

School Board Candidates Express Views To PTSO

BY BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

In the first and possibly the only exchange between local political candidates this year, five contestants for the Hereford School Board of Education generally agreed on questions presented them and remained uncommitted on any controversial issues at a meeting of the Hereford Parent-Teacher-Student Organization Monday night in the library of Hereford High School.

So far, it has been the only public address by local candidates as both city and hospital board candidates have as yet not been invited to appear at public gatherings to share their political ideas. At Monday's meeting, discussions by the candidates were somewhat uneventful compared with past years since only one of the three races is contested.

INCUMBENT DAVID HUTCHINS, running for his first elected term, and attorney Mack Tubbs are running without opposition in places 4 and 6 respectively. Place 7 drew three candidates including farmer Bill Walden, REC rural development manager David Pruitt and restaurant manager, Mrs. Trini Gamez. Each of the School Board aspirants presented opening statements before about 40 persons gathered for the two hour dialogue.

The only question drawing a commitment from the candidates concerned the proposed teacher pay raise included in one of several school finance bills now before the Texas Legislature.

Each of the speakers said they would support the present teacher salary supplements above the state base pay level even though the legislature might raise the salaries. The district now pays $800 above state minimums for bachelors degree level teachers and $1,000 above for masters degree level instructors.

Several of the bills pending, though, do not contain provisions for teacher raises as they are more designed to give property taxpayers relief in the coming year.

On teacher raises, Hutchins said he would favor continuing the supplement if the state raise was less than about $2,000. If it was over that figure, he might reconsider.

WALDEN SAID the teachers are deserving of a raise and it is an award for doing a better job and provides incentive in the future.

Tubb, who came in the meeting late, said he was proud of the school system which produces well behaved students. His educational philosophy was not definite but he believes that the home environment must be good to allow kids to do well in school.

During his opening statement Walden said he was often asked why he decided to run in place 7 where candidates were already contested, but he really didn't answer why. Pruitt said he had made his decision to file without any prior influence from anyone and did so not to "grind any axes but to run for the school board and not against everyone."

A lengthy exchange was forthcoming on questions dealing with the amount of "broad-based education" as opposed to specialized instruction given students and the degree to which testing was used in direction of pupils.

Walden, livestock raiser, said that in a complex and ever modernizing world, specialized education was needed so that students are able to earn a living. He qualified the statement by saying that a general education was important as well.

The questioner was concerned that too much specialized education was emphasized such as vocational instruction to the point that students can not understand the evening television news based on a lack of education in many different areas.

Hutchins, farmer, said not everyone is meant to go to college and supported the need for vocational education to provide necessary skills to students to make a contribution to society and earn a living.

Concerning testing, Mrs. Gamez said that counselors in the schools are there for a purpose and therefore should advise students according to their future potential, which is measured in part by testing. Again the question was based on a personal experience of a parent, who said her child was counseled not to seek college as a goal. The parent was not ready to accept the advice.

Jose Griego, counselor at Tierra Blanca and Bluebonnet Elementary Schools, said that testing was only a part of the counseling procedure and that it was used cautiously. Other information was provided with personal visits with parents, who describe the home environment of the student.

Mrs. Sallie Strain, school board member, said testing was only a measure of someone's knowledge at a given time and place.

PRUITT, NOTED that parental input was important in the implementation of school board policy and that open mindedness was important on the part of school board members. He placed strong emphasis on parent-student-teacher relationships when a question was asked on the subject.

Other candidates also wanted open communication between the different segments of the school system and said good relationships ought to continue.

Another question receiving affirmative answers all down the line was whether the candidates would take the time necessary to investigate problems brought to the attention of the board.

Hutchins explained that proper administrative channels existed for most problems and that these should be exhausted first before the board is approached.

Pruitt also confirmed this by saying that the chain of command through principals on up was the first advisable course to follow, but that if no results are

Large Cash Prize Escapes Birdwell At Fun Breakfast

Only 150 people turned out for the Chamber Fun Breakfast Tuesday morning, and Howard Birdwell wishes there had been at least 151. His name was drawn for a $400 cash prize but he wasn't there to claim it!

Fun and games, entertainment, by "The Fuzz", the presentation of two other cash awards, introductions of Miss Hereford and Miss Teen Hereford, presentation of the Bull Chip Award, announcements of upcoming community events, and introduction of the chamber's new executive vice president, Bob Duckworth, highlighted the March breakfast.

Linton Allred, who serves as co-master of ceremonies along with Doug Manning, was the surprised recipient of the Bull Chip award. The special plaque is presented at each breakfast to an outstanding community worker.

Cash prizes of $75 and $25 were taken home by Dub Boyd and Kathy Manning after their names were drawn from the at-large box. The $400 drawing was for a chamber member who must be present to win. The prize will be increased to $450 for the next breakfast.

This month's breakfast sponsor was the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union.

Reagan Lauds Cattlemen

FORT WORTH (AP)—Ronald Reagan has lauded cattlemen as being the "last bastion against accepting government help and free of government regulations."

The former California governor, who raises steers himself, spoke to approximately 1,800 ranchers and Pauline Howard welcomed those attending the C of C event. A welcome was also worded by C of C President Joe Shollenbarger. Manning presented Duckworth with a can of Skoal and hung a bag of manure around his neck to "help get him accustomed to Hereford."

Making community announcements were Bill Walden, for Big Brothers-Big Sisters; Ruth Black, Fine Arts Festival; Donna VanderZee, blood bank; Jose Griego, Town Hall Meeting; Jack Andrews, Cowgirl Rodeo; and George Belford, Easter Week Services.

