Should I do it?

This youngster looks a little apprehensive as she gets ready to go down a slide at Dameron Park in Hereford during a recent trip to the park. The park's traffic was slowed during the recent cold outbreak, but with temperatures expected to warm into the 70s later in the week, city parks should become busier as spring approaches.

Spelling Bee is scheduled

The annual Deaf Smith County Spelling Bee will be held Friday afternoon with the school finalists from grades six through eight, as well as the junior champion, vying for the championship and the right to represent the county in the Regional Bee at West Texas State University.

The county champ is determined Friday, beginning at 3 p.m., and both events will be held at the Deaf Smith County Library. Since sixth graders were moved to the senior division this year, only the junior champ will advance to the finals Friday. Last year, four juniors competed in the senior bee.

David Vermillion, last year's champion, will return as a sixth grader. He was the runnerup in the junior bee last year and surprised the finalists by winning the senior bee.

Bera Boyd will serve as pronouncer again this year, with Eloise McDougal and Lavon Nieman as judges. The Bee champion will represent Deaf Smith County in the Regional Bee April 15, sponsored by The Amarillo Globe-News and WTSU. The regional winner earns an all-expense paid trip for two to the national bee in Washington, D.C.

Fields resigns coaching post

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

A search is underway for a new head boys' basketball coach at Hereford High School after the Hereford school board accepted the resignation of Mike Fields during a special meeting Saturday at the Hereford school administration building.

Fields had served as the head boys basketball coach at HHS since the 1984-85 season. He had been an assistant coach and the head golf coach at HHS before being promoted to the head basketball post, replacing Bobby Decker.

Hereford athletic director Don Cumpton said he will begin taking applications immediately for the post.

"We are taking applications, and I'm going to the state basketball tournament this week to talk to some coaches down there," Cumpton said. "We'll open it up and talk to folks. It's open to anyone interested in the job."

Cumpton said he had "a couple of people in mind" that he will talk with this week at the state tournament. During Saturday's meeting, the board extended the contracts for all school principals through 1991, and extended the contracts of Silvera Reyna, director of bilingual education, Nena Veazey, director of special education, and Mal Manchee, director of federal programs, through the 1990-91 school year.

The board will consider other contracts when it holds its regular March meeting next week.

City to apply for water grant

By ANDREA HOOTEN
Staff Writer

The Hereford City Commission approved a 42 cent tax rate Monday night for its next fiscal year and gave the green light to pursue emergency grant money for drilling two water wells.

The property tax rate and budget essentially was accepted at the Feb. 27 city meeting, but the commissioners officially approved the budget last night, including salary increases for city employees and higher mosquito control fees.

All city employees will receive a 5 percent pay raise and all department heads' salaries will go up 7 percent, said City Manager Darwin McGill.

In addition, McGill's salary will climb from $58,000 to $61,500 and city attorney, Earnest Langley, will see an increase of $300 in his retainer fees, meaning he will receive $1,300 each month.

All water customers can expect to see an extra dollar tacked onto their June, July, August and September bills for mosquito control, too.

According to McGill, this could generate an extra $20,000 to help control mosquitoes this summer.

At the last meeting, McGill suggested that golf course fees for high school students increase from $2 to $3 and from $1 to $3 for senior citizens, but the proposal was not considered along with the budget.

"On the golf course fee increases," said McGill, "we would allow the public to voice their opinion on this at the next meeting (March 20) so we can hear the pros and cons of doing such a thing."

The city expects to spend $9,907 more than the 1988-1989 budget, even though the value of taxable property has slipped by $400,000 since the 1988 taxable property assessment.

The 1989-1990 budget will begin May 1.

The commission also agreed to seek a $400,000 emergency grant from the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission to fund the drilling of two wells, one to be northeast of Hereford and one close to the Camp Fire hut on 15th Street between avenues H and I.

"The well No. 18 south of town (Kingwood Street and U.S. Highway 60) has a briny taste to it, so we use it sparingly except in the summer, and we have to blend it with other water even then," McGill said.

If the city receives the grant, water from the two wells will feed the No. 18 well as well as the overworked Avenue C pump station, one block north of Park Avenue on Avenue C.

"The entire project (to drill two wells) will probably cost the $300,000 in addition to $200,000 extra for the water main we'd need to install."

The commission also voted to change a residential zone at 300 Brevard Street to a mobile home district.

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says anger, like a prairie fire, is easier to kindle than to extinguish.

When a man fouls up, it's not so important to tell him what he did wrong as it is to give him hope.

Parenthood is the art of bringing children up without putting them down.--The Lion

"There are a lot of fellows waiting to take the man's job who says 'it can't be done or 'they' can't be sold. That's a quote from a book published in 1923 under the title of Take It From Me. The book was written by Coleman Cox and some of the gems of wisdom were printed recently by Brad Tooley of The Canyon News. The funny thing is that some of those tidbits which were so relevant in the '20s continue to hit the mark in the '80s. Here are some samples:

- You can't buy confidence and respect with profanity and vulgarity.
- When the boss asks you what you think about a matter, tell him what you think and not what you think he thinks.
- It is not what you say but how you say it, who you say it to and when, that gets the order.
- The man who is looking for a job and wages is being given the preference over the fellows looking for a position and salary.
- Another good thing about telling the truth is you don't have to remember what you say.
- No employee has ever become so valuable to an organization but that there is a better man to take his place.
- Plan ahead. Know what you are going to do tomorrow and do it.

