STEER FEEDING IN TEXAS.

Experimental Feeders Compare Values of Different Rations.

Following are conclusions arrived at by the experimental feeders at the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College:

1. Rice bran added to a ration of cottonseed meal and hulls in two out of three trials gave an increased rate of gain at a lower cost.

2. Rice polish added to a ration of cottonseed meal and hulls slightly increased the rate of gain at the same cost.

3. Rice hulls were not satisfactory as a substitute for cottonseed hulls, as the steers did not relish them.

4. Rice hulls fed with cottonseed meal, rice bran and molasses were unsatisfactory, as the steers could not be induced to eat a fair ration.

5. Sorghum hay in a ration of cottonseed meal and rice bran gave about equal results to cottonseed hulls as 1 in the former results equal to 1.02 pounds of cottonseed hulls.

The daily rate of gain per head was slightly in favor of the hulls, being 2.98 pounds as against 2.35 pounds in the instance of sorghum.

6. Cow pea hay was not found as satisfactory as cottonseed hulls in a ration of rice bran and cottonseed meal, as the daily rate of gain per head was 2.98 pounds in the instance of the lot receiving hulls and 2.3 pounds in the trial with cow pea hay. A pound of cow pea hay was equal by .94 of a pound of hulls.

7. Peanut hay was very unsatisfactory fed with rice bran and cottonseed meal, owing to the fact that it was a very nutritive food, being too similar to cottonseed meal in composition to mix well with it.

8. Alfalfa hay was a very unsatisfactory addition to rice bran and cottonseed meal ration for the reason that it was also rich in those constituents which are abundant in cottonseed meal, making the ration too nitrogenous.

Cottonseed meal and hulls make the most generally used ration in the cotton belt, while corn and alfalfa hay are most highly thought of as a ration in the corn belt. A comparison of these rations becomes interesting from these facts.

The steers receiving the ration of cottonseed meal and hulls ate daily per head 5.7 pounds of cottonseed meal and 22.4 pounds of hulls and gained 2.21 pounds. With the cottonseed meal at $20 per ton and the hulls at $4 per ton, the cost of 1 pound of gain was 4 cents.

9. The steers receiving the alfalfa and corn and cob meal ate daily per head 11 pounds of corn and cob meal and 16.9 pounds of alfalfa, and gained 2.53 pounds. With the corn and cob meal at 40 cents per bushel, and the alfalfa at $5 per ton, the cost of 1 pound of gain was 4.1 cents. It will be seen from this that the cost of fattening steers under the very best of circumstances for securing the most economical rations is very similar.

10. Molasses added to a ration consisting of cottonseed meal and hulls resulted in a greater and cheaper gain from those receiving it, as they gained 3.11 pounds per head daily, while those not receiving it gained 2.59 pounds.

11. Yearling steers in comparison with 2-year-old steers on rations of cottonseed meal and hulls made about the same gain at a little cheaper cost. The 2-year-old steers gained 2.59 pounds per head daily and the yearlings 2.21 pounds.

12. In feeding steers on pasture it was found that a cottonseed meal ration gave better returns than corn alone. The substitution of 3,267 pounds of cottonseed meal for 3,438 pounds of corn gave an increased gain of 831 pounds on the total lot of nineteen head.

Mr. Schrimshers' Success.

Con Schrimsher, who owns a ranch east of town, was a caller at the BRAND office Saturday and exhibited a bunch of spring wheat which he says will make at least 15 bushels per acre. Mr. Schrimsher stated that the wheat was sown on sod ground and he was surprised at the results. He says his oats, sown on sod, will make 35 bushels per acre. We pronounce this a pretty good showing for Mr. Schrimsher's first year, and is a splendid indication that he will rank among our very best farmers, when he has been here sufficiently long to put his land under good cultivation.

Young People Will Meet at Frio.

Our Baptist young people will hold another service at the Frio school house next Sunday evening June 25th at 4 o'clock. We held a good service with these young people a month ago, and we have had urgent solicitation to come back. This is one of the strongest communities in this county, but they haven't had very many religious services. If you want an outing, go with us. We will meet at church at 2 o'clock.

HAVE SUFFICIENT MOISTURE.

