AREA TURNS OUT—Though the weather was not exactly what the Hereford business people had asked for, hundreds of people flocked onto Main Street Saturday afternoon for the city's first "Main Street Community Showcase." Auto, implement and pump dealers had displays lined along the entire three blocks of the thoroughfare between 2nd and 5th Streets. The "Mall Plan" worked in its highest glory as the hundred of viewers wandered back and forth from one side of the street to another viewing live models and various attractive displays in shop windows. The Cannon Air Force Band from Clovis provided music, as well as various other forms of entertainment furnished by local merchants. (Staff Photo)

City Commission Says Contractor Liable for Airport Repair Costs

Hereford's City Commission met Friday night in a special session primarily to decide the responsible party to pay for reconditioning the Hereford Municipal airport's weather, plane-battered runway and purchase a four-wheel drive loader machine.

In the regular meeting held Monday evening, construction contractor Odell Poteet, builder of the airport, stated the damage to runway and taxiway at the airport due to adverse weather conditions and landing of airplanes on the runway while wet, repairs would cost between $10,000 and $15,000.

Poteet claimed that since he was halted from further construction on the work at the airport until May 1 by a letter from city consulting engineer Bill McMorris of Amarillo on Dec. 20, he was not accountable for airplanes landing on the strip and causing the extensive damage.

Portions of the Civil Aeronautics Administration law book on specifications and contracts were read before the commission, four of which founded the city's belief the contractor was responsible for any damage to the runway regardless, and one, according to Poteet, in the contractor's favor.

CAA prohibits paying of runways between Oct. 15 and May 1.

City manager Dudley Bayne made a trip to Dallas the latter part of the week to confer with CAA officials in that city. They told him, he stated before the commission Friday, they thought

IN 69th DISTRICT COURT

Hereford Woman Given 30 Days; Second DWI

A 69th District Court jury of seven women and five men Thursday found Mrs. Jewel Beauchamp of Hereford guilty of driving while intoxicated, second offense, and set her penalty at 30 days in jail and a $250 and costs fine.

But Judge... I'm A Witness

IN OTHER CASES tried in district court this week Harvel Watson of Hereford was found guilty of DWI, second offense, and given a five-year suspended sentence by a jury, and Aubrey J. Coulston of Sudan pleaded guilty to DWI, second offense, and received a one-year prison sentence. Watson was tried Wednesday afternoon and Coulston Thursday.

A witness for the defense in the trial of Harvel B. Watson for driving while intoxicated, second offense, failed to make the stand Wednesday afternoon.

The witness, Arthur E. Stephenson, 48, of the Laredo Hotel was arrested in the district clerk's office about 1:45 p.m. He was taken before Justice of the Peace Berry Miles and fined $50 and costs.

The charge: drunk in a public place.

8 Delegates Reported Ill

When eight delegates to the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference Women's Society of Christian Service conference being held here the middle of last week were taken to the hospital Wednesday night within a period of two hours, manager T. E. Seigler said the disaster plan was almost called into effect.

At first the illness was believed to be food poisoning which, considering approximately 400 ladies eating the same food that day, could have caused far more attention and care than the hospital normally undertakes in such a short period of time.

THE PHYSICIAN who cared for the stricken women said there was

Man Charged DWI

Jose Garcia Arroyos, 24, charged with driving while intoxicated, has been released on $500 bond. Trial date has not been set. Arroyos was arrested March 15 by city police.

$16,000 for Local Airport

Three telegrams were received by The Brand Thursday evening stating the Hereford Municipal Airport had been granted $16,700 federal aid "by the Civil Aeronautics Administration to pave additional taxiways, entrance roads and auto parking area and to light the northeast and southwest runway," for 1959 release.

The telegrams were sent by Congressmen Walter Rogers, Lyndon Johnson and Ralph Yarborough.

INTEREST HIGH LOCALLY IN PRICE SUPPORT BILL

By BOB HAMILTON

Local people, businessmen, farmers and almost every walk of life, have been watching with extreme interest progress of the one-year freeze of farm price supports bill as it has been hashed out in Congress.

With one of the greatest prospects for a record-breaking harvest, of any type of crop, in the county due to weather conditions through the winter, price supports are of paramount importance to anyone concerned with farming — which takes in almost everyone in Deaf Smith.

Associated Press stories have been flying fast and furious out of the nation's capital the past two weeks on the reaction of Congress toward the price support freezing.

March 13 the Senate voted 90-43 for an indefinite price freeze. The House, after changing the bill from an indefinite reading to a one-year period for freezing, voted the bill to pass by a 210-172 margin, which was a gain accepted by the Senate, 48-32.

The bill Friday was sent to President Eisenhower, where it must be acted upon within 10 days after

Food Situation is Improved at Camp

"I WANT TO THANK the people of Hereford for their generosity in providing food for the needy people out here," said Father Raymond Gillis of St. Joseph's Mission at the Labor Camp.

Last week Father Gillis appealed for public donations of food for more than 300 persons at the Labor Camp. The mission had been providing food but did not have enough money to care for all the needy.

"We still have a breadline, but I think the situation has improved as some of the people have been able to go to work," Father Gillis said. He said farmers who have employed Labor Camp residents are paying them by the day so they can buy food.

Bad weather had kept the workers out of the fields and many had been out of work since December and were without money.

"I especially want to thank Taylor and Sons, Eiggly Wiggly, Cooper's Market, Hereford Bakery and Hereford Locker for contributing food. Many individuals also contributed," Father Gillis said.

2 Tickets Issued

Two traffic tickets were issued following the collision of a car and truck on E. Highway 60 Wednesday afternoon.

Clara E. Grossenbacher, 26, 525 Irving, was cited for passing on the right and Billy W. Emmons, 22, of Rt. 4, was given a ticket for making an illegal turn. Emmons was driving a truck belonging to Crowe-Guide Cement Co. Damages to the Grossenbacher car were estimated at $85. No damage was done to the truck.

ANNUAL SCHOOL DENTAL INSPECTION—For the fourth consecutive year children in the Deaf Smith County schools, from kindergarten through the sixth grade, had their annual dental inspection by two Hereford dentists, Dr. H. A. Cavness and Dr. Westie B. Owen. More than 1,500 children will be inspected when the St. Anthony's parochial school Tuesday. All the other schools, from kindergarten through the sixth grades of Aikman, Shirley, Central, Walcott, Dawn and Parkview, were attended by the two dentists Friday. Dr. J. W. Barnett has been working with Dr. Cavness the past three years, but is in school at Houston at the present and was replaced by Dr. Owen. "This is not meant to be a complete dental examination," states Dr. Cavness, "strictly something for compilation of statistics, and to inform the parents when immediate dental work is necessary." Tabulations are made on every child examined. One copy of the inspection record is forwarded to the dental division of the State Health Department and the other kept for local records. This year the local dentists will ask the state department for a correlation report of the entire state. Each child was given, after examination, pamphlets on techniques of brushing teeth and dental hygiene. Ten questions answered on the inspection chart are: Has the child ever been to a dentist? Has the child ever had dental work done? serious malocclusion? (crooked teeth); cavities in teeth?; cavities in one or more sixth-year molars?; mottled enamel (discoloration)?; prophylaxis (cleaning) by dentist needed?; periodontal disease? (diseased gums); does mouth show need of dental care?; dental care urgent and other unusual conditions? (space here for explanation). Dr. Owens is shown working in the two pictures on the left and Dr. Cavness in the two on the right. (Staff Photos)

Samples of the food taken from the women's stomachs are being analyzed for cause of illness, but a report will not be available until sometime tomorrow.

"At least three or four had been sick, one with flu, one with headaches, one who gets sick whenever she eats salad dressing, and the fourth who was tired and suffering from fatigue," stated the physician.

"If there had been contaminated food, you could have expected at least 30 to 40 to have come down with it," the doctor continued. "Of course, there could have been more who didn't come in to see us. No question the food that was eaten did for some reason upset these women."

Five of the ladies were from Dimmitt, two from Lubbock and one from Olton.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By CHARLIE SEEDS

In the early weeks of that memorable year, the man was a bum, cadging a living from day to day in Switzerland, hanging around the cafes and plotting with friends. In his brain was the seed of a monstrous plan of revolution.

His name was Vladimir Ilich Lenin. In April of that same year he left Switzerland and arrived in Petrograd, then the capital of Russia.

The wheels were set in motion to bring his scheme to reality. The rumblings of revolt began. Soon they grew louder, and open rebellion broke out.

On November 7th of that same year, the revolution which Lenin had fathered toppled the Kerensky government and the Bolshevik revolutionaries became the new rulers of Russia. Thus began a movement which was to change the entire history of the world. This was the end of the Czarist rule in Russia and the beginning of global Communism.

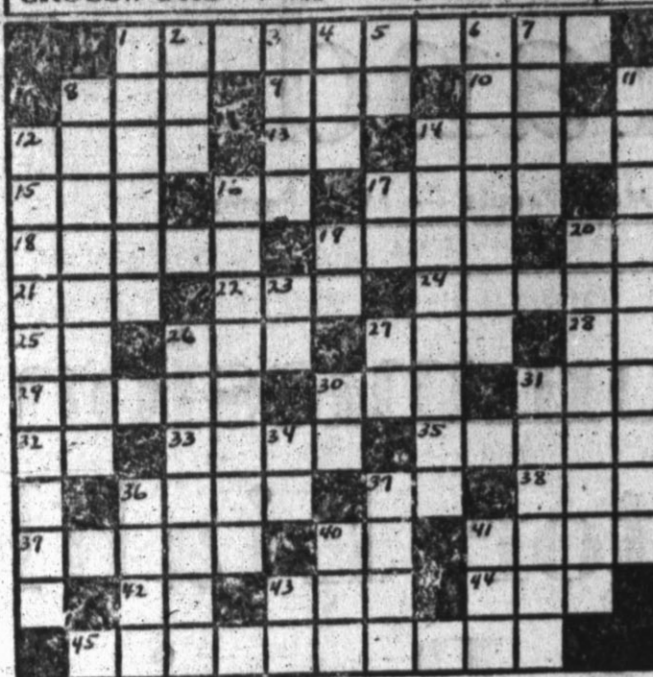

Remember the year? Times have changed everywhere since that year. In those days advertising was pretty conservative... and a man buying a car wasn't fooled by "giveaway" price claims or confusing figures.

The year was 1917.

We don't promise to give our cars away... and we couldn't stay in business if we didn't make a modest profit. But we can promise to meet or beat any legitimate deal on a new 1938 FORD. Come in and let us prove it! CHARLIE SEED MOTOR CO., Inc. 116 E. Second. Phone EM 4-2727.

Deliver to his desk. Secretary of Agriculture Benson stated last week he would recommend veto of the bill to the president, should it reach his desk.

Neither the Senate's 48-32 vote, nor the House's 210-172 vote would be winning margins necessary for a two-thirds override of the president's veto, should the latter decide to take Benson's suggestion.

One Associated Press writer artfully stated Friday "Republicans and a handful of city Democrats waged an unsuccessful fight to kill the bill or limit it to dairy products."

Deaf Smith County has approximately 155,000 acres seeded with wheat this year. Local Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office manager Faust Collier estimated at least three million bushels of wheat would be harvested this summer. He said "We have prospects of 20-bushel average yield clear across the board."

ONE GRAIN ELEVATOR man in Hereford estimated the average would run even higher. He said irrigated wheat averaged slightly more than 40 bushels per acre in 1937 and hardly any dryland was planted. More than two million bushels of wheat were harvested last summer.

The man said he thought dryland wheat, providing the "elements" failed to ruin the crops, would yield close or more than 20 bushels per acre, and with the irrigated land bringing up the average, should make a county-wide average close to 28 bushels per acre. The 1937 farm loan was $2 for farm storage and $1.88 in the elevator. At the present, farm loan price is set at $1.78 on the farm and $1.65 in the elevator. Grain Sorghum price support was $1.76 for farm storage last year, and averaged around $1.65 in the elevator.

the city "unduly alarmed." The Dallas organization told Bayne of a contractor in Lubbock who went broke under the same conditions and that a bonding company took over and finished the construction. Bayne said the same situation stands here.

CAA OFFICIALS stated it was not the city's fault the planes landed on the strip causing the damages, if it were not officially opened. Bayne said it was not, and was considered "a contractor's risk."

The commissioners agreed Poteet should be notified it will hold the contractor responsible for re-working the damaged areas to complete construction, at his own cost. And, at the same time, to notify the bonding company of its action with Poteet so it would be on alert should Poteet refuse to make the completion as required under contract.

THE COMMISSION decided to purchase the third-lowest priced loader because the members felt, in the long run, would actually cost less in repairs.

Three of the four members stated the results of their investigations on the three low machines and all found, they said, that the Michigan, offered for $9,440 by Caprock Machinery Co. of Amarillo was the best buy for the money.

Lowest bid of the four bids received Monday was from the Plains Machinery Co., $8,500. Texas Machinery Co. offered a bid of $9,400.

Chief of Police Henry Ayeack is to be asked to make a survey of traffic control signs in the city as the result of a statement made by two traffic engineers who recently made a survey of Hereford.

Though the commissioners stated they failed to agree with the engineers' report that "Hereford was over-controlling traffic by having stop signs placed at every intersection," and suggested yield signs as replacements at many points.

Bayne suggested the commission appoint a committee of local men to make a study of transit worker living conditions, where they live and a possible central location for them.

"The city is having trouble getting families out of shacks where there is no plumbing or facilities required by city ordinance for a residence," Bayne said.

An ordinance making it an offense to rent "unfit" shacks to families was suggested, and the general feeling expressed by the commissioners was that one should be written and passed.

THE COMMISSION decided to purchase time on the radio and space in The Brand to advertise the individual members' opinion on why the $100,000 bond issue should be passed for the betterment of the city.

