Oil Taxes Won't Ruin Companies

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter's proposed tax on oil profits would have far less bite than generally supposed on the additional billions of dollars oil price decontrol will give to producers.

Although described originally as a 50 percent tax, the levy actually will cost oil companies only about 13 percent of the first three years' worth of extra income from decontrol, according to figures made public by the administration for the first time Thursday.

Carter's decision to eliminate gradually the federal ceilings on domestically produced oil will transfer $15.4 billion from consumers to oil companies by the end of 1981, administration officials said.

Far from taking half that amount, Carter's proposed "windfall profits tax" would net only $2 billion more in taxes that the oil companies would have to pay anyway under existing state and federal tax laws.

*These figures contrast with the president's description of his proposed tax as the only barrier to a "massive ripoff" of consumers by oil companies.

If Congress enacts Carter's proposal intact, oil companies will get to keep $6

O to there a leash law covering dogs in the city of Hereford. If so, what are its provisions?

A.-Yes, there is a leash law, contained in city ordinance No. 970. The ordinance states, "It is unlawful for dogs to run at large on streets, in alleys or other public places in the city, or on the property of others, except the owner of the dog, unless the dog is restrained by a leash, rope, or other means to reasonably control the actions and conduct of the animal. Any police or animal control officer of the city shall take custody of a dog running at large." An impoundment fee of $3 is charged for the return of dogs picked up, in addition to charges for a rabies shot and license.

More Price Hikes Said Inevitable

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter's advisers are offering little hope that consumers have seen the end to price surges such as the 1 percent increase in March.

"We can still expect months of bad news on the economy," especially on the inflation front, White House press secretary Jody Powell said Thursday after the Labor Department reported the latest

The March increase - fueled by large price rises in food, fuel and housing - followed boosts of 1.2 percent in February and 0.9 percent in January. That translates to an annual inflation rate of 13 percent for the first quarter the worst quarterly rise in 4½ years and far above the president's 7.4 percent target.

Despite continuing sharp increases in prices, Powell insisted the administration will stick to its anti-inflation policies that include voluntary wage and price guidelines.

Three local housewives will try to unseat incumbents in a special election for four Hereford Independent School District trustee positions Saturday at the Community Center.

Voting in the at-large election, which will allow persons to choose four names or fewer from the list of seven candidates, will be from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. There will be no runoffs.

A federal three-judge panel last month in Dallas ordered the election, ruling that trustees James Gentry, Clark Andrews, Mack Tubb and Jim Arney were elected under an illegal voting method, the place system, and therefore would have to run again to remain seated on the board.

The judges did not touch the April 7 election, in which incumbents Sallie Strain and David Hutchins were re-elected to full three-year terms and Paul Ramirez was chosen to fill an unexpired one-year term.

On Saturday, Gentry, Andrews, Tubb and Arney will be on the ballot, along with Ernestina Tijerina, Sylvia Mae Wallace and Elida Alonzo. Mrs. Alonzo's name will incorrectly appear as "Alonza" on the ballot because of a typographical mistake by the printer.

After four trustees are elected, they will draw lots to determine their terms' length. Gentry, Andrews and Arney were all elected last year and therefore would have had two years remaining. Those elected Saturday will draw for three two-year terms and one single-year term. Tubb would have had one year left on the board, having been elected in 1977.

Gentry, who is president of the school board, says he filed for re-election "because the voters elected me to a three-year term, and I believe they expected me to serve three years when they elected me last year."

Gentry, president of First Realty, has lived in Deaf Smith County since 1949. He has been in the real-estate profession for four years, but has maintained farming and cattle interests. He was first elected to the school board in 1975.

Gentry is married and has four children.

Andrews, who lives, farms and raises cattle near Frio, also was elected in 1975 and 1978. A Deaf Smith County resident for 47 years, Andrews is married and has raised three children, all graduates of Hereford High School.

"I feel like it took a period of time to learn what it was all about," said Andrews, board vice president. "I feel like I have done a good job, and can continue to do a good job. It's a challenge and something I enjoy.

"I think we've got a good system. I'm proud of it, and I think trustees over the 1st 15 or 20 years did a good job and used a lot of foresight. I hope we can continue to do as good a job as what's been done in the past."

Tubb, a member of Tubb, Easterwood and Saul law firm, has lived in Hereford for 10 years. Tubb and Easterwood started the firm in 1970.

Tubb is married and the father of two children.

