Around Town

The Pony League Red Sox and White Sox will tangle in a sudden-death play-off at 8 p.m. Tuesday for the season's championship. The White Sox took the first-half hits and the Red Sox won the second half.

A state insurance commission inspector was in Hereford Friday. Results of his survey of fire equipment, water storage facilities and lines will be used by the state commissioners to determine the key fire insurance rate for property here. Clay Angelo of the fire department said that the inspector appeared to be satisfied with his findings.

McBight Garage and Supply is moving from its old location at 216 E. 3rd to a larger building at 642 E. 2nd. The firm will be closed all this coming week and will be open for business at its new location Monday, Aug. 19.

Members of Company A, 975th Engineers Battalion, left early this morning for Fort Polk, La., and two weeks of training. The company is composed of men from the Hereford and Dimmitt area. They drove to Amarillo in trucks and they flew to Fort Polk.

Hundreds Crowd Area Drenched With Gasoline

A west-bound freight train plowed into a loaded gasoline truck at the intersection of the Santa Fe tracks and Main St. Saturday at 9:50 a.m., causing a situation full of potential death, but no one was even injured.

When the train hit the truck, which was driven by W. R. McElroy, 65, of Dimmitt, it split the tank and hundreds of gallons of gasoling poured out along the tracks.

THE GAS did not explode but did catch on fire briefly later. Hereford volunteer firemen quickly extinguished the fire before it could spread.

Hundreds of curious persons rushed to the scene, increasing the danger of fire. Railroad men, city police and sheriff's officers repeatedly pushed the crowd back from the scene.

A match or cigarette lighted in the heavy fumes could have caused a fiery blast and injury or death to the firemen and crowd. MacElroy was hauling a full tank to Mobile gasoline from Amarillo to R. C. Lay, a Dimmitt wholesaler.

MacELROY SAID he waited, along with some cars, at the crossing for an east-bound train to pass. "There were several cars in front of me and when the train went past they all started across. "They made it, but I was too slow, couldn't get up enough speed. I looked and this one was right on me," MacElroy said. He was going south across the tracks.

The engine of the freight hit the rear of the gasoline transport, splitting the tank and knocking it parallel with the tracks and to a 90 degree angle to the cab. The rear wheels of the truck were knocked off.

JOE LYONS, 342 Ave. E, was driving a pickup in front of the gas truck. He stopped and ran back. He tried to open the truck's door but it was jammed. He pulled MacElroy through the window and they ootn ran.

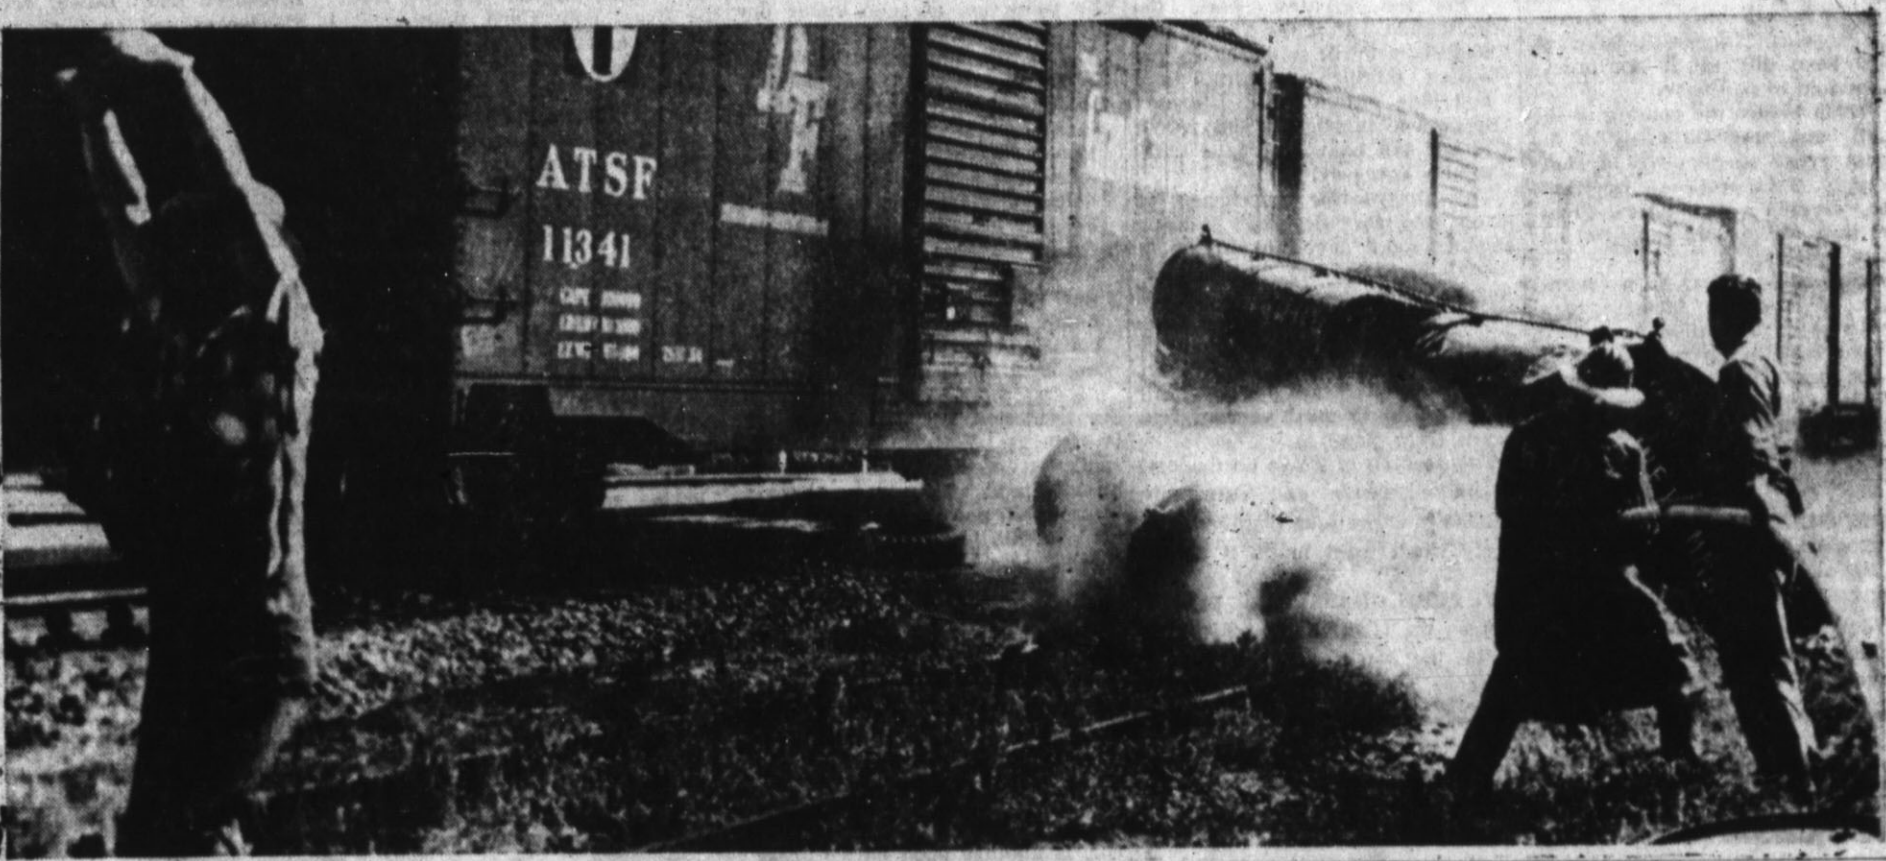

The box cars of the freight were unhitched beside the truck and the engine pulled the truck half away. The other box cars and truck blocked the crossing. Leaking gas filled a depression along the tracks for more than 30 yards and heavy fumes filled the area.

Firemen pulled their trucks around to the south side of the tracks and played streams of water on the truck as a winch truck owned by J. F. Messer hooked on to the gasoline truck.