--Show a man you are interested in his business and he will become interested in yours.

--Spend five minutes every day thinking of some good you can do for someone--then do it.

--When you abuse the confidence your employer has in you, your credit and your friends, you are a bum.

--Don't worry when you stumble. Remember a worm is about the only thing that can't fall down.

--Work will win when wishing won't.

The 1923 book also had a few items that proved to be more amusing than prophetic with the passage of time:

--The young fellow who has a coffee and doughnut for breakfast downtown, an armchair lunch and eats a delicatessen dinner out of paper bags, nine times out of 10 has married some fool girl because she was a good dancer.

--Ten cents a day will keep a suit pressed.

--A woman with a sharp tongue will soon cut herself off the payroll.

--Brighten up when dark days come. If sales were good every day, business would become monotonous. The sun shines every day in Arizona, yet it has about the smallest population in the union.

--A lot of fellows lost their best alibi when whiskey went out. Their relatives used to say they would have done wonders if the booze habit hadn't got them--now they are sober, but that is about all.

--I never could feel I was in a place of business where men called stenographers by their first names.

Lawyers look to link North, funds

WASHINGTON (AP) - Prosecutors in the Iran-Contra trial of Oliver North are outlining his links with a conservative activist convicted of illegal fundraising for the Nicaraguan Contra rebels.

Carl "Spitz" Channell testified Monday about how he set up a foundation that was used to solicit tax-exempt contributions for the guerrillas fighting the leftist government of Nicaragua.

Channell was convicted in April 1987 of conspiring to defraud the Internal Revenue Service by illegally using the tax-exempt foundation to support Contra military activities. One of the 12 criminal charges against North, a White House aide at the time, is that he helped in the fund-raising effort.

Channell said that in 1985 he succeeded in getting two letters from Contra leader Adolfo Calero authorizing him to be a fund-raiser.

Channell's group, the National Endowment for the Preservation of Liberty, used White House briefings and private meetings with President Reagan to persuade private contributors to make donations. It raised more than $10 million.

Tower gets Demo backer, loses another

WASHINGTON (AP) - Republicans are heartened by Democrat Howell Heflin's decision to vote for John Tower as defense secretary and say they may yet ask the Senate to let the nominee defend his battered reputation from the floor of the chamber itself.

Heflin said the FBI had not built a persuasive case against Tower and said he is convinced the nominee would not break his pledge never to drink again if confirmed as the nation's defense chief. He said Tower is qualified for the job by reason of background and expertise in military affairs.

But the encouragement GOP leaders drew from Heflin's announcement on Tuesday was dampened when another Southern Democrat - Sen. David Pryor of Arkansas - said he would vote "no."

"I feel this man is going to create rather than solve problems," Pryor said.

Pryor cited the former Texas senator's lucrative consulting ties with leading defense contractors after leaving government service as a U.S. arms negotiator and as chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Heflin and Pryor announced their decisions shortly after President Bush called on Democrats to "put aside partisanship" and support the nominee, basing their decisions on their personal knowledge of Tower's 24-year Senate career rather than "rumor and innuendo."

Heflin is a former chief justice of the Alabama Supreme Court and chairman of the Senate Ethics Committee. Republicans said that if someone of Heflin's background is unconvinced by allegations against Tower in the massive FBI report, other Democrats might be persuaded to follow his lead.

The most recent Associated Press survey found 47 Democrats and one Republican - Sen. Larry Pressler, R-S.D. - either solidly opposed or leaning against confirmation. Forty Republicans and one Democrat were either leaning for or supporting confirmation.

"We have a better chance, but it's still an uphill fight," said Sen. William Cohen, R-Maine, after Heflin's announcement. "We're looking for more good men."

"The old judge has made his decision and others ought to listen to him," said Sen. Alan Simpson, R-Wyo., the Senate's deputy Republican leader.

"It helps enormously," said Sen. Steve Symms, R-Utah. "I think it gives senators who might be inclined to vote that way assurances they are in good company."

Republican leaders met with White House Chief of Staff John Sununu and said later that the possibility of asking the Senate to permit Tower to come to the Senate floor to answer questions remains an option.

Such a dramatic appearance - if approved - would be unique in the Senate's 200 years of experience in judging candidates for Cabinet positions.

It would give Tower the chance to rebut allegations that he has drinking problems, has indulged in indiscreet behavior toward women and has opened the appearance of possible conflict of interest in his relations with the defense industry.

Sen. James Exon, D-Nebr., said that possibility means "the old-boy network" is still very much alive in the Senate.

"If the old-boy network were not working, John Tower would have been dismissed as a nominee some time ago," Exon said. "No one else but a former senator would even be considered to come onto the floor ... to make his case."

"It's their only chance to pull their chestnuts out of the fire," Exon said.

In making his announcement, Heflin said the president and the American people would see to it Tower kept his word not to drink if confirmed as secretary of defense.

"John Tower - if confirmed - will live in a glass bowl," Heflin said. "No one will be more closely watched. ... His most persistent watchdog will be the American people."

