School Trustees Hopeful

Board Election May Stand

BY BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

The Hereford School Board of Trustees are committed to proceed with a place system of voting in the scheduled April 2 election of trustees after the federal district judge sent the body a letter confirming some support for the district despite opposition from the federal government.

The letter was discussed in a closed executive session of the board Tuesday night, at which trustees considered the Wayne Woodward lawsuit, now pending with the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

Despite a Lubbock Avalanche Journal newspaper story today, no official actions were taken on the suits. The board was given confidence to continue along its already planned intention to use the place system of voting, which came under attack by the U.S. Justice Department.

The school district has a suit filed against the agency and U.S. Attorney General Griffin Bell, who used the 1965 Voting Rights Act as amended in 1975 to rule against use of the place system based on possible discrimination against so called minorities.

It was revealed this morning that a letter from Judge Halbert O. Woodward of Amarillo was received by the school board stating that a hearing on the district's voting procedure was not possible before today, which had been requested since today is the filing deadline for elections. The reason given was that his court docket schedule was too busy.

The problem facing the district is whether to use the at-large voting procedure or the place with runoff system. The place system has been used in the past few years but it does not meet with Justice Department guidelines based on possible discrimination and state law does not permit a school district to go back to previously used procedures such as the at-large method.

For the protection of the district, the judge did state that "any final decree (in the case) could be entered so as to remedy any errors in the coming election."

This is taken to mean that the place system could be used and validated by the judge. While the statement is not definitive, it no doubt makes the board feel a little more at ease with the situation.

Board vice president Clark Andrews was quoted in the A-J story as saying, "We supposed it meant for us to go ahead and have the election. The judge didn't tell us not to hold the election."

Presently, State Attorney Gen. John Hill is involved in the case as "friend of the court." He agreed with the letter's interpretation.

The Texas Association of School Boards could join in later.

One official source said the district is committed to the place system and that the election would be okayed if it is used.

A hearing is expected before Woodward before the April 2 election.

Local Men Testify On Bill

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

A band of Hereford and Walcott community representatives appeared in Austin this week to state legislators to pass a "property tax code" bill which would revamp the present system of taxation over the next five years.

James Gentry, Hereford School board liaison with the legislature, reported Tuesday that he and six others attended Senate and House hearings on the proposed bill. Its significance is that similar values on taxed property would be used throughout counties across the state in an effort to equalize payments in support of taxing entities especially school districts.

THOSE ATTENDING besides Gentry were Jim McMorries, tax appraiser and consultant, and Walcott school board members Earnest Brown, Bill Page, Gene Bradley, and Galen Jacks. Also attending the hearings was local farmer Raymond Schlabs, chairman of the Deaf Smith County agriculture committee.

McMorries was at the hearings to testify concerning his fee appraising business as it might be affected by the bill and as an expert on taxation in general.

The representatives appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee chaired by Rep. Joe Wvatt of Victoria and before the Senate Economic Development Committee chaired by Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells. The proposed Bill (HB 846 and SB 454) is presently in committees of both bodies and legislators are optimistic that it will get on the floor by the end of the current session for final action.

It is a comprehensive bill which would phase out the old system and enact the new one until its full impact is felt in 1982. Estimated savings to local governments is $4 1/2 million.

Gentry explained that the bill would essentially reclassify (reclassify) all property in the state and set up a single taxing authority in each county to appraise property and collect taxes. The bill is not to be confused with proposals to revamp the school finance system involving the Minimum Foundation Program and local fund assignment.

Of course, what ever is done to revise the property tax system would naturally affect school taxes since all schools are supported by such taxes.

THE COMMITTEES CALLED in the local representatives to testify on the method used in Hereford and Deaf Smith County. Here, the city, schools and county already cooperate on joint appraisals and tax assessing values and the legislators were interested in how this concept could be applied to the whole state. Gentry explained,

"I told them exactly what we're doing here," he said. "I told them that the people of our school district and county believe they should pay their fair share but they want everyone else to do so also."

This could be accomplished by having common appraisals which is essentially "to require the rest of the state to do what we're doing here." This would maintain equalized values especially among different areas of the state and between rural and urban areas.

Other admirable features in the bill according to Gentry are provisions to require periodic appraisals to keep values up to date, to release current sales prices of property to tax assessor-collectors on a confidential basis, and to force public entities to publicize any increases in total tax dollars collected from one year to the next.

HE SAID THE SCHOOL districts don't always tell when more taxes are taken in from larger tax bases even though rates aren't raised. "Our school board does this in our budget hearings," he said.

Even though Gentry is a board member of Texans and Equitable Taxation (TET), he said he was representing the organization and that it would probably remain neutral on the issue.

The bill is sponsored in the Senate by Grant Jones and in the House by Wayne Peveto.

TODAY WAS the deadline for candidates to file in the city and school board elections, and it appeared some good races were developing in both governmental units. We always admire anyone, with unselfish motives, who give of themselves to serve their community.

WHEN EMORY BROWNLOW filed as mayoral candidate this week, I asked him to come by The Brand so we could take his picture. Brownlow came in just before the press deadline Tuesday morning, and I called one of my reporters to the office. "Take Mr. Brownlow to the morgue and shoot him," I instructed my newsmen.

Now, Brownlow is big enough not to worry about idle threats, but he was a bit shocked with my instructions. I didn't realize how the statement sounded to a non-newspaperman until Brownlow wanted to know just what we had in mind.

In the newspaper office, the "morgue" is the room where old newspapers are filed. We also have a little space in our morgue where we take stand-up photos. And, around the newsroom we usually talk about "shooting" pictures, rather than "taking" them.

