

County Budget Approved At $1.5 Million

By O.G. NEEMAN
Editor-Publisher

A 1974-75 budget of $1.5 million was approved by Deaf Smith County Commissioners Monday afternoon, following a busy morning that saw commissioners meet as a board of equalization and then hold a public budget hearing.

Purpose of the equalization hearing was to increase the assessment ratio from 22 to 24 per cent of appraised value. Commissioners approved this action, then set the tax rate at $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation. This was an increase of 5 cents in the county rate, but did not change the overall county-district-state rate of $1.72 since the state reduced its rate by 5 cents.

Result of the action was to increase the taxpayer's bill by slightly more than 9 per cent on the assessment change. On an appraised value of $20,000, for example, this could increase the tax bite by $6.88 a year—as illustrated in the figures shown in the "box" accompanying this article.

IN ADDITION to the county tax rate of $1.25 per $100 assessed value, the county collects the taxes for the state (17 cents), the hospital district (25 cents) and the water district (5 cents). This gives the combined total rate of $1.72.

In other business Monday, the court approved an upgraded insurance plan presented by Blue Cross-Blue Shield, approved a survey requested by the Farmers Home Administration, discussed revenue from the JP's office with Judge Glen Nelson, approved insurance coverage on the new library, and discussed rules covering use of the meeting rooms at the library.

About 40 citizens appeared for the board of equalization hearing at 10 a.m. Monday. After appraiser Jim McMorries explained the two-per-cent assessment change, only four or five taxpayers met with the appraiser to discuss valuations.

ONE OR TWO made comments about the increasing costs of government, at all levels, and urged commissioners to curb spending as much as possible. Another commented on the value placed on irrigated land with the water table declining steadily. The appraiser said this was taken into consideration when property owners reported these facts.

The budget hearing drew 10 citizens, in addition to county officials and news media representatives present, and the county's financial advisor—Bob Davis of Amarillo—went over the document page by page. He stated the budget had been figured "more closely" than ever before, with "less leeway for totals projected in the budget."

Even if the state had not decreased its rate by 5 cents, Davis said the county would have needed to levy another 5 cents to meet budget needs. He added that the county "will probably have to raise its tax rate next year."

THE NEW BUDGET shows an increase of some $364,551 over the past year. In outlining the budget figures, (See COUNTY, Page 2)

Dispute Erupts At Labor Camp

Residents of the Finlan sub-division—commonly called the Labor Camp—literally had their water cut off over the weekend, posing a tense and touchy situation which apparently involved a shooting incident Saturday.

The area, outside of the city limits southwest of town, has a privately-owned water system that serves an estimated 150 families. Residents reported that the well was cut off Friday night, and sheriff's deputies were called to the scene Saturday afternoon when several persons reported the situation was "getting out of hand."

The sheriff's department answered a call that a fight had broken out and someone had been shot. Sheriff Travis McPherson said a man was treated at the hospital for a minor injury, but the victim would give no information on the incident or file charges against anyone. "We cannot say for sure that the incident involved the water situation," he added.

RESIDENTS of the area called a meeting Tuesday afternoon to discuss the situation, and had a lawyer from Amarillo present to advise them. The attorney, Carson Smith, spoke to a crowd of more than 100 persons, and an interpreter was present for the discussion.

Persons on the water line reported that Domingo Pesina, owner of the well, apparently had trouble collecting the $6.75 monthly fee from some of the tenants. Some tenants, however, said they had paid for several months in advance.

They related that the well was switched off Friday night, but apparently some resident turned it back on Saturday. The well was turned off again and fuses removed from the electrical box, but someone replaced the fuses and turned the well motor on again. Finally a lock was put on the system and a disturbance followed.

New Teachers Welcomed

Annual Banquet Honors Teachers

New teachers in Hereford and Deaf Smith County heard the unique story of "hustlin' Hereford" when they were special guests Tuesday night at the annual New Teachers Banquet, sponsored by Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Wayne Thomas, local attorney and a past C of C president, reviewed the tremendous growth and progress of Hereford and urged the new teachers to become active members of the community. An estimated 225 persons attended the event, including some 60 teachers and their spouses or dates.

Melvin Jayroe, head of the "Hustlers," served as master of ceremonies, and C of C president Roy Fushion introduced the teachers. Bill Allright, the chamber's executive vice president, presided the welcome, and Beita Ottesen was chairman of the annual event.

past chairman of the Texas College Coordinating Board, told the teachers "you have come to what is a unique community." He gave population figures for the past three decades, pointing out that the numbers doubled in the 40's, had a 50 per cent increase in the 50's, and showed a 75 per cent increase in the 60's.

"The unique thing is that farm population was declining at a 33 per cent rate in the 60's and many rural communities were dying," emphasized Thomas. "While Hereford was still growing and progressing."

Thomas pointed to the many factors that made this possible—including irrigation, soil and a diversified ag economy—but the real key "has been and is the people who live here," he stated. "There is an attitude that permeates a community—a young and positive attitude that says if it's good for the community, we do it."

that led to Hereford's claim as the "beef headquarters of the world" and the county's ranking as No. 1 in agriculture. With irrigation, the vegetable industry cranked up in the 40's, then came the sugar industry and the Holly plant, the advent of hybrid milo, followed by the huge cattle feeding industry. He also outlined the large number of ag-related firms that have been a part of the Hereford success story.

Thomas concluded by listing other vital segments of the community that make Hereford a unique city. These included a fine school system—a statewide leader in new programs, responsible city and county governmental leaders, a fully accredited hospital, progressive and responsive churches, and active, hard-working civic clubs working for the betterment of the community.

"WE WANT to welcome you and ask you to become a part of us. We want you to help us have an even better school system—that's why you were selected to come here," Thomas concluded.

Entertainment for the event was presented by "The Triple Trio," a group directed by Bill Devers, a junior high choir director. Most of the group is associated with the school system. Composing the group were Mr. and Mrs. Devers, Vera Boyd, Nancy Jones, Nick Nixon, Bobby Boyd, Doug Morris, Sylvia Huckert and Jan Walser.

Each of the new teachers was sponsored by a Hereford business and was individually recognized with his or her escorts for the evening.

Grand Jury Returns Only Two Indictments

The Deaf Smith County grand jury met in closed session Tuesday, returning only two indictments and no-billing several cases.

Bunny Mack Deas and Tommy Deas were indicted on charges of theft over $10,000 in connection with a cattle theft case. The cattle were stolen from the Texum Feedyards during the first week in August and were later found in Houston. Task force officials have been working on the case since that time.

THE GRAND JURY heard testimony on the case for over two hours before returning the indictment. Another person was named in the indictment, but is still at large.

Cleo Helker was indicted on burglary charges in connection with a May 24 incident when a new truck tire and rim were stolen from the barn belonging to Horace Hershey. The burglary constitutes a second degree felony.

The jury returned no-bills against Bobby Eubanks and Ignacio Gonzales, each of whom had been charged with reckless homicide in connection with traffic fatalities. Also cleared with a no-bill was Nancy Gallo, who had been charged with intent to do serious bodily injury.

D.A. ANDY Shoval reported one case was passed and several other cases were introduced, but all were no-billed. The grand jury meets again Oct. 10.

Week Of Rain Breaks Drouth

Rain fell for the eighth straight day in Hereford Wednesday while forecasters were calling for the showers to continue until at least Friday.

The moisture benefit reaped by farmers in the area was the best possible. Rains early last week fell slowly with no wind, soaking into the soil. Further rains have been heavy but the soil continues to soak up most of the water.

Radio station KPAN, official moisture station for the city, has recorded 1.84 inches of moisture since Saturday morning, and a total of 3.87 inches of moisture total since rain began falling a week ago Tuesday. Sunday's report was 1.55 while Tuesday reports indicated only .29 of an inch.

EASTER FERTILIZER, south of Hereford, has reported the most rain. Since Saturday morning five inches of rain has fallen in the Easter area. They had reported one inch of rain from Tuesday to Saturday last week, for a total of six inches of rain since showers began falling.

At the Jim Conkwright residence 14 miles north of Hereford, 2.35 inches of moisture was recorded in the one-hour period between 5 and 6 p.m. Tuesday evening. That area was next highest in rainfall for the week with a 5.8 inches total.

County Commissioner Donald Hicks had recorded two inches of rain for the week before showers fell Tuesday night at his residence north of the city.

J.E. McCABE, who lives east of Dawn, has recorded 2.19 inches of moisture at his place since Saturday. About .70 of an inch fell Monday, less than .10 Tuesday, but Sunday 1.39 inches fell into McCabe's rain gauge.

To the west at Walcott, 1.95 inches of moisture was reported Sunday, .47 fell Monday, and only .10 fell Tuesday. That area missed out on moisture last week, generating only .60 of an inch before Saturday. Their total moisture since the rain began has been 3.2 inches.

City inspector Bill Phelps warns Hereford residents that the rain will cause weeds in alleys and vacant lots to grow a tremendous amount in a short period of time. Property owners are required by city ordinance to keep such weeds mowed.

Sign Gets Paint Job

Hereford's legendary motto of "Town Without a Toothache" has long been displayed on a sign at Windmill Park near the Santa Fe depot. The sign recently was repainted, thanks to the volunteer work of Mrs. Joel Newman, shown in the photo above as the lettered the message on a newly-painted board. In the lower photo, her husband turns the last bolt to fasten the completed sign back on its frame. The chamber's publicity committee is also working to renovate welcome signs and civic club signs.

Hit-Run Accident Results In Death

By DAN WELTY
Brand Staff Reporter

A Hereford man died late Monday night from injuries he received in a hit-and-run accident in an alley on Main Street.

