Six-Footed Colt Exhibited Here By Claud Norton

Claud Norton was exhibiting a six-footed colt Saturday. The freak was born Thursday night and was brought to town in the back of Mr. Norton's car. The animal has two sets of foot joints in front, with two pairs of hoofs. Mr. Norton says he is otherwise normal, quite frisky, and gets about remarkably well on his queer looking front extremities.

Rainy weather Monday afternoon postponed the regular weekly shoot of the Hereford Gun Club. The postponed event may be put on some fine afternoon this week or may be carried over until next Monday. No reports have been received from the Ambrillo and Purryton clubs this week.

Grand Jury Gives Warning to Parents of Children

The criminal docket in District Court was set for Monday morning but hangover civil cases postponed its consideration until Tuesday afternoon, the jurymen being dismissed until that time.

The concluding arguments in the damages claim of J. H. Mecaskey vs The Stubbs Land & Cattle Co., et al, were being made Tuesday afternoon.

The grand jury adjourned Monday after several days of investigation. It is understood several indictments were returned for misdemeanors and other causes. The short report of the jury to Judge Tatum contains suggestions about games of chance and a warning to parents of the city about allowing too much leeway to growing boys and girls. The report in full says:

"Hereford, Texas, May 12, 1929. Hon. Reese Tatum, District Judge, Sir:

"Our investigations have disclosed that several business establishments in Hereford have possibly, yes, very probably, been violating the laws by displaying and selling tickets and chances in gaming devices. We recommend that these merchants discontinue these chance and gaming devices in the future. And we have requested our County Attorney and sheriff to file complaints and prosecute any who may persist in displaying or selling any such chances in the future.

"We sincerely believe that the parents of this community have been entirely too slack concerning the conduct of their children in the 'teen' age. All will understand that the judgment, discretion and choosing of a young boy and young girl is immaterial and not dependable. Their conduct is controlled more by example and impulse than right and reason. We recommend that all parents of this community should keep better informed as to where their children go and with whom they associate; and we feel that fewer hours away from their homes, and less time spent on the streets and car riding, especially after night, would be much best for these young boys and girls and best for their parents and best for the community at large. We fear that great trouble is in store for the future if the young boys and girls of this community are granted the liberties in the future which their parents have so unreservedly given them in the past.

"Having completed our investigation we respectfully ask that we be discharged for the term.

W. E. Hicks, Foreman."

34 Golfers Have Entered For the Hole Tournament

The qualifying round of the Hereford Golf Club resulted in thirty-four men out of fifty members of the club entering for the match play Tournament, which began Monday and will end with next Sunday. The members automatically classified themselves according to the score they made in the qualifying round. Three classes are provided in order to group players with regard to their present playing ability. There were some upsets in the dope but as a rule the men naturally fell into the class where they belong. The three classes will fight it out among themselves this week and when the play in the first matches are over half of them will be eliminated and the other half will be matched up, according to scores made this week, for another round next week. The flight one players made qualifying scores of 98 or under for eighteen holes, flight two members between 100 and 108, inclusive, and flight three members from 109 and up. The pairings for the first round follow:

First Flight—Homer Fox vs A. Herbst; Frank Marrs vs Dubs Pitman; Doug Fox vs Jim Black, Seth B. Holman vs Mac Pitman; J. J. Clark vs Johnathan Pitman; H. L. Rice vs Luther Hough; Rev. Merrill vs Dow Mercer; W. R. Steckman vs Ford Johnson.
Second Flight—Cliff Estes vs Brack Williams; Ching Alban vs C. C. Acker; J. H. Pitman vs Arch Collins; P. W. Price vs E. B. Posey; Geo. L. Muse vs Dr. Gabbert.

Third Flight—Virgil Cuning vs Miles Robertson; Rev. Sharp vs E. S. Ireland; Ralph Barnett vs F. H. Oberthier; Jim Rutherford vs Gano Haslam.

Rev. Paul J. Merrill, Rev. J. R. Sharp, Dr. W. F. Gabbert, J. E. Hill, F. H. Oberthier, Dr. Jno. W. Overton, Geo. L. Muse, W. E. Hicks and others spoke briefly. There was a difference of opinion among them as to the size of the bond issue that should be asked for, some believing a small one to take over the present plant the best while others preferred a new outfit entirely. It was finally agreed that the thing to do was to bring the matter before

Captain C. E. Brand Has Returned to His Station

Capt. C. E. Brand left Hereford last Sunday, after a visit in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Brand, of about a week's duration. Capt. Brand is with the department of the U. S. Army Coast Defence stationed at Panama.

