New High in Enrollment Seen as School Time Draws Closer

2,656 Pupils Are Expected in Hereford Schools

Alas, poor Yorick! He's all shook up. It isn't proper to mix Shakespeare and a popular song, but that's probably what Hereford's youngsters will be doing mighty soon. They're going back to school, all 2,656 of them.

FIRST DAY of classes in both parochial and public schools will be Sept. 3.

Anticipated total enrollment in the public schools is 2,446, an increase of 163 over 1956 enrollment, according to Superintendent Fred Cunningham.

Navy Band Goes Native; Beats Out Rhythm on Old Oil Drums

MUSICAL CHIEF—Chief Petty Officer Charles A. Rooper and the "ping pong drum" which carries the tune for the Navy's oil drum band.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — What may be the first "All-American" steel band will make its North American debut at Chicago before the year is out.

That is the word from the 10th Naval District here, where a group of United States sailors have mastered the peculiar art of making music from steel oil drums.

It all started when somebody found out that by putting dents of different sizes in the top of a 55-gallon drum, you could get several different notes out of one drum. By trial and error, Trinidadians found that by using the whole drum a deep bass was achieved; that by cutting it in various lengths the range of the notes could be changed.

Progress was continuous — and today the "ping pong drum" — which carries the melody — has a range of 24 notes. The range of a complete set of drums covers four octaves.

Last February, Rear Adm. Daniel V. Gallery, commandant of the 10th Naval District here, visited Trinidad at carnival time. He was so taken by the music of the steel drums he ordered a set. When the drums were ready, he ordered the Navy's band here to go to Trinidad for a week and learn to play them.

Even though many thought a week would not be enough, the boys did well. Upon their return, they began appearing at Navy benefits and charity affairs outside the base. They have been a howling success.

Now they are about ready to go to the States, probably to Chicago, but the date has not been fixed. The band plays all kinds of music, from the West Indian calypso to slow "boleros" and foxtrots. Even "From the Halls of Montezuma" has been played by the band to a calypso-like rhythm.

Leader of the band is Chief Musician Charles A. Rooper of Butler, Pa. He plays the "ping pong drum" which carries the tune. He sees "a great possibility that steel bands will increase not only in Puerto Rico, but also on the mainland."

"Lost of people will be sold on the idea," he says. "It's fun to play the steel drums. The music is popular and the instruments are inexpensive and easy to make. It's a natural for high school bands."

ed for the farm before the signing of the acreage reserve agreements. A similar "base" has already been established for farms with land in the conservation reserve.

Crops making up the "soil bank base" will, in general, be all crops produced for harvest on a farm, except hay crops. In addition to the six "basic" crops, they will include among others such crops as the grains, annual grasses cut for seed, oilseeds, cowpeas, potatoes, commercial vegetables, field and canning peas and beans.

The soil bank base for individual farms will be established by county ASC committees primarily on the basis of the average acreage of land devoted to soil bank base crops during the past two years — 1956 and 1957. Where a "base" has been established under the conservation reserve program, that base will apply.

THE ACREAGE reserve agreement this year will require that farmers agree to limit their harvest of "base" crops. The limit will be determined by subtracting the number of acres in the acreage reserve, plus any acres in the conservation reserve, from the total in the soil bank base.

Harvesting more total acreage from a farm than the "permitted acreage" limit will make the producer subject to a civil penalty — 50 per cent of the payment which would have been made for compliance — an addition to the loss of the entire acreage reserve payment.

Producers who participated in the 1957 acreage reserve program will be paid a 10 per cent premium, above the 1958 rates, provided they place the identical land in the acreage reserve program for 1958. No limitation is placed on the number of acres which may be offered for the 1958 program except for the limitation of $3,000 in total acreage reserve payments.

ion, but that "they will be soon." Soil bank payments of about $3,000 a year for the next 10 years, which will result from the city's placing most of the 600-acre field obtained for the airport in the conservation reserve are expected to ease the burden of payments.

NOTHING has been announced yet regarding operation of the facility. Small municipal airports generally are operated by an appointed manager or through a lease-operation agreement. Bayne previously has reported receiving several tentative applications from experienced airport managers.

When completed, the field will be classed as a secondary airport. With a 4,400 foot runway and 4,400 foot taxiway, which run parallel from northeast to southwest, the facility will accommodate large two-engined transport planes.

The construction of any buildings on the field other than hangars has not been considered for the immediate future by city officials. Government funds ordinarily are not made available for either hangars or airport operations buildings.

Art Guild Elects Mrs. H. Weems

Hereford Art Guild elected new officers at the regular meeting held at the high school Thursday afternoon.

Those named were Mrs. Henry Weems, president; Mrs. O. Werber, vice-president; Mrs. Roland Jack, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Ernest McGee, reporter.

Plans for the fall activities of the group were discussed. Included will be an invitational art showing sometime in November, and a group from the Guild will attend a portrait painting class in Amarillo which will be held early in the season.

The group will continue to meet in workshop sessions each Thursday afternoon during the fall and winter season.

BACK FROM VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Colby Conkright and son Jim have returned from a vacation trip to Colorado Springs, Colo. While there Jim and his dad also visited with old time friends, the Elmer Wombles, in Gunnison and transacted business there.

In World War II there were 360,810 American servicemen who died from battle wounds or illness.

THE SITE has been in use for several months by duster pilots, who have used a temporary dirt runway for takeoffs and landings.

Bill McMorries, engineer employed by the city for the airport construction work, noted that the two low bids on the project were made by firms that have not previously handled a contract involving federal-city participation. And that the three high bidders are either just completing or have recently finished such jobs.

The three high bidders were Gilvin & Terrill, Amarillo, at $105,982.90; Ivan Dement, Amarillo, $109,206.35; and J. R. Fannin, Lubbock, $119,948.42.

Southwest of Hereford on the H. E. Danforth farm near Summerfield, E. A. Surgeon recorded .50 Thursday and .75 Saturday.

Mrs. Harvey Brock, 11 miles north and four miles east of Hereford, said the rain "has washed those leaves off and let 'em breathe." The Brocks are growing cotton, sugar beets and grain sorghum. Mrs. Brock said she had measured a quarter of an inch Thursday and the same amount Saturday.

Paul Rudd at Westway recorded half an inch Saturday morning. He said he is still irrigating and the rain has helped his pasture grass "a little."

KEN RUDD and Dick Godwin in the Westway area recorded .65 and .80 respectively on Tuesday.

Bill Brand of Brand and Griffin, Howard Gault, farmer-vegetable broker, and Harold Pugh of F. H. Valhsing Inc., all said the rains had halted harvesting of vegetables.

Processing of the crops was slow accordingly.

South of Hereford Ira Ott tallied .30. Felix Urbanczyk, three miles southwest, had half an inch Friday and another half Saturday.

The Eskimo Ranch, six miles east, reported a "good shower" with the roads barely passable.

said a kindergarten will not be held this year. All public school pupils will register through the principal's office in their school.

HIGH SCHOOL seniors will register from 8:30 a.m. to noon on Thursday, Aug. 29. Juniors will register from 1 to 5 p.m. Sophomores will sign up Friday, Aug. D.

from 8:30 a.m. to noon and freshmen are to register from 1 to 5 p.m. the same day. At Stanton Junior High, eighth graders are to register all day, beginning at 8:30 a.m., on Aug. 29 and seventh graders will register the next day.

At Shirley, Aikman and Central elementary schools, pupils in the first, second and third grades will register all day Aug. 29 and the fourth, fifth and sixth graders will register Aug. 30.

CUNNINGHAM said all high school students who have not pre-registered may do so Monday through Friday of this week. Cunningham said 617 students pre-registered last spring.

With enrollment continually on the increase, trustees of the Hereford Rural High School district have approved a proposal for expansion of the three-year-old high school building.

Included in the proposal are 11 new classrooms, a girls gymnasium and a cafeteria. The new unit would add 30,000 square feet of floor space to the present 64,000.

A BOND election to finance the addition will be needed. A petition requesting the election must be filed with the board by school district citizens before further action is taken on the bond issue.

The high school has a new principal, Bill Stanford, who replaces Buck Overall, who resigned to become a salesman for an engraving firm at San Marcos.

Three new football coaches have been added with Jack Harris as head coach and athletic director and Joe Silveril and Kenneth McCullough as assistants. Rookie Rogers also has joined the physical education staff.

L. B. (Scat) Russell, John Paul Jones and John Poindexter have resigned from the coaching staff. Alex Glass, assistant coach, is on military leave. Russell was head coach.

OTHER TEACHERS who have been offered contracts are George Muse Jr., as administrator-busness teacher; Wendell Mahoney, junior high shop; Mrs. Mildren Tanner, languages; Mrs. George D. Muse Jr., high school math; and Mrs. Doris C. Holmealy, public school music.

Mrs. Hilrey Aven, previously in charge of special education, will be teaching speech therapy this year. Mrs. Geraldine Hodges of the home economics department has been placed on a 12-month assignment instead of 10-months.

Muse and Mrs. Aven are filling new positions on the faculty.

Union to Grand; W. 2nd from Jackson to Ross; Ross Ave. from W. 3rd to W. 4th, and Bradley St. from Knight to Texas. Paving costs to be assessed against property owners would range from $4.10 on the block of W. 2nd, which is proposed as a 51-foot wide street, down to $3.36 on Bradley, which is only 31 feet in width. Both Ave. A and Ross Ave. are 37 feet wide, and paving assessments are proposed at $4.04 and $3.99 per front foot, respectively.

The first asphalt surfacing is expected to begin late in August, on streets in the Plains Ave. area. The caliche base of the new streets is in place there, but requires more compaction before asphalt and rock can be applied, Bayne said.

Sheriff Charles Skelton was sworn in last Thursday and already admits that the office affords several embarrassing situations, along with possible assets. He realized this most dramatically when he celebrated his first day by running into a cow and calf, three miles west of Canyon. Fortunately, damage was light and there were no injuries. Even the owner, E. E. Plank, says he would just as soon someone else hit his livestock besides the "law."

Farmers, faced with prospects of an exceedingly heavy grain sorghum yield this year, are scratching their heads. While the price is not so hot now, it stands to drop in 1958 — if Ezra T. has his way, at least. Actually, it seems that farmers will have to look for a new crop, but the shift is made all the more impossible by requirement of previous quotas by the government. All in all, it is a pretty tough deal.

CURTIS ROACH tells me that 18 growers have planted 3,600 acres in the new "white maize" in connection with a test program with the corn starch industry. The crop has possibilities and the tests seem to be coming along about like Martin maize. It might well take up a wee bit of the slack depending on yields, price and the like. However, there will be around 100,000 acres of irrigated land which will need to be converted to other crops in this area alone — if Mr. Benson gets his ideas across in first class shape. Grain sorghum is by far the basic commodity of Deaf Smith agriculture as things stand today.