William Bryan Tomlinson, 68, died of severe internal injuries about 9:30 p.m. Monday in the emergency room of the Deaf Smith County Hospital. The accident occurred about one hour earlier, Tomlinson, nicknamed "China," was the owner and operator of a domino parlor on Main Street in Hereford.

James Dick Hill was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Glen Nelson at noon Tuesday on charges of failure to stop and render aid in connection with the incident. The charge in Texas constitutes a felony. Nelson set bond on Hill at $1,500. Hill was then lodged in the Deaf Smith County jail.

POLICE were called to the east alley of the 100 block of Main about 8:30 p.m. Monday. Officers found Tomlinson sitting up in the alleyway behind the domino parlor. Tomlinson lived in the rear of the parlor. Officers noticed several cuts and abrasions on Tomlinson and called an ambulance. Tomlinson died about an hour later from a crushed chest cavity and severe internal bleeding.

A witness at the scene, who lives in a trailer parked in the alleyway, said he heard screams and looked from his doorway to see the car passing over Tomlinson. The witness said he turned to his phone to call police but upon his return, the car was gone. He gave officers a description of the car and a search was begun.

Police began searching the area for witnesses, and found two young men who worked in a nearby auto parts store who said they saw a car fitting the description enter the alley about 8:30 occupied by two persons.

OFFICERS BEGAN checking with persons who associated with Tomlinson and came across a person who recognized the description of the car and could identify its owner.

Volunteers Help Chamber In Sign Update Project

Signs that welcome travelers to Hereford on all highway entrances are being painted or re-painted in a project of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce publicity committee.

Volunteers are doing the work and more are needed to finish the job, says Pauline Howard, committee chairman. Signs at each edge of the city on both national highways and on Harrison Highway are being refurbished.

Those inviting travelers on Highway 60 to "Stop for a drink of water from the Town Without a Toothache," at Windmill Park adjoining the Santa Fe depot have been repainted by Mr. and Mrs. Joel Newman, who put four coats of maroon paint on six 10-foot boards as the base for the white lettering.

Mrs. Newman, fine arts chairman in the C of C Women's Division, turned sign-painter to paint the letters, also with several coats. The Newmans removed weathered old paint from the boards before they began painting.

Some of the frames made of heavy pipe to hold civic club signs have been painted by Chamber Manager Bill Albright and volunteers. Other helpers are wanted for four more frames. Each club is having its own signs renewed.

In addition to the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis and CowBelles have freshly-painted signs ready. Jaycees are working on one and the American Legion has indicated that it wants to add its sign to the collection, Albright said.

Anyone who will give any amount of time to help in this effort to show travelers the city's welcome, is asked to notify Mrs. Howard or the Chamber of Commerce office.

Busy Week For Police

Hereford police were kept busy over the weekend and Monday morning with traffic accidents and slight disturbances, but during the first part of the week, things were mostly quiet.

A Sunday evening accident left Mac McLeod, 15, of 800 Baltimore, with injuries to his mouth and face. The accident occurred at Centre and Moreman about 6:35 p.m.

McLeod was traveling west on Moreman when vehicles driven by he and Jay Preston Boston, of 405 Westhaven, collided at the intersection.

Police are investigating two affairs from Saturday night. Police were called to the Bull Barn, where wrestling matches were being held, to stop a fight that had started in the stands among spectators. Upon arrival, officers found a father and two of his children fighting. Officers took 18-year-old Eneadela Castillo, of 206 Lake, into custody for fighting in public and a younger brother, who was released to juvenile authorities.

Officers were called to Deaf Smith County General Hospital when three persons asked for emergency care at the hospital. All three had apparently been involved in a knife-fight. The three told officers they had received the wounds during a fight in the parking lot of the Wishing Well while a Saturday night dance was going on inside. All three were treated and released from the hospital.

Tools valued at $500 were stolen from the back of a pickup over the weekend. Ross Latham of 107 Star told officers he found the tools and a toolbox missing when he checked the back of the truck Monday morning.

Davis pointed out that costs of operation (supplies, maintenance and equipment) and the need for salary increases accounted for much of the added expenses.

Commissioners have not approved salary increases as yet, but the budget includes an estimated 10 per cent hike for all county employees and higher increases for most elected officials. Besides increased tax revenues, the county anticipates more revenue from state sources, fines and fees. The budget also includes $100,000 from federal revenue sharing funds.

A breakdown on the $1.25 county rate showed that the general fund will be taking a major portion of the revenue. The general fund's portion was increased from 57 cents to 72 cents, while the jury fund and road and bridge fund were decreased 15 cents. The statutory rate is 80 cents, with the road and bridge special fund adding on 15 cents, and the county special fund increased by five cents to 30 cents (the limit).

COMMISSIONERS, expressing concern of a decrease in fines and fees from the justice of peace office, called Glen Nelson to the meeting for a discussion of the matter. Donald Hicks told Nelson that "the word we have is that more tickets are being issued, but the reports show the revenue is less."

Nelson admitted that he may not be fining violators as much as the previous JP. "I ran a survey and found that I was a little below on the amount of fines previously being assessed," he told the court. However, he pointed out that less cases were actually handled in 1973 than in 1972. He said there would probably be more cases this year, primarily due to the lower 55 mph speed limit.

Hicks also questioned Nelson about the number of traffic tickets issued on cars, as opposed to trucks. "It seems to me—when I'm on the highway—that most trucks are not obeying the new speed limit," Nelson replied that the majority of the tickets he handled were on cars.

THE JP pointed to the reported 25 per cent decrease in traffic fatalities, and said he thought "that made it all worthwhile." Marcus Latham pointed out that the price of gasoline and the number of motorists on the highways might be a factor, as well.

Judge H.C. Williams told Nelson the court was "necessarily concerned about the JP court revenue, because the officers' salary fund was in the hole for the first time since I've been in office." Revenue for the officers' salary fund comes entirely from fines and fees of the courthouse offices. No action was involved on the matter.

Commissioners briefly discussed the policies to be used regarding the meeting rooms in the new library. The court had received a letter from the cultural committee of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce inquiring about admission charges. The question was whether it would be permissible for sponsoring groups to charge admission fees to events held in the Heritage and Bicentennial rooms of the library.

THE COURT decided to study the matter further before adopting rules on the use of the rooms, but commissioners seemed to agree that the same policy as used at the Bull Barn would be appropriate. That is, no admission fee could be charged unless proceeds went to a charitable or non-profit organization. Commissioners also generally agreed that the "no smoking" rule should apply to all areas of the library.

The commissioners' court approved insurance coverage of $400,000 on the library—$350,000 on the building and $50,000 for contents. The premium will be paid for a portion of the year, so that the insurance corresponds with other county policies. Annual cost was reported at $732 by Plains Insurance Agency.

A representative of Blue Cross-Blue Shield appeared at the meeting to discuss the upgrading of policies on county employees. Added benefits would cost the county about $1,500 per year. The court approved the plan.

situation, and he advised them to call a lawyer and perhaps seek an injunction. Meanwhile, Pesina was contacted by the sheriff's department about the matter, and he agreed to turn the well back on Monday morning.

At the meeting Tuesday, the attorney advised the group to seek an injunction prohibiting future shut-offs of the well. He then offered other suggestions as possible solutions, cautioning that the problem would not be quickly settled.

Smith suggested four possibilities: (1)Petition the City of Hereford for annexation; (2)If annexation was not possible, petition the city to provide water; (3)Form the labor camp into a city itself, with its own officials and police force; (4)Seek federal funds for forming a water district.

SMITH also expressed concern about the possible health hazard of the camp's water system. According to reports, non-galvanized gas pipeline was used when the private system was installed, and Smith said it was possible the pipes deposited impurities in the water.

Judge Williams, contacted about the matter, said he thought the private well owner was wrong in turning off the water. "If the matter comes to my court, the water will be turned on and the matter settled without hardship," he stated.

The county judge said the situation in the area is "pathetic." He said the commissioner in that precinct had attempted to help maintain roads but was unable to help much because pipelines were too close to the surface, and there was a lack of right-of-way on most streets. The judge added that annexation to the city seemed "out of question since few buildings could meet city building codes."

CONTACTED about the annexation matter, City Mgr. Dudley Bayne reported that annexation laws are generally "fouled up" on the state level. The latest ruling apparently states that a city cannot annex property unless it adjoins the present city limits. The labor camp does not adjoin the city limits.

Bayne said the city has been running low on water all summer and is not in a position to expand the municipal system to outlying areas. He felt the residents of the area's best hope might be in seeking federal funds for improvements.

Grain Handling Firm Plans Big Expansion

The Hereford branch of Grain Handling Corporation has begun installation of a million dollar corn-cleaning plant that will boost the company's current cleaning capacity by more than four times.

Walter Clevenger, president of Grain Handling Corporation, says the cleaning plant is only part of a current expansion project for the company. Two dryers have recently been installed, upping the Hereford plant's capacity to 8,000 bushels an hour. Other new facilities at the plant include a semi-truck lift leg that will speed loading and unloading of corn.

The company operates elevators in Hart, Hart Camp, Olton and Hereford. Although the company handles mostly corn, some milo is processed through outlying pickup stations.

THE NEW facility for Hereford is a high capacity cleaning plant. Construction has been slowed by recent rain-showers, but Clevenger predicts a late October date as scheduled completion.

The cleaner will be a combination of many machines from many manufacturers. Basically, its operation will be to clean foreign objects from corn before it is shipped to food companies. Grain Handling Corporation provides corn to companies that make food products including corn chips and tortillas.

