Coleman Visits Washington

Revenue Sharing Battle Erupts

By O.G. NIEMAN

A major political battle is taking place in Washington concerning revenue sharing funds, believes Deaf Smith County Commissioner Bruce Coleman. The issue could be whether the funds continue to be distributed equitably or if they will go primarily to the great metropolitan centers.

Coleman represented Deaf Smith County when a 250-man Texas delegation of county officials were in the nation's capital Monday to tell their Congressmen they wanted a five-year extension of the revenue sharing plan, along with demands that the distribution be retained on an equitable basis. The meeting was sponsored by the National Association of Counties and drew delegations from a number of states.

"I AM PERSONALLY opposed to the principle of revenue sharing," says Coleman, "and I met no commissioners or judges on this trip who didn't feel the same way. We would much rather meet local needs with local taxes and stop the expansion of federal government which erodes our freedom. Congressman George Mahon also shares that opinion." Coleman went on to say, however, that "the better course of stopping all federal

8-Item Agenda Faces Deaf Smith County Commissioners

The Deaf Smith County Commissioner's Court will meet in regular session to consider an eight item agenda at 10 a.m. Monday at the Courthouse.

The commissioners will consider fire insurance review, act on a requested radar unit for the Texas Highway Patrol officer stationed here, hear a presentation by a committee from Walcott Community concerning fire protection and discuss the fire alarm system for the county library. Mrs. Sue Harris, district home demonstration agent will visit with the court and Glen Nelson, Justice of the Peace, is scheduled to talk with the commissioners.

The County Commissioners Court is composed of County Judge Sam Morgan, and Commissioners Bruce Coleman, James Voyles, Earl Holt and Austin Rose Jr.

Thanksgiving Service Set Wednesday Night

Thanksgiving will be observed again this year with the community Thanksgiving service which has been set for 7 p.m. Wednesday at First United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Lon Conner, pastor of Frio Baptist Church, will deliver the message and the Chamber Singers will perform. Several area churches will take part in the service.

The Rev. Jack F. Moore, pastor of Wesley United Methodist Church and president of the Ministerial Alliance said an offering will be taken and will go into a fund used by the Alliance.

MOST BUSINESSES and offices will observe Thanksgiving by closing Thursday. City Hall will be closed Thursday and Friday, however, for remodeling. Police business can be handled Friday by using the south stairway entrance.

The Brand checked with the banks, savings and loan, U.S. Post Office and the county Court House and they all indicated they would be closed Thursday only.

Long Named 'Realtor of the Year'

Realtors Told Bicentennial Is Worth the Celebration Effort

Officers for the Bicentennial year and the 1975 Realtor of the Year were recognized at the annual Hereford Board of Realtors Banquet held Friday night at the Hereford Country Club.

Members of the Board and their wives filled the country club banquet room almost to capacity to view the organization's highlight event of the year.

THE ATTENDANTS were treated to an arousing patriotic speech on the need for the Bicentennial celebration given by Mrs. Gene Brownrigg, executive director of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission (ARBC) of Texas. The Board's theme of the banquet was the Bicentennial with the room decorated in red, white and blue to reflect the coming 200th birthday of the United States.

Honored as the Realtor of the Year was Sam Long, who is associated with Ralph Owens and Associates Inc. He has been in sales positions most of his life and has been selling real estate in Hereford for several years with Owens Realtors.

The announcement came as a slow surprise as Long was introduced first by the accomplishments during his career and then everyone knew who it was when his wife Ruth was introduced. In accepting the award, Long said he didn't know what he had done to receive the award, although he definitely knew what he had done and wondered what everyone else was doing.

Frank Nix, president-elect of the Texas Association of Realtors (TAR), swore-in the new officers. They include president, Jeanne Coker; vice president, Tommy Bowling; secretary-treasurer, Marie United Way Goal Near Top, Thanks To You?

While the United Way campaign in Deaf Smith County reached 95 per cent of the goal last week, contributions have trickled in since that time and the drive is still $2,200 short, drive chairman Speedy Nieman reported Friday afternoon.

The goal for funding nine agencies in the United Way of Deaf Smith County is $59,600. Contributions and pledges totaled $57,400 when figures were tabulated Friday by treasurer Gayle Cotten.

"We are too close to the community goal to end the drive now," Nieman stated Friday. "We know there are some cards that haven't been returned, and we feel there are many firms and individuals who have not contributed that would like to help us meet the 100 per cent mark."

The drive chairman urged business firms and individuals to send their contributions to The United Way, Box 1371, Hereford, or call 364-2030 or 364-1155 for someone to pick up the donations.

"Looking over our prospect lists, we can see that many firms who contributed last year have not made a pledge this year. If just half of those would come forth with a contribution, we could go over the top," said Nieman.

The drive chairman said some of the firms haven't been contacted by volunteer workers, and some are probably waiting for a call-back. "We will try to get with divisional chairmen and directors Monday and follow up on these unreported prospects."

Raymond White is president of the UW board. He said the budget and admissions committee will meet as soon as the drive is finished and determine the allocations to be made to the participating agencies. These include the Camp Fire Girls, Kids, Inc., Scouts, Big Brothers-Big Sisters, Children's Rehabilitation Center, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Council on alcoholism, and the USO.

WITH THANKSGIVING just around the corner, we know that Christmas can't be far behind! And, Thursday's issue of The Brand will reflect that fact as we are already working on a combination Thanksgiving and "Christmas shopper" edition. Many merchants will be featuring Christmas gift suggestions in their advertisements, and it should be a colorful issue as some merchants will highlight their ads in color.

Friday night will be the traditional "Christmas opening" ceremonies as the mayor turns on the city Christmas lights, Santa Claus makes his first appearance in the city, and members of the Hereford High Band will help launch the season with music downtown, at Sugarland Mall!

Services Held Friday For Mrs. Martha Jones

Mrs. Martha Almina "Mina" Jones, 95, a Hereford pioneer who came to Hereford with her family in 1900 from Cook County, died Wednesday.

A member of the pioneer W.B. Dameron family, Mrs. Jones taught school here from 1902 until her marriage to A.M. Jones on June 30, 1908. Mr. Jones died in 1932 and Mrs. Jones continued to make her home in Hereford until the time of her death. She resided at King's Manor until eight months ago when she was moved to Westgate Nursing Home.

Her late brother, W.E. Dameron, served as mayor of Hereford for three terms and Dameron Park was named in his honor.

She had the honor of being named deaconess emerita in the First Christian Church here. She taught a class in the church and served as president of the junior department and also on the Woman's Council.

Mrs. Jones was a charter member of Bay View Study Club and, with other club members, worked for establishment of the local library. While her children were in school, she served as president of the PTA and helped to bring the first fine arts course to Hereford under its auspices.

Times were hard during the depression years following her husband's death, but she managed to help the children finish their education.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jones were held Friday at 2 p.m. at First Christian Church with the Rev. Gene Brink, pastor,

Sheriff's Office To Initiate ID Project On Farms, Ranches

[EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first in a series of articles explaining the Farm and Ranch Operation Identification project being initiated here by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department.

The Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department has launched a specific crime prevention effort aimed at protecting farms and ranches from burglary and theft. The emphasis is on reducing the burglary rate specifically through a marking program known as Operation Identification.]

TRADITIONALLY, crime prevention efforts have been concentrated in urban areas; however, the need for this law enforcement service became apparent, and the program was widened in scope to include more remote regions. The over-all concept is to teach people in the community to take steps that eliminate the opportunity for crime.

The greatest contribution to the success of crime prevention efforts anywhere is public participation, and that is the primary area of appeal.

"We realized that we were over-looking an important problem," said Sheriff Travis McPherson. "Farms and ranches present a big burglary and theft risk because equipment is very valuable, and the criminal can move about easily with no one around for miles."

The crime rate in rural areas has risen along with the urban and suburban areas.

Farming and ranching equipment is initially more expensive than small appliances found in most homes, so the loss amount per item averages higher in rural areas.

BECAUSE THE AMOUNT of losses has been so great, it has created a demand for preventative measures and the involvement of the crime prevention unit.

"Not all items on a farm or ranch can be locked up. Tools, tractors, pumps, implements and riding gear need to be protected from thieves by a system of permanent identification—sort of like branding cattle," said McPherson.

To implement Operation Identification, each individual is asked to mark possessions with his Texas driver's license number, always using the TX prefix. (example: TX 5311212) Then he is asked to display warning signs around the property saying that his valuables are Dean Butcher, crime prevention officer for the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department shows off one of the signs which will be presented to local farmers and ranchers who participate in Operation Identification. The local SO hopes to reduce the rural burglary rate through the property marking program.

Awards Presented

Bud Eades, president of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, is presenting the Hereford Bull Award to Frank Nix, president-elect of TAR and Gene Brownrigg, executive director of ARBC during the installation banquet for Hereford Board of Realtors Friday night. This coveted award only goes to out-of-town dignitaries.

Dumping Problem Plagues Officers

Deaf Smith County sheriff's officers have been plagued with a trash problem recently, and they're serving notice that a crackdown on the matter is coming. According to Dean Butcher, crime prevention officer, individuals who haul trash to the dump at 15th and Progressive and find the dump closed have been making a habit of going up Progressive Road and dumping the trash in a bar ditch or on private land. "We've been having a real problem with this type of dumping," said Butcher. "Local residents should remember that dumping on a roadway, right of way or private property is punishable by a $200 fine. Our officers are getting tired of digging through trash to find out who's responsible for this indiscriminate dumping, and we're going to start enforcing the dumping law more thoroughly," he added.

According to Butcher, the problem has been most severe on Mondays, and one landowner located near the dump has had trash dumped on his property on three different occasions.

Revenue Sharing

aid to local governments, with a corresponding reduction of federal taxes, seems to be unobtainable. Federal money is going into the metropolitan centers, because the vote power is there. "Our concern now is whether federal revenue funds will go to all, since it comes from all, or will it go only to those who have refused to be responsible in their spending," emphasized Coleman. "We don't want the government to take tax money from Deaf Smith County and pour it into New York City."

The county commissioner points out that it is becoming increasingly difficult to raise ad valorem (property) taxes enough to cover expanding demands for services. This is particularly true in the big metro areas, he says, where mis-management and welfare abuse has caused deficit spending "that is unbelievable."

COLEMAN SAYS figures show that $3.5 to $4 billion in federal funds now go to New York each year. The USA is not alone—Tokyo is subsidized with $1 billion a year, and Berlin about $2 billion per year.

Pointing to a copy of voting records, Coleman says the heavy populated areas of the nation were the ones who supported the revenue sharing act in 1972. The Texas vote reveals that only Sen. John Tower and 2 representatives out of 24 voted for revenue sharing. He thinks that, under present circumstances, most of them are, for the measure now.

"It seems to me that some time ago, modern economists led our nation down the path of deficit spending for the purpose of economic expansion. They seem to have the belief that a balanced budget is obsolete, that you can create wealth through deficit spending and pay for it by taxing the expanding economy, and the federal government can provide for everyone's needs, whether they work or not," claims Coleman.

"I think this philosophy is dead wrong," said Coleman, "and every county official with whom I talked to on this trip feels the same way. Our nation will die economically if we continue to pursue this course."

THE PRESENT LAW on revenue sharing expires in December 1976, but legislative sub-committees are already holding hearings on the program. Counties are seeking action now so that they will know what the allocations will be well in advance of their fiscal years. Half of the state and local governments have fiscal years starting in June or July.

The present formula for distribution of the funds includes population, tax effort, as well as per capita income—a measure of the poverty of a local area. The National Association of Counties feels the formula is responsive to local government need, as well as citizen need.

Central cities with a greater concentration of needy citizens receive greater per capita allocations than do wealthy suburbs. County expenditures for education, welfare, health and hospital functions increased an average of 217 per cent between 1963 and 1973, according to the association of counties.

Room Tax Sought To Advertise Hereford, Chamber Board Told

By LAVON NIEMAN
Brand News Staff

Highlight of the board of directors meeting of Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce Thursday morning at 6:30 was the announcement that the 3-per-cent hotel-motel room tax was approved by the City Commission earlier in the week.

Bud Eades, president of the board, expressed his intentions of the chamber of commerce in asking for the hotel-motel tax. He emphasized the chamber is not asking for the tax for any reason but to promote Hereford.

"The funds will be useful in advertising Hereford for increased tourism, and to attract industry without directly taxing local citizens. "Our own citizens pay the tax in other towns and a tax here does not tax our own citizens", Eades said.

The tax money would be used for such things as brochures advertising Hereford (the last order was paid for by the city and county tax money), maps of the city and county, and publicity to get conventions and meetings in Hereford.

Other business included a report of Goals for Progress, tax review, committee reports from sports, business and the industrial development and the Women's Division.

Members of the board had been asked previously to rank the goals for progress as to their importance. This ranking will be given to the sub-committee chairmen to review. They also will be asked for suggestions on who to ask to accomplish the goals and serve as chairmen in the future.

Mike Patrick gave a report from a tax review commission which was composed of Bud Snyder, Donald Hicks and himself. After hours of research from seven towns of comparable size, Patrick's report was not complete, but he said he would have the final figures for the December meeting. The research was begun after the increase in school taxes here. The comparison is only a guide to see how Hereford compares to other area cities.

Bill Albright gave reports on sports, business and industrial development. He reported the sports committee to be quite active, planning the bi-district playoff game between Groom and Sudan last Friday night, a basketball tournament scheduled for Dec. 4-6, and a weekend of sports next spring when the committee will sponsor tennis, golf, track and baseball competition with other area cities. He stressed the fact that all supplies for these sports events are bought in Hereford when at all possible.

He reported the business committee is working with the Christmas lighting project. Merchants are making plans for the city's Christmas opening on Friday, Nov. 28. Christmas lights will be turned on around the business districts, and Christmas music will launch the Yule season. Also, Santa Claus is planning to appear in Hereford that evening.

Albright pointed out that more contributions are still needed for the Christmas lighting. He said 1,500 bulbs had to be replaced this year, along with other expenses involved.

He also reported that Hereford is one among four towns being considered for a tannery. "This would really help our economic base", and the industrial committee is busy working on this.

Three members of the industrial committee and board of directors, including Tom Burdett, president of the Industrial Foundation, Bud Eades, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Bud Snyder will be in New York City for three days, beginning Nov. 30 to visit with 100 different industrialists from across the country.

"It is possible that these meetings could help us bring selected industries to Hereford", Albright said. He also pointed out that funds donated to the Industrial Foundation are not being used for the men's expenses to attend the meetings. "In fact most of the expense money is coming from their own pockets", he said.

Lavon Nieman reported on the Women's Division. She expressed her appreciation to Sherwin-Williams Decorating Center for contributing $300 worth of paint to decorate fire plugs in Hereford. They have been painted by several individuals and organizations and she also expressed her appreciation for those donating their time and efforts.

She announced the intentions for the Miss Hereford Pageant this year. The pageant will be conducted Feb. 21 in the Hereford High Auditorium. Miss Hereford will advance on to the Miss Texas pageant next summer in Fort Worth. For the first time, Miss Teen Hereford will have extra obligations by being named the Bicentennial queen. She and a senior Bicentennial queen will reign over the the July Fourth festivities and will ride on the queen's float. Another new aspect to the contest will be a contest for little girls that afternoon.

She also announced that the Women's Division would again sponsor the home Christmas lighting contest this year with plans to also have another tour of homes for senior citizens.

The board voted on plans being made for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet which has been set for Jan 15 at the Bull Barn. Ed Hennison was named the speaker for the event and tickets were set at $7 which will include a club steak dinner. The high school stage band and choir will provide entertainment.

Eades expressed that there is still a need for more members in the chamber of commerce in order to obtain a more stable financial condition.