WHEN the winch cable was pulled taut, sparks ignited the gas right around the cab. Strong streams of water from the hoses knocked out the blaze.

About 45 minutes after the collision occurred, the train's engine backed up, picked up the rest of its cars and went on its way to California.

Some of the gas was pumped out of the transport's big trailer tank and, as firemen continued to play water on it, it was dragged off the side to clear the way. (Continued on Page 5)

Reserve's Budget Cutback Closes Local Classes

The 4183-U. S. Army Reserve School, located in Hereford since 1954, will be closed as of Sept. 1 of this year.

Closing of the school is a phase of the overall cutback in the reserve's budget this fiscal year, according to Earnest Langley, chief instructor of the local branch since it was opened here Sept. 1, 1954.

Langley, a reserve major, said the budget could have supported the weekly classes but couldn't afford to send the students to summer camp each year. The reserve school budget has been cut in half.

Amarillo has been headquarters for a number of satellite schools in the Panhandle, but that headquarters is being reduced to a satellite status itself, Langley said. The Amarillo school will now come under Lubbock's jurisdiction.

Army officers wishing to continue to pick up credit for attending schools will now have to attend Amarillo. Classes in command and general staff, military government and adjutant general school will be offered at Amarillo.

Langley will continue administrative work with the local unit until Sept. 1. Classes have already been halted. Classes offered since the school was opened here include two years of ordnance and one year of civil and military government.

SAME SONG, SECOND VERSE

For the second time in less than a week John Wesley Crear, 29-year-old Hereford Negro, was picked up and charged with bootlegging by sheriff's officers. Crear was arrested Wednesday afternoon in a joint raid by city police and the sheriff's department. He made $1,000 bond and was freed.

On Thursday of last week, Crear was arrested for possession of liquor for sale. He made $1,000 bond Saturday and was released.

Seek To Organize Hereford Bowlers

A meeting to organize a Hereford Bowling Assn. will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the VFW Hall. Jack Kirksey, manager of Sunset Lanes, has asked all bowlers or interested persons to attend. Kirksey said a representative from the American Bowling Congress will be present to see about sanctioning the local association. Also on the schedule for the meeting is the organization of a winter league. The present bowling league will cease next month.

Bumper Milo Crop Seen as Threat to '58 Price

Grain sorghum appears to be headed for a record yield this year, both here in the "Milo Belt" and across the nation. The monumental crop, which may double production of any previous year, will pose a question vital to the economy of this area.

What will milo bring in 1958? The support price has already been set for the crop at year of $1.73 per hundredweight, 15 cents below the 1956 supports. Under existing law which specified a minimum support level of 70 per cent of parity for the current milo crop, the minimum support allowable for 1958 will drop to zero. It will be up to the Secretary of Agriculture to determine where the support level should be pegged. He has a wide range from which to choose, zero to 90 per cent of parity.

THE DEAF SMITH County Chamber of Commerce in recent days has begun a study of the outlook for 1958 milo prices. Irrigated milo is the area's biggest "money" crop. C-C officials see the economy of the area linked directly to the status of the feed grain. The board of directors, incidentally, is composed equally of businessmen and farmers.

They contacted Congressman Walter Rogers early last week, asked him to seek whatever advance information might be available from the agricultural department.

Rogers reported on Friday that "They do not intend to discuss or study price support levels for grain sorghums until the 1957 feed crops are harvested and in the bin." Earlier he had reported that crop support levels might be announced in November or December. The later information the son supplied looked to some C-C officials like fateful handwriting on the wall. Agricultural department officials apparently decided to delay acting on the support level until Congress' next session is well underway. This might preclude any concerted action by non-basic feed grain producers.

Mrs. W. O. Miles' Rites Are Held Here Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Permelia Ann Miles, 90, were held Saturday afternoon in the First Baptist Church here with the Rev. Howard Scott, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Miles died at 4 a.m. Friday in a Lubbock convalescent home. She had lived in Hereford since 1924, moving to the Lubbock home several months ago.

Her husband, W. O. Miles, died last month. Mrs. Miles was born Jan. 26, 1867, in Kentucky. She was married to W. O. Miles Dec. 10, 1891, in Denton County, Tex. They moved to Deaf Smith County from Ford County in 1924.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church here.

Survivors include a son, C. B. Miles of Hereford; a daughter, Mrs. Hattie Blag of Lubbock, 12 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

Interment was in West Park Cemetery. Gilliland Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Graveside Rites for Infant Girl

Graveside services for Judy Word, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Word, were held Wednesday afternoon at West Park Cemetery.

The infant was stillborn at Deaf Smith County Hospital Wednesday. Gilliland Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Hold Suspect After Knifing Here Saturday

City police are holding a man in jail on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

The man, believed to be a transient, was arrested Saturday morning after Bud Brown of Hereford was taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital with severe slashes from a knife.

Brown was taken to the hospital at 4:12 a.m. Saturday. He received a slash eight inches long and four inches deep on his left forearm, and a puncture wound in the stomach.

Exploratory surgery Saturday morning revealed that the stomach itself had not been perforated. Hospital attendants said

Vets Park Site Is Favored for Reserve Unit

Two Army officers and a civilian official Thursday said they favor locating a proposed $130,000 reserve unit training center in Veterans Park here.

After looking at four other possible sites for the center the three men said they would strongly recommend, through channels, that the Veterans Park site be approved in Washington and construction start as soon as possible.

IT WAS pointed out by Maj. Ronald Kern of the Army Unit Advisor's Office in Amarillo that the building was originally slated for the fiscal year of 1958, but has been rescheduled for this fiscal year and funds have been allocated for the building.

Making the trip with Maj. Kern were W. H. Hudleston of the Texas Military District Headquarters, Austin, and Maj. Santoro of the Amarillo office.

Previous trips have been made to Hereford by military and civilian officials to look over sites for the building. On May 21, a party of eight, including a man from Washington, looked at several locations and, at that time, ruled out Veterans Park.

Maj. Kern told Bill Lenderman, chamber of commerce manager, Roy Smith, president of the Veterans Park board, John Alkin and County Judge Homer Henslee that

ONLY 16 PRESENT AT TAX PAYERS MEETING

Just 16 persons attended Thursday's meeting of the Deaf Smith County Tax Payers League. The meeting was highlighted by a talk given by Erwin C. Ochsner of Amarillo, a Deaf Smith County landowner and active member of the Potter County Tax Payers Assn.

Max Drever, league chairman, said he was disappointed "in the size of the crowd," but indicated that the recently formed "tax watch" group will continue its activities.

Two motions were accepted unanimously. The first recommended that property owners take advantage of the opportunity to discuss individual tax adjustments with the county commissioners before their board of equalization session ends tomorrow. The second called for appointment of a two man committee to attend the Hereford Rural High School District budget hearing at 8 p.m. Aug. 20, and included a recommendation that all interested citizens attend the hearing.

Ochsner commended members of the league for the time they have recently devoted to tax problems. "You folks haven't wasted your time, even though it seems you haven't achieved any results," he said. He recommended that the Tax League continue to take an active interest in taxation. And he recommended that individuals keep a careful check on local tax matters and appear before a board of equalization whenever any adjustment appeared justified. He cautioned those present to keep well informed on the business and budget needs of all local governmental bodies, and warned that unless individual citizens maintain a careful watch on taxes they will continue to take a larger and larger share of income.

He cited increasing taxation of real estate as inevitable due to the fact that the costs of government continue to rise, "and land is the only thing that can be taxed that will not run away." "Our whole system of taxation is antiquated, and government officials take the easy way out in taxing land," Ochsner charged. "All money in banks, mortgages, wheat in the elevator are things that are supposed to be taxed, but I dare say they're not," he added. In concluding he said that no improvements in the tax program is possible "unless people become tax conscious and work to do something about taxes."

Giants Win Sends Minor League Into Play-off Round

The minor league Giants defeated the Dodgers, 12-3, Friday night in a regular season make-up game. The win put the Giants into a second-half first place tie with the Yankees.

A game to decide the second-half title will be played at 8 p.m. Monday between the Giants and Yankees. Both teams now have seven wins and two losses.