"When I ran for the board, I expected to serve a three-year term, and I intend to serve a three year term. I think I've been a good board member. It takes you a good six months or more before you know what's going on. The longer you've been there, the more effective you can be if you put things you learn to good use," said Tubb.

Arney is the longest-serving school board member, having first been elected in 1972. He was re-elected in 1975 and 1978 to three-year terms. Arney, as partner at Edwards Pharmacy, has lived in Hereford since 1960.

"I'm concerned about trying to develop the best curriculum and education for the kids of the system," said Arney, who is married and the father of three children, all of whom have been graduated in Hereford.

Mrs. Tijerina, a Hereford resident since 1960, is a housewife, Camp Fire leader and mother of three children. Her husband, Baldamar, is supervisor of the

Clements: Budget 'Unacceptable'

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The Senate Finance Committee completed work Thursday on a state budget for 1980-81 which exceeds a House proposal that Gov. Bill Clements termed "totally unacceptable."

Chairman Grant Jones estimated the Senate bill totals $20.9 billion, which is $600 million higher than the proposed budget adopted Tuesday by the House. During a press conference Thursday.

Clements said the House bill was unacceptable because of its dollar total and some appropriations.

Adding that "the appropriations process is barely underway," Clements said, "It will be settled in conference committee...I am not unhappy at all as far as the budget is concerned."

The $20.9 billion would leave about $40 million available for either tax reiief or other spending, said Jim Oliver, assistant director of the Legislative Budget Board. The 1980-81 LBB proposal totalled $20.8 billion.

Clements earlier proposed a . $19.8 billion budget - including a plan to cut state taxes by $1 billion.

The Senate proposal now limits annual teacher pay increases to 5.1 percent - the increase Clements is backing for all state employees. The House voted teachers a 7 percent hike Tuesday, contingent upon passage of a school finance bill. Jones added that "some realignment" of the present teacher step-increase scale would probably be made. Clements has favored doing away with the plan, which guarantees state teachers an annual pay increase for the first 12 years of their careers.

The Senate committee also tentatively approved $2,700 annual increases for the 18 judges of the Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals. The increases proposed by Sen. Babe Schwartz would hike the salaries to $56,700 annually with an extra $500 for the chief justices.

Schwartz, D-Galveston, said the increases would bring the judges' salaries "up to that of a federal district judge in Houston."

The committee would limit district judges to a 5.1 percent hike. The House voted those judges a 19.8 percent increase, a pay hike that Schwartz predicted "won't hold up in conference committee."

The Senate committee will vote on its budget proposal next week.

Cindy Anderson of Lovington, N.M. will be on hand to sing several hit songs and a disco spotlight will feature Kay Alexander Schachter and R. Chris Haley III.

Bob Davis will again serve as Master of Ceremonies for the local scholarship contest. A special sidelight during the show will be the introduction of the 1978 winners of the Little Miss Hereford Pageant, including Crystalee Hall, Tricia Snyder, D'Ann Phillips and Diane Warden.

Cindy Heard, the reigning Miss Hereford, will express her farewells and take a final walk down the runway before relinquishing her erown. Miss Heard assumed the Miss Hereford position after Stephanie Stringer gave up the title in January to be married.

Bankers To Avoid 10% FHA Mortgages

HOUSTON (AP) - Until the Texas usury law is clarified, there will be no FHA or VA loans made in the state at the new 10 percent interest rates, say state mortgage bankers.

The Federal National Mortgage Bankers Association, also called Fanny Mae, said Thursday it, too, planned to avoid such Texas mortgages if they exceed 9 7/8 percent.

In Austin, Gov, Bill Clements stood firm for the time being on his threat to veto a bill raising the Texas ceiling on mortgage rates, but said he would reconsider his position in light of the new development.

Usury law now limits Texas home loans to 10 percent, and the bankers are afraid the I percent origination fee charged purchasers at closing would be construed an interest on the loan.

"The origination fee, which is how the mortgage banker makes his money, comes out as an effective 1/8 percent," said W.E. Daniels, president of the Texas Mortgage Bankers Association.

Daniels said the only home FHA and VA mortgage being made now involve commitments made before the federal officials increased the authorized rates from 91/2 percent to 10 percent on Monday.