Short recordings by each commissioner will be played over KPAN through next week, and a full-page ad will be printed in The Sunday Brand next week.

This will be the first time a commission has ever acted as a single body to inform the public on such an issue, stated commissioner Dr. R. R. Wills.

Each is to make a talk this week to every civic organization on the merits of the issue.

Spring Styles Get Fur Trim Springtime Dish Is New, Easy

MARY HAS A LITTLE LAMB—Trimnings of Southwest African Persian lamb, dyed in all colors, are new on this spring's dresses, suits and coats. AP Newsfeatures
Fur tinted all colors of the rainbow adds a new note to some of this spring's suits, coats and dresses.
A number of designers are using trimnings of Southwest African Persian lamb, dyed to match or contrast, on their newest outfits.

There is, for instance, a jacket of gold-colored leather with a collar of gold-dyed lamb, worn with a matching skirt and blouse of wool jersey.
A cashmere sweater becomes a creation with the addition of a sailor collar and matching belt of dyed lamb. A blonde satin evening jacket looks more elegant than mink with a border of matching Persian lamb.

Although fur trimnings usually are considered as fall and winter fashions, these new treatments of the soft, light-weight Persian lamb dyed in pastel tints look as spring-like as the flowers in May.

Martin Heads Pony League

Officers for the 1958 Pony League baseball season were elected Friday night at a meeting held in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank.

DON T. MARTIN was chosen president, Rocky Lee, vice president; Wayne Williams, secretary-treasurer; James Headstream, player-agent, and Bartley Dowell, official scorer.

Martin and Williams were not present at the meeting and their positions are contingent on their acceptance. Jimmie Allred is retiring league president.

The 19 men present also discussed organization of a team or teams for boys 15 to 18 years of age, taking up where the Pony League leaves off.

After considerable discussion, the group appointed Bill Howard, Troy Moore and Dowell to see school officials about the possibility of organized a high school team here. If the school does not field a team, the group will decide whether to sponsor one.

Pony League includes players 13 to 14 years of age. A boy who is 15 on or before Aug. 1 is not eligible. This will be the second season for Pony League in Hereford. Last year four teams competed in the league, using the baseball diamond in Veterans Park.

MAYNARD BUCK of Hereford offered to contribute $100 and men and tractors to start grassing the infield of the park. Bill Howard was appointed as chairman of a committee to supervise grassing. Howard supervised seeding of the local Little League park.

Also discussed were installation of rest room facilities at the park, improving the concession stand, team managers, starting date and number of games to be played by each team. No definite action was taken on those subjects.

packed in Maine, in a slightly spiced soya bean oil and come six to a 4-ounce can.

The cucumbers and onion rings should stand in the marinating liquid for about three hours before they are served, so slice the vegetables and put them in the marinade early in the morning. Refrigerate them in a flat covered container and they'll be seasoned beautifully by noon.

If you serve a prepared soup as a first course on this menu, and make dessert fruit and cookies, you'll have a really easy-to-get meal.

SARDINES WITH CUCUMBER AND ONION RINGS

Ingredients: 1 cucumber (about 7 inches long), 1 medium-sized onion, 1/2 cup cider vinegar, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons water; 1/4 teaspoon salt, white pepper; 2 cans (4 ounces each) sardines packed in slightly spiced soya bean oil, 2 tablespoons minced parsley.

Method: Wash cucumber in cold water and dry; cut off ends. With swivel-blade vegetable peeler, pare cucumber lengthwise leaving part of green skin in a striped effect. Slice into paper-thin rounds. Cut ends from onion; peel; slice into paper-thin rounds; separate into rings. Stir vinegar, sugar, water, salt and a dash of pepper together until sugar dissolves. Mix with cucumbers and onion rings in a flat container (about 8 inches square). Cover tightly; refrigerate for 2 to 3 hours. At serving time, drain thoroughly. Open sardines. Lift out carefully from oil and transfer to serving dish. Top with marinated cucumbers and onion rings; sprinkle with parsley. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

KITCHEN TIPS

The marinade for the cucumber and onion rings may be varied. Cream (sweet or sour) seasoned with lemon juice, sugar, white pepper and a dash of garlic salt may be used.

Minced fresh dill may be added to the standard marinade we have given you.

Taragon-vinegar may be substituted for part of the cider vinegar in the standard marinade.

You will need a wide-blade extremely sharp kitchen knife to cut the cucumber and onion rings thin. Or if you don't wield a sharp knife deftly, you can use a swivel-blade vegetable peeler to shave off paper-thin round cucumber slices.

First ICBM Launching Site Once Was a Cavalry Post

CHEYENNE, Wyo. — Just a bit over 80 years ago U. S. cavalrymen galloped through the gate of a military post here to pursue the Indians who had just annihilated Gen. George Custer and all his men at the battle of the Little Big Horn.

This spring — on the same post — construction will start on the elaborate facilities required to send out a vastly different kind of vengeance party: a flight of stubby missiles capable of streaking up through the atmosphere, across the Arctic, down on the other side of the world to rain destruction on a scope as yet unwitnessed by man.

That's the measure of the military advance here — from mules to missiles. And it's all been done within the lifespan of one of the first youngsters born at the historic cavalry fort now becoming the nation's first inter-continental ballistic missile installation.

Looking back down his 80 years, T. Joe Cahill recalls how he and other youngsters living at old Fort D. A. Russell used to watch cavalry pack-trains mount up to accompany westbound settlers through the rugged Indian country. "We used to play around the old corrals and get in the road," he said wistfully. "Today's kids probably won't get to play around the missile launching platforms, though."

Cahill, former Cheyenne police chief and chairman of the Cheyenne Frontier Days, has seen the base change from a cavalry out-post to an infantry base, then to a quartermaster depot during World War I, and in postwar days to an Air Force technical training school. And now it's earmarked as a forerunner to space-ship warfare.

Plans for the missile base are still top secret in the Pentagon, but three or four launching sites are under consideration. Each will be about 15 to 20 miles from Cheyenne. Main administrative and research headquarters will be housed in existing buildings at Warren AFB, whose front gate is right at the city limits. Cost is estimated at 65 to 100 million dollars.

Despite the advanced technological aspect of the new missile facility, it won't interfere with one time-honored tradition of the Old West. White-faced cattle will still graze in the shadow of the missile launching platforms.

In negotiating for purchase of about 9,000 acres of grazing land surrounding Cheyenne, the Defense Department has assured ranchers that limited grazing will be permitted on the land, except when missiles are being "blasted off."

Highway patrolman Kenneth Maxwell estimated $200 damages to the Hickman car and $100 to the Douglas vehicle.

is completed in 1959. Word of the development has buoyed business hopes and stimulated land speculation in Cheyenne. The only sobering effect has been the realization that Cheyenne will become a prime target for enemy aircraft and missiles.

Cheyenne is one of the three locations where ICBM launching facilities are planned. One of the others is at Lamport, Calif. The third has not as yet been named.

Bank Construction Accident Friday

Jesus Hernandez, 48, an employee of the Pantex Plumbing and Heating Co., suffered a broken leg Friday afternoon while working on the new First National Bank building at Third and Main.

Hernandez was injured when an air-conditioning unit, which was being hoisted into place, swung free and knocked him into a pile of bricks. He is being treated at Deaf Smith County Hospital.

LONG TIME SINCE—Though tractors working in the fields are not regularly uncommon here in Deaf Smith County, it has been a long time since they have been able to get into the wet, soggy fields due to an unusual amount of moisture through the entire winter season. Farmers took advantage of the weather Wednesday and Thursday by getting into their fields to work the earth for the first time in more than three months. Here, Ross Lomenick is shown harrowing land he plans to plant in potatoes later on in the spring. (Staff Photo)

Look Who's New!

Mr. and Mrs. Ancillo Greenway are the parents of a girl who was born at 1:47 a.m. on March 19. The baby weighed 8. pounds and 4% ounces.

Well, Back in Pocket And Who Missed Me? IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW

By BETTY BARMONE

WELL, HOW is everything with you? As you may know Pardy Linder has been gadding around and has, therefore, been out of pocket for a couple of weeks.

My thanks to Gertie, Winnie, and Clara Boo for sitting in at the keyboard of the typewriter for me during my absence — they did such a good job that I am surprised that I still had a job upon my return.

It is sorta deflating to the old ego to get home and find that things rolled along right along without me. Not only have things rolled along, but it appears that more interesting things happen when I'm away than when I'm here. But then, I must take into consideration that I'm judging by what I read in the papers — it could be, that my cohorts in crime at The Brand office are trying to prove how well they get along without me.

Before I forget, a belated sure'n b'gorra to all you Irishmen for St. Pat's Day. Gee, I haven't even had time to check up and see if the usual good group of Herefordites made the trek to Shamrock for celebration of the great day.

EVIDENTLY the B&PW Style Show was as successful as ever. And the weather was good — so many times, the elements haven't been too cooperative, and attendance has been hurt some — but not so this year.

An added feature to the annual presentation was the front-row-center section of young gentlemen armed with movie cameras. From what I hear, they had more fun than anybody else there — isn't that right, Jim Bradley?

Anyway, the general effect of the show itself was most pleasing — lovely models, beautiful colors, the newest of fashion notes blended with some of the more consistently popular designs — all in all, conducive toward a bright, refreshing atmosphere of spring.

Again the B & PW and the Hereford merchants are to be congratulated — and it's just another chance for me to say that Amarillo ain't got nothin on our town.

ANOTHER recent affair here which I missed was the grandiose area meeting of the Methodist women.

The local gals sure did themselves up proud — lots of hard work involved in preparing for a conclave like that (and I don't have to tell THEM! — and, by all report, it was a top-notch meet.

I was rather amused, however, that the first thing I heard about it was that a bunch of the delegates (8 to be exact) got sick and had to be hospitalized. Whatever ailed them wasn't too serious as it turned out, but I can't seem to find out precisely what malady the ladies were suffering from. What was told me — that it was a mysterious disease caused by wearing one's girdle too tight for long periods of time — may make a funny story, but me thinks it more possible than ridiculous.

NOW THIS has nothing whatsoever to do with girdles, but I have heard rumblings of local interest in an amateur theatre production to be staged in the very near future. Hope is that the play will be a lulu, so to speak. Something on the order of "Anne Get Your Gun" or another extremely popular play. Main thing being to appeal to the public enough so as to draw a sizeable attendance and make some money for a local charity ("twas told me said local charity might well be a Youth Center or Youth Activities, but that is yet to be decided definitely).

There are already a number of people interested in this project, and an organizational meeting will be called in the very near future. Will keep you posted.

Oh my! I'd better seat. I'll have ya know that I have sat down to say howdy to ya before I even unpacked my suitcase. Wish I had time to tell a few thousand things about my fabulous trip to San Francisco (and my not-so-labulous but nice jaunt back to Oklahoma) but you may as well be prepared next column.

Don't forget the high school production of "Oklahoma!" Thursday and Friday nights!

COLD STOPS STOP
SYOSSET, N. Y. — "Next stop is Cold Spring Harbor," conductors on the Port Jefferson branch of the Long Island Railroad used to say when trains pulled out of this station.

However, in the past few months many of them have changed their call to: "Next station Cold Spring Harbor."

"With the cold weather we've been having we really never know when the next 'stop' will be," explained one conductor.

ACCIDENTAL JOB
CLIFTON, N. J. — One day 11 years ago, retired master woodworker Paolo F. Puelo visited the Du Mont laboratories to get ideas for building a television cabinet.

He's been designing cabinets for Du Mont ever since.

The 74-year-old Puelo has developed more than 200 cabinets used for television receivers and phonographs.

NO LIMIT
VICTORIA, B. C. — Residents here now may own all the cats they wish. City council rejected proposals to limit each family to five cats.

NATURE'S TOUCH
HEBRON, Ind. — Clarence Phillips has a wisteria vine growing on the inside wall of his home — but it's not his idea.

The vine popped up through the floor when Phillips added a new room to the house. He cut it off three times, but the persistent plant kept returning. Phillips finally got used to it.

TOO LATE
O'NEILL, Neb. — Officers who picked up a 14-year-old boy in a theater and found him with the loot from a robbery observed that maybe he should have seen the show before the robbery.

He was watching "The Ten Commandments."

Anson Woman is Re-Elected Methodist WSCS President

By MILDRED YOUNG

MRS. E. T. PITFARD of Anson, was re-elected president of the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference Woman's Society of Christian Service at the seventeenth annual meeting held at First Methodist Church, Hereford, Tuesday, March 18, through Thursday, March 20.

Other new officers include: vice president, Mrs. Cecil R. Matthews of Lubbock; recording secretary, Mrs. Doyle Ragle of Canyon; treasurer, Mrs. E. E. White, Childress; promotion secretary, Mrs. Katy Barnett, Borger; missionary education secretary, Mrs. M. L. Hines, Lubbock; Christian social relations secretary, Mrs. Johnnie William, Adrian; student work secretary, Mrs. William Bublitz, Borger; youth work secretary, Mrs. Alby Cockrell, Hereford; children's work secretary, Mrs. W. H. Pitman, Haskell; spiritual life secretary, Mrs. Orion Carter, Pampa; literature and publications secretary, Mrs. William Finkner, Petrusburg; supply work secretary, Mrs. H. H. Stephens, Big Spring; status of women secretary, Mrs. Charles Bairfield, Clarendon; and missionary personnel secretary, Mrs. Darris Egger, Dimmitt.

At Wednesday night's session, the conference paid tribute to Mrs. J. T. Ward of Hereford, "who has been a missionary in the truest sense" even though she has never been to the mission field, according to Mrs. Pittard. Mrs. Ward has made financial contributions to First Methodist church, Hereford, to McMurry college, Abilene, and to Methodist work among the Latin Americans. Mrs. Ward, who is 86, says she has been a member of a Methodist women's organization for 63 years and has missed very few meetings except when she was ill for a year. For 29 years, she was president of the Hereford women, has served on the official board and teaches a Bible class, all of which she calls "gardening for the Lord." She declared that "her cup runneth over" that never has she had such a thrill as in attending the annual meeting in Hereford.

