Price Disproves Legend Of Colored Desert Glass

BY DOT BOWLES
BRAND STAFF REPORTER
It all started with an old forgotten pickle jar washed on the bank of Tierra Blanca Creek. While searching for arrowheads about seven years ago, Leroy Price of Hereford found a pickle jar which had turned purple from prolonged exposure to the sun. Since then he has traveled many miles and spent countless hours seeking for "desert glass." Glass which is at least 50 to 60 years old may contain a certain chemical which was used in glassmaking many years ago. Glass containing the chemical will change colors when exposed to the sun over a long period of time, Price explains.

The name "desert glass" was applied to the glass by Arizona traders who claim that old glass will change color only if left on the desert sands. Tiny pieces of the "desert glass" are mounted and sold to tourists in Arizona.

Price reports. "Not just any old glass will change colors," Price continues, "but only that which contains the unknown substance." "I just look and look in antique stores and in junk piles and try to determine which glass is extremely old. Then I expose it to the sun and just wait to see what happens... if anything happens."

Price's most recent find was numerous old soft drink bottles which he dug up near Dennison. Several of the bottles have "Ardmore Indian Territory" printed on them. The stoppers are wired with leather washers attached and act as plungers. The stoppers were never removed but were simply pushed down to allow the liquid to flow past them.

Although the bottles were refilled many times, the same stoppers were always used. Sanitary conditions were somewhat different than they are today.

Some of the bottles have "Woodlake" printed on them. Woodlake is a private lake near Dennison where Price owns several acres of lake frontage. The bottles have already started the color-change process. There are purple, aqua and green shades but some of them have remained colorless.

Price places the old glass on the top of his garage and hopes that it will change colors. Usually only two or three pieces in a hundred will change, he says. It is a red-letter day for Price when he discovers one of his pieces of glass developing a slight tint of color. "In three months I can tell whether or not the glass will change colors. If nothing happens in that time, I might as well give up on that piece," Price points out. Several sets of glasses are among Price's "desert glass" collection, including some pressed cut glass. Pressed cut glass was outlawed many years ago because factory workers inevitably became ill from lead poisoning after working with it for awhile.

Price points with pride at his collection of old kerosene lanterns, several of which have turned purple. Included in the collection is a tiny lantern in perfect burning condition which was once a salesman's sample. It has likewise turned purple.

Several of his lanterns did not contain the "magic chemical" which makes them change colors but Price has retained them for their natural beauty and uniqueness. He has one lantern with a reflector on it.

Price keeps all of the lamps in working order and filled with fuel. They have provided many Hereford homes with light during power failures.

Another particularly interesting item in Price's glass collection is a set of doorknobs which changed colors. Originally colorless, the heavy knobs are now a deep, rich purple. Other items in the local "desert glass" collection include candle sticks, butter dishes, delicate desert dishes, tiny toothpick holders and salt dishes, a cake platter and pickle dishes.

Price has a desk set which has become colored by the sun's rays. The date, Oct. 31, 1896, is imprinted in the glass.

He has several whisky jiggers which are dated in the early 1800's. One jigger has "Hayner Distilling Co., St. Louis" printed on it and another carries the "Rieggers Whisky" label from Kansas City.

A recent discovery was a quart whisky bottle which bears the original paper label of "J. F. Dear's Favorite Whisky."

Old-timers in the area recall going to Farwell to buy this particular brand of whisky. Price says he will not attempt to change the color of the quart bottle because he wants to preserve the paper label.

While browsing around an antique shop one day, Price found an interesting-looking item which resembles some type of cream pitcher. Although he wasn't sure what purpose the piece had served, Price bought it.

He attempted to learn what the article was and finally two or three years later he saw an article in a newspaper telling of the innovation of today's baby bottle. His unknown object turned out to be one of the second oldest baby feeders known. It resembles an Aladdin's lamp with an extremely long spout with a tiny hole in it.

Although Mrs. Price does not completely share her husband's enthusiasm for glass collecting, she has selected many of the pieces and arranged them in an attractive glass cabinet in the living room.

Price's collection of "desert glass" is reported to be the largest known to belong to one person. An Amarillo antique dealer says Price has a fortune in his collection if he should decide to sell it.

Most of the pieces remain in the garage or on top of it... but they aren't the only collector's items in the Price garage.

Price has not stopped with glass collecting. Among the other items in the garage are a camel's tooth, a sample of petrified alligator hide, part of an Indian skull, a bear tooth, a mastodon tooth and many other animal teeth.

