A bunch of bull

A rider takes a shot at staying on during the bull riding event at a past All Girl Rodeo. This year's Hall of Fame Rodeo Association All Girl Rodeo will be held Saturday and Sunday in Amarillo.

16th HOF Rodeo starts Saturday

The 16th Annual Hall of Fame Rodeo Association All Girl Rodeo will be held Saturday and Sunday at Cal Farley Coliseum in Amarillo.

The rodeo is being held in Amarillo this year, in conjunction with Amarillo's Old West Days celebration, after a 15-year run in Hereford. Hall of Fame Rodeo Association officials decided earlier this year to move the event to Amarillo for at least this year in an attempt to bolster attendance at the rodeo, which benefits the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center in Hereford. HOF Rodeo board members also cited a lack of proper facilities in Hereford as a reason for moving the event to Amarillo.

Amarillo is the site of the original All Girl Rodeo, in 1947, and several participants in that rodeo (held in conjunction with the Tri-State Fair) will make appearances this year, including All-Around Champion Fern Sawyer, a CHOF inductee.

The rodeo performances, scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday, will feature traditional rodeo events including bull riding, bareback broncs, team roping, tie down calf roping, breakaway roping and barrel racing. There have been 131 total entries received for the rodeo. Seven Hereford women, including Tammy Donnell, Debbie Lewis, Regina Lewis, Jennifer Smith, Debbie White, Jackie Winters and Samantha Winters, have entered the rodeo.

There will be several giveaways during the rodeo, including a free Wrangler outfit from Gebo's, Justin Ropers, Tony Lama boots and a pair of Robert Campbell spurs. Admission is $6 for adults and $2 for children.

Grand jury indicts 14

Fourteen indictments were handed down by the Deaf Smith County grand jury Thursday. Eight were sealed pending arrest of the defendants.

Three men were indicted for felony driving while intoxicated, including Alfred Abrego Casarez, 59; Richard Vara Casarez, 20, and Tomas Fraire Garcia, 33.

An indictment for theft by receiving stolen property was returned against Alex Serrino, 56, and Javier Solis, 25, was charged with burglary of a building.

The indictment of Santos Padilla, 21, was for aggravated sexual assault of a child.

The grand jury's meeting Thursday was the second of the current six-month term.

Governor hopes for short session

AUSTIN (AP) - Lawmakers may be able to make quick work of the upcoming special session on redistricting, prison construction and the problem of county jail crowding, Gov. Ann Richards said.

"I hope this is going to be a short session... We're going to push for it to be as short as possible," Richards said before a Thursday speech to her appointees to state boards and commissions.

This year's second special legislative session begins Monday, less than a week after lawmakers ended a 30-day special budget session. That followed a 140-day regular session in which lawmakers approved, among other items, comprehensive school finance reforms.

Richards said she has not yet put criminal justice issues on the official agenda for the session because she wants to be careful about how she words the item.

"Certainly criminal justice - prisons, jails - very much will be a part of the call," she said.

The governor controls the special session agenda, or call, and she so far has listed only congressional and State Board of Education redistricting for lawmakers' consideration.

"When you call a session, anything that is germane to a general topic can be introduced and discussed and considered... If I am not cautious in the beginning about how I phrase the call, then we could have a whole lot of legislation come through here and be here for a long time," Richards said.

"I think these legislators want to come in and get this business done that must be done, and get on back home," she said.

Papers refuse anti-meat ads

By THOMAS BECHER
Associated Press Writer

Newspapers in four farm states this week refused to publish an advertisement from an animal-rights group linking livestock slaughter to mutilation killings in Milwaukee.

The ad, saying that "meat is murder" and "meat kills," was rejected Thursday by the Omaha (Neb.) World-Herald and The Dallas Morning News, Wednesday by the Kansas City Star and Monday by The Milwaukee Journal and Sentinel.

"We rejected it. We don't give reasons when we reject advertising copy," said Bill Donaldson, vice president for sales at the World-Herald.

A similar pro-vegetarian ad from the Maryland-based People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA) was published by The Des Moines Register last week. Cattle interests responded by pulling $1 million worth of advertising from the paper.

That ad stated that "drugged and dragged" victims in a Milwaukee serial murder case were similar to animals killed for meat consumption, whose "struggles and cries went unanswered."

Jeffrey Dahmer, 31, faces 12 counts of first-degree murder in the case that has drawn nationwide attention.

Ralph Rowe Jr., vice president of advertising for the Kansas City Star, said the paper decided not to run the ad as soon as it arrived.

"I have no plans to run the ad in the future," Rowe said, adding that the decisions of other papers did not play a role in his policy.

Jeremy L. Halbreich, president and general manager of The Dallas Morning News, said the newspaper normally doesn't give a reason for rejecting an ad.

"But we just didn't think it was in good taste," he said. "We think there are probably plenty of ways that the organization can convey the message."

Ciriol Evans, a PETA spokeswoman, said the second ad was written after the first one appeared. But so far no newspaper has accepted it.

"We are planning to try to place the ad in meat belt markets," she said Thursday. "One of the reasons we chose Omaha was that there are 142 slaughter houses in Nebraska."

Ms. Evans said the first ad made an impression after it appeared in the Des Moines paper.

"We've been thrilled with the response," she said. "Requests for vegetarian recipes have skyrocketed, even in Iowa."

But there's not much enthusiasm among newspapers.

"They have said comments such as the ad is too strong, too graphic and inappropriate," Ms. Evans said. "Meat stinks," PETA's new ad says. The ad copy mentions the stench that investigators described when bodies were found in the Milwaukee apartment.

The first PETA ad, published in the Register Aug. 9, set off an uproar in Iowa.

A group of sale barn operators pulled $1 million in ads from the Register to protest the ad.

"It just seems that most of the time that paper has a tendency to print things negatively biased against agriculture," said Ted Dykstra, president of the Iowa Livestock Market Association.

Register publisher Charles Edwards Jr. said the group is confusing the paper's editorial decisions with its duty to permit freedom of expression.

Bob Dye, a vice president for the Milwaukee Journal-Sentinel Inc., said executives rejected the ad for its content.

"The initial reaction was, 'Does PETA understand what was going on in Milwaukee?'" Dye said.

Hostage families enter effort

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - Hostage families heartened by new diplomatic initiatives broadcast messages to their captive loved ones. But conflicting signals are emerging from Israel, Iran and Syria - key players in any hostages-for-prisoners swap.

With a proposed exchange hinging on word about Israel's seven missing servicemen, Lebanon's leading Shiite Muslim cleric is calling on Lebanese groups to release the MIAs or their remains.