Consideration of the proposed Labor Camp road to enter on Highway 51 revives an old controversy. It is opposed by some of the people along the route, but will probably be constructed sooner or later, so why not now? In addition to school buses and police protection, the road will provide much greater safety in fire protection for the 2,500 to 4,000 people housed seasonally in the camp. An outlet from the camp, less than 1,400 feet, has been needed for several years. Like the new underpass, it could create some hardship but all in all, it will be a mark of progress in the name of public welfare. Add to this the fact that camp directors have agreed to pay the expense of surfacing the road if the county will designate and grade it — and you have about as good a deal as they will ever get.

Dimmitt recently constructed a processing plant for Pacific Fruit and Vegetable Company, and is now going after the farm labor in a big way. Competition along this line will become keener. It will be harder and harder to get harvest help. This is seen.

It's a dear bargain to buy any kind of insurance on the basis of price alone, without considering all the many other important factors that may affect your financial security.

downtown area. The old Cooper building, the two on West Third and now the McRight building on East Third combine to make four 50-foot buildings in good locations in the business district. Most of them have moved into better and more spacious quarters — but it still leaves a lot of vacancies.

Good housing, especially two and three bedroom types, are still in strong demand by renters. There seems to be sufficient apartments and smaller houses, except for seasonal requirements.

ondary to the life and welfare of 4,000 people, of course, but a reasonably road into the camp will make it easier for the Latin Americans to go into town — and for those who live elsewhere to get to church and attend other camp activities.

PEOPLE GET AROUND far more than they once did. At least, such is reflected through the columns of The Brand. What with George Heard and Jane Newsom sending in some exceptionally good reports, along with occasional contributions from other individuals, we find ourselves carrying latelines from practically around the globe. People are quite interested, too, especially those who visited the various places during World War II. This is quite a contrast, of course, to conditions in 1907 — 50 years ago — when the old timers considered it an event to visit in Amarillo, a two-day trip in a wagon.

FISHING REPORT: Things are picking up in Colorado. Frank Cogdell is just back from the Platora country and says that one can get his limit in a matter of 30 minutes to an hour on the upper meadows. Don Martin also reports good fishing in the same place. However, they say you have to get reserve tickets to fish on the Canejos below the dam. People are lining up two and three deep along the bank. Everyone is predicting good fishing into September in this area.

Just to be sure I checked this with Marlin Gilliland, the old reliable. He says it is absolutely correct. You know how some of these fishermen get excited, but "Honest" Marlin is always accurate. Howard Brown should be in with a report on the Lake City country in a few days, and we will hear about the Durango area from Abe Martin and James Edmonson this week — probably weather we like it or not.

Many people are crowding in their vacations before school gets underway in another two weeks. Neise and Norma McRight are different, though; they have been busy moving their garage into the new location at 642 East Second. They will have lots of room but, after the moving job, they are wondering if it will be worth the effort.

People are constantly talking about how much Hereford is growing. This is true enough, but I keep on worrying about the number of vacant buildings in the

Jane Newsom Now Visiting in Sweden

Dear Folks,

What a day this has been! We got up this morning at 4:15 and Mr. Thome, Uwe and Helga drove me to Frankfurt where I boarded a plane to Stockholm. I love to fly and each time I like it even better. This morning I saw an unusual sight as we were flying through the clouds. It looked as though we flew right over the rainbow. We flew through clouds nearly all the way and when we looked out the window we could see neither the ground nor the sky. We got to Copenhagen, Denmark, at 9:30 a.m. I would have liked to look around Copenhagen but I was afraid to go far for fear I might not get back in time to catch the plane to Stockholm.

Select Candidates for ASC Election

Candidates for places on the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee have been selected by a committee of 12 farmers.

To be elected between Sept. 3 and Sept. 9, the five community chairman will convene Sept. 25 to select new three committee members for one year terms. Those selected will take office on Oct. 1, 1957.

Names to be placed on the ballots are:

Community A — Clyde Russell, C. Baker Womble, Charlie Holt, Ed Dzuik Sr., Tom Robinson, Frank Bezner, W. J. Albracht, W. P. Axe, C. C. Billingslea and W. T. Carmichael.

Community B — Grant Hanna, S. A. Fangman, Fred S. Barrett Sr., W. J. Messick, Gerald W. McCathern, J. B. Snead Jr., M. C. Kaul, F. L. Alexander, Leroy Suttle and F. H. King.

Community C — Glenn Burrus, James A. Wylie, Bob G. Howard, Hoyt L. Smith, Bertram Jack, C. L. Vestal Jr., S. N. Thweatt, Frank Zinser Jr., Waldron Melton and S. M. Easley.

Community D — Jack Fortenberry, J. V. Perrin, Elmo K. Pinnell, T. E. Rohrbach, Charles W. Edwards, Dewey F. Foster, Glenn B. Allred, Jesse Roberts, James Morris and Leroy Williams.

The names were selected by an election board, with each community having three representatives. Members were Alfred May, H. L. Hershey, W. T. Gunstenson, J. C. Morrison, J. M. Pierce, Chester Wiggins, Elmer Northcutt, J. E. McCathern Jr., Jack Weaver, Donald Hicks, Carl Strauss and Glen Burrus.

RETURN HOME Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Manjeot have returned to their home in Kingman, Kan., after a stay here in the home of his brother, A. L. Manjeot. The Wm. Manjeots came to be with Mrs. Manjeot's mother, Mrs. Reber Howton who is ill, while the A. L. Manjeots were in New Orleans where he underwent surgery.

name of the place and the street hoping she would at least point in the general direction but she only looked at me as though I were crazy and walked on.

I didn't know which way to go but I kept walking. All of a sudden there it was right in front of me. I hurried to the door only to find it locked. Now I didn't know what to do. I felt like a little girl lost in a huge department store. Then I saw a large building with a sign, "Central Station." I went in hoping to find someone who spoke English and who could tell me what to do. Luckily I found an information desk and managed to get my reservation confirmed.

In the morning I will leave Stockholm by train at 7:50 and arrive in Bollnas where Elisabeth will meet me at 12:50. I will spend the week in her home and will return to Frankfurt next Sunday.

Last Tuesday we returned from our tour of seven countries. I think I left you in Amsterdam last week. We drove from Amsterdam through typical Dutch landscape to Cologne where we stopped to see the world's largest Gothic Cathedral and then on to Koeningwinter on the Rhine. Our hotel was right on the edge of the Rhine. We left Koeningwinter the next morning and drove on the Autobahn to Frankfurt. When we were on the train from Frankfurt to Giessen there was a lady on the train who was carrying many bundles and she looked as though she was completely exhausted. Although we were also standing, we saw an empty seat and asked her if she wouldn't like to sit down, but she didn't want to leave her little boy. We told her that we would watch him but she insisted it wasn't necessary. Later we found out that she had just escaped from the Communists in East Germany and was on her way to a refugee camp. I'll tell you more about Sweden next week. Bye.

ALL FOR SCIENCE RICHMOND, Va. - Four doctors at the Medical College of Virginia took a lot of ribbing from associates when they departed for Florida, and a week of "scientific fishing."
"I hate fishing," said Dr. E. Lovell Becker, head of the MCV renal electrolyte (kidney) laboratory. "I can't understand anybody who has nothing better to do than to sit all day and fish."
Object of the trip, which has been four years in the making and was prefaced by a stack of correspondence four inches thick, is to discover as much as possible about as many types of fish as the group can obtain. They hope to discover something of the evolutionary development of kidneys - how they overcome changes in environment.

PUNISHMENT FITS KAMLOOPS, B. C. - Two boys aged 9 and 11 who lit fires in new but unoccupied houses here will polish fire engines to work off their surplus energy.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

THIS LUXURIOUS Midwest style ranch achieves effective "zoning" with spacious central foyer channeling traffic directly to service area (left), living area (straight ahead), and sleeping area (right). Large front porch adds grandeur to entrance and rear porches provide as much outdoor living space as large living and dining rooms give to the indoors. The plan covers 1,707 square feet and is HF30AP9604, by Architect Peter S. Hopf, 118-20 Queens Blvd., Forest Hills 75, N. Y.

Fine Hebrew Manuscript Finds Home After 500-Year Odyssey

By ERIC GOTTGETREU

JERUSALEM, Israel — One of the world's most beautiful Hebrew manuscripts has found a resting place in the Holy City after an exciting odyssey of five centuries.

The book, valued at about a quarter of a million dollars, is on public display for the first time in the Bezael Jewish National Museum in Jerusalem.

The origin of the nearly one thousand thin parchment pages studded with colored miniatures and delicate illuminations is a matter of dispute among the experts.

Famed Florentine art historian Bernard Berenson and other authorities think the manuscript was made about 1475 by one or more artists near Naples. Other modern scholars feel the writers and illustrators lived in northern Italy, perhaps in Padua.

But all agree the work is magnificent and comparable to similar manuscripts in the Vatican Library and the British Museum.

Its writings are not original. It is an anthology of 70 different works, including Biblical extracts and commentaries, prayers, legends, moral teachings, treatises on religious rites, poems and even a calendar.

More than 300 years after its MAGNIFICENT WORK—A page from the Hebrew "Manuscript No. 24" shows a miniature and delicate illuminations that make it a work comparable to the manuscripts of the Vatican Library and the British Museum. It is now in the Bezael Jewish National Museum in Jerusalem after five centuries of wandering.

creation, the book was discovered in the library of Giuseppe Almanzi, an Italian-Jewish bibliophile of Padua. Later, it turned up in the Rothschild Library in Paris, listed simply as "Manuscript No. 24."

When the World War II Germans occupied Paris, they took the Rothschild Library to western Germany and stored it with other books once owned by Jews.

Manuscript No. 24 vanished for a time after the war, then, unexpectedly, was offered to various Jewish libraries, including the library of the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York.

New York authorities recognized the book and notified Baron James de Rothschild of London. It was restored to Rothschild and remained in his possession for several years.

A few months before his death last May 7, Rothschild donated it to the Bezael Museum on condition the donor remain anonymous. The condition was observed until after he died.

Bezael Director Dr. Mordechai Narkis received the manuscript on his death bed. He died March 26. Dr. Narkis' son, Bezael Ben Mordechai, said:

"It was not only a consolation in his suffering but like a gift sent by Providence to prolong his life. He leafed through it again and again. And more than he guarded the manuscript, the manuscript guarded him."

