AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Textbook Committee Ends Sessions On A Sour Note

By Vern Sanford
House Textbook Investigating Committee ended its work on a sour note.
"This has been a most disagreeable experience," was the "understatement" of Committee Chairman Bill Dungan of McKinney as he brought the gavel down on the committee's final session before the Legislature meets on Jan. 5.
The five-man group is split five ways. As a result, they will file individual reports on the results of the committee's several stormy sessions.
In addition to Representative Dungan, the committee is composed of Representatives John Alaniz of San Antonio, Bob Bass of DeKalb, Nelson Cowles of Hallsville and Ronald Roberts of Hillsboro. They took months of testimony concerning the contents of textbooks used in public schools.
As the final session ended, members were accusing each other of attending or not attending the now famous Dallas hearing - at which Ex-General Edwin A. Walker testified "for political campaign reasons."
They did get harmonious long enough to decide to publish five individual reports, in alphabetical order, in one volume, and not to include two petitions presented at the meeting.
However, these are the only points on which the committee arrived at a meeting of the minds.
Roberts and Alaniz both maintained that the present system of textbook selection in Texas is the best in the nation. Alaniz charged that textbook hearings have been "dominated by the ultra right and the John Birch era."
Chairman Dungan and Cowles have not publicized their views yet.
Paul C. Vogler Jr. of Corpus Christi was one of the petitioners at the meeting. He urged continuation of textbook investigations.
Another petitioner, the Rev. William S. Arms of Austin, presented a "redress of grievance." Then he announced his intention to add 20,000 signatures to it at the upcoming Baptist convention in Fort Worth.
TICKET TAX MAY END
Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy, headed by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, added two more recommendations to the long list of proposals it will submit to the 58th Legislature.
One was to repeal the admissions tax, which brought in an annual $553,000 from movie showings, operas, plays and other amusements before a recent court decision invalidated part of the process.
Parkhouse said, "It seems obvious that the admissions tax as now drafted is a failure."
Also recommended was creation by the Legislature of a permanent tax study commission, to be aided by the Texas Research League, and financed with a maximum annual operation fund of $5,000. The research league is a non-profit organization.

FAREWELL BUDGET
Outgoing Gov. Price Daniel has proposed the largest budget in the state's history, for legislative consideration. He says the budget can be met without new taxes.
Daniel recommends spending $13,100,000,000. That is $347,000,000 more than the present appropriation.
His budget incorporates recommendations for salary increases in many state departments. State highway patrolmen would be among those getting raises under Daniel's plan. He suggested a starting salary of $6,000 a year - $1,000 more than they get now. He decried the present policy of paying them on the same scale as city lawmen.
Daniel said, "These men frequently work around the clock and you can't expect such devotion from men who are paid on a 40-hour-a-week basis."
He also asked the 58th Legislature to boost salaries of state-employed physicians; juvenile parole officers; employees of the Texas Water Commission and the Railroad Commission; and teachers in all levels of education, among others.
Basically, except for higher education, the Governor's budget proposes continued cooperations at present levels for all state agencies and services, plus necessary funds to meet additional demands due to population growth.
COLLEGES UPGRADED
Daniel also urged upgrading of public junior colleges and state-supported universities, and recommended larger library appropriations and 16 per cent teaching salary increases - two things college administrators have cried for a long time.
He proposed that the 34 public junior colleges be allotted $16,000,000 for the 1964 - 65 school years. This is $3,000,000 less than administrators requested, but $1,500,000 more than the current appropriation.
Much of this increase would be used to cover $500 annual pay raises for teachers.
Daniel advocated $15,200,000 to cover a 16 per cent increase in teacher's salaries; $2,700,000 additional funds for research in the state's 20 state-supported senior colleges, and $2,300,000 additional for libraries.
He based his proposals on the recommendation of the Commission on Higher Education that tuition be doubled to $200 a school year. But he explained that 4,500 scholarships for $160 a year would be available, "to keep young people in college."
APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED
Daniel filled several vacancies on state boards and commissions, but said he would leave appointments on the University of Texas and Texas A & M boards to his successor, John Connally. These appointments are due to come up early in January.
He named the following to the board of regents of Lamar State College of Technology: Pat Peyton Jr. and Otto Plummer of Beaumont; J. G. Bert-man Jr. of Liberty; and A. H. Montagne of Orangefield.