The plea by Sheik Mohammed Mehdi Shamseddine came Thursday as diplomatic efforts slowed for a deal to free five Americans and six other Western hostages in exchange for hundreds of Arabs detained by Israel.

Today, Israel restated its willingness to make a gesture in exchange for information on the servicemen missing in Lebanon.

Relatives of three hostages broadcast radio messages Thursday after a week that saw new talks, three other hostage releases and encouragement that the remaining captives may be listening. Briton John McCarthy said after his release Aug. 8 that the Westerners were allowed to listen to the radio.

Hostage Terry Anderson's daughter, 6-year-old Sulome, sounded confident in her message to the father she had never seen. She was born a few months after he was taken hostage.

"I know he is going to come home very, very soon because I talked to John McCarthy on the telephone and he said that my daddy's very well and that he will come home very, very, very soon," said Sulome, in an interview for the British-Broadcasting Corp. program "Outlook."

Anderson, 43, chief Middle East correspondent of The Associated Press, is the longest-held hostage. He was kidnapped on March 16, 1985.

Another American, Thomas Sutherland, 60, who taught at Beirut University, was taken three months later. His brother, Willy, who lives in Scotland, told him over the radio, "Hope your health is good and I know it is hard but keep your spirits up as things seem to be looking a lot better for you."

Anderson, Sutherland, and Church of England envoy Terry Waite are among the 11 Westerners believed held by pro-Iranian kidnapers.

American Edward Austin Tracy and Frenchman Jerome Leyraud were freed Sunday.

"I think there is nothing better I could say than 'Keep the faith,'" David Waite told his brother, who was on a mercy mission trying to secure the freedom of Western hostages when he disappeared on Jan. 20, 1987.

U.N. Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar is mediating negotiations for a reported swap involving the Western hostages, Israeli servicemen missing in Lebanon and nearly 400 Arab prisoners held by Israel.

Israel has demanded a videotape or other solid evidence on the status of the seven Israelis before it releases any Arab detainees, whose freedom has been demanded by a pro-Iranian faction holding Western hostages.

Perez de Cuellar and Uri Lubrani, the Israeli negotiator who met with the U.N. chief in Geneva at midweek, said they do not anticipate a full hostage release for days or weeks.

But Lubrani reiterated in an Israel radio interview today that his government was flexible.

Some Israeli officials on Thursday issued harsh criticism of the hostage-takers and their purported sponsors - Iran and Syria.

"These terrorists, the Islamic holy warriors, are not people who are influenced by gestures," said Defense Minister Moshe Arens. "They are people who behave in a beastly, inhuman fashion, and the only language they understand... will come from Tehran and Damascus."

Syrian Foreign Minister Farouk al-Sharaa on Thursday reiterated his country's call for the release of an unspecified number of Syrians. Damascus, which has 40,000 troops in Lebanon, has been a channel for previous Western hostage releases.

Ayatollah Mohammad Yazdi, former head of the judiciary, said today in a sermon at Tehran University that Israel must release the hundreds of Arabs it is holding. "If it does not listen, it must be pressed," he said in comments broadcast by Tehran radio.

WASHINGTON - While the White House trumpets an end to the recession, governors are painting a far less rosy picture of economic conditions in the states.

NEW YORK - The night 87 people perished in the Happy Land social club fire, Aracelis Perez dreamed a little girl was calling for help. She thinks that girl was her daughter, Paula, 28, who died in the blaze. But perhaps it was the little girl her daughter left behind: Milka, now a motherless 12-year-old afraid to sleep alone.

NEW YORK - Whites want him dismissed. Blacks rush to his defense. And now politicians are joining the fray over remarks of a black college professor that provoked charges of anti-Semitism. But Leonard Jeffries is an old hand at stirring debate.

Texas

DALLAS - Of the 2 million businesses in Texas, about 150,000 to 200,000 will shoulder the lion's share of the tax hike imposed this week by state lawmakers. GULFPORT - Nearly 200 people, mostly families with children, lit candles and sang religious hymns Thursday night in remembrance of a 10-year-old girl that self-professed serial killer Donald Leroy Evans says was his latest victim.

The annual Texas Monthly survey of the 100 wealthiest people in the state found 46 increased their fortune over the past year and 47 stayed the same. The fortunes of four rich Texans decreased but not enough to fall out of the top 100, who had a minimum net worth of $130 million.

CMA announces award nominees

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - Vince Gill and Alan Jackson, singing about gold and jukeboxes, are finalists for top Country Music Association awards.

"I had such a great year last year, it's hard to believe it could get any better," said Jackson, who won six nominations, mostly on the strength of his record "Don't Rock the Jukebox."

Gill was nominated Thursday for six of the 12 male-dominated 1991 awards, thanks largely to his song "Pocket Full of Gold." Garth Brooks, who has sold 6 million albums in just two years as a recording artist, garnered five nominations.

All three are finalists for male vocalist of the year, best single record and No. 1 album.

Joining Gill and Brooks as nominees for entertainer of the year, the top award, are Clint Black, George Strait and Reba McEntire.

Rounding out the finalists for No. 1 male singer are Black, who won the award last year, and the veteran Strait.

Nominated for top female vocalist are McEntire, Patty Loveless, two-time winner Kathy Mattea, Lorie Morgan and Tanya Tucker.

Tucker, who has never won the award despite about eight years of trying, said she hoped it was an omen that she would win the nomination while en route to an appearance in Hope, Ark.

The nominations for McEntire come just five months after seven of her band members and her tour manager were killed in a private plane crash near San Diego. She will be host of a CBS-TV show Oct. 2 when the winners are announced.

Finalists for single of the year are "Don't Rock the Jukebox" by Jackson, "Don't Tell Me What to Do" by Pam Tillis, "Friends in Low Places" by Brooks, the witty "Here's a Quarter (Call Someone Who Cares)" by million-selling newcomer Travis Tritt and "Pocket Full of Gold" by Gill.

For album of the year, finalists are "Don't Rock the Jukebox" by Jackson, "No Fences" by Brooks, "Pocket Full of Gold" by Gill, "Put Yourself in My Shoes" by Black and "Rumor Has It" by McEntire.

The Judds, a mother-daughter duo, are finalists for their fourth straight award as vocal duo of the year.

Mother Naomi Judd is leaving the concert circuit late this year because of hepatitis, and daughter Wynonna will become a solo performer.

But by failing to become a finalist for top entertainer, the Judds apparently will end their eight-year career without having won the CMA's most prestigious honor.

Other nominees for top duo are Baillie & the Boys, the Bellamy Brothers, Foster & Lloyd and Sweethearts of the Rodeo.

Finalists for vocal group of the year are the often-honored Alabama, Diamond Rio, the Kentucky HeadHunters, Restless Heart and Shenandoah.

