The first program of the Community School Concert Series was enthusiastically received by more than 500 persons at the high school auditorium Tuesday night.

The Amarillo Symphony Orchestra, directed by A. Clyde Roller, and the Hereford High mixed choir, directed by Don Moore, presented the program.

Three encores were done by the symphony and one by the choir. Included in the program were: Prelude: Act I of La Traviata; Verdi: Andante Cantabile; Symphony No. 5 by Tschalikowsky; Victor Herbert variations and selections from My Fair Lady, a Broadway musical, all done by the symphony.

The choir sang Break Forth O Beauteous Heavenly Light by Bach and To Thee We Sing by Bach and Battle Hymn of the Republic as an encore. The choir and orchestra combined talents on Lacrymosa: Requiem by Mozart and Hallelujah Chorus from Messiah by Handel. Mrs. F. L. Alexander, treasurer of the Concert Series, said Roller and Eddie Melin, orchestra manager, were well pleased by the turnout and response.

Two more programs will be presented later as a part of the series.

EXCLUSIVE

Saucer Fleet Captain Grants an Interview

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A Brand reporter was granted the following exclusive interview with a member of the crew of one of the so-called "unidentified flying objects." The object has now been identified and so have its inhabitants.)

A rapid, heavy knocking startled me from a sound sleep. Grabbing a robe and stumbling to the door, I opened it. And immediately closed it.

"You work for The Brand?"

"Yes." "You offered $10, in cash, to the person who arranges an interview with a member of the crew of one of the 'objects'?"

"May I see the $10, please?" "Gulp! Just a minute."

Fully awake, but stunned, I stumbled back to the bedroom and came back with $10 from the grocery money. I showed it to him. He felt of it, taste-tested it and nodded.

The cape swirled and he was gone. Then he was back and with him was well-built, odd-looking chap of about 35.

"This is Nor Nor, captain of Fleet II, Section VII of His Exalted Royalty's Galactic Navy," said the just-risen-from-the-grave-looking man.

"Hello," said I, looking at Nor Nor's four eyes and 20 fingers.

"Hello," he replied, with just a touch of Oxford accent.

"Well," I said.

"Well, well," said Nor Nor. Scencing a news story of major proportions, I dug out a note pad and a brace of pencils from the desk. Settling myself calmly on the floor furnace, I began to think of questions. Then I moved to a chair. The black man took my floor-furnace seat. "Beastly cold weather you have here," he commented.

Ignoring him, I asked Nor Nor the first question: "Why do you have four eyes and 20 fingers?"

"Takes that many to run one of those blasted ships," he replied. "We just grew 'em."

I organized my questions quickly, remembering the old journalism-class adages.

"What are you doing here," I asked Nor Nor.

"Talking to you," he said. "He's making me," he pointed, with a glance at the dark one.

"What are you DOING here on Earth," I clarified.

He scratched his necks, took something from somewhere in his golden clothing, arranged his pink hair, squinted at the light, glared at me and said, "Studying."

"Studying! Who?"

"You."

"And others." He glared again. "Wheredoyou comfrom? What areyou? Why areyou studying? Whatis yourfavorite food? Howlong didditake youtoget here?" I asked, taking refuge in questions, remembering that people (?) are always interested in themselves.

Strong Levelland Team Is Favored

Several touchdowns the underdog, the Hereford Whitefaces will go to Levelland Friday night to do battle with the tough Lobos in a District 1-AAA game.

Levelland is tied with Littlefield for the district lead. Each team has two wins and no losses in conference play. The Lobos have won five and lost three over the season.

Last week, while Hereford was losing its second conference game to Dumas, coach Johnny Heckman's Levelland was tripping Phillips, 13-7. Levelland has defeated Dumas, 42-7, in its other district contest.

Hereford scout and assistant coach Rookie Rogers, who has seen the Lobos play five times this year, calls Levelland "a well-balanced club, with good passing and strong running."

AT PHILLIPS last week the Lobos rushed 242 yards and picked up 77 by passing. One score came by passing, the other on a short plunge. Levelland picked up 22 first downs to Phillips' nine.

Fullback Mike Vinyard is pacing the district in scoring with 48 points and right half Larry Tipton is fourth with 33 points. Right end Jerry Ballew has scored 30 points.

In preparing to meet the Lobos, Hereford's head coach Jack Harris still has manpower troubles.

Fullback C. D. Fitzgerald and tackle Don Drome both missed workouts Monday and Tuesday because of illness. Halfback Jim Curtsinger also was absent. Curtsinger has played very little in the last two games because of injuries.

ONLY 15 of 25 players made the trip to Dumas and only 16 reported for workout Monday. Tuesday, 17 were present.

"We're working hard and those out here are feeling good," Harris said Tuesday.

Rogers said Lobo quarterback Doug Cannon is a dangerous passer and Vinyard and Tipton are good, strong runners.

The probable offensive starters for Levelland are Ballew, 180, at right end; Eddie Curry, 185, right tackle; Joe Cookston, 180, Bruce Miller, center, 170; Tyrone White, 148, left guard; Frank Lawlis, left tackle, 180; Jerry Garrison, 165, left end; Cannon, 170, quarterback; Tipton, 157, right half; Vinyard, 175, fullback; David Sostin, left half, 140.

Harris said Tuesday he wasn't sure of his starting lineup. Littlefield will play Dumas at 4:30 p.m. Friday night. Phillips has an open date.

Both Hereford freshman and B teams will meet Canyon squads here at Whiteface Stadium tonight. The frosh game begins at 6 p.m. and the B contest at 8 p.m.

Delay School Tax Action

Discuss Methods of Collecting Building Funds

The Hereford school district's board of trustees nervously skirted a new request to slate action on taxes during their regular meeting Tuesday night. The request came from Fred Baird, school financial secretary, who was unable to attend the meeting due to illness.

Baird, confined to the county hospital since Monday by an attack of flu, sent word that any change in present taxing procedures to be made on the 1958 tax rolls will need to be undertaken by Dec. 1. After a brief discussion of taxation, the board tabled action pending a personal conference with Baird.

Most of the discussion centered around individual trustees' opinions on the need to stress personal property taxes and to incorporate improvements, such as new irrigation wells on the rolls.

BERT BOOMER, board vice president, twice pointed out that "our criticism has been on inequities." His reference was undoubtedly to a letter dated back to Aug. 9, 1956 from the school tax board of equalization that stated "... at the present time it seems that city property is just about taxed to the hilt as far as valuations are concerned."

Although the board last May 21 had agreed to the need for adoption of plans to equalize tax valuations between city and rural properties, they gave little evidence of any desire to follow through with any basic change in tax assessments at this time.

Turning to the possibility of a new school building tax and issue, board member Marcus Latham asked Superintendent Fred Cunningham what additional taxes would be needed to make bond payments.

"A 12 1/2% increase may be necessary. We have a bond issue," Cunningham replied.

"IF WE ONLY take a percentage increase then we wouldn't have to have a basic change," Latham said. "We need no board action on going out and picking up personal property not rendered. If we determine that more money is needed, then we can go to a percentage raise deal."

Boomer interjected, "Then, a little equalization might be in line, too."

Pampa Team Wins Boxing Matches

Pampa boxers won seven of 12 fights from members of the Hereford Athletic Club team in the Bull Barn Tuesday night before about 500 noisy fans.

A total of 16 fights were staged, four of them between Hereford pugilists. Four of the Pampa wins were via technical knockouts. There were no actual knockouts.

In the night's main event Doug Simmons, 220, of Pampa took a split decision from Gene Waits, 185, of Hereford. Simmons used his superior weight and height to force the fight and scored with looping rights. Waits gained points with digs to the body and several times fought his way off the ropes.

Charles Snider, one of the Pampa area's better amateurs, registered a TKO over Wes Chavers in the 153-pound class. Taking two or three punches to the head, Snider repeatedly ripped Chavers' midsection with hard hooks and the fight was stopped in the third round. A lean 85-pounder, James Tucker, scored a TKO win over David Green, Tucker, one of more skillful fighters of the night, opened a cut on Green's forehead in the second round and referee Dean Webb stopped the fight.

In the 70-pound class Roy Gonzales of Hereford took a real rouser from Dickie Powell of Pampa. Gonzales pushed the fight and landed more of his round-house punches than did Powell.

The Hereford boxers will pay a visit to Pampa on Nov. 22 and then go to Clovis on Dec. 3. The fights will be held in each town's National Guard armory. Complete results: Dickie Elliott, 46, Hereford, dec.

Tax Payments Are Lagging

Tax payments during October in 1957, the school and county collection offices have been slightly behind the 1956 pace, according to reports prepared by collectors for the school board and county commission.

Fred Baird's report to the school board Tuesday night, given by his assistant George Muse, showed 62 1/2 per cent of taxes collected as of Nov. 1, two per cent less than at the same time in 1956. Baird reportedly attributes the lag in payments to bad weather that has delayed harvest of most crops.

Mark Waddell, deputy county tax assessor-collector, told the county commission Tuesday that county collections have been 62 1/2 per cent to date, four per cent below the total at this time last year.