He appointed Sam W. Freas of Livingston as criminal district attorney of Polk County, to fill the vacancy caused by Sidney H. Adams' resignation. Jake Jacobsen, Austin attorney, who served with Daniel as assistant attorney general and executive assistant in the U. S. Senate and at the governor's office, will succeed Dr. W. R. White of Waco on the Public Safety Commission.
Dr. White and Fred Hartman, editor-publisher of the Baytown Sun, were appointed to the State Library and Historical Commission.
He re-appointed Clifford L. Davis, personnel director for the city of Amarillo, and Dan D. Nixon, Lampasas city manager, to the Municipal Retirement Board.
Daniel also named to the Lower Concho River Water and Soil Conservation Authority Joe Brosig of Paint Rock; Lambert Abernathy of Millersview and W. R. Loveless of Eden.
PERSONAL INCOME CLIMBS
Texans entered the final two months of 1962 with their personal income up 4.6 per cent over the first ten months of 1961.
This year, according to figures released in Austin by "Business Week," Texans' total personal income for the first ten months of 1962 was a whopping $16,854,000,000. Last year during a similar period it totaled $16,105,700,000.
LAW PARTNERS
Leonard Passmore, chief assistant of Attorney General Will Wilson, has joined Wilson in the private practice of law in Austin.
Passmore has been Wilson's chief aide for the past three years.
PRISON PRODUCE
Texas' Department of Corrections did a whopping big job of farming in 1962.
Asst. Director Byron W. Frierson, who is in charge of the vast farming operation, reports that the Department either "sold for cash or consumed, utilized or stored for use, in lieu of purchased items," $4,383,000 in farm products.
Cotton is the big cash crop on the prison system farms. "Our 10,000 acres of cotton this year averaged better than a bale per acre for a total value of $2,100,000," says Frierson. "And our rice crops put $35,000 into the state treasury with $13,650 worth held for consumption."

Edible crops had a total value of $708,287. Total value of cattle slaughtered was $384,660. More than 11,000 hogs were raised for pork.
Other farm products included eggs, milk, turkeys and chickens.
$1,000,000 SLANT
The Attorney General's office reports that over $1,000,000 monthly oil allowable was cut off in the East Texas and Hawkins fields because of deviated-well discoveries.

Buck Hales Start A New Year On Blackeyed Peas

By Ramona Noel
Brand Society Editor
Did you eat black-eyed peas on New Year's Day? Some believe it will bring good luck and some don't. Several just eat them because it is a tradition in the family.
As for the family of Mrs. Buck (Ora) Hale, it was a main dish on the menu for their New Year's Day meal. Ora recalled as to when it all started in her family. Her grandmother was of Pennsylvania Dutch background and believed in eating black-eyed peas on the first day of the year, because it brought good luck. But she didn't believe in just opening a can and serving them; she used the dried black-eyed peas and cooked them just like one does brown beans. This tradition has been carried forth through all these years in Ora's family and this year started no differently.

There is not as much cooking done in Ora's family now because both her boys are away from home, but when Joe Mack, who is a freshman at West Texas, comes home for the weekend, he expects some good home cooking. Son Terry, who is stationed with the Navy in Alaska, feels left out unless his mother sends a box of goodies quite often for him to enjoy - if his buddies don't get to them first. When he received his Christmas package from home with all the delectable cakes, cookies and candies, they all teased him that they didn't know that women in Texas could cook like that.

baked ham, baked potatoes, the cranberry salad and her delicious Hershey Bar Cake.
While cranberries are still in season this recipe would be excellent to prepare and put in freezer for later in the year, because it is something extra special in a cranberry dish. If one should want to freeze it, mix all ingredients together except for the whipping cream. Add the whipping cream after it has been taken from the freezer and thawed.
Cranberry Salad
1 package of raw cranberries (ground)
2 cups crushed pineapple (drained)
1 1/2 cups sugar
Stir sugar into mixture until dissolved, add 2 cups miniature marshmallows. If desired add 1 cup chopped pecans. Chill overnight; fold in 2 cups whipped cream.
This cake is delicious to serve with Jello, ice cream or just plain. It makes an excellent cake to bake if it is to be sent any distance.
Hershey Bar Cake
2 sticks oleo
1 1/2 cups sugar
4 medium eggs
8 plain five cent Hershey bars
2 1/2 cups flour
1 cup buttermilk
1/2 teaspoon soda
2 tablespoons vanilla
1 1/2 cups pecans
Cream oleo and sugar together. Melt Hershey bars over low heat in a double boiler. Add melted Hershey bars to sugar and oleo mixture. Add one egg at a time. Add remaining ingredients a little amount at a time. Leave 1/2 cup pecans to sprinkle on top before baking. Bake in a large greased and floured angel food cake pan at 250 degrees in a preheated oven for 2 hours and 15 minutes.