The recently crowned Miss Hereford, Dee Ann Caison, and Miss Teen Hereford, Kyla Poteet, were special guests at the breakfast and drew recognition on the program. Candidates for the city commission and Hereford school board were also recognized, and the two mayoral candidates—Bartley Dowell and Emory Brownlow—were asked to make short campaign speeches. The only catch was that both were to speak at the same time. The "speeches" were very brief.

City commission candidates attending the breakfast was John Matthews, Paul Abalos and Earl Brookhart. School board candidates present were David Hutchins, Bill Walden and David Pruitt.

Susie McGee provided piano music during the program, and Belford worded the invocation. The Fun Breakfasts are scheduled to be held every other month.

Blood Bank Set Wednesday

Marlene Watson, chairman of the monthly blood drive here, reminded local residents that the blood mobile will be stationed at the Community Center from 4-6 p.m. Wednesday.

Blood donations are needed to replenish the Hereford pool at Coffee Memorial Blood Center. Donations may be made in the name of Hubert White, a Hereford patient in St. Anthony's Hospital who has required transfusions.

Mrs. Watson asked that other local citizens who have required blood transfusions notify her at 364-1470.

David Hamill, left, REA Administrator, Washington, D.C., had a brief visit with James Hull, Deaf Smith REC manager, and other local electric cooperative officials here Monday. Hamill was guest speaker at the annual Swisher REC meeting Saturday in Tulla. He was recently asked by President Carter to remain at his post for two more years. He has served as administrator under Eisenhower, Nixon and Ford.

National REC Official Visits Here

David Hamill, national administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration, was in Hereford for a brief visit at Deaf Smith REC Monday and he had high praise for the job being done by electric co-ops in the High Plains.

Accompanied by his wife, Hamill came to the area last week as guest speaker for the Swisher Electric Cooperative annual meeting, which was held Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Hamill also visited their son, Jack, who is employed with Hi-Pro Feed in Friona.

In an unprecedented move, President Jimmy Carter recently invited Hamill to remain at his post as REA chief for two more years. Hamill will soon complete 13 years as the administrator, having served under Eisenhower, Nixon and Ford during Republican administrations. The REA chief is appointed for a 10-year term, but serves at the pleasure of the president. Hamill has two years left on his current term.

James Hull, manager of Deaf Smith REC, said he believes the retention of Hamill "indicates the fine job he has performed as REA administrator." Hull added that there was much support for Hamill across the country.

Hamill served as administrator under Eisenhower from 1956 to 1961. He was again appointed to the post in 1969 by President Nixon, and remained under President Ford. He also is the administrator of the Rural Telephone Administration, which was established in 1971. The REA is a division of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The REA does not loan money to cooperatives, but does guarantee the loans and, in some cases, provides low-interest rates. However, Hamill has been instrumental in moving the agency away from the subsidized interest rates.

"Last year, only 17 per cent of the loans were subsidized," Hamill said Monday. With the energy crisis and spiraling costs of construction, loans had increased greatly in recent years. REA has guaranteed something like $20 billion in loans in its history, and Hamill has approved about two-thirds of the amount during his administration.

While mentioning the efficient job being done by cooperatives on the High Plains, Hamill pointed out that Texas "has more loans and more miles of lines than any other state." During recent

Articles Taken From Firm

The theft of some articles of clothing was reported by a local business Monday.

A spokesman for the Sweetbriar, located in Sugarland Mall, told city police that two women were trying on clothes at the firm Monday.

The women left the store and the manager then noticed that a number of hangers on a clothing rack were empty.

Value of the items taken was estimated at $25.

Michael Trolander of Hereford told police that his motorcycle was vandalized while it was parked at Ave. G and Union Monday.

The spark plug wires on the cycle were cut. No damage estimate was available.

seeking another hearing before a three-judge panel as originally requested by the federal government. However, Woodward ruled March 8 that the district was not subject to the restraints of the act and therefore did not have to change its method of electing trustees from the place system to the at-large system.

The Justice Department had ruled that the at-large system was less discriminatory and based its administrative action the authority of the Voting Rights Act as amended in 1975. The amendment required all districts making election changes after 1974 to report them for Justice Department approval.

School Attorney Richard Green was unavailable for comment this morning concerning the date for a new trial. The district is expected to file other motions in the case since it is being contested to end the appeals process.

The school district argued that Judge Woodward had the right to hear the case alone based on a decision found in a similar case known as Gomez vs. Galloway. However, the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans required the case to be heard before a three-judge panel three days after the Hereford case trial. This prompted the motion by the Justice Department.

Canadian Gunman Surrenders

TORONTO (AP)—A Canadian with a sawed-off shotgun who seized a downtown bank and demanded to be flown to Uganda surrendered peacefully late Monday night and released the last four of 16 hostages.

The man, Robert Hugh McLagan, 37, told reporters by telephone he was "a fan" of President Idi Amin and wanted to join his army. But a radio reporter who got into the bank said the man told him he wanted to kill Amin.

McLagan was charged early today with bank robbery.

Milk Supports Raised

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter has decided to give milk producers a larger boost in basic price supports than either his own agriculture secretary or the National Milk Production Federation recommended.

Secretary Bob S. Bergland planned to announce the decision at a news conference today.

The April 1 increase to 99 per 100 pounds from 88.26 is also more in dollars and cents than Carter said during the campaign he would have approved.

Zaire Request Not Easy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Carter administration faces a tough foreign policy decision in dealing with a new request from Zaire for military aid, including ammunition for U.S.-made weapons supplied to the African country in years past.

