

Carter Promises Fed Help on Highways

By PETER MACKLER
Associated Press Writer

President Carter has pledged federal help to keep the nation's highways safe and eight more states have taken emergency action following the worst day of violence yet in the independent truckers strike.

Bullets tore into more than three dozen rigs in 18 states Thursday. Other trucks were pounded by rocks, run off the road, set afire or plagued by nails strewn on roads. In Idaho, drivers had to make their way around two trees set across a highway.

There were no serious injuries reported.

The truckers' strike called to protest rising diesel prices and dwindling supplies, load regulations and the 55-mph speed limit, also tightened its grip on the nation's supply lines for fuel and food.

Five poultry producers cut back operations in Georgia, chickens were drowned and eggs smashed in Tennessee for lack of transportation. North Carolina's cucumber crop was rotting, milk was dumped in Pennsylvania and cotton piled up in Louisiana warehouses.

"At least half of the potato people up and down the East Coast aren't even digging potatoes," said Raymond Martin, a reporter for the U.S. Agriculture Department. "I don't think they are doing anything because of the strike."

In California, air freight and railroad carriers were forced to turn away millions of dollars in orders for lack of space in the crunch to get to market. Some producers were paying premium prices to shippers who could deliver.

"What transportation we've been able to find in the way of trucks we have to pay almost double the price," said Tom Powell, vice president of E.R. Albergotti Inc., a Salem, Va., producer.

Meat packers asked President Carter for armed guards on their trucks and the head of the Food Marketing Institute, which represents half the nation's grocers, asked him to give the protesting truckers some relief.

Carter called Thursday for a quick end to the protest and said he had instructed the FBI to assist local law enforcement agencies in keeping peace on the highways.

"Violence and lawlessness will not be tolerated under any circumstances," he said. FBI Director William Webster said agents were already investigating the shooting death of an Alabama trucker earlier this week.

The president also said he would soon take steps to meet "legitimate grievances" of the nation's 100,000 independent truckers.

Leaders of several groups of independent truckers met Thursday in Washington in an attempt to write a uniform set of demands and forge a coalition to deal with government officials.

Gunfire was reported Thursday in Florida, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Alabama, Kentucky, Louisiana, Indiana, Oklahoma, Connecticut, Minnesota, South Carolina, Colorado, Oregon, Mississippi, Missouri, Georgia, Arkansas and Washington.

While the president was moving to keep things cool in the protest, the governors of eight more states around the country were acting to curb the violence.

The National Guard was activated in Kentucky and Florida, where the protest was bottling up deliveries of fuel as well as food. Guardsmen were ordered to truck the fuel themselves in Florida, where mile-long gasoline lines developed in the Miami area.

State police patrols were more than doubled on truck routes in Massachusetts. Georgia troopers were ordered to coordinate and guard convoys, and their colleagues in Pennsylvania rode shotgun on milk deliveries before striking truckers agreed to let milk pass.

North Carolina's Highway Patrol was ordered to escort groups of 10 or more trucks upon request, and Rhode Island and Nebraska troopers guarded trucks delivering fuel and oil.

The National Guard, called out earlier this week in Minnesota, set up posts at grain terminals to keep shipments moving. In Alabama, where one trucker has been killed and another's wife wounded, Guardsmen continued to escort convoys.

Alabama Gov. Fob James also urged truckers to arm themselves and shoot back. "It's time to put the billy back in the billystick," he said. "I'd put a shotgun beside me and go... and I'd kill anybody that tries to stop me."

But one of his constituents, Eddie Castleberry, of Odenville, said he'd prefer to park than fight.

"I've got a 9-year-old boy at the house and it worries me," said Castleberry, who was fired upon Thursday. "They can come pick up the rig because I'm not driving it one foot further."

Crisis Hits Home

The effect of the gasoline shortage becomes more and more evident in Hereford as station owners find it more difficult to receive allocations. Harvey Gutierrez, owner of the Premier station on N. 25

Mile Ave., has been out of all types of gasoline since Monday. At least two other stations in Hereford also have been out of gas for at least part of the week. (Brand photo by Paul Sims)

Opening Summer Weekend Features Lines, Fuel Blockades

Fuel blockades, rationing and predictions of widespread gasoline station closings threw a wrench into the driving plans of Americans hoping to get away for the first weekend of summer.

Clements:

Others Want

Gas Rationing

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - Gov. Bill Clements said Thursday the alternate-day gasoline selling plan is working so well, even before it starts, that other Texas counties want to be included.

"I've had a few feelers from several counties around Harris County that are considering asking us to include them," Clements told a news conference.

Clements said Brazoria, Fort Bend and Montgomery counties had made inquiries, "but no formal requests." News stories said Montgomery County commissioners voted Wednesday to be included in the plan.

The governor said there have been "really no complaints" about the gasoline restrictions that go into effect Monday in Harris, Dallas and Tarrant counties, "and no question of authority of enforcement."

He was asked how he planned to pass the state authority - which comes from a presidential order to governors - to local government in ordering gasoline restrictions.

"We will cross that bridge when we come to it, but there has been no one questioning my authority so far," he

Connecticut Gasoline Retailers Association, whose forebodings were echoed throughout the South and Midwest.

It was already bad Thursday in southeast Florida, where mile-long gas lines clogged roads. National Guardsmen hauled fuel blockade by independent truckers and rationing was ordered in Dade, Broward and Sarasota counties.

And it could be still worse on the July Fourth weekend, with a group representing the nation's 60,000 gas retailers threatening to shut down pumps starting July 4 unless Washington lets them boost prices.

The American Automobile Association said a survey of 6,386 service stations across the country showed only 42 percent planned to open this Saturday and only 31 percent on Sunday.

"I wouldn't advise anyone to plan a trip for this weekend unless they have enough gasoline in their tank when they start off," said Mary Vedder, general manager of the AAA in Albany, N.Y.

Minnesota Gov. Al Quie also urged motorists to stay home this weekend following a two-day truckers' blockade of oil refineries that led to the first long gasoline lines in the state.

In Omaha, Neb., also hit by fuel blockades, Mayor Al Veys apparently triggered panic buying Thursday with a remark a day earlier that "all stations will be out of gas tomorrow morning."

Pennsylvania was added today to the growing list of states with energy measures to deal with the gas crunch as officials announced $5 purchases minimums to curb topping off of nearly full tanks. Massachusetts began limiting sales to motorists with a half tank or less.

Odd-even rationing, which first appeared in California last month, was

Chamber Directors Told

C-C Ex-Presidents Discuss Local Problems

By PAUL SIMS

A committee of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce past presidents is looking into problems in the Hereford area, particularly those involving the economy, and plans to make recommendations to chamber directors concerning those problems, a member of the group said Thursday.

Bud Eades, one of 14 past presidents on the committee, told chamber directors in their regular monthly meeting Thursday that the group has met twice to discuss "shortcomings in the area."

Eades said the group is "in no way" trying to act as an elected chamber board.

"We only want to make recommendations, suggestions, to you, the board," Eades said. "One of the main things we want to do is try to get the community going with a positive attitude again. This is an enthusiastic group."

Reports took up most of the routine board meeting, with the only motions approved involving the purchase of an ad in the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame All-Girl rodeo program and a vote to leave it up to a special committee to find a speaker for next January's chamber banquet.

Somoza Resignation Demanded As 'Democratic' Solution to War

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) - President Anastasio Somoza balked at a U.S. call for his resignation but said he was open to "a democratic way of solving" the civil war ravaging Nicaragua.

Meanwhile, there was more heavy fighting between Somoza's troops and the Sandinista guerrillas in Managua's slum districts, but the guerrillas were reported slipping out of the barrios to fight somewhere else.

Secretary of State Cyrus Vance called for the end of the 42-year Somoza family dictatorship on Thursday at a meeting of the Organization of American States in Washington. Declaring there has been a "breakdown in trust" between the government and the people of Nicaragua, he proposed the "replacement of the present government with a transitional government of national recognition."

"I gave my answer to Vance a long time ago," said Somoza, who has vowed repeatedly to stay in office until his term expires in 1981. "The same thing was said to me by Bowdler (special U.S. Ambassador William Bowdler), and I proposed a plebiscite."

Bowdler went to Nicaragua last year to try to work out a settlement after a two-week uprising in September in which an estimated 1,500 persons were killed. But the mediation by the United States and several Latin American nations failed.

Asked in a telephone interview if there has been any change in his determination to hang on, Somoza replied: "I'll tell it to you when I talk to the Organization of American States. I want to talk to the OAS first."

He said two things could end the fighting: "first, stop countries from supplying arms to the Sandinista guerrillas, and second, a democratic way of solving the problem."

"I am open to dialogue," said the Nicaraguan strongman, offering to meet with his opponents.

But his opposition has insisted Somoza leave Nicaragua before they will discuss a solution, and "that is the point," he said. "How can I resign if they don't accept to talk to me except under those unconstitutional conditions?"

Heavy fighting was reported Thursday in the slum barrios on the eastern fringe of Managua, the capital, where guerrillas of the Sandinista National Liberation Front dug in a week ago.

National guard troops and the guerrillas battled with heavy machine guns and automatic weapons in the center of the eastern slums. The crump of heavy mortars could be heard at Somoza's bunker headquarters in downtown Managua. The guard flew frequent air strikes.

Reporters who entered the battle zone and military analysts said the guerrillas appeared to be giving ground slowly and pulling out, leaving the fighting to youngsters armed with small arms and old rifles.

Arizona Governor Criticizes Clements

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) - Arizona Gov. Bruce Babbitt says some of Texas Gov. Bill Clements' proposals on Mexican energy development sound like the "American imperial position."

