All-Time Cotton Record Set In Area

FIRST NEW ARRIVAL — Wade Prater newly born son of Mr. and Mrs. Gertrude Prater, Muleshoe, greeting the new year. Brent isn't look either happy or impressed with being the first baby born in Bailey County in 1964. Mether, Ann, looks happy though.

Bales Ginned Pass 119,849 In County

Bailey County has today, with all probability, set a new all time cotton production record. Figures released by County Agent J. K. Adams total Bailey County cotton bales ginned at 119,849.

That figure tops last year's record cotton crop by more than 6,000 bales ginned, and the gins are still going full blast days.

In 1962 the county produced 113,229, according to the county agent's statistics. The county has shown an increase of bales ginned every year since 1952 with the exception of 1957 which was a very bad year. Production then was 72,541. It was down about a thousand from the previous year's record of 73,148.

The bale count from 1952 on was:

53	74,245
54	51,912
55	58,782
56	73,148
57	72,541
58	90,947
59	97,234
60	89,920
61	102,693
62	113,229
63	119,849

The county agent arrived at this year's cotton bale figure by first taking the survey figures of the Bailey County Electric Co-Op which included 16 county gins. That survey, made on Dec. 26th showed a total of 83,899 bales.

If these sixteen gins averaged 100 bales a day since that time until this Friday, the total bales ginned to date would be 96,699.

A survey of Muleshoe gins made Friday, which was not a part of the Electric Co-Op's survey revealed another 23,150 bales to be added to the total; making the total of cotton ginned by all Bailey County gins 119,849.

If the 100 bale daily estimate from Dec. 26th to Jan. 3rd is a bit high, it is almost certain that enough cotton will be ginned after Jan. 3rd to more than make up the difference.

The only conclusion that can be reached when weighing these figures is that never before in the history of the county has acreage produced cotton in the quantity produced during 1963.

Adams believes the record crop is due to two primary factors. The first is that a bad Spring was overcome by one of the best growing seasons and perfect cotton falls in history. The second is that the dryland areas were not affected by seedling disease.

Library Groups Will Hold Public Meeting

Conclave Will Clear The Air Of Questions and Rumors

A public meeting — open to all persons — on whether or not Bailey County and Muleshoe want a public library has been scheduled by the friends of the Library Committee.

It will be held next Tuesday in the Richland Hills Cafeteria at 7 p.m., according to the report.

The meeting will be attended by representatives and groups from other counties now considering joining Bailey County in a multi-county library system. City and county officials have been specifically invited, and their views are expected to be asked publicly.

Two to three hundred persons are expected to attend the meeting which will feature a talk and question and answer period by Charles Gholz, an executive of the Texas State Library who only a short time ago offered Muleshoe an $80,000 library package if it could meet certain requirements.

Gholz will actually spend three consecutive days in Muleshoe. He will arrive Monday to meet with various Friends of the Library committees and speak at the Jaycees regular weekly meeting.

The following day he will speak at the Muleshoe Rotary Club's regular luncheon meeting, and that night be hosted at a small private dinner by core members of the Friends of the Library.

Wednesday he is scheduled to speak before the Lions Club at its regular weekly meeting. The remainder of the day will be taken up by an informal survey of the area and other meetings.

The Friends of the Library Association, which has grown in only a few weeks from a handful to over 225 county and city resident members, has invited all persons interested in the proposed library — pro or con — to attend the meeting, ask questions and make their views known.

Members of library groups, service organizations, and public officials from Farmer, Castro and one or two other counties are expected to attend the conclave.

It is possible that the library movement in Bailey County will either firm up and get off to a running start or quietly fade away as a result of the coming public meeting. There are several reasons for this.

The first is that Gholz, in an earlier visit, made it quite clear that the state was not interested in investing in counties where there was little library interest or where state assistance was not (See LIBRARY, Page 4)

Robbery Solved Quickly

In a fine example of rapid police work the Bailey County Sheriff's Department this week solved a local robbery, obtained a confession from the culprit and had him in jail in a matter of hours after the commission of the crime.

According to the statement of William Lewis Jr., it was he who robbed the Texico Warehouse during the late afternoon of Dec. 31st. He entered the building through the front door went upstairs and hid in an unused section of the building until employees left at noon, he stated.

When the offices were deserted he descended the stairs and removed over $100 from the office desks, according to the statement. He then removed the bolt from the inside of a door and walked out.

A few hours later the sheriff's office was notified of the robbery, and immediately began checking the area for suspects. Lewis was arrested by Deputy John Moore at the bus station waiting for a Clovis bus.

According to the sheriff's department all but five or six dollars was recovered and returned to the owners.

Lewis, who has a previous record, is in county jail pending trial. His bond was set at $5,000.

