County Approves Hike In Tax Assessment Ratio

By O.G. NIEMAN
Publisher-Editor

Blaming the "increasing inflation of the economy," Deaf Smith County Commissioners Monday voted a two per cent increase on assessed value of property.

The action came in a special called meeting of the court Monday morning. The news media was not informed of the session. Commissioner Donald Hicks explained the emergency meeting was called when it was learned the tax assessor-collector needed the information to meet the deadline on ordering computer cards.

THE MOTION approved by commissioners was "to change the ratio of assessment from 22 per cent to 24 per cent of the 100 per cent valuation." Hicks said the move is estimated to secure a little more than 9 per cent increase in tax revenues.

Commissioners had apparently planned to discuss the action at next Monday's regular meeting, but called the special meeting to meet the deadline on computer cards. Commissioners have been studying the budget for 1974-75 and will probably come up with tentative figures Monday. A public hearing will follow in two weeks before the budget is formally approved.

HICKS said commissioners had discussed the need for additional revenue because of increased costs for fuel, equipment and maintenance, in addition to salary raises. Maintenance of the new county library was an added factor, also.

Commissioner Bruce Coleman, contacted Tuesday, said labor costs would take up a major portion of the new revenue. Commissioners are considering a 10 per cent hike in salaries for all county employees, stated Coleman, as well as additional adjustments for elected officials. "The adjustments would not include commissioners," he added.

"WE FEEL that elected officials are not being paid on a comparable level to other business people of the community," Coleman pointed out in speaking of Commissioners are expected to set the tax rate Monday at the same $1.72 per $100 assessed valuation. The county rate is $1.25 and the county collects 22 cents for the state, 20 cents for the hospital district, and 5 cents for the water district.

the salary discussions. "The action to increase the assessment does not negate our statement that the county is in good financial condition, but we must keep up with the inflationary trend or we'll wind up on the short end," he concluded.

WHILE the increase in assessment is two per cent, the move would raise a taxpayer's bill by more than 9 per cent. On a $20,000 house, for example, the assessed value would be changed from $4,400 to $4,800. Applied to the $1.72 rate this would be an increase of $6.88, or 9.09 per cent.

While the commissioners contacted did not put a dollar figure on the estimated increase, an additional 9 per cent over the past year's tax revenue would be more than $110,000. Revenue the past year was $1,224,132.

Branding Time

By Speedy Nieman

That feller on Tierra Blanca Creek says you need to learn how to get along with people; you'll have to associate with them the rest of your life.

Most people overvalue compliments and undervalue constructive criticism.

If you've missed the "Hospital Notes" in The Brand lately, they're on vacation. That is, the girl who gets them together for us at Deaf Smith General is on vacation. We'll have them back on schedule soon.

The news reports came through loud and clear this week. It's no longer a question of whether President Richard Nixon will be forced from office—but only when and how. The calls for the President's resignation were growing louder in both the House and Senate Tuesday, and a report from aides that he won't resign did nothing to stem the tide.

There was speculation from Washington that "something big" was about to happen. Whether they were referring to sending a delegation to the President to ask for his resignation, or perhaps the possible announcement from Nixon himself, no one seemed to know. Of course, you can't expect the President to say anything else now—he would hardly announce his resignation in advance.

While some of the liberal press has been out to get Nixon from the start, others have gone to great lengths to give the President the benefit of the doubt. Many have argued that such an unprecedented move as impeachment should not be taken until the evidence left few doubts and few divisions. It appears that time has come.

The rainfall this week was too little and too late, but it still brought out some smiles for National Smile Week. Moisture in West Texas is beneficial almost any time, and it dented the long drought in some areas.

I don't think sports writer Dan Welty spends too much time on the golf course. He won a trophy here Tuesday during the District 4-4A Press Day, but it was for shooting the highest score. Would you believe 140?

District coaches seemed to really enjoy the get-together sponsored by the sports committee of Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce. Coach George Kirk of Plainview said it was the only high school program of this kind he knew about, and the other coaches at Lubbock commended the people for conducting the press day.

The local committee was a little disappointed at the turnout of fans at the banquet Tuesday evening, however. Last year was the first time for the program, and officials thought the general public didn't realize they were invited. It was well publicized this time, however, and attendance still wasn't too good. Without the support of football fans, the project may not last.

It was good to see the Grady Allen family here the past week. Grady, former coach at La Plata Junior High, is now heading up the junior high athletic program at Monahans. Hereford lost a good griddler in Barry Allen, and he should be an asset to the highly-rated Lobo football team.

Commissioners Amend City Zoning Ordinance

By JIM BELEW
Brand News Editor

Hereford City Commission, working from a light agenda Tuesday, amended a zoning ordinance, made a salary adjustment for a water plant helper, rejected the use of an emergency helicopter and heard a report on Texas A&M University's fire school.

Before its amendment, the city's D-1 zoning ordinance—passed in 1955 in areas where tourist courts, trailer courts and residences could be located together—failed to restrict the establishment of other businesses from a D-1 zone.

CITY MANAGER Dudley Bayne said he discovered the conflict between what had been intended by the original ordinance and what it actually accomplished after Tony Cortez, a hardware store operator, asked to move his store to a D-1 Zone, Grant and Avenue A.

As recommended by Bayne and approved by the commission, the D-1 ordinance was amended to include only motels, trailer courts and residences.

Also, the commission approved recommending to the city zoning commission it re-zone Grant and Avenue A to allow Cortez to move his store to that location.

Bayne said the location would probably be re-designated as a D-restricted zone.

COMMISSIONERS approved giving Bayne power to make whatever salary adjustments necessary in order to fill the now-vacant position of city water plant helper. Bayne proposed a salary of $575 per month, a $75 per month increase. He said the current salary is too low to attract job applicants.

Bayne said the city also was minus a blade man, a machine operator, a position which pays a monthly salary of $650.

The commission decided against accepting a TH55 helicopter for use as an emergency rescue vehicle as offered by the Texas Surplus Agency in hopes of getting a larger machine.

BAYNE SAID the TH55 is limited to carrying only two victims, while bigger machines can carry three. He also said the bigger machines require less maintenance.

City Commissioners H.A. Cavness and James J. Boyd, who visited an international fire-fighting school at Texas A&M July 21-26 where Hereford volunteer firemen were students, told the commission they were impressed with the school's quality of training.

CAVNESS said firemen from 32 states and five foreign countries attended the week-long school to learn the latest techniques in extinguishing fires.

Hereford's fire department, he said, has always had one of the highest percentage rates of attendance at the school, despite the fact it is only a volunteer department.

Rustlers Hit Texsun For 103 Head

Like something out of a bad TV western, cattle rustlers struck Texsun Feed Yards Friday night, loading 103 head of cattle on two trucks.

Travis McPherson, Deaf Smith County sheriff, said the crime was reported Saturday morning when an employee noticed an almost empty pen at the feedyard, located about two miles east of town.

McPherson said Wednesday information had been received the cattle had been taken to Houston and that the county-city task force is investigating that possibility.

Local Woman Survives 55 Heart 'Episodes'

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's News Editor

Equipment in Deaf Smith General Hospital's intensive care unit, plus its alert and competent staff are credited with a Hereford patient's recovery that her doctor calls "just incredible."

Georgia Jackson is convalescing in her home, 313 Ave. J, to which she returned Saturday after five weeks in the hospital. In the first two weeks of hospitalization she suffered 55 episodes of ventricular fibrillation, the doctor says.

A local heart specialist, he adds that recovery from one such episode is remarkable and he has never heard or read of a patient surviving as many as Mrs. Jackson did.

ANY ONE of the attacks would have been fatal if it had not been treated immediately, he said, explaining that in fibrillation the heart's rhythm is disturbed and the erratic beat impedes circulation to the brain.

The patient becomes unconscious, he continued, and electric shock treatment must be applied quickly to restore normal heart action. The machine used is called a defibrillator, and is part of the modern equipment kept ready for emergency use in the new intensive care unit that was set up last year in the hospital here.

Staff members in the unit were praised by the physician, who credits them with pulling the patient through the successive attacks.

He was present when a number of the episodes occurred, but says "When I was not there, the patient could not have survived until I was called from my office or home, so the staff literally saved her life many times."

MRS. JACKSON is happy that the well-equipped hospital, its efficient staff and the skilled doctor were there to help her, but she is aware that she might not have survived even with all their efforts, and says, "I'm still here because God wanted me to live."

Her family echoes her belief that only a higher power could have brought her through the successive crises of her illness.

The Hereford woman has been the victim of hypertensive heart disease for a number of years and has had some serious attacks, "but nothing like this latest one," she says.

When she became ill she first went to a hospital at Muleshoe, her former home, where she could be attended by a doctor to whom she was accustomed. When her condition worsened he recommended the Hereford physician and the hospital here.

"WHEN SHE came into Deaf Smith General Hospital she was in shock, with her heart in chaotic rhythm," the Hereford physician says. The defibrillator brought her out of that attack, as it did in the dozens of times afterward.

After a time a pacemaker was implanted in her chest, but it was not effective at once and she suffered some of the fibrillation episodes after that. A Hereford surgeon implanted the pacemaker, a small device that controls heart rhythm by electrical impulses.