Wednesday night, conference delegates pledged $79,160 to missions. By districts, the pledges were: Abilene district, $9,550; Amarillo district, $10,200; Big Spring district, $9,000; Brownfield district, $6,225; Childress district, $8,250; Lubbock district, $11,000; Pampa district, $9,185; Plainview district, $9,550; and Stamford district, $6,200. This total pledge is a $650 increase over last year.

Tuesday night's offering totaled $164.35 and was given to the Wesley Community center for Latin Americans in Amarillo, and Wednesday night's offering of $174.16 to Crusade scholarships.

Delegates endorsed a building program for the Amarillo center, and asked that local societies pledge 25 cents per member to the project.

Delegates also approved a conference budget including $2,850 for the cultivation fund and $2,600 for the general fund.

MARY LOU SANTILLAN, missionary to Mexico, stated at the pledge service Wednesday night that the need for full-time Christian workers cannot be overemphasized because the need is so great. She added that the first need is for full-time Christians at home. "Our purpose at home and abroad," she declared, "is to make Christ known to every creature. We as Christians are the greatest obstacle to the cause of missions. Our sons and our daughters are too good in our opinion to serve the Lord in the mission field, but He wants the cream of the crop. It may hurt parents to give up children to serve in the mission field, but it also hurts the children to go." But, Miss Santillan added that many who are denied the right to go become disinterested in the church and are lost to it. She concluded that "a true missionary is one who thinks not of self but one who thinks of Christ and what He can do with them. As a missionary, we have to understand and appreciate others regardless of differences."

Miss Santillan said in the opening meditation Thursday morning that "If miracles did happen in the time of Jesus, they can happen again. God's greatest creations are you and I."

Dr. Caradine R. Hooton, general secretary of the Board of Temperance, The Methodist Church, spoke on the topic, "Methodism Faces The Alcohol Problem."

Dr. Hooton says the alcohol problem is four-fold — traffic (drinking is blamed with 50 per cent of all accidents); alcoholism, which is the number two health problem and the number three cause of death; the tax on the economy; and moral decline.

Mrs. E. U. Robinson of Gallatin, Tenn., installed the officers. Her topic was "Our Best Is But Thyself In Us." Mrs. Robinson stated that the annual meeting was for the purpose of going out to serve. She said that no one of us ever begins or completes a task, that it is begun by those who came before and completed by those who come after.

There was a total of 467 registered, including 142 voting delegates and the following Hereford women: Mrs. J. F. Ward, Mrs. I. E. Woolery, Mrs. Raymond Higginbotham, Mrs. J. O. Newell, Mrs. Art Stoy, Mrs. A. B. Thompson, Mrs. C. B. Williams, Mrs. W. A. Gears.

Mrs. Homer Henslee, Mrs. Don Martin, Mrs. J. P. Slaton, Mrs. J. W. Spradley, Mrs. Ray Conway, Mrs. Charles Sowell, Mrs. Earnest Langley, Mrs. A. A. Hare, Mrs. M. C. King, Mrs. A. T. Potatoes
If potatoes are frozen or get old and wrinkled, try soaking them in cold water for about a half hour before using. If they are frozen the water will thaw them and they will swell up if old and wrinkled.

The Toothbrush
Pour a tablespoonful of peroxide over the bristles of the toothbrush at least once a week, then rinse with cold water. This will keep the brush sterilized.

Plaster Walls
Instead of driving nails into the plaster walls, sometimes causing an ugly scar, try using screws, which will not crack the plaster.

Powder Stains
Powder stains can be removed from most hard-finished fabrics with cleaning fluid. If the stains are on silks and wools, treat the stains by rubbing with cheese-cloth dipped in warm soap suds and wrung out. Then use the cleaning fluid.

Biscuits
A good method to re-heat biscuits or rolls is to sprinkle them lightly with water, place them in a pan, then in a larger pan of hot water, and put in the oven for a few minutes.

Ink Stains
Ink stains on wall paper can be removed with a solution consisting of equal parts of hydrogen peroxide and ammonia.

Shiny Fabrics
If a shiny fabric is being used for making a quilt and the pattern keeps slipping off the material, make a pattern out of sandpaper and this trouble will be avoided.

Cut Glass
The breakage of cut glass is usually due to sudden changes in temperature. When washing, care should be taken that the water is neither too hot nor too cold. A little ammonia in tepid water will give good results. All the crevices can be reached and polished by drying with a Turkish towel.

Eat Custard Dessert and Diet

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

THIS RECIPE SHOULD appeal to cooks who want to eat dessert and diet, too. It produces a sweet smooth baked custard that makes pleasant ending for a meal.

Because the custard is made with egg white (instead of whole egg or egg yolk) it is lower in calories than the usual custard desserts. There are about 70 calories in an egg; about 60 of these belong to the yolk, only about 10 to the white. Skim milk (instead of whole milk) is also used and helps to cut the custard's calorie count.

We enjoyed these custards most when we served them with fresh orange sections because they benefit from the refreshing flavor accompaniment. If you use the sections of half a large orange for each portion, as we did, you'll add about 25 calories to each serving—but it's worth it!

SNOW WHITE CUSTARD
Ingredients: 5 egg whites, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 1/2 cups skim milk (warm but not scalded), 2 to 3 large seedless oranges (cut in membrane free sections).

CUSTARD FOR CALORIE-COUNTERS is made with egg whites and skim milks and adds a refreshing dessert to diet menus.

Method: Beat egg whites slightly; add sugar, salt, vanilla and nutmeg; beat gently just enough to blend. Gradually stir in the warm milk until blended. Pour into five 6-ounce custard cups. Place cups in a deep pan of warm water; have water reach as high as the custard mixture. Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until a knife inserted halfway between the outer rim and center of custard comes out clean—45 to 60 minutes. At once place custards on a wire rack. Allow to stand until cool.

then cover and refrigerate. Do not cut into or unmold until served; then loosen edges with a spatula and turn out. Garnish with fresh orange sections. Makes 5 servings.

Note: When you have an extra egg white, put it in a small jar with a screw-top lid and refrigerate; then add to the jar as you have other extra whites. You can save whites this way for a week or so for this recipe.

COOK BOOK NEWS
One of the best of the new books featuring calorie-reduced dishes in "The Splendid Cook Book" by Myra Waid (Putnam). Miss Waid knows good food and her astuteness is reflected in her cooking and recipe-writing. She has had the wit to include dishes, not usually found in diet cook books, that will add zest to meals. Pickled peppers, clam sauce, Greek salad, beef Bourguignon and interesting ways to serve eggs are some of them. The cook books' lists of the calories in average serving of food are helpful and include commercially canned and frozen foods, packaged crackers and sweet biscuits, bakery cakes and pies.

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. Quite often, after I have plucked my eyebrows, the skin becomes irritated or swollen. What can I do to avoid this?

A. Perhaps your tweezers are not so clean as they should be. Run them under very hot water before using. Eyebrows will come out easier if the pores have been opened with warm water. Be sure to pluck hairs in direction of growth. Finally, rubbing some antiseptic chap stick balm over the eyebrows will help guard against infection.

Q. What is a good blackhead-preventive treatment for the complexion?

A. Daily scrubbing of the face for at least two minutes with either a complexion brush or heavy washcloth, using a good, mild soap lather. Carry out this ritual with clocklike regularity at least twice a day, preferably upon arising in the morning and before retiring at night. Flush up by rinsing face in warm water until soap has been wholly removed, then towel with sand water.

Q. How do I go about removing an unbecoming mole from my face?

A. Don't you do this yourself! While some moles are harmless, others are NOT! Check with your physician concerning the treatment or removal of this.

Q. What is an approved manner of giving oneself an egg facial?

A. Apply the whipped yolk of egg over face and throat, and let dry. Then apply the whipped white of egg over the yolk, and let remain for about a half-hour. Finally, remove with warm water and follow with an application of light cold cream.

Q. How can I lipstick my rather large mouth and thus give it a narrower effect?

A. Leave the corners of the mouth free of lipstick color, and just barely reach the outer line of the upper and lower lips. Before applying lipstick, cover the lips with a tinted foundation. Then paint over it only as much as you desire. The tint will keep the unpainted area of the lips covered.

Q. What eyebrow adjustment will help to counteract the nose that is too long?

A. By removing the eyebrows in the center above the nose, you will create the illusion of width in the forehead and thus decrease the length of the nose.

Q. Isn't it all right to use a cake of soap for shampooing the hair?

A. Sorry, but I cannot condone this. Use of cake soap makes the better the use of liquid soap.

Q. Please suggest a facial mask thorough rinsing of all soap from hair and scalp too difficult. Much which will help to restore some life to my wan and colorless complexion.

A. One of the most stimulating is a honey mask. Just pat a thin film of this sweet stuff over face and throat, leave on 15 minutes, then remove with a damp cloth.

Q. Does nail polish tend to make the fingernails scale and split?

A. Some persons claim this, maintaining that the normal nail "breathes," and that an enamel covering prevents this function. This is not true, and so the scale can be determined, properly formulated polish or enamel does not cause scaling or splitting of the nails.

Q. What exercise will encourage fuller calves in my legs?

A. Stand barefooted on tiptoe with arms outstretched for balance. Lower your heels, then rock forward on toes again. Repeat this heel and toe movement ten times a day. Besides benefiting the calves, this will strengthen the ankles

Here's the Answer

By ANDREW C. LANG

Question: There is a slight sag in our dining room floor. I have been advised that something called a telescopic screw post will correct the condition. Can you tell me something about this?

Answer: The type of post you mention acts somewhat like a jack for an automobile. A base plate is secured to the basement floor, which I presume is concrete. Use expansion shields and lag screws or bolts to make this attachment. The post fits on this base and extends vertically to the underside of the sagging floor. There is a screw arrangement which raises the height of the post, thus lifting the floor. However, if you raise the post height too much or too quickly, you can cause serious damage to the floor structure. The proper way to do it is to raise the post a tiny bit until it fits snugly between the basement floor and the sagging point. Let it alone for one week, then use a level to determine whether the sag has disappeared. If not, raise the post another inch or so, then let it alone for another week. Keep doing this until the level shows that the floor is absolutely level. This gradual procedure is the only way to correct the sagging condition without starting new trouble.

Question: The backs of our bedroom chairs have intricate carved moldings which are finished in a gold or gilt color. A piece of the molding on one chair broke off some time ago. I meant to glue it back on, but never got around to it. Now I have lost the broken piece. Is it possible to replace this? The broken part is only about 3 inches long.

Answer: You may not be able to buy moulding to match the kind on the chair, but any place which deals in millwork can make it up for you. It may cost more than you think, because it will take almost as long to make up one piece of moulding to specifications as to make up 100 pieces. There is something else you might try—wood putty or one of the plastic wood materials. Place a strip of it where the moulding is broken and then shape it carefully to match the rest of the moulding by using your fingers and any small, pointed tool. This is actually a form of sculpture. If you don't get an exact match the first time, scrape off the putty before it gets too hard and start again. Once you have succeeded in getting a satisfactory result, allow the putty to harden. Then use a matching gold or bronze paint, which will further help to disguise the patch.

Question: I recently bought an unfinished cabinet made of white pine. I want to stain it a reddish color, somewhat like certain kinds of mahogany I have seen. A friend of mine says he put a red stain on a white pine bookcase a few years ago and got a poor result even though he followed the directions very carefully. What is your advice?

Answer: Occasionally, white pine will take a red stain fairly well, but more often than not the result will be unsatisfactory. Red stain seems to take very unevenly on white pine, producing contrasting colors on different parts of the wood. If you still plan to take a chance on using a red stain, give the wood a coat of thin shellac first, which will help to minimize the chances of uneven coloring. But test this first on a part of the cabinet that does not show. Then if it comes out all right, you can go ahead with the entire cabinet.

Texas Drilling Rigs Searching For Uranium Ore

BENAVIDES —For months drilling rigs have been making tests of the Palagana Salt Dome, eight miles north of here.

Probing for oil? No. Uranium. Though operators of the 3,100-acre lease from the Schallert heirs have been close-lipped on their findings, unofficial word is that the drilling crews struck uranium deposits.

Their development has been delayed by a mounting surplus of uranium which prompted the Atomic Energy Commission to "freeze" its uranium-milling facilities. However, this policy, including development of deposits on the Schallert heirs tract, is scheduled to come up for review in the next 60 to 90 days, says Rep. John Young of South Texas.

Columbia Southern Minerals Corp., a subsidiary of Pittsburgh Plate Glass, took a lease in 1956 from the Schallert heirs on 3,100 acres lying directly on the Palagana Salt Dome.

That uranium ore deposits had been found was first disclosed in a multi-million dollar district court suit last fall. Keen & Smith who claimed an interest in the lease, challenged the Columbia Southern Schallert heirs lease.

The Court declared the lease valid, but Keen & Smith still has an appeal pending.

Columbia Southern's attorneys kept out of the court record the size and value of the uranium deposits. And though exploration activity at the Palagana Dome was stepped up — four drilling rigs were making tests at one time last September — Columbia Southern maintained strict secrecy on his plans.

Recently Columbia Southern turned over its production problems to Union Carbide Nuclear Corp., a Union Carbon & Carbide Corp. Subsidiary long experienced in producing uranium.

A. Q. Lindquist, vice president of the Union Carbide Nuclear, announced about 200 persons would be employed when the lease is put into operation. But, said Lindquist, production hinged on a contract with the U. S. government and no contract has been signed.