The State Department said Monday that Zaire, battling an invading force from neighboring Angola, has made "a supplementary request" to the United States for aid.

Election Revision Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Carter administration is unveiling its proposal for revamping the election system, including plans to simplify voter registration and to junk the embattled electoral college.

Vice President Walter F. Mondale scheduled a news conference today to give details of the administration plan, part of a comprehensive revision of election procedures advocated by President Carter.

Workmen's

Records Open To Release

WASHINGTON (AP) - The U.S. Supreme Court Monday let stand a state court's decision that Texas officials cannot withhold workmen's compensation information.

The court refused to review a ruling by the state court that information from all claims filed with the Texas Industrial Accident Board is public information.

Texas officials had gone to the Supreme Court seeking to overturn a state court ruling and asking that such records be declared privileged information not subject to inspection.

State courts held that Industrial Foundation of the South, a non-profit corporation comprised of about 280 member-employers who employ workers in the southwest, was entitled to such information.

"However subtly phrased, it is evident that the foundation seeks to serve its own interests and those of its employer-members by providing a means of denying employment to person who have made a claim for workmen's compensation." Texas authorities told the high court.

Girls Get First Win; Netters Down Lubbock

The Hereford High School tennis team was at its peak last Thursday through Saturday as the Herd netters got a double win over Lubbock high and showed well in the Lubbock Tournament.

The Herd girls got their first dual win of the year Thursday in a 6-3 win over the Lubbock feds. The Herd boys got a 5-4 win to give coach Steve Thomas a sweep of the Westerners.

The netters played in the Lubbock High gym, and as a result the match lasted until after 11 p.m. Thursday. Play in the tournament began on Friday.

Hereford singles entrants Steve Hoover and Joni Webb fared well in the tourney, with Hoover advancing to the semifinals where he lost a tough match to Abilene's Ky Cauble. Webb played four tough matches Friday, winning three of them before falling in the quarterfinals to Jean Barton of Coronado 6-4, 7-6.

"I was especially proud of Joni's play," Thomas said Monday. "She played very well especially in the light of four matches in one day, and two of those went three sets."

Webb downed Kristen Dunsen of Levelland, Joey Taylor of Lubbock, and Carolyn Pasewark of Coronado before falling to Barton. Hoover received a bye in the first round before downing Curtis Henry of Pampa 6-1, 6-0. He went on to defeat Tascosa's Kirk Barnett 6-2, 6-4 before meeting Cauble.

Hereford's boys duo of Kevin Downing-Bill Bayne won two matches in the B Boys Doubles bracket before finally falling.

Downing and Bayne took a 6-4, 6-0 decision in their first match and defeated Dunbar's Bill Hamilton and Bruce Fallow 6-4, 6-0 before losing to Steve Herman-Vicor Hands of Tascosa 1-6, 7-6, 3-6 in the quarterfinals.

In dual action Thursday the Herd girls got their first win of the year by taking all three doubles matches after splitting six singles frays with the Westerner girls.

Webb, Polly Robinson, and Melinda Tatum collected singles victories for Hereford, with Tatum's win coming on a default. Shelly Scott and Karen Grimsley took one doubles match. Webb and Robinson took another, and Tatum and Kaye Inmon won their match by default. In boys action Hoover, Ralph Vargas, and Bayne each picked up singles wins, while Hoover-Lewis and Bayne-Downing got doubles wins.

The netters continue dual action today against Plainview at 2:45 on the HHS courts.

Sandies Trip Herd

BY BOB NIGH
Brand Sports Editor

The Amarillo High Sandies used 10 hits and five Herd errors to good advantage Monday afternoon at Whiteface Field to hand the 'Faces a 9-3 setback.

The game was a make up affair from a scheduled March 11 game which had been postponed due to wet grounds.

Herd junior Chris Hill took the loss against the Sandies as he saw his season mark fall to 2-3. Overall the Herd is now 3-6.

Paul Guyer handled the mound chores for Amarillo, getting the win in a nine-strikeout, four-walk stint. The Sandies put the Herd away in the middle innings, scoring twice in the third, three times in the fourth, and twice more in the fifth to take an 8-1 lead.

The visitors took a 1-0 lead in the first on a double by Bret Jordan and a single by Carl Birdsong as Hill suffered through a shaky start. Hill gave up three safeties before finally getting the Sandies out.

Down 6-0 in the fourth the 'Faces pushed across their first tally when Kent Herring walked, advanced on a Sandie error, and scored on a double by Larry McNutt.

The Herd looked like it was going to rally at that point, but second baseman Paul Garcia grounded out and designated hitter Kent Ellis struck out to end the surge.

The Whitefaces put across two more runs in the sixth as they collected two of their three hits in the contest. Hill reached on an error and moved to third on Herring's double.

Mitch Guinn sacrificed Hill home, and Herring scored later on a single by Garcia.

The Sandies added an insurance run off reliever Jim Lawson in the seventh as they collected their eighth win against four defeats. Guyer took the win to up his personal mark to 4-1 on the year.

The game marked the fifth game in four days for the Herd, and things don't get any better quickly. The 'Faces will host Tascosa this afternoon, and then will travel to Borger on Friday.

Anthony's, Eagles Enter Cage Finals

Anthony's and the Eagles each claimed victories Sunday to set up a clash in the finals of the winner's bracket of the once single elimination - suddenly turned double elimination basketball tournament to decide the YMCA Men's League champion.

What began as a single elimination affair was upgraded to a double elimination format last week when team managers voted to change the format of the tournament.

