Peace breaks out in campaign

By ROBERT GREENE
Associated Press Writer

George Bush picked up the well-worn campaign trail in Ohio, attacking Michael Dukakis on crime and foreign policy, while the Massachusetts governor invoked the ghost of Watergate to accuse the vice president of distorting his record.

Peace broke out only briefly between the two presidential candidates, who appeared jointly at the Alfred E. Smith charity dinner in New York, a state where Republicans say Dukakis' once-strong support is shaky.

But behind the scenes, Dukakis was apologizing directly to the vice president for remarks made by a campaign worker about Bush. The official, national field director Donna Brazile, resigned Thursday after telling reporters that Bush should "fess up" about rumors surrounding his personal life.

Dukakis was staying in New York this morning to tape a pair of TV talk-show interviews, and spending most of the day in that state before going on to Louisiana and Texas. The two Southern states are considered the Democrat's best prospects in the region.

Running mate Lloyd Bentsen was back in his native Texas, trying to secure that state's 29 electoral votes, and mixing pro-education appearances with remarks attacking what he called GOP distortions of what he and Dukakis stand for.

Bush, campaigning Thursday in a state once considered a stronghold for Dukakis, traveled to the New York City borough of Queens to receive police endorsements and to campaign in a Democratic neighborhood.

Along with the badge of a slain officer came the endorsement of about 30 police organizations, including the 40,000-member Police Benevolent Association of New York City.

"It's time for America to take back the streets," Bush said.

At another appearance, Bush criticized Dukakis for opposing the MX and Midgetman missiles while also saying he wants to modernize the land-based U.S. strategic forces.

Dukakis, campaigning in New Haven, Conn., said "truth was the first casualty in the Nixon White House and it was the first casualty in the Bush campaign."

"Above all, the truth should matter a lot in a presidential campaign because as we learned in Watergate, it matters a lot in the Oval Office," he said.

Dukakis also made a point of drawing a distinction with Bush on abortion, saying Bush "wants the government to make one of the most personal choices a woman can make."

But as Dukakis and Bentsen argued that their messages were not getting out, Republican Dan Quayle said Dukakis was only getting what he was dishing out.

"Now we have the man from Massachusetts claiming his stand on crime is being distorted," Quayle said while campaigning in Ohio. "This is coming from a man who burned George Bush for last year's drop in the stock market."

Quayle, who spent most of the week in his native Midwest, headed south, with appearances in East Tennessee and Georgia. Ronald Reagan, who also campaigned this week for Bush and Senate candidate George Voinovich in Ohio, planned to give a pep-talk to 4,500 campaign workers in North Carolina and help raise money for Republicans there.

At the Al Smith dinner, a nonpartisan Catholic charity event in New York, Dukakis spoke first and got in a few jibes at Bush as well as some self-deprecating digs at himself.

He began by saying how pleased he was to be at an event where "all thought of politics is banished and I can concentrate on what I do best — comedy."

Accord reached on drug bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Faced with a revolt by conservatives, congressional leaders attached anti-obscenity provisions to a compromise drug bill so the measure can pass and the 100th Congress can go home.

A weary House Speaker Jim Wright predicted Thursday night that both houses would approve the leaders' "final agreement" on the drug bill today, but cautioned that the obscenity language could not be "nailed down" until lawmakers reviewed it. The bill is the major legislation keeping Congress in session.

After marathon meetings by rank-and-file negotiators, Wright — along with the majority and minority leaders of both houses — gathered to tackle the unresolved issues Thursday night.

The thorniest among them proved to be Senate-passed language to give the federal government broad new powers to combat obscenity.

Earlier in the day, rank-and-file lawmakers stripped the language from the drug bill after liberals insisted the government's powers would be too broad.

"We were threatened with a revolt" by conservatives, said Wright, who admitted he began envisioning an embarrassing floor fight that would destroy his effort to unite liberals and conservatives. Democrats and Republicans, behind the bill that could help all incumbents.

A coalition of conservative groups began an intense last-ditch telephone campaign to win inclusion of the anti-obscenity provisions, said Diane Quarterman, legislative affairs director of the Liberty Federation, formerly the Moral Majority.

The bill — which would authorize some $2.5 billion in new anti-drug money, is an ambitious attempt to deal with all aspects of the drug problem, including law enforcement, treatment, rehabilitation, education and help for authorities in drug-producing countries.

New initiatives would include up to $10,000 in civil fines for those caught with personal use amounts of drugs; a federal death penalty for killers in drug-related crimes; and denial of some federal benefits to convicted drug offenders, including users.

A number of lawmakers cautioned the drug bill would be meaningless without new financing, and the House Appropriations Committee took quick action Thursday.

The panel approved $500 million in new spending for the drug bill, an amount that would pay for barely a third of the estimated $1.4 billion first-year costs of the legislation. The final cost is expected to be about $2.5 billion if the multi-year measure is fully financed.

The $500 million includes: $242 million for treatment, prevention and education; $179 million for new agents and equipment for federal law enforcement agencies; $42 million for the federal courts; $25 million for the Coast Guard; and the rest for programs of the departments of state and agriculture, and the Food and Drug Administration.

A combined bill to combat adult obscenity and child pornography had passed the Senate 97-0 previously, and was added to the drug bill when the House refused to take action. The child pornography language was approved by the drug bill negotiators.

The obscenity language passed by the Senate would allow the federal government to seize property used to commit or promote an obscenity offense; and authorize the government to seek civil fines against those producing, transporting or receiving obscene materials.