Should the Yankees win Monday, a play-off for the overall league championship will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday.

If the Giants win Monday, they will be the champions of the entire season. The Giants won the first-half championship. Danny Loerwald and Lynn Warren each pitched three innings Friday night in the Giant win. The Giants scored seven times in the second inning to take a commanding lead.

Future Looks Bright for Grass Seed Sales

By MAX SCHRADER

The demand for suitable, adapted species of grasses has created an increasing interest in the production of grass seed in this district. Many of the more desirable species of grasses have always been difficult if not nearly impossible to purchase.

Even before the coming of the soil bank program many of the best grass seeds were in short supply. This program, by itself, has created a demand for greater than the normal supply of native species.

This past year has seen several more of irrigation farmers turning to seed production as a part of their farming operation. Not all of the grass planted on irrigated land is expressly for that purpose. Many are still planting for forage production and as a soil improving crop in their rotation.

THE SELECTION of species to be grown appears to be influenced by the demands of the soil bank program. All of the land in this category is dryland on which an adapted perennial grass must be planted. On these dryland plantings the old favorites like blue grama, buffalo and sideoats grama still prevail. In many cases the climatic factor and soil type dictates the selection of species.

For the greatest part, the hardlands soil of the Tierra Blanca district will support only the native mixture of buffalo and blue grama with sideoats limited to the lighter soils. Most of our soil bank land falls within this category.

The prospective purchaser of grass seed for dryland planting should choose according to the adaptability of the grass. He shouldn't let the performance of unproven species grown under irrigation influence his choice. It isn't all the production he will get this year that counts most — will he be getting it next year or five years from now?

The seeding of grass on dryland is an expensive and extremely ticklish job. The man planting once likely won't want to do it again.

FUTURE GRASS seed production on the High Plains will likely be on the increase for a number of years. This area is going to be depended on to furnish the dry sections of the Southwest with a dependable supply of seed and has the irrigated farming operations capable of meeting this demand. The production of seed under dryland conditions is too un dependable to meet the increasing demands.

At the present time the production of native grass seed here is limited to Blackwell, switch grass, sideoats grama, big bluestem and some others in lesser demand. Much of this seed will be sold in other sections of the Great Plains and Southwest where it comprises a greater part of the native grass mixture. Some will be used here for increasing the present stands being used for seed production.

Among those growing grass under irrigation for seed production is George Warner who farms southwest of Hereford. George is an old hand at grass seed growing. He is planning to put more of his land to grass. At the present time he is preparing to plant another field to one of the very best native grasses — big bluestem.

Ted Hardwick, Luther Lesly and Raymond Higginbotham are among the others planting grass this past year. Ted has 60 acres of sideoats grama that looks extremely good. He is planning on putting more of his land to western wheat grass later this summer. This is another good native grass.

res at bargain prices.

THE SUPPORT PRICE for the current year is just 70 per cent of parity, $1.73 per hundred. Subtracting handling and storage costs, the crop will net the grower about $1.58 at the elevator if placed in the government loan. The support price as expected was flexed downward from $1.88 in 1956 to $1.73 in 1957.

Local chamber of commerce officials and other observers are concerned over the possibility of a big cut in the support price next year. Farmers who study the situation are downright worried.

Businessmen, particularly those who pondered the 1958 milo price outlook in the most recent chamber of commerce director's meeting, are concerned because they fear a further drop in milo prices would cripple the economy of the whole area.

BOTH FARMERS and other businessmen feel that the time to act is now. But with the possibility for any new helpful farm legislation virtually eliminated by differences of opinion among the lawmakers, they're afraid that the next session of Congress will not act before it is too close to planting time to secure action before lending agencies tighten-up on sorghum crop production loans.

Should that occur and acreage be reduced without any means of compensating for the reduction, low price grain sorghum might prove to be the horse locked out of the barn before he was stolen.

A lack of sympathy for grain sorghum producers' price problems has been displayed before by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. Back in 1955 in Denver, one of his top aides declared that if grain sorghum prices made it a more desirable feed than hay its popularity and price might show some new strength among livestock feeders.

FARMERS realized about $1.55 per hundredweight for the bulk of their 1955 crop. Feeders paid over $2 per hundred for the milo. Hay went as high as $50 a ton. A record production of 242,526,000 bushels of milo disappeared from stores before the 1956 crop was harvested.

While users of feed grains have shown an increased interest in grain sorghum, it appears doubtful that that interest has kept up with the increase in acreage devoted to the crop this year. Grain sorghum has become increasingly popular among farmers from the Gulf to the Corn Belt as a money and feed crop that can be used on acreage that once went into cotton, wheat and corn, which as basic crops are subject to acreage controls.

In the current feed situation outlook-report from the USDA, grain sorghum production is estimated for the current year at 417,818,000 bushels, over 100 per cent more than the 205,065,000 bushels produced last year. The planted acreage of sorghums is up sharply over the nation, 11 per cent in Texas, 54 per cent in Kansas and 80 per cent in Nebraska, but down in Oklahoma and Colorado. Better moisture conditions and new higher producing varieties will contribute to higher yields. While a small decrease in total

First Christian Site Is Purchased

Purchase of the site of the old First Christian Church building at Main and Sixth has been announced by Sam Nunnally and James M. Wood. They plan to construct a masonry office building on the 100 by 140 foot lot.

The sale contract, which will not be complete until the title examination is completed, will give them possession of the property on Dec. 1. Amount to be paid for the lot was not announced. The office building will house the Lone Star Insurance Agency and will probably have additional office space for rent, Nunnally said. The building now owned by Lone Star, at 134-36 S. Main, will be for rent after the agency moves, Nunnally said.

The old church building is now being demolished by the Amarillo firm of Braumer and Oliver.

KERN SAID the location appeared to be better because "a community center is already there." In the area of the park are the Bull Barn, a baseball field and several buildings used by veterans' organizations.

A joint letter from the county commission and the Veterans Park board, was prepared Friday and sent to the Amarillo office to be forwarded to Washington.

The letter assures the military officials that land in the park will be available when and if the government wants to build there.

HUDDLESTON said the building, when and if it is built, will house 100 reservists for classes and drill. It will include three classrooms, four offices and a kitchen.

Kern and Huddleston said another strong point for the park location is the 250 acres available around the park for drill purposes.

If the site is approved, Kern said, construction might begin within nine months to a year.

Ensign and Mrs. Phillip Kendall of Port Lyautey, Morocco, pack up for a month's tour of European countries.

Phillip Kendalls Leave Morocco for Complete Tour of Continent

Ensign and Mrs. Phillip Kendall who are spending a two-year assignment at Port Lyautey, Morocco, North Africa, are shown packing for a month's vacation trip which began Aug. 7.

Traveling by car, they will go first to Spain stopping in Granada, Madrid and Barcelona. They plan to stop at Nice and The Riviera in Southern France and then to Italy where they are looking forward to visits in Pisa, Rome, Florence and Venice.

In Vienna and Salzburg they may be able to attend some music festivals and they will visit Interlocken and Zurich.

A tour of Germany will include Heidelberg and Frankfurt where they will leave their car and fly into Berlin for one day of sightseeing. They plan to spend as much time as they have left in Paris, France and Spain before turning south again to home.

Ensign Kendall's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kendall and daughter Gair have been spending the summer in Europe and one of the highlights of the trip will be a family get-together in Austria. The Eugene Kendalls also visited their son and daughter in law in Morocco.

This will be the Ensign's first glimpse of Europe but Mrs. Kendall accompanied her parents Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gault to Spain, Southern France, Italy and Switzerland after they and another daughter, Glenna, had visited in Morocco in February, flying back to Port Lyautey from Paris while the Gaults continued their trip. She thinks the second trip may be even more exciting.

Mrs. Kendall, the former Gayle Gault, is a graduate of Hereford High School and attended the University of Oklahoma for two years before her marriage.

TRAVEL TIME IN EUROPE

Many Hereford residents have enjoyed travel trips abroad during the past several months and have returned with glowing accounts of places visited and sights seen. Pictured today are some who are former Hereford residents now in European lands by order of Uncle Sam, and spending their vacations visiting places they have always wanted to see.