Medication also helped Mrs. Jackson recover but time was required for it to be effective, the doctor says, and meantime the defibrillator served to maintain life. The pacemaker and medicine continue to keep Mrs. Jackson on the road to recovery.

THE ELECTRIC SHOCKS caused burns on her chest but they have healed now and Mrs. Jackson dismisses their minor pain with, "That was nothing; the burned spots never did hurt enough to bother me."

She is able to be up and around her home now although she has been told by her doctor to "take it easy" until she is stronger.

Showers Pelt Local Area

Weather conditions for Hereford and the surrounding area improved slightly during the week, with two rain storms dumping a total of about one-half inch of moisture in town and amounts up to two inches near here.

The city received .20 of rain both Sunday and Monday nights, bringing the year's total to a scant 2.32.

WEST of town, near "Bootleg Corner," came reports of a two-inch rainfall from a Monday night rain. That same rain left the ground only moist at Dawn, which had received only a trace Sunday night.

Easter Fertilizer, south of Hereford, reported .15 of rain fell there Sunday night, while Walcott residents gave conflicting reports, some saying a trace fell, others denying any moisture came their way.

Problem Drinker Like Man On Bus

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article is part of a series on "The Progression of Alcoholism" produced by the Alcoholism Council of San Fernando Valley, Calif. The stories are made available locally by the Deaf Smith Council on Alcoholism.

Recently, a young housewife visited the newly established offices of the Alcoholism Council of San Fernando Valley, after reading an article on the disease of alcoholism. She and her husband were distraught because her mother was a pitiful secret drunk, constantly protected by the housewife's father who believed he was hiding what he considered a disgrace. The young woman pleaded to know what could be done.

Asked if she had told her parents that she knew the truth, that it was out in the open and nothing should stand in the way of seeking aid, the woman was aghast. "I can't do that. I can never embarrass my parents by such a confrontation."

This is the kind of multitudinous situation that tears at the hearts of volunteers in the alcoholism council. The young woman was helping keep a fact in the closet. Actually, she was choosing to abet death or institutionalization rather than embarrassment.

This article, among others, seeks to let the public know that alcoholism is a disease, a killer illness, and that help is possible if the problem comes into the open. Tell-tale signs can be recognized and heeded.

One of a problem drinker's behavior patterns can trick himself or others into doubting that he has become a victim of acute alcoholism. He may maintain periods of sobriety when he seems to be almost his normal self. At such times, he reasons with some clarity and concludes that, because his bouts have been intense and frequent, he had best give up drinking. But only for a while.

He will not "go on the wagon" for good, but only until he can prove that at last he has learned how to control his drinking. He may abstain for a few days, a few weeks or a few months.

During these dry spells he is sure he demonstrates to others, and himself above all, that he can take it or leave it alone. He is confident he doesn't have to drink. Now he must prove that, too - by a little "safe" imbibing. When he sobers up after that "big proof," he remorsefully reasons he needs a little more drying out. Then he can succeed. So there is a next time and a next and a next and a next.

The sufferer from acute alcoholism is a great rationalizer in worlds of fantasy, not practicality. For the umpteenth time, he finds his answer. The trouble is neither him nor the alcohol, he decides.

It must be his manner of drinking. Greatly excited, he sets out to determine what for him is the perfect drink and what the proper drinking times are.

The alcoholic carefully plans what to drink, when to do it, where it'll be, with whom he'll drink. He puts his plan into work with exceeding caution and patience.

For a time, it often seems to be working beautifully. When the state of devastation happens to his careful plans and he is recovering, he again knows the answer. He grew careless, that's what. He used bad direction.

In a way, this has happened. He hastens to try again, not admitting to himself that there always will be those indiscretions, those bad judgments, the false security.

This troubled alcoholic now sits and broods. He feels he has disgraced himself again. He imagines what his friends are saying: "I told you so." "Just as I thought."

And the picture in his mind of them talking behind his back builds resentments already almost too great to carry around. He reasons that he should have known they were that kind of people. They never, he broods, ever give a fellow any credit for his efforts.

He mulls it all over. Misunderstanding people; they won't even try to understand. Always reproving, nagging, advising. He is sick and tired of trying to please them. It's not worth the effort. He will show

Shoup Declared Winner

Holly Sugar's Shoup plant in Hereford won the coveted President's Performance Prize for the past year and local officials accepted the trophy last week at a general meeting of top managers in Colorado Springs. The trophy goes to the plant showing the most improved performance during

Bilingual Ed Major Change

Due to the requirements of Texas' Bilingual Education Act passed in 1973, a major change will be taking place in Hereford's elementary schools on the first grade level. Both Spanish and English will be used in the instruction of first grade children.

Each elementary school will have three first grade teachers, one bilingual and two monolingual (English speaking) teachers. Each elementary school will also have two bilingual first grade teacher aides. These teaching personnel will use the team teaching approach in conducting the bilingual education instructional program this fall.

All of Hereford's first grade teachers have attended bilingual institutes this summer sponsored by the Texas Education Agency. The attendance by all of the teachers was the result of a letter from the agency stating:

"All teachers who are going to be in a first grade classroom in September with children of limited English-speaking ability must attend either the one-week institute, if they are already bilingual, or the six-weeks language institute if they are monolingual."

The one week institute was held at Shirely Elementary School and the six week institute was conducted in the new library at Hereford High School. Hereford served as the host for all of the first grade teachers attending from area schools.

When the program goes into action this fall all first grade students will be screened and evaluated to determine their dominant language. Teachers' opinion and tests will be used to identify children of limited English-speaking ability. Then, each child will be introduced to the school and the education process in his native language.

Next, language development and pre-reading skills will be introduced in his native language. When the child is ready, reading instruction is started in the child's native language. As the child progresses in reading, arithmetic, science, health etc., can be presented in his native language. Up until this time, the English-speaking first-graders have received all of their school instruction in English and the Spanish-speaking first-graders have received all their school instruction in Spanish.

When each child is ready, he is introduced to language development in his second language. Listening and speaking skills are taught in the second language. Spanish speaking students begin to learn English. English speaking students begin to learn Spanish. Most students will begin to understand and speak a second language during the first grade year; however, some may not be reading for this type instruction until they are in the second grade. At all times the readiness of the child will determine the rate at which new material will be presented.

Educators believe both the Spanish and English speaking child will benefit from a program such as this, since both will have the opportunity to become bilingual in addition to learning the normal skills obtained during the primary grades.

Mrs. Worthan's Funeral To Be Conducted Today

Funeral services for Mrs. C.P. Worthan, 51, of 240 Douglas, are scheduled at 4 p.m. today in First Baptist Church. The Rev. John H. Johns, pastor of Avenue Baptist Church, and the Rev. Doug Manning, First Baptist pastor, will conduct the rites.

He decides that the next chance he gets, he will walk out on everybody - family, friends, his job. Too often, he does it too.

All this is non-fiction. If a person who is troubled by his own drinking or the uncontrolled partaking of someone dear to him, all that is required is to match the drinker's behavior with any few of those symptoms related in these articles.

The person in trouble just could be on the borderline to chronic alcoholism. That stage could be the last stop before death. The Hereford Brand readers can get help by telephoning the Deaf Smith Council - 364-4540.

HFD Gets New Truck

Due to the efforts of Hereford volunteer firemen, the city will have a like-new fire truck for about one-third the cost of a factory-built unit.

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department's Unit 50 was beginning to give the firemen trouble. Although the fire-fighting equipment on the back of the truck was in good condition, the 1963 model Ford truck that served as a chassis was beginning to have starting problems and was in general worn out.

Fire Marshal Jay Spain asked the city for a new chassis to go under the fire-fighting equipment and the city purchased a new 60 series Chevrolet truck. The new truck is a two-and-one-half ton capacity with a four speed transmission and two speed rear axle.

Last week, volunteer firemen began stripping the equipment from the old chassis. After the bed and water tank were removed, the bed was given a thorough cleaning and sanded down to the metal. The inside of the 500-gallon water tank was cleaned and a new sealant applied.

Monday morning, volunteers set the reworked fire-fighting bed on the chassis of the new truck, and more improvements were begun.

In addition to a new paint job, most of the equipment on the bed will be renovated. The pump and pump engine on the unit were replaced last summer and are in good repair.

The unit will be painted white, leaving the Fire Department with only three traditional-red trucks. "A white truck is a lot more visible than the old red ones," said Spain,

"especially when you're running hot to a fire. People at intersections can see the white trucks better, especially at night, so the units are safer."

Additions to the unit will include a 58-gallon auxiliary gasoline tank. "Sometimes when we go out in the country we get a long ways from any service station, and a couple of times we've come pretty close to running out," said Spain.

"Unit 50 is a booster truck and it makes all our fires. It goes to grass fires in the country, to all the small fires in town and on the big fires is our attack truck. It usually goes out of the firehouse first. With its 500 gallons of water and 90 to 120 gallons per minute pumping capacity, we can get to fires in a hurry and get water on them before they get out of hand."

Spain expects the truck to be in service by the middle of August.

"Dimmitt and Canyon bought trucks like this one from the factory and they cost $22,000. With the help of our volunteers in renovating this truck, including the $5,800 price tag on the chassis, we'll have about $6,500 in this rig," said Spain.