He announced the appointment of three committees. They include finance and budget committee; Joe Schollenberger, chairman, Terry Caviness, Tom Hamlett and Mike Patrick; program of action; Andrew Kershen, chairman, Bob Ginn, Mack Tubb and Lee Unstead; policy review; R.C. Hoelscher, chairman, Arthur Gonzales, Jim McDowell and Bud Snyder.

Board members attending the meeting included Eades, Caviness, Arturo Gonzales, Calvin Goodin, Hicks, Hoelscher, Kershen, Nieman, Snyder, Unstead and McDowell.

Others attending were newly elected directors whose terms will begin Jan. 1. They are Hamlett, Ginn, Tubb Schollenberger and Mrs. Bud Sparks. Bill Albright, executive vice president, was also present.

Tri-County Insurance Organization Formed

Independent insurance agencies within Deaf Smith, Parmer and Castro counties have joined together this week into a new organization known as the Tri-County Independent Insurance Agents.

With about 30 persons representing 11 independent agencies in the three counties, the first meeting of the group was held at Hereford country Club Thursday night. Officers were elected and explanations given on the purpose of the organization.

Those elected were: president, Charles Caudill, Ethridge-Spring Insurance Agency in Friona; vice-president, Charles Wagner, Lone Star Insurance protected by Operation Identification. The driver's license numbers for all states are easily and quickly retrieved. Stolen items can then be readily identified and returned to the rightful owner.

AS PART OF the farm and ranch Operation Identification program, electric and non-electric engravers as well as steel dies are used to make the permanent markings.

"We know that it takes time and trouble to mark everything you value—that includes household items as well as tools, machinery, riding gear and equipment. But we also know that Operation Identification works, because the opportunity for easy disposal of the stolen items is reduced a lot. And that's why the sheriff's department is willing to do all we can to help get the people in our area working with the program," concluded McPherson.

Agency in Hereford; and secretary-treasurer, Wanda Derrick, Behrends Insurance Agency of Dimmitt. Directors elected include Virgil Slentz of Property Enterprises Agency in Hereford and Gene Ivey of Ivey Insurance Agency in Dimmitt.

Joe Boggin, executive director of the Texas Independent Insurance Agents Association, TIIA swore-in the officers and updated the members on recent hearings concerning workman's compensation and home owners and automobile insurance rate increases.

Wagner said the purpose of the organization is to unify the independent insurance agents in the three counties served so that a stronger voice can be expressed in Austin concerning legislation affecting the insurance industry.

"We want to represent all the independent insurance agents in the three counties as one unified body," he said. "Hopefully other agencies in the high plains will organize so that more influence from the Panhandle and plains are exerted on matters affecting us."

Other special guests present at the meeting were Frank Jackson, regional vice president of TIIA, and Dan Fleming, director of TIIA.

Bud Eades, president of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce and manager of Plains Insurance in Hereford, served as master of ceremonies for the organizational meeting. He along with Ken Rogers of Lone Star Agency were instrumental in the organization's formation.

The tri-county organization will hold regular board meetings at least once every two months with the first one scheduled at noon Tuesday at the Caison Steak House here.

Youth, Others Need Blood

The Coffee Memorial Blood Bank will be in Hereford Wednesday and the goal had been increased from 40 pints of blood to 58.

Reason for the increase is the need specifically for Will Fellers, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Fellers, who was injured in a farm accident. Eighteen pints of blood are needed to replenish blood he has used.

When donating blood, donors may specify that it be credited to his account at Deaf Smith General Hospital.

The blood mobile units will be at the Community Center from 4 to 6 p.m.

The local campaign is sponsored by the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, with Mrs. Bill Albright as chairman.

If you would like to contribute blood and your name is not on the donors list, please call Mrs. Albright or the Chamber of Commerce and you will be called at least once a year to contribute.

November and December are two months of the year when more blood is needed than usual, because of traffic accidents, etc. Please help the cause by giving a pint of blood. You'll be glad you did!

Ample Ammunition

Don Howard and Bill Walden of the Hereford Farm Bureau office gathered ammunition this week for one of the events which will highlight Farm-City Week activities Monday,—a cowchip throwing contest. The chip throw will be held in conjunction with a number of other events which will follow a parade at 2:40 p.m. Competition will be held near the Little Bull Barn with Walden serving as judge of the chip throw.

Christmas Season Begins In Hereford Friday

The turkey will barely be digested Friday when the Christmas Season will hit the Hereford area.

While Santa Claus will begin to prepare his list of toys for area children, the city will start celebrating the Christmas holidays with a magnificent light decoration display to be turned on by Mayor Jim Sears Friday night.

Also helping to ring in the holiday spirit will be the Hereford High School Band, which will perform beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Courthouse in downtown Hereford. Scheduled for three 15-minute performances, the band will then travel to the Sugarland Mall for some entertainment and then on to Park Plaza Shopping Center.

Area merchants have responded to city-wide opening day as some have decided to be open on Friday night.

The lights for the Christmas decorations are funded annually through Officers for the year ending include president, Betty Gilbert; vice president, Jeanne Coker; secretary-treasurer, Carol Rose; directors, Neil Cooper and Sam Long; and multiple listing service chairman Lee Umsted.

SPECIAL AWARDS presented during the banquet included one to Gene Campbell for signing up the most new members, and a plaque to Betty Gilbert, the outgoing president.

Bud Eades, president of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce surprised Mrs. Brownrigg and Nix with presentations of Hereford Bull Awards, presented to non-residents of Hereford who are of national or state prominence and have contributed to the community by their activity here. Also given them were original water-color paintings by Jon Birdsong, the professional western artist who once lived here.

In accepting the reins of the Board of Realtors, Mrs. Coker said the past year was one of great accomplishment, but that the Bicentennial year ahead offered greater opportunities for success. She noted that the MLS has generated over $19 million in sales since its inception in 1968. This was accomplished through 903 sales of inner-city property by 23 participating salespersons.

Mrs. Brownrigg noted during her speech that the Bicentennial was indeed meaningful and that it is a worthwhile celebration even though there is "the skeptic." She said the persons who think the nation's 100th birthday was more worth the celebration back in 1876, are not quite aware of the conditions then.

She described the riots and oppression that existed even then with child workers and protesting Irishmen, blacks and Chinese. "Even the generation gap existed back then," she said. Only the young men back then were going against the establishment by cutting their hair short.

THE BICENTENNIAL LEADER said Texas leads the nation in goals and projects for the celebration. She described those which were being conducted all across the state. San Antonio has the highest number of Bicentennial goals with over 600.

"I won't talk about the projects in Hereford because I might arouse your curiosity enough to find out for yourself if you don't already know," she emphasized.

Baboon Embryo Is Transferred

The first step toward application of embryo transfer techniques to the production of nonhuman primates for biomedical research was made with the successful transfer of an embryo (fertilized egg) from one female baboon to another. The "foster mother" carried the fetus from the fifth day after its conception until the baboon infant was delivered by Caesarean section following the normal gestation period.

This is the first nonhuman primate infant known to be produced by embryo transfer. The transfer was made March 20, 1975, at Southwest Foundation for Research and Education in San Antonio. The male infant, delivered September 5, 1975 weighing 875 grams (30.6 ounces) appears entirely normal.

The principal investigator on this project is Duane C. Kraemer, DVM, PhD, associate professor in the College of Veterinary Medicine, Texas A&M University. This research is a part of a reproductive physiology study being conducted for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Institute of Comparative Medicine, Texas A&M University/Baylor College of Medicine at College Station and Houston, Texas.

This investigation was initiated while Dr. Kraemer was a Research Scientist at Southwest Foundation. Gary T. Moore, DVM, Director, Animal Resources, Southwest Foundation, and Martin A. Kramen, PhD, assistant professor in the Department of Allied Health and Life Sciences, University of Texas at San Antonio, are co-investigators on the project.

The embryo was removed from the donor animal, using a surgical flushing technique, and the transfer was made to the recipient uterus following surgical exposure of the uterus.

Dr. Kraemer was the first to apply embryo transfer procedures to the commercial production of purebred cattle in August, 1971. He says procedures used in the baboon are very similar to those which are being applied by various companies around the world for increasing the number of offspring from outstanding cattle.

The significance of this research is its potential for helping to improve human health by increasing the productivity of the individual female nonhuman primates which possess special genetic characteristics that make them particularly valuable as models for the study of human disease.

Methods for transfer of embryos in nonhuman primates are being developed in this research program supported by the National Institutes of Health, Animal Resources Branch. One example of possible future application of this embryo transfer technique is to produce specific strains of nonhuman primates for biomedical research on such human diseases as atherosclerosis (heart disease), diabetes and cancer.

Texas Law Center To Open July 4

The more than 250,000 students who visit the State Capitol each year will have a new and interesting place to visit when the new Texas Law Center is completed. John M. Lawrence, III, State Bar President said.

Located in the Capitol Complex and set to be dedicated on July 4, 1976, the new Law Center's first floor will contain a historical pavilion and a multi-media theatre.

The multi-media presentation will focus on the history of the legal system, how it developed and where it is headed. Lawrence said it will run continuously throughout the day so touring students and adults alike can view it.

Included in the historical pavilion will be many legal documents and artifacts pertaining to the law, he added.

Lawrence said the new Texas Law Center will also be the headquarters for the State Bar of Texas, which represents the nearly 27,000 Texas Lawyers. It will also be the center for such programs as pre-paid legal services, lawyer referral, legal specialization and law-focused education.

Four Herd Gridders On All-District

Herd Plays Dumas In Home Opener

4-4A All-District

Hereford's Whitefaces claimed four spots on the 4-AAAA All-District football team as selected by coaches this week.

Seniors Mike Crim and Dave Charest were selected on the defensive team, while juniors Carlee Graves and Roy Martinez were picked on offense.

Plainview, which tied for third place with Hereford, led the selections with eight players, while district champion Lubbock High placed seven on the 27-member mythical team. Monterey had six players to be picked, Hereford four, and Coronado two.

Graves joined Lubbock's Victor Lugo and Plainview's Lester Fennell as running backs. The three were the top ground gainers in district play. Scott Gardner, Monterey's great passer, was named to the quarterback position.

Martinez was picked as a wide receiver, joining Monterey's Richard Bowles in that position. Crim was picked as one of the two linebackers on the defensive team. He changed to the defensive post just before district play started. Charest, an outstanding safety and receiver for Hereford, was named as one of the defensive backs.

The 27-man squad included two kickers—punter Vic Boerner of Monterey and place kicker Bryon Hannabus of Lubbock High. Due to tie votes, the defensive team had 13 members with an extra tackle and extra defensive back. The offensive team had a tie for the center position.

Only five juniors made the two teams—Graves and Martinez from Hereford, Lugo and center David Thurman from Lubbock High, and defensive tackle Les Brewer of Coronado.

Sportswriters of the district were being polled this week to select the player of the year, sophomore of the year, and the coach of the year.

Spy buildup reportedly began in late '60s.

Are animals sometimes sensitive to weather changes? Can they sense changes about to occur in the weather?

Some animals can detect signs of changing weather before the average human is aware that clues are about. Close observation over a period of time will reveal the behavior pattern of certain animals to a remarkable degree and, watched closely, they will often tip their owners of approaching rain or a storm.

Some time ago in Mexico City, zoo keepers and animal and pet owners swamped veterinarians' offices for almost twenty-four hours before an earthquake. This was not a weather clue, but it proved that the senses of animals are very keen.

View From The Plains

BY J.D. PEER

TEXAS PARKS AND WILDLIFE DEPT.

Landowners and sportsmen are finding an abundance of cover as the 1975 hunting seasons open in Texas but this collection of grasses, weeds and grain stalks will disappear by next spring.

November is the time to save some of that cover for the game and song birds as the most critical time of the year for these species is from February through March.

Winter rains, winds, snow and indiscriminate burning and heavy winter grazing destroy most of the necessary protective benefits of these plants by spring of each year.

Texas has plenty of food, water and protection for its game birds but protective habitat in the spring determines the success of the following years bird populations

Landowners are asked to leave a patch of grass or weeds in the corner of their field or a few rows of corn or grain stalks along a weeded fence row or pasture.

Even though quail, pheasant and prairie chicken are adept at eluding enemies such as the hawk, owl, skunk and coyote, a certain amount of cover is required.

The 1975 hunting seasons are in full swing and there will be a good surplus of game birds going into next spring's nesting season if the winter is not too severe.

Groom Edges Battling Hornets, 34-28

By SPEEDY NIEMAN

Groom's favored Tigers had to fight off a battling Sudan Hornet team to the final gun before winning a high-scoring 34-28 triumph in a Class B bi-district football game here Friday night.

Groom jumped to a 20-7 lead in the first quarter and led by 20-14 at halftime, but the Hornets rallied to take 21-20 and 28-26 advantages in the third period. Sudan had a chance in the closing minutes and drove to the Groom 26 before disaster struck.

The sports committee of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce hosted the playoff contest here. Committee chairman Jerry Payne presented the bi-district trophy to the Groom team which advances into the regional playoffs against Crowell next week.

A good turnout of loyal fans from Groom and Sudan braved the 25-degree weather to watch the exciting struggle between the two fine teams. The fans saw four touchdown runs of more than 70 yards by players from the two schools.

Unsung Joel Williams, a little 145-pound sophomore, wound up as the game's top rusher with 189 yards on just 10 carries, and he kept Sudan in the contest with touchdown dashes of 79, 71 and 7 yards.

Groom's great halfback Chris Britten tallied two touchdowns and rushed for 138 yards on 24 carries to lead the winner's attack. John Krizan added 125 yards in 15 trips for the Tigers, and Tom Reed had 94 yards—including a 77-yard scoring gallop.

Halfback Kyle Martin was the other big gun in the Sudan attack as he returned a kickoff 79 yards for a touchdown and rushed for 106 yards in 13 trips. Martin was also a defensive standout and blocked one extra-point kick.

Three fumbles hurt the Sudan team, and Groom moved for two touchdowns after fumbles. After an exchange of punts in the opening quarter, Reed broke off tackle and raced to the outside on a 77-yard scoring run. Martin blocked the kick attempt and Groom led by 6-0 with 8:13 left in the first quarter.

Groom scored again minutes later when Sudan fumbled on the Hornet 43 and Mike Britten recovered. Groom moved the distance in six plays with Britten ramming over the 1. Quarterback Bimbo Bivens ran for two points.

On the first play after the ensuing kickoff, Sudan's Williams set sail around right end and went 71 yards for the Hornet's first score and first down. Groom had to punt on its next series, but Sudan fumbled several plays later and the Tigers had the ball on the Hornet 15. It took just three plays to reach paydirt with Krizan going over from two yards out. A pass for the two points failed and Groom led, 20-7, with 1:28 still left in the opening stanza.

The second quarter was more of a defensive struggle, but Williams broke loose once again, dashing 79 yards for a score that closed the gap to 20-14 at halftime. Williams had 161 yards on just four carries in the first half.

Sudan tallied twice in the third quarter and Groom once. Williams scored first, after a 32-yard pass from Craig Pickett to Brian May got the drive going. Williams hit over from the 7-yard line and Martin's kick gave Sudan a 21-20 lead.

Groom bounced right back on its next series, however, and Britten raced 39 yards for the score that put the Tigers back on top, 26-21. It took Sudan only a few seconds to regain the lead as Martin took the ensuing kickoff, broke a couple of tackles, and raced 79 yards for the score. Martin's kick made it 28-26 with just four seconds left in the third period.

Groom moved 73 yards in 13 plays to score the winning touchdown. Bivens dived in from the 1-yard line on fourth down, and Britten crashed over for the conversion points with 6:37 left in the game.

Sudan's last drive was stopped by its own mistakes. The Hornets drove to the Groom 26 and faced third and six with about 1:30 left. Sudan went into a "shotgun" formation for the first time, but the snap sailed over Pickett's head and he recovered on the 50 for a 24-yard loss. Sudan tried it again on 4th down, but the snap was high again and Pickett fell after making a leaping catch for a 13-yard loss.

