Band Wins Sweepstakes Honors

Success After 16 Long Years

BY WAIN MILLER
BRAND STAFF REPORTER

It took over 16 years to do it... but Hereford High School's Big Domino Band finally earned a Sweepstakes in Region XI I-AAA Interscholastic League band competition.

But the Hereford High School Big Domino Band was not content simply to win a Sweepstakes. The group "earned" its beautiful trophy with a performance which literally thrilled the audience on hand Wednesday afternoon at West Texas State College.

In order to earn the award, the Big Domino Band copped a division I rating in marching contest held last fall and then came through with 1's in both sightreading and concert performances last week.

Hereford's Stanton Junior High School Band also earned top honors at the contest while playing a "I" in concert and a "II" in sightreading. The band was the only one in class CC junior high to earn a "I" rating.

Performing three difficult compositions in concert competition, the high school band played so well that one of the three judges was so moved as to rate the band "I-plus" in its appearance.

One judge's sheet read in its entirety: "Beautiful looking band, March: Fine. Band: Yes, I like the way you did it. Beautiful playing. Rhapsody: Same as above. Congratulations: Fine band directors make fine bands."

Another judge commented, "The end of the concert was most exciting... the last chord almost lifted me out of my chair. This is an exceptional band and it is a real thrill to hear you play. Congratulations on a terrific job."

Anyone who has had any experience with Region XI UIL Band competition knows that judges traditionally devote entire pages to criticisms of even the best performances, but not so with the Big Domino Band's concert Wednesday in Canyon.

Judging the concert performances were James S. Matthew from the University of Houston, Joe Hadden from Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, and Gary T. Garner from the University of Southern California. J. W. King of Hale Center High School judged sightreading.

The 93 members of the concert band vowed last September that they would stop at nothing less than a Sweepstakes Trophy for their efforts this year.

But the really surprising thing about the band's vow is that it came true. Football fans remember a ragged marching appearance early in the fall, but within three weeks the band was in top shape and earned the coveted "I" in marching contest. The band's concert playing showed just as marked an improvement in time for the event last week.

Almost half of the band is comprised of Stanton Junior High School freshmen — 37 in all — who have had only three years of band experience.

With so much of the band facing a lack of experience problem, band director Ben Gollehon admits that he was not too optimistic when the bandmen declared they would make a Sweepstakes.

"A lot of students putting forth a lot of work and determination" is what earned the award, director Gollehon commented concerning the Sweepstakes trophy.

Since the conclusion of marching season in November, the bandmen have spent one and a half hours weekly in sectional.

HAPPY WAS THE WORD to describe members of the Hereford High School Big Domino Band and director Ben Gollehon as they admired their Sweepstakes Trophy received Wednesday in Canyon. The 93-member band earned the coveted award by taking first division ratings in concert and sightreading performances at the Regional University Interscholastic League Band Contest. The band had qualified to try for the award last fall by copping a "I" rating in a marching contest. (Staff Photo)

'Project Christmas Card' Fund Buys Heart Machine

Success of the 1962 "Project Christmas Card" may be measured in lives saved at the Deaf Smith County Hospital. A new machine purchased with funds donated to the project was placed into operation last week at the hospital.

Called an Electrolyne Electrocardiograph, the device is being used in surgery and in treatment of heart patients at the hospital. The unit monitors heartbeat, respiration, and pulse and automatically stimulates the heart when necessary.

Price of the compact unit complete with a portable stand was $1,585, according to hospital administrator T. E. Seigler. "Project Christmas Card" funds totalling $1,205 were used to buy the unit, with the hospital footing the remainder of the bill. An individual donation of $35 also helped pay for the device.

"Project Christmas Card," a drive sponsored annually since 1956 by the Hereford Medical Auxiliary, has now contributed a total of over $17,000 to be used in purchasing items for Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Commending the Medical Auxiliary for its accomplishments, the administrator pointed out that Project Christmas Card Funds have purchased an operating table, furniture for both the children's wing and the obstetrics ward, and a dishwasher for the hospital. Other project funds were used for the Hereford Community Center. In announcing the arrival of the machine, Seigler stated, "We are quite proud of this machine. These instruments are fairly new in the field, and few small hospitals have one."

When in use, the electrocardiograph allows hospital personnel to both hear and see the heart beat. The monitoring device amplifies heart sounds and also shows a visual "picture" of the heart pulses on a scope light pattern.

But the main advantage of the unit, Seigler explained, is the fact that the device automatically stimulates the heart when the organ shows signs of trouble.

The "Pacemaker" unit which is included in the electrocardiograph stimulates the heart through means of an electrical shock impulse. The unit reacts automatically if the heart begins to malfunction.

Seigler stated that the new unit will be used during all major surgery at the hospital in order to serve as an added safety check during operations.

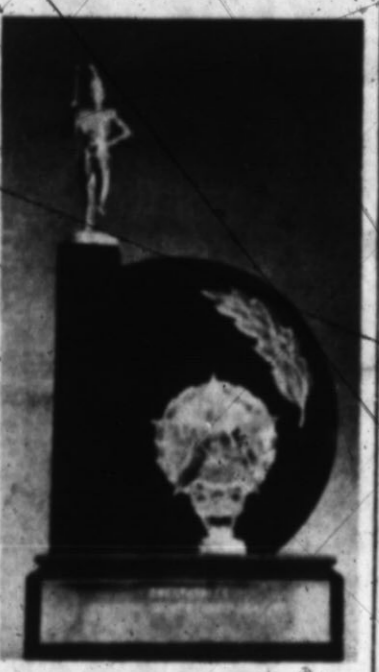

The electrocardiograph can also be used in the rooms of

Around Town

BY H. A. TUCK

First of all, cheers are in order for the devoted, hard-working members of the Big Domino Band for their Sweepstakes honors. They, with directors Ben Gollehon and Clyde Wilson, have done a tremendous job this year. They built a winner almost from scratch. Of the 93 members, only ten or so are seniors, with about 20 juniors and a like number of sophomores. The rest were freshmen who learned quickly and well.

So far as the official weather station is concerned, my prediction of last Thursday still holds true, unfortunately. We got a few sprinkles Friday, but not enough to even slow down the dust. There might possibly be some showers this weekend, but I'm not betting on anything before the middle of the week.

All members of the Oasis Shrine Club are to meet in the Jim Hill Hotel at 3 p. m. Sunday, April 28. From there, they will set out to collect donations for the trash barrels they have painted here. Members are to wear their lezes, so that residents will recognize them when they come calling Sunday afternoon. By the way, all donations will be used to help finance the annual children's clinic here next month and are tax-deductible.

Hereford Firm Is Burglarized

A break-in at Hereford Bakery, 519 Park Ave., about 11 p. m. Thursday resulted in the loss of $46 in change and cash, a butcher knife and a pair of scissors, according to Hereford Police Department.

The theft was discovered as a bakery truck driver from Amarillo, Roy McCustion, stopped at the rear of the firm to unload his truck.

He reported to investigating officers that as he stopped at the building, he saw an automobile parked by the rear door in the alley. When the truck stopped, the vehicle sped away from the building.

Upon investigation by police officers, a hole was found in the glass window of the rear door.

The money and articles were not discovered until Friday morning when the owner, Debbs Knox, looked through the firm.

Patronage Checks Spark Coop. Meet

Checks totalling $60,000 were passed out Thursday when members of the Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Cooperative held their annual meeting.

The checks were patronage refund checks for 1951. Similar checks for 1952 are being prepared now. The refunds were authorized as the cooperative showed a profit in those years.

Outside of small checks for 1946, these refunds are the first to be issued to area members. It is planned that repayments will be made annually. Cooperative manager Leo Forrest said the largest single check was for almost $2,000.

During an election of two directors, Joe Birkenfeld was re-elected from Castro County and A. T. Frye was re-elected from Deaf Smith County. Other candidates were Lawrence Acker, from Castro County, and R. T. Stewart, from Deaf Smith County.