However, Clements says he is waiting to hear that description from Babbitt himself.

The Texas governor will get a chance to exchange views with Babbitt today at a four-hour meeting of the Southwest Regional Border Commission.

New Mexico Gov. Bruce King and Tom Hayden, a representative of California Gov. Jerry Brown, will join the talks on mutual problems facing the four border states.

"The first thing you learn in Mexico is they're not in the business of joint ventures in energy," Babbitt told reporters Thursday after reviewing a Clements position paper on the topic.

The Texas Republican governor calls for a joint U.S.-Mexican corporation to provide financing for development of Mexico's burgeoning energy industry.

"That sort of strikes me as the American imperial position," the Arizona governor said of suggestions that the United States has the knowhow, but Mexico has the raw energy sources.

Babbitt says he will offer his own position paper calling for use of traditional commercial loans to boost Mexico's economy. A stronger industrial base will help stem the stream of poor Mexicans gaining illegal entry into the United States in search of jobs, he added.

Clements' paper calls for limited entry programs in which Mexican workers could stay in the United States for six months. They could work anywhere and would be guaranteed a minimum wage plus medical and health insurance.

Under the proposal, an employer caught hiring illegal aliens could be fined $1,000 for each unregistered worker arrested on his property.

Babbitt says that Clements' original "guest worker" proposal advanced in February smacked too much of the Bracero program of the 1950s and 1960s.

Q-What percentage of the United States, and the world, is Catholic?

A-According to the 1978 edition of the United States Catholic Directory, there were 49,836,176 Catholics in this country last year. The nation's population in 1978 was 216,287,455. Using those figures, the Catholic population in 1978 was roughly 23 percent of the US population.

The world population of Catholics is roughly guessed at 700 million, according to the Rev. Paul Haefner, pastor of St. Anthony's Catholic Church, who helped The Brand with these statistics. The world population is approximately 4,219,000,000. The estimated percentage of Catholics in the world is 17 percent.

707 Hijacker

Returned to U.S.

SHANNON, Ireland (AP) — The anti-communist Serb who hijacked an American airliner with 135 persons aboard left for the United States early today aboard the same Boeing 707 jet that brought him to Ireland.

A spokesman at Shannon Airport said hijacker Nikola Kavaja and his American lawyer, David Boeschich, were being guarded on the flight by five Irish policemen.

The spokesman said the American Airlines jet left at 1:45 a.m. EDT and was bound for McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey. He said it was due there at 7:45 a.m. EDT. It was being flown by the same volunteer crew that brought it over Thursday on the commandeered flight.

The Irish government announced early today that it was deporting Kavaja and his lawyer, but the police said then they would be taken back Friday afternoon by an FBI escort aboard a regular scheduled flight.

There was no explanation for the change in plans.

Ireland has no extradition treaty with the United States, but the Irish government apparently was deporting the pair as illegal immigrants.

Confession Highlights

Henley Murder Trial

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Jurors sat silently as Elmer Wayne Henley's horrifying confession to a mass murder so wide-reaching he remembers the names of only a few of the victims, was read in state district court here.

The gaunt defendant looked straight as lead prosecutor Carol Vance read the two-page statement into the record Thursday. State District Judge Noah Kennedy had ruled the August 9, 1973 confession admissible earlier in the week.

Henley, now 23, was convicted in 1974 of killing six youths as part of a homosexual murder-torture ring that left 26 dead. His conviction was overturned on appeal last December.

He has admitted killing his older companion, Dean Corll, but has never been prosecuted in that death.

In the gruesome, often detached statement Henley says Corll talked him into inducing young boys to visit Corll's home so the older man could sell them to a prostitution ring. Henley received $200 for the first boy, he said in the statement, and later discovered the boy had been raped and killed.

Roloff Blockade

Enters 3rd Day

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — The stalemate siege at Lester Roloff's Rebekah Home for Girls entered its third day today with a state task force awaiting word on its next move.

"We are not an army. We are a social service agency," said Marlin Johnston, associate commissioner of the Texas Department of Human Resources.

A state judge has told the DHR to clear out the Roloff homes. The fiery fundamentalist preacher says licensing his homes would be a violation of the separation of church and state. The courts have said the homes can't operate without the license.

"It's not a matter of whether," Johnston said Thursday about the closing of the facility. "It's just a matter of when and how."

Until Johnston figures out how to get past the legion of Bible-toting preachers and parents who have blockaded the church where the Rebekah girls have been spending their days, the 140-member state task force remains headquartered at Texas A&I University at Kingsville. White Johnston maintains the task force is not an army, he has started to talk about strategy and maneuvers.

Museum Official

Blasts Clements' Veto

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements' veto of state funds for seven university-affiliated Texas museums is a "shocking" blow, a spokesman for Texas museums said Thursday.

"We are fully aware that the governor anticipates each affiliated university picking up the slack, but this just will not happen in some instances and certainly not the whole budget," said Calvin Smith, vice president of the Texas Association of Museums and director of museum services at Lamar University.

"I do not see any hope of continuing with any of our educational programs, no cultural awareness series, no more publications except what is now in progress, no special exhibitions or other public services. We will be reduced to caretaker status."

Smith said the vetoes cut $1,208,957 from the 1980-81 budgets of the Texas Memorial Museum at the University of Texas at Austin, Centennial Museum at UT-El Paso, Spindletop Memorial Museum at Lamar, North Texas State University Historical Collection, Museum of the Big Bend at Sul Ross State University, John E. Conner Museum at Texas A&I University and Stone Fort Museum at Stephen F. Austin University.

Recession Matter of Mood

NEW YORK (AP) — Recession, officially, is measured by the numbers. When output of goods and services declines for two successive quarters, say the keepers of the numbers, we have a recession.

Even before we tumble into the economic pits we use the numbers to guide us. Like a pilot flying on instruments, we seek guidance from the dials of production, jobs, sales, credit and the like.

This is fine for economists, and obviously necessary too, but for the mass of people a recession has come to mean not so much a numerical measurement as a mood, an attitude, a perception of times.

Ask almost anyone, if the past four years have been economically good years or poor. They likely will choose the latter. And yet, the economy has been expanding rather than receding.

"So what," they are likely to say, "my buying power hasn't expanded." And, were it their style to do so, they could illustrate their case with the same numbers used to show that times are good.

They could show that in the 12 months through March, straight-time wages rose 7.8 percent, but prices jumped 10.2 percent, resulting in a net loss of buying power. "Isn't that recession?" they ask.

They know that passbook savings earn less than 6 percent interest, and U.S. Savings Bonds no more than 6.5 percent if held a minimum of five years, while the inflation rate is 13.9 percent. A net loss, they say.

They know that inflation has shrunk their life insured values, that they can't afford college for the kids, that the house they aspired to is beyond their reach, and that they've had to retrench.

The mood of personal recession is measured by consumer polls. During the past four years, officially one of the longest continuous economic expansions in our history, consumer moods soured.

Which attitude is real: The official one, that the economy has been strong and expanding, or the mood, based mainly on personal experience, that the economy has been getting sicker all the time?

Each has its use, but they cannot be interchanged. But inevitably they are. The official statistics, valuable to professionals, are too often offered to the public as evidence of their misperceptions.

If anything, that use can only make ordinary individuals more cynical. Who knows the condition of family finances better than the head of a family? Who knows better how that family interprets its condition?

And so we continue the dichotomy. Officially, the expansion continues — in that the nation's overall output of goods and services continues to grow.

But ask the next person you meet to assess his personal finances and he will tell you bluntly and simply, and quite accurately too, that the padding in his wallet has been shrinking for many months.

The Abundant Life

NO RESENTMENT

BY BOB WEAR

RESENTMENT IS A FEELING which can easily cause us more trouble than we can handle. Of course, there will be many things and situations that can cause this feeling of indignant displeasure. We, however, must not let the feeling control us. It can easily do so, and, under its influence, we soon find ourselves talking and acting unwisely. It is better that we learn how to be displeased without letting the feeling cause us to lose our common sense and good judgment.

WHEN WE ARE DISPLEASED, we can very easily become something other than our best self. Oftentimes there is nothing that can be done, and we may be adding frustration to resentment. If we do this, we make bad matters worse. In many instances, perhaps most instances, we will be better off, and happier if we will just forget the whole thing. In most cases, this is a wholesome kind of self-protection.

SORROW AND REGRET are the most frequent results of words and actions which are motivated by resentment. In fact, these expressions of resentment often set in motion strife and ill-will which never ends. This is a terrible price to pay for permitting ourselves to give resentment the momentary control of us. This momentary control is bad enough, but it is possible that, once it is given control, it never lets go. Therefore, we must let go of it just as quickly as we recognize it for what it is.

SUPPRESSED RESENTMENT may not be as harmful as openly expressed resentment, but it can be more harmful. We must not, however, deceive ourselves into thinking that we are alright so long as we don't say or do anything. We are never alright until we rid ourselves of all resentment. It can impair our health, upset our mind to the point of being totally ineffective, and it can even spoil all of our important human relationships. It can even vent its fury on the innocent.

WE CAN BE TOO SENSITIVE, and this will cause us to be more vulnerable to the happenings in our environment. We will be resentful about something most of the time. No one can live effectively, when this happens. Faulty expectations will also make us more susceptible to the things which will pull us down below our potential level of living. If we are hypercritical, we will be opening the door to more and more causes of resentment. We cannot afford to let any of these things happen to us.

WE CAN BE CONCERNED, and knowledgeable, and know what we like and don't like without being resentful, when we disapprove of what is being said or done.

IF WE REFUSE RESENTMENT, we can be much more objective and constructive in our plans; in our speech; and in our behavior. We will be more desirable and efficacious people.

said. "This is essential in the jurisdiction of the county courts of the counties involved and the commissioners courts. It's a county matter."