The manuscript will be an attraction for scholars at the Bezael because, strangely enough, it has never been thoroughly studied in all its five centuries of wandering.

INSULT TO INJURY
DENVER, Colo. — You'll never convince Gary L. Schade, 57, that lightning never strikes twice in the same place.

Schade missed $120 from his topcoat pocket as he left a bar. As he returned to the tavern, two men told Schade they knew who had the money.

The two men drove Schade to a residential area, stopped the car and told Schade to put his hands up. Then they relieved him of another $200.

AMERICAN 'SLANGUAGE' DISAPPEARING

AP Newsfeatures

Are young moderns becoming more sophisticated or are they just bored with the old "slanguage" routine?

Currently vocabulary is on such an even keel that Mr. Webster would be mighty proud. There's scarcely a "dady-o" heard at a beach picnic. Things have gone so literal that if a real doll were to say "dig that," a square would pick up a shovel. "Cool" means just that — so hardly heard at this season of the year.

Meanwhile, from abroad comes a collection of lively lingo that may still help maintain one in this new elegant word strata. The way to get it going in your set is to confide in one friend and you two spring it when you're with the group.

The most charming words are these:

French young moderns say "sensas," meaning fabulous or terrific. You say it as one word — sensas! Pronounce it sensoss. If you'd be even more fabulous you'd say "astap," pronounced "ostop." This could be used when someone in your set has been given the last word in sports cars or when you've been given a handsome present. (Or, another time, to denote enthusiasm of a special sort.) "Bulldoz" is a French word equivalent to our "it's the most," and "deavastating." I may be applied to animate or inanimate objects.

The English have their own expression denoting "real smooth." It's "cracker" (Southern girls please note). "She's a cracker" is about the highest compliment you can pay a sweet young thing in teen-age English social circles.

Something that is very fabulous or very special is termed a "bang-on."

In England, too, rock 'n' roll is old hat, replaced by a dance called the skiffle, a very folksy type of dance. Young people gather in a little restaurant with a guitar and play folk songs, and even dance to the music in groups on the sidewalk.

Young people are word conscious as a rule. They adore the idea of communicating in some mysterious lingo that is puzzling to the ill-informed. There is a secrecy involved that is a bond or pact between the lingo-conscious, one reason why young moderns enjoy secret societies, companions, dates — places where they can contrive, plot, intrigue.

It may even be the reason why teen-agers in the secrecy cycle enjoy steady dating, and one reason too for the steady decline of secret talk. After all there isn't much use for slanguage when you're striving to be romantic. Love has a language all its own.

HOW'S THAT?

When High Court Dictates, This Gal Always Listens

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Eleanor Margaret Bumgardner has nine bosses.

As "floating" secretary she has served the justices of the U. S. Supreme Court the past eight years, substituting for their private secretaries when they are ill, or away, sometimes several weeks, even months.

"Lady," as she was called by the late Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy, whose devoted personal secretary she was for 18 years, says this unique responsibility is harder than being a Girl Friday to just one scholarly Crusoe.

"But it's very interesting," she says, "the justices are all so individual, and each office is different. It's a challenge. Keeps you on your toes. I often make the rounds of all the offices in a year. I've learned a lot."

Some of what she has learned in serving these distinguished gentlemen over the years no doubt will be reflected in a manual for secretaries which she is in the process of writing. This she's doing in spare moments she can squeeze in between secretarial stints and the reference and research work she must do. Traveled, well-read, a talented hostess, "Lady" is a popular figure in Washington society.

Her long association with Justice Murphy began when he was mayor of Detroit in 1933 and ended with his death in July 1949, after his nine and a half years on the bench of the high court. In between, she had accompanied him to the Philippines where he was the first governor general, and back to Michigan when he became its governor.

Many years ago Lady began a collection of more than 1,000 dolls from all parts of the world, including one that belonged to Thomas Jefferson.

She says, though, her "prize doll" has been Patsy Li, the little Chinese girl adopted by the Marines in 1942 on Guadalcanal after she'd been left for dead by the Japanese. Lady is legal guardian to Patsy Li, now 21, who is simultaneously training to be a nurse and working for a degree at Catholic University. She is also legal

Nibbles Savory Lounging Snack

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

LOUNGING IS GREAT—especially when you have a tall cold drink in one hand and a bowl of savory snacks to dip into with the other. So when your friends come to while away a few golden hours with you, and you want to offer them something new in the way of munches, have these Parmesan Herb Nibbles on hand.

We tried some similar tidbits on a couple of friends who were visiting in New York and they carried away the recipe for use in their Texas restaurant.

And here's a bonus: the Far East Nibbles are wonderful served with curried chicken and will intrigue your guests.

PARMESAN HERB NIBBLES
Ingredients: 5 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/4 teaspoon chili powder, 1/4 teaspoon dried crushed oregano, 1/4 teaspoon celery salt, 1/4 teaspoon onion salt or powder, one-half (about 24) of a 7/8 ounce package junior-size shredded wheat, 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan Cheese, paprika.

Method: Melt butter over low heat in 10-inch iron or other heavy skillet. Add the chili powder, oregano, celery salt and onion salt; stir well with a mixing spoon. Add the shredded wheat, turning the small cereal pieces so both sides are coated with the seasoned butter. Continue to toast over low heat until lightly browned—about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Carefully sprinkle half of the grated cheese over shredded wheat; turn and sprinkle other side with remaining cheese; the heat of the pan will melt the cheese slightly. Sprinkle lightly with paprika. Turn out on paper toweling (double thickness) and cool a few minutes so shredded wheat has a chance to get crisp. Serve warm. To reheat, place in hot oven about 5 minutes.

Note: Do not add any shredded wheat crumbs from the package to the skillet or they will absorb all the seasoned butter.

FAR EAST NIBBLES
Ingredients: 5 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/4 teaspoon curry powder, 1/8 teaspoon ginger, 1/8 teaspoon garlic salt, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, one half (about 24) of a 7/8 ounce package junior-size shredded wheat.

Method: Melt butter over low heat in 10-inch iron or other heavy skillet. Add the curry powder, ginger, garlic salt and 1 teaspoon of the orange rind; stir well with a mixing spoon. Add the shredded wheat, turning the small cereal pieces so both sides are coated with the seasoned butter. Continue to toast over low heat until lightly browned—about 5 minutes. Sprinkle with the remaining teaspoon of grated orange rind. Turn out on paper toweling (double thickness) and cool a few minutes so shredded wheat has a chance to crisp. Serve warm.

Note: Do not add any shredded wheat crumbs from the package to the skillet or they will absorb all the seasoned butter.

SIX DOLLAR BILLS GROW INTO SUFFRAGIST'S SHRINE

MRS. GEORGE HOWARD holds picture of suffragist leader Susan B. Anthony, in whose honor she raised money to buy the Anthony home as a permanent shrine.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Six women stood in the dooryard of a modest brick dwelling here one day. Each drew a dollar from her purse. They had suddenly decided to buy the place as a shrine to one of the nation's most militant women suffragists, Susan B. Anthony.

The women were members of the Rochester Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. George Howard, president, collected the dollars.

Fourteen months later, Mrs. Howard had enough voluntary contributions to purchase the house, in which Miss Anthony had lived for 40 years.

Now the house has been restored in keeping with the times of Miss Anthony. Furniture, books, pictures and other articles have been reassembled in the old brick house on Madison Avenue.

The two-and-a-half-story dwelling was bought by Mrs. Lucy Read Anthony after the death of her husband, Daniel. There she moved in 1866 with her two daughters, Mary and Susan. After the mother's death in 1880 Mary became the owner. And every year when she paid her taxes, Mary—also a crusader—wrote on her bill, "Paid under protest." She believed women shouldn't be taxed without representation.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, one of Susan's assistants and her successor as president of the National American Woman Suffrage Assn., sent to the house her collection of framed photographs of noted women who believed in rights for women.

By bequest, there came back the mahogany desk on which Miss Anthony drafted strategic plans for the 19th Amendment—giving women the right to vote—a privilege not won until 1920, 14 years after Miss Anthony's death.

Precious letters, pictures and other items are kept in a fireproof cabinet bought with a $1,000 grant from the Gannett Founda-

THE CASTLE is ready, awaiting the arrival of royalty. The "castle" is your new home. You and your family are the royalty. Buying your new home very likely has been the largest single investment your family will make.

So check it carefully. Make certain that everything is in order. You're going to do a lot of living there, and for a long time. And once you're satisfied that the house is ready for you, care is required to keep a new house new.

Here then are a few tips for the home owner before and after the family moves in:

Now that you have title to the house, make a rigid inspection to determine that all work has been completed and done properly as agreed upon in the building contract. You'll be satisfied—and the builder's contractual obligations will have been fulfilled.

Some items will be discovered that have been overlooked, either through your oversight or the builder's oversight. Call them promptly to the builder's attention.

BEFORE USING your fireplace, light a newspaper in it to make sure that smoke is being drawn off properly. Never start a fire until you're sure the damper is open. Keep the damper closed when the fireplace is not in use. This keeps room heat from escaping through the chimney.

Avoid overheating a new house. Shrinkage is inevitable in all wood, but it can be minimized by keeping the room temperature at not more than 70 degrees, especially during the first year you live in the house. By doing this, you'll cause a more uniform drying-out process.

Should wood shrinkage occur in the bathroom, you'll likely find a small separation between the tub and the wall tile, or between the floor tile and the tub. These small cracks may be filled with inexpensive white cement, available in tubes at hardware stores.

EACH YEAR more than 70,000 home fires are caused by abused or misused electrical equipment. Don't let an amateur tamper with the wiring or with the electrical fixtures in your home. Call an electrician.

And remember this: fuses are the safety valves of the electrical system. Don't use pennies or higher amp fuses where lower amp fuses should be used. A fire could result.

The roof of your house should last for many years. Keep the gutters and the downspouts clear and unobstructed. Don't let tree limbs, leaves, balls and trash accumulate in the gutters. They'll plug the downspout and cause the gutters to overflow.

Outside water connections should be turned off before cold weather sets in. Otherwise they'll freeze, causing costly repairs. The shut-off valve usually is found inside the house, near the spot where pipes go through the exterior wall.

WITH TIGHT-FITTING doors, be patient. Don't be too quick to plane the edge. Wait for warm, dry weather. Perhaps by that time the door will have dried to proper size.

Hot water heaters normally collect small quantities of scale and dirty water. Remove the dirty water regularly. A valve for this purpose can be found at the bottom of all hot water heaters. Use a pail to collect the dirty water. The tank will drain itself clean.

If your home has attic louvers or louvers at the crawl space of the basement, don't obstruct the openings. Louvers are there for one purpose: to ventilate your home. Keep them clear at all times.

