefaces had a happy ending to a disappointing season with a 24-7 win over the playoff-bound Bulldogs.

CUMPTON'S KEYS TO THE GAME: 1. The Hereford defense must be mentally alert because Borger runs so many different offensive sets; 2. Work on not just winning but playing well on the road.

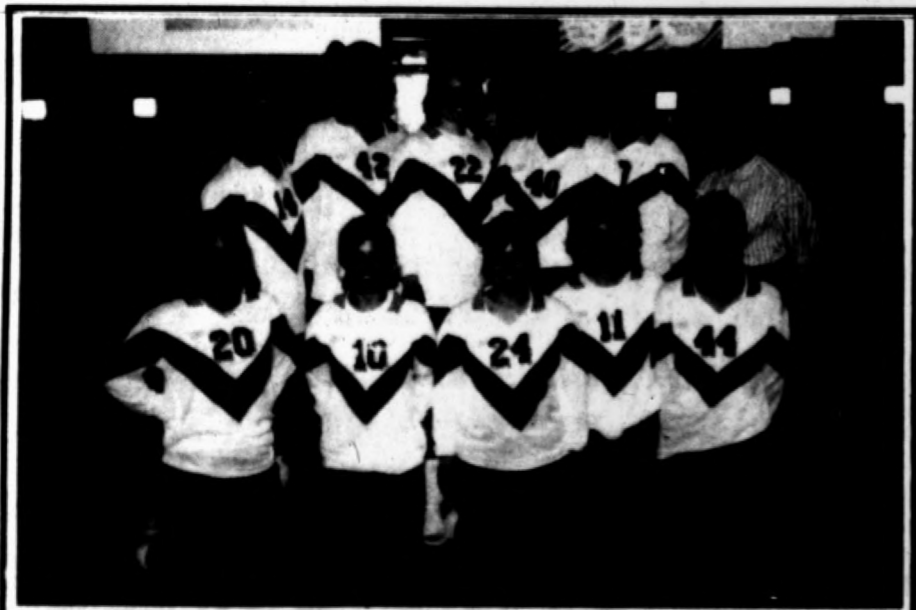

WORST THING ABOUT GOING TO BORGER: It's so far up there.

SECOND WORST THING: It's so far coming back.

Weiss named top AL rookie

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Walt Weiss hated his label as a rookie all season. Now, the slick-fielding shortstop has something to show for it.

Weiss followed in the sizable footsteps of Jose Canseco and Mark McGwire on Wednesday in becoming the Oakland Athletics' third straight winner of the American League Rookie of the Year award.

It's an honor the 24-year-old Weiss never gave a thought to in spring training. After all, he reasoned, Canseco had hit 33 home runs and McGwire 49 in their first seasons.

"I really didn't think about being rookie of the year early in the season," said Weiss, standing next to life-size cutouts of the two A's sluggers at the Oakland Coliseum. "I was saying 'if they are the standards for rookie of the year, I ain't got a prayer.'"

As it turned out, he was the answer to the prayers of A's executives. They had gambled last December that he was good enough to justify trading away Alfredo Griffin in the deal that landed pitcher Bob Welch from the Los Angeles Dodgers.

He anchored the best fielding team in Oakland history — the A's fielding percentage of .983 was third best in the majors — and had a streak of 58 straight errorless games in the second half of the season. He also hit .281 over the final two months to finish at .250 with three homers and 39 runs batted in, and had some spectacular plays and a game-winning hit in the playoff sweep of Boston.

Social Security

SURVIVOR BENEFITS PAYABLE

Social Security benefits can be paid to many survivors of workers who die after having worked long enough in work covered by Social Security. Jim Talbot, Social Security manager in Amarillo, Texas, said recently:

These survivors include the worker's unmarried children under 18, under 19 if a full-time high school student or over 18 if disabled before reaching 22; a parent caring for a child under 16 or disabled who gets benefits; a widow or widower 60 or older, or 50 or older if severely disabled; and dependent parents 62 or older.