FORD PRICE HIKE

DETROIT--Ford dealers have been informed that 1975 Ford cars and trucks will cost the car-buying public 8 per cent more when they go on sale this fall.

MENTOR, OHIO--Families living in the 8700 block of Arrowood Drive here feel there may be something special about their location; five of the six have had twins.

WOMEN IN SERVICE
KANSAS CITY, MO.--The number of females in the armed services is on the increase, said Brig. Gen. Mildred Bailey, director of the Women's Army Corps. There're only 48 job classifications in which women are not permitted.

Fire Truck Renovated

Work continues on renovation of the Hereford Volunteer Fire Department's Unit 50. Volunteer firemen pulled the fire-fighting equipment off the rear of the old truck and will install it on a new chassis complete with a new white paint job. The fire truck will be back in service by mid-August.

Texas Health Department

Wages War On Diseases

All preventable diseases in Texas may never be wiped out, but the Texas State Department of Health—with cooperation of private physicians—is working toward that goal through a strong immunization campaign. Last year a combined total of only 1805 cases were reported for diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, measles and rubella. There was no polio reported in 1973.

Because of the success of the compulsory school immunization program, more attention is directed toward the preschoolers in State Health Department activities. Statistics show that epidemics have repeatedly taken the heaviest toll among children from one to four years old.

A dramatic decline in disease incidence has been marked up in Texas for such diseases as diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, polio, measles and rubella. Sharing in this success is a group of Community Service Aides who concentrate on infant immunizations.

When a baby is born in Texas, the Immunization Division gets a computer printout showing the baby's name, parents' names and home address from the Records and Statistics Section of the State Health Department.

Parents of newborns receive a card informing them of immunization schedules and recommending vaccination times. They are asked to return the card and indicate which immunizations have been started.

Not all parents respond to the inquiry, and not all begin immunizations for their babies.

That's where the Community Service Aides come in. They take referrals from the Immunization Division and attempt to track down those who don't respond.

Last year an average of 56 Community Service Aides were employed and assigned to regional and field offices to promote immunizations in the pre-school group.

They received 175,075 new referrals during the year—about 3,100 per aide. The average aide visited 1,707 homes and made 638 telephone contacts during the year. Each aide determined that a total of 1,222 immunization starts and/or completions had been made.

Clayton Proposes Constitution Plan

In the wake of the failure of the Texas Constitutional Convention to produce a new constitution for the people of Texas, State Rep. Bill Clayton, a leading contender in the race for Speaker of the House, has announced an economical and efficient plan for rewriting the State's basic charter.

The proposal as outlined by Clayton will reinstitute the House of Representatives Constitutional Amendments Committee. When elected Speaker of the House, Clayton says he plans to charge this Committee with the responsibility of submitting amendments of entire articles to the present document. These amendments will be drafted by the committee on an article to article basis, approved by the legislature and then submitted to the voters.

"Our state legislators now have a vast storehouse of information and knowledge about the constitutional process available to them as a result of their experience as convention delegates," Clayton said. "We can't afford to let this information and expertise go to waste. I intend to appoint a balanced committee, both philosophically and geographically, and charge them with the responsibility of writing articles which will give the people of Texas a chance to replace our present outdated constitution without the necessity of having to risk millions of dollars and a period of several years in another convention which might again not produce the changes which the people of Texas need and want."

Clayton, who expressed his disappointment in the failure of the recent convention to write a new constitution to replace the state's present document, presented the new revision approach as an alternative to the call by many for another convention attempt. Clayton stated that while he believed the people of Texas "are not going to be eager to approve another convention", he felt that his proposals "will accomplish what needs to be done while also beginning to rebuild the confidence of the public in their legislature and government."

Coach Predictions Name Coronado

By DAN WELTY
 Sports Editor

Head coaches of the district 4-AAAA schools have given Lubbock Coronado the almost impossible task of being chosen to win the district football title this fall.

Coaches of the five schools were in Hereford Tuesday for a press day golf tourney and banquet, and outlined their programs for the upcoming campaign.

Coronado was the overwhelming favorite to win the district banner this fall, due to their depth and quickness. Monterey was the second choice of the coaches, with Hereford, Plainview and Lubbock High following.

Hereford and Plainview were mostly chosen as surprise teams, with most of the coaches leary of what those two teams might do. Lubbock High's squad with their small size and experience were generally considered the least threat.

Coach Jim Keeling's Coronado Mustangs will have the task of proving they are capable of winning the district title after being picked to do just that. In the past, no pre-season pick has ever won the title.

Keeling will get most of his quad back from last year, and fill in the spots with players from a successful junior varsity quad. Keeling rates this season's team as fairly experienced, with good size, good speed, and a major strength of quickness.

Keeling has two all-state prospects in his fold. Rocky Williams is an end, and tailback Larry Anders rushed for 900 yards last season. Keeling will fill his quarterback spot with Kenny Blackwell. Blackwell started at linebacker last year and will play both ways this fall. Keeling said Blackwell was a fine passer and a leader to other members of the team.

Other Mustangs to watch this fall should be Buster Whitner, a back, and Jay Dillard at split end.

Coach James Odom will have 15 lettermen returning to fall drills at Lubbock Monterey. Two boys will be fighting for the Quarterback spot on the Plainsmen team. Scott Gardner, a 6'6" junior who pitched the Monterey baseball team to a state championship, will be using his golden arm to throw footballs. He quarterbacked the junior varsity last year and is ready to move up. Dale Dillard started on the varsity squad last year, and may not want to give up that slot. Odom says the key to his club is how well the quarterback spot works out.

Dennis Blair, at 6'3" and 200 pounds, will be one of the biggest backs in the district, but Odom said Ricky Keith is a small back and a tough one.

Monterey was hurt most in their line by graduation and Odom felt most of his work will have to be in this area to make the Plainsmen contenders.

George Kirk took over the head coaching job at Plainview last January, and has served as assistant coach at Baylor, as well as directing Amarillo Palo Duro.

Kirk inherits some talent from a young team that went 1-9 last season. With two fighting for the quarterback spot, Kirk plans to spend a lot of time on the aerial attack, if he can find anyone to catch the ball.

Danny Huffine started at quarterback last year, and Kirk may have to rely on his experience and better running abilities. Bobby Katershid wants the job, though, and despite being young and inexperienced Kirk said he makes things happen on the field.

Kirk will also have help from halfback Charlie Foster, Chad Williams at the linebacker and fullback spots, and offensive lineman Randy Evans.

Most of the coaches said Plainview could be a dark horse in the league and would not be taken lightly on Friday nights.

Lubbock High graduated 24 lettermen to give Coach Tommy Stone a young and inexperienced team. Stone said he will have to count heavily on talent from last year's junior varsity squad. The district race could be a tough one for Lubbock High said Odom.

Size will be a major factor for the Westerners. Coach Stone said his largest player weighs in at 182 pounds and that his starting quarterback, Richard Quimby, is only 5'2" and 155 pounds.

Stone said the Westerners may be small this year, but they are all fighters and that could be a factor. He also said that enthusiasm could play a major role in any contest, and that on any Friday night any given team could beat another.

Season Tickets On Sale

Season tickets to Hereford High School home games are now available at the school's administration office. Last year's season ticket holders will have until August 15 to renew their tickets.

Tickets will be sold in a book of five tickets for $10, one ticket for each home game. Single tickets purchased during the season will sell for $2.50, so season ticket holders will be saving 50 cents per game. 785 season tickets were sold last year.

The Whitefaces will play Pampa in the opening game of the season Sept. 6 in Whiteface Stadium.

Motorcyclists Need Heed Street Hazards

Just as with automobiles, motorcycle operators face special hazards when riding in traffic or on highways and city streets. Listed below are just a few of the hazards motorcyclist should be aware and cautious of.

OBJECTS IN THE ROAD
 The careful rider always scans the roadway directly in front of his motorcycle and is prepared to take action to avoid striking objects such as large pieces of pavement, bricks, rocks, lumber, boxes and other objects of litter.

CHILDREN PLAYING
 Children playing in residential areas are particularly susceptible to darting into the roadway in front of motorcycles (as well as automobiles).

DOGS
 Dogs seem to have a fondness for chasing motor vehicles, and the motorcycle is no exception. When a dog charges from the side of the street to the side of the motorcycle, a speed up at this point usually will outdistance the dog.

AUTOMOBILES DISCHARGING PASSENGERS
 A careful operator must be alert for passengers alighting from parked automobiles into the lane of traffic. Avoid driving close to automobiles parked along the side of your traffic lane.

BLIND-SPOT DANGER
 Drive so that you may be seen by motorists in front of you. Accidents can be avoided when the driver knows you are behind him. Remember to follow any vehicle by staying visible in the driver's rear view mirror.

CARRYING PACKAGES
 Never try to drive a motorcycle and carry packages in your hands at the same time. Articles should be carried in saddlebags, on a carrying rack with strap or other carrying device. You need both hands free for control and to maintain good balance.