The windows of your home probably have been weather stripped. Despite this, cold panes can set up a cool air current. This air will feel as though it is coming from the outside. Storm sashes will minimize this condition.

AND, NOW, a few special tips to Queen Mom:

On tile floors, don't use excessive amounts of water or wax until the tiles have been thoroughly sealed, and until the adhesive has set thoroughly.

Walls and woodwork and other painted surfaces must be cleaned, of course. But find out about cleaning compounds first. Consult a recognized paint, hardware or de-

Sue Springer Back from Tour

By MARSHA COCKRELL, aire Howard Butt Jr.

Sue Springer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Springer, returned Tuesday from a caravanning tour of over two months. She was in a group of three young people who visited youth groups in Lutheran churches in California, Oregon and Washington, starting out in Los Angeles and working their way up to Vancouver. The purpose of caravanning is to promote Christian growth in the already-organized youth groups.

Miss Springer will be at home the remainder of August, and will enroll in Concordia Lutheran College, Austin, the first of September. She is a 1957 graduate of Hereford High School.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stewart of Fayetteville, Ark., have been visiting in Hereford. Mrs. Stewart is the sister of Mrs. Art Grimes.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Shirley of Mountain View, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bookout of Santa Clara, Calif., spent last weekend vacationing at Carmel by the sea. Both couples are former Hereford residents.

Marcus Latham and Jim K. Wiman plan to attend the first National Conference of Southern Baptist Men in Oklahoma City, Sept. 18-20. The conference is expected to attract 8,000 men from 42 states.

Sponsored by the Brotherhood Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention the conference will feature several Texas Baptist leaders, including Governor Price Daniel, Secretary of State Zollicoffer and groceryman-millionaire

Mrs. Mary Winkler with her children, Sande Sarah and John Paul have been here this week from their home in Baton Rouge, La., visiting Mrs. Winkler's mother and father, the L. H. Lookingsills. Her husband, John Winkler, also arrived this weekend. He has been with Capital City Ford. The family plans to stay for another week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bruner have been in Boston, Mass., with their son, J. D. Cronin, who attends MIT there. The Bruners left early in August and stayed two weeks.

The W. R. Hairs and Bill Messicks took a trip recently to Colorado. They met Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Thompson, former Hereford residents, in Denver and the three couples went to Rand, Colo., where they stayed a few days in a lodge there.

Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Goodwin, Deborah and Greg are leaving today for their home in Breckenridge after a visit with the R. P. Conways and the Paul Conways. Mrs. Goodwin is the niece of Mrs. R. P. Conaway and a former Hereford resident. She attended the Hereford High School class reunion Saturday.

Mrs. A. T. Mims and children and her mother, Mrs. C. W. Fisher, left Monday for a trip to Grand Canyon, Hoover Dam and Yellowstone Park. They plan to return sometime this week.

Visitors in the Robert Veicle home last week were Mrs. Roy Ford, her children, Marilyn Sue

Mrs. Merlin Kaul Entertains Girls

Mrs. Merlin Kaul of the West-way community was hostess to several little girls at a "dress-up" party last week.

The little girls, accompanied by their dolls, wore long dresses, hats, and high heels, along with rouge and lip stick.

The party started with a picnic dinner under the trees after which the girls enjoyed the hammocks, the croquet games, and just playing dolls.

Present were Martha Roach of Tatum, N. M., Jan. Carol, and Patti Kay Turrentine, Deborah Pierce, Judith Morrison and Janice Head. Wallace Roach, brother of Martha Roach, the only boy, did the honors of helping keep the girls entertained and looking after his small sister.

Adults present included Mrs. George Turrentine, Mrs. Joe Paetzold, Mrs. Bess Werner, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrison, Raymond and Mary Lynn Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Kaul and Walter Kaul.

Miss Nell Dean Flowers, Mahlon Coulson Married in First Methodist Church Rites

Mrs. Mahlon Coulson (formerly Miss Nell Dean Flowers)

Miss Nell Dean Flowers and Mahlon Coulson of Plainview exchanged wedding vows at 7 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 17, in the First Methodist Church sanctuary with the Rev. Allen Brockway, director of the Wesley Foundation of West Texas State College, officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Flowers who live 2½ miles southwest of Hereford; and Mr. and Mrs. Ed W. Coulson of Plainview.

The altar was banked with greenery and white gladioli while white wedding tapers burned in seven branched candelabra. Altar vases flanking the center gold cross were filled with mint green carnations.

Music for the wedding were Mrs. John Jacobsen Jr., organist, and Mrs. Elbert Vance, vocalist. Mrs. Jacobsen played a short prelude of nuptial selections and the traditional wedding marches. She also accompanied Mrs. Vance who sang "Because," "Ave Maria" and in conclusion of the ceremony "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Wanda Elliott of Clarendon served the bride as maid of honor. Her dress of mint green organza was fashioned with a high bodice coming to a V neckline in the back with full skirt attached at the waistline by a crushed cummerbund in a darker shade of green. She wore a matching hat and carried an old fashioned nosegay of white feathered carnations.

Candies were lighted by Miss Gail Ratcliff of Amarillo and James Ratcliff of Dimmitt. Miss Ratcliff's dress was similar to that worn by the honor maid. The flower girl was Mary Fern King of Higgins, niece of the bridegroom, who also wore mint green organza.

Keith Geisler of Borger was best man and serving as ushers were Billy Flowers of Texline and Ernest King of Higgins.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, chose a ballerina length gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle for her wedding. The hand-clipped lace formed the bodice and long petal point sleeves, and deep bands of the lace dramatized the bouffant nylon skirt. The Sabrina neckline was lavishly embroidered with seed pearls and her fingertip veil, edged in lace, was caught to a lace and tulle pill box encrusted with sequins and seed pearls.

The bride's mother wore an orchid crepe dress with orchid and black accessories with a corsage of white feathered carnations, and the bridegroom's mother wore a brown linen with brown and white accessories and a corsage of white feathered carnations.

A white lace cloth over mint green covered the bride's table at a reception held in Fellowship Hall of the church following the wedding ceremony. The centerpiece featured gladioli and tapers. Members of the house party included Mesdames Jack R. Flowers of Odessa, and Mrs. Ernest King of Higgins.

FOR THE wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the bride traveled in a beige satin cotton sheath featuring tangerine and beige accessories. The gardenias were lifted from the wedding bouquet for the going away corsage.

Upon their return from the honeymoon trip on Aug. 27, the couple will be at home at 2419 9th St. in Lubbock where he is employed in the Lubbock Public Schools.

The bride was graduated from Hereford High School in 1954. She has attended West Texas State College for the past three years and was associated while there with the Future Teachers of America Organization and the Wesley Foundation.

Coulson graduated from Plainview Schools and received his degree from WTSC in May.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ratcliff and Mr. and Mrs. Shade Ratcliff of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Ratcliff of Dimmitt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry McIntyer, Mr. and Mrs. George Flowers and Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Flowers of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Flowers of Texline, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest King of Higgins and Mr. and Mrs. Ed W. Coulson of Plainview.

Light Biscuits
A secret for making light biscuits is to add just enough liquid to make a soft dough. Then mix it lightly, and just enough to combine the flour and liquid. Any handling after that has a tendency to toughen the dough.

YOUNG-EULER WEDDING IS HELD AUG. 11

THE MARRIAGE of Miss Frances Pearl Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Young, 129 Ave. E, to Raymond August Euler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Euler of Friona, was solemnized Sunday Aug. 11 at 8 a.m. in the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Howard Scott read the single ring ceremony in the presence of close friends and relatives.

The altar was banked with tall arrangements of Surprise lilies and Peace roses with baskets of pink and white gladioli. Wedding tapers burned in seven branched candelabra flanked low arrangements of the pink and white blossoms at the immediate altar.

Mrs. Howard Scott, organist, presented the wedding music, playing a medley of nuptial selections including "Indian Love Call" and "O Promise Me" and the traditional wedding marches. Candles were lighted by Cathy and Jimmy Young, niece and nephew of the bride.

Miss Mary Nicks of Temple, childhood friend of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a pastel blue linen frock trimmed with matching satin. She wore a blue linen hat and a white carnation corsage.

Charles Allen of Friona was best man and Edward Young, brother, of the bride, served as usher.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, chose a navy silk shantung sheath dress with shoulder cape for her wedding. Her accessories were in navy and she wore a small white feather hat. She carried her mother's Bible topped with a single white orchid and wore a borrowed strand of pearls belonging to her maid of honor. Her matching pearl earrings were the gift of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a two piece dress of blue silk-cotton with navy accessories and a white carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink linen dress with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

After the ceremony the couple stood in the foyer of the church to personally greet the guests. Miss Virginia Curtsinger kept the bride's book of names.

UPON THEIR return from a honeymoon trip to points in Colorado the couple will reside at 1201 White Ave., Friona.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended Business school. At the time of her marriage she was employed by Orsborn-Norwood Chevrolet Co. She has been active in civic interests and in local Baptist Church affairs.

Euler is a graduate of Friona High School and is presently employed as service agent of the Parmer County Farm Bureau.

Out of town guests included Mrs. A. W. Nicks of Hillsboro, Mrs. Pearl B. Moll of Hydro, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Drake and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ray V. Miller and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy May and son, Mrs. Otis Massey, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith and daughters, Mrs. Sam Williams, all of Friona; Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Hrnsey of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Neal Young and children of Dimmitt.

Shower Honors Jeanette Cook

Miss Jeanette Cook, who will become the bride of Joe Bob Hampton in the First Baptist Church on Sept. 12, was honored at a miscellaneous shower party on Aug. 8.

The party was given in the home of Mrs. Gerald Wilson. Other hostesses were Mrs. J. B. Sneed, Mrs. Tommy Braddy, Mrs. Jim Wiman, and Mrs. Clinton Jackson.

Guests were entertained with games and skits presented by the hostesses. Honored guests were the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. O. C. Hampton of Cactus, and the honoree's mother, Mrs. A. H. Cook of Summerfield.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

The Rev. and Mrs. Johnny Williams of Adrian are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Glenda Eileen to Mr. Jim Briggs of Abilene.

Vows were exchanged in the Liberty Methodist Church in Plainview on Saturday Aug. 17. Both are students at McMurry College in Abilene.

Oil Stains
Oil stains on cloth rugs should be treated first with a cloth soaked in lime water. Then wash, if necessary.

Iris Fay Hodges, Donnie Cowart Are Married in Home Ceremony

NUPTIAL vows were exchanged Saturday evening, Aug. 10, at twilight between Iris Fay Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hodges Jr., and Donnie G. Cowart, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Cowart of this city.