A vocal group from Hereford High School was first place in the talent contest. The Highlanders accepted for their school a trophy and $25 for use by the school music program. The Highlanders include Dick Combs, Charles Kelly and Ron Gray, accompanied by Charles Mims.

Also competing was a clarinet quartet from Farwell High School. Comprising the group were Diane Loveless, Jeannie Blair, Susan Blair and Janet Price. The school's music program was awarded $25 cash.

Also recognized during the meeting was Nancy Tyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Tyler of Walcott, who will receive a $50 prize for her essay and scrapbook on cooperatives. Earnest Langley served as master of ceremonies for the meeting in the Bull Barn with Cotton John Smith of Amarillo presiding for the talent show. Sloan H. Osborn of Friona, president of the board, called the meeting to order and made the official welcome.

During his report, Forrest explained the patronage refund checks and how they were being distributed. He also made a talk on the 90 days he spent in Colombia on a leave of absence.

Acreage Notices On 1964 Wheat Crop Are Mailed

Notices on the 1964 wheat crop acreage allotments in Deaf Smith County have been mailed to all wheat farm operators in the county, according to Frank Bezner, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

In making the announcement, the county chairman stated that the each allotment represents the farm's share of the 49.3 million acre 1964 national wheat acreage.

For small farms — those with wheat allotments of less than 15 acres — the allotment represents either the farm's allotment based on the national acreage or 90 per cent of the farm's average 1959-61 wheat acreage. In either case, it does not exceed 15 acres.

Bezner pointed out that all wheat produced on a participating farm's allotted acreage may be marketed free of penalty if marketing quotas are approved for the 1964 crop.

The question of whether or not marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1964 crop will be decided by wheat growers in a referendum to be held on May 21.

Wheat producers from a four-county area heard representatives from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service discuss the 1964 wheat program proposals, the issues involved, and what would probably happen if the program was either rejected or accepted by growers voting in the May 21 referendum.

In the two sessions held at Hereford Community Center on Thursday, some 100 producers from Deaf Smith, Castro, Farmer and Oldham counties attended.

As the session opened at 9:30 a. m., Ben Spears, extension service agronomist, outlined the proposals of the 1964 Wheat program.

In his opening remarks, Spears commented, "The Food and Agriculture Act of 1962 includes two alternative programs for wheat. One is designed to regulate production through marketing quotas, and acreage controls and the other to eliminate virtually all restrictions on wheat production."

Producers voting in the May 21 referendum can put the first proposal in effect if two-thirds of those voting approve it. The second alternative will be in effect if less than two-thirds vote "yes," he remarked.

For a producer to qualify to vote, he must have a wheat acreage allotment greater than 15 acres, commented the agronomist. In Texas both the husband and wife are eligible to vote if the allotment is on community property.

"If the county committee has determined that both husband and wife are responsible under a verbal lease or if both have signed a written lease," he explained, "both are eligible to vote."

He also pointed out that a landowner and tenant may both vote if the owner receives as payment a share of the wheat crop.

Among the others who are eligible are members of a partnership, a representative of an organization as an administrator or executor of an estate or a trustee or guardian.

He then went into the proposals of the program "outlining how allotments had been established, payments and price supports, penalties and land diversion.

"The law has eliminated the 15-acre exemption for small farms," the extension service agent commented. "Also 30 acres of wheat for home use has also been eliminated."

Spears continued stating that producers with less than 15 acre allotments may elect to participate or not to participate in the 1964 program.

Speaking next during the morning session was Tom Aaron, grain marketing specialist of the extension service. In his talk Aaron set the tone of the meeting outlining the purposes of each of the remaining talks.

The role of agricultural economics was discussed by a speaker.

Courthouse Gets Treatment To Cure Its Skin Problems

After over 50 years of exposure to Panhandle weather, Deaf Smith County Courthouse is now receiving a health treatment for its marble skin.

Cleaning of surfaces on the building has been completed and workmen are now beginning to service mortar joints and tighten loose marble blocks.

The project not only provides for a more attractive face for the courthouse but it also insures longer life of the outer surfaces of the building.

When J. Sivadon Co. of Fort Worth finishes the project, the external portions of the building will be "as good as new," according to the head of the firm which is doing the job.

Sivadon, who has been in the business for over 25 years, explained that sandblasting process is valuable in smoothing up the stone surfaces and making the building more weather resistant.

Sand used in the cleaning process — some 25 yards of it — came from local wells at a depth of some 75 to 100 feet deep. The sand, scientifically lubbed silica, is the same material used in the manufacture of glass and in making synthetic marble.

Explaining the cleaning operation, J. Sivadon stated, "About 15 years ago we discovered that this is the best material to use to clean marble surfaces such

Herd Edges By Nazareth; Demons Here On Tuesday

Hereford won its fifth game of the season at Nazareth Friday, beating the Swifts 12-10 on a wind-swept diamond.

The wind and absence of an outfield fence helped account for the seven home runs, one triple, and five doubles hit during the game.

On Tuesday, the Whitefaces will enter district competition again as they host the league-leading Dumas Demons. The

Fly Stars And Stripes May 1 For Loyalty Day

Loyalty Day will be sponsored in Hereford on Wednesday, May 1, by Roy Wedderbrook Post 4818, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"We would encourage every citizen of Hereford and Deaf Smith County to fly the American flag and reaffirm his patriotism and loyalty to the United States on Loyalty Day," declared E. N. Johnson, post commander.

Mayor Ray Cowser has declared May 1 to be Loyalty Day in Hereford and urging all citizens to recognize their heritage of American freedoms.

Loyalty Day was originated by the national VFW in an effort to combat the traditional May Day rallies of communists in other countries and in the United States. Loyalty Day now has been so designated by the U. S. Congress.

County 4-H Club Members Speak At Toastmasters

Two Deaf Smith County 4-H club contestants in the 4-H district contest gave their contest speeches at the regular Tuesday meeting of Hereford Toastmasters Club.

Speaking at the meeting were Miss Joyce Bezner, the county's representative in the junior division of the public speaking contest, and Miss Maura McAndrews, senior girls contest entrant.

Both of the guest speakers spoke at the club meeting in order to have their talks evaluated. Miss Bezner, who spoke on "Petroleum In Our Daily Lives" is a member of Ford 4-H Club. Speaking on "4-H A Many Splendored Club" was Miss McAndrews. The county representative in the senior girls elimination contest is a member of Willing Workers 4-H Club.

Regular speaker at the Toastmasters meeting was J. Raymond Flores. His speech was entitled "Diplomas For Diplomacy."

Serving as toastmaster for the meeting was Bill Penn with Alvin Smith serving as general critic. Robert Rott was the table topic chairman. Presiding officer at the meeting was Virgil Dodson. Flores gave the invocation.

Accompanying the 4-H club speech contestants were Mrs. Jean Beene, assistant county home demonstration agent, Elizabeth Hunicut of Durkaseta. Members attending the meeting were Kenneth Rudd, Stan Knox, Don Chaney, Bruce Miller, Dr. Milton C. Adams, Harold Benson, Penn, Flores, Rott, Dodson, and Smith.

Lone Star Study Club Reviews Value, Purpose

In a program, presented by Mrs. Jim Higgins, the Lone Star Study Club reviewed the purposes and values of study clubs. The original purpose of clubs, she stated, was to better conditions in towns and communities. Mrs. Higgins then told of the first clubs and federations of clubs, which first occurred nationally in 1889. She closed the program by reading news items concerning the works of other clubs.

During the meeting, which was held in the home of Mrs. L. L. LeGrand on April 23, plans were made for the closing luncheon to be held on May 14 at the Western Wheel Inn. Mrs. Coy Phillips, president, was the presiding officer.

