"Nothing to say now," answered J. G. Evans when questioned Saturday morning at LaMance oil test, eight miles southwest of Hereford. "We may have an announcement sometime next week."

Team captains will report on their efforts in the drive to raise $25,000 in contributions for the High Plains Research Station at a meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank. The group is seeking pledges totaling $25,000 over the next five years.

The county-wide religious survey by the Hereford Ministerial Alliance begins today at 2 p.m. Each house in the county will be canvassed. Purpose of the survey is to discover the church membership, attendance or preference.

A representative from the Am arillo social security office will be at the courthouse at 9:30 a.m. Thursday. The representative will answer questions concerning social security.

Hereford High School choir director Don Moore announced this week his mixed choir will stage the Broadway musical production "Oklahoma" in the school auditorium March 27-28. More than $355 has been spent on royalties and music for the third concert of the Community Concert Series.

At the regular Wednesday luncheon the Hereford Lions Club held ceremonies for the induction for 22 new members. During the ceremonies it was brought out that five of the 1929 charter members are still active in the (Continued On Page 2)

Rites Monday for Mrs. Burleson

Funeral services for Mrs. Rosa C. Burleson, 74, 506 Lee, will be held Monday at 3 p.m. in the Grace Gospel Church with the Rev. H. V. Fields, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Burleson died at 1 a.m. Saturday in Deaf Smith County Hospital. She was born Oct. 10, 1883, in Georgia, and was married to S. E. Burleson in 1925 at Canadian, Tex. They came to Deaf Smith County 10 years ago from Perryton. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include her husband, two sons, W. G. Burleson of Hereford and Robert Byrdson of Houston; a daughter, Mrs. Florence Hardy of Galveston; a sister, Mrs. Sallie Edmondson of Cochran, Ga., and two grandchildren.

Burial will be in West Park Cemetery. Gilliland Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Two New Doctors To Join Clinic

Two new doctors, one a former Hereford man, will join the staff of the Hereford Medical and Surgical Clinic on July 1 of this year.

Dr. Bruce Beene, 32, a Hereford High School and West Texas State College graduate, is one of the doctors. Dr. Larry Beyers, 31, is the other.

Both medical men are currently doing intern work at St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas. Both are graduates of the Southwestern Medical School, University of Texas, Dallas. Both will complete internship on July 1.

Both doctors will be in general practice and obstetrics here.

Hodges To Run For Re-election

Velma Hodges, Deaf Smith County Treasurer, ask that The Brand announce her candidacy for re-election this week. In her letter, Mrs. Hodges said:

"I want to thank you for your cooperation and support in the past. I sincerely solicit your votes in the July election. I will continue to give my best if re-elected to this office."

Sincerely,
Velma Hodges

CITIZEN OF THE YEAR—Mrs. Argen Draper, Deaf Smith Home Demonstration agent, was the 1957 Lions club Citizen of the Year at the Thursday night annual Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce banquet, held in the high school gymnasium. Mrs. Draper took the job she now holds in 1947 as a temporary worker, and has been a most avid office holder since that time. (Staff Photo)

Argen Draper Is 'Citizen of Year'

Highlighting the annual Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce banquet in the Hereford High School gymnasium Thursday night was the naming of the year's club Citizen of the Year by the club president D. C. Martin. Winner of the outstanding civic service award for 1957 was county home demonstration agent, Mrs. Argen Draper.

IN COMMISSIONERS' COURT

Judge, Clerk, Tax Assessor Get Raise

THE COUNTY Commissioners Monday voted to equalize salaries of the county clerk and county tax assessor at $5300 per year during their regular semi-monthly meeting. The court also raised the salary of County Judge to $5500.

The most time-consuming matter undertaken during the Monday morning session was selecting a replacement for the late Bill Davis to the hospital board to fulfill that unexpired term and appointing another replacement for Ansel McDowell, who requested relief from the board.

County clerk Ralph Smith's annual salary was raised $200 while the salary of Dave Alexander, tax assessor, was raised $300, equalizing the pair's income at $5300. Judge Homer Henslee's annual salary was raised by $200.

REPLACEMENT FOR Mr. Davis

to fulfill a year of the unexpired term is Ed Loerwald. Wayne Thomas and J. T. Gilbreath Jr., were both re-elected to the board. Thomas has served as chairman during the past term of office.

Carl Perrin, who lives in the northwestern part of Deaf Smith, was appointed to replace McDowell on the board. McDowell was also up for re-appointment. Perrin is the first rural-resident ever appointed to the hospital board.

The commission voted to hire Bettye Self as secretary to the county agent and home demonstration agent. Her salary was set at $180 for a five-day week.

COUNTY SHERIFF Charles Skelton appeared before the commissioners court with a request for two shower baths and two commodes for the jail cells.

Skelton explained to the court, "I have to shuffle the prisoners around every time they bath because we have only one tub for them. The commodes are very unsanitary and are needing replacement badly."

The sheriff also commented he had 18 prisoners in jail at the time and reminded the court the cells contained only 15 beds, explaining that he had three inmates sleeping on mattress on the floor.

The court voted to ask for bids on the sale and installment of the fixtures requested.

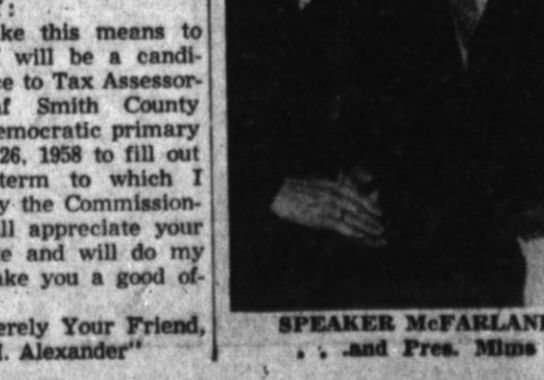

Alexander Enters Name in Election

D. H. "Dave" Alexander ask The Brand this week to publish his announcement of candidacy for county tax assessor-collector in the July Democratic primary.

In his letter, Alexander said: "TO THE VOTERS OF DEAF SMITH COUNTY:

"I wish to take this means to announce that I will be a candidate for the office of Tax Assessor-Collector of Deaf Smith County subject to the Democratic primary to be held July 26, 1958 to fill out the unexpired term to which I was appointed by the Commissioner's Court. I will appreciate your support and vote and will do my very best to make you a good official."

Hawks Defeat Herd, 48-43, Here Friday

Overtaking the Hereford Whitefaces early in the third quarter, the Phillips Blackhawks pulled away to win the District 1-AAA opener for both schools, 48-43, here Friday night.

Forward Donnie Gaines was the main instrument in the Blackhawks' win, hitting 18 points, with 12 of them coming in the last half. Hereford had led, 25-22, at the intermission. Gaines plopped in three straight field goals to give the Hawks a 28-26 advantage immediately after the second half began.

Captain Jim Curtsinger was high point man of the night, scoring 24 points on 10 field goals and four free shots. Only three other Whitefaces got into the scoring column.

Hereford led, 13-11, at the end of the first quarter. Twice in the second period the Herd pushed to nine-point leads, 21-12, and 25-16, only to have Phillips pull back into the game.

After eradicating the Hereford lead, the Hawks held at 36-35 margin at three-quarters. The free-throw line gave the Whitefaces trouble again as they hit only nine of 21 gratis tosses. Phillips canned 12 of 18 free shots.

Tuesday night Hereford will host Littlefield in another conference game. The Whitefaces dropped the Wildcats, 79-60, in a non-district game last month.

Area Farmers Hit By Cotton Ruling

HALTING OF the cotton section of the soil bank by the U.S. Department of Agriculture Friday came as a "big surprise" to Faust Collier, manager of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

"We hadn't been budgeted yet on that money, but we hadn't been led to believe we were short of money," Collier said Saturday.

The USDA halted the program Friday in which farmers retire cotton land under the acreage reserve part of the soil bank. Reason cited was to avoid going into the red on the half-billion dollar surplus control program.

COLLIER SAID only 160.7 acres of Deaf Smith County's 11,000-acre allocation had been put into the reserve so far this year.

"However, there has been a lot of interest in the program and we were going to have a lot more than in 1957," he added. He said the rate had been raised from $40 per acre in 1957 to $42 per acre for 1958.

"The farmers had until March 7 to sign up and they were just taking their time," he noted.

The USDA also said that many more cotton farmers were wanting to participate in the program and the department feared it wouldn't have enough money to pay all of them, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

Four Local Glovers Place at Plainview

Hereford Athletic Club fighters brought home four runners-up trophies from the Plainview District Golden Gloves tournament which ended Friday and began preparations to enter the Amarillo regional tourney which opens Tuesday.

Runners-up in the high school division at Plainview were R. C. Welty, 126 pounds; Wade Crist, light heavyweight, and Gene Waits, heavyweight. Tom Sluder was runner-up in the open light heavyweight division.

Welty lost a close decision to Joe Rodriguez of Plainview. Crist was TKOed by Grant Cooper of Floydada in the second round. Crist had a cut over his eye when he and Cooper bumped heads.

Waits lost a split-decision to Jack Caddell of Plainview. Sluder was TKOed in the second round by James Martin of Olton. All the championship bouts were held Friday night.

In other bouts George McMill of Hereford lost a decision to Richard Castro of Plainview in a 99-pound fight Wednesday and Welty was decided by George Freelen in a 126-pounder Thursday. Welty replaced Freelen in the finals Friday because a doctor declared Freelen unable to fight again following his match with Welty.

Athletic Club coach Melvin Young will take Waits, Welty and Jeff Gomez, 160, to Amarillo in the high school division, and Sluder and Wes Chavers, 155-pound Negro, in the open bracket.

Man Charged with DWI After Crash

Earl Lewis Bowers, 52, 501 Elevins, was charged with driving while intoxicated following an accident on Park Ave. near Ave. K Wednesday at 6:35 p.m.

Bowers was released on $500 bond Thursday. His car collided head-on with a pick-up driven by Ted R. Royal, 48, of Rt. 5. Neither man was injured. Damaged to the pick-up was estimated at $480 and $190 to Bowers' car.

Smith Throws in Hat for Clerk

County Clerk Ralph Smith authorized The Brand this week to announce his candidacy for re-election to office in the July 26 primary.

In his letter to The Brand, Smith said: "TO ALL VOTERS OF DEAF SMITH COUNTY:

"I wish to take this means of announcing my candidacy for re-election as your County Clerk, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held on July 26, 1958. I have tried to make you the best clerk that I possibly could, giving each and every taxpayer the best service possible at the least cost to you. If you feel that I have fulfilled all duties as your County Clerk, I will appreciate your support and vote in the July Primary."

Sincerely,
Your Friend,
RALPH SMITH

Program Begins April 1; Group Seeking Grants

Construction of a $25,000 laboratory building to house equipment for research into the medicinal properties of Deaf Smith County foods and water will begin within two weeks, according to Dr. L. B. Barnett, Hereford physician and surgeon.

The laboratory is expected to be completed by April 1. When it is ready, a four-pronged, long-term research program by the University of Texas Medical School and the Deaf Smith Research Council will begin.

THE PROGRAM, which will last at least 10 years, will do basic research on the influence of county foods and water on bone-healing, tooth decay, nervous system and livestock nutrition.

Dr. Barnett said contract bids are now being studied and the contract is to be let sometime this week. The building will be located just west of the Hereford Clinic, Fourth and Miles, and will face Fourth St.

Dr. Barnett said Deaf Smith County Hospital had been offered the lab, with all use of the equipment, but it was rejected because of the complications of administering it. The lab would have been located inside the present hospital.

The laboratory will be co-sponsored by Southwestern Medical School of the University of Texas and the local Oasis Shrine Club.

In addition to the research equipment a complete commercial soil laboratory will be included for the use of the area. The lab will be completely separate from the Hereford Clinic, Barnett said. It will employ four technicians in the beginning and is so built that can be doubled in size as work progresses.

DR. BARNETT is leaving today for the East Coast on a trip to see about financial grants from the U. S. Health, Education and Welfare Department, the Ford Foundation, the Lederle Drug Corp. and the Squibb Drug Corp.

If given, the grants will go to Southwestern Medical School and then come to the research project. Joining Barnett in New York City on Jan. 28 will be Dr. Charles Gregory of the medical school, Dub Reeves and J. B. Noland of Hereford and Charles Sherrod of the Khiva Temple in Lubbock.

This group will have a hearing with one medical advisory board of the Imperial Council of the national Shrine and the Imperial Council's board of trustees concerning the possible location of a Shrine hospital in Hereford. The group will be representing (Continued On Page 2)

Lucille Posey is First to Announce

Lucille Posey, District Clerk of Deaf Smith, this week authorized The Brand to announce her candidacy for re-election, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July.

Making her announcement, Mrs. Posey said:

"In announcing my candidacy for re-election as District Clerk, I wish to thank all of you for the past help and support you have given me, and to tell you that I would like very much to be your District Clerk again."

"I have endeavored to carry out the duties of this office in an efficient and courteous manner, and will continue to do so, if I am re-elected. Your consideration and support will be appreciated."

organization. They are W. J. Stanford, John McLean, L. W. Carlyle, C. W. Brumley, and Ray Conaway.

Bill Hardwick announced this week the Star Theater is to start a weekly talent contest in the near future, with final prizes for the sweepstakes winner consisting of a recording contract and possibly a Hollywood trip. There will be no limit on age of contestants, their distance from Hereford or their occupation. Cash prizes will be awarded to the first and second place winners each Thursday and merchandise prizes to the third and fourth places. Four weekly winners will compete the fifth week. Applications can be picked up at the Star.

Hereford Chamber of Commerce Manager Bill Lenderman left town Friday afternoon en route to Fort Worth and later Abilene. At Abilene he is to attend a conference of the West Texas Industrial Assn. Lenderman is to return the latter part of this week.

John David Bryant, Bobby Vekge, Lynn Boomer, Hereford students attending Tech in Lubbock, and Nancy Pace of Levelland were in Hereford Thursday night to attend the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

ever money we are allotted will go out in order of applications. It just depends on how much we get in our budget," Collier said.