The Rev. Eugene Naugle, pastor of the Westway Methodist Church, read the double-ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate members of the two families at the country home of the bride's parents in the Frío Community.

A fan-shaped arrangement of pink and white gladioli decorated the organ before which the couple and their attendants stood, with wedding tapers in wall candelabra highlighting the scene.

Attendants were Mrs. Erna Rickman, aunt of the bride, who served as matron of honor, and Julian W. Johnson, as best man. Mrs. Rickman wore an ice pink dress of cotton and nylon styled along princess lines and her corsage was of white Frenched carnations.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of white taffeta fashioned with fitted torso having a low oval neckline and short sleeves. The very full skirt was attached to the bodice with a white satin bustle bow in the back. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place to a bandeau of nylon leaves ornamented with seed pearls and she carried a white Bible topped with white carnations centered with a removable corsage of white gladioli, showered with white satin loveknof streamers.

Mrs. Hodges, the bride's mother.

Household Scrapbook

Perfume Stains
Perfume stains are among the most stubborn. Try wetting the spot with water, then working on it with glycerine and a piece of cheese-cloth, and rinsing out with water. If traces still remain, work on it some more with a 20-percent solution of acetic acid (or vinegar), and rinse out again with water.

Keeping Marshmallows
Marshmallows can be kept soft by storing them in a tightly-sealed jar or can. If they have become hard, they will soften up again if put into the bread box overnight.

Streaky Mirrors
Stubborn streaks in the mirrors can often be overcome by rubbing them with a little oil-type furniture polish.

Paraffin on Utensils
The film which adheres to the inside of a basin or saucepan in which paraffin has been melted can be removed by filling the utensil with boiling water. When the water has cooled, the paraffin will be found floating on the surface.

Homemade Breakfast Food
Try popping some popcorn without grease or salt, then running it through the food chopper. Serve with sugar and cream. It is both economical and healthful.

Gracey Belle Brunson, Gayle Cornelius Are Wed Sunday

IN A DOUBLE-RING ceremony held Sunday at 3 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church, Miss Gracey Belle Brunson became the bride of Gayle Cornelius with the pastor, the Rev. Alby Cockrell, reading the marriage service.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ada Brunson and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cornelius, 503 Ave. F.

Baskets of white gladioli and greenery backed an arch entwined with greenery, white carnations and chrysanthemums. White cathedral tapers burned in seven branched candelabra.

Mrs. Bill Brady, organist, and Irene Melugin, vocalist, gave the wedding music. Miss Melugin sang "O Promise Me" and "Because" and the traditional wedding marches were used.

Miss Rae Brunson was her sister's bridesmaid. She wore a fitted dress fashioned of toast lace over beige satin and carried a nosegay of pink feathered carnations.

The reception which followed the ceremony was held in the future home of the bride-couple at 419 Ave. J. Assisting with the hostesses were Virginia Goodard and Bridene Huff who presided at the bride's table, and Lola Faye Yeazey, who secured names of guests for the bride's book.

and ushers were Claude Melugin and Fred Fox.

GIVEN IN marriage by her uncle, Roy Brunson of Claude, the bride was attired in a beige lace dress fashioned over matching satin. The fitted bodice featured a low square neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The full ballerina length skirt fell in loose folds from the low waistline. Her off the face veil of illusion was attached to a half-hat of lace and she carried a white orchid atop a white Bible edged in white carnations. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls and she carried a white linen handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brunson wore a toast colored faille dress with beige velvet accessories, and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue and white cotton tweed suit with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

The reception which followed the ceremony was held in the future home of the bride-couple at 419 Ave. J. Assisting with the hostesses were Virginia Goodard and Bridene Huff who presided at the bride's table, and Lola Faye Yeazey, who secured names of guests for the bride's book.

WHEN THE couple left on a short honeymoon trip to points in Colorado, the bride was wearing a sheath dress of brown and gold cotton with beige accessories. After Aug. 18 they will reside at the J Street address.

The bride was graduated from Hereford High School in 1955 and attended Draughon's Business College in Amarillo. She is presently employed in the Hereford Independent Schools tax office.

Cornelius attended Hereford schools and spent several months in army service. He is now employed at the Kenny Gear Machine Works.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brunson, Mrs. G. J. Brunson, Mrs. Oscar Brunson, Mrs. G. E. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dye, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cope, all of Claude, Mrs. Clara Goodin, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dye, Mrs. Dolly Harris, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Gore, all of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Coconougher and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gore of Friona, Mrs. Virginia Goddard of Sumner, Washington, Mrs. Wita Cowan of Concord, Calif., and Bob Burton of Guthrie, Okla.

Bride-Elect Christine Thomas Is Honored by Shower Courtesy

Miss Christine Thomas, bride elect of Roy Evans, was honored at a shower courtesy given in the home of Mrs. Elmer Patterson recently.

Assisting Mrs. Patterson as hostesses were Mesdames E. M. Green, Earl Head, Stewart Dean, and H. V. Stanton. Others making up the house party were Mrs. Floyd Shelton, Dorothy Allmon, Patsy Ann Gray.

In keeping with the bride-elect's chosen colors, a blue and white color theme was used in decorations and appointments. The refreshment table was laid with a white sheer linen cloth over blue and the punch bowl was encircled with blue and white daisies. White cake squares were topped with tiny blue sugar-spun roses.

The couple will be married on Sept. 1, in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas.

Attending the gift party were Mesdames Henry Thomas, Clifton Elliston, Burl France, J. L. Bell, D. C. Allmon, Monroe Parker, Charles Crowell, B. E. Helton, Ray McCullough, Joe Pitts, R. M. Ingalls, E. L. McGee, Bob Clark, Ethel Riley, Ethel Layman, Frank Pinnell, Dennis Cary, Grover Whisenhunt, Floyd Walton, Cecil Parker, Carl Harrison, Chester Harrison, Arthur Tinsley, Izora McLaughlin, Margaret Hare, E. Ramey, A. J. Hudson, Misses Shirley Shelton and Wanda Pitts. Many sent gifts who were unable to attend the party.

Rancid Butter
The most rancid butter can often be freshened if broken up and put into fresh milk. Allow it to absorb the milk, drain thoroughly, then wash in cold salted water and work it again into the desired form.

Scorched Linen
Scorch can be removed from linen by cutting a raw onion in half and rubbing the flat side of it on the discolored area; then soak the linen in cold water for several hours.

'NEW CROPS, NEW METHODS' PROVIDE ONE WAY OUT

Research Station Might Help Solve Problem of Toppling Grain Supports

A new organization, the High Plains Research Station, has come into existence. Its birth was recorded in 1956 without fanfare, though its inception was unique, according to modern ideas.

The research station, as we understand it, spurns government aid and tax money preferring, instead, to operate on donations and free of government red tape. The announced object of the research center, to say the least, is wrapped up in the sole idea of helping farmers produce more with the same amount of land, water and at the same expense.

While water depletion is on the minds of all residents of the area, appearance of the research foundation is indeed timely. Most people will also grant that "it could make the difference" five, 10, 25 years from now. Soil depletion is an equally important factor, though possibly not so timely at the present.

Among other things, the research station proposes to study new crops for the area; crops which might profitably replace some of those of the present day. Sponsors will, of course, study yields and methods, along with proper fertilization, in an effort to produce "more" with the same expenditure of water, soil and other resources.

Information of this type in the past would have meant literally millions of dollars in profits to farmers of the High Plains area, especially as the vegetable industry developed in the Hereford territory. And today, some people still contend that the "right crop" still remains to be uncovered.

All in all, the research foundation sounds like a project which the territory has needed for a long time. It has been sought on a state and federal levels, only to be discarded by administrators. Whether the present station is the answer, only time will tell.

It does seem worthy of serious study and consideration, however. Every progressive farmer, interested in his future and his pocketbook, would do well to investigate it thoroughly and, if it merits his approval, to support it to the best of his ability—especially in these times when he faces the probability of even lower grain sorghum price supports on the area's base commodity.

Proposed Reserve Training Center Is Step Toward Area Recreation Grounds

Recommendation of Veteran's Park as the logical site for location of the proposed new $30,000 reserve unit training center brings one step closer the realization of a long range community-wide recreational area along Tierra Blanca Creek. It also moves a step closer toward an area of which the entire Panhandle will be proud.

The park, outgrowth of a government CCC project back in the 1930's, today boasts improvements in the form of a central club house and recreation hall, the County Bull Barn, Pony League ball park and a picnic and outing center second to none in West Texas. Additional plans include improvements in the Bull Barn area to accommodate 4-H and F. F. A. activities, along with some future possibilities of a community fair or exposition.

Military-wise, the reserve unit building would join the focal point of American Legion and V. F. W. headquarters and, at the same time, provide ample area for expansion to meet such needs as tomorrow's types of warfare might dictate. Certainly, if the location meets requirements of the armed forces, it adds graciously to plans which community leaders might harbor in regard to future growth of the area as a community recreation center.

As property of veterans, it is not practical that the park acreage could develop otherwise than in the interest of the general public. Veterans of both organizations have in this, as in all other instances, been most cooperative and practical in locating improvements in behalf of the public. This policy has resulted in a growing interest in the area from time to time, resulting in extensive development during the past decade.

If Washington does approve the location, it seems that all concerned will benefit, and the people of this area will be one step closer toward the outstanding recreational center which the park areas was visualized in the dreams of community builders of more than a quarter-century ago.

Tax League Could Become Area's Greatest Asset

Local taxes have been drug through the mud during recent weeks, providing a topic which many people shun, others exhort to the four winds, and which a small minority may view in a level-headed manner.

Out of the controversy has come a so-called tax league, founded chiefly as a means of protest against county evaluations. League sponsored petitions, on this basis, were passed over lightly by the commissioners and, to our knowledge, serve little purpose. Therein lies a point worthy of far more consideration than any other immediate effects resulting from the recent controversy.

In these days of expanding government costs, a banafide citizen's tax league, interested in general public welfare and backed by a majority of the citizens of the area, could well become the most important, the most influential and the most practical organization the people have ever known. Such leagues are developing in many towns, cities and counties furthermore, they are doing more toward putting the government back into the hands of the people than has any single movement since the close of the "depression" and initiation of the governmental spending spree which started around 1940.

A successful tax league must, first, look toward the welfare of the general public; sometimes, it might even recommend county, school or city expenditures. Such a league should ever and foremost demand and seek equalization of taxes on all levels; individual selfishness could ruin a tax league quicker than any other single factor. Committees should be appointed to study government costs and actual needs and to compare these needs against current budgets of the various governmental sub-divisions.