Capt. Lloyd Manjeot and Family Are Now Vacationing in France

A Hereford man who, with his wife and baby, is enjoying military life abroad is Capt. Lloyd H. Manjeot U. S. Q.M.S.A.C., stationed at Geissen, Germany on a three year assignment.

The couple is vacationing now in France while he is on a military mission with perhaps a period of service in France in the offing. They plan to tour Scandinavian countries in August and later Italy and England.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, spent three months in Europe last spring and by accumulated leaves Capt. and Mrs. Manjeot were able to join them in part of the trip. Shared with their parents were tours of Bavaria, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland and western Germany.

Before leaving for Germany on July 3, 1956, Capt. Manjeot, a graduate of Texas A&M College, had served 14 months in Korea and received his M. A. degree from the University of Alabama. He also had other overseas duty at Pearl Harbor and Puerto Rico.

Mrs. Manjeot, the former Miss Rosemarie DeGennaro of Hoboken, N. J., is realizing a life-long ambition, that of picking up her study of piano abroad.

Both take active part in orientation classes of army personnel where they are constantly reminded that each person with the U. S. A. military on foreign soil is an ambassador for his or her country. They were winners in the "Good Speech" contest conducted by the military and he serves on the first team of volley ball, bowling and soft ball and takes active part in religious services in the base chapel.

Their 8 months-old daughter, Beverly Gale, was born in Germany.

Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Manjeot look on, Beverly Gale, does a little flirting on the side from the left, while their small daughter, Beverly Gale, was born in Germany.

Miss Cameron, Bride-Elect of Joe Easley, Favored at Shower

Miss Corinne Cameron, who will become the bride of Joe Easley in the Fredericksburg Lutheran Church on Aug. 25, was honored at a shower tea given in the home of Mrs. Alton Fraser Saturday afternoon, Aug. 3, with Mrs. J. C. McCracken and Mrs. C. F. Moore as assistant hostesses.

Yellow rosebuds in a Francis-I silver bowl centered the refreshment table which was laid with a white Madeira cutwork cloth. Rising from among the roses was a tiny cupid, in suggestion of the romance, holding a garland of white, blue and gold blossoms. The bride-elect's corsage was of yellow roses and her mother wore pink gladiolus while the bridegroom-elect's mother wore a white gladiolus corsage.

Mrs. Fraser received the guests and the line was made up of Mrs. Alfred Cameron of Fredericksburg, the mother of the bride to be, the honoree and the prospec-ive bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Oscar Easley.

Members of the house party were Miss Donnie Johnson, Miss Irene Witherspoon, Miss Charlotte Moore, Mrs. Jack McCracken, Miss Sharon Hook and Miss Glenna Gault who gave informal music during the calling hours.

Miss Cameron and her fiancé were complimented at a breakfast given Sunday morning at the Jack Bradley home with Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Troy Moore as hostesses.

Table appointments were in crystal and silver and a tiered crystal container filled with colorful fruit formed the center attraction. Tables laid for four were centered with miniature arrangements of pink rose buds.

Those seated were the honorees, Mrs. Alfred Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Easley, Donnie Johnson, Bonnie Lewis, Bob Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Skelton, Troy Moore and Jack Bradley.

Capt. and Mrs. Frank W. Durkee who are stationed with the Air Force at Munich, Germany, and their two daughters, Connie Lynn 10, and Jill Ann 3½, are spending their vacation traveling, first to Sweden and on to Denmark where they found the Danes and Swedes driving American cars while they themselves drove the foreign cars to save gas.

They visited Oslo and Stockholm with its wonderful antique shops and then on to Copenhagen where they visited the famous Tivoli Amusement Park and saw the huge ships and then on to Holland before returning home by way of Weisbaden on July 31.

Designer on Fabric Safari

GLOBE-TROTTER DRESSMAKER—Vera Maxwell looks over mink-collared evening coat of violet Scottish tweed, part of her fall collection using fabrics from many lands.

COCOON COAT — Caramel tweed from Scotland makes this mink-trimmed charmer.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

When Vera Maxwell goes on safari, she doesn't carry an elephant gun. Instead she takes along her notebooks and color swatches, and the game she brings back is the fruit of the world's looms.

As a great white hunter, Vera is known in most corners of the earth — only she prefers to hunt fabrics instead of tigers. The prizes she brings back to her New York showroom wind up in the wardrobes of American women. Says she:

"I feel about fabrics and colors the way some women feel about diamonds. I love to go poking into out-of-the-way places and discover beautiful cloth being made by craftsmen who work in the old ways handed down to them through generations. Sometimes in a primitive part of the world you find colors and textures that no modern textile mill could duplicate. Hunting them out is my sport and my hobby, as well as my business."

The Maxwell collection of fall fashions is full of misty Scotch and Irish tweeds, Swiss cottons, Italian and French silks, as a result of the designer's last safari through the mills of Ireland and Scotland and her visits to Zurich, Paris and Rome.

"Lots of my tweeds I get from the Avoca Valley in Ireland, where the three Wynn sisters, aged 81, 82 and 83, turn out dreamy woolen fabrics from an old stone mill close to their beautiful Georgian home. They buy their wool nearby, spin and dye their own yarns and spread it on the picket fence to dry. You can't imagine the thrill of coming suddenly on that little stone mill with the riot of color in drying yarns all around it, and the three little old ladies, erect and dignified, in the midst of it all."

Vera also visited the crofters' cottages in Scotland, and worked with the weavers in planning designs and colors. Many of her fabrics are her own design, made up in Scottish mills.

Dyes used for some of the tweeds are made, from "crotle," a kind of orange turnip, from fish dye, which turns purple, from beet root and from seaweed.

They went down to see about a place to stay.

Linda Russell spent Thursday with her grandmother, Mrs. Ira Ricketts.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Parsons, Nancy and Doris visited Carlsbad Caverns Tuesday and Wednesday. Jenny Lynn McCathern accompanied them.

Mrs. Jim Ricketts of Grants, N. M., arrived Monday evening for a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. Ray Hershey.

Cone Dorris of New Mexico is spending the summer with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Fortenberry.

V. E. Dodson attended a water board meeting in Lubbock Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Griffin and children of El Paso spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Carmichael and family.

Edah Park left for her home in Denver Saturday after a week's visit with her father and sister, J. L. Park and Lucille, and other relatives and friends.

Ken Carmichael spent the weekend with his family, the P. L. Carmichaels. Pete spent Monday night with Ken on the farm near Sedan, N. M.

Dinner guests Thursday of Mrs. Leon Coffin were Mrs. J. T. Arrington of Floydada, Mrs. Paul Thompson of Tulsa, Mrs. Bert Coffin, Myrna Lou and Judy, and Mrs. Coffin's mother, Mrs. Mary Stewart of Dallas.

J. L. Park and Lucille visited Tuesday in Amarillo with Mrs. Paul Cavender.

Mrs. V. E. Dodson was in Amarillo Thursday for shopping and visited with her sister, Mrs. H. V. Lee, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Carter of Canyon visited in the Ira Ricketts home recently.

Cold Soups for Summer Menus

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

COLD SOUPS have been making steady headway on our hotweather menus and, if you agree with us that this is all to the good, you may wish to try this new but simple combination.

This recipe calls for only a can of condensed consommé, some thin strips of cooked beets and a tablespoon of beet juice along with one of lemon juice and a suspension of sugar. Don't add more than the measure of beets and beet juice called for, or the consommé may not jell as it should and, surprisingly enough, these slim amounts give the soup a fine ruby-red color.

The presentation of this soup is at least half its charm, so please set the stage for it! If you have Chinese or Japanese soup or rice bowls, by all means use them. Some of our own bowls of this sort are blue inside and out, and the garnet colored soup look exceptionally pretty in them. But pale pink or yellow bowls would be attractive to use, and so would inexpensive glass ones. And remember that crystal finger bowls (the ones that came as a wedding present and have been on the top shelf of the closet ever since) are lovely to use for cold soups.

