

Panel Sets Beef Import Formula

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major step has been taken in Congress to work out a long-simmering dispute between the cattle industry and President Carter over the way imports of foreign beef are regulated.

Ways and Means Committee approved a bill Wednesday that would set up a so-called countercyclical formula for regulating the amount of meat — mainly lower-grade beef used for hamburger — that can enter the United States each year.

But the panel, which approved the bill on voice vote, also incorporated some changes that were sought by the administration as a condition of Carter accepting the measure.

Carter vetoed an effort last fall to change the meat-import law because he said it would have tied him to formulas that did not take into account all economic situations.

The herd rebuilding cycle is considered to be in the beginning stages following more than a year of rapidly rising retail beef prices. The higher prices are the markets response to herd reductions that ranchers began in 1975 because of low prices.

Little extra foreign beef is available to be shipped into the country at this time, industry and government experts say.

The bill calls for increased imports when domestic supplies are tight and prices high and reduced imports when U.S. cattlemen are marketing large numbers of animals.

Present law is just the reverse — higher import levels when supplies are heavy.

Under the current law, a president has wide discretion to suspend the formula that sets import levels and allow more meat to enter the country.

Last June, to the chagrin of cattle producers, Carter suspended the quotas so an additional 200 million pounds of beef could enter the U.S. market in 1978 to help cool the rise in hamburger prices.

Actual imports of quota-type meat last year totaled about 1.49 billion pounds, including the additional shipments allowed by Carter's suspension action.

Quotas also were suspended again for 1979 in favor of "voluntary restraint" agreements with foreign countries to hold imports at no more than 1.57 billion pounds.

The bill requires that at least 1.3 billion pounds be allowed for import a year, compared to the 1.2 billion floor sought by some key subcommittee members.

The 1.3 billion pound level, a condition Carter set for approval, was adopted by a 12-9 vote.

Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, chairman of the subcommittee, urged that the import floor of 1.3 billion pounds be approved "because two vital American institutions are involved — the hotdog and the hamburger — and this is the International Year of the Child."

By voice vote, the panel voted to allow Carter to override a new formula based on changes in U.S. cow slaughter if it does not reflect market disruption.

Deadly Weapons

Nun-chucks — Lethal, Illegal, Widespread

By PAUL SIMS
Managing Editor

An Oriental device often seen in movies about karate and kung-fu is being seen around Hereford more often these days, prompting a warning from police to teenagers who carry one.

They're nun-chucks, and if a person knows how to use them, they're a lethal weapon. Nun-chucks are made by connecting two identical lengths of pipe, dowel, broomhandle or other similar looking material by a short piece of chain or nylon cord.

They're deadly when a person knows how to use them," said Capt. Ray Morgan of the Hereford Police Department.

Morgan and Detective Vernon Hope displayed several varieties of nun-chucks, all confiscated recently from Hereford young people. One was made by hooking two foot-long table legs to a six-inch chain. Others were constructed from galvanized pipe, a broomhandle and pieces of smoothly rounded designed wood.

"They're beautiful to watch just in fun," Morgan said. "I saw one being used in a movie the other day. The guys move it so fast you can't even see it coming at you, then they catch it under their arm."

He demonstrated, somewhat clumsily, He held one end of the nun-chucks and whipped the other end around in a circle. "That's not the only way you can use them," Morgan said.

Hope placed a piece of pipe on each side of the reporter's neck and squeezed from behind. He didn't have to do it very hard for the reporter to know it was a dangerous weapon.

"If you know what you're doing, you can swing one end so fast, you can't even see it. It's like the wind. It's like swinging a baseball bat 'round and 'round, then someone gets in the way. It can crack a head or a rib or a wrist, and kill you," Morgan said.

"That's why it's against the law and why we need to inform the young people and parents about how dangerous it is," Hope said nun-chucks are classed as a "prohibitive weapon" and carrying one is a Class A misdemeanor.

"If you hit someone with nun-chucks, then it's not a misdemeanor anymore. It's assault. Or murder," Hope said.

"If we catch someone, they can be arrested and filed on in county court for possession of a prohibitive weapon. Or we can confiscate them," Morgan said.

"They're going to lose them either way," Hope added.

Morgan said nun-chucks are being seen more and more in Hereford. "We're going to have to do something soon. There's too many in town. I don't think we've ever caught anybody fighting with them yet, but it's bound to happen someday. And someone's going to get hurt," he said.

Senate Budget Differs

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — When senators begin debate possibly next week on the state's 1980-81 budget, they will start with a proposal that is $500 million more expensive than a House-passed version.

The $20.8 billion two-year budget approved Wednesday by the Senate Finance Committee also exceeds Gov. Bill Clements' proposal by $1 billion.

Jim Oliver, assistant director of the Legislative Budget Board, said the finance committee version will leave about $50 million "unobligated and available for other purposes."

Clements proposed a $19.8 billion budget and a plan to cut state taxes by $1 billion.

Finance committee totals that differ from the House version include:

- $269 million more in state funds for local school district.
- A 5.1 percent pay raise for state teachers, compared to 7 percent approved by the House.

- A 5.1 percent salary increase for district judges, compared to a 19.8 percent annual raise voted by representatives.

Once the Senate passes a budget bill, the versions of both chambers will be sent to a conference committee to work out differences.

Service Stations Set Closings

NEW YORK (AP) — Buying gasoline the weekend of May 17-20 may be difficult in many parts of the nation if service station owners are successful in their plans for a "gassless weekend" to protest federal controls on their prices.

The idea originated in California, where most dealers are expected by industry officials to participate, and since has spread to other states, including Connecticut, Illinois, Idaho, Iowa, Washington, Nevada, Louisiana and Arizona, according to officials of state dealer associations.

It is unclear, however, just how many dealers nationwide might participate in the proposed closing.

"If something isn't forthcoming from the Department of Energy, many dealers may join the movement," said Charles Matties, who operates an Exxon station in West Hartford, Conn.

"There's a definite feeling toward doing something," said Matties, a former president of the National Congress of Petroleum Retailers, an industry group that has refused to endorse the shutdown proposal.

The aim of the gassless weekend is to force the government to loosen controls on the mark-up gas stations are allowed to take on sales of gasoline. That mark-up, known as "dealer margin," cannot now exceed the amount it was in May 1973, plus 3 cents. Dealers also have been allowed to add small amounts to cover some other costs.

O'Neill Blasts Decontrol of Oil

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill says he won't stand in the way of those seeking to block President Carter from decontrolling U.S. oil prices even though their efforts may be in vain.

O'Neill's stance on the politically sensitive deregulation issue gave new impetus to an attempt by House liberals to keep price lids on oil.

He commented Wednesday after the House Commerce Committee failed by only one vote to attach a stop-decontrol amendment to a bill authorizing money for the Department of Energy.

The amendment by Rep. Toby Moffett, D-Conn., failed on a 21-21 tie vote. Both sides appeared surprised by how close the proposal came to being approved.

Moffett called the outcome a moral victory for foes of decontrol, who he predicted would prevail the next time a vote is taken.

"I would have voted with Moffett," O'Neill said when asked by reporters for his views on the close committee action.

It was the most direct attack the speaker has made on the president's initiative to raise U.S. oil prices to world levels.

In the past, O'Neill generally has supported Carter's plan, saying he could live with decontrol if a strong "windfall profits" tax were in place.

But O'Neill said Wednesday, "I've always been against deregulation." He added that if House liberals follow through with their plans to try to force a House vote on the issue "I wouldn't attempt to thwart them."

"Am I going to lobby for them? The answer is no," O'Neill added. "What do they gain?" he asked, suggesting that even if a blocked-decontrol bill passed in the House it likely would not win Senate approval.

O'Neill said he would rather spend his time trying to strengthen Carter's "windfall profits" tax on oil companies.

He said that as he reads the mood of House members, "they want a stronger windfall profits tax" than Carter's proposal for a tax which would take about 13 percent of the additional revenues oil companies would reap from decontrol over the next three years.

O'Neill said House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., shares his views and is prepared to "get out the strongest tax bill he can."

Carter's decision to lift price controls from oil starting June 1 does not require congressional approval.

Thus the only way Congress can block it is by passing a new law. Moffett's proposal would accomplish this indirectly, by prohibiting federal funds from being used to implement the decontrol plan in the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

In other energy developments Wednesday: —The government accused seven major oil companies of violating federal price controls on crude oil by overcharging their customers nearly $1.7 billion during a 5 1/2-year period. The Energy Department said the money (See OIL, Page 2)

Committee Says Students Should Sit on Boards

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Local school boards would have the option of seating a student representative on each district's school board, a measure approved Wednesday by a Senate committee.

The measure by Sen. Carlos Truan, D-Corpus Christi, would allow a district's high school students to elect a senior as their official school board representative.

"At the present time, students are merely spectators and must receive permission from the chair to speak," Truan told the Senate Education Committee. "It is hoped this legislation would initiate interest among young people in the electoral process."

The student member, who would serve in a non-voting capacity, would be excluded from executive school board sessions, which include discussions of legal personnel, and disciplinary matters.

Each school board would have the option of holding an election for a student representative. The process also could be initiated by five percent of the registered voters in each district.

The bill was drafted at the request of the senior civics class at King High School in Kingsville, Truan said. Several Kingsville students testified in favor of the proposal.

"This is not a quest for power by the students," Randy Rapstein said. "It's an attempt to link communications between students and administration."

Rapstein said the representative would be effective in conveying and explaining school board actions to students.

Kimberly Scott, student body president of King High School, said, "As opposed to a decade of rebellion that we all remember, young people are now ready to sit beside their elders in helping to make decisions."

No witnesses testified against the measure which goes to the Senate floor for consideration.

Wholesale Prices Up, Though Food Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sharply higher prices for gasoline and heating oil helped push wholesale prices up 0.9 percent in April, despite the first decline in food prices in eight months, the government said today.

Although the increase in wholesale prices was the lowest in five months, it still showed inflation continuing at above 10 percent at the wholesale level. The April increase represents a compound annual rate of 11.5 percent. Prices had increased 1 percent in March and in February.

Food prices at the wholesale level declined 0.3 percent, the first drop since last August and an indication that the upward spiral in supermarket prices may be about over. Wholesale prices eventually are reflected in the prices consumers pay.

But the Labor Department said prices of goods other than foods increased 1.3 percent in April, the biggest monthly increase since October 1974.

The department said gasoline prices increased 4.0 percent and home heating-oil prices were up 6.7 percent.

The rise in gasoline and heating oil prices reflects a partial shortage of petroleum products resulting from the cutback in Iranian oil production.

President Carter's proposal to decontrol domestic oil prices is certain to push fuel costs even higher in months ahead.

The wholesale price changes were reported in the Labor Department's Brochure Price Index for finished goods — those which are ready for sale to the consumer.

The department said the index in April stood at 211.1 percent of the 1967 average of 100, meaning that goods priced at $100 then had increased in price to $211.20 last month.

Wholesale prices had increased 10.3 percent in the 12-month period ending in April.

The increase in prices for goods other than food showed that the nation will continue to have serious problems with inflation even after the upward spiral in food prices eases. However, administration officials expect inflation will begin (See PRICES, Page 2)

Farm Edition Scheduled For Sunday

The Hereford Brand's annual salute to agriculture edition will be presented Sunday.

The tabloid edition will feature agriculture-related messages from local merchants, in addition to numerous news articles on the various aspects of local agri-industries.

Among featured articles in this year's special edition are items on modified minimum tillage, a revival of High Plains cotton production, windmills get a second look, comments on cattle feeding, the role of the modern cowboy, and comments on dryland farming, in addition to tips for better soybean production.

Also included is the annual crop projection by John Fuston, Deaf Smith County ASCS executive director, and Jim Steiert, Brand farm editor, which gives a picture of just how crop production should stack up here for this year.

Accompanying the articles will be numerous photos of local agricultural activities.

Q — I would like to know the total cost to the local taxpayer of the lawsuit against the Hereford school district. And how much did the election cost?

A — The school district had to pay slightly less than $1,500 in fighting the Texas Rural Legal Aid lawsuit, according to Superintendent Harrell Holder. That included $1,000 deductible for liability insurance (for attorney's fees) and miscellaneous expenses, such as plane tickets and meals. TRLA attorneys did not request that the school district pay court costs in the Dallas hearing. HISD officials reported that Saturday's special election cost approximately $885 to stage.

British Predict New Woman Leader

LONDON (AP) — Britons began electing a new government today with final opinion polls promising a Conservative victory and Europe's first woman prime minister after five years of Labor Party rule.

It was the 11th election of a House of Commons since World War II, and three polls forecast margins of 5.7, 6 and 7 percentage points for Margaret Thatcher's Conservatives over Prime Minister James Callaghan's Laborites.

This indicated the Tories should win 330 to 333 of the 635 seats in Commons, giving Mrs. Thatcher a majority of 25 to 30.

That would be the biggest majority for a British government since the Laborites won a 96-seat majority in 1966.

The Conservatives are the traditional supporters of business and free enterprise, and victory for them would mean a sharp turn to the right for Britain after moderate socialist rule under Labor, the traditional party of the workers and their unions.