Collier said those who had land in the acreage reserve last year will get top priority and will receive 110 per cent of the rate, or $48.20 per acre.

Collier said there was very little interest in the program here last year, but the increased rates had brought many inquiries from farmers.

Payments in the program in Texas last year totaled $39,313,504. A total of $45,487,100 had been allocated for 1958.

Plaques were presented to retiring officers of the chamber, which included president Dr. A. T. Mims, and director B. F. Cain, Edgar Skypala and Louis Woodford.

FRAMED CERTIFICATES were awarded to the new officers, president Marcus Latham, vice president Mohk Johnson, treasurer Don Zimmerman, and directors C. C. Acker, H. C. Baird, Charles Hill, Charles Noland and John Douglas Pitman.

A plaque for his efforts as chairman of the first Community Chest drive in Hereford was presented to Woody Wilson. In accepting the award, Wilson said he would accept the plaque only in the name of the thousand people who worked on the project.

Four serving lines were utilized to serve the crowd, requiring slightly more than 30 minutes to take care of the 867 people. Half-pound fillet mignons headed the menu, which was complete with all the trimmings.

Amarillo had the largest number of out of town guests at the banquet, 36. Among the larger city's representatives was president of the chamber of commerce Bud Curtis.

Clovis was second to Amarillo with nine.

Paul Marable, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was the lone delegate from Abilene.

Hereford chamber manager Bill Lenderman read the name and hometown of each guest, and ask each to stand and be recognized.

MRS. N. L. GAINES was the guest from furthest away, coming from Maplewood, N. J. Silvam Felizia, high school exchange student from Torino, Italy, was also recognized.

Lenderman also made recognition of Hereford's F. H. Oberthier as being the oldest Chamber of Commerce man living here, having served with organizations of comparative duties since 1909.

Among some of the accomplishments of Mrs. Draper as county Home Demonstration agent are helping to organize the first 4-H Clubs, a long range training HD program, leadership programs for HD women and 4-H Club members, HD Coral Club, market for farm products and foods, the poultry division of the Junior Livestock and Poultry Show and the Hereford Ceramics Arts Club.

Mrs. Draper came to Hereford from Canadian in 1947, the year after marrying her husband, Tom. She has, among her many activities, trained numerous Home Demonstration agents.

Entertainment for the evening, other than the dinner music furnished by Mrs. John T. Sims, was furnished by Wes Harrison, known professionally as "Mr. Sound Effects," from Dallas.

HARRISON WAS almost continuously applauded by the audience as he imitated sounds made by horses, guns, trains, car accidents, airplanes, and, as a finale, an atomic bomb explosion.

The seven high school girls who helped take the names of the 87 out of town guests were Judith Raye Haseloff, Colleen Reeves, Rita Latham, Karen Sue Daniels, Dennee Kreighauser, Kay Lynn Scott and Mary Lois Coker.

Khiva Temple of the Shrine, which includes the entire Panhandle area. It has been agreed by Khiva Temple that if a Shrine hospital is to be located in the Panhandle it will be at Hereford. Application for the hospital has been made, Barnett said.

HE ADDED that a definite answer on the hospital may not be forthcoming until July when the nation Shrine has its annual meeting. The Khiva Group will be in New York until Jan. 31.

Prior to the New York meeting Barnett will be in Washington, D. C., on Jan. 27 to ask the Health, Education and Welfare Department for $15,000 for the research program. That money would be used to study influence of flourine on tooth structure.

While in New York the group will talk with Lederle Drug Corp., Pearl River, N. Y., for a grant, the amount not yet decided, for study in the influence of body chemistry on the nervous system.

Squibb Drug Co. of New Brunswick, N. J., will be asked for money to back studies in the influence of magnesium on bone-healing.

The Ford Foundation, Detroit, Mich., will be asked to help finance livestock nutritional studies. The group will be in Detroit Feb. 1 and will return home on Feb. 3.

The research program will cover the following four phases:
1. To determine if factors in the area's food and water might be brought to bear in other areas which might produce faster and more complete bone healing in people. Dr. C. E. Gregory, associate professor of surgery and head of the department of orthopedic surgery, Southwestern Medical School, will be the direct supervisor of the part of the program.

2. To study the influence of chemicals that occur naturally in foods and water upon the central nervous system, more especially to try and determine some of the causes of such diseases as epilepsy and mental disturbances. This program will require use of all the facilities of the local laboratory and those of the university. Dr. Kemp Clark, chairman of the division of neurosurgery, Southwestern Medical School, will supervise this project.

3. The influence of foods and water on teeth and related problems will be approached from a number of angles. Dr. Robert V. Walker, director of oral surgery, Southwestern Medical School, will head this project.

4. General and basic research dealing with nutrition of laboratory animals and livestock of this area and detailed studies of the chemical composition and nutritional values of feeds and produce grown in this area. Considerable work has been done on this phase at present and will include additional programs, all related to the first three phases. Dr. Barnett will supervise this phase.

Promotion of two officers was approved by directors of the First National Bank in a meeting Wednesday, Jan. 15, when Harry E. Cayler was moved from cashier to assistant vice president and J. T. Carroll was elevated from assistant cashier to succeed Cayler as cashier.

Other officers in the organization remained unchanged with V. P. Patterson, president; V. O. Henn, executive vice president; C. C. Acker, Roy Phillips, Mark Woodall, and Miles Roberson, vice presidents; A. W. Goforth and M. E. Morgan, assistant cashiers.

Funeral Friday For Adrian Youth

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon in the Adrian Baptist Church for Wayland Allen, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Allen of Adrian.

The Rev. Darrell Gaut, Amarillo Baptist minister, officiated. He was assisted by Rev. Bill Lewis. Pallbearers were Joe Cullender, Bob Caldwell, Moran Pounds, Billy Don Brown, Billy Mack Briggs and Arthur Jewett.

Burial was in Vega cemetery under the direction of Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Home.

Survivors, besides the parents, are a brother, Bobby Allen, Adrian; a sister, Mrs. Marvalene Wood, Amarillo, and his two grandmothers, Mrs. E. W. Allen C., on Jan. 27 to ask the Health, Education and Welfare Department for $15,000 for the research program. That money would be used to study influence of flourine on tooth structure.

Young Allen was found dead Wednesday morning in a pasture a few miles north of Adrian.

A verdict of accidental death was returned Thursday by Justice of the Peace E. M. Panoast, following an autopsy. Death was caused, according to Panoast, by a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Earliest authenticated sketches of airplane designs were made by Leonardo da Vinci (1452-1519).

Harrison Kin Recalls Life in White House

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON — Mrs. Martha Harrison Williams, though only a tiny tot when her grandfather Benjamin Harrison was president, still has some vivid personal recollections of happenings in the White House.

Mrs. Williams lived in the White House with her father, the President's son, Russell; and her mother, the daughter of Sen. Alvin Saunders of Nebraska. She occupied one of the front bedrooms "right over the portico" which had been turned into a nursery. Her small cousins, the much publicized "Baby" McKee, named Benjamin for his grandfather, and his sister, Mary, children of the President's daughter, Mrs. J. R. McKee and her husband, were the other occupants.

"I guess what I remember most and never am allowed to forget," Mrs. Williams, who now lives in a small house of her own here, told me, "is that I got the White House quarantined. My illness was diagnosed as scarlet fever, but today I'm sure it would be described as poliomyelitis."

Mrs. Williams also remembers a little cart pulled about the White House lawn by a goat in which she used to ride with Baby McKee. Once, Baby nearly succeeded in taking it outside the property, she said.

"I also remember sitting on the lap of the famous band leader, John Philip Sousa, when he came to lead the Marine Band which all these years has been playing for receptions at the White House," she said. "And you know, the White House had its first Christmas tree when we lived there."

Mrs. Williams has managed to stay out of the spotlight, though she's attended dinners and teas at the White House. It was only recently that her name got into local papers when she was honor guest at a dinner featuring her grandfather's favorite dishes in the Presidential Room at Washington's Mayflower Hotel.

The dinner was prepared according to a menu that appears in "Statesmen's Dishes and How to Cook Them," published in 1890 by the National Tribune. The cover describes the book as "Practical autographic recipes by Mrs. Benjamin Harrison... and more than two hundred other women prominent in official and social life at the capital."

Milk Takes A New Route From Bessie to Bottle

FROM WOODEN BUCKETS to small tin pails to 10 gallon cans — and now a 1800 gallon capacity tank truck. That's the history of milk containers which carry the liquid from the producer to the bottler.

The modern transition took place in Deaf Smith Dec. 10, according to Tuney Malone, Cream O' Plains creamery owner. One truck from the Tri-State Milk Producers Assn. takes care of the Hereford area and part of Amarillo's territory. Driver H. D. Blythe, a long-time Hereford resident, is saved hours of back-breaking loading and unloading as he makes his rounds of nine producers for the local creamery.

Where milk was transported in 10 gallon cans until December, it is now carried in the 1800 gallon tank truck, never being exposed to the open from the time of milking to the opening of the milk bottle lid.

As the cows are milked the fluid passes through tubes into the producer's refrigerated tank. From this container the milk is piped into the tank truck, carried to the local creamery and piped into another storage tank, and, within eight hours, piped to the bottling machine.

Not only does the new system mark a great improvement in sanitary conditions, but it saves countless hours of manual labor.

Producers previously were required to have refrigerated storage rooms to keep the cans. When they had a load large enough to warrant taking to the creamery they had to load each one onto a truck and unload it again after arriving in town.

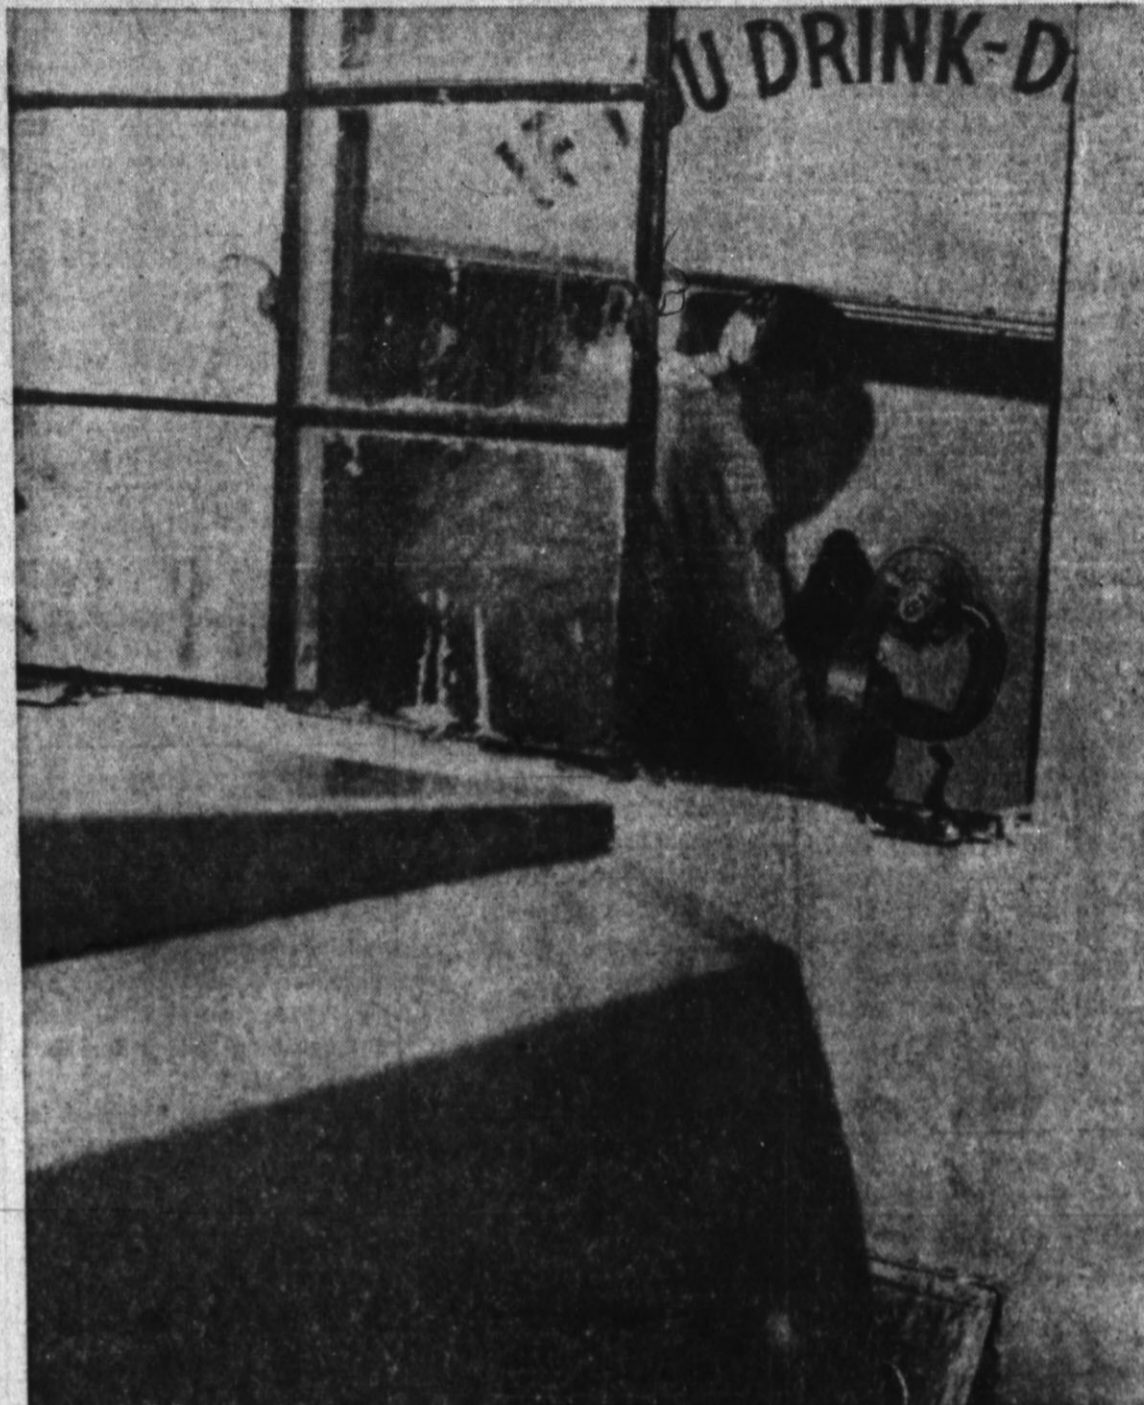

CAN STORAGE space was also a main factor, both for the producer and the processor. It would take 180 cans to hold all the milk the tank truck picks up in one trip.