NO ACTION

Court Discusses New Tax Assessor

The appointment of a tax collector-assessor to replace the late Sank Ramey was discussed but no action was taken on the matter Tuesday by members of the county commissioners court.

While most of the session of the court was devoted to discussion of the appointment, the commissioners took time to act on several other items.

They okayed a contract for installation of the Bull Barn's roof, approved a motion to take bids on four snow plow attachments for road maintainers, approved the appointment of Deputy Sheriff W. F. McCarver, and heard an encouraging report on the county's general fund.

County Attorney Ed Line advised the court on the legal aspects of the appointment of a tax collector-assessor. He said that their appointee would legally serve through 1958, but that the office would be filled through election of a candidate during the regular general election next summer.

The next elected tax collector-assessor will serve only a two year term following his installation on Jan. 1, 1958. Mr. Ramey, who died in Deaf Smith County Hospital last Sunday following a short illness, was elected to a four-year term in 1956.

Naming his successor and awarding contracts for the snow plows will be considered further when the court reconvenes Saturday.

Mark Waddell, deputy tax collector-assessor, reported to the board that Mr. Ramey's accounts appear to be in excellent order.

County Judge Homer Hehlsiee reported to the commissioners that the general fund, with $42,496 already collected through taxes under a revised apportionment schedule, is now in better condition than it has been in several years.

Studer Repeats in Grid Contest With 19 Games Correct

Wilmer Studer became the first person to win the Brand's football guessing contest two straight weeks when he picked 19 of 25 winners in the eighth week's predicting.

Last week Studer had 17 winners to pick up first prize. This week he wins $5 in trade at the Jim Hill Hotel coffee shop.

Second place winner with 18 correct predictions is Lloyd Olson of Hereford. E. H. Loerwald, 715 Blewings, was one of three with 17 right guesses. Loerwald won via the tiebreaker by selecting Dumas over Hereford, 12-6. Dumas won, 13-6. Gene Waits and Marshall Wilson also had 17 winners.

Olson wins $3 in cash and Loerwald gets $2.

Ties between Navy and Duke and Texas and Baylor complicated the picking.

This week's first place prize is $5 in trade at B&S Auto Supply.

3 Slightly Hurt in Collision

Three men were slightly injured in a two-pickup collision about 3:30 p.m. Monday at the intersection of FM 214 and an unpaved road five miles southeast of Adrian.

C. W. Edwards, George Paschel and Chock Garrison were treated for cuts and bruises at Deaf Smith County Hospital and released.

Edwards, accompanied by Paschel, was driving one pickup and Garrison the other. All the men except Edwards live near Adrian.

Fund Drive Creeps Closer to Goal

"We're getting closer," said Woody Wilson, United Fund campaign manager, as he counted $19,629.51 of the $21,795 goal Wednesday morning.

Saturday and Monday brought in $718.71 and Tuesday accounted for $908.50.

Funeral Rites Held for County Official

Funeral services for Sank Ramey, Deaf Smith County tax assessor-collector, were held Monday afternoon in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home with the Rev. Howard Scott, First Baptist Church pastor, officiating.

Mr. Ramey, 64, of 223 Ave. B, died Sunday morning in Deaf Smith County Hospital after an illness of two weeks. He had suffered a heart attack.

He was elected to the tax assessor-collector office on Nov. 6, 1956, and took office on Jan. 1 of this year. Prior to Mr. Ramey's selection, the sheriff had acted as assessor-collector.

Mr. Ramey was born Dec. 4, 1892, at Eddyville, Ky. He came to Deaf Smith County in 1920 from Carlsbad, N. M. He was Railway Express agent in Hereford for many years before his election.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church and the Masonic Lodge. He was married to Mildred Carlton on Aug. 15, 1927, at Paris, Tex. She is among survivors.

Other survivors include a daughter, Mrs. MaFlisha White of Martinsville, La.; two sons, Jack of Amarillo and Peyton of Hereford, and one grandchild. Burial was in Rest Lawn Cemetery.

Rites Held for Gonzales Infant

Final rites for Reynal Gonzalez, five-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roberto Gonzalez of the Labor Camp, were held Tuesday morning at St. Joseph's Mission.

The baby died Sunday afternoon in the family home. Survivors include the parents and five sisters. Burial was in St. Anthony's Cemetery. Gilliland Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Freed on Bond

Aubrey Coulston, 29, of Sudan charged here with driving while intoxicated, second offense, was freed on $1,000 bond Sunday.

Coulston was arrested Thursday. He has been bound over to the grand jury which meets Nov. 18.

with them. I looked at the man in black. He was cleaning his nails. Nor Nor touched an odd-looking thing at his side. "It's a death-ray weapon," I thought frantically. "I'll call the boss and let him do the interview."

"You agreed to the interview," I appealed to Nor Nor, with a heartbreaking glance at the dark figure on the furnace. "Why don't you answer my questions?"

"We come from the second planet of the star which you call Sirius," Nor Nor finally said, continuing to finger the death-ray.

"We are studying you to see if you and your race are fit to work for us. We still need manual labor on some of the more remote planets. Your technology is primitive and you people are always killing each other. We are still evaluating you, but I doubt if you're fit to be our slaves," he murmured.

I looked about for somebody to kill. I didn't want to go to the outplanets, wherever they are.

"Whatever our decision is, you'll know within the year," Nor Nor stated crisply.

Feeling the interview was getting out of hand, I tried—some more questions, noting that two of Nor Nor's eyes had closed. The other two watched me intently. As I scribbled furiously and often illegibly, he told me the following, based on my questions:

"We are an old race, kin to man, but not the same. We control many worlds and many people. We have known about Earth for millions of years and Earth for millions of years and have watched you creatures grow, thinking of you as a source for income, and maybe, trade. But now we need workers."

"There are many things I like about Earth, but you people aren't one of those things."

"My favorite food is broiled xzythn from Betelgeuse."

"Yes, we got carefesa. Some fool has been putting paint meant for the atmosphere on another planet and it glows in your air. And a crewman accidentally left the windows wide open all one night. There's where all the lights have been coming from."

"We traveled here from Sirius in what would be one and a half weeks of your time."

"No, we won't kill anybody. Just need some laborers."

"No, we won't pay union scale."

"No, you don't get air sick in space."

"This is idiotic."

"No, we aren't going to save you from yourselves. At least not now."

"What? All right, but not too many."

(I had gotten a camera, dreaming of full pages in Life magazine, and also not wanting to pay $5 to that loathsome man in black for any pictures he might have. Fantastically mercenary thoughts began to fly about.)

"That flash is awfully bright," complained the stygian thing, as he lighted a cigarette by striking his fingers together.

I continued to push the button from various angles. Nor Nor expanded his chest and smirked at the camera. Changing rolls of film, I resumed the questions.

"Yes, they travel frightfully fast, according to your standards."

"No, we didn't bother to stop the Russians. They can't hurt us. Yes, the dog is dead."

"No, we won't dry out the maize. We don't interfere unless we are absolutely forced to. We did dry out the canals on Mars, they were a contrary people. Tried to short-circuit our electro-magnet fields."

"No, we won't let you any further than your own solar system, if you do get out into space. We don't trust you."

"I'm tired. This is enough. Well, you can take a few pictures at the ship. Don't get too close though."

Your camera will just be ruined." Declining to travel with Nor Nor and the dark one, I drove my car to a pasture north of Hereford. I saw a saucer-shaped object, glowing faintly in between two low hills. My car sputtered and stopped.

I walked to within 50 feet of the object. It was about half as long as a football field and appeared to be round. No windows were open and Nor Nor forbade me to come closer.

"You wouldn't really enslave us, would you?" I asked Nor Nor.

All four eyes glowered.

"Just try us, Buster," he said, dropping into a Brooklynesque. "Am I done with you?" he asked the dark one.

"Yes," came the reply. Then he walked to the machine. A door opened briefly. I saw a series of tubes and lights and the door shut softly. I triggered the camera.

With a slight rumble, the saucer lifted from the pasture. Focusing my camera on infinity and with the lens wide open and set on 1/10 of a second, I followed it through the view-finder.

When it reached about 2,000 feet it hovered, then tilted upward and fled from the earth. I had gotten only two exposures.

Turning to the figure in black, who was almost invisible in the blustery night, I asked, "How the devil did you get mixed up in this? And why did you want $10?"

"Well, I can trade the bill to a feller that collects such nonsense for a new cape. This one's about shot, what with all the heat and rocks I run into where I live," he hissed.

"Man, that must be rough on you," I answered.

"It's pure Hell," he sighed. And vanished.

cattle on wheat pasture assessed. I'd venture to say that there are several million dollars worth of cattle here on Jan. 1 that do not bring in any tax revenue."

George Misse, assistant to Baird, answered, "It is not hard to get them on the rolls; but it is sure hard to collect on them."

Hastings said that he believed legal action could be taken to collect such taxes, asserting that "Oldham County has a working deal on cattle from other counties that are pastured there."

A SPECIAL board session was called for Thursday, Nov. 21, to consider further the district's building needs. Dr. Morris Wallace, head of the education department at Texas Tech, recently employed as a special advisor by the Hereford board, will give his second report at that time.