Carson To Stay For Longer Time

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — America's insomniacs can have a sigh of relief — Johnny Carson says he's going to stay on the "Tonight Show." At least for a while. "I love doing this show," Carson told a cheering "Tonight" audience that gave him a standing ovation Wednesday night.

"Originally, I had expressed an intent to leave after our 17th year, which would have been Oct. 1 of this year. I intend to stay past that time," he said.

Carson said he was staying "not because of an extreme pressure from NBC. I could make that decision to leave, but I think I owe something to the show, and I think I owe something to NBC also."

"Besides," he added, "I would probably miss this show terribly and maybe regret walking away from it that quickly."

The 54-year-old Carson returned to "Tonight" after a two-week vacation, a period in which his reported intention to leave the program was a major topic of show business conversation. In patented Carson style, he milked the reports for laughs.

Tornado Kills 1 In Oklahoma Town

LAHOMA, Okla. (AP) — Tornadoes ripped through northwestern Oklahoma Wednesday, killing at least one person and wrecking a school, a city hall and damaging more than 100 homes. The state highway patrol estimated damage in Lahoma at more than $4.5 million.

The heaviest damage was reported in this tiny town of 299 residents, where the tornado struck at just before 6 p.m., ripping the roof from the school. The storm then left six inches of water in the building.

Authorities said more than 50 homes were damaged when the tornado swept through town, wrecking the city hall, school and a grain elevator.

Tornadoes also hit Enid, a city to the east of Lahoma, and the nearby communities of Meno, Perry Acres, Waukomis and Ringwood.

The storm that accompanied the tornadoes brought flooding and winds up to 75 mph in some areas. Baseball-size hail was reported smashing through windows near Waynoka.

The Oklahoma Highway Patrol office in Enid said a rural Meno woman died when a twister destroyed her house. Another resident of the house was rushed to a hospital.

No other injuries were immediately reported.

Woman Wins Suit For Navel Destruction

NEW YORK (AP) — A Manhattan jury awarded $850,000 Wednesday to a woman who complained that an internationally known plastic surgeon botched an operation to "tighten" her stomach and left her belly button two inches off center.

Virginia O'Hare, who maintains homes in Poughkeepsie and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., claimed the operation left her belly button "a large deformed hole in her stomach."

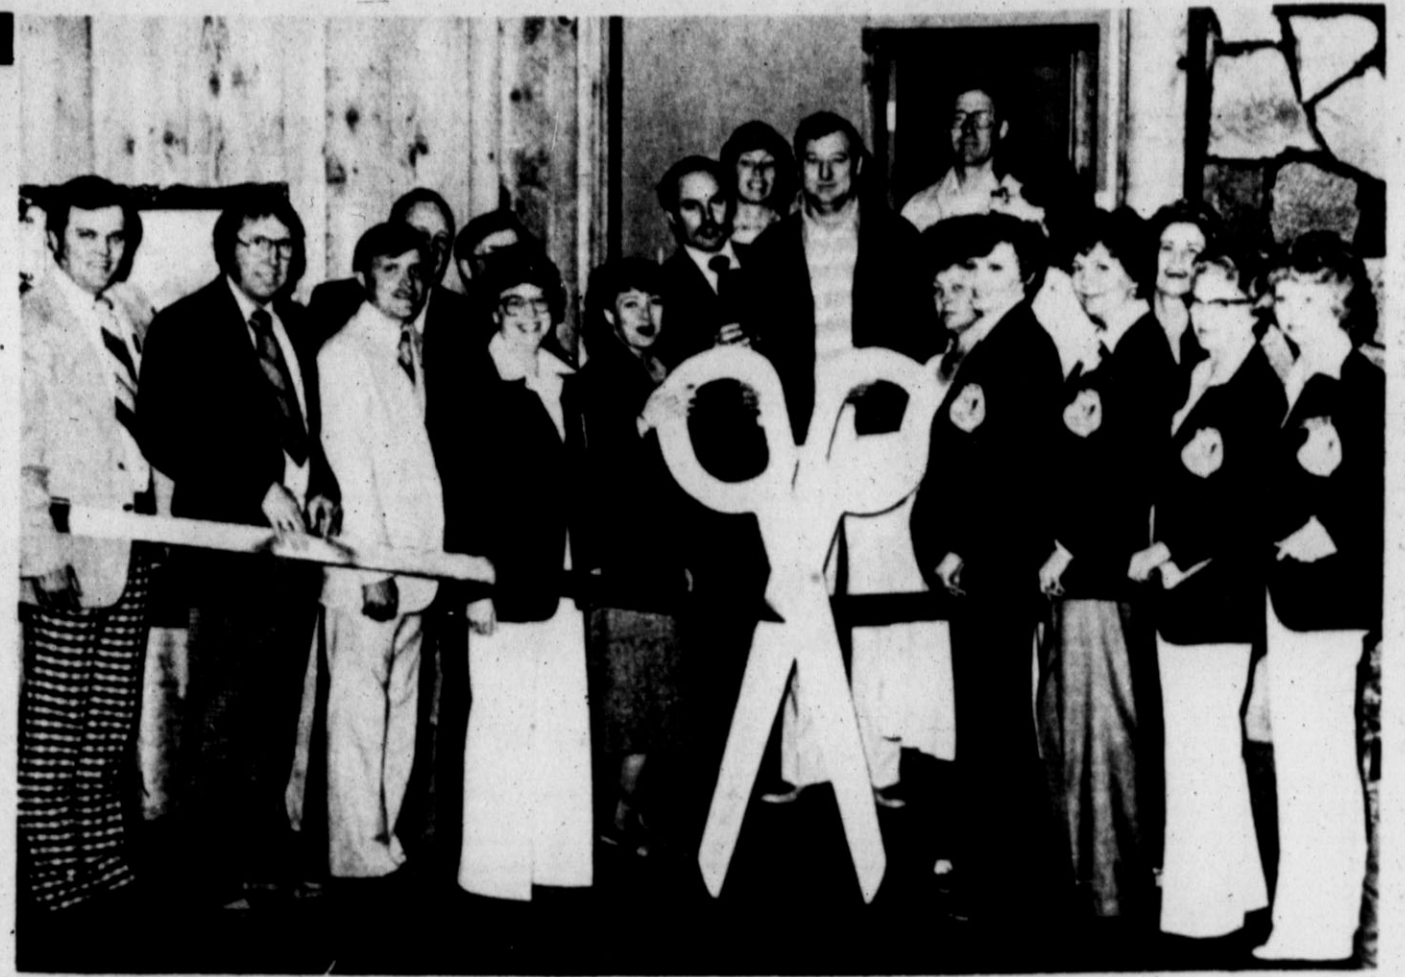

The jury of four men and two women deliberated for two hours in state Supreme Court in Manhattan before awarding the money to Mrs. O'Hare.

Mrs. O'Hare claimed she awoke "in extreme pain" following the operation by Dr. Howard Bellin at Manhattan's Midtown Hospital on Nov. 8, 1974.

"The umbilicus was off center," Mrs. O'Hare told the jury. Bellin's attorney, Steven E. North, claimed that the woman was a "schizoid" who had had several cosmetic operations.

United Way Nets Criticism

DALLAS (AP) — The United Way Charity association has monopolized on-the-job fund-raising and locked out charities that benefit the arts, education, environmental protection and women's rights, a smaller group of charities has charged.

The smaller group, comprising about 90 non-profit agencies, held a national convention here this week — the same time and in the same city as the United Way's national meeting.

"The bulk of the United Way money allocated each year goes to agencies involved in recreation — such as the YMCA — and to social service groups like the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army," said Robert O. Bothwell, executive director of the alternative group, the National Committee for Responsive Philanthropy.

"To the United Way, it's almost as if the consumer movement, the environmental health movement had never happened," said Bothwell, whose group includes the Sierra Club, the Mexican American Women's National Association, Common Cause, the Center for Community Change, the National Congress of American Indians, and the National Council of Negro Women.

The alternative group, formed three years ago, discussed ways to cash in on workplace solicitation, which Assistant Director Tim Saasta said is the easiest and cheapest way to raise money for charity.

"It is a very efficient way of raising money, much cheaper and more effective than direct mail," Saasta said. Bothwell disputed the argument that if his organization is allowed to compete for on-the-job solicitation it would be at the expense of contributions to United Way.

"When employees feel they have a choice in where their charitable contributions are going, the amount of money raised for charity has increased," Bothwell said. United Way officials, who concluded their convention here Tuesday, said they were aware of the rival group, but they disagreed with the group's characterization of United Way as an organization unresponsive to change.

"The issues that they are raising about the United Way are the same concerns that we are raising," said Frank Marzoff, senior vice president of field services for the United Way of America.

He said one of the items on the agenda of this year's United Way conference was "inclusiveness and how to deal with new and emerging agencies."

Balance The Budget?

With Proposition 13 in California, government by the people asserted itself.

Similarly, nationally, one state at a time, the federal government is being told that it should balance the budget, that it should be required to live within its income.

My goodness, how the members of Congress are squealing!

And the President has designated an "emergency task force" to fight for his right to spend your money limitlessly.

Generations of congressmen, while running for election, have talked about "economizing," about "balancing the federal budget."

But, once in office, lawmakers discover that the easy way to re-election is to purchase your vote with the money of your grandchildren.

Thus, under whatever administration, collectively we have gone deeper and deeper into debt.

Economists come up with all sorts of explanations for why deficit spending is good for us, but out in the grass roots there is a common sense about such things which contradicts the theoreticians. And thus the United States, 28 of them one at a time, have voted to summon a Constitutional Convention — thus to amend our Constitution, and to require our national leaders to balance our national budget.

With six more states, the President and the Congress may find themselves overruled. Then listen to the lawmakers and the bureaucrats and the parasites holler!

House Majority Whip John Brademas of Indiana says that requiring a balanced federal budget would be "as foolhardy as prohibition."

Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd of W. Va. calls a balanced budget "a simplistic solution," and he instead recommends raising the national debt still higher.

According to an AP-NBC survey the American people do want a balanced budget even if it requires cuts in federal programs they like.

Seventy-percent favor a constitutional amendment that would require balanced federal budgets.

Generations of economic theologians have argued that increased federal spending would beget more economic activity with greater tax returns to the government and less spending for welfare.

It has not worked that way. Now economic pragmatists are asserting that the only way to phase out the gravy train — which has encouraged idleness — and knock some cents back into our dollar is to demand that Uncle Sam spend no more than he takes in.

For politicians who must be re-elected periodically this poses a problem. Necessarily, budget balancing means higher taxes and/or some belt-tightening, either of which, however worthy the objective, is negative vote-bait.

So some members of Congress are threatening a cut-off in federal aid to those states that dare propose to limit the prerogatives of the federal government.

The most plausible objection to a Constitutional Convention came from Robert Orben. He says, "Constitutional Conventions tend to attract a lot of wild and crazy guys — people who have wooden teeth and wear wings and dress funny and fly kites in thunderstorms..."

to ease at all levels by summer and continue to improve during the rest of the year.

April's 0.3 percent decline in food prices at the wholesale level followed four consecutive months in which those prices had advanced at more than one percent. The department said there were lower prices for pork, coffee, fresh vegetables and poultry.

Wholesale price changes are included in the Producer Price Index, which reports prices at three levels: the wholesale — or finished goods — level, when goods are ready for sale to the final user; the intermediate level, where they have received some processing; and the crude level, where goods have not yet received any processing.

The department said prices at the intermediate level were up 1.5 percent, the most in nearly five years, while prices for crude goods declined 0.4 percent, the first drop in more than a year.

Wholesale prices increased at a 14.1 percent annual rate in the first three months of the year; the largest quarterly rise in 4 1/2 years. Consumer prices increased at a 13 percent annual rate in the same period.

Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal acknowledged Wednesday that inflation has been much worse than expected this year, but he said it will take at least six months "and possibly longer"

Sen. A.R. "Babe" Schwartz, D-Galveston, objected to leaving any raises for college employees to the whims of administrators. He promised a floor fight to raise the ceiling to $20,000.

Sen. Bill Moore, D-Bryan, persuaded fellow committee members to add $330,000 for the biennium to raise researchers' salaries at the Texas A&M Agricultural Extension Service. His district includes Texas A&M.

Committee members also agreed to remove language already deleted by the House that would have prohibited use of state college facilities by homosexual organizations.

to the guidelines to work. April was the sixth month following announcement of the program by the president last October.

Blumenthal said the guidelines already have had some effect in restraining wages and prices, although he added it was "hard to prove." But he said the rate of inflation should begin to ease by summer and continued declining for the remainder of the year.

"If we stay the course, the program can be a success," he told a group of Michigan Democrats.

However, administration officials concede it is unlikely they will succeed in holding inflation to their original target for the year of 7.4 percent.

Alfred Kahn, the president's chief inflation adviser, has said previously he would personally consider the program a failure if inflation doesn't begin to ease by summer.

A decline in prices received by farmers in April gave the administration some hope that food prices would begin to ease after climbing at an annual rate of 17.6 percent at the consumer level during the first three months.

The 1 percent decline in farm prices was the first in five months. Prices eased for hogs, oranges, eggs, lettuce and milk.

If the upward spiral in food and other prices doesn't begin easing soon, administration officials feel all hope will

Former Future Is Now Creed Hurts Redskins

NEW YORK (AP) - The Buffalo Bills began the 44th Annual National Football League Draft today by selecting Ohio State middle linebacker Tom Cousineau.