In addition, a surviving divorced wife or husband can generally get the same benefits as a widow or widower if the marriage to the worker lasted 10 years or more.

A lump-sum payment of $255 can be made to the worker's eligible widow or widower, or, if none, to the worker's child entitled to benefits.

It is important for survivors to apply for benefits as soon as possible after the worker's death. This is especially important for widows and widowers under 65 because benefits cannot generally be paid before the month of application.

When applying, survivors should have their own and the worker's Social Security cards or a record of the numbers, birth certificates for any eligible children, marriage certificates for any eligible children, marriage certificate, proof of the worker's death, proof of age for the widow or widowers, and Form W-2 or self-employment tax return for the past year. Parents 62 or older will need to show they were dependent on the worker for their support.

For more information about Social Security survivor benefits or about other Social Security benefits, contact the Amarillo Social Security office, located at 3601 West 15th. The telephone number is (806)376-2241.

Hints from Heloise

PARTY FUN

Dear Heloise: My 4-year-old had a birthday party three days ago and I put together a game for the children where everyone could be a winner.

I purchased a pack of streamer crepe paper. Then I went to a local party shop and purchased 20-30 small trinkets (usually used to decorate corsages), i.e. miniature boxes of cereal, soda cups, ice-cream cones and American flags. I rolled the crepe paper into a ball, taping these little trinkets about 18-20 inches apart inside the ball as I rolled it.

To play the game, the children sat on the floor in a circle. They passed the ball around the circle and whoever unwrapped the surprise trinket got to keep it. If the trinket happened to be even just a little past the person unwrapping the ball, the next person got it.

The children found this very enjoyable and everyone got at least one trinket. No losers! — Phyllis N. Michon, Chalmette, La.

TRAVEL TIP

Dear Heloise: I address and stamp envelopes to friends and family that I want to write to when I am traveling. I place a piece of blank paper in the envelope to write on.

I always find time to drop a few words to them. — Pat Quortrup

The word "canopy" comes from the Greek word konops meaning "gnat." The story goes the fishermen of ancient Egypt would sleep undisturbed by gnats by sleeping under canopies of fishing nets.

Plans finalized for Bridge Tournament

Dr. Jan Swan, a pediatrician with the Texas Tech Medical Center, presented an informative program for members of Toujours Amis Study Club when the group met recently in the home of Kim Bigham. The program included a question and answer session.

Members responded to roll call by answering the question, "what is the funniest thing that someone in your family had to see the doctor for?"

During the business session, plans were finalized for the club's annual Benefit Bridge Tournament slated for 7 p.m. Nov. 15 at the Hereford Community Center. Tickets are priced at $5 per person and may be obtained from club members and at the door.

During the fundraiser, savings bonds will be awarded to high and low scores and a card table and chairs will be presented as the grand prize. Refreshments will also be served during the evening. Proceeds from the ticket sales will be used for a scholarship for a 1989 graduating Hereford High School senior.

Hostesses Bigham, Camille Williamson and Nena Veazey, served refreshments to those present; Nanette Ashby, Judy Barrett, Patti Brown, Cindy Black, Kathy Carthel, Cindy Cole, Shannon Hagar, Lori Hall, Karen Keeling, Brenda Koenig, Sarah Lawson, Marilyn Leasure, Leisa Lewis, Elaine McNutt, Pam Perrin, Becky Reinart, Marsha Winget, Tricia Workman and Tonja Horrell.

Before the conclusion of the meeting, appreciation was extended for Halloween treats given to secret pals.

'BANKERS HOURS' UNDERGO CHANGE

ATLANTA (AP) — The age-old line about the brevity of "bankers' hours" no longer pertains at one Georgia banking chain, reports Financial Services Week.

The financial planners publication notes that a Georgia bank holding company with 123 branches in the state is planning to expand its banking services by keeping 30 of its branches open seven days a week. It will be the first bank in the state to provide seven-day banking services.