Carson Won't Say If Bound for ABC

NEW YORK (AP) - Will Johnny Carsop leave "The Tonight Show" for a job with ABC? "I can't answer that," Carson tells CBS' Mike Wallace, conceding ABC may be "doing a little stroking, as all networks do," in an effort to attract him. Carson, in an interview for CBS' "60 Minutes," to be broadcast Sunday evening at .7 p.m. EDT, recalls an informal get-together after his appearance as host on ABC's broadcast April 9 of the Academy Awards show.

"They...made no direct overtures of my coming to the network," Carson says. "I would assume that when somebody has you socially for dinner -I'm not that naive - that they might say, 'Hey, it would be nice possibly if Johnny Carson worked over here.""

Wallace and the "60 Minutes" crew visited Carson April 15 at his home in Bel-Air, Calif., about a week before the story broke that Carson wanted out of his NBC contract, which runs until mid-1981.

Carter Promises Help to Commuters

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter has rescued his standby gas rationing plan from almost certain death in Congress by promising special help to states where motorists drive greater distances.

The Senate Energy Committee voted 9-8 Thursday to recommend that the full Senate adopt the proposal, which would go into effect only if the presidents declared an energy emergency.

A House committee previously voted to reject the proposal, but there are indications sentiment in the House also is shifting in its fayor.

Under the rationing plan, gasoline coupons would be issued on the basis of how many cars are owned by each motorist. A person who commutes 50 miles to work in Texas could receive the same number of coupons as a resident of Connecticut who commutes 10 miles.

Late Wednesday, White House aides agreed to a compromise under which 10 percent of the nation's gasoline reserves during a serious shortage would be used to alleviate regional inequities.

Rising Red River Threatens Wheatland

By The Associated Press Rising Red River floodwaters, surging toward an expected crest today, churned along a 150-mile front of prime prairie farmland from Grand Forks, N.D. to Winnipeg, Manitoba, threatening the area's important wheat crop.

National guard helicopters swooped low Thursday over the upper Red River Valley, their crews scanning vast flooded areas in search of marooned farm families. "There was water as far as you could see going north into Canada," said one helicopter pilot.

"Our chopper pilots reported a couple of farm families who said they hadn't seen anybody in four days and appreciated the food brought in," Lt. Col. Adrian Beltrand said Thursday.

In East Grand Forks, Minn., and its sister community, Grand Forks, N.D., and Red River climbed to more than 48 feet late Thursday, 11/2 feet under its expected crest. An estimated 2,000 persons remain away from their homes in the beleaguered communities, civil defense officials said.

Correction

There were 79 youngsters examined during Saturday's Oasis Shrine Club Children's Diagnostic Clinic, instead of 27 as was reported in Tuesday's Brand. Of the 79 patients, there were 147 examinations performed by physicians and dentists. Shriner Marvin Swanson' reported that there were 57 new children (who had not attended a previous Chrine Club clinic) examined. The Brand regrets the error.

Chief of Police Don Brush called to correct Wednesday's Fact Finder, which concerned the dumping of trash; and garbage outside of dumpsters and trash containers. Brush said the correct procedure to file a complaint involves contacting the city health inspector, who will write a letter to the littering party. If the action goes uncorrected, Brush said the city inspector will file charges in municipal court.

Chairman G. William Miller to Barry Bosworth, director of the Council on Wage and Price Stability - have warned that the public needs signs soon that inflation is slowing.

Bosworth, in a recent interview with The Associated Press, said, "The next two to three months are crucial."

He explained that "if the price situation doesn't begin to improve,' wage earners will abandon hope that government policies can soften the bite of inflation and start demanding ever higher wages that would only worsen the inflationary spiral.

Alfred E. Kahn, the president's anti-inflation chief, told the Congress' Joint Economic Committee on Thursday:

"We still have some bad months ahead. We can win this fight if we persevere. There are no other quick fixes around."

Only last month, Kahn said, "I will regard this program as having failed if by sometime like the beginning of the summer, we don't see the inflation rate tapering."

The Commerce Department reported that gasoline rose in March by nearly 4 percent while food, housing and transportation costs all rose a percentage

Bosworth said consumer and business activity were not as high duing the first quarter of 1979 as at the end of 1978, indicating a slowing of the economy that could translate into a more modest rate of Supporting his premise that a "price explosion" could come soon if inflation continues at current rates, Bosworth noted that most workers have been settling for wage increases of 7 percent or 8 percent - well below the inflation rate over the last couple of years and will not do so indefinitely.

