Historic Jim Hill Hotel Scheduled To Be Razed

BY BOB NIGH
Brand Staff Writer

Hereford will be losing a piece of its history this fall when the old Jim Hill Hotel building will be torn down to make way for that standard of progress... a parking lot.

The First National Company, which owns the building, has decided to tear the building down to make room for a 150x150 parking lot for the First National Bank.

Bank president Jim Sears mailed out letters to the eight businesses or entities who currently occupy the building this week informing them of the decision. The move will also affect two local service clubs, the Lions and Kiwanis Clubs.

"It's just too well built," Sears said Wednesday afternoon. "There's no way to remodel it with load-bearing columns every 16 feet." Sears went on to explain that the columns made converting the building into an office type structure virtually impossible.

Added to the problem in the remodeling according to Sears are "worlds of steel and poured concrete."

Demolition of the building is expected to begin the latter part of October of this year, with the Vernon Nickerson Company of Amarillo to do the job.

"He (Nickerson) will get all the salvage as per our agreement," Sears said in answer to the possibility of a auction sale of any usable fixtures within the structure.

Businesses which will be forced to move elsewhere due to the leveling of the building include Easley Order Buyers, the Clifton Cattle Company, the Herb Vogel Company, the L.L. Kendall Cattle Company, Bill Gentry Office, and the Bruce Miller Law Firm.

Also the Hereford Independent School District Tax Office and the local Red Cross office will have to be relocated.

The Jim Hill Hotel had its grand opening in Hereford on February 24, 1950. The $400,000 structure, containing 60 rooms originally, was named for Hereford pioneer Jim Hill, who saw the hotel as one of his dreams for the community.

Mr. Hill, ironically, never lived to see his dream project become a reality. He died on September 4, 1949 just some four months before the project was finished.

Mrs. E.Y. Crow was one of the happy observers of the opening of the hotel for she won two shares of stock in the company for suggesting the name of Jill Hill for the building.

The grand opening was called a "Gala affair" in the community. Nearly 300 persons attended a $20 per plate banquet celebrating the opening, at which Dr.

L.B. Barnett, president of the Hotel Corporation acted as Master of Ceremonies.

The festivities were highlighted by the appearance of Carmen Cavallaro and his band. Cavallaro was called "The Poet of The Piano" at the time. The band appeared for two nights in the hotel... at a cost of $3,500.

The hotel was made possible through the sale of stock in the corporation which was headed by Dr. Barnett. Others on the Board of Directors included Francis Hardwick, J.A. Pitman, J.E. Hill, R.J. Richardson, James Witherspoon, and Wayne Evans. Jim Hill served as chairman of the finance committee. The First National Company acquired ownership of the building in 1968.

"It was built 20 years too late to be in style, and missed by about three years the trend to motels," Sears said in reference to the hotel's failure.

Teachers Dealt Setbacks In Quest For Pay Raises

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - The House has dealt teachers two setbacks in their attempts to pull a sizeable pay raise out of the $708 million school finance bill.

Debate on the bill, whose key feature is a $357 million cut in local costs of the Foundation School Program over the next two years, went into its third day today.

In Wednesday's floor session, Speaker Bill Clayton blocked an attempt by Rep. DeWitt Hale, D-Corpus Christi, to graft the Texas State Teachers Association's proposed 25 per cent pay raise onto the bill. It would have added $865 million to the bill's cost.

Clayton ruled that the amendment exceeded the scope of the governor's emergency declaration that enabled the House to consider school finance ahead of the general appropriation bill.

A separate $263 million teacher pay raise bill that falls far short of the ISTA demands was approved by the House Public Education Committee on Tuesday.

Representatives voted 87-54 against a Hale amendment to make an additional $52 million available for teacher pay by cutting expenditures for maintenance and operations, utility costs, janitors, chalk, paper security, grounds upkeep and the like.

"If we don't take care of the teachers, I think all this other money we are putting into the education bill will go for naught," Hale said.

Rep. Ben T. Reyes, D-Houston, said it would be better to reduce the tax relief portion of the bill than to "take it from our urban school districts that are strained to the maximum."

Hale enjoyed one minor victory when the House reduced by $7 million the additional money provided for driver education. It cut the allotment from $65 to $45 per student. The present amount is $25.

The House also voted to reduce the school year from 180 to 174 days and teachers in-service training from 10 to six days a year.

Senators passed, 26-5, and sent to the House Sen. Ron Clower's "right to privacy" bill.

It would allow a person whose phone is illegally tapped to sue for civil damages. Penalties for persons conducting illegal taps would range as high as 10 years in

FDA To Disclose Plan For Saccharin

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Food and Drug Administration is ready to disclose details of its proposal to ban saccharin as an additive to foods and beverages but to permit sale of the artificial sweetener as a an over-the-counter drug.

FDA Commissioner Donald Kennedy was scheduled to announce the agency's plans today at his first news conference since taking office a week ago.

The proposal, on which public comment will be invited, is expected to encounter immediate opposition from industry groups representing the soft drink and diet food manufacturers, who account for nearly all saccharin sales in the United States.

Under the FDA plan, saccharin is expected to be permitted in tablet or powder form but would not be permitted in food or soft drinks.

The manufacturers of Sweet 'n Low, a saccharin-based artificial sweetener, said in advance of the announcement, "If they allow the use of a saccharin as an over-the-counter drug, they are admitting it is safe. And if it's safe in one use, it certainly should be safe in foods and all other uses."

The FDA announced March 9 that it intended to ban saccharin as a food additive under a law that prohibits adding any substance to food that is shown to cause cancer in humans or animals.

The basis for the ban is a Canadian study in which two generations of laboratory rats fed large amounts of saccharin developed an unusually high number of malignant bladder tumors.

Sherwin Gardner, then acting commissioner of FDA, said the agency would consider classifying saccharin as a drug to make it available to diabetics, from whom sugar can be fatal.

The so-called Delaney Amendment that prohibits cancer-causing substances in foods does not apply to drugs, which are controlled by a different standard.

Gardner added, however, that even without the Delaney Amendment, saccharin probably would be banned as dangerous to consumers' health.

It is not yet clear whether the manufacturers of saccharin can make a case for the safety and effectiveness of their product. The FDA believes that saccharin taken in normal amounts is a mild carcinogen, or cancer-causing agent, increases an individual's risk of getting bladder cancer by about one and one-half per cent.

Senators also approved on voice vote a bill protecting hospitals and hospital employees who refuse or who consent to perform abortions. If an employee were fired for refusing to take part in an abortion, he or she could sue for reinstatement and back pay plus.

Employees who take part in abortions likewise would be protected.

Showers Still Teasing Area

While heavy thunderstorms were causing flooding conditions in portions of South Texas, the Panhandle continued under its third straight day of cloudy skies, with only traces of moisture being received locally today.

LIGHT RAIN began falling here in the wee hours of the morning, accompanied by mildly rumbling thunder. Approximately .06 inches of moisture had accumulated by 9 o'clock this morning, according to KPAN radio.

Only minor sprinkles have occurred here in recent days, but they have been enough to keep up the hopes of local farmers and ranchers, who would like to see a good slow soaker settle in to aid their cropland and pastures.

A flash flood warning was issued around 7 this morning for Real County, west of San Antonio, following a nightlong flash flood warning for five counties clustered around Pleasanton.

Much of the state remains covered by clouds prompted by moisture-bearing winds from the Gulf of Mexico, and prospects are for widely scattered thundershowers to continue through tomorrow.

DOWNPOURS of two inches per hour were detected on radar in a number of areas in southern Texas this morning.

Somewhat closer to home, light hail accompanied showers in the Morton and Lubbock areas.

The heaviest rainfall in the current statewide storm system has been reported from Jourdan, where 8.54 inches of moisture fell from Wednesday afternoon to 6 this morning.

Stevedores On Strike

NEW YORK (AP) - The strike of thousands of East Coast stevedores against seven major shipping companies was expected to sharply curtail trade between the United States and Europe. Most North Atlantic cargo travels in the boxcar-sized containers which lie at the heart of the midnight Wednesday walkout by the 35,000-member International Longshoremen's Association. The brunt of the strike fell on the port of New York, including neighboring New Jersey, where ships dock from the three domestic lines and four foreign companies.

Gun Club Offers Bounty

NEW YORK (AP) - A New York gun club has declared its own war on crime, offering $200 cash bounties to robbery victims who shoot and kill their attackers. "The award is specifically for meritorious cases... It's just for certain instances," Gerald Preiser, head of the 5,000-member Federation of Greater New York Pistol and Rifle Clubs, said Wednesday. "We call it a courageous citizen's award." Others have suggested a more apt term would be bounty, the scourge of the Old West. Without exception, city officials denounce the idea.

Dust Chokes Flood Cleanup

PINEVILLE, Ky. (AP) - Less than two weeks ago, three raging rivers threatened life and property in eastern Kentucky. Now choking clouds of dust hinder operations to clean up the sodden debris left by the receding waters. "The dust is terrible," Pineville City Judge Bob Madon told Gov. Julian Carroll, who on Wednesday made his third helicopter tour of Appalachian towns ravaged by the floods.

Rebekahs Remember Devoted Lodge Pair

Hereford Rebekah Lodge #228 met in regular session Tuesday evening in 100F Temple.

Routine matters were undertaken during the business meeting lead by Peggy Lemons, noble grand. Forty visits and 19 greeting cards to the sick were reported.

Letters were read from State Assembly president Peggy McLean. Also members were reminded of the 75th anniversary celebration in Amarillo on Sunday, April 17 honoring Amarillo Rebekah Lodge #222.