The ball went over to Groom and the Tigers killed the clock to insure the triumph. The big Groom team contained the Hornets fairly well, except for the long-distance dashes. Sudan had 303 yards rushing, however, but netted just 245 after losses totaled 58 yards. Groom had an offensive total of 402 yards, while Sudan's amounted to 344.

Groom held Sudan's big senior fullback Danny Williams to a net of only 8 yards rushing.

Williams had gained more than 130 yards last week in Sudan's district playoff victory over Sundown.

Thousands of hunters take to the water each year, but few of them know what to do should they fall out of a boat or stumble into water over their head.

An article on "Water Survival," in the November issue of TEXAS PARKS & WILDLIFE magazine, states each year thousands of hunters go by boat to fairly remote places. With little chance of assistance, it makes sense to know what to do in case of emergencies.

U.S. Coast Guard-approved seat cushions or life preservers are a must for each person aboard. Passengers in a small boat should always remain seated, and if caught in bad weather in a large body of water everyone should lie down in the bottom of the boat, to keep a low center of gravity.

In case of accidents, stay with the boat if possible. If separated from it or any floating devices, hunters should drop any guns or ammunition which would weigh them down, then try to relax. This conserves energy and air trapped in hunting clothing may keep the wearer afloat.

If wearing hip boots, keep the tops under water. Any air trapped in the boots will cause them to float at the knees. Then turn on your back, face up, and use a backstroke to paddle to shore. This can work with knee boots if you turn on your stomach and allow your legs to bend upward.

Capsize duck hunters should grab any floating decoys within reach, free them from the anchor lines and push them inside their jacket to help stay afloat.

If there is an oar handy, put it under your chin and spread your arms along its length. With two, you can roll on your back and put one under your knees and the other under the back of your neck with arms stretched along it.

When you get to shore, immediately build a fire and stay by it until rescued, or until thoroughly dry and rested.

SPORTS from the pressbox...

By RED LAKELAND

INSIDE & STRAIGHT: Ever since ROSEY GRIER, the six-five, 285-pound ex-football player turned actor retired from the gridiron, his life had been a series of ups and downs - but slowly and surely he's "moving on" in low gear up the ladder of success. The former New York Giants and Los Angeles Rams superstar says he needs a job badly to give his wife and 4-year-old child a decent home in a good environment. Rosey has hit a little jackpot and if fate is on his side, he may soon be rolling in money. . . . Three years ago, major league pitcher DENNY McLAIN was a washed-up outcast. He had just been dropped from the Atlanta Braves after failing for the fourth time in two years to make a comeback. Had it been three years since he put together seasons of 31 and 24 victories, back to back? And now, couldn't he even hang on with a team that had one of the weakest pitching staffs in the big leagues? Unfortunately, the answers to both questions were yes. At 28, the man who in 1968 had become the first major league pitcher since DIZZY DEAN (1934) to win 30 games in a season, was finished. Not only could McLain not get anybody out, he had become a suspicious character as well. In 1970, he was suspended by Baseball Commissioner BOWIE KUHN for the first three months of the season for consorting with gamblers.

HOTLINE ON SPORTS: Pre-season injuries have decimated the ranks of pro football players. The pro football exhibition season, like baseball's spring training, was once no more brutal than a full-dress practice. With the advent of money-hungry managements selling exhibition tickets for $10, however, the boys began to play for real - long before their bodies were in shape for it. American pro football simply cannot be played full tilt by men who are still lumbering under off-season fat. Two quarterbacks bit the dust during the 1975 exhibition games, New York Jets' AL WOODALL and New Orleans Saints' ARCHIE MANNING, are out for most of the season. In Woodall's case, it looks as though he may not play until next year. Besides the two team pilots, there are already at least 15 stars on the injury roster, including name players whose absence will affect their team's performance this season. The Saints, for instance, are suffering without their first-string quarterback and have lost their first five league games. "I'm just sick," says Manning. "What is so disheartening is that I was having my best preseason. We were making progress toward a more productive offense." Manning is just one of the many athletic victims sacrificed to the management's greed for larger profits.

DON'T FORGET the special activities planned Monday in conjunction with the observance of Farm-City Week. The Hereford CowBelles have arranged a parade of farm equipment, starting at 2:40 from the Community Center, and it will go out Park Avenue to the Bull Barn. There, some games and contests are to be held which should provide a lot of fun for participants and spectators, alike.

oOo

Speaking of the Farm-City Week observance, most of us in this area realize the importance of our agricultural-oriented economy, but we wish some folks in other areas could be exposed to the facts. Americans spend only 16 per cent of their income for food, compared with 50 per cent for Europeans. A part of this "bargain" is due to the efficiency of the American farmer, but is also due to unwillingness of the American system to allow parity for the farmer.

Not since World War II days has agriculture received its share of the dollar! Labor and business have received their share, but not the farmer. Because the consumer has received such a bargain in food, he has been able to translate the saving into second and third autos and many of the other goodies available to the average American family.

AGRICULTURE IS our greatest national asset. It is greatest because it is our only asset that is not depletable. In theory, the time could come when we have nothing to export except ag products. Consider what this would mean to our balance of payments if we permitted our food production to deteriorate.

Any informed person knows that there is little relationship between farm prices and the cost of living. Yet, people who should know better blame the farmer for the cost of bread and the rancher for the cost of beef. They are apparently willing to sacrifice the farmer and the cattleman in order to give even greater bargains to the consumer.

oOo

Bud Eades had to be surprised when he got the Bull Chip award at the chamber breakfast Tuesday. Eades' hobby is woodworking and he makes the plaques for the chamber award. However, they told him someone else's name was going on the gold tab which is placed on the plaque. So, he didn't realize he was making the award for himself!

Heart Film Is Slated

A film titled, "I am Joe's Heart," has been circulating Hereford organizations and will be shown for a special public viewing at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Heritage Room of the Deaf Smith County Library.

It is being sponsored through the cooperation of the local unit of the American Heart Association and the county library. It is designed for community-wide participation.

Also, Dr. Duffy McBrayer, a local physician, will deliver a special speech and answer any questions concerning the film. He is a member of the board of directors of the Deaf Smith County Heart Association.

JoAn Dwyer, president of the local heart group, will preside at the meeting along with her husband Archie. Refreshments of tea, coffee and donuts will be served.

VFD Answers Minor Calls

Minor fires kept Hereford firemen busy during the latter part of the week, after welcome precipitation earlier in the week decreased the danger of grassfires somewhat.

Firemen responded to two calls Thursday afternoon. At 5:32, units were summoned to property owned by Southwestern Public Service where an electrical short had occurred.

Earlier Thursday, firemen were called to the home of Butch Trevino at 500 Ave. I to extinguish a fire caused by a gas leak in a dryer.

Firemen extinguished an automobile blaze Wednesday afternoon. The vehicle was operated by Gloria Zepeda and was located at 1006 14th.

A stove fire got the attention of local firemen Tuesday evening. The blaze occurred at Bluewater Garden Apartment 126. The apartment was occupied by Julee Medea.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q: What exactly does it mean when gardening literature recommends "pinching back"?

A: Pinching back is taking off the tip of a growing shoot, usually by pinching the stem off between thumb and forefinger. This encourages lateral stem growth and makes plants bushier.

Q: I don't like the way my large prayer plant looks when it folds up its leaves after its daily ration of sun. Can I prevent it from doing this by altering the exposure it gets?

A: Prayer plants, or marantas, fold up their leaves in the evening not in response to the diminishing light—although this is their signal—but rather to allow the moisture absorbed by the leaves during the day to filter down into the soil. It's a tropical plant used to a humid environment. There's no way to interrupt this necessary daily cycle of the plant which is important to its health and vigor.

Q: Are there any flowering annuals which can be grown in a window box indoors?

A: It's a little late to plant now, but next season try zinnias, geraniums, the smaller marigolds and/or petunias for indoor blooming annuals which bring the summer garden effect inside your home.

Q: How does one make soil more humusy when planting directions specifically call for it?

A: Adding sphagnum moss, osunda fiber or firbark to regular garden loam or potting soil gives it the humus quality it needs.

1.5 Million Vietnam Veterans Given Jobs

Almost 1.5 million Vietnam-era veterans were placed in jobs, training, or education through the programs of the Interagency Jobs for Veterans Advisory Committee during fiscal year 1975, Assistant Secretary of Labor William H. Kolberg announced.

Goals for such placements mostly exceeded those established last July by the Interagency Committee in a "plan of action" for Vietnam-era veterans' employment.

Kolberg, who serves as chairman of the veterans' interagency group, reported that in five out of eight major activities offering services to the veterans, "impressive results were achieved." He also noted that in the other three areas, accomplishments were as close to goals as could be expected.

"Overall," Secretary Kolberg said, "the combined placement goal was exceeded."

The detailed placement figures for the year that ended June 30 were: 391,000 in full-time private-sector jobs by public employment service offices, 155,964 in jobs through the efforts of the National Alliance of Businessmen, 95,092 in federal government jobs, 29,481 in U.S. Postal Service jobs, 29 blinded veterans in jobs through a special Labor Department contract with the Blinded Veterans' Association, 4,420 disabled veterans in jobs by the National Alliance of Businessmen; 72,226 in programs under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act and 719,218 in education and training under the GI Bill by the Veterans Administration.

The Abundant Life Spread Goodwill

By BOB WEAR

There is a great need for goodwill, and this is one need which all of us can help supply. The ideal would be a general life situation in which all persons were honestly doing their best to "spread goodwill". Of course no one is naive enough to think that this is being done; or to suppose that such a goal is reasonable. It is a fact, however, that all of us who realize and appreciate the value of goodwill can be persons of goodwill.

WE CAN "SPREAD GOODWILL" in our own family group, in our working situation, in our neighborhood, in community life, and in our person to person interaction. In order to do this, we must be strong in our own conviction and initiative; strong enough to be willing to "spread goodwill", even though many others may not be doing the same.

Some persons are people of goodwill, but many are not. We must also remember that the people who will maintain a sustained appreciation of the value of good-will can have some beneficial influence upon some other people. Regardless, we can make our lives better; and do some good, if we do not grow weary in our determination to "spread goodwill".

WE KNOW THAT CON-TENTION is both unpleasant for all persons, and is destructive. It is a loss of human energy, a dissipation of life interest, a frustration of good intentions, a loss of opportunities, and causes a misdirection of life. We are not able to remain on course. There is so much loss that the "spread of goodwill" could prevent.

"IT IS A HARD THING to maintain a sound understanding, a tender conscience, a lively gracious, heavenly spirit, and an upright life in the midst of contention, as to keep your candle lighted in the greatest storm." -Baxter.

"WHAT'S THE USE?" This is the question that sets a person on the beginning of the end. With this seemingly justified attitude, we turn away from the life posture that is best for us; and the one that has in it some possibility of helping and encouraging others. The "use" is in the value of goodwill, as we feel it and express it. If we need anything to strengthen the values and reasons for the "SPREAD OF GOODWILL", let us just take a good look at ill will and the damage it causes all of us; even the innocent ones.

USUALLY, EXPRESSED goodwill must be a positive, deliberate and well thought-out action; and an action performed because we want to do so, and because we are aware of its value.

Funds For King's Manor

Rev. DeWitt Seago, chaplain of King's Manor, accepts a check for $150 from Key Club President Pete Hale. Key Clubbers earned the money by helping cater the King's Manor Founder's meeting. The presentation was made at the Kiwanis luncheon Thursday, where the entire program was presented by the Key Club in honor of Key Club week.

'Talk About What's Right With America' Lions Told

"It's time to talk about what's right with America and with our great economic system," Bill Price, a director of the chemical division of Phillips 66 Petroleum Co., told Lions during a regular club luncheon meeting here Wednesday.

"We hear too much on what's wrong in America, with each placing the blame on others," emphasized the oil company executive. The speaker commented primarily on criticisms of business and government, but he said the "fault-finding is heard in all areas of our lives."

Price said some of the fault-finders, such as Ralph Nader, tend to overlook the whole picture. "We've made some mistakes in business and industry, but we're trying to overcome them and no nation in the world comes close to comparing with our production and efficiency," he pointed out. "You have a tremendous spirit in this club, and I urge each of you to talk about what's right with your business, your community and your nation."

Price was introduced by program chairman Tommy Bowling. Price is a native of Borger and is now a director of business promotion with Phillips' chemical division. He was accompanied by B.C. Hitchcock, a district representative for Phillips' fertilizer division. Another highlight of the club's meeting was a presentation to the High Plains Eye Bank of $406. President Weldon Dickson presented the check to James Dobbs, Easter Lion, who is a second vice-president of the eye bank board.

Special guests of the club for the luncheon were members of the Hereford High School football team. Coach Fred Upshaw introduced the coaches, seniors on the team, and the cheerleaders.

David Rudder gave a weekly report from high school as president of the Leo Club. Sharon Harris, representing the Cowgirl Hall of Fame, made an announcement on the organization's fund drive and asked Lions to help make contacts for contributions toward the facility.

Heroin Seized In El Paso

U.S. Customs seized 22 1/2 pounds of brown Mexican heroin at El Paso, Texas recently and arrested two California men for smuggling.

Cleburne Maier, Regional Commissioner, said the heroin is worth $11 million on the retail "street" market. It was concealed in a specially constructed compartment of a gas tank installed on the 1973 Ford driven by the smugglers.

El Paso Customs Inspectors Dale Short and Robert Ontiveros discovered the heroin when their suspicions prompted them to dismantle the gas tank. The smugglers declared no foreign merchandise and failed to give believable answers to questions when they arrived from Mexico.

The gas tank yielded nine plastic bags of brown Mexican heroin. Each bag, wrapped in an outer brown paper bag, contained about 2 1/2 pounds of narcotic.

Law Operation Explained Statewide To Children

Mrs. Dolph Briscoe announced that the First Lady's Volunteer Program, Office of the Governor, will participate in a statewide educational program to teach Texas school children how our system of laws operates. The program is called "Law in a Changing Society" and operates under a grant from the Governor's Criminal Justice Division. The project is administered through the State Bar of Texas and the Texas Classroom Teachers Association.

Mrs. Briscoe said, "Regional volunteer coordinators for the First Lady's Volunteer Program attended a recent conference in Dallas to see how the education program worked and how they could help expand it into all schools. "The coordinators unanimously supported the project's unique goals and objectives: to teach every school child respect for our laws by showing them the fascinating background of how the rules we live by are established," Mrs. Briscoe added.

"As we begin our country's bicentennial celebration, I think this is a most fitting project to bring to the attention of our state's 11 million children," Mrs. Briscoe concluded.

TSA Asks Motorists Not To Share Turkey's Fate

Austin—Many Thanksgiving holiday travelers may find themselves giving thanks to be home alive and in one piece after a harrowing battle with the perils of holiday highways. So if you are planning a Thanksgiving trip, Texas Safety Association offers the following tips to improve your chances for surviving the Thanksgiving holiday and being alive for Christmas:

AT 55 MILES PER HOUR, driver fatigue can be a very real hazard. A four-day holiday is a poor time for a cross-country trip, especially if you have to drive into night to make your destination. Either plan shorter trips or have another licensed driver with you to trade stints in the driver's seat. Wear your seat belts and shoulder harnesses, and don't let the speedometer needle creep over the posted limit. A traffic ticket can cost you the price of a couple of Tom Turkeys—and a high-speed accident can cost more than you can ever recover. Neither one is worth the risk!

TAKE IT EASY on the turkey. A full stomach leads to drowsiness, and the driver's seat is no place for a nap. Don't eat and run; rest or nap for a short while after eating before doing an extensive driving.