Mrs. LeGrand and Mrs. S. S. Williams were co-hostesses. Other members present were Mesdames R. G. Blue, Opal Bookout, L. L. Chisum, V. E. Dodson, J. J. Durham, A. T. Frye, Jim Higgins, John N. Jacobson Jr., C. D. Kelton, Coy Phillips, S. S. Williams, Baker Womble, Ed Warren, Chris Jacobsen, and Mildred Elliott.

Heather Gordon Is Speaker For Camp Fire Tea

Miss Heather Gordon, exchange student from Johannesburg, South Africa, was the guest speaker at an international tea held Wednesday afternoon by the Shishinta Camp Fire group, as the girls moved one step nearer to completion of their Woodgatherer rank.

The girls were entertained by Heather's comparisons of school habits, costumes, and activities between her native land and America, and were stunned when they were told that Johannesburg did not have television.

Presiding at the tea table, which featured a centerpiece of white spring flowers, was Karen Bain, and refreshments were served to Miss Gordon, Mesdames Ernest Neff, W. R. Hair, Vance Crumie, Stan Sigman, Ed Coffman, Gayle Borland and Irene Boardman, special guests. Leaders of the group are Mrs. Joan Yarbrow, Mrs. Baxter London, and Mrs. Beebe Taylor.

ble, a home run by Schulte, followed by a single, and error, a passed ball and another single. Hereford put four runners on base in the fourth, but couldn't score any of them.

Nazareth took over a 7-4 lead in the fourth on three singles, a walk and two fielder's choices.

Then Hereford exploded for five runs in the fifth to regain the lead 9-7. Duncan got on by error and Willoughby unloaded a homer. Lynn Cook walked and was tripled in by David Stevens. Hill ran for Stevens, but was caught at home as Boynton got on by fielder's choice. Frank Cain then lifted a long head for a two-run homer.

The score was tied again in the last of the fifth on a single and a home run by Schmucker. Hereford again came back in the sixth for two runs and an 11-9 edge. Moreno walked, Willoughby got his second double and Green singled in drive in both runs.

Final Hereford run came in the seventh as Boynton got on by error, took second on a passed ball, went to third on a fly ball and came in as Ramirez bunted.

With two out in the last of the seventh, Schmucker got his second homer. An error and a single put two on with two out. Lupe Ramirez was relieved by Gary Kendrick, who got the next batter to fly out to left field.

Willoughby swung the big stick for Hereford with two doubles and a homer in four times up. Green used a home run and a single for five runs batted in during four times up. Boynton also hit twice in four times.

Schmucker was the top hitter for Nazareth with two home runs and a double in five trips. Francis Backus started for Nazareth and was charged with four runs on four hits in two innings while striking out one and walking one. Philip Brockman worked five innings and was tagged with the loss. He gave up eight runs on eight hits, walked three and struck out four.

Lupe Ramirez went just one out short of a complete game to pick up the victory. He allowed 10 runs on 15 hits, walked two and struck out three.

Nazareth was charged with four errors and Hereford had three.

heart patients in the same manner, he added.

"The hospital hopes soon to be able to purchase an External-Internal Defibrillator to go with this unit so that we will have a complete setup," Seigler stated.

The defibrillator would cost about $600 and would be used with the electrocardiograph. The unit would boost the stimulating effect of the new device.

"We also hope to get another attachment which could be linked to the electrocardiogram to show a permanent written record of actions of both the heart and the machine," Seigler commented.

"These are other items that are not needed too often, but which can be quite important when needed," he added.

Explaining that the local hospital can now boast one of the most well-equipped surgical rooms of any small hospital in the area, Seigler pointed out that there is some $50,000 invested in the one room and the equipment which it contains.

Purchase of the electrocardiograph with "Project Christmas Card" funds shows how local donations are being used to buy equipment useful in saving local lives.

rehearsals, besides the regular band rehearsals. Extra night rehearsals were held as the contest deadline neared.

Hereford had the best band in 1-AAA competition at the contest. Phillips also earned a Sweepstakes, but did not receive a I+ plus rating. Dumas rated II in concert and I in sight-reading.

Amarillo High School and Pampa High School earned Sweepstakes in the AAAA division.

Explaining the meaning of the Sweepstakes trophy to Hereford bandmen, Gollehon pointed out that a Hereford band has never earned Sweepstakes. Before 1946, the band earned a similar award under the direction of Ralf Smith.

The award highlights the year for the Hereford High School Band, which still has fond remembrances of its trip to Dallas this year to appear in the Cotton Bowl Parade as a result of having a reputation for being an outstanding band.

"The first Sweepstakes is the hardest one," Gollehon declared, recalling the many "near misses" of past Hereford Bands.

Commending school administration officials for providing "a better setup for musical education in lower grades," Gollehon credited much of the band's success this year to the renovation of the music program which has come about in the past few years.

Gollehon pointed out that the Stanton Jr. High School band, under the direction of Clyde Wilson (who was awarded the Outstanding Band Student Award last week from the West Texas State University Band), also earned top honors this year.

The group was the only class CC junior high band to earn I in UIL ratings Tuesday in Canyon. The junior high band earned II's in sight-reading and marching performances, and copped a I at the Seagraves Marching Contest. The band is comprised entirely of seventh and eighth graders.

"I would like to thank all school personnel who have supported band this year," Gollehon stated, "and particularly Wylie Quattlebaum, Stanton Junior High School principal, who has cooperated in allowing the freshmen to appear with the high school band."

"And I think the students deserve a big pat on the back for the work and determination which they put forth in earning the Sweepstakes," he added.

sence to help the state of North Santander establish a rural electric cooperative.

He announced that Pablo Ramirez, power use advisor for the Colombian coop, would return to Hereford next month. Ramirez returned to the United States with Mr. and Mrs. Forrest and visited here before attending a university short course on electric cooperatives.

"Now we have gotten word that Pablo will be here in May and that he's bringing four other South Americans with him to see the Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Cooperative," Forrest said.

He also noted that the manager of the North Santander cooperative would be in Hereford for a visit in June.

Prior to the afternoon meeting, more than 1000 persons were served at a free barbecue prepared by the Hereford Rotary Club.

onomists making the economic analysis is to help wheat producers have a clearer understanding and a better appreciation of some of the causes, something about the nature, and some of the possible consequences of the present wheat situation and the new wheat program proposed by the Federal government," he explained.

The role, defined in another way, he continued, is that of "decision assisters."

"That is to say, our responsibility is not to argue whether the proposed program and the attendant consequences are good or bad, right or wrong. These arguments are the responsibility of the wheat farmer, the farm organizations, and officials of the Department of Agriculture—all decision makers."

There are great differences of opinion among agricultural leaders concerning what is needed to improve the wheat situation, he declared.

"These differences, in my judgment, are normal, useful, and productive behavior patterns in a wide awake democracy," he stated. "They stimulate research, provoke thoughtful discussion, and motivate individuals and groups to seek better living. They are not wasteful practices."

He then pointed out why persons have differences of opinion in relation to the issues involved in the 1964 wheat program, and explained the purpose of the meeting—the presentation of facts on economic principles involved, the different points of view, and possible consequences.

The morning session adjourned with a question and answer session.

James Murphy, area farm management specialist compared the economic returns under various alternatives of the program.

In concluding his talk, he commented that in some producers' minds the immediate financial returns may not be the only considerations that seem important.

These considerations which seem to be less desirable, he remarked, are reduction in freedom relation to production and marketing of wheat, anxiety about the status of lease agreements, and a change in the status of small growers.

Those considered desirable by other growers, he added, included the risk of a crop failure is reduced, penalty on excess wheat can be avoided by storing under bond, and the public image of cost of the wheat program may improve if surplus stocks are reduced.

Aaron, speaking again, outlined the basic considerations of wheat supply and demand and discussed world wheat production, surplus stocks and Texas wheat production.

As he spoke he pointed out that wheat producers could possibly face a demand expansion program, a supply control program or a combination of the two.

He commented that demand expansion programs have been very popular in discussions to eliminate crop surpluses. But, by increasing the demand for one product, demand for another is decreased.