Jesse Jo Wright Honored During Surprise Party

A surprise birthday party was given to Jesse Jo Wright on Sunday, Dec. 23 at 8 p. m. by Miss Joe Ella McGee at 428 Star.
A Christmas theme was used with the house decorated with vines of holly with red berries. This theme was carried out throughout the house in table decorations. Birthday gifts were brought wrapped in Christmas paper to further the surprise.
They were laid around a white flocked Christmas tree decorated with red balls and green bows.
Green net over green taffeta with felt Christmas decorations accented the cloth that was laid on the serving table. A centerpiece with gold candelabra and red candles carried out the theme and accented the birthday cake that was decorated with the holly vine and red berry decoration.

Before entering the dining area streamers of red and green crepe paper accented the doorway. A complete dinner with all the extras were served to the following guests: Becky Duncan, Frank Hergert, Sharon Tinnin, Ronnie Duncan, Barbara Langley, Charles Kelly, Beth Ballard, Jimmy Kessiah, Penny Johnson, Jay Carter, Rosie Rush, John Fowler, Ronnie Gray, Vickie Inman, Wayne Edwards, Jimmy Higgins, hostess, Joe Ella McGee and honoree, Jesse Jo Wright.
After the dinner, games were played and prizes were won by: Frank Hergert, record; Beth Ballard, Christmas china ball and Ronnie Duncan, pair of baby statures.
Vickie Inman registered the guests as they arrived.

Besides all the cooking that Ora accomplishes, she is one of the busiest seamstresses in town. Before she started sewing for the public in 1956, she had had plenty of experience, since she had started sewing when she was 17.

A CHRISTMAS DINNER helped make the Yule season happier for some 150 local residents. The dinner, which was held at the St. Anthony's Catholic School, was arranged by an anonymous person who financed the affair. Members of St. Anthony's Church served as hosts for the Christmas Day affair. Names of those invited to the dinner were furnished through the Deaf Smith Welfare Board. (Staff Photo)

By Audri Miller
Oh, agony — this column is being written during this writer's recovery from the after-effects of a really slumberless slumber party.

Yes, yours truly hosted an all-night party for ten senior girls last Friday night — those who appeared to have a relaxing good time were Kay Seasmans, Janie McBroom, Sandra Vaughn, Teri Smith, Susie Higgins, Sheri Damron, Shari Jo Carmichael, Jenny Holt, Jan Story and Connie Kent.

Following a 2 a. m. breakfast of waffles, sausage, cheese, and apple cider, the girls madly chattered, giggled, and listened to records (Roy Orbison's recordings were probably never in such a constant "spin") — a few individuals finally succumbed to Mr. Sandman at six on Saturday morning.

And while we're on the subject of slumber parties, Ann Mercer was hostess for a "Christmas" one on Sunday night, Dec. 23. This group of freshmen girls exchanged gifts, went caroling, and "retired" at approximately four Monday morning — "in" on the fun were Mandy Moore, Cynthia Leasure, Sandy Thomas, Sidney Bayne, Carol Skypala, Gayle Newell, and Marsha Robinson.

It's great to hear something about the "doings" of the Junior - high set — it seems that 7,8, and 9 graders are relatively mum about their activities!

Beginning at three - thirty on the afternoon of the 23, Betty Mae Scott's home was the setting of a party honoring Connie Renfro (who was mentioned last week as a visitor from Lynnwood, Calif.). Guests Kaki Barnard, Gloria Damron, Janice Hagans, Kathy Boston, Dee-dee Thomas, Cynthia Seed, Royce Ann Gilliland, Ann Kirby (Royce's cousin from Lubbock), and Judy Kreighsauer presented Connie with a lovely charm bracelet — everyone really enjoyed the refreshments of piping hot Dr. Pepper, Christmas candy, and chips and dip — as well as enjoying each other's company!

Now's an opportune time to mention that there's a new girls' sextette among us — Beth Ballard, Barbara Langley, Linda London, Penny Johnson, Jo Ella McGee, and Kathy Bilbery are willing and able to sing for any occasion — maybe some of you out there would like to keep that in mind!