April 23rd is the date of the Panhandle Association of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs assembly, also to be held in Amarillo.

Tribute was paid to two local lodge sisters who have died within recent weeks. The late Alta Rose Davis was an active member of the Hereford lodge for 28 years until the time of her death April 6. The late Naomi Eastep Murrell, who died April 9, was a Rebekah member for 20 years and active in lodge work until the time of her illness.

A lodge spokesman said, "May we all be inspired by the lives of these two lodge members to work a little harder to make Odd Fellowship and Rebekahship mean a little more to those around us."

Susie Curtsinger was hostess to the 16 members present Tuesday evening. They included Verna Sowell, Faye Brownlow, Ada Hollabaugh, Edna Mathes, Frances Parker, Frankie Green, Bea Cox, Martha Bridges, Ola Hacker, Bessie Lawrence, Blanche Williamson, Nellie Beauford, Peggy Leomons, Guy Lawrence and Merl Bridges.

Open House Planned By Kindergarten

The public is invited to a "Get Acquainted Tea" and Open House at First Baptist Church Kindergarten from 3-4 p.m. Sunday.

The festivities are planned for current and prospective kindergarten students as well as other interested persons.

Lola Curtsinger Cited By Women's Division

In appreciation for her work with the local Meals-On-Wheels program, the Chamber of Commerce Women's Division cited Lola Curtsinger as recipient of the Torch Light Award. The honor was presented Tuesday night at the Country Club, where the Women's Division assembled for their quarterly membership meeting.

The Torch Light award is designed to cite the community contributions of various individuals who have shown unusual dedication and initiative. La-Jean Henry is chairman of the awards committee.

Donna VanderZee, president of the Women's Division, called the meeting to order and asked Georgia Sparks to deliver the invocation.

In committee reports, Mrs. Sparks stated that she and Marcia Snyder had selected Nancy Hall as the Women's Division's nominee for the Distinguished Service Award offered by West Texas State University. Mrs. Hall is one of 12 women from Hereford who have been nominated for these honors.

Mrs. Sparks stated that the awards will be presented during a luncheon April 23 on the WTSU campus. Persons intending to attend are urged to make reservations by contacting Argen Draper at 276-5263 or by telephoning the WTSU office for Women at 806-656-2172. Reservations must be received by Monday and each ticket will cost $4.

The progress of a new task force, the animal action committee, was outlined by Margaret Formby. She cited the negative and positive aspects of this committee's programs and praised the efforts of the committee workers: Mardell Robinson, Star Christie, Carrell Ann Simmons, Dean Jones and Wynelle Robinson.

The upcoming Clean-Up Drive, scheduled here April

24-30, was explained by Helen Langley, chairman of the beautification committee. She said that several youth groups would be launching the drive on April 23. Assisting Mrs. Langley with the city-wide campaign are Meredith Wilcox and Pauline Howard.

Concerning the recent Miss Hereford Pageant, Lucy Rogers praised the pageant's volunteer staff, too numerous to mention. She reported that the newly-crowned Miss Hereford, Dee Anne Caison has already participated in productions at Plainview and Wasland Baptist College. Miss Caison, who will represent this city at the Miss Texas Pageant this summer at Fort Worth, presented trophies to winners at the recent track meet here.

Program chairman Ruth Black introduced the evening's guest speaker, Mrs. Dick Raymond, who has undergone two eye transplants and was blind during the births of two of her three children. Also in attendance for the informative program was Vi Reed, executive secretary of the High Plains Eye Bank at Amarillo.

Guest Speaker Offers Advice

Mrs. Jonnie Townsend directed the meeting of Progressive Home Demonstration Club Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. T.J. Parsons.

Mrs. Mack Ragsdale of Sherwin-Williams Paint Co. was guest speaker. She showed slides of home improvement suggestions and gave advice for hanging foil wall paper and for covering wall paneling.

Members present were Mrs. M.L. Carmichael, E.C. Hammett, Taft McGee, Tom Melugin, H.L. Hershey and Gerald Townsend.

Mrs. Ragsdale Gives Program

Mrs. Mack Ragsdale, representative of Sherwin-Williams Paint Co., was guest speaker Tuesday afternoon when members of West Hereford Extension Club met in the home of Almeda Penman, 213 Ave. H.

Mrs. Ragsdale gave a slide presentation on home decor and presented rolls of wall paper to Mrs. Penman and Evelyn Bell. Alice Cox won the hostess gift and Myrtle Allmon read the poem, "Face."

Others in attendance were Mrs. Roy Boyd, Carrie Mae Doak, Mrs. Robert Boyd, Mary Flowers and Mrs. U.V. Pierce.

Argen Draper Offers Tickets

Argen Draper has announced that she has extra tickets to the Distinguished Service Awards Luncheon scheduled April 23 at West Texas State University.

These tickets are priced at $4 each and admission to the luncheon will be limited, according to Mrs. Draper. She urged that any interested individuals contact her at 276-5263 before Sunday.

Tickets may be purchased from any Deaf Smith County 4-H'er and proceeds will benefit the 4-H Round-Up, Electric Camp, Texas 4-H Congress and all district and state 4-H activities.

Persons attending next week's bean supper are invited to eat their fill of beans, cornbread, fruit cobbler and relishes. Tickets will also be sold at the door during the supper Thursday.

Tom and Jenna Simons are chairmen of the fund-raising project. Directors of the local 4-H program are extension agents Garland Stewart and Sherry Harder.

Local Red Cross Board Holds Annual Meeting

The 60th annual meeting of the Board of Directors, Deaf Smith County Chapter of the American Red Cross, convened Tuesday morning at the Community Center under the direction of Lee Umstead, board president.

The board approved a report from the nominating committee and eight new directors were accepted to serve this year. They are Mrs. Bruce Miller, C.W. Allen, Mrs. Walter London Jr., Ron Smith, Craig Bainum, Mrs. Don Douglas, Mrs. Robert Lloyd and Mrs. Emil Dettmann.

Plans for a program this summer were delivered by the Red Cross water safety committee. This task force express the local need for a new swimming pool, which would ideally be a 50 meter or Olympic-sized facility.

Board members discussed the relocation of the local Red Cross office since Hereford State Bank's expansion will remove the current Red Cross building. Standard business was conducted, including a financial report from Jerrye Jackson, board treasurer. Attending the meeting were Betty Henson, executive secretary of the Red Cross, James Tilley, Umstead, Robert Mercer and Mmes. Clarence Betzen, Robert Lloyd, Don Douglas, Glenn Anderson, Wayne Lady, Clinton Jackson, Bruce Miller, Dick Zinser, Clyde Rush and Trini Gamez.

At Wit's End By Erma Bombeck

Last summer, we entertained visitors who pulled into our driveway with a luxury camper and two dogs.

Just before they left, our friend reached in and brought out a plastic bush with a couple of fake flowers entwined, attached to a wooden stand. It looked like a neglected grave. "What's that for?" I asked.

The dog went over, sniffed the bush, then came over to me and went to the bathroom on my shoe. "It isn't perfect yet," said the owner, "but he's getting the drift."

Everyone talks about the toilet training of dogs, but no one has done anything about it until now. A trio of men, Don Logue, of Kingman, Ariz., and Dr. Wayne Knochel and Bob Traeger, of Rochester, Ind., have invented a dog toilet that will, in their words, "bring the dog into the 20th century." (They've always been here, but you just can't follow them too closely.)

The device is about 18 inches wide, 36 inches long and 8 to 10 inches high and consists of a plastic housing and an astro-turf-type belt driven by a small motor with collection and deodorizing pans underneath.

The dog steps onto the belt, makes his deposit and steps off. The weight transer activates the motor that moves the astro-turf belt, depositing wastes in collection pans and spraying the belt with a deodorant.

Being the owner of a dog who is hard to train (he scratched on the door to come IN and do his business on the carpet), I held some enthusiasm in reserve for the project. How do you train a dog to hop onto a conveyer belt if you can't get him to recognize a tree when he sees it?

That too has been taken care of. The training of dogs to use the device is the subject of a graduate thesis being done by Craig C. Stone at Southern Illinois University entitled "Canine Training and Associated Techniques for a Fecal Disposal Machine."

The tab on the new convenience is around $400 to $500. When you consider the cost of shoveling out New York City, Chicago, LA and every other major city, it sounds reasonable. The whole project gives me hope that someday a dog will come up to me in the park and say, "Got change for a quarter?"

Eastern Star Holds Election

Order of Eastern Star conducted their annual election of officers Tuesday night during a stated meeting at Masonic Temple.

Selected for office were Mrs. Wayne White, worthy matron; Mrs. Harold Wheeler, associate matron; Harold Wheeler, associate patron; Audrey Powell, secretary; Mrs. Vernon Darden, treasurer; Mrs. Courtney Brooke, conductress; and Mrs. A.H. Brown, associate conductress.

Other positions will be appointed during officer installation later this spring.

Two new members were accepted as transfers from other chapters. They included Mrs. Ray Barter transferring from Bell Moon Chapter at Gainesville and Harold Wheeler transferring from the Vega chapter.

Plans were completed for the OES school of instruction scheduled April 19 at Plainview. Also, invitations were received from OES chapters at Lockney, Dalhart, Lubbock and Canyon.

The 36 members present were served refreshments by Mrs. Charlie Brown, Florence Fluett, Mrs. Al Sauter and Audrey Heard.

Book Review Entertains Study Club

Mrs. George Ritter reviewed the book "Tales From The Big Thicket" by Francis Abernathy for members of Veleda Study Club Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Zinser.