The 30 branches are located in Kroger supermarkets in metropolitan Atlanta. Banking hours in the supermarket branches are from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., Monday through Saturday. Sunday hours are from 1 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Abundant Life

NEED FOR RECOGNITION

By Bob Wear

The need for recognition begins to manifest itself very early in the life of each person. This knowledge should help all of us to chart our course in the realm of helpful and satisfactory human relationships.

The desire for recognition is a normal desire, and it doesn't have to be something special because just ordinary notice and appreciation is sufficient for most people. The important point is that all of us can be generous in giving recognition. This action is in accord with the basic principle of encouraging and building up one another. This is of special meaning in all areas of close and continuous human associations, especially the family and the work place.

There are many ways to give appropriate recognition to each other, the recognition which can mean so much that is good for all persons involved. Recognition may be in the form of general friendliness; it may be appropriate commendation for some service or some personal accomplishment; it may be an expression of wholesome concern when there is some special need; or it may be expressions of sincere appreciation.

In the work-a-day world, all of us will be wise to remember that "There is not a person we employ who does not, like ourselves, desire recognition, praise, gentleness, forbearance and patience."—Beecher. Expressions of sincere appreciation is probably the greatest recognition we can give to one another.

Giving recognition to others is no loss for us, but, in a very real sense, it is gain. Such action has great subjective value for us, because it is enriching and ennobling. As we give recognition to others, we are growing and improving; making ourselves more desirable people. "The things we send into the lives of others come back into our own."—Anon.

Everybody is somebody, and wants to be recognized as such. This thoughtful action is helpful to everybody and to everything that is worthwhile in life.

Lundry presides at meeting

Hereford Rebekah Lodge No. 228 met in regular session Tuesday evening with Noble Grand Dorothy Lundry presiding.

It was reported that the organization's Halloween Carnival Toy Walk and a recent chili supper were very successful.

Also, during the business session, 18 visits to the sick and 22 cheer cards were recorded. It was announced that the Bluegrass Band will be entertaining at the lodge's annual Thanksgiving dinner set Nov. 19. Special guests will be family members.

Merle Boozer was hostess to Lundry, Marie Harris, Stella Hershey, Eunice Boyer, Faye Brownlow, Erma and Jim Loving, Susie Curtsinger, Ursalee Jacobsen, Lydia Hopson, Erma Sowell, Ada Hollabaugh, Jo Iribeck, Sadie Shaw, Kee and Fred Ruland and Anna and Ben Conklin.

Public invited to hear speaker

Members of Church Women United will meet for the World Community Day Celebration at 3 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 8, in the chapel of First Christian Church. The theme is "Every Woman's Ministry."

The public is invited to attend the event. A nursery will be provided.

The featured speaker will be Mrs. Russell Pogue, a Hereford native and daughter of Jack Roberson. She and her husband organized Temple Baptist Church and are currently residing in Valley Mills, Texas. They recently returned from Africa where they served as missionaries.

Home water quality problems treatable

Reddish slime in the water and stains on your laundry? Cloudy Water? Water that smells or tastes funny?

Two new publications on water quality from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service give consumers some suggestions for dealing with these and other water impurities.

Water-related problems are found primarily in homes serviced by a private water supply, although a few of them will also be found in water from municipal water supplies.

In some areas where impurities are not a concern, consumers would still like to improve the taste quality of their tap water.

The fact sheet "Home Water Quality Problems" (L-2279), describes the symptoms, probable causes and suggested treatments for common household water problems.

A new publication of "Home Water Treatment Systems" (L-2280), provides consumer information on the advantages, disadvantages and costs of various types of filters and reverse osmosis units for improving household water quality.

A single copy of each publication is free from county Extension offices or can be ordered by title and number by writing the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, 102 Reed McDonald, College Station, Tx.

Names in the News

LONDON (AP) — Koo Stark, a New York-born actress who had a much-publicized relationship in 1982 with Prince Andrew, sued for libel damages from a weekly newspaper that said she secretly dated the prince after her marriage.

Ms. Stark said Tuesday the December 1985 report in Sunday People was untrue and spoiled her hopes of reconciliation with her husband, Timothy Jefferies, who had left her the previous month after 16 months of marriage.