Union Carbide Nuclear has also remained silent on the extent of the uranium deposit. But official sources here say the test drills entered uranium at a depth of 206 feet, left it at 240 feet, reentered it at 280 feet and finally were out of it at 315 feet.

That would mean two strata of uranium ore 34 and 35 feet thick. There is no information on the size of the area the deposits cover.

Benjamin Franklin made the first chart of the Gulf Stream in 1752.

FINALE—Singing the title song, members of the cast of "Oklahoma!" close out a rehearsal. From the left are Karen Albracht as Aunt Eller, Gwinn Morris as Curly and Carrol Wiloughby as Will Parker. Behind Morris are Linda Noland as Ado Annie and Carla Sue Crosthwait as Laurey. The Hereford High production of the famed Broadway musical will be presented Thursday and Friday nights as the final portion of the Community Concert series. There will be no advance ticket sales. (Staff Photo)

Bud To Blossom Club Studies Copper Tooling

Mrs. Pat Robinson was hostess to members of the Bud To Blossom Garden Club Friday at a covered dish luncheon in her country home.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Earl DeHart presented a program of instructions in copper tooling. Each member was given individual help in tracing, tooling, cleaning, varnishing, painting the outlines, and framing.

Plans to attend the District 1, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., convention to be held in Lubbock on March 25-26, were discussed during the business portion of the meeting.

Special guests were Mrs. J. T. Richardson, Mrs. Louis Watkins of Vega and Mrs. Ernest Kendall of Maxwell, N. M.

Members present were Mesdames Glyn Billbre, R. A. Daniel Jr., Ray Godwin, Preston Hagans, C. R. Higgins, Sam Long, Dor-T. Martin, J. F. Martin, W. H. Patton, Pat Robinson, Ira Scott, Lloyd Sharp, Delmo Williams, R. N. Yarbro, Don Steele, Joe Story, Herbert Haseloff and the hostess.

IN HEREFORD
Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Baker of Amarillo, formerly of Hereford, transacted business in Hereford Friday and visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mont Baker.

EX-RESIDENT HERE

Summerfield Club Hears Book Review

Summerfield Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Mack Noland Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. B. Noland as cohostess.

Following a short business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Earl Lance, Mrs. J. R. Euler gave the program for the day. She reviewed the book "Home in Texas" by Stanley Walker.

She said, in part: "One of New York's best and most respected newspapermen, Stanley Walker had one ambition — to escape the bright lights and return to his birthplace, Lampasas County, Texas. In the frank and witty reminiscence of his favorite corner of the world are all the surprises, the pleasures and the memories that greeted him on his return. Home in Texas is the personal story of a man who has discovered happiness surrounded by familiar land and rich memories. The author's penetrating wit and colorful personality combine to make this an appealing and entertaining book."

The next meeting will be held on April 10 in the home of Mrs. Henry Kuper.

Those attending the meeting were Mesdames Ray Johnson, Chester Wiggains, Ky Lawrence, C. R. Walsler, Earl Lance, Lee Curry, J. R. Euler, Guy Walsler and the hostesses.

Hereford Garden Club Studies Flower Design

Mrs. M. T. Rutter presented the fourth lesson on "Design in Flower Arrangement" at the Hereford Garden Club meeting held Friday afternoon March 14 in the home of Mrs. Emmett Hale. Mrs. Glenn Boardman was assistant hostess.

PRINCIPLES of design, balance, dominance, contrast, rhythm, proportion and scale were discussed with particular attention given to design, with line as the dominant form; massed line, combining both line and mass; and massed design, having a closed silhouette.

The three forms, sphere, cube and pyramid, either separately or in combination were used in each arrangement demonstrated.

Mrs. Rutter also held a classification contest when members of the club classified each of the 12 arrangements demonstrated. Mrs. W. C. Hromas and Mrs. G. W. Newsom, winners in the contest, were awarded their choice of arrangements.

Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. told how to conserve waste materials through composting, telling what to do with leaves and grass clippings.

WHAT TO DO in the garden now was discussed by the horticulture chairman, Mrs. Q. H. Herrin. Now is the time to spray for aphids, or green bugs. Malathion is a good spray to use for this, but is poisonous as are most sprays. It is also good for roaches. Sprays that sometimes blight should be sprayed with flowers of sulphur using two applications: the first before the plants appear and about two weeks later after plants are above the ground," she said.

During the business session delegates were chosen to attend the District I. TFCC meet to be held in Lubbock soon. They were Mrs. Norman Moore, president; Mrs. G. W. Newsom and Mrs. M. T. Rutter. Following the program refreshments were served carrying out the St. Patrick's Day motif. Those attending were Mesdames O. H. Herring, O. G. Hill Sr., W. (Continued On Page 2)

Christening Service Held for Baby

Club Sees Film 'The Holy Land'

Films of "The Holy Land" were shown in a program presented at the Les Meres Study Club meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Alvin Smith with Mrs. George Olson serving as cohostess.

The films were shown by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gholson of Muleshoe with Mrs. Gholson serving as commentator.

Other special guests were Mrs. W. J. Lueb and Mrs. W. W. Wells. Members attending were Mesdames Roy Boyer, T. E. Brisendine, Doc Carter, Dick Gholson, E. D. Hopson, Eugene Noel, Nelson Reiger, Ervin Robinson Jr., Larry Summers, Delmo Williams and the hostesses.

Pictured above are the participants in a christening service held for three months old Linda Suzanne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Barker of New Orleans, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Lenderman of Hereford, held in St. Thomas Episcopal Church Wednesday afternoon. Included are, left, Dr. Roy Grubbs, godfather, Mrs. Mary Lorah of New Orleans, godmother, Mr. and Mrs. Lenderman and Linda Suzanne's mother, Mrs. Wm. Barker. The Rev. Lester Jones of St. Marks Episcopal Church in Plainview is holding the baby.

The baptismal font used in the impressive service was a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barker in 1956. The font of Italian marble was brought to this country by Mr. Barker after it had been rescued from a church, bombed during World War II, in Italy. Its probable history dates back to the 12th Century. Miss Eugenia Alexander was organist for the ceremony. An informal reception was held in the social hall of the church following the service.

High Tea Honors WSCS Members at District Meeting

One of the highlights of the Northwest Texas Conference, Woman's Society of Christian Service District Convention held at the First Methodist Church here March 18-20, was the High Tea given in Fellowship Hall Tuesday from 5 to 7 p.m. as a courtesy of members of the Amarillo District with Mrs. Colby Conkright as president with members of the conference and visitors as guests.

Mrs. Ray Johnson served as chairman for the tea with Mrs. T. J. Parsons as co-chairman. Others assisting Mrs. Johnson in arranging the tea were Mrs. Colby Conkright, district president and Mesdames Orpha Ciek, Clyde Cave, J. W. Thomas, W. A. Awtry, Altus Higgins, Dale Tinnin, Raymond Higginbotham, J. A. King, Don T. Martin, Phillip Miller, W. S. Fluit, John Jacobsen Jr., Garland Solomon, W. H. Goettsch, Elizabeth Wombie, Delmar Sigle, Charley Noland, Bert Boomer, C. R. Ellison, C. N. McClure, Ralph Gragg and Wayne Edwards.

The table from which a delectable menu was served was laid with a floor length cloth in rose taffeta. Centering the table was a profusion of spring flowers in all of spring's pastel colors arranged in tall silver compotes. Daisies, stock, daffodils, roses and Dutch Iris gave a bright welcome to the guests and cakes and salads picked up their lovely colors in decoration.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Colby Conkright, Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Lambrecht of Amarillo, Mrs. C. C. Coffee of Lubbock, Mrs. E. P. Pittard of Anson, Mrs. Cecil Matthews of Lubbock, Mrs. E. U. Robinson of Gallatin, Tenn., Miss Mary Lou Santillan of Dallas, Mrs. Doyle Ragle of Canyon, Mrs. Wilmer Smith of Wilson, Mrs. H. W. Barnett of Borger, Mrs. Henry Cusick of Amarillo, Mrs. Wm. Eubitz of Borger, the Rev. and Mrs. Alby Cokrell, Mrs. W. H. Pitman of Haskell, Mrs. Orien Carter of Pampa, Mrs. Early Brown of Amarillo, Mrs. W. J. Bryant of Stamford, Mrs. Thomas Burrus of Seminole, Mrs. Dorris Egger of Dimmitt, Mrs. W. W. Watkins of Ralls, and Mrs. Norman Gray, general chairman for the convention.

Presiding at the refreshment table were Mesdames Robert Wiseman of Dalhart, Roy Egeman of Amarillo, Don Allred of Wildorado, Fred Finch of Dalhart, J. K. Anthony of Friona and Alfred Bellah of Canyon.

'Elder Statesman' Is Reviewed at La Plata Session

"The Elder Statesman," the story of Bernard M. Baruch by Margaret S. Coit, was given in a comprehensive review given by Mrs. M. C. Adams at the La Plata Study Club meeting held with Mrs. Leroy Aven Tuesday evening. She said in part:

"Baruch was 11 years old before he knew he was Jewish, or that it made any difference. The family moved from the South to New York City where they could educate a large family. He attended City College and the man who was a Democrat by birth, became a Democrat by conviction.

"He made his first money in sugar and then branched into copper. He made 45 million dollars in Brazoria County, Tex., in a sulphur deal. He became known as the Lone Eagle in Wall Street and made his first million in Wall Street before he reached the age of 32. In 1912 he entered actively in politics and soon became President Wilson's right hand man, and was appointed head of the industry board.

"In World War II he became the Park Bench Statesman. Born of Jewish parents, he never was a Jew, but always an American who was to be one of America's greatest benefactors," she said.

In conclusion Mrs. Adams said "The only way he could have been a bigger man was to dare to risk

Junior Red Cross Does Its Part

POINTING UP the fact that the local Junior Red Cross of Hereford Schools does its part, is the following report of activities which have been carried out during the past several months under the leadership of Mrs. H. A. Cavness, Junior Red Cross chairman, and Mrs. Billye Buck, teacher and sponsor.

Each year for the past three years, the Juniors paid a delegate's expense to summer training camp. These delegates have majored in disaster study and that phase of the work has been stressed here. The group has given $10.00 each year to the Red Cross Children's fund which goes to disaster areas for milk, food, medicine and clothing for children. They assembled 153 gift boxes for over-seas, but some remained in the states for disasters.

Their Christmas project for all the schools was carried out for the third year in 1957 when they bought, wrapped and sent 25 gifts to The Children's State Home in Waco.

The high school group prepared a program for the V. A. Hospital in Amarillo and the pupils at St. Anthony's School made fruit and nut baskets and sent candy to fill for the V. A. Hospital at Thanksgiving.

School is now finishing Easter favors for the V. A. Hospital in Amarillo, and will be sent there in time for Easter.

Stanton Junior High was awarded special recognition in the form of an award from the American National Red Cross for being the highest contributor. That group raised $61.30 with a variety show. Last year the Junior Red Cross presented a radio to a young hospital patient who had been the victim of a fire-explosion incident.

The Junior Council is now working on disaster kits to be used in the Chapter Disaster Plan.

Dawn Music Club
Has Program on David Guion

Continuing the study course on American Music, members of the Dawn Music Club presented a program on the life and works of David Guion at a meeting held Tuesday in the home of Mrs. L. W. Tooley.

Mrs. N. R. Miller told something of the development of American Church Music, particularly the evangelistic and gospel hymns presented by John Tasker Howard in his book "Our American Music."

The life and works of David Guion was discussed by Mrs. Melvin May, followed by compositions by Guion.

Mrs. Carl Wimberley played Guion's piano arrangement of "Arkansas Traveler" and "Turkey in the Straw" and Mrs. N. R. Miller, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Wimberley, sang "I Talked With God Last Night" by Guion.

The program was concluded with a chorus of club members singing "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" the hymn of the month.

During the business session one-pound tins of candy were distributed among club members for sale and a committee was appointed to plan the tenth anniversary luncheon which will be held in May.

Members present included Mesdames N. R. Miller, R. L. Johnson, Lloyd Airhart, Melvin May, H. V. McCabe, Carl Wimberley, H. H. Miller, Mrs. John Brechtol, a guest, and the hostess.

SUMMERFIELD NEWS

Rev. Weathers and Wife Honored Here

By BETTY WALSER

SUNDAY EVENING at the Summerfield Baptist Church a church social was held. A very large number were present. The social was given in the honor of the Rev. and Mrs. Merle Weathers. The WMU ladies of the church planned the social as a "pounding" for the pastor and his family. They also served refreshments to the group.

A revival meeting is scheduled to begin March 30 and run until April 5 at the Summerfield Baptist Church. The Rev. Merle Weathers will do the preaching.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hudson and daughter of Dumas spent Saturday evening in the Roy Campbell home. Sunday the Roy Campbell family and the F. H. Hudson family, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Pollard and family of Dumas and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson of Hereford were Sunday dinner guests in the B. G. Cotton home.

Although spring is finally here, we really can't tell about this West Texas weather. Tuesday morning the ground was well covered with snow, but most of it melted by noon. Tuesday night it rained. Wednesday was a very warm sunny day, typical to spring. Later Wednesday evening clouds appeared. Thursday was a pretty day and the farmers in our community seem well pleased with the pretty weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Baughn of Fort Jackson, S. C., visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Galley Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Behrends of this community are the proud parents of a baby boy, Bob Wayne, born March 18 at the Deaf Smith County Hospital. He weighed 8 pounds and 2 ounces. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. Behrends of Summerfield. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Dyer of Springtown.

DAVID ACKER of Nazareth is staying with his aunt, Mrs. Henry Kuper, while his mother is in the hospital.

Several from this community attended the WSCS meeting in Hereford this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Baker and family visited in the L. D. Reeves home in Cotton Center Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Curry visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. John Black of Amarillo Sunday.

One of the old land marks near Summerfield was torn down this week. Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kuper live on the place east of Summerfield. They plan to move in a new house.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bollinger and family of Hereford visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dean.