Madelyn M. O'Hair, nationally-known atheist, may still be campaigning against religious programs on radio and television, as well as removing Christmas carols from public schools, but she has not been granted a hearing before the FCC nor does she have an active petition filed with the federal agency.

We were handed a letter yesterday, apparently being distributed by members of a local church, which warns that O'Hair has been granted a hearing before the FCC on petition No. 2493 "which would ultimately pave the way to the reading of the Gospel on the air waves of America." The letter urges that protests be mailed to the FCC.

While we are happy that people are concerned about such matters, we remembered that a similar letter-writing campaign was launched several years ago and the FCC asked citizens to stop writing since no such action was underway.

A check with the FCC office in Washington yesterday got this response: "There is absolutely no validity to this report. The rumor seems to pop up every year or so."

We contacted Rep. Larry Combest's office yesterday and an aide called us back with this explanation: O'Hair offered a position in 1974 to freeze the number of applications for issuing licenses to religious radio stations. The petition was denied, and no new petition has been considered.

So, while it's better safe than sorry, there is no apparent reason at this time for sending protests to the FCC on the religious broadcast matter.

Boulter breakfast set here Saturday

A dutch-treat breakfast will be held at 8 a.m. Saturday at The Ranch House in Hereford as part of a statewide "Beau Boulter Breakfast Club."

Boulter, R-Amarillo, is running against incumbent Sen. Lloyd Bentsen in the Nov. 8 primary.

A news release from Boulter's state campaign office said: "The Boulter Breakfast Club contrasts with that of his opponent's... whose 'breakfast club' cost $10,000 and was only open to high priced Washington lobbyists. Boulter says his morning meetings are designed to get his message out to as many of the voters of Texas as possible."

The news release quoted Boulter as saying he is "looking forward to seeing the groundswell of grassroots support all across Texas on Oct. 22."

Local Boulter supporters said a program will be provided by the state campaign office.

US to proceed with Marcos case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government planned to seek the indictment today of former Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos on charges of diverting enormous sums of stolen money to his own use after fleeing to the United States in 1986, federal sources say.

The Justice Department decided to move against Marcos after his lawyers, involved in plea bargaining negotiations with federal prosecutors, missed a 5 p.m. EDT deadline Thursday to respond to a demand that he plead guilty to a racketeering charge, said the sources, speaking on condition of anonymity.

U.S. Attorney Rudolph Giuliani plans to seek charges of racketeering and fraud against Marcos, said the sources. Prosecutors also have investigated activities of Marcos' wife, Imelda, Saudi Arabian financier Adnan Khashoggi and a number of associates.

Earlier in the day, President Reagan indicated he would step aside and not intervene to stop a

Marcos indictment, saying that in order to bring the matter to him, "I would think that it would have to be a matter of foreign policy."

Reagan said, "It may not come to my desk at all."

Engaging in plea bargaining discussions prior to indictment was a concession by the Justice Department to the State Department, which had urged such a course in an attempt to avoid indicting the former head of state. Justice Department officials had wanted an indictment to precede any plea bargaining negotiations.

In June 1986, four months after Marcos fled to the United States, Giuliani, the U.S. attorney in Manhattan, began investigating Marcos in connection with allegations that Marcos diverted enormous sums of government money to secret bank accounts.

The government believes that Marcos and his wife fraudulently diverted the money from the Philippine and U.S. governments, according to an opinion Wednesday by a three-judge panel in a matter relating to the Marcos probe.

Marcos and his wife, according to the court opinion, allegedly embezzled the money to buy real estate in New York and other personal property.

Some money, according to the court, allegedly was transferred to secret Swiss bank accounts held by the Marcoses.

Also under investigation in the probe has been Khashoggi, who posed as the owner of valuable paintings and New York property secretly held by the Marcoses, according to court documents.

In Honolulu, Marcos spokesman Gemmo Trinidad refused to comment on the report of impending indictment. When asked if Marcos knew of it and what his reaction was, Trinidad said: "He's been talking to his lawyers, so he must know."

Of plea bargaining discussions, Trinidad said, "It's been all over the papers," adding, "I didn't know about any deadline."

Wrongdoers may be prosecuted

Vote fraud to be deterred

AUSTIN (AP) — Texans are tired of vote fraud, said a state election officer in discussing a state-federal effort to deter and prosecute wrongdoing in the Nov. 8 election.

"There's a growing intolerance... It makes people darn mad when they cast their ballot and know that it can be canceled or diluted by somebody illegally voting," Randy Erben, assistant secretary of state, told a Thursday news conference.

The conference was called to discuss a coordinated program to combat vote fraud including the secretary of state's office, U.S. attorneys for Texas, the FBI, Texas Department of Public Safety and Texas Rangers.

"Crime has been a centerpiece of both presidential campaigns... Well,

I can think of no crime that strikes more at the heart of our Democratic process than vote fraud," Erben said. "What I want to see is to treat vote fraud with the same toughness that we treat other crimes."

The secretary of state's office said more than 250 inspectors already have been recruited to observe and to report irregularities. They were recruited primarily from among attorneys and state employees.

In addition to areas where voters have made requests, inspectors will be sent to areas where vote fraud problems historically have occurred, including East and South Texas, Erben said. He said those areas were determined after discussions with U.S. attorneys, the FBI and the Texas Department of Public Safety, and after examining past election inspector reports.