The book revealed information about the only Indian reservation in the state of Texas and described the 87,000 acres which compose the Big Thicket region, which is now endangered by lumber interests, farming and other progressive industries.

The next meeting is scheduled April 25 in the home of Mrs. Hugh Clearman.

Others present Monday night were Mmes. Lloyd Crume, Ken McLain, George Olson, Laurence Ruther and Billy Wayne Sisson.

Ann Landers Kindness Returned

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is for the wife who was enraged because her husband (in the plumbing and heating business) did an installation job for a friend and didn't get paid. My husband has been in that business for 25 years and I couldn't count the hours he has put in helping people, in all kinds of weather, without pay. This is what we received in return: When he had to go to the hospital in December our driveway was plowed out every day. Any vacation we take is worry-free because someone always offers to check the house, water the plants, feed the dogs and take in the mail and the papers. The morning of our daughter's wedding my husband discovered his tux didn't fit right. Our neighbor (a fine seamstress) came right over and saved the day. When we built a garage his friends poured cement and put the roof on. Some of the men were dairy farmers and must have left their own work to help. I just hope these wonderful friends of ours never send us a bill for their kindness and consideration. We could never pay it. There's not that much money in the world.— Bread Cast Upon The Waters DEAR BREAD: I believe whole-heartedly in your philosophy, although the world is filled with cynics who think we are fools. There are the "givers" and then there are the "takers." The "takers" don't know what they're missing. I can tell them—they're missing the best part of living. DEAR ANNIE BABY: Can you break for just one more letter to the CB griper who signed herself "Mad In Illinois"? Why didn't any of those moaners who wrote in to clobber "Mad" make it clear that it is very much against the law to transmit over 150 miles with a class D license? Those ratchet jaws down there in Alligator Alley (Florida) are using illegal kickers (linear amplifiers) to boost their output to skip talk. The best way to handle the problem is to give a shout to Big Daddy (FCC)—along with any handles and call letters. This be Fat Fingers in the Gateway City gone bye bye now.— St. Louis DEAR FAT FINGERS: This is Annie Baby in the Land o' Lincoln breaking to tell you that one reader did suggest that "Mad" complain to Big Daddy. Please tell the St. Louis Post-Dispatch (a really great paper) to stop cutting my columns. Ten-four DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please clear up a question my girlfriend and I need to have answered. Many people, I'll bet, are wondering about it, too. Question: Is it possible to get VD from kissing someone who has it? For years we have been under the impression that the only way a person can get VD is through sexual intercourse with someone who is infected. Please set us straight.—Unsure In Alpina, Mich. DEAR UNSURE: It is indeed possible to get syphilis if you kiss a person who has an open chancre on his lip, tongue or in his mouth—if you have a cracked lip or a cut on your lip, your tongue or in your mouth. A surgeon contracted syphilis a few years ago when he was doing an autopsy on a syphilitic cadaver. The doctor accidentally cut his hand through the rubber glove and it became infected. He was amazed when the positive Wasserman turned up. It took some heavy detective work on his part to trace the origin. That case is now medical history.

Club Recital Held In L.W. Tooley Home

Mrs. L.W. Tooley was hostess in her home Tuesday afternoon when nine members of Dawn Music Club met for a business session and program. Members agreed to change the date of their next meeting to May 3. Being the final club meeting of this season, the gathering will be a noon luncheon in Dawn Community Center. Tuesday's program theme was Recital Time and began with Mrs. Tooley at the piano. Her selection was "In An Old Dutch Garden" by Will Grosz. Mrs. H.V. McCabe read poetry selections reflecting memories of childhood and school days. Her selections included "The Wind" by Robert Louis Stevenson, "He Who Is Glad" by Grace Noll Crowell and "To A Water Fowl" by William Cullen Bryant. "Country Gardens," a traditional folk song, was performed in duet fashion by Mrs. R.T. Stewart and Mrs. H.R. Stewart at the piano. A familiar recital piece, "Minuet In G" by Beethoven, was rendered by Mrs. R.E. Curtsinger at the piano. Mrs. Alfred Smith offered a musical reading of "Trees" by Joyce Kilmer with Mrs. R.T. Stewart providing the musical background. Mrs. Jim Tilley "went to the head of the class" with her piano performance of "Claire De Lune" by Claude Debussy and Mrs. R.T. Stewart selected as her recital number "Rustles of Spring" by Christian Sinding, a piano composition. "Tango" by Charles Huerter was offered by Mrs. R.T. Stewart at the piano and Mrs. H.R. Stewart on percussion instruments. The day's program, which was under the direction of Mrs. J.B. Caraway, concluded with all members singing the monthly hymn with Mrs. Carl Wimberly playing the accompaniment. Refreshments were served to members present and Jimmie and Becky Tilley.

Guests Welcomed By Pioneer Club

Members of Pioneer Study Club observed guest day Tuesday at Hereford Country Club, where hostesses included Mmes. P.B. Sowell, L.H. Lookingbill Sr., Tandy Legg and Guy Walsler.

Mrs. W.C. Hromas, president, extended a welcome to the 17 guests in attendance and conducted the business discussion. The awards received by Pioneer Study Club at the Top of Texas, Texas Federated Women's Club, recently were listed.

Three honors included: first place on yearbook and first place on design of yearbook cover; second place on project, performing arts division; second place on Federation Day program; second place on Texas production program; first place on headquarters maintenance program.

Individual awards were received by club members in the TFWC art show, where Mrs. Hromas and Eunice Petersen received first places in artwork and Mrs. Walsler earned second place for needlework.

The program presented Tuesday was Mrs. Ted Panciera's review of the book, "Life Was Simpler Then" by Loula Grace Erdman. The book is an autobiography of Miss Erdman, who is a product of the Texas Panhandle. She describes her childhood on a Missouri farm and the scope of her philosophies.

Mrs. Hromas lead the club members in the US Pledge of Allegiance and Bess Werner conducted the pledge to the Texas flag. Mrs. Paul Rudd delivered the "commodity quote" and guests were introduced by Mrs. Sowell.

Guests included Mary Roach of Odessa, Kathlee Palmer, Ethel Wilson, Effie Crow of Fort Worth, Helen Patterson and Mmes. Jordan Grooms, Martin Hardwick, George Tutrentine, John Aikin, Douglas Gossett, Burt Boomer, L.N. Cox, W.R. Beard, John Stevenson, Buster Campbell, J.J. Durham and C.H. Hammock.

Members, not yet mentioned, present included Mmes. Frank Ball, Bonnie Brumley, C.P. Cockrell, C.L. Craig, Herman Ford, John Heard, O.G. Hill Sr., H.E. Miller, Petersen, J.V. Pickens, Delmar Sigle and William Wimberley.

Mrs. Shipp Advises In Stress Situations

Families are often faced with stressful situations for which they have no immediate solutions. Tension or stress may be the result of changes in the normal routine, illness or death, disagreement with a loved one and financial worries-- even vacations and holiday seasons cause some tension for families.

"Facing the problem squarely and evaluating what is happening is the best way for families to cope effectively with a stressful situation," Joyce Shipp, County Extension Agent pointed out this week.

Part of a realistic evaluation is the ability to acknowledge and express ones feelings about the situation. It is also important to deal with what is currently happening, she said.

"Blaming others for the problems or letting unresolved troubles haunt you can be detrimental and will only complicate the situation.

"Ignoring ones feelings or the situation isn't a satisfactory solution either," she said.

"Deal with one problem at a time and consider all the different alternatives.

"Then decide what is the best possible solution for the stressful situation-- and act on that decision. If necessary, seek the help of friends, relatives and community services. The reassuring love and support from someone who is concerned can be a great asset in a time of stress," she advised.

Mrs. Shipp suggested another guide for handling stress effectively is to plan for it in advance.

"Some changes in a person's life can be anticipated and prepared for--such as pregnancy, retirement, a move to another city or children leaving for college.

"Families can anticipate these changes and discuss their feelings and plans before the event occurs to reduce much of the tension and stress," she said.

Former Legislator Gets Commendation

AUSTIN (AP)—The Senate commended former Rep. Elmer Tarbox of Lubbock today for offering himself as "human guinea pig" to try to find a cure for Parkinson's Disease, which he is afflicted.

It adopted a resolution that said that Tarbox had agreed to be treated with experimental drugs "to find a proper medicine that will stop the progressive disease afflicting 1-12 million" persons.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Speaker Bill Clayton joined Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and others in a brief Senate ceremony honoring Tarbox and his family.

Sen. Kent Hance, D-Lubbock, said Tarbox has "literally given his body... so others may not suffer" from Parkinson's Disease, a disorder of the nervous system.

The resolution noted that the Tarbox Parkinson Disease Institute--one of six such institutes in the world--was established at Texas Tech University, partly through Tarbox's efforts.

He was a House member in 1967-75.

His wife, Maxine, singled out Hance and Rep. Bill Healy, D-Paducah, for arranging the resolution and ceremony honoring Tarbox.

Healy helped Tarbox climb the steps to the podium at the front of the Senate chamber.

"It's an honor we never expected to get," Mrs. Tarbox said, "but one that Elmer and his family will treasure."

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor,

A bill will be presented this week to the Texas legislature requesting one million dollars in funds for Texas Big Brothers-Big Sisters agencies.

These funds are being sought to help serve the children of Texas who come from one-parent homes.

Big Brothers-Big Sisters agencies have been serving Texas children for over 30 years, with an average cost of $300.00 per child, per annum. There are 90,240 children in Texas currently needing the services of Big Brothers and Big Sisters, and we do not have the funds to provide services to them.