The rest of the presentation of this soup concerns its accompaniments. We serve three in number: finely diced cucumber; minced chives or scallions (green onions), and whipped cream seasoned with salt, lemon juice and bottled horseradish. To hold these we use small white oriental tea cups — the sort without handles — because they complement the oriental bowls in which the soup is offered.

This jellied soup and these accompaniments made a big hit at an outdoor supper we gave recently so we have no hesitation in commending it to you!

JELLIED BEET CONSOMME PLUS

Ingredients: 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed consommé, 1/4 cup thin strips canned beets, 1 tablespoon beet juice (from the canned beets), 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1/4 cup heavy cream, salt, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon bottled horseradish, finely diced cucumber, minced chives or scallions (green onions).

Method: Have the soup at room temperature. Put the beet strips in the bottom of three individual serving bowls. Mix the consommé with the beet juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and sugar; pour over beets in bowls. Chill until soup is jellied — about 4 hours; bowls may be placed on a tray for easy hand-

The cafe fixtures located in a building; if bowls have covers, put them on. Just before serving, whip the cream with a dash of salt until thick; lightly beat in 1 teaspoon lemon juice and the horseradish. Serve horseradish cream as an accompaniment to the soup along with the diced cucumber and minced chives. If scallions are substituted for chives, include some of the green tops. When the jellied soup is taken out of the refrigerator, just before serving, lightly ruffle it with the tines of a fork so the beets are mixed through it. Makes 3 servings.

Note: Recipe is easily doubled or increased even more. A buffet size can (about 8 ounces) of small whole red beets will provide enough beet strips and beet juice for several cans of consommé.

E. (Tiger) Teague of Bryan; John Dowdy, Athens; Lindley Beckworth, Gladewater; Omar Burleson, Anson, and Frank Ikard, Wichita Falls.

Fortunately for them, according to their own estimate of the situation, the counties they are gaining are much like those they already represent. They are primarily agricultural.

Typical was the comment of Congressman Teague, who picked up Hood, Johnson and Somervell counties.

"They are made up of the same type of good people I am now representing," said the much decorated World War II combat veteran and '32 Texas A. and M. graduate. "I have many good friends in them now, and I hope to make a lot more."

HE PLANS to get a trailer and convert it into a portable office. Throughout the fall he will move it about from one community to another to look into various problems, handling much of the routine right there, sending up to the Washington office matters which require action at this end of the line.

All of Teague's new counties plus Parker county, were stripped from Rep. Jim Wright's district. That leaves Wright only Tarrant County.

"I'm honestly sad to lose them," commented Wright. "Each has some mighty fine farm communities and fine people in them. They're my friends."

Wright, incidentally, faces some personal inconvenience in the switching around. His home now is in Parker's county seat, Weatherford. He and his wife are on the lookout for a home in Fort Worth, but he has to sell his Weatherford house first. Wright should quickly feel at home in Fort Worth—he was born and reared there; he moved to Weatherford right after World War II air corps service.

PARKER COUNTY has been added to the district of Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson and Abilene. Wright said he expects to introduce both Teague and Burleson to constituents he is losing. They'll probably meet at barbecues and other such gatherings.

In addition to Parker, Burleson also picks up Scurry County. Scurry, along with Stonewall, Kent,

Glamor Treatment for Beans

SMOOTH, TANGY MUSTARD SAUCE gives new flavor

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

ONE FINE WAY TO DRESS UP everyday green snap beans is to serve them with a scrumptiously smooth sauce. Egg yolks and milk produce the velvet texture of the sauce; dry mustard, pepper and lemon juice give it tang.

This sauce is one for would-be epicures (and well-established gourmets, too) to keep in their repertoire. It has many uses—not only with such other vegetables as cauliflower, broccoli and spinach—but we've found it delicious with broiled chicken and fish.

SNAP BEANS WITH EPICURE SAUCE

Ingredients: 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon white pepper, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 egg yolks, 1/2 cup milk, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 pound whole green snap beans (freshly cooked and drained and hot), diced canned pimiento or fresh sweet red pepper (for garnish).

Method: Melt butter in a heavy saucepan (about 1 quart) over low heat. Remove from heat. Stir in flour, salt, white pepper and dry mustard thoroughly. Beat egg yolks slightly; add milk and beat enough to combine. Stir all at once into flour mixture. Cook and stir constantly over very low heat until slightly thickened and mixture will coat a silver spoon (as in custard); do not allow to boil. Stir in lemon juice off heat and pour over drained hot freshly cooked whole snap beans. Garnish with pimiento. Serve at once. Makes 4 to 6 servings. (Sauce may be reheated over hot water but should not be put over boiling water or allowed to boil.)

KITCHEN NOTES

You will notice that the above recipe calls for white pepper; we suggest this to keep the sauce a good color. Ground white pepper is generally available; it is nothing more than black pepper berries (peppercorn) with the outer fibrous material removed.

King and Haskell, are being taken away from the district of Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock. These last four counties are to be added to Ikard's district.

Both Burleson and Ikard plan to get over their newly added territory as soon as possible. Like Teague, they commented on the community of interest of the counties they are acquiring with those they already represent.

Dowdy has been doing much spade work in Angelina county since he learned it was to be added to his deep East Texas district. He promptly started sending his weekly newsletter and radio recordings to Lufkin, so that the folks in that area already are getting familiar with the way he thinks.

Beckworth acquires Shelby County in the reshuffling. It, like Angelina, came off the top of the district represented by Rep. Jack Brooks of Beaumont.

"Shelby County couldn't have been put with a district which has more in common with it than ours", Beckworth noted. "We have like agricultural problems, and the Sabine River flows through Shelby too. It's a natural continuity of my original district."

SENTIMENTAL JOURNEY

KENNEBUNKPORT, Maine (AP)—Nowadays, when trolley tracks are laid, rather than torn up that's news!

Workmen are spiking down a half a mile of rails beside U. S. Route 1 in Kennebunkport. The rails will give trolley enthusiasts a chance to ride old-fashioned open cars at the Seashore Electric Railway Museum.

The two cars to be used came from Connecticut. On exhibition at the museum are 60 cars of various types—from the United States, Canada and Great Britain. A New Zealand cable car may soon be added.

A non-profit undertaking, the museum is owned by the New England Electric Railway Historical Society, Inc.

Woman Aims Gripes on Packaging

AP Newsfeatures
"Women are lazy. They look for convenience, and they have a lot of ideas about improving packages."

So said Dorothy Diamond, who writes "The Woman's Viewpoint" for a business magazine, addressing a recent symposium of the Package Designers Council, for which she acts as a judge in annual packaging awards. Here, she told the packagers, are the things women look for:

1. Ease of storage. (She feels the long aluminum foil package is difficult to store.)
2. Ease of opening. (She commends the new zip-off cereal packages and the new flip-off lids.)
3. Effectiveness after opening. (Packages for brown-and-serve rolls, she says, are hard to re-close.)
4. Packages attractive enough to be used on the table. (She applauds the apothecary jars for vitamin pills, decorative spice containers and foods packaged in serving dishes.)

Miss Diamond listed among pet gripes lipstick cases which tarnish before the lipstick is used and sealed cookie bags which are hard to re-seal.

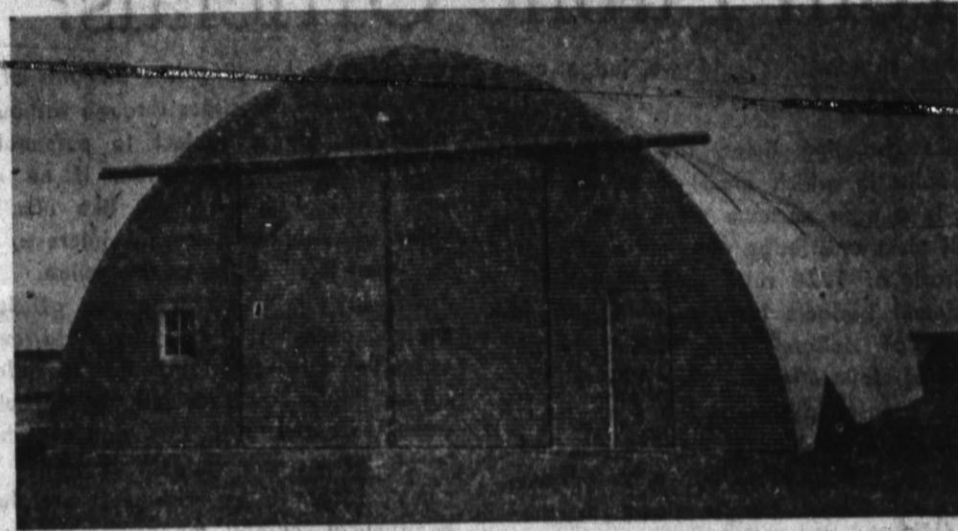

She said women would be grateful to the manufacturer who packages foods for the school-box in unit servings.