"A demand expansion program for wheat consumption by humans in the U. S. probably would not be too successful," he remarked, "because studies have shown that as per capita incomes rise, per capita consumption of wheat products declines."

He defined a supply control program as one that seeks to raise prices by limiting the amount of a product offered for sale.

"The program with which the wheat referendum is concerned is a form of supply control program as is the old acreage allotment program," he commented.

In concluding his remarks, Aaron stated that no program places the farmer virtually in a position of operating in the area of pure competition.

In his remarks concerning the wheat program, C. H. Bates, farm economist, discussed the reasoning behind purposes.

He briefly compared the program proposed by the 1962 agriculture act and the act of 1961 pointing out the provisions objectives of each.

The new act, stated Bates, calls for the secretary of Agriculture to develop a wheat program along the guide lines established by Congress.

Under the provisions of the law, the secretary developed a program and has listed its primary objectives as the orderly reduction of stock to balance supply and demand, keeping of adequate reserve supplies, fair prices, preventing wheat acreage diversion from adversely affecting other commodities, and reduction of government costs.

He also pointed out the USDA position on a "no" vote in the referendum.

As the meeting was concluded, W. W. Gisham, district agricultural agent commented that facts, principles and issues which it is hoped, will assist wheat producers to make a wise decision had been presented.

"We urge you to seek out other sources of information in the general and commodity farm organization, agribusiness groups, the USDA, and agricultural committees of Congress," he said.

In his remarks concerning the wheat program, C. H. Bates, farm economist, discussed the reasoning behind purposes.

He briefly compared the program proposed by the 1962 agriculture act and the act of 1961 pointing out the provisions objectives of each.

The new act, stated Bates, calls for the secretary of Agriculture to develop a wheat program along the guide lines established by Congress.

Under the provisions of the law, the secretary developed a program and has listed its primary objectives as the orderly reduction of stock to balance supply and demand, keeping of adequate reserve supplies, fair prices, preventing wheat acreage diversion from adversely affecting other commodities, and reduction of government costs.

He also pointed out the USDA position on a "no" vote in the referendum.

As the meeting was concluded, W. W. Gisham, district agricultural agent commented that facts, principles and issues which it is hoped, will assist wheat producers to make a wise decision had been presented.

"We urge you to seek out other sources of information in the general and commodity farm organization, agribusiness groups, the USDA, and agricultural committees of Congress," he said.

Million Dollar Rain Is Worth Keeping

When it rains in the Texas Panhandle, many times the term "million dollar rain" is used and most everyone understands what this means. However, not too many farmers and ranchers realize that on any given 160 acres, when a one-inch rain falls it delivers 4,386,000 gallons of water! Just think of it — over four million gallons of water on 160 acres with just a one-inch rain.

If the dryland farmer had to haul the equivalent of a one-inch rain and put in on 160 acres of his land, it would require 544 rail tank cars on four trains, each over a mile long!!

To the irrigated farmer with an irrigation well pumping 800 gallons per minute it would take nearly four days and nights to pump the equivalent of a one-inch rain on 160 acres. But yet how many farmers allow rains to run off their land without any attempt to hold the moisture near where it falls? How many farm their land straight up and down the slopes to encourage these "million dollar rains" to run off? Each farmer should ask himself "Just what am I going to conserve soil and water?"

The Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District encourages Deaf Smith county farmers and ranchers to become more conservation minded and make those raindrops count. Right now, when we are extremely dry, all farmers and ranchers should make plans to conserve the valuable rainfall when it comes. The local SCD has noted an increased application of conservation practices in the past few years. Many farmers are taking steps to conserve soil and water but there are still too many who haven't started their conservation plans.

The most common practices being used to help conserve soil and water are: stubble mulching, parallel terraces, diversions, waterways, bench leveling, field leveling, irrigated pastures, and irrigation pipelines. Cost sharing assistance is available through the Great Plains Conservation Program carrying out these practices.

The Tierra Blanca SCD urges farmers and ranchers to develop and apply sound conservation plans to help hold these "million dollar rains". Technical assistance is available from the SCS office.

The Statue of Liberty was designed and made by M. Bartholdi, a French architect and sculptor.

REPORT

Wahanka Camp Fire girls held an outdoor ceremonial in the patio at the Community Center on Wednesday afternoon, supervised by the leader, Mrs. Aubyn Hodges, and her assistant, Mrs. J. R. Euler.

Highlight of the afternoon was the presentation of honor beads, earned by the girls during the past several months, all of which are accumulating toward Woodgatherer rank.

The ceremonial was opened with the girls participating in singing the Camp Fire Law, and each girl was asked to tell briefly what she considered her most interesting accomplishment while working for rank.

The group is currently engaged in a cooking school activity.

Campfire Leader Reappointed To National Council

Mrs. Virgil Marsh of Hereford has been re-elected to serve her second year on the National Council of Camp Fire, representing Region IV, which embraces Camp Fire councils in five states: Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Serving on the national council are 129 representatives from the various regional divisions, and national board members are elected from the council.

Mrs. Marsh was first named to the Council one year ago. During 1962 she attended the national meeting in Cleveland, Ohio, and is making tentative plans to attend the meeting in San Francisco, to be held in November.

Active in Camp Fire for some years, Mrs. Marsh served as leader of a group in Hereford for three years, was chairman of the leaders' association for one year, has been Camp Fire camp director for the past two years and will continue in that position in 1963, and is also serving as training chairman for the Hereford council at present.

Marriage Solemnized In Davenport, Iowa

Sacred Heart Cathedral in Davenport, Iowa, was the scene of the wedding of Margaret Ann Lampe and David Eugene Albracht. The Right Reverend Monsignor Thomas J. Feeney read the double ring ceremony on Saturday, April 20, at 10 a. m.

The bride, who has been living at 907 East Locust Street in Davenport, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lampe of Des Moines, Iowa. She is a graduate of Saint Columbkille's High School, Dubuque, and has a Bachelor of Arts Degree from Marycrest College, Davenport. She is teaching second grade in Garfield School, Davenport.

The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Albracht, formerly of Hereford and now living in Amarillo. He is a graduate of Price Memorial College in Amarillo and is a senior student at Palmer Chiropractic College, Davenport.

He also is employed at WOC Television Studios in Davenport.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a bridal gown of white imported satin fashioned with a chapel train. The front panels and the tapered sleeves were accentuated with Alencon lace, studded with tiny seed pearls. The neckline featured a scalloped effect developed from the design of the lace. Her fingertip veil was of silk illusion crowned by a cabbage rose of white satin and pearls. She carried a bouquet of two cymbidium orchids surrounded by white sweetheart roses.

The sister of the bride, Miss Judy Lampe of Des Moines, was maid of honor. Miss Coreen Collins of Davenport was the bridesmaid. They wore gowns of aqua nylon organza over taffeta with matching headpieces of cabbage roses and short veils.

The groom's cousin, Gary Don Kriegshauser of Hereford, was best man. His brother, Roderick Albracht of Amarillo, was a groomsman. Ushers were Elmer Henninger and Dick Lawson, both of Davenport.

After a reception, held at El Rancho Villa in Davenport, the bridal couple left for a honeymoon trip to Chicago, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Albracht are living at 907 East Locust Street in Davenport.

Reveal Engagement Of Margaret Hudson

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hudson of 114 Avenue I have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Margaret, to Leon Wesley, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Wesley of Canyon. The future bride is a student at West Texas State University and the prospective bridegroom is employed by an Amarillo firm.

Miss Carol Newell, Mr. Edwards To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord William Newell, Danmitt Highway, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carol Ann, to Larry Wayne Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wayne Edwards, 112 Centre Street.

The double ring ceremony will take place on Aug. 28 in the First Methodist Church of Hereford.

Miss Newell is a 1959 graduate of Hereford High School and will receive a Bachelor of Science degree in education from Oklahoma State University in May. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi, social sorority.