In Hereford, we served 57 children in our Big Brothers-Big Sisters program in 1976. There are approximately 200 children from one-parent homes in Deaf Smith County. With increased funding, we could be serving more of these children.

Big Brothers-Big Sisters of Hereford, Inc. would appreciate support from our community of the impending legislation.

Please write or contact our state legislators regarding this bill. If you would like more information or statistics regarding the Big Brothers-Big Sisters program, please call the office at 364-6171.

Sincerely yours,
Mike Patrick, Pres.
Big Brothers-Big Sisters of Hereford, Inc.

Alaska Replaces Texas As No. 1 Oil Reserve State

HOUSTON (AP)—The pride of both Texas and Louisiana has been jolted a bit by the new estimates of domestic crude oil reserves.

Alaska has replaced Texas as the No. 1 crude oil reserves state. It is the first time for Texas to be out of the top spot since the fabulous Spindletop discovery that in 1901 moved the nation out of the kerosene age into the gasoline age.

California moved head of Louisiana for the No. 3 position in crude reserves.

It is the first time since 1957 for California reserves to exceed those of Louisiana.

Alaska had jumped into the runner-up spot behind Texas in 1970 when the annual report by the American Petroleum Institute included for the first time estimates of reserves from the 1968 Prudhoe Bay discovery on Alaska's North Slope.

Prudhoe Bay reserves still are shut-in, awaiting this summer's scheduled completion of the Trans-Alaska Pipeline.

Texas meanwhile continues as the leading crude oil producing state, followed by Louisiana and California.

Texas produced 1.158 billion barrels of crude last year, compared with 515 million for Louisiana, 326 million for California, and only 63 million for Alaska.

In the new report by the American Gas Association, Texas maintained its No. 1 ranking in natural gas reserves, but Louisiana continued to hold top ranking in production.

Alaska claimed the top position in crude oil reserves with an estimate of 9.785 billion barrels. Texas had 9.226 billion, California 3.589 billion, Louisiana 3.470 billion barrels.

Texas crude reserves now have declined in eight of the nine years since peaking at 14.494 billion barrels in 1967. Louisiana recorded its sixth consecutive decline since peaking at 5.710 barrels in 1970. California reserves peaked at 4.6 billion barrels in 1966.

Production in Texas last year was 100 million barrels below the peak level of 1.258 billion barrels set in 1972. Louisiana's output was 166 million barrels below the 781 million barrel peak recorded in 1970.

Despite a ninth consecutive year of decline, Texas held the No. 1 spot in natural gas reserves at 64.6 trillion cubic feet. The state's all-time high of 125.4 trillion was set in 1967. An eighth year of decline dropped Louisiana to 57.5 trillion compared with its record level of 88 trillion in 1968.

Only five of the 27 crude oil states recorded increases in reserves last year. They were Michigan, Ohio, Nebraska, Indiana, and Tennessee.

Only six of the 26 natural gas states had increases. They were New Mexico, Wyoming, Montana, New York, Nebraska, and Virginia.

Except for the changes prompted by Alaska and California, there were no changes among the top 12 crude oil states.

Illinois, however, moved ahead of Montana for the No. 13 spot and Michigan moved past Ohio and Arkansas to claim No. 15. Nebraska moved ahead of West Virginia for No. 22 and Tennessee passed South Dakota for No. 27.

In the only change in the top

The Washington Monument is constructed of dressed white Maryland marble with a weight of 81,120 tons.

A plate left by Sir Francis Drake when he claimed California for England in 1579 was found in Marin County in 1936.

10 natural gas states, Colorado reclaimed No. 10 by moving ahead of Arkansas.

Montana edged ahead of Mississippi for No. 16 and Nebraska claimed No. 24 by moving ahead of Virginia and Indiana.

The top 10 crude oil reserves states:

Alaska 9.785 billion barrels, Texas 9.226, California, 3.589, Louisiana 3.470, Oklahoma 1.186, Wyoming 827 million, New Mexico 535 million, Kansas 361 million, Colorado 251 million, and Florida 249 million barrels.

The top 10 states in natural gas reserves:

Texas 64.6 trillion cubic feet, Louisiana 57.5, Alaska 31.9, Oklahoma 12.4, Kansas 11.950, New Mexico 11.916, California 5.3, Wyoming 3.7, West Virginia 2.2, and Colorado 1.8 trillion cubic feet.

Westers Honored By Officers

The Hereford Peace Officers Association has named its citizens of the month for March.

Named as recipients of certificates in recognition of the honor were Frank and Fern Wester of Hereford.

The couple were honored for rendering assistance at the scene of an accident, according to Art Burton, chief deputy with the Deaf Smith County sheriff's office.

Burton made the presentation of the certificates earlier this week.

Obituary

IRMA ORR

Services were held this morning in Rose Chapel of Gilliland-Watson Funeral Home for Irma Orr, 84, who died Tuesday afternoon at Lubbock.

Burial was in West Park Cemetery under the direction of Gilliland-Watson.

Born at Marshall, Mrs. Orr came here from that city in 1906. She married Berry Orr on Feb. 5, 1911 in Hereford. He preceded her in death in February of 1960.

She is survived by four sons, including Roger of Lubbock, Berry Jr. of Dallas, Paul of Tyler and John B. of Sacramento, Calif.; three daughters, Mrs. Genevieve Lynn of Lubbock, Mrs. Veda Belle Crino of Hereford and Mrs. Cy Stutz of Tyler; a sister, Mrs. Sam Bratton of Albuquerque, N.M.; 17 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

HERBERT D. BROWN

Herbert D. Brown, 55, of Bethany, Okla. died Wednesday morning. He was the father of Allen Brown of Hereford.

Services are scheduled at noon tomorrow in Hahn, Cook, Street and Draper Funeral Home in Oklahoma City. Burial will be in Oklahoma City.

He is survived by the widow, Sue; a daughter, Linda Lynch of St. Paul, Minn.; and two sons, Allen of Hereford and Gary of the home.

Kidney Aid

Over State

Hoax Spreads

A massive hoax spreading through the nation that black-striped price code labels on food cans will pay for kidney dialysis apparently reached the Hereford area this week.

But it's "a massive, empty, humanitarian gesture," according to a Texas Medical Association official. The Brand contacted Austin officials early this week and learned that the National Kidney Foundation has issued a press release saying there is no truth to the rumors.

The TMA spokesman said the labels are easy to collect and since the hoax involves a cause most people are familiar with, that it has caught the public interest.

State Medicaid pays all dialysis costs for the first three months, and federal Medicaid picks up 80 per cent of the tab thereafter, said the TMA spokesman.

The rumors have also been reported in connection with cigarette foil, just as those in the past that have caused Americans to collect pop top tabs, tea bags tags and cigarette packages.

The Suez Canal is 103 miles long and links the Mediterranean and Red seas.

Presentation

Lions Recognize Students, Teacher

A program on the scouting program and recognition of the students and teacher of the six weeks at Hereford High School highlighted the meeting of the Hereford Noon Lions Club Wednesday in the Civic Center.

Jeff Morris, a local area scoutmaster, presented a pair of slide presentations on the adventure of scouting as the program for the day. The slides covered camp at Camp Don Herrington located near Canyon and the scouting program in general.

Morris reminded the Lions that the Cub Scout "Pushmobile Derby" is coming up April 23 at the Pitman Golf Course, and that a District Camporee begins for the Boy Scouts a week later.

Recognized by the club as students of the six weeks at HHS were sophomores Polly Robinson and Steve Perez. Miss Robinson is Secretary of the Student Council, President of the Girl's Choir, a member of the tennis team, and a member of the National Honor Society. Perez is a member of the Symphonic Band, Key Club, Student Council and the National Honor Society.

Membership in the honor society means that the students are in the top five per cent of their class with a straight A average.

The teacher honored for the six weeks was Ronnie Wood.

The Kellogg-Briand Peace Pact, named for the then U.S. Secretary of State and French Foreign Minister respectively, was signed by 62 nations in 1928 and banned the use of war as an instrument of national policy.

Hart's Sherry Booe took the lead and held it all the way in winning the mile run in the District 3-A Girl's Track Meet at Whiteface Field Wednesday. Bovina Captures 3-A Championship

BY BOB NIGH
Brand Sports Editor

Bovina, needing a win in the final event, the Mile Relay, did just that Wednesday afternoon at Hereford's Whiteface Field to nab the District 3-A Girl's track championship.

Bovina needed the victory to nip out leader Vega for the team title. As it turned out Vega failed to field a relay team for that final race and Springlake-Earth finished second in the event to overtake Vega for second place in the team standings.

Bovina took the title with 116 points, while Springlake-Earth was second with 106. Vega finished with 104, while Farwell was a point under that at 103. Kress (56) and Hart (31) rounded out the field.

Although a disappointing third overall Vega had two standout performers at the meet in hurdler Sue Slutz and high jumper Dawn Harwell. Miss Slutz ran a meet record 10.6 in the 80-yard hurdle event and also qualified for the regional meet in the long jump, high jump, and 440 relay.

Miss Harwell set a new standard in the high jump with a leap of 5-2, breaking her own record of 5-1 set last year. Miss Slutz matched the old mark with leap of 5-1 in finishing second. Miss Harwell also won the triple jump (32-9 1/2).

While finishing at the bottom on the heap Hart had a record-setting performance by Sherry Booe. Miss Booe raced to a 6:09.4 in the mile run to establish the first record in that event, which was added to girl's competition this year.