Prof. H. W. Campbell Gives His Experience in Nebraska Farmer--Necessary to Conserve the Moisture

The real difficulty in the semi-arid belt is not a lack of rainfall, but the loss of too much by evaporation, and this can be largely controlled by proper cultivation, at least sufficiently to secure a growth of crops every year. It has been demonstrated by careful laboratory and field work by Profs. King, Whitney, Hillgard and others, that seven inches of rainfall is ample to grow a good crop of any kind, providing the water is all utilized. Measurements and records by the government weather bureau have shown that in the more westerly portions of the semi-arid belt the average rainfall is more than twice as much as is needed, while a little farther east it is three or four times the necessary amount.

We have lived in this belt of country twenty-two years, and have experienced all of the pros and cons, and ups and downs, that the country is heir to. Ten years of this time has been entirely spent in the study of the soil, and that all important question of storing the rain waters. Our experience in these ten years has been quite varied, but each and every year some new and important fact has been brought out, all leading to one conclusion, that the rainfall can be stored in the ground and its evaporation prevented by a proper manipulation of the soil, thus enabling us to secure, not only fair, but remarkably good crops any year.

The present and most modern methods of irrigation have been the result of study along the same lines that we have been working, to-wit: that of conserving the moisture in the ground by cultivation after once thoroughly saturated by turning the waters from the ditches. The most successful farmer today by irrigation, secures better results with one-fourth as much water as was used by the average irrigator some years ago.

The experience of the writer, in his own work in 1894, demonstrated clearly these two facts: First, that moisture will evaporate quickly when soil is left in its natural condition; second, that a large per cent of moisture can be stored in the ground. In that year there was no rainfall in the last of May or the month of June, and the average field was practically dry when the first rain came on July 7. At that time the fields were flooded by a rain of 4 1/2 inches which came down quickly. In the fields where we were conducting experiments we had previous to this time got the moisture down nearly 3 feet, and the surface was in the best condition to absorb the fresh rain. In ten days the ordinary field was again dry. In such fields, owing to the great resistance of the dry soil, percolation was very slow, and the extreme heat which naturally followed quickly evaporated all the water which had fallen. But the field we had been carefully cultivating and had prepared for just such an emergency was found to have a moist soil over 2 1/2 feet deeper than before, or down to a depth of 5 1/2 feet.

Evaporation of the rainwater, on the great plains country has made many a man hopeless and homeless. Prevention of evaporation of the soil waters by proper cultivation means better crops, better homes, better people, happier children and a better country.

Evidence from all over the semi-arid west proves conclusively that if every farmer had fully understood the theory and principles of conserving the soil water by proper cultivation, there would have been no short crop of corn in 1901 in that section of country. The excessive evaporation of the rain water all over the great plains country is the direct and sole cause of a greater loss to the farmer of that belt than any other one thing. Educate the farmer of the semi-arid belt to store, conserve, and utilize the rainwater and we have paved the way for thousands more ideal farm homes and a higher state of prosperity than this belt ever experienced or the people anticipated. It is by and through knowledge of certain fundamental principles of agriculture, and application of those principles to conditions which exist in this semi-arid belt and no place else in our country, that this region is to come into its rightful own and be made, indeed, a veritable garden.

Address Delivered to Texas Banker's Association by William S. Powers of Pittsburg on Advertising.

"I am a firm believer in maintaining all the dignity that belongs to the financial institution, but in order to do that it is not necessary for a bank to bury itself and throw away all the advantages offered by modern methods of doing business. There are banks so tied up in their notions of dignity that they are practically dead to the world of business, and the sign above the door is really necessary to proclaim their existence.

"I often think of that when I hear of a man whose notions of dignity prevent him from letting the world know that he is in business. Every man who is in business has some distinct thing that he wants to sell to the public, and it does not matter whether that thing is dry goods or groceries—personal services or the functions of a banking institution. The public has got to be interested before the trade can be made. The success of a banking institution depends absolutely upon the degree of confidence that can be created in the public mind, and it is the bank that succeeds to the largest degree in the creation of this public confidence that achieves the greatest measure of success.

"Now, modern advertising is merely the quickest, most certain and most economical method of attaining this end.