The mastodon tooth is partially decomposed and is made of numerous layers. Although at least one fourth of the tooth is missing, it measures about four inches long and three inches wide. Price found it on the Jeff Glibreth place near Hereford.

Price has a huge buffalo skull which he has tried to preserve by applying several quarts of shellac. He has many types of bullets and shotgun shells which were used by the early inhabitants of West Texas.

While discussing Price's collections, attention is drawn to his arrowheads and other Indian artifacts. He has at least 600 such objects and has won prizes for the extensive collection. Nose rings and stone pipes with faint traces of paint are among the Indian articles. Arrowheads were the first items that Price collected as a youth.

During one period Price concentrated his collecting on guns. He reports that he "really went at gun collecting for a time and after the collection became fairly large, somehow the interest seemed to fade." Most of the guns have been sold now.

After the guns, came coins. Price has quite an extensive collection of coins, including a complete Lincoln set. His son, Bill, 18, has kept interest in the coin collection alive.

Bill proudly displays two-cent pieces, silver and nickel three-cent pieces and many half-dimes. Many of the coins are over 100 years old. He has one penny dated 1803.

Price is employed by the Post Office Dept. In addition to Bill, the Prices have two daughters, July, 17, and Patricia, 14.

General Or Specific Tax Now Seems Only Question

BY VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN — After years of tax argument in Texas, debate now seems to have narrowed down to one question.

It is whether to have a sales tax on specified items or one on all but specified items.

First is known as the Pennsylvania-type sales tax. It is favored by Governor Price Daniel as a means of raising $303,000,000 of the $360,000,000 he feels is needed. It would list the items on which a 2 per cent sales tax would be levied. General would be to cover all items selling for 50 cents or more except food to be eaten at home, prescription drugs, clothing costing less than $10, feed, seed, fertilizer, books, farm machinery, livestock and gas and electricity used in manufacturing.

Other approach would be a bill like the Senate passed last session. It does not attempt to list all the items to be taxed but applies to everything except the items exempted, including the usual groceries, drugs, farm needs.

Aim to both bills is the same: to raise a lot of money with a lot of retail sales taxes. There is no serious attempt to raise the bulk of the needed money by any means other than retail sales taxes.

To some it might seem a Tweedle Dee-Tweedle Dum choice. But not to Governor Daniel and to many legislators. A sales tax that applies to everything except exempt items is, in the governor's eyes, a "general sales tax," against which he is dead set.

Objectors to the Pennsylvania tax contend it would be one long pain in the neck, both for state tax collectors and retail merchants, to keep up with what is in the long, long list and what isn't. Too, they point out that new products are constantly coming on the market and would be tax-free.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson appeared at the hearing as one of the critics of the Daniel (Pennsylvania) plan.

IN THE MILL — Legislature is moving swiftly in its short session, trying to avoid re-ploughing the same ground covered on tax bills last session.

Among revenue-raising measures under consideration are these:

GOVERNOR'S PACKAGE BILL, by Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger. This would include the Pennsylvania-type 2 per cent sales tax, a provision for a minimum levy of 1 cent per 1,000 cubic feet on gas, a two-factor franchise tax on interstate corporations, a 50 per cent increase in drivers' license fees, a transfer of that portion of gasoline taxes allocated for schools at the end of August each year and a leveling of the taxes allocated for schools at the end of August each year and a leveling of the tax on coin-operated machines at $10 each per year.

HINSON PACKAGE BILL by Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, frequent sponsor of measures favored by the governor. Hinson's bill would include a sales tax on purchases of $5 or more, a corporate income tax, real estate transfer tax, a severance beneficiary tax on natural gas, a utilities tax and a 1 per cent transfer from the permanent school fund. Estimated yield: $368,000,000.

GAS TAX BILL, by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston. Bill is designed to insure that the state would collect a minimum tax of 1 cent on each 1,000 cubic feet of Texas gas. If the present 7 per cent gas production tax did not supply it, the purchaser would have to pay the difference. Estimated yield: $30,000,000. It is included in the Ballman bill.

SELECTIVE EXCISE TAX, by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas. It is similar to the Pennsylvania tax, also, and would yield an estimated $355,000,000.

ESCHEAT BILL, by Rep. Charles Hughes of Sherman. This is the well-worn proposal to provide enforcement procedures so that abandoned property, bank accounts, etc., would go to the state.

BATTLE OF THE POLLS — Two citizens groups are engaged in a duel of poll taking, each trying to demonstrate more public support for its tax plan. Citizens for a Sales Tax announced that of 11,000 persons replying to its post card poll, 83.6 per cent favored a retail sales tax.