Sunday People owner Robert Maxwell has denied her allegations.

Ms. Stark, 32, made a new career as a stage actress and as a photographer after her friendship with Prince Andrew, second son of Queen Elizabeth II, ended early in 1984. The prince married Sarah Ferguson in July 1986.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Christina Crawford says the abuse she received from critics over her shocking portrayal of her mother, Joan Crawford, was almost as bad as the childhood mistreatment she suffered at the hands of the screen idol.

"When the attacks began, I experienced the same sense of invalidation I'd had as an abused child," Ms. Crawford, 49, said in a recent interview. "But this time, I was determined to fight back."

In her new book, "Survivor," Ms. Crawford attacks her critics, who called her first book, "Mommie Dearest," "bitter and vindictive."

Ms. Crawford's adopted sister denied tales of abuse and called her sibling "a person born with evil."

The new book also talks about Ms. Crawford's work with the Los Angeles County's Commission for Children's Services and the battle for creative control over "Mommie Dearest."

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — "Mr. Guitar" Chet Atkins says the Country Music Association was "tacky and disrespectful" for failing to present him with his musician of the year award on national television last month.

The award was the ninth such honor for Atkins, but the presentation was not made as part of the live, two-hour show broadcast Oct. 10 on CBS.

"I think that they forgot what the initial 'M' stands for in CMA," he said Tuesday. "If it weren't for the musicians and the melody writers, it would be the 'CPA' — Country Poets Association."

Ed Benson, associate executive director of the Nashville-based association, said the program was designed to show off songs and performers as well as announce the award winners.

ASK DR. LAMB

Many Factors Influence Cholesterol Levels BY LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB: In 1987 my total cholesterol was 188 and my HDL-cholesterol portion was 31. In 1988 my total cholesterol was 164 and my HDL-fraction was only 30. In one of your columns you implied that good aerobic exercise would raise the HDL level. I run, swim and jump rope. I also completed a 10-mile hilly course last year in 84 minutes.

This low HDL level gives me a moderately high ratio of total cholesterol to HDL-cholesterol. Is the HDL level mostly a hereditary factor or does it indicate some other problem? It seems that to get the ratio down I can only lower the total cholesterol. I'm 54.

DEAR READER: Neither your total cholesterol nor the HDL-cholesterol fraction are dependent upon just one factor. Inherited genes usually are an important factor. Diet and exercise are also important. So are hormones. Testosterone tends to increase the total cholesterol level and the LDL-cholesterol level that clogs arteries. So does progesterone, the female hormone from which testosterone is derived. But estrogen tends to lower total cholesterol and raise the HDL-cholesterol level. Hormones do make a difference. There is a basic reason why males as a group are more prone to heart attacks earlier in life than females.

A low cholesterol along with a low HDL-cholesterol level can mean you have an increased risk of heart disease. A study of just this point from the Framingham, Mass., population showed that individuals with HDL-cholesterol levels less than 40 were about three times as likely to develop coronary heart disease during a four-year period as those with values of 60 or more. Individuals with levels below 40 had a significantly increased risk even if their total cholesterol level was below 200.

So you need to concentrate on raising your HDL-cholesterol level, and exercise certainly is one way. Your activity should be helping. If this condition occurs in a woman, her estrogen level might need to be considered. For more information on ratios and cholesterol tests read my newly revised Special Report 44, Understanding Cholesterol and Triglycerides, which I am sending you. Others who want this report can send $1, with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/44, P.O. Box 19622, Irvine, CA 92713.

John Tyler, 10th president of the United States, was born in 1790 in Charles City County, Va.

Are your possessions completely protected?

Homeowners policies can differ widely in the amount of protection they give you. Some cover the contents of your home, but only for their depreciated value. A contents replacement option, however, pays you what it costs to replace lost items with new ones at today's prices.

As an independent insurance agency, it's our job to know these important differences among policies and to recommend the best values to the clients we serve. Because we represent major insurance companies like the CNA Insurance Companies we have access to the best that's available. If you want the same, give us a call.