It is indeed interesting to note that among Christmas presents heard about were bracelet watches received by Connie Kent and Shari Carmichael from Carl Stapp and Gerry Bybee (respectively); Santa was especially kind to Jerre Bea Noland, bringing her a cute little Chevy II Sport Coupe with automatic stick shift and a diamond engagement ring (however, let us be sure to understand that the latter was not a gift from ol' Santa, but from Joe Shultz!).

ber Chocolate — she's the "rag doll" friend of almost everyone!) is thrilled beyond words because Santa Claus left her a little "Chatty Baby" doll. Chocolate immediately named her "Candy." And never underestimate the talent of these Chatty Baby dolls — they talk even over the telephone, saying, "Dogie-bow - wow," "Cookie all gone," and "Nighty - night!" Candy says lots of other clever things, but I was able to obtain only the above quotations in the short while I talked with her — unique!

Shari Hagans has been visiting here from Phoenix, Ariz., during the holidays — she and Marcus Jacobsen and Shari Carmichael and Gerry Bybee saw the motion picture "Gypsy" at the Paramount Theatre in Amarillo last Thursday night. Saturday night, Dec. 22, was the night of the Sigma Rho's annual Christmas Dance out at the Hereford Country Club — the Cados played for the semi-formal occasion.

Also on Dec. 22 at the Club — Maribeth Gilliland and Sara Gilliland hosted a luncheon for Beverly Newman, nee Beverly Boyer — Susanna Langley, Joyce West, Nancy Edwards, Shari Prevell, Brenda Beasley, Linda Reed May, Mary and Martha Russell, Kay Nell, Joy Story, Kay Lemons, Arvie Justice, and Donna Rogers were among those present.

As a special celebration of Mickey Bohelio's 19th birthday — an occasion of special importance — his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Garner, prepared a birthday dinner on Thursday night, Dec. 27 — those attending were Nancy Boyer, Kathy Boston and Troy Don Moore, Arnold Powell and Royce Ann Gilliland, Janice Hagans and Dick Combs, Nancy Edwards and Drew Kerchen, Glen Nelson and Judy Crume, Sharon Tinnin and Lynnwood Allred, Larry Hall (Mickey's roommate at Austin College) and Barbara Langley, and Ted Wimberly and Linda Hart. Congratulations, Mick!

And, remember this — there'll be a record dance for all high - schoolers at the Community Center this Saturday night. Admission's 25 cents and dance' time is from 8:30 - 11:30 — weren't the holiday dances fun? Why not express your appreciation to Mrs. Cave or members of the dance committee?

At this moment, my thought is, "O sleep, O gentle sleep, 'tis not how have I frightened thee but how I crave thee!" (This thought is only part Shakespearean!)

REP. ROGERS WRITES

Children's Present Nicest; Hectic House Session Set

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT:

As usual, the Rogers household was quite active on Christmas morning. The children are all growing up but, thank goodness, the taste for an old-time Christmas has not been lost. Five of the children were at home, the only missing member was the oldest, John, who is attached to a destroyer of the U. S. Navy presently located in Japanese waters. However, we were with him in spirit, as he was with us.

Many gifts were exchanged but the one that topped them all was a book that had been worked out by all of the children, including John, who had made his suggestions by correspondence.

The book is a large, leather-bound volume with gold lettering across the front, "THE ROGERS FAMILY." Inside is a complete picture story, beginning with the invitation to the wedding of Catherine, Regina Daly and Walter Edward Rogers on Nov. 28, 1936. This is followed by appropriate pictures and newspaper clippings.

Then comes the announcement of our firstborn, Jon Edward, the Navy Lieutenant who is now in Japan. This announcement was followed by pictures of him in his baby dress, continuing through to a recent picture in his Navy uniform.

Next was the announcement of Walter Edward II, together with pictures up to and including his present status as a senior at Georgetown University.

Next came Susan Daly, with step-by-step pictures through

OFF THE Shelf

BY E. A. TUCK

William Brinkley, who wrote Don't Go Near the Water, has turned his talents recently to a triangle.

And what a triangle it becomes! The Two Susans is definitely an adult book, and probably won't be like many who read it. We were disappointed in some ways, yet amused in others, by Brinkley's handling of a rather unusual subject.

Jason Hightower, on the editorial staff of a New York magazine, decides that what he needs to brighten his bachelor existence is a mistress. After some methodical research, he selects a divorcee who works in the office. Although he is somewhat intimidated by the sophisticated Susan Smithers and her precocious seven-year-old son, with the improbable name of Lorenzo de' Medici Smithers, he finally blurs out the question. Somewhat to his surprise, he is accepted — on Susan's terms.