To pick up 400 gallons at the average producer's milk shed previously required about 30 minutes of loading, and the same amount of time unloading. The truck will pump 400 gallons either into, or out, of the tank in 10 minutes.

Producer storage tanks in the area range in capacity between 150 and 700 gallons. The tanks are refrigerated to keep the milk below 40 degrees at all times. The truck makes regular pick up rounds in the county every two days.

LOCAL PRODUCERS are Howard Mutter, two miles southeast of Hereford, S. C. Brewton, one and a half miles east, Harold Krieghauser, one mile east, C. J. Albracht, four miles east, W. J. Albracht, seven miles east, F. J. House, nine miles southwest, and J. W. McIver, three miles northwest.

Two brothers northwest of Broadview, N. M., also furnish milk for the local creamery, Dale SIMPLE TO LOAD—H. D. Blythe of Hereford is shown loading milk into the new tank truck which hauls the liquid to the local creamery now. Never exposed to the open, the milk is piped directly from the cow to a refrigerated tank, shown in the lower left. From the producer's tank the milk is piped into the tank truck. and Glen Pulliam.

The tank system originated in the northern part of the United States about five years ago. Bonney Brumley, east of town, was the first in this part of the country to use the system. He had his two years ago. Brumley has been producing for a Lubbock concern with his unit.

Old Movie Organ Now in a Church

DALLAS — A once gaudy organ that used to blare out tunes in a San Angelo movie house now provides sacred music for a Dallas church.

The horseshoe shaped instrument, austere refinished, recently was presented to the Trinity Methodist Church by Mr. and Mrs. Weidon Flanagan Jr.

Flanagan, a Dallas theater organist, plays it at morning services and Mrs. Flanagan plays it at evening rites.

Flanagan acquired the organ, which he values at $40,000, from a San Angelo church which discarded it after getting a new one. Flanagan kept it for years before the couple had it repaired and placed in the church.

"The old organ at the church, which had been there about 50 years, finally just quit in May," Flanagan said. "Since then the congregation has been using the piano."

John Fort, a Dallas organ builder and friend of the Flanagans, repaired the theater organ and built a new case for it. The pipes from the original organ in the church are being used with the repaired Flanagan console.

TOUGH CANDY

LYONS, Kan. — Biting into her first piece of home-made taffy, Mrs. Robert V. Mathews struck something hard.

It was the diamond from her ring, which fell out but wasn't missed as she pulled the taffy.

silver stars and silver letters spelling out "The Future," which was the theme of the banquet. Note the space rockets above the speaker's table on the wall on their way to the moon. Included in the 867 persons attending the affair were 83 out of town guests. (Staff Photo)

Toastmasters on Contest Road

HARDY BENSON, president of the Hereford Toastmasters Club, announced recently that the annual Toastmasters' speech contest will begin Tuesday and last until Tuesday, Feb. 4, meeting only on Tuesday nights. Virgil Dodson is chairman of the speech contest.

The Hereford Toastmasters Club is a part of an international Toastmasters Assn. The winner of this local contest will advance to the area meet and the winner of the area will compete in the district contest. The winner of the district meet will compete in the zone contest, which consists of four states, Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Louisiana. Following the zone contest will be regional and then the international contest.

A TOPIC WILL be assigned to the speakers four hours before the meeting by a telephone call from Dodson. The speaker has those four hours to prepare his speech and the contest will be handled this way throughout the entire meet.

The Hereford Toastmasters invite anyone who is interested to attend the meetings in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel on Jan. 21, Jan. 28 and Feb. 4.

The 24-pound cannon which fires Dominion Day salutes at old Fort Henry, Kingston, Ontario, Canada, was cast in 1797.

Recommends Sunday Funny Paper Session
IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW
By BETTY BABIONE
NOTE: To you grown kids: If you're reading this on Sunday morning, how about tuning in KPAN Radio at 9:30. The Toastmasters are in rare fettle as they make the funny papers come to life during their 15 minute comic program. According to Curtis Traweek, the club members are really going all out to make the program enjoyable for young and old. And I don't know why anyone wouldn't get a kick out of that bunch of men (playing at being kids again) as they give voice to the various cartoon people. It's a peek of fun!
Hope the time will be rescheduled soon, so that listeners can hear the whole program before dashing off to Sunday School.
Oh say, pin a big rose on Irving Alexander, who portrays Snuffy. Irving has come to believe that nobody appreciates him — but he's wrong!
THEY ARE beginning to call Neil Cooper the A-number-one idea man.
The Lions Club chore of cleaning up the Bull Barn after the Livestock Show was going too slow to be finished before time for the wrestling crowd to gather Saturday night. So Neil comes up with the idea of commanding the city street sweeper. . . it sho got the job done, too.
Charles Skelton whisked Dr. Mc-

Oh gee! I surely was disappointed that I had to miss the grand soiree staged by the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night. From what I hear, it was the bestest — the mostest — the swellest of all time. Evidently the food, the program, the entertainment — all added up to the grand total of a GRAND time!

ANYHOW. . . if Pardy Liner had been there, she would probably have been most impressed by such things as:

The result of the work of Hazel Williams and her garden club committee. The decorations were attractive, interesting, and quite timely in their futuristic theme. And, by darn, I can't think of many places which present more of a decorating problem than the high school gym.

It's a fact that the presence of pretty 'n sweet young things always contributes a certain special something to a party. And I'm sure that the high school girls who helped tend the tables did look real cute in their shiny, black, short-skirted jumper dresses and silver hats, fashioned with the future in mind.

And the program was just extra special! The most important thing was the main speaker of the evening I guess; and thanks to a tape recording on KPAN, I got to hear Dr. McFarland's speech — wasn't it a dilly!

Farland away in the sheriff's car immediately after the doctor concluded his address — but not for the usual reasons. Dr. M. had to catch a plane for California. . . made the remark as he left, that it is a pleasure to ride in a police car when you get to tell em where you want to go, and they take you there!

SOME OTHER people and things Pardy would have observed, had she been on the scene:

Black and red were the predominant colors worn by the ladies in attendance. . . Argen Draper looked lovely (in a red suit and off-white hat) as she received the coveted Citizen of the Year Award (we are so proud for Argen) (she said if Tom knew about her award all the time, she'd kill him — but I know she didn't mean it). . .

Carlos Anderson was rather stunned there for a minute at the door, when he found he'd left his tickets at home. . . Jim Gillentine just happened to be nearby with two extra tickets. . . a grateful Carlos said he guessed he'd have to go down and subscribe to the Brand after that good turn. . .

Blanche Latham made quite the hit in her darling, blue, feathered chapeau. . . I happen to know that her son-in-law picked it out for her. . .

Margie Mims looked real purty in a color described to me as orange? . . . Virginia Woodford was stunning in a luscious, black velvet suit with a wide-wide collar. . . Another Virginia (Winget) looked radiant in her white, wool dress and full-length, leather coat creamy in more ways than just the color). . .

Mitt Hastings chose a beautiful and becoming red for her banquet attire (Mitt looked so fine considering her recent sojourn in the hospital bed) was very smart looking in her gray suit, but the thing that really caught everyone's eye was Sonny's gorgeous, new Eastern Star ring — 26 diamonds, no less! . . .

Blue is extremely becoming to Lucille Bookout, and she chose a shimmering blouse in that color for this important occasion. . . Irene Latham was beaming (and who wouldn't be?) with the pleasure of wearing her new mink stole. . .

And. . . Oh dear! Will have to check my grapevine sources for

Fix a Room for Boy in School

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

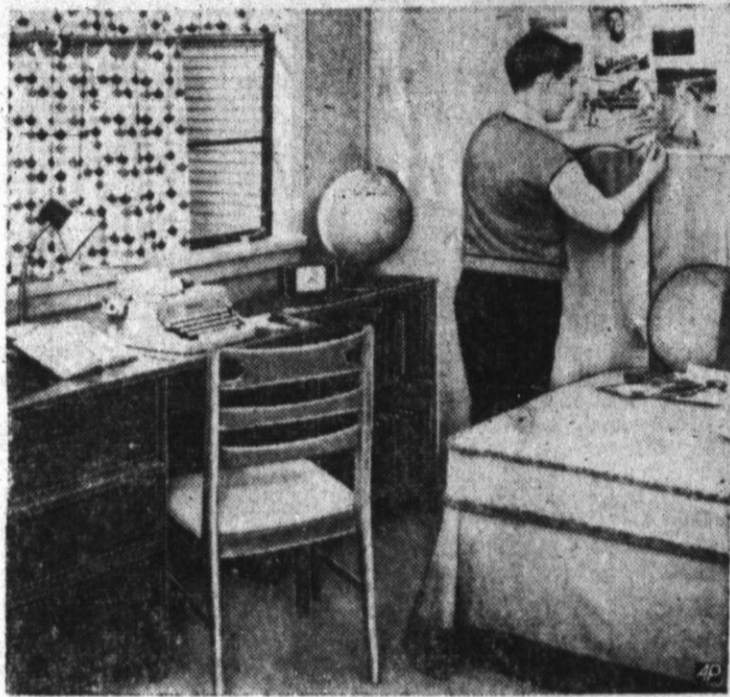

If you can possibly manage it, give your schoolboy a room of his own.

Even if it must be tiny, a haven he can call his own is better for a growing boy than a large room he must share with others. You'll find he'll be a better student if he has a room where he can concentrate on homework, where books may be kept from the groping fingers of younger members of the family.

Keep furnishings on the simple side so that he will be able to tidy up his room. Many new bedspreads have been designed with that idea in mind. A fitted bedspread is ideal. One new one of avisco rayon and cotton has a handsome rough-textured weave that will appeal to a young cowboy, yet it may be tubbed, fluff-dried and put back on the bed without ironing. Carpeting is a good idea for a small boy's room because it helps to deaden noise.

GOOD LIGHT IS important to young eyes. Be sure his desk is near the window and that he has a good lamp for after-dark reading.

This will protect his eyes and also make his room look cheerful. A coat tree is a useful and appreciated article in any youngster's room. It's a good place to hang slacks and sports shirts in a hurry, when there just isn't time to arrange everything on hangers. It will keep these items off the bed and chair (and perhaps even the floor).

PRIVATE PROPERTY—Even if it's not spacious, a small room of his own is far better for a young schoolboy than a big one shared with a brother.

A good roomy chest with many drawers can separate articles for easy handling. One new combination chest and desk with a plastic top can stand lots of doodling. He'll like a comfortable chair and a typewriter, if you're looking for that special gift for him. It's a good idea to put an electric clock in a young man's room — one that will not slow up because he has forgotten to wind it. That way he'll be on time some of the time.

Be sure to include a waste basket and small clothes hamper in the boy's closet. That way he'll keep track of his dirty laundry. A wallboard for his memoranda and mementos will save walls from nail and hammer. If he has enough shelves to store sports equipment and other bulky paraphernalia, he will keep those items off the floor.

An alternative to the shelves in a small room is a long, low wooden bow (that he can put together himself with plywood) that may be stored under the bed to hold everything from baseball mitt to ice skates. Put a rope handle on it, so that it may be pulled out in a jiffy when these articles are needed.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Herring left Thursday for Corpus Christi for a short stay, and plan to visit Mexico City and other points of interest in Mexico before returning home.

Cashmeres Go Round the Clock

MORNING—For casual wear, long-sleeved cashmere pullover embroidered motif.

NOON—The well-bred tone-on-tone cashmere sweater blouse for wear with a suit.

NIGHT—Black cashmere with slit sleeves, boat neck, by Bernhard Altmann.

Associated Press Women's Editor
One of a girl's best friends is an Asiatic mountain goat named Kashmir.

He's the boy who supplies all the cashmere sweaters that are the backbone of so many feminine wardrobes. During 1957 Americans spent somewhere around 150 million dollars on garments made from the soft fleece of this gilded goat, and in 1958 the figure is expected to go higher.

A man who discovered the virtues of cashmere early is Bernhard Altmann, a Viennese who owns the world's largest cashmere sweater knitting mill in Austria, and who introduced the dressy cashmere sweater in the United States, as well as tone-on-tone cashmeres and sweaters and skirts dyed to match.

This authority on the luxury yarn explains that cashmere comes from the soft winter underfleece of the small, short-legged, horned Kashmir goat, whose habitat is chiefly in the upper Himalayan and grease. Then it is spun, dyed and knitted or woven into sweaters Mountains of Central Asia. These goats are never shorn; instead, the downy underfleece is plucked or combed out by hand by semi-nomadic Asians who use the valuable goats also for milk and meat.

Some of the cashmere fleece is collected bit by bit from the shrubs on which the animals scratch to rid themselves of their heavy coats during the spring moulting season.

Each goat yields only from two to four ounces of cashmere fleece a year. The annual yield from several animals is needed to make one cashmere sweater, and that of many goats for an overcoat.

Raw cashmere looks little like the soft, beautiful yarn which finally is used in sweaters and fabrics. It arrives in the United States in greasy, four-foot bales. First it must be opened and scoured, to separate the coarse outer fibers and impurities and to remove dirt or fabrics. The natural shades of cashmere are gray, white and brown, with white being the rarest of all and commanding a premium price.

So, by camel, by junk, by steamship and by train the precious fleece finally arrives at mills throughout the world, where it is transformed into the luxury garments that women treasure.

That's why cashmere sweaters are expensive — and why women are willing to pay the price.

Today a woman can be well-dressed for almost any occasion if she has a wardrobe of these fine sweaters — casual ones for sports wear, tailored ones for wear with suits, dressy ones for evening wear.