Now You're Cooking

By GAYE B. REILY
Staff Writer

Hereford can be thankful that Judy Barrett generously loaned out her vacuum cleaner a few years ago, or else she might be flying the friendly skies.

"I met Rodney, my husband, when we were students at Texas Tech University," said the vibrant brunette. "He lived in an apartment near mine and he asked to borrow my vacuum cleaner. We became friends and later married."

The articulate woman went on to receive a degree in home economics education in 1984 from TTU and moved to Abilene for her first teaching job. She and Rodney maintained a long-distance relationship while she pondered becoming a flight attendant for American Airlines since she enjoys traveling. "But I decided that my niche in life was teaching as I enjoyed seeing kids respond to the positive influence I tried to project."

When the Barretts married over three years ago, she began teaching in the home economics department at Dimmitt High School. "Since I was commuting to Dimmitt daily, I had a hard time meeting people in Hereford. I was miserable but once I gave up the Dimmitt job, I became involved in Hereford activities. Now I love it here!"

Indeed, Barrett is a member of the Women's Division of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce where she has been active on the Miss Hereford Scholarship Pageant committee and the Christmas Carousel committee. She also serves on the Division's board of directors and is a member of Toujours Amis Study Club. In addition, she and her husband, who is manager of the west yard of Barrett-Crofoot Feedyards, are expecting their first child in April.

Yet Barrett has not turned her back on teaching. In addition to her training to teach at the secondary level, she has recently completed certification, from West Texas State University, to teach on the elementary level with an emphasis on reading. She hopes to begin tutoring and her first homebound teaching assignment began this week.

The Tulia native enjoys crafts and cooking. Her many cross-stitched wall hangings can be found throughout her home at 107 Pecan, some of which she completed while confined to bed during the early months of her difficult pregnancy. "I am usually a 'hyper' person, so I thought the bed rest would kill me," she laughed. "But I stayed busy cross stitching and organizing recipes."

Barrett enjoys sewing clothes and creating her own designs on sweat-shirts. She noted that she can get ideas by seeing garments and then making her own outfit. She collects cookbooks as a hobby and admits to having a penchant for kitchen gadgets and utensils.

Not a stranger in the kitchen, Barrett likes to experiment with different types of food and finds that desserts and casseroles are her favorites. Her advanced classes at TTU featured foreign cuisine and she adores Italian food. But she has found that married life has brought about a different type of cooking.

"Rodney is basically a meat and potatoes man—I could serve chicken fried steak, potatoes and corn every night and he would be happy," she said. "In fact, he cringes every time I serve chicken since he is in the beef industry. Now my '130 ways to prepare chicken' has turned into '130 ways to cook beef.'"

Barrett, who grew up in a small farm family and didn't cook much at home, was appalled to realize that her college training had not taught her to prepare such dishes as gravy or chicken fried steak. She now knows how, and credits her mother-in-law, Mrs. Ed (Millie) Barrett, with teaching her to cook prime rib, Rodney's favorite dish.

Some of Barrett's favorite recipes, including a unique recipe for Bread in a Jar, follow and can be incorporated into holiday meals:

CHICKEN CORDON BLEU

4 boneless chicken breasts
4 slices of Swiss cheese
4 slices of ham, thinly sliced
1 egg
flour
seasoned bread crumbs
lemon juice
salt and pepper to taste
Rub chicken breasts with lemon juice, salt and pepper. Pound chicken until tender and flat. Place cheese and ham slices inside chicken; roll up and secure with toothpick. Dip chicken pieces into flour, then egg, then bread crumbs. Heat 3 Tbsp. oil in large skillet. Add chicken pieces and cook over medium heat until brown and tender, about 15 minutes.

BREAD IN A JAR

2/3 c. shortening
2 2/3 c. sugar
4 eggs
2 c. pumpkin
2/3 c. water
3 1/3 c. flour
1/2 tsp. baking powder
2 tsp. baking soda
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. cloves
Cream shortening and sugar. Beat in eggs, pumpkin and water. Mix together dry ingredients and add to pumpkin mixture. Pour batter into 8 sterilized, wide mouth, greased pint jars, filling them half full of batter.