Transportation problems, primarily concerning policies on establishing routes, were presented Tuesday by Bob Wilson, bus foreman, for consideration by the board.

Wilson explained that minor route changes to accommodate one child can result in major changes being required along an entire route. He asked that a definite policy be adopted, "one that you will be firmly acquainted with as well as myself when it comes to answering patrons questions."

As much of the bus scheduling trouble in the future can be expected from students who transfer in from other districts, the trustees adopted a motion to continue to pick-up-transfer students at the school district line during the current school year, but to pick-up-transfer students only at points along established bus routes in future years.

THE TRUSTEES handled mostly routine business during the balance of their meeting. They okayed payment of approximately $350 in dues to the West Texas School Study Council, a cooperative school problem's study group recently organized.

Tentative plans were made for four members of the board to attend the National Association of Administrators and School Boards meetings in San Francisco next March.

Coach Jack Harris made a short report on the football team. He told the trustees, "I hope we're having all of our bad luck this year. I've never had so many boys injured in all of the years that I've coached. We have a good group that never stops trying but they have made a lot of mistakes due to inexperience."

He reported that eight starting team members and 12 lettermen will be on the 1958 squad and that several B and freshmen team members are regarded as very promising prospects for the White-face team.

President Tom Robinson directed the meeting which was attended by all members; Boomer, Lathair, Hastings, B. F. Cain, W. R. Hair and Wilburn Axe. School staff members present included Cunningham, Muse, Wilson and Harris.

By JIMMIE GILBERTINE
THIS IS A STORY about roads, cemeteries and church yards, all thoroughly mellowed over a period of 25 years to produce a moral about how "You can't bury your mistakes."

It all started back in the days when they decided to build a caliche road out to West Park Cemetery on what is commonly known today as Harrison Highway. Not blessed with modern crushing equipment, the crew was constantly faced with the problem of disposing of the large lumps which constantly appeared in the caliche. Finally, when the road was finished they had quite a pile of caliche lumps and no where to put them. John Robinson, then a gar-der operator for the county, mulled over the problem and came up with a bright idea. He took his grader, moved over to the side of the road on a vacant lot and sliced out a big long pit into which he bladed all of the big lumps — and there were quite a lot. Next he covered the caliche with the dirt, and the problem was solved.

EVERYBODY LIVED happily ever after until last week, when John began functioning as a member of the grounds committee for the new Christian Church. They had a big problem: Nothing would grow on the lawn — not even weeds. Someone dug down a few inches and discovered that the lawn was located on a shallow bed of caliche. At this point, John realized what had happened, told all — and has been moving caliche all week. Like the housewife who sweeps dust under the edge of the rug, he vows he never will get into another mess like this one.

If at first you don't succeed, you are running about average.

DUCK HUNTING is becoming a downright serious business these days. Joe Bishop was telling about some fellows who got permission to dig some blinds at Buck Mays' lake a few seasons back. One Saturday an Amarillo man showed up with one of those detectors like they use to lay gas and water mains. Joe says the fellow had dug 30 feet before Buck could get out and stop him.

"Heck," said the would be hunter, "you said we could dig some blinds and I figured. It would be a good idea to put one all of the way around the lake."

Rueben Knox is in about the same predicament. He has for sale a portable turntable and amplifier as a result of his interest in migratory game. Rueben ordered one of those professional records with actual recordings of geese and duck calls, then rigged up the phonograph deal to use at the lake. The advertisement said that geese couldn't resist the natural calls — and Rueben believed every word. The only trouble was that the game department also read and believed the same claims and, in turn, outlawed use of the records by hunters.

People are funny; they spend money they don't have, to buy things they don't need, to impress people they don't like.

SEVERAL FARMERS have been looking into possibilities of grain drying equipment recently installed in the Ford area, while others journeyed to Dimmitt to get details. Most of them have concluded that the deal may be a little bit slow for immediate wide-spread relief. Costs on 17 and 18 per cent grain, now current in the area, runs around 9 cents per hundred, plus the moisture-weight lost in getting it down to 13 per cent. The dryers seem to handle around 500 bushels an hour.

Fourteen Hereford merchants have announced that they will remain open until 9 p.m. tonight — and every Thursday night through Christmas. The idea is to get more business by providing additional service for customers. Several are running "Thursday Night Only Specials" in an effort to help get the movement on its feet. If you like the idea, be sure and tell them. They are anxious for your reaction.

JACK BRADLEY says we are not going to have the kind of weather we want until we have a "hard freeze and a strong wind." He says he hates it as bad as anyone, but that's how it's gotta be.

Meanwhile, don't give up. I still say we are going to have enough fair weather to get in this milk crop without too much damage. I admit that Dan Frew and Ezra Taft Benson sneaked in an unforeseen bit of clouds with Pacific air going to have from 7 to 10 days — right soon. Don't waste any time, though. It won't last long. Be here ready to start wheeling when it happens. One thing about it, if I am wrong they sure won't have to worry about the 1957 grain sorghum surplus. Jim Lipscomb says the ducks are eating so much wet-milo these days that they are actually beginning to sink when they light on the water.

A LOT OF PEOPLE were commenting on the fact that Hereford fielded 130 band members and 18 football players at the Dumas game last week. One thing led to another, and someone offered to bet even money that the clarinet section of the band could whip the football team in a fist fight. If the trend continues, some people figure we will start playing 10 minutes of football at the weekly high school band festivals. This will naturally result in some alterations of the rules, but I guess anything is possible.

SEEING SNAKES is no illusion these days. Marlin Pierce found a whopping big rattler on a ridge near the lake of his Westway farm this week and, after shooting it, thought he saw some more. He went back to the house for more traps and returned to find another big rattler coiled on the same spot as the other one. Marlin dispatched his second rattler, then noticed a bunch of baby snakes coming out of a nearby hole. The final count: two large rattlers and 15 babies. He says the small rattlers measured around 12 inches in length and each had a button.

Folks who live on the farm need to caution the children once again about snakes. The 1957 season seems to have produced an abundance of rattlers. They are showing up in spots where folks never heard of them appearing before.

 Thanks to my friends for the kindness shown me during my illness. The cards, flowers and books were greatly appreciated. May God bless you all.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Second Special Session Seems Like Old Days

AUSTIN — Days of old seem to have dawned over Texas lawmakers. They ended their first called session this week and launched into number two.

It's the first time in more than a decade that a governor has convened a legislature in two rapid-fire special sessions.

Main topic for the second session is a bill to authorize closing of public schools threatened by occupation by federal troops.

Gov. Price Daniel issued the second call when it became apparent that this issue couldn't be squeezed into the final days of the first session.

House and Senate had difficulty coming to agreement on details of the first session's five-point program: water planning, lobby control, crime study, practice before state agencies and money for an Insurance Department building.

DELAY SPOTLIGHTED — Senate Investigating Committee is continuing its drive to establish whether the Insurance Commission dilly-dallied with reports of irregularities in a Dallas firm.

Former Insurance Department Examiner Wayne Tinkler told the committee that he began an examination of Preferred Life last March. He ran into difficulties, and asked for help from the department's legal counsel. He didn't get it, said Tinkler, and finally turned in a report in June.

His audit indicated that Preferred's president owed the company some $194,000 due to stock manipulations, Tinkler reported. "But no action was taken in the Department until September, when a brief conference was held."

BOND PROGRAM LAUNCHED — At least one phase of Texas water conservation program now has the official go-ahead. By approving a constitutional amendment, voters cleared the way for issuance of $200,000,000 in bonds to finance local water projects.

Though only about one-tenth of the electorate (185,000) turned out, all three proposed amendments received approximately 3-to-1 majorities.

Other two will provide increased retirement benefits for state employees and authorize higher old age pensions.

WHO FOOTS THE BILLS — Texans depend on severance taxes, mainly on oil and gas, for nearly one out of every three state tax dollars.

Tax Analyst John F. Sly of Princeton said this reliance on natural resource taxes has been increasing over the years. Sly, in addressing a meeting of the Texas Research League in Austin, gave what may be a preview of the searching study of Texas' tax structure being undertaken by the League.

Some Sly statistics: State taxes increased from $123,000,000 in 1940 to $625,000,000 in 1957. Severance taxes jumped from 16 per cent to 30 per cent of the total in that period. Texas' state and local taxes are $130 per capita compared to the national average of $158.

EMBARRASSMENT OF RICHES — Combination of late spring rains and early fall rains has caught many Texas farmers in a squeeze.

There wasn't enough time in between to raise a crop and get it out of the fields. Agriculture agents in North Texas reported that farmers there stood to lose millions from ruined cotton.

Some ranchers, according to the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, have "a very unusual situation — more grass than stock to eat." This time last year those same ranchers were selling off stock at a sacrifice because they had no feed.

Small grain and winter legume prospects are extremely good, says USDA, though dry weather is needed for additional planting.

COTTON ACREAGE TUSSLE — For the third straight year East Texas and West Texas cotton farmers are at odds over acreage allotments.