It took less than a minute for the Bills to make the selection, using a pick they received from San Francisco in the trade last year that sent running back O.J. Simpson to the 49ers.

The 6-foot-2 1/2, 230-pound Cousineau, whose hero is former Chicago Bears linebacker Dick Butkus, has been compared to another Ohio State product, Denver all-pro linebacker Randy Gradishar.

The Bills also had the No. 5 pick in the opening round.

Reaction from more than 200 spectators packed the roped-off gallery in the Starlight Roof ballroom on the 18th floor of the swank Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, was rather subdued, apparently waiting for the picks of the hometown New York Giants and Jets.

The Kansas City Chiefs, as expected, then went for defensive line help, taking Colorado State tackle Mike Bell, whose value did not diminish despite a late-season knee injury.

The Cincinnati Bengals, perhaps jolting the hopes of the Giants, took Washington State quarterback Jack Thompson as the third pick. That brought a rousing reaction from the crowd booing, cheering, and some taunts directed toward the Giants' table.

The Giants had the No. 7 pick. Thompson, nicknamed the "Throwin' Samoan" because his family moved from American Samoa to the United States when he was 4, passed for an NCAA record 7,818 yards in four seasons and ranks among the all-time career leaders in total offense, completions and touchdown passes.

As the names rolled by, one by one, one dozen after another, they were duly noted by the Washington Redskins, who could do no more.

George Allen's "The future is now" philosophy came home to roost today.

While the rest of the National Football League's 28 teams went through the annual rite of rebuilding, the Redskins sat helplessly by as one blue-chipper after another went from the college ranks to the high-priced rosters of the pros.

Normally, you can count the gilt-edged players in any draft on one or, perhaps, two hands. And by the end of the second round, you can be certain virtually every star will be gone. But today, Washington had to wait until the fourth round - the 103rd player - before making its first selection. In all, Washington has only five picks in this draft, the fewest in NFL history.

Allen didn't believe in youth movements. He wanted veterans, and was willing to deal away draft choices by the bushel in order to get them. He believes in instant success. The future was, indeed, now, he believed.

But now he is gone - along with so many of the rookies that might have been his.

When he arrived in Washington in 1971, he immediately began acquiring proven talent in exchange for potential. He was looking for instant success and he got it, guiding the Redskins to the most victories they had achieved in 29 seasons and into the playoffs for the first time in 26 years.

The next year was even better - an 11-3 record, a division title, playoff victories over Green Bay and Dallas and a berth in the Super Bowl. Only a loss to the Miami Dolphins in the championship game soured that season.

Allen and the "Skins were riding high. They had their believers. Allen's philosophy seemed to be a sound one.

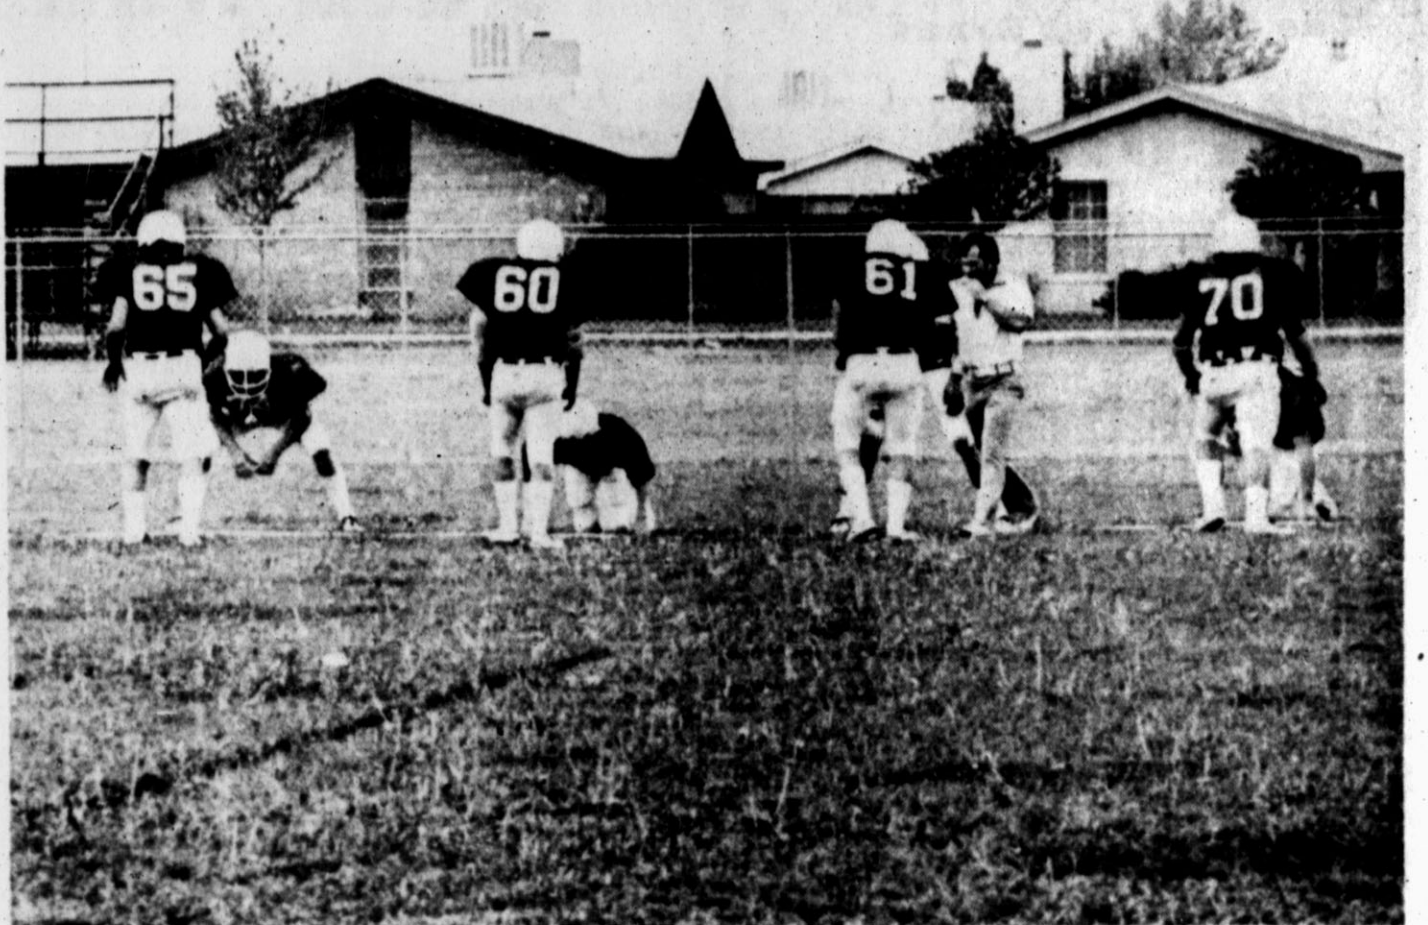

But although he didn't know it, it was his last hurrah.

The Redskins had a few more winning seasons and twice more made the playoffs. But age started to catch up with them. The veterans were perhaps a step slower, yet there was nobody faster on the bench.

The team's downfall was dramatic and after the 1977 season, Allen was dismissed.

Jack Pardee, who had breathed life into the stagnant Chicago Bears, took over. But he inherited a club in a virtual vacuum. He had almost nothing on which to build a future and paid for it last season, when the Redskins stumbled to an 8-8 record.

For the Washington Redskins, a future that never arrived may now be further away than ever.

Block Your Man

The start of spring training for the Hereford Whitefaces is the beginning of sore bodies and long hours learning the fundamentals of blocking.

Whiteface coach Kenny Barnes is working with the linemen teaching the basics of clearing the way for the running backs.

Spring training is off to an excellent start Coach Don Cumpston reported after the third day of workout had been completed. There are 158 individuals out for football this spring, with 72 freshmen reporting.

Of the first year kids, eleven of them are working with the varsity and the rest are working in shorts getting ready for the pads.

The varsity has only eight lettermen back from last year's team so there will be holes to fill by the incoming crop of players from the junior varsity, sophomore, and freshman teams.

"Right now all positions are open," Coach Cumpston said, "and we probably won't know a whole lot more for another week or so."

The coaching staff is working five people at the quarterback spot. James Valdez, senior, Derek Dirks and Norman Hill-juniors and Matt Collier and Alan Wartes-sophomores.

They also have eight running backs going for the two spots in the veer offense, with returning letterman Joe Walker and converted defensive player Joe Mitchum along with Edward Dominguez, Arthur Gonzales, Brent Self, Harold Terry, Ray Harris and Norman Brown taking a shot at the positions.

Coach Cumpston said the attitude is fantastic and the kids will learn and win will help to offset the lack of returning lettermen.

Hockey Team Worried

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) - Officials of the New Haven Nighthawks are worried that the fans who want to see the upcoming American Hockey League's Calder Cup playoffs will see a circus.

The Nighthawks have won the Southern Division title and await the outcome of the Northern Division semifinals between Maine and Nova Scotia. The Mariners lead the best-of-seven series 3-2, with the sixth game scheduled in Nova Scotia on Wednesday.

But when the finals arrive, there may be no place to complete them immediately because of the Ringling Brothers, Barnum, and Bailey Circus, say officials with the New Haven Club.

"If Maine wins Wednesday, the earliest the first game could be played would be Saturday night in Maine with the second game on Sunday afternoon in New Haven," said Nighthawks spokesman Jeff Russell.

In addition, a home show is booked for the New Haven Coliseum for the following week.

Club officials are scheduled to meet with New Haven Mayor Frank Logue, today on the issue.

ST. LOUIS (AP) - A pesky head cold kept John Denny in distress while warming up to take on the batting order of the Houston Astros.

but his greater tribulation was yet to come as Denny, a tall St. Louis Cardinals right hander, survived early problems to notch his second triumph on an eight-hitter Wednesday night.

That Denny, 22, was around to finish the Cards' 5-2 victory served as a tribute to grit. "Everything was bad," he complained of a faulty start marked by three walks, a balk, Cesar Cedeno's RBI double and a wild pitch during the Houston first inning.

"When I started off like I did, I knew that I was just going to have to reach back. I didn't have much. I had a good defense, though. The guys made the plays."

The defense to which Denny referred bailed him out of deeper trouble after Cedeno doubled home Craig Reynolds with one out and took third on the wild pitch.

Jose Cruz then walked and stole second, setting up an intentional walk to Enos Cabell. Bob Watson followed with a scorching drive which shortstop Garry Templeton grabbed and converted into the first of two St. Louis double plays.

Another double play followed a walk to Reynolds in the third, and Keith Hernandez' strong throw cut down Cruz at third base after Cabell singled into the hole at short.

No defense could negate

Watson's leadoff homer in the Astros' fourth. But after Reynolds singled to start the fifth, Denny stiffened.

He set down 13 subsequent batters in a row, permitting only Art Howe's harmless single with one out in the ninth.

"When I went to the mound," catcher Ted Simmons recalled of a mid-game conference, "he just said he was going to try to gut it out - and he did."

By persevering, Denny reaped the benefit of misfortune which befell Houston right hander Ken Forsch, 3-1, in the fifth.

The Cards' Dane Iorg reached first when Reynolds, the Astros' shortstop, dropped his grounder. Ken Reitz grounded out, but Mike Tyson doubled home Iorg and scored one out later on Templeton's single.

That shoved St. Louis in front 3-2. Later, Simmons' RBI single and a sacrifice fly by George Hendrick fortified the Cards' edge.

Watson, who homered off a low Denny changeup for his first blast of the season, was ready - shruggingly - to give the St. Louis pitcher his due.

"If I get a base hit or whatever in the first inning, it's a whole different ball game

Connors Wins With Less Than His Best

DALLAS (AP) — Jimmy Connors said it wouldn't be any fun if he was perfect all the time.

And the world's No. 2 player was far from flawless Wednesday night in a World Championship of Tennis quarterfinal victory over hustling Gene Mayer, currently ranked No. 55.

Connors prevailed 6-7, 6-1, 6-4, 6-1 but it took two and one-half hours and a good deal of frustration in his first meeting ever with the 23-year-old New Yorker, who plays all shots two-footed with an oversized racket.

Connors will play 20-year-old John McEnroe in the semifinals Friday night. The survivors for the other semifinal match will be determined tonight when defending champion Vitas Gerulaitis meets Brian Gottfried and No. 1 ranked Bjorn Borg plays Australian Geoff Masters.

"I wish I could be at the top of my game all the time but it is the mark of a champion to win when you aren't playing great tennis," said Connors. "Now, it wouldn't be any fun at all if I was at the top of my game all the time. There's an extra special feeling about winning when you aren't playing well.

"It's very difficult for anybody to keep at the pinnacle of his game all the time. I have my slumps. I just started hitting the ball cleanly in the last three sets tonight. I hadn't hit it well in about two weeks."

Mayer, known more as a doubles player, took the first set away from Connors in a tiebreaker, 7-2. The final two points were aces.

"I served well but the old Jimmy of 1974 and 1975 finally caught up with me," said Mayer, playing Connors for the first time. "Back in 1974 and 1975 Jimmy played every game good and solid. He still has his brilliant moments but you don't see the same Jimmy you saw before. Sometimes his forehand falls apart. He used to hit every ball 100 miles an hour."