The corn is brought to Grain Handling elevators during harvest and the company draws from these storage points to clean and ship grain all year.

THE NEW CLEANING facility will bag, blend and size corn besides ridding the corn of any foreign matter. Clevenger said, "When it comes from the plant it's a beautiful clean corn product, ready for use by the food companies."

Although a majority of the corn processed is their own, Grain Handling also processes for other persons. The company now has one cleaner at the Hart plant, but its capacity is only one-fourth of the new Hereford facility. The current construction will include a building large enough to double the size of the cleaner now under construction.

The machines will basically run themselves, but Clevenger expects to add about eight more men to the payroll when the cleaner is ready for operation.

Grain Handling moved to Hereford only about 14 months ago.

West 6th, found the vehicle answering the description, and placed Hill under arrest.

AFTER A SEARCH warrant was obtained, officers found a pair of shoes in the front seat of the car believed to belong to Tomlinson. Tomlinson was barefooted when the accident occurred. A search of the underside of the car by police produced hair and blood samples.

Officers believe that Hill and Tomlinson had been associating and drinking with each other for the past week, and theorize that Hill had driven in the alley to drop Tomlinson at the domino parlor. Both were apparently heavily intoxicated. Officers believe Tomlinson stepped in front of the car as it pulled away, or staggered and fell in front of the vehicle unnoticed by the driver. Skid marks in the dirt indicate Tomlinson's body was dragged about 15 feet beneath the car.

Further investigation will include a complete search of the underside of the vehicle and matching of blood samples taken from beneath the car and that of the victim.

William Bryan (China) Tomlinson of 138 N. Main will be buried in West Park Cemetery under the direction of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home following services Thursday morning in Rose chapel. The Rev. Doug Manning, pastor of First Baptist Church, will conduct the services.

Born February 24, 1906 in Old Glory, Mr. Tomlinson came to Deaf Smith County in 1953 from Aspermont. He was engaged in farming.

Survivors include three sisters, Mrs. Ruth Hunt of Haskell; Mrs. Lillian Hackebill, Dimming, N.M. and Mrs. Helen Jones, Atlanta, Ga.

Do we ever experience cold fronts in August? What is the maximum temperature of a cold front?

Cold fronts occur in every month in the year. We might have more of them to pass over us in August than in January. What misleads many about cold fronts is the very name itself.

But in summer a cold front might contain (behind the leading edge) air of 72 degrees, or even 80 degrees. A cold front is so-named because of its relative temperature considering the time of year and prevailing weather conditions.

August, this year, has already experienced several cold fronts. If the temperature has been reaching 90 degrees or more for several days and a mass of air moves in and over, with temperatures of 80 degrees or less, weathermen will call it a cold front.

Scouts Aid Project

Boy Scouts of Troop 51 in Hereford recently volunteered to help the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce re-work highway signs leading into town. The Scouts sanded metal signs for the city's civic clubs to get them ready for new paint and re-hanging at highway entrances to the city. The civic-club notices go on large frames at four locations coming into Hereford.

Pay Offered Drought Victims

Local farmers who lost all or part of their 1974 crops may begin qualifying for crop disaster payments.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reported that farmers who had crop damage due to drought — or other natural disaster — can apply for payments through their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Office (ASCS).

"It is important, however, that farmers make application before they plow up or destroy the field stubble of existing crops," White reminded.

Farmers can qualify for payments one of two ways. If crops have been totally destroyed, a farmer can file for relief depending upon his crop allotment. White said that an inspector trained by the Federal Crop Insurance Program checks the fields and appraises the damage. Payments are made on his appraisal.

If, however, a farmer can salvage something from his field, he harvests what he can, and the disaster payment becomes the difference between the projected and actual yields.

"This only applies to cotton and feed grains," White noted. "Rice and peanut farmers are not eligible for direct payments. They must apply for loans through the county ASCS office."

Emergency relief loans have also been made available to some farmers and ranchers through the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA). The rural service agency has surveyed 53 Texas counties and is making loans available to farmers and ranchers in approved counties to cover drought losses.

White said that as of Aug. 20, farmers in Coleman, Erath, Stonewall, Swisher and Taylor counties have been approved by the Secretary of Agriculture for loans repayable at five per cent interest.

BALANCE SEEN
Mike Mansfield, Senate Majority Leader, said that Congress would try to restore the constitutional balance between the legislative and executive branches during President Ford's term.

The trouble with most interviews is that a man rarely says what he really thinks. It is too bad that sincerity is such a rare virtue these days.

Letter To Editor

Dear Editor,
Because of loyalty and respect to a dedicated former band director, I have to write this letter.

We have had three sons go through the band program from 7th grade to graduation. During this long period, we purchased many band instruments. NEVER did the then band director advise us in anyway except to say "he has progressed to a more advanced instrument."

There was absolutely no discrimination from the former band director, I feel this policy still stands with our current directors.

P.S.—Why does the superintendent wish to change the democratic method of electing board members, especially since this system has worked so well for the community for so long? Some serious humor—why not change the method of selecting our school superintendent... let the people elect him.

Las otras participantes en el Concurso son la Senorita Rosalinda Ortiz, hija del Senor y Senora Guadalupe Ortiz, y la Senorita Diana Guerra, hija del Senor y Senora Gregorio Guerra.

Despues de tres meses de trabajar para conseguir sus votos, las ultimas horas fueron las decisivas para las candidatas. La Senorita Guillen, la Reina, gano con un total de 17,711 votos. La Senorita Ortiz, la Princesa, quedo en segundo lugar con 14,309 votos. La Senorita Guerra, la Duquesa, quedo en tercer lugar con 14,011.

El Concurso para la Reina de las Fiestas Patrias siempre le pone al ambiente de fiesta un elemento de suspenso, de riesgo, y finalmente de triunfo y alegria. Este ano como en otros, las simpatiquisimas jovenes continuan con su animo y los esperan en el gran Baile de Coronacion.

'Faces To Scrimmage Rebs

By DAN WELTY
Sports Editor

The Hereford Whitefaces will make their grid debut for the 74 season Friday night when they scrimmage the Tascosa Rebels in Whiteface Stadium. Game time is 7:30.

The controlled scrimmage between the two schools has become an annual affair giving Coach Larry Dippel of Hereford and Coach Jocko Harris of Tascosa a chance to preview their charges before the regular season begins.

There will be no admission to the scrimmage, and all fans are invited to attend.

Dippel said early in the week that the scrimmage is more of a controlled practice session than a contest between the two teams. The scrimmage merely offers the varsity players a chance to go against new opponents under workout conditions.

"The score at the end of the scrimmage is not indicative of the performance of our boys. We're going to go after it when we get on the field, but our goal is not to win—it's to learn," Dippel said.

Offensive units will be given the ball on the 30 yard line and will be given 20 consecutive plays until the ball is turned over to the opponent's offense. Three downs will be allowed to achieve a first down, but if the offense is short of the first down, the ball will return to the 30.

"Field position will make very little difference because there will be no kicking game. We may decide to work on punt coverage, but we won't return any punts. We'll mainly work on our offense and our defense," said the Herd coach.

When asked how Tascosa shaped up, Dippel replied, "To tell you the truth I don't know anything about them. I don't worry too much about the scrimmage. Our approach is for the kids to learn fundamentals and to work on the things we've been practicing. The scrimmage also gives the coaches a chance to get a good look at our personnel under game conditions."

"We'll have a regular workout Thursday. We're not going to sacrifice a workout just so we can look good against Tascosa. That's not the point. We're going to scrimmage so we can learn. It's just another workout, giving our players a chance to go against someone different than they've been used to in practice."

No Room To Run

Whiteface varsity defensive players in dark jerseys close in on a junior varsity back. Coach Larry Dippel is working the Herd into a multiple defense team using the five front-two linebacker formation. The first test of the defense will come Friday night when the Herd will scrimmage the Tascosa Rebels in Whiteface Stadium.

Ice Cream Feast To Honor Herd

Hereford Whiteface fans will have a chance to meet the members of the Herd before they do battle Friday night during "Meet the Player Night", an annual event sponsored by the Whiteface Booster club.

Ice cream, cookies, and cake are on the menu for the 8 p.m. affair tonight. Booster club president Tom Simons invites everyone to come to the supper. "It's for everyone," said Simons. "The main purpose of the thing is for fans to meet the players. We want everyone to come out and join in on the fellowship and the ice cream and goodies."

Simons issued a special invitation to the parents of Herd squad members. The event will be held in the HHS cafeteria.

Dippel Speaks Before Rotary

Coach Larry Dippel outlined Hereford football programs and blasted striking pro-footballers to the Rotary Club at their regular meeting Monday.

Dippel outlined a new program in the Hereford Junior high that allows more participation on the part of the youngsters.

Dippel said more than 180 youngsters in each junior high were involved in the football program. The new program splits each school's seventh grade into three teams. During the first part of the season the six resulting teams play each other. The last five games combine the three teams of each school to battle against out of town opponents.

On the eighth-grade level, teams are divided in half so that four teams compete at the beginning of the season.

Dippel told the Rotarians that the varsity team will have 20 seniors to provide leadership for the Herd this fall. "Seniors that weren't players before suddenly turn into players when they're given the responsibility of leadership," Dippel told the group.

Dippel said he was not worried about the Herd this fall, but that the opponents bothered him. He said that the teams on the schedule were going to be better than they have been. He outlined opponents and said most were going to be better than they were a year ago.

"But we have advantages here that other schools don't have," said Dippel. "We have unity in our faculty, our kids, and our town. Our town is our greatest asset. They support our program by buying season tickets and getting out behind our kids."