Clements said the Department of Public Safety to enforce the 55 mph speed limit "with the forces available" to the best of its ability. "I am not going to add several hundred troopers to enforce it," said Clements, who has pledged to eliminate 25,000 state employees in the first two years of his tenure.

Governors

The Arizona governor called that arrangement "exploitation of the worst kind."

America should develop some legal brainwork for Mexicans to work in this country, Babbitt said, but that topic might be beyond the commission's authority.

"We should urge the State Department to sit down with the Mexican government and talk about the issue such as how

He added that he hoped local officers would "vigorously enforce" the speed limits in cities.

Clements was asked if he would include the so-called "Roloff Bill" if he called a special session. The bill that would have exempted child-care institutions operated by evangelist Lester Roloff and other religious organizations from state licensing was defeated in the recent legislation.

"I have no plans at the moment for a special session," Clements said. "And I have no reason to believe legislators would be any more responsive in a special session to the bill than they were before. They were very unresponsive before."

"They (Mexican workers) need organizational protection, whether it's some kind of union I don't know," he added.

Both Clements and Babbitt have discussed developing Mexico's natural gas reserves so that electrical energy could be produced at the border and used in the United States.

Clements said he still planned to call a special session on the initiative and referendum issue "but I am not calling a special session on anything soon."

The governor indicated previously he might call a special session just before the political filing deadline in early February 1980.

The Texas governor says America should consider swapping Mexican gas and oil for energy generated in the United States. However, Babbitt favors letting Mexico refine its natural gas and oil, and then sell it outright to the United States.

"President Jose Lopez Portillo makes it clear he doesn't want to make Mexico a gas station for the rest of the world," Babbitt said.

Weekend Gas Could be Short

By The Associated Press

Here is the expected availability of gasoline in Texas this coming weekend, as indicated by a statewide survey by the American Automobile Association:

Amarillo — 36 stations surveyed with 53 percent closing by 8 p.m. week nights, 28 percent by 6 p.m. Saturday, and 67 percent to be closed on Sunday.

Austin — 15 stations with 73 percent closing week nights, 60 percent by 6 p.m. Saturday, and 80 percent closing Sunday.

Beaumont-Port Arthur — 16 stations, 80 percent closing week nights, 53 percent by 6 p.m. Saturday, 60 percent Sunday.

Corpus Christi — 20 stations, 50 percent closing week nights, 45 percent by 6 p.m. Saturday, 55 percent Sunday.

Dallas — 38 stations, 100 percent closing week nights, 100 percent closing by 6 p.m. Saturday, 98 percent Sunday.

Many stations opening only limited hours, with long line weekdays, longer on weekends.

El Paso — 30 stations, 63 percent week nights, 20 percent by 6 p.m. Saturday, 67 percent Sunday.

Fort Worth — 32 stations, 97 percent closing week nights, 100 percent by 6 p.m. Saturday, 100 percent Sunday. Many stations operating only limited hours, with lines up to a block long common weekdays, longer on weekends.

Galveston — 3 stations, 100 percent week nights, 100 percent by 6 p.m. Saturday, 100 percent Sunday. Most stations open only on limited hour basis, with lines a block or more week days and weekends.

Houston — 49 stations, 96 percent week nights, 91 percent by 6 p.m. Saturday, 95 percent Sunday. Most stations open only on a limited basis, with lines repoged as long as six blocks.

McAllen — 20 stations, 50 percent week nights; 27 percent by 6 p.m. Saturday; 73 percent Sunday.

Midland-Odessa — 15 stations, 47 percent week nights, 7 percent by 6 p.m. Saturday, 49 percent Sunday.

San Antonio — 40 stations, 53 percent week nights, 60 percent by 6 p.m. Saturday, 70 percent Sunday.

Waco — 15 stations, 53 percent week nights, 40 percent by 6 p.m. Saturday, 33 percent Sunday.

Interstate Highways — Plenty of gas reported at most interstate stations at points not close to major urban centers. Points reporting one or more stations open week nights and Sunday include Brownwood, Big Bend, Colorado City, Columbus, Flatonia, Madisonville, Fort Stockton, Laredo, Pecos, Temple and Wichita Falls.

Baryshnikov Named Director Of Ballet

NEW YORK (AP) — Dancer Mikhail Baryshnikov has leaped to the top of the American Ballet Theater.

Baryshnikov joined the ABT after defecting from the Soviet Union in 1974 but left last year to dance with the New York City Ballet.

The board of governing trustees of Ballet Theater Foundation named Baryshnikov director and elected him to the board at its regular meeting Wednesday. He will assume the position Sept. 1, 1980.

Baryshnikov left the ABT last June to join George Balanchine's New York City Ballet. When he returns to ABT, he is expected to dance as well as direct the company.

Hams Prepared For Field Day

Local residents will get the chance to see at least one side of the world of ham radio Saturday and Sunday when a group of Hereford amateurs set up to participate in "Field Day."

Field Day is an annual, nationwide contest, during which amateurs in the United States set up a station using emergency power at a "portable" location, and then attempt to contact as many other amateurs as possible during the established time period for the Field Day.

Field Day 1979 will begin at 1 p.m., Saturday, and the Hereford group will begin setting up its station at that time. Site of the activity for the local hams is the ticket booths of Whiteface Stadium, courtesy of the local school administration. Some nine amateurs will band together for the local Field Day effort, the first of its kind here.

Included in the group are Bob Monical (WB50XE), Chris White (NSALV), Wayne White (WDSJYX), Robert Priest

Two Death Warrants Issued For Convicted Florida Murderers

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Death warrants were signed Tuesday for two convicted murderers as Florida prepared to put them to death next week, a month after John A. Spenkelink became the first person to be executed against his will in the United States in more than 12 years.

Gov. Bob Graham signed the warrants for Robert A. Sullivan, 31, of Miami and Charles W. Proffitt, 33, of Tampa at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, his office said. The executions were scheduled for 7 a.m. June 27.

Attorneys for both men said they would go to court to try to block the executions. Both men already have failed in appeals to the state Supreme Court.

In a related matter, Graham recommended clemency for Death Row inmates Leatrice Leo Alford of Riviera Beach and Clifford Hallman of Tampa.

Sullivan was convicted in the Nov. 12, 1973, slaying of Homestead restaurant manager Donald Schmidt. Schmidt was abducted and then shot in the head with a shotgun after two men robbed the restaurant and motel.

Proffitt was sentenced to death for the March 21, 1974, murder of Tampa wrestling coach Joel Medgebow, who was asleep in his home when a prowler broke in and stabbed him in the chest with a kitchen knife.

Proffitt's case led to the U.S. Supreme Court's landmark decision upholding Florida's death penalty law in 1976.

Spenkelink, a 30-year-old California prison escapee who fought his death sentence for six years, became the first person to be involuntarily executed in the United States in 12 years when he was electrocuted at the Florida State Prison at Starke on May 25. He was convicted of killing a fellow drifter at a Tallahassee motel.

The last execution in this country before Spenkelink's was on Jan. 17, 1977, when Gary Mark Gilmore refused to allow appeals in his behalf and was shot by a firing squad in Utah. The last prisoner before Spenkelink to be put to death against his will was Aaron C. Mitchell, who was executed in San Quentin's gas chamber on April 12, 1967.

Graham's decision on the death warrants was announced jointly with his clemency

Executive Defends DC-10 as Safe

WASHINGTON (AP) — McDonnell Douglas Corp. executive told Congress Wednesday that "these trying recent days ... have reconfirmed the status of the DC-10 as a safe and dependable airplane."

Contending that the grounded jetliner should be returned immediately to worldwide service, John Brizendine said the company has "complete and undiminished confidence" in the plane despite the May 25 crash of a DC-10 in Chicago that claimed 273 lives.

Brizendine, president of the McDonnell Douglas Douglas Aircraft division, said: "It was a great airplane when it first entered service and ... has proven itself yet again through recommendation for Alford and Hallman. However, the governor must get at least three of the six Cabinet members to agree to commute the two death sentences to life imprisonment.

"This scrutiny has not revealed to us any reason to doubt the DC-10's design or its continued ability to perform. He told the House Public Works subcommittee on aviation, "To our knowledge, no design flaws have been found that could have caused the Chicago tragedy."

Brizendine cited findings by federal investigators that indicated that cracks found in several DC-10 engine mountings, including the American Airlines plane that crashed after the left engine tore away from the wing, were caused by improper maintenance shortcuts.

YMCA Director Addresses TOPS

"Exercise and Diet Control" was the program topic discussed this week by Rick Woods, YMCA director, who addressed TOPS Chapter #1011 as a segment in their self-improvement series.

Woods stressed that exercise and diet control are two elements which must be combined for weight loss and a healthy body. If both elements are not incorporated, a weight loss program will not be completely effective, Woods stated.

He explained that dieting without exercise will cause the skin to become flabby and muscles to be soft and lax. By combining diet and exercise, the muscles become stronger and the skin acquires a firm, healthy tone. Lack of exercise contributes to cardiovascular problems, he said.