Ed Martin, executive director of the Texas Democratic Party, expressed concern about Secretary of State Jack Rains, a Republican, sending inspectors to areas with Democratic and minority concentrations without requests from local officials.

"We're going to be watching it with a very careful eye. If this thing is done in a way that has any partisan overtones, I think we'd suggest the secretary of state and his assistant... ought to just take a leave of absence and go to work for their beloved Republican Party," Martin said.

Clements skeptical about tax reform

AUSTIN (AP) — Tax reform without a tax increase is something the public should be skeptical about, Gov. Bill Clements says.

"When I have heard the Congress and-or politicians and-or legislators talk about... we're going to restructure the tax system, we're going to have tax reform, that's gobbledeygook for 'I'm getting ready to raise your taxes,'" he said.

For the past 18 months, a Select Committee on Tax Equity has been examining the state's tax system and will make recommendations to the 1989 Legislature for possible changes.

Clements on Thursday told the Texas Association of Taxpayers that he would support restructuring of the tax system "only if it is revenue neutral," meaning it wouldn't increase total taxation.

"I know that there are some legislators that are talking about restructuring the tax base and so forth," the governor said. "I am very, very cautious. I'm skeptical, that's the best word, when these legislators talk about we're going to have tax reform and we're going redo the tax base on a revenue-neutral basis. Put it in quotes and capitals -- I am suspicious. So we'll wait and see."

Clements said the state government's finances are in good shape today.

He said the debt and cash shortfalls of the past have been corrected, and he said he wanted to allow some $650 million in temporary taxes to expire on schedule Aug. 31.

"With the state's fiscal outlook improving daily, I see no need at this time for any new taxes during the next session (of the Legislature). And, in fact, it is my goal to make those temporary taxes that are now on the books just that — temporary," he said.

"I will not agree to renew those taxes, so in that sense you're going to have tax reductions. Our revenue stream is excellent. We are in a state of recovery."

Blaze shuts down DFW Airport

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) — A control tower fire at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport and efforts to fight the blaze snarled flights and delayed travelers for hours, with some planes diverted to other cities.

Flights were suspended for an hour Thursday when a technician, trying to contain the electrical fire at the tower's base, flipped the wrong switch, cutting the circuit that feeds the entire communications network.

The Federal Aviation Administration tower at the nation's fourth-busiest airport was temporarily evacuated, affecting takeoffs or landings of about 120 flights. About 15 flights were diverted to other airports in the area, the FAA said.

The technician suffered minor burns.

Airline officials said they were slowly getting back on schedule for today's flights after being backed up for two to three hours.

"Am I upset?" asked Jim King of Houston as he tried to make connections for a Boston flight. "Sure I'm upset. But what are you going to do about it? That's why I'm sitting here drinking beer."

Service was disrupted for about 30 minutes before controllers were able to start a backup communications network, said Norm Scroggins, FAA tower manager at the airport. Controllers, with assistance from an auxiliary FAA tower near the airport, lost contact with pilots for less than five seconds.

One plane attempting to land was forced to circle the airport in a routine maneuver, said Scroggins.

"In so far as passenger and airline safety, that was not compromised," said Scroggins. "We had emergency transmitter-receiver capability to talk to those crews and minimize the impact and certainly not affect the safety of the system at all."

Love Field in Dallas and the U.S. Naval Base in Grand Prairie, both served by the control tower, also had flights disrupted.

The technician, who was working for a contractor, was treated for burns at Harris Methodist HEB Hospital in Hurst and then released, said Marilyn Franks, an HEB supervisor.

The tower's fire alarm sounded at 11:27 a.m. CDT, with officials giving the order to "stop traffic" at 11:29 a.m.

The technician was working near the electrical panel when he noticed smoke billowing from it, said FAA spokesman John Clark. The worker tried to turn off a transformer adjacent to the electrical panel, thinking it was feeding the fire. But he cut power to the main communications network and its backup.

Clark, who estimated damage at $1,500, said he was still trying to determine how the fire in electrical panel started. He said the panel serviced monitoring equipment that was not critical to the tower's operations.

Controllers used a 15-mile trail between planes instead of the usual three-mile spacing at noon as a precaution as the tower operated at about 25 percent of its capability. Operations in the tower returned to normal about one hour after the outage, he said.

Some American Airlines flights were routed to airports as far as 400 miles away, including Abilene, Lubbock and Amarillo in Texas and to Tulsa, Okla., said spokesman Al Becker.

Limited takeoffs and landings were resumed about 12:30 p.m., said airport public information officials.

Caught in the airport delay was B.A. Bentsen, wife of Democratic vice presidential candidate and U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen.

Hurricane Joan blowin' and goin'

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Hurricane Joan resumed its deadly trek toward Central America after pounding Venezuela with heavy rains and 100 mph winds, pushing the storm's death toll to nearly two dozen.

Joan's torrential rains unleashed mudslides Wednesday and Thursday that swallowed wooden huts and left at least 11 people dead in the poorest neighborhoods of Caracas, Venezuela.

The storm killed 15 people in Colombia, injured 50, and left tens of thousands homeless when it swept the Guajira peninsula on Monday.

More than 37,000 people fled coastal areas of Nicaragua and Costa Rica, where a hurricane watch was in force. Hurricane warnings were in effect for the Colombian islands of San Andres and neighboring Albuquerque and Providencia.

"It's better to leave before we get killed," said Teresa Wilson, who toted a plastic bag stuffed with clothes and fled the Nicaraguan coastal village of Bluff with her seven children.