Dippel told the group he was worried about football and the open lack of concern by professional franchises and players.

"They're going to destroy the sport with their money craze. It bothers me when we have 125,000 boys in Texas who participate in football at the educational level who will be affected by the actions of the professional athletes. On the high school level we're trying to provide an education for the boys, trying to teach them competitiveness, sacrifice,

Missouri Beef TEXAS Wraps Up Season Accepts Merger

The stockholders of Missouri Beef Packers, Inc. and Kansas Beef Industries, Inc. have voted to merge the two corporations effective Sept. 3, according to a joint announcement from David J. La Fleur, President of Missouri Beef Packers, Inc. and Erving Priceman, President of Kansas Beef Industries, Inc. The votes were taken at the Aug. 28 meetings of the two corporations.

MBPXL Corporation combines the live cattle purchasing, slaughter, fabrication, refrigerated truck transportation facilities of Missouri Beef Packers with the cattle feeding, slaughtering, fabricating and sales facilities of Kansas Beef Industries for an annual sales volume of about $700,000,000.

Shares in the new corporation will be traded on the New York Stock Exchange with the symbol of MBXL effective Sept. 3. Missouri Beef Packers was formerly traded on the American Stock Exchange while Kansas Beef Industries was traded over the counter.

The headquarters of MBPXL Corporation will remain at the new Missouri Beef Packers office in Plainview. Missouri Beef Packers has slaughtering and fabricating facilities in Rock Port, Missouri, in Plainview and Frisco, and in Boise, Idaho. Missouri Beef Packers has a total annual kill capacity of about 1-1/2 million head. Total MBP sales for fiscal 1973 were $664,000,000.

Kansas Beef Industries has slaughtering and fabricating plants in Wichita, Kansas, a feedlot near Wichita and a distribution center in Philadelphia. KBI is completing construction of a new fabricating facility in Wichita. Total annual kill capacity for KBI is about 250,000 head. KBI's cattle feeding facility, the Circle E Ranch, has an annual capacity of over 55,000 head. Total KBI sales for fiscal 1973 were $231,000,000.

The ninth season of the musical drama TEXAS came to a close Saturday. Attracting more people than ever before, the actors, singers and dancers have played to more than 80,040 people from all the states and many of the countries of the world.

Featured in this year's version was Sherry White, former Miss Hereford and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.C. White of 214 N. Texas. This year 41 per cent came from within 100 miles. In 1973, this percentage was 26 per cent and in 1972 it was 28 per cent. The percentage of people traveling from more than 500 miles away was 29 per cent, slightly lower than in the two previous years.

Dates for the 1975 season will be June 18 through Aug. 23. Auditions for the 1975 season will be held January 18 in Canyon, Texas; Jan. 19 in Lubbock; March 2 in Oklahoma City, Okla.; March 8 in Dallas. Now the Spanish flag, the French flag, the Mexican flag, the Confederate flag, the flag of Texas independence, and the American flag-carried high each evening as the horses go racing across the stage, have been put away for another year and the music has soared for the last performance of "Texas" until 1975.

For information about the 1975 season and auditions, write to "Texas", Box 208, Canyon 79015 or call 655-2182. Brazil's meningitis epidemic is under control.

Modern 'Log Cabin' Is Beautiful Home

BY SANDY INMAN
Brand Staff Writer

SEEKING a rustic log cabin in Hereford is an oddity but when you see a log cabin on a modern residential street the average passerby does a double take. Actually the 'log cabin' is a modern three bedroom home owned by the Donnie Fangmans of 312 Kingwood.

"I had the house built several years ago and when I told the contractors what I wanted the only way I could describe the way I wanted the exterior built was by saying I wanted a home built with logs," says the pretty blonde brunette.

Since Karen and Donnie Fangman have been married they have done a tremendous amount of redecorating to their home. Their basement, which runs nearly one-half the length of the house, has been remodeled into a recreation area complete with a pool table, bar and weight lifting paraphernalia.

BRIGHT red and black is the color scheme which is carried throughout the living-den, hall and master bedroom. Spanish-style furnishings in the den consist of red velvet sofa, love seat and stool emphasized with heavy wooden end tables and a round table.

The massive brick fireplace extends the length of the north wall in the room and is ornamented with a metal Spanish conquistador statue and a collection of buffalo nickels and arrowheads.

The walls of the living area are paneled in natural pine as is the ceiling and beams.

Accenting the decor of the room is a large picture of Spanish ships hanging over the door which was made in old Mexico. This unique picture, a wedding gift, is made of tar, thread, paint and red velvet.

THE TWO bathrooms are done in shades of green and orange and black. "These rooms weren't completed when I moved in so I did the wall papering myself," says Mrs. Fangman.

Mrs. Fangman explains the process for papering a wall is relatively simple when you follow a few easy steps.

Step one is a must. Make sure there is enough paper to complete a room without having to stop and run to the store for more. With a yard stick and a pencil in hand measure one wall and then cut strips of paper making sure ends of the paper match.

As a helpful hint, Mrs. Fangman suggests numbering each strip so not to get confused when several strips are laying on the floor at one time.

IN A LARGE container mix the powered paste with water and spread over one strip at a time and put the paper on the wall pressing from the top. Make sure to press all the air bubbles out.

When there is a wall with a mirror or medicine cabinet use one strip of paper if possible and cut out the amount not needed. If using matching wallpaper there is no need to overlap strips.

The Fangmans enjoy fishing, hunting, entertaining, trap shooting and going to area rodeos. "I try to go with Donnie to the rodeos so I can watch him participate in the bull riding events," states the homemaker.

BESIDES GOING with her husband on leisurely trips Mrs. Fangman also assists with farm chores. She spent a good part of last winter on a tractor plowing fields.

"Donnie needed help last winter so I would go with him around seven in the morning and we would come home around seven or eight at night."

Mrs. Fangman's hobbies are sewing for herself, her husband and their two sons, 10 month old Colby and six year old Fred.

My least favorite chore is cooking. For that reason I like quick, simple dishes," smiles the pretty homemaker.

Two recipes which her mother prepared when she was growing up were Jiffy Cobbler and Tuna Pot Pie. "These dishes are easy to prepare and the family enjoys them," she explains.

JIFFY COBBLER

1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup flour
1 can fruit
1/2 cup canned milk or drained juice

2 tsp. baking powder
Mix together. Add 1 can of drained fruit to batter. Do not stir. Dough will rise and form a crust. Cook approximately 30 minutes at 350 degrees or until crust is brown.

TUNA POT PIE

1 can tuna (6 oz.)
1 can of mixed vegetables
1 1/2 cup milk

Heat vegetables and drain. Add milk to drained juice to make 2 cups of liquid. In a saucepan make a white sauce using the juice and milk.

Mix together and top with a pie crust. Cook approximately 30 minutes or until crust is brown.

BOTH Mr. and Mrs. Fangman attended Hereford High School. Mrs. Fangman also attended classes for nurses training at Amarillo College and her husband attended West Texas State University.

Breakfast Given For Students

A come-as-you-are breakfast for a group of girls who are entering the sixth grade at Northwest Elementary School was a happy event of Saturday morning when Shelly Simons, Judith Dement and Karol Shook were hostesses.

They called for the guests at their homes early in the morning, taking them to the party just as they were dressed at the moment. Varied costumes of the mostly sleepy girls added to the fun as breakfast was served in the Philip Shook home.

Guests were Monica George, Sharon Chapman, Holly Hale, Charisse Dobbs, Coleen Mahone, Penny Olson, Jill Paschel, Sharon Sisson, Cristi Crawford, Sandee Emmitte, Carrie Dippel and Demita Goforth.

Coffee Given

A touch of autumn appeared in decorations for an end-of-summer coffee with Mrs. Dean Herring and Mrs. W.E. Sparks as hostesses Saturday morning, when the weather cooperated with an autumnal feeling in the air.

The two hostesses invited 25 friends to the Herring home north of Hereford for an hour of casual talk, and coffee served by Mrs. Herring's daughter Monica.

An ecru lace cloth covered the dining table. Late summer garden flowers, zinnias, marigolds and dahlias in shades of gold, orange and rust-red, were arranged in a low bowl at the center.

Pearls Prevail In A Classic, Elegant Fall

Fall is the season when elegance comes to call so look for cultured pearls to make a prominent fashion statement accessorizing all the new arrivals, predicts the Jewelry Industry Council.

Neckline news is a color flash: ropes of pearls pairing with ropes of technicolor beads, particularly tiger's eye and amethyst because of their compatibility with the predominant neutral and earth tones of fall fashions.

Other ropes of pearls are gypsied up with colored beads on the same strands. And of course there's the added touch of karat gold, more precious than ever. Biwa pearls are especially good at stringing along their extraordinary, petite shapes with other unusuals such as adventurous and rhodonite. Not so unusual, Biwa pearls come up to neckline status more often this fall.

Pearl necklaces are dramatic, incorporating colored stones in their natural shapes. But the drama never overpowers the seasonal theme of graceful femininity.

When not tuned to the neck-works in a match, pearl earrings are showily gold set in classical motifs, swing diamonds and/or colored stones from drops, round in hoops, button on more diamond shine.

There's a pin revival going on and pearls rally to it with creative interest, just the right touch of pearls, and the smart addition of karat gold. After all, the imaginative interpretation of the traditional is what fall is all about.

DFC Library Busy With Fall Plans

The staff at Deaf Smith County Library is busy directing new programs, attending conferences and generally servicing local patrons, according to Mrs. Baxter London, head librarian.