JOE STREUN returned home the first of the week from San Antonio where he was playing basketball.

Roy Botkin and Delbert Bainum returned from Gatesville Monday.

Mrs. Delbert Bainum and children of Hereford spent Sunday with Mrs. Roy Botkin and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Euler visited relatives last week in Hydro, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wright returned home last week from points in East Texas where they were vacationing with two couples from Dimmitt.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Baker are visiting in Tahoka with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. Dulins, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bollinger visited in Lubbock one day last week.

Dorcas Class Has Mad Hatter Party

Dorcas Class of the Temple Baptist Church was entertained at a Mad-Hatters party in the home of Mrs. R. N. Yarbrow Monday night. The call was answered with expressions of bliss in disguise. The program for the evening was given by Mrs. R. A. Daniel Jr., who told of Deborah, the first woman in the Bible to become a judge. The social hour was given over to fun as each member displayed and modeled her hand-made hat, which a little more ridiculous than the other. Mrs. Preston Hagans received the nod for wearing the most appropriately ridiculous. Those attending were Mesdames Bob Lacewell, Gene Guines, Robert Howell, Dwaine Campbell, R. Daniel Jr., Ralph Davis, Harold Hensham, T. A. Paul, Anson Dear, Preston Hagans, Sam Long, and McDowell and the hostess.

Bay View Club Studies India

Continuing the study course for 1957-58 on "World Unity," members of the Bay View Study Club met in the home of Mrs. John McLean Thursday afternoon for a program on India.

The program was begun by repeating a quotation from Gandhi, "Means and Ends are convertible terms in my philosophy of life," followed by a discussion of "Gandhi - The Practical Idealist" presented by Mrs. Carl Perrin.

Mrs. Perrin quoted E. Stanley Jones who says "Gandhi is India and the study of India and her problems necessarily includes the ideals and problems of Gandhi himself."

She told of the country's great man power, her industrialization and her resources and traced the background of her religions. "India's religion is lived, not professed, although she has no canon of scripture such as we have. Hinduism is the principle religion and followers believe in the cosmic law of cause and effect and in the re-incarnation of the soul. Their supreme goal is association with the Eternal Spirit."

"The caste system is a part of the Hindu belief, but Gandhi sought to set caste aside and save his life because of his sympathy with the Moslem faith. The Moslem faith caused the splitting of India and Gandhi spent many years in jail as a supporter and as a promoter of broad, new ideals," she concluded. Mrs. D. H. Alexander told about "India Since Gandhi" dealing mainly with the life of Nehru and his rise to power.

She stated that India has progressed more in the past 10 years under Nehru as prime minister, than in all her history. She described the contrasts that exist between the people, their customs and castes and the contradictions of Nehru's own policies.

"Nehru has fought for the independence and freedom of India and Gandhi had a great influence in this. He also spent much time in jails before he became prime minister in 1947. His seven billion dollar five-year agriculture plan has worked wonders for the country for there has never been so much food and so little starvation in India. His new five-year plan in industry is aimed at raising India's standards of living. He holds so many offices now along with his ministry, that he is bound to become an absolute ruler," she said.

She concluded by discussing Nehru's policy with Russia and with the United Nations - and told of the part the United Nations will play in future settlements of disputes.

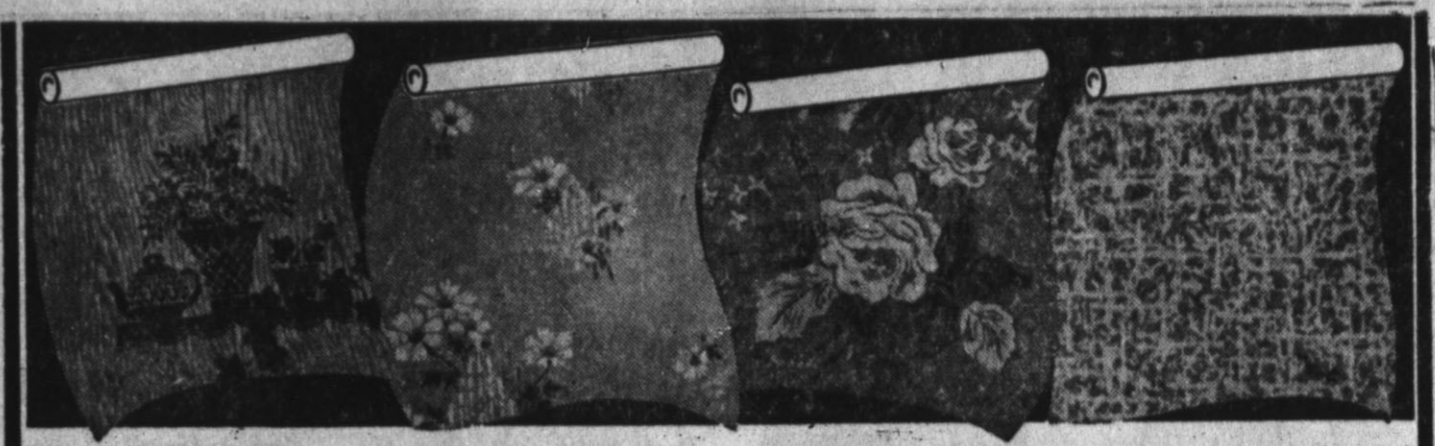

Members attending the meeting were Mesdames D. H. Alexander, Leo Forrest, A. M. Jones, Will S. Kerr, J. W. Kirby, Paul Mathers, Eugene Naugle, Carl Perrin, J. P. Slaton, and the hostess.

Emmett Hale, Gordon Elliott, Virgil Marsh, B. A. Reddell, T. W. Roberson, George Suggs, Leroy Suttle and the hostess.

L. A. E. Club Meeting Held

"New Inventions for the Home-Gadgets" provided interesting topics for a round table discussion program given at the L. A. E. Study Club meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Joe Johnson. Mrs. B. A. Reddell was in charge of the program with each member taking part in the discussions.

Members present were Mesdames C. E. Beauford, R. H. Hale,

Life of Gandhi Reviewed For Calliopian Study Club

Calliopian Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Alton Fraser Thursday evening. Special guests were Mrs. Sue James and Mrs. Jon George Fraser. A program on "The Life of Gandhi" was presented by Mrs. Carl Perrin who told of the early life of Gandhi, his family, his devotion to India and his fight for India's freedom. She gave the reasons for his religious beliefs and told of his great influence in India's religious attitudes and beliefs. She described the first Ashram which he founded and explained how E. Stanley Jones developed the ashram into retreats in America, and told of Gandhi's many persecutions brought about by his fight against the caste system.

YOUR RED CROSS ON THE JOB

By CORINNE J. NEELY

MARCH IS THE MONTH FOR DISASTER PLANNING by the chapter and several plans are already underway to be carried out by both chapter and other organizations. You will be hearing about them this month and April. One of the biggest and most important projects under this heading will be on the "Walking Blood Bank" for the Deaf Smith County Hospital. Chapter volunteers will be working with the doctors and hospital personnel to bring our out-dated bank up to date. Red Cross will sponsor the program again as it did in 1951. As has already been mentioned in the news and we want to stress that many people have moved away and so many new ones have come in that we want them to know about this community service and sign up. On the date set April 14, if you are not typed and on file there you are asked to go to the hospital. You will be given a card with your type for your own use and your name placed on file to be called on if and when needed to give blood to friends or family free of charge. Or in turn you may need the flood transfusion and files there will give you names to choose from for a donor. Many of you new comers may not know of this community service and we feel sure you will want to take advantage of it as well as donate, if called on in the future. In case of disaster it could save your own life and many others. Once the bank is set up, the Red Cross chapter has no further part in its use. That will be handled in referral by the doctors, the hospital manager and/or the technician there. The last named is custodian of the files. However in the past your executive secretary has aided new comers in finding donors when they knew no one to ask. There has never been a refusal in these requests. Those who have type cards and not on file are urged to be placed there in when the registration takes place. Other disaster activities: A group from the disaster committees of the chapter will attend a meeting in Amarillo Tuesday 25th at the V. A. Hospital. This meeting's theme is Disaster and will be attended by delegates from the Panhandle Association of Red Cross Chapters. The association is for mutual aid of all chapters in case of disaster and other needs. Working with the Civil Defense chairman of the Home Demonstration Clubs, your executive secretary spoke to eight clubs in February on "Mass Care in Disaster." At these meetings it was urged that all members not already blood typed and on file at the hospital to take part in the coming enlistment for their own and family's safety. A meeting of all committee members of the chapter's Disaster and Preparedness Plan is being planned for an early date. George Jowell is chairman of this group with Wayne Edwards as first vice-chairman, Louie LeGrand second vice-chairman, and Mrs. Charles Seed as third vice-chairman. Other committee members and their designated part in the plan will be announced at a later date. These were appointed or re-appointed in last October's Disaster Review Clinic with others added since then.

Sewing Fans Go For Chemise

LEFT OUT
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The mother of an elementary school lad asked why his picture wasn't on a display board with those of other children whose parents had attended the same school. The youngster explained: "I couldn't remember what Daddy's name was before he got married."

By DOROTHY ROE
 Associated Press Women's Editor

All over the country women are sewing chemise dresses like mad. This is the final test of a new fashion. When the home seamstress accepts it, you can be sure it's here to stay for a while.

Sales of chemise patterns are booming, says Albert Chaiken, one of the country's top pattern designers. Within less than two months, a chemise dress made the "top ten" list of best-selling patterns.

"There are several reasons behind this mass acceptance of the new chemise style," says Chaiken who, as head designer for McCalls' Patterns, has guided home seamstresses through such major style changes as the "new look" of 1947 and the Empire silhouette of 1954. "It's easy to sew, for one thing, and fitting problems are cut to a minimum. Also, it gives women a chance to try out the new style without ruining their clothing budgets."

Most pattern companies are including increasing numbers of chemises in their spring lines. The styles are spread through all age groups, including misses, juniors, teens, children and toddlers.

The chemise silhouette appears in several versions. Most widely accepted in the loose-fitting shirt, tapered at the hem and ecanted at the neckline. The middy look is part of the same fashion story, and is represented in either the classic two-piece middy or the semi-fitted dress with hipline cuff or belt, giving it a two-piece look. Also popular is the bloused-back dress or suit.

"The middy," says Chaiken, "is unquestionably the easiest of the new styles for the average woman to wear. The bloused back and the shift are good on tall, slender women and on slim junior figures. However, all the new chemise patterns are offered in several versions, and all include a belt for the timid." Local sewing center experts advise that if you plan to sew a chemise, it's best to select a true chemise pattern. Don't try to make a chemise from a standard sheath. There is considerable difference in the cut, in addition to the relaxed waistline. The skirt is tapered toward the hem and style emphasis is placed at the neckline.

In order to insure correct fit, select your proper pattern size, going by the bustline measurement. Although the chemise allows two inches extra at the waistline, the ease allowance at the hipline is one inch less. Baste waistline darts in place and try on before stitching. Be sure the widest part of the dart falls at your natural waistline. Even if you are daring enough to try a completely unfitted chemise, you'll find that a suggestion of waistline curve is becoming.

When making the chemise it is particularly important to do all fitting over the foundation garment you will wear with the dress. A longer girde often is advisable, to give extra control at the thigh area and add sleekness to the silhouette. A rounded bra is important for the gently defined bustline. When marking the hem of the garment, be sure to wear the shoes you plan to wear with it, as heel height makes a difference in the hang of the skirt. The chemise should be considerably shorter than last year's fashions, coming just below the knee.

The home seamstress will have a wide fabric choice for her new chemise. Soft fabrics such as jersey, sheer wool or silk will require linings in the back of the skirt, to retain the slender look. Crisper fabrics such as linen need no lining.

Chaiken offers a final word of advice: "Pay particular attention to the neckline and shoulder fit. When a dress fits only in that area, it must be perfect."

HARD-HEADED EAGLE

ARCO, Idaho (AP)—An eagle crashed through the windshield of a car driven by Joe Brewer, landed on his lap and sank its talons into Brewer's legs. He said 11 stitches were required to close the wounds. The eagle got away.

FINE NEEDLEWORK—It looks like hand smocking but it's all done by machine.

Embroider a Party Dress On Machine

By DOROTHY ROE
 Associated Press Women's Editor

It's simple these days to turn out a beautifully embroidered party dress for your little girl or a blouse for yourself without spending hours every evening making painstaking hand stitches, the way your mother used to do.

Fancy stitching is as easy as plain stitching with the benefit of today's new automatic sewing machines and attachments which allow you to make practically any kind of embroidery stitch by machine.

A little girl's dress of pale pink cotton, for instance, puts on party airs when it is trimmed with bands of fancy stitching in tones of deep pink, red and deep green. Two bands of embroidery are used across the front of the bodice and one across the back.

The dress is made with a standard pattern which calls for front fullness and vertical shirring between the bands of embroidery. Local sewing center experts offer some tips on how to achieve this effect.

First alter the pattern to eliminate a little of the fullness. Fold an inch-and-a-half tuck at the center of the pattern pieces marked "waist and skirt front" and "waist and skirt back." Cut bands for machine embroidery. Front bands are 2 1/4 inches wide, back yoke band is one inch wide. Embroider bands, using your favorite stitches and alternating colors.

Run two rows of machine stitching at top and bottom edges of area of bodice marked on the pattern for smocking and pull threads to gather this section until it fits the embroidered bands. Fasten thread ends.

Turn in raw edges of front and back yoke embroidered bands and top stitch in place over gathering.

This is a technique which gives the effect of hand smocking, with much less trouble. Once you have learned the trick, you can use it on many garments.

National Future Homemakers Week To Be Observed

Local Chapters Slate Activities

ROYCE LEE FRUIT and Stella Ja Wiseman show their mothers, Mrs. S. T. Wiseman and Mrs. Roy Pruitt an improvised baby bed which can be made from two chairs.