IT'S A HOLIDAY for your children, too, so take along appropriate games, toys (ones that can be safely enjoyed in the confines of an auto) and books to help defeat the boredom that can plague your young traveling companions. Nothing distracts a driver like a wrestling match in the back seat!

IF IT TAKES SPIRITS to move you, better stay home. Getting intoxicated before the trip could send you farther than you're willing to go. If your celebration includes alcohol, make it after—not before—you've completed the day's driving.

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Sunday, November 23, 1975

Texas Safety Association wants Texans to enjoy Thanksgiving without paying the terrible price of an accident. Drive carefully.

WASHINGTON—Another 1.1 million metric tons of U.S. corn has been sold to the Soviet Union, raising total Russian purchases for this session to 13 million tons, trade sources report.

My personal thanks to co-chairmen, Marie Griffin and Marn Tyler for a job well done on the Hereford Board of Realtors Installation Banquet.

4-H Honorees Urged To Grasp Opportunities

Terry Barrier and Jo Ann Wagner of Hereford were among 37 4-H Gold Star honorees who attended the District 14-H Gold Star Banquet held at the Hilton Inn in Amarillo Monday night.

The youths were told to plan and work for tomorrow, taking advantage of their talents and achievements in setting higher goals.

J. Harold Dunn, well-known businessman and supporter of education programs throughout the state, addressed the crowd of 300 which included 4-H club members, parents, adult leaders, Texas Agricultural Extension Service officials, sponsoring electric cooperative representatives, county judges and commissioners and other friends of 4-H'ers.

The 37 4-H'ers marched across the stage to receive this highest county award following a banquet and Dunn's speech, climaxing several years of project work, learning experiences and leadership development.

"As most of you know by now," Dunn said, "the competitive participation or involvement in the 4-H club programs offers the opportunity to develop life skills and learn in many ways to meet the needs of society."

"It is my hope," he said, "that your involvement to date is only the beginning of many opportunities that will be yours."

"In order for you to have reached that milestone it was necessary for you to set your goal in advance and plan and work for its accomplishment. As you plan for tomorrow you must look forward to other plateaus for which you can work in the future."

The former president of Shamrock Oil Company told the 4-H'ers their success would be measured by demonstration of their abilities in three areas: the ability to think in a practical, ethical, normal, objective and creative manner; the ability to function in an organized society through understanding and communication with others; the ability to manage one's life in a productive way and in accordance with Christian principles of unselfishness, human understanding, trust, truth and recognition to the best of his abilities and with the help of God.

He told them to seek counsel and advice in the appraisal of their talents and then investigate opportunities in the nature of work where those talents can be applied.

"May you set your goals to excel," he said, "while serving the cause of freedom, of truth, of learning, of discipline, of self-respect and of religious faith."

Sponsoring the Gold Star Banquet were Deaf Smith, North Plains, Rita Blanca, Hall and Swisher Electric Cooperatives, R.L. Elliott of Rita Blanca Electric Cooperative, Dalhart, welcomed the group. District 14-H council members directed the program.

The Gold Star award is intended to stimulate winners to higher achievement and to encourage other youth people to participate in the county 4-H program.

Receive Awards

Terry Barrier and Jo Ann Wagner were recognized as Deaf Smith County's Gold Star 4-H'ers at the District 14-H Gold Star Banquet held at the Hilton Inn in Amarillo Monday night. Youths in attendance were told that participation in the 4-H program offers the opportunity to develop life skills and learn to meet the needs of society.

'Give Em Hell, Harry!' Opening In Amarillo

When Samuel Gallu's hit play, 'Give 'Em Hell, Harry!', opens in Amarillo, Thursday, Nov. 27th at 8 p.m., you will hear Ed Nelson, as President Harry S. Truman, scornfully cut down to size the crooks and the hypocrites, the mealy-mouthed and the mendacious; rage at the Nixons and McCarthys; chortle at his victory, and, in general, speak his mind.

Among the Truman remarks and observations to be heard: "You can't get rich in politics unless you're a crook."

"The Republicans think the standard of living is a fine thing so long as it doesn't spread to all the people. And they admire the Government of the United States so much that they would like to buy it."

On trusting bankers: "If you want a friend in this life, get a dog."

On truth in politics: "There's nothing more dangerous on the world than a liar in public office."

On Mannon in America: "We worship money in this country instead of honor."

Perhaps one of the most important moments in "Give 'Em Hell, Harry!" occurs when Truman and General MacArthur are meeting at Wake Island. "I don't care what you think of Harry Truman," he says, "But you are going to respect the President of the United States."

Although a one-man show, "Give 'Em Hell, Harry!" is a full two-act play, with a complex set, imaginative lighting and several costume changes. There are scenes in the Oval Office at the White House, in the front yard of the Truman home in Independence, Mo., in the Vosges Mountains in France, at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D.C., and at several other places.

The show has been directed by Peter H. Hunt, best known for his direction of Broadway's "1776." During this portion of its second national tour, the play is being presented in eight Texas and Oklahoma cities by the firm of Dacus-Shurg Productions of Fort Worth.

Tickets are now available at Sears Department Store in Amarillo or at the Civic Center box office, phone 806-373-6951, from noon to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

Mail orders received now will be held and filled in the order received. Mail orders must include a self-addressed stamped envelope for the return of tickets, and should be sent to P.O. Box 1971, Amarillo, Tex. 79186. Prices are $4.50, $5.50 and $6.50.

A discount of $1.50 per ticket is available to all educators, students, senior citizens and military personnel.

"My wife had a good wheel, and I knewed exactly how to use it," wrote a famous frontiersman in pioneer days. "She was also a good weaver; and being very industrious with her wheel, she had, in little or no time, a fine web of cloth, ready to make up, and she was good at that too, and at almost anything that a woman could do." Who was the lady whose industrious labors won this praise from her husband? She was Mrs. Davy Crockett.

Company Defrauds Medicare Program

On October 22, Joseph M. Jackson, owner of Joe Jackson Heights Funeral Chapels in Laredo, pleaded guilty to five counts of defrauding the Medicare program. Mr. Jackson was given a one year jail sentence, which was suspended, and placed on one year's probation.

In addition, he was required to repay $7,729.02 in Medicare payments which he obtained illegally. These five counts involved billing Medicare for ambulance services that were never rendered, and the falsification of nature of illnesses or injuries to obtain payment from Medicare.

Jim Talbot, district manager of the Amarillo District Office, stated that the majority of physicians, hospitals and other providers of health services file valid claims for reimbursement. Regrettably, there are a few individuals in any activity who will attempt to take unfair advantages.

Does the weather affect wildlife and hunting to an appreciable degree?

Yes. The weather is a most important influence on our hunting. First, enough rain and the right conditions are required to populate our woods and fields with wildlife, by giving them vegetation and insect and animal food.

Second, weather often determines when and where birds migrate. It can determine where native animals and birds are to be found during the hunting season—in heavy, protected areas, or out in the open, so to speak.

What some people don't realize is that severe weather kills game, as well as people. A severe winter following a dry summer is hardest on many forms of wildlife.

Penney's Assistant Employed

MIKE IVEY

Mike Ivey, 24, has joined the J.C. Penney's department store at the Sugarland Mall as assistant manager, effective this week according to Clete Corlis, manager.

Ivey, a graduate of the University of Texas at Austin with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree, has been training at a Penney's store in Denver for the past year. He graduated in 1974. Corlis said, "It is a pleasure to have Mike on our team in the Hereford store."

The new assistant manager begins this week and is presently looking for living quarters. He is married to Krista Ivey, who will remain in Denver for about a month. They have no children.

Legend has it that cats were created by Noah aboard the ark to take care of his rat problem.

Engagement Planned

Dr. Monte Glenn Gripp and Miss Bonnie Ivy Rose are engaged to marry on Dec. 27 in St. Thomas Episcopal Church, College Station. It has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Robert Rose of Houston. The prospective bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gripp of Frio, received his bachelor degree in animal science from Tarleton State University. He went on to earn his doctor of veterinary medicine credentials from the College of Veterinary Medicine, Texas A&M University. Miss Rose is majoring in animal sciences at Texas A&M, where she is classified as a senior.

Dinner Is Served To Citizens

A Thanksgiving dinner, provided by Kiwanis Club, was served to 50 members of Hereford Senior Citizens and their guests recently in Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

Following the dinner, games of dominoes, 42, bridge and canasta were played.

The organization expresses their thanks to Kiwanis club members and president, Ed Coplen, and Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Top Students

Patricia Mund, a fourth grader, and Sammy Velasquez, a fifth grader, were named students of the six weeks at St. Anthony's School recently. The young scholars were recognized for outstanding effort, achievement, courtesy and cooperation.

Cosmetic Safety Stressed

Cosmetics usually enhance attractiveness and self-confidence—but "use with care" should be the watchword, Claudia Mitzel says.

"Occasionally severe allergic reactions to some products do occur. In other cases, consumers may misuse cosmetics and endanger their health," she said.

Miss Mitzel is a consumer education-clothing and textiles specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

To insure safe cosmetic use, she suggested some guidelines which may help consumers avoid contamination and injury.

—Read labels on the containers and packages and follow directions exactly.

—If a reaction occurs, such as redness, itching, swelling, soreness, blisters, stop using all cosmetics that may be affecting that area.

—If the reaction persists, see a doctor immediately. And take the suspect cosmetic along. Write a letter to the manufacturer of the product—whose address is on the packaging. Send a copy of the letter to the Food and Drug Administration, Division of Cosmetics Technology, 200 C street, S.W. Washington, D.C. 20204.

—To determine possible allergy to a cosmetic, place a small amount on the inside forearm and leave it for 24 hours. For hair products, choose an inconspicuous area on the back of your head and do a patch test following directions in the package. Check for any signs of redness or itching before using the product for the entire area.

—To prevent contamination, keep containers closed tightly when not in use—and wash hands before applying any cosmetic since cosmetics are usually bacteria-free before they're opened.

—Throw out old cosmetics because preservatives lose effectiveness over time.

—Never borrow another person's cosmetics. They may be contaminated.

—Use aerosols carefully to avoid inhalant the spray.

—Keep cosmetics in a place that children cannot reach.

A House subcommittee has approved a bill changing the federal bankruptcy laws to deal with a possible default by New York City on its obligations.

WTCC Not For Federal Aid To New York City

The Directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, in a recent Mid-Year Meeting in Amarillo, called upon all West Texas Congressmen to work to ensure that no federal aid be given New York City until the city and the state of New York demonstrate good faith by exhausting all financial possibilities, and actions in correcting New York City's present financial position.

Then if all such exhaustive actions have been taken and a satisfactory fiscal reorganization and recuperative plan has been initiated, then federal aid, if loaned to New York City, should be allocated not in a lump sum but in graduated steps in the direct proportion to the success of each step in the fiscal reorganization and recuperative plan.

W.A. Griffiths, Jr., of San Angelo, chairman of the WTCC National Affairs Committee which originated the WTCC position, said, "It was felt in our committee that a very dangerous precedent would be set if the federal government rashly bailed out New York without requiring the city and the state to do everything possible to solve the problem they alone created. It would bankrupt the nation if the federal government were to try to bail out in the future every city in the nation that, through bad management and bad city government, got itself in the same shape as New York."

Such a federal policy would remove all restraint and responsibility of local city governments to live within its means. Many, many cities throughout the nation are in good financial shape and sound. It has been done by good business and good government practices. New York City can do it if they will just "face up" to the problems and get going.

The Senate Appropriations Committee has approved a $90.78 billion defense appropriation bill, $7 billion less than President Ford's budget request.

Hustle Hustle Hustle

By Bill Albright, Executive VP Chamber of Commerce

Congratulations Hereford, your city commission acting in a forward thinking and progressive manner, approved an action last Monday which will do much to increase our economy base and bring additional "new dollars" to town. In 1974, travelers, in and to Texas spent 4.2 billion dollars. This money enriched many small communities as well as the convention centers of Texas. Hotel-motel receipts alone for last year were over $368 million and state tax received was more than $11 million. Of course, the lions share went to the locations with well known tourist attractions but there was a healthy amount that went to smaller towns and cities.

Hereford's hotel-motel tax will help attract some of those visitors to our area—why? Because we will be able to advertise and promote our city. This tax is not new to Texas. It was enacted in 1969 and by the end of 1974, sixty eight communities had passed enacting ordinances to gain the benefits of this law.

Hotel-motel operators traditionally have opposed such a tax in every community. Yet, after a year or so these same people staunchly defend and enthusiastically endorse the program. And the statistics prove them right—there are increased visitors—based on the promotional advertising and they do increase the economy of even those out of the way place that have less attraction than Hereford.

I feel like this is another significant move that ranks with our Industrial Foundation, the SUE ANN acquisition and the establishment of the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame.

All this and more, signifies that Hustlin' Hereford is really on the "Hustle, Hustle, Hustle!"

The CLOD KICKER

By Roy Faubion

Ron Ekker, head basketball coach for West Texas State University, said in a speech recently that he would hate to crawl into the ring with Joe Frazier knowing he was number two. I found that to be a rather sobering thought, frankly.

He was making the point that you had to work hard, and keep on working to the point that you know you're the best, or at least equal to the best. I have heard it said a hundred thousand times before his talk, but when he used the Joe Frazier comparison he really made me think about it.

How many of us "crawl into the ring knowing we're number two"?

How many times do we as salesman strike out in the morning armed only with our outline of where we are going, but not convinced that we are ready to win the victories we seek? How often do we go before a committee, board, or commission improperly prepared, and really doubting ourselves before the battle begins?

It certainly seems evident to me that Mr. Ekker's points included not only hard work and preparation, but a mental preparedness that causes us to expect to win. While we may not be doing battle with the goliaths of the world, we are in the day to day competitions that good old common ordinary folks encounter. And, those are often pretty tough battles.

I think we condition ourselves to the number two positions. We go to the "red light" instead of the "green light". We dwell on the disasters of failure instead of the joys of victory. We see the darkness of the night instead of the light of the moon.

I wonder how World War Two would have been resolved if Ike and Winnie and the other leaders of the greatest conflict ever waged had concentrated on how we could lose instead of how we would win. Our families were depending on those men.

Our families are depending on us now.

UNEMPLOYMENT RISES

The nation's unemployment rate reversed a four-month decline and rose to 8.6 per cent of the work force in October, the Labor Department reported which indicates a slowdown in the recovery from recession.

HOLIDAY LEAVE

The Pentagon has announced its annual liberal leave policies and early discharges for the Christmas-New Year holiday season. Service personnel whose terms of duty are running out will be discharged as much as a month early in many cases.

Troop 50, sponsored by the Lions Club and led by Scoutmaster Garry Billingsley, welcomed James Trowbridge into their troop this week. James transferred from Mason City, Iowa, and is working toward his Eagle rank. Congratulations to Gregg Wynne, also of Troop 50, who has completed his Atomic Energy Merit Badge. For the past three weeks, Troop 50 has been competing in an Octathlon.

Troop 52 of the First Methodist Church is looking for someone to help with the troop.

Troop 150, sponsored by the Hereford Kiwanis Club, Scoutmaster Victor Cantu, held an organization meeting on Friday, Nov. 21, at San Pablo Methodist Church. Any boy interested in joining this troop should contact Cantu.

Donation Received

The Senate has approved a $3.1 billion economic foreign aid package which provides new international food aid on a formula which helps the poorest countries first.

The House Ways and Means Committee has given final approval to a bill that extends most of this year's multibillion dollar tax cuts.

If you are not covered by a pension plan where you work, First National of Hereford has good news for you.

Now you may accumulate taxfree dollars for your retirement, years providing you are not currently covered by a group pension plan at your place of employment.