For No. 1 music video, finalists are "Come Next Monday" by K.T. Oslin, "Don't Rock the Jukebox" by Jackson, "Fancy" by McEntire, "Love Can Build a Bridge" by the Judds and "The Thunder Rolls" by Brooks.

"The Thunder Rolls" was banned by some TV outlets this spring because it shows domestic violence.

Finalists for the Horizon Award, given to promising newcomers, are Mary-Chapin Carpenter, Mark Chesnut, Doug Stone, Tritt and Tillis, daughter of country veteran Mel Tillis.

In the Song of the Year category, an award for songwriting, finalists are "Don't Rock the Jukebox" by Jackson, Roger Murrah and Keith Stegall, "Friends in Low Places" by Earl Bud Lee and Dewayne Blackwell, "Here in the Real World" by Jackson and Mark Irwin, "The Dance" by Tony Arata and "When I Call Your Name" by Tim DuBois and Gill.

Chet Atkins, Barry Beckett, Paul Franklin, Mark O'Connor and Matt Rollings are nominees for best musician.

Finalists for vocal event of the year are Atkins and Mark Knopfler, the Highwaymen (Waylon Jennings, Willie Nelson, Johnny Cash and Kris Kristofferson), Mark O'Connor & the New Nashville Cats (featuring Steve Wariner, Ricky Skaggs and Gill), Dolly Parton with Ricky Van Shelton and Randy Travis with George Jones. The category is for performers who do not normally sing together.

Travis, who dominated country music awards in the late 1980s, has just one nomination this year. After four years as a finalist for entertainer of the year, which he never won, he failed to receive a nomination in that category this year.

Hank Williams Jr., entertainer of the year in 1987 and 1988, had no nominations this year.

Apart from the male and female vocalist categories, just 12 of the 50 finalists are women.

Tammy Williams is the new owner and manager of A Class Act, located in Sugarland Mall. Hereford Hustlers held a ribbon-cutting ceremony for the store Thursday morning when Williams unveiled a new inventory of women's fashions and served

State's richest hardly feel recession

AUSTIN (AP) - The recession has barely dented the net worth of the richest Texans.

The annual Texas Monthly survey of the 100 wealthiest people in the state found 46 increased their fortune over the past year and 47 stayed the same.

The fortunes of four rich Texans decreased but not enough to fall out of the top 100, who had a minimum net worth of $130 million.

Three people fell of the list and were replaced by three others.

The richest Texan is Ross Perot, the Dallas computer services and real estate magnate with a net worth of $3 billion, according to the magazine's list.

Perot is followed by Perry Richardson Bass of Fort Worth and his four sons who share a fortune of $6.3 billion. Bass and his sons transformed the inheritance of his wildcatter uncle Sid Richardson into an empire of energy, real estate and stock holdings.

Houston shopping center developer Jerry Moore is third with a fortune of $900 million.

Dallas investor Harold Simmons, second last year, fell to fourth after losing $840 million primarily because his holding company's value dropped after a failed takeover bid for Lockheed Corp. Simmons is reportedly eyeing other acquisition targets.

Robert Dedman, chief of Dallas-based Club Corp International, was fifth with a net worth of $860 million.

The top 10 also include siblings Margaret Hunt Hill, Haroldson Lafayette Hunt III, and Caroline Rose Hunt of Dallas, who share $2.2 billion; Charles Clarence Butt of the San Antonio-based H.E.B. grocery chain, $650 million; George Mitchell, chief of Mitchell Energy in The Woodlands, $610 million; Roy Huffington, who sold Houston-based Huffco last year, $600 million; and Robert Lee Moody, Galveston banker and insurance company chief, $560 million.

Louis Beecherl, former head of TXO of Dallas; Jesse Upchurch, of Fort Worth-based Tandy Corp.; and Robert Rogers, a Tyler cable TV magnate, fell off the list.

They were replaced by Jubal Parten, a Madisonville oil man; Sybil Buckingham Harrington, an Amarillo philanthropist; and Will Farish, Houston oilman and friend of President Bush.

The largest jumps in fortune were made by high-tech businessmen. Bill Hayden, chief of Austin-based CompuAdd Inc., saw his fortune leap $200 million to $460 million.

John Moores of Sugar Land, chief of BMC Software, had his net worth increase $140 million to $410 million. And the fortune of Michael Dell, the 26-year-old founder of Austin-based Dell Computer Corp., rose $125 million to $265 million.

Losses were felt by Dallas oilman H.R. "Bum" Bright, down $30 million to $270 million; Lonnie "Bo" Pilgrim, the Pittsburg chicken king, down $10 million to $140 million; and Coastal Corp. chairman Oscar Wyatt Jr. of Houston, down $10 million to $130 million.

Air show to feature CAF craft

A re-enactment of the attack on Pearl Harbor that set off World War II will be featured at the Wings over Pampa air show Sunday.

Working together to produce the show are the DEW Line Squadron of the Confederate Air Force and the aviation committee of the Pampa Area Chamber of Commerce.

Gates will open at 9 a.m. Sunday at Perry Lefors Field in Pampa for the static display and the air show will begin at 2 p.m.

The "Tora" gang of the CAF will re-enact the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. Aircraft involved include Japanese Zero fighters, Kate dive bombers and Val torpedo bombers.

Other aircraft appearing in the show will be SB2-C Helldiver, TBM Avenger, F4F Wildcat, B-25 Mitchell bomber, C-45 Expediter and BT-13 Valiants.

Scheduled, also, is a flyover by two F-111 aircraft from Cannon Air Force Base at Clovis, N.M.

Pilgrims gather by thousands at Catholic church in Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) - A church parishioner here who first reported receiving messages from the Virgin Mary in 1988 says the Holy Mother is still present.

Thousands of pilgrims flocked Thursday to St. John Neumann Catholic Church to observe the Feast of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary.

Worshippers attending the Feast in 1988 reported experiencing unexplainable occurrences, including seeing Jesus in the sky.

The outdoor mass was the culmination of events that began that spring when three parishioners reported receiving messages from the Virgin Mary. Others reported visions and the scent of roses during services.

A study committee of the Roman Catholic Church found no evidence of miracles.

"Lubbock isn't Fatima, Lubbock isn't Lourdes," Bishop Michael J. Sheehan said in October 1988, referring to two church-approved shrines.

Yet the pilgrims kept coming to the South Plains.

"I have been coming since 1988, when I had a miracle happen to me," Yvette Gallagos of Colorado Springs, Colo., said Thursday. "I traveled there in a wheelchair - now I'm walking three to four miles a day," said Mrs. Gallagos, a retired schoolteacher.