State and county allotments are to be announced by USDA before Dec. 14 when cotton farmers will vote on whether they want a market quota program for 1958.

West Texas farmers contend that their area has been penalized. They say an undue portion of the state's cotton acreage is allotted to the older cotton-growing counties of east and central Texas. One group of West Texas went to federal court last year to try to get the allotments changed.

Opposing them is the Old Cotton Belt Assn. which has announced it will fight new efforts to wrest acreage from its area.

DIRT WORK CONTINUES—While rain has hampered work on the runway and taxi strip of the new city airport, the moisture has also helped in compacting the subsurface. Crews and machines, above, have taken advantage of breaks in the weather to keep some work going. An all-weather landing strip will be completed soon, but asphalt topping of the airport facilities will be postponed until next spring. (Staff Photo)

GEORGE HEARD WRITES:

Joining the Rotary Club in Old Baghdad

(EDITOR'S NOTE: George Heard, The Brand's correspondent in Iraq, has joined the Rotary Club in Baghdad. This is what he has to say about it.)

Dear Folks,

During the summer I joined the Baghdad Rotary Club. This is the fourth vocational classification that I have had in Rotary. During my introduction to the club, it occurred to me that I have certainly had variety in the things that I have done. When they were asking me all about myself, I did not realize that they were going to tell all that stuff to the whole club. I was under the impression they were just asking to get acquainted with me.

POTPOURRI

Ex-Writer Is Office Visitor

By SANDRA GLENN

Mrs. Jimmy Ray Pingleton, formerly Carolyn Inman and once a writer of Potpourri, visited The Brand office Saturday afternoon to chat with some of her former fellow-employees. In course of the conversation she told them that at the present time she was employed by the Laredo Times and is working as the chief photographer there.

Carolyn said she certainly does enjoy her work but one of her main objections is the "dark room stains" which she has acquired from developer in the dark room. She said that she does no writing at all for the paper.

Carolyn and her husband arrived in Hereford Saturday morning for a brief visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burke Inman. They left for Laredo Monday morning.

Here is a note for each of you high school parents to remember. The High School Parent-Teachers Assn. will meet today at 2:40 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Mrs. Joe Reinauer and Bill Stanford will be in charge of the program on meeting educational needs of the youth.

Cadet Sammy Lesly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lesly, has been among the top students at Wentworth Military academy during the past six weeks, according to Maj. Dallas C. Buck, dean. Sammy qualified for the dean's honor roll.

Cadets who are cited for academic achievement during the specified grading periods at Wentworth are accorded extra privileges and are permitted to wear the Scholastic Bar on their uniforms.

Donald Ray Boyd of Hereford has been selected to pledge Kappa Alpha, national social fraternity, at North Texas State College this semester.

Boyd, a senior business administration major, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Zorns, 188 Beach.

Alvena Ritcha was home from Abilene over the weekend to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Q. O. Brown. Visiting with Alvena was Glynda Buckner of Abilene.

Alvena is a freshman at Hardin-Simmons University.

Among the apprentice teachers who were guests for a dinner given in honor of eight Texas Tech home economics students who received scholarships from the Sears-Roebuck Foundation was A-da Beth Sanders of Hereford. The dinner was given Thursday, Nov. 7, in the Union Building at Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Gilley of Wichita visited with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Inman last weekend. Mrs. Gilley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Inman and was the former Dora Ruth Inman.

WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

Milo Moisture Law Needs Changing Now

To the people of the 18th District: The eligibility requirements of grain sorghums for Commodity Credit Corporation loan, from a moisture content standpoint, poses a very serious problem in our district. The moisture content allowable did not create too much of a problem for some time, simply because we had a drought and it would have been difficult to have gotten 13 per cent moisture in the grain sorghum. However, this year the rains came and the moisture content jumped.

I have had a long conference with one of the officials of the CCC on this subject matter and have advised him that it will be necessary for some changes to be made if the present crop is to be saved. I have also dispatched a letter to Mr. Benson and other officials of the Department of Agriculture on the same subject matter pointing up the problem. As the matter presently stands, wheat with a moisture content of 14 per cent is eligible for loan.

Grain sorghum is not eligible if it has in excess of 13 per cent moisture. It is true that elevator operators can accept 14 per cent moisture content milo for CCC loans, if the operator will certify that he will deliver to CCC grain sorghum having a moisture content of not in excess of 13 per cent. This simply means the elevator operator must dry the 14 per cent amount to 12 or 11 per cent to reduce the average moisture content to 13 per cent. This will not suffice for our needs this year, and our every effort will be continued to bring about an increase in the moisture content allowed.

WHAT PRICE RICKERING? It is the opinion of quite a few here in Washington that Russia's successful launching of two earth satellites, in advance of such an accomplishment by this country, is the price which has been paid by our people for the inter-service rivalry, conflict and bickering between the Air Force, the Navy and the Army. Whether or not our failure to equal Russia in this particular achievement is the result of that bickering may be a debatable question. That there has been such bickering within the Defense Department is not debatable.

The only question in this regard is whether or not the full extent of that bickering has been publicized. Frankly, I do not believe Congress is fully aware of what has been going on in this regard. It is true there were congressional investigations on the subject. But, it must be remembered that the

Wyche H.D. Gives Farewell Party

The Wyche Home Demonstration Club honored Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ellis with a farewell party Friday night in the George L. Olson home. Mrs. Ellis has held almost every office in the club and at the present time is serving as secretary.

At the close of the games the honorees were presented three pieces of California Pottery.

Refreshments were served. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames L. B. Worthan and children, G. W. Duncan and children, C. R. Damron and girls, J. V. Pickens, W. P. Axe and daughter, C. C. Ellis, George Olson and children, H. L. Ward and son, C. F. Neuson, Charles Packard and daughters, and Tom Draper.

Dona Carol Seay Has Birthday

Dona Carol Seay, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Bernard F. Seay, was honored on her seventh birthday Tuesday, Nov. 5, with a birthday party given by her mother, Mrs. Bernard F. Seay, and assisted by her sister, Sharon.

The party was given in the Wesley Methodist Church. A circus theme was carried out through the decorations. The rooms were decorated with balloons, wild animals and small miniature circus tents. Games were played and refreshments were served to the children present.

Those present were Linda, Vonnie and Bob Merrill, Janice Britton, Precilla Grossenbacher, Juanita, Margaret and Sue Buckmaster, Barbara and Vicki Brownlow, Betsy and Prisque Crume, Karen Bell, Janice Dean, Jackie and Gwen Welch, Jackie Messer, Becky Bell, Dusty Duncan, Peggy Summers, Jean Ann Gore, Lannis and Lendon Reiger, David Watts and Sharon and Dona Carol Seay. Several of the mothers were present also.

vast expanses of the Defense Department of this country could provide many hiding places for matters which could not be dug out by a surface investigation. The three Services involved are integral parts of the Defense Department which is headed by a man of Cabinet rank. The purpose of the laws creating the Defense Department was to unify all of the Services so there could be a full coordination of effort.

The evidence at hand would make it appear that such purpose has not been realized. Under the circumstances, it would seem to me that the early days of the coming session of Congress should produce a full, complete and thorough investigation, to the end that the results sought in the unification act might be a reality rather than a figure of speech.

Jealousy of jurisdiction or pride of authorship in an individual, or small group of individuals, can be a very dangerous thing when the security of a country is involved. If the President, or his appointed Cabinet officer, cannot control such activities, then Congress must act without delay. This country cannot afford the price.

How To Plan Federal Income Tax Deductions

This is the second in a series of four articles on federal income taxes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.

By waiting until after the first of the year to decide whether to itemize your deductions or take the standard 10 per cent deduction, you run the risk of losing your greatest tax-saving opportunity.

When you are forced to take the standard deduction because your deductible expenses are less than 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income, you literally "waste" your expense deductions, for tax purposes. Don't let this happen to you every year. Plan your expense outlays so that you go over the optional 10 per cent deduction occasionally. This can be done by pyramiding two years of actual expenses into one.

For example, assume that you expect to have an adjusted gross income of $7,000 for this year and actual deductible expenses of about $600 — or $100 less than what you would be entitled to deduct if you took the standard 10 per cent deduction. Not included in your actual expense estimate, however, is $250 in state taxes and $100 in home loan interest charges that will have to be paid in 1958 but which can be paid in advance.

If you act quickly and pay these expenses before December 31, you can bring your total allowable deductions for 1957 up to $950. By itemizing deductions this year and taking the standard deduction next year when your actual expenses should be somewhat less because of what you have prepaid — your total deductions for both years will be approximately $1,650. Had you taken the standard 10 per cent deduction in both years, the total would be only about $1,400.

A salaried worker who has difficulty finding enough deductions to make itemization worthwhile might consider carrying the pyramid plan one step further. He could set up a system of "lending" and "borrowing" year-end items that would make it possible for him to throw three years of deductible expenses into one.