The new government-approved plan is called the Individual Retirement Account (IRA) and here's how it works:

- The government now allows you to set aside 15 per cent of your gross annual income-up to $1,500-for the purpose of building retirement income.
- You can claim this yearly investment as an income tax deduction.

You can defer all taxes on this investment until funds are withdrawn at your retirement.

Taking advantage of IRA through First National Bank of Hereford Retirement Plan means we will act as custodian for your funds and invest them in the highest paying consumer savings plan available to us.

Because of the tax advantage of an IRA, your retirement fund will grow nearly twice as fast as a savings plan you could have on your own.

These are the advantages of planning your retirement with IRA. And if you qualify, or even think you might because of your particular employment circumstances, you owe it to yourself to find out more about the plan.

PEP Annual Meeting Planned

The executive director of the Agricultural Council of America and a nationally known economist from Texas A&M University will be featured speakers for the sixth annual meeting of the Panhandle Economic Program set for Tuesday, Dec. 2.

Activities get underway at the Villa Motel and Convention Center in Amarillo, beginning with registration at 8:30 a.m., and opening remarks at 9:30.

Allen Paul, executive director of the Agricultural Council of America, Washington, D.C., will address the expected crowd of about 500 on city-farm partnerships. Dr. John A. Hopkin, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics, Texas A&M University, will talk about concerns and trends in the financing of agricultural enterprise.

Panhandle Economic Program known as PEP, is an educational thrust developed by leaders from 25 High Plains and Panhandle counties aimed at social and economic improvement. The voluntary organization, sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, will focus on agricultural economics during this year's confab.

"This event offers an excellent opportunity for area citizens to become involved in the building and expanding of the social and economic structures of our area," says Paul Gross, district agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, who is coordinating the activities. "We welcome and encourage anyone who can do so to attend this important event."

"Dr. Hopkin is a prominent economist whose views are respected throughout the agricultural picture. We can benefit from both of these outstanding men."

Hopkin's speech is first on the morning agenda, and will be followed with task force sessions at 10:30. The four sessions will revolve around the areas of family life and youth, crops, beef cattle and swine, according to Gross.

Speakers for the family life-youth task force are Dr. R.E. Gulde, M.D., cardiologist; Dr. Don Curtis, D.D.S.; and Dr. Charles Seward, M.D. all of Amarillo. They will lead discussions in the field of heart, cancer and arthritis research. West Texas State University Department of Nursing will provide a free blood pressure clinic.

The crops task force will deal with the topics of current status of area crops, major problems in crop production and educational efforts to help solve problems. This discussion will be led by Mr. Jody Bezner of Texline, Texas.

The beef cattle force will be led by R.M. Carter of Carter-Kirchhoff Feed Yard Plainview, and Roger Dreyer of Iowa Beef Cattle Processors Inc. in Amarillo. Their topics will include beef development and what it means to the producer and his methods of marketing beef.

Swine producers will hear discussions by Dr. Earnest Davis, Extension Service livestock marketing specialist from College Station; Dr. John Sweeten, Extension Service agricultural engineer also of College Station, and John Fair, executive vice-president of Texas Pork Producers Association from Sherman. Their topics will include swine situation and outlook, legal implication of nuisances in swine operations and what the 10-cent check-off is doing for Texas pork producers.

Following lunch, the task forces will hold a business meeting, after which Allen Paul of ACA is to speak. A PEP business session will end the event.

Edd McLeroy, PEP vice chairman of Dimmitt, will present opening remarks, and Carl Jahnel, PEP chairman from Canadian, will preside over the day's activities. New officers are to be elected during the afternoon business session.

On The Turnrow

By Jim Stolert

ALTHOUGH it may appear to some observers that farmers have received a fairly healthy price for their wheat over the past four years, there are some considerations which make the wheat market look a bit pale at times.

Norman Brints, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service told his audience at the Wheat Symposium in Amarillo this week that it costs almost $4 per bushel to produce wheat when all production costs are considered.

According to Brints, since the price of wheat in the area hasn't averaged anywhere near $4 over the past four years, local farmers would have probably lost money on a lot of their wheat during two of those four years if they had not grazed the crop.

HE ALSO pointed out that 50 per cent of the production cost of wheat is wrapped up in petroleum-related items including fertilizers, fuels and machinery.

During the course of the symposium, the need for orderly marketing on the part of farmers was continually stressed.

The Texas Wheat Producers Association is encouraging farmers to release portions of their grain into the marketing channels throughout the year, instead of unloading the whole crop at harvest time and depressing prices, as has been done in the past.

ACCORDING to wheat industry spokesmen, orderly marketing has helped stabilize the market for the golden grain.

It was orderly marketing on the part of farmers during the last summer and early fall which kept the Russian wheat embargo from becoming a more severe disaster than it was.

-TURN-

WHILE we're speaking of wheat, we might mention that the rain which came this week was certainly welcome by wheat farmers, especially in the dryland areas.

Moisture is always welcome in the dryland country, but a lot of the wheat was in pretty bad shape before this rain came, and for some fields, it may have come too late.

The overall wheat situation in the county and in this area of the country isn't all that good right now. Even irrigated wheat failed to make the healthy growth normally associated with it early in the season, and although there are some fields of fairly good-looking wheat scattered over the countryside, a lot of it is struggling along.

ADDITIONAL moisture could go a long way toward aiding both the irrigated wheat and the dryland wheat that has managed to hang on though.

Wheat pasture for cattle has been downright hard to come by this fall, due to the lack of moisture that resulted in a shortage of available pasture.

Administration Charged With Neglecting Farms

"The Administration's farm and trade policies are totally inconsistent and unacceptable to the needs of the nation's farm families." A fifteen member farmer/rancher committee appointed to draft the preliminary policy statement for the Texas Farmers Union state convention charged the Administration and Secretary Butz Thursday with "proclaiming the 'free market' as the domestic farm policy, on the one hand, and imposing embargo and trade restrictions on the other hand." As the most recent example of the Administrations' failure to play by the same rules in conducting international trade policy as in conducting domestic farm policy, the committee called attention to the Soviet grain deal.

"If the top range of the volume in the Soviet agreement—6 to 8 million tons a year—should turn out to be a limit on grain shipments to the Soviets in the five year agreement, farmers will continue to experience sharply lower grain prices. A similar situation was created earlier," the committee said. "by the embargo on soybean sales abroad, the embargo on grain sales to Poland and the Soviet Union which preceded the Soviet pact."

The members of the policy drafting committee, representing all areas of Texas and different commodity producers, wrote the draft of the general farm organization's guiding document. It incorporated recommendations and resolutions submitted by county Farmers Union local organizations. The delegates to the Texas Farmers Union annual state convention in Fort Worth December 5-6, at the Hilton Inn, will debate the proposed statement and adopt the final version. It will guide the farm organization's position and policies on state and national issues throughout the upcoming year.

The theme of the 72nd annual Farmers Union convention, "1976: The Year For Parity and Abundance", will set the tone of the policy discussions and the committee members and delegates will debate. Adequate income protection for farmers and ranchers is of high importance in light of the official governmental policy for all-out production. Many of the recommendations that will be discussed by the farmer/rancher delegates deal with the Farmers Union Plan for Parity and Abundance which will be presented to the Congress in the upcoming year. Other issues which will spark discussion at the policy drafting committee meeting and the state convention deal with issues such as land-use planning; priority fuel allocation for agricultural producers; the administration of the disaster program; property taxes and school financing; control of grain exporting to foreign buyers.

Economical and easy to prepare, turkey is available in halves and quarters, roasts (light or dark meat), self-basting turkey, and turkey rolls and ground meat, in addition to the traditional big birds, say Texas Department of Agriculture home economists.

New Winter Wheat Pests Keep Bushland Researchers Busy

"When it comes to controlling weeds in winter wheat, we are in the same shape as with many other crops. There are answers for older problems, but new weeds come along that keep us on the go." These were the opening remarks by Dr. A.F. Wiese, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station weed researcher from Bushland, at the Wheat Symposium held at the Hilton Inn in Amarillo November 20.

Controlling tansy mustard in wheat has been the objective of research at the USDA Research Center at Bushland since 1954. Tansy mustard was easily controlled with 0.5 pound per acre of 2,4-D applied by either ground or aircraft sprayers.

"Research also showed that 2,4-D could injure wheat if not applied at the right time," Wiese continued. "Wheat that is tillering is most susceptible to injury from 2,4-D. Spraying untillered seedlings or fully tillered plants is the safest way to use the herbicide." Reduced yield caused by both decreased tillering and head weight may result when 2,4-D is applied at the wrong stage.

Wheat planted in late August or early September is usually fully tillered by November 15. Later plantings are not fully tillered until after spring growth begins about March 15.

Research at Bushland shows that tansy mustard should be sprayed when wheat is fully tillered. This may be in late November, during February or the first half of March.

Occasionally, thick stands of tansy mustard comes up at the same time as early planted wheat. Under these conditions, plowing and replanting or spraying with 2,4-D is the only choice. If the wheat stand is good, applying 2,4-D before tiller initiation is the best choice. "Proper application of 2,4-D is very profitable," the Texas A&M University scientist stated. In 1973, 2,4-D applied near the end of November to early planted wheat increased forage yield from 1.1 to 1.8 tons per acre. Wheat grain yield in the same test was increased from 9 to 19 bushels per acre. There were four mustard plants per square foot.

Other experiments showed that one uncontrolled tansy mustard plant per square foot will reduce yield 10 per cent. On a dryland crop with a yield potential of 10 bushels per acre, spending 2 or 3 dollars per acre to gain 1 bushel of wheat is not profitable. In irrigated wheat or for dryland, in good years, spraying to kill one weed per square foot is profitable, Wiese continued.

Treacle mustard is another tough competitor to wheat that is a problem in fields near Dumas and Hereford. Wiese stated that he and Dr. Frank Petr, Agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Amarillo, have cooperated to develop methods of controlling this weed. Experiments have been conducted since 1968 on the Dale Coleman, Jim Dowdy, and Jim Clements farms near Dumas.

"We have looked at a lot of herbicides, but 2,4-D and MCPA at 0.5 to 1 pound per acre control the weed as well as anything," Wiese continued. The key to success is early application. In early studies, herbicides were applied from March 15 to April 1 and nothing killed the weed. Research in 1974 and 1975 showed that treacle mustard was easily killed when herbicides were applied when weed rosettes were not larger than a half dollar.

Applications made during February will get the job done because weeds are still small. The weed researcher continued by telling the symposium members about new weed problems presently being investigated. Wild oats have turned out to be the number one problem in the Vernon-Wichita Falls area. Some fields have been completely taken over by this weed. "Considering that wild oat was not a severe problem 10 years ago, the weed must have made an adaptation that makes it more competitive under our farming systems," Wiese stated.

"Fargo, applied preplant, along with Carbyne and several experimental herbicides applied postmergence, give wild oat control in the Northern United States and Canada. Dr. Dale Lovelace and I have started a rather large research program to evaluate these herbicides under Texas conditions. With a little luck, we may find the answer," the scientist stated.

Jointed goatgrass and cheat have been a problem in a few wheat fields the last two years. These winter annual weeds are becoming a problem in continuous wheat fields after two or three wet fall seasons in a row. Irrigating wheat for emergence also favors these pests. Presently there are not herbicides that will control these weeds. The only practical way to tackle grass weeds in wheat at present is crop rotation. About three years of a summer crop will eliminate the problem.

"In the past 15 years, research at Bushland and the Panhandle area has resulted in good control measures for the most prevalent weed problems in wheat," Wiese concluded. "Unfortunately there are a few tough weeds left."

Beef Cattle Conference Is Scheduled At Tech

What does it cost to produce a calf? The answers lie in production management. Participants in the Dec. 5 Beef Cattle Business Conference at Texas Tech University will hear an examination of production costs by Benjamin rancher Stanton Brown and Tech agricultural economist Dr. Rex P. Kennedy.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the Texas Tech Museum. Conference session will start at 10 a.m.

Brown will describe his diversified semi-confinement ranching operation. His system is based on management programs evolved from a cost accounting model adapted to practical ranching conditions.

Kennedy will break down calf production expenses into separate areas, including those costs of mature cows, of breeding and of heifer replacement.

The presentation will illustrate a means of comparing costs of alternative production methods, including running a herd bull or maintaining an artificial insemination program and raising replacement heifers or buying them.

The professor will examine actual costs and describe how dollars can be saved or better spent under different management techniques. The individual producer will have to determine what will work best in his situation, according to Kennedy.

The Beef Cattle Business Conference is sponsored by the Texas and Southwestern Cattle

Raisers' Association, the Texas Cattle Feeders' Association, the Texas Tech College of Agricultural Sciences and the departments of Animal Science, Agricultural Economics and Range and Wildlife Management.

Session topics include "Cattle Numbers: Where Have We Been, Where are We, and Where are We Going?" by Dr. Willard Williams, Horn Professor of agricultural economics; "What Does It Cost to Produce a Calf?" by Brown and Kennedy, moderated by Dr. Robert C. Albin, professor of animal science.

Also "Systematized Use of Range Resources," by Dr. Billy G. Freeman, assistant professor of agricultural economics, and Dr. Bill Dahl, professor of range management; "Improving Beef Cow Efficiency," by Dr. Leif H. Thompson, assistant professor of animal science; "Forage Versus Grain Feeding," by Bob Carter, feedlot owner/manager; "Hedging," by Dave Anderson, Chicago Merchant Exchange; and "Financial Considerations," by Don Workman, senior vice president, First National Bank, Lubbock, and Texas Tech Regent.

The conference is expected to bring some 150 cattlemen from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico to the Texas Tech campus.

Cattle Outlook Hinges On Grain

Grain prices will have a big influence on the livestock outlook for this fall and next year, contends a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Ed Uvacek points out that whether grain prices go up or down will affect both fed and feeder cattle prices.

"If grain prices stay high, the number of cattle placed in feedlots this fall will probably not be high enough to cause supply problems next spring and summer," says Uvacek. "That could mean higher fed cattle prices next year.

"On the other hand, if grain prices ease down somewhat as the harvest season moves forward, placements will be large and fed cattle marketings by next spring and summer could be burdensome. This would, however, in the short run provide more strength for feeder cattle prices than if grain prices stay high."

Uvacek says that early fall sales of feeder cattle were much higher than summer levels and that even though fed cattle marketings will not be large, they will be up from recent levels. Many nonfed cattle will also be slaughtered during the next three months, and this could lower fed cattle prices, says the specialist with the Texas A&M University System.

"The proportion of fed beef to nonfed beef, then, for next year will depend greatly upon the price of feedgrains," contends Uvacek.

Be charitable, if you can, in your judgment of others; save severity for your own mistakes.

Carrot Evaluation Set For Tuesday

Roland E. Roberts, area vegetable specialist, County Extension Agent Justin McBride and Charles Schlabs will be digging and evaluating 13 varieties of carrots at Charles Schlab's farm in Hereford Tuesday at 2:00 p.m. They will have large samples on display in the field for inspection by all interested persons.

The carrots have developed very well and this will be a good opportunity to see how several new hybrids compare with standard varieties.

Varieties included are: Imperator 408, King Imperator, Experimental 452, Experimental 456, Experimental 453, Experimental 472, Scarlet Nantus, Red Core Chantenay, Gold King, Experimental 474, Experimental 471 and Imperator 58.

There are four replicated plots of each variety. Each variety has 1,200 feet of row. Thus, some reliable conclusions on the performance of each variety can be drawn.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

HEREFORD-FRIONA-DIMMITT

The one time you expect to see a Zimmatic broken down.

About the only time you expect to see a Zimmatic broken down is when it leaves one of Lindsay's plants. Once assembled in your field, it seldom causes a problem. Those big, sure-footed towers power their way around the field, carrying water to crops.