TRACKS AND METAL SURFACES

The operator should be constantly alert when crossing railroad or streetcar tracks, steel bridge expansion joints, or metal grills on certain bridges. Streetcar tracks, railroad tracks and bridge expansion joints should be crossed at a 90 degree angle if possible to avoid skidding or catching the wheels in them. When operating a motorcycle on a steel grating on a bridge, reduce speed and neither accelerate nor apply brakes unless absolutely necessary. A wet metal grating on a bridge is probably as slick as any surface that the cycle operator will experience.

FREEWAY DRIVING
 Cruising speed on most freeways is in excess of 50 miles per hour. Small motorcycles not capable of maintaining the cruising speed of freeway traffic should not be taken onto these high speed traffic arteries.

When operating a high speed motorcycle on a freeway, extra care should be taken when entering and when making an exit.

THE MOTORCYCLE OPERATOR Should be aware of the important part outer apparel plays in providing protection. Protective outer garments should be sturdy and large enough to provide room for additional clothing underneath for warmth. Garments should be loose enough to assure good mobility for proper control of the motorcycle when in motion.

Variable climatic conditions make it possible for the cycle operator to select from a wide range of protective clothing. Many forms of sturdy material are available from which may be selected a zip-front windproof jacket.

In addition to a windproof jacket the operator should wear gloves with gauntlet type cuffs to prevent wind from entering sleeves. Many outer garments are available in safety colors — largely fluorescent, or with fluorescent strips which make the operator more readily visible to drivers of other vehicles.

Safety helmets should be worn at all times. Several models of helmets are available and the operator should be able to find one that suits his preference. Lightweight helmets are comfortable and give very effective protection. The right time to wear your helmet is everytime you ride your motorcycle!

Goggles are an essential item and should be worn at all times. Goggles protect face and eyes from flying insects, rocks, and other airborne matter which could cause injury to the eyes. The distraction of even minor contact with a flying object could have more serious consequences if it causes loss of control by the rider.

Goggles should: (1) be constructed of shatterproof material; (2) be properly ventilated to prevent steam-up which may cause distortion to the field of vision of the wearer; (3) be constructed to protect the eyes from foreign matter; (4) be securely fastened so they will not blow off while the motorcycle is in motion.

No Fish Story

R.D. Hubble, 48, 425 Ave. J, stands by the 175 lbs., 8-foot, 3-inch Blue Marlin he caught during the Hubble's recent vacation in Hawaii. Hubble said he struggled with the fish for 45 minutes before landing it.

Popped Milo Used As Pig Feed

A follow-up study on the practicality of popped milo as swine feed is presently underway at West Texas State University.

The grain sorghum processing study is a sequel to a pilot study undertaken by WT last fall which showed an increased swine digestion efficiency of 15 percent less feed required per pound of gain.

In the present study the milo is being tested in two levels of popping, says Dr. Jim McManigal, WTSU professor and project coordinator. For the first, only "About one percent is popped before it is rolled. The other is 90 per cent popped."

"It looks like Post Toasties, and tastes like popcorn," says

Dr. John McNeill, WT animal science professor assisting in the project.

The popping is another way devised to increase the efficiency of the digestion of the animal, and is already being used successfully in the cattle feedlot industry.

The popping "disrupts the starch granules, and makes more surface area available to the enzymes in the stomach for easier digestion," says McNeill.

"For the small producer the cost would be prohibitive," McManigal notes.

The machine being used is the Triplett-Polan Popper, which McManigal describes as "About six feet wide, 20 feet long, and ten feet high" that requires "an initial investment of up to $15,000."

McManigal predicts that "in five to ten years there will be commercial swine feeding lots" in the area as in the cattle industry.

"Texas consumes 100 per cent more pork than it produces. The market is wide-open, and there has been a lot of interest in the industry," says McManigal.

"One problem, however, is the marketing of swine in this area."

Although the study will not be completed until late in August, McNeill mentions a little difficulty with the more heavily popped milo. Perhaps because the grain has more bulk, "it had reduces intake, and the gains have been lower," McNeill observes.

The research is a cooperative project between West Texas State University and Texas Tech. McManigal has an undergraduate and a graduate student of WT assisting him.

Sales in Texas during the month amounted to $17,074,815 — while sales for the first half of 1974 totaled $116,443,089, with 49 per cent of the yearly goal of $236.8 million goal achieved.

ON BUSING

The Supreme Court has struck down a Detroit integration plan calling for busing pupils across school district lines but said such programs might be permissible in different circumstances.

SIGNS HEALTH BILLS

President Nixon has signed health bills putting new federal emphasis on combating diabetes and another authorizing $2.7 billion for the National Cancer Institute, a spokesman announced.

Drought Drags Farmers Down

Everyone knows the effects of drought in our area of Texas are already quite severe. Cotton and grain sorghum crops have already been destroyed in some areas. Wheat loss earlier was significant. Range conditions now are very poor. It has already been estimated that the loss to Texas farmers, ranchers and agriculture-related industries statewide will exceed $2 billion this year.

In my last report, I outlined the steps required for drought assistance programs through the Farmers Home Administration and through programs under the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. My office stands ready to lend any needed assistance to counties or individual producers interested in qualifying for drought aid. At least 32 Texas counties have asked the Governor to recommend federal disaster from the Governor. These counties include Armstrong, Briscoe, Gray, Knox and Swisher in the 13th District. Certain other counties are gathering data for application. Farmers in Swisher County have already been declared eligible for FHA emergency loan assistance.

IN THE CONGRESS THIS PAST WEEK:

I supported the fiscal 1975 Agriculture Appropriations Act which passed the House containing $225 million for FHA rural water and sewer grants as well as additional funds for other FHA programs including emergency aid, $225 million for the Agricultural Conservation Program, $950 million for REA rural electric and telephone loan programs, plus funds for the Rural Housing Insurance Fund, the Agricultural Credit Insurance Fund and the Rural Development Insurance Fund, to name a few. This measure was also approved by the Senate.

The meat grading system was reviewed in a public hearing by the House Livestock & Grains Subcommittee of which I am a member. Producers could save feeding costs, and those savings could be passed on to consumers, with no reduction in tenderness or flavor qualities, if beef now graded "good" in the "choice" category. This is because new feeding technology allows achievement of high quality at a younger age, but old grading standards still require the fat which only age and extra days of feeding provide. That fat is trimmed off by the butcher and represents a waste of both grain and money. I recommended this grading system change to Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz last June 20th.

The Congress gave final approval to the Animal Health Research Act which I sponsored and sent it to the White House for signing.

I opposed an $800 million authorization bill for urban mass transit programs because I felt the bill was out of line with the pressing need to fight inflation by cutting unnecessary federal spending. The urban mass transportation program was conceived as a $400 million program annually, but this bill was double that amount. The House returned the bill to a conference committee by a vote of 221 to 181.

In an action which no doubt will be heralded by some as a move against inflation, the House voted to spend $100,000 on an "emergency" inflation study by the Joint Economic Committee. The resolution passed, 335 to 66, over my opposition. Spending the extra money is itself action. Almost every Congressional committee could exert at least some positive impact against inflation, as well as the Congress as a whole, by paring down the spending authorization bills being considered and by refraining from starting new unnecessary programs. The new study will find that excessive government spending is a major root cause of inflation and the spending required to make the study will only add to the problem.

Important and necessary spending must of course go on, and I voted in favor of this year's Education Act which provides assistance for our schools. The Act also contains language designed to discourage court from ordering busing of school children over long distances. I have always opposed forced busing and preferred even stronger language. The Act also extends the bi-lingual education program and the "impacted" school aid program which is important to school districts serving areas where federal installations bring more children to be educated but at the same time removes property from the tax base.

It changes the formula for "Title I" school aid in such a way that schools in Texas would be among those in 10 states increased more than 30 per cent over the previous year. Under the bill, schools in Texas would be authorized $124,882,397 (exceeded only by two states), of which $2,815,576 would go to schools in the 36 counties of the 13th District. (These funds could be reduced in the upcoming appropriations bill.)

Briscoe Okays Justice Grants

Governor Dolph Briscoe has approved two criminal justice grants totaling $100,955 for improving law enforcement in the area served by the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, based in Amarillo.

Larger of the two grants, $69,263, goes to Amarillo for fourth-year funding of the Potter-Randall Metro Intelligence Unit. The unit is made up of members from the Amarillo and Canyon police departments and sheriffs' offices of Potter, Randall and Deaf Smith counties.

The unit conducts investigations and surveillances pertaining to organized criminal activities and either assists in making arrests or provides information to an enforcement unit for arrest and prosecution.

The second grant, to Panhandle Regional Planning Commission for $31,692, provides continuation of the law enforcement academy. Two basic law enforcement training courses of six weeks each and a nine-week specialized training course will be offered to some 340 officers with 1974 funding.

The money comes from the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office. CJD administers the state's block grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration under the Crime Control Act of 1973.

The local grants were among 60 totaling $4.7 million which the governor approved.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

WHENEVER school kids start running around during their Christmas vacation and again during their spring vacation and on long weekend holidays at Thanksgiving, Easter, etc., I always think enviously, "Gee, school was never like this in my day. Kids sure have it easy now!"

But right now it occurs to me that kids sure have it tough these days and I'm glad school was never like this for me. It's unbelievable that the poor things are going to have register next week and start classes the 20th.