Mayer added "I made a mistake by trying to trade hard shots with Jimmy. I should have mixed it up more. That's what Borg does."

Asked McEnroe's chances against Connors, Mayer said "John has a chance but I still believe mentally he doesn't believe he will beat Jimmy."

Connors said McEnroe "has a ways to go. He's finding out what it is like to play with the pressure of people expecting him to win."

Connors was asked about his motivation since he has won every major title.

Grinning, Connors replied "I got three mouths to feed now I better have motivation."

Connors' wife is pregnant.

HOUSTON (AP) — John Mahaffey will be playing in pain this week when he tries a comeback in the $300,000 Houston Open Golf Tournament.

"Sure it hurts, it hurts like hell," the current PGA national champion said of a damaged left hand and that has kept him out of action for the last three months. "But I'm going to play this week even if I shoot 100."

"I'm just going to tough it out. I'll play for a week or so and see what happens. I'm sick and tired of sitting at home."

Mahaffey won the Ben Hogan award last year for his dramatic comeback from injuries. He won the PGA, won again the following week, capped off the season with a victory in the World Cup, then opened the 1979 campaign with a triumph in the first tournament of the year, the Bob Hope.

A couple of weeks later, however, he injured the hand coming out of a bunker in the Bing Crosby tournament and hasn't played since. He attempted a comeback two weeks ago in the Tournament of Champions, tried a practice round at La Costa and found the hand was still too painful.

And it remained painful. After hitting a shot from the practice club at the Woodlands Country Club Tuesday, Mahaffey gasped and bent over in pain.

Unable to practice for months, his hands have become soft. Despite the use of a golf glove, it was only a matter of minutes before he'd developed a bleeding blister on the palm of the left hand. Mahaffey taped a bandage across it and continued practice.

"I've just got to tough it out," he said again. "It's either that or put it in a cast for 6-8 weeks and I don't want to do that."

While Mahaffey, a product of the University of Houston and a local resident, will draw attention from a big gallery of friends and family, the favorite's role is shared by Bruce Lietzke and Lee Trevino, two of the four men who tied for second behind Hubert Green last week in the New Orleans Open.

It was the second consecutive week Lietzke had finished as a runner-up. "I'm a little disappointed," the cross-handed putter said. "But if you keep on putting yourself in position to win, eventually it's going to happen."

Trevino obviously is at the top of the game. He played the entire 72 holes last week without a bogey. "I'm playing very, very well right now," he said.

Other standouts in the 156-man field that will test the 6,997-yard, par 72 Woodlands course include defending titleholder Gary Player of South Africa, Tom Weiskopf, recent winner Chi Chi Rodriguez, U.S. Open champ Andy North, Arnold Palmer, Hale Irwin, Lon Hinkle, Mark Hayes and veterans Julius Boros and Roberto DeVicenzo, who teamed to win the Legends of Golf event last week.

NBC will provide national television coverage of portions of the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Ryan Wins Duel With Guidry

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer

Giving up just one run and five hits, you'd normally expect to win a baseball game.

Unless, of course, the opposing pitcher is Nolan Ryan. At the top of his form, the star of the California Angel staff is hard to beat — as he was Wednesday night. New York's Ron Guidry was as stingy as ever, yet wound up getting burned by Ryan's flamethrower and lost a 1-0 decision in Anaheim.

"I didn't throw the ball very well at the beginning," said Ryan after his fifty-six-hitter, "but the longer I threw, the more confidence I got."

Ryan had been removed from his last two starts because of a groin injury, but it didn't seem to bother the hard-throwing right-hander against the defending world champions.

"I wore a rubber sleeve on my right leg to keep the moisture and the heat in," noted Ryan. "It worked."

In other American League games, the Milwaukee Brewers beat the Cleveland Indians 6-1; the Boston Red Sox stopped the Oakland A's 2-1; the Baltimore Orioles routed the Seattle Mariners 9-3; the Minnesota Twins defeated the Toronto Blue Jays 7-5 and the Texas Rangers nipped the Kansas City Royals 3-2. Raif postponed the Detroit-Chicago game.

Terry Humphrey scored California's only run on a double by Jim Anderson in the third inning off Guidry, 2-2. A sellout crowd of 40,648 watched the strong pitching performance by two of baseball's best hurlers. Ryan, 4-1, struck out seven and walked two while Guidry fanned nine batters and walked three.

Humphrey singled with one away in the third inning and Guidry struck out Orlando Ramirez before Anderson doubled to left-center to score the game's lone run.

"We played the powers from the East and proved we can play with them," said Ryan, whose Angels took two out of three games from both Boston and New York. "The fans are getting confidence in us."

Brewers 6, Indians 1

Gorman Thomas slapped four singles to lead a 14-hit Milwaukee attack and Moose Haas posted his first major league victory in more than a year as the Brewers defeated Cleveland.

Haas, 1-1, struck out six, walked three, and allowed only five hits in going the distance for his first victory since April 12, 1978, before he tore a muscle in his pitching arm.

Cleveland loser Wayne Garland, 0-3, was tagged for three runs and eight hits before he was relieved by Dan Spillner with none out in the fourth.

"I'm still not all the way back, but the first step is the most important," said Haas. "I didn't let the injury get me down and I never doubted myself. I knew the muscle would heal and with a little patience and a lot of work, I knew I would get things together."

Red Sox 2, A's 1

Dwight Evans' solo home run in the eighth inning provided the winning run and Mike Torrez hurled a four-hitter as Boston beat Oakland.

Twins 7, Blue Jays 5

Ken Landreaux drove in four runs with a pair of hits, leading Minnesota past Toronto. Landreaux drove in two runs with a single in the third inning and another two runs with a double in the fifth that gave the Twins a 5-4 lead.

Ron Jackson hit a solo homer in the fourth inning for the Twins as Dave Goltz picked up his third victory in six decisions after surviving a shaky start. Mike Marshall notched his ninth save when he came on in the eighth inning to relieve Goltz.

Orioles 9, Mariners 3

Billy Smith knocked in three runs. John Lowenstein blasted a three-run homer and Mike Flanagan and Don Stanhouse combined on a seven-hitter as Baltimore beat Seattle.

Smith had a two-run single in the second and a bases-loaded RBI groundout in the fifth. The Orioles smashed 15 hits off four Mariner pitchers while winning their 13th game in the last 14. They capped their scoring with a five-run ninth, three of them on Lowenstein's blast.

Offspring Looking Like Secretariat

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Not having the "big" horse in the Kentucky Derby has helped trainer LeRoy Jolley's disposition.

If his colt, General Assembly, springs an upset in Saturday's 105th running of the Derby, Jolley might become downright charming. Jolley is making his fifth Derby try and has won with favored Foolish Pleasure in 1975 and finished second with another favorite, Honest Pleasure, when Bold Forbes won in 1976.

The pressure of having the Derby favorite had made LeRoy anything but jolly during those times.

The veteran trainer, however, was "pleased at General Assembly's final workout Wednesday.

"Maybe we can get history to repeat itself," said Jolley, who secretariat was clocked in a swift 57.2 seconds for five furlongs and 1:10.1 for six furlongs while pulling up at Churchill Downs.

General Assembly seems to run best after he works best, somewhat like Foolish Pleasure and Secretariat," said Jolley. "General Assembly seemed to like the track. I hope the conditions Saturday are just like they were this morning."

He looks like Secretariat and runs fast. Secretariat is the best horse I ever saw," he said.

Secretariat's final workout for the 1973 Derby also came on Wednesday and the champion colt registered a 58.3-5 over a sloppy track.

Oliver Hits Royals Robinson Rips Braves Pitching To Lead Rangers

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Smooth-talking, smooth-swinging Al Oliver may raise some eyebrows among Rod Carew fans, but he says he knows exactly what it's going to take for him to win the American League batting title.

"A little luck," said the Texas Rangers centerfielder. Oliver, who swears Kansas City pitchers are always hard on him, collected two hits Wednesday night as the Rangers took a rain-soaked, 3-2 victory over the Royals. His 425-foot solo home run in the fifth provided the winning margin for Steve Comer, 2-3, gave the Rangers a 2-1 margin in the first season series between the two Western division rivals and hiked his batting average to .371.

"If I get some luck," Oliver said of the batting race, "it's no contest. No one hits the ball better. A few breaks are all I need."

Oliver's .324 average last year was the best ever by a Ranger and the third best in the major leagues behind Pittsburgh slugger Dave Parker's .334 and Carew's .333.

"I've never had any luck," Oliver said. "That's why I never did it. I'm going to hit the ball hard almost every day. On the days I don't, you can credit the pitchers." Royals starter Dennis Leonard, 3-3, went the distance and took the loss after Oliver slugged his first offering of the fifth inning over the centerfield wall.

"Just before I went up, I told Mike Jorgensen, 'The only way I'm going to get a base hit off these guys is to hit one out,'" Oliver said. "Their defense is super. They pitch me well and play me according to the way they pitch me. These guys are tough."

After Oliver lined out in the first to Frank White, who turned a sparkling double play, Buddy Bell singled home Johnny Grubb for the Rangers' first run in the first inning. The Rangers added a run in the fourth on Pat Putnam's double and Bill Sample's sacrifice bunt, then Oliver tagged Leonard for what turned out to be the winning run.

The Royals, who closed out a 7-3 home stand, picked up a run on Amos Otis' infield single and Comer's bases-loaded walk in the fifth.

Sparky Lyle came on in the sixth and notched his fourth save.

Royals' Manager Whitey Herzog was impressed with the 1979 Rangers and agrees they could be a factor in the Western Division.

"I guess it all boils down to their shortstop, if he can play," he said in reference to rookie Nelson Norman, who collected a single and sacrifice Wednesday night. "We could have won all three games. We had our chances tonight. We just didn't swing at many good pitches."

By MARV SCHNEIDER

Pittsburgh's Bill Robinson went into the game determined to have a good time, which, lately, has been a rarity for him. But this time, he had a ball. Robinson belted a pair of two-run homers and went 3-for-5 as Pittsburgh ripped the Atlanta Braves 10-2 Wednesday night. With two swipes of his bat, Robinson doubled his home run production for the season.

"I was perfectly relaxed," he explained. It has been a long time between laughs for the 6-foot-2, 200-pound slugger, who will be 36 next month. Last year, when he was hampered by an early-season injury, his batting average plunged 58 points below his major league high of .304 in 1977, and this spring, Robinson lost his left field job to the John Milner-Lee Lacy tandem. When he did get chances to hit, he didn't make the most of them. He took a 232 batting average into Wednesday night's game as a replacement at first base for Willie Stargell, who was resting an ailing hip. Robinson said he made up his mind before the game, that, & "I was going out there and have fun. It didn't matter if I got five hits or made five outs."

Robinson's night for fun came on a relatively quiet National League program. In the only other games scheduled, the Cincinnati Reds beat the Chicago Cubs 4-1, with Mike LaCoss pitching perfect ball for the first five innings, and the St. Louis Cardinals downed Houston 5-2, scoring two runs after a fifth-inning error by Astros shortstop Craig Reynolds.

Robinson belted his first homer of the game off Mickey Mahler in the first inning after Dave Parker had doubled. "Mahler threw me a change up that came in real fast," Robinson recalled. "It went out." He chipped in with a single in the third inning when the Pirates scored five runs and chased Mahler, then had some more fun in the fourth inning. Parker again was on base, on a fielder's choice, when Robinson slammed homer No. 2 off reliever Frank LaCorte.

Spurs Take Series Against 76ers

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The San Antonio Spurs have earned a playoff rematch with the Washington Bullets. And veteran Louie Dampier says the Spurs will show up this year without the playoff monkey that's been on their backs for a decade.

With emergency starter Mike Green hitting nine crucial fourth-quarter points and guided by the seldom-used Dampier, the Spurs shaded the 76ers 111-108 Wednesday night in the decisive seventh game of an NBA Eastern Conference semifinal series.

The Central Division champion Spurs have qualified for either the ABA or NBA playoffs in 11 of the franchise's 12 years, but hadn't won a series since 1968 when they were the ABA's Dallas Chaparrals. They also won the Central Division last year and got a bye into the second round, only to be eliminated by Washington in six games. There was grumbling about a playoff jinx.

"It's just a nice thing to finally get the monkey off our back," said the 34-year-old Dampier, who hit two fourth quarter jumpers and quarter-backed the Spurs' late surge. "The jinx ended right here tonight." San Antonio's George Gervin said after the game. "A lot of people said we couldn't win, but we all had faith in ourselves," said forward Larry Kenon.

The Spurs, who had frittered away a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven series led the 76ers by as many as 18 points in the second period and nine at halftime.

But the 76ers, led by Julius Erving, had clawed back, taking a 104-101 lead with 2:33 remaining. The 6-foot Dampier, who had played briefly in only two games of the series, connected on an 18-foot jumper and Mark Olberding had a free throw to knot the score.

Green, starting in place of injured Billy Paulz, then hit a pair of free throws and a jumper and Gervin had two other free throws to put the game out of reach.

"Mike Green and Louie Dampier came through and really won the ballgame for us," said San Antonio Coach Doug Moe. Dampier was pressed into service because starter James Silas was in foul trouble and reserve Mike Gale wasn't shooting well.