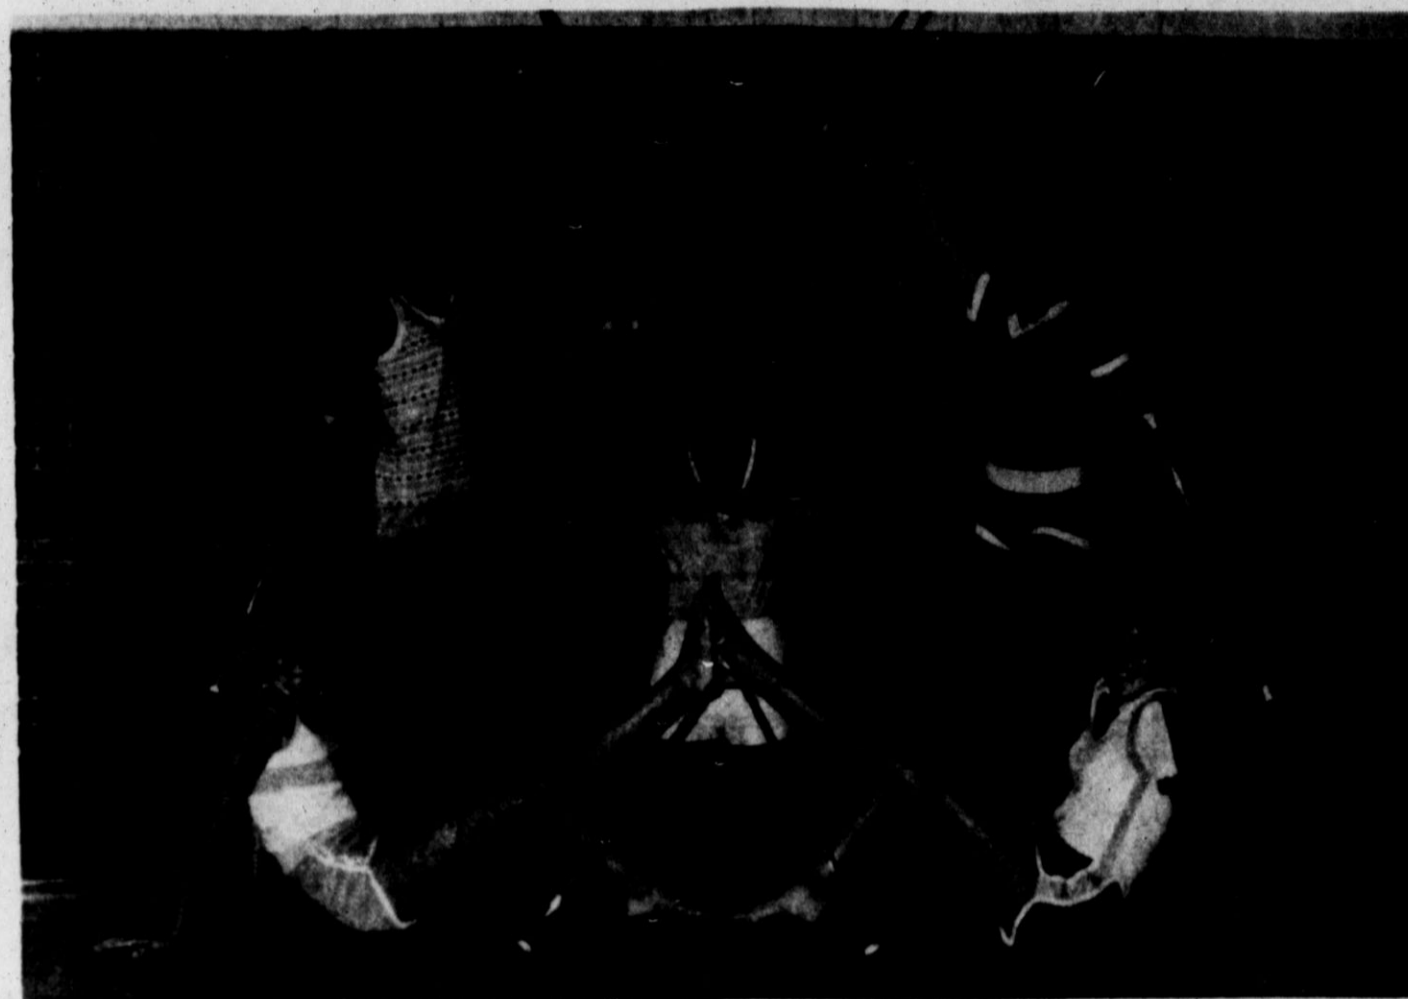

Americans are the most overfed and under-nourished people in the world, Woods said. The most common reason for weight gain is the consumption of more calories than the body can burn. He added that there is no quick, easy way for weight control.

Woods advised all dieters to check with their family physician before beginning a strenuous exercise regimen. He recommended that they begin an exercise program gradually, building up to a more active level. Walking is a good exercise, Woods said, because one can increase the distance and pace as time passes.

Woods concluded his program by extending an invitation to the local YMCA, where the staff can provide a weight-loss formula.

A total of 10 pounds was the amount lost by Chapter #1011 in the past week. There were 17 members present.

Clarendon Celebration To Be Staged July 4-7

Local residents are invited to show and sell their wares at Clarendon on July 4th as part of the annual Saints Roust Celebration, which will continue through the 7th.

Booths at the Country Craft Fair can be reserved for $7 by contacting Laura Halbert, Naylor Route, Clarendon, Tx. 79226, telephone 874-3910 or 874-3697.

In addition to the craft fair, the Saints Roust celebration will include rodeos each evening, a parade on the 4th, an old Settlers Reunion, a fiddler's contest, a barbecue and dances. Rodeo books will be open to entrants one day only, on June 29, from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. Rodeo contestants can call 974-2539 for further entry details. A wild calf race and scramble will be open for kids' participation each night of the celebration. A drawing for free beef will be held each evening during the rodeo.

The parade on July 4th is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. to be followed by the fiddler's contest at 3 p.m. with cash prizes to be awarded to the winners. The Old Settlers Reunion will begin at 10:30 a.m. that day and end at noon. The barbecue will open at 11 a.m. at a cost of $3 per plate. Dances will be each evening outdoors.

Further details about the celebration are available from Jim Robinson, 874-3697.

Daughter of Local Couple Appointed Corporate Manager

GLENVIEW, Ill. - Carolyn Hernandez has been appointed corporate manager of affirmative action programs at Kraft, Inc., according to Herm Wille, vice president of Urban Affairs. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hernandez, 132 Ave. I.

In this position, Wille said, Ms. Hernandez will participate in the development and refinement of affirmative action programs and will represent the Urban Affairs Department at company meetings as well as at functions of minority and female organizations across the country.

Ms. Hernandez joined Kraft in October 1978 as a sales representative for the company's Retail Food Group in Corpus Christi, Texas.

Car Wash Scheduled Tomorrow

Residents are invited to take advantage of a car wash from 9 a.m. - 4 p.m. Saturday on the parking lot of First Presbyterian Church, 610 Lee St. The project is a fund-raising project of the Presbyterian youth.

For $3, the youth will wash the exterior of a car. They will not be cleaning the interiors.

Proceeds of the project will be used for a trip to Six Flags. Youth sponsor is Bob Ward.

Ann Landers Motherly Advice

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I just read a letter in your column that hit me right between the eyes. I learned the same lesson from a Los Angeles policeman when my daughter was two and a half years old.

She had fallen asleep in the car. Instead of waking her up or taking her home, I decided to continue with my errands. I was gone about 30 minutes. When I returned, an alert policeman was waiting for me. (I had locked my daughter in, to prevent her from being kidnapped or molested.)

In the lecture that followed, I learned I had violated the law. The kind officer reduced the charge to a misdemeanor. He was soft-spoken and gentle, wrote out a ticket although he could have taken me to the police station on child abandonment charges.

It could have been an expensive ticket. I got off easy. Standing before a judge, I learned Los Angeles has a law that states "no person who is unable to escape (by themselves) may be left unattended in a locked vehicle." This law also applied to elderly and handicapped persons who might be unable to roll down a window or pull up the door lock in case of an emergency.

I have been passing on this information to everyone I know, hoping I can educate them. I hope you will, too. - A Better Mother

DEAR MOTHER: Here's your letter which packs a much harder wallop because you've been there. Thanks for telling the story in a way I never could.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our problem is drums. We have neighbors whose son plays them anytime he feels like it and as loud as he wants. We wouldn't mind if he practiced one hour a day. We could accept that. But he practices whenever the mood strikes - morning, noon, or night - five minutes, one hour or four hours - off and on, day after day. I'm getting an ulcer from wondering when he's going to start in with the racket - and for how long. His drums are in the garage and he usually keeps the doors open. When he closes the door, the beat vibrates throughout our house.

The problem is worse now that summer is here and we want to keep our windows open. When we have company, it's embarrassing and nerve-racking to expose them to such noise.

"We've talked to the parents and the boy - no change. We called the police. They came over, talked to the family and left. The noise became louder than ever. The police have told us the boy is not violating any law unless he plays after 10:00 p.m.

To make matters worse, the drummer has friends with guitars, amplifiers and microphones. They've formed a unit.

We asked the police to come out again. They did. The verdict: It's not against the law unless they play after 10:00 p.m.

What can we do, Ann? To move would be extremely difficult. Are we being too critical and picky? Please answer before we go out of our minds. I'll sign this - The Beat Goes On. And On, And On, And On.

DEAR BEAT: Since the policemen haven't been helpful, the time has come to get your own legal advice. Hire a lawyer and find out your rights. Then exercise them.

DO SOMETHING! By PATSY GILES

Perhaps when we were very young, we thought that we could solve the problems of the world. One day we would be a great doctor or scientist and cure all diseases and make all men healthy. The next day we would be the great facilitator or caring person and make all people happy. Another day, we might be the great teacher or philosopher, and make wise men of all mankind.

As we grow older, we realize that we can not minister to the entire world. We cannot possibly be all things to all people. We do not give up, however. Everyone has his job to do - some little, some bigger, but all important.