Hour after hour, day after day. Until you decide to shut down. That kind of performance doesn't just happen. It's the result of constant testing — both in the plant and in the field. Lindsay puts these rigs through the most punishing conditions — loads on more stress in a week, usually, than they're likely to see in a lifetime of normal use.

But we know that no system is 100% perfect all the time. That's why we're ready to help with an extensive parts inventory and factory trained servicemen if you ever have a problem. Before you buy any center pivot irrigation system, be sure to let us tell you about all the advantages of owning a Lindsay Zimmatic.

BRAVO KIWANIANs and Key Club Boys!

On Saturday, Nov. 15, 16 young men began rattling buckets, stripping screens from windows, turning on rug cleaners and it was evident they were copying Mr. Clean as they washed windows and shampooed rugs.

Twas almost like magic as we found our furniture moved out into the halls and our carpets and windows being cleaned in the wink of an eye. Hallelujah Hallelujah! We could see our windows again and were able to recall the color of our rugs.

You've guessed it—the Key Club boys were suddenly upon us, strutting their prowess with elbow grease, motivated by vim, vigor and vitality. We're suddenly so clean we wonder if we'll feel exactly at home for awhile. Tony Guzman, our head housekeeper, maneuvered them about from room to room, assisted by Kiwanians, Gene Brock and Danny Boyer.

There were about 18 Key Clubbers who worked quickly, diligently, quietly and efficiently. And such courteous persons they were. The word "teenager" brings up unpleasant connotations to some people. Such people should have seen this group. Their entire aim seemed to be to please us.

"Lady, does this please you? Is this place right? Where shall I put this?" These were the stock remarks of the occasion. Oh yes, their little sweetheart worked too. She is the lovable Melinda Watts.

When we fear the future because of so much apparent delinquency in the young, we shall remember these fine youngsters and their wonderful leaders. Why should we entertain such fears? We salute and laud this fine group of citizens.

DOUGLAS MORRIS, music teacher at Stanton Junior High School, brought his guitar class of 12 seventh and eighth graders to King's Manor, where they picked and twanged away to our delight Thursday afternoon.

The youngsters have been in class perhaps only two months (unless some of them are old pros). They did exceedingly well. It seemed one group took the lead and others the rhythm. They did some rounds (preparation for harmony work later) and other types. It was very informal and relaxing, good for geriatrics, as we are.

They did some folk tunes when we were allowed to "sing alone" (with apologies to Mitch). The tunes included "Hand Me Down My Walking Cane," "Goodnight Ladies," "Clementine," "She'll Be Coming Round The Mountain," "Red River Valley," "Skip To My Lou," "On Top Of Ol' Smoky" and others. Some of these were with strumming rather than picking.

We never knew "git-tars" could reach up to Beethoven, but this crowd did it most creditably in "Ode To Joy" which is known in most hymnals as "Joyful, Joyful We Adore Thee," except from Beethoven's Ninth.

Much of a choir's success can be credited to the director. His rapport with the kids, the respect he is accorded and his capabilities in general are important. We'd say, to mouth a worn one, "He's got the whole class in his hands."

Thanks, Mr. Morris, you and your classes are always welcome to King's Manor.

TALK ON RUSSIA

The Alice Ward Circle of United Methodist Women of Hereford First Church met Tuesday Nov. 11, in Lamar Memorial Room.

In the absence of Mrs. Troyce Hanns and Mrs. Don Davidson, Fay Gauggel presided with a short Thanksgiving devotion. No business was brought up, as all possible time was given to the guest speaker.

Mrs. Golden's talk on Russia where she recently toured, fitted in well with our present study "Global Consciousness, Here and Now." Mrs. Golden was certainly knowledgeable to the brimming-over stage.

She seemed inspired and it was difficult for us to be satisfied even though she answered many questions and showed many brochures and pictures.

One warning stuck in our minds. It was this: Russia has put on such a brave, attractive and clean front, that we might find ourselves being victimized or propagandized into a degree of approval as we look only at the facade without realizing the harmful aspects of being on dangerous ground.

Mrs. Golden realizes full well the all important wrongness of the communist concept.

Thanks very much, Mrs. Golden.

DOLL SHOW

A dear lady, Mrs. Glenn Reeves of Friona entertained us last evening with a most unique Bicentennial Program. She did not sing or wave or salute the flag, but showed us authentic replicas of 16 brides who were married in the White House.

These dolls were dressed by Mrs. Reeves herself. This lady has a way of gleaming, researching and compiling her materials. She wrote postmasters everywhere for addresses, using many she already knew. She received pictures, clippings, framed invitations, letters, magazines—all types of memorabilia concerning these nuptial affairs from a variety of sources.

Thus Mrs. Reeves began about 1971 to avidly pursue this intriguing hobby. Her untiring efforts have been rewarding to herself and a pleasure to those with whom she shares—mostly to women's clubs.

Her dolls, mounted for standing, were arrayed on a table before us.

Tricia Nixon first attracted attention. She is remembered for having composed her own ceremony and for being married in the Presidential Rose Garden. The speaker related interesting stories of many weddings.

The one groom she dressed because he was unusual—an Englishman who married Grant's daughter and insisted on marching down the aisle carrying an orange blossom bouquet replete with flag in the middle on which he had written the word "Love." His name was not given. His bride's dress cost $5,000.

One bride, Lucy Payne, a Quaker, was wed in the White House and because the groom was not Quaker, she was immediately excommunicated.

A bride-to-be was such a flirt and so fickle that she changed her choice quickly and married the brother of her fiancé, who later committed suicide.

There is a beautiful rug in the White House yet depicting a majestic eagle where an early day bride enjoyed standing for her vows.

Another President's daughter was such an inveterate smoker that she sneaked out on the roof to smoke. She went out unchaperoned and cut other capers. Her green snake was named "Spinach" who once lost his skin in her bedroom. A friend of the President told him he should force this wayward one to behave. Said the President, "Well do you want me to do that or be President?"

At one wedding the bride received 20 spittoons costing $15. each. (This story fits into Old Stonewall's loud, noisy, untidy parties which shocked the Patrician Washingtonians. We could be guessing wrong).

President Hays was a temperate one. He not even allowed wine on the premises.

Grover Cleveland was a widower and the only President to marry in the White House.

Many people manage by hook or crook to truthfully say, "We were married in the White House." For example, a group of tourists file in with guides ostensibly to observe. Once well inside, a couple rushes forward and stand while a man of the cloth or a justice of the peace, whips out a book of vows and the couple is spliced before anyone can say, "We do," "We don't" or Jack Robinson.

We enjoyed many inside stories of occupants of the White House. Each was tragic, witty, pathetic or thrilling.

We praise and thank Mrs. Reeves for what we saw and heard.

Home is what the family makes it.

Publicity, like fire, can be friend or foe.

A birthday, once a year, gets to be enough.

There is such a thing as being too clever.

The age of man has little relation to his knowledge.

Every minority has the idea that it should rule the nation.

Selfishness destroys character and will destroy a nation.

Silk Roses Made At Club Meeting

Members of Hereford Study Club were introduced to the artistry of creating silk roses during a meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. J.D. Gilbert Jr., 403 Douglas. Miss Gladys Settleff was co-hostess.

Gary Cone, with his wife Cindy, were present to demonstrate the specialized technique and show various ways of displaying the completed blossoms. He recommended the roses be used as finishing touches on wrapped packages or in vases.

The guest speaker is proprietor of a new local firm called The Victoria House. He reported that one store had gained notoriety through the use of his silk roses on their packages.

Giving a brief history of his background in the craft, Cone gave advice while club members attempted to model the small buds and full-sized blooms.

Mrs. Cawthon Bryant presided during a business discussion following the program. After reports from standard committees, it was announced that Mrs. Merlin Kaul is in the hospital.

A choir from Hereford High School will provide entertainment for club members and their husbands during the annual Christmas party, scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 4 in Hereford Country Club. Gifts will be exchanged after dinner.

The next regular meeting is slated Jan. 15 in the Art Stoy home with Mrs. George DeBoer as co-hostess.

Other members present were Mmes. N.D. Bartlett Jr. T.E. Braddy, B.F. Cain, DeBoer, S.L. Garrison, Roy Hartman and Bob Posten.

Also, Mmes. Don Robinson, Joe Story, Ed Wilson, Sarah Winget, J.W. Witherspoon, Bob Word and R.N. Yarbro.

21 Accidents On Rural Roads

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 21 accidents on rural highways in Deaf Smith County during the month of October, 1975, according to Sergeant W.E. Wells, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and five persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first ten months of 1975 shows a total of 91 accidents resulting in one person killed and 65 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for October, 1975, shows a total of 543 accidents resulting in 18 persons killed and 283 persons injured, as compared to October 1974, with 502 accidents resulting in 19 persons killed and 215 persons injured. This was 41 more accidents, one less killed, and 68 more injured in 1975 at the same period of time.

Contentment is really just a matter of reducing your wants and desires.

Mr. Farmer:

When buying or selling farm and ranch lands, your selection of a realtor is of supreme importance. Why not choose a fellow farmer who is also a realtor to help you? If your realtor does not understand well logs, underground line sizes and types, water tables, investment credit, repair costs, fuel costs, irrigation horsepower requirements, friction loss, soil maps, insurance rates, tax matters, and detailed production cost figures, then you may have the wrong realtor. Let us serve you. We understand farmers and farming.

HOW'S The Electric Company DOING?

Let's ask J. T. Burk, stores superintendent . . .

"Crossarms are such a common sight that you probably don't even notice them. But we have thousands of crossarms in our system . . . and they're necessary to bring electricity to you. Ten years ago, one of these crossarms cost $3.43, but today an identical crossarm is $11.46."

That's a whopping 234% increase . . . a reason electricity may be costing you more these days. Even so, electricity is still a big bargain . . . because it's always there when you need it.

THE SUCCESS of the nation's Bicentennial during 1976 depends on individual attitude and interest in the United States' past, present and future. However, there is an organization which, through subtle tactics and propaganda, could mar 200 years of independence.

The People's Bicentennial Commission (PBC) and the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission (ARBA) may sound similar, but don't confuse them. ARBA is an organization of civic leaders in communities across the nation devoted to a salute to the USA. PBC, on the other end of the axis, is "a revolutionary movement using the nation's 200th birthday theme as a cover for Marxist ideology."

My first exposure to PBC came over a year ago when I received their slick tabloid publication, "Common Sense." The articles, although skillfully written, are slanted at replacing "the evils of capitalism with economic democracy." The newspaper goes into lengthy detail promoting tax evasion and quoting the nation's founding fathers, generally out of context.

Colonel G.I. Epperson, U.S. Cavalry, Retired, has written a commentary on behalf of the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution. Col. Epperson takes a strong stand against PBC tactics and "lights a warning lamp" for the public, who could be duped into mistaking the fanatic organization for the veritable ARBA.

So, in order to keep the organizations straight, remember their symbols. The ARBA insignia is a rounded star of red, white and blue; PBC can be spotted by a coiled rattlesnake. Apt representation.

IN THE FRANTIC rush to the hospital for the birth of my niece, the society desk was literally left in a flurry of "scribbles and scratches." So, Sandy misinterpreted my notes in the obituary story for Elsa M. Pinckert of Ignacio, Colo.

Among those attending funeral rites were her sister-in-law Mrs. Buddy Taylor of Canyon, and her brother-in-law, Chester Pinckert of Hereford. Mrs. Pinckert's widower, Bob Pinckert lived in this area for numerous years and is the brother of the local Pinckert and Mrs. Taylor.

My Apologies for this error.

First Gob—Do you believe in love at first sight?
Second Gob—I gotta—I'm only gettin' two days' leave.

The Veterans Administration reminds five million veterans covered under its government life insurance program to make certain that beneficiaries on their GI insurance policies are current.

The VA is obligated by law to pay insurance proceeds to the beneficiary of record. Most of the agency's insured the World War II veterans who carry National Service Life Insurance. Jack Coker, VA Regional Director, explained.

The problem of insurance benefits going to an unintended recipient generally arises where the veteran simply fails to change his beneficiary.

In a typical case, a veteran named his mother as beneficiary when he obtained his policy. Later the veteran married and overlooked the requirement of notify the VA of intended change in beneficiary. Unwarranted financial hardship often results, Coker noted.

If in doubt as to current designation, veterans are urged to submit a change of beneficiary. Coker also emphasized that lump sum payments only may be paid when so designated by the insured veteran.

The Veterans Administration's National Cemetery System consists of 103 cemeteries. Plans call for four new cemeteries in fiscal year 1976.

Governor Notes Start Of Season

Governor Dolph Briscoe has reminded Texans of the forthcoming holidays and urged extreme caution in driving in this potentially dangerous period.

Said the Governor, "Thanksgiving is a time to reflect our successes and to be thankful for the good things of life. It is a time for us to consider a closer relationship with our neighbors, friends and families. But, it is also a time to be mindful of the start of the busy holiday season."

"We are all going to be rushing to enter the spirit of the holidays. And, with this fast paced life style, some people are forgetful of the need to slow down and be more careful when driving.

"Traditionally, the month of December is a time when traffic deaths start to climb. But, with an increased effort, we can reduce the number of fatalities and injuries that usually occur during the most active time of the year.

"Texas is truly a land of plenty with a sound economy, fine highways and well planned cities. We have much to be thankful for, yet we still have traffic accidents that kill and injur hundreds of people.

"Therefore, I ask that each Texan accept personal commitment to be more cautious during this holiday season. Let's make this Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year, the best and safest time on Texas streets and highways," concluded Briscoe.

The Governor said his staff would increase their public awareness efforts through the media to remind motorists of the hazards of holiday driving.

Autumn Motif Used In Morning Wedding

Flowers burnished in autumn hues filled the chancel of St. Anthony's Catholic Church Saturday morning for the marriage uniting Miss Cathy Marie Yarbro and J. Byron LeJeune. Conducting the service were the Rev. Joseph Tash, chaplain of St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo, and the Rev. Jack Gist of Canyon.

The bride, a student at West Texas State University, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.N. Yarbro, 121 Kingwood. LeJeune, an Amarillo resident, is the son of Mrs. Ora LeJeune of Jennings, La.

Floral bouquets for the ceremony combined bronze chrysanthemums and coral gladiolas.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Johnny Wall. Also attending the bride were Miss Sandra M. Gill and Mrs. Jerry Bryant, both of Canyon, Mrs. Suzanne Lesly, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Emily Anne LeBlanc of Jennings, the bridegroom's sister.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Winston LeJeune. Additional groomsmen included another brother, Brennen LeJeune, Tommy LeJeune of Jennings, Johnny Wall and Leslie Cloek of Panhandle. Ushers were Chuck Wright, Greg Livesay and Jerry Bryant, all of Canyon, and Harry Heinen of Jennings.

Appearing as flower girl was Colette LeJeune, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston LeJeune. Her cousin, Cody Le Blanc, carried the wedding bands. He is the son of Mrs. Emily Anne LeBlanc.

A baroque vocal group from WTSU were present to sing ceremonial selections, including "The Lord's Prayer," "Ave Maria" and "Wedding March" from the Sound of Music. Jim Hutzler of Amarillo provided accompaniment at the organ.

A formal gown of snowflake jersey was worn by the bride, who was present at the altar by her father. The ensemble was patterned with an empire waistline, circular long sleeves and matching hood. Beaded satin cuffs banded her wrists.

The unadorned A-line skirt cascaded into a chapel train. Genuine fur enriched the borders of the flared sleeves and framed her face and blonde hair.

For good luck, she carried white a white lace handkerchief owned by her great-grandmother. Completing her bridal costume were matching pearl earrings and necklace, gifts from the bridegroom.

Bridal attendants were attired in floor-length gowns of coral jersey. Designed with V-necklines and fitted long sleeves. They carried nosegays of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums mixed with baby-breath. Corresponding blossoms were entwined in headpieces, which completed their ensembles.