The Nicaraguan government appealed to the international community to be prepared to lend assistance if feared destruction because of the storm was realized.

At midnight Thursday, Joan's center was about 110 miles southeast of San Andres and about 225 miles east-southeast of Bluefields, Nicaragua, near latitude 11.5 north and longitude 80.5 west, said a statement from the National Hurricane Center in Coral Gables, Fla.

After stalling most of the day Thursday, the hurricane resumed its drift westward and was expected to continue slowly in that direction overnight. Maximum sustained winds were 105 mph, the center said.

Bob Sheets, hurricane center director, said forecasters still expected the hurricane to hit Nicaragua or Costa Rica today or Saturday.

Nicaraguan officials worried about the readiness of government agencies, relief organizations and coastal residents, some of whom live in wooden homes on stilts.

"We make a formal call upon the international community to respond in rapid fashion with its cooperation," Budget Minister Enrique Sotelo said.

Sotelo said if Joan continued straight for Nicaragua, "the economic consequences would be enormously severe and would force greater sacrifices upon the people."

About 7,000 people fled Nicaragua's remote Miskito Coast and two small islands by boat, and schools were closed nationwide.

Hundreds of people arrived by boat Thursday afternoon in Rama, 180 miles east of the capital, and were taken by military and civilian trucks to a school in the provincial capital of Juigalpa, 85 miles east of Managua.

"We decided to bring our children and to leave our husbands to guard our homes," said Johnny Hunter, a 29-year-old Bluefields woman.

President Daniel Ortega enacted an emergency law banning communications media from reporting unauthorized news about Joan.

The opposition daily La Prensa called the decree "absurd and illegal" and said the law made it "legally impossible to report on the hurricane."

In Costa Rica, the National Emergency Council said at least 30,000 people were evacuated from Puerto Limon, a town of 20,000 about 100 miles southeast of the capital of San Jose, and 14 other towns along the northeast coast.

About 350 people decided to stay in Puerto Limon and ride out the storm, said an official with the National Assistance Committee who asked not to be identified. Police patrolled near-empty streets to prevent looting.

"I will stay here, because I have faith in God," said Clifford Pries, 54.

A Brotherhood breakfast will be held at 7:30 a.m. Sunday in the church fellowship hall. All men and boys are invited to attend.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

This Sunday, Rev. Lanny Wheeler will use John 10:11-18 for the Scripture reading, and the sermon title will be "I am the Good Shepherd."

The Jr. and Sr. High youth groups will begin their meetings at the church, starting Sunday. Everything else remains the same, so please come out.

Ski reservations have been made with Ski-Rio again this year, but there is a great need for a committee to gather and "coordinate" all the plans. If you would be interested in forming this committee, please call the office and sign up now.

The youth groups will be holding a garage sale, Nov. 5, with all proceeds going toward their annual ski-trip. If you would be interested in donating anything for this cause, please call the office, and arrangements will be made to pick up your donations.

NAZARENE CHURCH

A special communion service will be held in the morning worship time Sunday at 10:45 a.m.

There will be a handmade crafts/bakery item sale sponsored by the Ladies Prayer Fellowship in the Fellowship Hall. Proceeds will go to the Nazarene Christian Academy. Refreshments will be served.

An all-church dinner following the Sunday, Oct. 30 worship service will be held. Beans and cornbread with all the trimmings will be offered; a donation of $1 per person will be accepted on behalf of the Nazarene Christian Academy. There will also be a few craft items available at this time for sale.

The Caravan Program is now accepting children's clothing for a missions project to send to children in the mission field. The collection box is located in the Caravan office.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

All ladies are welcome to attend exercise classes in the Family Life Center each Monday and Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

The Fall Festival of Fun is set Saturday evening, Oct. 29, in the Family Life Center. There will be games for preschoolers and volleyball, basketball, ping-pong, air hockey, pool and foosball for the youth and adults. Dominoes and bridge will also be offered as well as refreshments. A nursery will be provided.

There will be an all-church fellowship beginning at 6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 30, in the fellowship hall. There will be a church concert in which everyone is invited to participate and a snack supper will follow.

For the next four weeks, the young people are invited to attend a seminar on teen sexuality at 7:30 p.m. each Sunday in the youth wing of First Christian Church. This seminar will take the place of the regular 5 p.m. Sunday discipleship time at First Baptist Church.

A lock-in is planned Friday, Oct. 28, in the Family Life Center. If planning to attend, please contact the church. Also, adult sponsors are needed for the event.

TRINITY BAPTIST CHURCH

Revival services will be held Oct. 24-30 at the church beginning at 7:30 p.m. Evangelist Ellis Parsons, pastor of Summerfield Baptist Church, will be assisted by John Curtis, music director.

Clarence Powell, pastor, invites the public to attend.

HEREFORD SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH

The church is conducting a seminar on how to be a better parent entitled "Positive Parenting" at 7 p.m. each Wednesday through Nov. 16 at the Hereford Community Center. The sessions are free of charge and offered as a community service. For additional information, call 364-6277 or 364-4261.

Dream over; Dodgers win Series in 5

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The World Series belonged to the Los Angeles Dodgers — not a "dream team," as Manager Tom Lasorda called it, but a team that simply did the right things at the right times.

Battered but never beaten, the Dodgers captured their sixth World Series title Thursday night with a 5-2 victory over Oakland. Orel Hershiser pitched another masterpiece as the Series ended in five games.

And there were no more A's. They were only the Z's, because their bats had gone to sleep. The heavily favored Athletics, who averaged nearly five runs a game during the season, scored just 11 runs on 28 hits in the five Series games.