Start of school gets earlier and earlier every year, and if I had to go to classes in August it wouldn't help my feeling a bit to remember that they will dismiss a week earlier next May.

It makes you wonder if somebody is trying to work up to the proposed 12-month school term by devious methods. I don't know why it would be necessary to be devious; year-round school terms have been discussed for years and the idea seems to have merit.

So why don't they just forthrightly switch over to that system with no bones about it? If that's what they're aiming at, that is.

ALL FOUR grandsons of Elizabeth and Ansel McDowell have been their guests lately, and were taken to see the races at Ruidoso last weekend.

Ansel III and Stewart were here from Perryton — they're sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ansel McDowell of that city. James and Charles, the Jim McDowell sons, live here.

MR. AND MRS. Buren W. Carr of Parker, Colo., left Tuesday after visiting her mother, Cora Johnson, 301 E. Sixth, and also in the home of her brother, Clifford Johnson, on the Dimmitt Highway.

They made two stops in Hereford, on their way downstate and on the way back home. On their Texas tour they visited relatives in Dalhart, Stephenville, Houston and Fort Worth as well as in this area.

Dinner Date Changed

Date for the American Legion Auxiliary's Harvest Dinner, an annual event where foods produced in Deaf Smith County are served, has been changed to Tuesday, Aug. 13, from the later date which had been set.

The change was approved in a business meeting of the Auxiliary in Legion Hall Tuesday evening, following installation of officers. Mrs. Jimmy Jusko became president to succeed Mrs. J.G. Gandy.

Mrs. Ira Ott will serve again as chairman for the Harvest Dinner, to which the public is invited. Members will prepare meat, vegetables, salads, dessert and bread from ingredients produced in the county, adding tea and coffee to round out the meal.

It will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Tickets are priced at $2 and proceeds go to scholarship and welfare funds of the Auxiliary.

New Year Begins For HC Players

Officers for a new year in Hereford Community Players, elected at a recent meeting of directors, were in charge of the August membership meeting, held at a new date in Community Center Tuesday evening. Archie Dwyer is the 1974-75 president, succeeding Hank Haug.

Monthly meeting dates will be on first Tuesday evenings of each month, directors decided, instead of second Mondays as in the past. Members will continue to meet at Community Center. Looking toward use of the auditorium in the new county library building as a place to stage plays, tentative plans are discussed for a short play and reception with a possible September date. Haug, Linda Gilbert and Mrs. John Claypool were appointed on a committee to make definite plans. Mrs. Claypool was also delegated to arrange one or more fall workshops in directing and other stage techniques, through the Friends Of Fine Arts organization of West Texas State University.

New officers who will serve with Dwyer this year are Robert Stewart, vice president; Miss Gilbert, secretary, and Denise McCullar, treasurer.

Newly-wed Newcomers

Recently making their home in Hereford are Pam and Steve Louder who were married in June. He is employed by Deaf Smith Rural Electric Cooperative where he is training to be sales coordinator. Pam will be a teacher at Stanton Junior High School. Both are graduates of Texas Tech University. The couple met in Hereford during a lay witness mission in November, 1971 at First Baptist Church. He is a Native of Cooper and she is from Shallowater. They are making their home at 428 Apt. C, Ave. B.

Bartlett pears are at their flavorful best with cheese and a touch of lemon. "Bartlett Bitter Lemon Salad" combines these flavormates in an unusual and tempting way. Bitter lemon sparkling beverage is used in the gelatin, along with French dressing, giving a particularly refreshing flavor. Slices of California Bartlett pears and Cheddar cheese cubes are folded in along with watercress. The bitter sweet flavor makes this a particularly delicious salad to serve with ham or fried chicken.

BARTLETT BITTER LEMON SALAD

- 2 envelopes plain gelatin
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 2 bottles (10 oz. each) bitter lemon or grapefruit beverage
- 2 tablespoons French dressing
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 fresh California Bartlett pears
- 1/2 cup chopped watercress
- 1/4 cup sharp Cheddar cheese cubes
- Watercress

Soften gelatin in cold water, place over heat and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Stir into bitter lemon. Add French dressing and salt. Chill until mixture mounds on spoon. At The Library Incredible Story Told By Author

Two books being featured at the Deaf Smith County Library this week are The Marvelous Mongolian by James Aldridge and The Voyage Unplanned by Frank Yerby.

The Marvelous Mongolian tells the story of Tachi, a powerful shabby horse, who's instinct to return home and his will to overpower any who stands in his way, becomes an incredible journey across Europe and the Soviet Union.

The Voyage Unplanned is a book filled with double agents, former Nazi torturers and a brave people fighting for their existence. This novel is torn from the great events of our time - yet intimately, touchingly personal in its depiction of unending love and personal fulfillment.

The library is open to the public free of charge on Mondays from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., weekdays from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. and Saturdays until noon.

THE MARVELOUS MONGOLIAN By James Aldridge

Kitty Jamieson had never seen a horse like him—so square, powerful, and shaggy, with a mane that stood up like a toothbrush and that enormous head that resembled the drawings she'd seen of prehistoric horses. Even at first sight she sensed how determined and undefeated the Mongolian was.

The Marvelous Mongolian tells the story of Tachi, captured and sent from his rugged mountain home in Mongolia to a reserve in Wales for endangered species. But from the moment he angrily backs out of the trailer and gallops out of sight across the Welsh grasslands, Tachi follows only one impulse: escape. One night he breaks through a stone wall, followed by the small mare pony intended to be his mate.

Guided by the Mongolian's indomitable instinct to return home and his will to overpower any obstacle of nature or man, their flight together becomes an incredible journey across Europe and the Soviet Union, an Adventure of ever increasing suspense as the horse battle against storms and snow, the menace of gypsies and hunters, and the vigilance of scientist and police patrols.

The Marvelous Mongolian is told through letters: letters exchanged by Baryut Mingha, a young Mongolian boy who discovered Tachi's herd, and Kitty Jamieson, a pretty Welsh girl who raised Tachi's mate on her grandfather's reserve. One by one, their letters together with the letters of people who have seen the horses' in France, Hungary, and other countries, weave a compelling story that James Aldridge, author of A Sporting Proposition, invests with all the drama and quiet economy of a master storyteller.

THE VOYAGE UNPLANNED By Frank Yerby

Frank Yerby's 25th novel is a thrilling tale, spanning almost 30 years, of love that triumphs over war, world strife, and the fragmentation of modern existence. Yerby, the master storyteller, deals with men in battle searching for a place to love and for their identity and integrity, in an environment where mere survival seems to be the greatest task.

Of French-American background, John Farrow joins with the World War II French resistance forces around Vercors. There he meets Simone Levy - a comrade-in-arms - and their own vitality and fierce energy for survival allow them time to love.

During the last days of the war, Simone disappears after being tortured by the Nazis, and Farrow tries to continue his life, but finds it without its central reason for being. Some 20 years later, he begins his search for Simone, in the very places in France where they fought, and is caught in another conflict—between Arabs and Jew. The search is also one for his true heritage and personal ethic, and a definition of courage.

All the great qualities of Yerby's talents are brought to the fore in this novel: searing battle scenes, passion, vivid characterization, riveting plot. Here is added a remarkable insight into modern history, as the setting moves from war-torn France to modern Israel, with a tumultuous climax in Madrid. This is a work filled with double agents, former Nazi torturers, a brave people fighting for their existence - a novel torn from the great events of our time - yet intimately, touchingly personal in its depiction of unending love and personal fulfillment.

What with corn on the cob, watermelons and peaches, this life isn't so bad.

There's no more doubt whether hot weather will arrive this summer.

People who object to the price of vegetables should try growing their own.

August Sandwich Month

August is "Sandwich Month"! More than 300 million of this winning table item and restaurant menu leader are now being consumed daily. It's Sandwich time anytime and anywhere food is served. Whether it's daytime or after dark, sandwiches are in demand.

As a tribute, under the leadership of the Wheat Flour Institute, nationally, and the Texas Wheat Producers Board, a month-long promotion of the sandwich is being carried out according to Miss Mary Ellen Dambold, Wheat Foods Consultant to the TWPB.

Highlight of the "Sandwich Month" activities is the naming of the "Top Twenty Award-Winning Sandwiches" in a National Idea Contest in which versatility of the sandwich is demonstrated as food service professionals send entries in to be judged. From these, the top four winners are selected. Some of the attributes of the sandwich being touted by the nutritionists, according to Miss Dambold are: It fits any meal, supper, lunch breakfast, or snacks; it is action food, for eating on the run, sandwiches go with you wherever you go; Nutritionally, the skies the limit for the sandwich, which always contains something from at least two if not all four food groups—breads and cereals, meat, dairy, and fruits and vegetables.

The perfect hostess serves the perfect cup of coffee

The energy shortage and rising costs mean there will be more entertaining at home. There is no reason why you shouldn't be serving your guests delicious, aromatic, soul satisfying coffee.

Here are a few suggestions from the Chemex Corporation:

1. Be certain the coffee-maker is clean.
2. Buy a good grade of fresh coffee and store in a cool dry place (refrigerator). Keep lid tightly closed. Never purchase over one week's supply of ground coffee.
3. Use the proper grind for the coffee-maker.
4. Use fresh pure water. Never use chemically softened water. The temperature of the water should be approximately 200°F for proper extraction. When the water begins to boil take it off the burner until it is calm. Then, it is at the proper brewing temperature.
5. Never pour brewed coffee back through spent grounds. It makes the coffee bitter and unpalatable.
6. Drink and enjoy promptly; the longer it "sits" the more aroma is lost.