New techniques make possible many novel weaves and color combinations in cashmere sweaters, which nowadays are highly styled and carefully designed for specific kinds of wear.

Jimmy Conkwright Enters Animal in Fort Worth Show

Jimmy Conkwright of Hereford is among the exhibitors in the Junior Steer Show at the 1958 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, Jan. 24 through Feb. 2.

He will be competing for premiums totaling $3,761 in the junior steer division. Cash awards of almost $200,000 will be offered in the other livestock, rodeo and horse show divisions of the Fort Worth Show.

A special feature of this year's rodeo will be the appearance of movie and TV star Gail Davis in her role of Annie Oakley.

DODGERS INVOLVED AGAIN

NEW YORK (AP)—The World Series shutouts pitched by Don Larsen and Johnny Kucks for the Yankees against the Dodgers marked the first time that a winning team registered two shutouts in the same World Series in 26 years. It last happened in 1920 when Walter Mails and Stan Coveleskie of Cleveland blanked the Dodgers in the sixth and seventh games of that Series.

WINNER FOR SIX STRAIGHT SEASONS

LITTLETON, N. C. (AP)—When Mississippi finished its football season with a 7-3 record, it marked the sixth straight year that Coach Johnny Vaughn's Rebels have won more games than they lost.

In his ten seasons of coaching Ole Miss, Vaughn experienced only one losing campaign. That was in 1949 when his team had a 4-5-1 record. His 1950 team split 10 decisions. His 10-year record is 71 victories, 23 defeats and 5 ties. In 1952 his team was unbeaten with 8 wins and 2 ties.

SHE WANTED FISH

LITTLETON, N. C. (AP)—This is a fish story about the big one that didn't get away.

Mrs. Blanche Fuller of Littleton, fishing at Roanoke Rapids lake with a group of friends, saw a big fish slip off the hook just as she was about to land it. She leaped into the lake and scooped up the fish in her skirt. The fisherman's reward for the wetting was a bass weighing one and a half pounds.

Mincemeat Turnovers Are Hearty

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

WHEN YOU WANT TO SERVE a hearty dessert you can do no better, in our estimation, than to bake a batch of mincemeat turnovers. They're just right after a supper of fish chowder or scalloped oysters and a tossed green salad. Enliven the salad, if you like, with matchstick-sized strips of Swiss cheese plus chicken and smoked tongue; or choose hard-cooked egg and anchovies for the addition.

Here's our most recent recipe for the turnovers, made from a package of mincemeat and shredded fresh apple plus pie-crust mix enriched with cream. Because the pastries are brushed with egg yolk and milk they have an attractive shiny topping.

These turnovers are an excellent make-ahead desert. Wrapped tightly and refrigerated for several days, they need only quick reheating in a hot oven before serving.

MINCEAPPLE TURNOVERS
Ingredients: 1 package (9 ounces) mincemeat, 1½ cups water, 3 tablespoons light brown sugar, 1½ cups coarsely shredded pared apple, 1 package (10 ounces) golden pie-crust mix, 1/3 cup heavy cream, 1 egg yolk, 2 tablespoons milk.

Method: Break mincemeat into small pieces in medium-size saucepan; add water and brown sugar. Stir over high heat until all lumps are broken; boil briskly for 1 minute. Remove from heat; stir in grated apples. The mincemeat-apple combination should be thick for the turnovers so you may either drain it well or return to low heat and simmer, stirring often, until there is practically no liquid — 10 minutes or more. Make up pie crust according to package directions, but use 1/3 cup cream instead of the water called for. Dough will be stiff and may show cracks. Divide into 2 portions; make a rectangle of each, flattening to ¼-inch thickness. Chill briefly if desired. Roll out one portion of dough at a time large enough to give four 4-inch squares plus trimmings; use a pastry wheel for cutting and a prepared pastry cloth and floured stockinet-covered rolling pin. Put a heaping tablespoon of the mincemeat a little off-center of each pastry square; fold over to make a triangle. Prick top well; press edges together well with fork tines. Roll out and cut other portion of dough and fill the same way; gather trimmings from both batches together and roll out to make two more 4-inch squares. Place turnovers fairly close together on cookie sheet. Beat egg yolk and milk lightly together; brush turnovers with mixture. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven about 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve hot, or refrigerate tightly covered and then heat in very hot oven about 10 minutes. Makes 10 turnovers.

Note: About half of the mincemeat will be used with one package of pastry mix; the remaining should be tightly covered and refrigerated for later use. Any of the egg-yolk glaze leftover can be put in a small covered jar and refrigerated for brushing pastry or cookies.

NEW AWARD—Woody Wilson was presented the first Community Chest award by Ben Childers at the C of C annual banquet Thursday night for his work as chairman of the first annual Community Chest drive in Hereford. Wilson told the audience he would accept the plaque in only one way, "In the name of over a thousand people who worked on the drive." (Staff Photo)

By JIMMIE GILLENTE
"EAT IT UP, wear it out, make it do!" This was the slogan back in the days of Calvin Coolidge, according to a recent report in the Perryton paper and, to show how times change, they compared it with the present day slogan of "How much down? How much a month? Send it out!"

I know it isn't according to Hoyle for an old baldheaded cuss to uphold these modern times, but I lived in both periods and, for the life of me, I can't see how anyone would want to turn back. It's a lot more fun today than it was back in the '30's. So far as I am concerned, those days were for the birds.

Matt Gilliland sat beside me at the CC banquet the other night and was telling me about his son, Jack, the Veterinarian. Both of their wives were gone to California and, after a few days, Jack got to complaining about the food situation around his house.

"You just don't know how to manage things," said Matt. "I am doing fine — and it is costing me less than $1 a day."

This had Jack going for several days, until he accidentally discovered that Matt was eating one meal with his sister and the other with his daughter-in-law each day.

THE ANNUAL BANQUET was one of the best yet. It was strictly super all of the way — and the most superb of all was the decorations. The Bud to Blossom members really did a wonderful job. Another amazing feat that is worrying a lot of people is how in the world KGNC-TV got their film on the air so fast. Several people left the banquet, rode home and arrived just as the 10:30 news flashed on the screen. They were amazed to view themselves at the banquet. About the only possible answer is that the photographer went back to Amarillo with the sheriff's escort which delivered Dr. Kenneth McFarland to the airport — and then did a rush job on the pictures.

Anyway, it was an on-the-ball operation. The station merits a lot of credit for its enterprise — and deserves a lot of appreciation from Hereford for the unusual interest shown this area. Unquestionably, it was above and beyond the call of duty.

Lots and lots of people are still talking about the school bond election, which failed by a margin of 429 to 607 this week. Very few are lukewarm. Most people have a definite opinion. Still others view the situation as bad publicity for the community, expressing an opinion that it will hurt property values in the long run. There have been a lot of "post mortems" on the subject, and more "reasons" than Carter has oats.

During the past 10 years, the Hereford school district has called seven bond elections; four have passed and three have failed. They tabulate as follows:

June 12, 1948	For: 209	Against: 24
$475,000	For: 449	Against: 611
March 8, 1951	For: 491	Against: 618
$1,000,000	For: 885	Against: 638
Nov. 17, 1951	For: 858	Against: 95
$550,000	For: 289	Against: 151
Nov. 22, 1953	For: 429	Against: 607
$550,000
June 26, 1955
$325,000
Oct. 15, 1955
$95,000
Jan. 14, 1958
$539,000

There are probably a lot of ways to interpret the figures. However, it is interesting to note that three issues which failed carried around the same vote count: 600-plus "Against" and 400-plus "For." The same 600-plus also voted "Against," when the high school issue was finally passed in 1952, after failing twice in 1951. The big difference was the number of people who turned out to vote.

This is strictly information. I am not complaining. I think that being able to vote "For" or "Against" a proposition is a lot more important than having schools. Our school system is a by-product of our form of government — and our government is based on our right to vote as we please. Some people get mad or get excited and forget this, but it should ever remain foremost in their minds. Without freedom at the polls our public schools would soon perish.

MRS. J. J. DURHAM was kind enough to help us with a condensed history of the foreign students who have attended Hereford High School. The article appears on the editorial page of this issue and, in my opinion, is quite interesting. Mrs. Durham did an excellent job, and the article should be required reading for local citizens.

If you are a housewife and you get a telephone call from a handsome young man this afternoon, don't be surprised! It will likely be one of the JayCees calling to remind you to pay your poll tax. Right now they are lagging by around 2,000, which is a big hunk out of the potential 3,000 to 3,400 polls which should be registered in 1958 collections.

THE INCUMBENTS are doing their part, too. We have a lot of political announcements this week. However, they are 100 per cent "ins." As yet, there is not a single contested office. A lot of people are talking, though, and several will probably be contested before the deadline.

Another seismograph crew hit town Friday and Saturday. Rentals went haywire and, once again, it looks as if we have a "landlord's market." No one seems to know much about the crew or the tests. Maybe we can come up with some definite information in a few days.

Reports are going around that the oil test west of town doesn't look too good. However, I haven't been able to catch Merlin Kaul or Clarence Morrison for an on-the-spot report. Keep your eye on the test north of Hereford near the county line. Grapevine dope says it seems to have some prospects. There will probably be several more tests in this area in 1958 and, in all probability, one of them should come in with some production.

Meanwhile, dig out your overcoat and winter underwear. From now on through February, they will come in handy. The long, hard winter will be starting any day now. It will be tough, but that's what it takes to make a wheat crop — and I am stuck with one, due to previous predictions.

Marinettes Plan Installation Rites

A joint meeting of Marinette groups of St. Anthony's Catholic was held in the school cafeteria Tuesday afternoon.

Plans were made for installation of new members with Mrs. Maynard Buck explaining the requirements for bead awards. The installation service will be held on Feb. 11, at 2:30 p.m. in the school auditorium with mothers of the girls and special friends as guests. Mrs. Buck urged all girls to have their scrap books in to the leaders as soon as possible.

Refreshments were served to approximately 95 girls and leaders.

WHEAT AND SMALL GRAINS NEED NITROGEN!

For the nitrogen your crops need, apply Phillips 66 Ammonium Nitrate. The nitrogen and other plant foods removed by last year's crops must be replenished to maintain higher yields and profits per acre. Wheat and other small grains respond quickly to nitrogen to help stimulate early growth... produce and support bigger heads per plant and more plants per acre.

For fall-seeded small grains, apply nitrogen this spring before plants reach the jointing stage. For spring-seeded small grains, apply nitrogen before seeding or as a top dressing early in the season.

Heart Death Rate Is Lower in Deaf Smith

(Special to the Brand)
NEW YORK — A look at the heart disease situation in Deaf Smith County, in order at this time because National Heart Month is just ahead, shows that the disease outranks all others as a cause of death, but is lower than the state and national averages.
 Fully 40.5 per cent of all deaths among local residents are due to some form of heart disease, according to the latest Government Statistics. All the other afflictions of mankind combined — including cancer, war, pestilence and accidents — take second place.

BUT HIGH AS the local toll was, it was not as high as that recorded for the United States as a whole, 53.8 per cent. Nor was it as high as that in the State of Texas, 46.7 per cent.
 The heart and blood vessel diseases are today's greatest threat to our national health, notes the American Heart Assn. They take nearly 850,000 lives a year, despite all the progress that has been made by medical science. At the present time, some 10 million Americans, including 500,000 children, are sufferers.
 Many of these would not now be alive were it not for the gains made in prolonging the lives of victims of heart attack.

 In addition to these humanitarian considerations must be added another, the economic aspect.
 The dollar-and-cents cost of heart disease is staggering. At least 650,000 man-years are lost to industry each year because of it, according to the American Heart Association. The loss in earnings is set at more than $3 billion a year and the loss to the government, in income taxes, $400 million.

A BRIGHTER side of the picture is seen by Dr. Paul D. White, the consultant who was called in to treat President Eisenhower. He says the high heart rate is due to the reduction in deaths from other causes, especially childhood ailments.
 The life span, therefore, has become longer, bringing a larger proportion of people to the ages at which heart ailments are most prevalent.

Among Deaf Smith County residents, according to the Federal report on vital statistics for 1955, just issued, out of a total of 82 deaths from all causes, 33 were due to heart disease.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

12 Texas Groups On Lobbying List

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON — The first issue of the Congressional Record for the new session of Congress listed almost a thousand individuals and organizations registered as lobbyists. Included are a dozen Texas organizations and their representatives.

Under the Lobbyist Registration Act any person or organization attempting, directly or indirectly, to influence the passage or defeat of legislation, must file quarterly reports with the clerk of the House of Representatives. A glance at this latest list, which is for the third quarter of 1957, shows that church and educational groups and such organizations as the Women's Christian Temperance Union are no less engaged in lobbying activities than are manufacturing concerns or labor unions. Some of those listed spend full time here, some seldom come to Washington.

AROUND THE CAPITAL:
 Rep. J. T. Rutherford of Odessa, said in a letter to constituents: "While I am a taxpayer in every sense of the word and would personally like to see a reduction in taxes, I see little hope for any material reduction this year."

Frank A. Blackenbecker of Austin, long prominent in Texas Republican circles, had good seats for himself and wife in the House galleries when President Eisenhower delivered his State of the Union message.

He said a Democratic congressman gave him a pair of the very hard-to-get gallery cards for the occasion. He wouldn't name the man, but said it was not his fellow townsman, Rep. Homer Thornberry.
 The Blackenbeckers have been here visiting their daughter, Mrs. W. R. Simpson, wife of the owner of a big concrete mixing company.

BIG TURNOVER ON ICE

NEW YORK — Jimmy Skinner, coach of the Detroit Red Wings, is the coach with the longest tenure of the current National Hockey League mentors. He is in his third season.

Phil Watson of the Ranger, Toe Blake of the Canadiens and Milt Schmidt of the Boston Bruins all are in their second seasons as coaches. Howie Meeker of Toronto is in his first campaign while Tommy Ivan is having his first season as coach of the Chicago Black Hawks. Ivan previously had seven seasons with Detroit but did not coach in the league the last two seasons.