Choice Industrial Site Auctioned Off For $2,700

A possibly choice Muleshoe area industrial site was auctioned off here this week.

The 17.4 acres located two and one-half miles from downtown Muleshoe was purchased by L. B. Peugh, a local farmer specializing in the growing of watermelons, for a total of $2,700.

The property has railroad frontage, highway frontage, electricity, natural gas, and is located in a choice water area. It was sold by the Earth Land Company.

Farm Bureau

The Bailey Farm Bureau will host the new year with a Board of Directors meeting to be held Thurs. Jan. 9, 7:30 p.m. at Maple. Freddie Parkman will host the group.

Births Here Outnumber Deaths 4 to 1

Births of children in Bailey County ran almost four to one over deaths during 1963, according to records available at the Justice of the Peace office.

During the year a total of 1,000 children were born in both hospitals and in private homes in the county. During the same period 71 death certificates were issued.

The number of births may be inaccurate as there is sometimes a delay of several days before births in the county are reported to the Justice of the Peace office.

County Commission Studying Due Bills

During a rather heated meeting this week the county commissioners discussed the Farm Contract Labor situation in Bailey County.

It was pointed out that when the question "When will the strongly worded statements be mailed," was asked at a previous meeting, the county commission may have said the first part of the month, but not understood that the question was in reference to the strongly worded one under discussion rather than the regular monthly statements.

The commissioners also stated that although the strong requests for payment of long past due bills were not mailed this month, they would be mailed in the future. No date of mailing was given. The discussion then turned to the exact total amount of the past due bills. The commissioners stated that it was not $12,000. When asked the correct amount no answer was given.

The $12,000 figure is within a few hundred dollars of the total amount owed the county for work on private farms as of Dec. 5th. The information was made public.

Funeral Rites Are Held For Lee L. Lowery

Funeral services were held for Lee L. Lowery in the Muleshoe First Baptist Church Sunday.

Lowery, a Muleshoe and Bailey County resident since 1915, was born in Marshall, Missouri, Dec. 1, 1887. He died here Dec. 27th. He was 84 years of age.

Rev. Don Murray, Muleshoe First Baptist Church, and Rev. Roy Walker, Trinity Baptist Church, jointly officiated at the services.

Burial was in Muleshoe Cemetery and was under the direction of Singleton Funeral Home. The deceased was survived by his children, Mrs. Omer Keltton, Muleshoe; Mrs. Jerry Carter, Muleshoe; Elmer Lowery, Seminole; and Melvin Lowery, Borger, Texas; 13 grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

New Officer Serving On Police Dept.

A new city policeman went on duty in Muleshoe this week, according to Chief of Police Carl Neely.

He is Bobby Don Henderson, a long time Bailey County resident. The new officer comes to Muleshoe from the San Antonio police force which he served with for almost four years. He is a graduate of the San Antonio Police Academy.

A family man, Henderson, is married and the father of three children. He will take the place of Officer Pete Hatfield who resigned this week to take a job with a Littlefield trucking concern.

Chief Neely stated he was sorry to see Hatfield go because he had served the city long and honorably and was a "good officer."

"However, he continued, "Henderson is a qualified and experienced police officer and will, I'm sure, make an excellent addition to the police department."

Fire Dept. Costs Run Less Than $1 Per Hour

Muleshoe's Volunteer Fire Department saved taxpayers between $60-70,000 in 1963. That's what the cost of a paid fire department large enough to serve the Muleshoe area would cost, according to Earl Ladd, fire chief.

During 1963 the department attended a total of 146 fire calls in the city and county as well as assisting in controlling major blazes in other counties.

It's budget for the past year amounted to about $5,000, most of which is paid by the city. Some is paid by the county. The money went for maintenance of the equipment, vehicles and department housing facilities. No fireman was paid anything for his services.

Figures show that the 31 man department spent more than 6,000 actual man hours last year in training, maintenance and fire fighting. Comparing that figure against the annual $5,000 budget shows that the department is costing the city less than $1 per department hour.

A comparison with the Littlefield Fire Department which answers approximately the same number of calls during the year shows that city's fire department costing $16 to 18,000 a year or more than three times the Muleshoe department's cost.

Presently there are 31 volunteer firemen on the roster of whom Chief Ladd says, "They're without a doubt the finest group of volunteer firemen on the High Plains."

During 1964 the group hopes to add a rural type firefighting rig to its list of equipment. The organization will build it themselves, according to the chief. It is expected to cost the city about $1500. If purchased already built this type equipment could cost as much as $8,000.

Class Play

Muleshoe High School's Junior Class will present its annual play Monday and Tuesday at the high school at 7:30 p.m. both nights.

The play, "The Wizard of Oz", is the first school production produced at the high school. Admission will be $1 for adults and seventy-five cents for students.