SUGARLAND MALL is marking its 11th anniversary in hustlin' Hereford with a three-day "celebration" Thursday through Saturday. The birthday party will include free cake, free balloons for the kiddies, and a boat show. A full-length movie for the kids will also be shown Saturday beginning at 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Look for details and special sale items in The Brand!

HATS OFF, again, to the Hereford Whiteface basketball team. The hustlin' Herd fought Pampa down to the final whistle before losing a close bi-district contest in Canyon Tuesday night. For a team that was picked to finish last in the district race, the Whitefaces have recorded a very successful season. This crew claims the distinction of winning the first 4A cage title for Hereford High.

Walden Files For School Board; Deadline Passes

Bill Walden, 46-year-old farmer and businessman, filed as a candidate for the Hereford School Board this morning amid rumors that more city school candidates might announce before the day is over.

Today is the deadline for filing in the city and school elections, and Walden was the only new candidate to announce before press time at noon. Walden entered the Place 7 race for the school board, where Mrs. Trini Gamez and David Pruitt have already filed.

At presstime, the other two places up for election on the school board had one candidate filed for each position. Incumbent David Hutchins had filed for Place 4, and Mack Tubb had filed for Place 6.

Four candidates had announced Monday. They were Bartley Dowell and Emory Brownlow in the city mayor's race; Earl Brookhart for Place 2 on the city commission, and Isaias Gamez for reelection to the Deaf Smith County Hospital District Board. Those who wish to seek election on the hospital board have until March 8 to turn in a petition containing 50 more names.

All three elections are scheduled for April 2. Absentee voting will begin March 14.

Walden, a native of Olton, has lived in Hereford 11 years. A graduate of Texas Tech University with a degree in agronomy, he is a farmer and co-owner of Triangle Pork Producers. He and his wife, Norma have four children - Mrs. Roger Owen of Hereford, Renee - a dental assistant at Amarillo; Karen, a student at Tech; and Cory, a junior at Hereford High.

Walden serves on the official board of the First United Methodist Church, is a director and past president of the Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau, serves on the Community Development Board of the extension service, is presently serving on the coordinating board of the High Plains Research Foundation, and is on the Deaf Smith Soil & Water Conservation district board.

The election listings, as of this morning, were:

CITY: Mayor - Dowell and Brownlow; Place 1 - Paul Abalos and John Matthews; Place 2 - Brookhart.

SCHOOL: Place 4 - David Hutchins; Place 6 - Mack Tubb; Place 7 - Mrs. Gamez, Pruitt, Walden.

HOSPITAL: Dr. Gerald Payne, Hap Cavness, Ed Reinauer Jr., Isaias Gamez. (Three to be elected at large).

Navy Relents On Women

WASHINGTON (AP) - They're usually forgotten shortly after they leave town, but the nation's governors are convinced it will be different this time, now that President Carter and the leaders of Congress have assured them a hearing in advance of federal decisions that affect their states.

That has been said before, but it seldom has happened. It is the chronic complaint of the National Governors Conference. "I saw a desire to do it under the previous administrations, but I think the commitment in the new administration is much greater," said Gov. Askew.

Prayer Helps ERA Opponents

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) - A woman's prayer chain claims its efforts persuaded the Lord to tip the balance against the Equal Rights Amendment, which the North Carolina Senate defeated 26-24.

They say their prayers worked better than did personal telephone calls on behalf of the ERA from President Carter and First Lady Rosalynn Carter to wavering state senators.

"Our prayer chain did it," said Norma Swanson of Raleigh after the vote Tuesday. "We had women praying all night and all day, women from all walks of life.

Governors Feel 'Heard'

WASHINGTON (AP) - Faced with a court suit, the Navy is moving to give women wider opportunities for sea duty.

The Navy is circulating word that it has prepared legislation to change current laws that prohibit assignment of women to vessels other than hospital ships and transports.

Navy women have been beached since 1975 when the last hospital ship, the Sanctuary, was retired.

A message from headquarters to fleet and shore stations said: "The proposed change... will permit the Secretary of the Navy to prescribe a greater duty."

Tax Cut Helpful Now; Social Security Costly

By JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Virtually every American is almost certain to get a tax cut this year. But there's a good chance that by next January you'll pay higher payroll taxes to finance Social Security, and the burden may fall more heavily on the poor.

This year's reduction, still being considered by Congress, would mean lower federal income taxes for all but the wealthiest families.

But while there is general agreement in Congress on the need to cut income taxes to stimulate the economy, there is growing concern the Social Security system will go bankrupt unless it is able to keep collecting more taxes than it pays out in benefits.

Although President Carter has not yet offered his own recommendations, the Senate Finance Committee took a first step Tuesday that could mean a hike in the Social Security tax and higher benefits for retirees.

The panel, writing a report on its fiscal 1978 spending and tax plans, agree the budget should recognize the possibility of the tax increase and likelihood of a $500 million boost in benefits.

While that tentative decision is not binding, it does indicate strong support in the tax-writing committee for the tax hike.

On the good news side, the panel endorsed phasing out the "earnings test," which costs a recipient $1 in benefits for each $2 of income above $3,000 a year. The panel recommended $500 million to finance a start in the phase-out and other benefit increases.

The panel estimated the already scheduled July 1 cost-of-living increase in Social Security benefits will be 5.5 percent.