Already, President Carter's 7 percent guidelines for wage increases were stretched by the recent Teamsters contract calling for a 9 percent annual increase. The United Rubber Workers, meanwhile, are negotiating for a potentially guideline-busting contract.

Cut, Increase Defense?

WASHINGTON (AP) - Step one, according to John B. Connally, is to cut defense spending by 5 percent. For step two, he would increase defense spending by 10 percent.

That may not sound quite consistent, but then consistency is not a traditional hallmark of presidential candidates.

Connally speaks with equal fervor of reining in the Pentagon budget, along with spending by every other federal agency, and of increasing the Pentagon budget to enhance U.S. security.

The 5 percent he would cut would be waste, mismanagement and paperwork. The 10 percent he would add would be worthwhile weapons spending.

If that's not clear, let's backtrack a bit.

Last-September, the former Texas governor, who is seeking the Republican presidential nomination, was calling for an across-the-board 5 percent cut in federal spending, a popular position at the time "Proposition 13 Fever" and budgetslashing moves were sweeping the country.

'Yes, I would cut 5 percent in defense. I sure would. I'm a strong supporter of a strong defense for this nation, but I don't believe the Defense Department should be immune from such cuts," Connally said during an appearance at the American Enterprise Institute.

Such a cut would be essential to helping control inflation, he "We would be trying to say to American labor that, before asking them to engage in voluntary restraints in wage and price demands, the Defense Department is going to take the first cut;" he added.

As of last Sunday, Connally was still in favor of such cuts. "The first thing I would do about inflation would be to cut federal spending ... I would demand every department and agency reduce their spending by 5 percent. "Then the question is asked would you apply it to defense? The answer is yes."

The cuts at the Pentagon would come through increased efficiency and reduced misspending, he says. "I will try to ferret out waste, as much corruption, as much fraud ... as much excess of paperwork. I would try to ferret than out in the Defense Department."

Then Connally, on ABC-TV's "Issues and Answers," went on to describe his stance in a year when U.S. Military strength has become a major political issue.

"I think we can save 5 percent, but ... I would turn right around and probably add at least 10 percent in the defense budget to build the B-1 bomber, to increase the time ... in which we are going to have the MX missile available to us."

It wasn't to Connally's interviewers.

Dear Editor: I'd like to tell you and the public my personal views about the paid political advertisement by James Gentry (temporarily ex-trustee for HISD).

Let me ask Mr. Gentry, if I may: Is that why the system conceals information to all students about the Upward Bound. program, because it's free? Is that why the system. abuses all bilingual teacher aides, because it's free help? Is that why the system still gives licks to high school students, because it's free? Is that why the high school cafeteria's restrooms are locked up to students, because it's free. Is that why some students are not allowed to finish their lunch, because it's free? Is that why you condemned a small percentage of registered voters. because it comes free? Is that why farmers laid out land, because it's free? Is that why food stamps and welfare are criticized, because it's free?

Well, Mr. Gentry! Let me give you a free piece of my mind. Many, if not all, want the best for our children and the author of this advertisement is not the person indicated to help our children. I suggest you correct your attitude against free programs, even so they are not of any use to you. Let those in need of them benefit from this and that. Please don't underestimate a small percentage of registered voters, the same that also helped you be where you are now.

It's only a matter of time before I can prove to you, Mr. Gentry, that you and I can work together...and we will soon in the HISD controls because I don't want to see male students in high school hiding behind cars, buildings and bushes when they have to go. I don't want students to risk 3 licks or detention if caught trying to sneak in the building to use the restrooms during their lunch period, just because this facility remains locked up inside the

I urge concerned parents to keep a closer interest in our children's education and don't take child abuse from the system. We need healthy minds, not frustrated ones if we are to keep our country strong. To run a business is not all one needs to run the system. One must care and know the needs of all students. We don't spank young adults at home because we respect their bodies. We reason with them when we take the time to explain instead of humiliating them...we owe them that much.

The last straw came Monday, when the graceful bird chased a female swan out of the water and onto a nearby street. The female was the third swan purchased as a potential mate for Abra, whose original mate, Cadabra, died two years ago when someone shot her with a bow and arrow.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) Look before yo bite, Scottie. That's the advice the city police K-9 corps member probably was getting after he sank his teeth into the leg of a police officer.

His handler, police officer Lennie Mitchell, spotted a stolen pickup truck towing a cement mixer and gave chase early Wednesday. The cement mixer came loose and crashed. The pickup ran through a chain-link fence and onto an highway before also crashing.