Hospital Facilities For Hereford Up For Inquiry

What Proper Facilities Are Is a Matter for Voters To Determine

After a preliminary discussion of the forthcoming Chautauqua, next week, the business men at luncheon at the Stockmen's Cafe Monday took up the subject of proper hospital facilities for Hereford in the future. This is a question that has been in abeyance ever since the election last June when a proposition to vote bonds to purchase the present hospital was lost by a narrow margin.

In submitting the question for debate president Homer Wilkinson stated that it was not the province of the Chamber of Commerce to build hospitals but, being the only organized business body in the county it seemed to be the duty of the organization to put the question before the people for discussion and crystallization of thought and action as they may see fit. He called attention to the present inadequate facilities although praising highly the splendid work being done in the institution with the facilities at hand.

Mayor Knight who, owing to indifferent health, has been absent from the luncheons for several months, then took the floor and outlined the history of the present institution in detail and suggested ways and means of submitting the bonds to the people this year. In brief, as Judge Knight understands it, the present institution owes about $9,000 all told while the property and equipment is worth much more. He said that there seemed to be no doubt as to whether the people as a whole favored adequate hospital facilities but that the difference of opinion seemed to revolve around the question of what constituted adequate facilities. Some, he thought, preferred a small bond issue to take over the present plant only. Others want a more modern and better located building, with larger facilities which of course would cost more. Asked what he would suggest that should be done with the present plant in case a larger bond issue for a new building should be voted he said there were several solutions. Among them he suggested that the stockholders of the old association donate their entire interest to the county in return for the assuming of the obligations against the plant by the commissioners court. This kind of a trade would be all in favor of the county. Several other plans were suggested by the speaker during the course of an exhaustive resume of the situation.

Rev. Paul J. Merrill, Rev. J. R. Sharp, Dr. W. F. Gabbert, J. E. Hill, F. H. Oberthier, Dr. Jno. W. Overton, Geo. L. Muse, W. E. Hicks and others spoke briefly. There was a difference of opinion among them as to the size of the bond issue that should be asked for, some believing a small one to take over the present plant the best while others preferred a new outfit entirely. It was finally agreed that the thing to do was to bring the matter before

FRIONA

W. H. Doyle, who has been connected with the Friona State Bank for the past six months, has severed his connection with that institution and moved with his family to Happy where he was employed in the bank before coming. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle were most agreeable and courteous people and made a large circle of friends while here who regret very much their leaving.

T. J. Crawford's drug store is gradually assuming the appearance of a real pharmacy and will soon be stocked with a complete line of drugs and other goods found in a first class drug store. Mr. Woolform will assume the duties of druggist.

There is still plenty of season and the ground is in fine condition or filling and the farmers are all pushing their work to their utmost capacity. From present appearances the largest row crop in the history of this locality will be planted near Friona this year. Chet Taylor has already about 200 acres planted and contemplates planting 300 acres more. This will perhaps be the largest crop for any individual farmer. Charles Schlenker shipped out another carload of hogs Saturday. The swine industry has grown to immense proportions as compared to what it was seven years ago, when the local shipper had to ship all the hogs he could raise himself and then scour the country for miles around in order to get enough of all ages and sizes to make one car-load shipment per year.

The past week and the latter part of the preceding week was for the Friona people one continuous round of entertainments. Beginning on Friday night, May 4th, was the last number of the lyceum course for the year which consisted of a band concert by the college band of the Canyon Normal school. The band selections were interspersed by readings by one of the young men and vocal selections by the male quartette. This was the number described in Rev. Peyton's letter last week, and was followed on Saturday night by the program and play at the schoolhouse by the fifth, sixth and seventh grades under the management of Prof. Jenkins and Miss Giesler. On Monday night the seniors gave their play entitled, "An Old Fashioned Mother," under the direction of Prof. Buckner. The primary department under the management of Mrs. Buckner and Miss Rose entertained us with an unusually good program. The little folks carried out their parts with extraordinary ability and promptness which showed the result of the most excellent training. The commencement services consisted of the bacalaureate sermon by Rev. Peyton at the Congregational church on Sunday morning, May 6, and the commencement address and the presentation of diplomas, as well as in the church auditorium, on Friday night. The commencement address was delivered by Judge J. D. Hamlin of Farwell. The graduating class this year consisted of five young ladies, viz: Frances Paul, Valedictorian; Thelma Curry, Nelda Goodwine, Louisa Schlenker and Ellen Wright. There were seven graduates from the grades ready for the high school next year.