MRS. JOEL HODGES, homemaking teacher, greets Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Patterson, who will have the exchange student in their home 1958-59. Fulfilling the national goal of promoting international good-will, the FHA has sponsored the foreign exchange student for four years.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS at Hereford High School will shine in special and traditional activities during National FHA Week starting today.

The first event scheduled is attendance in groups at church services. Members of the two FHA chapters who care to do so will attend the morning worship service with their president. Members of the Chapter No. 1 will attend the Avenue Baptist Church with their president, Peggy Bumpass. Members of Royal Rose will go with their president, Donna Sue Guseman, to the First Methodist Church.

Throughout the week members of cooking classes in Homemaking II and III will be giving luncheons and dinners for their invited guests as a climax to their cooking experiences.

Mothers of girls enrolled in clothing classes will be honored with a coffee and style show on Wednesday. Girls will model dresses they have completed in class work.

Two money-making projects are scheduled as a part of the week's activities. Last Monday the FHA girls served a dinner for the executive council of the Northwest Texas Conference of WSCS in its meeting here. Monday they will serve a dinner for the executive committee of the local Classroom Teachers Assn.

A SPECIAL activity being conducted in connection with the special FHA week this year is the selection of a girl to represent Hereford High School in the "Miss Deaf Smith Rural Electric of 1958" contest. The local REA has invited ed high schools in its area of service to choose candidates for the contest. This includes Hereford, Friona, Bovina, Farwell, and Dimmitt.

An annual part of the local observance by FHA girls is the cleaning of trophies and the trophy cases at the high school. It has also been customary for the girls to clean the school grounds during the week.

Planning that phase of this year's observance are Sandra Roberson, Jane Pool, and Sandra Childers. Members of the two chapters will present the daily devotionals on the inter-com during the week.

The traditional rose planting ceremony will be planned at a later date, the homemaking teachers have announced. It has been customary for the girls to plant a red rose on the school grounds each year during their special week.

Westway H.D. Has St. Pat's Party

Westway Home Demonstration Club had a St. Patrick's Day party for their families Saturday, March 15, at 8 p.m. in the community house. The ladies were presented white aprons trimmed in green and the men were presented green bow ties as they arrived.

An introductory game requiring every one to shake hands acquainted each with the other. Party games related to St. Patrick were played throughout the evening with the winners receiving prizes.

The centerpiece of the refreshment table was an angel seated on a crystal pedestal guarding the shamrocks. This was flanked by green tapers. St. Patrick's day punch and cookies were served.

Present were Messers and Mesdames Harold Rudd and children, Buren Sowell, Herbert Owens, Paul Rudd, Clarence Sauley, Bobby L. Jones and children, J. C. Morrison, Bernie Northcutt and Sue, R. L. Wilson, Kenneth Rudd and children, Mrs. George Turrentine, Mrs. Joe Wagoner, Mrs. Frank Neill of Colorado Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cunningham of Amarillo and Ruby Welch of Clovis, N. M.

CANDIDATES for the state degree are from left to right, Betty Paetzold, Betty Hagar, and Peggy Bumpass. The state degree is the highest degree in the FHA organization.

Social Security Is Club Subject

"What Social Security Means to Women" was the topic discussed by Mrs. Floyd McGee and Mrs. Lester English at a meeting of the Progressive Home Demonstration club March 18, at the Bull Barn.

"The main purpose for any security is insurance against interruption and destruction of earning power and the expenditure arising at birth, marriage or death," Mrs. Floyd McGee told the group.

During the business meeting the club decided to have a community party at the Progressive School house Saturday night, March 22, at 7:30. Bruce Miller is to be guest speaker.

Present for the meeting were Mesdames C. V. Burgess, Leon Coffin, Bert Coffin, Lester English, Horace Hershey, Taft McGee, Floyd McGee, Buck Parson, Earl Plank and E. C. Hammett.

AS HER Civil Defense project in FHA, Sandra Roberson prepared an emergency food shelf.

Says Dad Should Be Boss, Even in an All-Girl Home

AP Newsfeatures

Dad should be boss of the household even if he's hopelessly outnumbered, says movie and TV star Rosemary DeCamp, the mother of four girls.

"Mother should not take over complete supervision of girls," she says. "You don't want to make little pinafore types out of them, just because they don't have brothers to teach them about toads and spiders."

Miss DeCamp, wife of Judge John Shidler of Los Angeles goes on:

"In our house Dad's word is law, just as it is in the courtroom. It'll help make our girls better wives. We are determined that our girls grow up fearlessly, too, not in prissy, sheltered fashion."

Thomas Gives Dawn 4-H Program

"Parasites and Parasite Control" was the program presented to the Dawn Boys 4-H Club recently by county agent J. W. "Lefty" Thomas in the Dawn schoolhouse.

Robert Galley and Jon David Miller presented a demonstration on artificial respiration, using the Neilsen method.

A surprise birthday party was held afterward for Jack Thomas, who with Craig Griffith joined the club as new members at the meeting.

Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Reznik, Richard and Robert, L. W. and Randy Tooley, Orval and Robert Galley, Griffith Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Earl, Pete and Dick Plank, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. and Jody Bezner, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas.

The girls, Margaret 14, Martha 10, Valerie 9 and Anita-Louise 5, are outdoor types "but not tomboys."

"They have a treehouse 30 feet up with a magnificent view of the Pacific Ocean, and get as much fun out of it as boys."

"They have pets — a guana, a lizard-like animal that lives on hibiscus and is kept in a cage; dogs, cats, lovebirds. We are on the verge of adopting a raccoon to replace an old friend, a chincatu, that we finally hitched to a zoo."

Miss DeCamp spends three days a week with the Bob Cummings TV show, but takes a normal attitude toward the home and doesn't spoil the girls because they have a working mother.

You can't arrive at a perfect formula for family happiness without trial and error, she says. But one day you find the prescription for your own problems.

"It's not easy to be a parent. You can't say 'I'm boss, and you do as I say' to your children. There is much more to the job." Happiness in a home may be achieved in little ways like these, she points out:

1. If your youngster begins to tell you something, let her finish the tale. Girls can be gabby, she points out and it is disconcerting if mother's mind wanders when a child is trying to put over a point.

2. Girls need to learn good manners, and good conversation, and need a chance to learn, so the family should eat together, at least once a day.

3. Parents should go off by themselves, and be alone, occasionally. It's good for the children, too.

4. Avoid over-regimenting girls. It's so easy to say 'don't do that' that over-protective parents can fall into the habit of vetoing everything.

Mother should be a pal to her girls, Miss DeCamp advises. They must be assured you care, even though they may think your ideas are old-fashioned.

The resulting friendship is a rewarding experience of motherhood. It brings its own special satisfactions, Miss DeCamp continues, like the warm glow she felt the other day when her youngest child said:

"You know why I like you, Mother? Because you love me."

Woman, 94, Has No Yen For 'The Good Old Days'

GEORGETOWN, Tex. — Mrs. M. E. Starnes is one oldtimer who doesn't think the old days were best. Pioneers thought they lived well, she said recently, because they didn't know any better.

But she still has a great deal of pioneer independence: She lives alone and likes it. She is 94.

"From ox wagon to airplane, that's me," says Mrs. Starnes, her blue eyes twinkling.

Those eyes looked on this country when it was open prairie with lush native grasses waist to shoulder high, and broken to cultivation by ox team and walking plow. They still allow her to read newspapers, magazines and to watch TV.

She is, however, a little hard of hearing, though not enough to wear a hearing aid.

SHE IS known as one of the most cheerful women in town. "When I'm low," said a neighbor woman, "I go see Mother Starnes. She's the best 'pickup' I know."

When she observed her 94th birthday in February, her two sons and two daughters were there. None of them live here.

There was the usual talk of Mother coming to live with one of them.

She has, for the past 12 years, made it quite plain that:

She is able bodied, independent, and of an age to know her own mind. And that is: That she will not dismantle her house and be a guest, no matter how honored, in anybody's home, even though that home belongs to one of her children.

HER DAUGHTER, Miss Beulah Starnes of Lubbock, said that when her mother decides she needs a change of scenery around the house, she moves her furniture.

A broken hip before she began living alone and a broken wrist afterward, necessitates use of a cane.

As to meals, Mrs. Starnes cooks as she always has, although not in quantities. Chicken and dumplings, plenty of vegetables, cobbles, all the old-fashioned dishes. She bakes cakes only when the children are coming home.

She was born in Georgetown "in what we called the 'tanyard,'" she said. "The government had a tannery there (in what is now North Georgetown) and my father, E. M. Rhea, worked there. The tannery broke up when the war (the Civil War) ended. Then we moved to a farm."

As to the good old days, they were maybe not so good as you heard they were, she declares. Anyway, after this present soft living, she wouldn't go through them again, she is sure.

"WE COOKED on open fireplaces. We rode horseback, us girls in riding habits with sort of Derby hats, sidesaddle, of course to play-parties, to singings. There was church and camp meetings. Camp meetings were wonderful social affairs though of course that was not their main object."

"And the sewing, first by hand. Then my father bought the first sewing machine in the community. But it took two of us to run it. One had to turn the wheel to run the machine the other had to manage the material."

They had good times, Mrs. Starnes said, but indicated that the reason things didn't seem so bad then was that they just didn't know any better.

She married at 20. Her husband, a young lawyer, lived until the sixth child was two years old. He left her fairly well off, but hardly well enough off to send all the children to college. But go to college they did — to Southwestern University in Georgetown.

LATER, ONE son, Rhea, gave

RACE FUND TOTAL GIVEN NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Offerings for 1957 Race Relations Day in Methodist churches reached $345,525, officials announced. The sum was little more than half the goal of $600,000, but still it represents the largest contribution in the history of the program. The money will go to the 12 Negro colleges related to the Methodist Church.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I prevent mist forming on eyeglasses when coming from the outside air into a warm room?

A. Try the following method: Mix olein-potash soap with about three per cent glycerin and a small amount of oil of turpentine, and polish the lenses with this solution.

Q. How can I make windows stay clean for a longer time?

A. Add a few pieces of vinegar to the water when cleaning the windows and they will remain clean much longer. And a little bluing added to the water will produce more brilliancy.

Q. How can I remedy soup that has become too salty?

A. Put a few pieces of toasted bread in the soup for a few minutes, then remove, and the bread will have absorbed much of the salt.

Q. How can I prevent the metal tops of salt shakers from corroding?

A. They will not corrode if they are covered on the inside with melted paraffin. Open the holes with a pin while the paraffin is cooling.

Q. How can I thicken the juice of a fruit tart, and also prevent it from boiling over in the oven?

A. Both objects can be accomplished by mixing a little corn-starch with the sugar.

Q. How can I make the floors warmer?

A. The floors will be much warmer and less draughty if newspaper is spread under the rug or carpet. The paper also acts as a preventive for moths.

Q. How can I treat bruises from swelling?

A. By applying immediately a cloth about five folds in thickness, dipped in cold water. When the cloth becomes warm, renew the wetting.

Q. How can I keep my potted palms glossy?

A. Sponge the leaves of the palms once every week with a solution of milk and water, and they will keep their nice glossy appearance.

Q. How can I clarify coffee?

A. Before the percolator begins to boil, add the shell of an egg and see how it clarifies the coffee.

Q. How can I clean the clogged burners of a gas stove?

A. Nothing is better for this purpose than a pipestem cleaner. It will remove all the dirt.

Q. How can I add more nutritive value to mashed potatoes?

A. By boiling the potatoes in their jackets, then removing the skins, and mashing the potatoes until fluffy.

URGES CONGRESSIONAL ACTION

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—The Methodist board of Temperance charges that liquor advertisers are spending more than 400 million dollars a year to "brainwash the American public" into thinking drinking does no harm.

The Rev. Dr. Caragine R. Hooton, general secretary of the board's national headquarters here, urged congressional action on pending bills to curb "this disgraceful expenditure" by banning interstate alcohol advertising and regulate billboard advertising on federal highways.

John J. Muccio, of North Providence, R. I., was named first United States ambassador to Iceland in 1955.

Grain Sorghum Experiments Could Open Door To Vast Development In Southwest

Once in a blue moon, the by-product of a commodity will outshine the original commodity and, we suppose, the same thing might easily happen to an organization. Chiefly, we have in mind the Panhandle Grain Sorghum Producers Association, and its research program.

The association was formed primarily in an effort to secure equality with other crops in the field of government price supports. Grain farmers still cannot see why government supports should be allotted to producers of cotton, wheat and corn—but not to growers of grain sorghums, a basic crop in this area.

Failing to achieve desired goals in this field, the organization also saw fit to establish scholarships and make available funds for experimentation toward additional uses of the commodity. Already, the results are startling.

Farmers are beginning to wonder why they should ship their livestock into Iowa for finishing. New cooking oils, starches and flour confections are being recognized. Some futile attempts have even been made toward substituting grain sorghum for popcorn. Best of all, the experiments continue with increasing tempo, although the final outcome is still a gigantic question.

Possibilities are being recognized on a national scale, however, and it is entirely probable that a new era for grain sorghums remains to be tapped through new applications of the crop as modern hybrid varieties continue to establish record yields, especially in the irrigated belt of the Panhandle.

Grain sorghum, known in pioneer days as "Indian corn," is already well adapted to the territory. Production-wise, it competes with and undersells corn and other competitive products. What the crop needs most are consumer demand and a stable market.

Like gasoline, once a volatile by-product in the manufacture of kerosene, the experimental division of the Panhandle Grain Producers Association could well open the door to a complete new vista for Agriculture in the Southwest.

Do We Live In A Christian Nation?

Recent figures formulated through the Ministerial Alliance survey reported a membership of 4,271 persons from nine cooperating churches. Of greater importance, however, was the fact that 3,308 regularly attended services in the nine churches each Sunday.