Roy Clark Photo Places in Contest

Roy Clark, former news editor of The Brand, has won first place honorable mention in the feature photo division of the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. contest for 1957.
 Clark's photo, entitled "Corduroy Farm," was an aerial picture of a tractor plowing in a field, leaving straight, clean furrows. It competed against entries from all newspapers in Texas in towns of 75,000 or less population.
 Clark resigned his position with The Brand Wednesday and now is in Corpus Christi.

Lone Star Club Hears Program On Confucius

Members of the Lone Star Study Club met with Mrs. H. E. Henslee Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Ed Warren serving as assistant hostess.

The program was the fourth in a series on "The World's Great Religions" dealing with "Religion in the Land of Confucius."

Mrs. Robert Thompson, program chairman, told of Confucius and his beliefs relating, in part, "Confucius lived in China over 2,500 years ago and made no claim to divine revelation. He was not much concerned with life after death and believed that while we do not know life itself, what can we know about death?"

"Confucius was much more concerned with man as he was and his duties in society and his own golden rule was: 'What you do not like being done to yourself — Do not do unto others,' she said.

She touched briefly on the growth of Confucianism and its development and compared its precepts and doctrines with other great religions.

Mrs. C. D. Kelton, president, presided over a brief business session and members answered roll call by repeating well known proverbs.

Members present were Mesdames R. G. Blue, W. S. Fluit, Leo Forrest, John N. Jacobsen Jr., C. D. Kelton, Joe Kendall, Louie LeGrand, Vivian Major, Coy Phillips, Chas. Sowell, Ed Warren, Jack Grady, C. O. Wilkins and the hostess.

Roy Clarks Are Feted at Party

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Babione were hosts Saturday evening Jan. 11 at an informal farewell party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark who have moved to Corpus Christi. Buffet snacks were served and party games were played.

Mutual friends of the Clarks and the Babiones made up the guest list and included Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCathern Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hardwick, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Messick, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Holmesly, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Gilentine, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Young, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Bayne, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lenderman, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rudd, Mr. and Mrs. T. Sacred Music Is Program Topic for Music Study Club

Sacred music was the theme of study at the Music Study Club meeting held Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. C. W. Parker. Mrs. T. W. Roberson, leader, gave a discussion of church music and stated that it is doubtful that there is any wide spread dissatisfaction with the music of the protestant church in America.

CONTINUING, she said, in part, "Occasionally there is an outbreak against existing forms and practices of church music, but from all the verbal and literary treadmill of denunciation only temporary benefits have ever issued. Martin Luther held a theory of protestant church music which was fundamental and lofty, and at the same time practical.

"Yet in spite of the immediate need of a musical order suited to his new theology, in spite of a vision which embraced every aspect of the musical needs of the Reformed Church, and regardless of Luther's broadminded and energetic administration which seemed to make any use of any skill to make his belief musically articulate, so powerful was the force of tradition that it was not until the 18th Century that his ideal reached fulfillment.

"In America people have shunned trying to reform church music. The clergyman either avoids the whole question or decides to ask his organist to play the type of music that will please the audience, and at the same time afford him the sense of conducting his services in the familiar, traditional manner.

"The layman has yielded to acceptance of music he knew and liked without asking whether in the solemn hour of devotion he ought to demand the best regardless of any other considerations, and the choir leader finds himself choosing the music calculated to insure congregational approbation," she said.

In conclusion Mrs. Roberson discussed the life and works of Beethoven, Baines and Franck, whose compositions were featured in musical selections for the day.

Selections included "Take My Hand" (Brown) sung by Mrs. H. K. Fox with accompaniment by Mrs. J. C. McCracken; "Pans Angelicus" (Franck) sung by Mrs. C. J. Mountz with accompaniment by Mrs. I. O. Crosthwait; A chorus number "Praise the Lord" (Baines) sung by Mesdames C. W. Parker, W. T. Carmichael, A. O. Thompson and T. W. Roberson with accompaniment by Mrs. A. J. Schroeter.

The hymn of the month "Hail to the Lord's Anointed" sung by the group concluded the program.

DURING THE business session presided over by Mrs. W. J. Stanford, president, Mesdames J. C. McCracken, J. R. Allison and C. J. Mountz were appointed to the nominating committee for new officers and Mrs. Bill Stanford, a former member, was welcomed as a member.

Mrs. W. T. Carmichael, president of the Community Concert Assn., announced that the next presentation will be a band concert under the direction of Charles Bell on Jan. 27.

Members attending were Mesdames W. T. Carmichael, Ellis Coombes, I. O. Crosthwait, Cliff Estes, Dick Godwin, J. C. McCracken, C. J. Mountz, T. W. Roberson, A. J. Schroeter, W. J. Stanford, A. O. Thompson, Jeff Gilbreath, S. O. Wilson, and the hostess.

BENEFIT CHECK—T. E. Seigler, manager of the Deaf Smith County Hospital, is shown receiving a check for $75 from La Madre Mia Study Club. Mrs. Glenn Hopson, project chairman, makes the presentation while Mrs. Ted Hardwick, president of the club, looks on. The check represents the proceeds from the club's annual Toy Parade and marks the conclusion of the 1957-58 project. Mrs. Hardwick points to the record player and records presented to the children's ward last year. Proceeds from the Toy Parade have been presented for hospital use for the past three years with this year's fund going to the improvement of the O. B. ward. (Staff Photo)

MRS. WILKINS, RECENT BRIDE, IS HONORED

Mr. Leroy Wilkins, the former Miss Marie Hunter, was named honoree at a gift party given in the home of Mrs. Melvin Sumner Tuesday afternoon. The wedding took place on Dec. 29.

Other hostesses with Mrs. Sumner were Mesdames Bert Brown, Paul Corbett, Virgil Walker, O. H. Culpepper, Louie Olson, Erica Durham, Roy Watson, and C. Ora Cockrell.

Approximately 50 guests were served from a table laid with a lace cloth over pink and centered with a winter bouquet of dried materials and pink candles.

Others in the house party were Mrs. Larry Boston, Stella Hunter and Mrs. Neil Henry who presided at the refreshment table, and Evelyn Hunter and Hallie Culpepper who served at the guest book of names.

VFW Auxiliary Holds Session

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 4818, met Monday night in the VFW Hall for initiation of new members.

Three members received the initiatory rites including Mrs. Argen Draper, Mrs. F. H. King and Mrs. Aubyn Hodges.

Members voted to take part in the "White sheet shower" being sponsored by the national organization for the Children's Home at Eaton Rapids, Mich., and a contribution was made to the Gonzales Warm Springs Polio Foundation. Hostess for the session was Mrs. Hicks Roberson.

Members attending the meeting were Mesdames L. H. Lookingbill Jr., Argen Draper, Aubyn Hodges, Wayne Lawrence, Perry McMinn, W. H. Miller, Leonard Davis, Harold Hawkins, Dub Maddox Jr. and Arnold Wall.

Bobby Jean Payne Is Wed To Navyman Albert Edwards

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Payne, 106 Bradley, have announced the recent marriage of their daughter, Bobby Jean, to Navyman Albert Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Edwards, Rt. 1, Hereford.

The wedding took place in the Wesley Methodist Church on Jan. 10, with only members of the immediate families and close friends attending. Rev. B. F. Seay, pastor, conducted the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a pastel dacon princess style dress topped by a matching shrug jacket.

Mrs. Plank Speaks At L'Allegria Club

Mrs. Earl Plank was guest speaker at the L'Allegria Study Club meeting Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Walter London serving as hostess for the session.

Speaking on "Racial Barriers in the Public Schools," Mrs. Plank stressed the fact that the home is necessarily the foundation of education, and advocated fitting the need of the child to the school rather than the school to the needs of the child.

"Each child is an individual and parents should begin early to teach him independence and responsibility. It is a rich privilege to practice Christianity where no race barriers can exist," she said.

During the business session presided over by Mrs. Charlie Hill, president, plans were discussed for the club's Valentine Party on Feb. 6, when husbands will be honor guests.

Cynthia Hale Has Birthday Party

Cynthia Ann Hale was honored on her fifth birthday Monday afternoon at a party given by her mother, Mrs. Gerald Hale, at their home, 326 Star.

"Dressing up" in mother's clothes provided fun for the little folks and treasure games were played. Favors were books of paper dolls.

The seven little guests included Shawn Wigman, Shari White, Nancy Young, Jan and Judy Tremble, Ginger Goodin and Debby Boardman.

Special guests were Cynthia Ann's grandmother, Mrs. R. H. Walvoord and her grandson, Keith Walvoord of Amarillo.

Day Center Group Meets To Plan New Activities

The Day Center committee of the local Council of Church Women met in the Fullwood building for planning of coming activities Tuesday afternoon.

New committee chairmen were elected for the Hereford Latin-American Day Center were named to include A. Petersen, chairman; Bill Bradley, vice chairman; Mrs. Alton Fraser, publicity; Mrs. Paul Hoff and Mrs. W. N. Reiger, rummage sales and food chairmen, and Mrs. Ray Conaway, treasurer.

The Day Center is a project sponsored by the United Council of Church Women with the financial and personal aid of both civic and social groups of the county.

Plans for obtaining trained workers for the 1958 summer program was of primary importance on the agenda for discussion, and the need for more Hereford women to actively help carry on the summer program was outlined.

GARDEN

Gossip

From the Hereford Garden Club

What To Do in the Garden Now

Now is the time to start planning your garden, according to Mrs. O. H. Herring, horticulture chairman of the Hereford Garden Club. Dormant spraying may be undertaken on a calm day with temperature above freezing. Spray trees, vines and shrubs with a miscible oil or lime-sulphur application to destroy eggs of many insects and give plants a better chance to grow.

This is an excellent time to make repairs in low spots in lawns. Raise the level gradually by a top dressing of light loam or sand which may need to be spread several times. Bermuda will stand a heavy application of soil if the need is indicated.

When snow piles heavily on evergreens, remove it while still fresh before it gets an opportunity to harden. An old broom is an excellent tool for this use as it can be used to brush or sweep off the snow. Sometimes the snow will cause the evergreens to lose their form or even break after a heavy snow.

Remember the birds in January and February and keep feeders well stocked with seed, suet, peanut butter and other favorite foods.

Birds are fond of doughnuts and pieces can be suspended to trees or evergreens near a window where children may watch the birds feed.

February is also a good time to force flowering branches of pussy willow, forsythia, flowering quince, peaches and plums. Cut branches with a sharp tool on a mild day, crush bottom end of stems with a hammer to aid water intake. Soak branches in large tub for 24 hours and then place in deep water in a container until buds break. Place in a sunny window for flowering.

Take a good survey of your grounds in February. Decide where you will plant trees for shade or decoration. Study your present design with an eye to improvement, and when new flower catalogs arrive study them diligently and make choices of plants, flowers and vegetables.

Mrs. Herring also gives a warning word concerning lawns. "See that lawn, shrubbery and trees get plenty of moisture, for even tho they are not growing above the ground they need moisture to keep their roots healthy and vigorous."

Club Studies Flower Arranging

Basic principles of design and color, pest control and the culture of the Amaryllis were topics of discussions when the Hereford Garden Club convened Friday Jan. 10 in the home of Mrs. Claude McDougal with Mesdames Jennie Clark and S. Williams serving as hostesses.

Mrs. O. H. Herring, student judge, gave a lecture-demonstration of the basic principles of design and color in flower arrangements using dried materials, evergreens and winter flowers from her window box.

The Amaryllis

Mrs. E. Ramey gave a paper on the "Culture of the Amaryllis" and American Hybrid and Dwarf Amaryllis bulbs were distributed among club members for planting.

Mrs. Ramey told of the preparation necessary to the culture of the amaryllis bulbs which should be planted at once as the flower buds are already formed by now. Amaryllis bulbs should be lifted in November and potted in a container three inches larger than the bulb. Cover the hole in the bottom of the pot with a shell of bit of broken glass and fill with crushed rock or gravel and charcoal to a depth of one inch. Plant in heavy soil with at least 2/3 of the bulb above the surface. Tamp firmly to provide good anchorage for the heavy root system and water gently and thoroughly. Keep cool and moist for 6 to 10 weeks in a dark location. When the bud appears bring gradually to light and feed well using 1/2 inch of dry fertilizer to a six inch pot every two weeks. Feeding should continue after blooming to insure healthy foliage and plant now should be kept in abundant light," she said.

Mrs. Ramey reminded the group that amaryllis should not be repotted annually for they bloom best when potbound. Her proportions for soil include one bushel potting soil, two parts rich heavy loam, one part rich heavy manure, peat or other organic matter and a two inch pot of super phosphate.

In conclusion she listed things to remember in growing amaryllis: After flowering the bulbs shrink and need to be fattened up by generous feeding and watering, the more foliage that is produced the more flowers the next season. Cut back on watering in the fall. Making blooms is not difficult if you follow directions both in planting, care and cultivation."

Pest Control

Mrs. M. T. Rutter told about "Pest Control for the African Violet" discussing leaf injury known as ring spot which is caused by the presence of cold water on the leaves while they are exposed to sunlight. Faulty root conditions which may lead to leaf withering without stem rotting. In this case the plant may have been moved to unsuitable soil or in too large a pot.

Sometimes African violets have acetone rot, which means that the leaf stems are water soaked and look glassy. These stems will have the lesion where contact is made with the pot rim and should be mounded with sphagnum moss to keep the stems clear of the pot.

Mrs. Rutter suggests that if a plant has been heavily attacked by manatodes or eel worms, mottled and distorted roots may result. The only safe way to deal with the manatodes is to have the plant analyzed by a representative of the state department of agriculture, and if found repot immediately scalding the pot before using.

When mildew occurs dust with a small amount of sulphur on a soft piece of lamswool. Mites, the worst pests of all, may be treated with matalbion, being careful to follow directions on the box. This is also good for mealybugs and aphids.

"Unless grown on a commercial basis, African violets stay fairly free of pests but plants should be watched carefully for the slightest sign of trouble," she said.

Next Meeting

The Garden Club's next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. O. G. Hill on Feb. 14. The program will deal with scoring of specimen plants and Bud To Blossom Club members will be special guests.

JANE E. DANIELS

Engagement Is Announced Here

The engagement of Jane E. Daniels to Bobby N. Melugin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Melugin, 601 Irving, Hereford, is announced by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. LaVerne S. Daniels, Great Falls, Mont.