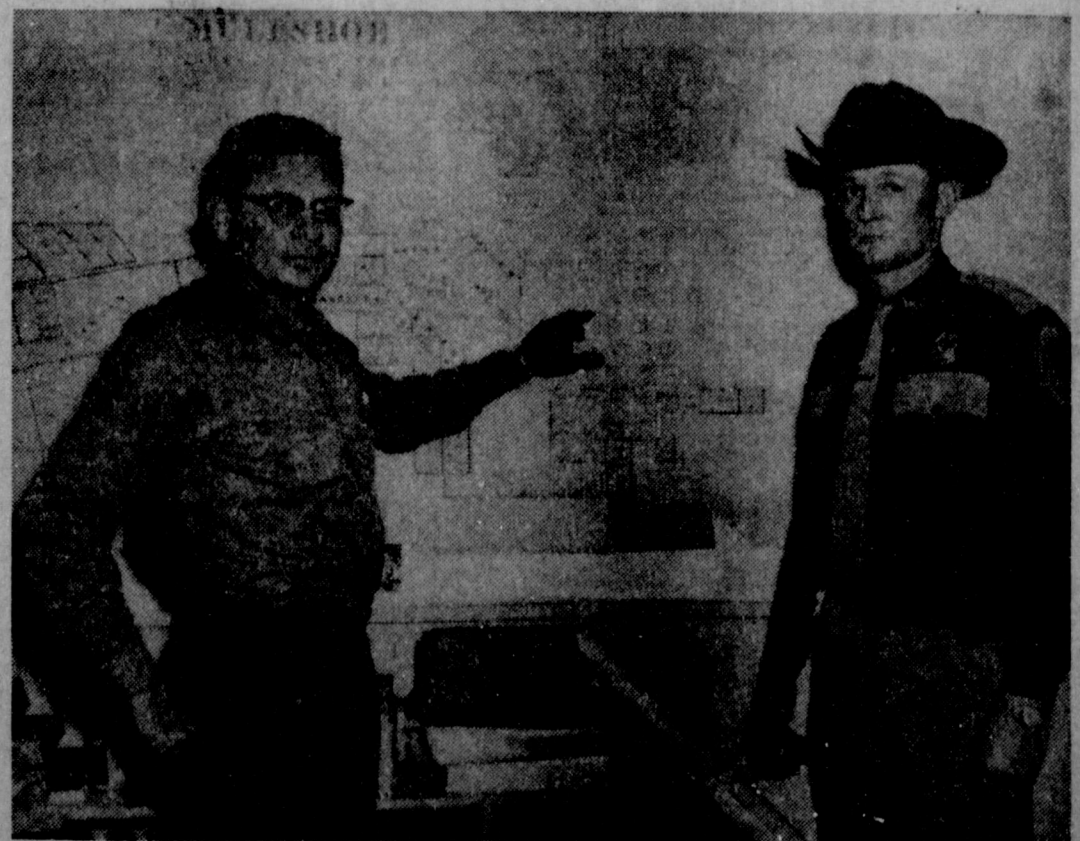

Don Kemp To Run For Tax Office

Don Kemp, well known Muleshoe insurance man and long time Bailey County resident, announced his candidacy for the office of County Tax Assessor this week.

Kemp, who for many years operated a successful T. V. Radio repair business in Muleshoe, has lived here for over 29 years. He is a graduate of Draught Business College, Lubbock and married and the father of four children.

A veteran, Kemp served in the 4th Airborne Division during World War II. Currently he is president of the Bailey County Assn. (See KEMP, Page 4)

Club Women Close 1962

Half Century Club Members

Needmore Women Host Events

Farm Bureau Women's Committee Officers

Muleshoe area women's Clubs and organizations have been very active during 1962, and have completed many projects for the betterment of the city and county.

Girl Scouts have improved the Girl Scout Little House with the redecoration of the interior, new floor coverings and the completion of an outdoor fireplace to be used in outdoor cooking projects.

Muleshoe Country Club Ladies Association was responsible for an addition to the Country Club building, and redecoration of the original rooms. Mrs. Carl Bamer states that they are pleased with the work accomplished in 1962 and are looking forward to a good year in 1963. She urges all women to attend meetings for bridge and golf each Wednesday and a luncheon on the third Wednesday of each month beginning in February.

Members of Muleshoe Study Club feel that their greatest accomplishment was the work done toward the betterment of the Bailey County Library, volunteered services to the Bailey County Historical Survey committee, then out of the combined efforts of many grew the organization of "Friends of the Library."

Richland Hills P-TA have launched two important projects which have been successful, the raising of funds for the Heath TB tests which were given to the children and money raised for sidewalks to be put down from the back of the school building to the bus loading area at the edge of the grounds.