ESCAPE WELL

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—A nearby Sparta farmer has solved a problem of a tornado shelter by pumping an old cistern dry and converting it into a safe underground place for tornado weather.

Lyle Anderson said the project didn't cost a cent. He pumped the cistern dry with a fruit spray rig and stocked it with drinking water, blankets, tins of farm and personal records plus a transistor radio.

Is The Catholic Church Out of Place in America?

Some critics say "yes" and assert as one of their reasons that the Church is not democratic.

They say it is undemocratic, for example, for the Church to oppose birth control and divorce with remarriage. It is undemocratic for Catholics to maintain their own schools... to campaign against obscene literature, books and films... to promulgate a distinctive Catholic culture.

What, we ask, could be more undemocratic than to deny Catholics the right to do these very things if they choose?

Christ's Church was not intended, of course, to be Canadian, or British, French or German. It was to be catholic, not national—at home everywhere, alien nowhere. Nor was Christ's Church designed to be democratic. It was established on a hierarchical system, with authority vested in the Apostles—not in the Congregation. That is the nature and design of the Catholic Church.

To assert that the Catholic Church is undemocratic implies that it is anti-democratic and antagonistic to a "democratic" political and social system. Nothing could be further from the truth. No firmer dedication to democratic principles could be made than that voiced by the Catholic Bishops of the United States at their Third Plenary Council, in Baltimore, in 1884. The present Pope, Pius XII, supplementing similar comments by earlier Popes, declared in 1944 that the member of a true democracy is "a citizen of honor, of personal activity and of dignity."

In 1576—just 200 years before America's Declaration of Independence—Robert Cardinal Bellarmine, a famed member of the Catholic

Hierarchy—wrote that "all men are equal"... "that political right is from God"... "that man must be governed by someone"... that government "must depend on the consent of the multitude"... and that "for legitimate reasons the people can change the government..."

In a genuine democracy, it must be recognized as the right of the Catholic Hierarchy to expound Catholic doctrine, to instruct the Catholic people, to legislate and regulate in matters concerning the Catholic Church. To do so infringes in no way on the rights or liberties of non-Catholics.

If you would like to have a better understanding of the Catholic Church and its attitudes and activities, write today for our free pamphlet. It will be sent in a plain wrapper... nobody will call on you. Fill in coupon—mail today! Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-49.

ROMAN MODE—Here are two outstanding fall fashions from the recent showings in Rome. At left is a dramatic daytime dress designed by the Fontana sisters in a new material with the texture and weave of sack-cloth. The bodice is in black jersey, skirt, shoes and handbag of the sacking fabric. At right is Eleanora Garnett's ballon-skirt cocktail dress in rich gray silk brocade. Hemline drapery is repeated at the shoulder line. Unusual fabrics made news in all collections.

Spotty Rains Are Welcome

By MRS. S. N. THWEATT
The moisture that fell over the weekend and the first of the week was welcomed by the farmers and ranchers even though it was spotted. Hall brothers received 2 inches. Davis had over 1½; Bootleg, .70; Floyd Brown, .90; Walcott, .4.

Shorty Newman and family visited his mother, Mrs. W. H. Newman Sunday at Silverton, and they returned home in a heavy rain between Tulsa and Dimmitt. They said it must have been 4 or 5 inches.

Mrs. W. H. Newman is closing her business in Silverton this week and plans to visit her son and family the coming week.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown and granddaughter Barbara Brown were in Amarillo Tuesday. Brown saw the doctor for a heart check-up. He is reported to be showing improvement.

Barbara had her hand treated for a cut received while she was making mud pies.

The Frank Fords have been in Tacoma, Wash., having a vacation and visiting with their son, Frank Jr.

Mrs. S. N. Thweatt made a business trip to Amarillo Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Potts of Rosedale, N. M., visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown Sunday.

The Thweatts had a card from the James Colemans last week. They reported rainy weather up in Colorado. Mary Dee had been fishing and made a catch of a 16 inch fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Newman and children visited his cousin, Mrs. S. G. Knoll at McDonald, N. M., Monday. The three little girls are spending the week with the Knolls and Mrs. Knoll is making them back to school clothes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Coleman visited Grandma Messenger at the Friona Hospital recently and they reported that the doctor said she had a 50-50 chance of getting well now.

Pat Web returned from his vacation in New Mexico. He reported that his cover crop at Bootleg was looking good for dry weather, and should be better after the 70 sprinkle Monday morning.

Prof's Tips Help Beat Heat

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Newsfeatures Writer

"Heat," said the professor, "is a form of energy consisting of the motion of molecules in a substance with the rate of motion determining the temperature."

He stirred up a few lazy molecules in front of his face with a long, limp sweep of a newspaper held in his hand. The temperature rose perceptibly. We were sitting on a park bench in the shade of a tall, building. Overhead, the sun was beating down. It was heating down passersby. Several collapsed around us as we talked.

"That's all very well and good," I said, "but I too can read the dictionary. I came to you to find out what to do about it. Tell me, professor, how can I beat the heat?"

"First off," said the professor, "it is necessary to recognize that it is hot. One simply does not beat the heat by ignoring it or pretending it is not there. Worst thing you can do."

"That's easily done," I murmured. "Once you recognize that it is hot, then slow down. Don't exert yourself. Remember, the more you move around, the more those little old molecules move around, too."

"That's right," I said, making a mental note to bring that point up the next time the chief chided me when something wasn't done on time.

"Drink plenty of liquids," the professor went on. "They lower the body temperature. They slow down the molecules."

"Yes, Yes," I interrupted with an eagerness unbecoming an objective reporter. I had read about places that sell liquids in tall, cool glasses. In fact, I had made plans to visit one shortly to study the effect on my molecules.

"But go easy on the alcohol," said the professor, throwing cold beer all over my plans. "Ice water is better to replace body moisture lost through perspiration."

"Wear light, loose, comfortable clothing," he went on. "And the less clothing the better."

"If you follow those simple rules, you'll be more comfortable and you'll enjoy the summer no matter how hot it gets," he concluded.

We've added new equipment now, a back-hoe and dragline, to handle your slush pit clean-out and other specialized digging.

HEREFORD BULL

By JIMMIE GILLENTE

Folks are still talking about the big Dollar Day last Monday. The bargains were terrific — and the people came in droves to take advantage of Hereford's town-wide summer clearance. From all accounts, Monday probably set a new high for the monthly bargain event.

DOWN ABILENE WAY with the Little Leaguers, I ran into Gene

Prickett, former agent for Amarillo News-Globe and local electrician. Gene has the Tayco radio and T-V shop in Abilene, but was out there yelling for Hereford just like one of the regular fans. He and Bessie like Abilene well, according to Gene, "but still miss Hereford." I also thought we might see George Graham, former Hereford superintendent, but he must have been out of town. Anyway, we did not see him at the game.

Certainly, Lubbock and Abilene have nothing on Hereford, when it comes to Little League Parks. Both have rest rooms and press boxes, which are real assets but, generally speaking, our park will compare with any of them we saw. This will be especially true in a few years after the grass has had a chance to spread. Where these other parks excel ours in some ways, the Hereford Park also has advantages over the two mentioned.

Column letters are always welcome. In the first place, they make the job easier — and they make the column interesting. I was quite surprised this week, however, to get a letter from Germany. It was written by Billie Durkee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Davis. Mrs. Durkee is a Hereford High graduate and has many friends in this area. She writes:

August 4, 1957
Erding, Germany

Dear Jimmie Gilentine,
Being I am an avid fan of your column, especially since being overseas, I have followed your recent experience in California and surrounding area with much interest.