Her back had been severely injured when her automobile was rear-ended by a drunken driver.

"I was sitting up in the handicapped area when I was healed. I just walked. I was able to push my wheelchair to the car three or four blocks away," she said. Rudy Tijerina, 47, and his wife, Lynn, flew up from Houston, arriving in time for the noon Mass.

At the noon Mass on Thursday, Mary Consancio, the first of the rosary messengers, told the worshippers, Mrs. Gallagos said, that "She (the Virgin) was up there today to tell everyone here that she would be blessing everyone here today in one way or another."

Notice of Effective Tax Rate

1991 Property Tax Rates in Hereford I. S. D.

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for Hereford I. S. D. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Pan Am: U.S. cagers fail to get gold

HAVANA (AP) - The U.S. men's amateur basketball team is a loser again, and this time there's no tomorrow.

The Americans lost 73-68 to Puerto Rico in the semifinals of the Pan American Games tournament Thursday night, extending their string of losses in major international tournaments to five.

The next time the team goes to battle in the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona, Spain, though, the gun will be fully loaded. No more 19-year-old college players.

Next time, the team will have NBA players.

"When they bring in the NBA, everybody will be fighting for second place on down. It'll be no contest once these guys start playing," Puerto Rico coach Ray Dalmau said.

Dalmau's team had eight former U.S. college players on the roster, three of whom now play professionally in Spain and two of whom used to play in the NBA. And he recognized this as his last, best chance to beat the United States.

That realization does not dawn altogether happily upon the members of this U.S. team. Gold was their aim, and they missed. Now, they have to play Cuba for a bronze medal on Saturday. Mexico beat Cuba 93-87 in the other semifinal and will meet Puerto Rico for the gold.

"People back home are just going to say, 'Let's get Jordan and Johnson out there and a bunch of 30-year-old guys, and let's beat up somebody,'" said Christian Laettner, a member of Duke's NCAA championship team.

"That's fine with me if that's what they want, but I don't think that's what this is all about."

With just three days left in the games, the United States held a commanding lead of 307-234 over Cuba in total medals but still trailed in golds 118-115.

America's baseball team returns to action this afternoon with a shot at adding to the medal count. But first it will have to do what the basketball team couldn't - beat Puerto Rico. Cuba plays the Dominican Republic in the other semifinal.

Peru had one taken away. Pedro Garcia, a silver medal-winning shooter, Thursday was named as the third athlete of the games disqualified for taking banned substances.

Garcia's tests showed traces of the drug propranolol, a medication that slows the heartbeat and could help a shooter improve his aim.

Experience, size and the absence of U.S. swingman Jim Jackson, who had been averaging 18 points, were the determining factors for the Puerto Ricans on Thursday night.

A bone scan on Tuesday revealed that Jackson had a hairline fracture in his left foot, and doctors decided Wednesday to immobilize the foot in a cast.

The U.S. team led 37-29 at halftime and took a 10-point lead on a jumper by Anthony Bennett with 17:47 left in the second half.

Trailing 49-41, Puerto Rico went on a 9-2 run to trail 51-50 with 10:06 left. Center Jose Ortiz, who played briefly with Utah of the NBA, started the run with a three-point play. Puerto Rico took its first lead of the second half, 57-55, on a 3-pointer by Edwin Pelot and put away the Americans by holding them scoreless for a four-minute stretch that ended with 48 seconds to play and Puerto Rico leading 71-64.

Walt Williams led the U.S. team with 16 points, and Laettner had 14 points and 11 rebounds. Jerome Mincy, who played college ball at Alabama-Birmingham and now plays in Spain, had 22 for Puerto Rico.

Frogs plan to fly high all year

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer
FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - For one shining moment in 1990, Texas Christian and its unlikely 5-game winning streak were the talk of Southwest Conference football buffs.

The Horned Frogs rode quarterback Leon Clay's hot hand into the Top 25 while dreamers and diehards entertained visions of a Cotton Bowl odyssey.

It was not to be, of course. A month later, with Clay injured and five straight losses, TCU plunged from king to court jester and coach Jim Wacker's job was rumored in jeopardy.

Now comes a new year and new visions, and Wacker believes the early success of last year's campaign could be a springboard to a winning season.

"We've got that to build on," he said. "It's not just a pipe dream."

Unlike Texas, Houston, Texas A&M and Baylor, the Frogs are not to be found among the nationally ranked teams. But, said Wacker, "We want to be when it's over."

"We're hoping we can be the surprise team in the Southwest Conference."

Eight offensive and five defensive starters return on a team that caught the fans' fancy with a series of comeback, 11th-hour victories fashioned on a quick-strike passing attack.

All three of Clay's primary targets are back and the Sporting News has branded the receiving corps the nation's elite in 1991.

"If we can protect the passer," said Wacker, "there's no doubt these guys can inflict some real damage...We've got the makings of a heck of an offensive team."

Even with Clay sidelined by a fractured thumb, the Frogs compiled a team record 735 offensive yards against Houston last year in a losing effort.

With all its explosiveness, TCU must replace three interior linemen and find a way to improve a dreadful kicking game. The Frog defense needs a couple of linebackers and help in a line fortified at the ends by veterans Roosevelt Collins and Tunji Bolden.

Although some feel the TCU defense is suspect, Collins, among others, disagrees.

"Everybody's wondering if we can get it done but nobody has stopped to realize they can't look into our hearts," said Collins, a team co-captain. "This is a committed bunch."

For a change, the schedule favors TCU.

Other than Baylor, it is unlikely the Frogs will encounter a powerhouse until a nationally televised game Nov. 7 against Texas A&M. Texas and Houston follow.

The most optimistic of fans believe the Frogs could be 8-0 when they meet the Aggies in Fort Worth.

"If we are, it's going to be a fun year," smiled Wacker. "It's a possibility, but we've got to overcome a lot of hurdles. We're in no position to overlook anybody."

"We've got to get some leadership out of our juniors and seniors. That is going to be critical. We've got to keep focused on football and come together as a team."

"Winning begets winning."

Blackwell, one of the nation's top tight ends, and Curtis Modkins, the running back in TCU's run-and-shoot offense, insist this is the year of the Frog.

Modkins says TCU can match skill players with any team in the country and Blackwell told Texas Sports magazine he believes the blazing offense will pick up precisely where it left off.

"Houston and TCU should be the two most explosive teams in the country," Blackwell said.

Montana, Peete probably won't play

By The Associated Press
For starters, try Don Majkowski, Jeff George and Mark Rypien.

They will be among the quarterbacks in their customary starting roles when their teams take the field for NFL exhibition games this weekend.