"I'm willing to rely on his pledge and give him a chance to prove himself," Heflin said. "Giving one a chance to redeem himself or herself is one of the great redeeming factors of the American way of life."

In addition to Heflin, the Bush administration has courted Sen. Bennett Johnston, D-La., who has labeled the FBI report on Tower as "unreliable."

Johnston says he has not made a decision even though he believes "there needs to be more fairness put into this process."

Republicans said they are also looking at a short list of other possible Democratic converts, including Sens. Chris Dodd, D-Conn.; Charles Robb, D-Va.; Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas; and Claiborne Pell, D-R.I.

Clements considers juggling state funds to help with budget

AUSTIN (AP) - Gov. Bill Clements says he supports considering "bookkeeping measures" to increase revenue in the state budget, but stopped short of an all-out endorsement.

House budget writers Monday questioned a move to raise $1.2 billion through the bookkeeping measures and wanted assurance from Clements that he supported the plan.

Reggie Bashur, Clements' press secretary, said the governor has encouraged lawmakers to consider the fund transfers and payment delays.

"We think it's positive that they're considering it. As the process continues, we'll see what exactly what form they will take," Bashur said.

Several members of the House Appropriations Committee said they wanted assurances from Clements that he supported the proposal, before they voted on it.

"We're going to make tough votes and do things our constituents are probably not going to understand," said Rep. Ric Williamson, D-Weatherford.

The bill, by Rep. James Hury, D-Galveston, would allow the state comptroller to transfer reserves from more than 200 special funds on the last day of the next biennium, and return the funds within days.

This "paper transfer" would raise the estimate of available revenue - which lawmakers use as a budget ceiling - by $733 million.

"I think his (Clements') staff will verify he would be in favor of actively pursuing this as a way of dealing with the situation," said Jack Roberts, chief deputy comptroller.

Another major piece of the plan, would be to delay state payments to the retired teachers' pension fund. This would provide lawmakers with another $200 million.

Hury, chairman of the House tax writing committee, told members of the Appropriations panel the proposals were needed to maintain the current level of state services for the two-year budget period beginning Sept. 1.

"If all or part of this money does not get provided to that revenue, we are faced with the daily issues that you deal with, that is where it is going to be cut, or the daily issues that I deal with ... taxes," Hury said.

Hury and Roberts said delaying payments to the Teacher Retirement System trust fund would not affect pensions, but would cost the system about $1.3 million in interest. They said this amount would be replaced through a direct appropriation.

Rep. Betty Denton, D-Waco, said many retired teachers believe the state is "messing around" with their trust fund. "There is a definite fear," she said.

Later, Hury said delaying payments could be dropped from the bill since Clements last week signed a franchise tax bill that will provide the state with approximately $270 million.

Iran severs relations

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) - Iran today severed diplomatic relations with Britain and accused it of anti-Islamic "treachery" for refusing to denounce Salman Rushdie's novel "The Satanic Verses" and lift its diplomatic embargo.

Iran's parliament had given Britain one week to "clarify" its stance on the book, which many Moslems consider blasphemous.

Britain withdrew all its diplomats from Iran after Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, in a religious edict issued Feb. 14, called on Moslems to seek out and kill Rushdie for insulting Islam.

Iranian clerics subsequently offered a bounty of $5.2 million for the author, a British citizen born to a Moslem family in India. Rushdie, 41, went into hiding with his wife and is reportedly under police guard.

The agency quoted a Foreign Ministry statement as saying: "The world oppressors and the West which find genuine Islam against their objectives and plots, have risen against Islam and in this anti-Islamic campaign the role of the British government is salient."

DRAMATIC ENDINGS

NEW YORK (AP) - The New York Yankees have been involved in many dramatic World Series endings but none more surprising than the final games of the 1926 and 1927 classics.

In '26 the last out of the seven-game series against the Cardinals was an unsuccessful attempt to steal second base by Babe Ruth, the great slugger. Bob O'Farrell, the Cardinal catcher, guined the Babe down to insure a 3-2 victory and the series title, four games to three.

The '27 series was decided when John Miljus, the Pittsburgh pitcher, made a wild throw in the bottom of the ninth, permitting Earle Combs to trot in from third. It made for a 4-3 Yankee win and a sweep of the series.

Paul Revere, an early American hero, made bells in his foundry, starting at the age of 57. His bells still ring in churches all over New England, according to Terrymayer, jewelry bell designer.

Sixteen members of Bay View Study Club and three guests enjoyed a musical program presented by W. Michael Bonesio when they met March 2 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Holt.

All business was suspended except an announcement concerning the March 16 meeting and the announcement for the annual guest day meeting set April 6.

Helen Rose introduced Bonesio who graduated from Hereford High School where he was active in the band and the HHS chorus which was under the direction of Don Moore. He was also very active in his church choir.

Following graduation, Bonesio attended Austin College where he continued his interest in music, singing in the choir and a quartet. He attended the University of Texas at Austin for a year and then earned his doctor of jurisprudence degree from the University of Houston.

At the present time, Bonesio is a partner in the law firm of Akin, Gump, Hauer and Feld in Dallas. He and his wife, Michaela, have three children: Elizabeth, Jo Kristin and William Michael.