Citizens for Fair Taxation, a group which supports Governor Daniel's tax program, immediately declared that the CST poll was heavily weighted with Chamber of Commerce members and not a true reflection of public sentiment.

Citizens for Fair Taxation is at work on a poll of its own. SPENDING BILLS PUSHED — A general appropriations bill and a bill to raise teachers' salaries are moving through both houses with little rehashing. Senate quickly approved a two-year appropriations bill calling for spending of $2,469,000. It is essentially the same as the Senate appropriation bill in the regular session.

Both Senate and House education committees approved bills that would give public school teachers an across-the-board raise of $810 a year. House passed the teachers' bill on the floor, 141 to 1.

Senate committee also approved education bill providing for educational films, driver education, assistant principals for larger schools, and five days sick leave a year for teachers.

MONEY NEEDS UPPEP — State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert had a new revenue forecast for legislators at the beginning of the session that showed an expected revenue from existing sources at $24,000,000 less than the January forecast.

Part of the difference between the old and new forecasts was due to some $6,000,000 in additional school and welfare payments authorized during the regular session. Most of the rest of the drop was attributed to a decline in revenue from auto sales taxes and franchise taxes.

Calvert also estimated that the general fund deficit at the end of the fiscal year Aug. 31 will be $64,000,000. This is $1,000,000 more than his January prediction.

LOBBY REGULATIONS OFFERED — At Governor Daniel's suggestion a bill to impose further lobby controls has been introduced.

Daniel has consistently blamed "lobby interference" for the regular session to agree on a tax plan.

Five House members are co-sponsors of a bill that would require that all contributions of $50 or more to be used to influence legislation be reported. It would also prohibit lobbyists from being on the floor of House or Senate during sessions or calling members off the floor during debate.

Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston has said he will sponsor

Resolution expression concern that the higher rate might cause many drivers to drop their auto insurance and thus become unable to pay for accident damage.

TEACHER TRAINING HIT — Member of the Commission on Higher Education looked over a 140-page report on teacher education courses being offered in state colleges and decided that there was too much folderol.

A number of legislators also have been critical in recent months, both of the content and the amount of time spent on teaching method courses. State Board of Education has recently reduced the number of method courses required for teacher certification.

Commission on Higher Education members expressed hope that the college administrators could and would do for themselves the necessary pruning in education course offerings.

Sen. Preston Smith, Lubbock theater owner, has been named president pro tempore of the Senate for the special session. As third in line to the governorship, Senator Smith undoubtedly will have a chance to be "Governor for a Day" sometime during the session.

House of Representatives is reduced to 149 members as a result of the death, just before session opening, of Rep. Marshall O. Bell of San Antonio.

Bell, who was serving his 10th term in the House, was known as "dean of the House" because of his record tenure. That designation now goes to Rep. Herman Yezak of Bremond, a lawyer-publisher in his ninth consecutive term as a member of the House.

Six Members of the House of Representatives are actively at work in hopes of being speaker for the 58th Legislature. They are Reps. Byron Tunnell of Tyler, Alonzo Jamison of Denton, Franklin Spears of San Antonio, Ben Glusing of Kingsville, C. W. Pearcy of Temple and W. T. Oliver of Port Neches.

Seeking Entries For Wool Sewing Contest In Area

According to information received here by Mrs. Dortha Prowell, the School of Home Economics at Texas Tech is to serve again this next year as hostess for District 1 "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest, and will also serve as host for the State contest.

Mrs. Prowell recently was appointed to act as county chairman of the contest.

Anyone who is not a professional is eligible to enter. Besides the adult group of entries, there will be four groups for others: Sub-Deb for girls 13 through 15 years of age (district level, only), Junior for girls 14 through 17 years and Senior, for girls 18 through 21 years.

The only requirement, other than not being a professional, is that the garment be made exclusively of 100 per cent wool, except for the lining, trim, etc.

Anyone who is interested in entering the contest is asked to contact Mrs. Prowell at her home, EM 4-3843, or at Hereford High School, EM 4-0617. While the entry forms do not have to be received by the district director at Lubbock until November 18, it is necessary that Mrs. Prowell know how many entries there will be from Deaf Smith County in order that she can plan accordingly.

The State Contest will be held at Texas Tech on January 6, 1962 and the National Contest will be held on January 22 in Salt Lake City, Utah.

The grand prize to the national winner will be a trip to Paris. State winners will receive sewing machines and quantities of fabric. Mrs. Prowell stated that prizes would be offered on the local level but to date she has not determined what the prizes will be.