Mrs. London said that response to the new library facilities had been good, averaging more than 40 people on Monday evenings.

"We have several projects that are still on the drawing board," said Mrs. London. "We hope to begin our book reviews in September or October. Also, Mrs. Clint Formy is in the process of organizing a discussion group which will critique current and past pieces of literature."

Mrs. London and her assistant, Miss Rhonda Stewart, are constantly seeking sources to update their knowledge of library science.

Besides registering for several college courses, the pair intend to participate in upcoming fall conferences. On Sept. 24, they will attend a one-day workshop in Amarillo to learn procedures for using the Texas State Library Communications Network more effectively. Also, Mrs. London plans to travel to Galveston in October for the 24th Biennial meeting of the Southwestern Library Association Conference.

Present activities at the library include childrens reading sessions. Story hour for 3-6 year olds is held each Wednesday from 3-4 p.m. Periods for first-fourth graders are offered Saturday mornings from 10-11 o'clock.

Mrs. London explained that due to the heavy rain which fell during a party for children in the summer reading program, many could not attend. Those youngsters who have yet to receive completion certificates are urged to pick them up anytime at the library, along with their party treats.

Mrs. London stated, "The new library facilities are a promising asset to the community and we hope that more and more local residents will take advantage of their availability."

"If the excellent response to late hours on Monday continues, we hope to stay open two nights a week next year."

Dandi Do'ers Elect Officers

Dandi Do'ers 4-H Club elected officers for the upcoming year during a meeting Tuesday at Community Center.

Serving this season will be Jeni Welty, president; Diane Warden, vice president; Christi Welty, secretary; Lynn Mitts, reporter.

Programs for this fall and winter were discussed while Sherry Harder, new assistant agent, was introduced to the gathering.

The Dandi Do'ers will have their next meeting Sept. 24 at Deaf Smith County Library.

The good and the wise lead quiet lives.

Mrs. Marsha Caldwell...establishes WT Scholarship

Blind Woman Builds $4,000 Grant

You don't have to be wealthy to establish a scholarship program for deserving students.

And Mrs. Marsha Caldwell, a 71-year-old resourceful lady who is blind, spent three years and $4,000 of her hard-earned money to prove just that. Mrs. Caldwell is the mother of Mrs. Doris Rojek of 206 Fir.

August 15 was a red-letter day for her, for it was the day of her last payment to the Educational Endowments at West Texas State University. The carefully invested money, which is part of the WT Foundation, will earn interest that will go as a scholarship to history students at WTSU. The first Marsha Caldwell Scholarship awardee will be selected by the WTSU History Department Scholarship committee for the fall of 1975.

"Any ordinary person can do it," she says. "You pay just a little at a time."

Mrs. Caldwell, now an employee of the University, is a graduate of WT. After her husband's death, she left Channing in 1965 to later enroll at a junior college in Big Spring. It was not until 1968 that she moved to Canyon to enroll at WTSU and live in Cousins Dorm. She was 66 years old when she earned her bachelor of science degree in history, and 70 when she completed her master's.

Mrs. Caldwell has been blind since birth. "I realize I have my limits. I can't see, so I don't try."

Her limits seem to have been few. Enamored with education, she has 12 hours extra in her minor field of English, and has taken the creative writing course many times.

As she described herself in one essay, "I'm 101, minus 2, turned upside down."

For the last year, Mrs. Caldwell has worked in the office of Dr. Emmitt Smith, who is retiring at the summer, helping him in his continuing education work by doing "research, surveys and interviews." What occupied most of her time were reports on aging, and feasibility studies on offering classes to the elderly. This fall she begins work in the Learning Center of the WTSU College of Education.

Her salary is paid through US Department of Labor funds, sponsored through the Texas Farmer's Union, a program which assists individuals 55 years or older whose income is low.

"Why did I give the scholarship? Well, it was completely selfish. It was for my own satisfaction," Mrs. Caldwell maintains, "but I guess I wanted to help somebody go to school when they were young, because I couldn't."

"I went to school after my children," Mrs. Caldwell notes, "and graduated from their alma mater—West Texas State University." All three of her children are teachers, and hold master's degrees from WTSU. They are Mrs. Merle Dickerson of 7103 Gainsborough, Amarillo; Mr. Frank Caldwell of 3408 56th St., Lubbock; and Mrs. Rojek.

And Mrs. Caldwell, who lives in the T-Anchor Apartments in Canyon, says "I'm so happy here. Everything is wonderful."

Fashion

Clothes for children—school clothes—are practical and good looking this season. Nothing frilly is being shown but fabrics and colors are good, washable and attractive.

Blouses and checks are still popular, combined with solid color garments in harmonizing colors.

Suitcases and trunks are still a great deal in the fashion of school clothes.

Good Reason

What inspired the all-time pioneers to set up their first covered wagon?

Well, maybe they didn't want to wait about half a year for a train.

Tea Brings Many To Greet Honoree

Scores of the friends Argen Draper has made during her 27 years as Deaf Smith County Extension Agent, in her job and in civic affairs, from over this county and from other parts of the Panhandle-Plains area, were guests at the retirement party which honored her Sunday afternoon.

During the two-hour reception in the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church, callers filed past the receiving line where Mrs. Draper, greeted them and heard their good wishes for the future.

Mrs. Horace Hershey headed the line as chairman of Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Council, hostess organization. Juston McBride, who has worked with Mrs. Draper for a number of years as county agricultural agent, was also in the line.

So were James Hull, manager of Deaf Smith County Rural Electric Co-op, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Neal of Roswell, N.M.; Mrs. Neal is Mrs. Draper's sister. The honoree wore a coral-colored brocaded satin shirtwaist dress, floor length, with talisman rose corsage.

Mrs. A.E. Hodges, past state president of Texas Home Demonstration Association, invited callers to the table where by turns the presidents of Home Demonstration Clubs in the county served coffee and punch.

A mass of autumn flowers centered the table, which was covered in white satin with swag drapery above the long skirt.

More flowers decorated the registration table in the foyer where girls of the Argen Draper 4-H Club presided.

On committees arranging the party were Mmes. Dean Stallings, Grady Parsons, Arnold Fangman, Leroy Johnson, L.B. Worthan, Marvin Welty, J.G. Gandy and T.E. Brisendine.

Mrs. Draper's retirement becomes effective at the end of this week. She will be succeeded by Joyce Shipp, who has been her assistant, and Sherry Harder comes as the new assistant agent.

Variation

Wife—I want to play—make up a game.

Husband—Okay lets play store. I'll be the boss and you shut up for the night.

HARD FACTS ABOUT OUR DODGE BOYS' 1974 MODEL CLEARANCE.

DODGE PICKUP CLEARANCE!

FACT 1: DODGE PICKUPS HAVE FEATURES YOU CAN'T GET FROM COMPETITION. CHECK 'EM OUT!
 Any way you want to compare our Dodge D100 against Ford's F100 and Chevy's C10—you'll find out you're a winner when you choose Dodge! For example: Only Dodge offers you Electronic Ignition (standard on all models), a greater standard payload, more pickup models, the smallest six-cylinder engines (as well as the efficient Dodge 318 V8), the largest standard fuel capacity—and much more.

FACT 2: OUR DODGE 318 V8 CAN GET SLIGHTLY BETTER GAS MILEAGE THAN A FORD OR CHEVY SIX-CYLINDER PICKUP!
 In an actual road test from LaVerne to Blythe, California (a distance of 381 miles), at an average speed of 54 mph, USAC put six competitive pickups through the test: a Six and V8 each, Dodge, Ford, and Chevrolet. All pickups were purchased by USAC through normal retail channels. All had standard manual transmissions and rear axle ratios, as well as nominal eight-foot cargo boxes.

The Dodge 318 got slightly better mileage than the other two V8s, as well as the Ford and Chevrolet six-cylinder engines! Our 318 V8 got 18.78 mpg. Our 225 Slant Six did even better—19.05 mpg. Of course, the mileage you get depends on many factors, including how and where you drive, and the condition of your vehicle.

At The Library Book Portrays Life Of Clint Eastwood

Deaf Smith County Library is featuring two books this week, Clint Eastwood-Movin' On by Peter Douglas and Courage & Candlelight by Joseph J. Kelley.

Clint Eastwood-Movin' On is the story of an actor who overcame his social backwardness and made his trademark by acting in spaghetti westerns.

Courage—Candlelight is an insight into the wives, widows, lovers, slaves and dilettantes associated with some of America's most notable historical figures drawn from original documents.

The library is open to the public on Mondays from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m., weekdays from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. and Saturdays until noon.

CLINT EASTWOOD—MOVIN' ON
 By Peter Douglas

Clint Eastwood, the mean tough hero of such spaghetti westerns as A Fistful of Dollars, the star of the long-running "Rawhide", the violent cop of Dirty Harry, is a man of many — often seemingly contradictory — parts.

A painfully shy youth who had to make a conscious effort to overcome his social backwardness, he is adored by millions of women and admired by nearly as many men.

An actor whose trademark is violence, he abhors violence in real life, especially cruelty to animals. The owner of motorcycles and a Ferrari, his passion is his secluded home in the lovely California town of Carme.

A man whose body is constantly mistreated in the movies, he is a health and organic food addict. A seeming loner, he is a devoted husband to his wife of many years and the father of two children.

Recently recognized by the movie industry as the world's most popular actor as far as the box office is concerned, Eastwood is a man of diversity, as is his story, which stretches from a childhood in a family that constantly moved around California to a life as an odd-job bum-working as forest fire fighter, logger, janitor-through military service and to seven years on television's "Rawhide" and superstardom in the Italian made westerns.