Needmore Women's Club has improved the Needmore Community building through its fund raising projects. New cabinets have been installed, new chairs purchased, new floors and floor covering installed and new plumbing put in.

They have also helped a needy family in the community through the Club.

Progressive Homes Club has concentrated on helping Carolyn Erhart, Girls town, U. S. A. and to add something cheerful for the aged in Muleshoe Nursing Home by visiting, sending cookies and cards to them.

Bailey County Historical Survey Committee sponsored a Pioneer reception for the July 4 celebrations and has worked toward the compiling of the history of Bailey County, placing medallions, and seeking out historical landmarks.

Farm Bureau Womens Committee set legislative issues as their goal for 1963 and much work and study went into the project. They again helped with the Farm Bureau Queen's contest which was won by Davy Joan Anderson. The group's basic aim is to build a greater and better organization.

Home Demonstration Club held a tailoring workshop which was its greatest achievement for the benefit of those who make their own clothes. They followed the workshop with a style show held in American Legion Hall.

Half Century Club entertained members and guests at a Christmas party as a highlight of the year.

DeShazo P-TA sent delegates to the State Convention in San Antonio and helped to pay the substitute for Mrs. Robert Sanders' class while she was at the convention.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha sponsored a very successful fund raising project for the library which it feels was its greatest accomplishment.

Time during 1963 has been spent by members of Muleshoe Hobby Club in learning more handcraft and making different things for the home. More women participated in making Pixie dolls and clowns than any other one item.

Lubbock Christian College Associates worked with the College Gift Fair, contributing gifts and assisting with the Fair which netted somewhere in the vicinity of $4,000 to be used for college campus improvements.

American Association of University Women feel that the paying its part of the money for Washington, D. C., was its greatest achievement, especially since it is the smallest chapter to be 100 per cent.

Muleshoe Art Association reorganized during 1962 and held regular, well planned programs. The membership has rapidly increased to a total of 35.

Pictures show some of the organizations as they were taken at special events during 1962.

IT'S FOR THE BIRDS

By MELVIN R. EVANS, REFUGEE MANAGER, MULESHOE NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE

How many of the children who received guns or air rifles for Christmas have received or will receive training in the proper use of this weapon? How many will understand the value of the property they can destroy by misfiring or firing an air rifle only one time? I doubt that many of these youngsters have received this training, nor will adults be able to set down with them and give them adequate training. Since the 25th of December I have seen several children who have been taken out along country roads and state highways to shoot their new guns. The slow which covers shooting from public roadways states "Any person who shoots or discharges any gun, pistol, or firearm in, on, along, or across any public road in this state shall be fined not more than One Hundred Dollars."

Texas Deer And Jack Rabbits Losing Out

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) - Deer and jackrabbits are losing out to the space age as the new $250 million Manned Spacecraft Center rises over a 1,700-acre tract on the coastal plain outside Houston.

The center's intricate electronic equipment will control America's big jump into space - the Gemini and Apollo manned moonshot efforts. Launching of the capsules will continue at Cape Canaveral, Fla., but the countdown and flight decisions will be made in Texas, more than 1,500 miles away. All the astronauts will train for their moon missions at the Houston center. Many already have purchased homes.

The three-story structure will contain twin control rooms - one on the second floor and a duplicate directly above on the third floor. These rooms will contain equipment for controlling the moon shots, and will be linked to a worldwide network of tracking stations. From them will come the reports on how the moonshot capsules are faring in space.

Blessed by good weather and general labor harmony, contractors have the 20-odd buildings under current contract about 75 per cent completed. From 2,000 to 2,400 construction workers have been assigned to the high priority project since ground was broken 18 months ago.

Set off Land Boom From the air, the center resembles a modern college campus. A modernistic nine-story administrative building faces a six-lane highway that links the project with the Houston-Galveston Freeway, five miles to the south.

Around the administrative building are a variety of structures for laboratories for life systems, spacecraft research, systems evesces, etc. The center is located about 25 miles east of downtown Houston set off a land and development boom for a Galveston Bay area that Hurricane Carla lashed severely only two years ago.

When the National Aeronautics and Space Administration selected the site Sept. 19, 1961, only a few thousand people were living in the general area. Forecasts now are that well over 200,000 people will be living around the center within a few years.

On Old West Ranch The NASA project is going up on part of an old ranch dotted with oil wells. The land, owned by the Humble Oil and Refining Co., was made available to NASA through Rice University.

Private interests in the surrounding area are constructing office buildings, motels, hotels, banks, apartments and hundreds of homes.

A modern, self-contained community - Clear Lake City - is being carved out of ranch segments flanking the space center. Long-range plans call for residential and industrial development of 15,000 acres of the ranch.

Six of the seven original Mercury astronauts have moved into the area. All but Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. have built $30,000 to $50,000 homes within five miles of the center.