Mr. Edwards is also a 1959 graduate of Hereford High School and will receive a Bachelor of Science degree from Oklahoma State University in May. He will resume his course of study in the School of Veterinary Medicine this fall. He is a member of the American Veterinary Medical Association and Alpha Psi, professional veterinary fraternity. Both are listed on the Dean's honor roll.

Fun And Profit Results Of King's Manor Art Classes

A silver tea service, a punch bowl and serving cups, and an air conditioner are among the items which residents of King's Manor have acquired lately through practice of their hobby.

It wasn't really planned this way, but that's how it has worked out. More than $200 has been earned since Christmas by a group of hobbyists at the Methodist retirement home. Members of an arts and crafts class, the residents display their work at King's Manor.

Visitors there often buy items completed, although the group did not have the idea of selling their handiwork when it started. Paintings, sewing work, plaques, dishes, and dolls are only a portion of the goods which have been made in the classes.

Instructing the class, which meets each Wednesday, are Mrs. Earl Plank and Mrs. Casey Thomas.

Much of the materials used in the class are donated to members, while they also buy with their profits goods which they do not have. Of course, many of the residents were skilled in their hobby.

Buying, Cleaning Carpet Subject For Club Meet

On Wednesday, April 24, the Simms Study - Craft Club met in the home of Mrs. Leland Burns. The program for the day, presented by Mrs. Burns, was on buying and cleaning carpet.

New officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. Robert Lloyd, president; Mrs. Jim Perrin, vice-president; Mrs. J. M. Boothe Jr., secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Lewis West, assistant secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Dorene Couch, reporter; Mrs. Leland Burns, parliamentarian. Refreshments were served to Mesdames Leland Burns, Dorene Couch, Robert Lloyd, J. M. Boothe Jr., Austin Rose, H. G. Hetzler, Roscoe Pinnell, Bud Heaton, Allen Ershman, Lewis West, and Terrell Hodges.

by long before they came to King's Manor. Many of the class members have a large store of their handiwork (so much that King's Manor would have a little trouble finding enough for an arts and crafts show, says one resident.) A large variety exists in the work, which entertains both men and women at the home. At any rate, King's Manor residents are without half trying... making the opportunity to buy many "extras" for their use.

Scout Program For Churches To Be Discussed

A number of Hereford Scout leaders, ministers and church laymen are expected to attend special programs Monday and Tuesday on "The Scouting Program in Protestant Churches." Dr. Al E. Iverson, director of Protestant relationships of Boy Scouts of America, New Brunswick, N. J., will conduct the two programs. The first will start at 7:30 p. m. Monday, April 29 in Room 101 of the First Baptist Church in Amarillo. It will be designed to show laymen, Den Mothers, Scoutmasters and other unit leaders how the Scouting program can further the aims of their church by sponsoring Scout units.

The other part of the program, particularly for ministers and church leaders, will be held at Camp Leon Harrington on Tuesday, April 30, starting at 9:30 a. m.

Bruce Miller, chairman of the Tierra Blanca District, urges all interested persons to be present.

Units sponsored by Protestant churches in the Hereford area are: Pack 54, Troop 32 and Post 32, sponsored by First Methodist Church; Pack 52, sponsored by the First Christian Church; Pack 51 and Troop 151, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church; Troop 52, sponsored by St. Paul's Methodist Church; Troop 150, sponsored by the Westway Baptist Church; and Troop 152 and Pack 152, sponsored by the Mt. Sinai Baptist Church.

Club Warned Of Having Children Too Organized

Children of today have no time to just "play" or to daydream. All outside activities have become so highly organized by adults that in some cases the children must keep appointment-books. So much stress is put on "excelling" in social, academic, and athletic abilities that many children are becoming neurotics before they are ten years old.

These and other points were made by Mrs. Ben Childers as she presented the program for the El Nino Study Club. Many of her remarks were based on an article entitled "The Plot to Abolish Childhood," which appeared in Redbook Magazine in June, 1962.

Members of El Nino met for the program in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. on April 22. Officers were elected and plans for their installation were made. The new officers will be installed at a salad supper in the home of Mrs. G. D. Calson during the next regular meeting.

Mrs. Melvin Young was the hostess for the meeting. Other members present were Mesdames Jim Bookout, R. A. Daniels, Kendall Williams, John Jacobson Jr., Ben Childers, Ivan Block, Jack Walker, Wayne Thomas, and G. D. Calson.

meeting were Mesdames Charles Springer, J. E. Smelzer, Don Hamilton, David Brumley, Jerry George, Dallas Phillips, Jim Arney, Jim Carnahan, Durrel Dirks, Pat Ferguson, Don Newman, David Patterson, Ed Rinn, Homer Rudd, Bobby Spelton, Wendell Maloney and Ray Simpson.

The state of Delaware has a perfect circular arc for one of its boundaries.

Young Mothers Study Club Has "Bedtime" Talk

Young Mothers Study Club met in the Flame Room on Monday, April 29, 1963. The program, presented by Mrs. Charles Springer, was "Bedtime Without Bedlam."

Points emphasized by Mrs. Springer included a regular routine at bedtime from the time the baby is born. The nightly bath should be a quiet visiting time for mother and child. The child should then be put to bed without fuss. She concluded the program with the poem, "The Billionaire."

Mrs. Howard Hunter presided at the business meeting, during which officers were elected. Those chosen were Mrs. B. B. Veigel, president; Mrs. Wendell Maloney, vice-president; Mrs. Ed Rinn, recording secretary; Mrs. Jerry George, corresponding secretary and reporter; Mrs. Charles Springer, treasurer; and Mrs. Ray Simpson, historian.

"One of the most remarkable tools I have seen in many years."

One of the nation's top farm editors said that about the Rolling Cultivator. He was right. This amazing once-over all-over machine will break crust, mulch soil, weed crops—even form beds if you want to—in one high-speed operation. That isn't all, but it's enough to give you some idea of the versatility and value of this tremendous money-maker. It's a tractor-sparing, labor-saving tool that belongs on every farm.

Music Study Club Program Traces History Of Organs

On April 22 the Music Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Lowell Sharp for a program of organ music and a study of the history of the organ.

After the club members sang the national anthem, Mrs. J. Alston played "Largo" from "New World Symphony" by Dvorak and "Elevation" by Alexandre Gullmant.

An aria from "Oratorio Elijah" by Mendelssohn, was played by Mrs. Lowell Sharp. Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" was played by Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait. The program of organ selections was concluded by Mrs. Joe Hacker, who played "The Lord's Prayer," by Malote.

Mrs. Bill Bradley presented the program on the history of the organ and organ music. The organ originated, she stated, in ancient Greece. It was introduced into the churches in the 7th century, but not until the 15th century did it become the instrument known today for its volume, variety, and grandeur of tone. Bach wrote many selections designed for the church organ.

The modern pipe organ, she continued, is a key board instrument, its sounds created by pipes acting upon a current of air. Before 1850 the action was mechanical. The valves were operated by direct leverage, which required great muscular effort on the part of the organist. Today electro-pneumatic action makes the organ as easy to play as the piano.

About 1930 the first electric organs were developed. These have no pipes or amplifiers, and tubes produce somewhat the same tonal effect as small pipe organs.

At first, Mrs. Bradley went on, the organ was strictly an instrument for the large church, but now most churches and many homes have organs on one kind or another.

In conclusion Mrs. Bradley urged that the organ in the home be treated as a prized possession, something more than a beautiful piece of furniture. It should be nurtured with the loving care it so richly deserves. It should then be a joy forever.

The president, Mrs. E. Coombes, presided. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Lowell Sharp and Mrs. James Alston. Other members present were Mes- Bill Bradley, W. T. Carmichael, James J. R. Allison, J. Alston, B. Y. Crosthwait, Bill Dame-

ron, W. E. Dameron, Cliff Estes, H. K. Fox, Dick Godwin, Joe Hacker, Bill Lankford, J. C. McCracken, C. J. Mountz, S. O. Wilson, J. P. Slaton, F. Parker, T. W. Roberson, R. F. Conway, J. T. Gilbreath, and Miss Frances Dameron.