"The Man with No Name" has not, of course, stood still since he played in The Good, the Bad and the Ugly. He has played with Richard Burton (Where Eagles Dare), begun his own production company and has begun to direct—to some acclaim.

For a man who still wears inexpensive Levi's, Clint Eastwood, as this concise, comprehensive, and insightful biography makes clear, has traveled a long way. He is still "movin' on."

COURAGE—CANDLELIGHT
 By Joseph J. Kelley

The lives and times of women during the period of the American Revolution have either been quietly ignored or suffused with saccharine. Nineteenth-century historians molded the Revolutionary War woman in the idealized romanticism of their own times. She was portrayed as long-suffering, patient, unthinking; a gentlewoman whose virtues bordered on the angelic, the model Victorian.

Here is insight into the wives, widows, lovers, slaves, and dilettantes associated with some of America's most notable historical figures, drawn from original documents.

These are women who endured loneliness and adversity, women whose cultural accomplishments have for the most part gone unheralded, women who had a profound effect on the political thinking of the founding Fathers. Their own revolutionary spirit comes alive in these sharply etched essays.

Among the detailed portraits are those of Deborah Franklin, who once picked up a gun to save off the threat of a mob, and, spending long years alone, managed family and estate; Abigail Adams, who wrote letters that generated sparks aplenty while teasing, scolding, and comforting her famous husband; Peggy Shippen Arnold, who knew what it was like to be married to a traitor and who poses puzzling questions to today's historians.

Less well known, but none the less noteworthy, are the stories of Annis Boudinot Stockton, who translated politics and romance into poetry; Phillis Wheatley, former slave whose poetry endeared her to Boston and pre-Revolution London but who was fated to a dreary end; Betsy Hamilton, who embarked on an incredible crusade to ensure her slain husband's proper place in history; and finally, Sally Hemings, Thomas Jefferson's slave who traveled with him to England and France and who bore several sons remarkably resembling her master.

These are a few of Revolutionary America's women in a different perspective. The life that nineteenth-century historians squeezed out of their accounts of this era is restored in all its agony, cruelty, hardship and, sometimes, humor.

Miss Hereford 1974
...third runner-up in
Miss Wheatheart Contest

Miss Hereford Is 3rd In Wheatheart Contest

Susie Hickman, Miss Hereford 1974, was awarded third place honors at the "Wheatheart of the Nation" beauty pageant which took place Saturday evening in Perryton.

One of about 30 pageant winners from the five-state area, Miss Hickman competed in both swimsuit and formal competition for the crown, which was won by Kim Higgins of Guymon, Okla.

Miss Hickman is a graduate of Hereford High School and is a pharmacy major at West Texas State University, where she is listed on the Dean's Honor Roll. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hickman of 814 Ave. K.

Sponsored in the Perryton contest by the Hereford Jaycees, the petite five foot beauty says her hobbies are swimming and horseback riding, adding that school takes up most of her time. During the summer, she has been working on her father's farm.

On the morning of the pageant, Miss Hickman and the other contestants rode in the Celebration parade.

First runner-up for the Miss Wheatheart title was Miss Renee Colbert of Shattuck, Okla. Second choice was Terri Wilkerson of Buffalo, Okla. Sabrina McElroy of Perryton was fourth runner-up.

The contest is held annually in Perryton as part of the Wheatheart Celebration. The pageant caps a week of varied activities.

REA Guarantees Loans

An agreement signed last week permits the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) to guarantee loans to be made by the Federal Financing Bank (FFB).

The arrangement calls for an initial commitment of $1.5 billion in loans by the FFB through Dec. 31 under 100 per cent guarantee by REA.

Signing for REA, in the U.S. Department of Agriculture, was REA Administrator David A. Hamil. Jack F. Bennett, president of FFB, signed for that agency.

The funds in the beginning are expected to be used primarily for rural electric generation and transmission projects. Four commitments totaling $975 million already have been made by REA this year.

Under the arrangement, REA borrowers may obtain either long-term or short-term loans from the FFB. Long-term loans will be for 34 years. Short-term loans will cover periods from two to seven years. Interest rates on the FFB loans will be determined at the time each advance of funds is made and will be based upon cost of money to the FFB.

The REA loan guarantee authority was provided in the May 1973 amendment to the Rural Electrification Act. This authority is in addition to the regular REA loan programs for rural electric and telephone borrowers made from a revolving fund in the U.S. Treasury.

FARM PRICES UP
Prices of raw farm products jumped 6 per cent from June 15 to July 15 after four months decline and averaged 1 per cent above a year earlier, the Agriculture Department reported.

New Divorce Code Causes Headaches

The new Family Code that became Texas law at the beginning of 1974 in complicating divorce procedures and consequently boosting the cost of divorce action, believes a county officials program specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Enigma McElyea, a licensed attorney points out that the new code which governs divorce proceedings is causing some headaches for district clerks across Texas.

"A major factor is that more paperwork is involved. Court clerks are now required to supply notices to the divorcing spouses as to the availability of marriage counseling. Once a divorce is granted, the district clerk must submit a report to the State Department of Public Welfare if children are involved. Of course, personal data forms are still required by the State Bureau of Vital Statistics."

In further explaining the new Family Code, McElyea points out that residence requirements for filing a divorce in Texas have been reduced from one year to six months and from six to three months in the particular county where the suit is filed. The 60-day waiting period from the time of filing to the time of hearing has not been changed.

According to McElyea, Texas is among several states that permits divorces on a so-called "no-fault" basis. This means that neither spouse need be blamed for the dissolution of the marriage. Despite this fact, the specialist sees no upsurge in Texas divorces where parties are seeking to proceed on a "do it yourself" basis.

"Divorce laws vary widely among the various states," notes McElyea. "New reports about divorce laws on a nationwide scale may often be completely inapplicable to the people of Texas. Professional counsel is still important to Texans engaged in divorce proceedings."

TV COMMENTARY
By John Smiley

ABC WIDE WORLD OF ENTERTAINMENT specials will have a couple of goodies for the oldies this fall. Peter Lawford will host flashbacks of "Elizabeth Taylor: Hollywood's Child" and "Clark Gable: A King Remembered." Both will tickle memories through film clips and reminiscences with stars.

MIDNIGHT COWBOY, the movie that began as a rank x-rater, then was laundered into a ringless around the collar R-rater for further theatrical consumption, now has had its mouth washed out with soap and will pop through our TV screens as PG-rated, Mr. Semi-clean.

THE ONCE seamy 1969 movie, about hustlers and grifters in New York City, will be shown by ABC.

one may find daily comedy series of the "Amos 'n Andy" or "The Goldbergs" genre that were appealing in the days before the tube.

It seems the networks want desperately to break out of the game-show / soap-opera syndrome that now almost totally monopolizes daytime TV.

IT HAS BEEN reported that a CBS vice president estimated the Judiciary telecasts cost the networks $600,000 a day in lost ad revenues.

NBC has a "Hollywood Palladium" special on tap for September 6.

Local People 'Accident-Prone'

Do residents of Deaf Smith County lead safer or more hazardous lives than people in other parts of the country? Are they more liable or less liable to be involved in an accident of some sort—automobile or otherwise—during the course of a year?

ACCORDING TO government statistics, local people seem to be more accident-prone than the average. The accident figures for the local area and for communities in other sections of the United States were compiled by the Public Health Service as part of its annual vital statistics surveys.

All types of accidents were taken into account, whether they occurred in the home or at work, while driving, swimming, boating or hunting.

Based upon the last three annual reports, fatal accidents in Deaf Smith County have been averaging 13 per year, with 10 of them attributed to automobiles. Included in the figures are all accidents in which local persons were involved, wherever they happened. Excluded were those affecting non-residents.

Related to population, the toll in the area was at the rate of 70 fatalities per 1000,000 people during the three-year period.

It was a higher rate than was found in most other communities in the United States, where the average was 58 per 100,000. The rate in the State of Texas was 64.

THROUGHOUT THE country, according to the National Safety Council, about 1,000 fewer persons died in traffic accidents in 1973 than in 1972.

It attributes the unusual drop to the fact that people did less driving and traveled at reduced speeds toward the end of the year, because of the energy crisis.

Accidents have been responsible for a huge economic loss in recent years, it finds. The average over the last three years is placed at $29 billion a year. This takes into account loss of wages, medical expenses, insurance payments, reduced production and property damage.

Deaf Smith County's proportionate share of this cost, applying the average loss per accident locally, is approximately $3,276,000 a year.

The Labor Department has reported the number of days lost because of strikes in the United States during June was greater than at any time since July, 1971.

Beautiful Skin Your Best Accessory-- Cleanliness, Diet, Daily Care Important

Your skin is exactly what you make it. How you cleanse it, moisturize it and treat it affects its clean and clear looks.

Good skin doesn't just happen, it needs your help to be healthy and smooth. On a daily basis, keep it clean and moisturized, protect it from the sun, follow a nutritious diet, and get good sleep, fresh air and proper exercise.

After a summer of sun-baking, your skin needs special attention. Take time to give yourself an at-home beauty treatment to revive dry, sunburned skin and to rid clogged pores of dirt and make-up. Begin with a thorough cleansing, try a facial mask and end with plenty of moisturizing.

How you touch your skin can also affect its look and well-being, say Helene

Curtis beauty experts. Since excessive pulling, stretching and pressing may harm delicate skin, the key is to use gentle motion with the softest tips of your fingers.