From A to Z, the Dodgers did what they were called upon to do. They hit-and-ran, stole some bases, moved runners along, played defense and even hit a few homers.

"I think everyone will respect us now," Dodgers second baseman Steve Sax said. "We may not be a power team, but we sure are a winning team."

Mickey Hatcher had two homers, including one in the decisive game, and that's as many as the entire A's team hit. The A's may have out-homered the Dodgers 156-99 in the season, but in the Series, it was 5-2 Dodgers.

"We missed the biggest piece we were chasing," Manager Tony La Russa said of his American League champions. "But I have a great feeling about the 1988 Oakland A's. I'm very proud of what this team did. We didn't choke. We got beat because the Los Angeles Dodgers did more."

The Dodgers did the winning without their key player, Kirk Gibson, who was gimped on both legs. Their inspirational and on-field leader had only one at-bat during the Series, although it resulted in a game-winning homer in the opener.

He was not alone among the dented Dodgers. Cleanup hitter Mike Marshall missed part of Game 3 and most of Game 4 when his back stiffened up. Pitcher John Tudor came out of Game 3 in the second inning when his elbow hurt. He may need surgery and a new career. And catcher Mike Scioscia couldn't play in the final game because he wrenched his knee the day before.

"This team has established itself in baseball history," Dodgers general manager Fred Claire said in a jubilant locker room. "It will go down as one of the great storybook seasons, all the way to the finish when it overcame injuries and beat two great, outstanding teams."

It took the Dodgers seven games to dispose of the New York Mets in the National League playoffs. The A's, meanwhile, waltzed over the Boston Red Sox in four games in the AL, giving them 108 victories for the season.

They would get just one more. "I don't think you can look at it as a total shock," A's catcher Ron Hassey said. "The media all felt that we were such a great favorite ... but you didn't give credit to the Dodgers.

"It was a season we started hard from day one and just didn't close the book at the end."

The Dodgers last won the World Series in 1981, beating the New York Yankees in six games, and they are the only team with two World Series wins in the '80s. The A's last won the Series in 1974, beating the Dodgers in five.

Those were the A's of Reggie Jackson, Sal Bando and Rollie Fingers. These were the A's of Jose Canseco, Mark McGwire and Carney Lansford. But among this modern trio, there were just five hits in 54 at-bats in the Series for an average of .093, and Lansford had three of the hits.

"The Dodger pitching shut us down," La Russa said. "It's the age-old story. If you make the right pitches, you can't make much contact ... Most of it was Dodger pitching."

And most of that pitching was Hershiser, who was voted Most Valuable Player of the Series. Hershiser ended the season with the most remarkable string of success in baseball history, a major-league record 59 consecutive scoreless innings, breaking Don Drysdale's mark of 58.

Hershiser finally allowed three earned runs in the playoffs, but he had a save and a win, including a 6-0 shutout of the Mets in Game 7.

In Game 2 of the Series, he pitched a 6-0 shutout on three hits. And he allowed only four hits, two by Lansford, in Thursday night's clincher.

"We caught them in a little cold streak, and we nickel and dined them to death," Hershiser said. "We also out home-ran them, and you don't expect that."

"I'm very, very proud of our team," Hershiser said. "It's a great mix of individuals — both personalities and talent. With one swing, Gibson exemplified what he's done all year long for us. He made it cool to be aggressive, to be a workaholic."

Diaz takes a breather

Moses Diaz takes a breather after scoring his second touchdown of the first quarter for the Hereford freshman maroon team Thursday afternoon. Diaz scored on runs of 54 and 56 yards in the first period.

Sophs defeat Randall JV

The Hereford Sophomores defeated the Randall junior varsity 28-7 on Thursday at Whiteface Stadium.

In other games, the Hereford freshman maroon team was defeated by Borger, 38-16, and the Hereford freshman white team was edged by Plainview, 8-6.

Moses Diaz scored on runs of 56 and 54 yards in the first quarter and added two two-point PAT runs for the maroon squad.

THE GREAT DEAN

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Hall of Fame pitcher Dizzy Dean liked to twist the facts a little when talking to sports writers.

He actually was born in Lucas, Ark., in 1911, but when he reached the big leagues he first told reporters he was from Oklahoma, then he said Texas, and finally admitted it was Arkansas.

Dean's greatest year was 1934 when he won 30 games for the St. Louis Cardinals, then enjoying the nickname of "The Gas House Gang."

He not only helped pitch the Cards to the National League pennant but added two World Series victories over the Tigers. His brother Paul won the other two as the Cards took the series in seven games.

UNCLAIMED TICKETS

NEW YORK (AP) — It's a mystery even to the people who operate race tracks, but every year a few million dollars in redeemable mutuel tickets go uncashed.

After a deadline each year, the money is usually turned over to the various state treasuries.

Mickey Mirelez scored for the freshman white unit.

In the sophomore's game, quarterback Max Mungia hooked up twice with his cousin, Lewis, on touchdown passes of 20 and 15 yards. Quarterback Chris Blair scored on a 5-yard option keeper in the second quarter, and Jose Nava scored on a two-yard run.

Amado Lopez kicked two extra points and Chris Steward ran a two-point conversion.

Randall scored in the last minute of the game to avoid the shutout.

"Chris Blair and Chris Steward had their best games of the season," said offensive coach Oscar Rendon. "Brady Wilson had a great game along with Lewis Mungia, who caught the two touchdown passes."