Bureaucrats Enter 'Back Door' To Cattle Controls

Some people argue that the United States is a "republic" rather than a "democracy" but, should the recent Securities Exchange Commission efforts to take over the cattle business succeed, we will unquestionably become a "bureaucracy" form of government.

We say this because the cattlemen definitely voted down the referendum when they had the opportunity—and it still looks as if the government intends to tell them how to operate their business. As a result, the minority will rule, rather than the majority. All which makes us wonder whether the excitement we hear these days about the forthcoming wheat referendum is really very important at all.

This is especially true if the government expects to take over by some hairline technicality, regardless of how the farmers vote. In addition to the cattle business, we have observed frequently the same system in other fields. National integration, for instance, came into focus as a result of interpretation by the Supreme Court, rather than from any change in the laws, which have not been altered since the Civil War; wage-hour regulations have likewise been extended through the same methods. When the people and their elected officials turned down federal control of education proposals, we have seen a definite effort to enter this field through sundry channels, including federal funds which would follow the explicit route of FHA regulations through which federal agencies control local housing situations, once people come to depend upon this source of supply.

This business of coming through the "back door" is nothing new in politics, and especially in the operation of federal bureaus. Frequently, it is the only means through which the minority can have its way and, too often, the majority accepts the verdict without a struggle or a whimper, due to red tape and high costs. It is especially hard to fight a bureau, chiefly because they make all of the rules—and interpret them anew from time to time.

Needless to say, many Americans are pondering over these exact conditions, and out of their efforts have grown several organizations, a few of which are so radical as to give conservatism a bad name. Still, no one has come up with a sane, practical answer to the problem. When bureaucracy moved in on a large scale, first under Franklin D. Roosevelt, the "die hards" predicted that once it got a foothold, it would never release an inch—and their prediction certainly seems to be one of truth. It could lead to the ultimate downfall of any form of government, especially now that the minority groups appear to be taking over the majority, regardless of how the people vote.

The time may come when circumstances will change but, today, it seems to us that "bureaucracy" is a far greater threat to our form of government than is communism, including Russia, Cuba and all of the other menaces about which we fret and worry.

We still have the finest form of government and the greatest country the world has ever known. The big question, which face all of us, is: "How do we keep it that way?"

Shrine Barrels Kill Two Birds

Hereford Shrine club members are once again painting trash barrels in a program that deserves undivided cooperation on the part of every Hereford citizen.

The fund raising plan is one of the few which successfully "kills two birds with one stone". Primarily, it raises money to finance a clinic for crippled children, through which some 200 youngsters will receive beneficial diagnosis and assistance; at the same time, it affords sanitary protection and civic improvements for the entire community. Another phase of the program which many people endorse is the fact that all barrels will be painted, regardless of whether the owners pay for the service or not—and the Shrine members collect donations at a later date. This is apparently the only means through which the community could ever attain 100 percent participation in the civic improvement phase of the program.

Following the last barrel painting program sponsored by the club, practically every resident of the community expressed appreciation for the service—and club leaders reported that a tremendous percent of the owners did make contributions to the clinic fund.

Most people, of course, are familiar with the Tri-State clinic through which youngsters are handled here each year on a free basis, thanks to Shrine participation and the donation of time by some of the leading medical men of the nation.

We feel sure that this worthy cause might easily be financed through public solicitations; but it is appreciated all the more in view of the fact that the sponsors have chosen to finance it through a worthwhile community project, rather than seek outright donations. Therefore, when the collection group knocks on your door, remember that this is one cause with a double-barrel purpose. Certainly, it is an occasion in which we should participate to the best of our ability.

YOUTH CENTER IDEA TURNED DOWN

Olton Recreation Club members voted 43 to 26 Tuesday night against a proposal to establish a youth center in the ORC clubhouse. The youth center was voted down when teen-age dancing became the chief issue. President Louis Hair told the audience, "ORC board of directors elected last week to let the general membership decide on the question." A notice was sent out last week to ORC members telling of the youth center and the probability of adult-sponsored dancing. The center would have been sponsored by the Olton Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

NEW INDUSTRY FORMED

Littlefield has a new industry—thanks to the Chamber of Commerce industrial committee, newspaper publicity, and community effort. A local corporation, with 13 stockholders, has been formed under the name of Littlefield Manufacturing Co. The company was organized primarily to manufacture a machine to pick up cotton from a stripped field, but may expand to other farm machines. Tentative name of the machine is the LFD cotton gleaner—the name being taken from the old Littlefield cattle brand. Werner Birkelbach, one of the stockholders, will start manufacturing the machines in his shop. Five are due for August 1.

YOUTH NARROWLY ESCAPES FATAL INJURY

Tina Massie, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Massie of Stratford, was rushed to an Amarillo hospital Tuesday afternoon after she received a broken leg in a freak accident. Little Miss Massie was walking down the sidewalk in front of Stratford Cleaners when an automobile jumped the curb sending her through the glass window of the cleaning establishment. She was caught between the front of the car and the front of the building. The car had been parked in front of the firm and the motor left running. A three-year old tot moved the shift lever of the automatic transmission to the drive position. It jumped the curb, hit the Massie girl and went on through the plate glass building front.

Superintendent of Schools Alton Farr this week announced the hiring of Don Light, head football coach and athletic director at Stinnett the past five years, as head coach for Friona High School for 1963-64. In his five years as head coach of the Rattlers, Light's teams won two district championships, twice advancing as far as the state finals. Stinnett has had a 38-16-3 record under Light the past five years. An interesting sidelight is that exactly half of the losses came last season, Stinnett's first year in AA classification.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his blindfold farm takes a look at lie detector machines this week.

Dear editor:

I've been noticing lately that more and more people are taking lie detector tests.

Football and basketball players take them, coaches take them, criminals take them, suspects take them, etc. But more than that, I understand business is now employing the lie detector, and prospective employees are sometimes required to take the tests to indicate whether they can be trusted later on.

Why some people have even suggested that politicians take the tests, but nothing much has come of it. I guess they're waiting till sturdier models of the machines come out.

Another use for the lie detector machine which nobody else seems to have thought of and which I offer free of charge would be in the public schools.

One of the worst chores of teaching, I understand, is grading papers. My system would eliminate this. All you'd have to do is strap each kid in a lie detector machine of examination time. Then instead of asking him if Columbus discovered America in 1492, ask him simply if he knows when Columbus discovered America. If he says yes he knows, the machine will automatically record whether he's telling the truth or not, and an adding machine attached to it would register the grade at the bottom of the test. By using the machines from first grade through college, I figure one billion man-and-woman-hours of labor per month grading papers will be eliminated.

I don't know whether this is true or not, but I've heard a rumor, which I made up myself, that the Russians are years ahead of us in the use of the lie detector machine. For example, say the Russian bosses need a few more diplomats. They pick out a large group of prospects and give them detailed lie detector tests. The men who make the lowest score are graduated at the top of the class. The last thing the Russians would want in their diplomatic service would be a man who had the unstable trait of telling the truth. I don't know what brand of machine the Russians use, but obviously they're years ahead of us.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Pity The Folks At Littlefield

Pity the men folks at Littlefield. Maybe the women, too.

Thanks to a forthcoming Golden Anniversary celebration, we notice that the Littlefield mayor recently issued a proclamation requiring mandatory membership in "Brothers of the Brush", all of which means that any fellow who shaves will be subject to "horse tank sanitation" and other penalties.

Not too many years ago, Hereford went through the same ordeal—and more than a few people expressed hopes, that it would be the last, at least for another 50 years.

Needless to say, the process of beard-growing does attract attention. It also results in considerable itching and scratching. After a week or so, when the new wears off, folks generally come up with a fairly dim view of the whole project, some manage to stick it out until some bright operator comes up with the idea of "shave permit" buttons—and does a wholesale business.