Begin your personal beauty routine with clean skin. Using a gentle, circular motion, lather with a mild cleanser, such as soap-free Balsam Beauty Bar, and concentrate on forehead, nose, and chin.

to walk by faith

Often we have seen blind people walking down the street. Their whole life is based upon faith in what they cannot see. Of necessity, they seem to be truly following Paul's admonition to literally walk by faith and not by sight (II Cor. 5:7).

But Paul wasn't talking about the physically blind. He was referring to spiritually blind people... to those who only believe in what they actually see. Unfortunately these people don't realize that what they are seeing is temporary and will not last forever. Only the unseen God will last.

The unseen God is the heart of Paul's statement. Therefore don't center your faith around temporary things which you can see. Center them around the eternal God whom you cannot see. By faith you can know, as Paul knew, that one day you will see Him.

Don't be blindfolded by the sights of this world. Throw it off. Develop true vision. Walk by faith.

Small Talk

By KERRIE WOMBLE

IT MIGHT be an understatement to say that the preceding 12 months have been exciting for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schulte, who reside near Frio. Since last September, five grandchildren have been born to the couple.

The most recent addition to the Schulte clan is a 7 lbs. 4 oz. girl, Candis, born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. George Schulte of Wichita Falls.

Making an appearance prior to Candis are her cousins, Katrina Michelle and William Erik Glenn Maul. Katrina was born Sept. 13 and weighed 6 lbs., 15 1/2 oz. Her brother Erik was born Aug. 13 and weighed 6 lbs. 13 oz. Both are the children of Mr. and Mrs. John Maul of Amarillo.

Another granddaughter, Tonya Suzette, was born July 22, weighing 6 lbs. 15 oz. She belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Bryon Birkenfield of Lubbock.

A boy, Anthony Joseph, was born on Nov. 26 to Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Schulte of Northglenn, Colo. Anthony weighed 6 lbs. 4 oz.

Making a report on her two bachelor sons, Mrs. Schulte said that Gerald is getting a college education while Michael is working.

THE PASSING of "Lucky Lindy," who opened the gateway of global aviation, brought his controversial, eventful life into focus for a final tribute.

His 33-hour, non-stop flight in the "Spirit of St. Louis" has been heralded the greatest milestone (excepting man's moon landing) in the history of air travel.

His flying feats brought him to a position he did not relish — in front of the all-probing public eye. An extremely independent and unassuming man, Lindbergh was described by friends as "just a regular guy" who valued his privacy highly.

Yet the kidnapping of and extensive search for his young son again raked the Lindbergh name before an astonished nation. The murder of John Jr. and ensuing publicity robbed Lindbergh of his youthful, outward charm. However, this tragedy motivated the "Lindbergh Law," wherein kidnapping was shifted into a felony bracket.

"The Lone Eagle" did not forsake his dedication to air transportation. He and his wife, Anne Morrow, continued their long travels across Europe and China.

In the early 40's, Lindbergh was invited to view the Nazi naval force and was convinced that America could never combat the Hitler regime. He advocated isolationism, publicly advised that the U.S. let Europe fight her own battles.

Lindy's unpopular views cast him from the pedestal erected by public opinion. He now had the solitude he had desired.

However, immediately after the surprise attack on Pearl Harbor, the famed pilot applied for a position in the U.S. Air Force. His request was denied. Undaunted, he served as a civilian advisor to military personnel and secretly flew more than 50 combat missions.

Time eased condemnation of Lindbergh's pre-war philosophies and in his later years, he strove for the preservation of wildlife. He denounced the construction of supersonic airliners although his ventures into public life were rare.

Lindbergh possessed all the complex qualities of a pioneer, tempered with stubborn modesty. His uncanny foresight and determination spiraled from the very roots of man's hope to better himself.

Readers Rewarded

Chiefs' headbands with feathers were worn by guests at the party given by Deaf Smith County Library staff Saturday morning for girls and boys who took part in the summer reading program. Youngsters crowded into Community Center ballroom when rain drove them from Dameron Park, enjoyed stories and refreshments and received certificates. Some of the crowd is shown as a young reader is given the certificate by Rhonda Stewart, assistant librarian.

Top Performers Engaged By CCA

Well-known performers will headline future presentations of Hereford Community Concert Association, according to Hazel Woods, past president.

An extensive membership drive, which will begin in September, offers attendance at the 14 exclusive programs which will take place in Hereford, Clovis, Canyon and Lubbock.

Concert audiences will be composed of CCA members only, Woods said. "We hope that the new addition of Lubbock as a concert site will enhance this opportunity to local residents," Woods stated.

Slated to appear at the first local engagement is the renowned King Family who will perform on Feb. 21. Billing for the last two concerts will be announced at the conclusion of the membership drive in mid-September.

To be featured by Lubbock CCA are Stephanie Chase, talented violinist, on Oct. 30; Marvella Cariaga, mezzo soprano, Nov. 17; "Don Pasquale," English version of a cameo opera, Feb. 14; Festival Orchestra of Buenos Aires, Feb. 20; Walid Hoivane, pianist March 6.

To be spotlighted in Canyon are Stephanie Chase, Nov. 26; Daniel Lloard's marionettes, Jan. 6; The Chamber Orchestra of Paris, Jan. 31.

The New Christy Minstrels will launch Clovis CCA's roster Oct. 16; the Annapolis Brass Quintet will follow on Feb. 10; Violinist and soprano, Catherine and Joseph Malfitano will appear on April 9.

Season tickets can be bought from CCA members at the following rates: adult $10; student $5 and family $30.

Workers who will conduct the annual membership campaign of Hereford Community Concert Association beginning next week, will be entertained at a tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Earl Holt, 103 Rio Vista.

Plans were completed at a committee meeting this week in the home of Mrs. Richard Ottesen. Mmes. Bill Albright and Charles Allison are on the committee with Mrs. Ottesen. Work kits will be distributed at the tea, workers will be given instructions and their questions will be answered by drive leaders and association board members.

Drive captains will be named soon by Mrs. Paul Scott, who is directing this year's campaign for membership renewals and new members. Each captain will select her corps of workers.

Present members will have opportunity to renew next week, then new members will be enrolled during the week of Sept. 9. The kickoff coffee is scheduled from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Memberships in the association are secured at only one period during the year. At the close of the campaign the local board will know what funds are available to book talent for the programs, which will be open only to members.

Hospital Staff Attends Seminar

Staff members of Deaf Smith General Hospital's OB-GYN Department attended the Area 1 Nurses Association of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists Seminar which was held in Amarillo Saturday.

Dr. Jack M. Schneider, Director of the Texas Regional Perinatal Intensive Care Center, Lubbock, spoke on "Management of the High-Risk Antepartum Patient." Dr. E.B. Lokey, Amarillo gynecologist, delivered an address on "Management of the High-Risk Intra-Partum Patient."

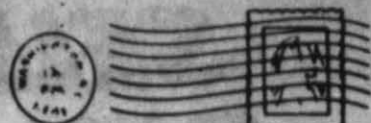

Following a buffet luncheon, Dr. Hollis Hand, Amarillo gynecologist spoke on "Management of the High-Risk Post-Partum Patient."

During the last session, Dr. John E. Jones a pediatrician from Amarillo, discussed "Management of the High-Risk Infant." Frances Fleshin, R.N. Vice Chairman of the Texas Section Nurses Association, American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, presented the history of NAACOG to the 60 nurses who attended the seminar. Hereford nurses comprised 16 per cent of the attendance.

The Lonely Heart

LOUISA'S LETTER

Dear Louisa,

This clipping appeared in the June 6th issue of the Gloucester Gazette--Matthews Journal. (The letter concerned pets for children and their care.)

Children should be trained to take care of animals and not to abuse them no matter what the age of the pet or animal. Animals are not toys.

Yours very truly
Mrs. F.F.--Va.

Answer:

I thoroughly agree with you Mrs. F.I have seen mothers indifferent to little children who were squeezing small chickens or puppies. This is cruelly and, as you say, animals are not toys.

Louisa.

Dear Louisa,
After reading the letter from the woman who was taking care of her mother instead of putting her in a nursing home, I am sure she will have a star in her crown in the next world.

When old people are able to care for their ordinary needs it is very different from one who is completely helpless.

Experience--W.Va.

Answer:

Other letters from readers on this situation will be published later.

Louisa.

College Improves Business Course

For many years, West Texas State University has made available to area businessmen the opportunity to earn a Master of Business Administration by taking night courses exclusively.

"Now, through proper scheduling, Hereford or other area residents can enroll in nearly all of his MBA courses in Amarillo on the Amarillo College campus," says Dr. Jerry Miller, graduate coordinator in business.

"Many businessmen have utilized WTSU's MBA degree program to improve their job performance, to increase their opportunities for promotion and to become more aware of the growing sophistication of business," Miller notes. "There are more than 150 students pursuing their MBA degree on a part-time basis, which is usually six hours a semester, at West Texas State University."

In fact, six graduate classes will be taught on the Amarillo College campus this fall, Miller says. They are Accounting for Decision Making, Graduate Seminar in Accounting Theory, Graduate Seminar in Auditing, Graduate Seminar in Management, Graduate Seminar in Business Organization and Graduate Seminar in Marketing.

"Any student who has a background in business can complete the program in approximately two years by taking most of his classes in Amarillo and all of them at night," Miller says.

"Not many schools have this background in business can complete the program in approximately two years by taking most of his classes in Amarillo and all of them at night," Miller says.

Students may enroll on the WT campus, Saturday, Aug. 31, according to the regular registration schedule. Students who plan to register for both Amarillo and Canyon courses must also register on the WTSU campus Aug. 31.

Alcoholics Flee From Reality

This article is part of a series on "The Progression of Alcoholism" produced by the Alcoholism Council of San Fernando Valley, Calif. The stories are made available locally by the Deaf Smith Council of Alcoholism.