People, Spots In The News

'PASSING GRADES' of George Bork of Northern Illinois U. are all tops; career record of 60 TD passes, 82 this season. He holds all NCAA pass records!

'PLUMBING SHOPPER' Dianne Musselman can carry whole bathroom section assembled by Tube Turns Plastics, Inc. because it's of thermoplastic, weighs only 26 pounds. Same thing in metal would weigh 250!

'INSPIRATION' beyond call of duty is supplied as gal cheerleader encourages Oklahoma U.'s Larry Shields on 65-yard punt-return touchdown.

Varsity Squads Loose Two Games

On Monday evening Dec. 30, the Three Way School varsity squads lost two action-filled games to Morton. In the girls' game, the first half saw tight playing, with Three Way Eagles barely trailing 24-23 at the median point. But the Maidens forged ahead in the third quarter 31-40, and kept that lead to win the game 39-38.

The Three Way Eagles showed good teamwork in a fast game, with the score at half-time only 22-27 in favor of Morton. End of third quarter continued close scoring of 31-35, but the Indians kept ahead and won the game 50-42. Morton is an "A" school, while Three Way rates "B".

FRANKLY SPEAKING

By J. Frank Peery

A COMMUNITY BOOKSHELF "Of all things which men make," Thomas Carlyle said, "by far the most momentous, wonderful, and worthy are the things called books." Our day demands more and more of the momentous and wonderful creations called books. If Muleshoe is to keep pace with the modern day its culture and its demands, a modern library is a must.

There are personal and private libraries, church libraries, and school libraries; but all such libraries cannot and will not meet the need of a public library. Personal and private libraries are not for the use of the public. Church libraries, on the average, only have volumes which deal in the field of religion and Christian education. School libraries are for student use and are closed on weekends, in summer, and during vacation time.

What on earth is happening to people when they cannot see the value of a public library? The use of books and current library publications, taken as a whole, should be a most thrilling and rewarding experience to anyone who really is seeking knowledge and growth in our day and age. There is no growth within or without when one lets somebody else do his reading and thinking. I have discovered in reading

Salk vaccine injections. Now an oral vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin of Cincinnati is also available. It is made of weakened live viruses and can be administered as a liquid, mixed such as simple syrup or lump sugar.

The advent of poliomyelitis vaccines brought polio incidence down to eight cases and deaths to zero.

This is the story about the zero that made big news. And zero will continue to be headlined so long as each person takes advantage of the protection available.

Then, in 1955, the public was able to receive protection with wanted.

The second reason is that in order to receive the $80,000 state library package the county must join with one or more other counties in a library alliance. It is at this meeting that cooperation with one or more other counties must be won.

The third reason is that some public officials, although not against the library, believe that county residents want other things first or that they will be unwilling to support the cost of a library. If the meeting should fizzle out, these beliefs would be strengthened.

Legal trouble is easier and cheaper to prevent than to cure. Most wage earning, childbearing, home-buying, installment-paying families don't see much need for a family lawyer.

But can you tell a big legal risk from a small one? Can you spot the signs of legal trouble? Check with your family lawyer when:

1. Your status changes: upon coming of age, marriage, the birth of your children, buying a house, divorce or death. For you may then need to draft or revise your will, change your insurance, or re-figure your taxes.

2. You buy or sell. Look out for flaws in the papers before you go into debt, part with money, or sign anything involving big expenditures or long-term obligations.

3. You enter into other contracts. Promises, spoken or written, bind you if they call for a "consideration," something of value in return.

4. Someone threatens your rights. The law exists to defend them but with some rights you must take action yourself for them to work for you.

When you can bring your lawyer "live" facts (e. g. unsigned contracts, vesting tax returns you haven't filed), he can do much more for you, and at a smaller cost than when you bring him "cold" facts (mistakes you have made which threaten trouble).

But above all, get both live and cold facts to him at once. For time may run out in many such situations. Your lawyer may be able to do something for you today, which he cannot do tomorrow.

Tell your lawyer what you want. Tell him all the facts, good or bad, and then keep him informed all along. He is sworn to keep what you tell in confidence, and he cannot serve you well without full knowledge.

This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law).

Six Cotton Projects Renewed By Group

Lubbock, Tex. — (Special) — Advances in research to lower cotton production costs and improve raw fiber quality were revealed today by the Cotton Producers Institute.

Progress of the farmer-financed research was contained in an announcement of the renewal of six projects initiated by the Institute.

Two of the projects deal with insects which, on a Beltwide basis, now cost growers the equivalent of seven cents per pound of lint cotton.

Scientists at the University of California, Riverside, are seeking more effective systemic insecticides under a $50,000 Institute grant. To date they have found at least four different groups of compounds that show outstanding systemic activity and effectiveness against all test insect for 10 to 16 week.