What's more, we never did firmly conclude that the judges knew a whole lot about beards and whiskers, which are pretty well a lost art in our new-fangled space age. Anyhow, we always felt that they passed right over the best crops—and chose someone besides us.

At first, we thought the idea came from the ladies—which it probably did—but even members of the fair sex were a bit perturbed before the ordeal ended, and we doubt if such a movement would today gain unanimous encouragement, even from this front, today. In fact, about the best we can say for the experience is that it provides memories which can be summarized in two sentences:

"Pity the men folks at Littlefield. Maybe the women, too."

Band Deserved Its Sweepstakes

Hereford High School's Big Domino Band was on Cloud Nine last week after winning the school's first sweepstakes honors. And the award was well-deserved, which makes it appreciated all the more.

Many hours of practice, drill, and rehearsal were invested by a young group of bandmen who were dedicated to excellence and strived toward a coveted goal.

Not many of them will make a career of music. But all of them have learned valuable lessons from their band work. They have gained an appreciation for fine music and outstanding musical performance that they will retain forever. But, most important, they have learned that any worthwhile achievement demands hard work, teamwork and sacrifice.

We salute the Big Domino Band, its director Ben Galleho and his assistant Clyde Wilson for the honors they have earned in marching, inspection, concert and sight-reading.

Cancer Takes So Many, But Research Gives Hope

By Dale Stevens
Brand Society Editor

Jean is dead. I do not believe it. I do not believe it. I know she is dead; I was there. I saw them bury her, but I still cannot believe it.

Tomorrow I'll get a letter from her. The next time I go to Houston we'll talk far into the night as we always do. She'll say "Da-a-ale" in the way she had, varying her tone of voice to express surprise, dismay at what I have to tell her. We'll talk about our problems, our children, our plans for the future, our dreams; we'll compare opinions on politics (as always opposite) and we'll play bridge.

No, we won't. Because Jean is dead. She died in January at the age of 32, leaving two daughters, aged 9 and 7, and a baby boy, just 10 months old.

I used to become a little impatient because, when one of her children walked into the room or she held her baby in her arms, she would forget there was anyone around for many seconds, just sitting and staring at the miracle of that child. Many times I started to say to her that we all had our little miracles and come on back to what we were doing. But I never did. Forgive me, Jean, for not realizing, as you subconsciously must have, that time was running out for you.

Jean died of cancer. It started on her leg and the doctors operated at big M. D. Anderson Hospital, one of the three largest cancer research centers in the world. They were so sure that they got it all.

But Jean didn't get well. Her stomach began to pain her. They said it was a twisted muscle and not to worry. Finally they put her in the hospital with virus flu, but she didn't respond to treatment. Then they found it—the dread melanoma of the liver. She lived just two weeks more.

What of my little Granny, who suffered so with cancer of the stomach? What of Aunt Fay, who died at 39 of cancer of the adrenal gland and left six children, five of them at home?

Then there was Mother, who died at 53 of breast cancer. She was just 16 when I was born and we quarreled a lot while I was growing up, as mother and daughter often do, but she was so good to me. Her goodness was a shining light to all who knew her too. But life was awfully hard for her those last five years.

My most beloved women—all of them dead of cancer. They say a cure is near, yet it didn't come, soon enough to save even one of these.

Today one of every four persons can expect to have cancer in some form or other and there is a steady increase in the national cancer death rate. One of every three who get the disease will die from it.

What can be done? Millions of dollars are spent each year on cancer research, and dissemination of information. Many more millions of dollars are needed.

This is the month of the annual crusade of the American Cancer Society. Surely it is the one fund-raising campaign that every American should support as generously as possible. The money supports research, information centers, clinics, home needs of cancer victims, the myriad areas of detection through early diagnosis, care and treatment, and — we pray — eventual cure and prevention. Let us all give generously and pray that God's hand will guide the research teams.

50 YEARS AGO

Chamber Of Commerce Organization Formed

Hereford now has a real live Chamber of Commerce. Organized and officered last Saturday night, with 30 charter members, it bids well to become an influence for a progressive spirit in the business and industrial life of the community. The officers elected were: J. A. Walker, president; W. H. Ray, vice president; S. B. Edwards, treasurer; A board of directors consisting of 11 members was also chosen. The three executive officers constitute three of the board; other four elected are: D. R. Ashbrook, E. F. Connell, G. A. F. Parker, F. H. Oberthier.

A Constitution and By-Laws fixes the membership fee at $1 and the monthly dues at 50 cents. Some 30 were on hand for the meeting. Real debate came in adopting the By-Laws. Major point of difference came over whether officers should be elected by the directors or by the entire Chamber, with the latter winning the majority vote. Those who took part in these discussions were J. I. Walker, D. F. Ashbrook, G. A. F. Parker, A. J. Lipscomb, W. R. Evans; Bill Ray, J. P. Snyder, A. C. Elliott, Jno. W. Dale, Geo. Caylor, L. Baskin; and others. When the organization was complete, Chairman Wright yielded the gavel to the newly elected chief executive, Mr. Oberthier was appointed to escort Mr. Walker to the chair.

The president thanked the Chamber for the honor and asked for the cooperation of the members. "With your help, we will succeed," he declared. "This chamber will not die." Bill Ray, the vice president, responded in turn with his typical comments, "We have the foundation laid for a great city. No club can be run successfully unless we pull together. In Hereford as elsewhere, we have two classes, the pessimist and the optimist. You must be an optimist to succeed in this country. Also speaking at the meeting were Edwards, Parker, and Connell, each of whom pledged their hearty support of the Chamber.

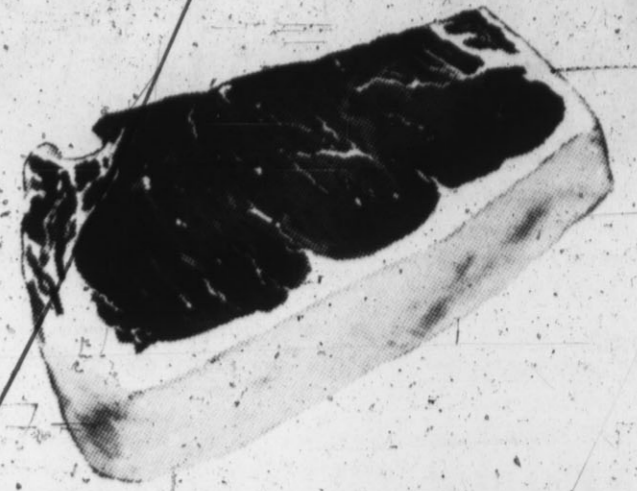

At the close, 27 names were placed upon the role of membership. The Chamber of Commerce, thus organized, opens a new field of endeavor for the progressive citizens of Hereford. The "lid" is off for new members and the new body invites you to join.

THE BRANDIN' IRON

By Melvin Young

We have noticed recently an influx of newspaper and magazine articles dealing with the surplus of food and fiber in the United States. An abundance that has caused embarrassing bulges in both warehouses and waistlines, while a great majority of the world's population subsists on substandard diets.

If your eating habits are those of the average American, you will consume four and a half pounds of food a day, much more than needed. But even this will not relieve the embattled agriculture department, which is constantly struggling with the problem of over-production.

We're doing our bit to help, however.

Since returning to the newspaper business, we have managed to gain approximately 10 pounds. Some will tell you that this is the result of little work, rather than the sumptuous fare; but in defense of our position, and waistline, we would like to point out that over 50,000,000 Americans (almost one in three) are also overweight.

And it is encouraging to know that there are a few others here in Hereford who are fighting the "battle of the bulge". Included in this group are some of Hereford's most prominent citizens, such as Clint Formby, Joel Hodges, Glenn Edwards and Gaylord Newell. "Slats" Gilliland being one notable exception.