"We really didn't really expect that out of Green," said Philadelphia forward Bobby Jones. "But I played with him my first year in the league at Denver and I knew he was a clutch player."

"Green played excellent basketball," said Philadelphia Coach Billy Cunningham. "We were up by three with about two minutes to go. In the last two minutes it was anybody's game. We had the opportunity to win."

Gervin had 33 points and Kenon added 27. Green finished with 18, but was credited with 20 because of an apparent error in the official boxscore.

As for the Bullets, the drained Moe savored a beer in each hand and smiled. "I don't even know we're playing Washington yet. As far as I'm concerned, they don't even exist at the moment. You just win a big game in a big series, you don't turn it off right away."

The series opens Friday night in Landover, Md.

Reds 4, Cubs 1

LaCoss' bid for a perfect game ended when he walked Barry Foote to start the Chicago sixth, then Ted Sizemore followed with a single. LaCoss, 2-0, gave up two more hits before leaving with two outs in the eighth. George Foster's double and Ray Knight's single drove in two of Cincinnati's runs.

"I made one or two bad pitches," said the 22-year old right-hander. "But other than that, I wasn't hit that hard."

SEOUL (AP) — The United States and six other countries will clash in the final round of the eighth World Women's Basketball Championship, beginning Friday at Seoul's Chamshil Gymnasium.

Canada, South Korea, Japan, France, Australia, and Italy qualified for the main round, through the preliminary round in three groups.

The defending champion Soviet Union and five other Communist countries boycotted the Seoul meet, apparently for political reasons, as they have no diplomatic ties with Seoul.

American will meet South Korea and France will play Australia in two final round games Friday. There are no games Thursday.

In Wednesday's action, Canada downed the Netherlands 84-58 and Korea beat Bolivia 106-38 in Group A play. In Group B, Japan whipped Senegal, 84-32 and France edged Brazil 76-64. Australia routed Malaysia 119-14 in Group C.

ATLANTA (AP) — A May 10 arbitration hearing on a contract dispute between the Atlanta Braves and third baseman Bob Horner has been moved from St. Louis to New York, according to Horner's agent, Bucky Woy.

Horner, the 1978 National League rookie of the year, is demanding about $300,000 a year for three years, but the Braves have offered substantially less. The arbitration hearing was called to settle the dispute.

Woy said the hearing date was placed in doubt, however, because of the illness of Braves General Manager Bill Lucas, who suffered a cardiac arrest and massive brain hemorrhage Wednesday.

ATLANTA (AP) — For Atlanta Coach Fred Creighton, more was lost than a shot at the National Hockey League championship when the Toronto Maple Leafs swept the Flames out of the first round of the playoffs this year.

Creighton lost his job. General Manager Cliff Fletcher announced Wednesday night that Creighton's contract would not be renewed for the upcoming season.

It was strictly a case of disappointment in not being able to advance in the playoffs, Fletcher said. "We want to win more hockey games. We've been in four playoffs now and have won only one game."

The Flames' playoff record under Creighton is 1-8. Overall, their playoff record is 1-12.

Creighton could not be reached for comment. DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Matt Seitz shot a one-under-par 71 Wednesday to assist Wichita State in taking the lead after the first round of the Missouri Valley Golf Tournament.

The second round, also scheduled for Wednesday, was interrupted by rain and will be completed Thursday.

Wichita State had a team total of 300. Garrett Deck's helped Tulsa stay close at 301.

McEnroe, Equal To The Best

DALLAS (AP) — John McEnroe Jr., equal to the best in the tennis world?

Australian John Alexander thinks so after the lesson he received Tuesday night in the opening quarterfinal match of the World Championship of Tennis finals.

John played tremendous tennis — equal to the best I've ever played against and that includes Rod Laver, Ken Rosewall, Bjorn Borg and Jimmy Connors," said Alexander after a straight set 6-4, 6-0, 6-2 whipping. "McEnroe certainly is in that category the way he played tonight."

The saucy 20-year-old McEnroe, simmering because officials moved his match up a day when Connors requested an extra 24-hour injury rest, soaked up Alexander's powerful serve with crackling backhand winners.

McEnroe, the youngest player in WCT history, never lost serve. The only thing he lost was the crowd when he exchanged words with a linesman in the third game of the first set.

"I wasn't happy that the crowd was against me but I'll try every point anyway," said McEnroe. "The call was wrong. I just don't think eight-tenths of the people knew what was going on."

McEnroe, who said he wasn't happy playing a day earlier, laughed when asked if he was glad now since he will receive two days' rest before meeting the winner of tonight's Connors Gene Mayer match.

"If I had lost I would have said it bothered me," said McEnroe, candidly. "But I told myself I had nothing to gain by not playing. This was the first time I had been in the WCT Finals. I wanted to play here."

McEnroe thought a minute and said, with a smile, "Who knows, I might be rusty Friday. . . not playing in two days is a long time."

The other quarterfinal matches in pursuit of the $100,000 first place prize will be held Thursday night with No. 1 seeded Bjorn Borg playing Geoff Masters and defending champion Vitas Gerulaitis meeting Brian Gottfried.

"Two years ago nobody knew me when I played here as a junior," said McEnroe. "I lost that match but learned something about playing before big crowds. I made the semifinals at Wimbledon two weeks later. The big crowds here helped prepare me."

Alexander, who said he was surprised by the way McEnroe returned serve, concluded "day-in and day-out Connors and Burg play better. But McEnroe is definitely capable of beating them."

Tennis Boom Still Growing

Americans are making a racket over tennis. The number of tennis players increased by a smashing 45 percent between 1973 and 1977, a boom unmatched by any other sports activity.

Tennis was considered to be a rich man's sport, but today, with courts springing up in communities all over the country and the availability of quality equipment at accessible prices, more and more people of every age are getting out on the court.

The United States Tennis Association (USTA), a not for profit membership organization, has been supporting the growth of tennis as a sport for everyone: amateurs, professionals, children, senior citizens. The USTA maintains an education and research center that offers a complete information service on instruction, films, publications, recreational tennis activities and facility development. For a free list of the USTA's publications, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to USTA.

FARM TIRE SERVICE AVAILABLE

The recent Crop Reporting Service projection of a 105-million bushel Texas wheat harvest in 1979—nearly double the 54 million bu. produced in drought stricken 1978, has prompted Texas wheat producers to step-up efforts to increase market demand overseas in order to turn the increased production into profits, according to C.L. Edwards, Panhandle, Chairman of the Texas Wheat Producers Board. He said that: "In order to keep demand strong so U.S. firms can make sales even in competition with larger world stocks, direct export subsidies from other exporting nations and more choosy buyers, the Board has hosted teams of buyers, millers, bakers and government purchasing agents from several countries recently, including Morocco, Romania, Egypt, and Malasia, in order to show them types and qualities of Texas wheat and to maintain liaison with individuals and firms involved in the wheat marketing system."

A six-man wheat trade team from Japan is visiting Amarillo this week under the sponsorship of the TWPB and in cooperation with Western Wheat Associates and the USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service. The six-man team is made up of various officials from the Japanese flour milling industry and one marketing specialist with WWA in Japan.

"Japan is a classic example of developing a market for U.S. agricultural commodities," according to Edwards, who pointed out that, "the six-man team visiting Texas is part of a continuing cooperative program which has made Japan one of the largest buyers of U.S. wheat in the world."

Bill Nelson, TWPB Exec. Vice President said, "Thirty years ago, per capita consumption of wheat in Japan was only about 30 pounds per year... today it surpasses 72 pounds." Nelson added, "This change did not just happen overnight, food habits were changed through programs and projects sponsored by U.S. wheat producers. Overseas markets must be cultivated, and serviced, sometimes over a long period of time, otherwise the desired export sales will not be forthcoming."

"The Japanese visit is even more critical considering the strong competition this year for the world's wheat markets from the monopoly wheat boards in Canada, Australia, Argentina and the EEC," Nelson said. "The world has 28 percent more wheat this year than last, and the buyer can usually pick and choose... depending on price, quality and service offered." Therefore, Nelson says the foreign consumer and buyer has to be sold on purchasing

U.S. wheat.

Chairman Edwards said "U.S. wheat farmers want to sell their product and they are organized to do that job. Texas wheat farmers support such activities of the Texas Wheat Producers Board through a 1/2 cent self-assessment on wheat deliveries at country elevators." Edwards added that before such programs were started in Texas in 1971, U.S. wheat exports had averaged less than 600 million bushels annually. Currently, over a billion bushels a year are exported, including 90 percent of all wheat marketed in Texas—virtually all the increase in countries where producer-supported on-going programs are underway."

While the Japanese Flour Millers team in the Amarillo area, they will visit an irrigated wheat farm and country elevators. Tuesday, the Japanese were led in a discussion of the current wheat situation as related to U.S. domestic and international trade policy and attended a conference on international wheat merchandising. They also attended a Wheat Quality Seminar, and visited the International Wheat Nursery at the Texas A&M Experiment Station at Bushland.

Walcott Board Backs Beef With Resolution

By JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

With criticism of beef and its cost growing more severe from some quarters, including government agencies, the board of trustees of a small school district in Deaf Smith County has taken action to indicate its continuing support of beef and the beef industry.

In a session earlier this week, members of the Walcott school board unanimously passed a resolution in support of beef, and voted to forward copies of the resolution to school board presidents throughout the Panhandle, in addition to area media.

The text of the resolution reads, "Recognizing the importance of the beef industry, and the fact that it is under attack from some sources, we resolve to continue serving beef in our school lunch program. We will provide beef products on the lunch menus equal to 70 percent of the food served. We will serve fresh beef from locally grown beef offered at markets. We therefore resolve to take any other steps that may be necessary to support the beef industry."

According to Eldred Brown of the Walcott school board, the measure was adopted in an effort to indicate support for an industry vital to the Panhandle.

Brown indicated the Walcott board is hoping their resolution will lead to similar actions by other Panhandle school boards, and will reach government agencies and other factions as a message of the support for maintaining beef-protein in school lunches.

In addition to Brown, other members of the Walcott board voting in favor of the resolution were Gaylon Jack, Gene Bradley, Bill Page, Jerry Teel, Dan Hall and Buel Monroe.

Deaf Smith County 4-H'ers were equalled only by fellow 4-H'ers from Moore County in the number of qualifying wins at the District I 4-H contest held at West Texas State University in Canyon last weekend.

A total of 15 Deaf Smith County 4-H members qualified for state 4-H contests at College Station June 5-6.

Deaf Smith and Moore County 4-H'ers had the most qualifying wins of any county with nine team and/or individual senior wins.

The county also had six first place junior teams and one second place team.

In order to qualify for state competition, a team or individual must have a first or second place finish in the senior division, open to youth 14 years of age and over.

Juniors do not compete beyond the district level.

Livestock teams led off competition in their events a week earlier in the district contest, and the local senior horse judging team finished first in overall competition. Team members include Casey Cobb, Shelley Gerk and Shawn Wyly.

Miss Gerk was high individual in the overall contest and also high individual in halter.

Wyly was fifth high individual overall and tied for third in performance. Cobb was seventh high individual overall.

The junior horse team of Ginger Baker, Todd Bradley, Jana Johnson and Stana Slagle was third. Miss Baker was third high individual in halter, and Jodi McElhane judged as an individual in the junior division.

The senior livestock judging team, composed of Randy Vogel, Kent Hicks and Brent Self finished third overall with placings of second in sheep, and third in swine and beef cattle.

Vogel was fourth high individual overall, and tied for second in beef cattle, third in swine, and fourth in sheep. Hicks was fourth in beef cattle.

The junior livestock judging team finished sixth in the competition. Team members include Rickie Vogel, Kirk Sparkman and Brett Baldwin. Sparkman was high individual in swine, and the team finished with the high score in the swine division.

In other senior competition, Randy and Gary Vogel were first in Beef Cattle Junior Symposium. LeAnne Hughes was first in Electric Demonstration. Becky Hughes was second in Food and Nutrition, and Cynthia Streun and Glenna West were second in Horticulture Preparation and Use.

Karen Jones and Kathy Geiger were second in senior poultry demonstration, Brenda Tackitt was second in senior Share-the-Fun, Kent Hicks was second in senior Sheep and Goats, and Phylecia Rowland was third in senior Clothing Educational Activity.

In the junior division, Leslie and Robin Conkright were first in Community Improvement, Julie Sims and Natalie Sims were first in Dairy and Kristy Powell and Polly West were second in Clothing Educational Activity.

Also in the junior division, Brant and Wendy Reid were first in landscape horticulture, Allison Lady and Michelle Mason were first in Food and Nutrition, Andrea Wall and Kandi Sparkman were first in poultry demonstration and Bliss Burdett and Kamille Martin were first in hand skills.

New District I 4-H Council officers were also installed last weekend by Phil Moreman of Donley County.

Phylecia Rowland of the Deaf Smith 4-H was installed as the 1979-80 secretary-treasurer for the District I Council.

Top Vo-Ag Students To be Honored

The annual FFA parent-member banquet will be conducted Tuesday, May 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Hereford High School cafeteria.

Top members of the Hereford FFA chapter will be honored during the dinner, and a new slate of officers installed.