Emily Dickinson put this very succinctly in the following poem:

If I can stop one heart from breaking,
I shall not live in vain;
If I can ease one life the aching,

Or cool one pain,
Or help one fainting robin
Unto his nest again,
I shall not live in vain.
Maybe you can not be all things to all people, or solve all the problems of the world, but you can contribute. Do something!

Digest Sweepstakes Have Credibility Problem

NEW YORK (AP) - At 7:30 one morning last March, William Hogan of North Little Rock, Ark., received a telephone call from John O'Hara, the President of Reader's Digest, telling him he had won $25,000.

Hogan, said O'Hara, was the one millionth sweepstakes winner since the Digest began the promotions in 1962. Until Hogan's name had been picked from a drum, he said, nobody knew who the winner would be.

As it turned out, the Digest probably was as lucky as Hogan, 36, his pretty wife, Sheila, and their two children, a son, McCall, 6, and a daughter, Kelly, 2. A nice American family from a nice American town.

But in a way, unlucky too. The matter of credibility intrudes on the scene: Was it mere chance, people were inclined to ask, that events fell into place so neatly?

"It was unreal," concedes Frank Rosenber, vice president and circulation director. Almost everyone, he said, thought the company had chosen a dozen candidates and then decided which would be the winner.

The credibility problem is long-term. People find it hard to believe, for example, that all prizes are picked at random, that non-subscribers can win as easily as subscribers.

When they learn some of the other statistics their awe, and doubts, sometimes rise. A sweepstakes letter last January was sent to about 50 million households and was guaranteed to provide 61,022 winners.

Every return is opened, said Charles Pritchman, a public affairs executive. They must be, he said, because people include letters and, inadvertently, personal items. One time $2,200 and a bank deposit slip were found and returned.

Nevertheless, a listener observed that a recent letter to the Digest drew no response.

The accompanying check was cashed, but the writer was later dunned. Somewhat lamely, Pritchman conceded the fallibility of the Digest. Accidents happen, he said.

Each sweepstakes return goes into a barrel, he said, and each winner is drawn at random by the Reuben H. Donnelly Corp. in Mount Vernon, N.Y. He insists the process is as closely secured as a voter's ballot.

Nevertheless, the doubts

"I've never known anyone who won," is the typical complaint, even though the Digest claims that one in every 74 households has won at least a $5 prize, and that more than $15 million has been delivered to winners in the past 17 years.

Winner lists are available from the Digest, and are on file also with the states of New York and Florida. The Federal Trade Commission watches. And so, presumably, does the U.S. Postal Service.

The Digest believes sweeps provide the best use of the ad dollar, even though their postage bill for all company mailings totaled $75 million in fiscal 1978.

Court Says Holding Co. Must Pay Franchise Tax

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) - In a decision worth millions of dollars in state revenue, the Texas Supreme Court Wednesday ruled that bank holding companies must pay franchise taxes on dividends and interest they receive from national banks in Texas.

Eight national bank holding companies had contested a 1974 ruling by Comptroller Bob Bullock that included bank income in the formula for computing their corporate franchise tax.

They sought through the suit to recover $2 million in taxes paid under protest, and the Supreme Court observed that their contention was "tantamount to a claim for exemption from the franchise tax."

Congress gave states the right to tax national banks in 1969, and the Legislature passed a law in 1971 saying the congressional enactment did not mean the imposition of any new taxes on the "institutions affected."

The holding companies said this meant the state could not tax them on their banking profits. But the Supreme Court said "the only institutions mentioned or referred to in that federal statute are banks."

"Not one of the taxpayers in this case, however, can be characterized as a 'bank.' A national bank holding company is a company which has control over a bank, but it is not characterized or statutorily empowered to transact banking business," the court said.

Stated differently, there is no reason for us to presume that the Legislature sought to exempt national bank holding companies and corporate holders of national bank certificates of deposit from a franchise tax computed on income received from national banks located in this state," the court said.

CBS Edges ABC Out of Frontrunner Position In Nielsen Ratings for Second Time in Four Weeks

NEW YORK (AP) - CBS knocked ABC out of first place in the networks' ratings race for the second time in four weeks, thanks in large measure to a strong Monday night lineup.

CBS listed three of the four most-watched shows in the week ending June 17, all but "Three's Company," which was No. 1 in the ratings for the fifth straight week.

Three shows from CBS' Monday night schedule were right behind - "WKRP in Cincinnati," "M-A-S-H" and "Lou Grant," and the distribution helped the network to a rating for the week of 14.7. ABC was second at 13.8, with NBC third with a rating of 12.9.

The networks say that means in an average prime-time minute during the week, 14.7 percent of the homes in the country with TV were tuned to CBS.

The rating for "Three's Company" was 24. Nielsen says that mean of all the homes in the country with television, 24 percent saw at least part of the program.

CBS also listed the week's

No. 6 program, "Barnaby Jones," and ABC walked off with the rest of the Top 10. NBC, in another difficult week, didn't score until 18th place, with a Sunday night movie, "What's Up Doc?"

In a week of repeats, first-run shows did relatively well. ABC's broadcast of "Harry and Tonto," a movie starring Art Carney, was No. 13 in the ratings, and a first-time episode of "Carter Country," also on ABC, was 15th.

ABC had four of the week's five lowest-rated shows, including "Battlestar Galactica" in 62nd place, "The Man Who Loved Bears" 65th and a news special on the SALT II summit, 66th. NBC's "Hizzonner" was No. 64.

Here are the week's Top 10 shows:

"Three's Company" with a rating of 24 representing 17.9 million homes. ABC, "WKRP in Cincinnati," 22.5 or 16.9 million. "M-A-S-H," 22.4 or 16.7 million, and "Lou Grant," 20.9 or 15.6 million, all CBS. "Taxi," 20.7 or 15.4 million. ABC, "Barnaby Jones," 20 or 14.9 million. CBS, and "Laverne and Shirley," 19.6 or 14.6 million. "Mork and Mindy," 19.1 or 14.2 million. "Charlie's Angels," 18.7 or 13.9 million.

and "Angie," 18.1 or 13.5 million, all ABC.

The next 10 shows: "All in the Family" and "One Day at a Time," both CBS;

Movie: "Harry and Tonto," and "Happy Days," ABC, tie; Movie: "What's Up Doc?"

"Barney Miller," both ABC, tie; "Carter Country," ABC;

"60 Minutes," CBS, and "Fantasy Island," both ABC.

Amending into Oblivion Problem With SALT II Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate does not customarily reject treaties outright, but it has been known to amend them to oblivion. And that is the administration's real problem in the campaign for SALT II.

If President Carter and his allies can guide the pact to the point of final approval without major changes - which would require new negotiations with the Soviet Union - they've probably won.

But getting it there is going to be difficult. Some of the people Carter most needs on his side, including Senate Republican Leader Howard H. Baker Jr., are saying the treaty will have to be amended in order to gain the two-thirds vote required to approve ratification.

Not even the most ardent critics of the treaty Carter and Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev signed in Vienna will confess to being against arms limitation in principle. But to a senator, they say they will oppose any pact that does not safeguard American security, and argue that SALT II does not meet that standard.

President Carter, of course, insists that it does. Indeed, he argues that SALT II would make a positive contribution to U.S. security.

But security, in the age of nuclear standoff, is in the eye of the beholder. When senators like Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., behold SALT, they see appeasement.

Carter told Congress Monday night the treaty "will become the most exhaustively discussed of our time, perhaps of all time."

The president said administration experts will discuss every detail, and he will personally explain it throughout our nation to every American who will listen.

The opposition will be doing the same thing. Because of its timing, the treaty debate will rapidly become blended with the politics of 1980, for the Senate will be considering it late into the fall, and it is not impossible that the final votes will come early in 1980, as the campaign for the White House begins in earnest.

So the president has political as well as diplomatic prestige at stake. Unless he can get the Senate to approve the treaty without significant change, he enters the campaign with a dent in his image.

By the time all the words are uttered and it comes time to vote, a good many people are likely to be thoroughly confused. The SALT treaty is long, complex, and contested on point after point. What one side calls a contribution to peace and American well being, the other side calls a sellout - and on the same set of facts.

It's enough to make an administration lobbyist yearn for the simpler days of the Panama Canal treaties, when the issue was as clear and simple as it was emotional.

The canal deal was yes or no, give up the waterway to Panama or refuse to yield it. The Senate said yes.

The arms accord is a collection of maybes, despite the fact that, as Carter noted, it puts equal ceilings on the strategic arsenals of both sides.

URW to Use Pact As Industry Pattern

AKRON, Ohio (AP) - Officials of the United Rubber Workers union have voted to use a contract settlement with B.F. Goodrich to set a pattern throughout the industry, says union President Peter Bommarito.

Meanwhile, striking Ugooyal workers were to return to work beginning Tuesday, he said.

The union's policy advisory committee agreed Monday to use the Goodrich contract hammered out Friday rather than a tentative proposal worked out Monday with Uniroyal Inc. The Goodrich pact was chosen because it was settled first, Bommarito said, though he said the Uniroyal contract was richer.

Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. had reportedly agreed to be bound by the terms of the contract the union designated as its master contract, leaving only Goodyear, the leader among the Big Four tire makers.

Uniroyal had been struck since May 9 by 8,300 workers at 11 plants.

Terms of the three-year agreement were not disclosed. Both the Uniroyal and Goodrich agreements are believed to exceed the Carter administration's wage guidelines.

Uniroyal spokesmen declined comment.

Rubber workers now earn about $8 an hour in wages and $3.27 an hour in fringe benefits.

Uniroyal said that before the strike, the union had sought a 32.9 percent increase over three years, which the company estimated would cost $93 million.