Anthony's turned back the bears 95-38 Sunday behind 29 points by Dennis Gohene and 28 more by Dick Kirkpatrick. Rudy Gonzales added 21 points to the winning effort, while Randy Arnold led the Bears with 19.

The Eagles had no trouble with AVC in the order semifinal contest, walking away 64-25 winners. Hackett topped the winners with 19 points, while Ron Welty led the AVC charge with 12.

In a loser's bracket game Sunday the Rascals got a 31-point performance by Mike Simpson to scramble by the Raiders 61-55. Dwayne Davidson totaled 22 points in a losing effort for the Raiders.

The tournament continues Wednesday evening with the Bears clashing with Toters at 7 p.m., Anthony's and the Eagles fighting it out at 8 p.m., and the winner of the 7 p.m. game playing the Rascals at 9 p.m.

Bob Nigh The Morning After

Hereford's George Yocum staged a furious battle for medalist honors in the golf tournament with a three-put effort on the final hole the only thing that kept Yocum from finishing in a tie for the honor.

Jarrett carded a 139 18-hole total for the top spot with Yocum just behind at 140. Yocum's 31 on the front nine on Friday marked a tourney record, and Jarrett's 68 18-hole mark and 139 36-hole mark were also record-setting efforts.

Back to track again Lubbock Coronado's Less Brewer attracted probably the largest crowd at the meet for an individual performance when he set a meet record in the shot put.

Brewer tossed the 16-pound ball 59 feet 2 1/4 inches...over eight feet better than runner up Vince Price of Canyon.

Brewer also added a 151-8 toss of the disc to emerge the meet's only double winner in the large school division, excluding relay team members.

Speaking of Hereford Athletic Director Fred Upshaw following the successful three-days of activity we were reminded just how much work does go on behind the scenes that the everyday fan never realizes.

"A weekend of this magnitude would be impossible unless we had the cooperation of the coaches involved, the school personnel, and the townspeople." Upshaw said.

"Coaches Priest (Boys Track), Shipp (Girls Track) Russell (Golf) and Stewart (Baseball) did a great job in getting their individual tournaments or meets organized... they key to the whole thing is organization," he added.

In addition to the coaches and school personnel many townspeople worked long hours over the three days, especially in the three track meets, where a tremendous amount of time is involved.

"We'd also like to express our appreciation to all the volunteer helpers and to the Women's Division of the Chamber for the meal they served smoothly as they ever have been, and that's a credit to these people," he added.

But most of all the near 2,000 athletes involved reaped the greatest benefit, and as the AD put it... "any benefit they (The athletes) receive is more than worth all the time and effort we put into it."

ST. LOUIS (AP) - Dwane Morrison, who led Georgia Tech to its best season since 1970, was named Metro Seven Conference basketball coach of the year today in voting by sports writers and broadcasters.

Heiden's Success Excites Europeans

BY TIM HARPER
Associated Press Writer

MADISON, Wis. (AP) - Sometimes when Eric Heiden is watching television or lying in bed at his parents' home, his mind wanders back over the last few incredible weeks.

"It doesn't seem real," he said. "All of a sudden I think I'm the best in the world. It's hard to think of yourself in those terms, but it's starting to sink in."

Heiden, the 18-year-old speed-skating Wunderkind, stunned the European sports world with an unprecedented sweep of three international championships, setting world records along the way.

Heiden, just a face in the crowd on the 1976 U.S. Olympic skating team, exploded this year with victories in the men's all-around, the junior and the world sprint championships in The Netherlands and Germany.

He was the youngest person ever to win the world sprint and men's championships, the only American ever to win any of the three and the first person ever to win all three in one year.

In American sports, it might be comparable to rushing for 200 yards in each game during the football season, or perhaps pitching three consecutive no-hitters in the World Series.

To put it mildly, the fans in Europe went crazy over the personable Heiden and his pizle of a sister, 5-foot-11, 88-pound Beth, 17.

She finished second, fourth and seventh in the women's world championships.

"Everybody in Europe knows and follows the skaters from all over the world," Eric said. "If I wanted to make a lot of money and be famous, I'd go to Europe to live. But it is just a nice place to visit."

Nice, indeed. No sooner had Heiden stepped off a plane in Madison last week after capping his season with another world record in Moscow, than a businessman called from The Netherlands and offered to fly him back for the weekend to speak at a neighborhood skating club.

"It's just wild the way they go for skating over there," Eric said.

On the other hand, he was just another good-looking, healthy, long-haired youngster when he got together with his Madison friends and went to some high school basketball games last week.

He said he does not think his accomplishments will boost American speed skating interest the way Olga Korbut sent children flocking to gymnastics.

"I hope my success helps promote skating in this country, but I doubt it," he said. "Americans just don't know what speed skating is. But maybe it will keep some younger kids interested, knowing they can succeed."

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) - The Rhode Island Reds have given Coach Ross Brooks the additional duties of general manager for the remainder of the American Hockey League season, the club announced.

City Commission Approves Seal Coat Program, Car Bid Procedure

The Hereford City Commission Monday night heard a discussion on reorienting traffic to drive-up mail boxes on 4th Street, approved an increase in the budget for a road seal coat program and considered police patrol car bidding.

During the regularly scheduled gained, the board might be approached. General discussion was held on getting more interest in the school board and community business. Clark Andrews, another school board member present, said he had tried it once before to get groups to come to meetings but that it didn't work.

At one point Walden said often 10 per cent of the people get involved and the other 90 per cent throw the rocks. One PTSO member said it's hard even to get people to throw the rocks.