A related project at Stanford Research Institute is aimed at getting facts to improve penetration and absorption of systemic insecticides and other agricultural chemicals by cotton leaves. The renewal grant totals $35,000.

Under another $35,000 grant S-R-I scientists are working on the final designs for a laboratory model of an instrument to measure fiber strength accurately, rapidly, and automatically. This is a vital step in determining spinning and performance value of cotton and in improving its competitive position.

Institute support of a project on the biochemistry of the cotton plant at Texas A&M University has been increased from $35,000 to $100,000. A research team now is amassing information that will give a detailed picture of how the plant grows and produces seed and fiber. As facts accumulate, they will enable scientists to break some big bottlenecks in cost reduction and quality improvement.

Johnson's Task

President Lyndon B. Johnson faces a major task in both the political and legislative fields, but he is considered a master in both arts and will have a year to do his best before he must run for reelection in November of 1964.

The great immediate test facing the new President will be whether he can effect passage of a civil rights bill in Congress—his third. Odds seem to be he can, because this will be looked upon as a critical test of the Johnson's program and philosophy.

In this Johnson will have the opportunity to use all his influence with Dixie conservatives in the Senate.

As for the Cabinet, Johnson is expected to move carefully, for he has only a year and will need to take advantage of an organization already functioning rather than start in on a grand reshuffling at this stage.

In the field of foreign affairs the new President is fortunate to have visited so many parts of the world before accepting his new burden.

The country, then, is likely to see a master politician at work in the next year. His public speaking ability is not up to that of the late President's. He has a questionable heart. Geography is against him. These are his handicaps and against them he pits tremendous political skill.

The Market

If any further proof were needed that stock market gyrations have no valid logic or intelligence behind them, the demonstration on New York exchanges in recent days have provided it.

When President Kennedy was slain, the market went into a wild tumble downward. There was no reason for it; there is always a vice president and Lyndon Johnson was pledged to the Democratic platform, and the Kennedy policies.

Then, after Johnson assumed the Presidency, the stock market went into a wild climb upward, surpassing its highs under the Kennedy regime. There was no reason for that either, for this came only days after Johnson had been sworn in and no results of his administration, or even his business policies, were fully stated at the time.

The fluctuations and wild ups and downs are disquieting. They indicate the market is both nervous and influenced to an excessive degree by speculation and rumor. This is not desirable.

Johnson's Economy

President Lyndon Johnson's drive to save money in the biggest-spending agency of the government, the Defense Department, is a welcome move. The American people — the vast majority, that is — approve the President's action and approve it with enthusiasm.

We are living in an age when the federal budget is a hundred billion dollar thing. The Defense Department gets about half that. Untold billions have been wasted in defense operations for years, in unnecessary duplication, uncoordinated purchasing and the traditional reluctance of the ser-VICES to give up bases and installations that have become no longer vital or necessary.

Johnson has vast experience in defense and space work, and in congressional scrutiny of these activities. And he knows Congress is in the mood for economy.

The economy effort is necessary if Congress is to vote tax reduction. Johnson is gambling that the squawks resulting from a trimming of fat will not outweigh the good to the nation, and the realization of the vast majority of Americans that he is performing a service to his countrymen.

News Report From Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The political picture changes almost weekly but it is clear Richard Nixon remains the candidate in the wings, ready to be called if there is a deadlock of any kind.

The outlook now is that Nixon's supporters (they are not so well organized this time) must wait in the wings for the primary battles. As the new year moves in, the primary battles are taking on a greater sense of immediacy.

The New Hampshire contest is now only little more than ten weeks distant. Senator Barry Goldwater, it is assumed, will fight it out there with Governor Nelson Rockefeller. If Rockefeller loses, he may have to face the music — that his voter appeal is limited.

Then could come Wisconsin and if Goldwater loses there, he might have his troubles. Of course, if Rockefeller outdrags Goldwater in New Hampshire the Senator may be in trouble.

Nixon is thus committed to a game of waiting, and this was something of the game Adlai Stevenson was good at playing. If the primary contenders do not kill themselves off, Nixon's chances might grow dim.

taxes and a civil rights bill and is determined to get both early in 1964. He feels confident he can win with these two bills and a decent start in other directions, under leadership that stresses good will, moderation and continued emphasis on the Kennedy program.

LATIN AID PROGRAM
Appointment of Thomas C. Mann as assistant Secretary of State for Inter-American Affairs may augur a reorganization of the Alliance for Progress.

In announcing the State Department shift — the first high-level realignment made by Johnson — officials said Mann will be in charge of all political, economic and military aspects of United States policy on Latin America.