By this time, other officers arrived and Mitchell turned Scottie loose to chase a man running from the wrecked pickup. Scottie, however, bit olice officer Kenneth Lynn. Other officers caught two men they said were in the pickup. They were taken to a hospital for treatment of multiple cuts. Lynn was treated for dog bites.

Two hubcaps were apparently 'stolen Wednesday afternoon from a car owned by Comnred Riojas, 611 Ave. 1. The vehicle was parked at the high school.

Police issued citations Thursday for running a stop sign,. running a red light, speeding and for passing to the right when unsafe. The latter ticket was issued following a minor traffic accident at Park Ave. and McKinley. A ticket also was issued for failure to display driver's license on demand.

We know it is normal for children to explore their bodies and to be curious about other children's bodies, but there has to be an effective way to deal with this. The third time we caught the children undressed we sent the guests home and told Pam not to play "Doctor" any more, or she would be punished.

We are college-educated, working parents. Pam is a healthy, normal child of above-average intelligence. Please advise us. What should we say to Pam the next time this happens? -- Shreveport Mother

DEAR MOTHER: Too bad you mentioned punishment. Now the child has the idea she has done something bad.

The best approach is to keep an eye on Pam when she has visitors. Make sure they have games to play and are not left to their own devices for any length of time. Also tell Pam in a firm but not angry way that her private parts are not to be handled by anyone except a real doctor, and should not be part of game-playing.

DEAR ANN: I speak for myself as a restaurant cashier, and I'm sure for many other cashiers as well.

I understand that a lot of change carried in a purse or in trouser pockets can become quite heavy. People like to get rid of it. But when a customer searches through different wallets and pockets, and then asks his friends to start looking for change, too, it becomes a bit much. Can you believe, Ann, that yesterday a customer gave me 263 pennies?!

It is not uncommon for customers to hand over ten dollars in coins to count. Of

ENJOY YOUR LIFE!

Occasionally we have a chance to meet a truly fascinating people who speaks enthusiastically of worthwhile things they have accomplished, fun things they do, challenges they have met, and life itself. They radiate an enthusiasm for life that makes us all wish we could be in their shoes.

Life should be interesting as well as fulfilling.

Stop what you're doing for just a few moments and think of the things that clutter up your life making it a drudgery. The next step is to rid your life of those things.

Learn to say "yes" only to those things you think you'll really enjoy. Don't allow yourself to feel guilty or obligated. I'm sure someone else will gladly take your place.

Residents are urged to support the IOOF and Rebekah lodges and learn about their involvement in this community.

Umps Want Settlement

CHICAGO (AP) - Baseball & he said. "You are sometimes league officials are meeting with major league umpires at an undisclosed location to work out a settlement to the umpires' strike, Commissioner Bowie Kuhn says.

Kuhn said that in addition to the meeting Wednesday, both sides met last Saturday and plan to continue doing so in an attempt to settle the dispute.

Speaking at an American Bar Association luncheon Wednesday, Kuhn said he never considered the strike a "league matter" and denied that the commissioner's office has avoided an active role in the dispute.

"The commissioner is very much involved in the situation," much better off to work quietly in the back room."

The umpires refused to sign individual contracts before the opening of spring training with the National and American leagues in an effort to renegotiate salaries and expenses. Although the umpires signed a five-year collective bargaining agreement in 1976. each man must sign a contract

Kuhn said baseball officials' refusal to meet the umpires' demands was a "question of principle," adding that if umpires tried to "work things out," some modification in the contracts might have been

"I believe the umpires have roceeded in the wrong way," Kuhn said while not ruling out future modifications.

Kuhn conceded that substitute umpires drawn from amateur and minor leagues 'are not as good as the regular umpires," but added that the men were "perfectly competent and they're honest.

Despite mounting criticism of the substitutes' performance in games, Kuhn said major league attendance through Sunday was up 7 percent from last season.

Brewers Hitless Wonders Explode

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON AP Sports Writer

Call them the modern-day hitless wonders - Robin Yount, 1-for-29; Gormon Thomas, 0-for-24; Ben Oglivie, 1-for-31.