The election is set for April 1. Absentee voting continues through March 29 at the school tax assessor-collector's office.

years, big loans have been guaranteed for generating plants, and Hamil said these are being made only where the plants are integrated into an operating system.

A native of Colorado, Hamil and his brother are ranchers in Logan, Col., where their principal business is feeding cattle. They also produce sugar beets, alfalfa and corn. He has, on several occasions, bought cattle from this area.

Before going to Washington, Hamil served 16 years in the Colorado Legislature, and was speaker of the House for six years. He resigned that post in 1956 to accept appointment as REA administrator.

session, the commissioners also finalized the Hereford Municipal Airport operator's contract with Hereford Aviation. It was not yet ready as expected at the last meeting and was finally prepared and approved Monday. It provides for gas payment amounts and general policies connected with the airport functions.

A special meeting was set for April 2 when the elections will be canvassed, returns counted, and new commissioners sworn-in.

Concerning the mailboxes, Dr. Milton Adams, representing the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, presented a plan for an island out in the middle of 4th Street where traffic going both ways could easily drive up to the boxes and deposit mail. At present, traffic must travel southwest of 4th to get near the boxes but does not allow drivers to reach the boxes from their side of the vehicles.

Dudley Bayne, city manager, presented his own plan which would use the alley behind the post office.

Both plans were tabled pending further study. Bayne is to approach the commissioners later on the subject.

The city budget was amended to raise the amount for seal coating from $18,000 to about $31,000. Originally, about 55,000 square-yards of seal coat was estimated but 99,000 square yards is actually needed from further deterioration of streets.

The City Commission decided to leave patrol car bids open ended to allow car dealers to bid vehicles they have available. The bids must be police car packages, though, despite the varying brand differences.

The specifications were left undecided so as not to exclude any one dealer. All commissioners were present.

It was the last regular business meeting for mayor Jim Sears who is not seeking re-election.

Briscoe Names Brown As Agriculture Official

AUSTIN (AP)—Reagan V. Brown, a speech-making agriculture expert who once ran against the legendary Speaker Sam Rayburn, is Texas' new agriculture commissioner.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe announced the appointment Monday to fill the vacancy when John C. White, commissioner for 26 years, quit to become deputy U.S. Secretary of Agriculture.

"I will dedicate all my efforts and mission to helping the farmers and ranchers of Texas make a profit," said Brown, 55, a 30-year veteran in agriculture work.

Brown said he definitely will be a candidate for a full four-year term as state agriculture commissioner in the 1978 elections.

"I was born and raised on a farm," Brown said when asked his qualifications for the job.

Brown said the biggest problem of Texas farmers and ranchers was "making a living." After that came conservation problems including the recent dust storms, the energy problems and getting more of a share of the world markets.

Briscoe told a news conference that a number of other candidates were considered including Bill Pieratt, deputy state commissioner to White for 11 years, and Reps. Pete Laney, 33, D-Hale Center, and Joe Hubenak, 39, Rosenberg.

Local Residents To Contribute $20 Million In Income Taxes

How much will Deaf Smith County residents be contributing to Uncle Sam next month in income taxes? What part of the $255 billion in personal income and employment taxes that Washington is expecting to collect will come from them?

Preliminary figures indicate that the total will be considerably greater than in the past year, when they turned in close to $17,862,000, including the amount withheld via payroll deductions.

That is approximately what was collected locally by the Government, based upon an unofficial breakdown of the statewide figures released by the Internal Revenue Service.

The returns from the State of Texas as a whole came to $11,908,000,000, according to the IRS. Of this total, residents of Deaf Smith County contributed an estimated 0.15 per cent.

Government expectations are for bigger receipts this year than last, even though there were more people out of work in most sections of the country during the taxable period.

That is because overall income was greater, due to the wage gains obtained by those who were employed. It is attributed, also, to "bracket creep," which is the movement of people into higher brackets, where tax rates are correspondingly higher.

As a result, the budget submitted to Congress calls for personal income and employment taxes to yield nearly $37 billion more than the $218 billion collected last April.

Deaf Smith County taxpayers will be shouldering their full share of this increase, it is expected, reflecting the higher total income locally.

It is estimated on that basis, that collections in the area this year will come to approximately $20,863,000.

As for the forthcoming fiscal year, just how big the tax burden will be is uncertain at this time. The executive budget, now being examined by Congress, anticipates personal taxes of $296 billion, as compared with this year's $255 billion.

The total income of the local population would have to increase proportionately for the area to carry its commensurate share of that rise.

Superintendent Tells Rotary About School District Suits

The Hereford Rotary Club heard School Superintendent Harrell Holder update the members on the status of two law suits pending against the Hereford School Board of Trustees.

During the luncheon meeting Monday, he said that the board was interested in preserving local control in both suits. One suit involved dismissed teacher Wayne Woodward, which was decided against the district and the other concerns the 1965 Voting Rights Act, which was won by the district two weeks ago.

In both cases, federal and state laws are involved and the board acting independently decided to fight for what it considers local taxpayers' rights.

Presently, the Wayne Woodward suit is before the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans. Holder said a recent decision by the U.S. Supreme Court gives more reason for a reversal in the case, which could result if the Appeals court sends the case back to the district court for consideration of other matters besides the teacher's constitutionally guaranteed freedom of speech.

The Voting Rights suit against the U.S. Attorney General Griffin Bell and the Justice Department was decided in favor of the district by a federal district judge.