"I was talking a couple of weeks ago with two bank presidents. One represented a bank with a capital of $2,000,000, located in a city of over 800,000 inhabitants. The other came from an institution with $1,000,000 capital, in a city of about 100,000 inhabitants. The banker from the larger city was telling what he had done. Not a dollar had he expended for advertising; he had not even personally solicited business, yet in two years' existence his bank had rolled up a deposit list of $3,300,000.

"Well," the banker from the smaller city said, "I have been in business a month less time than you. Our capital is half what yours is, and the community from which we have built up deposits of $3,200,000, just $100,000 less than yours. And we have done it all by advertising.

"And he might have added if he had not been a modest man, that notwithstanding an expenditure of almost $10,000 per year for advertising, his bank had, in its two years of existence, paid two substantial dividends, while the bank in the large city without any advertising expenditure, had not yet reached a dividend basis.

"Does that make any clearer my meaning when I say emphatically, advertising rightly done is not an expense, but an investment?"

"Now, we often hear it said that you can't prove that advertising pays a bank because there is so little in the banking business to which you can pin actual results. And in one sense of the word that is true. The banker has no bargain days; no special sales. He can not put an advertisement in the paper in the morning and see returns coming in over the counter an hour or two later, but if over a period of years the banks that have been advertising persistently grow in very much larger proportion than do the banks that do not advertise, is it not pretty conclusive evidence that there is something tangible in the judicious use of printers' ink?"

"But can such a showing be made? Try it yourself. Look up the history of the banks of your own State. See if the most signal successes of recent years have not been the institutions that believe in and practice the principles of modern advertising.

"I recently took the trouble to make just such a comparative statement showing the progress of the banks at Pittsburg within the last five years, and I found that in every essential feature the banks that have been intelligent advertisers have outgrown the institutions that have not advertised. In deposits, surplus and assets, the advertising banks have increased from 40 to 125 per cent, while the banks that have not been advertised increased from an average of only 27 to 28 per cent.

"Advertising is to business life exactly what fertilizing and cultivating are to the agricultural interests. Advertising will not work miracles. In the hands of an energetic, forceful and resourceful man it is a mighty force, but the man himself has got to have faith in it and to put his own personality and energy back of it. Advertising itself will not do the whole work. It will blaze the way, but the man himself must follow the trail.

"Advertising opens the door to new business possibilities, broadens the scope of the business horizon, but the man himself must enter the door and take possession of the enlarged field of operation if he is to reap the harvest.

"Advertising is the giant power that will remove all the difficulties from the business path; open up all channels of progress. But it must have the man back of it to rightly direct this mighty force if right results are to be realized."

Dear Sir:—In reply to yours of the 22nd inst., I have to advise that lands should be assessed according to the printed abstracts. Where lands on county lines lie partly in one county and partly in another and are abstracted as all being in one county, the attention of the land office should be called to the matter so that correction can be made. Until such correction is made assessment should be in accordance with the printed abstracts.

Very respectfully,

LANDS FOR THE HOMELESS.

Land Commissioner Terrell Delivers List of State Lands to Printer.

The following was given to the public this week. General Land Office, Austin, Tex., June 15—I have delivered to the State Printer a list of the tracts of land that will be on the market for sale Sept. 1. With the list is included all necessary information about how to proceed to buy the land. It amounts to about 16,000,000 acres, and ranges in price per acre from $1 up, one-fourth cash, balance on forty years' time, with 3 per cent interest. It is all the land in many of the counties, but is only about one-third of what the State has remaining unsold. In many of the extreme western counties where much is leased, that only is given which is thought to more probably be first in demand. The printing company promises to deliver the printed list by July 1. Then it will be ready for free distribution to every one who will ask for it.

These lands are for those wanting homes on them. The terms of sale are easy. Every homeless person with a few dollars will have an equal chance with those of larger possessions. I am determined that this information shall reach those most desirous of taking advantage of the State's liberal terms. To that end you are asked to kindly give this a place in your daily and semi-weekly paper, and suggest that all your exchanges publish it for the benefit of their readers. In addition to this effort I shall mail copies to every county and precinct officer and postmaster in the State. It has been and is yet my purpose to bring reliable information from the Land Office as close to the people of the State as is possible through every available means. If any reader wants a list just write me a card or a letter to that effect. As a medium of disseminating reliable information, newspapers have no competitor, hence their cooperation is asked in this effort in behalf of their readers. The public ought to know more about our public lands, how they are disposed of and where located.