"Amado Lopez had a great game. He intercepted five passes," said defensive coach Ed Copen. "Paul Moreno, Eric Trujillo and Oscar Garcia also played very well."

Answers coming in SWC Saturday

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
AP Sports Writer

There will be a lot of answers to the Southwest Conference's puzzling football chase coming from the Astrodome on Saturday evening in a game that could be as high-scoring as pinball.

The unblemished Arkansas Razorbacks take their 6-0 ledger into the Dome for the 12:05 p.m. (Raycom TV) meeting with once-beaten Houston which warmed up by scoring 62 points against Tulsa.

Arkansas comes off a highly emotional 27-24 victory over the Texas Longhorns in Austin.

Odds makers made the game a pick 'em affair although Arkansas could only beat Tulsa 30-26 while Houston handled the Hurricanes 82-28.

The Razorbacks also will be without running back James Rouse, who suffered a knee injury against Texas. Joe Johnson was expected to start in his place.

In other games on the abbreviated SWC menu, Baylor travels to Texas Christian in a 2 p.m. game while the high-rolling Texas Aggies entertain Rice at 2 p.m. in College Station. TCU was favored by two points while the Aggies were 24-point favorites.

Arkansas has won six games in a row from the Cougars. Houston has been to the Cotton Bowl four times since entering the league in 1976 and two of the Cougar Cotton Bowl teams lost to the Razorbacks.

DALLAS (AP) — Here are previews of college football games of Oct. 22 involving Southwest Conference teams:

ARKANSAS (6-0, 3-0 SWC) at HOUSTON (4-1, 1-1 SWC), 12 Noon (CDT), Raycom Sports Telecast — SWC leadership and continued bowl hopes are hanging in the balance for this regional telecast from the Astrodome. Arkansas holds a 9-5 overall series lead and has won eight of 12 SWC encounters. UA head coach Ken Hatfield is 48-42 (10 years) overall, 41-13-1 (five seasons) at Arkansas, 25-9 in SWC meetings, and 6-4 against the Cougars. UA coach Jack Pardee stands 5-7-1 (two seasons, both at Houston) overall, 3-5-1 in SWC games, and 0-1 against Arkansas after a hard-fought, 21-17 loss at Fayetteville last fall. Arkansas has three of the top ball carriers in the SWC in RB James Rouse (86 attempts, 359 yards, four TDs in 1988, 22 career TDs for 12th place on the all-time SWC list), QB Quinn Grovey (75 rushing tries, 307 yards, six TDs, 1,825 yards of total offense in six games) and RB Barry Foster (66 carries, 304 yards, five TDs). UA's impressive rushing defense (121.8 yards rushing allowed per game) is anchored by LB Lamar Lathon (42 tackles) and DT Alfred Oglesby (37 stops). WR Jason Phillips of the Cougars has moved into sixth place on the SWC career receiving list with 149 catches and is 23 yards short of Emanuel Tolbert's SWC mark of 171. DB Steve Atwater (14 career interceptions, a UA career mark) paces the Hogs' counter-attack.

RICE (4-4, 0-3 SWC) at TEXAS A&M (3-3, 3-0 SWC), 2:00 p.m. (CDT) — The Aggies seek a sweep of SWC members from Houston after downing the University of Houston 20-16 on Oct. 8 at the Astrodome. Rice, meanwhile, goes after its first SWC victory of the campaign after falling to Texas Tech 26-26 last week. The Owls gave 1987 SWC champ A&M a stern battle last year before falling 24-21 at Rice Stadium. Texas A&M has a 42-27-3 series command as the teams play for the 73rd time. Rice's last win was a 10-4 defensive gem in 1986. Coach Jerry Berndt of RU is 44-40-3 (10 years) overall, 4-21 (three seasons) at Rice, 2-16 in SWC tilts, and 0-2 against the Aggies. Coach Jackie Sherrill of the Aggies is 101-43-2 (13 years) overall, 48-28-1 (seven years) at A&M, 23-14-1 in SWC skirmishes, and 6-4 in games against the Owls. The Owls have enjoyed success in the air behind the receiving of WR Mike Roudsavage (19 catches for 335 yards and three TDs) and freshman RB Eric Henley (13 catches, 146 yards, one TD). The Aggies have rediscovered a devastating pass rush (12 sacks in the last three games). ILB Dana Batiste (55 total tackles) has aided greatly in A&M's holding of foes to an average of 126.3 yards rushing per game. RB Darren Lewis (128 carries, 725 yards, four TDs, fourth nationally) continues to lead the Aggies' option rushing attack. Rice's defensive unit seeks to create more turnovers after forcing six in its first five games while the Owls also hope to curtail the big running plays behind the tackling of LB O.J. Brigrance (51 tackles). A&M has moved from seventh place to second spot in SWC team rushing (257 yards per game) since Sept. 24.

Arkansas is expected to borrow a page from A&M's defensive play book and blitz the Hogs. A&M defeated Houston earlier in the season with an all-out rush.

"To stop Houston, you have to play an aggressive defensive game," said Hog tackle Michael Shepherd, The AP's SWC Co-Defensive player of the Week. "I think Houston is going to score some points on anyone they play. We need to try to force them to do things they do not want to do."

Noseguard Kerry Crawford said "from my experience I know Houston is an offensive powerhouse. But our destiny lies in our own hands. We have to be ready."

Arkansas coach Ken Hatfield said "nobody runs the run-and-shoot like Houston does."