Highlighting the event will be the naming of the recipient of the DeKalb award, which is presented to the top senior in production agriculture, and the naming of the "Honorary Chapter Farmer," an award presented to an adult each year by the chapter in recognition of support and service to the FFA.

Other award presentation will include the Star Agribusiness-man, presented to the top cooperative student, and the Star Chapter Farmer and Star Greenhand awards.

Presentations in livestock and crop enterprises, scholastic achievement and individual accomplishment will also be featured.

Included among special awards will be a presentation by The Hereford Brand of the second annual "FFA Comeback Award," which goes to a local FFA member who has overcome long odds to achieve success in a project enterprise.

The program for the banquet will feature a slide presentation on chapter activities during the past year.

Grass Teams Competing Today

The Deaf Smith County 4-H grass teams are competing in the District I 4-H Range and Pasture Grass Identification contest today in Silverton.

Members of the senior team in Silverton include Christie Beene, Jenness Self, Deanna Stokesberry and Barbara Brumley.

Junior division competitors include Tori Self, Melissa Brumley and Crystal Finley.

Lloyd to Give Program On Beef Muscling

Billy Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lloyd of the Milo Center area and a graduate of Adrian High School and Texas A&M will present a demonstration on muscle and fat structure of cattle during the 18th stockholders meeting of Iowa Beef Processors in Amarillo Saturday.

The session is scheduled for 2 p.m. at the Amarillo Civic Center, and will be open to the public.

Lloyd is now teaching and working with the meats department of Colorado State University.

In Saturday's demonstration, he will use two frozen cattle carcasses, one of which will retain an intact hide.

Other features of Saturday's meeting will be reports and discussion by IBP President Robert L. Peterson and other IBP officials on company plans to expand operations, controversial issues concerning IBP and the "yellow sheet," and other issues. IBP officials will answer questions from the audience during the session.

Why cotton growers are switching to TEMIK.

You get early season insects, mites, and nematodes all with TEMIK.

That includes aphids, thrips, mites, plant bugs, fleahoppers and root-knot and reniform nematodes. Unlike sprays, Temik® aldicarb protects every part of the plant systematically. So just one at-planting application consistently controls insects for up to 10 weeks. And with properly maintained equipment, applying Temik® won't slow down planting.

Legion Auxiliary Learns About Personal Heritage

The Hereford American Legion Auxiliary Unit #192, met Tuesday evening in the American Legion Hall. Mrs. Lawrence Carlson called the meeting to order and conducted the opening ceremony.

Mrs. Tom Draper introduced the speaker for the evening, Mrs. Garth Thomas who gave an interesting and informative program on individual heritages. She stressed the marking of all pictures and family possessions with names, dates and other data to make the article of value to the next generation.

The hospital chairman, Mrs. Ira Ott reported the group will host a game party in the V.A. hospital on Monday, May 14. Cookies and punch will be served. A health fair will be held May 12 and each individual is invited to attend.

A letter was read from Legion Dept. Commander George Skelly concerning a disaster fund that has been set up to aid veterans' families in the Wichita Falls and Vernon area, recently hit by a tornado. The group voted to donate $250 to the fund.

May 30th was set aside as Poppy Day. Members will be offering the Memorial Poppy to the public. This year's collection will be dedicated to the disaster area.

Argen Draper, Virginia Adams and Troyce Hanna were elected to serve on a nominating committee to offer a slate of officers to be elected in June. A committee of Mmes. Ott, Hanna and Trowbridge will begin next week to bring the list of deceased veterans up to date. This is in preparation for the placing of American flags on veterans' graves on Memorial Day. Betty Carlson and Troyce Hanna gave a report on the 18th District meeting held recently in Claude.

The scholarship chairman Argen Draper presented a list of four graduating seniors who are seeking the $250 scholarship offered by the auxiliary. The name will be withheld until the award ceremony at Hereford High School May 16.

Twenty Auxiliary members merged with members of the American Legion for refreshments and fellowship following the meetings.

Taking District Honors

Deaf Smith County and Moore County 4-H'ers captured the most qualifying wins of any county competing Saturday in the 1979 District 4-H contest at West Texas State University. The local 4-H'ers tallied nine team and/or individual senior wins, plus six first place junior teams and one second place junior team. Pictured here, from left, are Brenda Tackitt, second place, senior,

Share-The-Fun; Becky Hughes, second place, senior, food and nutrition; Allison Lady and Michelle Mason, first place, junior, food and nutrition; Leslie and Robin Conkwright, first place, junior, community improvement; Kamille Martin and Bliss Burdett, first place, junior, mechanical and hand skills.

Club Program Given On Girlstown USA

Deaf Smith County Women's Forum held their monthly meeting recently in the community center with guest speaker, Marshal Cooper, Administrative Director of Girlstown USA in Whiteface.

Cooper was introduced by Lion's Club member Nolan Grady. The program was presented in the form of film strips and brief history of the origin of Girlstown USA was given to the women present.

Girlstown USA was formed in 1949 with a 1400 acre ranch in Whiteface. Later a 25-acre ranch was started at Borger. In 1970, an old hospital was reformed into a Girlstown USA for girls of age 17.

It was recognized that the civic clubs in Hereford help to sponsor Girlstown USA.

Clubs represented at the Forum meeting were Bud Blossom, Garden Beautiful, Hereford Garden Club, La Afflatus Estudio, Lone Star, Music Study Club, Pioneer Study Club, and Summerfield.

During the business session, all new presidents and forum representatives were asked to send their names and telephone numbers to the Women's Forum.

It was announced to 45 women present that this will be the club's last meeting of the spring. The Forum will adjourn until September.

Officers Installed By La Plata Club

The installation of officers was the main item on the agenda of La Plata Study Club Tuesday evening during a salad supper in the home of Avis White. Cohostess was Margaret Schreier.

Sherry Hoover, who was ending a term as president, installed the following officers: Lavon Nieman, president; Sue Sims, vice president; Kay Cotten, recording secretary; Dolores McCuistian, corresponding secretary; Susie Manschreck, treasurer; Sherry Hoover, parliamentarian; and Mary Helen Askew, historian.

As the first order of business, as incoming president, Mrs. Nieman appointed her committees for the 1979-80 club year.

In appreciation for her service as president, Mrs. Hoover was awarded a silver dish by Clara Brown on behalf of the study club.

The club recessed until Sept. 4.

In attendance were Mary Bartlett, Ruby Boston, Audine Dettman, Ruth Fariss, Elizabeth McDowell, Mozelle Neill, Dorotha Powell, Lucy Rogers, Rosemary Shook, Betty Taylor, Donna VanderZee, Virginia Woodford and Mmes. Askew, Cotten, Brown, Hoover, Manschreck, McCuistian, Nieman, Schroeter, Sims and White.

To Serve Club

La Plata Study Club installed officers recently at a salad supper. The 1979-80 officers are from left: Sherry Hoover, parliamentarian; Susie Manschreck, treasurer; Kay Cotten, recording secretary; Dolores McCuistian, corresponding secretary; and Mary Helen Askew, historian. Sitting are Sue Sims, vice president and Lavon Nieman, president.

XEA Prepares For Barn Dance

Plans for a barn dance on May 19 were outlined Tuesday night by social chairman Lillie Shipman for members of Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. The women met in the Community Room of First National Bank with Barbara Kendall presiding.

XEA members will bring their husbands as guests to the upcoming barn dance, the site of which has not yet been determined.

In other business, Toni Jones, who is chairman of ways and means, reported that XEA's recent sponsorship of a disco dance proved financially successful. Also, in a report from the service committee, Pam Stephens reminded members that hairbrushes are being contributed by the chapter this month to King's Manor and Westgate.

Mrs. Kendall announced that the chapter will install a new slate of officers and reveal secret sisters at the next meeting, scheduled at 7:30 p.m. May 15 in the E.B. Black house.

May 12th has been set aside as the date for chapter members to deliver the miscellaneous items to Jostown which were collected from the community earlier this spring.

Mrs. Shipman presented a program entitled "Modern Man and Modern Woman in the Modern World."

Mary Sledge and Karren Ruland were hostesses.

Others in attendance were Aileen Tindal, Opal Glenn, Barbara Burkhalter, Joanne Richburg, Ilajean Brinkman, Debra Cook, Bonnie Decker, Phyllis Neill, Sandy Owsley, Lynn Scumbato, Jan Walser, Janey Whitaker, Jeanie Tucker and those already mentioned.

Stanton Dogie Roundup

Track season is over. FHA girls are home from convention, the end of school is drawing near — what's left? — The BIG EVENT — Annual Signing Day. Yes, the annuals are here and the big day is Friday, May 4, beginning at 1 o'clock. We are also going to have Kiddie Day Dress-up Day, and will be selling snow cones all afternoon. Now who could ask for more?

Spring training for football is getting underway. Stanton freshmen going out for football are Armando Alaniz, George Arroyas, Ramon Bribiesca, Paul Brockman, Peter Castillo, Matt Collier, Billy Davison, Robby Dobbins, Michael Finch, Gerry Ford, Noel Garcia, Robert Gonzales, Henry Guerra, Allen Harris, Wayne High, Chris Hightower, Michael Hill, Pete Holguin, Kevin Huffaker, Vincent Marasco, Dennis Martinez, Abel Rocha, Willie Rodriguez, Eddie Salazar, David Sandlin, Jerry Seward, Alex Valdez, and Arnold Villegas.

Anna Gonzales, Elva Gonzales, and Ernest Reyes made perfect scores in reading this week and have their names in the Super Star Box.

Dogie Staff met at 7:30 Wednesday morning to view the annuals. They had breakfast together in the staff room and had a private autograph party while getting a first look at the new yearbooks.

Several former Stanton students visited our building this week as future teachers. They are members of the FTA group at high school.

Lookingbill Back Home

After several weeks of hospitalization, Bill Lookingbill is recuperating at home, although temporarily confined to a wheelchair. He was released from the hospital in Amarillo on Tuesday.

Lookingbill, a resident of Summerfield, was injured last month when he was struck by a passing vehicle, sustaining serious leg injuries.

Lookingbill plans to attend the ice cream social planned in his honor this Sunday afternoon by the Summerfield community. All interested friends are invited to attend the party, scheduled from 2:30-4:30 p.m. in Summerfield Baptist Church.

Homemade ice cream and cake will be served. A love offering will be taken during the social to help defray Lookingbill's medical expenses.

Garage, Plant Sale To Be Held Saturday

Hereford Garden Club will be conducting a Garage Sale and Plant Sale Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m., at Hereford Garden Center, Park and Main.

Proceeds of the project will go for maintenance and improvements at the Garden Center. The public is encouraged to attend.

A variety of set plants, cultivated in the yards of Hereford Garden Club members, will be available, including yarrow, onion sets, chrysanthemums, ground cover and more. Miscellaneous appliances, clothes and a wide selection of other goods will be offered in the garage sale.

Mary Stoy is chairman of Saturday's fund-raising sale. President of Hereford Garden Club is Virginia Garner.

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP)—Mark Hill, an attorney, has chronicled the birth of his new baby boy in typical lawyer fashion — by filing legal papers.

An unusual "Notice of Arrival" was filed in the office of Tarrant County Clerk Madrin Huffman, announcing the birth of James Kilgore Hill.

The papers, which will be permanently on file with the county clerk's office, give details about the baby's birth.

"At 8 pounds, 1 1/2 ounces, he's heavy enough, for sports or play or other stuff — 19 1/2 inches, long and rough," one section reads.

In the concluding section of the papers, Hill states, "This notice is served on everyone so that each will know that James has come — a beautiful thing has been done."

Rays of Hope Director To Speak Here Friday

Pat Stanton, director of Rays of Hope Prayer Ministries Inc., will be speaking in Hereford Friday night during a meeting of Women's Christian Fellowship Aglow. The public is invited to attend the program, scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

A resident of the Lubbock area, Mrs. Stanton renewed her life as a Christian in 1970 while she was in failing health. She testifies that through prayer, she regained her health and set out to share her faith with others.

Mrs. Stanton began her ministry on a small scale, speaking to area churches and women's groups. She opened the Rays of Hope offices in 1975. Rays of Hope offers counseling, intercessory prayer and general services.

Mrs. Stanton entered television ministry in September of 1975 and has since branched out, appearing on cable stations in Texas, Minnesota and Iowa.

In July of 1977, the Rays of Hope headquartered their TV productions at the Christian Broadcasting Network (CBN) in Dallas. Their programs air on CBN weekly. During August of last year, the CBN satellite in Portsmouth, Va. picked up the Rays of Hope, broadcasting it to most regions of the country.

Tips Recommended For Mildew Removal

COLLEGE STATION — Floods, high humidity and condensation cause serious mildew problems in many Texas homes, says Dr. Jane Berry, a housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

If left unattended, mildew can cause considerable damage. The musty odor that accompanies mildew is usually annoying, but mildew's destruction is of more concern.

When conditions are "right," mildew can cause almost complete deterioration of some fabrics within a couple of weeks, Dr. Berry points out.

PAINTED WALLS, WOODWORK, FURNITURE

Painted walls, woodwork and furniture which have mildewed can usually be cleaned easily and successfully, she continues. Vacuum off or remove surface growth carefully to prevent scattering the mildew spores in the house.