I noticed in one of your columns you wrote that foreign cars were taking California and you mentioned the German Volkswagen. We just completed a 3,300 mile tour of the Scandinavian countries and Holland with picnic supplies, five suitcases, and two children in our Volkswagen and can vouch for the economy and the other points about which you mentioned, but am wondering if you have heard the latest Volkswagen joke:

It seems a proud owner of a Volkswagen was parked by a stop light and was waiting for the light to change when a slinky big Cadillac rolled up beside it. The fellow in the Cadillac yelled to the fellow in the Volks "What's all the racket I hear, chum?" Determined not to be outdone, the Volkswagen owner shouted right back, "Oh that, well, that is just $3,000 in change."

Sincerely,
Mrs. Billie (Davis) Durkee

These foreign cars are something we will see more of as the years pass. Chrysler dickered with American Motors on the Rambler — and I noticed where General Motors is beginning to import some of its foreign made cars. Two-car families are becoming more numerous all of the time. These little foreign jobs seem to fit into this category best, so far as the American way of life is concerned. What most of us really want is a big car on the low price level. It will be a long time, though, before the foreign jobs become too popular in this area.

Also another letter from "honorary" Marlin Gilliland. He represents the attitude of his own kind and kin, "Aunt Cecl and Uncle Reed." I am not going to print the whole thing, chiefly because we all know that Marlin is 100 percent right in this deal — and anything else we say will be strictly superfluous. However, Marlin does add that he appreciates my staunch support in these trying times. This word of thanks, it seems to me, is long overdue. He even brags on my weather forecasts, which is embarrassing.

After all these years, I finally missed. I said that Bill could go ahead and cut his hay on Monday, but it showered — and he had to wait until Tuesday. I should have known better. When a fellow starts cutting hay, it invariably rains. This is about the surest sign in the books. It just goes to prove the old adage: "Nobody in West Texas! And I still have a pretty good average. However, it didn't galley-wash like Plainview and Canyon, which helps me save my face."

BRUCE MILLER is just back from northern New Hampshire, looking sharp as a tack. That boy really had a vacation — and it shows. He joined his family on an island in the Lake Winnepesaukee area for the past two or three weeks. The family is due back Aug. 21. They have been visiting with the E. T. Rice family of Boston and, in addition to "roughing it" on the island, Bruce made excursions into New York and Montreal, Canada.

Lewis Block and Jim Bradley have some excellent color slides of their recent Scout excursion to Valley Forge. They had a lot of fun showing them at Lions Club the other day. They are still trying to figure out how Albert Maxwell, after warning his boys to be on time or get left, managed to "get lost and get left" first rattle out of the box. Also how it happened that Dr. M. C. Adams was always on K-P duty when exciting things were happening? Anyway, it makes a nice club program — and will be even better when the boys turn the slides around so people can read them.

The new funeral home on Park Ave. will be complete with a small white church, they say. The church will be available for weddings as well as funeral services.

Some of the small fry are already worrying about the opening of school — and it won't be long. All in all, this has been a peculiar summer. The hot weather came late and lingers on but, most unusual, is the high amount of humidity. For the first summer in a long time, the evaporative air conditioners have been hampered by humidity. One thing is for sure, though, 1958 will be another "wet year" in this area. Above normal rainfall can be expected on through 1960 — anyway. This means more wheat than in recent years, and at least one whale of a bumper crop during the wet cycle.

Not being a golfer I shouldn't complain, but why in the world do these guys get the gasoline go-carts to travel around the fairway? I thought the only excuse for the game was exercise — and now they defeat the purpose by riding from green to green. Next thing you know, someone will come out with a mechanical "ball hitter" engineered to lay the ball on the next green, only inches from the cup. Instead of clubs, golfers will go around with slide rules and adding machines. If I ever take up golf, I am going to be a caddy. He gets paid and also gets the exercise, which makes it by far the best deal the game has to offer in these modern times.

A. W. O. L. DAVENPORT, Iowa — A one armed spider monkey — name Mrs. Lucky — took her baby for an outing in the park here.

She found the door to her cage in the children's zoo was unlatched and she answered the call of the open woods. Three other monkeys went along for the fun. For about an hour Mrs. Lucky swung from limb to limb of the park trees while her baby, Penny, clung happily to her. The other monkeys joined in the frolic. The outing ended when Mr. Lucky and her consorts became hungry and returned to the cage for the tasty tidbits park attendants had spread for them there.

Oregon's Sen. Morse Holds One-Man Filibuster Record

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — At 11:40 a.m. on April 24, 1953, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon rose in the Senate and obtained permission to speak. He had a few words to say in opposition to a bill giving submerged oil lands to the states.

Before Morse could shift into high gear, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio broke in to ask: "May I ask how long altogether the senator expects to speak this time?"

"I had a rather bad meal last night," Morse said, "which is going to handicap me somewhat."

If it hadn't been for the bad meal, Morse might be talking yet. For he talked all that day, all that night and well into the next morning. He finally halted at 10:06 a.m., after speaking for 22 hours and 26 minutes.

This set the course record for the Senate, beating the mark set by Sen. Bob LaFollette Sr. of Wisconsin in a 1908 battle over a currency bill. LaFollette had held the floor for 18 hours and 13 minutes.

But Morse's record was far more remarkable since, in addition to that bad meal, he had another handicap. Due to a technicality, he could not be interrupted for a

Almost every legislative body has had filibusters, but it is in the Senate, where debate is unlimited, that they have been most effective. And here it has been refined to its purest form, with filibusters over proposals to take up a rule that would curb filibusters.

Curiously, though, the world's record for filibustering isn't held by a senator or even an American. In the 1890s a Romanian named Horwitz rose to explain why he wanted a minister fired. He talked for 37 hours.

quorum call, a device whereby the speaker can rest while the roll is called.

LaFollette had 29 quorum calls and three rollcall votes on question of order. Morse had none.

Furthermore, unlike some celebrated filibusters of the past, Morse stuck fairly well to his subject.

Sen. Huey Long of Louisiana is considered the king of the filibusters, but, unlike Morse, he wandered all over the vocal lot.

In June of 1935 Long held the Senate floor for 15 hours and 30 minutes, and it was here, using a Senate wastebasket as a substitute cooking utensil, he gave his discourse on potlikker.

"First," Long said, "let me tell the senators what potlikker is. Potlikker is the residue that remains from the commingling, heating and evaporation — anyway, it's in the bottom of the pot."

For senators still puzzled about potlikker, Long disclosed the main ingredient: turnip greens.

These filibusters, by individuals may or not be tied in with a well-organized effort in which senators work in relays to talk a bill to death. But it's the combined attempt — such as the filibusters by foes of civil rights legislation — that works.

Oriental Sedan Chairs Dying Transport Mode

DYING PROFESSION—Two of Hong Kong's 12 remaining sedan chair bearers stoop low to shoulder their burden. The dozen old men and their six chairs are all that is left of a once thriving Oriental business.

By LEN LEFKOW
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Tucson police noticed that traffic suddenly began proceeding at a sedate and orderly pace after they set up their radar on East Broadway.

Business stepped up, however, when a sign on the next block was discovered and removed. The sign said: "Look out! Cops using radar."

LOTS OF LUCK
ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (AP) — During school recess, 11-year-old Paul Mooradian found one six-leaf clover, six five-leafed and nine four-leaf clovers in the school yard.

A slow, bouncing ride for a few blocks up an incline costs about one dollar (17 cents U. S.). Passengers occasionally give their rag-attired bearers an added few cents as a tip.

"But things have changed," says one, a 55-year-old bare-foot Chinese who has been at his trade since he was 18. "Once upon a time we'd get ten dollars ($1.70 U. S.) from a passenger."

"They were the golden days," he says, his eyes flashing back to the past when more than 800 brightly painted sedan chairs were licensed and did a booming business carting people up hills.