In that case, the superintendent said, "Our hopes are riding on a case involving the (Texas) City of Beeville, which was similar in nature to our suit." A judge has ruled that the case must be redecided by a three-judge panel in the southern district court of Texas.

He explained that the Justice Department was not in favor of the School Board changing from at-large system of electing board members in 1974 to the place with majority runoff systems of voting saying that discrimination might exist. All such changes had to be reported to the Justice Department after a 1975 amendment included five additional states including Texas in its jurisdiction.

In all, 26 Texas school districts were involved in changes and 24 of them decided to do as the Justice Department required even though going back to a previous form of voting was against state law. The Midland Independent School District stood pat inviting the possibility of a suit filed against it by the Justice Department. Stiff penalties are mandated for school board members if violations are proven.

The school district was prompted to file suit to improve its position in the court despite opposition to the action.

Rotarian Charles Wagner told the members about an upcoming talent show sponsored by the club. It will raise needed funds through $25 entry fees from a maximum of 25 entrants. It is to be held in May.

Troys Carmichael, longtime Rotarian and realtor here, gave a job classification talk. The humorous presentation centered on his many years here starting out with his graduation from Hereford High School and progressing to his marriage and agricultural interests.

At next week's meeting, exchange representatives of an English Rotary club will speak.

Our economic system provides every person thousands of ways to save money and over a million ways to spend it.

Future Homemakers To Observe Texas FHA-HERO Week Here

Future Homemakers of America throughout Texas will observe Texas FHA-HERO Week March 27-April 2. Using the theme "FHA shapes an Unfinished World," the more than 75,000 young men and women will join in demonstrating projects that have real value for youth in preparation for future responsibilities.

Future Homemakers of America is one of six vocational education youth organizations. A part of the junior and senior high school homemaking curriculum, it provides meaning and motivation for youth working toward educational goals related to consumer homemaking and home economics for gainful employment and reaches beyond the classroom instruction into the home and community.

State President Phyllis Cicero explained that the overall goal of the organization is "to help youth assume their roles in society through home economics in areas of personal growth, family life, vocational preparation and community involvement. "In other words," she said, "it helps us develop leadership, good citizenship, and prepare for the vital work of our country. In our FHA and HERO chapter meetings we analyze member concerns and then develop projects that are related to our home economics classroom studies. Many people have no idea what is taught in homemaking classes today. It isn't just cooking and sewing, it's learning about living, dual role of homemaker and wage earner in today's fast-paced society. During this week we want to impress on people the importance of vocational education and of Future Homemakers of America as a part of homemaking education in preparing us for future living."

Future Homemakers of America was founded June 11, 1945 as an incorporated, nonprofit organization supported by membership dues. There are two types of chapters. FHA chapters place major emphasis on consumer education, homemaking and family life education combined with exploration of jobs and careers. HERO chapters, taking the name from home economics related occupations, place major emphasis on preparation for jobs and careers with recognition that workers also fill multiple roles as homemakers and community leaders.

Nationwide in membership and effort, Future Homemakers of America is cosponsored by the U.S. Office of Education through the Division of Vocational and Technical Education and the American Home Economics Association. High School home economics teachers, members of the state home economics education staff and leading home economists serve as advisers to the chapter, state and national youth officers, giving guidance and counseling to the program.

The national headquarters is located in Washington, D.C. The Texas Association is sponsored by the Texas Education Agency, Austin, Tex.

Texas. Mrs. Elizabeth F. Smith is the State Director of Homemaking Education and Mrs. Betty Romans is the State Advisor of the Texas Association.

Punhong Certified In Family Medicine

Dr. Prasert Punhong, of Hereford has been named a diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice (ABFP) as a result of passing a certification examination offered by the ABFP. He is now certified in the specialty of family practice.

He began practice with the Hereford Medical and Surgical Clinic late last year.

The intensive 2-day written examination taken by Dr. Punhong is designed to prove his ability in the area of internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics, gynecology, pediatrics, psychiatry and community medicine.

To qualify for the examination a physician must have completed either a 3-year family practice residency or have been in family practice a minimum of six years and successfully completed 300 hours of continuing medical education approved by the American Academy of Family Physicians.

ABFP diplomates also must continue to show proof of competency in the field of comprehensive, continuing care of the family by being recertified every six years. No other medical specialty requires diplomates to prove competence on a continuing basis.

The latest group of diplomates brings the total number to 11,000. Most are members of the Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. In addition to being the only national M.D. group to require members to take continuing medical study, the Academy was chiefly responsible for securing specialty status for family practice.

AUSTIN (AP) - Dallas Police Chief Don Byrd says he doesn't want crime victims blaming him when they get calls from folks selling burglar bars, karate lessons and guard dogs.
He testified Monday before the House State Affairs Committee in favor of a bill
(HB1359) that would exempt from mandatory disclosure police records of names and addresses of victims, witnesses and informants.

Bird said the bill would not change the records released to Dallas police reporters. With rare exceptions, he said, Dallas reporters do not publicize names and addresses of victims and witnesses.

"I am caught in terms of open records versus the right to privacy of persons I am sworn to serve," he said.

The issue arose, Byrd said, when a burglar alarm company demanded the names of the city's last 400 burglary victims so it could solicit them to buy its products.

USSR Trying To Expand Through African Battle Fields

BY ARTHUR L. GAYSON
Associated Press Writer
AP News Analysis

WASHINGTON (AP) - From Cairo to Capetown, much of Africa today is in turmoil with allied governments convinced the Kremlin is out to extend its influence on a continental scale. Cuban and Soviet leaders, or their envoys, have been flitting their shadows from African battle-zone to battle-zone with this old but simple message: "The defeat of the imperialists and white racists can come only through armed struggle and not through dialog."