Houston coach Jack Pardee is worried about a surprise passing blitz from the Hogs.

"They beat us (21-17) because of their passing game last time," Pardee said. "We've got to stop that from happening again."

The defending SWC champion Aggies, who can't claim the title or go to a bowl game because of NCAA probation, have defeated three consecutive conference opponents, Texas Tech, Houston, and Baylor.

tackles) has aided greatly in A&M's holding of foes to an average of 126.3 yards rushing per game. RB Darren Lewis (128 carries, 725 yards, four TDs, fourth nationally) continues to lead the Aggies' option rushing attack. Rice's defensive unit seeks to create more turnovers after forcing six in its first five games while the Owls also hope to curtail the big running plays behind the tackling of LB O.J. Brigrance (51 tackles). A&M has moved from seventh place to second spot in SWC team rushing (257 yards per game) since Sept. 24.

BAYLOR (4-3, 0-3 SWC) at TCU (2-3, 1-1 SWC), 2:00 p.m. (CDT) — This game showcases an SWC rivalry that dates back to the days when TCU was known as Add Ran College and was located across town from Baylor in Waco. The Frogs lead the series 45-42-7 in all games, but BU and TCU have split the last six games in the series 3-3. Coach Grant Teaff of the Bears is 142-128-7 (28 seasons) overall, 100-64-5 (17 years) as Baylor's winningest coach, 63-60-3 in SWC games, and 12-4 against the Horned Frogs. Coach Jim Wacker of the Horned Frogs is 127-79-3 (18 years) overall, 23-27-2 (six seasons) at TCU, 11-20-1 in SWC tilts, and 2-3 in meetings with the Bears. The teams' strengths are pitted directly against one another as the Bears (No. 1 nationally in total defense last week at 216.3 yards allowed per game) face a hard-to-stop TCU running attack (third in the SWC with 228.5 yards gained per game). The swarming Bears' defense has registered an SWC-best 49 tackles behind the line in seven games. LB James Francis (50 tackles, six for losses) tops the chart. The Frogs feature RB Tony Darthard (97 carries for 459 yards, four TDs) and big-play WR Jarrod Delaney (21 catches, 297 yards, two TDs) along with alternating QBs Scott Ankrum and David Rascoe (combined 98-of-118 passing for 551 yards and four TDs).

YOU WANT IT YOU GOT IT
CLASSIFIED
 ADDRESS: 313 N. LEE

CLASSIFIED ADS
 Classified advertising rates are based on 14 cents a word for first insertion ($2.80 minimum), and 10 cents for second publication and thereafter. Rates below are based on consecutive issues, no copy change, straight word ads.

TIMES	RATE	MIN.
1 day per word	14	2.80
2 days per word	24	4.80
3 days per word	34	6.80
4 days per word	44	8.80

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY
 Classified display rates apply to all other ads not set in solid-word lines-those with captions, bold or larger type, special paragraphing, all capital letters. Rates are $3.95 per column inch; $3.25 an inch for additional insertions.

LEGALIS
 Ad rates for legal notices are 14 cents per word first insertion, 10 cents per word for additional insertions.

ERRORS
 Every effort is made to avoid errors in word ads and legal notices. Advertisers should call attention to any errors immediately after the first insertion. We will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion. In case of errors by the publishers, an additional insertion will be published.

Chili supper plans are finalized

During the recent meeting of the Hereford Rebekah Lodge No. 228, members completed plans for their annual benefit chili supper set from 5:30-8:30 p.m. Saturday at the Odd Fellow Hall, 205 E. Sixth St.

The menu will consist of chili, an assortment of pies, coffee and tea. Tickets are priced at $3 for adults and $1.50 for children under 10 years of age. Musicians are invited to participate in the evening's entertainment.

Under the direction of Noble Grand Dorothy Laundry, 19 visits to the sick and 18 cheer cards were reported during the business meeting. Also, recommendations were made for Lydia Hopson to serve as lodge deputy and Ruby Green of Muleshoe Rebekah Lodge No. 114 to serve as district deputy president of District V.

Enice Boyer served as hostess to Laundry, Marie Harris, Susie Curtsinger, Erma Loving, Jim Loving, Merle Boozer, Ada Hollabaugh, Faye Brownlow, Sadie Shaw, Hopson, Anna Conklin, Ben Conklin and Gene Bishop.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio says it's a good place to start a new business, observing that 25,974 new businesses were created in one year by Ohio entrepreneurs.

The Ohio Department of Development says it helped minority firms get more than $13 million in loans and bonds and procure more than $73.5 million in contracts.

JOBS U.S. POSTAL SERVICE

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT...NOVEMBER 7-11 AMARILLO, HEREFORD, AND AREA POST OFFICES WITH ZIP CODES STARTING WITH 790-791 HAVE RECEIVED TENTATIVE AUTHORIZATION TO ACCEPT APPLICATIONS FOR THE RURAL CARRIER EXAM.

A recent issue of Newsweek magazine noted that the average Postal worker earns $27,500 in salary and benefits. Men and women, regardless of age or experience are eligible to apply. Courses to help you prepare for the above exams will be offered by Postal Exam Workshops. Instructors Gina Anderson and Bill Harold are considered by many to be the most qualified on how to gain employment with the Postal Service. These exams do not test general knowledge. Proper preparation is the key to getting hired, because people are hired for those positions based on their exam score. The easy-to-learn techniques taught in these courses were designed by Mr. Harold. He is a former Postal employee, the author of three postal exam guides, and has repeatedly scored 100% on Postal tests.