NO SHIFTS IN 1964
Senator Humphrey confidently predicts that top Democratic Senate leaders will retain their posts in the new session of Congress.

Humphrey, the assistant Democratic leader, added the President Johnson had talked this over with the present Senate leaders and expects to work closely with them on his new proposals.

COURT RULING DELAYED
The United States Supreme Court has postponed for 60 days its decision on the constitutional questions involved in the arrest of civil rights sit-in demonstrators.

At present there are 5 cases before the court from Maryland, South Carolina and Florida. Thousands of other cases will be affected by whatever ruling the tribunal hands down.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Pres. Lyndon Johnson's holidays would exhaust most ordinary mortals. The President arrived in Austin on Christmas Eve, his homecoming delayed by a congressional crisis over the $3,000,000 foreign aid bill. Abandoning his announced schedule, he went to the Governor's Mansion for a 30-minute visit with Gov. John Connally.

Stopping his party's helicopter at the ranch of another close friend, A. W. Moursund, the President joined Moursund in an hour of deer hunting, before he finally got home to hang up his Christmas stockings. There he spent a happy time with his family and relatives and numerous close friends.

Christmas Day at the LBJ Ranch also found the President confronted with problems. He expressed concern over the fighting in Cyprus, penned messages to Greek and Turkish Cypriot leaders and General Cornel Gusep, President of the Republic of Turkey.

Then he took newsman on a tour of his ranch, handed them ashtrays as presents, and explained a cut he had just ordered in federal employment. All this he did before settling down to his Christmas dinner and the opening of the presents under the tree.

Before dawn the next day, he and former Gov. Buford Ellington of Tennessee left "The Little White House" on a deer hunt. Both bagged bucks.

The President was back at the ranch house, working in his office, before noon and conferred with Secretary of State Dean Rusk by telephone, repeatedly, on the Cyprus crisis.

Later, he named a nine-member committee of experts to evaluate foreign economic and military aid programs and recommended how to strengthen them.

In doing his homework for the important Erhard visit, Johnson conferred in person with those distinguished government officials at the ranch: Secretary Rusk, Under Secretary of State George W. Ball, Special Ambassador Christian Herter, Agriculture Secretary Douglas Freeman and McGeorge Bundy, special assistant for national security affairs.

Theodore Sorosen, special White House counsel, was summoned to assist in preparation of the new President's first state of the union message. It will be delivered before the Congress on January 8.

Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, and John A. McCone, Central Intelligence Agency director, were among others called to confer with the President, in addition to regular staff members.

Press members from Washington and foreign countries, as well as the native Texans of the State capital beat, were invited back to talk and eat with the President on Friday.

In addition to official talks, there was a program of fun for Chancellor Erhard, a portly expatriate. He toured Fredericksburg, home of many German-speaking Texans, and attended Church there Sunday. More than 200 turned out for a barbecue luncheon honoring the Chancellor at the Stonewall High School gymnasium three miles from the ranch.

When Erhard departed, Johnson turned immediately back to the national budget and went into a huddle Monday with Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and the joint chiefs of staff.

So it went as the President wound up his "holiday" and prepared to return to the regular schedule in Washington.

the trip to the ranch over U. S. 290 and the newly designated Ranch Road No. 1.

Some of the press-center set-up will remain intact in the Driskill Hotel for presidential visits in the future. This may be for the next year, or the next five years, or perhaps, the next nine years, according to voters' reactions to the news that this army of reporters turn out.

ANIMAL HEALTH APPOINTMENTS — During his convalescent period in the Mansion, Governor Connally picked two new members for the Texas Animal Health Commission to succeed Dr. Robert Hartman of Victoria and George Apple of McKinney.

New commissioners are Dr. J. Ray Martin of Coleman and C. E. (Ed) Knolle of Sandia. Dr. Martin, a graduate of the Veterinarian School at Texas A&M, has practiced veterinary medicine in Coleman since 1946.

Knolle is co-owner and manager of Knolle Jersey Farms in Jim Wells and Nueces counties. A University of Texas ex-student, he is past president of the Texas Jersey Cattle Club.

SCHOOL DROP-OUTS — During the holidays Governor Connally has been Texas' second biggest newspaper (second only to President Johnson). He stirred a lot of interest when he turned attention to what is considered by many to be the state's first problem: school drop-outs.

Connally asked the Texas Education Agency to develop a plan for pilot programs to help local school districts find solutions to the drop-out situation. He described it as "one of our most severe educational and economic problems."

LOAN OFFICES LICENSED — Regulatory Loan Commissioner Frank Miskell issued a total of 1,630 licenses to be displayed by consumer credit companies which make loans up to $1,500. Licensing was the first major step under the Texas Regulatory Loan Act which went into full effect on December 21.