A letter to the Chamber of Commerce from Johnnie McBroom of Canyon, department junior vice commander of the Texas Veterans of Foreign Wars, was passed on to us this week. Johnnie was thanking the Chamber for providing the little bottles of Hereford water for favors from this area at the annual VFW convention recently in San Antonio. They said the demand for the bottles was even larger than the supply.

It was quite a disappointment for all of America Wednesday when Capt. Virgil Grissom's scheduled loop into outer space was "scrubbed" because of heavy clouds in the Cape Canaveral area. Maybe they should start shooting their rockets from Texas, where the weather is usually better than in the "Sunshine State."

The Festival looks like it is about ready to unfold next week. For our part, it should be ra-

WATERMELON IS GOOD in pickles, preserves and many other prepared forms. But, to a small boy, it tastes best on a hot summer day just as nature grew it. With juice trickling down his arm, Bryan Goodin, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Goodin, 430 Star, enjoys every bite. (Staff Photo)

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Watermelon Season Brings Pickle, Preserve Recipes

With the watermelon season in full swing, now is the time to be doing something about those watermelon pickles and preserves which will be so welcome on the dining table next winter. We've scouted some of our local matrons and come up with the following palate teasers:

WATERMELON PICKLES, as Mrs. Frank Prowell makes them:
3 qt. trimmed watermelon rind
boiling water
2 cups granulated sugar
2 cups vinegar
1/2 tsp. oil of cloves
1/2 tsp. oil of cinnamon

First Day: Use the rind from a firm, not-too-ripe watermelon. Trim off green skin and any pink flesh. Cut the rind into one-inch cubes. When trimmed, you should have about 2 1/2 quarts remaining. Place in a large saucepan and cover with boiling water. Boil until tender but not soft (about ten minutes) then drain well.

Combine sugar, vinegar, oil of cloves and oil of cinnamon in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Pour over the rind and let stand overnight at room temperature.

Second Day: In the morning, drain syrup from the rind, heat to a boiling point. Pour back over the rind and let stand all night.

Third Day: Slice one small unpeeled orange and one unpeeled lemon, quarter each slice and add to the rind and syrup. Heat to a boiling point and can.

Mrs. Prowell also gave us a very good recipe for WATERMELON RIND PRESERVES:
Select only the thick rind and use only the white part. Cut in small cubes and soak overnight in mild salt water (1/2 cup salt to 1 gallon of water). In the morning, remove from the salt water and cook in clear water for 30 minutes or until tender; drain well. Measure 11 cups of the melon pulp. Make a syrup of 9 cups of sugar and 8 cups of water. Add 4 sliced, unpeeled lemons and 4 cinnamon sticks.

VISIT IN HEREFORD
Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Roll of Wichita, Kan., and her father, Ralley Loveless of San Angelo, spent the night with the Vern Witherspoons Tuesday. Roll and Loveless are former Hereford residents. Loveless was the manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Hereford for 12 years.

The 4 teaspoons whole cloves in a cheesecloth bag and drop into the syrup. Boil the syrup and the spices for five minutes before adding the rind. Then add rind and cook until transparent. (Food coloring may be added if desired). Remove the bag of cloves, pour into sterilized jars and seal while hot.

Mrs. A. T. Jefferies gave us a very good recipe for WATERMELON HONEY:
1 rind of good - sized melon
1 lemon
1 orange
Sugar

Pare to white portion of watermelon rind; put through food chopper; add an equal amount of sugar, and the very thin sliced lemon and orange. Cook until fruits are clear and "preserve" looking. Seal hot.
Bill Brady tells us that his grandmother, the late Mrs. L. R. Brady, made the best watermelon rind sweet pickles "you ever ate." Fortunately we were able to find her recipe.

For seven pounds prepared melon rind - Peel and cut into strips about 1 x 3 inches, cutting out all the red and green. Line preserving kettle with green grape leaves, put in rinds and a piece of alum the size of a walnut, and cover with grape leaves. Cover all with cold water and let boil until tender enough to pierce with a broom straw (about 90 minutes).

Remove from water and put into a strong ginger tea and let remain over night. In the morning remove and drain well then drop into boiling syrup made with 5 pounds sugar, 1 quart apple cider vinegar, 1 quart water, the peel of half an orange that has been boiled a few minutes, a small piece of crushed ginger root, 1 dozen whole cloves, 1 dozen allspice and a few pieces of whole mace (ground may be used if desired). Cook 60 to 90 minutes, until syrup is clear and slightly thick. Bottle and seal while hot.