A graduate of Great Falls High School, Miss Daniels attends Northern Montana College, Havre, and is majoring in elementary education. Melugin, a former dental student of the University of Maryland, is presently serving with the Air Force in Greenland. No wedding date has been announced.

School Chief Addresses Club

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cunningham were special guests at the El Nino Study Club meeting held with Mrs. W. J. Reeves Monday evening.

Supt. of Schools Cunningham spoke to the group on "The Hereford School System" and explained the recent bond issue. He pointed out the need for expansion in the schools and told how funds would be distributed had the issue carried.

He cited the change in the educational outlook during the past decade, saying, "An education does not limit a man to his present economic level - nor does it limit his children. Standards, both individual and community wide, may be improved on any level."

During a short business session projects of the club were discussed and plans for raising funds were explained by the ways and means committee.

Members present were Mesdames Darrell Blanton, Ivan Block, Ben Childers, T. J. Clay, R. A. Daniel Jr., Bill Decker, Virginia Hartman, O. G. Hill Jr., John Jacobsen Jr., Sam Nunnally, Wayne Thomas, Bill Waldrep, Mark Woodall, Melvin Young, Dorval Young and the hostess.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By CHARLIE SEEDS
"HITLER CAPTURED!" Who could ever forget a headline like that? You'll say it never happened... but it did, and the world at the time took little notice.

It was a year of internal struggles in Germany. The mark was worth little as inflation swept the country. The flame of rebellion began to burn brightly. It began in Bavaria with an uprising led by General Ludendorff and a little-known corporal named Adolf Hitler. In Munich the Beer Putschists marched, and the revolt threatened to spread. Many died in the fighting, and Hitler himself was wounded. He fled to safety, and the hunt for this rebel leader went on till that year. Then, on November 12th, the search ended. Hitler was captured and imprisoned. For a brief time, his rise to power was stopped.

Remember the year? Well, in those days when a man bought a new car he made sure he bought from a dependable dealer, one who was going to be around to stand back of his sales and to give good service, too.

The year was 1923. Buying from a dependable dealer makes good sense today, too. And you can DEPEND on our deal on a new 1958 FORD. Stop in and see us. We'll be glad to give you the facts on price, terms and trade — without any verbal trimmings! CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO. 146 E. 2nd. Phone EM 4-2727.

El Paso Man Will Speak at Credit Union Meeting

Business will be combined with pleasure for members of the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union in their 21st annual meeting Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium. Guest speaker will be R. C. Morgan of El Paso, president of the Texas Credit Union League. Election of officers and voting of returns, with a four per cent dividend on savings and an eight per cent refund on interest paid on loans last year, are items topping the business agenda. The interest refund is expected to be approved at a figure two per cent higher than ever before, according to Mrs. Dyalitha B. Benson, treasurer-manager. Directors, credit committeemen and supervisory committeemen are officials to be elected in the session. President Robert L. Thompson will preside at the meeting, which is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. and end promptly at 9.

EDITORIALS

Where Do We Go from Here?

The People Have Spoken But Problems Still Remain

"Where do we go from here?" This question, we feel, is one which confronts each citizen within the bounds of the Hereford Rural High School District.

The Brand, although it editorially endorsed the recent school bond issue, was not surprised when the $639,999 measure failed to pass. Nor do we complain concerning the results. Instead, we feel that passing, or turning down, any bond issue is definitely a matter of discretion on the part of the tax payers who, ultimately, must pick up the check for the expenditures. It is only fair and equitable that these people should express their wishes at the polls.

School trustees might well study the election, which seemingly indicates that the proposed program was geared well beyond the wishes and desires of the people of the district. School trustees find themselves in the position of recommending what the district needs; they are also often in the position of a salesman who recommends two-ton truck for a specific job—only to have the customer purchase a half-ton pickup. If the customer has made a serious mistake, it is definitely no fault of the salesman.

Most people, including a large percentage of those who voted against the bond issue, do recognize a need for school expansion. Most of them, we feel, would endorse an expansion program of a type geared to their thinking. The alternate, apparently, lies in the direction of future emergency construction. We have seen this in operation before when students overflowed into churches, creating a difficult situation. Unless faced with such a situation some people, it seems, just do not take the trouble to turn out and vote.

Whether this alternative is good or bad would be difficult to say; there are arguments on both sides of the question.

Meanwhile, we are faced with rapidly overcrowding conditions. Substantiating this claim, we have enrollment figures, census enumerations and a few none too pleasant past experiences. In addition to reports from our trustees, these claims are supported by findings of a citizens committee and through a professional survey. All indications point to badly congested conditions within the next two years.

While we firmly believe that citizens should vote against any bond issue he deems unwise, we also believe that the same citizen is faced with equal responsibility of working out a practical program to suit his wishes—and to take care of his schools in an efficient and adequate fashion. Individually, or collectively, the school trustees will welcome constructive criticism and general thinking of the voters. They will weigh the thinking of their constituents and, in all probability, will call another election.

With these things in mind, we repeat our question: "Where do we go from here?"

The answer is up to the patrons and tax payers of our school district. If their ballots represent a general protest against the cost of living, we will probably adopt the present plan on an emergency basis within two or three years. If, on the other hand, they are sincerely and honestly interested in their children and their schools, we believe they will at least attempt to provide a practical, workable answer.

Congratulations To Mrs. Draper

One of the more pleasant aspects of the newspaper business is that of expressing appreciation for a job well done and, as the "Citizen of the Year" award is presented, the privilege annually becomes an expanded one.

All of these awards have been made after careful study and consideration on the part of committees and, to our way of thinking, have been exceedingly fitting. This year, however, it seems that committee members truly outdid themselves when they selected Mrs. Tom Draper, home demonstration agent for the past 12 years.

Possibly no man or woman in the county is closer to as many people of this area than is Mrs. Draper. The condition exists chiefly because Mrs. Draper is not satisfied with doing a good job, but consistently goes beyond the call of duty to help the people she serves—because they are her friends. Directly and indirectly, her job—and her life—are based on community betterment and community service.

Never before has the Lions Club award been more fittingly placed. In addition, it appears to us that the Extension Service of Texas might well use Mrs. Draper as an example of efficient, grassroots application of home demonstration work at its best.

As for Mrs. Draper, we know that she will treasure the award with true pride for the remaining years of her life. Her greatest award, though, will continue right on being what it has been in the past: The privilege of serving her friends and neighbors; the sheer joy of doing well a job in which she can take honest pride as she watches 4-H girls grow into finer wives and more capable mothers. Certainly, no one who felt otherwise could possibly accomplish the achievements realized by Mrs. Draper during her dozen years of service to the people of Deaf Smith County.

It's Poll Tax Time

After today, only 12 days remain before the end of the period for paying poll taxes. Without a valid poll tax receipt, you can have no voice in our government for at least two years, because most of our officials will be elected to two year terms. Local officials will go into office for four years.

Don't let Jan. 31 slip up on you. Go by the tax office now and pay your poll tax. Get your receipt, or exemption if you qualify, and stand ready to register your desires when election time comes.

And on election day, don't forget to exercise your privilege. It is your right and duty, but you are out in the cold if you don't act this month.—Canyon News.

HELGA THOME

JEAN CHAPMAN

History of Exchange Students Here Given

When Earline Plank read an article in the January 1954 Readers Digest, "European Teen-Agers Take a Look at America," she caught a vision of what might be done to spread the exchange program started by the American Field Service in 1947, even in a small town like Hereford. She was serving as president of the High School Future Homemakers of America and she wondered if such a program might be sponsored by the local FHA group.

She knew it would not be easy at first, but she was not prepared for the amount of background work and red tape that was necessary. By that time, however she was so enthused with the idea that she was determined to bring an exchange student to Hereford if she had to do it without help. When her school superintendent, George Graham, and her teacher and FHA sponsor, Mrs. Frank Prowell, discussed a program for Hereford with her they were as enthusiastic as she. Then came the problem of getting the whole chapter interested enough to really work for it.

FIRST, SOME money had to be raised and in the spring of 1954 the whole chapter went to work. They sponsored chili suppers, took orders and sold homemade pies, sold cakes and even went into the chicken and egg business. And at the close of school they had $285. In the fall of 1954 they helped with a pancake supper, a Lion's Club project, receiving a percentage, sold cakes and really went to town selling Christmas holly, netting $250. The amount needed was $650 for the exchange student's travel expenses, so the girls coaxed the Future Farmers of America Chapter into donating $75 and the La Plata Study Club contributed $50.

The homes where the students stay are carefully selected and screened by the local sponsors and by the American Field Service. Finally everything was ready and the first exchange student arrived on Sept. 9, 1954. She was Miss Jean Chapman of Sudbury, England. Her American family, the Edgar Telchik's and their daughter, Mozelle, as well as a group of high school boys and girls, met her at the bus and were amazed that her English brogue was so pronounced that they could not understand her. She arrived at school on the morning of Sept. 10 during a football rally and became quite baffled and confused at all the noise and yelling. And when Supt. Graham read a letter of introduction from England the students wondered why she was coming to school in Hereford with all the school work she had had including the study of several languages.

ONE OF THE first social affairs for Jean was a breakfast when they presented her with a can-can petticoat which she had never seen, let alone owned one. Another new experience for Jean was the FHA Camping Trip to Roaring Springs, which resulted in a severe sunburn. In the early spring and summer she spoke to many organizations, answering questions about her country, and the American Field Service. Superintendent Graham also took her to Dumas and Canyon where she spoke to F. H. A. chapters and civics groups. She attended all the different churches with the various FHA members and many of the girls invited her to their homes for weekends. She was presented with many gifts, especially clothes like the Hereford girls were wearing during her 10-month stay in Hereford.

At the close of school in 1955, the A. F. S. inquired as to sponsoring another student the following year, but the girls and their sponsors felt that it would be impossible to raise that much money again in such a short time. The A. F. S. replied that since the program here had been so satisfactory they would see to it that Hereford had an exchange student in 1955-56. If Hereford would help, it was then that the local chapters really went to work. The girls did a little bit of everything to make money.

The American family selected for this student was the G. W. Newsoms. Jane Newsom persuaded her parents to accept so that she could have a "part-time" sister. With much study and investigation on the Newsom's part and a thorough screening by the American Field Service the decision was made and Miss Helga Thome of Forthous, Duneberg, Germany, arrived in the U. S. about the middle of August, arriving in Hereford on Sept. 2.

At high school the next day Helga was called upon to address the group which she did with grace and ease. From then on she spoke everywhere; for church groups, study clubs, civic organizations, informal gatherings at all hours, telling of her native land and its customs and comparing the educational systems as well as the opportunities afforded. Soon everybody wanted to help her and other exchange students. Lovely gifts and even money was presented as the whole town began to share with the FHA exchange student. The Newsom family made every opportunity for Helga to participate in and to really experience the true American way of living.

BY THIS TIME there were two FHA chapters in Hereford High School. The enrollment of the homemaking department grew so rapidly that Mrs. J. J. Durham became the second teacher and sponsor of one of the chapters. In January 1956, Mrs. Prowell resigned and Mrs. Joel Hodges became her successor. Both chapters worked together to help plan social affairs for Helga. About 50 girls attended a surprise birthday party in the Newsom home honoring her and at the Christmas party all their gifts went to Helga in a surprise shower of clothes. On the eve of her departure in June a farewell party was given when a gain gifts were presented.

One of the last talks she made was at a Sunday School class meeting of the First Methodist Church when she told the group, "I hope to go back home and let my people know what Americans are doing to promote world peace. Your way of life has done much for me and I want to work for better understanding between the two countries." The class donated $100 for the next year's exchange student.

Jane and Helga became very good friends during her stay and Jane spent a three months vacation in Germany with Helga last summer as a graduation gift from her parents.

By this time the whole community was well aware of the exchange program sponsored by the FHA Chapter, and contributions began coming in from men's and women's civic and service clubs, church organizations, study clubs, business men and from other individuals. Everybody wanted to help.

Miss Elisabeth Brummer of Alta, Helsingland, Sweden, Hereford's third exchange student arrived in the U. S. in June and met her American family in North Dakota where he was doing custom combining. The family was Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Sumner and their daughter Phyllis, who took Elisabeth on to Canada with them. When they arrived in Hereford just in time for school Phyllis and Elisabeth were wearing just-alike dresses which Mrs. Sumner had made.

A SIMILAR PROGRAM of entertainment for Elisabeth began with a Tri-Hi-Y party followed by a Christmas party and other forms of social affairs and almost overnight she seemed like another member of the group. She was selected as one of two exchange students in Texas to attend the State student council meeting in Galveston that spring and was asked to speak to the group. She was also invited to have a part on the FHA annual state meeting held in Dallas, speaking before 2,000 girls.

Earline Plank, who has maintained her interest in the local chapter and is now president of the Home Economics Club at West Texas State College, was hostess to Elisabeth for a weekend at W. T. at homecoming time. Earline, a senior student in home economics at W. T. is studying Home Demonstration work and this summer she is an assistant agent in training in Dumas.

Right now the group is host to Hereford's fourth exchange student who arrived Aug. 13, 1957. She is Miss Silvana Feliza of Turin, Italy. She will make her home with the George Paetzold family who have two daughters to serve as her American sisters. They are Betty, a junior in high school, and Dolly, a senior.

Each year the project has been broadened. During the summer of 1955, Ted Moore, a local high school student spent three months as an exchange student in France. The local civic clubs raised the necessary $435 for participation in this program. Plans are now being made for Hereford to have an exchange student sent to some other country next June.

ONE OF THE LATEST developments in the project is the organization of the AFS Local Advisory Committee whose members will share in the responsibilities with the sponsors as chairmen; finance, Mrs. Durham; home placement, Mrs. G. W. Newsom; school liaison, Bert Boomer; summer program, Don Moore; publicity, Mrs. Elmer Patterson; and projects, high school principal, Bill Stanford.