Remove spots that remain by washing with a diluted solution of household chlorine bleach and detergent—one gallon water, one-half cup bleach, one tablespoon detergent.

Then, rinse the solution from the surface with a clean sponge or cloth.

The bleach solution not only kills mildew spores and inhibits future growth, but it also lifts out unsightly stains and discoloration.

UPHOLSTERED ARTICLES, MATTRESSES

Upholstered articles, carpet, rugs and mattresses must be dealt with differently.

First, take the article outdoors if possible to prevent scattering mildew spores throughout the house, the specialist recommends.

Remove loose mold from the outer surface by brushing with a brush. Draw out more of the mold by vacuuming the surface thoroughly.

Then, dry out the article as quickly as possible by placing in the sun, or by using an electric heater and fans to carry away moist air and stop the mold growth.

Remove remaining mildew from upholstered articles or mattresses by either of the following methods:

1) sponge lightly with thick soap or synthetic detergent suds, and wipe away with a clean, damp cloth, or

2) wipe with a cloth dampened in a solution of one cup denatured or rubbing alcohol to one cup of water.

With either method, use as little solution as possible to prevent wetting the filling.

When mildew has formed inside the filling material of a mattress or upholstered piece, send it to a reliable drycleaning or storage company for thorough drying and fumigation, Dr. Berry suggests.

Fumigation kills molds present at the time but will not protect the article against future mold growth.

RUGS, CARPETS

For rugs and carpets, first remove surface growth, then sponge with thick suds or a rug shampoo, she says.

Remove suds by wiping with a cloth dampened in clear water, and dry in the sun, if possible.

Twin Sisters Share Interest

By DENISE SMITH
Brand Staff Writer

Each mirroring the other, twin sisters, Julie and Jennifer Jorde share a unique talent for showing quarter horses.

Julie and Jennifer were born seven minutes apart, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Jorde. The resemblance in the two is remarkable, with a surprising similarity in their character, personality and appearance.

Julie, the first born, is the trainer of two fine quarter horses. She first experienced the saddling of a horse when she was 12. She has been riding now for three years.

Her horses, Flashy Hot Shot and Feisty Pants Reed have brought her much pleasure and some measure of recognition.

Flashy, her showing horse, has won her many honors and trophies. She has received a grand champion, and a first in Showmanship, Halter, Horsemanship, Western Pleasure and English Pleasure.

Here second horse, Feisty, is used only to run poles and barriers.

Julie also received a superior in Western Pleasure and Youth Pleasure, a ROM (Register of Merit), and a Pleasure and Showmanship in the American Quarter Horse Association. She has been awarded three All-Round Trophies.

Julie works with her horses in a small arena located on a farm just outside of town. She feels that good training is an asset in a winning horse.

"Ever since we were little, we had Shetland ponies and we always rode them. I ride for pleasure, and it gives me something to do during the summer. When you find out a show is coming up, you need to ride the horses every day and brush them. You need to work with the leg-aids and their leads," she explained.

Julie's favorite entries are Pleasure and Western Pleasure which deal with trotting the horse and showing him in front of the judges.

Jennifer is presently training a quarter horse by the name of Two-Eyed Scissors, a mare which just recently awarded her with a colt, now named Ima Two Eyed Chick.

Jennifer, like her twin sister, has received awards in Halter, Showmanship, Horsemanship, Western and English Pleasure.

In 1978, Jennifer, representing North Dakota, attended the Youth World Championship for AQHA (American Quarter Horse Association.) During an awards banquet in North Dakota, Jennifer received a first in Youth Mares; second in Showmanship; and a third in Western Pleasure.

She also has received an AQHA (American Quarter Horse Association) Champion, ROM and Youth Western Pleasure.

Jennifer finds conditioning, feeding, and brushing essential elements in preparing a show horse. She enjoys the showmanship aspect of a show. She works with her horse a few hours each day prior to a competition.

Both girls do the majority of their riding in North Dakota where they also have a home.

Julie is a sophomore at Hereford High School, and is involved in tennis, pep squad, and Leo Club. Her favorite class is art. Julie was also recently an entrant in the Miss Hereford Pageant.

Jennifer is also a sophomore at Hereford High School. She is involved in tennis, pep squad, and FCA (Fellowship of Christian Athletes).

Jennifer's favorite course of study is geometry.

Both girls were born May 16, 1963 in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. They are 15 years of age.

Ann Landers

Exhausted With Sleep

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Ed and I have been married 13 years. Our problem is driving me nuts. Ed hates to get out of bed in the morning. Even after 11 or 12 hours sleep he depends on me to drag him out of the sack. Yesterday it took nearly an hour and I was worn out.

When Ed finally does get up he throws things around, spills coffee on the floor, tears down curtains and screams at me because "I" made him late to work.

There must be a solution to this problem. What is it? Exhausted in Columbus

DEAR EX: Recently I got clobbered by my readers because of a response to a similar letter. NOW I know the best solution is the following: Tell Ed you will no longer be the victim of his rages. Make it clear that from now on he gets up on his own or he sleeps until tomorrow.

Buy three alarm clocks with an ear-piercing ring. Set them to go off ten minutes apart. Make no effort to pull the lumox out of bed. If, after the third ring, he's still prone - leave him be. It might take a couple of weeks before Ed gets the message - but eventually he will - if you refuse to knuckle under.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have figured out a marvelous method to stop the flood of junk mail. Please spread the word to all your readers. Here it is: Take the stamped card or envelope and, write across it, in big letters, "NO!" Then drop it in a mailbox. The sender will have to pay first-class postage when it is returned to him. If enough people do this it will make junk mailings so expensive and unprofitable they will take the protesters off their list.

Garbage mail is sent out at bulk rates. It jams the mail system, slows up delivery and costs the senders very little. When the junk is returned, however, it goes first class, and costs them big money! Let's all give it a try and see what happens. - Eilena, Washington, D.C.

DEAR EILENA: Your "marvelous method" won't work. I checked with Ralph Stuart in the public affairs office at the Chicago-Post Office. He said, "If the envelope does not state 'Return Postage Guaranteed' (most junk mail does not) it will be destroyed. The company does not pay postage on the returned mail."

If anyone wishes to have his name removed from (or added to) a mailing list, he should request the appropriate form from: Direct Marketing Association, 6 East 43rd St., New York, N.Y. 10017.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: What is a mother to do? I have a nine-year-old daughter who will be ten years old in May. She has been nagging me for months to let her have her ears pierced for her tenth birthday. It seems all her little friends have pierced ears and she talks of nothing else.

I don't like to see young children with earrings and was able to hold my ground fairly well until Amy Carter was allowed to have her ears pierced as a gift for her tenth birthday.

Now I haven't a leg to stand on. What do you think about pierced ears for ten-year-olds? - Old-Fashioned Mother in Vermont

DEAR VERMONT MOTHER: It's what the little girls want today and I see nothing wrong with letting them have it. Don't sweat the small stuff. Honey.

Uganda, the bottom line

It appears to be all over but the accounting in Uganda. Guerrilla skirmishing may drag on for a time. But if we are to believe reports from the Kampala-Entebbe battle zone, Idi Amin has lost the war he provoked last October. The Conqueror of the British Empire, a title he bestowed upon himself with characteristic modesty after one of his many tiffs with Uganda's former colonial overlords, has been conquered by a ragtag army of neighboring Tanzanians and his own rebellious countrymen.

It couldn't have happened to a more deserving despot. But if Idi Amin and his war are finished, the consequences of this latest ugly little episode in black Africa's continuing effort to progress from independence to a stable political order are not.

Amin may be thoroughly detested by his peers in the Organization of African Unity, the entity that would be the conscience and set the standards for the new Africa. But Tanzanian President Julius Nyerere has not become the hero of the day by accomplishing his overthrow.

While the invasion of Uganda may have been morally and politically justified, it sets a precedent for the overthrow of a country's leadership by outside forces. That's enough to make several other high-handed OAU members, all too aware of running houses constructed to some extent of glass, extremely nervous.

Uganda's future could also become as much of a problem as its recent past. The return of former President Milton Obote, sent packing by Amin in a 1971 coup, would not be universally popular in or out of Uganda. Kenya for one has made it clear that given the unfortunate choice, it would prefer Amin to Obote as a neighbor.

Uganda's economy, crippled by falling coffee prices and a boycott by the United States and other big buyers, is back to the village barter level. And it is not alone. Victorious Tanzania isn't so much better off.

The war, by some estimates has been costing it the equivalent of a million dollars a day — and in a country heavily dependent upon foreign aid for economic necessities. Reserves of foreign exchange are reported to have dropped to something like $25 million, about what Tanzania has been spending for imports every month.

But there you have a basic problem with battlefield solutions to differences among nations. Winners very often also end up as losers.

Chinese walls

In Peking, a wall is just a wall again. After a heady half year, the authorities have had enough of plain speaking in public. They have declared Democracy Wall off limits to the amazingly candid wall posters through which Chinese evermen let each other and a fascinated world know what they thought of the current state of affairs.

The surprising thing is not the curbing of the phenomenon, but that it was allowed to continue as long as it did. Given the opportunity of free expression, a generation reared under socialism seized it to speak out strongly for even more freedom. The shock to the leadership must have been great.

The posters clearly did serve a purpose. They provided an outlet for widespread public discontent and an opportunity for a pragmatic leadership to redress some grievances. And by establishing communication between Chinese and world public opinion, they facilitated China's rapid re-entry into the mainstream of world affairs.

The reimposition of controls on expression is regrettable, but nowhere near so regressive as the suppression of the "hundred flowers" movement in the late 1950s. Peking's Democracy Wall is expected to continue as a visible symbol of public expression, but with access to it carefully controlled.

Less easily controlled, however, will be the attitudes of millions of Chinese toward the development of their society and the performance of its leaders. The habit of critical thought, once encouraged, is not so easily turned off — or walled in.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Thursday, May 3, the 123rd day of 1979. There are 242 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: In 1944, synthetic quinine was first produced, using coal-tar products, in a laboratory at Harvard University.

In 1975, President Gerald Ford commissioned the world's largest warship, the nuclear aircraft carrier Nimitz, at Norfolk, Va.

Ten years ago, India's first Moslem president, Zakir Husain, died after a heart attack at the age of 72.

Five years ago, a Maryland Court of Appeals ordered former Vice President Spiro Agnew disbarred from legal practice in the state because he had pleaded no contest to a tax evasion charge.

One year ago: An installment of Richard Nixon's memoirs was published in which the former president said Watergate had badly damaged U.S.-Soviet detente.

Today's birthdays: Former boxing champion Sugar Ray Robinson is 59 years old. Second baseman Davey Lopes of the Los Angeles Dodgers is 33. Actress Mary Astor is 73. Actor Walter Slezak is 77.

Thought for today: It is as easy for the strong man to be strong as it is for the weak to be weak — Ralph Waldo Emerson, American essayist and poet, 1803-1882.

Emergency Procedures Taught at PEP Seminar

AMARILLO — Learning to recognize life-threatening medical emergencies and taking prompt and proper action can save lives, participants in a day-long seminar on handling such emergencies were told here.

A group of citizens from Deaf Smith County was among the more than 250 persons from throughout the Panhandle who took part in the seminar Thursday, April 26. The seminar was presented by the Family Living and Youth Task Force of the Panhandle Economic Program (PEP). PEP is a regional organization sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to promote economic growth and development in counties of the Panhandle.

"When an accident occurs, people don't have time to look up in a directory or handbook what to do," said Virginia Scott, director of the Amarillo Emergency Receiving Center (AERC). She was one of the seminar speakers and instructors.

The first 30 minutes after an accident occurs is as important to the amount of physical and emotional damage suffered by the victim as is all the treatment time after that initial half-hour. Dr. Ronald R. Lacy, medical director of AERC, cautioned.

That is why it is essential that each household has some member who is trained in first aid and cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), instructors at the seminar stressed.

They also emphasized the need for persons assisting accident victims to seek and obtain prompt assistance from fully trained medical personnel.

For many years, an American soldier wounded in combat had a better chance of survival than an accident victim in the Texas Panhandle. Betty O'Rourke, regional director of the Panhandle Emergency Medical Services System (PEMSS), said. This situation has improved with training of emergency personnel and thousands of area citizens, providing and equipping modern ambulances, installing the regional medical communications system, and establishing AERC. This links paramedical and medical personnel in the 25 counties atop the Panhandle.

Patients now received at the AERC are in much better shape than those brought to emergency rooms a few years ago, Lacy said. He attributed this to better trained and equipped emergency medical technicians and volunteer citizens.

Participants in the seminar were instructed in recognizing symptoms and initiating emergency treatment for several common accidents. These included poisoning, burns, bleeding, amputation of extremities, shock, choking and other respiratory emergencies, heart attack, heart failure and stroke.

Instructors included Gary Hedgecock of Amarillo, consultant and instructor trainer with the American Red Cross; John Gilliland of Hereford, an emergency medical technician with advanced life support skills, and Archie Dwyer of Hereford, instructor trainer in CPR for the American Heart Association.

Several skits dramatized the handling of common emergency situations. Assisting in these were Matt Gilliland, Mrs. John Gilliland, Rosie Griffith, Carolyn Hayes, J.B. Willis, Bernadette Brand, Neal Dawayne Neal, Gary Hammond and Sam Morales.