The Akron Beacon Journal reported that both contracts provide a general wage increase of 72 cents an hour over three years, retirement after 30 years regardless of age, a pension increase of $2.50 a month for each year of employment and protection measures, against plant closings to improve job security.

The New York Times said the Uniroyal pact called for wage increases of 52 cents the first year and 35 cents in both the second and third year, with provisions for cost-of-living allowances. The Goodrich pact provides the same yearly pay increases but slightly different cost-of-living allowances, the Times said.

In 1920, Oxford University passed a statute admitting women to degree programs.

The cities of Port Arthur and Fort William, now Thunder Bay, Ont., were incorporated in 1907.

Triple Play Highlights Softball

First Christian Church won and lost in church league softball action as the church's two teams faced each other with team II defeating team I, 16-9 in action last night.

In the second game of the night, First Baptist Church survived a scare from First Methodist and kept its perfect record intact with a 13-12 victory.

A triple play highlighted action in the first game as FC I's Tommy Bowling caught a line drive, stepped on second and then threw to first baseman John Burkhalter to pull off the unusual play.

The game was close throughout, with FC II scoring five runs in each of the last two innings to secure their third win of the season and raise their record to 3-2.

FC I held the lead through the first four frames before going into an offensive slump that had the team failing to score in the last two innings.

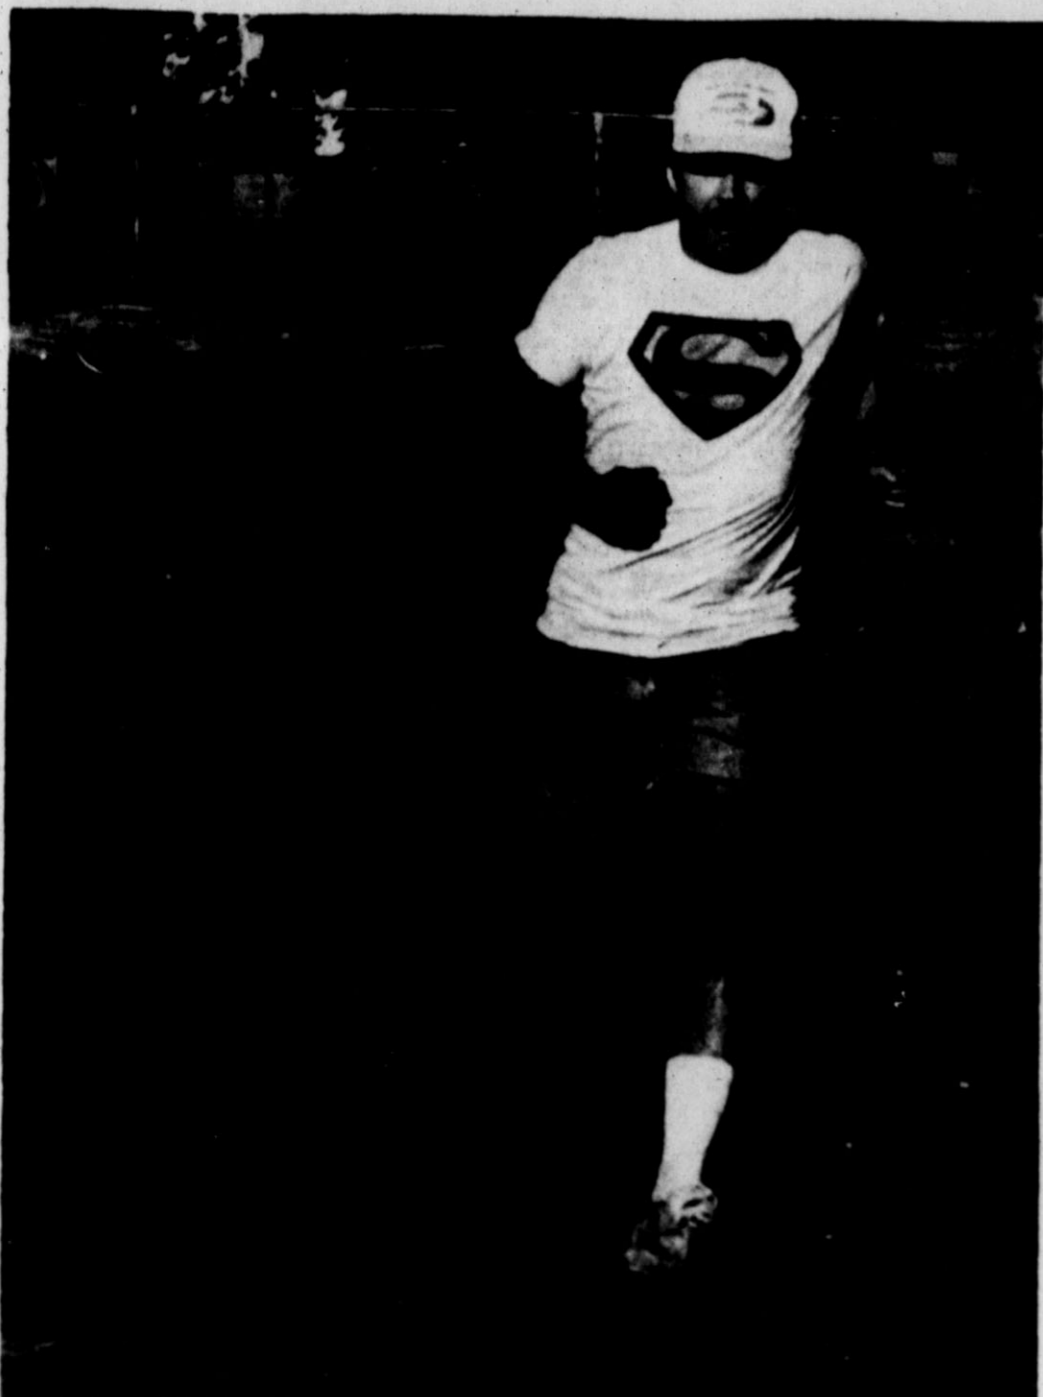

In the second game, FBC jumped to an eight run lead in the top of the third before the Methodists came back to score five in their half of the frame.

First Methodist continued to narrow the gap as they scored three tallies in the fourth, while holding FBC to two.

A home run by Bob Nigh in the sixth inning proved to be the margin of victory for the Baptists as the Methodists came back in the last half of the final frame to score four runs before the FBC defense could put the stopper in the scoring.

Nigh's homer was only one of two extra-base hits in the game as Stan Brock of First Methodist poked a double in the fourth inning to push across two of the home team's 12 runs.

FBC continues to lead the league with a 5-0 record and First Methodist is now at 2-2. Makeup games from June 5 will be played tonight as First Presbyterian plays Community Church and First Methodist goes against First Nazarene.

Yanks Lemon Tabbed As AL Skipper

NEW YORK (AP) - Bob Lemon will put on his New York Yankees uniform once more when he manages the American League in the All-Star Game against the National League at Seattle July 17.

"I feel very great," about being named AL manager, Lemon said. "I feel that it's an honor to be the manager of the All-Star Game. Always when I was playing I looked forward to playing in it. I was a coach twice and an honorary captain once."

Legion Game Postponed

The American Legion baseball game scheduled to be played in Hereford last night between the Redbirds and the Caprock Longhorns was postponed due to a mixup in scheduling. Clarence Thrasher, district athletic chairman announced.

The game will be set for sometime after July 1, with the game to be played in Hereford. Bob Hillerby, manager of the Hereford team said that the game will be made up because it will have an effect on the outcome of who will be eligible for the post-season tournament that will be contested by the top four teams of the district.

Lemon was named manager of the Yankees at midseason in 1978, taking over for Billy Martin, leading the team to a World Series victory and was named AL Manager of the Year. He was replaced as manager last Monday by Martin.

Bob wanted to be the All-Star manager and he certainly earned the honor," said AL President Lee MacPhail. "It seems to me that Bob is the perfect choice. He has been active in the league and has seen all the teams this year."

and he knows all the league talent thoroughly.

"Together, we hope to select the best possible club to oppose Tommy Lasorda and the Nationals."

A member of baseball's Hall of Fame, Lemon was a 20-game winner for the Cleveland Indians seven times, pitched in four All-Star games and two World Series as an Indian.

ANEHEIM, Calif. (AP) - So far, this trip to California has paid off handsomely for the Texas Rangers, with a jump into second place in the American League West and renewed hope for their starting pitching rotation.

Thanks to the efforts of youngsters John Henry Johnson and Danny Darwin and a 3-2, 11-inning victory over the Angels Thursday night, the Rangers managed a split in their four-game series with the American League West leaders at Anaheim Stadium.

Johnson, acquired from Oakland a week ago today, gave up four hits in five innings to earn the victory in Texas' 2-1 win on Tuesday.

While Darwin didn't figure in that decision, he gave up just four hits and two runs in 8 1/2 innings Thursday in his first appearance since being recalled from Tucson.

"If Darwin and Johnson throw like they did in this series, things are looking up for us," said Ranger catcher Jim Sundberg, whose two-out bloop single scored the winning run Thursday.

"When I went out in the ninth inning, I wanted the shutout so bad I lost my concentration," said Darwin, who pitched in three games with the Rangers last September. "Plus I was a little tired."

So far this season, Texas starters have managed only nine complete games, with Ferguson Jenkins hurling six of them.

Darwin propelled the Rangers into second place in the AL West - 4 1/2 games behind the Angels - by blanking California on just three hits and one walk during the first eight innings. With one out in the ninth, he walked Carney Lansford.

After Don Ford singled Lansford to third, Jim Kern replaced the rookie Texas right-hander.

After striking out Don Baylor, Kern served up a two-run double to Willie Aikens, tying the score at 2-2.