After the move to Dallas, Bonesio heard about a male choral group that was active there. He auditioned and became a member. The group, called the Vocal Majority, sings barbershop and popular songs in the barbershop style. They have performed in many cities across the United States, sung for the President of the United States, and joined the Mormon Tabernacle Choir in concert in the Tabernacle. They have participated with other members of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America (SPEBSQSA).

Bonesio shared the goal of the chorus, to develop a singing organization which would be a second to none in their music category, and he shared their music by playing records of performances, including a ballad they sang in international competition and a medley of Texas songs. At the close of the program, everyone watched a video of the performance of the chorus in San Antonio in July of 1988. They were singing in international competition and this performance earned their fifth place championship in these competitions.

Following the program, refreshments were served to members and their guests, Mrs. Donald D. Henslee, Mrs. Lester Mehlberg, a former member, and Charlie Holt.

Members present included Messrs. Kenneth Halbert, R.W. Eades, Howard Gault, J.A. Burran, J.R. Allison, W.S. Kerr, D.N. Garner, N.C. Hays, Alton Fraser, Jack Gilliland, Dudley Bayne, Abel Ruga, W.K. Golden, Earnest Langley, Austin Rose and Holt.

Herd opens district baseball today

By JOHN BROOKS
Managing Editor

The Hereford varsity baseball team bounced back from an opening 6-5 loss to Snyder to win its next two games last weekend at the weather-shortened Abilene Tournament.

The Herd was scheduled to play for consolation honors on Saturday, but the tournament was cancelled when the cold front blew into the Abilene area early Saturday.

On Friday, Hereford came back from an 8-2 deficit to beat El Paso Bowie 9-8. On Friday night, the Herd downed District 1-4A rival Lubbock Estacado 5-3.

Snyder struck for five runs in the top of the first inning against Hereford starter Fidel Ceballos, who was relieved after facing four batters in the top of the second by Clint Cotten.

As Cotten shut down the Tigers, the Herd added to its run in the bottom of the first with two runs in the second and two more runs in the fifth.

Cotten and Jason Scott led Hereford offense with a double apiece.

In Friday's game against Bowie, Hereford gained a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the first on a two-run homer by Scott, but Bowie erupted in the top of the fourth for seven runs to take the 8-2 lead.

In Hereford's half of the fourth, Kyle Andrews and Glenn Parker singled, Cotten and Russell Backus doubled, and Keith Brown tripled as the Herd posted five runs to cut the margin to 8-7.

As Backus handcuffed the Bowie batters after relieving starter J.T. Heaton in the fourth, the Herd added single runs in the fifth and sixth innings to take the win.

In Friday's second game, Scott went all seven innings for the Herd. After spotting the Matadors two runs in the top of the first, Scott allowed only an unearned run in the second while giving up only two walks and striking out nine.

Scott scored in the first inning, with Roger McCracken driving him in with a single to center after Scott had doubled.

In the second, the Herd came back to tie the score after Backus walked and stole second. Brown drove him in with a single to right. After Brown was caught stealing at second, Andrews singled to left, Amado Lopez walked, and Parker drove in Andrews with a single to center.

In the fourth, Brown got on on an error, and Andrews hit a two-run homer deep over the left-field fence to give Hereford the lead.

"Kyle's home run was one of the biggest homers I've ever seen," said Hereford coach T.R. Sartor. "The left fielder never moved, he just watched it over his shoulder. There was nothing cheap about it, he got all of it. We all just stood there and admired it. It was a monster."

Andrews went 5-for-7 in the tournament.

"Jason had a great tournament," Sartor said. "He went 5-for-9 at the plate, and in the Estacado game, he was as overpowering in the last six innings as anyone I've seen here in Hereford."

"Against Estacado we gave up two runs early, then another one in the second inning, but Kyle threw out a runner at second to get us out of that inning."

"Clint threw well in the first game, and the team competed very well coming back in the second game."

The Herd begins its district schedule today at 2-2 Lubbock Dunbar.

"There's no telling how strong Dunbar will be," Sartor said. "They beat Amarillo High and Lubbock High, but they lost two other games. They have a lot of folks back from last year, and it could be a tough game down there."

Sartor said he plans to start Scott in today's game, which was scheduled for 4 p.m. in Lubbock.

Golfers prepare to host tourney

The Hereford boys' and girls' golf teams will be preparing this week for the Hereford Invitational Tournament, a part of the Deaf Smith county Chamber of Commerce Super Sports Weekend, after failing to make the cut in their respective divisions at the Andrews Golf Tournament last Friday.

Eight boys and seven girls teams will participate in the tournament Friday and Saturday at Pitman Municipal Golf Course.

The boys' field includes Hereford A & B teams, Borger, Randall, Canyon, Levelland, Dumas and Denver City.

The girls' field will include Hereford, Pampa, Levelland, Dumas, Palo Duro, Caprock and Borger.

Scores from last week include:

BOYS: Robert Jones, 48-41-89; Keith Kelso, 49-44-93; Scott Simons, 52-44-96; Max Mungia, 49-49-98; Todd Schroeder, 43-55-98.

GIRLS: Naomi Grijalva, 50-54-104; Lori Lacy, 58-56-114; Brenda Allen, 57-58-115; Melissa Grijalva, 63-54-117; Paula Britten, 68-68-136.