Joe Montana and Rodney Peete, most likely, will not.

Teams have until Tuesday to reduce their rosters to 60 players.

Washington Redskins coach Joe Gibbs undoubtedly spoke for many of his peers when he said: "We want to look at the guys we know are vying for the team. You try to match them up and let them play a lot. Hopefully they'll make the decision for you."

Rypien and the rest of the Washington starters will play most of the opening half when the Redskins and Cleveland Browns start the next-to-last weekend of games at RFK Stadium in Washington tonight.

"I think it's important for Rypien to really get sharp," Gibbs said, adding that he'll also give running back Gerald Riggs "more quality time" in hopes that he can continue his recovery from two injury-prone seasons.

The Browns, meanwhile, will use the game as another building block in rookie coach Bill Belichick's attempt to develop a winning habit.

The Browns lost their exhibition opener to Tampa Bay, but rebounded last week with a 16-10 victory over the Super Bowl champion New York Giants.

"We know the Redskins are expected to be one of the best teams in the league and, like we did against the Giants, we'll learn something about how well we can compete," Belichick said.

On Saturday, the Jets and Giants square off in their annual battle of New York; Buffalo plays Green Bay at Madison, Wis.; Chicago is at the Los Angeles Raiders; Tampa Bay is at Atlanta; Pittsburgh is at Philadelphia; Detroit visits Kansas City; Cincinnati plays host to Minnesota; New Orleans is at Indianapolis; New England is at Phoenix, and Seattle visits the Los Angeles Rams.

Dallas is at Houston in the only game Sunday, while Monday's schedule has Miami at Denver and San Diego at San Francisco.

Majkowski will start for Green Bay against Buffalo, but with fellow quarterbacks Mike Tomczak, Anthony Dilweg and Blair Kiel still fighting for jobs, Packers coach Lindy Infante may have to take a put-up-or-sit-down approach.

George will get the call for Indianapolis, but in a different format than he's used to. The former No. 1 pick has played the first half in each of the Colts' first two games, but coach Ron Meyer plans to play him in the first and third quarters on Saturday.

The Colts will be without running back Eric Dickerson, out with a bruised neck, but Meyer still considers winning a priority, even in exhibition games.

"Three or four weeks from now no one is going to remember what happened in the preseason, but I think there is something to be said for what a win can do for a team's confidence," Meyer said.

Bobby Hebert, who sat out last week with a groin injury, will play for "at least a half," Saints coach Jim Mora said.

Brett Favre, a rookie quarterback, will be the Falcons' surprise starter for their game against Tampa Bay. No. 1 Chris Miller and backup Scott Campbell will both sit out the entire game, Atlanta coach Jerry Glanville said.

Montana's elbow soreness in his throwing arm returned Thursday, forcing him to miss his third practice in four days and tossing into question his status for Monday's game against San Diego.

Peete, who missed more than two weeks earlier in camp with a groin injury, is questionable for the Lions' meeting with Kansas City because of a new ailment.

"We theorize Rodney was trying to protect the groin pull while throwing the ball and he strained the muscles on his left side," head trainer Kent Falb said. "The problem came due to compensating for the other injury."

Highsmith will play elsewhere

AUSTIN (AP) - Fullback Alonzo Highsmith may eventually earn a starting job in the National Football League, but it probably won't be with his current team - the Dallas Cowboys.

Cowboys owner Jerry Jones said Thursday that his club has no need for Highsmith, who has held out for the first 33 days of training camp.

Jones said the Cowboys are actively shopping the former University of Miami All-American as the team prepared to complete the Austin phase of training camp today.

"We're working on possible trades," he said. "The reality is he'll be playing somewhere else. We like the fullbacks that we have and there's just no room. It's in everyone's best interests to look for a trade."

Rijo, Sabo fight as Reds lose again

By BEN WALKER
AP Baseball Writer

The Cincinnati Reds are fighting mad. And after beating themselves on the field, they turned to beating up on each other in the dugout.

Pitcher Jose Rijo and third baseman Chris Sabo had to be separated and restrained Thursday night in the Reds' 4-1 loss in San Francisco, their 25th defeat in 35 games.

In the third inning, Sabo's two-out error enabled the Giants to score twice against Rijo. As the Reds prepared to take the field in the fourth, Sabo and Rijo began arguing and it took manager Lou Piniella and several players to break it up.

"Go fight the other team, don't fight among yourselves," Piniella said after a closed-door, post-game meeting. "It was frustration more than anything else. This club has not handled winning (last year's World Series) too well. I can tell you that."

Sabo declined comment on the incident. Rijo would not speak about it directly, either.

"We're playing terrible," Rijo said. "I don't know what it is. We can't win no matter what."

Paul McClellan (3-1) pitched five perfect innings before Carmelo Martinez led off the sixth with a home run. That was the only hit McClellan gave up in 7 1-3 innings, and Dave Righetti finished with one-hit relief for his 19th save.

Rijo (8-4) allowed four hits in seven innings. He struck out seven and walked two.

The game was scoreless in the third when Kirt Manwaring singled and Jose Uribe walked. Rijo balked the runners into scoring position, then got two outs. But Robby Thompson's grounder went off Sabo's glove for an error that enabled Manwaring to score, and Will Clark followed with an RBI single.

Astros 6, Dodgers 1

Steve Finley hit a three-run homer as Houston kept Ramon Martinez and Los Angeles skidding at Dodger Stadium.

Martinez (14-8) has dropped three straight decisions for the first time since 1989.

Pete Harnisch (7-8) stopped his four-game losing streak, pitching five-hit ball for seven innings. Finley got four hits.

Martinez gave up six runs and six hits in five innings.

Phillies 6, Pirates 4

Dickie Thon's three-run double off Neal Heaton (3-2) highlighted a five-run fifth inning. John Kruk hit an RBI single and Darren Daulton walked with the bases loaded for the other two runs.

Jose DeJesus (9-4) gave up three runs in the first inning, but settled down to win his fourth straight decision. Mitch Williams got six outs for his 22nd save.

Cardinals 4, Mets 1

Rheal Cormier won his major league debut.

Cormier, replacing the injured Ken Hill in the rotation, became the first Cardinals left-handed starter to win since last Sept. 25.

Lee Smith pitched the ninth for his league-leading 31st save. Wally Whithurst (5-8) was the loser.

Padres 1, Braves 0

Greg Harris pitched his second straight shutout and pinch hitter Oscar Azocar singled home the only run in the eighth inning.

Harris (4-3) held Atlanta to three hits. He struck out six, walked one.

John Smoltz (8-13) lost despite a four-hitter. He struck out nine and walked two.