You can begin your own three-year pyramid, by postponing payment on as much 1957 deductible expense as possible and planning to take the standard deduction on this year's return. The expenses you have postponed — or "loaned" — will increase your 1958 deductions. (Continued On Page 2)

New Small Grains Add to Production

COLLEGE STATION. — Plant breeders of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station have for many years been developing and releasing improved varieties of small grains for use in Texas. These varieties have enabled Texas producers to increase both their grain and forage production from small grain crops.

The value of these new varieties to the agricultural economy of Texas is shown by a recent survey made by Extension Agronomist R. J. Hodges and Dr. I. M. Atkins, agronomist in charge of small grains for the Experiment Station. County agents reported to the agronomists that 70.5 per cent of the Texas wheat-acreage last year

Tech's Stadium Plans Announced

During half time ceremonies of Texas Tech's 1957 Homecoming, the plans for expanding and remodeling Jones Stadium were announced.

The expansion program, brought about by Texas Tech's entry into the Southwest Conference, will bring the total seating capacity of the stadium up to around 55,000 seats.

The plan calls for moving the present East stands about 250 feet back (a Herculean effort in itself because the stands are estimated at better than 10 million pounds).

The playing field will be lowered to a depth of about 30 feet. Around this man-made bowl, new seats will be built forming a bowl around the gridiron.

The cost of this program has been estimated at $1,700,000. To finance this plan, certain desirable sections will be classified as option sections and seats within them sold with the option being good for a period of 15 years.

The new expansion is being timed to be completed for the first home game of the 1960 season when Texas Tech competes on a full conference schedule.

Double Main Event Slated

A double main event for Hereford wrestling fans is scheduled at the Bull Barn Saturday night.

Bob Geigel and Rip Rogers will battle for two out of three falls with a one-hour time limit and Leo Garibaldi and Hans Schnabel have a similar engagement.

The first match will begin at 8:30 p.m. Admission is $1.50 for ringside, $1 for general admission and 50 cents for students.

Last week Dory Funk and Geigel walked up to defeat Tokyo Joe and Hans Schnabel in a tag team tussle. Tokyo Joe and Schnabel took the first fall in 14 minutes but Funk and Geigel rallied to win the last two falls and the match.

In the preliminaries, Geigel and Schnabel wrestled 20 minutes to a draw and Tokyo Joe was awarded his match with Funk when Funk was disqualified.

First Freeze Brings Sights

By MRS. R. L. PINNELL

With the first freeze over, many things meet the eye. Trees are beginning to shed their leaves and duck season is full swing. Many of the country kitchens are putting forth the aroma of a roasting duck and many a housewife is sadly surveying the lake mud being deposited through her back door.

Basketball season is upon us. The first game for the regular season, non-conference, was played by both the boys and girls teams. Both came out in a victory over the opposing teams. Schedule for this year is as follows: Nov. 15, Hartley at Adrian; Nov. 21, Logan at Adrian; Nov. 22, Channing at Adrian; Nov. 28, Gruver at Adrian; Dec. 3, Farwell at Adrian; Dec. 5, 6, 7, Farwell tournament; Dec. 10, Vega at Vega; Dec. 13, open; Dec. 17, Dimmitt at Dimmitt; Dec. 19, 20, 21, Tulla tournament; Dec. 30, Stinnett at Stinnett; Jan. 2, 3, 4, Stratford tournament; Jan. 7, Farwell at Farwell; Jan. 10, Channing at Adrian; Jan. 14, Vega at Adrian; Jan. 17, Happy at Happy; Jan. 21, Nazareth at Adrian; Jan. 24, Bovina at Bovina; Jan. 28, Lazbuddie at Adrian; Jan. 31, Vega at was planted to such improved varieties as Comanche, Wichita, 3.3 per cent of the acreage was seeded to the blackball group which is less desirable from a quality standpoint, but was once very popular in the state.

Hodges points out that a new variety is only of value when used by farmers. As an example of the value of a new variety, he says 559,000 acres last year were planted to Westar. For several years this variety, at Amarillo and Chillicothe, out-yielded the once popular Turkey variety by at least two bushels an acre. This variety alone was responsible for increasing the total wheat yield in Texas last year by more than a million bushels.

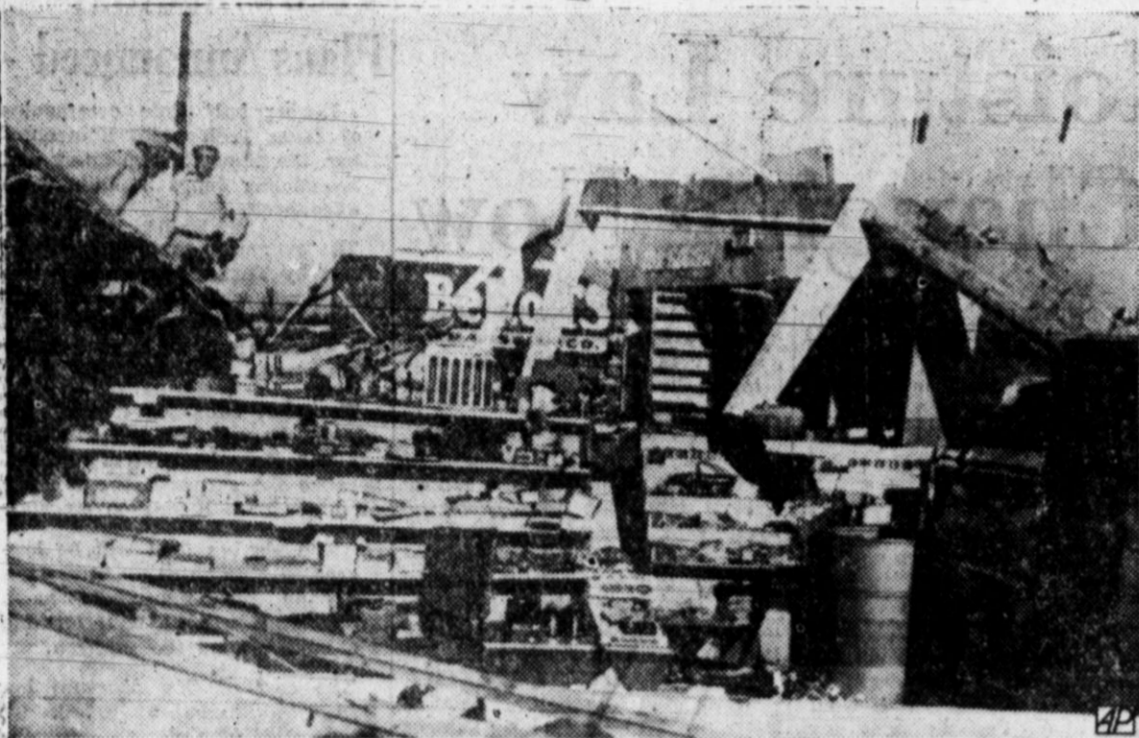

Three Experiment Station out-planting releases, New Nortex in 1936, Mustang in 1950 and Alamo in 1954, accounted for more than half of last year's oat acreage of almost 3 million acres. These varieties were developed especially for Texas conditions and have resulted in both increased grain and forage yields. At Tyler each dollar spent to produce oat grazing returned a net of $3.75 or $44 an acre.

Cordova barley, released a few years ago, occupied 49 per cent of the 370,234 acres seeded to barley in Texas last year. It has out-yielded Tennessee Winter by an average of 8.1 bushels an acre. Goliad, a variety developed for south Texas conditions, is disease resistant and a heavy forage producer. When not injured by late winter freezes, it also produces good grain yields. Hodges says the plant breeders are working continuously to develop even better varieties in order to meet the needs of an ever-changing agriculture.

and in the final months of 1958 you can "borrow" from 1959 by speeding-up the payment of deductible items.
As a result of your pyramiding, you maximize your expenses for 1958 (when you should be able to beat the standard deduction by itemizing), and minimize your deductible items for 1957 and 1959 (when you will take the standard deduction and waste your actual expenses). The general rule to follow when you are trying to make the most of your actual expenses is: keep outlays as low as possible in the years in which you take the standard deduction and pyramid them as much as possible in the years in which you itemize expenses.

Most taxpayers need look no further than their family medical bills to find a deductible expense that can be pyramided to gain a welcomed tax advantage. The section of the tax law governing the deductibility of medical expenses states that unless you or your wife will be 65 years old by January 1, 1958, you may deduct only those medical expenses for 1957 in excess of three per cent of your gross income.
If you find that you are near or over the three per cent minimum and you are going to itemize deductions this year, you should pay as many of your medical bills as possible before Dec. 31. And since medical expenses can be deducted only in the year paid (but cannot be prepaid), you might even consider speeding-up and paying for the dental work, eye examinations and general physical check-ups your family will otherwise be having in the early part of 1958.