Ranger Manager Pat Corrales was upset with Kern, who has eight wins and 10 saves.

"I told him I wasn't concerned about Aikens getting a hit," said Corrales. "I was concerned he didn't tell me he had stiffened up."

Kern admitted he was unable to get loose in the ninth after spending the two previous innings warming up, and was yanked in favor of Sparky Lyle in the tenth. Lyle retired all six batters he faced for his fourth win in 10 decisions.

Don Aase went the first nine innings for the Angels, giving up a two-run double to Oscar Gamble in the sixth. Dave LaRoche replaced him in the tenth and took the loss, dropping his record to 2-7.

LaRoche, struggling this season after compiling 80 saves in the past four years, yielded a leadoff single to Richie Zisk in the 11th frame and after Zisk advanced to third on a sacrifice and groundout, the Angels'

Yeager Keys Win For Slumping LA

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Tom Lasorda was having lunch ... and it came to him while passing the pasta.

"I had a feeling about putting Steve Yeager back behind home plate," said the manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

So Lasorda made up the lineup card Thursday night, writing in the name of his troubled catcher. And the decision looked like solid gold after Yeager blasted a three-run homer to help the slump-ridden Dodgers beat the Atlanta Braves 6-4.

"You always feel better when you contribute," said Yeager, who went into the game batting a horrendous .151. "I know things have been bad for us so far, but it's just a matter of some of the guys on this team turning their seasons around."

Yeager is one of the keys, of course. A longtime first-stringer who helped the Dodgers win two straight National League pennants, he has been generally ineffective so far this year and has missed a lot of action.

Before the game, Lasorda had a heart-to-heart talk with Yeager.

"I told him I didn't think he was putting all his ability to good use," said Lasorda.

Lasorda also got a good night out of Reggie Smith, another problem-plagued member of the Dodgers, currently struggling in fourth place in the NL West, six games under .500. Smith walloped a two-run homer and stole two bases.

"Reggie Smith just played hard," said Lasorda. "He knew he had to do the job. He reached back for that something extra tonight."

The game was the only one played in the National League Thursday night. In the American, the New York Yankees beat the Toronto Blue Jays 3-1; the Milwaukee Brewers defeated the Minnesota Twins 3-2; the Oakland A's outscored the Kansas City Royals 10-7; the Boston Red Sox edged the Detroit Tigers 3-2; the Chicago White Sox whipped the Seattle

Mariners 9-5 and the Texas Rangers posted a 3-2 decision over the California Angels in 11 innings.

Dodger right-hander Don Sutton snapped a personal three-game losing streak with the help of the long-ball support from Yeager and Smith and four relief pitches in the ninth.

Yeager belted his homer, fifth of the year, off Atlanta starter in the fourth inning following a double by Ron Ceynd, a walk to Joe Ferguson. Smith's seventh homer of the season came after reliever Adrian Devine had walked Bill Russell in the fifth inning.

Sutton, 7-7, had lost his previous three starts but built his career record against the Braves to 31-11.

"I was flat-out lucky tonight," said Sutton. "I gave up four runs and wound up on the trainer's table in the ninth inning, and still won the game. Baseball sure is a crazy game."

Yankees 3, Blue Jays 1

Luis Tiant and two relievers scattered eight hits, leading New York over Toronto. The veteran right-hander worked into the eighth inning before surrendering a two-out-double by Rico Carty. Jim Kaat came out of the bullpen to retire John Mayberry, then Ron Davis pitched the ninth and earned his second save.

The Yankees picked up all the runs they needed with two in the third against Dave Lemanczyk. Al Woods dropped Jerry Narron's leadoff liner to left for an error, opening the door for an eventual RBI grounder by Fred Stanley and Bobby Brown's run-scoring single.

Brewers 3, Twins 2

Paul Molitor's bunt single with two out in the seventh inning scored Robin Yount from third base with the go-ahead run, leading Milwaukee over Minnesota.

Mike Caldwell pitched a five-hitter for the Brewers, who have won five straight games and seven of their last eight.

"Bunting is one of my tools - it's in my repertoire and I've got to use it," said Molitor. "I just knew if I made a good bunt there, we'd be ahead, 3-2."

A's 10, Royals 7

Tony Armas collected three hits, including a home run and a double, to lead Oakland over Kansas City. Winner Steve McCatty was forced to leave the game in the eighth inning, when the Royals scored four runs - two on George Brett's eighth home run of the season.

Bob Lacey relieved McCatty and in turn was followed in the ninth by Dave Heaverlo, who recorded his fifth save.

"I feel good enough to go out and get drunk," said Heaverlo. "I'd lost seven straight decisions and my last save came in April."

Red Sox 3, Tigers 2

Fred Lynn drove in Jerry Remy with a sacrifice fly in the eighth inning, leading Boston over Detroit behind the seventh-hit pitching of Dennis Eckersley.

Remy led off the Boston eighth with a single, stole second when he was apparently picked off first, took third on an infield out and scored on Lynn's line drive to deep right.

White Sox 9, Mariners 5

Lamar Johnson drove in three runs with a homer and a single and Milt May hit a solo homer to race Chicago over Seattle, snapping the Mariners' four-game winning streak.

Johnson's fourth homer of the year came with a man on and capped a five-run first inning against loser Decker. Johnson also singled in a run in the third after Alan Bannister had doubled. May hit his third homer leading off the fourth, helping Francisco Barrios to his seventh victory.

3 Point Bucket Gets Go Ahead

AMELIA ISLAND, Fla. (AP) - Is the 3-point goal a gimmick whose only purpose is to capture the fans' fancy or is it a sound refinement in the way the game of basketball is played?

The National Basketball Association hopes to find out next season, when it will give the controversial rule a one-year trial run.

The NBA's Board of Governors voted to adopt the 3-point goal on an experimental basis at the opening session of its annual summer meetings Thursday following a debate that Commissioner Larry O'Brien described as spirited.

"It was the NBA traditionalists debating those who have experienced the 3-point goal, particularly in the American Basketball Association," said O'Brien. "It finally passed by a very close vote, so close that one straw closed what he turned it the other way."

A two-thirds majority was needed for acceptance and one source passed the vote at 15-7. The only reason it passed was because of the stipulation that this was a one-year experiment and that another two-thirds vote will be needed next year for it to be retained.

Under the rule, which is similar to that used by the ABA, 3 points will be awarded for any shot made from beyond a designated perimeter of the floor ranging from 22 feet to 23 feet, 9 inches.

Proponents of the rule claim it will give the trailing team a chance to catch up quicker, thus adding excitement to the game, and also that it will open up the middle and reduce contact around the basket. Those opposed contend that a basket is a basket and distance should not enter into the equation.

In another major move, the governors voted to go back to two-man refereeing teams after trying a three-referee system for one year. Although the NBA coaches and general managers and the league's Rules and Competitions Committee all voted in favor of keeping the extra official, the owners turned it down, primarily for financial reasons.

"The board felt it did not have enough evidence that there had been satisfactory improvement in the officiating to warrant the expense of the extra referee," said O'Brien, who estimated the cost at $600,000.

Norm Drucker, the league's supervisor of officials and a former referee, said the NBA employed 38 officials last year. This number will be reduced to 26 or 27 for next season.

In other actions:
- A proposal to legalize zone defenses was allowed to die in committee.

- A rule was passed requiring that all fines levied by the commissioner be paid by the person fined and not by the team.

The NBA pledged its assistance to the U.S. Olympic Committee for 1980 and a report was heard from the expansion committee, which is currently holding hearings to determine which two cities will be added to the league for the 1980-81 season.

The governors also formally approved the sale of the Houston Rockets to George Maloof, but delayed confirmation of Jerry Buss as the new owner of the Los Angeles Lakers pending receipt of additional financial data.

Newton Leads With 64; Watson 2 Back At 66

OAKVILLE, Ont. (AP) - Jack Newton, with a record-setting 64, had the first-round lead in the $350,000 Canadian Open Golf Tournament, but it was Tom Watson the other pros were watching.

"When Watson's in the field," observed Masters champion Fuzzy Zoeller, "you just say, 'Oh, hell, I'm playing for second again.' What a great player he is."

And Watson, the game's outstanding performer over the last 2 1/2 years, appeared to have it back in gear again after missing the cut last week in the U.S. Open.

"I'm not looking back at that," Watson said after putting his way to a 5-under-par 66 Thursday. "That's over. That's history. I'm looking ahead to the rest of this week, to trying to shoot a good score every round. I'm ready to play."

And even though he trailed Newton by two shots after the first 18 holes of this national championship, Watson, too, broke the old course record on the 7,050-yard Glen Abbey Golf Club layout.

Three others - Zoeller, slump-ridden Johnny Miller and two-time Canadian champion Lee Trevino - matched the old standard of 67.

"The course is in perfect condition. The weather was perfect," said Trevino, who chipped in for birdie on the final hole to gain his share of third place.

"It was a day when we caught Glen Abbey under the best conditions," said Jack Nicklaus, who designed the layout that will become a permanent home for the Canadian Open.

"Some of the fellows took advantage of it. Some of us continued Nicklaus, who was well back with 70, didn't take as much advantage as we'd liked to have."