The three Milwaukee Musketeers broke their slumps with a vengeance Thursday night, collecting 12 hits in 25 at-bats with four doubles, three homers and nine RBI as the Brewers snapped a five-game losing streak by sweeping a 5-1, 7-5 double-header from the Detroit

In a stroke of genius .-Manager George Bamberger made Yount and Thomas the 1-2 hitters in the Brewers' batting order and it paid off. Yount broke his slump with a three-run sixth-inning double in the nightcap and doubled home another run in a three-run eighth. Thomas, who homered in each game, followed with a decisive two-run single.

dule and two of them - the New York Yankees of Oakland and San Francisco at the New York Mets - were rained out.

In other games, the Boston Red Sox blanked the Seattle Mariners 2-0, the Baltimore Orioles downed the California Angels 4-2 and the Kansas City Royals nipped the Cleveland Indians 5-4.

-The Brewers won their first game from Detroit as Cecil Cooper homered and Charlie Moore lined a two-run single in a three-run seventh-inning.

They loaded the bases in the sixth inning of the nightcap on Oglivie's fourth straight hit, a walk and a checked-swing pinch single by Larry Hisle. Yount then doubled to score all three runners and give the Brewers a 4-3 lead. A walk and an error preceded Yount's RBI double in the eighth and Thomas followed with a two-run single.

Hawks Defense Evens Series With Bullets

Umpire Strike Hurts Baseball's Public Image

NEW YORK (AP) - The umpires' strike has gone on long enough. Baseball is being hurt by a cheap image and by bad calls from well-meaning but not-quite-professional substitute umps.

The problem is not money. Baseball drew over 40 million people last year. A few teams are in financial trouble, but most are doing well. What the umpires are asking would cost each team about $20,000 a year.

. It's peanuts, literally peanuts. The proceeds from a few concession stands.

The umpires are getting the heat from owners who want to present a tough front for upcoming negotiations with the players' union. These negotiations could cost them plenty. Marvin Miller and his players' association are tipping the balance of power in the game and a lot of baseball people are understandably worried.

The owners have had their way for so long that they tend to be very stubborn. The umpires may be a convenient target for a show of strength because of an attitude that nobody appreciates them anyway.

Some teams already have cut out free items to the media. Some newspapers are refusing to take free food and beer. The Boston Globe, for instance, sends a check to the Red Sox every year for food and drink its writers have consumed in the Fenway Park press box.

This is a way of demonstrating that sports writers, long reputed to be free-loaders, are not. The argument in journalism is that the city council doesn't feed the reporters for free, so why should the sports teams?

In the past, some baseball teams have given regular writers expensive gifts, including TV sets. This has been pretty much wiped out by a campaign within the media to improve standards of profes-

Astros Richard Wants To Be Complete Player

Richard is different. Not merely because he is an awesome sight on the mound at 6-foot-8 and 237 pounds but, unlike most pitchers, he wants to be a complete player.

Richard improved his record to 4-0, hurling the Houston Astros to a 6-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs Thursday. But he had mixed emotions about having to leave the game after five innings because of a slight back strain.

Richard also helped his cause by slugging a home run into a 12-17 mph wind.

"I like to go nine innings all the time, and every game I start I even think about going 10 innings," said Richard. "It makes you work that much harder and your stamina that much stronger."

Although he told Manager Bill Virdon he injured his back. Richard appeared reluctant to be taken out.

"That's because I have heart," said Richard. 'You just don't want to come out when you have that big a leap but you can't jeopardize a whole season for one game."

Richard attributed the best start of his baseball career to his consistency, plus "the whole ball club is executing, moving runners along, doing the right things at the right time, which is what makes a winner."

"I want to become better in every respect - bunting. pitching, fielding and hitting, said Richard. "Every time I

Shuffled Sixers Snuff Spurs

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) - It could have been Philadelphia's shuffled lineup. It might have been a scrappy 76er defense or maybe Julius Erving's 32 points as a guard. San Antonio Coach Doug Moe says the team was so awful Thursday night, he really couldn't tell.

The 76ers routed the lethargic, anemic Spurs 120-97 to trim San Antonio's margin to 3-2 in their best-of-seven, NBA Eastern Conference semifinal playoff series. The series moves back to Philadelphia on Sunday for the sixth game.

"We played so bad, just terrible," moaned Moe after his usually potent Spurs shot a paltry 26 percent in the first half and 38 percent for the game. WYou have to give them credit, but when you're missing the easy layups and easy shots ... It was just some of both.

"The lineup changed isn't going to affect you when you're coming out and missing the easy shots. Tonight it wouldn't have made any difference," he added. "We just had a very, very bad game. It was one of those nights you want to forget Philadelphia Coach Billy Cunningham acknowledged that the Spurs had a miserable shooting night, but said, "The defense was the key. They missed some good shots but it had a lot to do with our defense."