Sentiment reflected from a successful tax league should reflect the thinking and desires of the community as a whole regarding progress, growth and future development. Rising incomes and rising costs necessitate more tax money, and these factors merit every consideration of tax league members. Certainly, people cannot expect county employees to work on a 1932 wage scale, while others enjoy incomes on a 1957 level.

Honest equalization of taxes (advocated by The Brand during this entire hassle) should be the goal of all citizens—and it would be the purpose of the tax league to effect this measure as rapidly as possible. As one speaker before the league recently pointed out, such items as "money in banks, mort-

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

These Readers Like The Brand

If you were the editor, what changes would you make in The Brand?

MRS. T. L. SPARKMAN JR.—I don't know of any changes that need to be made. I enjoy the local news as much as anything and that is covered pretty well.

PICKENS MOORE—I think it serves its purpose pretty well as long as it covers the news of the town. I wish it had Pogo though—I do miss Pogo.

MRS. DENZIL PULLIAM—I think The Brand is pretty well complete. It has lots of columns and everything. As a matter of fact, I'm reading it right now.

MRS. FRED SIMS—I don't have any suggestions at all for changes in The Brand. As far as I'm concerned, I enjoy reading it.

BILL HARDWICK—I like it just as it is, and feel that it covers pretty well everything. Formerly, I wasn't reading it through, but now read The Brand from cover to cover and feel you're doing a pretty good job.

G. W. NEWSOM—Offhand I can't think of any changes I would make. I think The Brand staff does a good job, and the paper has improved a lot in the last two or three years. It is as good a paper for a town this size as any newspaper in the Panhandle. The pictures are excellent. If I were the editor, any changes I might make would probably be for the worse.

MRS. CLAUD McDOUGAL—That is a hard question for me since I have always enjoyed The Brand and especially the editorials and news items. I don't believe I could offer any constructive criticism along that line. My husband and I have become accustomed to reading The Brand and we enjoy it very much.

LOWELL SHARP—Less of that stuff between "Bed Slats" Gilliland and Jimmie Gillentine would be the first change I'd make. Actually though, as a semi-weekly, I feel that The Brand's staff is doing a very good job.

DAVE ALEXANDER—I don't believe I'd make any changes. I read it from cover to cover and I like it.

EDITOR'S NOTE—No newspaper, we fear, can be this good. While the compliments occasioned by this week's "question" are appreciated, we would like to hear from other readers what they would do for The Brand if they had opportunity to occupy the editor's chair.

NEXT WEEK'S QUESTION will be, "What would you do differently if you had the last five years to live over?" If you would like to answer, please call or write us by 5 p.m. Wednesday. Your signed letters of suggestion will be printed on this page.

gages, wheat in the elevator and other taxable commodities" should be brought into focus on a basis of area-wide tax equalization.

If representation in the tax league increased from 16 to 11, 116, if they studied the government needs carefully and weighed possible benefits against costs, if they offered constructive criticism instead of harsh complaints then, and then only, would we have the operation of a true democratic form of government. Of equal importance would be strict application of the Golden Rule interpreted to read: Do unto my neighbor as you do unto me!

Until these things come to pass—and we doubt that they soon will—we agree with the tax league speaker, when he said: "Our whole system of taxation is antiquated" or, as we phrased it once before, "We are still using Model T taxing methods to finance 1956 roads." Meanwhile, we honestly and conscientiously answer the question: "Whose fault is it?" There can be but one answer. That answer is: "OUR OWN." Like generations—even civilizations—before us, we are slowly learning that freedom is often harder to keep than to win. Let us hope this realization dawns on the American people before it is too late, as was the case in ancient Rome and on down the line to modern day France.

Every Texan Owns Part of 2 Ferry Boats

Galveston in Texas owns two cruisers, the Galveston Progress Committee reports.

Even non-taxpaying citizens have an impressive sea-worthy vessel at their beck and call. The Gulf Coast civic group reports.

The two 177-foot diesel-engined cruisers are harbored in Galveston Bay for pleasure as well as utilitarian purposes.

These "cruisers," the U. S. Cone Johnson and the R. S. Sterling, are the state's only remaining ferry boats and, as state property, every taxpayer in Texas owns a share in them.

THE ONLY toll-free ferry service in Texas, the Bolivar Ferry is operated by the State Highway Department, connecting U. S. Highway 75 from Galveston Island with State Highway 87 to Bolivar Peninsula, and to Port Arthur and Beaumont.

Complete with captains, engineers and 56 crewmen, the ships operate on a 24-hour daily service throughout the year, transporting more than two million passengers and 700,000 vehicles annually.

Schedules vary with the seasons and the volume of traffic. Normally, they operate on a 30-minute schedule from May to September, but during peak summer periods, the ferries make the four-mile trip (Continued On Page 3)

DUMAS BOYS ON SULLIVAN SHOW

Two Dumas boys, Jimmy Bowen and Donnie Lanier, made a second appearance on the Ed Sullivan television show Sunday night, Aug. 11, with singer Buddy Knox, who is now stationed at an Army training school at Fort Knox, Ky. The three make up a music group called the Rythm Orchids, and were part of an Army talent show on the program. Since Knox's entry into the Army has separated the group, both Bowen and Lanier have started singing for their own records. Bowen's "I'm Stickin' With You" has already crossed the million-record sales mark. Lanier's "Pony Tail Girl," backed by "Private Property," has just been released. Both boys have been making tours to introduce their records, and plan to go into Canada for further publicity.—MOORE COUNTY NEWS.

LITTLEFIELD PRESS GETS AWARD

The Littlefield Press was awarded a Distinguished Community Service plaque at the West Texas Press Assn. meeting Saturday, Aug. 10 at the Caprock Hotel in Lubbock. James Roberson of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce made the presentation. The award was based on the role the Littlefield newspapers played in the direction and establishment of the Industrial Foundation in Littlefield. Information made up of clippings and photographs was compiled in a leather bound scrapbook. The scrapbook, compiled by Janice Renfro, will be presented to the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce.—COUNTY WIDE NEWS.

JAILBREAK IN WELLINGTON

Two prisoners knocked a hole in the east wall of Collingsworth county jail and let themselves down from the second floor by a blanket to escape about 1 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 7. Eighteen-year-old John Lindley changed his mind about his new found freedom, however, and was waiting in front of Kenneth Hodge's home when the deputy sheriff awoke about 6 a.m. The other man, Robert Earp, alias Robert Long, was arrested in Hollis, Okla., the same day. He refused to waive extradition, and as he was also wanted by Greer county, he is now being held in the Mangum jail, Hodge said. The break occurred while sheriff John Rainey and his family, who live at the jail, were on vacation. One other prisoner in jail refused to take part in the break, Hodge said.—WELLINGTON LEADER.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm thinks he has sighted an alarming trend, but what probably ought to alarm him is the state of his farm, not the state of the country.

Dear editor:

A newspaper fell out of an airplane over my farm out here yesterday, one of my neighbors thought it was a hydrogen bomb and ran for cover but I knew better, anybody smart enough to make a hydrogen bomb would have too much sense to waste one on a farm like mine—from the air I imagine my farm looks like a place some bomb-dropper has already beaten the other fellow to—and I sat where I was and watched it float down, marked the place in my mind where it fell and after I got through resting I walked over and picked it up and since one place is about as good as another to sit back down in I sat back down right there and read it. If I'd been thinking I wouldn't have reached down to pick it up, but would have sat down beside it and saved the effort, but a man can't think all the time.

Wasn't much in it except for one article that struck me right between the eyes and sounded worse than a hydrogen bomb in its after-effects.

According to it, a man was being tried in Federal court for income tax evasion and the prosecuting attorney was trying to prove he didn't report all his income one year because his records showed he spent more than he claimed he took in.

The prosecuting attorney said this was clear evidence he hadn't reported all his income.

I don't know whether you realize it or not, but such a line of argument is a threat to the entire installment-buying economy of the United States and will destroy the peace of mind of three-fourths of the people.

If the government is going to take the attitude that anybody who spends more in one year than he makes is obviously knocking down on his income tax, there's going to be the biggest shortage of defense lawyers in the history of the universe. Hereford won't have a tenth enough lawyers to go around.

If the government is so far out of touch with reality it thinks it can make a case against everybody who finishes up a year spending more than he made, practically everybody might as well turn himself in and plead for mercy.

And come to think of it, two years out of three, the Federal government itself spends more than it takes in, and who we gonna get to try it.

I'm not in favor of cheating on your income tax, but if Washington figures anybody who spends more than he makes is guilty of it, all I've got to say is sidetrack the Federal road-building program, call off foreign aid and halt all the defense spending, put all the funds in one pot and start building jails.

I think there ought to be a law against spending more than you make, but take this up with your family and see how far you get.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

12 minutes. If a trip on the Bolivar Ferry is relatively short by comparison with other sea voyages, the fact that it is pleasant, free and always available more than compensates. Sea going passengers amuse themselves by feeding sea gulls, watching the antics of the porpoises and the churning wake trailing the vessel or by speculating on the destinations of the out going freighters.

FOR THE fullest enjoyment, visitors are reminded to pick up several loaves of bread (they don't have to be fresh) to feed the sea gulls.

There's a distinct difference in feeding techniques and the birds' response. From the stern, bread can be leisurely tossed at eye level to the open-mouthed sea gulls.

From the observation decks, on the other hand, you need a good, strong throwing arm to reach your targets, since it is necessary to lean three rows of automobiles stacked beneath the observation deck.

If your aim is good and the wind light, you can have the sea gulls flying low to take the bread balls out of your hands before the end of the voyage.

TALK OF replacing the ferry service with a tunnel or a causeway has subsided since the Cone Johnson and the Sterling vessels were commissioned in 1950, dry docking the old "Galveston" and "Jefferson" ferries. They cost $33,000 each and were built by Todd Shipyards Corp. in Galveston.

Until 1935 when Galveston County purchased the old ferry boats from private owners and turned them over to the Highway Department, a toll of $1 per car was charged.

For the next 15 years, a 25 cent toll was made by the state. Ironically, after the new ferries were put into service in 1950, the toll charge, rather than being increased, was dropped entirely.

Sheep, in the south of Chile, sometimes grow such heavy wool that when it rains, they get water-logged and are unable to get onto their feet. Death from starvation or disease is usually the result.

How To Make Perfect Jelly

By OLIVE R. COOKE
AP Newsfeatures

It's jelly-making time, and here are some tips tested by experts to make the task easier and the results perfect every time.

It is best to work with a small quantity of juice when making jelly. Two quarts of juice is a sufficient quantity to handle at one time. Best results are obtained in jelly making when only small amounts of juice are used.