Vega wound up with eight qualifiers for the Region I-A meet, which will be held at Odessa April 22-23. Bovina qualified six including all three relay teams, while Farwell had seven qualifiers and Springlake-Earth six.

In junior high action Wednesday Springlake-Earth took the eighth grade title with 139 points, while Vega won the seventh grade meet with 163 points.

'Scuttled' A's Assume AL West Division Lead

By BOB GREENE
AP Sports Writer

Maybe Charles O. Finley was right, after all. The old Oakland A's, who won three straight World Series, are scattered around the major leagues, having left the Bay Area as free agents or through trades and sales.

Still, Oakland moved into the lead in the American League West Division with a 5-1 record by beating the California Angels 9-3 Wednesday.

The A's hero this time was Mitchell Page, a rookie obtained in a trade with Pittsburgh during spring training. Page slammed two home runs and a double, and knocked in six runs.

"It's the first time I've done this since I drove in eight runs against Memphis in the minors last year," Page said. "I've never had a day like this in the majors."

But then Rick Langford does not pitch every day. "I always do well when Rick itches," Page said, referring to Oakland's winning rookie hurler. "I told him I'd hit a homer."

In other AL games Wednesday, it was: Chicago 7, Boston 3; Toronto 7, Detroit 6, New York 5, Kansas City 3, Cleveland 5, Texas 3, and Seattle 3, Minnesota 2 in 13 innings.

Page hit a three-run homer in the third inning and a solo homer in the seventh. In the eighth, he doubled home two more runs.

Joe Rudi, whom Page replaced in left field for Oakland, drove in two California runs with a sixth-inning single.

White Sox 7, Red Sox 3

Richie Zisk and Jim Essian slammed upper-deck home runs, leading Chicago's power barrage against winless Boston. Ralph Garr, who singled and scored on Zisk's second homer of the season, tripled home two runs in the fifth inning.

It was Essian's first home runs in his 101-game major league career.

Blue Jays 7, Tigers 6

Doug Ault's homer and six Detroit errors, three by shortstop Mark Wagner, lifted Toronto over the Tigers.

Jason Thompson's homer was the big blow in Detroit's four-run fifth inning. Ben Oglivie also homered for the Tigers.

Indians 5, Rangers 3

Rick Manning scored in the eighth ining on Rico Carty's single as Cleveland held off a ninth-inning Texas rally and defeated the Rangers. It was Texas' first loss of the season after four victories.

Dennis Eckersley, 1-0, stopped the Rangers until the ninth, when Claudell Washington and Mike Hargrove hit two-out singles and Toby Harrah slammed a three-run homer.

Manning scored three times, and Cleveland's last run came when Duan Kuiper was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded.

Yankees 5, Royals 3

Bucky Dent's eight-inning double scored Willie Randolph, lifting New York to its victory over Kansas City. The triumph snapped a three-game losing string for the Yankees and handed the Royals their first loss of the year.

Mariners 3, Twins 2, 13 Innings

Steve Braun's two-out single scored Larry Seattle its victory over Minnesota. Milbourne from second and gave Seattle its victory over Minnesota. Milbourne had led off the 13th with a single and moved to second on a balk.

Astros Complete Sweep Of Stumbling Reds, 7-6

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds do not usually encounter turbulence inside the House Astrodome, but they have run into a storm of base hits there of late.

The Astros have been supplying most of the thunder and lightning for the past three games, chasing the defending world champions clear out of the place.

"We pulled a page out of their book," said Houston's Bob Watson after the Astros defeated the Reds 7-6 Wednesday night for a sweep of their three-game series. "This is the first time I can remember ever sweeping the Reds."

More precisely, the Astros have not swept a three-game set from Cincinnati since Sept. 1971. The resurrected Astros are off to their best start since 1968 with a 5-1 record while the Reds conversely are off to their worst beginning since 1972 at 2-5.

The quick getaway has triggered optimism in the Astros' camp.

"Those guys believe we can win and they're going out and proving it," says Willie Crawford, who delivered the game-winning hit with a RBI single in the ninth.

Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson shrugged off his club's five-game losing streak as "just one of those things." "We simply got beat," Anderson added. "Seven games don't make a season. Let's add it up in October."

In other National League games, the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the Atlanta Braves 4-3, the Chicago Cubs beat the Philadelphia Phillies 3-1, the Pittsburgh Pirates blanked the Montreal Expos 3-0, the St. Louis Cardinals trimmed the New York Mets 7-3 and the San Francisco Giants defeated the San Diego Padres 3-1.

Dodgers 4, Braves 3

Rick Monday's eighth-inning homer lifted Los Angeles past Atlanta. Monday's homer, his first as a member of the Dodgers, came off Phil Niekro, 0-2, and provided reliever Charlie Hough with his first victory.

Hough took over for Don Sutton, who left after seven innings when his back stiffened. The Dodgers' knuckleballer worked the last two innings.

Pirates 3, Expos 0

Bruce Kison pitched a two-hitter and Bill Robinson drove in one run and scored one, leading Pittsburgh over Montreal. Kison struck out nine and walked one. He retired the final 13 Expos batters, striking out five of the last six in a duel with Montreal's Steve Rogers, who did not allow an earned run.

Cardinals 7, Mets 3

Two-run homers by Ted Simmons and Keith Hernandez highlighted a St. Louis extra-base hit barrage and John Denny defeated New York for the sixth time in seven career decisions as the Cardinals rolled past the Mets.

St. Louis jumped on Craig Swan for two runs in the second inning on a double by Hernandez. Don Kessinger's RBI single and Lou Brock's triple. The Cards chased Swan with a three-run third.

Cubs 3, Phillies 1

Ray Burris gave up three hits in seven innings and George Mitterwald homered in a two-run seventh as Chicago downed Philadelphia.

Mitterwald's solo homer snapped a scoreless tie in the seventh and the Cubs eventually scored the winning run later in the inning on Jose Cardenal's RBI double.

Giants 3, Padres 1

Right-hander John Montefusco fired a three-hitter, carrying San Francisco over San Diego and ending a three-game Padres' winning streak. Montefusco, 1-1, struck out eight and walked three.

Bill Madlock paced San Francisco's 10-hit attack with a 7 single and a solo homer.

No filly has started in the Kentucky Derby since 1909 when C. V. Whitney's Silver Spoon faced the colts. She finished fifth.

Safest Way To Travel

Recent plane crash headlines suggest Chicken Little is right—the sky is falling down! It's not.

Bigger planes, crashing, make more noise.

But factually, statistically, airliner passengers are safer than ever.

All airliner crashes tend to frighten off a few passengers for a short while, though this pause-effect is less than it used to be.

Recently, however, there was an airliner crash which "frightened" the most seasoned pilots.

That one over suburban Atlanta, where the crew did everything it conceivably could to avert a disaster, yet the Southern Airways DC-9 was disabled by uncommonly large hailstones.

Let me say this about that: Without any reminder or remonstrance from federal aviation officials, all of us who fly airplanes are more careful since that Atlanta tragedy.

In recent years our improved flying machines have helped us fly in and through or above the weather with such comparative safety that we have sometimes imagined any weather above zero-zero is flyable.

Now, added to clear air turbulence is this reminder of the violence of thunderstorms—and we will all choose our flying weather more carefully as a result.

Safety records for airlines—foreign and domestic—have improved over the years to where you are 10 times safer in a scheduled airliner than in a car.

Recent noisy, newsy crashes notwithstanding, plane crashes are not increasing in frequency.

Last year the U.S. airline industry had the safest year in its history—fewest accidents, least number of fatalities—even though last year airliners flew a record 2.5 billion miles and carried a record number of 220 million passengers.

During the first two years after jets were introduced we had problems. In 1959 and 1960 these planes averaged one fatal crash for every 150,000 hours flown. That figure has since been improved to 2.5 million flying hours for every mishap.

It must be conceded that foreign airlines are less safe than are ours by four times. Our airliners, statistically, are 25 times safer than those in Eastern Europe.

Mostly because our safety standards are that much more strict and our airports are that much better. What happened on the ground in the Canary

April 30 Is

Deadline For Merchants

AUSTIN—State Comptroller Bob Bullock today urged Texas retail merchants and other sales tax permit holders to put a big red circle around April 30 on their calendars.

That's the deadline for filing quarterly sales tax reports with the State Comptroller's Office.

"Failure to meet that deadline can result in penalties for the sales tax permit holder and a lot of additional work for my office," Bullock said.

Bullock urged sales tax permit holders to contact the nearest Comptroller's Field Office or call his toll-free tax information number, 1-800-252-5555 if they have any question about their returns.

Some 72,000 businesses file their sales tax reports on a quarterly basis, Bullock said.

Islands could not happen at our nation's "big nine airports." And our government has allocated another $750 million worth of improvements for our airports and their control tower equipment.

The latest National Transportation Safety Board statistics indicate that bad weather is a factor in two-thirds of all fatal crashes.

After what happened in that hailstorm over Atlanta, all of us are going to be more careful to avoid that.

School Enrollment Is Stable

Enrollment in Hereford Public Schools has not fluctuated much since this time last year, according to a report issued Tuesday night at a regular school board meeting.

Total enrollment as of April 12 was 5,316—a decrease of just four students from the same time a year ago. Of the current total, 493 students are in kindergarten or special education; 2,457 are enrolled in elementary schools; 1,377 in junior high, and 989 in high school.

A breakdown of the elementary schools shows Northwest with 467, West Central 444, Bluebonnet 420, Aikman 412, Tierra Blanca 381, and Shirley 333.