Darrin Jackson singled to start the eighth, took second on a groundout and scored when Azocar, batting for Dann Bilardello, hit a soft single to left field.

Cubs 7, Expos 6

Ryne Sandberg's sacrifice fly capped a three-run rally in the eighth inning.

Shawon Dunston opened the inning with a double for his fourth hit of the game. Jeff Fassero (1-4) walked Rick Wilkins, Chico Walker hit an RBI single, third baseman Tim Wallach made an error that allowed the tying run to score and Sandberg put the Cubs ahead.

Paul Assenmacher (5-4) was the winner, even though he gave up two runs on five hits in three innings. Chuck McLeroy pitched the ninth for his third save.

Parrish knocks 300th HR

By The Associated Press

California keeps winning with big home runs.

On Wednesday night, Dave Winfield hit No. 400 in a 7-4 victory over the Twins. On Thursday night, Lance Parrish hit No. 300 in a 9-1 rout of Minnesota.

"It's something I've been looking forward to for a while now," Parrish said. "But wins and losses are more significant to think about."

Parrish became the 64th player to hit 300 homers when he connected in the third for a two-run drive off Scott Erickson (15-5). Parrish, who had only 16 hits in his previous 108 at-bats, has homered in three consecutive games.

Mark Langston (15-6) allowed two hits in seven innings, struck out three and walked three in his first victory in four starts since July 26. Chris Beasley and Mike Petters finished the six-hitter.

Orioles 9, Rangers 2

Jose Mesa (5-8), recalled from Class AAA Rochester earlier in the day, pitched a three-hitter, struck out a career-high nine and walked two.

Chito Martinez drove in four runs and Leo Gomez hit a three-run homer.

Oil Can Boyd (0-4) allowed nine runs and 14 hits for Texas.

Blue Jays 4, Brewers 1

Toronto stopped its longest losing streak since 1987 at seven games behind Kelly Gruber's two-run homer off Dan Plesac (1-5), who was making just the second start of his six-year major league career.

Todd Stottlemyre (11-5) gave up four hits in seven innings. Duane Ward pitched the eighth and Tom Henke pitched a perfect ninth for his 26th save in 27 chances.

Tigers 6, White Sox 4

Lou Whitaker and Alan Trammell drove in three runs each.

Mark Leiter (5-2) gave up three runs and six hits in five innings and Mike Henneman got five outs for his 19th save. Jeff Carter (0-1), called up Wednesday night from Class AAA Vancouver, gave up five runs and four hits for the White Sox.

Yankees 5, Royals 1

Don Mattingly was benched for refusing to get a haircut, and Scott Sanderson pitched four-hit ball for seven innings.

Sanderson (12-8) gave up one run, struck out five and walked one before Greg Cadaret finished.

Matt Nokes and Bernie Williams each drove in two runs against Mark Gubicza (7-6), who allowed five runs and eight hits in 6 2-3 innings.

Red Sox 6, Indians 2

Ellis Burks hit a two-run triple and rookie Mike Gardiner (5-6) allowed one run and five hits in six innings.

Dave Otto (1-3) gave up three runs and seven hits in 7 1-3 innings.

Mariners 8, Athletics 6

Jay Buhner hit a go-ahead sacrifice fly in the seventh. Ken Griffey Jr. homered and doubled twice.

Ron Darling left after five innings until he gets clipped.

Calvin Jones (1-1) was the winner and Mike Schooler got the last out for his fifth save. Steve Chitren (1-4) was the loser.

Ryan expected off DL Monday

DALLAS (AP) - Texas Rangers pitcher Nolan Ryan is expected to come off the disabled list Monday and take the mound for the first time this month, team officials say.

Ryan, who has not pitched since July 28 because of a strained muscle in his right shoulder, had a good throwing session Thursday at Arlington Stadium.

Although a wet field kept baseball's all-time strikeout leader from throwing to hitters as planned, he did do interval throwing from the bullpen mound.

Manager Bobby Valentine, who was in Baltimore Thursday where the Rangers lost to the Orioles 9-2, did not talk to Ryan. However, Valentine said he expects his ace to start against the Orioles Monday at Arlington Stadium.

"It sounds like he's on schedule to pitch Monday," Valentine said. "He said he feels good. I don't know what else you need. Read tea leaves?"

Ryan's been on the disabled list twice this season because of the same shoulder problem. Despite missing six starts, his seven victories still have him tied for the team lead in that category.

Long hair benches Mattingly

NEW YORK (AP) - Don Mattingly doesn't want to be known as another Yankee Clipper.

Manager Stump Merrill benched Mattingly on Thursday after he refused to get a haircut and said the team captain will stay in the dugout until he gets clipped.

It seems Mattingly's problems with the New York Yankees can't be solved by a barber. After the Yankees' 5-1 victory over Kansas City, it became apparent this is about more than just a simple rules violation.

Mattingly, who was fined $250, says the haircut order came from general manager Gene Michael and Merrill was just a go-between. With George Steinbrenner out of the picture, there may be a power struggle going on at Yankee Stadium.

"If Stick (Michael) wants to be the hitting coach, the pitching coach and run everything, maybe he should come down here and take some of the blame," Mattingly said.

After a strong showing in June and early July, the Yankees have lost 20 of their last 26 games.

Mattingly, hampered by back problems the last two seasons, also revealed that he asked Michael in June to be traded.

Mattingly, who has a $19.3 million contract through 1995, said he asked to be traded because the Yankees are not close to winning a championship.

"Stick was talking about a five-year plan and I told him I don't have five years to wait," the 30-year-old Mattingly said.

"We met privately and he asked about being traded," Michael told MSG network Thursday night. "He wondered about the direction of the team."

The Yankees are scheduled to play the Chicago White Sox tonight, and Mattingly said he would "talk to his family and search my heart" before deciding whether to get a haircut.

Merrill said he also told pitcher Pascual Perez and catcher Matt Nokes to get a trim.

"He (Mattingly) asked me if he was in the lineup and I asked him if he would get his hair cut. He said no, so I told him he would not be in the lineup," Merrill said. "Why have rules if you don't enforce them. It's in the contract and he signed it."

Merrill said Mattingly was fined and management would review the situation, if necessary.

"I never had too much concern with my hair," Mattingly said. "I come to play ball and win games. It's kind of silly to me."

Mattingly's shaggy brown hair falls over his collar and is cropped closely at the sides. The Yankees say they want it neat and trim and he's violating the club's dress and grooming code.

"Maybe they want an organization that is full of guys who are puppets," Mattingly said. "Maybe I don't fit into the organization any more. Maybe this is a way of saying I don't fit into the organization."