Do not mash fruit if you wish to have a clear jelly.

The bag through which fruit is strained should never be squeezed, for clear juice can be obtained only when juice is extracted by dripping.

Paraffin wax can be shaved into the bottom of jelly glasses before the hot jelly is poured into them and it will rise to the top of the glass and cover the top of the jelly.

Dip a spoon into the jelly when it is cooking, taking out a little jelly, cool slightly and allow jelly to drop from the side of the spoon. If it sheets and tears off from the spoon in pieces the jelly is done.

If you prefer to melt your paraffin and pour it over the jelly, a small pitcher or teapot is a good thing to use, as the spout is handy for pouring the wax.

Just before the paraffin hardens on your glasses of jelly, lay a clean length of heavy white crochet thread across the top with an inch or so over both sides. This will make the removing of the wax easy. After the wax has hardened fold the loose ends back over the top of the wax then seal the jar with a tin lid. When you open the jelly just take hold of each end of the string and lift out the hardened disc of wax.

If acid is lacking in fruit juices, one tablespoon of lemon juice added to one cup of fruit juice will help the fruit juice to jell.

In extracting fruit juices, just enough water to prevent sticking should be used in boiling soft fruits. For hard fruits, cook with enough water to cover until the fruit is soft.

In making apple jelly, flavoring may be added such as mint or oil of cinnamon.

GIVES RUSSIA THE BIRD
BISBEE, ARIZ. (AP)—A local couple had little trouble locating their missing parakeet when they reported to the Bisbee Daily Review that the bird was easily recognizable by his voice. The parakeet, they said, had a habit of aligning on people's shoulders and saying: "Viva la France! To hell with the Russians!"

Mrs. Bud Hopson Feted at Coffee

By MRS. T. B. THOMAS

She has been visiting in the home of her son Jerry Landers and in the Alfred and Luelle Hopson homes. She left Tuesday morning for Oklahoma where she will visit other relatives before returning home.

Those attending the coffee enjoyed hearing news of the members of the Grady Wilson family of Sturgis and Faith, S. D. all of whom are former residents of this community.

Present were the honor guest—her sons, Mesdames Merlin Kaul, George Turrentine, Jan, Carol, and Patti, Glenn Hopson, Edana and Joey, Lewis Shirley, C. A. Sauley, Paul Rudd, G. C. Merritt, H. D. Blythe Jr., and Liz Ann, Lucille Hopson, P. B. Sowell, Bess Werner, R. L. Wilson, Harold Rudd, Lynn, Patsy, Rea, and Kit, Edgar Skypala, Kenneth Rudd, Teresa, Susan, and Paul, Roy Haltom, Debby Wilson, and the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Auten, Janet, Jeanie, Nancy, and Brenda of Phoenix, Ariz., were guests over the weekend in the home of the Jim Autens. Eugene is a nephew of Jim, and he and his family were en route to Arkansas where they will visit other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Auten and Olive May of Jamestown, Ark., accompanied their son-Buddy Auten, Mrs. Auten and Butch of Alton; Ill., to visit the past few days in the Jim Auten home. Marvin and Bud Morrison of Hereford and J. C. Morrison also visited with them at the Auten home while they were here.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Cunningham of Amarillo were weekend guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Sowell.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Sowell are leaving this week for a vacation trip to Pagosa Springs, Colo. They will be joined there in a few days by their children and their families of Amarillo. Included in the group will be Mr. and Mrs. David Sowell and children Diana and Davie, and Mr. and Mrs. Buck Cunningham.

Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Rudd, Sandy and Linda of Abilene were weekend guests in the home of his brother, Paul Rudd. On Sunday Mrs. L. H. McMurray, Lee and Ronnie of Hereford were also visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. George Olson, Donna and Stevie of southeast of Hereford were visitors in the Ken Rudd home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Paetzold spent several days last week in the home of their daughter Mrs. George Turrentine. Mr. Paetzold built a new storage closet in the utility room of the Turrentine home and put a new door and window in the kitchen to open onto a patio and outdoor living room.

Mrs. Joe Reinauer and boys have returned home after spending two weeks in Oklahoma City, Okla. Reinauer, who recently underwent surgery in a hospital there, will fly home when he is able.

Mrs. Joe Reinauer entertained Jan Turrentine and Wallace Roach of Tatum, N. M., to lunch on Friday. Wallace and his sister Martha, children of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Roach of Tatum, have been staying in the Turrentine home while their parents were attending a convention for school bus drivers in New Mexico. Mrs. Roach, who is the former Mary Turrentine, plans to return to teaching this year at Tatum. Wallace will be a first grader.

Mrs. Ernest Flood and children have been visiting in Oklahoma City, Okla. for some time. Ernest joined them at Sterling, Okla. the last of the week where he was called by the death of his grandmother. She was 90 years old. Ernest went to Pampa en route to Sterling where he was joined by his brother Edwin who also attended the funeral.

Guests in the Clarence Sauley home on Sunday included their daughter Mrs. J. E. O'dell and family of Amarillo, their son James Baker and family of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Brooks of Muleshoe, Less Jameson and Mrs. Joyce Mullins of Matador, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cook of Amarillo, and Fred Severance of Hereford.

Mrs. Joyce Mullins is spending the week in the C. A. Sauley home.

Larry Kaul went to Stillwater, Okla., last weekend where he attended a summer get-together of the Farm House Fraternity. He was a guest in the home of Davey Hilbig at Freedom, Okla., en route home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Durstine of Friona were callers in the Merline Kaul home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Gene Roach came Saturday to get her children, Wallace and Martha, who have been staying here with their grandmother, Mrs. Bess Warner and their aunt, Mrs. George Turrentine and family, while Mr. and Mrs. Roach were attending a convention at Silver City, N. M. Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Alston have returned home after a trip to Estes Park and other points in the mountains in Colorado.

A community revival began Monday night at the Community House here. Raymond Bowlin of Amarillo is the evangelist and Jack Edwards is song director.

Mrs. James Ray Coleman talked to several people in this community by telephone Monday evening. The Colemans, who live at Crested Butte, Colo., came down to drive his mother Mrs. Ruth Coleman and his grandmother Mrs. Pinkerton, back to Crested Butte where they will make an extended visit with the James Ray Coleman family.

The J. C. Morrisons have received a letter from their son, Ralph, who is now stationed in Iceland. He asked his mother to send some reading material as he is being sent to an out-post where reading will provide the only entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wells Jr. of Amarillo were guests of his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rudd on Tuesday night.

Mrs. Lester Mullins of Matador returned to Hereford with Mrs. Jimmy O'Dell and children and Mrs. C. A. Sauley after their visit to Roaring Springs. The group visited with Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Mullins and other relatives. Mrs. Paul Rudd was hostess Thursday at an anniversary dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rudd. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rudd, Paul and Homer Rudd, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Corley of Clovis, a sister of Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Hooper and children of Silver City, N. M. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Springer and

HEREFORD PARTS & SUPPLY CO.

"Parts Headquarters for 'Doctors of Motors'"

Hereford Parts and Supply, 228-232 North Main, was established in January, 1945 by Dale Tinnin, owner and manager. Dale is a native Texan having been reared in Ralls and came here from Plainview where he was in the parts business. He has had 25 years experience as a parts man.

This local business firm, wholesale and retail of automotive supplies, has a special machine shop service. They have the most complete service in town for irrigation farmers with their farm equipment and well motor supplies. They specialize maintenance for farmers to keep those well motors going.

Principle brands handled by this firm are Fram filters, Perfect Circle rings, Permite steel parts, Federal Mogul motor bearings, Gates belts and hose. They hold the exclusive dealership for Davis Lawn mowers.

Five employees of the company are Lester Wagner, assistant manager; Otto Gilliland, counter man; Kenneth Kelly, counter man; Clarence Strange, shop service, and Edith Roland, bookkeeper. All are trained in the special services they perform.

Hereford Parts and Supply recently expanded and remodeled—doubling their floor space and increasing their inventory in order to better serve their customers.

WESTWAY NEWS

Janice of Seminole spent Wednesday night and Thursday with her sister and family. Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Merritt and G. C. Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cheatham and children have recently moved from the Henry Andrews farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hansen of Amarillo are new residents. They moved to the Westway fertilizer company home, across the road from the country store of the Combs Brothers.

Mrs. G. C. Merritt Sr. accompanied Mrs. Elmer Combs and Ann Wagoner to Amarillo to visit with friends to tend to business.

Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Pierce drove to Exell to get Deborah who has been visiting relatives. Danny and Donna are visiting in the Joe Wagoner home.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Fox, Don and Albert Lewis of O'Brien and Winters visited with his sister, Mrs. Herbert Owens and husband. Fox is a teacher in the public schools in Winters but lives on the farm at O'Brien in summer.

Mrs. J. H. Landers accompanied R. M. Gunn to Kernah to aid in caring for Mrs. Corda Landers, who is ill.

Jackie Nunley, Sandra Green, Becky Jackson and Mrs. Clinton Jackson attended rally day on Friday night at the Rook clubhouse in Hereford. The girls did copper work.

Jackie Nunley spent several days at Dimmitt with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lewis and children. She plans to return to visit them again this week.

When the New York Stock Exchange opened in 1817, members were fined six to 25 cents for non-attendance unless sick or out of the city.

ASC Funds Available Now for Waterways, Terraces

By MAX SCHRADER

The Deal Smith County ASC office now has funds available for such conservation practices as terraces and waterways. The practices for which these funds are available must be completed by Dec. 31.

Until this past spring and summer the drought had more or less obscured the need for such conservation measures. During this year it likely appeared that at most they weren't needed very badly. The risk of loss of crops and soil seemed remote.

The rains of late May and again in July and August have revealed an urgent need for waterways on many farms and ranches. One farmer states that when he moved to his farm the neighbors told him a waterway wouldn't be used once in 15 years. This same farmer has had his fields badly washed on two occasions earlier this year and just recently they were again damaged.

Farms located on long slopes are often badly in need of these farm practices. They often receive water from many neighboring farms and many times water is carried for miles along roads before finding a place to get to a draw or lake. Any field situated in any natural water course is bound to receive some damage. Water from various fields and pastures will always find a low place to concentrate. We have all seen fields where this water has concentrated in moving down slope. Usually the farmer will lose at least part of his crop and perhaps suffer considerable damage to his land.

Waterways are only a form of insurance. In some fields a man will never be sure of getting the maximum production from his rainfall unless he has the protection of one. We know they take up land that could be contributing to production in ordinary years, but this protection is still needed at all times.