Most coffee experts agree that filtered coffee brewed in a glass coffee-maker is the best for you, as well as the best tasting. Glass is not porous so it cannot stain or corrode. Coffee filters retain the oils and sediment which cause bitterness.

SEP 74 Form 105

fashion following in the footsteps of the Thirties

Following in the footsteps of the '30s styles, new looks for Fall go soft and easy. New fashions capture the '30s mood with super soft fabrics, stain-glass colors and Art Deco prints—florals, dots and geometrics. A "natural" for incorporating these elements, the dress swings back into the style spotlight.

And with the comeback of the dress, more refined shoes are favored over bulky platforms. Scholl footwear experts point out. Skirts just look better with delicate footwear.

The classic pump reappears to score fashion points, trimmed down with a new tapered heel and sole. Pumps take a sophisticated step forward in suedes and patents, and to blend with this season's vivid fabric colors, go neutral in black, brown and gray.

While keeping the emphasis on comfort and easy fit, the low-heeled pump holds its own on the style scene with decorative detailing. For example, shiny patent wing-tips tongues and straps accent brushed suede and leather in matching or contrasting tones. Other design effects are achieved by giving patent a lizard texture and wrapping up pumps with perforated English binding.

New footwear is a suave counterpoint to fall's dressy, romantic Art Deco style, which might prompt a flapper of the Fitzgerald era to say, "Nothing's a bore... not even shoes."

Our Health

By C. H. Tracy, M.D.

I work in an air-conditioned building which gets too cool for comfort in the summer months. Could the cold air be the cause of my frequent summer colds?

Air conditioning, especially when over-cool can cause frequent colds since sudden changes in temperature make the nose's mucous membrane more susceptible to infection. When a person enters an air-conditioned place on a hot day, his nose may adjust quickly to the cooler air. But when he leaves it, his nose may be so chilled that it cannot adjust to the outdoor heat. A sudden rise like this in the temperature of inhaled air causes blood vessels in the mucous membrane to dilate, thus swelling the lining of the nose and creating a "stuffed up" feeling.

My young daughter is so fair-skinned I'm afraid to let her play outside with the other children during the summer. Is there any way to protect an active child from being sunburned if she's allowed to stay out all day?

Fair-skinned people especially must always be careful to avoid overexposure to the summer sun since acute burning is possible. It would be wise at the beginning of summer to have your child take short sunbaths, 10-15 minutes at first, exposing her skin to gradually increased doses of sunlight. The skin will begin to acquire a light tan which will help protect it from sunburn later.

poor in spirit

"Blessed are the poor in spirit: for their's is the kingdom of heaven," (Matt. 5:3). Christ began the Sermon on the Mount with the Beatitudes, guidelines for a perfect spiritual life. Doing these eight things would bring true happiness. The first Beatitude seems to contradict all logic. It seems to base happiness on material poverty or a negative attitude. Christ did not mean either of these. He was calling for ego-poverty; doing without any thought of self. The Pharisee was vain and boastful. He valued himself very highly. His self-praise was his reward. But the publican knew that without God, he was nothing. He begged for forgiveness in leading a better life. His humility brought him the kingdom of heaven. It will be ours if we humble ourselves. Blessed are the poor in spirit.

Her Title, Cattlewoman

BY SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

when she can manage any more spare time she reads.

NOT ALL the cattle feeders of this area who are hard hit by current market conditions can fairly be described as cattlemen — some of them are cattlemen and Joan Coupe is one of them.

Not just the wife of order buyer Dick Coupe, and office manager of Hereford Cattle Sales, and operator of her own bookkeeping service which specializes in work for feedyards, Mrs. Coupe says "I feed cattle on my own, and have taken my losses along with everyone else."

Talking on the much-discussed crisis in cattle prices and comparing the recent break in the cattle market with the 1929 stock market break which precipitated the depression of the 1930's, Mrs. Coupe commented on reactions of those affected.

"OF COURSE some cattle feeders took tremendous losses, but so far I haven't heard of one who shot himself as they say many stock brokers did in 1929," she remarked. "I don't believe that's likely to happen to anyone who has been in the cattle business long."

"There are too many ups and downs for cattlemen at any time and one who doesn't expect sudden losses shouldn't be in the business. Some of those who invested in cattle in recent years as a get-rich quick venture may have suffered the greater shock."

Joan Coupe has been at least exposed to cattle business all her life. She grew up on a farm and ranch operated by her father in Saskatchewan, in Western Canada. Now semi-retired, her father "still farms a little bit," she says, and a brother is a rancher and farmer.

HER EXPERIENCE in businesses related to ranching dates back about six years when she returned to office employment after her children were all in school. That was about two years after the Coupes had moved to Hereford. She came to the United States from her native Canada in 1959 and has lived in Colorado and Illinois. Coupe is from Colorado. They have three children, Janelle, 12 years old, and just-younger twin boys, Jeff and Kevin.

Mrs. Coupe attended business college instead of conventional college, and has done bookkeeping for an electrical firm, an oil company and a lawyer's office before she came to Hereford.

She became a naturalized American citizen last year, says the family is "happy with Texas and with Hereford" and expects to stay here.

THAT SHE TAKES seriously her involvement with the cattle industry is evident from her membership in the American National Cattlemen's Association and the Texas Cattle Feeders, as well as in the Hereford CowBelles, which she is serving now as secretary, and the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

She attended the ANCA convention in San Diego last year, and with her husband the Texas Cattle Feeders meeting in Houston. Also she was in Hereford CowBelle delegations to state conventions at Abilene and San Antonio.

Another membership that indicates one of her interests is in the Women's Golf Association. Busy as a homemaker and businesswoman, she makes time to play golf, she says, and

ALL THREE of her children have taken up golf and she is pleased that they share her interest there. The whole family likes sports and Mrs. Coupe says she goes along with them to the point of camping, then draws the line.

"Outdoor cookery and outdoor beds don't appeal to me," she laughs, "and my Boy Scouts can do their camping without me."

Her daughter is enthusiastic now about painting, so she is taking lessons. One of her landscapes and another painting done by one of the boys during a momentary interest in art, hang on the walls of Mrs. Coupe's office.

TRAVEL, not by camper, is something the sparkling brunette enjoys. Trips by West Texas groups to Rome this year and to Jamaica last year have included Joan and Dick Coupe, and she found the congenial crowd as well as the new scenes pleasant.

The family has visited her relatives in Canada many times and has gone farther into Western Canada. Last year she took the children to the Calgary Stampede, the widely known rodeo.

When she is asked for a favorite recipe, Mrs. Coupe naturally responds with one for a beef dish. This one, which can be prepared ahead and refrigerated in a CowBelle cookbook, and would star in any company meal.

OVEN—BRAISED BEEF
4 to 5 pound boneless chuck roast
2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
1 medium onion, thinly sliced
1 carrot, thinly sliced
1 rib celery, cut in thin crescents
1 cup dry red wine
1/4 cup brandy
1 lb. tomato paste
3 springs parsley
1 dove garlic, minced
1 tsp. crushed thyme
2 bay leaves
2 whole cloves
Cornstarch

LINE BOTTOM sides of a shallow roasting pan with heavy-duty foil with overlap enough to cover meat later. Arrange meat in center, place under broiler and brown lightly, turning several times.

Remove pan from broiler and reset oven to 325 degrees. Sprinkle meat with salt and pepper, surround with onion, carrot and celery. Combine wine, brandy and tomato paste, add parsley, garlic, thyme, bay leaves and cloves. Pour over meat.

Seal foil with double fold, return to oven and roast until tender, 3 1/2 to 4 hours. Remove beef to warm platter. Strain juices into a quart measure.

Skim off fat. Mix 1 tb. cornstarch with 1 tb. cold water for each 1 1/4 cups liquid. Add cornstarch mixture to pan, stir in strained liquid and cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Correct seasoning.

When prepared ahead, refrigerate cooked meat and strained liquid separately. When ready to use, remove fat from top of liquid and make sauce as directed. Slice meat fairly thin and reheat in sauce.

Three Area Women Chosen For Honor

Three Hereford area women have been selected as Outstanding Young Women of America for 1974 and will appear in the annual biographical compilation, Outstanding Young Women of America.

Patty McMahan, Sherry White and Mrs. Gene Meachem were recognized by the program for their achievements and abilities for women between the ages of 21 and 35.

Miss White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.C. White of 214 N. Texas, is a senior student at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

She was a divisional talent winner in the 1972 Miss Texas

Pageant in Fort Worth while serving as Miss Hereford. In 1973, reigning as Miss Lubbock, she was again a talent winner in the Miss Texas Pageant.

Mrs. Meacham, former Hereford resident, has lately been assigned to missionary work with her husband in East Africa. The couple grew up in the Hereford area and have lived in Dawn community where the Rev. Meacham has been pastor of Dawn Baptist Church since 1971.