Another of our better cooks tells us that the above recipe can be varied in a delicious way by adding a handful of seeded raisins. Others prefer to leave a little of the green rind or the red meat, or both, to add color.

Mrs. Louise Ferguson has, perhaps, the easiest method of all for making watermelon preserves. Using a six-quart saucepan, she fills it as full as possible of the cubed, peeled watermelon rind. Over this, she sprinkles five cups of granulated sugar and sets it back for the night. In the morning, cook over a very low fire without adding any liquid; the juice from the rind is sufficient. When cooked down low, add 1 No. 2 can of crushed pineapple. Cook until consistency of preserves and seal hot. Cooking time, approximately two hours.

FRIO NEWS

More Than Four Inches Of Rain Falls Over Weekend

BY MRS. OWEN ANDREWS

Rain during the weekend totaled more than four inches in some areas in the community. At the Frio Baptist Church about 4.2 inches was measured through Sunday and an additional .3 on Monday night. Rain fell during most of Friday night and beginning again Saturday afternoon fell through Sunday until midmorning intermittently. The Frio Draw was up Saturday and still running the first of the week. Roads were fairly good, considering the quantity of moisture, except where irrigation filled bar ditches had prevented grading recently.

Mrs. James Dobbs was honored at a gift party at the home of Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr. On Friday afternoon, Mrs. Sparkman directed a pencil game, Mrs. H. D. Robbins read a poem and Mrs. Owen Andrews directed a treasure hunt, with the honoree finding a large collection of gifts.

Pink and white decorations were featured at the refreshment table, with Angel food cake and pink punch served by three of the hostesses, Mrs. Earnest Harder, Mrs. Charles Self and Mrs. Floyd Cole. Other hostesses were Mrs. Jim Brooks, Mrs. Owen Andrews and Mrs. Sparkman.

Others attending the party were Mrs. Frank Robbins, Mrs. Bill Williams, Mrs. Harlan Barber, Mrs. Clark Andrews, Mrs. Henry Dobbs, Mrs. David Yandell, Mrs. B. H. Baldwin, Mrs. Carlton Dobbins, Mrs. H. D. Robbins, Mrs. Weldon Stephan, Mrs. Robert Dobbins, Mrs. D. C. Miller, Mrs. H. M. Mobley, Mrs. Johnnie Robinson, Mrs. Earl Harkins, Mrs. E. M. Green, Miss Patsy Green, Mrs. Roy Sheppard, Mrs. Edgar Vinson, and Mrs. Walter Jay, the honoree's mother, of Elk City, Okla.

Mrs. Frank Robbins and Mrs. Clark Andrews went with the G. A.s from the Frio Baptist Church to camp near Floydada, this week. Frank Robbins and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Struve helped them get located on Wednesday. Girls attending were Donna Coody, Rita Struve, Sheila Sheppard, Reba Hall, Vicki Axe, Dana Glenn, Carol Robbins, Jana Cole, Ediana Vinson, Ramona Hall, Nancy Axe, Judy Glenn and two visitors, Peggy Little and Jennifer Hester from Texline. Mrs. Edgar Vinson and Mrs. Floyd Cole went on Friday to help the girls get home.

Mrs. H. D. Robbins stayed at the Frank Robbins to visit them while Mrs. Robbins was with the girls at camp and help care for the younger children. Becky Little from Texline was also visiting the Robbins this week.

Austin Mobley and Ruth Landers of Dimmitt were married on Friday, June 7. They were in Colorado vacationing this week. They expect to live in Dimmitt.

Former Resident Hopes To Finish Novel While In Libya

"Life is full of defeat and far too few victories, but to have a total defeat is far better than an empty victory."

The above is a quotation from "The Empty Victory," a novel being written by Mrs. Herbert Dones, the former Joy Miller, daughter of Mrs. H. E. Miller of Hereford.

Mrs. Dones has 17 chapters of her work completed and she plans to have about 35 chapters in the novel, "The Empty Victory" concerns the rise of one man and his conquest of wealth over a 25 year period.

The setting for the novel is the West Texas Panhandle but the story is not based on fact. It is the story of Jeffrey Colt and his daughter Edwina and their life at Colt Manor, a quarter horse ranch. The novel tells of Jed and how he became "accepted, if not respected."

Mrs. Dones is planning to accompany her husband to Tripoli, Libya, in September. He is a career member of the U. S. Air Force and will be stationed in Libya for three years.