Leo Forrest of Lake Tanglewood, PEP task force chairman, was seminar moderator. Dr. Deniz O. Clegg of College Station, associate director of Extension, brought greetings from Texas A&M University of which the Extension Service is a part. Sue Farris, district Extension agent for home economics, reviewed the activities of the PEP task force and its 10 previous seminars.

Vivid Simulation

Kindergarten Class To Hold Open House

The First Baptist Kindergarten classes will be having an open house and get acquainted tea for their parents Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the church Fellowship Hall. Anyone interested in attending is welcomed. The kindergarten program was organized in 1963 with one class of five-year-olds. The program continued to grow both in curriculum and enrollment. In 1970, the program was extended to include four-year-olds. The program presently has five classes of four and five-year-olds.

The school is licensed by the Texas Department of Human Resources and must meet all the state standards required concerning the facilities and qualified teachers.

The emphasis in school is placed upon motor development for the total learning process. The program consists of readiness skills for school success in phonics, number concept and writing. Music is an important medium of teaching, as well as art, field trips, special event parties and utilizing the public library.

The five-year-old graduation program will be Friday, May 18 at 8 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall. All interested persons are urged to attend this special event.

The director is Mrs. Floyd Coker and teachers are Mmes. Fred Ruland, W.E. Sparks, Calvin Jones, Thad Keys, Connie Urbanczyk and Tommy Sparkman.

Keep a daily record of your weight—and your food intake, if you have a weight problem, suggests Mary K. Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Such a record may help you realize why there is a problem, Mrs. Sweeten says.

Plant Sale Slated Saturday In Mall

L'Allegra Study Club will hold their plant sale Saturday from 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. in Sugarland Mall. The public is invited to attend.

All types of bedding plants, flowers and vegetables will be on sale including glsium, begonias, dahlias, impatiens, marigolds, petunias, virca, snapdragons, geraniums, cabbage, eggplant, peppers, tomatoes and strawberries.

Also available will be hanging baskets, ferns, begonias, ivy, and potted plants.

Project chairman is Carmen Flood with Kitty Gault as co-chairman. Club president is Selsey Metz.

4-H Program Presented To Progressive EH Club

Progressive Extension Homemakers Club met recently with Mrs. Joe Brown as hostess. The club met in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room with Mrs. E.C. Hammett, president, conducting the business.

Mrs. Tom Melugin gave the opening exercise. She read the TEHA (Texas Extension Homemakers Association) creed, and introduced the 4-H girls who presented a program on "Babysitting."

It was announced that the next meeting will be held May 8 in the Flame Room.

Members present were Mmes. E.C. Hammett, Helen Parsons, Gerald Townsend, Taft McGee, Johnny Townsend, Floyd McGee and H.L.

Hershey. Guests present were Pat Parker, Kenneth Duncan, Penny Parker and Phylecia Duggan.

Disaster Van Relieves Tornado Victims

Local residents have had a part in sending relief items to the tornado-stricken areas of Wichita Falls and Vernon.

The community Service Disaster Van, operated by the Texico-Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, left Amarillo the day after the tornado struck on April 10.

Clothing, linen and bedding to stock the unit are supplied by the various local Seventh-day Adventist Community Service organizations throughout west Texas and New Mexico. Around Christmas time each year, funds are collected to help maintain this endeavor and other types of service. Because of the generosity of the general public here and elsewhere in the past, the disaster van was stocked and ready to respond immediately.

The emergency vehicle is a completely self-sufficient Mobile unit, with room for approximately ten thousand garments. The 32-foot van also has a 4000-watt generator and carries a water supply. Both of these services were of special value in this instance.

Similar vans from the church's headquarters in Fort Worth and in surrounding states also responded to the call for help, arriving at the site on the same day. There they worked in cooperation with the American Red Cross and Civil Defense authorities.

On previous occasions, the fully-equipped van, stationed in Amarillo, has been sent to many other areas, including Lubbock at the time of the tornado there, and has traveled as far away as Louisiana, Alabama, and Mexico to be of service to victims of hurricanes, floods and tornadoes. More recently, it was used to help at the time of the flood in Canyon.

Mae Grimes is director of the Local Seventh-day Adventist Community Service, phone 364-0756.

Eye Appeal Attracts Most Beef Shoppers

COLLEGE STATION — Shoppers for beef don't pay as much attention to labels as government officials, consumer groups and the beef industry say they do.

"A statewide survey revealed that eye appeal, not grade labels, attract beef buyers in retail stores," said Dr. Robert E. Branson, coordinator of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's Marketing Research and Development Center at Texas A&M University.

Further, respondents to the survey indicated that they want an overhaul of the government's grading and labeling system of beef—something more simplified by which a label can be more easily related to the kind of beef in the package.

Seventy-five percent said they would prefer that beef be "nutritionally" labeled—such as "moderately fat," "moderately lean," "lean" and "extra lean."

Prime, Choice or Good (grades) mean to a shopper," Branson asked, "when in essence shoppers are in a 'good, better and best syndrome' which doesn't apply equally in minds of all shoppers?"

Half of the shoppers who said they observe grade labels gave an A, B, C or D grade answer, but A, B, C and D don't exist in official grading of beef.

A majority of the respondents also indicated they would more nearly purchase beef stamped

"USDA Inspected" than if it were marked "USDA Ungraded."

Branson said that the survey was conducted at the request of agricultural and marketing groups who said they had a problem and needed a professional—and unbiased—answer.

The A&M Center is equipped to conduct surveys, primarily regarding Texas agricultural products, with as many as 50,000 down to 300 families.

News From Adrian Area

Members of the Adrian FHA, their parents and special guests gathered in the school cafeteria April 24 for the annual FHA banquet.

A buffet meal of smoked beef and the trimmings was prepared by FHA members and served to guests.

Tammy Fairchild opened the program with the invocation.

Carolina Betts, treasurer, recited the FHA creed for those present. First vice president Jo Jacobson offered the welcome with Carol Rohrbach introducing special guests, including Mr. and Mrs. Pat Blankenship, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pinnell, eighth grade girls and their parents, the guest speaker Debra Parker and Neal Odom of Happy.

Four raps of the gavel by Susan Skaggs, president, opened the installation ceremony for new officers. Those elected to serve are Diana Jacobson, president; Vila Hughes, first vice president; Betty Meyer, second vice; Carol Rohrbach, third vice; Tina Bearden, fourth vice; Gay Myers, 5th vice; Cynthia Petty, 6th vice; Kim Ehresman, secretary; Carolina Betts, treasurer; and Pat Fortenberry, historian.

Rex Pinnell, FHA Beau, was presented a gift of appreciation. Gifts were also presented to chapter parents, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Creitz, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jacobson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rohrbach and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rich.

Ray Skaggs, incoming Beau, was recognized. A plaque was presented to Mrs. Allen Ehresman signifying honorary membership.

Susan Skaggs relinquished

her position as president to Diana Jacobson, who introduced Gary Gregory and Jay Pancoast, who sang. Guest speaker for the evening was Debra Parker, a senior at Happy High School, who addressed the group concerning FHA involvement and individual interests.

Diana Jacobson concluded the evening by thanking those who made the banquet possible.

HEALTH
 Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
Don't treat yourself

DEAR DR. LAMB - I seem to have the same trouble as the man I heard you talking to Tab Hunter about on your TV show. It began when I was first pregnant. I seemed to notice having heartburn and I felt as though I was ruptured around my diaphragm where it joins the stomach. The only way I could get some relief was to straighten my arms up and stretch. Then something would go back in place but I still get lots of heartburn. Sometimes I'm afraid to eat. I feel as if there is a hole and it's very disturbing. I'd like to learn more about this. Why is a hiatal hernia operation so risky? I'm 64 years old and can't seem to lose weight. I'm 167 pounds and am 5 feet 3. Can you help me?
DEAR READER - It's important to know why you have heartburn before you start treating it. This pain or burning in the pit of the stomach or just under the breast bone can be associated with irritation of the lower part of the esophagus, usually from the acid digestive juices leaking out of the stomach into the lower esophagus.
 The leak occurs because of a faulty closure mechanism where the esophagus and stomach join. This can be associated with a hiatal hernia. Such hernias do commonly occur in women during pregnancy. The increased pressure inside the abdomen forces the stomach through the normal hole in the diaphragm. The hole is stretched.

 As a result, part of the stomach that joins the esophagus where it comes through the diaphragm may slide through the enlarged hole or herniate.
 It follows that pressure inside the abdomen is a bad thing for anyone who has a hiatal hernia. That pressure can be caused from the accumulation of fat inside the abdomen. Because of your weight problem this could well be a contributing factor to your recurrent heartburn.
 Also you don't want to wear anything tight or constricting around the abdomen. This outside pressure will squeeze part of the stomach and tend to push it through any enlarged hole in the diaphragm.
 I am sending you The Health Letter number 4-8, Hiatal Hernia, Esophageal Reflux. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1561, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. It will give you more specific information on things you can do to help control such problems.

 I'd like to say again that you'll need to know for sure that you do have a hiatal hernia before you start treating yourself. That means you should see your doctor and have a medical examination.
 There are two problems with an operation for hiatal hernia. The first is that they don't always relieve the symptoms. Correcting the hernia doesn't necessarily mean that you correct the leaky valve problem. In fact, a person can have the leaky valve problem with reflux into the lower esophagus without having a hiatal hernia at all.
 The other problem is the risk of a major operation. How big a risk that is often depends on the overall medical status of the individual.
DEAR DR. LAMB - Please read the enclosed articles and give me your opinion about whether these people really know something about arthritis or are just selling books. Do you know something about so-called night shades and will they really help?
DEAR READER - Regardless of what value the books described in the folder you sent me might have from a horticultural point of view, I don't believe that these will be of any help at all for arthritis.
 The night shades as the folder mentioned include such diverse plants as potatoes, tomatoes and peppers, as well as eggplants. These foods do not cause arthritis. Eliminating them from your diet will not cure arthritis.
 Unfortunately, there are multiple quack devices to obtain money from sufferers of arthritis. I wish we had more effective means of protecting the public from misinformation but we don't. The presence of a free press makes it very difficult to do this and, of course, having a free press is an important and precious freedom for all of us.

Unfortunately, many good things in life, including freedom of the press, can be abused by people who are inclined to do so.
 As a general rule, to people with arthritis I would say do not buy or subscribe to any treatment that's offered to you through the mail or by someone coming to your door. Don't buy devices or so-called magic medicine. Don't buy products that are advertised to cure your arthritis in public magazines.
 Do consult your family doctor and if you have a severe problem with arthritis, see a rheumatoid specialist. We do not have any magic cures for arthritis yet but there are a lot of things which can be done to relieve the problem and enable a person to live more comfortably and remain functional. Your doctor is the person who can help you obtain the best services that are available and meaningful.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Would you please write something about Bell's palsy? What is the cause of it and is there any medication for it?
DEAR READER - Bell's palsy causes one side of the facial muscles to become paralyzed. Sometimes it's confused with a stroke but the doctor can usually clear up that concern. There are changes in the nerves to the facial muscles. To avoid marked changes, early treatment is important. A common approach is to give Prednisone, one of the corticosteroid medications that seems to combat the inflammation that's occurring in the nerve fibers. Such treatment is most effective if it is given in the first 72 to 96 hours of the illness.
 Complete recovery of the facial muscles usually occurs in about 80 percent of the patients with this problem and usually within four months. In a small number of cases residual paralysis and other problems persist and some of these may even require surgical therapy.
 In many instances we never know what caused the disease and it disappears on its own, but it's better to get early treatment to minimize any changes that you can.

POLLY'S POINTERS
 Polly Cramer
Keeps woodwork clean
 POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY - I have beautiful varnished doors and woodwork that I have always washed with water but a friend told me they would warp in due time and that I should not use water. She did not tell me what to use and I certainly cannot leave them dirty. Do you know of anything I could substitute for water?
ELLSIE
DEAR ELSIE - I am afraid you are a much more particular housekeeper than I am. I would feel varnished woodwork was clean and well oiled, too, if it were wiped off periodically with a soft cloth that had been dampened with pure lemon oil furniture polish. Completely cover the surface and wipe off thoroughly. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - I keep a small terry cloth hand towel on the leaf of my sewing machine to catch straight-pins and loose threads that accumulate as I sew. This saves time since I do not have to pick up pins or threads that have fallen on the floor. - LENA
DEAR POLLY - We were in the military for 20 years and now the children are. All these years I have used cardboard centers from paper towels and other such products for mailing papers, small brushes, etc. I have also used egg cartons for fillers and reinforcing the contents of boxes as they are lightweight and work perfectly. In all these years I have never had anything break during shipping. - DONNA
DEAR POLLY - My Pet Peeve is with those who mail magazines, etc. with only one letter for the first name. There are three people with the same last name and first initial on our mail route so it is certainly hard for the right people to get the right mail. It would take such a short time to complete the first name. - MRS. D.M.
DEAR POLLY - My Pointer is for the many people who are now making quilts and braided rag rugs. I make a long braid and then use heavy twine to hold the braids together. It is just woven in and out of the braid to make it round or oval and goes much faster than sewing. I wash such rugs in the washer and they hold together better, too. - P.C.