Almost at the same time, Jason finds himself courting another girl from the same office, but from another floor. Susan Hood was a small-town girl with what Jason seemed to feel were old-fashioned, strict ideas.

Unable to choose between the avant-garde Susan Smithers and the conventional Susan Hood, Jason for a time manages the impossible. He goes with both of them without either of the girls knowing about the other.

Ultimately, however, he reaches the limits of possibility and his blissful dual role turns into trouble . . . doubled.

His frantic efforts to work out a solution satisfactory to both his loves is hilarious, but shouldn't be revealed in advance. It's another case where the reader should not be denied the delight of discovery.

In addition to the two Susans and one Jason, the author also sharply sketches other characters. The improbably profane novelist, Birmingham Stokes, who looks like a bear and acts even worse; the devilish Lorenzo de' Medici, who can think up Scottish tricks; and the impossible Winters Claypool, literary critic who believes only the English are capable of decent writing.

Although this isn't up to Brinkley's usual standards, The Two Susans has its amusing points.

More pictures of family activities followed, and the book was concluded by a picture of Jean and me asleep. The caption of the picture is "THIS IS THE END."

The fact is that this last picture was taken by the children one night when Jean and I were supposed to be waiting up for them to come in from some of their social activities. We had fallen asleep and did not awaken when they arrived. They couldn't resist the opportunity of taking the picture.

The House of Representatives will convene at noon on Jan. 8, 1963 for one of the most hectic sessions in history. It will probably begin with a highly controversial fight over proposed Rules changes. This will be only the beginning, because there are many domestic and international problems that must be faced up to in the coming year.

Many of the domestic problems can be worked out and reconciled without too much difficulty.

However, the international problems will not prove so easy. These could very well have a serious impact on what happens to the domestic issues. 1963 could well be the year in which telling decisions could be made in many countries with relation to the ability of peoples around the earth to sustain democratic forms of government.

This country has been able to set the pace of true representative government for a number of years. It has tried to provide the leadership that would make it possible for other nations to follow in our footsteps.

Nations in Europe have failed miserably to develop representative government by the people which has any stability. This was proven by the developments in Germany and Italy after World War I. The result of these failures was one of the primary causes of World War II.

Attempts are being made in many other parts of the world to develop government of the people, by the people, and for the people. Many of these attempts have failed miserably in the Western Hemisphere, as will probably be the case in the new and emerging continent of Africa.

In any event, our own country must continue to follow the dictates of our Constitution and our Bill of Rights and continue a true representative form of government under the law. Let us hope that 1963 will produce some good results in other parts of the world.

ENJOYING HIS RETIREMENT, G. P. Owen reads a story to three of his grandchildren. Listening intently are, from the left, Brenda Owen, Donald Owen and his brother, Morris. Brenda, five, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Owen, Hereford, and Donald, three, and Morris, one, are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Owen of Waco, who are visiting his parents over the Christmas holiday. (Staff Photo)

HERE And THERE

With Mrs. Merle Kaul
Christmas this year for G. P. Owen Sr. was a real holiday—with not a worry of having to "open shop" the day after Christmas. Mr. Owen retired several months ago as operator and owner of Acme Cleaners on Park Avenue and sold his business to his son Owen. He bought the business from Homer Fox in 1942 and at that time it was located on Main Street. Prior to this he had spent several years in the produce business and trucking.
Mr. Owen is a pioneer of Hereford having come here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Owen, in 1912 from Hall County. He married Miss Donnie Stagner in 1919 and they established their home here. They have lived in their present home at 801 South Main for the past 30 years. They have raised eight sons — Jack of Norborne, Mo.; Homer of Waco; Lawrence, who is working on his doctorate at the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kan.; G. P. Jr. of Fort Worth; John David of Walcott; Warren, Gwen, and Bobby of Hereford; two daughters, Mrs. Gerald (Annie Jo) Wilson and Mrs. Tom (Jewell) Hargrave, both of Hereford. There are 25 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen are members of the First Baptist Church, in which they have always been very active.
Mrs. Owen says he hasn't really retired — has only quit the shop on the Avenue — for there's the big garden which he tends every year, where he raised enough vegetables last summer for all the "girls" to fill the flower beds, which he cares for; and the tree house and swing in the big elm tree by the grandchildren and the neighborhood; and grandchildren Barbara, Becky, and Brenda, daughters of Bobby, live only two doors down the street and are at "grandpas" almost every day. A grandson, Jim Cassels, who is employed at Taylor's Market, lives next door, so he is in and out often. "And then," she says, "he even washes dishes for me now."
This Christmas, a custom which has become a tradition in the family was again carried out in the Owen home. On Christmas night all the children and their families who are near enough to be present, gather at the home for supper, a family program, and a gift exchange. Each family is responsible for a number on the program which includes songs, reading of the Christmas story, poems, recitations, and group singing. This year the families present for the joyous occasion included those of Gerald Wilson (Annie Jo), Tom Hargrave (Jewell), Warren, Gwen, John David, Bobby, and Homer. Homer and his wife and their sons Warren, Donald, and Robert came the first of the week from Waco to visit the family.