Mattingly is hitting .305 with seven homers and 48 RBIs. He is a .317 lifetime hitter and a fan favorite since joining the club in 1983. But his power production has declined because of the back troubles.

Michael, appointed to run the club a year ago when Steinbrenner was forced out by commissioner Fay Vincent, was not available for comment.

Witnesses named in Navratilova suit

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Chris Evert and Billie Jean King are among potential witnesses in the palimony lawsuit against tennis star Martina Navratilova, whose net worth was listed at more than $10 million.

A judge was scheduled to hear arguments today to determine whether the lawsuit, filed by Navratilova's former companion Judy Nelson, would be delayed. An initial hearing had been set for Sept. 9.

A financial statement filed this week in Fort Worth civil court shows Navratilova's assets at about $5.5 million more than what she was worth when she signed a disputed "non-marital cohabitation agreement" with Nelson.

Last month, Navratilova denied reports that she had offered Nelson $2 million to settle the lawsuit. The tennis star told ABC's "20-20" that "I don't have that kind of money" and that Nelson tricked her into signing the agreement in 1986.

Attorney Mike McCurley, asked about Navratilova's statement in light of the new figures, told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram Thursday, "My client didn't say she doesn't have that kind of money. She said she doesn't have enough money to make the kind of settlement offers the other side was indicating."

The nine-time Wimbledon women's singles winner's net worth as of Dec. 31, 1989, was slightly more than $10 million, the court document showed.

"Nobody disputes that this woman has made a great deal of money, has earned a great deal of money, in her life. But what her net worth is has no relevance to this lawsuit," said McCurley.

Nelson filed suit in June contending she is owed half of the money, property and other assets her former partner made while the two were together. Nelson broke with Navratilova last winter after a seven-year relationship.

Court papers filed by both sides in the case listed other potential witnesses as tennis professional Ilana Kloss, along with golfer Sandra Haynie, tennis commentator Bud Collins and tennis coaches Randy Crawford and Dennis Ralston.

McCurley said he will oppose Loftin's motion to delay the trial. "We want to get on with this," he said.

Vikings must finally put Pro-Bowlers to good use

By DAVE GOLDBERG
AP Football Writer
Say this for the Minnesota Vikings.

They're never dull. No sooner had Keith Millard returned to training camp following a lost year with a knee injury than he totaled his sports car, escaping with bruises, leaving the car sitting there and returning to camp.

Millard, the 1989 defensive player of the year, could be the key if there is a resurgence by the NFL's most underachieving team - 6-10 last season despite the presence of 11 past Pro Bowlers.

"Pro Bowlers are overrated. This is a team game," says coach Jerry Burns, who has turned over his coaching staff this year - offensive coordinator Bob Schnelker and defensive coordinator Floyd Peters are out.

The Vikings also have a last-place schedule, courtesy of "winning the tiebreakers" in a four-way tie at 6-10 behind Chicago.

That could bring them right back to the top in a division that remains, at best, mediocre - the Bears and Vikings at the top and Detroit, Green Bay and Tampa Bay spinning their wheels trying to get in contention.

The Bears' 1990 season started 9-1, finished 11-5 and ended with a 31-3 drubbing by the New York Giants in the second round of the playoffs.

The 1991 season started as inauspiciously as 1990 ended. First William Perry, the hub of the defensive line, showed up in training camp at 370 pounds. Then Jimbo Covert, the key to the offensive line, went out with a back injury that may end his career.

"We have a lot of other football players trying to be football players," coach Mike Ditka says of the Fridge's perennial weight problem.

Still, it typifies Chicago's continuing circus - Perry is coming off his best year, when he alternated in the defensive front with Dan Hampton and Steve McMichael. This year, with Hampton retired, Perry was counted on to anchor the line - but only if he came in around 315.

The key to Chicago's resurgence last year after a 6-10 slide in 1989 was the defense and running game, featuring Neal Anderson, one of the league's best backs.

Chicago, which has won the division title six of the past seven years, remains the favorite.

But Covert's injury may be the start of erosion on an offensive line that had been together since 1984 - first-round draft choice Stan Thomas could be force fed into the NFL.

The rest of the team that dominated the division is also growing old, although there's also a good young nucleus on defense that includes end Trace Armstrong and backs Donnell Woolford and Mark Carrier, last year's defensive rookie of the year. Offense is another story.

With Mike Tomczak in Green Bay, Jim Harbaugh is the quarterback of record with second-year man Peter Tom Willis behind him.

Until proven otherwise, last year's 6-10 record will have to be viewed as an aberration for the Vikings.

Their record last year was due in part to injuries - to Millard and quarterback Wade Wilson.

The Vikings are also hoping - finally - for an all-Pro year from Herschel Walker, whose start wasn't auspicious.

Green Bay went 10-6 two years ago with the help of a last-place schedule, then slipped to 6-10 last year when quarterback Don Majkowski held out, then injured a shoulder. Majkowski is back, filling one hole in Lindy Infante's precision offense, and Sterling Sharpe is one of the league's premier receivers, but second-year man Darrell Thompson has to emerge if the running game is to be there.

Detroit was waiting for Barry; Tampa Bay is still waiting for Bill.

The Bill is Bill Parcells, who left the Giants after his second Super Bowl and is widely rumored to be headed for the Bucs next season, which doesn't enhance the job security of Richard Williamson. Parcells, who owns a home in Florida, says he's happy with a future in television, but...

Williamson took over when Ray Perkins was fired last season and was 1-2, enough to take the "interim" from in front of his name.

Detroit's problem was Barry Sanders, who is the NFL's most explosive back, but held out until Aug. 12.

Ironically, Wayne Fontes went after bigger receivers, starting with top draft choice Herman Moore, and will use a tight end in some situations - specifically to utilize Sanders more than last year, when he led the NFL in rushing with 1,304 yards on just 255 carries.

Prediction: 1, Vikings; 2, Bears (wild-card); 3, Packers; 4, Bucs; 5, Lions.

Hints from Heloise

DRINKING CUPS

Dear Heloise: My favorite drinking cups were so light that the force of the water in the dishwasher would turn them right-side-up, filling them with water and sediment.

I readily solved this problem by lining up the handles of the cups and running a 1/4-inch dowel pin through the handles. Dowel pins are available in most hardware stores. — William M. Hendricks, Rockford, Mich.

RECYCLING HINT

Dear Heloise: Here is a way to make a great plant-watering jug. Take a 1-gallon plastic milk jug and remove the twist-on plastic cap. Put 10-12 holes in the cap, then fill the jug, put the cap back on and it's ready to use. It sure is handy. — Julia, Jessica and Jamie Rathburn, Erie, Pa.