Sharpening his stroke

Kyle Andrews of the Hereford varsity baseball team sharpens his batting stroke during a recent practice session. Andrews hit a "monster" two-run homer Friday to lead the Herd to a 5-3 win over Estacado in the Abilene Baseball Tournament. The Herd opens its District 1-4A schedule today at Lubbock Dunbar.

Mahorn leads Pistons to win

By The Associated Press

This time, Rick Mahorn was fine-not fined.

Rick Mahorn set season highs with 19 points and 19 rebounds and Isaiah Thomas scored 15 of his 20 points in the final 7:12 Monday night to lead the Detroit Pistons over the Denver Nuggets 129-112.

"I have to play my same game, which is good hard basketball," said Mahorn, who was fined $5,000 for flagrantly elbowing Cleveland's Mark Price in the head last week, giving him $10,000 in fines this season.

"I've played a lot of minutes and I'm feeling good. It felt good to get all those minutes (43) and have a good game."

Elsewhere, Phoenix beat Philadelphia 110-106 and Dallas beat New Jersey 105-99.

Detroit led almost the entire game, taking a 103-94 lead on Mahorn's basket with 8:41 to play.

Denver cut it to 103-99 but Thomas dominated the rest of the game. He sank a 3-pointer, then hit three straight jump shots to give the Pistons a 112-99 lead.

After Dennis Rodman scored on a pass from Thomas, Denver snapped a scoreless streak of 3:35 when Walter Davis hit a 3-point basket. Thomas retaliated with three more short jumpers to spark a 13-7 run.

Joe Dumars led seven Pistons in double figures with 25 points. Alex English topped Denver with 27.

Suns 110, 76ers 106

Tom Chambers banked in a short jump shot with 1:49 to go to break a 101-101 tie as Phoenix won for the 10th time in 27 road games.

Chambers and Jeff Hornacek led the Suns with 21 points apiece. Charles Barkley paced the Sixers with 31.

Arkansas, finally, wins

By The Associated Press
Arkansas coach Nolan Richardson says winning the Southwest Conference basketball championship was a struggle, but he credited Razorbacks fans as well as the play of his young team for the title.

The Razorbacks won their first outright SWC title since 1982 by defeating Houston, 107-79, in a game that was delayed 30 hours because of icy weather.

Southern Methodist defeated Cornell, 67-59, in a non-conference game that had been postponed in December because Cornell ran into weather problems at Chicago while enroute to Dallas.

"It's been a struggle, but we've improved each year," Arkansas coach Nolan Richardson said. "The fourth year, we put it all together with a young team and won the championship. The students and all the rest of our fans make us play at a phenomenal level at home sometimes. They deserve a lot of credit for our championship."

Arkansas finished the SWC 13-3 and earned its first basketball title since 1982. Texas A&M opened the door for the Razorbacks by knocking off Texas Saturday and the Longhorns finished 12-4. Houston fell to 17-13 overall and 8-8 in the SWC.

Todd Day scored 25 points and Keith Wilson, the team's lone senior, scored 18 for the Razorbacks.

The Cougars had been stranded in Dallas for two days while trying to get to Arkansas.

"Give Houston credit," Richardson said. "They hadn't practiced in two days. They were a little rusty but they played hard."

Houston's Pat Foster said his Cougars "didn't have a whole lot to play for" while the Razorbacks "had a lot of incentives. They were playing for the title. We don't want to take anything away from them. They played very well. They deserve to be the champions of the conference."

Upchurch led the Cougars with 24 points and 12 rebounds. Horace Chaney added 19 points and Richard Hollis scored 17 points for the Cougars.

Eric Longino scored 17 points to lead Southern Methodist past Cornell 67-59 Monday night.

With the victory, the Mustangs finished their regular season at 13-15. Cornell fell to 10-16.

SMU trailed at the half, 28-27, after shooting just 29.6 percent from the field in the first half. But a three-point basket by J.D. Green with 10:02 left in the game let the Mustangs take the lead for good. SMU built the lead to 12 points with less than two minutes to play and held on for the win.

Joining Longino in double figures for SMU were Glenn Puddy with 15, Green with 14 and John Colborne with 10.

Josh Wexler led Cornell with 14 points.

"I wasn't happy with the way we played the basketball game," said SMU coach John Shumate.

"But we won the game. The kids got it together in the second half," he said. "I told them before game started that Cornell would play intelligently and aggressively and if you play their game, they'll stay in the ball game all night long. We played into their hands. I'm glad we got it over with."

Camacho wins fight

RENO, Nev. (AP) - Hector Camacho parried and retreated with the poise of a matador while Ray Mancini charged like a bull, but it was the toreador's victory as Camacho spoiled Mancini's return to the ring with a 12-round split decision.

"I could have stood there slugging, but I beat him to the punch," Camacho said after Monday's victory. "I sharpshotted him and he didn't sharpshoot me."

Mancini was clearly stunned by the defeat despite his four-year ring layoff. "In my heart, I won that fight. I went out and I performed like I wanted to," he said.

Mancini said he would take a vacation and talk with his family before he decides whether to continue his boxing career.

"It wasn't pretty by any means," he said. "I just had to get the fight done. I've been out of the ring for a long time."