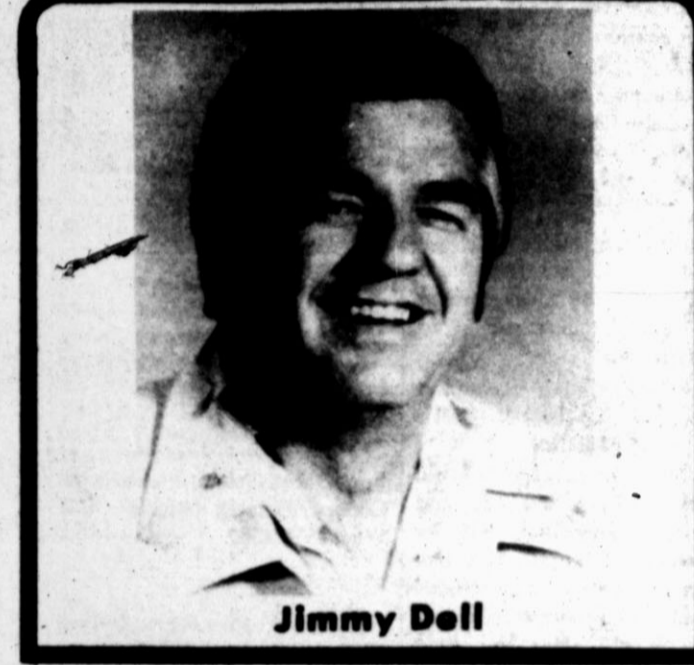

In addition to the five men who broke or tied the old record, Bob Murphy, Terry Diehl, Bob Lunn and D.A. Weibring were a single shot off at 68.

Recently-crowned U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin, however, could do no better than a 72. Defending title-holder Bruce Lietzke shot par 71. And Gary Player, whose strong last round brought him a share of second in last week's American national championship, closed double bogey-double bogey for a fat 80.

Hjeltness Wins

HELSINKI (AP) - Knut Hjeltness of Norway beat Finland's Markku Tuokko in the discus at the World Games international track and field meet. Hjeltness won the event with a toss of 223 feet, 1 inch. Tuokko finished second on his last legitimate throw, 12-4 1/2.

Guenter Lohre of West Germany won the pole vault at 18-1/2 while Japan's Toshihiko Seko beat Martti Vainio of Finland in the 10,000-meters in 28:02.6.

Coetzee Looks For Victory

SAN REMO, Italy (AP) - Gerrie Coetzee, the unbeaten South African heavyweight, says a victory against Leon Spinks Sunday in Monte Carlo would be great and would make him one in a bunch of South African fighters who have reached a world title final.

"The following fight against Tate would be much more important as it would give me a chance to become the first ever South African to win the world heavyweight title," Coetzee said Thursday after training in this Italian Riviera resort.

The Monte Carlo fight is to decide whether it will be Spinks or Coetzee who will face American boxer John Tate in a planned World Boxing Association heavyweight title bout later in the year should present champion Muhammad Ali go through with his retirement.

The methodical, 24-year-old Coetzee said he only occasionally thinks of Tate these days.

with Spinks as the immediate and more dangerous target.

The 25-year-old Spinks, a former world champion whose record includes a win on points against Ali, is considered as the favorite.

CRANBERRY MUSEUM A TASTY PLACE PLYMOUTH, Mass. (AP) - "Cranberry World," a museum located near historic Plymouth Rock, is a two-level, glass-enclosed waterfront structure dedicated exclusively and exhaustively to celebrating the tangy little red berry. Now the No. 1 agricultural crop of Massachusetts, the cranberry is one of only three fruits known to be native to the North American continent. The others are the Concord grape and the blueberry. Long before the Pilgrims dropped anchor here in 1620, local Indian tribes, depicted in the museum, valued the berries to make dyes and medicines and as a culinary treat. Today the cranberry is the basis of a $200-million industry with more than half of the nation's cranberry crop grown in Plymouth and neighboring Barnstable counties.

WANTED: DOCTOR SOUTH HAVEN, Mich. (AP) - In the Wild West days, some towns hired professional bounty hunters to track down desperadoes at $100 or so a head. This resort town may take the same tack to find a physician for a somewhat more substantial reward. The South Haven Community Hospital Board has proposed a $10,000 bounty for anyone who can persuade a doctor, preferably a general practitioner, to set up practice here in this community of 6,500. The proposal is being held in abeyance pending an opinion of an attorney on whether such a recruiting bonus is legal.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Dealing with cataracts

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have cataracts and can't wear glasses touching the sides of my nose where glasses normally rest, so I'd be most interested in finding out about the removal of cataracts if this is possible. I'm quite far advanced now. Recently I read an article in our local paper about 51 rabbits developing cataracts after repeated exposure to microwave radiation. What I'd like to know is: Are there experiments being done on how to reverse cataracts?

DEAR READER - There are some enthusiasts who believe that you can reverse cataracts with drops, diets and other procedures, but after careful review by qualified ophthalmologists, it is the opinion of the American Ophthalmology Service that the only effective treatment available for cataracts is surgical removal. Some of the confusion may be related to differences in animal research and human responses. And some of the confusion may also be due to misinterpretation of what is a cataract and what is a vacuole (bubble) in the lens.

There are basic reasons why people develop cataracts. Almost everyone develops some form of cataracts if they live long enough, even if it's not large enough or in the right location to interfere with vision. You see, the lens of the eye is really a form of specialized skin. As your skin regenerates, the cells are sloughed off the surface. This cannot happen inside the eye, so the old cells are pushed to the center of the lens. The new cells are always on the outside of the globular lens. In the course of time, the center of the lens becomes packed with dense old cells. These become opaque, and it's difficult to transmit light through the lens. When all the lens is involved to such an extent that it becomes white or is unable to transmit light, it's called a mature cataract. There are a number of other factors that will contribute to cataracts. Diabetics are more prone to developing them earlier in life. Radiation can be a factor in causing them. And there's a body of evidence that indicates that ultraviolet rays from sunlight may be an important factor. I'm sending you The Health Letter number 13-6 on cataracts to give you more information about them, when you should have surgery and what can be done. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

If you have cataract surgery, you will probably be able to use contact lenses after the eyes have healed. This will get away from your problem with the pressure of the cataract glasses on the sides of your nose. I would like to add that not everyone who has cataracts necessarily requires surgery. Sometimes the vision is still adequate for that particular person's needs.

In other instances, there is another disease in the eye, which means that removal of the cataracts wouldn't necessarily result in a significant improvement in vision. Each case has to be evaluated by a competent ophthalmologist before a decision is made relative to the merits of surgery.

Ex-Waitress Becomes North Wood Logger

MANCHESTER, Conn. (AP) - The guys at the Calais, Maine, logging school where Sarah Davis was the first female student nearly ignored her until they discovered she couldn't start a chain saw. Try as she might, the Manchester woman couldn't get the 17-pound saw to start. But she bet an instructor she could, and began lifting weights and doing pushups every night. "In two weeks, he owed me a bottle of wine," said the former waitress who is believed to be Connecticut's only woman logger. Tall and slender, the 23-year-old isn't sure why she persevered in a profession too tough for most men. She's no firebrand feminist or brawny athlete, and she says she always preferred pastimes like crossword puzzles to hiking. But her neighbor got her interested in the job with his tales of working in the North Woods. He "told me one of the nicest things about working in the woods is in the winter when it's cold and you're alone and you look up and realize you've been working in a snowstorm half an hour," Miss Davis said. "That happened to me after I was in Maine about three months." Her neighbor inspired Miss Davis to enroll in the wood-harvesting course at the Washington County Vocational Institute in Calais. That move came after she'd shed the last of a string of unsatisfying indoor jobs. Her neighbor is now her boyfriend and the boss of her three-member crew criss-crossing Connecticut to harvest timber. She set her first record in Calais just by showing up. Other women had signed up in past years, but never arrived on campus. What preceded graduation this spring were six rigorous months learning to take apart chainsaw motors, heave 4-foot-long logs onto trucks and topple trees 20 times her size. She also spent three months logging in a Georgia-Pacific logging camp.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Help for ink stain

DEAR POLLY - A friend's children made marks with a ballpoint pen on my vinyl coat while I was visiting with them. I have tried various sprays and toothpaste but they did not help, nor did several dry cleaners I called. Have you any suggestions? - MRS. V.G.D. DEAR MRS. V.G.D. - Did you try hair spray? I have always had very good luck with it, although the many things you have already tried may counteract its effectiveness. Many have luck removing fresh ballpoint ink marks with rubbing alcohol. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - I keep formula and other stains off my baby's clothes by keeping a diaper pail filled with cold water and about one-fourth cup laundry pre-soak detergent. When I change baby's clothes I drop them into this pail and let them soak until I am ready to wash them. Another such pail is kept for diapers but I add some borax to it and the diapers are always nice and white. - KAREN

DEAR POLLY - and Mary O. whose baby's diapers have yellowed - When my five children were babies my problem was having their underarms turn yellow from formula stains. A friend told me to soak them in a solution of one-half cup liquid bleach, one-half cup powdered dishwasher compound and one gallon of HOT water. Soak for at least one-half hour and then wring them out or throw the whole works in the washer and run through the spin cycle and then wash as usual. I used this on all baby's white things, my dish towels, pillowcases and my husband's white T-shirts. I have also used it for colored pajamas that had formula stains and some of the color did fade out but there were no messy looking stains. - HALLIE

DEAR POLLY - I save the plastic bags that the newspaper comes in when the weather is rainy and find they make great shoe bags when packing for a trip. - KATHRYN

GOD IS WHEREVER YOU MAY GO

Even though your faith and your Church have their regular place in your daily walk of life, do you remember to include them in your vacation plans? Whatever highway you travel, God is there to provide you and your loved ones with His unfailing guidance and protection, if you will only reach out and avail yourself of it. He is everywhere, in the beauty of all the mountains, lakes and valleys of this world which He created, and so are His Churches. You can easily find them anywhere throughout the land. Remember that God never takes a vacation from you, don't take a vacation from Him!

Go where he will, the wise man is at home, His hearth the earth, his hall the azure dome.