President Ford asked Congress in 1976 to raise Social Security taxes. The idea was rejected on both sides of Capitol Hill as unwise in an election year. But there was a general recognition that Social Security taxes would have to be raised soon or regular tax revenues would have

Hawaiian Motif Used At Banquet

State-Line [Special] "Hawaii" was the theme for a youth Sweetheart banquet held Friday in the Rosedale Baptist Church Fellowship Hall where approximately 30 youth and guests were in attendance.

The walls of the hall were decorated with fish-net draped in scallops with sea-shells and octopi amid the scallops. On a ledge was a legendary sea creature, a mermaid, surrounded by sea fish net.

The U-shaped table was laid with green lace with matching napkins. The centerpiece was a floral arrangement of pink hibiscus, orchids and surrounded by fruit consisting of bananas, pineapple and oranges. Along the tables were red votive candles and fruit boats (fresh pineapple split and filled with fruit balls of tangerines, grapes, pineapple and water-melon). Located near the serving area, large paper-mache' roast pig with an apple in his mouth, completed the room's decorations.

The meal was prepared by church members and served by personnel of teachers. A Hawaiian menu of Wikike -- (Fruit Salad); Amai Balla -- (Sweet and Sour Meat Balls); Koale Palao (Baked sweet potatoes); Po Po (Baked beans with pineapple); Kavai- (Hot rolls); Haupia - (Coconut Pudding); Kine or Kona - (Tea or coffee).

The invocation was given by Billie Joe Potts; Randy Carter was guest speaker. He is a sophomore student from Texas Tech University in Lubbock. He is majoring in Electrical Engineering and made a tour with "Up With People Group" in 1974-75.

Mrs. Paul Harrison led the group in singing "Farewell To Thee" with Mrs. Kenneth Osborn accompanied at the piano and benediction given by Ruth Ridley.

Special guests included Wanda Carter of Pampa, mother of the guest speaker, Randy Carter.

The book was compiled by each girl bringing in a recipe for a meat, salad, vegetable and dessert that she has cooked. A dark blue cover with the Camp Fire insignia, flame and crossed logs at the top and Cook Book spelled out in yellow letters at the bottom were glued by each member.

Mrs. Nicks Fariss, secretary at Temple Baptist Church, typed the recipes and was given a mum bud vase as a "Thank You" for a job well done.

The members brought covered dishes of vegetables, salads and desserts to complement the meal. Seventeen members and four guests, Jody Tillman, Minnie Mitchell and June Tunnell of Clovis and Gladys Ramberg of Drummond, Montana, enjoyed the dinner.

Following the meal, Mrs. Ralph Northcutt, president conducted the business meeting. Members answered roll call by relating an "Energy Saving Tip".

4-H Firsthand

By CARLA WEST
Overweight or obesity is one of the most pressing health problems today. A person who is 20 per cent over his desirable weight is obese. Between 15 and 40 per cent of the adult population is obese. Many people accept a gradual weight gain, thus ignoring the health risks associated with overweight.

Obesity causes complications such as increased risk of illness and death. The condition may contribute to high blood pressure, stroke, heart disease, kidney disease, gall stones, cirrhosis of the liver, and diabetes.

There are many reasons why people are overweight. People may not realize that they are overeating. They form an eating pattern when they are young and active. Out of habit, food intake remains the same and energy use decreases, thus resulting in weight gain.

Inactivity or incorrect balance of calories consumed and energy expended can cause overweight. Sedentary exercises done while sitting require little or no arm movement resulting in only burning 80 to 100 calories per hour; light activities while standing requiring arm movements burn 110 to 160 calories per hour; moderate activities while standing with vigorous arm movement burn 170 to 200 calories per hour; and strenuous activities such as active sports burn 350 or more calories.

Boredom causes people to overeat. Many people eat when they are lonely so they will feel better. Taking a part in activities, career, hobbies or sports can prevent boredom.

Heredity may make some people overweight. However, research on identical twins reared in different environments show that life styles have more effect on weight gain than do inherited tendencies. Few people are overweight due to glandular trouble.

Obesity in the United States is believed to be a result of cultural change caused by economic influences. There is an abundance of food, and an increase in consumption of sugar-containing pastries and cookies. Labor saving devices on the market result in less energy expenditure for a task than in past years.

People often decide to reduce for various reasons. Appearance is the most common reason people decide to reduce. They may look at the scale, look in the mirror, and/or pinch more than a one inch thickness of fat just above the waist between the thumb and forefinger. Health is the second common reason to reduce. It may be because a person has some degenerative disease which goes along with excess weight. Excess weight may over-exert the heart. Reaching a goal is the third reason people may decide to reduce. Whatever goal, you will have to give up extra foods to lose weight.

There are almost as many approaches to treatment of overweight as there are causes. The most commonly used method is diet. The degree of success in treating obesity is fairly low. Some people experience frequent loss and gain of large amounts of weight. Many physicians believed this is more harmful than constant obesity. Continue to select nutritious yet low calorie foods once you have lost unwanted pounds.

Visit your doctor before you start your reducing plan. He can determine how much weight you should lose. Rapid weight loss is not desirable. The recommended amount of weight loss each week should not be more than two pounds.

A reduction diet can be nutritionally adequate even at 1,200 calories a day. On a diet lower than 1,200 calories it is difficult to get enough vitamins and minerals. Only a doctor would know which dietary supplements were necessary for the more severely restricted diets, and these should be followed only under doctor's supervision.

It takes 3,500 extra calories to produce a pound of fat. For each pound of weight gained or lost there must be 3,500 calories more or less than the body uses. If a person wants to lose two pounds a week he/she should eat 7,000 calories less each week than the body uses or 1,000 calories less each day to lose 2 pounds.