Hoosiers win title

Penn State upsets West Virginia

By The Associated Press

What's wrong with this picture? "This is the biggest win since I've been at Penn State - no question," Coach Bruce Parkhill said after the Nittany Lions beat 13th-ranked West Virginia 86-64 Monday night.

What's wrong is that Penn State is used to beating West Virginia fairly regularly in football. And this not only was basketball, but the semifinals of the Atlantic 10 tournament. And Penn State has never been known as a basketball school.

Nevertheless, the victory put the Nittany Lions in the conference final for the first time. They will play Thursday night against Rutgers, which outlasted Temple 62-59 in overtime.

In other Monday night action, four more teams won conference tournaments and automatic bids to the 64-team NCAA tournament - La Salle in the Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference, Loyola Marymount in the West Coast Athletic Conference, South Alabama in the Sun Belt Conference and George Mason in the Colonial Athletic Association.

Junior center Ed Fogell scored a career-high 28 points as Penn State upset West Virginia. Fogell made eight of 10 field goal attempts and 12 of 14 free throws as the Nittany Lions beat the Mountaineers for only the third time in the last 18 meetings.

Penn State led 39-30 at halftime and stretched it to 78-55 with 5:12 remaining. In the first nine minutes of the second half the Nittany Lions made eight of 12 shots and outrebounded the Mountaineers 8-0.

Craig Carter scored 16 points for Rutgers and Tom Savage and Rick Dadika each had 14 as the Scarlet Knights posted their seventh consecutive victory. Mark Macon scored 19 points and Mike Vreeswyk 18 for Temple.

MAAC
Lionel Simmons scored 29 points and Doug Overton matched his career high with 22 and led a decisive run late in the first half as La Salle earned its second straight NCAA bid by defeating St. Peter's 71-58.

Willie Haynes led St. Peter's with 22 points.

WCAC
Junior guard Jeff Fryer scored eight of Loyola Marymount's 10 points in a 75-70 overtime victory against Santa Clara. It was the second straight year Loyola won the title and an NCAA bid by defeating Santa Clara.

Betty Crocker's Cooking Tips

Q. The egg yolks I froze broke into small pieces after thawing. What would prevent this? M.W., Whiting, NJ

Q. Beat whole eggs or egg yolks to be frozen with one of the following: 1/8 teaspoon salt, 1 1/2 teaspoons sugar or 1 1/2 teaspoons corn syrup per two whole eggs or four yolks. This will slow the process you described. Thaw eggs either overnight in refrigerator or under cold, running water. Don't thaw at room temperature because eggs are extremely susceptible to salmonella which causes food poisoning.

Do you have a question? Write Dear Betty Crocker, Box 1113, Dept. Betty, Minneapolis, MN 55440.

TIP OF THE WEEK: Freeze leftover water chestnuts, shredded cheese, buttered bread crumbs, or crumbled, fried bacon to sprinkle over hot cooked vegetables.

Q. Where should I place the oven rack when baking cookies? E.B., Fresno, CA

A. Place rack in center position. This placement allows for even heat and air circulation, producing delicately browned cookies.

Q. I use fondant for the soft center of chocolate-covered cherries. How else can fondant be used? M.G., Mohnton, PA

A. Use smooth, creamy fondant as icing for nuts, candied fruits, cookies or individual cakes. It will keep, refrigerated in an airtight container, for two to four months.

The comedy, "Right Bed, Wrong Husband" is now playing at Country Squire Dinner Theatre in Amarillo.

The play opened March 2 and concerns the story of Ted, a young bachelor, whose trust fund is controlled by his uncle. In order to get his income increased, he writes to his uncle that he is married, though in fact he is only engaged.

His uncle drops in unexpectedly and meets Evelyn, who is married to Ted's best friend, as his wife. The situation gets more entangled when the maid calls and is mistaken for someone else, and when the real fiancée returns and is caught kissing Ted.

Add to this the drunk who sacks in with Ted when he is locked out of his house, and the entanglement of who sleeps where and with whom at bedtime.

Neil and Caroline Schaffner, authors of "Natalie Needs a Nightie", delights audiences once again with "Right Bed, Wrong Husband."

Carter Thrower, last seen in "Dirty Work at the Crossroads", returns from California to play Claude, the not-so-understanding husband of Evelyn.

Tamara Harris of the Austin area via California plays Evelyn while David Hines of Dallas is Uncle Martin.

Dennis McMenemy, last seen in "Sea Me No Flowers", plays the part of the next door neighbor who has a problem with his mother-in-law visiting.

Kim Wieck, last seen in "Murder Room," portrays Ted's fiancée, David Jackson is Ted, and Jane Lipscomb is Myra Tackelberry, a fun-loving maid.

Dinner is served beginning at 6:15 p.m. with the show following at 8 p.m. For reservations, call (806)358-7486.

Senator Bivins Reports

When I was campaigning for the Texas Senate, I had many conversations with people about economic development for Texas and especially our part of the State.

One man I met said that when flying over the Panhandle in an airplane the only apparent economic activity was agriculture and energy. I responded this might be true if you were in an airplane, but if you were in the space shuttle you could see that the crown of Texas is in virtually the geographic center of the United States. And with a good telescope you could see that we have the transportation infrastructure to become a major marketing and distribution center for the entire country.