Asked what he missed about his work, Mr. Owen said he guessed it was the children. He loves children and when making his deliveries, he always carried a pocket full of bubble gum which he gave to the children. Now and then some child will ask him why he never comes and brings them bubble gum any more. However, as for the actual work, he is glad to turn that over to some one else and — his big easy chair looks mighty inviting these days.
Mrs. Caudie Ola Brown and Emmett went to Childress last weekend where they visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burrus, Sabrina and Shelley. They were met there by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kinsey of Elk City, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Angus Roberts and son Lyle of Lamesa. All enjoyed a Christmas gift exchange and a Christmas dinner on Sunday. On Tuesday the Jack Burrus family came to Canyon to spend the day with his family Mr. and Mrs. Tony Burrus.

Mrs. Brown and Emmett will go to Elk City, Okla., this weekend to visit with Colline (Brown) and husband Albert Kinsey, then go on to Lamesa to spend the New Year's Day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Roberts.
Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Thomas Jr., Diedra, Dan, and Deborah, John Drake, and Stan Sigman are spending the weekend skiing on the snowy slopes near Red River, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Wilson and daughters Kim and Kathy spent the Christmas holiday in Plainview with her parents Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Whitfield.
Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Ricketts and family of Tulsa spent Sunday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lawrence, and the Christmas gift exchange and dinner was held then so that the Ricketts family could go on to Portales, N. M., to spend Tuesday with his mother Mrs. Mary Ella Ricketts.
Those present for Sunday's festivities included the Ricketts family, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Benny Cooper and Chris, R. M. Gunn, and Mrs. Joe Landers.
On Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Benny Cooper were hosts for the family Christmas dinner at their home on K Street. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Landers, Ross Joe Landers of El Paso, and Mr. and Mrs. Cooper and Chris.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Landers, Glynda, Larry and Gary were guests Christmas Day in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rob Caviness at Olton.
The Rev. E. L. Naughte is spending the week in Oklahoma City, Okla., in the home of his daughter and her family.
Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lassiter and Mr. and Mrs. Wiley W. Jones were Christmas dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Ranspot, Mike, Pat, and Rita.
Mr. and Mrs. Hartland Caraway, Ann, Kay, and Mary Frances of Stratford and Mrs. W. P. Caraway were guests of the Iverson Leake family in Canyon for Christmas. Mrs. W. P. Caraway then returned to her home here after having visited for some time in her son's home in Stratford. Mrs. Hartland Caraway and the girls visited with her Wednesday morning while Hartland attended funeral services for Mrs. Kally Gray.

Mrs. Herman Gray went to Crosbyton last week to spend the Christmas season with a brother, Lige Ellison, and her sisters, Mrs. Bill Reed and Mrs. John Harvey.
Mr. and Mrs. Tom Templeton were Christmas Day guests in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Templeton of Abernathy.
Reed Green of Texas Tech at Lubbock, June Morris of Leveland, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Templeton were visitors in the H. R. Green home at Westway Sunday.
Christmas dinner guests in the C. E. Watts home on Grand Street included Mr. and Mrs. Clois Kemp, Danny and Mike, and Mrs. Patsy Murrell, Tim and Kellee.
Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Parsons had their children home for the celebration of Christmas Tuesday. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Parsons, Neal and Mack of Hale Center, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Evans of Lubbock and Doris Parsons.

LIFE

... what is it? Here, it is represented in the newborn. Generally speaking, "it is a vapor that appears for a little while and then is gone," James 4:14. Life from birth to seventy seems a very long time. But brother, reverse the sentence and take a look... seventy back to birth is so very short. Anyhow, the value of a life is determined by how well it is lived and not by how long it is. Every worthwhile life consumes itself serving others... administering to the sick, giving to the poor and challenging them to prepare for the Life Eternal. The good life is full of little deeds made meaningful by a few Godly decisions. Then attend worship services regularly.