It's a message that the U.S. government considers totally opposed to western efforts aimed at achieving changes peacefully.

Thus a situation seems to be shaping up in Africa packing all the elements of an East-West confrontation, certainly in the political if not the military sense.

In the past week, according to information reaching Washington, Prime Minister Fidel Castro of Cuba has left a trail of promises to provide more manpower, material and even military aid as he has journeyed through Algeria, Libya, Ethiopia, Tanzania.

In the coming week, President Nikolai V. Podgorny of the Soviet Union is expected, in low-key fashion, to do the same during this swing through Tanzania, Mozambique and Zambia. It will be a swing that inevitably will thrust the Soviets in the middle of the tangled southern African crisis where blacks and whites already are fighting in and around Rhodesia, Namibia Southwest Africa and, sporadically, in South Africa itself.

Yet that confrontation need not necessarily come unless one or other of the superpowers chooses to force it by open intervention on the model of Angola two years ago.

The Soviets learned the hard way in the 1960s that African rulers make uncertain partners. They were asked to leave one country after another as regimes changed. And in post-colonial Africa regimes have changed swiftly.

About half the nearly 50 continental states are under the rule of soldiers who ousted political leaders. Most are one-party states. In recent months Soviet commentators have been reminding their followers that socialism in some African countries consisted of nothing but slogans and declarations "used to conceal the privileges of the minority, the local rich and the bureaucratic elite."

Equally, President Carter's administration, still busy charting its own policy for Africa, appears to have discarded the concept on which former Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger based his approach. It was, essentially, an approach fashioned in "fight communism" in alliance with either black or white partners.

The Carter camp seems to have learned that the objective conditions that permitted Soviet-Cuban intervention in Angola were not created in Moscow or Havana. Angola was ripe for revolution because of the special brand of Portuguese colonialism.

Somalia has fallen like a plum into the Russian lap not because Somalia are Marxist-Leninists but because they were poor and ready to accept help from almost anybody. China did not build the Tanzanian-Zambian railroad because those two countries were Maoist but because western terms for the project were too severe.

The turmoil in Africa today extends from the northernmost to the southernmost tips of the continent, from the Atlantic to the Indian Ocean seaboard.

It's no haphazard accident of history but a mix of several factors. Among them:

The black nations today are coping with the heritage of the Berlin Congress of 1884-1885 which amounted to a carve-up of African territory by the expanding powers of Europe. Twelve nations, including the United States, attended and drew arbitrary lines on inaccurate maps to create artificial states that still exist. The Bakongo nation, for example, starts off north of the Congo River in the Congo Republic Brazzaville, passes through Zaire and ends up in Angola.

The primary producing countries of black Africa also are coping with the effects of a world recession compounded by a five-fold increase in fuel prices that totally undercut their dreams of a brave new world in the aftermath of independence. Those dreams, never securely based, somehow equated freedom from the white man's mastery with the advent of a prosperity that never quite came.

Setting history and economic factors aside, there also is the political pressure generated by the conflicting demands of the worlds that blacks knew in the colonial period and the Shangrihas promised by Communist crusaders.

The sophisticated political systems, devised over centuries in the clubs and salons of London and Paris, did not quite fit the needs of blacks reared in the cruel deserts, forests and bushland of Africa.

The red-horized Utopias offered by emissaries from Moscow and Peking were emotional rather than pragmatic solutions for getting the crops reaped, the lands irrigated, the mines working, so that they would survive in a materialist world.

To a degree Carter already has taken an initiative likely to test Soviet intentions with his proposals for:

1. A halt to the indiscriminate supply of arms by the big powers.

2. A demilitarization of the Indian Ocean area long urged by the littoral states.

The Soviets thus far have answered by deeds, rather than words, because they have simply gone ahead with their old policies of winning friends and influencing people with offers of weapons at bargain-basement prices. Nor have they slowed down in their naval and other activities in and around the Indian Ocean.

Facility Concentrate On Study Of Black Newspapers

WASHINGTON (AP) - Some 150 years after the first U.S. newspaper run by blacks was published, its progeny are creating the first national repository for black newspapers.

The Black Press Archives was dedicated Friday at Howard University, which is jointly sponsoring the project with the National Newspaper Publishers Association, a black press organization.

The sponsors say their goal is "to establish the nation's best facility for the serious study of the black press."

The archives, which will be kept in Howard's Moorland-Springarn Research Center, will include a gallery of pioneer black newspaper publishers, including Frederick Douglass, the abolitionist.

The dedication highlighted the semi-annual meeting of the publishers association, which represents about 85 per cent of the nation's more than 200 black-oriented newspapers.

Vice President Walter E. Mondale and Andrew Young, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, addressed a luncheon attended by 200 persons. "Blacks proved they are an important influence in the last election," Mondale said.

Young said he intends to speak out for human rights in the face of some criticism. "It seems that everytime I open my mouth, I put my foot in it. Well, I've got a big mouth and I intend to keep opening it," he said.

Young added that President Carter has told him to remain outspoken.

The President also sent the group his greetings, saying:

"Americans can take the deepest satisfaction from the enduring contributions of the black press to advancing the ideals of social justice and equality of opportunity on which our nation was founded."