Stanton Junior High has 690 students, while La Plata has 687. The high school breakdown shows 430 sophomores, 300 juniors and 259 seniors.

There are 33 students in special education, 86 in the 4-year-old kindergarten, and 374 in 5-year-old kindergarten.

Trophies Captured

The math and science teams from Stanton Junior High School travelled to Eastern New Mexico University Saturday to compete in the Blue Key Math and Science Bowl. The math group won a first place trophy and the science team stole second place honors. ### Seven Warning Signals Can Indicate Cancer

"Concerned About Cancer? Learn...The Seven Safeguards and...Know Cancer's Seven Warning Signals." This is the message that bright little orange, brown, and white leaflets - about 45 million of them - will be conveying to people across the country through April. That will be the start of the American Cancer Society's educational and fund-raising Crusade it was announced today by Mrs. Naomi Schroeter, Public Education Committee Chairman. The Crusade supports the ACS programs of Research, Education, Service and Rehabilitation. "Let's check them out" suggests the leaflet, citing do's and don'ts for the prevention or the early detection of cancer. For example, for lungs, "don't smoke"; for the skin, "don't over sun"; for women, "do monthly BSE (breast self examination); for oral protection, "do see your dentist or doctor for a regular mouth checkup; for cervical cancer "do have a Pap test and pelvic exam"; for colon-rectum safety "do have a procto exam at checkup time if over 40." And for overall protection, have a regular health checkup.

The Seven Warning Signals identify certain conditions that should be immediately checked out by a physician.

"At present rates more than 225,000 Americans will be saved from cancer in 1977. But we already have the scientific knowledge and know how to save another 113,000 who could be saved by earlier diagnosis and prompt treatment", said Mrs. Schroeter.

The little leaflet with the lifesaving hints will be distributed nationally by more than 2,300,000 ACS volunteers.

"We of Hereford urge everyone to give generously to the American Cancer Society this year. It is a Crusade for life and we want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime", she said.

Alvarado Will Attend Seminar In Colorado

Guadalupe T. Alvarado, Hereford, has qualified to attend a three-day career conference meeting of New York Life Insurance Company agents at Keystone Lodge, Colorado, according to Russell E. Jones, general manager of the company's Amarillo general office.

Alvarado will join other agents and company executives for education work in life underwriting, health and employee protection insurance.

The first round-trip air crossing of the Atlantic was made in the British dirigible R-34 in 1919.

SCS Initiates Research Work

WASHINGTON (AP) - The U.S. Soil Conservation Service has started a two-year project to determine the effects of erosion damage to the nation's land.

R.M. Davis, head of the Agriculture Department agency, said that the first step is an inventory to determine the extent of soil erosion. The inventory will supply basic information for estimating the amount of sediment caused by erosion.

"It also will provide information on soil and water conservation needs, prime farm land, potential cropland, water quality and land use," Davis said.

The most common types of soil erosion caused to farm land by wind and water will be studied this year. In 1978 the studies will include erosion to roadsides, banks of streams, gullies and construction sites. Officials said that Iowa State University, which helped design the study, will cooperate with the agency in compiling the information.

Farm-facts

Texas Department of Agriculture
Reagan V. Brown, Commissioner

Texas hog producers are joining with those in the rest of the nation in planning an increase in farrowings later this year.

The Texas Crop and

Livestock Reporting Service notes that Texas farmers indicate farrowings of 45,000 sows now through May. Although this is unchanged from a year ago, intentions for the June-August period project a 6 per cent increase compared to that quarter in 1976.

Nationwide, farrowing intentions in the June to August period are expected to be 5 per cent more than a year ago and 26 per cent higher than two years ago.

Hog and pig numbers in Texas totaled 850,000 head as of March 1; this is up 8 per cent from a year ago. Breeding hogs accounted for 16.1 per cent of the total and were up 7,000 head from last March 1.

Coffee Ups Market Basket Survey

AUSTIN -- Texas consumers paid slightly more for commodities purchased in the March market basket survey, conducted by the Texas Department of Agriculture, with the increase hitting their coffee cup rather than their overall food budget.

An increase of 11 cents for a pound of coffee was offset by lowered averages of other shopping buys, and the seventh monthly survey showed a four-cent increase of the total $19.50 basket price.

A dozen eggs, at 81 cents, dropped an average of 11 cents in the 12 Texas survey cities and helped to hold down the total food bill.

Despite some fears that citrus product prices would take a big leap following the winter freeze which destroyed most of the Florida crop, frozen orange juice increased by an average of only two cents per six oz. can, averaging 28 cents.

Fresh Texas citrus, now in peak supply, is also a special food bargain, with experts in the citrus industry explaining that the Texas crop, which incurred no freeze damage, is one of the best in several years.

San Antonio maintained its lead as the cheapest city of those surveyed, with its total bill of $18.12 up two cents from February. On the other hand, the McAllen-Edinburg March basket price of $20.10 though down 32 cents from February, again put it in last place as the most expensive of the 12 survey areas.

Other cities in order of their March prices and with a comparison to February totals are: Laredo, $19.15 to $18.95; Austin, $19.17 to $18.97; Abilene, $19.36 to $19.50; Tyler, $19.44 to $19.22; El Paso, $19.56 to $19.30; Corpus Christi, $19.63 to $19.68; Fort Worth, $19.63 to $19.58; Dallas, $19.71 to $19.78; Lubbock, $19.78 to $19.68; and Houston, $20.06 to $19.73.

Besides coffee, eggs and orange juice, the 17 other commodities surveyed, their average March price and comparisons with February are: one gallon one-half per cent low fat milk, $1.41 to $1.39; one gallon whole homogenized vitamin D milk, $1.64 to $1.66; one 12 oz. package individually wrapped American cheese singles, $1.30 both months; one pound margarine, 53 cents to 52 cents; 24 oz. loaf white sandwich bread, 41 cents to 42 cents; one pound whole fryer chicken, 51 cents both months; one pound regular ground beef, 78 cents to 80 cents; and one pound grain-fed round steak with bone, $1.41 to $1.42.

Tarot of the Stars

By SUNYA

The Shearing sound, the Shearing personality, the Shearing genius. Everything about George Shearing always sounds larger than life. In many ways he is larger than life. A big Leo lion with more talent, brains and compassion that most people even know about. He sees everything quite clearly -- of course we know he is congenitally blind, but his reaction to a question about his blindness is a thoughtful, "am I?" At this point we could quote the Bible (Psalms 115:5), but we won't.

He is a dedicated musician who learned to play by duplicating the music he heard, via his family's crystal radio, on the piano. The only formal music training he received was four years of study at the Lincoln Lodge School for the Blind in London.

When you walk into the presence of this man who is primarily known for his inventive jazz, and hear a Mozart concerto softly playing, you are reminded that he gave his first classical concert about 25 years ago with the Rochester Symphony Orchestra, followed by appearances with the Cleveland Symphony, the Boston Pops and the St. Louis Symphony. Now his concerts have a formula. The first half -- a piano concerto with full orchestra; the second half -- Shearing's ensemble and orchestra playing jazz, including his classic "Lullaby of Birdland."

It's so easy to converse with this cultivated man about all of the things he does that we had to force ourselves to begin the Tarot card reading. The hands that grace a keyboard so naturally sought the Tarot cards and the expert bridge player shuffled them before the reading began.

The enormous talent he possesses was brought by the Chariot (Libra) and it was a Godsend to the coal miner's family, which already had eight children, that this youngest child was not going to be a burden, but rather an achiever beyond all possible dreams.

By the time he was in his late 20's he'd conquered Britain. Recording for Decca, he dominated the British jazz polls, and one would have expected Temperance to hold him in the world where he was secure and admired. Again we say that George Shearing is no ordinary man and we felt petty about our minor grievances. In 1947 he, his wife and small child moved to America to become the stranger (Page of Wands) re-establishing here what he'd come to expect in England -- popular acclaim. Musicians appreciated his genius, but the masses pay the bills and he struggled for two years to garner national attention. It came in 1949 when his quintet (piano, bass, drums, guitar and vibes) recorded "September in the Rain" for MGM.

Until 1955 he recorded for MGM, then signed with Capital where he introduced Nancy Wilson to the record industry. As he was pulling planning and business cards in the area of six, we asked, and were told, that he'd formed his own mail-order company, Sheba, in 1970 -- approximately six years ago. The Shearing sound is currently available on both Sheba and MPS labels.

His marriage ended recently, although it looked to us as just a formality, for the man and his partner had grown apart during the past few years.

Watching him perform, it is difficult to believe how simple it all looks. We now know from the Tarot reading that he is planning a European tour. He has his charities to attend to. He has to compose. He has to give to the less fortunate. He has to teach. He had to do a television special on guide dogs for The Public Broadcasting Service which is being syndicated.

This man, born blind, neglects his own health to serve all of us who complain constantly that we are misunderstood or can't cope. It is wonderful, in the true sense of the word, that George Shearing composed and performed the score as well as acted in and narrated "Out of the Shadows, Into the Sun" (the name of the show on guide dogs). Every time you hear a bit of his music he really does take you out of the shadows and into the sun. The Shearing sound, the Shearing legend and Shearing the man -- all with a touch of generous genius.

State Vegetable Group Is Formed

COLLEGE STATION--Due to the expanding interest in vegetable production and the growth of the vegetable industry in Texas, the Texas Vegetable Association has been formed.