This information being given free by this department, there is no necessity for any one to notice any advertisements of agents who propose to sell information concerning the State's lands. Yours truly,

JOHN J. TERRELL,
Commissioner General Land Office.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyles Dead.

News was received here this week of the death of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lyles of Garland, which brought sorrow to their friends in Hereford. On Friday of last week, Jas. Jones, of Farmers Branch near Garland, is said to have shot and killed Mr. Lyles, the same discharge also striking Mrs. Lyles who died later. The cause of the shooting is unknown here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyles were only recently married and spent their honeymoon with their friends in this city, many of whom have known them for years and who sorely regret to learn of their untimely deaths.

Impure Water the Source of Much Dread Disease

Long spells of fever can often be prevented by the proper care of the water supply. Begin at the bottom and have your well cleaned out nicely, then put in a galvanized barrel in the place of the old, wooden, water-soaked one that is already beginning to taste of impurities. Common sense teaches us this and by all means precautions should be taken in time to prevent sickness. Make up your mind in regard to the above and phone us about it. We can do an expert piece of work on your well and fit you up with all conveniences about your house water-works. We are making some nice galvanized milk troughs that will keep the milk cool. Let us hear from you at once about it.

Official Organ for Deaf Smith and Castro Counties

STRICTLY IN ADVANCE

FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 1905.

We make the assertion, without fear of successful contradiction, that Deaf Smith and Castro Counties will produce more oats this year than any other two counties in the Panhandle. While the crop may not be any better than in a few other counties, yet it is good and the large acreage here will put us far in the lead. Think of almost all our farmers having from 20 acres to 60 acres of oats and not a single failure among them. And, too, it might be added that the above named counties have waving fields of golden wheat which cannot be excelled any where in Texas. In fact, while other sections of the state are making from 10 to 12 bushels per acre, we will make from 15 to 25 bushels. We predict that the farming industry in the Panhandle will be quite an interesting one for the next few years.

The volume of wool which has been delivered in Hereford this week indicates that the sheep industry is assuming proportions which easily place it among our leading industries. That there is good money to be made at raising sheep in the Panhandle is evidenced by the fact that a large number of our most judicious farmers and stockmen are turning their attention to this particular branch of the business. To put it just as it is, our people are learning that the principle of diversification is the key to success in stock raising just as it is in farming. Give us more cattle, sheep, hogs, and mules and we will enjoy greater prosperity.

REPORTS of preparations for fourth of July celebrations come from almost all quarters of the Panhandle. It is pleasing to note that this great western country is settling with liberty-loving, patriotic people who have not forgotten "Old Glory" and who are willing to assemble with each passing year to celebrate the memorable day on which our country's independence was declared. The only thing we have to regret in the matter is that Hereford has heretofore neglected her duty along this line.

We wish to remind our farmer friends of the great importance of keeping this year's wheat crop in the country instead of shipping to market. The question of securing suitable seed has hitherto puzzled our farmers and now, that we have a sufficient amount of the home-raised variety to sow a large acreage in the County next year, every grain of it should be kept at home for that specific purpose.

The excessive heat in the northern and eastern cities during the past week has been the direct cause of a large number of deaths. There are many advantages attendant upon city life, but, all things considered, we much prefer the free and open life of the bright and breezy plains.

Registered Bulls For Sale.
I have ten registered Hereford bulls at my ranch 12 miles northeast of Hereford, which I am offering at reasonable prices. These animals are well bred and marked and classed as the best. Come early and get choice.

Panhandle News

According to the Herald, Amarillo is soon to have a flouring mill, capacitated to turn out 100 barrels of flour and 1000 bushels of corn meal per day. It will also contain a kaffir corn grinding department.

Sheriff Joe Wynn, of Moore county, was in Channing last Friday, and from him we learn that Moore county will soon possess a new $800.00 school house to be erected at Dumas. Most of the money is already subscribed.—Channing Courier.

Frank Hines was arrested at Dalhart last week on a charge of theft of 23 head of cattle belonging to Sherman and Dallam County parties. His preliminary hearing resulted in his being bound over in the sum of $6000 to await the action of the grand jury.