Taxpayers who had low medical expenses for 1957 should reverse this procedure, postponing the payment of their year-end medical bills until after the first of the year. In this way, they may be able to exceed the minimum requirement in 1958 and to gain a benefit from a payment that would otherwise be lost on their 1957 return.
The premiums you pay on your health, accident and hospital insurance policies can be deducted as a medical expense—so plan your payments accordingly. To give you greater flexibility in the shifting of medical deductions from one year to the next, you might arrange to have these premiums fall due in January.

than he has in many of his press speeches. He has been the subject of some caustic criticism for indulging in too many generalities and platitudes. The American people have always enjoyed patriotic speeches in eloquent words, well-termed phrases and beautiful quotes. They enjoy these just as they do good music and other forms of entertainment; however, when the time comes that they want facts, they want the facts in cold, unvarnished truth. They don't want to be misled or lulled into a false sense of security. They want to know, in the briefest, clearest and most concise terms, what the challenge is and what will be required by way of sacrifice, or otherwise, to meet and overcome it. So long as that spirit prevails and the leaders of this nation have the courage to present the facts in plain, simple and understandable terms, there will always be a strong United States of America.

It is difficult to understand how Russia was able to forge ahead in launching the earth satellites. Tremendous sums of money have been provided for scientific exploration in this country behind the tightly locked doors of "classified-security reasons." I have always been led to believe that such precautions were necessary and that our scientific advances were keeping up with all other countries in the world. The President's speech is a reaffirmation of the representations which have been made to the Congress—that is, our scientific programs are on schedule and we are ahead of a number of other countries, including Russia, in several departments. These reassurances are fine up to a certain point, but we are fast approaching a situation where concrete evidence will be demanded. When that time comes, the Defense Department certainly should be in a position to provide it.

read speeches are not too good. But with an audience that had had a pleasant visit and a few drinks before the speech, the speakers are not reprimanded except when they read for too long. It is usually sometime after 10 p.m. before the club is dismissed. The other night they could find no speaker so they ask me to give the program. As all previous speakers had been ambassadors, Ph. D's, Director Generals and other such high rank, I did not feel the least timid or awed at receiving this invitation.
There were three reasons for this. First was that I was a mere engineer who is expected to be unlearned. The second reason was that I had a lot of experience speaking at toastmasters, and a lot of experience with my subject which was lubricating oil. The third reason was I had heard the other speeches and knew that I could talk better than they could read. Much to my surprise, they told me it was the first time anyone was given a program without reading it. As many have heard me speak at Hereford Toastmasters they know I am not bragging about myself, but about the others in the club as I have never won a contest and very few times had the best speech of the evening.

Rotary has started winter hours of meeting at 1 p.m. so I will have to drop out for five months. They won't let me off for three hours for club meetings.
Another thing that might be of interest that even in the summer heat coats are worn at Rotary meetings. Ties too. It is good for sweating.

Specialist To Study Loss of Wood Storks

Rockport — A specialist in vanishing birds has been assigned by the National Audubon Society to find out why the once numerous wood storks are dwindling away in America.

Great flocks of the birds once nested in Texas, Louisiana and Florida, but today only scattered thousands remain.

Robert P. Allen, an authority on the whooping crane, another great American bird which has dwindled to a mere two score or so, will undertake to discover the cause of the Wood Storks' decline.

Allen, a frequent visitor here, particularly when he was investigating the Whooping crane, is now engaged in ferreting out the reasons for the decline of Wood Storks along the Gulf Coast.

Drainage, lumbering operations, farm and real estate developments, along with drought have combined to destroy safe nesting and feeding sites.

During the 1950's Allen says, these wood storks have been faced with increasing threats to their existence. After complete and partial failures of nesting in 1951-52, the three colonies that survived again abandoned their eggs in 1956 and 1957. Virtually no young wood storks have been raised in Florida since 1955.

Allen and Alexander Sprunt Jr. are canvassing once known nesting areas in an effort to determine why the wood stork is on the decline. Conservation authorities fear their days may be numbered as with the bison and the passenger pigeon.

Electric Fences Aid in Bull Pens

COLLEGE STATION — There are over 30,000 dairy herd sires in Texas. Effectively penning these usually gentle yet occasionally vicious animals provides increased safety for the farmer and his family. It also extends the service life of the bull and makes more adequate breeding records possible.

A study was initiated in 1953 at the Dairy Cattle Breeding Center, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, to compare several types of insulators and various electric fence installations for the safe confinement of dairy herd sires.

A recently released publication, "Electrified Fences for Bull Pastures or Pens through the careful use of electric fences. A dairy bull with a relatively thick skin and in some cases, horns, together with a natural inclination to rub, scratch, and butt, provides a severe test for electric fences.

Pens, gives much information on the findings of this study. It includes sections on electric fence installations, relative efficiency of insulators, overhead versus underground leadout wires, and protection of shade trees in bull pens.

The publication may be obtained from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for MP-239.

ON THE HOUSE

By JOHN O.B. WALLACE

Take a look at your barometer the next time you feel irritable. Maybe it's not the housework at all that's making you feel edgy. It could be just the weather.

A falling barometer, the experts say, brings on feelings of despondency, rebellion and irritation. A falling barometer also is credited with creating a higher rate of illness.

Basically, a barometer is a device for measuring the weight of air. When bad weather is approaching, the air is disturbed and weighs less. This change is detected by the barometer; it begins to fall and thus predicts changing weather in advance.

The contrary is true when good weather, or a high pressure area, approaches.

Barometers first were introduced into the American home by the seafaring men of New England. Forecasting future weather was a matter of importance to them. In today's homes, barometers serve dual purposes — they are a useful weather prophet and they are decorative.

They come in many sizes and styles. However, for a barometer to function properly, it must be adjusted for altitude. Being pressure sensitive, barometers respond to changes in altitude as well as atmospheric pressure.

Because all forecasts are based on sea level pressure, the effect of altitude on the barometer must be eliminated.

The altitude adjusting feature, therefore, is of utmost importance for accurate forecasting.

Modern barometers can give 16 specific weather predictions for rises and falls in pressure as contrasted with the traditional "rain, change, fair" readings of earlier barometers.

If you're a person who pays little or no attention to the weather, your barometer can be regarded solely as a decorative accessory.

But if you are a boatman, a hunter or a fisherman — or for some other reason have more than a passing interest in the weather — here are a few pointers for you from Ernest C. J. Purton, an industrial meteorologist:

First, adjust your barometer for the altitude in which you live.

Then turn the set hand so that it is directly over the indicating hand. The set hand remains stationary; thus you can note any movement in the indicating hand by comparison.

Now gently tap the barometer and note whether the barometer is rising or falling.

Read the specific forecast on the dial.

Remember this: barometers indicate coming weather conditions, not present weather conditions.

And, Purton adds, barometers should be read and set at least every 12 hours in order to give continuity to your home weather forecasting.

Questions and answers:

Q. How many times your annual income should one spend for a house?

A. There is no hard and fast rule among financial institutions on this point. Generally, however, a home buyer is discouraged from buying a home with a price that is more than two or two and a half times his annual income. In other words, a person with an annual income of $10,000 should not consider spending more than $20,000 or $25,000 for his home. A contingent point is equally important. The monthly payments on the house, including interest, insurance and mortgage payments, should not exceed the gross weekly income of the home buyer. Some financial institutions will make certain exceptions to this formula, but generally they adhere closely to it. Down payments of not less than 30 per cent usually are required.

Q. What percentage of Americans own their own homes?

A. The figure is 55 per cent. It includes owner-occupied cooperative apartments and owner-occupied individual residences. The figure, therefore, is for owner-occupied units. No figure is available for owner-occupied residences alone. The percentage of Americans renting homes or apartments is 45.

THIS BAROMETER is a handsome wall decoration as well as an accurate weather forecaster. Read and set it at least every 12 hours to give continuity to home weather forecasting.

Test Kit Might Aid Milk Market

COLLEGE STATION — A portable testing kit for measuring the total solids content of small samples of milk has been developed by U. S. Department of Agriculture dairy scientists, reports A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman.

Milk quality used to be judged almost solely on the basis of its cream content. But this is not so today, explains Meekma. Weight-conscious Americans include less and less butterfat in their diets. Nutrition experts and consumers have become increasingly interested in the nonfat content of milk as an important source of protein, lactose, casein, albumin, sugar and several minerals important in the human diet. Some of these are also in demand for industrial uses.

To meet today's market demands, dairy scientists have been aware of the need to breed strains of dairy animals that would produce milk of the greatest all-round food value with less emphasis on butterfat. Lack of a practical means of measuring the nonfat solids content of milk under field conditions — an equivalent of the well-known Babcock test for butterfat — has been a barrier to progress in this field. The new testing device meets this need and eliminates more intricate laboratory methods. It will also aid scientists who are studying the effects of feeding, climate, and inheritance on the nonfat solids content of milk, says the specialist.

After discussing the potential value of the new testing kit, a committee of the American Dairy Science Association is planning to organize an interstate cooperative effort to study milk quality on the basis of variations in nonfat solids as they are affected by climate, environment, and inheritance, concludes Meekma.