"The major purpose of the association is to unify and coordinate the many and diverse activities of the widespread vegetable industry throughout Texas," points our Sam Cotner, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Cash receipts from vegetables in Texas last year are estimated at more than $200 million, so the vegetable industry contributes much to the state's economy. And, with a closer liaison and working relationship between the people involved in the industry--producers, processors, researchers, educators--the Texas vegetable picture can become even more dynamic," contends Cotner.

The new Texas Vegetable Association is headed by Jack Smith with Amchem Products in Dallas. Other officers include Bob Keswick, Del Monte Corporation, Crystal City, vice president; Jan Hruska, Stauffer Chemicals, Weslaco, secretary; Joe Van De Walle, Van De Walle and Sons, Inc., San Antonio, treasurer; and Extension horticulturist Tom Longbrake and Extension plant pathologist Dr. Jerral Johnson, both of College Station, executive secretaries.

Named to the board of directors were Bart Wagner, Wagner Farms, Crystal City; Don Strack, Strack Farms, Houston; Kees Potharst, Dupont Co., Houston; Bill Lackey, Ferry Morse Seed Co., McAllen; Ray Caraveo, Zavala County Extension Agent; and Cotner.

"Anyone engaged in vegetable production, marketing, processing, extension or research is invited to join the Texas Vegetable Association," notes Cotner.

Further information may be obtained by writing to the Texas Vegetable Association, P.O. Drawer 85, Aggeland Station, College Station, Texas 77843.

Safety Stressed In Feeding Of Antibiotics

COLLEGE STATION--All persons who use antibiotics or who cause antibiotics to be used should recognize the potential hazards associated with their particularly guard against the use. Farmers and ranchers using such materials in animal feeds should indiscriminate use of antibiotics, emphasized a keynote speaker at the annual Texas Animal Agriculture Conference here Apr. 4.

Dr. J.E. Mosier, head of the Department of Surgery and Medicine in the College of Veterinary Medicine at Kansas State University, stressed that "we must redouble our efforts to learn more about the dangers inherent in the misuse of antibiotics and in their uncontrolled or illegal sale, improper prescription, and unjustified prophylactic use. It is through the combined concern of the physician, the veterinarian, the animal scientist, the microbiologist, the research worker, the manufacturer, the regulatory official and the consumer that we will maximize the benefits and minimize the risks of antibiotics in feeds."

Mosier, speaking to some 1,500 producers, and others interested in the livestock industry, noted that of the 20.8 million pounds of antibiotics produced in the United States in 1973, 8.2 million were used primarily in animal feeds while the remainder were destined for medicinal use.

He traced the use of antibiotics in animal feeds and the various committees that have been formed to examine their usage. The most recent of these is the Subcommittee on Antibiotics in Animal Feeds formed last year as a result of discussions in the National Advisory Food and Drug Committee. This subcommittee was asked to consider the risks and benefits involved with the use of a number of antibiotics and sulfonamides to reach judgments as to whether or not the use of these drugs was worthwhile.

The subcommittee's report as accepted by the National Advisory Food and Drug Committee recommended that Penicillin be discontinued for growth promotion and feed efficiency as well as for disease prevention when effective substitutes are available, that Tetracycline be continued for growth promotion, feed efficiency and disease prevention and that Sulfquinolone be continued for approved use in disease prevention.

"The major issue of risk in the use of antibiotics in animal feeds rests on the judgement regarding the development of resistant organisms, the transfer of resistance from one bacteria to another, and the existence of multiple resistance," pointed out Mosier. "There is no question but that all three exist. The major question is, do the resistant organisms in animals pose a threat to man?"

"Perhaps the most perplexing issue is how to separate the effect of antibiotics in animal feeds from the effect of antibiotics used for medicinal purposes," noted the veterinarian.

Suitable alternates to currently-used antibiotics would resolve some of these major issues but unfortunately, none have yet been identified, noted Mosier. In accepting alternate drugs it is important that consideration be given to assure that the currently-used products are not replaced with substitutes endowed with lesser benefits and unexplored hazards.

The Texas Animal Agriculture Conference is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in cooperation with other parts of the Texas A&M University System.

Milk Production in Texas during February is down 4 per cent from a year ago and is 7 per cent below the previous month.

Milk production per cow averaged 800 pounds, which represents a reduction of 25 pounds below a year ago.

Nationwide, milk production during February was virtually unchanged from a year ago, but was 7 per cent more than two years ago.

Arkansas Water Study Hailed As Breakthrough On Importation

LUBBOCK--Water, Inc., President J.W. Buchanan has labeled as a major step toward bringing supplemental water to the High Plains the results of a jointly-sponsored Texas and Arkansas study showing the Ozark State to have 43 million acre feet of surplus surface water annually.

"This is a breakthrough as far as we are concerned," Buchanan noted. "Other states are willing to work with us now. When we started pushing an import system in 1967, people in other states were laughing at us. Now we have tremendous numbers of people in Texas and other states saying this has got to be done. Their whole viewpoint has changed since 1967."

"We are making progress," Buchanan said. "Water, Inc., is the one organization over the past decade that has never let up pushing this idea. If it hadn't been for keeping this in front of them, we never would have gotten this far."

The study, funded by the Texas Water Development Board in conjunction with the Arkansas Soil and Water Conservation Committee, was compiled by Stephens Consultants, Inc., of Little Rock after extensive analysis of the rivers flowing through Arkansas.

About 43 million of the 76.5 million acre feet that flow through Arkansas rivers annually is excess water beyond the projected needs for Arkansas growth through 2020 and the flow requirements necessary to maintain water quality and the needs of states downstream.

The Stephens report states: "It has been estimated that six million acre feet of water annually would be adequate to maintain current irrigation levels in the High Plains of Texas. This quantity could be provided from 'excess and surplus' flows of the White, Arkansas, Ouachita and Little River systems in Arkansas. This represents less than 10 per cent of the water leaving the State of Arkansas, not including the Mississippi. The actual export of water from Arkansas probably could be much greater and the State would still have adequate quantities of water remaining to satisfy all foreseeable needs."

"Nothing has been tied down yet on the actual amount of water," Buchanan said. "We are looking at six million acre feet. That's not as much as we would like, particularly if New Mexico joins in with us to get water, but that is still a lot of water to bring into the area and it would assure that we could at least maintain current irrigation levels."

The greatest volumes of water would be transported to Texas during the wet months of Arkansas. Volumes of 450,000 acre feet or more would be available in the months of November through June with a peak amount of 875,000 acre feet begin available in May. During the months July through October the flows would be drastically reduced with an August low point of 77,000 acre feet.

Of the surplus water allocable for transport, the Arkansas River would provide 48 per cent, the White River, 28 per cent and the Little and Ouachita Rivers 12 per cent each. While water would be available from the Arkansas River year round, water from the other three rivers would not be available in the summer months. The individual needs within each river basin would have priority over water for transport. The report states, "There is no conflict of interest between the transport of these excess and surplus waters through the conveyance system and the normal utilization of water" within the basins.

Both states would benefit from the project, the report notes. For Texas, High Plains irrigation could be maintained at present levels. Further, the conveyance system would be designed to meet all types of water needs along the route in both states. Both Texas and Arkansas would benefit from the employment of a large labor force and from equipment and supply purchases for construction, operation and maintenance of the project. In addition to assisting with flood control, the project's potential revenues from the sale of water to Texas could reduce or at least maintain the current tax rate in Arkansas, the study reports.

Buchanan envisions this study as the first step toward a regional water management system for Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Tripping Shovel Superior For Diking System

LUBBOCK--Evaluation of two types of basin tillage or "diking" systems that have proven advantageous in utilizing rainfall was the topic of a paper presented here April 8, before the annual southwest region meeting of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

Dr. Bill Lyle, agricultural engineer based at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Halfway, told the assembly of 200 engineers at Lubbock's Hilton Inn that in a five-point evaluation of two types of diking procedures -- the tripping shovel design and the raised shovel model -- they found the tripping shovel design superior.

"Basin tillage or as it is sometimes called, diking, refers to a method of tillage where mounds of soil are mechanically placed at intervals across the furrow forming small basins or dams," Lyle explained. "When it rains, the basins fill and allow adequate time for infiltration, rather than being lost as runoff."

Reason for the study, Lyle requested, was to help farmers find the best, most economical method of building the small, miniature dams in the furrows both before and after the crop is up.

The five areas evaluated included trouble-free operation; adaptability to current equipment; high operating speed capability; provision for adjustment of dam spacing and height; and simplicity in the design and construction.

"Basin tillage offers an excellent means of rainfall utilization and requires no extra land forming, modification or even an additional trip through the field other than normal tillage operations," said the TAES researcher.

"The tripping shovel model excellent in three of the evaluation categories and was equal or only slightly inferior to the other two," he added.

Additional considerations are necessary, Lyle noted, for basin tillage to be successful when used on an every-row basis.

Sweeps are required in front of the tractor tires to plow out existing dikes in order to give a smooth ride. They are also necessary in front of the implement gage wheels to prevent the sweeps from being raised out of the ground when the gage wheels contact a dam.

Basin tillage may also be used successfully on an alternate-furrow basis, he said. When it is used in this manner, the necessity of the plow-out sweeps for the tractor and gage wheels is eliminated.

"When furrow irrigation is to be alternate-row, basins may be left in the non-irrigated furrows and are also very effective in keeping the furrow stream in the same furrow in which it was set," Lyle reported. "At the same time the capability is maintained to capture rainfall in one-half the furrows if it occurs during the irrigation period."

More Than 12,000 Persons in Texas have been certified as private applicators in accordance with pesticide regulations from the Environmental Protection Agency.