Waterways can often be situated so that they will serve a number of different farms. This is a neighborhood conservation pracice and of equal benefit to all. A waterway need not be a deep gully. For best results it should be broad with a flat bottom and in many cases can be driven across. It also offers the opportunity for some protection. A crop of grass or even alfalfa can be harvested from it. I wouldn't look for the return from crops to justify the construction of one. Indirectly they will contribute far more to production than the forage you might grow on one.

It quite often happens that a waterway will give needed protection to a considerably greater number of acres by using it in connection with terraces. To get the most from a system of terraces they must have a good outlet to drain into. A waterway is a must when being used with terraces. It does little good to terrace when the water is allowed to run around the terrace ends or to start a gully at the edge of a field.

In many instances a diversion terrace emptying into a waterway would give all the protection needed. Getting sound water conservation on the land isn't always a single practice job. We need to tie these different practices like diversions, contouring, waterways and stubble mulching together before we can get value received from any single one.

Rainfall Is Spotty

By MRS. C. L. HUTCHINS
Rainfall was spotty through the Broadview-Bellview area during the past week with some places receiving over an inch of rain while others got only a trace. The heaviest rainfall was in the Broadview area.
Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Grau of Grady reported 1.16 inches of rain Monday morning but only a few innumerable sprinkles Sunday night. Last Friday they also received a little moisture, which measured .04.

The Elmer Burnett, who farm north of Rosedale, received over an inch of moisture. Area farmers are hoping the recent drought period has been broken by the past week's showers.
Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stewart and Mrs. Irene Stewart of Antler, Okla., visited Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Allen, Shirley and Jimmy. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bowman, 1805 Ross St., Clovis, are the parents of a son born July 19 at the Clovis Memorial Hospital. The baby has been named Johnnie Lynn and is the grandson of Mrs. John Fryar of Clovis and the great-grandson of Mrs. J. W. Fryar in Broadview. The baby's mother is the former Jaunie Fryar.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Potts and daughters were guests Sunday in the home of his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Brown, who live on the Harrison Highway. Mrs. Arnold Hutchins and daughter Darlene and Mrs. Hutchins' sister-in-law, Mrs. Juanita Melton and daughter Peggy of Phoenix, Ariz., visited in the home of Mrs. Hutchins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Shope, in Clovis Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Turner of Long Beach, Calif., have been visiting for the past 10 days in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Taft Turner and son Dwight. They returned to their home in Long Beach Thursday. Mrs. Charles Gunnels and son Paul Dean also returned to their home in Uplands, Calif., with the Turners after visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lofton and sons and other relatives and friends.
Mr. and Mrs. Frances Decker and daughters Donna Jean and Beverly and a niece, Patricia Dunn of Clovis, recently returned from Durango, Colo., where they visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Decker and his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Decker and sons Mike and Garry. They reported having a wonderful trip, especially enjoying the cool weather in Colorado.

Relatives gathering in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lofton and sons Sunday for dinner were Ralph's mother, Mrs. Maude Lofton of Clovis; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lofton and daughter Virginia, and their other daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wall and daughter Cindy, all from Melrose; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Harrington, Victor and Clarawanna; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lofton, Mickie, and Danalee, and Mrs. Charles Gunnels and son Paul Dean of Upland, Calif. Calling in the afternoon was Novita Pulliam.
Mr. and Mrs. Larry Winkles of Pleasant Hill, whose home was recently destroyed by fire, purchased the home from the Earl Snyder farm and moved it this week. Bennett's House Moving Company moved the house to Pleasant Hill.

Junior leaders attending the Junior Southeastern 4-H District contest held in Roswell recently were Carol Willis, Marilyn Hutchins and Sandra Marks. Miss Willis was a judge in the tractor driver contest. Miss Hutchins helped with the clothing demonstrations and was a judge and Miss Marks was a judge for the food demonstrations. The girls were accompanied by their leaders, Mrs. Lillie Mae Daughtrey and Miss Ernestine Leonard.
Mrs. C. L. Hutchins visited from Tuesday to Friday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Reese in Fort Sumner. Her father who has been recently ill was much improved. She also visited with Mrs. Joe Thrasher and children Nell and Joe Jr. in Clovis en route to her home in Bellview.

Bellview residents shopping in Clovis Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mitchell, Garry Saxton, Mrs. Jimmy Page, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cross, Mrs. C. L. Hutchins and Marilyn, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burnett, Mrs. W. W. Lacey and Mrs. Elmer Burnett. Shopping in Clovis on Wednesday were Mrs. C. W. King and daughter Geneva and Mrs. Cecil Colwell of South Gate, Calif.
Pat Ridley has recently returned from her vacation which included visiting relatives in Okla-

"My ELECTRIC Home Freezer FREES ME!"

says MRS. CLIFF BAUER OF BOISE CITY, OKLAHOMA

"My freezer frees me from the usual last minute rushes, when fixing a meal for my husband, entertaining, or getting ready to go fishing", says Mrs. Bauer. "I grow all kinds of vegetables in my garden and I freeze all my freezer will hold because the flavor is so much better. My meats and poultry I buy in quantity and, in season, when I can get the best prices." Take a tip from Mrs. Bauer - a freezer will free you just as it frees her.

The Rosedale Baptist Church sponsored a Youth Fellowship at the Rosedale gym Friday night following revival services. Different young people were in charge of the night's entertainment. Glynes and Geneva King were in charge of the refreshments. Bob by Lacey and Vernon Stokes were the entertainment committee and also assisted Artie Don Foster in cleaning the gym. The young people from the Prince Street Baptist Church in Clovis and their pastor, the Rev. T. J. Gamble were special guests. Games of volleyball and basketball were played by the group. Wayne Tate furnished refreshments. About fifty young people and thirty adults attended the fellowship.

This community lost one of its prominent citizens recently when death claimed William Joseph Fryar 74, retired farmer and rancher. He died at the Clovis Memorial Hospital, where he had previously been admitted for minor surgery. Fryar was born May 28, 1883, in Clarendon, and homesteaded a farm north of Broadview. He was preceded in death by three sons, Bryant, Jessie and John. Survivors include his wife, Oma of Broadview; three daughters, Laura Simpson of Buhl, Idaho, Ruth Culpepper of Clovis and Maggie Stout of Portales, four sons, James

HERE'S HOW
Use New Paint for a New Look

AP Newsfeatures

Paint manufacturers — well aware of the modern housewife's insatiable desire to make her home more and more distinctive — keep turning up with new ways to enable her to do it.

One of the latest is a polka dot paint.

The method goes like this: First you paint the wall (or walls) of the room to be dotted in the usual fashion — using a dominant color for this base coat. When this paint is dry, the polka dots are sprayed out of a special aerosol spray container which does not require any extra attachments — you simply remove the brass valve pin from the nozzle spray head and are ready to go.

The size of the dots is determined by the distance you hold the can away from the wall: the further away, the smaller the dots. Dots of many colors can be applied without waiting for each to dry.

To get the feel of the operation, be sure to practice with the spray can first on a large piece of cardboard before moving to the painted wall.

For those in search of a period look, there is a new way to re-finish old furniture by giving it a highly decorative antique appearance. The gimmick is specially prepared gold dust which can be added to the regular line of the manufacturers multicolored paint colors. Combinations of jade, black and gold, blue and gold, or white, black and gold are just a few of the decorative possibilities.

The spraying can be done with regular paint sprayer equipment or with the paint sprayer attachment of your vacuum cleaner. The base paint has a consistency which makes it possible to spray the new paint on to old furniture without removing the old finish. No special sanding is required.

If this talk about special effects gets you thinking about undertaking a major paint redecorating project, here are a few reminders about how to use color:

... In a room where a dark tone is used, one light wall will add to the illusion of length.

... A ceiling in a lighter shade than that used on the walls will always give an impression of height.

... The "cool" colors (blues, violets, blue-greens and blue-grays) tend to retreat and add the illusion of space.

... The "warm" colors (reds, oranges, yellows and yellow-greens) bring things closer together.

... If your stone or brick fireplace sticks out like a sore thumb in a small living room, try blending it in with its background-wall by painting it the same color as the wall. This will make it less obtrusive and thus cause the room to appear larger.

We've added new equipment now, a back-hoe and dragline, to handle your slush pit clean-out and other specialized digging.

WRITERS RAPPED
BUDAPEST, Hungary — Communist leaders in Borsod County, Northeastern Hungary, say they have been forced to conclude that many writers in the region are "quite unreliable, from an ideological standpoint."

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hershey visited Mrs. Joe Neely and Michael Saturday afternoon.

Supper guests in the H. L. Hershey home Friday evening were Mrs. Jim Ricketts of Grants, N. M., Mrs. Dudley Buzard of Floyd, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hershey of Dimmitt, Mrs. Dempsey Alexander, Rodky and Ricky, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hershey and Patricia and Mrs. Ray Hershey.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill West spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis West. They were on their way to California.

It seems Janos Holdi wrote a short story in which a steel worker called for the denationalization of industry and a return to private enterprise. Poet Ferenc Hudy compared the lot of the Hungarian people to "the fate of the Earth" on which people are forever trampling. And Laszlo Sandor produced a "literary abomination" in which the Soviet Union appears as a monster moving on caterpillar treads.

None of the offending works was published, but the Miskolc newspaper Eszakmagyarorszag (Northern Hungary) printed a letter of complaint about the writers, signed by its own editor and a local party official.

GOING, GOING, REAL GONE
PARIS, Ky. — James W. Thompson, a tobacco auctioneer for 35 years, has a new chant. He's just recorded two ballads for a Cincinnati record firm.

Thompson, who has a range of one-half an octave, first records his songs on a tape recorder at home, then sends the tape to Skeets Brannon in Lexington. Brannon writes the notes for the sheet music and returns it to Thompson, who again records the song on tape. His accompanist on the piano usually is Police Judge Thomas Johnston.

The songs recorded by Thompson are "Popoh House" and "Headin' Home."

Only GAS water heaters give you 2 water temperatures from one tank

FOR AUTOMATIC WASHER AND DISHWASHER 180°

FOR BATHROOMS, LAVATORIES, AND ALL OTHER NEEDS 130°

The revolutionary Duo-Temp water heater gives you hot water automatically right for every need

No more "juggling" the hot and cold water taps to get the right blend for bathing. No more pallid grey sheets from wash water not hot enough! The Duo-Temp feeds water from two separate outlets into bathroom and kitchen faucets... and into washer and dishwasher. Water for laundering holds to the temperature required for the whitest washes... yet water from the tap never exceeds a temperature that is safe to the touch. Additionally, your gas water heater vents to the outside as recommended by safety engineers. For details, call us, or visit a gas appliance dealer.