The Notre Dames come at Oklahoma this week and for the finale of their current series, if and when they play again, in answer to queries, I don't know. The Sooners in 1953 and 1959, face their customary 6 conference tussles, plus the static engagements annually with Texas and Oklahoma State. In addition to these 8 games, the Big Red takes on West Virginia and Oregon in 1958; both slated for Norman. In 1959, they take on Northwestern at Evanston and Army at Norman. Looks like if they run thru the remnant of this schedule and then amble thru the Orange Bowl, that they might add quite a few to the 51 straight they will have compiled at that stage. Apparently it will have to be Texas or the attitude at Boulder to deter them. Time is tight, so leave us get at this week's calendar of games and as per, first the games, then last year's tally, if any, and then the consensus tabs, again not my picks, necessarily:

U. S. Studies Changing Sea Water into Fresh

NEW YORK, (AP) — The U. S. Government is spending 10 million dollars in research on converting sea water or polluted water into fresh water.

Product Engineering magazine reports the research is being pushed because its cost is overshadowed by droughts in the Southwest and Northeast. Another factor is increased pollution of river systems and a lowering of the water table throughout the nation.

"These conditions have made location of industrial facilities more dependent on guaranteed sources for fresh water," the magazine continues.

"If successful, fresh water conversion could go down as one of the great technological breakthroughs in scientific history."

The key to the government program is the development of efficient equipment which in turn depends on capital investment.

The Interior Department's office of saline water has authorized scientists to spend the 10 million to develop processes and equipment at a cost low enough for industry, agriculture and municipalities could afford to use.

Vapor compression is still a method that is the farthest along. It will be tested in a million-dollar pilot plant planned for 1959. Stills used in this process include the solar which utilizes the sun's energy to distill water, and nuclear energy.

Other methods include electrical filtering water through synthetic filters patterned after animal tissue; crystallization, including freezing methods such as flash evaporation, and refrigeration and using various chemical agents to extract fresh water, the magazine says.

Various processes have been developed but cost is the big problem. Water conversion costs four times more than to obtain it from natural sources.

Seawater conversion costs range from 39 cents to $1.85 per 1,000 gallons, depending on the process used.

The magazine says the interior department's office has set cost targets at 40 cents per 1,000 gallons for converting sea water for SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP) — The day after his car was stolen from a parking lot, Gentry McGraw, 20, had to leave for induction into the Army. From a bus bound for an induction center at Cleveland, McGraw spotted his car abandoned along a highway. He phoned his grandmother from Cleveland and police recovered the car.

GOLF PROS TAKE ORDERS FROM PINT-SIZED WOMAN

LADY BOSS—Angie Vafe, who runs pro-amateur golf tournaments, sits at starter's table at Harding Park Golf Course, explaining ground rules to golfers Ken Venturi, Chuck McHugh, Dick Stranshan and Virgil Shreeve before start of match.

SAN FRANCISCO — The men do the golfing, but Angie Vafe is the boss when Northern California professionals and amateurs play their weekly tournaments.

Angie is a tiny 45-year-old divorcee — a golf addict herself — who runs the weekly pro-ams for the Northern California Professional Golf Assn.

About 125 golfers, usually one-third pros, play in the events. Winners usually take home at least $100 so there's plenty of competition.

Naturally top flight golfers, such as those in the tournaments, know all the rules. But it is up to Angie to see that they obey them.

"If they're playing slow, I have to get them to speed up," she says. "If there is any question on rules, they come to me. My rulings are final. I have to keep pretty good control because we don't want any chiseling."

"Players sometimes let their tempers get the best of them. They get mad and rush off. But they cool off. That's human nature."

"On the whole golfers are a pretty good bunch. They listen. That 'name and address be printed plainly'."

Angie took up golf in 1945 and admits that she worked hard to master the game, sometime spending all day on the practice tees and green.

She was playing regularly at the Pasatiempo course in Santa Cruz, Calif., when the local pro asked her to take over the club tournament. Seems everything was always getting fouled up. She accepted the offer.

Among other things you can learn from "Insects-Hunters and Trappers," a new book by Dr. Ross E. Hutchins of Mississippi State College:

Grasshoppers' ears are on the sides of their stomachs, just behind their back legs. An ant can lift a pebble 52 times its own weight. Some beetles can lift 850 times their own weight.

The only insect that uses a tool is the Ammophila wasp which uses a pebble to tamp dirt.

If the mercury in your fever thermometer separates, try to shake it together. Or, dip it into very cold water for a few minutes. If both of these remedies

Grass and weeds will not grow between the bricks of the sidewalk if crankcase oil is poured between the bricks two or three times during the season. The oil will soon evaporate.

Often an effective remedy for cloudy and streaky mirrors is the following: Add three tablespoons of ammonia to a bucket of water, dip a clean chamois into the solution, and swab the mirror. Then wring the chamois dry, and wipe off the water.

First look at a smart performer

TODAY we're proudly displaying the 1958 GMC Money-Maker. And we think you'll find it the handsomest hustler you ever handled.

An eager 200 horsepower swings a top load like a cargo of feathers. Turning ease is like power steering's.

A fast-ratio cruising axle gives you an overdrive's road pace and gas savings. Foam-rubber seats cradle you in a roomy cab. Boulevard styling carries out the feeling of luxury.

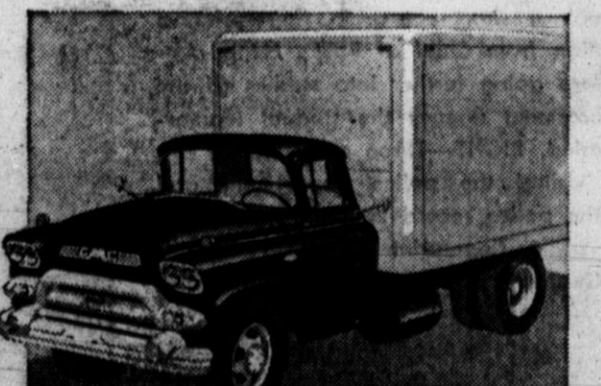

But this beauty is built like a pocket battleship. You'll see that in its massive spring hangers. In rear springs with the highest deflection rate of all light-duties.

You can sit solidly on an unhooked end of its tail gate—and you can't crinkle the roof or door panels with a smack of your hand.

You'll get the same quality instrument panel as on the big, $10,000 GMC heavy-duties. A radiator mounted on a bulkhead integral with the frame. A steering column braced like a mast.

These and more tell the inside story of GMC stamina. Come in and see for yourself. Why not do it today?

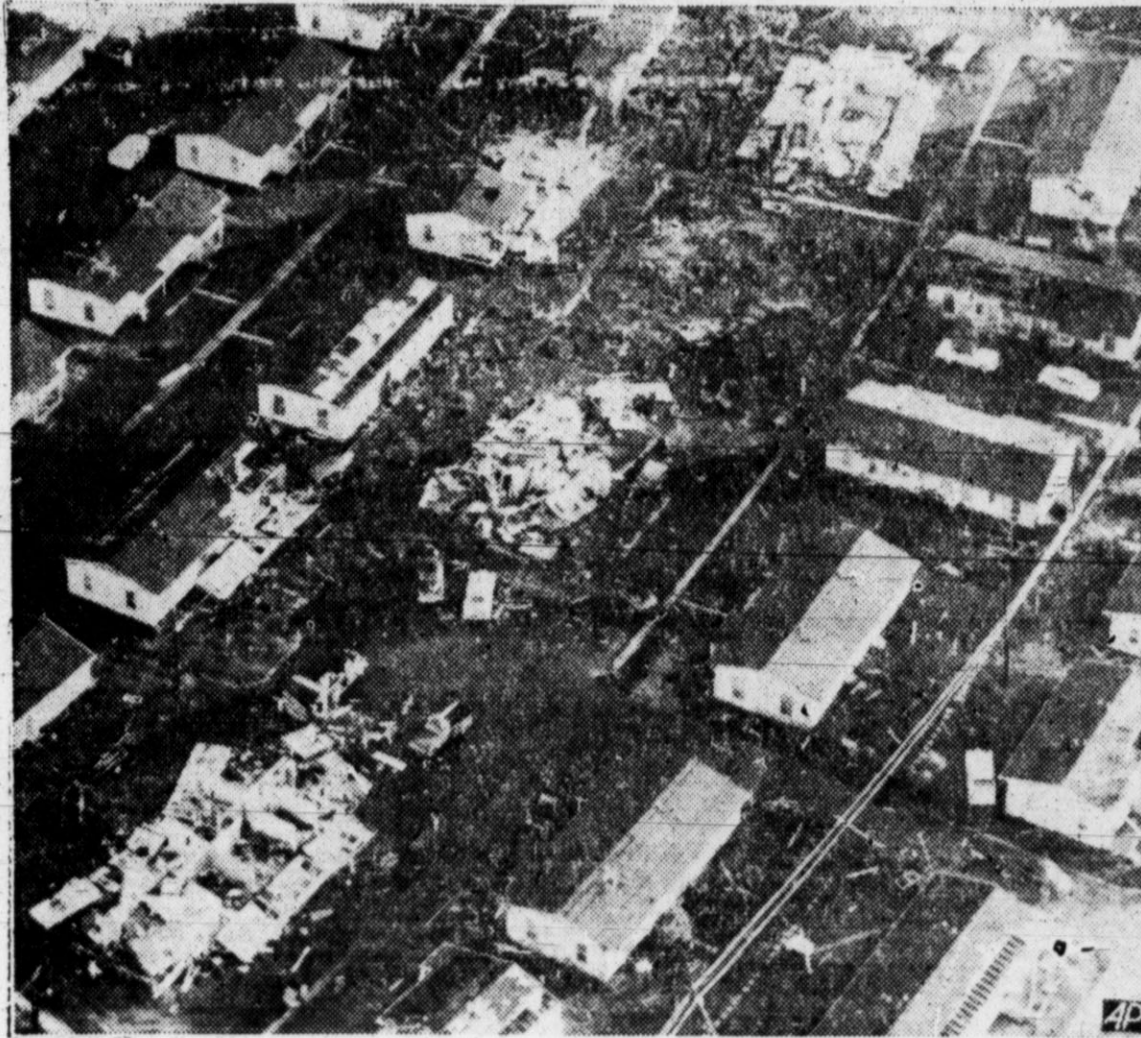

THE SOLID LOOK—Beautiful but rugged, GMC's full family of fine trucks also includes Truck Air Suspension models, Super Tandems and America's No. 1 Diesel. From a half-ton to 45 tons, every GMC is a Money-Maker!