Cupid figurines crowned the tiered wedding cake which was served to guests during the reception and brunch in Hereford Country Club. Miss Jan McGill of Canyon and Miss Nancy Newsom presided at the serving table, which was draped by a white lace cloth. Punch was ladled by Mrs. Shane Landers and Miss Carol Werthmann of Canyon. Seated at the registry were Miss Shonda LeJeune and Miss Stacy Lealy.

Other members of the house party were Mrs. C.F. Newsom, Mrs. Raymond Paetzold and Miss Janice Newsom.

For a wedding trip to Mazatlan, Mexico, Mrs. LeJeune chose a pink ultra-stuede skirt with matching blouse. She wore an orchid corsage.

The couple will be at home in the Tiffany Square Apartments in Amarillo after Dec. 1.

A 1973 graduate of Hereford High School, Mrs. LeJeune is a junior majoring in education. The recent bridegroom is a WTSU senior aiming for a degree in agri-business. He attended McNeese College in Lake Charles, La. after graduation from Hathaway High School in Hathaway, La.

Also, bridal attendants were guests at a luncheon Saturday in Caison Steak House, where the bride's mother was hostess. Mrs. Jerry Bryant of Canyon was hostess in her home at a spice and recipe shower recently.

chapel train.

Complementing her candlelight trousseau was a Juliet coil of ruffled lace, clasping the chapel veil of bridal illusion bordered by valenciennes lace.

Miniature white carnations and magenta statice were combined with pink cymbidium orchids for the bride's bouquet. For an heirloom piece, she wore her great-grandmother's wedding.

Purple dresses of satin crepe were worn by the bridal attendants, who carried nosegays of orchid carnations, purple chrysanthemums and statice. Each gown was designed with empire waistline, full sleeves and stand-up collar.

If your house is insured at yesterday's prices, just hope it doesn't burn down tomorrow.

Inflation has raised the price of almost everything.

It would undoubtedly cost significantly more to replace or restore the things you own than your insurance was written to provide.

That's why it's vitally important for you to make sure your personal or commercial property and casualty insurance coverage is reevaluated.

We as an independent agency are especially qualified to advise you. Because we are local, professional business people and we are very much aware of how inflation is affecting our community.

And we can give you expert, professional advice on insurance without any obligation to recommend any one of the many companies we represent.

LUCKY LEFTOVERS - The last of the turkey is almost as good as the first in this holiday casserole. Heat two cans cream of celery soup with 3/4 cup milk. Stir in 1 cup cooked peas, 1 cup tiny cooked onions and 3 cups cut-up cooked turkey. Pour into casserole and garnish with slices of cranberry sauce. Bake uncovered for 20 minutes. Delicious with hot biscuits.

SKILLET BRIGHTENER - If your electric skillet has accumulated a dark film, boil 2 teaspoons cream of tartar to a quart of water in the skillet, letting it cover the entire darkened area.

BAKED CRANAPPLES - Join two great flavors by using your leftover cranberry sauce for baked apples. Fill the cored apples with the sauce, sprinkle with sugar and bake as usual. Tangy treat.

THECE Staff Attend Conference

The local staff of the Texas Handicapped Early Childhood Education Program were among a group from this area attending a conference in Dallas recently.

Attending the conference, sponsored by the National Association for the Education of Young Children, were more than 25,000 members in the United States.

It is a non-profit association and a respected voice in regards to the education of young children.

The opening sessions address was given by Dr. Edward Zigler, head psychology section, child study center, Yale University. Dr. Zigler served from 1970-1972 as director of the office of child development and chief of the childrens bureau of the U.S. Department of HEW. He continues to serve as a consultant.

The conference consisted of numerous seminars, each program led by noted educators from all parts of the United States, including Dr. Marvin Greenberg, associate Professor of Education, University of Hawaii, Honolulu.

The staff was able to attend several seminars individually each day. Many ideas in child hood education were introduced and demonstrated.

The local unit has 16 children participating and operates at Shirley Elementary School. Staff members include Mary Ruth Baird, Yolanda Ramirez, Beverly Jesko and Lupe Hernandez.

High School Seniors May Vie For $110,000

The 22nd Annual Betty Crocker Search for Leadership in Family Living, a $110,000 college scholarship program sponsored by General Mills, get underway Tuesday, Dec. 2. High school seniors here and throughout the country will join in a written knowledge and attitude examination which will determine individual college scholarship awards of $500 to $5,000.

Participating seniors will compete in a 50-minute examination prepared and graded by Science Research Associates, Chicago, who are also responsible for all judging and selection of winners. The local winner will receive a certificate from General Mills and will, together with other school winners, remain in the running for state and national honors.

State winners—one from every state and the District of Columbia—will each be awarded a $1,500 scholarship. Chosen in judging that centers on performance in the written examination, state Family Leaders of Tomorrow will also earn for their schools a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America," from Encyclopedia Britannica Educational Corporation. Second-ranking participants in each state will receive $500 college grants.

On April 25-28 of next year, the 51 state Family Leaders of Tomorrow will gather in Washington, D.C., for an expense-paid educational tour of the capital city. Personal observation and interviews of the state winners during the tour will be added factors in the selection of the 1976 Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow and three runners-up. Scholarships awarded to the four national winners will be for $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000.

More than ten million students have been enrolled in the Betty Crocker Search since its beginning in the 1954-55 school year. With this year's grants, total scholarships awarded will exceed $2.3 million.

Trudeau's guards put on alert after threats.

HOOP-DE-DO — An embroidery hoop is a handy gadget to have in your laundry area. Why? Working on stubborn spots is so much easier when the area is held by the hoop!

JOIN 'EM — Don't isolate yourself from the breakfast table just because you're cooking waffles for the family. Make them a few minutes early and keep 'em warm in a slow oven. Just don't stack them, as they become limp.

DRESSING SECRET — The secret to rich, thick, homemade French dressing is to blend in an electric mixer and add the oil as slowly as possible, almost drop by drop. This should take at least five minutes for a cup of oil. The taste is worth the time!

SECOND-DAY BIRD — For great, open-face turkey sandwiches, combine and heat one can chicken giblet gravy, 1/4 cup chopped apple and 1/4 teaspoon caraway seed. Place leftover turkey slices on bread and drench with the sauce. Luscious!

DRESSING DIVIDEND — If you have a cup or so of extra dressing that won't fit into the turkey, wrap it in foil with a little of the drippings and place in roaster to cook with the bird.

Rhonda Hagar and JoAnn Wagner were participants in the Area Make It With Wool Contest Saturday at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, Texas. The parents of these girls are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hagar and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wagner.

They were judged on clothing construction, poise, personality, fit of garment and accessories they've selected for the outfits. Results were not available at press time. Congratulations to both of these girls on a job well done!

Busy homemakers can cook

meat without defrosting—it just takes a little longer.

Extra cooking time needed depends on size, shape and thickness of meat. Large frozen roasts may take up to one and a half times as long to cook as unfrozen cuts of the same weight and shape. And smaller roasts usually require more extra time per pound than larger roasts.

Inserting a meat thermometer when the meat is thawed will help determine doneness.

Frozen steaks and chops require up to one and a half times longer to broil than thawed ones. They should be placed at least four inches from the source of heat to prevent overbrowning.

If time permits, thaw frozen meat in the refrigerator, then cook it as fresh meat. Large roasts take four to seven hours per pound to thaw, and small roasts take three to five hours per pound. Cooking time for meat thawed at refrigerator temperature is the same as for meat never frozen.

But frozen meat combination dishes are best when reheated without thawing first. Those in watertight containers can be thawed partially by immersing the package in lukewarm water for a few minutes—just long enough to make it easy to remove the food from the container.

Complete thawing of meat combination dishes at room temperature may permit growth of dangerous bacteria, so it's best to put these foods in the oven while still at least partially frozen.

Select garments that will "grow with" the child, instead of choosing clothes that a child will "grow into".

Children do have special clothing needs because of their rapid growth and active lifestyles, but too-large clothing is neither comfortable nor safe. Some growth features to look for when buying children's clothing.

—Skirts and pants with deep hems that can be adjusted in length. Use rickrack, ribbon or other trim to hide the old hemline if necessary.

—Tucks at the waists of dresses will add length when removed.

—Wide seams at the center back of pants that can be let out as needed.

—Adjustable straps or those that can be lengthened by moving buttons.

—Raglan sleeves which will not bind as shoulders broaden.

—Shirts and blouses that will tails that will tucked in.
—Bodice and leg side seams that can be let out to allow for increases in weight.

—Knitted or stretch garments that will "give" to allow for growth.

—Dresses without definite waistlines or elastic waistbands on dresses, skirts and pants.

Rainbow Girls Assist Charity

Canned goods for needy families are being collected by Order of Rainbow for Girls as a charity project. It was announced during a meeting Monday in Masonic Hall.

Anyone wishing to donate food items can call Mrs. Rodger Ruland, mother advisor, or Rose Warren, chairman of the drive.

Janet McWhorter, worthy advisor, opened the assembly, where Mrs. Frank McNeil was introduced as grand visitor, International Order of Rainbow for Girls, Grand Assembly of Texas. She gave a progress report on the state level and described the Lisa Clements Fund.

Funds are needed to pay for her family's air transportation to the hospital when healthy eyes are made available from a donor. Contributions were collected from the local group.

Kay Williams formally initiated new members by reading the Rose Lecture. Recognized as new members were Dana Barber, Kelly Scogin and Shelly Riddle.

Members were reminded that the Order will sell fireworks at Christmas as a ways and means project. December 15 is the date of the Christmas party, which will be followed by caroling and a hayride.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. McNeil; Kay Williams, past worthy advisor; Patricia Brown-lw, past worthy advisor; Jerry Don George, past worshipful master of Masons; L.J. Clark, past worshipful master; Mrs. J.A. McWhorter, past mother advisor and Mrs. Charlie Brown, current worthy matron of the Eastern Star Order.

No More Voting

Our Congress will from now on be spared the embarrassment of having to vote in public on a pay raise bill.

Our Congressmen will from now on get an automatic raise in pay just as the cost of living goes up.

It is all contained in a bill which went through Congress during the late summer rush for the August recess. Our lawmakers put the legislation in the bill, attaching it to an obscure post office bill, in order that it might go through quietly and quickly, which it did, without even so much as a hearing.

The pay raise took effect October 1. The first raise was modest, only 5 per cent. But it is a permanent, escalating, built-in cost of living increase. Henceforth, congressional increases in base pay will be automatic, without further need of voting for them and thus causing embarrassment back home.

For the first time, under this new law, cabinet secretaries, federal judges and approximately 14,000 high level civil servants are placed upon the cost of living escalator. The initial 5 per cent increase already in effect boosts the pay of Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz from $60,000 to $63,000 annually, and there will be more to come.

Other lower level federal government workers have been on the escalator for some time. More than three million of them, two million in the military, are receiving the 5 per cent increase that will cost taxpayers about $2½ billion during the next year.

All retired government workers receive cost of living increases and the tab paid by taxpayers for these pensions has gone up about a third in the past three years. Many of today's pensioners retired from the government in the last three or four years at ages much less than 65. Some are drawing bigger checks today than they would be getting if they had remained on the job.

This is relief for the Congressman and federal workers and retired people. How about some relief for the rest of us?

(From The Perryton Herald)

Reagan's Future

One political conclusion most observers agree on is that recent personnel changes at the highest level in the Ford Administration have enhanced political prospects of former California Governor Ronald Reagan.

Both the withdrawal of Vice President Nelson Rockefeller from the 1976 ticket and troubles being encountered in Ford campaign operations offer Reagan possibilities.

He could now probably have second place on the ticket—if he'd accept it; there is no question that if he served four years as Vice President he would be perfectly aligned for the party's top nomination in 1980.

However, if Reagan believes Ford can't win in 1976, he won't be inclined to run with him in second spot. Who can remember, for example, the name of the G.O.P. vice-presidential nominee of a decade ago, who ran with Barry Goldwater?

Reagan's chances for his party's top nomination, meanwhile, seem slightly improved, and will improve greatly, if political experts come to feel Mr. Ford can't win in 1976, though traditionally it's difficult to deny a President his party's nomination. Yet Mr. Ford's loss of Nelson Rockefeller from the ticket is a crippling blow as far as the northeast is concerned, and regarding industrial states such as Michigan.

In summary, Mr. Ford, who just a few months back was considered the favorite in 1976, and who showed great strength in the polls, is up against a difficult political situation; he needs a centrist or moderate on the ticket (which Rockefeller was) to appeal to the middle stream voter in 1976. If he takes Reagan, if Reagan would accept second spot, the ticket is probably overly-conservative.

Who he will have as a running mate and how his campaign organization functions are keys to the fate of the President in the coming twelve months. The right middle-road Republican must be added to the ticket and recent resignations in the Ford campaign organization must be offset with effective new personnel, if the President is not to lose heavily as a result of recent political events.

Talk of Texas

By Jack Maguire

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY— Four unemployed musicians, one of whom was to become a famous country music star, had a unique role in electing a Texas governor.

In 1931, Bob Wills, a young fiddle player who had been with a traveling medicine show, moved to Fort Worth. He hired a guitarist named Herman Arnsperger and brothers Milton and Durwood Brown and formed a western band. Engagements were few, however, until a flour milling company hired them and began sponsoring a daily radio show called Bob Wills and the Lightcrust Doughboys.

The show's master of ceremonies was the company president, an Ohio-born super flour salesman named W. Lee O'Daniel. The program was heard each noon over Texas' three most powerful stations—WBAP, Fort Worth; WOAI, San Antonio, and KPRC, Houston. It probably had more daily listeners than any show in the history of Texas radio.

By 1938, Bob Wills and the Brown brothers (after a dispute with O'Daniel) had moved on to become recording artists and star in western movies. O'Daniel also had formed his own Hillbilly Milling Co. and continued to emcee a daily country music show. One day he read a letter from a listener suggesting that he should consider running for governor.

Within days, 50,000 others wrote urging him to run. So he took his hillbilly band around the state, handily won the primary with a clear majority and was elected. He was reelected in 1940, then ran for the U.S. Senate in 1941, beating Lyndon Johnson for the office.

Bob Wills made 20 motion pictures and became one of the first big stars of country music. He died last May, six years after the death of the man his music helped to elect governor of Texas.

AIR MAIL— Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, the Fredericksburg native who grew up to command the largest naval armada in the history of warfare, never forgot his birthplace in the Texas hill country.

After his graduation from Annapolis, however, his Texas visits were infrequent. He rarely had a chance to stop in either Fredericksburg or Kerrville and see his old friends.

When he did fly over Texas, however, he always told his pilot to set a course over Fredericksburg. Once over the town, the admiral would drop a note attached to a small parachute.

These friendly missiles, often including autographed pictures of Nimitz, were never addressed to an individual. Their salutation always was the same: "To My Texas Friends and Relatives."

INN OF DEATH— Houston's Mayfair Anderson Hotel is unique in that it caters primarily to tenants who are terminally ill.

The hotel is owned and operated by The University of Texas System. Most of its guests are patients and their families from the M.D. Anderson Cancer Hospital in the Texas Medical Center. Since Anderson Hospital has only 275 beds, many terminal cancer patients who do not require hospitalization stay at the Mayfair Anderson.

WHAT'S IN A NAME— Texas once had a newspaper called "The Omen Omelet" which published a basket of eggs above its masthead.

The paper was published quarterly by the Summer Hill Select School, which operated in Smith County from 1876 until 1903.

The Bootleg

Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Deaf Smith County grass farm on Bootleg Corner discusses education this week, whether it's in his field or not.

—O—

Dear editor:

Some people are always lambasting the school system, saying it's not meeting the demands of modern times, there are too many drop-outs, too many absentees, that kids can finish high school without being able to pass a test in reading, writing or arithmetic.