The benefits from the exchange program has been community wide. The F. H. A. girls feel that they have carried on the spirit of F. H. A. work and their reward is broadened horizons, better understanding and a keener desire in making democracy live. The faculty's views have been enlarged and they have found themselves studying the problems of the youth in other lands and the students have become concerned with other youth problems to the extent of lending a helping hand when possible.

During the last two years the enrollment in the homemaking department has increased steadily. This year it has 165 freshmen members, bringing the total enrollment to more than 200. A new teacher has been added to the department. She is Mrs. Rosemary Shook of Denver City, a graduate of West Texas State College who did practice teaching in the local high school last year. The faculty feels that the activities with the exchange student program have spurred the interest of other girls.

Members of the organizations and the individuals who have helped with the program have benefited through enlarged knowledge in the concept and understanding of life in other countries, and have come to want to do more, even in a small way, to further the interests of world peace. The exchange students have proven themselves good-will ambassadors here and the people are proud to have a part in providing a way for them to tell the rest of the world that living democratically does for people.

FIRE DAMAGE ESTIMATED $15,000

Three roaring fires have done more than $15,000 worth of damage in the Olton Community since Sunday. One blaze left a family of five homeless and without funds or clothing. Only one of the three fires was inside the city limits. The first was Sunday afternoon at the Guy Daugherty farm, the second was at Olton Hardware Tuesday night and the third was at the Wilbur Galloway place. The fire at the Daugherty place left the Lupe Rodriguez family of five homeless. Friends said the family escaped only with the clothing they wore.—THE OLTON ENTERPRISE

EMERGENCY, DISASTER AID RECEIVES BOOST

Moore County's disaster and Civil Defense planning received a boost this week, as the Dumas Amateur Radio Club volunteered its equipment and service to county and city officials for use in periods of emergency. Walter B. Verner, president of the club, sent letters offering amateur radio service in times of need. County Judge Ezelle Fox and Dumas Mayor H. S. McMurry both indicated that they would inform their law enforcement groups and would certainly utilize amateur radio operators and equipment in the event of disasters or other emergencies.—MOORE COUNTY NEWS

FARMERS MAY SET UP ASSOCIATION

A representative of the San Pat Vegetable Co. of Pharr in the Rio Grande Valley indicated here Saturday that the firm will set up contracts with Lamb County growers for 750 to 1,000 acres of vegetables. The representative, Burton Benson, met with about 20 farmers after he spoke at a county-wide meeting here Saturday in the district courtroom. About 125 farmers attended the county-wide session. Benson said he thinks he has enough interest in his project to set up operations here by the latter part of February. Sixteen farmers expressed their intentions to sign contracts with the Valley firm, Benson told county agricultural officials.—COUNTY WIDE NEWS

CANYON HAS NEW CHIEF OF POLICE

A sergeant on the Plainview Police Force has been appointed chief of police in Canyon by the city commission. William E. Pickering, 27, will report for duty on Jan. 23. The new chief has been a member of the Plainview force since July 1, 1956. Born May 1, 1930, in Big Spring, Pickering attended public schools in Altus, Okla., and was graduated from the Altus High School in 1949. He served in the Army from March 13, to March 12, 1953. Pickering is married and has two children.—THE CANYON NEWS

The BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm has found out about Congress being back in session, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
Now that Congress is back in session, news has been picking up, and one of the things that has interested me is the fact that for the first time in years everybody seems sort of glad that Congress has re-assembled. Up to now, when Congress met, it was sort of like a visit from your in-laws, most people stroked their chins and took a thoughtful, concerned look, wondering what it was going to cost. But with the scientific situation what it is, with the Russians pushing ahead, most people are delighted to see Congress in session and are hoping they'll get our defenses in shape.

However, there is one aspect that has me worried. According to an article I read in a newspaper last night, Congress has been declaring that what the trouble with Washington is, it has no "sense of urgency." We've got to have a "sense of urgency" about these guided missiles and man-made moons if we're going to realize our danger and catch up.

Well, now, I agree with this, and I hope they don't spare the horses, but realize the urgency of the situation and appropriate the money to catch up, however I would like to point out that this sense of urgency applies to military and scientific fields, not to my bindweed farm out here at Bootleg.

I have tried this sense of urgency in farming and it won't work. The last time I tried it, when I had a field I figured needing plowing right then, I got in a hurry, you might call it a crash program, to change a flat on my tractor and skinned all my knuckles on my left hand.

I've got a neighbor who simply can't rest until the last row is plowed, the last fence repaired, all the barn doors hung, every gate in working order, every loose board nailed down, etc., but he's on a special diet now and his doctor says if he doesn't slow down a new type of urgency will be facing him.

What this county needs is a sense of urgency, all right, but it ought to be concentrated on the military and scientific fields, as it's impractical out here on this farm, which is the most un-urgent spot on earth, and likely will stay that way.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Dream Trip Comes True for Brownnds

If a good fairy had tapped Mrs. Gid Brownnd on the shoulder for wishes to come true, her first wish would have been for a tropical cruise which has topped her dream list for as long as she can remember.

Now, with her husband winning the coveted 11-day Caribbean cruise for himself and Mrs. Brownnd, in a year-long sales contest sponsored by the Unitary Equipment Division of Carrier Corp., that dream is about to come true.

They had been working hard to win the trip and it was not unexpected, but it was the thrill of her life when news of the award came. At first she was too excited to plan but then she realized there was a lot to be done to get ready. She had never been on a cruise before, so she began to read and ask advice on what clothes to take.

Crowding both winter and summer clothes in a 40-pound bag limit is not easy but she finally chose some basic clothes such as a light weight woolen dress or suit for cool weather and sleeveless things with covering jackets for warmer climates, a light-weight sweater, small hat and scarf for windy days on the boat and a bathing suit.

Leaving the children was no problem. Her mother, who lives in Ropesville, came Thursday and took the children home with her. Arrangements have been made for the older boy Richard who is 10, to attend school there. The four-year-old boy, Carl, is looking forward to being with his grandmother.

"I just don't know which one of us will enjoy the trip most," she said. "Gid was overseas during the war and he is going to enjoy seeing me take my first plane trip as well as my first real boat trip. There are so many things we want to see together, things we've talked about seeing for years."

The Brownnds' fun will include not only the scheduled trip but several other interesting side-trips. They left Amarillo by plane for New York City Friday planning to visit the UN, Empire State Building and other high spots during the three days before sailing time. And she wants to take a ride through Central Park in a hansom cab.

The ship will leave New York Monday, with ports of call at Nassau, British West Indies; Kingston, Jamaica, and Havana, Cuba. They will return on Jan. 31. The Brownnds will stop off at Newport News, Va. where they will visit his sister, and they will visit a

Church, P-TA Meetings Held

By MRS. R. L. PINNELL

The Adrian WSCS of the Methodist Church held its study of Japan Tuesday afternoon at the parsonage. Leaders were Mesdames Edd Jacobson, Leland Burns and Johnnie Williams. Participating were Mesdames Robert Jacobson, N. L. Jacobson, Bessie Shipp, Anna Witt, John Skaggs and Vic Lemke.

Adrian P-TA met in the high school auditorium Monday night. Invocation was by E. B. Pounds. After the business session a short program was presented by Pegi Leslie who read How Come De Fast White Man. Special music was given by Vickie Sorrenson and Mrs. Hazel Chilton presented a story entitled Old Bill. Lorin Creitz led the closing prayer and the group retired to the lunch room where hostesses were Mesdames Lou Galt, Grady Pridmore, Johnnie Williams and Leland Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Williams returned to their Amarillo home with the Loyd Williams of Amarillo. The group attended the Mrs. Williams' mother in law's 80th birthday. Mrs. Williams is the High School English teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Johnson and family returned from their two week vacation Monday evening and they reported a wonderful trip in South Texas.

Mrs. Ferris Kromer is ill and unable to teach her first and second grades. Mrs. Glen Watley, school nurse, taught in her place Tuesday.

Sunday afternoon visitors of the R. L. Pinnell family were Mr. and Mrs. Leland Burns and children. Vickie remained for an overnight visit with Linda.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Mostelle, who are visiting relatives in Adrian, from California left Tuesday with their daughter, Mrs. R. E. Fite and her daughter, Mrs. Abb McCullar of Borger. They plan to visit several days in Borger.

Adrian's first conference basketball game turned out much to the community's liking. The girls were hampered by illnesses and injuries until there was not one substitute player on the bench. Due to fouls the game was forfeited in the third quarter to the Vega girls. But the boys won, 73-39. High point scorer was Oscar Bronniman with 20 points followed closely by Phillip Pinnell with 16. The team met the Happy Cowboys at Happy Friday night.

Mrs. Glenn Hetzler. Games were played in the early part of the evening and the group finished the evening by playing 42. Those present at the party were Messers and Mesdames C. L. Bogle, Jack Fortenberry, Hershel Burrus, Jack Weaver, Jim Stocks, M. W. Blankenship, J. V. Perrin, Glenn Hetzler and guests from Hereford.

Army Regains An Air Force

FT. SAM HOUSTON (AP) — The Army, which lost its Air Corps in a separation of services following World War II, once more has a sizeable air force of its own.

Requirements for greater mobility on the modern day atomic battlefield brought back its wings.

The number of Army aircraft in the five states of the Fourth Army Area has more than doubled since 1954. To man them the Army has 578 active duty aviators and 123 reserves.

They fly more than 700 helicopters and fixed wing aircraft. About half of the planes are assigned to tactical units and the remainder in training operations and administrative support.

Tactical use would require their use in reconnaissance, movement of troops, logistical support, liaison and evacuation.

Three new tactical units are being watched with interest. One is a battalion sized aviation unit at Ft. Hood and another is an airborne artillery unit at Ft. Sill. The third is attached to the 2nd Armored Division, reorganized under the new pentomic concept.

Aircraft in use include the L19 observation plane, the L20 utility plane, the U1 used for personnel and light cargo carrying, the L23 for com and liaison work, and the H19, H13, H23, H34, H21 and H37 helicopters.

Texas Lawmen Begin School

DALLAS (AP) — Select Texas peace officers, long handicapped by a lack of sufficient advanced professional training facilities within the state, have their sights set on obtaining the finest instruction available.

Establishment of the Institute of Law Enforcement on the campus of Southern Methodist University brings home special training formerly available only at such distant points as Washington, D. C., Illinois or Kentucky.

The institute organized last September offers periodic two-week seminars on law enforcement training and plans an annual 10-week summer course.

First of such seminars on police administration is scheduled for Feb. 3-14.

Restrictive salaries and tight local budgets in the past have prevented peace officers from attending the out-of-state schools. A movement launched by the Texas Police Assn. in 1949 finally brought such training to Texas.

Guiding the establishment was E. L. Ward, E. C. Hewitt, Charles Packard, C. F. Neusom, Marvin Axe and hostess, Mrs. Wilburn Axe.

the Criminal Justice Division of the Southwestern Legal Foundation.

Any member of the law enforcement profession, including prosecutors and judges, is eligible to attend the institute. Applicants must be recommended by their supervisors.

A recent grant by the Diamond M. Foundation provided a number of scholarships for the February administrative seminar. Dallas citizens have donated funds for other partial scholarships. Some city administrations have expressed willingness to grant time off with pay for certain officers to attend.

Lecturers for the seminar will include John M. Claunch, professor of government at SMU; A. Q. Sartain and Robert E. Stoltz, professors of psychology at SMU; Charles W. Webster and Moss Wimbish, professors of law at SMU; Jess Cariker, Odessa police chief; Warren Dodson, Abilene police chief; Carl Hansson, Dallas police chief; and Glen McLaughlin, chief of personnel, Texas Department of Public Safety.

Charles Darwin got the idea for his theory of evolution, while studying wildlife on the Galapagos Islands, 600 miles off the coast of Ecuador, South America.

Rites Friday for Mrs. Childress

Final rites for Mrs. Edna Marie Childress, 52, were held Friday afternoon in the Kreig-Marcum Funeral Home chapel with the Rev. Russell Wingert, First Presbyterian Church pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Childress died at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday in Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Mrs. Childress was born March 15, 1905, in Wayne County, Ill. She came to Hereford in 1942 from Illinois. She was married to Herman Childress Dec. 4, 1947, at Clovis, N. M. She and her husband lived 1½ miles north of Hereford.

Survivors include her husband; two sons, Clarence Parlier of Houston and Darrell E. Parlier of Cheyenne, Wyo.; a daughter, Clara Mae Carron of Muskogee, Okla.; a step-daughter, Mrs. Ruth Heckleys of Busbee, Ariz., and four grandchildren.

Property Laws Topic for Wyche

Property law was the topic of the program given to the Wyche Home Demonstration at its meeting in the home of Mrs. Wilburn Axe Thursday. Ideas covered were when to consult a lawyer given by Mrs. G. F. Neusom; buying a home, given by Mrs. Charles Packard and property is a family affair, given by Mrs. Marvin Axe.

During the regular business meeting Mrs. Ira Ott was elected as delegate to district convention. Mrs. Wilburn Axe read the council report to the members.

Present were Mesdames R. W.

Texas High Schools Boosts Standards

CORPUS CHRISTI — Officials of Flour Bluff school district on the salt flats south of here claim their high school graduating class next year will walk off with the highest diploma standards in Texas.

University of Texas educational consultants refer to it as an old field school. Its half a dozen buildings sit in the middle of several producing fields out of the flight path of the Naval Air Station.

Flour Bluff volunteered as a pilot school for an experiment requiring 20 units for high school graduation. The state requirement is 16 units.

The school, now in its third year of offering five courses each semester for its 250 students, formerly had a minimum of 17 units in addition to physical education for graduation.

HIGH SCHOOL principal Carl Vincent said students reacted to the 20-unit plan "very gracefully. They are mature enough to realize they are wasting their time in study hall, which was eliminated to make time for the increased course load."

Supt. E. J. Wranosky estimates that not more than 25 per cent of the students were benefiting from a study hall.

Flour Bluff high school now offers 46 courses. Among them is an advanced reading course for gifted students and four years of science.

From the seventh grade on students are on their own. Teachers set up standards for each grading level to be aimed at, outline the work program for "A" on down and leave the rest to the students.

"I THINK there is danger in separating gifted students," Wranosky said. "Children learn more from each other than from their teacher."