Yet our state government has created a road block which is seriously impeding our efforts to become such a distribution center. Texas is now the only state that taxes goods in transit that are in the State for a short period of time. Every other state has some form of tax exemption for personal property brought into their state for assembling, storing, manufacturing, processing or fabrication when that property is shipped out of the state within a short period of time. This type of statute is sometimes referred to as a Freeport Exemption.

The absence of a Freeport Exemption is costing Texas—especially our part of Texas. Jobs go to other manufacturing and distribution centers in Albuquerque, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Shreveport, southern New Mexico and highly competitive states such as California and Florida. It is easy to see why Texas trails her sister states. Why locate a distribution facility or a plant in Texas when every other state exempts from taxation material or components brought in, assembled or fabricated and then shipped out of state again?

Texas had a Freeport Exemption statute for many years. But in 1986, our supreme court struck down that statute, saying it violated the Texas

Constitution. The Texas Legislature responded in 1987, by adopting a law that called for a constitutional amendment permitting a Freeport Exemption in Texas. Unfortunately when the measure went before the voters in November, 1987 it did so as one of 23 measures on the ballot. There was no organized effort to pass the amendment, and it failed by a margin of less than one percent.

I believe a Freeport Exemption is so important for our part of Texas that I want to try again. Senator Robert McFarland and I co-authored Senate Joint Resolution 11.

Because we are both extremely sensitive to creating state mandates on local governments and taxing entities, our resolution provides for a local option with regard to the Freeport Exemption. This way communities that want to use this very valuable tool for economic development purposes may do so.

Another aspect of our proposed constitutional amendment that was not a part of the 1987 measure is a feature which assures that all goods manufactured and assembled from purely Texas raw materials and then kept in the state for only a short period of time may also be granted the Freeport Exemption. This provision will see to it that Texas-based businesses are treated just as fairly as out of state businesses.

Finally, SJR 11 provides for the first time for a separate local option for oil and gas and other petroleum products. Oil and gas and other petroleum products were excluded from the benefits of a Freeport Exemption under the previous Texas Statute. Senator McFarland and I felt that with a separate local option for these products communities could have an even more powerful incentive for job creation.

Perhaps the most dramatic example of what the absence of a Freeport Exemption could mean to Texas over time is to look at California and its Freeport Exemption history.

Shortly after California repealed their exemption, major warehouse and distribution facilities were moved across the state line into Nevada. The impact was especially strong in Reno. In a few short years, jobs in manufacturing and distribution increased in Nevada and more than tripled their share of employment outside tourism and gambling.

By the time California realized its error and reinstated its Freeport Exemption, huge investments had been made in new Nevada facilities. And they weren't just warehouses. Major manufacturing plants had been opened and businesses had made a long-term commitment to Nevada operations.

Senate Joint Resolution 11 deals with taxes. Because of this Lt. Governor Hobby assigned it to the Senate Finance Committee. I am happy to report that last week SJR 11 passed the Finance Committee by an overwhelming margin and is now pending before the full Senate.

RADNOR, Pa. (AP) — Author Chet Flippo, longtime friend of slain Beate John Lennon, said he's surprised by "parasitic, would-be tell-all books" about Lennon.

"Because John was always pretty much an open book, there didn't seem to be much call for any amplification of his life," Flippo wrote in this week's TV Guide.

Flippo, author of "Yesterday," the unauthorized biography of ex-Beatle Paul McCartney, was particularly critical of Albert Goldman's "The Lives of John Lennon."

He called Goldman's assessment of Lennon's life with Yoko Ono and son Sean "pure junk, as far as I know. ... John was certainly no angel. Most of the time he was much worse. Which is to say, he was perfectly human."

Abraham Lincoln, the 16th president of the United States, was born in Kentucky in 1809.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Last night we went to see the film "Rain Man." Tom Cruise was good. Dustin Hoffman was brilliant. The language was offensive.

The favorite word out of Hollywood these days seems to be the F-word. I am writing to ask why. Can it be that that's the way people in California talk and we squares in Middle America haven't caught up with them yet? Or is it because the F-word will insure an "R" rating, which seems to attract crowds?

Maybe the producers believe such language enhances the character. If so, they are mistaken. Tom Cruise's character was far more moving and powerful when he bent down to kiss his autistic brother on the forehead than when he was spewing fourth gutter words.

I am not an old prude. I was born during the first year of the baby boom but was raised to consider certain words inappropriate in social conversation.

Did the standard change when I wasn't looking?—Anne H., Ford Madison, Iowa

DEAR ANNE: My son-in-law, Ken Howard ("The White Shadow"), tells me that actors use the language of the characters they portray. Four-letter words came naturally to the Tom Cruise character and he followed the script.

I can appreciate a dedicated artist's wish to come up with a realistic portrayal, but many moviegoers, myself included, are offended by dirty language, and it is a jarring and unpleasant experience to hear those words when we go to a movie to be entertained.

I believe the movies have gone too far. A film can be realistic and artistically superb without the garbage talk. It wouldn't hurt the box office one iota if Hollywood cleaned up its mouth.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Sometimes it pays to be ignorant. Listen to this:

A 19-year-old fellow from Kenesaw, Neb., was charged with making an illegal substance. The drug was methylenedioxymethamphetamine, commonly known as Ecstasy, was spelled incorrectly in the state statute.