Keep track of everything you eat for several days. Each meal is important. Skipping meals to cut calories leads to unplanned snacking. Unplanned snacking thus leads to eating more food.

A balanced weight reduction diet will encourage a wide selection of foods and maintain a satisfactory balance between all nutrients--protein, fats, carbohydrates, vitamins, and minerals--even though some nutrients may be at a reduced level. The sensible weight plan will be lacking only in calories.

Select lower calorie foods from each of the basic food groups daily--milk, meat, fruit, and vegetables, bread and cereal groups. The diet will be about 1,200 calories. Dieters, should read the nutrition information on processed foods to help them know the number of calories in foods and to make wise selection based on nutrient value as well as calories.

Remember you are the only one who can decide if being overweight is more important than your health and appearance.

ARTIFICIAL REEFS AID MARINE LIFE STUDIES
WASHINGTON (AP) -- When American bombers sank the Fujikawa Maru in the Truk lagoon 32 years ago, no one thought they were doing marine biologists a favor. But today the Fujikawa Maru and other sunken Japanese transports, warships and supply craft form the world's largest collection of artificial reefs, and one whose age is precisely known, says National Geographic.

Pampa Ends Herd Dream

Two Points

NFL War Finally Ends

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) - With none of the pomp and all of the circumstance of Grant and Lee putting down their guns and taking up the quill at Appomattox, Ed Garvey and Sargent Karch officially brought peace to the world of pro football. Tuesday's was a simple ceremony at the offices of the National Football League's Management Council, the haven of the owners, 33 stories above Madison Avenue. Karch, the executive director of the Management Council, sat next to Garvey, his counterpart with the Players Association. Alongside Garvey was Len Hauss, a center for the Washington Redskins and a vice president of the association. And out in the hallway stood

Pete Rozelle, the commissioner of the kingdom, beaming will spend the next five years bludgeoning each other in ballparks instead of battering the owners in courtrooms. "This is there show," Rozelle said, nodding toward Karch, Garvey & Co. And perhaps the most powerful man in professional sports -- save for the players' agents and union chiefs -- remained on the sidelines this time. Finally, at 3 p.m., EST, in they strode. They took their places at the head of the oblong table. Cameras began cranking. Tape recorders began whirring. Gavey and Karch took out pens to put their initials to the documents which would end more than three years of labor strife and place the emphasis back on training camps instead of restraining orders, on audibles instead of hearings, on uniforms instead of suits. Then Garvey paused, his hand and pen suspended briefly in mid-air, as though some insignificant detail might yet destroy the compatibility. "Shouldn't I have something to sign? Gimme a piece of paper, somebody," Garvey proclaimed. As the snicker subsided, a copy of the contract, a stack of papers which will ultimately cost the 28 club owners something like $107 million, was slipped onto the table and the chiefs of the two warring nations put their marks on it. There are a couple of formalities remaining. On Friday in a federal court in Minneapolis, Judge Earl Larson will review the voluminous document just to make sure everything is legitimate. Then, next Monday, the rank and file of the union, about 60 per cent of the league's 1,200-plus players, will vote on it. Their rejecting it is not only unlikely, it's unthinkable.

Eight Southwest Conference baseball teams played non-conference baseball doubleheaders Tuesday, posting a combined 10-6 record. Texas swept Pan American 4-1 and 13-8. Arkansas crushed Northeast Oklahoma 2-0 and 11-0. Texas Christian beat Texas Wesleyan 10-6 and Texas Arlington 14-3 in the Tarrant County tournament. St. Edwards beat Rice 4-2 and lost 5-4. Southern Methodist beat Oral Roberts 6-5 and lost 8-1. Texas Tech lost to Hardin Simmons 9-3 and won 11-5. Baylor shut out Sam Houston 4-0 and lost 10-7 and Lamar swept a doubleheader from Houston, 7-4 and 10-5. Texas A&M was the only SWC team not in action.

with Kuhn's decision to call a hearing over the matter, charging Kuhn "evidences a flagrant intent to interfere with the private rights of the Oakland club." HOUSTON (AP) - Gordie Howe has learned of to take the milestones of his career in stride. When he scored his 700th goal, his father was informed of the feat and he replied "What took him so long?" "When I scored my 800th I tried to leap up in the air and I came down right on my backside," Gordie laughed. So Tuesday night, when Gordie scored his 900th career goal to extend his legend, he merely skated about accepting congratulations from his Houston Aeros teammates, who went on to blast the Phoenix Roadrunners 8-3 in a World Hockey Association game.

DALLAS (AP) - Baseball law according to Commissioner Bowie Kuhn judges today whether Oakland owner Charles Finley should be allowed to sell lefthanded reliever Paul Lindblad to the Texas Rangers for $400,000. Kuhn was to decide whether the Lindblad sale is part of an Oakland plan to liquidate the club and whether the sale is in the best interests of baseball. Finley heatedly takes issue