During her stay in the north African port, Mrs. Dones hopes to finish her first novel. "The Empty Victory" is her first try at publication although she has written "ever since she can remember."

Mrs. Dones wrote a Girls' Auxiliary initiation ceremony while in Sacramento, Cal., which has been adopted as the official initiation for the chapter of the Baptist organization.

In Libya the Dones and their children, Blake, 5, and Lynda, 3, will be stationed at Wheelus Air Force Base. The family will live off the base because accommodations there are not adequate to provide for the number of servicemen families stationed in Tripoli.

The Air Force has requested that the Dones tire guards to watch their home at all times since the Arabs present a constant danger to the American families and property. A guard and his wife can be hired for $40 a month and the woman works in the home, Mrs. Dones said.

The modern conveniences of the U. S. will be missing in the Libyan home and Mrs. Dones is trying to reconcile herself to having no washer, dryer or television, she reports.

Wheelus AFB is a city within itself and servicemen families must purchase all necessities from the PX. This includes clothing.

The U. S. government has set strict restrictions on the clothing which servicemen wives may wear while offbase in Tripoli. The women are not to wear shorts, sun dresses or bathing suits.

Wheelus AFB has its own beach, shops and activities for the wives of servicemen.

Mrs. Dones is looking forward to visiting many of the Roman ruins and other attractions in Europe. The families receive a morale leave each year and can travel for a month in Europe.

She hopes to record some of her overseas experiences in future books and articles.

PLAN FOR DOWNTOWN

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A four-point program for preventing the decline of downtown areas was outlined here by Victor Gruen of Detroit, an architect and authority on city planning.

It included: (1) Restoration with new and improved public and private transportation carriers; (2) Freeing of downtown areas from congestion by private automobiles, particularly through construction of loop roads surrounding the areas; (3) Middle-income housing in downtown areas, and (4) more downtown conveniences such as arcades, colonnades, covered streets and rest benches.

ENTHUSIASM UNDIMMED

CINCINNATI (AP)—Joe Smith was so fascinated with his new radio hobby that a massive power jolt couldn't dim his interest.

Burns on his hands from an 11,000-volt power line sent Smith to a hospital for seven weeks of skin grafts. But friends set up his citizens band transmitter and receiver in the hospital room and he resumed calls, although limited to five miles around the hospital.

Smith, a refrigerator mechanic, was burned trying to install an antenna for his rig at his Aurora, Ind., home. He won't have to go up on the roof again. He said, "I have a lot of friends and they promised me my antenna would be up by the time I get home."

MACHINE SUPERMARKET

CHICAGO (AP)—A coinoperated vending machine now vends on supermarket scale.

The new automatic vendor dispenses up to 130 items.

Frederick L. Schuster, chairman of Automatic Canteen, says the firm's new unit sells transistor radios, cosmetics, jewelry, drugs, hardware, toys, film and selected sporting goods.

The Super-Vend machine is an unattended unit that accepts the customer's money, returns exact change and automatically delivers the merchandise.

The heart of the new machine contains a newly developed currency and coin-handling mechanism that validates and accepts good money, rejecting foreign or counterfeit money.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES

About Wyatt Earp And Salesmanship

TO THE PEOPLE OF THIS 18TH DISTRICT:

We had a most pleasant visit the other day from Hugh O'Brian, known to most of you as Wyatt Earp. He was accompanied by my good friend, Ed Shelton, who originated in Austin, Texas, but who has been well known in Washington circles for a number of years because of his fine Texas friendliness and his outstanding abilities.

Hugh O'Brian is entitled to the compliments of the people of this country who are sincerely interested in youth. As sincerely interested, I might say, as Hugh O'Brian. This outstanding professional of the entertainment industry spearheaded a movement in 1958 to help provide inspirational opportunities and projects for deserving youths. He established the Hugh O'Brian Youth Foundation, a non-profit corporation designed to seek out and provide opportunity to potential leaders. He has stated this in the following terms:

"Today in America there is a need for a diligent search for undiscovered or disregarded leadership potential. There is a middle group, long neglected, neither delinquent nor developed, that needs encouragement and attention.

"The purpose of this Foundation is to seek such youth and provide opportunities for its leadership potential to come to life and grow."

A discussion of this program with Hugh O'Brian would convince anyone that he was never more serious, even when he undertook to portray Wyatt Earp, which he did with such perfection.

Those of us in the Panhandle well know the great work that can be done with youth because of our close association with world famous Boys Ranch, headed by a virtual human dynamo, Cal Farley. There are many areas in which work can bring about fine accomplishments for the betterment of this country. I salute all of these dedicated men who have contributed and are contributing so much to this cause.