Prof. L. A. Wells says he has 50 acres of oats on his place 14 miles southwest of Memphis which are breast high and will make anywhere from 50 to 75 bushels to the acre. J. M. Gist says his oats are fine and will make 40 or 50 bushels an acre. From what we can learn that oat crop is very fine all over the country.—Hall County Herald.

H. C. Jackson, of near Rowe, sold his alfalfa crop from five acres of ground for $65 cash. And this from a crop sown September 15th last. He will get two more cuttings from it this year. Mr. Jackson has sold considerable other stuff the past few months, and if you don't believe this is a farming country, just ask him.—Clarendon Chronicle.

At the morning service of the Christian church Sunday the matter of a new church came up and the structure was definitely decided upon. As the first step, $1,000 was raised in a few minutes for the purchase of the new site, a quarter block just across the street from the present building. The congregation is in a most flourishing condition, and has grown to the point where expansion is absolutely necessary.—Amarillo Herald.

Monday night about 11 o'clock a lively shooting took place here, in which two men were wounded. The difficulty is said to have grown out of one of the parties to a plan to rob a man giving a warning to the intended victim. The shooting resulted in L. P. Reese being struck with one ball which entered the back and passed through and under the shoulder blade and another which entered the instep. City Marshal Smith was attracted by the shooting and started in the direction from which the sound came. When about a block from the melee he was struck in the abdomen and was severely injured. The injured men were cared for and Reese is now at the City hotel, while Smith is at the Hotel Vernon. Both men are resting comfortably. No arrest has been made.—Vernon Hornet.

W. H. M. Society.

Nineteen years ago, through the earnestness and zeal of Lucinda B. Helm, the Woman's Home Mission Society of the Southern Methodist church was organized. Prior to that time, there were small bands of women in almost every church known as the Ladies' Aid Society. The organization of these societies was lacking in thoroughness and their affiliation one with another was not perfect.

The work of every organization known as the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church was to lend aid to the pastoral charge of which it was a part, all funds raised being used for furnishing the home parsonage and church and for local charities. In accordance with the progress and expansion of this age, the W. H. M. S. was organized and has gradually supplanted or absorbed the Ladies' Aid. The local work of every church is still given attention, but in addition there is a united distribution of good deeds through the giving of heartfelt interest and financial aid to weak pastoral charges of remote districts and to the establishment and maintenance of schools, hospitals and missions throughout our home country.

The Woman's Home Mission Society has an independent organization, but was created as an organic part of the M. E. church, South, and through its connectional funds, "From the Carolinas on the broad Atlantic to gold-ladened, sun-kissed California on the placid Pacific, there is a net-work of agencies employed by the W. H. M. S. earnestly working like the daughters of Shalen, clearing away the rubbish of vice and ignorance and striving to build up walls of salvation, by rescuing the lost and fallen and instructing the ignorant of our land."

Cuban Diarrhoea.

U. S. soldiers who served in Cuba during the Spanish war know what this disease is, and that ordinary remedies have little more effect than so much water. Cuban diarrhoea is almost as severe and dangerous as a mild attack of cholera. There is one remedy, however, that can always be depended upon as will be seen by the following certificate from Mrs. Minnie Jacobs of Houston, Texas: "I hereby certify that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cured my husband of a severe attack of Cuban diarrhoea, which he brought home from Cuba. We had several doctors but they did him no good. One bottle of this remedy cured him, as our neighbors will testify. I thank God for so valuable a medicine." For sale by T. M. Coulson & Co.

Cattle News.

Following is a summary of the local cattle news since our last report:

Burch, Pearce and Roberson last week shipped 137 head of finished cattle to the Kansas City market where they sold at rather fancy figures.

Mal Shelly has from his Hockley county ranch 1500 mixed cattle on the open market in Hereford.

On June 16th, Flanagan & Williams of Nebraska made the following purchases in the local market:

200 head of yearlings from J. D. Patterson at $14.50 per head; 169 yearlings from Jack Alley of Lynn county at same figures; 110 head of yearlings from J. A. Spires of Perry county at the fancy price of $16.

Dickerson and Nunn are here today from Dawson county with a herd of 2's, 3's and 4's for sale.