Cunningham, forced to continually shuffle his players with the absence of injured All-Star guard Doug Collins, opened with an oversized lineup that included 6-foot-6 forward Erving at guard, 6-11 center Cadlwell Jones at forward and gargantuan Darryl Dawkins at center. Rookie Maurice Checks, 6-1, was the only regular guard who started.

Erving responded with 32 points, 24 of them in the second half. The shifty Cheeks got 18 points and shut down the

He got nine more in the fourth period, none on outside shots. It was hit worst performance this season and only the third time San Antonio had been held under 100 points this season. "The ball just wouldn't fall

"There will be days like that. We got a bad effort from all of us. It rubbed off on everybody."

CART Takes USAC To Court

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - The long and bitter feud between the U.S. Auto Club and Championship Auto Racing Teams was scheduled to go to court today, and that might have been the only way to settle the dispute, says Tom Binford, one of the few men trusted by both sides.

A source close to CART, who asked not to be identified, told The Associated Press a suit against USAC and the Indianapolis Motor Speedway would be filed in U.S. District Court

"There's only one way to get that thing reconciled, and that's for Tom Binford to do it," said Pat Patrick, president of CART and owner of one of the six CART drivers whose entries for the Indianapolis 500 were rejected by USAC. "Binford understands our problem."

Binford, who wears many hats in the sports and business worlds, is chief steward of the Indianapolis 500-mile race, board member and past president of USAC and current president of the Automobile Competition Committees of the United States.

Binford said earlier, however, that he did not think it was likely out of court. The suit seemed a certainty after negotiations broke down last week and Speedway President Joe Cloutier told Patrick that USAC indeed had authority to reject the entries.

"I think the compromise we discussed last week would have met the needs of both organizations," Binford said. "It wouldn't have solved the problems, but it would have been the basis for further negotiation."

Patrick said Wednesday all the dissident CART group wants "is just to go racing. We want, our entries accepted and we fully intend to see that happen.'

USAC ruling last week that barred six CART teams, totaling 19 entries, on the grounds they were "not in good standing" with USAC. Drivers that could be affected include former Indy 500 winners Al and Bobby Unser, Gordon Johncock and Johnny Rutherford.

CART, which split with USAC late last year in a dispute over control of championship auto racing, asked Cloutier last weekend to clarify whether USAC or the Speedway has authority to reject the entries.

Cloutier replied that the authority rests solely with USAC and told Patrick that the rejection of the 19 entries was USAC President Dick King said that CART was after "total control" of championship auto racing. He said a proposal to create an eight or nine-man group to supervise championship racing was turned down.

Computer Test Helps Detect Infants' Hearing Problems

VISALIA, Calif. (AP) — A computer built by volunteers tests seeping infants here to insure they won't spend a life isolated by deafness.

gram's creator, hopes it will help in early diagnosis of deaf-ness since an infant's auditory system is almost fully devel-oped at birth. It is believed a language code is developed between 8 and 12 months after

"Deafness is the most devastating of all handicaps," says Dan Patterson of Atlanta, national director of the Infant Hearing Assessment Program.

'Hearing is a basic sensory learning tool. If a baby cannot hear, it has probably missed the opportunity to acquire lan-guage instinctively," Patterson said after studying the system at Visalia's Kaweah-Delta hospital, one of just three pilots programs in the nation. The others are at hospitals in Southern California and the San Francisco Bay Area.

"Nationwide, we have just been letting deaf children slip through our fingers," says Peltzman, a researcher at the University of California, San Francisco.

Peltzman's "minicomputer" was designed by a Pacific Telephone Co. engineer, refined by Bell Laboratories' volunteers and built by the Telephone Pioneers, a club of retired tele-

LENDING FOR OIL WASHINGTON (AP) - With the world's energy crisis intensifying, the World Bank, a United Nations' financial agency, will expand its assistance for oil and natural-gas producy tion in the developing countries.

Bank officials said some 60 countries could benefit in the early 1980's from an accelerated program of exploration and development for oil, natural gas and coal.

The program will give priority to countries that depend heavily on imported oil and have the greatest need for technical assistance.

The bank's help will include aid in devising national energy policies, the updating of exist-ing geological surveys, the commissioning of new surveys, the financing of exploratory drilling and the financing of the eventual production facilities.