Bake at 325 degrees for 45-55 minutes. When done, remove one jar at a time from oven. If bread has risen above the edge, cut off excess, wipe edge of jar clean, and put scalded lid on and screw band on tightly. Let cool.
Note: Instead of 2 cups of pumpkin, there are many substitutions for this recipe that are fun to try. They include:

- 1 c. shredded apple and 1 c. shredded carrot;
- 2 c. shredded apple;
- 2 c. applesauce;
- 1 1/4 c. applesauce and 1/4 c. crushed pineapple;
- 1 1/4 c. applesauce and 1/4 c. raisins;
- 2 c. shredded carrots;
- 2 c. shredded zucchini;
- 1 lb. fresh cranberries;
- 1 can whole cranberry sauce;
- 2 c. mashed bananas;
- 1 1/4 c. mashed bananas and 1/4 c. orange marmalade;
- 1 1/4 c. bananas and 1/4 c. pineapple.

CRANBERRY DELIGHT

1/2 c. sugar
1 c. flour
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 c. milk
1 1/2 Tbsp. melted oleo
1 c. raw cranberries
Sift together sugar, flour and baking powder. Add milk and oleo to dry ingredients and mix. Stir in raw cranberries. Pour into greased 8" x8" pan. Bake 30 minutes at 375 degrees. Pour butter sauce, which follows, over cake.

Butter Sauce

1 c. sugar
1 Tbsp. flour
1/2 c. cream
1 1/2 sticks oleo
pinch of salt
1 tsp. vanilla
Mix together the sugar, flour, and cream in a saucepan. Add oleo, salt, and vanilla. Let sauce cook about 15 minutes after butter melts. (Use low heat as it is easy to burn sauce).

SWEET POTATO CASSEROLE

7 medium sweet potatoes
2 sticks butter, melted
3 eggs, beaten
3/4 c. buttermilk
1 1/2 c. sugar
1/2 c. brown sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. vanilla
Topping
2 1/2 Tbsp. butter, melted
1/2 c. brown sugar
1/2 c. pecans
1/4 c. flour

Scrub potatoes well. Cook in jackets in boiling, salted water for 30-35 minutes. Drain at once; peel and mash.
Put in large mixer bowl. Add all of the ingredients (excluding topping) and mix well. Put mixture in casserole dish.
Mix the ingredients for the topping and sprinkle on casserole. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

SWEDISH TEA RINGS

4 c. flour
1 tsp. salt
1/4 c. sugar

1 c. butter
1 pkg. dry yeast
1/4 c. lukewarm water
3 egg yolks, beaten
1 cup milk, scalded, then cooled
Scald milk; set aside to cool. Dissolve yeast in the warm water. Separate eggs; beat yolks with fork. Put flour, salt, sugar in large mixing bowl. Cut in butter until mixture looks like meal.

Next, combine flour mixture, egg yolks, yeast, and milk. Mix well. Cover and refrigerate overnight. Divide dough in two equal parts.

Roll each about the size of the dough board. Spread with melted butter, sugar, and cinnamon. Make into desired shapes and place in greased pans. Let rise one hour.
Bake at 375 degrees until golden brown. Decorate with powdered sugar glaze, maraschino cherries (if desired) and pecans.

Powdered Sugar Glaze

1 lb. box powdered sugar
1/4 c. shortening
1/2 c. milk
1 tsp. vanilla

Betty Crocker's Cooking Tips

Q. What will re-thicken spaghetti sauce that becomes watery after freezing? O.W., Union, MI

A. Simmer uncovered, evaporating moisture to re-thicken your spaghetti sauce.

Q. Are frozen orange juice and liquid orange juice the same? Mrs. T.S., Stephens, AR

A. Yes, if you've prepared frozen orange juice concentrate according to package directions. It may be substituted directly for freshly squeezed orange juice. Some recipes use undiluted concentrate for a strong orange flavor.