Those honored as distinguished black publishers were Samuel E. Cornish and John B. Russwurm, co-founders of Freedom's Journal, the first black newspaper, issued in New York City in March 1827; Douglass, publisher of the North Star, first in Rochester, N.Y.; Martin R. Delaney,

Paul Harvey News

Jim Vs. Jimmy In 1980

Home base for Paul Harvey is Chicago. It is necessary for me to make a conscious effort 'not' to preoccupy my self with regional affairs.

But we have a new governor in Illinois who is already overtly campaigning for the Presidency of the United States, so Big Jim Thompson is not "regional" any more.

He steps in some ways when your governor wants to be President.

The most obvious benefit is that he is going to try extra hard to be a good governor.

In years past an incumbent might have suffered from the accusation that he was using an office as a "steppingstone"; not any more.

Now Americans appear to prefer their politicians to be ambitious.

Jim Thompson is a giant killer. As a U.S. attorney he was afraid of nobody; with carefully prepared factual evidence and rational argument, he went after and brought down the biggies: 350 indictments against political officials; a 95 per cent conviction rate.

In a similarly methodical way he went after the governorship, and though Mayor Daley then ruled Chicago, though the Democrats otherwise carried the state, Republican Thompson won 2 to 1!

Illinois is a microcosm of the United States. Sixty percent of the voters in Illinois identify with neither party.

Obviously Big Jim has a way with the independents which is altogether as effective as that of President Jimmy Carter; in Illinois Big Jim was 'More' effective.

Thompson—an impressive 6 foot-6, barely 40 years old—does not have to be in a hurry.

If he can handle a politically hostile legislature during this two-year interim period—and get himself elected to a full term thereafter—he could time his bid for national office either in 1980 or 1984.

Thompson's campaigning is reminiscent of Mr. Carter's. He courted Illinois voters wearing a turtleneck T-shirt on which were the words: "Thank God I'm a Country Boy."

He stumped 44 county fairs for the farmer vote.

He overtly went after black voters—yet meticulously avoided shopping-list promises.

He urged only a very few public-works projects and those judiciously distributed around the state.

As this political starlet threatens to become a national superstar, he becomes a larger target. Already some biting words have been exchanged between him and Texas' John Connally when Connally sought the national chairmanship of the Republican Party.

Thompson also has turned thumbs down on the Reagan-dictated party platform, declining to be bound by it for the next four years.

As governor he is waging a vigorous fight for fiscal frugality, elimination of fraud and waste, a balanced budget, with no increase in state taxes.

"I've wanted to be President since I was 11 years old," says Big Jim Thompson, and so far he's done all the right things toward the realization of that objective.

Commander Goes From Ships To House Painters, Plumbers

SAN DIEGO (AP) - Worth Bagley used to command fleets of U.S. Navy warships and thousands of sailors as part of the nation's defense forces. Now the man who was the Navy's youngest full admiral has a smaller command and a different defense responsibility -- leaky plumbing, for instance, instead of enemy ships.

Bagley, 52, commands house painters, electricians and plumbers now instead of men and ships. He says he likes it better than his last job -- vice chief of naval operations.

The home-service company he started last April 1 with an investment of $7,000 is already grossing at a rate of about $125,000 a year. It has put to work 21 retired or soon-to-retire chief petty officers, one ex-captain and the Navy's former top enlisted man.

"It's an idea that was in my mind several years before I retired," Bagley said Friday of his Serval Co.

In 1973, at the age of 48, Bagley was made a full admiral. He was commander of U.S. naval forces in Europe and the Mediterranean. That year, he held a Navy task force which faced down a reinforced Soviet fleet of more than 100 ships during the Arab-Israeli war.

Then he spent six months at the Pentagon as vice chief of naval operations.

In 1975, he became eligible for retirement and moved here with his wife, mother and three teen-age children.

Bagley called Bob McCabe, who was his chief of staff when Bagley was commander of Cruiser-Destroyer Flotilla 7 in San Diego in 1969-70. McCabe was finishing a master's degree in business administration.

Then he talked with retired or retiring chief petty officers who were Navy technicians with at least 20 years' experience.

The seven men who signed on "all have technical schooling equal or superior to that in civilian schools and spent their whole careers in that work," Bagley said in an interview. "We've taken the very best, not a one who couldn't make more money elsewhere."

As vice presidents, he got McCabe and Jack Whittet, who was the Navy's top enlisted man for five years as master chief in the Pentagon.

They charge $12.50 an hour for plumbing and electrical work -- $10 an hour for older people on fixed incomes -- and $8 an hour for house painting -- $6 an hour for the fixed income group.

A 26-store grocery chain has hired Bagley's boys to handle all its plumbing problems. Apartment houses and office buildings provide all the work that can be handled by the eight men working full time and the 10 who work part time while they await military retirement.

The man who does each job gets 40 per cent of the proceeds. After expenses are paid, Bagley splits the profits equally every month among the seven who formed the firm.

Now...there is a 10 year warranty on Gas Air Conditioning!

Install Gas air conditioning now and forget about major cooling problems for at least ten years. And, ten years is a looong time. Time for children to finish junior high, high school and graduate from college. That's a lot of summers for you to enjoy a cool, comfortable home without worrying about expensive maintenance to your cooling system.

How can we give a 10 year warranty on Arka-Serval Gas air conditioning when the other kind offers only five?

The answer is in quality construction and Gas air conditioning's simple operating system. Most of the important parts in an Arka-Serval are stainless steel and they are put together by craftsmen. And, there are fewer moving parts to wear out. Gas air conditioning lasts longer, lasts better.

Install Gas air conditioning now and be ready for next summer . . . and the next . . . and the next . . .

Call for a free cooling survey. There is NO OBLIGATION.