We don't know what method these people use to trim down, but it might be real interesting to run a survey on the subject. Gaylord Newell has been quite proud of the progress he is making, and even remarked that he would soon be as trim as this writer; but we kinda took the wind out of his sails when we pointed out that it really shouldn't be too difficult. After all, we seem to be making a concerted effort to meet him half-way.

Clint Formby is another old boy who is dropping pounds, in spite of the fact that he sometimes mistakes the laundry starch for Metrecal. However, Clint's secret is in his perseverance. He has been on a diet for the entire 12 or 13 years that we have known him.

We also observed "Casey" Gilbreath out bike-riding last Sunday, but don't know whether "Casey" is trying to lose weight or just getting a little exercise.

Personally, we're not too sold on this dieting business, but when the situation gets so bad that we have to invest in a new wardrobe, then we'll take another look at it.

Ralph Hastings, 113 Douglas St., has joined the clan of folks replacing their lawns with gravel. And we guess this is all right, since Ralph is already rather slim and doesn't need the exercise to reduce.

George is also taking care of the lawn situation, but in a little different way. We drove past the Stambaugh's new home on Sunset recently and noticed that the biggest part of the lot has been covered with concrete. Which, we're sure, makes the folks at Crows - Guide real happy, and probably George too, since he is an avid fisherman and would much rather bait hooks than mow lawns.

We have been a little dubious about the authenticity of the reports brought in by Claude McClure concerning the new Santa Fe railroad spur-west of town, but we finally got the word "straight from the horse's mouth."

George Grader, new public relations director for the Amarillo district of Santa Fe dropped by the office Wednesday afternoon and took us on a personal tour of the facilities. He was accompanied by Herman Hill, also associated with Santa Fe.

Grader recently moved to the Texas Panhandle from Chicago to replace the late Ralph Ater who passed away in February. Mr. Ater was well known in the area, having been public relations director of the Amarillo district for a number of years. Grader readily admits to being a Yankee, but says that some of his ancestors on his mother's side of the family were Virginia Southerners and wore the Confederate grey in the battle between the states. With this in his favor, we're predicting that he will get along well with the folks in this area.

Actually, he is a personable gentleman who should fit in quite well, and we're glad to have him in the district. Besides that, he says he doesn't care what we say about Santa Fe, so long as we spell the name right.

If Little Red Riding Hood lived today, The modern girl would scorn her. She only had to face one wolf. Not one on every corner.

"Tex" Bettis, custodian at Hereford High School has taken it upon himself to furnish some of the first floor classrooms at the high school with flowers. "Tex" rounded up a bunch of vases and filled them with tulips from his flower garden. We understand that growing flowers is his hobby, and that he spends most of his spare time in the flower garden.

He says that he will also have irises blooming soon.

Our neighbor to the north, Dee Severe, has finally come up with the solution to the dandelion problem. Dee recently purchased a kid goat, and the little fellow sure has a healthy appetite, especially for dandelions. It has helped our situation somewhat, too. When we went home from the office Thursday afternoon, our two daughters, age twelve and nine, were digging dandelions out of the backyard and sticking them through the fence for the goat to graze on.

We understand that geese also like dandelions, but we haven't mustered up the courage to import any. It seems that geese can make more noise than a teen-ager with a brand new horn.

Ray Moore, Hereford representative for the Texas Retail Credit Association told us a weather story recently that tops them all.

A newcomer to the Texas Panhandle was speaking out concerning the dry weather and wondering if it ever rained in this part of the country. One of the pioneers spoke up and assured the gentleman that it did. "Why back in Biblical times, when Noah built his Ark and the great flood came, the Texas Panhandle actually got a two-inch rain," he said.

Of course, there will be a few "doubting Thomases" around, but not having lived that far back, we're sure not going to dispute his story.

And then there's the little porcupine who bumped into the cactus plant in the dark and asked: "Is that you, mother?"

Announce Major, Minor Little League Schedules

Schedules for four major league and six minor league teams in the Hereford Little League program were announced Friday by Ted Higgins, league president.

Opening games will be played on Monday, May 6. The eight minor league teams will alternate their games between Little League Park and the field just south of the Park. Their games will start at 6 p. m., except for the Yankee - Pirate game that will begin at 5:30 p. m. on opening day, in order that introduction of major league teams can be made before the opening game.

The season will end with games on July 5. The second-listed team will be the home team.

Frank Hergert Talks At Calliopean Meet

Frank Hergert, exchange student from Germany, presented the program for the Calliopean Study Club Thursday, April 25. The meeting was held in the Boy Scout Room of the Community Center at 9:30 a. m.

In introducing the speaker, Mrs. Paul Conaway remarked that any member of the club would be happy to have Frank as her American son. Frank then presented a film showing life in Germany.

The beginning of the film shows the city of Hamburg, described as "our gateway to the world and your gateway to us." Hamburg is located in northern Germany at the mouth of the Elbe River.

The narrator of the film quoted Goethe, Germany's most famous poet, philosopher, and writer, as having said, "We haven't a single town or province of which we can say 'This is Germany.'" Each place is unique in itself.

From northern Germany the film takes the viewer to the majestic mountain country of southern Germany. In Upper Bavaria one notices the tranquility of the people, with cattle roaming the streets, women drawing well water, and the people dressed as they did 50 years ago.

The film shows Munich, which is Germany's third largest city and the capital of Bavaria. It is described as a modern city with 800 years of experience, and an adventuresome city able to assimilate everything and everything. It is here that the atomic research center is being built.

to Berlin. The city of Berlin is surrounded by the Red flag of Soviet power. Berlin is more alive, tougher, gayer, more passionate than any other German city.

During the club's business meeting, officers for the coming year were elected. They were Mrs. Ansel McDowell, president; Mrs. Sue James, vice president; Mrs. C. C. McWhorter, recording secretary; Mrs. Carl Perrin, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Emmett Milburn, treasurer.

Members attending the meeting were Mesdames Bruce Beene, Lorraine Fowlkes, Alton Fraser, Roy Gruubs, Earnest Langley, D. C. McWhorter, Emmett Milburn, Carl Perrin, A. T. Mims, C. J. Crump, and the hostess, Mrs. Paul Conaway.

GET MORE TONNAGE WITH FRONTIER HI-DAN 37!

"Livestock Really Go for HI-DAN 37!"

ALL livestock love this tall, leafy... sweet and juicy sorghum x sudangrass hybrid - EAT STALK AND ALL!

Frontier HI-DAN 37 has been THOROUGHLY TESTED - and is acclaimed throughout the sudan-growing area for its high yield. It has a potential higher than that of any present sudan variety!

HI-DAN 37 grows up to nine feet, depending on moisture and fertility. It's tall and leafy... with open, spreading heads. Seedling emergence and vigor are excellent - and HI-DAN 37 is very resistant to both drought and root lodging!

This year - plant FRONTIER HI-DAN 37! Get MORE tonnage with a crop you can GRAZE, STACK, CHOP, BALE, OR USE FOR SILAGE! - AND...

Livestock really love this juicy, sweet sorghum x sudangrass hybrid!

Frontier HI-DAN 38 is a later-maturing, high-yielding sorghum x sudangrass hybrid that carries many of the outstanding characteristics of its companion - HI-DAN 37.

PLANTING RECOMMENDATIONS for HI-DAN 37 and HI-DAN 38

Dryland: In rows - 2 to 5 pounds; Drilled - 5 to 10 pounds
Irrigation: In rows - 5 to 10 pounds; Drilled - 10 to 15 pounds

Important: If HI-DAN 37 or 38 are used for grazing, the same precautions should be observed as with standard Sudans. They should not be grazed when less than 18 inches tall, nor should they be grazed after drought periods or after frost.

BABY COYOTES were found by Gary Burnett of the Easter Community last week. While hunting the baby's mother, Burnett discovered the litter of seven pups on his farm nine miles south of Hereford. Pointing out that some authorities say coyote pups can be trained to become excellent hunting dogs when found at this young age, Burnett says he will be happy to give the babies away. (Staff Photo)