BY BOB NIGH Brand Sports Editor The heavily favored Pampa Harvesters used a lot of muscle and a hot hand from the outside to end the Cinderella season of the Hereford Whitefaces 60-54 before 3,350 fans in the West Texas Fieldhouse in Canyon Tuesday night. The bi-district championship sends the Harvesters into a regional contest against Fort Worth Dunbar, a 97-71 winner over Arlington Tuesday evening. Pampa is now 25-5 on the year, while the 'Faces close out the season at 22-12. The Harvesters used their strength on the backboards early to get two and three shots at the bucket, but it was an awesome display of outside shooting by guards Brian Bailey and Rayford Young late in the game that made the difference. The first half was sluggish as both teams showed a little nervousness. The Herd raced to a 5-0 lead early on a 15-footer and a three-point play by senior James Mays, but the Harvesters came back with eight straight points to take the lead. Pampa led 12-10 at the quarter, and only 20-19 at intermission. The Harvesters opened up what was to become their largest margin of the night in that second period as they moved ahead 18-11 behind a pair of buckets by Young and another by 6-5 postman Ricky Bunton. The Whitefaces outscored Pampa 8-2 the rest of the period, however, to trail by only one point as the half ended. Each team got untracked in the third stanza, scoring 23 points, and the 'Faces got the lead for the last time as the half began. Kenneth Mercer followed a Jim Lawson miss for a layup to put the Herd ahead 21-20 with 7:45 left, but a Don Hughes layup erased the lead 16 seconds later. Pampa opened up a six point bulge mid-way through the third period at 37-31, but again the Whitefaces rallied to trail by only one as the period ended. Junior Kelly Kitchens finally found the range for his initial basket of the night with 3:40 remaining to make it 37-33, and he added a bucket from the free throw line 20 ticks later to make it a two-point affair. Young hit three long-range bombers the rest of the period to of offset one by Mercer and five more points by Kitchens as the Harvesters took a 43-42 lead heading into the final eight minutes. The stubborn Herd fought the Harvesters on even terms early in the final stanza, seeing the score tied on three occasions (at 47, 49, and 51), but turnovers stymied their comeback hopes. Reserve guard Tim Reddell nailed the win down with but 30 seconds left after Mike O'Rand was called for charging, a call which drew a loud vocal response from the Herd contingent. With the Herd trailing 57-54 Kitchens stole a Pampa pass, and passed to Lawson, who fed O'Rand on a break. The speedy senior confronted Reddell at the bucket and both went down in a heap. Reddell hit both ends of a one-and-one to make it 59-54, and Lawson missed the final Herd attempt from the corner with 17 seconds left. Reddell added the final point with seven ticks left after Mercer forcefully blocked his layup attempt. "I thought we gave a good effort, but it was the turnovers that hurt us," Hereford mentor Barry Arwine said after the game. "We can't turn the ball over that much and win... I was very disappointed in the way we handled the ball." Mays emerged the top scorer in the contest with 20 points, while Kitchens added 15 to the Herd total, and Mercer had 11. Young led Pampa with 18 points, while Bailey added 13, most of which came on long-range shots late in the contest. Surprisingly the Whitefaces held a one rebound edge over the much taller Harvesters with Mercer tying Bunton for game honors with 11 caroms. Mays backed up Mercer with eight rebounds. Hereford closes out the year with a district championship, the first in 17 years and first ever in 4A play after being tabbed to finish last in District 4-4A. "This town got excited about this team, and I just hope they can continue to stay excited about basketball," Arwine concluded. Hereford 10 9 23 12-54 Pampa 12 8 23 17-60 Hereford-Mays, 7-6-20; Kitchens, 5-5-15; Mercer, 5-1-11; Lawson, 2-2-6; O'Rand, 1-0-2. Totals--20-14-54. Pampa-Young, 9-0-18; Bailey, 6-1-13; Bunton, 4-1-9; Ward, 3-1-7; Reddell, 2-3-7; Hughes, 2-2-6. Totals--26-8-60.

Herd Baseballers Romp By Bulldogs

Junior Chris Hill pitched four innings of no-hit baseball before finally allowing the Borger Bulldogs a pair of runs as the Hereford Whiteface baseballers opened the season with an 8-2 win Tuesday at home. Hill baffled the visitors in the early going, and after struggling some in the fifth frame, came on strong to register six strikeouts in a row over the last two innings. Hill wound up with 14 strikeouts over the seven innings, while walking just two and allowing only two hits. Centerfielder Donald Johnson led the Herd attack, meanwhile, picking up a triple and a double in three trips to the plate enroute to a two-RBI performance. Johnson broke the ice in the second inning with a triple after Kent Herring had opened the frame with a single. Herring scored early on Johnson's long blast to left center. Johnson hesitated coming around third, and scored when the Borger cutoff man made a late throw to the plate. Hereford got two additional runs to make it 4-0 in the third. Catcher Mitch Guinn drew a base on balls, moved around on a Borger error, and scored on another error. Johnson added a second run in the inning as a result of those same Bulldog miscues. The 'Faces added a sole run in the fourth, another pair in the fifth, and a final tally in the sixth to win going away. Borger's two runs came on a single by Wesley Fick in the fifth and a double by Randy Flemming. Hill finished the day with a pair of safeties, while Paul Garcia, Herring, John Wagner, and Mitchell George all collected one hit apiece for the Herd. The baseballers will play in a four-team tournament at Pampa Pampa this Friday, with the next solo contest at Caprock March 10. Akers Releases Jones To Track

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas Coach Freddie Akers has seen enough of Johnny "Goldmedal" Jones in the first day of spring football drills to know Jones needs no contact work. "I saw everything I needed to see," Akers told track coach Cleburne Price. "He has great speed, great hands and great movements, and I don't want to get him hurt." Jones will play flanker in the Veer formation Akers is using to replace the Texas Wishbone. He will run counters away from the original flow and inside reverses as well as pass routes. Akers released Jones fulltime for track. Price said he gave Akers his sincere thanks. The Olympic gold medal winner in the 400-meter relay tied the 10-year-old collegiate mark for the 100-yard dash last Saturday, but nobody knew it at the time because of the new emphasis on full electronic timing. He clocked 9.21, the same electronic time registered by Nebraska's Charles Greene in the 1967 NCAA meet at Provo, Utah. A notorious slow starter, Jones got an "excellent" start Saturday, Price said.