ALBUM STORAGE

Dear Heloise: I store record albums in clean pizza boxes. Then I write the album titles on the outside of each box and place them on a closet shelf. — James Revely, San Antonio, Texas

Rebekah Lodge has recent regular meeting

Appreciation goes out to all who helped make the hot dog stand at the Jubilee Junction a big success.

Notice of Effective Tax Rate

1991 Property Tax Rates in Walcott I. S. D.

This notice concerns 1991 property tax rates for Walcott I. S. D. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$ 204,065
Last year's debt taxes	$ 0
Last year's total taxes	$ 204,065
Last year's tax base	$ 26,114,213
Last year's total tax rate	$.7800 /$100

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I've read your column for many years and have learned a lot from the advice you've given others. Now I need help.

I've been married for 46 happy years. I have always been a bargain hunter and a saver and have managed to put aside $35,000. I decided not to put this money in the bank because I didn't want my husband to know about it. Now he is retired and I would like to do something wonderful with it, such as pay for a lovely belated honeymoon, but I don't know what to tell him. Also, I don't want to get into any trouble with the Internal Revenue Service.

How should I tell my husband? Please advise me what the IRS might do to me. This money is beginning to be a burden. Thanks. -- Secret Saver in Conn.

DEAR SECRET SAVER: Don't worry about the IRS. The money you have squirreled away has already been taxed.

Simply tell your husband that you have a wonderful surprise. (When's his birthday?) I predict that he will be very pleased. I must say that what you did, while admirable, wasn't very smart. First, you deprived yourself of the interest on the money, which would have come to a tidy sum had it been in the bank. Second, you risked losing the money in a fire. Third, it might have been stolen. I'm glad you were one of the lucky ones.

Drop a postcard from your trip and tell me you're having a wonderful time.

DEAR READERS: This information appeared in "Alert for Consumers," a publication put out by the Federal Trade Commission, Office of Consumer/Business Education:

Beware of employment ads directing applicants to call a 900 number. You will be charged either a flat fee or a per-minute charge for 900 call.

The Federal Trade Commission recently sued two companies advertising jobs in the United States using 900 numbers. These companies not only failed to disclose the cost of each call, which ranged between $10 and $18 per call, they also provided little, if any, information that would lead to a job.

The FTC also sued two other firms that advertised overseas jobs for fees as high as $600. One of the companies claimed that it had leads on more than 10,000 available overseas jobs and that its customers would be matched with at least three prospective employers. The FTC charged that few, if any, of the company's job seekers received even an interview, much less a job.

The FTC suggests the following precautions before you spend money to respond to job ads or sign job placement contracts:

Know what a 900 number call will cost before you make the call. If you have been billed for 900 numbers made to a fraudulent business, contact your telephone company. It will probably drop the charges, although it is not legally obligated to do so.

If you are looking for a job and want assistance, try these resources: State job-service offices post job vacancies and have referrals. Local and county human-resource offices and information referral services offer assistance.

University and college career-service offices may let you look at their job listings. Local libraries can also be a helpful source. Ask the librarian for material that can help you write a resume, conduct an interview or compile a list of companies to contact. Happy hunting and good luck!

Ask Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB: I can taste and smell my own bad breath. It tastes like dung. This started when I was 30 and now I'm 58. I had all my teeth pulled, but the odor continued.

I went to a local doctor and asked him about it. As I sat on his examining table he said, "I don't smell anything." No wonder, I had mint candy and gum in my mouth. He made fun of the problem by asking me, "Do people do this to you?" Then he moved away from me and pranced over to the other side of the room. His wife laughed also. I answered, "No, I do that myself."

I stay at a distance from people. I go to church and want to be sociable but can't. I'm the first out the door. Where should I start?

DEAR READER: I hope your description of your doctor's behavior is an exaggeration. It does point out that if you are going to see a doctor for a problem, don't try to cover it up in advance. Let him see, or in your case smell, the problem.

There is seldom a reason to have your teeth removed because of bad breath. Dental problems can cause bad breath, but most of these that are not related to hygiene are from inflammation around the gums and conditions that can be treated without having your teeth pulled.

Other than local sources of bad breath, such as the teeth and sinuses, bad breath comes from the lungs. When you exhale, breath is from the lungs.

Any disturbance in the body chemistry can result in volatile gases in the bloodstream which are exhaled along with carbon dioxide and nitrogen from your lungs. That is exactly how alcohol in the blood causes an alcoholic breath.

That means, in less obvious cases of halitosis, a rather searching medical examination is required. That is not accomplished by a simple physical examination on the doctor's examining table.

Some few people have food trapped in their lower esophagus as a source of bad odors. Liver disease, kidney disease and many digestive disorders can be the cause. Read about the various causes for bad breath in my new Special Report, The Breath Problem, which I am sending you. Others who want this report can send $3 with a long, stamped (52 cents), self-addressed envelope for it to THE HEALTH LETTER/109, P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077. Where should you start? With a different doctor, and give him a copy of the report I am sending you.

Dr. Lamb welcomes letters from readers with health questions. You can write to him at P.O. Box 5537, Riverton, NJ 08077. Although Dr. Lamb cannot reply to all letters personally, he will respond to selected questions in future columns.

The bodies of four American churchwomen slain in El Salvador were unearched in 1980. (Five national guardsmen were convicted in 1984 of murdering Maryknoll nuns Ita Ford and Maura Clarke, Ursuline nun Dorothy Kazel, and lay worker Jean Donovan.)

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

THE AMERICAN INDIAN BIBLE!

QUITE FITTING ENOUGH IS THE FACT THAT THE VERY FIRST BIBLE ACTUALLY PRINTED IN AMERICA WAS WRITTEN IN—NOT ENGLISH—BUT A NATIVE AMERICAN LANGUAGE—ALGONKIAN! THE TIME: 1663, THE PLACE: THE COLONY IN MASSACHUSETTS, AND THE MAN RESPONSIBLE: JOHN ELIOT, CALLED "THE APOSTLE TO THE NORTH AMERICAN INDIANS." ELIOT CAME TO AMERICA FROM ENGLAND IN 1631 WAS MADE TEACHER OF THE CHURCH IN ROXBURY, MASS., AND ORGANIZED THE FIRST VILLAGE OF INDIAN CONVERTS AT NATICK, NEAR BOSTON, IN 1651.

WHETHER THE INDIANS FELT HONORED OR NOT OVER THE FACT THAT THE FIRST BIBLE TO BE PRINTED IN AMERICA WAS DONE IN THEIR LANGUAGE HAS NOT BEEN RECORDED BUT OVER A CENTURY WOULD PASS BEFORE THE FIRST ENGLISH LANGUAGE BIBLE WOULD BE PRINTED IN 1782!