3 HOUR WORKSHOP: SCORE 95-100%

GUARANTEE: The time-saving and accuracy-increasing methods taught in this course are so powerful that we will enter into a written agreement.
• You will score 95% or higher or your money will be refunded.
• If you do not receive a job application/interview within 90 days of your score, your money will be refunded.

WORKSHOP TUITION is $35 and includes the guaranteed workshop, workbook, interview lists, study guide with 25 complete take-home exams, follow-up consultation privileges with free informatics phone number, home study program kit, personal notification of future application dates, and more...WANT TO RELOCATE? We offer the Postal Alert Bulletin giving you postal exam dates nationwide. You are invited to bring your tape recorder to record the workshop for personal review.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Thanks for printing the letter signed "Alert in My 'Sleep.'" As a nurse in a major hospital for many years, I too have witnessed situations where the feelings of sick folks have been hurt by things said by people who thought they couldn't hear.

While tending a very ill woman, I heard her daughter say, "I wish Mother would hurry up and die so we could all go home." True, she and her sisters had spent several days and nights at their mother's bedside and the prognosis was not good, but her assumption that Mother was in a coma was incorrect. The woman's eyes were closed, and she was unable to speak or move her body, but she responded to my voice and I knew she was conscious.

The patient recovered and lived for nearly a year. I later learned she cut that daughter out of her will.

I also took care of an elderly lady who had no family. "Martha" had a gentleman friend who was handling her personal affairs. "Horace" stood to gain considerable wealth when Martha died. He was annoyed that she was hanging on so long. He had an active social life and visiting the hospital every night was a great inconvenience.

One night Horace suggested to the attending physician that he give Martha a little extra morphine and "get it over with." She heard him, sat bolt upright in bed and ordered him out of the room in a voice so strong, it startled us. The next day she phoned her attorney.

Three weeks later, when Martha passed away, Horace was stunned to learn that she had left half of her estate to her cat and the other half to a charitable organization.—On the Sidelines in N.J.

DEAR SIDELINE: I received dozens of letters validating the theory that some patients who are presumed to be in a coma are alert and listening.

I hope physicians as well as family and friends will remember this. Some doctors make inappropriate comments in the presence of very sick patients and they, above all, should know better.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A while back you published the results of a poll indicating that most women would rather snuggle than have sex. In view of these findings, the ladies have no right to complain when male golfers favor golf over sex, as reported in your recent column.

As an avid golfer, I don't necessarily hold that view. After all, a lot depends on the weather.—Bill from Fort Worth

DEAR FORT WORTH: Your feeble disclaimer won't help much if your wife finds out that it was you who wrote it. Read on, buster

DEAR ANN LANDERS: When I asked my husband (a golfaholic) what he thought about the survey that showed golfers prefer golf over sex, he replied, "What's wrong with that? Most men don't want sex in the daytime anyway."

That remark reminds me of a joke I once heard.

Two golfers were playing on a green near the highway when a funeral procession came by. The first golfer removed his hat and stood quietly until the procession had passed.

"That was a nice thing to do," the second golfer said. "Well," replied the first golfer, putting on his hat, "she was a darned good wife."—Tabacoville, N.C.

DEAR TOBAC: No joke is so ancient that someone, somewhere, hasn't heard it. Thanks for digging up that old bone and tossing it my way.

Trip 'down under' highlights program

Susan Shaw's home at 410 Douglas was the setting for Tuesday night's meeting of Xi Epsilon Alpha chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Shaw and Susan Cardinal hosted the event, serving refreshments of hot spiced tea, caramel apple slices, and chocolate mint bars. Shaw gave the program on "The World Around Us—Down Under" featuring slides and memorabilia gathered from her summer trip to Australia.

A brief business meeting was conducted by Peggy Hyer, president. Secret Sisters were thanked by Cardinal, Holly Bixler, Marge Bell, and Melinda White; Hyer thanked the chapter for the sympathy card she received upon the death of her grandfather.

In a report from Beta Sigma Phi City Council, Bell noted that the Valentine dance will be held Feb. 11, 1989 and she reported that committee tasks have been assigned.

Legion zone meeting set

A zone meeting of the American Legion posts will be held in Dimmitt on Tuesday, Oct. 25 at 7 p.m. in the City Hall Community Room, 203 S.E. 2nd Street.

Posts represented will include Hereford No. 192, Nazareth No. 528, Tulia No. 214, Vega No. 168, Bovina No. 518, Dimmitt No. 445 and Friona No. 206 and Happy No. 112.

Legion and Auxiliary members are welcome. Dinner will be provided.

Treasurer Sharon Bodner reported that $402 was divided evenly between Rape Crisis/Domestic Violence Center and Lifeline. The money came from proceeds gleaned at the chapter's Sept. 27 fall benefit style show.

Social committee chairman Connie Matthews reminded members of the Oct. 29 Halloween party set in the home of Denise Haflinger. It will feature a murder mystery for members and their spouses.

Aluminum cans were collected with proceeds to benefit Hereford Satellite Center.

Members attending were Hyer, Shaw, Gaye Reilly, Bodner, Linda Arellano, Bell, Bixler, Cardinal, Deann Harris, Matthews, Melinda White, Kay Williams, Barbara Cochran, and Haflinger.

The next meeting, set for Nov. 1, will be held at Park Avenue Florists at 7:30 p.m. "Fun with Flowers" will be the topic of the program.