Ann Landers "No More Smoking"

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My father-in-law is 77 years old. He lives in a home for the aged. Almost every weekend my husband and I pick him up and bring him to our apartment to spend Friday and Saturday night.

He has burned holes in his pajamas, the bedsheets, quilts and the mattress. One night he fell asleep on the couch and burned a huge hole in the carpet when he had dropped the cigaret.

My husband says we can't tell Papa not to smoke in our apartment because it might make him feel unwelcome. He also claims it wouldn't do any good because the old man gets mean as a rattlesnake when he crossed and does as he pleases.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I gave my daughter a lovely wristwatch for Christmas. When I went to see her yesterday I noticed she was wearing the old one. I asked "What happened to the watch I gave you?" She replied, "My mother-in-law has it."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I gave my daughter a lovely wristwatch for Christmas. When I went to see her yesterday I noticed she was wearing the old one. I asked "What happened to the watch I gave you?" She replied, "My mother-in-law has it."

DEAR ANN: This letter is being written by three dudes (one junior, two seniors) who go to Long Island high school. Please answer the following questions: Why do so many chicks:

1. Fool around with their hair, making artificial streaks in front, or change the color completely?
2. Let their fingernails grow so long they look like claws and then paint them silver or blood red?
3. Soak themselves with perfume that almost knocks you dead when they walk by?

4. Wear so much eye makeup they look like Halloween spoooks?

5. Cripple themselves in five-inch, clompy-looking shoes? You wonder why they don't fall on their faces every third step.

What are these girls trying to prove anyway?—Just Askin'

DEAR ANN: They are trying to prove they are grown-up-poor things. Thanks for writing. A letter from you will mean a lot more than "advice" from Granny Annie.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I gave my daughter a lovely wristwatch for Christmas. When I went to see her yesterday I noticed she was wearing the old one. I asked "What happened to the watch I gave you?" She replied, "My mother-in-law has it."

I felt as if I had been slapped in the face.

When my son-in-law came home I asked him how come his mother had the watch I had given to his wife. He shot back, "Because I gave it to her." I said, "I didn't give the watch to YOU, I gave it to your wife." He replied, "When you give something away, it's not yours any more." Is he right?—Boiling Point

DEAR B.P.: The question is, who gave the watch away? If your daughter did, remember not to buy her any more lovely gifts. If it was your son-in-law, and he did it without his wife's permission, you have a right to be annoyed—and I feel sorry for her.

Low Thermostat Could Be Wasteful

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—When it's 25 degrees outside, it's 75 degrees inside—no heater needed.

"If we followed President Carter's request for a 65-degree reading we would use more energy because we would have to kick on the air conditioning system," said Julian Darden, one of the designers of the energy-efficient building at the Exxon Chemical Co. here.

The four-story, brick and concrete-block structure was a produce of the 1973 energy crunch—designed to stop wasting gas and electricity.

To passers-by, it looks about like any other building, except for the lack of windows. But inside 300 employees work in shirtsleeves, warmed by a combination of body heat and an ordinary fluorescent lighting.

The secret is insulation and lack of glass. It's a technique used supplementally in many office buildings around the country these days, but the Exxon building is one of the first specially designed to get most of its heat from people and lights.

Darden, a project engineer for Exxon, said the building is constructed of conventional materials at a cost no higher than an ordinary building with windows.

The only windows in the Exxon building are two tall, narrow, four-story openings, near coffee urns and soft drink machines.

"We have them mostly for psychological reasons," said Darden. "Employees like to see a few birds now and then."

The lights are directly over desks, so there is no waste in illuminating dark corridors and corners.

"We do have a standby heating system in case the temperature falls below 20 degrees outside," Darden said.

Activities Listed By Cake Club

The Fine Arts Festival on March 26-27 and a Mother's Day bake sale were discussed by members of Sweet 'n' Fancy Decorating Club Friday morning at the Community Center.

It was announced that the next meeting will be held at King's Manor Retirement Home, where members will decorate sugar eggs for Manor residents.

Greeted as a guest was Mrs. Don Davison.

Martha Lytal demonstrated a "kopycake" during the program segment.

Others in attendance were Mmes. Leonel Gonzales, John Advent, Jay Croffon, Lynn Pittard, John Hickman, Mark Koenig, Keith Battey, Lytal, Carl Kleuskins, Dale Henson and Jimmy Holmes.

Messenger HD Members Met Friday

State-Line (Special) Mrs. Bobby Hammock was hostess to members of the Messenger Home Demonstration Club Friday afternoon in the Garcia Club building from 2-4:30 p.m.

Mrs. Bob Moelieus, president conducted the short business meeting. Sherry Harder, assistant HD agent was in charge of the afternoon program "Tying Scarfs," which is fashionable for spring wear. Mrs. Harder gave an illustrated demonstration and tied 15 different types of wearing neck scarfs.

The hostess served dessert refreshments of cream puffs, cheese cake and pink lemonade. Members included Wanda Page, Mrs. Moelieus, Sammy Watson, Pam Northcutt and Sheri Bradley.

Mrs. Abney Honored At BSP Coffee

A farewell coffee was given for Karen Abney Saturday morning in the home of Donna Jones, 205 Centre, by her Beta Sigma Phi Sorority sisters in Kappa Iota Chapter.

Mrs. Abney will soon be moving to New Mexico with her family. She was presented a gold bracelet engraved with "Beta Sigma Phi" as a memento of her residency in Hereford.