The school also offers a special ninth grade curriculum for students who feel they cannot handle the regular academic load. They are taught basic subjects and given more vocational training than the others.

THE SOUTHERN FOOD DOLLAR

Although she may cook meals with a strong "southern accent," when the typical southern homemaker goes shopping she divides her food dollar much as do homemakers in other regions, U. S. Department of Agriculture home economists report.

The 1955 Food Consumption Survey found that the average southern grocery shopper divided her food dollar like this: 35 cents for meat, poultry, fish and eggs; 15 cents for milk and milk products (excluding butter); 19 cents for potatoes and other vegetables and fruits; 12 cents for grain products; and 19 cents for fats, sweets, beverages, and all other foods. This distribution of food money is very similar to that in other areas.

THE SOUTHERN homemaker did, however, make some different choices within these groups. She spent more of her meat money for pork, and she was more likely to choose the fat cuts than were homemakers elsewhere. Probably because she does more home baking, she spent a much larger proportion of her grain-products money for flour and meal than for purchased baked goods and bought much more shortening and sugar.

The campus includes a number of permanent buildings and several surplus Navy buildings. Students got on-the-job training in handling school building repairs.

"When a student builds or repairs a building, he has a lot more respect for it," Wranosky said.

From 60 to 70 per cent of the students represent transient families — Navy personnel constantly moving in and out of the area, fisherman, and oil field workers.

Within three days after a child enrolls at Flour Bluff, the teachers and principals have a fairly clear idea of what they can do with the new pupil.

"We have to do it that way," E. J. Wranosky, superintendent, says. "If we don't know about them fast, they will be gone before we have had time to work with them."

The incoming students are given numerous tests so they can be fitted into the schools, and "from our testing program we have learned which other schools are doing good jobs of teaching and in what fields of teaching others are failing," the superintendent said.

AN EYE CATCHER—Though the grammar may not be just quite right, the slogan "Join The Dimes Of March" is so well known by now it really makes no difference how it is presented to the people. A couple of coin-collecting signs have been put up around town like the one shown above. Haven't seen the error yet? It shouldn't read "Join The Dimes Of March." Anyhow, the annual drive is on around town. (Staff Photo)

ABOUT FARM LABOR

Farm Employment Drops Sharply; Wage Rates Continue to Climb

Farm employment in late Dec. declined about 20 per cent from a month earlier and approached the winter low, the Crop Reporting Board announced recently. A total of 5,771,000 people were working on farms during the week of Dec. 23-28, 1957. This was one per cent below the comparable week in 1956, but about seven per cent under the 1952-56 average number of Dec. farm workers. In comparison with a year earlier, there were one per cent or 60,000 fewer family workers but two per cent or 20,000 more hired workers. Late-season harvesting of corn, sorghum grain, and cotton probably accounted for this increase in hired help.

The number of persons employed on our nation's farms continued its rather sharp downward trend in 1957. For the 10th year in a row the average employment for the year has shown a decline from the preceding year. The annual average of 7,649,000 workers for 1957 was nearly three per cent below 1956, and 26 per cent under the average farm employment 10 years ago.

Family labor over these years has shown a sharper decline than hired workers. In 1957, the drop in average number of family workers was 3 1/4 per cent from preceding year, while the average number of hired hands declined less than one per cent. There are now nearly 28 per cent fewer family workers engaged in farm work than 10 years ago, whereas numbers of hired laborers have decreased about 19 per cent.

Mechanization and changes in farm technology have played a large role in this downward trend in farm workers. Total crop and livestock production has been maintained and even increased during the past several years with this smaller number of workers.

FARM WAGE rates around Jan. 1, 1958, had advanced to a record high level. The seasonally adjusted wage rate index reached the new high of 567 per cent of the 1910-14 average, compared with 565 for the previous quarter and 554 a year earlier.

During the past year, the general trend of farm wage rates has been upward, the index rising every quarter except from April 1 to July 1. For 1957, as a whole, average farm wage rates were up slightly over three per cent from 1956. Monthly rate with house averaged $168 for the year, daily rate without board or room averaged $5.80, the average hourly rate without board or room was 88 cents, and average hourly earnings (average of all types of rates) were 72.8 cents. All annual averages for the various rates of pay have shown a rather steady climb over the past 10 years.

For the U. S., all individual types of farm wage rates were higher on Jan. 1 than a year earlier. Increases were fairly uniform. Changes from Oct. 1 varied considerably because of seasonal factors affecting individual rates. Monthly rates and the daily rate with house were up, probably due to stronger bidding for permanent, full-time workers. Reports from several states indicate there continues to be a tight supply of good, experienced, regular farm help.

Additional prerequisites as well as more cash wages are being offered to keep good hired hands on the farm. Hourly rate without room or board was up sharply because of the greater extent of this rate is used in the higher rate areas, such as the Pacific states, during the winter months. Most other rates were the same as or slightly less than Oct., when demand was heavy for harvest labor. Hourly rate with house showed a sharp decline from Oct. due to a larger proportion of workers being paid at this rate in Jan. throughout the lower wage rate areas of the south.

FOR GEOGRAPHIC regions, the weighted averages or hourly composite of all types of rates were above a year earlier in all regions except the south Atlantic and mountain states. Here, the declines were very small — less than one-half cent per hour. Most individual types of rates were also above Jan. 1 a year ago, except for these two regions, where rates were steady to slightly lower. The level of wage rates by regions, as measured by the seasonally adjusted index, was up from Oct. in all regions. Increases ranged from less than one to about three per cent.

Wage rates for individual states vary considerably. The rate per hour without board or room, which is reported for all States, ranged from 51 cents to $1.27 per hour. Twenty-eight states averaged over $1 per hour. The U. S. average was 97 cents. Pacific coast states averaged the highest rate, with the New England group a close second. Competition with industry for labor probably is keenest in these areas. Per month rates with house averaged $200 or more in 13 states. Highest was $268 per month in California. Only one state reported an average rate under $150, but this rate is not asked in the south, where the monthly method of payment is relatively unimportant.

OUT QUICKLY — The L. G. Lorrain public school and St. Charles separate school received plaques from the fire department for best times in evacuating their buildings. Lorrain took 3 1/2 seconds, St. Charles 35 seconds.

Nobel Peace Prize Winners Topics for Bay View Club

Nobel Peace Prize winners provided topics of discussion when the Bay View Study Club held a meeting in the country home of Mrs. Leo Forrest Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. W. J. Gilliland told of the beginning of the awards when on his death in 1896, Swedish scientist, Alfred B. Nobel, inventor of dynamite bequeathed nine million dollars, the interest to be distributed yearly to those, regardless of nationality, who had contributed most to the benefit of year. There are awards for physics, chemistry medicine or physiology, literature, and peace.

Reviewing the peace awards made, she continued, "From 1939 through 1943 there were no prizes given, then in 1944 the award went to an office; The International Cross of Geneva. In 1945 the prize was won by Cordell Hull, former secretary of state for his formulation of the Good Neighbor Policy in the Western Hemisphere, for his system of reciprocal trade treaties, and a formulation of a charter for United Nations.

"In 1946 The American Service Committee of the Society of Friends and The Friends Service Council of London was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in recognition of their world-wide humanitarian achievements. In 1949 Loyd John Boyd-Orr, former director general of the UN Food and Agriculture organization, and world famed crusader against hunger, was the winner," she related.

Mrs. Colby Conkright read a paper prepared by Miss Frances Turrentine telling of the Nobel Peace Prize winners from 1950 to the present. She said in part: "The most outstanding award winner seems to be Dr. Ralph Bunche, the first U. S. Negro to become a leader in International affairs. He was noted for his services as the UN mediator for peace between Israel and the Arab States.

"During the succeeding seven years winners included: Leon Jouhaux, a French labor leader; Dr. Albert Schweitzer, a French medical missionary; George C. Marshall, a soldier and statesman and an international office, the United Nations High Commission for refugees.

"The most recent award was made in December, 1957 to Lester B. Pearson, a Canadian, who served as president of the UN General Assembly in 1952-53. Pearson was elected leader of the Canadian Liberal Party at the party

Texas Draft Call Is Set for 641

AUSTIN — The Texas draft call for February will be the biggest since July 1957, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Friday.

Colonel Schwartz also announced that Texas draft boards will forward men for pre-induction mental and physical examinations in February. Exams are also scheduled in January.

The state's February call for induction into the Army is 641, as compared with 493 for January, 340 for December, and 346 for November, the quota in July 1957 was 661.

Draft boards will forward more than 2,000 men in February for the pre-induction examinations, in addition to a similar number in January. These are the first such examinations in Texas since the past August, when about 1,500 were examined.

Local board quotas for induction and examination in February are scheduled to be mailed from State Selective Service Headquarters Friday.

The February quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on Feb. 1, with the exception of volunteers or delinquents, who may be younger.

The Texas quota of 641 for February is the state's share of a national call for the Army of 13,000 men. This is the biggest national quota since July 1957, when the Army asked for 13,000 men.

Members in attendance at the meeting were Mesdames D. H. Alexander, Phillip Barkley, Lee Benefield, Colby Conkright, T. M. Drever, J. W. Kirby, J. C. McCracken, Paul Mathers, W. J. Gilliland, Francis Hardwick, A. M. Jones, Will S. Kerr, Eugene Nauigle, Carl Perrin, J. P. Slaton and the hostess.

LOCAL HOMEMAKER CHAMP—Donna Sue Guseman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don T. Guseman, was announced this week as senior girl in Hereford High School to make the highest score in a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes, administered Dec. 3. Donna's examination paper will be entered in state competition. The Texas winner will be entered in the race for the title of Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. The contest is sponsored by General Mills.

What Car Has The Best Brakes?

Read this

"After testing a 1958 CENTURY, one of four Buick Series (all but the SPECIAL) equipped with new Series (all but the SPECIAL) equipped with new deeply-finned aluminum front brake drums, it is our agreeable duty to report that these are the best brakes on a Detroit sedan by far that we have tested, and that they are, conservatively, a 100 per cent improvement over conventional Detroit brakes."

Direct quotation from the new issue of SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED in a report entitled: "THE SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED 1958 AWARD IN RECOGNITION OF OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT AND SIGNIFICANT CONTRIBUTION IN THE AUTOMOTIVE FIELD PRESENTED TO THE BUICK MOTOR DIVISION GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION, FOR MAJOR ADVANCES IN BRAKES."

NOW—more than ever—when better automobiles are built Buick will build them

22 emergency stops from 60 mph—and Buick's brakes still effective!

As a result of this grueling brake test, SCI stated: "We find it the rule for Detroit sedans to brake quite efficiently for the first few stops, but then they deteriorate rapidly." But here's what happened in the Buick Century: 22 "crash stops" were made from 60 MPH, and afterwards, the brakes were still fully effective. Says SCI: "This was by far the most severe test we ever have submitted a sedan's brakes to, but after it was over the Buick's brakes functioned perfectly... Buick has done it, has achieved a much better product, and has set a new standard of brake quality for Detroit."

*"Crash Stop"—fastest full stop possible for a car traveling at a given speed.

THAT'S the story as told by SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED. You'll find how true the story is when you drive the Air Born B-58 Buick yourself and learn about all its great features.

There are totally new features in ride, in performance, in all-round comfort and ease of handling. Come on in and prove that—at your Buick dealer's—today.

Library Book Collection on Exhibit Here

Parents as well as school personnel invited

SIX-HUNDRED NEW AND recent children's books by America's foremost authors and illustrators will go on display Jan. 20 in the high school library, according to Mrs. Olean B. Leggett, Librarian. The books are in less than 32 subject categories and cover all grades from kindergarten through High School. Both fiction and non-fiction are represented. The exhibit will be open daily from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., and from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. in the evening, through Jan. 24.

A complete graded and annotated catalogue of the exhibit is available for free distribution to teachers, librarians and other school people. Through the device of numbering the books and catalogue and providing a detailed subject and author index, the 600 books are, in terms of any and all interests, directly and easily accessible.

The 32 subjects the exhibit covers include adventure, aeronautics, animals, the arts, biography, careers, classics, conservation, exploration, fairy tales and folklore, fiction (with 17 sub-divisions), foreign lands, games and parties, geography, history, hobbies, activities, Indians, information, intercultural relations, inventions, language, nature, picture books, pioneer life, religion, science, ships, social studies, sports, story books, transportation and verse.

BOOKS ON EXHIBIT, a cooperative enterprise of the country's leading publishers, has sent the exhibit here. The purpose of this service is to make available to schools and libraries a completely representative collection of library books in organized exhibit form, thus making it possible for busy teachers and librarians, with a minimum expenditure of time and effort, to do an informed and intelligent job of book selection.

On the other hand, parents and the public will find the exhibit well worth their time and attention. No books will be sold since Books on Exhibit, as a promotional operation, neither solicits nor accepts orders.

DAWN NEWS

Mrs. Wimberley Is Elected to Music Position

By MRS. JAMES ALSTON

Mrs. Carl Wimberley recently was elected to the office of vice president for the seventh district of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs.

The Dawn Home Demonstration met Friday in the home of Mrs. Leroy Johnson. Eleven members of the club were present.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smith were in Borger Saturday to see their new grandson, Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Weeter. On the return trip, Sunday, they visited Mrs. Faith O'Dell in Stinnett and with Mr. and Mrs. James Pope and family in Amarillo.

The members of the Dawn Music Club were guests at an informal coffee in the home of Mrs. Norman Miller Wednesday morning. Attending were Mesdames L. A. Smith, Leroy Johnson, H. H. Miller, Leston English, Ray Polan, Robert Strain, Carl Wimberley, L. L. Aihart, H. V. McCabe and James Alston.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Johnson visited in Muleshoe with Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson Sunday. Monday visitors in the Johnson home were Mr. and Mrs. Webster Johnson and sons of Texhoma.

Mrs. Ray Stewart was in Mobeetie with her father, J. R. Oglesby, over the weekend. Mrs. Oglesby has been in the hospital at Pampa.

Dawn Musettes will meet at the H. H. Miller home Tuesday.

There is a P-TA meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Elmer Patterson of Hereford will be guest speaker.