How many premiums do you pay?

Does it seem to you that there's always another insurance policy expiring - another premium to be paid? Is it hard for you to keep track of your coverages, and the amounts?

Let us tell you how most, perhaps all, of the insurance on your home can be obtained in a single package policy. And the premium you pay may be less than for several policies covering the same risks.

Streamline your insurance with a Stock Company Insurance policy. We recommend it for quality protection, and full-time service. And remember: if you're not fully insured - it's not enough!

Famous Football Games:

Baker's Last-Minute Goal Snapped Long Irish Streak

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
 SOUTH BEND, Ind. — A 16-point last quarter spurge, capped by a last-minute decisive field goal, gave Southern California a 16-14 victory over Notre Dame. The game, played 26 years ago (Nov. 21, 1931) in Notre Dame Stadium, still ranks with many football followers as one to be remembered.

The Irish, with Hunk Anderson coaching his first season as successor to Knute Rockne, had a 25-game winning streak. Their last defeat had come in 1928 — to Southern Cal, 27-14.

Notre Dame scored in the second quarter after the Trojans had threatened twice, moving to the Irish 2 and 15. Marchie Schwartz intercepted a Trojan pass and Notre Dame moved 63 yards, fullback Stephen Banas smashing across from the one. Halfback Schwartz' pass to quarterback Charley Jaskwich that set up the Irish on the USC-18 was a key play in the drive. Jaskwich placekicked the extra point.

The Irish went 63 yards again to score in the third period in four plays. Halfback Ray Brancheau made nine yards on a lateral and Schwartz romped 15 on the next play. Banas, taking a lateral from Schwartz, broke loose to the 3. Schwartz drilled through right tackle for the TD and Jaskwich again booted the point.

The Trojans did some reshuffling in the third period after fullback Jim Musick left the field with a broken nose. Orv Mohler went in at quarterback and Gus Shaver was switched to fullback.

After Shaver and Mohler led USC to the Irish 10, only to fumble away the ball, they got the Trojans moving again late in the third. With the help of a pass interference ruling against the Irish, USC reached the Notre Dame 14 as the third quarter

Shaver made a first down by inches on a fourth-down-one-foot-go situation at the outset of the last period. Ray Sparling, behind Johnny Baker's blocking, drove to the Irish one on an end-around play. Shaver made two smashes into the line for a touchdown. Joe Kurth blocked Baker's conversion attempt.

USC marched 57 yards for its second touchdown. Another pass interference ruling was good for 33 yards, putting the Trojans on the Irish 24. Three more plays and USC reached the 10. Then Mohler lateraled to Shaver who went over. Baker converted and Notre Dame's edge was cut to 14-13 with eight minutes left.

As the minutes wore on, Schwartz was forced to punt, Mohler taking it on the USC 37. Shaver passed to Sparling on the Irish 40 and the catch was made with Jaskwich riding on Sparling's back. After two running plays failed, Shaver passed to Bob Hall on a tackle-eligible play to reach the 18.

Trojan coach Howard Jones then sent in Homer Griffith, an expert drop kicker, for a field goal try. But Mohler and Capt. Stan Williamson waved him back to the bench.

Baker then stepped back to the Irish 23 and placekicked the deciding field goal. The game ended three plays later.

MY PROGRAM

...BUT IS IT ENOUGH? My program consists of some very special activities... services I perform every week. But I ask you, is that enough? Social work, church attendance, tithing of my income, teaching in Sunday school, these things I do, but I ask you... is that enough? God says, no! He expects more than good works. He expects you to surrender your life in full to Him. The sick must be attended. His church must be supported. There is work to be done. These are virtues pleasing to Him but He still expects full surrender of your life. Why not enlist in God's army this very day? Why not start to church regularly and take up your cross and follow Him all the way... then you won't have to ask, "Is My Program Enough?"

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU
Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that carry and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial and the laity work together in a common purpose and the affairs of state in these perilous times. There are many who should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. ## Huge Sound - Swallowing Pipe Quiet Screams of Jet Tests

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Lean times are ahead for ear plug merchants hereabouts.

No longer will the loud roar of jet engines being ground-tested assault the eardrums of the local citizenry if the maintenance engineers of nearby McClellan Air Force Base have their way.

The base has installed new type noise suppressors to be used on the line where the powerful engines are tried out.

Big, pipe-like devices, the suppressors swallow the roar, soften it and deflect it skyward.

William L. Steele, maintenance foreman, said the sound-softening part consists of a perforated fiberglass chamber and a curtain of water, used mainly to reduce exhaust temperatures ranging up to 2,000 degrees.

A recent demonstration showed the massive L-shaped mufflers could all but eliminate noise at a distance of 250 yards.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago
The next session of the Texas Legislature will have up for consideration a bill to change the present law regarding the property rights of married women. Judge Ocie Spair of the Court of Civil Appeals, Fort Worth, has drawn a bill covering the main points of a resolution recently passed by the Texas Bar Association which purports to give Texas women equal property rights with men.

The Rev. D. W. Hawkins, formerly superintendent of the Hereford public school and later business manager of the Hereford Brand, but for the last three years actively engaged in the ministry, preached at the local Methodist Church Sunday night. He has returned to his charge at Ochiltree, that place being his first charge after a short time in the Hereford mission work.

25 Years Ago
One of the most sweeping victories ever given a political party in the history of the United States placed the Democratic party in control of the nation's affairs for the next four years Tuesday when the heaviest votes the country has ever polled elected Franklin Roosevelt as President and chose national senators and representatives to give the Democratic party an overwhelming majority in both houses of Congress.

Mrs. Miriam Ferguson was elector governor of Texas for the next two years, a radio report at noon yesterday giving her a majority over Republican candidate Orville Bullington of 67,000 votes.

Deaf Smith County went overwhelmingly for Roosevelt by a 6 to 1 majority and swung to Bullington with a 2 to 1 stand against Mrs. Ferguson.

ADDED TOOL
FORT SCOTT, Kan. (AP) — Raymond Mason, a plumber, added a rifle to the tool kit he carried to a job at a farm home.

Working in tight quarters under the house, Mason saw a rattlesnake coiled on a foundation plate two feet away. He called to a fellow worker, who obtained a rifle from the farmer and passed it to Mason.

Mason fired. The snake leaped, falling just short of him. He shot it again.

Next day, Mason returned to the job, armed with a rifle of his own. He completed the job without seeing another snake.

VOICE OF THE FUTURE
DES MOINES (AP) — Pat Thompson, 8, overheard his parents discussing the propriety of very short shorts a young woman wore on a downtown street here.

"I'll admit she does have beautiful legs," said Mrs. Thompson. "Yeh," Pat commented, "for a girl."

ANIMAL KINGDOM—Cat and dog pillows easy to make.

AP Newsfeatures
IT'S NO LONGER enough for a pillow to be comfortable. Nowadays pillows are an important part of bedroom decor, and must be unusual, colorful, pretty, whimsical or just plain silly.

Whether you are decorating a bedroom for a college daughter or a kindergarten belle, animal pillows will fill the bill.

You can make a pillow cat and a pillow dog from a standard pattern, following these suggestions from experts at your local sewing center.

Each pillow is made from a round foam rubber pillow, available in department stores, plus two thicknesses of one-inch foam rubber glued together for the smaller circles that form the heads. The pillows are covered in corduroy or fake fur fabric. Each requires about one yard of 35-inch fabric.

Follow pattern directions for cutting and assembling the pieces. The pattern includes transfer designs for the dog and cat faces. Eyes, ears, noses and the dog's tongue are made of felt, and lines tracing the mouth, whiskers and such may be done either with decorative stitching with an automatic zigzagger or may be stitched on with narrow rickrack braid. In any case, finish the faces and decoration before stitching the pillow covers together. Covers are zippered so they can be slipped off for laundering.

It's a good idea to make several of the pillows at once, to use for Christmas gifts or bazaar items. They are quick and easy to make, and are sure to be appreciated.