She is the daughter of Mrs. W.H. Thompson and the late Mr. Thompson.

These women are now being considered for further state and national awards. This fall, 51 of the candidates included in Outstanding Young Women of America, one from each state, will be named as their state's Outstanding Young Woman of the Year.

From the winners, American's Ten Outstanding Young Women for 1974 will be selected.

The purpose of the program is to recognize women for exceptional contributions to professions, communities and their country.

Nominations for this program are made by women's organizations, churches, alumni associations and individuals.

Activity Reports Heard By Board

Mrs. Melvin Hoover reported to board members of the Women's Division, Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce Tuesday that three new members of the Miss Hereford Steering Committee have been appointed to two-year terms.

They are Mmes. Eugene Hendon, Roy Shipp and Hoover. The committee will elect a chairman soon and start preparing for next year's pageant.

Numerous activity reports featured the board's luncheon meeting at Dickies Restaurant.

Members discussed plans for a city-wide paper drive, and decided to table any decision until more information is gathered from the city commission and two other local organizations who have conducted similar drives.

Mrs. J.W. Robinson, chairman of the summer youth program, was commended for outstanding work on the program which was held at Community Center.

In fine arts, it was reported that Mrs. Joel Newman, chairman, and her husband are repainting three signs for Hereford entrances.

Mrs. O.G. Neiman president, reported for Mrs. Joe Henry, membership chairman. Members are urged to order newly designed name badges shaped like the map of Texas.

The badges are on sale for $2 and members should call the Chamber office to place orders. They will be worn to all Chamber functions, out-of-town meetings and conventions.

Mrs. Percy Willson reported on the annual teachers banquet which is being planned by the Chamber. The Women's Division will be in charge of decorations.

Members were also informed of the Miss Wheat Heart Pageant which is scheduled August 24 in Perryton. Susie Hickman, Miss Hereford, will participate sponsored by the Women's Division and Hereford Jaycees.

New members welcomed into the division were Mmes. Wesley Fisher, Bartley Dowell, David Hutchins, Sylvia High and Marjorie Lasiter.

First Baptist Church Offers Counseling

A special counseling program will be made available in Hereford through coordination of the First Baptist Church, it was announced this week by the Rev. Doug Manning, pastor.

A coordinating committee of the church has arranged for Dr. Joe Garms, Amarillo psychologist, to come to Hereford each Thursday for the family and personal counseling. The program will be started here next Thursday.

A former psychologist with the Amarillo schools, Dr. Garms said he would "attempt to deal with marital and juvenile matters, as well as the full range of problems."

A spokesman for the coordinating committee explained that "sliding scale" fee would be charged. It will be based on income and the number of persons in the family. He added that the service is being provided as ministry of the church.

The counseling program is open to all persons in the community. Appointments can be made by calling the church office, 364-0696.

To prevent pealed peaches for canning from turning brown, either drop them in hot syrup or in salt water. Use one teaspoon salt to one gallon of water.

LEGAL AID FOR POOR

The White House has announced that President Nixon has signed into law a bill creating a new, independent corporation providing legal aid to the poor. Legal Services had been under the Office of Economic Opportunity since 1966.

American prospects to become self-sufficient in producing energy by 1980 will come under public scrutiny when the Federal Energy Administration opens hearings on Project Independence in early August.

Specialist Predicts Growth For Texas Cattle Feeding

The Texas Cattle feeding industry is projected to reach at least 7.3 million head level by 1980. That would be 70 per cent greater than the 4.3 million head output recorded in 1972, predicts Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Uvacek says, "Demand for beef is forecasted to continue to rise steadily through 1980. This will be brought about by a larger population and a substantial increase in the per capita disposable income level, plus added demand factors such as the food stamp program."

In 1973 Texas fed cattle marketings represented 17 per cent of the national total. If Texas attains the projected 7.3 million head level by 1980 and the rest of the nation grows to the expected 38.5 million head level, the Texas share of the national output will increase to 19 per cent.

"My guess would be that Texas cattle feeding could easily reach that 7.3 million level and maybe even as much as 7.7 million head," contends Uvacek.

The trend toward larger feedlots also seems certain. With bigger lots being utilized more efficiently, fewer such facilities will be needed. The upper-end of the Texas Panhandle has recorded the major growth in feedlots, in slaughtering plants and related beef industry firms. This area is in the sorghum belt, the principal cattle-feed supply region.

One interesting facet of this feeding expansion in the High Plains of Texas is the fact that within less than a 100 mile radius from Amarillo are four other cattle feeding areas in other states. These other areas are still within easy reach of the same sorghum supplies, the same packers and the same other related industries. What then will keep cattle feeding in Texas? Probably even more important than that — Uvacek asks, "What factors will cause cattle feeding to shift out of Texas?"

He lists several important items — a state corporate tax, state income tax, more stringent pollution laws, imbalance in intra-versus inter-state transportation rates, attitude of Texas toward the cattle feeding business, and other state of federal regulations affecting the industry.

"Certainly these and numerous other economic and political influences will dictate whether or not Texas can retain its leadership role in cattle feeding. They may even be more important than competitive advantages.

"All Texans must not only realize that Texas makes beef, but also that beef contributes greatly to the economic well-being of everyone in the state. The cattle feeding industry deserves and must receive everyone's support," emphasizes Uvacek. "It is the underlying industry that supports thousands of other related industries."

"KNOW WHAT TO LOOK FOR WHEN YOU BUY TEXAS EGGS," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White says. With egg prices on the rise, the more a consumer knows about purchasing eggs the better buy she will make. Because size and grade or quality are not related, a Jumbo or a Medium egg may be Grade AA, A, or B. According to information from the Texas Department of Agriculture, Grade AA eggs cover a small area with a thick, high white and a firm, high yolk. Grade A covers a moderate area. It has a reasonably high, thick white and a firm, high yolk. Grade B covers a wide area with a small amount of thick white and a flattened, enlarged yolk. Grade B eggs are better for scrambling, baking and combining with other foods than for poaching, frying and cooking in the shell. Egg sizes include Jumbo, which weighs a minimum of 30 ounces a dozen; Extra Large, 27 ounces; Large, 24 ounces; Medium, 21 ounces, and Small, 18 ounces.

Swine Producers Organize Market

Texas swine producers are facing declining local markets because several Texas hog slaughter facilities have been closed. Even though some of the remaining packers are expanding hog slaughter capacities, and taking steps to eliminate the vestiges of poor management that caused the demise of some slaughterhouses, the lack of convenient competitive outlets for slaughter hogs has served to lower the price received by many producers.

According to a Texas Agricultural Extension Service economist at Lubbock, an attempt to improve these conditions through group action in pooling market hogs and negotiating collectively with packers has been launched by Texas swine producers.

country, he adds. Simultaneously, because of the market conditions in some areas, many hogs produced in Texas are shipped out of the state for slaughter. Market efficiency suffers when live animals destined for slaughter pass each other at the Texas border.

Real gains in marketing can come only with large volumes. Thus, agriculturalists must organize and collectively help each other.

Despite the need for changes in the marketing structure, a potential hazard of operating numerous independent market organizations exists, the economist cautions. Dissimilarities in operations and procedures, competition between organizations, personality conflicts between managers and packers, and the limited capital available in each organization to hire capable market management are possible problems of having several independent marketing organizations.

"These problems could be combated and market efficiency significantly increased by organizing overall market coordination for all organizations," he says.

"Delegation of the responsibility for contact with packers and actual sale of hogs from all organizations to one coordinating office would significantly increase the volume and associated market impact while maintaining local organizations and fostering local interest and support.

"Increased volume would ease the burden of the cost of market management and would allow the coordinator to be in the market every day contacting the same people. Additional services to packers (that will result in higher prices) would be increased significantly, and potential competition among local organizations would be eliminated."

He emphasizes that the structure of a coordinated multi area market effort needs some consideration. If local organizations are structured as cooperatives, a regional cooperative to handle the market coordination can be formed by the local co-ops. While this type of organization is not the only possibility, it has appeal because each member owns a part of the total structure.

The market effort by Texas swine producers is exciting, Sartin adds. Their attempts to help themselves potentially have far-reaching effects. But each swine producer must recognize that the success of this effort depends on the commitment of the participants.

Marketing improvements are long-range endeavors, and each producer who participates must stay with the organization through good times and bad if the potential of the effort is to be realized.

A significant percentage of the hogs slaughtered in Texas originate in other parts of the state.

Lubbock Ag Experiment Station To Hold Open House Ceremony

The 65th Annual Field Day and Open House of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station north of Lubbock has been set for Tuesday, Sept. 10. Highlighting the occasion will be a comprehensive review of recent developments in agricultural research.

Announcement of the upcoming field day activities was made by Dr. George McBee, resident director of TAES at Lubbock, and Dr. Darrell Rosenow, field day committee chairman and TAES associate professor in grain sorghum breeding.

According to Rosenow, members of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, ARS-USDA, National Weather Service and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be on hand to explain and demonstrate research efforts being conducted on the sprawling 300-acre site known as the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center. These agencies are based at the center, except for NWS whose agricultural meteorologist is offed there.

The site is located 7.5 miles north of Lubbock on HWY 87, just north of the Lubbock Regional Airport.