The term of school just closed is pronounced to be one of the most successful and beneficial of any that has been held here and our faculty is deserving of the thanks of the patrons for the excellent work accomplished and more especially when considering the very trying conditions under which it has been done. We are informed that at least two-dozen teachers have been elected and have accepted for next year. They are Prof. and Mrs. Buckner, Miss Rose and Miss Brown. The position of principal has been tendered Mr. Clyde Goodwine and he has definitely accepted. So far nothing has been done regarding the teachers for the other departments. Prof. Jenkins has planned to attend school for several years in preparation for the medical profession and will therefore not be with us again. He has proved himself a competent instructor, a good disciplinarian and a gentleman. He has suffered many very trying experiences during his work here such as had not fallen to the lot of any of his predecessors and through no fault of his, as he has been simply the victim of circumstances. He has borne his persecutions with a smiling face and without a word of complaint and has acted the part of a gentleman throughout and he leaves with our best wishes.

Our community is indebted to the faculty and students of the West Texas State Normal for the excellent three-number lyceum course with which they have favored us during the past season and to Professors Buckner and Jenkins for arranging and managing same for us. The three numbers were without exception unusually good in their class, the talent and selections being of the best. The last, the band concert, was one which it would have been impossible for us to have had from a lyceum bureau, as the financial consideration would have been far beyond our reach.

The heaviest rain of the season and perhaps for many seasons, fell here Sunday night. About two and one-fourth inches fell in less than an hour. We have moisture now to last for several days.

Our little community has had too much sadness of late to write any news. Mr. Ed Smith's death, an account of which appeared in a previous issue of The Brand, was our first bereavement.

On Tuesday evening about ten o'clock Mrs. George Besselman passed away. Mrs. Besselman leaves an infant daughter, four days old. Besides the family, Mrs. Besselman is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hayhurst, three brothers and one sister. Funeral services and interment took place Wednesday at Dimmitt.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank the people of the Bethel community for their kindness during the sickness and death of our wife, daughter and sister, Mrs. George Besselman. May God's richest blessing rest on each and everyone of you.

Miss Pauline McAdoo of Adrian, who has taught school near Roswell since last September was expected home last Wednesday, but left her mother a telegram on Monday before, stating that she was married to Mr. Joe Speed on Saturday, April 28, and would not be home as they expected. Her friends wish them much joy and a long and useful life together.

The meeting which was in progress last week at Sims, conducted by Rev. W. C. Garrett of Amarillo, Missionary of Esaloduro Baptist Association, closed Sunday night. There were four conversions and the Christian people were greatly revived from the good messages he brought to them. We spent a busy day last Sunday: Preaching at eleven o'clock, dinner on the ground, Sunday School at two o'clock and immediately following Sunday School another sermon. Just before the sermon Rev. and Mrs. Garrett sang a duet, "His Seal is on My Soul," which seemed to stir the hearts of all who heard them.

We hope to have them with us again sometime.

We are having some beautiful spring days this week, which everyone is glad to see.

Some real cool nights last week, but not any ice or frost.

James Whitmire, who is making his home with his aunt, Mrs. J. P. Collier of Adrian, left the first of last week for Austin, Texas, where he spoke in the final contest in Senior Declamation between the Rural schools of the State.

After the contest was over he sent his aunt a message bearing the news that he had "won second place." Hurrah! this Great West Texas can have as fine speakers as anywhere. Come to the West.

James will visit his mother, who lives at Whitney, Texas, on his return home.

Whale of a Rain Is General; Crop Prospects Bright
A soaking two inch rain fell in Hereford, beginning about 1:00 a. m. Monday, and the entire trade territory is wet, from reports received in all directions. Everyone was smiling Monday and crop prospects could hardly be better, even though some of the planters may have to replant in spots.

That the rain was general is indicated by the following extracts from The Amarillo News of Tuesday morning:

"General rains fell over the entire Panhandle of Texas Sunday night and yesterday, and the growing wheat and other crops have been materially benefited. The rains began about 11 o'clock Sunday night and approximately an inch and a half was reported at Amarillo late yesterday afternoon with prospects for more.

Canyon Yearlings Beat; Play Here Thursday

Hereford High took sweet revenge upon the Canyon Normal Yearlings on last Saturday afternoon when they scalped the visitors 8 to 4 in the second game of the series. They had dropped the first game at Canyon the week before.

Galbraith fanned sixteen men and held the opposition to four hits. Hereford accumulated eight bingles and made three errors, playing a much better game than usual.

Coch Prewitt announces that the same team will appear here again on next Thursday afternoon for a game beginning at 3:30 o'clock, when Hereford hopes to make it two in a row.