The ration of 78 per cent attendance when compared against actual membership is, in all likelihood, well above the national average. And, since Hereford is generally accepted as a "church town," it is also probable that the membership ratio, itself, is well above the national average. These things are splendid. They speak well for our community and, unquestionably, provide a situation to which each of us can point with pride.

While we are patting ourselves on the back, however, it might be well to project the figures a little bit further. Had all 16 of the churches reported in the survey, the total membership might well have been 6,000, resulting in approximately 4,500 average church attendance each Sunday. Let us also recognize the fact that practically all of the churches in Deaf Smith County are located in Hereford, then compare the membership and attendance figures against the estimated 14,000 population generally accorded Deaf Smith County.

The figures indicate that approximately one out of each three persons in Deaf Smith County attends the church of his choice each Sunday. And, since families usually attend church as a group, it is highly questionable whether one out of five families in the county regularly attends services.

Again, concede the fact that Hereford is a "church town" and probably well above the average, especially when compared with larger cities of the nation, and you invariably face the question:

"By what unchallenged right can the United States lay claim to being a devoted 'Christian Nation?'"

THE GOLDEN YEARS

A 'Vision in Pink' Won Dave Alexander

By MRS. R. L. CRISWELL

"I worked as a lumber man for many years," Dave Alexander said. "I was with the Panhandle Lumber Co. in a number of counties on the Great Plains. One of these was at McClain and it was there that I was sitting on the counter idly looking down the street when a vision in pink caught my eye. She had on a pink dress and hat and was carrying a pink umbrella. She came tripping down the street and into my heart, where she has stayed all these years."

"She came in the store and I scrambled to my feet to wait on her. I was so flustered it is a wonder that I did not fall flat on my face, but luck was with me. While I helped her with the items she needed, I kept saying 'over and over to myself, 'just give me six months, just six months and I will make her mine.'"

"She had plenty of beaux, of course, and one week I had gone to her father's ranch to see her when another fellow dropped in with the same idea in mind. I cancelled my dates for Friday and Saturday and left the field clear so she could make up her mind. I was very gracious about it and she could not understand my attitude at all."

"She did not want me to break the dates. I insisted on it since he had come much farther to see her than I. I worked. He was not very courteous and it made her angry that he would not thank me for giving him the dates. She was thoroughly disgusted with him and I really made progress with my magnanimous act. I was pretty worried, but it turned out to be the wisest thing I could have done. "The young folk planned a hayride to a party and about 40 girls and boys were going on a haywagon. I persuaded the other boys to let me bring my girl in the buggy. That was my lucky night for she promised to marry me while on the way to the party. It was a grand party and I have never had such a wonderful time in my life."

"I had planned a business trip to St. Louis, just hoping she would say yes. We went on our honeymoon to see the big city. We were married on July 24, 1907, six months and two days after I had met her. I knew the amount of days as I had counted them one by one."

"I was transferred a number of times, while working for the same company, so we lived in many different towns. My wife always wanted to live in Hereford. She thought it a very lovely town with so many white houses and each with a windmill. The manager in Hereford had not been transferred so long I was sure he would not be moved. Luck again was with us and we moved to Hereford in 1926. We had trouble finding a house and had to live in a very small apartment for several months before finding a house. After we had been here for several years I bought the Panhandle Lumber Co. and ran it under the name of Hereford Lumber Co."

"I bought a small herd of Whiteface cattle and had them on grass west of town. Bertha's father had given her a beautiful Whiteface heifer. She was strictly show stuff and Bertha was very proud of her."

My wife decided she must go out and see her although I had been out the day before and she was doing fine.

"There was irrigation in Deaf Smith County at that time. We were sailing along in a spanking new Plymouth car when suddenly we sank hub-deep in the mud. It was late in the afternoon and three miles to the nearest neighbor. I got out and looked things over and remembered that if you let some of the air out of your tires you could get out of loose sand. I decided to try it on mud. I let the air out and it rolled right up on to the firm ground. As it was a new car I supposed there was a pump included. There was no pump, however, so we drove very slowly the three miles to the farm to borrow a pump. She would never go with me to see the cattle again."

"I came with my parents from Missouri to Briscoe County," Mrs. Alexander said. "We lived in a half dugout as most every one did at that time. My father freighted lumber out of Amarillo to build two rooms the next spring. We moved in, but the boys kept the dugout for their bedroom. Later Father added to the house until we had a nine room ranch house. He ordered a bedroom suite from Fort Smith, Ark. All our neighbors came to visit and to sew as mother had the only full length mirror in Briscoe County."

"Father would go to Amarillo to shop for the family once or twice a year and buy all our clothes, shoes, food and unbleached domestic in bolts which we used for various things. He also got kerosene which was the most important of all to us children as it gave us light. When there would be no parties or games to amuse us on the long winter nights without the aid of light, I have been accused of being Scotch and I am proud to claim them for my ancestors. As a child I knew if we burned all the kerosene in a few months we would be in the dark until another wagon train was made up for the trip to Amarillo. Believe me, you learn to save when you know there will be no more for a long time."

"Everyone knows I love to talk and I have made many friends by just talking. My father was a big talker also, but he always said there were two things he could not do: One was Bertha and the other was the Model T Ford. I have made many friends by being talkative and since we have lived in so many different counties I have friends all over the Panhandle. How I would love to have them all over for a talkfest."

"After I finished school I decided to teach and my first job was in McClain. I met Mr. Alexander then and I believe he has already told you of that. He was a tall handsome man with dark curly hair. He gave me such a rush it is no wonder I fell for him. It has been wonderful all these years and we enjoy living so much. It was a joy to celebrate our golden wedding anniversary and I hope we can celebrate our diamond anniversary as well."

"Mr. Alexander has his work and I have my home and my hobby, which is fancy work, to keep me busy. I love needle work of all kinds and enjoy making beautiful things for my home and some of which I hope my children and grandchildren will treasure in the years to come."

MEDICS TRAIN
Grand Ledge, Mich. (AP)—Although they're determined they'll never use a gun, 150 young men are going through a grueling 16-hour-a-day training course here preparing for military service. They are draft-age Seventh-day Adventists from across the country, attending the seventh annual national encampment of the church's medical cadet corps, learning military discipline, drill, map reading and first aid.

They expect to go into service, ready to handle a stretcher in the front lines, but have conscientious objections to bearing arms.

Population of Latin America's nations is now about equal to that of the United States and Canada.

Exchange Students Make Many Friends

Occasional public appearances of Miss Silvana Felizia, foreign exchange student of Italy who is currently attending Hereford High School, invariably emphasize the importance of a worthwhile program.

Since Hereford started its exchange student program under sponsorship of FHA, the community has met and heard students from several foreign countries, including England, Germany, and Italy. The people, like our students, have come to appreciate and love the students. In addition, we have learned a lot about how the people in their home countries live, along with their hopes, aspirations, ambitions and desires.

You can read all of these things in the outlined program, but when you meet the students face to face, the result is far more dynamic. Certainly, any community which is not sponsoring a foreign exchange student should investigate the matter thoroughly—and it has our unreserved recommendation.

As sponsors, the Future Homemakers of Hereford High have had a lot of help. It was their enthusiasm which initiated the program, however, and the girls have worked hard to keep it in operation. Unquestionably, they have benefitted generously through the experience. And, as is usually the case, the community has benefitted in proportion. All in all, we owe the organization a debt of gratitude.

Local Postal Costs May Raise $22,200

(Special to The Brand)
NEW YORK—Mail costs will go higher by an estimated 30 percent in Hereford during the next fiscal year if the bill approved by the Senate becomes law.

It calls for an increase in nearly all classifications of service. Postal receipts throughout the nation, by virtue of these hikes, are expected to be $750 million greater than at present.

HEREFORD'S PORTION of that increase is estimated at $22,200 a year.

In the last fiscal year, according to figures issued by the Post Office Department, local individuals and business firms spent a total of $74,309 for postal services. Under the new rates, as passed by the Senate, this would rise to $96,500. Assumed is that average, normal conditions apply in the city.

Specifically, the increases, effective on July 1st, would be as follows: five cents instead of three cents an ounce for letters delivered out-of-town, four cents if delivered locally, eight cents instead of six cents for air mail, an increase of 30 percent, spread over three

Letters to the Editor

March 18, 1958

To the Editor,

I'd like to say amen to the lady who wrote in a week ago concerning the things our children have to be taught. I'm against the undecent things our school books teach and our library books and the magazines and the people who don't care what they say in the presence of your child. If a child wasn't supposed to be a child, to think the childish way, why then did God make children? Us grown up's are to protect this precious child life, but now people cram vulgar things into little children's minds when they don't even understand and won't, until they grow stronger in body and mind. They are no longer free to play and be a child when grown up's explain the adult life and mix tender growing minds full of complications. The Almighty takes care of all things. I praise my mother everyday for letting me grow up and have a clean childish mind. A life I can look back to with never forgetting tender memories of not knowing things I shouldn't. I can't tolerate a group who have no respect for the little ones by talking about things they shouldn't learn yet. I believe in the things that were right in the beginning and I'll go to my grave with a little bit of shame and respect.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Opinion Divided on Result Of Widening Highway 60

Will the widening of Highway 60 through Hereford increase or decrease trade in businesses fronting it?

JIMMIE ALLRED—I think if widening as proposed and not taking any additional space were done that it would help businesses on Highway 60.

MRS. JESSE BARRETT—Well, really, I think it would increase trade along Highway 60.

JAMES BOYD—I think it would increase it. Think more people would use the highway and if so I don't know why it wouldn't help business.

MRS. E. B. McLELLAN—I think it would increase business. It would give more parking space and it would clean the city up. People passing through would not get such a dull look at our city.

A. W. SELF—Well, I don't think it would increase or decrease it. I would like to see them widen the street, myself.

MRS. G. A. BROWN—I don't think it would increase it unless farmers have better crops this year. Otherwise, I couldn't see how.

O. R. SANDERS—I believe it would increase it. Traffic is so heavy along Highway 60, in fact it is one of the main highways traveled. I believe it would help it.

MRS. WANDA JOHNSON—All I can see it would do is mess up the front of buildings. I have seen it done in other towns, of course, I didn't live in any of those towns so I don't know if it helped or not. If the streets were so narrow they were hazardous I think they should be widened.

years, in second class mail and more involved changes in the other categories.

Should the House of Representatives refuse to go along with the five cent stamp and insist on four cents, the postal rise nationally would total $575 million instead of $750 million. In that case, mail costs in Hereford would be only $17,050 higher than at present.

WHY SUCH an increase? Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield points out that his department is struggling under a mounting load of postal deficits. Although the postal system is handling more mail and is taking in more money than ever before, it is losing ground at an increasing rate, he claims.

It has become necessary to install more modern equipment such as electronic mail facers, sorters and the like to achieve better efficiency and cut down operational costs. Many foreign countries are considerably ahead of us in this respect, he admits.

Also contemplated is the modernization of a number of obsolete post office buildings and the acquisition of new ones.

CITY OKAYS TENTATIVE BUDGET

A $334,148 budget was tentatively adopted Monday night by the Canyon City Commission. The commission decided to delay adoption until after the city election April 1 to give the incoming commission a chance to make any changes it desires. The budget for the 1958 fiscal year which begins April 1, shows an increase of $132,445 over the 1957 budget, but operating costs in general will be down slightly. The increase will come mostly because of the completion of the new water supply system which will come in the new fiscal year.—THE CANYON NEWS.

NEW PHONE BOOKS HAVE 104 ERRORS

New telephone directories were distributed last week to Tulsa subscribers by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. The new books have a net gain of 86 listings over last year's directory brings the figure as of Dec. 31, 1957, to 1658. One hundred and four errors and omissions occur in the Redmon and Elkins listings. The new listings and changes were lost after they were mailed by Mid-Plains Telephone Cooperative to the Dallas offices of Southwestern Bell where the directories are printed, according to R. W. Shackelford, manager of Mid-Plains. Negotiations are underway between Southwestern Bell and Mid-Plains as to what to do about the 104 discrepancies, and directories are not being delivered to Elkins and Redmon subscribers until an agreement is reached, Shackelford said.—THE TULSA HERALD.

TEXAS TECH SIGNS CUNNINGHAM, LEE

State champion miler Bobby Cunningham and all-star gridder Wallace Lee were awarded four-year athletic scholarships to Texas Tech here Saturday. The two athletes signed letters of intent to attend the Lubbock school in a meeting with coaches Beattie Feathers and Junior Arterburn, Red Raider backfield coaches. Both Lee and Cunningham are scheduled to be graduated from Littlefield High School in May. Coach Arterburn described Lee as "one of the finest football prospects in West Texas." — COUNTY WIDE NEWS.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm won't get anywhere with his idea this week, but he's been farming for years and hasn't gotten anywhere with that either.

Dear editor:
Generally I'm so busy worrying over whether my own finances are in good or bad shape I don't have time to find out whether the rest of the country is prosperous or depressed. I learned long ago a man could be over-drawn at the bank even at the very peak of the biggest prosperity boom in the history of the nation, but when everybody keeps hammering away at the idea that a recession has indeed turned up, at least in lots of places over the country, I'm not one to argue about it. Recessions don't scare me. I've had 'em for years.

However what interests me is the solutions being offered to cure the thing, all the way from raising the price of postage stamps and lowering the price of farm products to cutting the income tax rate, although the best one I've read so far came from a top expert in Washington.

According to him, "What the economy needs at this time is primarily more spending by individuals and business."

That's more to my taste. This old idea that you whip hard times by pulling in your belt never did appeal to me, it's like arguing you ought to walk until you can pay cash for a car, it's an attack on the down-payment system, it's an attack against the credit system, and without borrowed money most people would never drive a car and most nations would never launch a satellite. This may not make sense to some people, but you've got to remember some people don't make sense to me.