Salesmanship.

The prestige of the United States in world affairs has been a hotly debated issue for the past several years. It has become more heated since the November 1960 elections, primarily because of charges and countercharges made in the preceding campaigns. Many factors can cause the loss of prestige, but one indispensable item in preserving it and in rebuilding it is salesmanship. Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges recognizes this and is advocating programs that could be most beneficial to the welfare and the economy of this country, both nationally and internationally.

A fine reporter for one of the Washington newspapers, desiring to be of help in the promotion of such a good program, decided to see for himself just how salesmanship was being practiced in the commercial establishments in the Washington Metropolitan area. His adventures in quest of this material added up to a most interesting and humorous story. It pointed up with great clarity that there is a sad lack in the art of salesmanship in the metropolitan areas.

In fact, his good story brought to mind a recent experience of myself and our 14-year-old son, Robert. On the day before Easter, Jean advised me that Robert needed some new pants for Easter Sunday. I got Robert corralled and into the car and we went to one of the leading department stores in this area.

After searching on our own for about ten minutes we found the department where pants were located. We waited another ten minutes and then concluded that our presence in the store had not been of great interest to anyone. Seeing two men casually conversing at a nearby counter, I hesitantly asked if they worked in the establishment. After continuing their conversation for several seconds, one of them inquired as to why I asked. I advised him that I was desirous of purchasing a pair of trousers for my son.

He advised me in very clipped terms that I was standing by the pants counter and had been for several minutes. I suggested that it was my thought that perhaps he might be interested in whether the trousers fit the boy, but he quickly assured me that this was a false assumption. He stated that the size was written on the trousers and that I ought to be able to pick out what I wanted.

I advised him that I was not compelled to buy the pants and that unless the service improved, I would let Robert go without them. The salesman (?) just smiled, probably realizing that both law and convention in our present-day civilization require this attire. Robert was probably thinking the same thing, because he didn't seem to approve of my threat to let him go without them. His chagrin undoubtedly convinced the salesman that he had me cornered, because he continued in the position that I found him when I interrupted his conversation.

In an effort to recover some of the lost ground, I inquired of him how long it would take to put a pair of cuffs on the trousers so that the boy could wear them. He went into a deep study for about two minutes, and then in the tones of a judge pronouncing sentence on the accused, advised me that it would require at least two weeks. I expressed astonishment that such a long time would be required for a very simple operation. He advised me in most condescending terms that he could see that I had no understanding of the situation involved. He said, and I quote, "You must understand that you are required to take your turn." I didn't.

What the salesman (?) didn't know was that I had a secret weapon. Robert has some older brothers, so we borrowed a pair of trousers from one of them to tide him over Easter until we could go to a store in one of the smaller communities around Washington where the people have not forgotten real courtesy and salesmanship.

This will undoubtedly seem like a strange story to the people in the Panhandle, where the clerks in the stores have always had the reputation of being most courteous and most helpful to the customers. I sincerely hope that the courtesy and helpfulness on the part of the people in the many small and medium-sized towns in this country will infiltrate the metropolitan areas rather than vice versa.

If we lose the art of salesmanship at home in our own operations, how can we expect to sell our way of life in other sections of the world?

Highway Patrol Counts Damage In June Wrecks

The Highway Patrol investigated 5 accidents on Rural Highways in Deaf Smith County during the month of June, according to Sgt. Roger Sosebee, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.
 These wrecks accounted for two persons injured, and a property damage of $3,910.00.
 The Rural Traffic Accident Summary for Deaf Smith County during January through June of 1961 shows a total of 22 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were 12 persons injured and 3 persons killed. The estimated property damage amounted to $16,870.00. This compares with the first six months of 1960's total of 29 rural crashes injuring 15 people, killing no persons and causing an estimated property damage of $16,940.00.
 Throughout prior years accident statistics have shown that more accidents occur in the last six months of the year than in the first six months. With this thought in mind, Sosebee cautioned all motorists to exercise due care while traveling on streets and highways. "Speed control is vital to safety," Sosebee said, "because of the crowded conditions of the highways this summer caused by thousands of vacation travelers, most of whom are in a big hurry."

SHE CHECKS OUT BEST
 CHICAGO (AP) — A blue-eyed mother of three children reigns as queen of the supermarket checkers.
 Mrs. Donna Welcher of Osceola, Iowa, won a milk stole, two tickets for a two week tour of Hawaii and a golden statuette as well as the title of 1961 Checker of the Year.
 She was among 30,000 supermarket checkers in the U. S. and Canada judged on courtesy and job proficiency.
 Choir Rehearsal, 8 p.m. Wednesday. Prayer meeting Friday at 7:30 p.m.