All of these licensees — ranging from a single lender in New Boston to a 69-office Family Finance chain — now will be under state supervision. A lot of "loan sharks" who could not, or would not, meet the new state requirements were flushed out by passage of the law.

SLANT-HOLE SUMS RECOVERED — Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr announced the recovery of $110,000 from two defendants accused of slant-hole oil well operations.

Of this, $10,000 was recovered from G. M. Jordan of Kilgore, following a judgment entered by 53rd District Judge Herman Jones, and $100,000 from J. G. Walker of Tyler, charged with operating wells illegally.

Carr said the money will be placed in the State Treasury.

OPINIONS — The attorney general ruled that an agreement of

King Lots Feed High-Concentrate Food

High-concentrate rations for beef cattle are those rations which contain 80 to 90 per cent concentrates. Standard, normal, or conventional rations are those made up of 65 to 75 per cent concentrates. All-concentrate rations, which are not included in this discussion, are completely devoid of roughage except for the fiber that is furnished by grain.

Concentrates commonly used in Southwestern rations are grain, protein supplement, molasses, fat, minerals, vitamins, and other feed additives. Roughages fed are hay, silage or other forage crops, dehydrated alfalfa, and cottonseed hulls.

The economic value of this feeding system is dependent on the relative costs and feeding values of concentrates and roughages. It is best adapted to those areas where there is an abundance of feed grain and a shortage of low-cost roughage.

Feed conversion (pounds of feed required to produce a pound of gain) and subsequent costs per pound of gain are the two most important factors to consider in determining the amount of concentrates to feed at a given location.

Under most feeding conditions, average daily gains will be comparable for both standard and high-concentrate rations, but less feed will be required per pound of gain when the high-concentrate ration is fed. Normally, a pound of steer gain can be produced with 9.5 to 10.5 pounds of standard ration. Eight to 9 pounds of feed are required to produce a pound of gain when high-concentrate rations are fed to steers.

By applying the costs of local feed ingredients to feed conversion estimates, the feeder can determine which concentrate-roughage ratios will produce lowest-cost gains.

Cattle to be fed high-concentrate rations will require a 30-day preliminary feeding period. The first week on feed, they should receive a light mixture of will serve 2,400,000 pounds of chicken in months ahead. This is Texas' share of 50,000,000 pounds bought by the U. S. Department of Agriculture with school lunch funds.

O. J. McCullough, Houston tool manufacturer, has applied for a charter for the National Association for the Advancement of White People.

Former State Sen. Bob Baker of Houston, who ran unsuccessfully for governor in 1962, picked up official filing papers here and said he will be a candidate for statewide office again. Speculation is that he will run for lieutenant governor or land commissioner.

Water storage in Texas reservoirs increased 26,103-acre feet in November. This brings the total to 7,200,000-acre feet or 61 per cent of capacity.

The King Feed Lot, Muleshoe, also used high-concentrate rations in their feeding program. According to Mr. Harold King, area-grown grains and roughages are blended into rations according to their efficiency and economy. Corn silage purchased on a contract basis from local farmers, alfalfa hay, and cottonseed hulls obtained from area oil mills furnish their roughage requirements. Concentrates fed include milo, cottonseed meal, minerals, and vitamins. The majority of cattle at the King Feed Lot are contract-fed for one customer. Harold King plans to feed 5,000 to 6,000 head of their own cattle annually.

Cattle Feeders, Inc., Goliad, Texas, managed by Mr. Frank Jordan, specializes in custom-feeding cattle on high-concentrate rations. Mr. Jordan says that this system works well for them because high energy feeds are available while roughage is in short supply. Their program is to start cattle on a high-roughage ration, gradually replace part of the roughage with grain, so that by the end of 30 days the cattle are on a ration of 80 per cent concentrates and 20 per cent roughages. Calves and light cattle remain on this ration until the last 30 days of the feeding period. At this time their rations are increased to 85 to 90 per cent concentrate. Yearling cattle receive this higher concentrate ration their last three weeks on feed.

READY FOR CHALLENGE

President Johnson's political strategists are not counting Senator Goldwater or Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller out of the 1964 Republican Presidential nomination race. John M. Bailey, national chairman, advises the Democrats to lay low and let the Republicans fuss about politics. He is opposed to changing the timing or the place of the Democratic nominating convention, now set to open August 24 at Atlantic City.

AID BATTLE A SETBACK

Since becoming Chief Executive in Capitol Hill, President Johnson received his first setback when the House upheld an $800,000,000 cut in foreign aid appropriations and added an amendment prohibiting the Government from guaranteeing private financing of wheat sales to the Communist bloc.

Watts, Cindy and Kayle, Farwell. Also Mrs. Jennings' sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes and David of Lubbock.

We are sorry to report that little Kim McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McDonald was admitted to the Friona hospital Sunday with the measles.