Well, I just read an article about how the big city school—Dallas, Texas, to be exact—is solving the problem and heading off such criticism.

It has abolished exams for most kids.

That's right. It has a rule that if a student is not absent more than 3 days in a quarter he doesn't have to take that quarter's final exam. Gaze out the window if you want to buy

Room Tax Vote; Hints For Father

City Commission meetings here are by and large void of any controversy as business is run through with blase discussion and sometimes unnoticed action except for the expecting eye.

It was different Monday, to a slight degree, when four representatives of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce appeared in force to request a three per cent hotel-motel room tax. There was good, solid discussion but no debate to excite the inner yearnings for interest.

Why? Because the forces for the opposition were obviously absent even though the issue at hand definitely affected their businesses. The 3-1 vote of approval came as a surprise from the discussion heard, but it was precisely the exact action which should have been expected.

You don't get what you want unless you're willing to work for it. The motel owners with the exception of John Taylor, the only one present, were for the most part against the tax but all they did was pen a letter or two.

I venture to say that had they been there, their wishes might have been granted since the mayor and some of the commissioner's opinions seemed to be tottering during the course of discussion.

I personally feel that the tax is a worthwhile endeavor. The question was raised—Are we taxing the owners and taking money out of their pocket or are we just taxing the persons staying in the rooms?

My answer is that the tax is from the overnighters. In no way does it tax directly the owners since the visitors are going to stay in the rooms anyway. After traveling a long distance, you're surely not going to ask if a room tax is implemented or not. If the price is high anyway and the money, not a comfortable bed, is your interest, then the tax isn't the issue. The commissioners said it, and I agree, that you'll stay in the room if the difference is only about 30 or 40 cents—depending on the cost of the room!

The benefit is really for the tourist or the commercial salesman or worker, since he or she might be staying here again and the taxes collected are just to be used to bring better conditions to the community. The heck you say?

Yes, as the money is used to promote Hereford, which is just about the braggingest town in Texas. Through a slide presentation here for a pamphlet picked up there, people will become interested in coming here for a visit. This leads next to a new family moving in or a new industry locating here.

This improves the economy, which increases chances for better restaurants, new motels, improved public facilities, more modern schools and an endless list of items for a higher quality of life.

That, my friends is not only a benefit for the answer present to the roll call. Anyway, it's an invasion of privacy to try to find out if a kid can read or write.

This seems to be the answer on how to attain universal education.

Thus I suppose if a kid will go through grammar school and high school without missing more than 3 days every quarter, he gets a diploma unexamined. If he'll make the same record 4 years in college, he gets a Bachelor's degree. Go another year year and he has an M.A. degree. Stay in there 3 more years and he has a Ph.D.

So to reach the pinnacle in education all he has to do is stay healthy and not play hooky, provided his cross-town bus doesn't break down more than 3 days in a quarter, although I can't believe the Supreme Court would rule a person un-educated just because his bus had a blown gasket 4 days in a row back in the eighth grade.

In this connection, I read that an industrial leader in Japan has complained that his country in turning out so many educated people that they are "boggling down the country's decision-making process with their suggestions." He said Japan's colleges have increased from 50 during World War II to 1,000 now, and everybody is so informed everybody had his own answer to every problem, plus thinking up new ones, and nobody can decide which is right.

If Japan will adopt this new system, it won't have that problem.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

visitor, but a definite value for the permanent resident. Of course, it takes a bit of work to go along with the available funds, but without the initial funds, there's not even a start.

It's the only special tax collection fund separate from the rest of the city's budget allowed under state law. There must have been some good seen in it or the legislature wouldn't have authorized it.

And the motels are the likely place for the source of such a tax since that is where the funds from visitors are primarily spent. After all, they are coming into our community and enjoying our facilities and only rightfully owe a bit to improve them, even if only a nominal amount.

Remember, you pay the tax elsewhere for their betterment. Why not get the same benefit here?

I feel the commissioners acted in the best interest concerned and did so with constructive, open discussion and fairness. They weighed the different consequences of the situation and made their decision.

Most public business is unanimously accepted, but I think democracy is best served with opposing views and votes. It doesn't mean hatred has to exist, if mutual respect prevails.

It appears the room tax might be reconsidered due to the wavering positions of some city commissioners.

Decisive actions shouldn't be faulted and the commission should be credited with making up its mind without needless, lengthy study.

Books have satisfied man's need to know on difficult subjects such as the mysteries of science and the great philosophies of the world and taught the simplistic such as driving a car or cooking over an open flame fire. Yet, he, as a new father, still flounders about when it comes to the delicacy of carrying for a tiny baby and understanding the situations presented him at birth.

Do not despair as there has even been a book written to cover this of all possible subjects.

I will not be a father until several months, but three of my friends saw to it that I would be prepared when the miracle of life comes my way. The future mother and the baby got all sorts of goodies, and I got presented the book every father needs.

It is titled, "Daddy's First Baby Book (A picture primer)." The inscription reads as follows, "This book also titled, 'All you Ever Wanted to Know About Fatherhood...' should either lessen the confusion or add to it."

Ownership of the book is without a doubt as it "belongs to (Daddy's name) and is dedicated to (Mommy's name) without whose full cooperation this book might never have been written.

Now to carry on with the lessons at hand. There is no misunderstanding the theme of the book as it combines graphic illustrations to enhance the meanings of the words. So, no excuses for simple-minded fathers.

Here are some of the hints for the new daddy:

1. (A picture of an empty box) In this box are listed all the things that Daddy can do to help himself adjust to the new baby.

2. These are travel folders. Travel folders tell of many interesting things to do and see all over the world...forget it.

3. (A picture of a large shirt decorated with lacy frills) This was daddy's shirt before Mommy made it into a maternity blouse. Now that baby is here, Mommy has returned it to Daddy. You should hear what they say when Daddy wears it to the office.

4. This is a stick-file. It is used to keep bills that are to be paid. You will need several.

5. This is a wallet. This is Daddy's wallet. Wallets are for carrying money. Daddy once had money. Now Daddy carries pictures of Baby instead.

6. This is a safety pin. Daddy will need two of these to change baby's diaper in the morning before getting his own breakfast.

7. This is a toilet. It is used to rinse baby's diapers. Daddy must not use the toilet while baby's diaper is soaking.

8. The book is titled, "Logic for Babies." This is a book on how to train baby correctly by using the art of logic. It is also very useful to spank baby with when nothing else works.

9. (A bald head with one hair showing) This is the top of baby's head at birth. (A head full of hair) This is the top of Daddy's head when the baby is born.

10. (The head full of hair) This is the top of baby's head six months later. (Bald head with one hair) And this is the top of Daddy's head six months later.

11. This is a bottle. In the bottle is formula. When baby cries in the middle of the night, Mommy will make believe that she is asleep and Daddy will have to get up and give baby the bottle.

12. This is the luggage your mother-in-law will use when she comes to stay with you "for a short time until Mommy is strong enough to care for baby alone"....

13. And this is the form from the U.S. Individual Income Tax Return that you will use to claim her as a dependent at the end of the year.

This might be interpreted as all there is to know. Such isn't the case from what I've heard from friends. But thanks fellas for starting me off on the right track.

And now it's baby's turn for a lesson for two as the sequel to this book is, "Baby's first Daddy Book."

Questionnaires Sent With VA Payments

Annual income questionnaires were included with Veterans Administration pension checks mailed to 1.3 million recipients in November, Jack Coker, VA Regional Director, reported this week. Questionnaires also went to 34,000 parents receiving Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC) checks.

Completed questionnaires must be returned to the VA by January 1 to insure continued receipt of benefits, Coker said.

Pensions are paid to veterans and widows of veterans with nonservice-connected disabilities. Amount of the monthly stipend is based on the annual income of the recipient. Also governed by annual income are amounts of DIC payments to certain parents of veterans who died of service-connected causes.

With some expectations, pensioners are required to file income questionnaires annually. Those 72 years of age or older are exempt from filing, but must report income changes as they occur, Coker explained.

Full information on pensions and other VA benefits is available at any VA office and through local veterans service organizations.

Ramey Given Job In Dumas

New maintenance construction supervisors for Potter and Moore Counties have been named by A.L. "Al" McKee, Amarillo District Engineer of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Bill Frazier, Moore County maintenance foreman since 1970, began new work with the Department on Nov. 1 replacing Hubert Norrell as maintenance supervisor of Potter County.

Bobby G. Ramey, a maintenance special crew foreman in Amarillo since April 1975, took over the Dumas position vacated by Frazier on Nov. 1.

Frazier joined what was then the Texas Highway Department in 1951 and worked in Dalhart before moving to Dumas. Born in Romero, Frazier attended public schools in Waco. He served with the 11th Airborne Division in the Pacific during World War II.

He is a Mason and a past commander of the Dalhart commandery of the Knight Templar. He is a member of the Christian Church.

Ramey's career with the Department started in May 1960 when he was assigned to the Deaf Smith County maintenance section in Hereford.

Born in Oklahoma City, Ramey attended public schools in Hereford, graduating from Hereford High in 1957. He and his wife, Kaye, who were married in February 1966 in Amarillo, have two children, Randy, 6 and Staci, 3. The Rameys are members of Avenue Baptist Church in Hereford.

By The Garden Gate With Glad

By Gladys Manjeot

November brings the cold blasts of wind and the killing frost, but there is beauty in our garden, because The Golden Flower comes into full bloom. "When spring is but a spendthrift's dream, and Summer's wealth a wasted dower, no dew nor sunshine may redeem—yet Autumn coins his golden flower..." The Chrysanthemum. Oliver Wendell Holmes.

This afternoon when I was working in my garden, cleaning out the beds, where the annuals had been grown, I found some chrysanthemum blossoms... Golden eyed daisy type, also lots of work. Many inquiries make to me, relative to chrysanthemums. The following is taken from News and Views of The American Horticultural Society. Controlling Mum Growth! Two recent experiments indicate the ways in which manipulation of plant growth is becoming a horticulture commonplace.

In a recent issue of Horticulture, one experimenter reports on the use of growth regulators on potted chrysanthemums. The University of Florida used ancymidol, a product of Eli Lilly & Company, and noted that the chemical did more than simply limit the internode length (the portion of the stem between two nodes). The retardant induced a delay in flowering along with slightly reduced flower size which increased in size, also increased stem diameter and a reduction in water intake.

Many times, the chrysanthemums grew their stems long and fast. However, this can be controlled by pinching the stems back, causing them to have larger stems which will be straight and stronger. Sometimes if it is a good growing season the cutting or pinching back should be done more than once. I have found this method helpful in growing the favorite fall flower, the mum.

DECORATIVE PLANTS from vegetables. This has been an excellent year for vegetables, practically every garden had one or more vegetables. And many tasty foods were provided by the growing of vegetables. New gardeners have become aware that it pays to grow vegetables for their families. They have enjoyed the flavor of the fresh vegetables, also beauty which was created by them.

One of the vegetables which grows well here is the carrot. This year I have learned that they can be grown especially well and that they have surprises for the gardener. They are easy to grow, also easy to prepare into tasty dishes for the table.

Then too, they are beautiful if they are left to develop. When this is done, they bloom and the clusters of tiny florets are beautiful and excellent for arranging. They also dry attractively and can be treated in many ways to make them retain their loveliness. (Some of the carrot flowers were used in the McBride wedding). They are so dainty, they add the touch that is needed.

HERBS are beautiful growing and when fully matured. There are many kinds which are easy to grow, not only outside but in the house for potted plants. Parsley is curly and has a lovely rich green. It is used primarily for decorations, excellent food value also.

Corn is an eye catcher when grown in the garden, as well as in the fields, from the time the tiny green sprouts peek through the ground until it has reached full maturity. It is one of the favorite foods for most of us and can be prepared in many tasty methods.

It is beautiful when grown and left on the stalk to mature: the Indian corn is especially good to grow for fall arrangements. The history of corn, the many uses of it by the Indians, and its development throughout the years to produce more and better ears, make it a valuable vegetable, as well as for field crops. A Thanksgiving arrangement is not quite complete unless there is one or more ears of corn used in it. Especially if the arrangement is going to be used outside, as they do in the New England states. It is very interesting to see the lovely arrangements used at harvest time on the doors or some farmers make large collections of field crops and place them so that the passers-by can see what the harvest has been, and how good the land has yielded.

GOURDS This year I have grown many kinds of gourds and have found it very fascinating. Those that are edible are beautiful while growing and maturing. One of my favorites is the ornamental gourd. I purchased one package of seed in the spring and planted them in two locations. The vines made an interesting pattern on the fence. And when they flowered the blossoms were colorful, dainty and large. They were pretty to look at.

When cleaning up you will note that chickweed has already started to grow. Also wild clover is growing and these along with other weeds and foreign grasses should be removed. Really I think it would pay to spray to kill these, and also aid in ridding the soil and vegetation of the insects which are in and on them. I cut some chrysanthemums this afternoon, and they had many kinds of busy insects hidden underneath the foliage and in the flowers. Good cleanliness now will pay off well in the next growing season.

In putting the gardens to bed for the winter, remember it will be good gardening if all the beds are mulched. If at all possible, spade the vegetable garden and apply 20 to 30 pounds of barnyard manure, water well. If you do not have a compost pile, then take the compost materials collected in the kitchen, (leaving out greasy particles) and bury them after chopping them up a bit, 18 inches under the ground. Remember a good gardener gardens 18 inches below ground level...not from the top ground up. Do not hesitate to spade and dig, it is good for our figure.

DO THIS Before you plant your bulbs, soak the bulbs in a liquid (water) to which has been added 1 tbs of plant food, preferably one which has a high content of phosphate (this promotes bloom, nitrogen promotes foliage growth, and potash promotes root growth and sturdiness of plant).

The plant food which you use should be soluble. Soak for one hour before planting. Remember 1 tbs of water to the gallon of water. It would be wise to draw the water and let it set over night, then add the plant food, soak then plant.

May Thanksgiving be a happy, blessed day, and make us all more mindful of the Giver of all our blessings. Keep Happy!

Beef Prices Differ

Beef buys reflect "quite a price spread between light-weight and grain-fed beef," while overall beef prices show only a small decrease on a few cuts. Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt said of the grocery situation across Texas this week.

Of the lower-priced light-weight beef, she said proper cooking techniques (moist-heat and slower cooking) make it an economical meat value. "In general, check for beef specials on chuck roasts, ground beef, liver, round, sirloin and T-bone steaks."

Mrs. Clyatt is a consumer marketing information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. On the poultry scene, fryer chicken prices have dropped slightly—and egg prices are reasonable. Demand for eggs will force prices up in a week or so, however, as holiday baking begins, Mrs. Clyatt predicted.

rhubarb are other vegetables which can be grown, that will add beauty to the garden. The variations of greens and forms give that certain something which attracts and also yields food.

CLEANING UP as winter approaches, we will need to clean out the flower beds, remove all of the old blossoms, and prune the growth which is near a fence or other part of the garden where they will not whip against them when the winter winds blow.

HOLIDAY CHECKLIST

New-crop pecans are making their appearance at first-of-the-season prices, with a good crop predicted.

On the poultry scene, fryer chicken prices have dropped slightly—and egg prices are reasonable. Demand for eggs will force prices up in a week or so, however, as holiday baking begins, Mrs. Clyatt predicted.

Of other meat buys, "a few more hogs going to slaughter—and abundant beef supplies—are helping put a brake on pork prices. Since pork supplies have increased slightly, consumers can look for occasional specials—most likely on Boston butt roasts, ham portions, pickles and liver," the specialist said.

At fruit counters, apples are still the best buy in most stores. Oranges, tangelos, tangerines and grapefruit are more plentiful—with prices the same to slightly lower, while bananas and Emperor grapes have reasonable prices. Mrs. Clyatt said.