By 1949, taxis and buses had reduced the number to 27. The 1954

"There's nothing left of the business," he says. "We 12 would like to change our profession, too, but no one will employ us. We're getting too old."

DURANGO, Colo. (AP) — During the early 1880s, there was a church here that was maintained largely by cattle rustlers, bank robbers, and roustabouts.

KERR - LEHRER GULF SERVICE "THE BEST OF SERVICE — ALWAYS"

Kerr-Lehrer Gulf Service, located at First and Lawton streets, has been under present management of Cliff Kerr and Wayne Lehrer, partners, since March of this year. The station is new — having been built and established about one year ago by R. N. Larmer. Mr. Kerr is a native of Hereford and Mr. Lehrer came here from Abilene last year.

Besides Cliff and Wayne the station employs two others. William Menter is one of the best car wash men in town, having had 10 years experience in this work. Another special service performed is the cleaning of car upholstery. This station features all Gulf products including gasoline, oils, tires, tubes, batteries, livestock spray, lighter fluid, aerosol deodorant and automotive accessories.

Kerr-Lehrer Gulf Service tries its utmost to live up to the slogan, "The Best of Service — Always." The station is open 24 hours a day during week days and from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sundays. Perfect Summer Dessert Found

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor
Eight tasters gave their full approval to this Lime Souffle Cake as a perfect summer dessert. It has a delicate flavor, a puffy but substantial texture and is easy to make.

Although there is no cream or cottage cheese in this dessert, it will remind you of a light-as-air cheese cake. Three ingredients — eggs, sweetened condensed milk and fresh limes — achieve the interesting filling. The crust and topping are a combination of zwieback crumbs, sugar and melted butter or margarine along with finely chopped walnuts. We borrowed the idea of adding the nuts from a professional caterer and they add immeasurably to the dessert.

If you plan to offer this Lime Souffle Cake as a supper party dessert, you may wish to prepare it an hour and a half to two hours before it is to be served. This method is practical because the dessert is baked for half an hour in a slow oven and then it is cooled in the oven (with the door closed) with the heat shut off. When it is removed at the end of the cooling period, it will be warm, high and puffy — a delight to savor. Or you can prepare the dessert well ahead and serve it cold; in this case it will shrink an inch or so in height but it will still taste delicious.

LIME SOUFFLE CAKE
Ingredients: 4 large eggs (separated), 1 can (15 ounces) sweetened condensed milk (1 1/3 cups), 1

LIME SOUFFLE CAKE has delicate flavor, substantial texture — and it's easy to make.

teaspoon grated lime rind, 1/3 cup lime juice, 2/3 cup fine zwieback crumbs, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), 1/4 cup very finely chopped walnuts (packed down).

Method: Beat egg yolks in medium-sized mixing bowl with rotary beater (hand or electric) until thick and almost white in color. Add condensed milk and beat until blended. Add grated lime rind and lime juice and beat again until blended. With clean rotary beater, beat egg whites until stiff enough to hold a peak that stands straight up when beater is slowly withdrawn. Fold beaten egg whites into milk mixture. Mix zwieback crumbs and sugar together well; mix thoroughly with melted butter. Pat half of mixture into bottom of well-buttered pan (about 8 by 8 by 2 inches). Stir finely chopped walnuts into remaining half of crumb mixture; pat about half of these crumbs over the others in the pan. Turn lime mixture over crumbs; sprinkle with remaining walnut-zwieback crumbs. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 30 minutes. Turn off oven heat; allow dessert to remain in oven with door closed 1 hour. Remove and serve at once; or allow to get cold and serve. Makes 8 generous servings.

SKEPTICS IN RIVER EDGE

House Sale Breeds Suspicion, Anxiety

By SAUL PETT
AP Newsfeatures Writer
RIVER EDGE, N. J. — About two weeks ago we decided to sell our house. Now, I ask you, is there anything criminal or un-American about that?

You wouldn't think so. But just try it. Just try selling your house and you'll soon feel like a combination of Willie Sutton, Samuel Insull, "Yellow Kid" Weil, a used car salesman and a spy caught red-handed with the H-bomb blueprints.

We advertised and listed our house with real estate agents. At first nothing happened—and our pride took an awful beating—until we dropped the price from an enticing $22,800 to an enticing $22,300.

Then the big parade started — suspicious strangers with clips on their shoulders wandering through the living room, tapping the walls, peering behind furniture and pictures, asking and reasking interminable questions.

SO FAR we haven't found a buyer but we have auditioned any number of potential district attorneys. They all have a sharp cross-examination technique. Their endless questions, I suppose, are designed to catch you off guard, to make you stumble, to reveal some terrible secret you're hiding about your house.

The most crucial question — the one that is supposed to crumble your whole case to bits and make you confess, in tears, that the price has a secret — is this: "Why are you moving?"

This is always asked deliberately, with intensely searching eyes, and you can almost feel the electrodes of a lie detector slipping around your wrists. This is when they hope to trap you into hysterical admission that you're trying to unload a fraud.

Our honest answer happens to be simply that we're getting another child, we need more room, we saw this place in Long Island we're crazy about.

THE COLD, dead look of disbelief in the buyer's eyes says, yeah, but what's the real reason, is the roof caving in, are they building a glue factory next door, are all the neighbors saxophone players?

Whatever your reason is for moving, you'd better stand mute or plead the Fifth. Any answer you give will be held against you.

Real estate agents react somewhat differently to the fact that we're moving from New Jersey to Long Island. They immediately start framing an ad: "Owner forced to move, leaving state, must sell. . . ." Until you feel like you're being extradited for grand larceny.

And then there are the knowing wall-tappers. They crook the index finger of the right hand and knock on the wall, concentrating with the intense look of a cardiac specialist searching for a coronary.

EVERY house buyer, these days, expects "extras" — wall ovens, air conditioners, deep freezes, among others — and when they find you're not throwing in a grand piano, recently tuned, they look at you as though you're stealing a family heirloom — from their family.

People come to look at your house with a variety of intentions, all of them mystifying. There is the woman who will spend an hour in your place, studying every detail, cross-examining you mercilessly, suggesting that the stainless sink is an inch too short, the dining room would be better facing east than west, her drapers are an inch too long for the picture window.

But none of this really matters since, it turns out, she has nine kids, she really needs five bedrooms and the fact that you have only three, which she knew all along, simply won't do.

There is also the insomniac type buyer who calls at 8 a.m., says he'll be out in an hour. Immediately, the house is galvanized into frenetic action. The bed is made while I'm still in it. The piano is dusted for the 18th time, the children are confined to quarters, to hold their breath and look small so their rooms will look bigger.

A HOT breakfast, of course, is out of the question while you wait because the buyer may not like your choice of cooking odors. So you wait, you glare at your wife, you sip last night's coffee with ice, you smoke too much. You can't go back to bed. You can't relax. You can't eat.

An hour later the phone rings. The man who said he was coming isn't. He found the nicest little place on the way out, exactly $3800 cheaper than yours. You hang up. You're empty but you can't eat. You've just been betrayed, or at the very least, scorned in this house you've lived in for seven years, raised your children, been proud of.

There is only one thing worse than the people who show up to look at our house — that's people who don't show up at 220 Adams Ave., River Edge, N. J., seven bright, airy rooms, deep wooded plot, big lovely screened porch, choice neighborhood, all being sacrificed at $22,300. Owner moving to institution.

For a party: Pack ice cream into a fancy mold and put in your freezer. Unmold it just as you would a gelatine dessert — by dipping quickly in hot water and then turning out.

OVERHEAD INTERFERENCE

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Keith Nelson of nearby Speedway has a garage door opened by an electronic device. He couldn't figure out why the door opened at odd times day and night until he noticed that when a plane comes in on a certain runway at nearby Weir Cook Airport the door moved.

VETERAN DRIVER

ROOSEVELT, Okla. (AP) — Ward McFarland started driving kids to school 26 years ago in a wagon drawn by mules. He's still at it, but now he's driving a bus.

Here's a rule for cooking vegetables: add them to a small amount of boiling lightly salted water and cook at a moderate boil until just crisply tender. Undercook rather than overcook!