BOUNCES WITH CHECK
 CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — Getting a bad check from a cross-country truck driver riled Don Bear, owner of a small Casper service station.
 He hopped in his car and drove 900 miles to LeCenter, Minn., to collect.

TAKES A TRIMMING
 BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — When an 18-year-old appeared in city court to answer charges of corner-lounging, City Judge James B. McKenna said he didn't like the boy's unruly locks.
 When the lad's mother said she was broke, the judge took up a collection and sentenced the youth to a barber's chair.

Bear not only received payment for the $50 check, but got another $100 to cover expenses of his trip.

Care of Feet
 The feet become thin or fat as their owner expands and contracts. If your shoes are feeling unusually tight, the best reducing treatment is a foot bath in epsom salts. The formula is: Four teaspoonfuls of the salt, two quarts of water. Soak the tootsies in this for about 30 minutes.
Milky Glasses
 Glasses that have been used for drinking milk should be rinsed in cold water before washing them in hot water. Heat dries the milk into the glass, giving it a cloudy appearance.
Revived Vegetables
 Vegetables that are a little old can be made more tender if a small amount of baking soda is added to the water used for boiling them.
Wicker Hampers
 Wicker clothes hampers should be coated with shellac regularly to keep them spic and span. Shellac is best applied by spraying, but may be brushed on.

in a fairly uniform coating if thinned with alcohol to a watery consistency. Use only fresh, white shellac.
Plaster Patch
 Small nail holes and cracks in white plastered walls can be filled in by patting in ordinary baking soda. It is a good idea to fill up all these holes and cracks in this manner before painting the walls.
Cleaning Felt
 A little steel wool, rubbed on soiled felt in the wrong direction of the material, will sometimes clean it very nicely. Do not rub too hard!
Flower Tube
 If the man of your house smokes one of the brands of cigars that come sealed in the glass test-tube type of container, you can improvise one of these little glass tubes as a bud vase for water-grown plants. All you have to do is insert it into a candleholder.
Children's Shoes
 When your small fry's shoes have become too badly scuffed to take a good polish, try rubbing them with a piece of raw potato, then applying your polish. This usually makes them shine like new.

How about a Fair Break for Railroads?
 we're asking your support for equal treatment by government of all carriers, including the railroads
 The Association of American Railroads has drawn up a document called "Magna Carta for Transportation."
 We're asking for public support of this common-sense statement on public transportation policy, hoping citizens will recognize that an entire industry that serves them is being deprived of its natural rights—and will want to help.
 What to do? Ask your congressman to help restore to the railroads these "four freedoms":
 • Freedom from discriminatory regulation
 • Freedom from discriminatory taxation
 • Freedom from subsidized competition
 • Freedom to provide a diversified transportation service

NOW'S THE TIME to save more truck dollars on the more-for-your-dollar trucks!
 Your truck dollars are worth a whole lot more at your Chevrolet dealer's right now! First off, you get a head start on saving because summer's the saving season. Then, with a harder working, easier riding Chevy truck, you're set to save every mile you haul. And, finally, at trade-in time, you can expect an extra dividend because of Chevy's traditionally higher resale value. What could be better?
 Summer's the season to get extra mileage from your dollars on the trucks built to give you extra miles of hauling. With Independent Front Suspension, Chevrolet trucks keep going thousands of miles longer because far less destructive jar and shake are transmitted through the truck. Chevy I.F.S. trucks work harder, too, in areas where other trucks have to be pampered. And, with Chevy's wide choice of thirty 6 and hardy V8 power, you can tailor your truck exactly to your job. So how can you miss—especially now during the summer saving season?

As We Forgive

A fine specimen of young manhood... maybe my neighbor or maybe yours. He is not a bad boy, just one without training. His parents don't like the church and actually boast of never attending. What a tragedy. How unfair to the children of such homes... to put "Other Gods first." This lad needs love, direction, guidance. He needs forgiveness, for only "as we forgive can we be forgiven." Police officers, "Big Brothers" and good church people help but it also requires being acquainted with God. Have you asked the court to parole a boy to you instead of allowing him to go to jail? Maybe he needs just one more chance. The manifold mercies of Heaven are available, if a man, woman or child will turn in good purpose to Him. The church on the corner can help any boy, or girl, or man, or woman. Won't you see for yourself?