Cinnamon rolls, coffee and spiced tea were served to those present, including Suzanne Howell, Judy Stoy, Judy Wall, Marsha Jones, Kathy Johnson, Lynn Carter, Kathy Paetzold, Delores Jones, Linda Brisendine, Linda Thorell, Sharon Grover and Pam Stephens.

The cost of advertising increased by more than 11 per cent last year, following 8.5 per cent growth in 1976. Rising fastest were spot and network TV ads, which were up by 20.1 and 15 per cent respectively. The Conference Board observes.

The fifth largest planet in the Solar System, the earth has a mass of 6 sextillion, 588 quintillion short tons.

The public is invited to attend "Off The Track," an all-school play to be performed Thursday evening by students at La Plata Junior High School. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m.

Directed by Bill Devers, Bonna Reed and Cindy Rogers, the play will be staged in the school's cafeteria. Admission will cost $1 per adult and $.50 for students.

County Road Work In State Program

Work in Deaf Smith County is included in the 1977 Highway Safety and Betterment and Farm-to-Market Road Improvement Program approved recently by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

District Engineer A.L. McKee of Amarillo said the work includes a seal coat application on Farm to Market Road 1259 from the end of the curb and gutter in Hereford east, south and east 12.3 miles to the end of the pavement.

Statewide, the 1977 program provides for the improvement of some 4,665 miles of highways at an estimated construction cost of slightly more than $40 million.

Similar programs were deferred for about a year in 1975 and 1976 as a result of the financial crisis of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

However, since such programs included rehabilitation of old and obsolete highways, safety measures, and provisions for increased traffic capacity, they could not be long deferred. Programs such as this are necessary to prevent deterioration of the highway system and a resulting decline in mobility.

WE LOVE THE "Golden Fleece of the Month" awards announced by U.S. Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis). His latest was given to the Department of Agriculture for spending $45,000 to determine how long it takes to cook breakfast.

USDA experts calculated just how long it takes to break eggs and make French toast. I'm sure you'll be glad to find out that it takes longer to make hash than French toast.

"The USDA did more than lay an egg on this one," Proxmire says. "It also spent the taxpayers' money to figure out how many minutes it takes to cook it." Sen. Proxmire is also the one who learned that one branch of the service spent thousands in studying the Frisbee; another had spent a bunch studying the body odor of a tribe of natives, and other such jewels.

By Oct. 1, Finance Committee specialists say, Social Security will have only enough funds for five months. By 1982, unless taxes are raised, the system's assets will be able to finance only 45 days of benefits.

The Finance Committee plan would mean a hike of less than $1 per week if raised by increasing the tax rate and applying it to a higher wage base.

Dirty 30's Remembered

By The Associated Press

The massive dust storm which hit Oklahoma Wednesday may have seemed terrible to many, but to some who lived through the Dust Bowl period of the 1930s, it was "a drop in the bucket."

"We were like little ants under a huge ocean wave," said Jess Speers, a retired teacher living in Norman, Okla., of a 1933 dust storm he remembers.

He was 12 and living in western Oklahoma when the "black, smoky-looking cloud in the northwest" rolled toward earnings a maximum of $965 a year into Social Security; the sum is matched by the employer. If Congress uses that formula for a tax increase, workers at all income levels would share the burden.

But the Social Security tax is regarded as highly regressive, since it takes a larger proportion of a $5,000-a-year worker's pay than of one earning $20,000. A move is expected to raise taxes by keeping the rate at 5.85 per cent but raising the $16,500 lid.

That would mean no tax hike for those earning $16,500 or less but higher taxes for those making more.

Daylight Savings Time Comes In April; Congress May Change It

WASHINGTON (AP)—Daylight Saving Time doesn't start until late April this year, but Congress is already trying to fiddle around with it again.

Six bills have been introduced in the House to alter the current system of six months of Daylight Savings Time. One would make it a permanent, year-round fixture, another would cut it to three months.

Benjamin Franklin is credited with first proposing Daylight Savings Time 190 years ago to save candles. It first started in this century to save energy during wartime.

Daylight time starts on April 24 and runs until Oct. 30 this year. The extra hour of daylight in the evening—stolen from the early morning hours—has made Daylight Saving Time popular with many, but not with farmers who must wait an extra hour to begin their chores.

One bill being offered to Congress this year would start Daylight Saving Time on the last Sunday in February and extend it to the first Sunday after the first Monday in November. Its sponsor, Rep. Gerry E. Studds, D-Mass., says it would make Halloween, Oct. 31, safer for children trick or treating.

An aide to Studds pointed out it also would retain daylight time past election day—the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November—and might encourage people to vote in the evening.

In 1973, because of the Arab oil embargo, emergency legislation put daylight saving on a year-round basis to save energy. The system lasted through the last Sunday in October 1974.

Efforts to shorten or abolish daylight time are made periodically.

Rep. John J. Flynt Jr., D-Ga., wants to reduce daylight time to less than 5 months—from the last Sunday of April through Labor Day, the first Monday in September.

Rep. Keith C. Sebelius, R-Kan., proposes to have Daylight Saving Time start on Memorial Day and end on Labor Day, a three-month period.

Rep. Carlos Moorhead, R-Calif., wants eight months of daylight time, from the last Sunday in February to the last Sunday in October.

Two Democrats, Reps. Jerry M. Patterson and Mark W. Hannaford, want to make daylight saving permanent. They are from southern California, where the extra daylight would benefit the recreation industry.

All six bills have been sent to the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, but no hearings have been held yet. No daylight saving bills are pending in the Senate.