Field tours will begin at 1:00 p.m. with special evening tours from 5:30 - 6:30, said Rosenow.

Stops along the 35-minute tours of the Station's research plot will include new developments in soil water research, soil fertility, short season, narrow row cotton, weed control research, and sorghum insect pest management.

The tours, via tractor-pulled trailers, will depart from the station headquarters every 15 minutes throughout the afternoon, allowing visitors to get on or off at any of the five field stops, Rosenow explained. A five-minute talk will be presented at each of the five stops.

The field day chairman added that weather equipment and farm machinery will be added attractions for public viewing. The ARS-USDA research gin just down the road also will be open to visitors.

Special evening tours from 5:30 to 6:30 will be staged for those unable to make the afternoon events, he said. Businessmen, agricultural industry representatives, and consumers interested in agricultural research are invited to take advantage of the special tours.

"We especially hope that urban-oriented citizens will come out for the field day since the effort of agricultural scientists benefit them as much as the farmer and agribusinessman," Rosenow urged.

"Due to recent problems arising from the increasingly critical water situation, insect damage and weather-related problems, many High Plains citizens will be particularly interested in what is being done in agricultural research," he concluded.

The field day annually attracts over 1,000 visitors. Free refreshments and parking assistance are provided.

Site Can Lower Building Costs

If you're planning a new farm building, one way to reduce costs is by proper selection of the site, says W.S. Allen, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. First of all, be sure easements, codes, regulations and restrictions are known before final staking is done.

If possible, do grading before starting construction, advises Allen. This allows equipment to proceed without hindrance and reduces costly hand labor that might otherwise be necessary for hard-to-reach areas.

"When fills are necessary, make sure that adequate and properly-reinforced foundations are provided. Thoroughly pack fills within buildings or lots where concrete floors or pavement will be used; otherwise, settling will cause concrete to crack," points out the engineer.

"Selection of a level, well-drained site will be a big aid in keeping costs at a minimum. This will reduce the need for such equipment as bulldozers, earth movers and backhoes as well as some foundation materials," says the Texas A&M University System engineer.

"Earth spread and packed in shallow layers will settle less than earth dumped in greater depths and packed only from the top. Earth packs better when it is moist."

Allen suggests using sheep-foot or wheel-type rollers to pack the earth as it is spread.

Mites. Cut 'em down with DI-SYSTON

Before using DI-SYSTON or any other pesticide, read and follow label directions.

Tiny mites can take a big bite out of your corn production and your profit. They cause small, chaffy kernels that cut yields; loose cobs that are hard to shell; and excessive breakage that increases fuel consumption and field losses at harvest time.

Cut down mites with DI-SYSTON Liquid Concentrate. Delivers a lightning-fast contact cleanout, then is absorbed into the sap stream for extra weeks of systemic protection.

GET MITES OUT OF CORNFIELDS QUICK

The secret of successful mite control is early detection and quick application of DI-SYSTON. Inspect fields frequently during hot, dry weather. When mites appear, quick action cleans out mite colonies before they get firmly established. Prevents the yield loss and lodging that increases harvesting costs.

This year, protect your corn yields and your profit from mites. Apply DI-SYSTON, the dependable original systemic insecticide.

Value of Farmland Increasing in 1974

(Reprint from THE CROSS SECTION)

The value of farmland, like many other large property investments, has increased markedly during the past 12 months, and the High Plains area is no exception.

Marvin Sartin, Area Specialist in Farm Management, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Lubbock, says the latest transition of government away from subsidizing agriculture has resulted in increasing farm prices, exactly opposite from what normally could have been expected.

"Investment in land as a hedge against our galloping inflation probably had some impact on this increase," the economist states. "However, the primary stimulus was the profitability of 1973 for agricultural producers."

Land Valued On Utility

Sartin explains that agricultural cropland is valued, much as other real estate, based upon its utility. "This utility (or usefulness) of agricultural cropland is derived primarily from its ability to generate profits, the almost constant upward trend in land values and the intrinsic value of owning a farm."

Along this line, the farm management expert stressed the added value that an abundant supply of groundwater gives to a piece of property. "The Plains area is one of the few areas in the country that has the potential to deflate in value, because of the rate at which farmers are depleting the groundwater supply."

Sartin noted that, in a three- to five-month period, land values shot up $200 to $300 an acre in some parts of northern Lamb County, western Hale County and the tighter-soil areas of Bailey County.

Water Conservation Important

"Those people who have purchased land at high prices in the last six to eight months need to be more conscious of water conservation than anyone else," he stressed. "While looking at substantial loan payments and a long payout period, the landowner must seriously consider water conservation in order to make his purchase a profitable venture."

Tailwater return systems and playa lake modifications also prove to enhance the value of the farm for the future as well as the present.

Aside from its usefulness, agricultural cropland is also valued by its ability to produce net income.

In the past, says the specialist, government programs have played important roles in determining income from farms. Since their inception, these programs have run the gamut—from paying farmers to remove land from production, direct payments for conservation practices, guaranteed high prices, rigid supply controls and direct subsidies to the program which we have today.

Current Program Different

The current program, effective from 1974 until 1977, is considered by Sartin to be a radical change from the farm policy of the past. "Today, farmers are not limited in their choice of crops to produce nor in the acreage of these crops (except tobacco and peanuts). They are relatively free to choose those crops returning the highest profits."

"Likewise, they will not receive any subsidy or government payment unless farm prices fall below specified 'target' levels. However, each farmer is free to plant his land to the crop or crops that he desires, with no acreage allotment considerations or limitations."

Sartin points out that the current law does include some compensation for disasters which prevent farmers from producing a normal crop. Thus, a farmer may be eligible for some government assistance if he is affected by drought or hail.

Lack Of Guaranteed Income

The primary differentiating characteristic between the current program and those of the past is the lack of guaranteed income flow. Under past programs, farmers producing allotted crops were assured of a certain quantity of income. The removal of this assurance does increase the risk factor associated with agricultural production.

Says the specialist, "While, in my opinion, income-producing potential is an important factor in determining the value of cropland, the effects of the past and current government programs on land values are impossible to quantify. It is impossible to ascertain what situation would have existed if government programs had never been instituted. Thus, a comparison of the worth of land with crop allotments and histories to similar lands without allotments does not reflect the total impact of government programs on land values."

Speculate Government Effects

Speculation remains as the only method of evaluating the effects of government intervention on the value of farmland. "Without a doubt, values were affected; and, probably, considering the past limitations of marketing our abundance throughout the world, land values were enhanced," he continued.

"The primary concern now is, 'What will be the effect, if any, of the current change in farm policy?' Eighteen months ago, I would have speculated that this change would have had a depressing effect upon farmland values to the extent of at least slowing the rate of increase. However, 1973 was a year of unparalleled prosperity in agriculture. Product prices for almost all commodities set new records. Farmers made a lot of money."

Land availability was greatly exceeded by the demand for land at past prices. Farmland values shot up as farmers purchased land at almost any asking price. "Because the cost-price squeeze perennially plagues agriculture, forcing increased unit size, the trend toward larger farming operations continued and will likely continue for some time."

Sartin concludes, "In my opinion, the value of farmland will not continue to soar at anywhere near the rate we have just experienced. However, I feel that we will not see any significant or prolonged decline from these levels in the near future. Even though government has shifted away from subsidizing agriculture, current world demand for agricultural products and the economic advantage that we enjoy in agricultural production point toward the maintenance of 'good' prices for our agricultural products. A profitable agriculture will mean increasing land prices."

"Therefore, it seems to me that the shift of government away from agriculture will not adversely affect farmland values at present."

TSTI Offers New Courses

Welding and fabrication is one of two new courses to be offered this fall at Texas State Technical Institute, Mid-Continent Campus, Amarillo, announced General Manager Lavelle A. Pillow.
After a review of Panhandle needs, we found that a relatively short welding program was needed. This program will specialize in fabrication techniques needed for production in medium and small shops in the area. Based on our survey, job opportunities are practically unlimited," Pillow said.
More than 30 applications for admission to the fall quarter welding program have already been received in State Tech's admissions office, and as many as 40 to 45 are expected. Instructors are confident they can place every student who finishes the course. Some even find good jobs before they complete the four quarters.
It is possible for a student to exit at the end of any quarter, with varying degrees and types of skills.
Gerard Avant, program chairman for the Agricultural and Industrial Equipment Mechanics program, says:
"In the survey we made, one corporation alone had 800 openings for welders."
Avant has assisted with instruction for the evening and special skills classes already being conducted at the TSTI campus.
Roy Savage, 2306 Larry, welding instructor under the special skills programs, will become program chairman for Welding and Fabrication. He was associated with Willborn Bros. Tank Co., in Amarillo for 18 years. He is a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the American Welding Society, and a graduate of the International Correspondence Schools in blueprint reading and laboratories.
Course of study for Welding and Fabrication includes orientation and safety, basic welding, basic drafting, shop math, intermediate welding, technical drafting, metallurgy, human relations, advanced welding, metal fabrication, communications, elements of supervision, record keeping and supervised welding practice.
Completion of the course requires 30 contact hours per week for four quarters, or twelve months.
Registration for the fall quarter at State Tech begins September 3, but students are urged to make application for admission now.