But back to the idea that the way to whip the recession is for you and me to spend more. I was discussing this with a neighbor and he said it won't work, the reason we're in the shape we're in now, if we are in such a shape, which I'm not sure of, is because people have been spending more than they make.

I'm not saying he's right or wrong. I'm as capable of a politician's viewpoint as the next man, but the world never makes any progress without experimenting, and I'd like for you to get in touch with Washington and inform the experts I'm willing to give this new idea a trial, I'm not afraid of the pioneering instinct.

If Washington will send me the money, I'll roll up my sleeves and test this theory out. I'll do my part, I'll guarantee to spend every nickel they send me, but I want it understood that an economic experiment of this magnitude takes time and Washington needn't be expecting to get complete results in a few short weeks. You don't wipe out a recession a thousand miles from my farm with one spending spree, you've got to chip away at it steadily, month after month. If Washington will start the checks, I'll prop up my mail box out here and get ready to go into action. I won't guarantee it'll work, but here's one job I won't look on.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Paducah Mother Named 'Woman of the Year'

PADUCAH (AP) — Care for nine children, four of them helpless with muscular dystrophy, in crowded quarters? Mrs. E. W. Hollar has done it.

For about 24 years, one or more of her children have suffered with the crippling disease. They were unable to feed themselves or move

At the same time, she reared five healthy children. The family now lives in the sheriff's quarters at the jail in Guthrie. Her husband is King County Sheriff.

IN RECOGNITION of her patience, cheerfulness in spite of odds, and devotion to her family, the Paducah Lions Club selected her recently as Woman of the Year.

She was showered with more than $5,000 in prizes and cash.

Three of her sons, Jimmy, 16; Billy, 18; and Kariton, 20, have muscular dystrophy. Each weighs less than 100 pounds. They cannot care for themselves.

Another son, Luther, who also had the disease, died 10 years ago at the age of 14.

Dr. C. C. Pate, past president of the Lions Club who served as master of ceremonies when she was honored, said, "Her family is the only family in the entire world and medical history where four cases of progressive muscular dystrophy is found."

THE OTHER children are Gail, 8, and Douglas, 14, who both live at home; Donald, 21, a student at Texas Tech; Gloria, a resident of Kingsburg, Calif.; and Wesley, a farmer near Guthrie.

Donald is known as the famous masked Red Raider who rides a black horse and leads the Tech football team onto the gridiron.

Dr. Pate, physician and long-time friend of the family, explained that the afflicted boys' minds are keen and alert.

The sheriff's quarters at the jail are crowded and had few facilities for caring for invalid children until two years ago when they were given a hydraulic lift.

In honoring Mrs. Hollar, the Paducah Lions made available most of the things she needs.

THE DOCTOR unveiled a hospital bed complete with sheets, pillows, spread and mattress, a bed-general way which gives them a background which also will be a factor in the future.

Dr. Samuel M. Nabrit, president of Texas Southern University at Houston, also participated in the discussions as a NSF board member.

"In general," he said, "We can not expect immediately the full return of what is being done in basic research and hence we can not appraise its full value in terms of investment put in it at the time it is being carried on."

He said TSU, which is for Negroes, concentrates on teacher preparation in elementary education. He noted the school had invested two million dollars in new science facilities.

"We have had to import physicists from as far away as India in order to make sure that our students came in contact with some of the best minds that we have in the field," he said.

WATCH YOUR HAT

side tray, a bedside cart, a floor lamp and a wheel chair. She was given three of each.

She was told that she was authorized to go to any department store in Paducah and buy any clothing she needed at the expense of an unknown donor. A local beauty salon gave her one year's beauty care at no charge.

Her daughter, Gail and her son, Douglas, along with her husband were given a complete outfit of clothing.

But that was only the beginning as the master of ceremonies began to unveil more gifts for Mrs. Hollar — a chest-type home freezer, washer, dryer, ironer, water heater, wall furnace, two small radiant wall heaters, one-ton refrigerated air conditioner, combination radio and record player and a remote controlled television.

After seeing all these, the doctor asked Mrs. Hollar where she would put it all. When she answered, "I guess we'll have to build a house," Dr. Pate unveiled the floor plans and the drawing of a 20'x22' room with large picture windows, complete with bathroom and utility room that will be built for her by the Lions Club.

THE ROOM will be built and displayed in Paducah, then moved to Guthrie, 30 miles south, where it will be attached to their home at the jail.

While she was still overjoyed and tearful, the master of ceremonies opened a box and from it Mrs. Hollar pulled a string-of one hundred $5 bills.

As she backed away from the box and stretched the string of bills, Mrs. Hollar backed over a screen and into the arms of her brothers and sisters, some of whom she had not seen in several years.

It was a tense and dramatic moment for more than 200 persons who packed into the banquet hall.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

Texas Solon Heads Group Studying School Problems

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Various congressional committees are concerned with improvements of the nation's educational system but few are so close to the problem as the House Appropriations subcommittee headed by Rep. Albert Thomas (D) of Houston.

The record-just made public of a closed door session of this group is enlightening on this point.

Throughout a discussion in which top scientists and congressmen participated, there is constant reference to Russia's Sputnik — and acknowledgment that the Soviet Union has made remarkable scientific progress through a highly developed educational structure.

There seemed agreement that the fate of America depends on the ability of its schools to do a better job, and that this means better taught pupils all the way back through the elementary grades.

THE QUESTION left unanswered is how this can be done without federal encroachment on states rights, and how to convince a tax-conscious public that national survival may depend on raising the money to provide better schools, better trained teachers and to see that no one with ability lacks maximum schooling because of personal finances.

Playing a prominent role in the committee discussion was Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation. The foundation was established by Congress six years ago with directions to develop and encourage the pursuit of a national policy for the promotion of basic research and education in sciences.

The NSF officials were asking

140 million dollars to carry on in the year beginning July 1, as compared with 40 million for the current year. The foundation does no research itself, but makes grants to schools and colleges. One program finances attendance of promising high school mathematics and science teachers at summer institutes.

"You do not have the authority to go out and establish a laboratory and operate it yourself," observed Thomas. "You have authority to give some money to some very bright folks."

IN THE ENSUING exchange Dr. Waterman, answering the question of a congressman who asked if either he or the NSF felt that the federal government has a responsibility to deal directly with the elementary and secondary education as a real basis for scientific betterment of the country, said:

"Now, whether the federal government does it or not, in the matter of elementary education, depends, it seems to me, on how much can be done locally by the communities.

"If every parent felt that the instruction in the school where his children went really needed to be improved, they could get at the matter quicker than any one else.

"It may turn out that the federal government will have to play a large part in this, but until we are certain that the proper part, the traditional part, cannot be played by other mediums, then I would be unfortunate to have the federal government try to do the whole job."

"One thing very impressive about the Russian situation, and you understand I believe we should develop our own method, is that they do not succeed in identifying those with aptitude for science and making sure they go into it, whether in research, teaching, or industry," continued Dr. Waterman.

"NOT ONLY that but the entire educated Russian population know a great deal about science in a

IGY Studies Shrink Size of Antarctica

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Reporter

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica — The first dim ideas about the surface features of inland Antarctica lying beneath its great mantle of snow and ice are beginning to emerge from studies made by International Geophysical Year scientists.

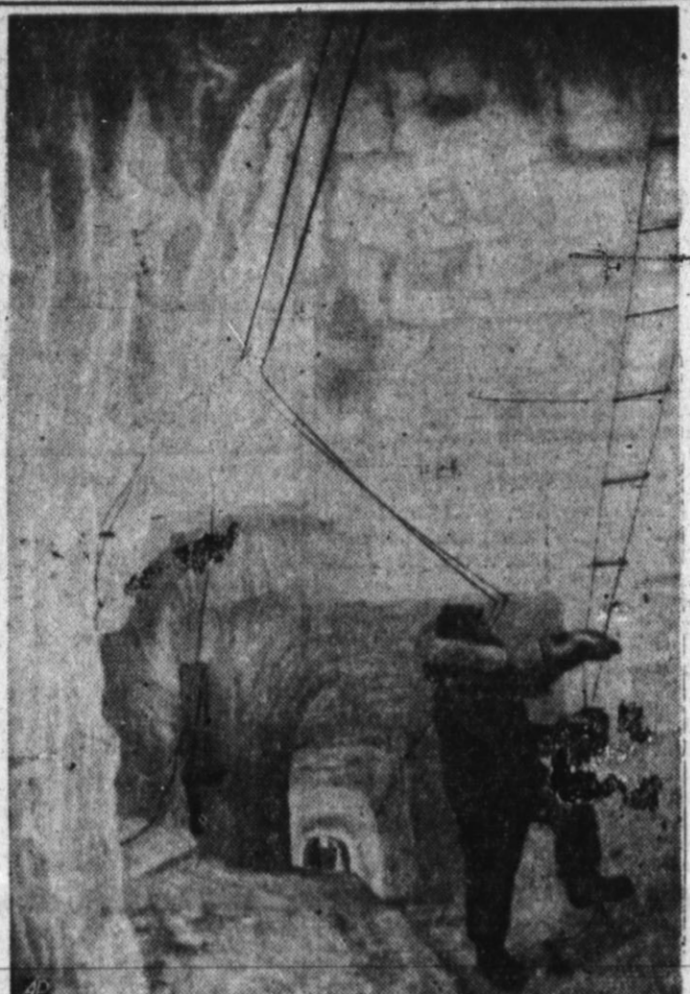

Initial reports of depth soundings and other observations, assembled here for the first time, suggest that the continent is less formidable in elevation and perhaps in area than formerly believed.

Antarctica long has been regarded as the highest of all continents — two miles above sea level in much of its heartland and about twice the size of the continental

United States. The new findings indicate Antarctica is the highest continent only because of its enormous ice cover, which may be 6,000 to 12,000 feet thick.

Stripped of its permanently frozen white top, it might well be a land of moderate heights and depths. It does, however, have at least one mountain peak rated at 20,000 feet above sea level.

Soundings taken at the South Pole and data obtained by fillers in that area are beginning to produce indications that there is no high polar plateau other than the thick ice which keeps its surface at nearly 10,000 feet above sea level, says Dr. Harry Wexler, chief U. S. scientist for Antarctica.

ANARCTIC ICE MINE—E. W. Remington of Bethesda, Md., grabs a rope ladder leading from man-made cavern at the South Pole. IGY soundings show the ice here is more than 1 1/2 miles thick.

The evidence to date, although meager, suggests that the polar region may be a great basin dotted with hills and mountains. There are signs also, the scientists say, that there is an iceburied mountain range partly encircling the pole area.

One of the most significant findings was made by Rev. Daniel Linehan, Boston College seismologist, at the pole itself. His seismological soundings indicated the U. S. pole station, calculated to be 9,200 feet or more above sea level, is resting on ice 8,300 feet thick and that bedrock there is only 900 feet above the sea.

Tests previously made at Byrd station, in the little known area 650 miles southeast of Little America, yielded an ice thickness figure of 10,000 feet. Since that U. S. station is 5,000 feet above sea level, solid land is 5,000 feet below the sea there. Russian, French and Norwegian soundings at various points inland from the coasts and reported to IGY headquarters here, tell a similar story. From these preliminary reports the little known interior of Antarctica begins to shape up as a land of hills, mountains, valleys and basins hidden under ice ranging from a few hundred feet to two miles or more in thickness. Dr. Wexler says the findings suggest the true shape of the continent may be longer and narrower than the present maps indicate.

Officers Elected By Community

By MRS. DICK ROCKEY

The regular Black Community meeting was held Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Blackstone, Mr. and Mrs. John Benger and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bell as hosts.

New officers for the new year were elected. They were, Ellis Tatum, president; John Henderson, vice president, and Helen Fangman, secretary-treasurer.

The Boy Scouts were in charge of the program. Highlight of the evening was presentation of awards. Coy Patton showed Boy Scout pictures.

Present were Messers and Messdames Ralph Price, Bruce Parr, John Henderson, Pete Braxton, Dick Rockey, Nelson Coon, Clyde Hays, Coy Patton, Claude Edelman, Fern Barnett, Jimmy Buckley, Ellis Tatum, Roscoe Ivie, Travis Stone, Dwey Duncan, J. R. Nazworth, Larry Elmore, Harvey Blackstone, John Benger, Jerry Bell and Mrs. Helen Fangman. Next community meeting will be April 10.

The Black Grain Co. is adding storage space for 600,000 bushels to be completed by June 1, 1958, in time for wheat harvest. It now holds 1,035,000 bushels. An upright concrete steel structure of the same construction as present elevator legs and tripper belts will be added. The facility will be served by semi-bob-tail truck dumps.

TURN ABOUT

RICHMOND, Va. — The congregations of St. James Episcopal Church and Beth Ahabah Jewish Temple have been having parking problems. St. James holds services on Sunday, Beth Ahabah on Saturday. So they got together, purchased three homes which stood between them and a joint parking lot will soon be ready.

New Fleetside... built for bigger loads and easier loading!

You're looking at the business end of the biggest low-priced pickup built... Chevy's new Fleetside! It's designed to help you handle more cargo with less work... greater efficiency.

Here's Chevy's handsome new Fleetside! Its spacious body is a full 6 feet wide—and available in lengths of 78" and 98". The Fleetside offers the greatest load space of any comparable low-priced pickup.

Body sides are double-walled where it counts, for extra durability. Hardwood floors and steel skid strips mean easy loading as well as long life. And the graintight tailgate becomes a sturdy platform for extended loads.

It's powered by the improved money-saving Thriftmaster 6. If you need more power, a 160-h.p. short-stroke V8 is available as an extra-cost option.

In addition to the new Fleetside, your Chevrolet dealer offers hard-working Stepside models, including America's lowest priced popular pickup.