Lions Set Zone Meeting, Plan 'White Cane Days'

March is "Eye Bank Month" in the Panhandle—a program sponsored by Lions Club in the area, and local clubs will be holding a special zone meeting Thursday night and conducting the annual "White Cane Days" here Friday and Saturday.

The zone meeting will be a ladies' night affair beginning at 7 p.m. Thursday in Civic Club Center. Clubs in the zone are the Hereford Noon and Evening clubs, Easter, Dawn and Simms clubs. Joyce Raymond, recipient of a corneal transplant, will be featured speaker at the event.

During the White Cane Days, club sweethearts will be at the banks Friday to pin miniature white canes on contributors and to sign up eye bank donors. Lions club members will man the tables Saturday at Sugarland Mall, downtown and on Park Avenue.

Joe Don Cummings of Hereford Evening Club is currently serving as president of the Hi-Plains Eye Bank, which is located in Amarillo. Jame Dobbs of the Easter Club is serving on the board of directors. They eye bank was formed to collect human eyes and to distribute them to hospitals where a cornea is needed for grafting or transplantation. Eye banks furnish eyes free to patients and hospitals; they are never bought or sold.

By signing a donor card, a person authorizes the use of his eyes after death. Eyes cannot be designated for a specific person. Eyes should not be willed, as they must be removed shortly after death. Any eye from any age person can be used—even those who have had a cataract while living.

Club sweethearts who will participate in the White Cane Days include Karen Fox, Hereford; Stacy Lea, Hereford Evening; Lynette Andrews, Easter; Rhonda Hagar, Dawn; and Brenda Duggan Simms.

Police Report Light

Criminal activity in the area was at a virtual standstill Tuesday evening, with the local Sheriff's department reporting no activity and the police blotter having but one report.

C.W. James of 118 Bradley reported to the Hereford Police Department that three sets of antennas were taken from three different trucks parked alongside his house sometime during the night.

The fourth day of the week is named Wednesday or "Woden's Day" in honor of the ancient Norse god, Woden (Odin).

He Who Gives Eyes, Never Really Dies

The eye was a deep, clear blue. For 25 years it had been a window to life for a young man. He had died a few hours earlier, but he had willed that his vision would continue to live. Within the next half hour a skilled team of surgeons would transfer the cornea from his eye to the now sightless eye of the woman on the operating table, and Mrs. Joyce Raymond would be able to see her two children grow to manhood and womanhood.

She will never know to whom she owes her sight, or how he died or anything about him. All she will know is that once again she will be able to see her family clearly rather than just as a blur—because some young man believed in the slogan: "He who gives his eyes—never really dies."

Ten years ago the odds against success in an operation such as Mrs. Raymond's were four to one. Today this has been reversed—90 per cent of such operations are successful. Corneal disease is the greatest cause of blindness throughout the world today, the millions of people are blind because of it. Many of these can't be helped by transplant, but about 3,000 transplant operations are performed each year in the United States—limited, of course, by a number of eyes available for transplant.

In 1961 the Hi-Plains Eye Bank was chartered by the seven Lions Clubs of Amarillo. In 1962 the District 2-TI Lions Club of the Panhandle adopted the Eye Bank as a project. It is a non-profit, public service organization to have human sight. Its purpose is to act as a clearing house between the person donating his eyes after death and the individual ophthalmologist who will perform the sight-saving operation.

The Hi-Plains Eye Bank is a member of the Eye Bank Association of America of which there are 58 members in the U.S., sponsored by various organizations. The budget of the Hi-Plains Eye Bank is approximately $8,000 raised mainly by $2 per year per member of the more than 3,000 Lions in the Panhandle. Donations and memorials account for the balance.

More than 4,000 eyes have been shipped across the U.S. for emergency use from one eye bank to another in the past seven years. There are no charges for the eye bank's services—the removal and delivery of the eyes is a free service, and there is no charge to the recipient for the eye. The patient receiving the transplant pays only his surgeon's and hospital's fees. Eyes cannot be bought or sold anywhere in the U.S.

Six people can be helped by one pair of eyes. The cornea, sclera and the vitreous fluid in the back of the eye are all useful. Eyes are removed as soon as possible after death (no longer than 6 hours). The quality of vision makes no difference and all ages over three years of age are acceptable. A donor may or may not wear glasses even a blind person's eyes may be used.

Not all types of blindness can be cured by corneal transplant. Only those suffering from corneal defects, scleral rupture and vitreous deficiencies can be cured by transplant at this time, but there are extensive studies being done to try to be able to use other parts of the eye to aid other types of blindness.

There are presently over 8,000 pledged donors in the Panhandle. There should be many, many more. Over 320 people in this area have received transplants. Last year the bank received 42 eyes, 30 of which were used for cornea transplants. Six of these eyes were used for research and six were furnished for other banks.

and dedicated service. Working with a ham radio network of from two to four operators for each bank (who donate their time and efforts), news of available eyes or need for eyes for an emergency are broadcast throughout the U.S.

Where eyes are available on one location, and an emergency need for them in another community exists, they are rushed via air flight, state highway patrol and other available methods to the place where they are needed. If no emergency exists, they are used at the local eye bank, being given to the person who has been waiting the longest for them.

The Lions ask your support in signing donor cards so that in the case of your death, your eyes might be used to help some one else enjoy the miracle of sight, which we so often take for granted until it is lost to us. IT COULD BE YOU WHO SOMETIMES WOULD NEED THIS HELP!!

The United States consumed 6.1 billion barrels of oil in 1974, according to the Federal Energy Administration.