Currently, there are only four Americans in the village, not counting the children who are citizens by birth. One is the customs agent, another is his wife, the third is the postmaster and the fourth, Game Warden Philip Dumond, 47, is the nearest thing to a peace officer for 1,500 square

Fortunately, the peace is easily kept here. Dumond has been a Station resident for 22 years, and can't remember a murder, rape, or even a serious felony. The only time local crime was rampant was during Prohirecord indicates there was a lot of criminal drinking

Much of the drinking took place in an Estcourt Station tavern built square on the international boundary. Patrons could get potted on the Canadian side of the bar, but not the U.S. If someone wandered over the line with a glass in hand, it's said, diligent federal agents were there with handcuffs.

Now people in the Station drink with impunity. And law and order prevail. A while back Dumond did receive some threatening mail, letters that indicated he would be shot and killed. But it turned out to be only a neighbor, who didn't like Dumond's dog, and the af-fair has since been forgot-

And so does not belonging to them. Residents say

Estcourt Station is out of Ottawa's reach, and out of Washington's sight, and there is no better place for people to live than where their governments generally leave them alone.

Finally, about runners living longer. Many of them do.

One of the reasons is because many of them are lean. The amount of exercise they do helps prevent obesity. That, in turn, decreases problems of fatty-cholesterol buildup in the bloodstream and it helps to prevent high blood pressure.

These are important factors in preventing heart attacks and strokes. Also most of the runners I know don't smoke.

So, as a group most runners do live quite a bit longer than their sedentary

overweight, underexercised

Tablecloth is creased POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY - Several weeks ago I bought a flannel-backed plastic tablecloth. The creases where it was folded will not come out even though I have set heavy things like books on them. Do hope you have some help for me. — FRAN

DEAR FRAN — Perhaps the following letter from Dorothy will be of some help to you. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - Many people are worried about the wrinkles that are in new plastic tablecloths and I think I have help for them. A year or so ago I ordered a vinyl coat that came with a note saying that if wrinkles remained after the coat had been hanging up for a few hours I should take it to a laundromat where they have big dryers. Put it in one for about five minutes on the lowest heat. The coat came out great and I think the same treatment would work if a tablecloth was put in a home dryer. — DOROTHY DEAR POLLY - My mother put moth balls in my 53year-old cedar chest and to remove the odor I put in a box of whole cloves. More could be used if needed and I have found this also works well in musty dresser drawers. -

DEAR POLLY - I have noted that many of your readers are concerned with storing old garments. I am a college instructor and have been doing research in textile conservation for the past two years and would like to offer the following recommendations.

Flat storage is the best storage if one has the room. Fold items as little as possible and layer them as little as possible. Should layering be necessary put the heaviest things on the bottom. Some items should not be hung, such as those with narrow shoulder straps, dresses heavy at the bottom such as beaded dresses of the 1920s and garments that are cut on the bias. If garments are hung they should be put on padded hangers. For heavy clothing such as military uniforms use wooden hangers and cover the hangers with muslin. Two wire hangers could be used together and then be padded and covered with muslin. Use dust covers over clothing men's shirts are great for this and never crowd items. Group items to be stored according to color - whites vs. darks as natural dyes can rub off. Wrap in clean white sheets or white tissue paper (not blue) but do not use plastic, newspapers or allow items to touch wood. Air out stored items at least once a year and then avoid direct sunlight. If you must use moth crystals do not let the crystals touch the items. Keep records of who wore the clothing and for what occasions. Photographs and other documentation can be of great value if you ever decide to donate such things to museums or university costume collections. I do hope this will be of some use to the readers. - V.L.K. Thank you, V.L.K. I am sure we have all learned a great deal from your most informative letter. - POLLY.

FAITH REMINDS GOOD CITIZENS TO OBEY THE LAW

ce religion teaches us to respect the rights and property of thers, the good citizens of our free society will gladly obey the laws of the land, which were established to ensure the obser vance of those very tenets. We are well aware that these laws are working to protect our freedom, not to curtail it, and if it should ever become necessary to change or abolish a law, we can avail ourselves of the legal procedure that has been provided for the purpose. However, this is a rare occurrence, be cause most of our laws are in accordance with the basic rules of human conduct, as set forth in the Bible and taught by every Church denomination. By attending your own, you will learn the background for the fine system of laws to which you owe

The law is the last result of human wis dom acting upon human experience for the benefit of the public