The "geographic" is among unusual behavior that is peculiar to the person who suffers from the disease so alcoholism. This frantic flight from reality to escape what the problem drinker feels are people and places who "drive him to drink" usually comes during the early chronic state of alcoholism.

It is as much a red-flare signal among symptoms of this killer disease as are blackouts, smoking drinks, gulping liquor, fortifying for parties by drinking in advance, military gazing, morning drinks and other significant warnings covered in earlier articles in the Hereford Brand on such periods of this progressive disease as pre-alcoholism, problem drinking, acute stages and early chronic alcoholism.

LEARN OF ABUSE
The alcoholic reasons himself right out of town in an amazing number of times. For a short time, he usually stays sober - until he gets lonely.

The person who has learned the abuse of alcohol knows only one place to find an understanding fellowship. It is a short walk to a bar and so...

The hangover is likely to be devastating. The drinker following the "geographic escape" pattern discovers, when he is able to think again, that he has lost one or more days.

Now how does he explain? Chances are he has assured his new boss that "I'm really not what you'd call a drinking man." Of course, being shrewd and crafty, he had admitted "a little nip now and then, you know."

But a binge can disillusion employers and destroy a million good intentions. So the alcoholic must not out again to travel somewhere to make a new start and build a new way of life.

Once more, the problem drinker has added a new trick to his repertoire of tactics needed to outsmart the growing psychological imprisonment effected by alcoholism.

Whether the alcoholic flees old habitats or stays home to sweat it out, the accumulative effects of heavy drinking and the pursuit of poor health habits become evident.

CLOSE AT HAND
The road to chronic alcoholism may be slow, but it is certain of its destination for those who are alcoholic.

For road to chronic alcoholism may be slow, but it is certain of its destination for those who are alcoholic.

For those who see in those they know symptoms described in these articles an indication that the disease is close at hand, advice and help is possible at the Community Action Council.

DRIVEN AWAY
Taking a geographic means that the alcoholic is impelled to move - to another state, city, part of town. It usually results from heaping quantities of self pity. The progression of the disease carries the alcoholic to great indifference for the feelings of others.

Deep within himself, he cringes from realizing he has driven others away.

No alcoholic can "go soft" (it's his nature not to) so he does on the monumental injustices he believes are heaped upon him by everyone he knows. He pictures himself as a paragon of virtue, patience and selflessness.

He imagines rebuff, and lack of appreciation. "No wonder I drink too much. It's self-defense."

The next step is to see himself blameless for his problems. It's all because of the community, family, job. All are against him. He reasons that the thing to do is escape, to go where he is not known and can start all over again.

He is sure he then can control his drinking. He is convinced that where he is now, people revel with pleasure seeing him

Medical, Legal Fields Have Best Paid Jobs
Eight of the 10 top-earning occupations for men in the United States are in the medical and legal fields, according to the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

They are: Physicians, dentists, judges, lawyers, college teachers of law and health specialties, optometrists, and veterinarians, according to the August issue of the Bureau's Monthly Labor Review.

The other two among the top 10 are actuaries and airplane pilots.

The situation is different for women. Of the occupations listed for men, only physicians are among the women's top 10. The high-earning jobs for women tend to be engineering and craft occupations, in which there are relatively few female workers.

As might be expected, for both sexes the lowest paying occupations are generally unskilled. The middle range of the earnings ladder is occupied primarily by clerical and operative jobs, with some craft and service occupations and a few from professional and managerial fields.

These are among the findings presented by Dinie Summers, a BLS labor economist, in "Occupational Rankings for Men and Women by Earnings," an analysis of 1970 Census data.

The article ranks 423 occupations for men and 381 for women according to 1970 median earnings.

Also presented are data on worker characteristics, such as age and education level, which may affect earnings.

In addition to special articles, the Review includes monthly departmental presenting current labor statistics, research summaries, significant decisions in labor cases, relations and book reviews.

The Monthly Labor Review is available from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, at $1.00 a copy ($16.25 a year subscription) and from regional offices of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Some really cool entertainment is coming on NBC-TV, and that's not slang—it's cool to the point of 30 degrees below zero! That's what the temperature was when Peggy Fleming glided gracefully around the frozen Bay of Finland for the Bell System Family Theatre's 'Peggy Fleming Visits the Soviet Union,' set for a repeat airing this Thursday, September 5, (7:00-8:00 p.m.).
Peggy recalls that specific experience very well. 'I was in a tiny costume and the temperature was 30 below. I had six big coats piled over me until the moment the cameras rolled. The minute the shot was finished, people rushed in from all directions heaping those coats on me again.'
'Not only was this the first time the frozen Bay of Finland has been used for a musical production number, but the whole concept of filming an American entertainment special within the Soviet Union was a 'first' as well.

Producer Bob Banner had arranged for the special as a joint production between Russia and America. 'It was fantastic,' Miss Fleming says. 'We had duplicates of everything from shooting scripts to production crews, one Russian and one American. There was always a babble of translation going on.'
But the language barrier was no problem for her. Peggy was recognized everywhere as the gold-medal winning Olympic figure skating champion. No other American woman has achieved that distinction since her victory in 1948.

"IBM Presents Clarence Darrow"

Henry Fonda will bring his highly acclaimed stage performance as the famed trial lawyer to television in "IBM Presents Clarence Darrow," a 90-minute special to be broadcast on the NBC Television Network Wednesday, Sept. 4 (8:30-10:00 p.m.).

The one-man play by David W. Rintels, who adapted his stage version for television, is based on the book, "Clarence Darrow for the Defense," by Irving Stone.

The special is a play, not a reading or concert, written as dialogue rather than a monologue, with Fonda's side of the dialogue suggesting the answers from the individuals who are addressed but not seen or heard.

The play covers Darrow's early life, deals with his thoughts and opinions, focuses on his two marriages, and highlights some of his principal cases, including those involving: Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist leader accused of conspiracy during the American Railway Union strike in 1894; "Big Bill" Haywood, accused of complicity in the murder of former Gov. Frank Stuenkel of Idaho; Joseph and James McNamara, labor leaders accused of dynamiting the Los Angeles Times building in 1911; Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessed killers of young Bobby Franks in 1924; the "Monkey Trial" confrontation with William Jennings Bryan in 1925; and Dr. Ossian Sweet and his family of Detroit, charged with murder when trying to protect themselves against a white mob in 1926. The play also deals with Darrow's own arrest and trial in Los Angeles on charges of bribing the jury in the McNamara trial.

Mike Merrick and Don Gregory, producers of the stage play, are producers of this TV special, a Dome Production. John Rich directed the play and John Houseman (who directed Fonda in the stage presentation) served as artistic adviser.

Miss America '71, Miss America '73

Phyllis George, of Denton, Tex., met Terry Meeuwzen, of DePere, Wis., in Oklahoma City, Okla., and eventually New York City benefited from this encounter.

It began when Phyllis, reigning as Miss America of 1971, was a guest star of "The Stars and Stripes Show" July 4th in Oklahoma City, and Terry was performing on the program as a member of the New Christy Minstrels.

"We met because we were sharing a dressing room," Phyllis recalled, "and we learned that we shared many interests and aspirations."

This chance meeting, the start of a friendship affecting both their lives, also set in motion a chain of events, which subsequently resulted in Terry winning the Miss America of 1973 title.

Phyllis and Terry will team up as co-hosts—joining emcee Bert Parks at Atlantic City, N.J.—of the 54th annual Miss America Pageant, to be colorcast live Saturday, Sept. 7 (9:00-11:00 p.m.) on the NBC Television Network.

Terry related how she and Phyllis became friends while both were traveling extensively. "We got to know each other by long distance telephone. Phyllis's boyfriend at the time also was a member of the New Christy Minstrels. She was on the road going in one direction and we were traveling in another direction. He was phoning her almost every night, and I also would talk to her."

They didn't meet again until November, 1971, after Phyllis had relinquished her crown and was making an appearance at a local Wisconsin Miss America pageant in Fond du Lac.

"I had left the New Christy Minstrels and returned home," Terry said. "I didn't really know what I was going to do. I wanted to go to New York to study, but I couldn't afford it at the time."

"I knew Phyllis was going to be in Fond du Lac, because we had been writing to each other. I wanted her to advise me whether I should enter the Miss America Pageant again. I had competed in 1967 at 18 and was second runner-up to Miss Wisconsin. Now I was 22 and thought I was too old to compete again."

Phyllis picked up the narrative: "I convinced her that she wasn't too old and that she should try again. Also, I reminded her that the first time I entered the Miss Texas Pageant, I also only made second runner-up. I tried again and won."

The rest is Miss America history. Terry went on to become Miss Appleton, Miss Wisconsin and then Miss America. Meanwhile, Phyllis had moved to New York City to pursue her career as an actress. When Terry's reign ended last September, Phyllis found her a New York apartment. Both are now busily engaged studying for show business careers.

Though some people might think that two Miss Americas in the same area might be in competition with each other, such is not happening. Phyllis explained: "We've helped each other in the city. She's a singer interested in acting, and I'm an actress who's also a pianist!"

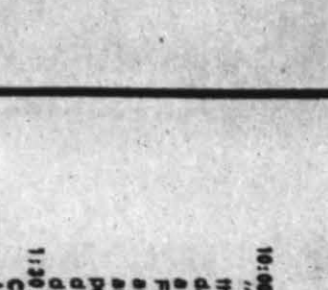

Terry chimed in: "I'm a terribly frustrated piano player and Phyllis is a frustrated singer."