Beginning in October, persons who want to apply a restricted-use pesticide must have a certificate to purchase it.

Schools are being held throughout the state so that a person can become qualified as a private applicator. County agents are in charge of the training sessions.

Texas Department of Agriculture officials estimate that between 50,000 and 100,000 persons will become qualified in this state.

NOW IRRIGATE THE CORNERS WITH VALLEY

It's a revolutionary new concept in center pivot irrigation. The new Valley Corner System is the first center pivot that hits the corners. It allows you to irrigate up to 150 acres per quarter and to adapt your system to any shape field. Expensive corner land can be converted into profitable new acreage with a Corner System Pivot. The amazing versatility of this unique system extends all the obvious advantages of center pivot irrigation--dramatic water savings, automatic irrigation the moment you need it, and precise fertilizer application to every farmer. Unusually high yields from land that was previously unproductive will enhance your whole farming enterprise. By irrigating nonproductive farmland, you are upping the overall value of your land as much as $500 per acre. You'll find, as many progressive farmers have already, that the corner catcher will actually pay for itself, and then some.

Farmers in the Know Plant Growers

First in official tests and first with the farmer... that's NS 212, the yellow corn hybrid from Growers Seed Association. In two out of three official tests in Hale County, NS 212 came up in the Number 1 spot. Bill Keasler of Dumas planted NS 212 and two other varieties on his farm. He says, "NS 212 was the best corn I had." Jim Meyer of Sunray gives a similar report.

Jim Dooley of Sunray, Texas, planted 80 acres of Growers Brand ML-135 hybrid grain sorghum this past season. It averaged 8,100 pounds per acre. Jim says that he was pleased with the outstanding performance of this hybrid. It is resistant to M-D-M-V, has excellent standability and thrashability. You, too, will be pleased with the performance of GROWERS BRAND ML-135 hybrid grain sorghum. See your Growers Seed Dealer... today.

Farmers who grow sunflowers understand the value of planting adapted hybrids such as year-after-year dependable Sun-Gro 380 from Growers Seed Association. Bob Pool of Groom says, "My Sun-Gro 380's produced 2,300 pounds per acre with a pre-water and two additional irrigations. This beat my irrigated wheat, so I'll have more irrigated sunflowers this year. Because of their high oil content, the Sun-Gro 380's grossed a penny per pound more than the other variety I planted."

HIGHWAYS: The Highways of the USA contribute much to the welfare of the people.
1. The Federal Highway Commission plants more trees and shrubs than they remove. 2. Shrubs and grass along the Interstate System provide daily oxygen supply for 22 million Americans. 3. 1 per cent of land mass is used for highways and almost 1/2 per cent of this is grass. All of which aids man, by providing oxygen for him to live. 4. Plant a tree or shrub and you will aid mankind. 5. What is DENOROLOG? It is the study of TREES. When going on vacation or while driving along the highways, a good game to play is to identify TREES. How many can you name and what do they produce? This would be a good way to entertain children (and adults) while traveling. 6. How many wildflowers of Texas can you name. This is also an excellent study to have while traveling. Soon it will be an ideal time of the year to enjoy the beautiful wildflowers of Texas. Springtime is also an excellent time to identify trees, especially those in bloom. The redbud, dogwood, magnolia and many fruit trees, all can be identified by their blossoms. Nature is a great teacher, if we will only stop-look-and-listen.
GARDEN HELPERS: These busy days while we are grooming the flower-beds and getting the vegetable garden soil prepared and planted, it would be wise to use some spare time to study about some of the helpers we have. One should never use herbicides or insecticides until one has studied about them. The when, where and how to use them: Herbicides are used to control pests, namely weeds. Insecticides are used to kill and aid in controlling insects. Miticides strike at mites. Pesticide: The term pesticide applies to any chemical agent that kills or control the population of insects. Insecticide Spray, for house plants usually is wanted in a small amount. Using 50 per cent Malathion, add 1/4 teaspoon to a pint of warm or tepid water, and apply with a mist sprayer. Be careful; do this when the sun and other lights are off, of the plants. Wear rubber gloves (they should be worn whenever any kind of herbicide or insecticide is being used). Open an outside door or window for ventilation and banish children and pets to another room until the air clears. USE OF CHARCOAL: Charcoal has no food value, but it has the capacity of absorbing and holding nitrogen until it is needed by a plant. One grain of charcoal will absorb 80 times its own bulk of organic nitrogen and conserves this valuable fertilizing material until plants can use it. It also has a capacity of destroying injurious acids and, at the same time, absorbing undesirable odors. It is recommended to be mixed with the pebbles and sand which is used in terrariums. It will aid in keeping the soil sweet and the container free of odors. It can also be used in the water in which cuttings or leaves are placed for rooting (African violets etc.) Do not confuse the charcoal used for cooking fires with that used for horticultural purposes. SOIL STERILIZATION will prevent soil-borne diseases and pests. The process actually amounts to pasteurization. In November, 1976, page 7, the following quote is found in the "Flower and Garden Magazine": Lacking a microwave oven set the temperature control of a conventional oven at 160 degrees, place you pint of soil inside and hold it there for 60 to 90 minutes. Remove and cool rapidly. Be warned, you will NOT like the odor. Fresh air and spray will help to clear the air of the unpleasant odor.

CAUTION, NEVER use any kind of insecticide, herbicide or any other like material in gardening, without first reading carefully all the directions on the containers in which the product is sealed. Then be sure and follow directions carefully. When finished with the container, seal and put in cabinet, preferably one that has a lock.
BUSY DAYS: The last week, there has been a great deal of activity in yards, gardens and alleys, all in making preparation for the coming season of gardening. CAUTION: Be sure and wear an old pair of garden shoes when you are going to be working in the grass or cutting weeds. Everything is completely covered with dust and a good pair of shoes and hose could be ruined. (I found this out the hard way.)
Have a Happy Day!

Whites Express Wish For Blacks In Congregation

NEW YORK (AP)—Almost half of American white church-goers now worship with at least some blacks in the congregations, five times more than 25 years ago.
Additionally, a strong majority of whites would like for their congregations to include more blacks.
These are among indications of a new Gallup poll, compared with past studies.
The poll found that 46 per cent of whites attend churches with some black members, while a slight majority, 54 per cent, still are in all-white congregations. A 1952 study indicated that only 9.8 per cent of the nation's mainly white congregations included blacks.
In the new survey, the continuing reduced extent of de facto segregation was attributed to residential patterns, to pride of blacks in preserving their own churches and persisting remnants of prejudice.
Nevertheless, two-thirds of all whites nationally, including both those already worshipping with some blacks and those who don't, want more blacks among churchgoers.
The proportion is highest, North and South, among whites already associated with some blacks in church life, with 80 per cent of such whites outside the South and 63 per cent of such Southern whites favoring more blacks in weekly services.
The only category of whites in which a majority—60 per cent—oppose it are Southerners in congregations without black members and no experience of worshipping with them. Of these whites, only 40 per cent want black members.
However, of all Southern white church-goers, 53 per cent are amenable to expanding black participation, 46 per cent definitely favoring it and 7 per cent saying it doesn't matter. A minority, 47 per cent, oppose it.

Outside the South, 90 per cent of whites are open to more black membership, including 71 per cent specifically wanting it and 19 per cent who are indifferent about it. Only 10 per cent oppose it.
Even among Northerners worshipping in all-white congregations, 64 per cent would like blacks in the services, and another 8 per cent don't care. Only 28 per cent oppose it.
In Northern congregations already including some blacks, only 9 per cent of whites don't want to increase the proportion of blacks.
White nationally nearly half of white church-goers worship with some blacks, the figure varies regionally. Outside the South, it is 51 per cent. But in the south, it is only 34 per cent.
Sixty-six per cent of South whites are in congregations with no black members.
That situation contrasts with the elementary and secondary schools, which have become more fully integrated in the South than the North. But in the Southern churches, de facto segregation still predominates, although the formal barriers generally have been removed.

Interplanetary Guests Prepared For

JAMUL, Calif. (AP)—With her flowing white gown and furs, her "Welcome Space Brothers" sign atop a mountain and $10,000 in bets, Ruth Norman is ready for the flying saucers' arrival this summer.
Spaceships will be flying in for history's first interplanetary convention," said the 76-year-old high priestess of the Uranian Educational Foundation.
She bought her 65-acre mountaintop 35 miles east of San Diego for $50,000 four years ago as a landing strip for the spaceship fleet. She was directed, she said, by leaders of 32 other planets throughout the universe.
"You think the astronauts landing on the moon was something," she said. "That was a mere minor event when compared to the upcoming visit from inhabitants of the 32 planets later this year."
She bet $6,000 and her followers $4,000 with a London bookmaker, maintaining at least one spaceship will arrive by Sept. 30.
Bernice Richards of Ladbrokes & Co. Ltd. of London said the firm has given the bets 50-1 odds.
"Ladbrokes will bet on anything," Miss Richards said. "We look at the 'spaceship from another planet' as a fun bet like the bets we take on the existence of the Loch Ness Monster."

Mrs. Norman, called the "Universal Seeress" by her followers and "Spaceship Ruthie" by doubters, says being from other planets have been talking to her for decades, by means of tape recordings. It isn't clear how she gets the recordings, however.
She and her late husband, Ernest, founded the Uranian Education Foundation in 1954. Uranian is an acronym for Universal Articulate Interdimensional Understanding of Science.
Norman wrote 23 books and, his wife 22, all describing what they say are mental communications from leaders of 59 other planets. She has been able to live on the income from the books and from money inherited when her husband died in 1971.