The judge of the county district court ruled that because the defendant did not possess the drug named in the state statute that the man did no violate the law.

Some people are shot full of luck, aren't they?—Nebraska Reader

DEAR NEB: That kind of luck doesn't last forever. If the fellow continues to make that stuff (which incidentally, can be deadly) he will be caught sooner or later, now that they know how to spell it.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I are both in our 60s. I am his second wife. We have been happily married for 12 years.

Two weeks before Christmas my husband's ex-wife's mother died. He traveled 500 miles to attend the funeral. He said he felt he should be there for the "children." (The children are 40, 38 and 35)

Two weeks later my husband went to celebrate Christmas with his children.

His ex-wife was there, of course. I was not invited to go along and spent Christmas by myself.

Now my husband is talking about going back for his little grandson's birthday. He has not asked me to accompany him. I smell a rat, Ann, and don't know what to do.—Mrs. X

DEAR MRS. X: Tell your husband that you feel left out and would like to go with him. If he refuses, you have a right to be suspicious. Please discuss this problem with a counselor before you make any accusations or give any ultimatums. This situation needs careful handling.

FOOTBALL IN JAPAN
WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — William and Mary College has launched a sports-culture exchange between America and Japan.

The William and Mary football team visited Japan in January to play a squad of Japanese collegiate All-Stars. A Japanese team is expected to visit the United States for a game every four years.

Football has been played in Japan for about 50 years.

Mystery teachers

"Who Are These Sweet Valentines?" was the title of a contest held recently at Shirley School. Conducted by the February bulletin board committee, the board contained baby or early childhood photos of teachers that students attempted to correctly identify. Pizza certificates were awarded to the first place winners: Belinda Arroyos, 4th grade; Gina Torres, 5th grade; and Martha Longoria, 6th grade.

Veleda Club hears program

Veleda Study Club met in the home of Marjorie Lasiter recently as the meeting opened with the reading of the club collect by Norma Walden, president.

Roll call was answered with 'how my role as a woman has changed.'

Sylvia Khuri gave the program on "Palestinian Women." The point of view she gave was that of a Christian, urban, Palestinian woman.

Since 1967, this has been an occupied country at war against invaders. Most of the press reports about the country, according to Khuri, have been negative, very narrow, and wrong.

In this country, a good education is highly valued for both boys and girls and is the one investment that cannot be taken away from a person. Academics are most important to students and there is little emphasis on sports, which is considered of little value.

Marriages are undertaken with a formal investigation by the parents of the couple. Pre-marital sex and pregnancies do not occur, noted Khuri.

BUSY SHOPPERS LIKE CONVENIENCE STORES

NEW YORK (AP) - America's shoppers - pressed for time - are making more visits and spending more dollars in convenience stores than ever before, reports a marketing communications company.

Recent statistics indicate that 63 percent of the adult population patronizes a "C-store" at least twice a month, according to the New York-based Howard Mariboro Group.

More than half of those shoppers spend some of their shopping dollars at a convenience store at least once each week, the study shows. Americans spent nearly $66 billion in such stores in 1987, the most recent year for which full annual figures are available.

and the divorce rate is minimal. Dating is done only with the intention of marriage.

Women are responsible for the care of the home, the children, and the extended family. In this current time, a woman often finds she must also work outside the home. This creates a busy and exhausting day with the added dangers of warfare occurring.

As there is no government to provide programs for the elderly and the needy, older women organize volunteer groups to maintain retirement homes and soup kitchens.

The special age of teenagers is not a problem. Being 13 is merely being a year older than 12, said Khuri. Drug and alcohol problems do not exist among Palestinian youths. Young people are the main participants in the battle for freedom and are taught to listen to their parents. The youth are very protected and dependent on their parents and are taught immaculate manners and a great tradition of family honor.

Walden welcomed three guests, Kay Moore, Murlene Struen, and Carolyn Waters to the meeting.

Lasiter served refreshments to the guests and the following members: Marcella Bradley, Juanita Brown, Francis Crume, Betty Dickson, Betty Gilbert, Della Hutchins, Sylvia Khuri, Joyce Ritter, Suzanne Steven, Walden, and Margaret Zinsler.

The next meeting will be in the Atrium with LaJean Henry presenting the latest fashions from the Pants Cage.

Red Cross Update

Thanks is extended to the volunteers that helped with the blood pressure screening at the Hereford Senior Citizens Center this past week.

Those assisting with the screening included Elaine Taylor, Olivia Brown, Lottie Wertenberger, Jo Coleman, Florence Vaught, Viola Birkenfield, Bobbie Roberson and Bobbie King of Canyon. The volunteers took 155 blood pressures and hope to be able to conduct another screening later.

Get well wishes go to Jim Scott, Green Thumb Worker at the Red Cross office. Scott has undergone foot surgery.

A babysitting class will be held March 13-17. The classes will begin each day at 2 p.m. and conclude at 5 p.m. Cost is $10 per person. It is open to anyone who is 11-years of age or older. Registration may be made by calling the Red Cross office at 364-3761.