Messrs. Brown, Culwell, Kelly and Mitchell of Emma in Crosby county this week sold and delivered $75 head of dehorned 2's to H. M. Stonebraker of Nebraska.

E. C. McCartney of Hockley county this week sold to R. N. Mounts 200 3's and 4's to be delivered at the latter's ranch west of town. The price paid was $23.

Just What Everyone Should Do.

Mr. J. T. Barber of Irwinville, Ga., always keeps a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand for instant use. Attacks of cholera, cholera morbus, and diarrhoea come on so suddenly that there is no time to hunt a doctor or go to the store for medicine. Mr. Barber says: "I have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which is one of the best medicines I ever saw. I keep a bottle of it in my room as I have had several attacks of colic and it has proved to be the best medicine I ever used." Sold by T. M. Coulson & Co.

Threshing Notice.

I wish to announce to the farmers of Deaf Smith and Castro counties that I have purchased a new 35-horse power steam engine and have overhauled my J. I. ## The Secret of Good Coffee

Even the best housekeepers cannot make a good cup of coffee without good material. Dirty, adulterated and queerly blended coffee such as unscrupulous dealers shovel over their counters won't do. But take the pure, clean, natural flavored LION COFFEE, the leader of all package coffees—the coffee that for over a quarter of a century has been daily welcomed in millions of homes—and you will make a drink fit for a king in this way:

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE.

Use LION-COFFEE, because to get best results you must use the best coffee. Grind your LION COFFEE rather fine. Use "a tablespoonful to each cup, and one extra for the pot." First mix it with a little cold water, enough to make a thick paste, and add white of an egg (if egg is to be used as a settler), then follow one of the following rules:

1st. WITH BOILING WATER. Add boiling water, and let it boil THREE MINUTES ONLY. Add a little cold water and set aside five minutes to settle. Serve promptly.

2d. WITH COLD WATER. Add your cold water to the paste and bring it to a boil. Then set aside, add a little cold water, and in five minutes it's ready to serve.

3. (Don't boil it too long. Don't let it stand more than ten minutes before serving. DON'TS (Don't use water that has been boiled before.)

TWO WAYS TO SETTLE COFFEE.

1st. With Eggs. Use part of the white of an egg, mixing it with the ground LION COFFEE before boiling.
2d. With Cold Water. Instead of eggs after boiling add a dash of cold water, and set aside for eight or ten minutes, then serve through a strainer.

Insist on getting a package of genuine LION COFFEE, prepare it according to this recipe and you will only use LION COFFEE in future. (Sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages.) (Lion-head on every package.) (Save these Lion-heads for valuable premiums.)

Miss Millicent Griffith on last Friday closed her private school after a duration of one month. Miss Griffith met with splendid success in this short term of work, having as many pupils as she could well care for, the majority of whom made very satisfactory advancement.

Miss Mae Eagle of Hereford, who for the past month has been visiting with relatives at Denison arrived in the city last night, and will spend two or three weeks in this city, with Mrs. J. Milton Erwin, her sister, before returning to her home at Hereford.—Wichita Times.

W. J. Anderson returned Thursday from a five-months business visit to his old home at Lynnville, Tenn. He was accompanied by Mrs. H. S. Anderson and daughter of Corsicana, all of whom were met in Hereford by R. J. Anderson who took them out to Hart Friday morning.

If there are those who do not yet believe one can have in the Panhandle a garden which will rival in beauty and utility the spot in which our primal parents were allowed to roam, they should take the trouble to visit the home of Jacob Buttram in North Hereford. There will be found many varieties of flowers, kept by careful hands, all varieties of berries, fruits, grapes, everything that grows on the vine, besides almost all the varieties of vegetables known to man. It is not saying too much to state that Mr. Buttram, through skill and industry, has transformed the desert(?) into a little Eden.

A change in Hereford realty which was inadvertently overlooked last week was the deal by which G. F. Pearce became the owner of the Reese Hough residence in Ricketts addition, south of the river. Possession was given this week and Mr. Pearce is having Messrs Worley and Feemster build an additional room to improve the place so as to continue to have one of the best properties in the city. Mr. Pearce moved his family home this week. Mr. Pearce's family have gone to Dallas, Texas, where the former ex-County now, on work at his trade. We had terms see Will H. Hough will find it to agents, Hereford, soon return to Hereford.
