Cafeteria Construction

Hereford Senior Citizens Director Margie Daniels watches workers construct a cabinet for the new cafeteria-kitchen being put in at the old Central School, which houses the local seniors' organization. The cafeteria, being constructed through federal and county funds, should be completed around mid-October, according to Mrs. Daniels, who said the new facilities will allow the organization to feed more seniors at noontime. No United Way money is being used to finance the project. [Brand photo by Paul Sims]

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter removed Energy Secretary James Schlesinger today and will nominate Deputy Defense Secretary Charles W. Duncan Jr. to replace him, government officials said.

Schlesinger confirmed that Carter has accepted his resignation. Capitol Hill sources said the president told congressional leaders of his selection of Duncan to take over the Energy Department.

Schlesinger, at the Capitol to testify before a House committee, was asked about reports that he was leaving the administration.

"That is correct," the secretary said. There also was speculation that Transportation Secretary Brock Adams might be ousted today.

Asked about Schlesinger, House Majority Leader Jim Wright of Texas said he expected Carter to make the official announcement later in the day.

Wright said it as his understanding that Schlesinger would remain in office until the fall, while Congress is considering the president's recent energy proposals.

"It's cut and dried," one source said of the Duncan decision. Duncan refused to confirm or deny it early today, as did White House press secretary Jody Powell.

Under the shadow of Defense Secretary Harold Brown, Duncan, a multimillionaire and former Coca-Cola executive in Atlanta, has wielded more power than most Cabinet secretaries as he managed the Pentagon on a day-to-day basis.

White House political aides have high regard for Duncan and have long sought a wider role for him in the administration. Duncan, who is known to dislike Brown, has volunteered repeatedly for more responsibility.

Powell said he expected Carter to complete evaluating his Cabinet before the weekend and to turn his attention next week to his own senior staff. A high administration source said the Cabinet reshuffling would be "completed by the end of the day today."

On Thursday, in three announcements in 4 1/2 hours, Powell said Carter had dumped Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. and Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal and had accepted the resignation of friend and fellow Georgian, Attorney General Griffin B. Bell.

Revealing a new Cabinet look for an election year, Powell said Carter will nominate:

-Housing and Urban Development Secretary Patricia R. Harris to succeed the controversial and outspoken Califano;

-Federal Reserve Chairman G. William Miller to succeed Blumenthal, who has had frequent clashes with White House staff members;

-Deputy Attorney General Benjamin R. Civiletti to replace Bell.

Powell said successors to Miller and Mrs. Harris will be named soon.

Adams may have undermined his own position Thursday afternoon with a statement that he had been asked to remain in the Cabinet but was "considering whether or not I should."

Adams said he was weighing such factors as "the commitment of this administration to mass transportation and moving Detroit towards a fuel-efficient automobile, the direct accessibility of the president to the Cabinet and the responsiveness of those with enhanced authority at the White House to the Congress and the American people."

Asked if Adams was staying, Powell replied: "The president has not yet had an opportunity to talk with Secretary Adams. He will do so in the near future."

One close Adams associate said the secretary had made up his mind to leave. But an aide said Adams was undecided.

It was learned that White House chief of staff Hamilton Jordan told Adams in a Thursday morning meeting that the secretary had Carter's confidence but there were problems with some officials in his agency.

It was understood that, after Adams issued his statement, an irritated Jordan reached him by telephone, aboard an airplane to complain that none of the issues Adams raised in his public statement had been broached during

Yard Capacity High at Midyear

WASHINGTON (AP) - Except for a year ago, cattle feedlot inventories on July 1 were the largest in six years, according to the latest Agriculture Department quarterly survey.

The department said Thursday the number of cattle being fed for the slaughter market totaled 10.3 million head on July 1, a drop of 6 percent from more than 10.9 million a year ago.

However, except for the year ago mark, the July 1 inventory of feedlot cattle was the most at midyear since 1973 when 12.7 million head were on hand in the 23 major beef states, officials said. Those produce about 95 percent of the nation's beef.

Bob Remmele, a specialist in the department's Economics, Statistics and Cooperatives Service, said a number of factors are involved, including uncertainty about the economy and whether consumer demand will support an expansion in feedlot beef output.

Remmele told a reporter that a year ago - when feedlot inventories were larger - cattle prices were increasing and were headed for further gains. Also feed costs were less than they are now.

That helped put a bulge in cattle feedlot inventories a year ago.

A heavy export demand for corn and other grain has contributed to higher feed costs this year, along with uncertainties over the 1979 corn crop. Although it appears to be shaping up as a bumper harvest, USDA forecasts so far put it at 6.66 billion bushels, down from the record of 7.1 billion last year.

Also, many farmers and ranchers have been able to put animals on grass pasture this summer instead of selling them to feedlots. In any case, total beef output by slaughter plants is expected to be down by about 10 percent or so in the last half of this year, reflecting the continued smaller supply of cattle.

Producers have begun to expand breeding herds, but it will take at least several more years before much impact will be felt in the supply of supermarket beef.

The report showed the July 1 feedlot inventory included 3.45 million heifers and heifer calves, a decline of 14 percent from a year ago.

The quarterly report showed that placements of new cattle in feedlots during April-June totaled 6.11 million head, down 7 percent from almost 6.6 million a year earlier.

Sales of "finished" cattle by feedlots in the second quarter also totaled about 6.11 million head, the report said. That was

Gross National Product Drops For First Time Since Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP) - The nation's output of goods and services fell at an annual rate of 3.3 percent in the second quarter this year, the largest such drop since the nation was in the depths of the 1974-75 recession, the Commerce Department said today.

The decline, which had been expected by economists in and out of government, followed a modest 1.1 percent rise in the first three months of this year. It was the first dip since early 1978.

The drop was the largest since the first quarter of 1975, when "real" output - that adjusted for inflation - fell more than 9 percent, said Commerce Department analyst Adren Cooper.

The nation's output, adjusted for inflation, showed a modest 0.8 percent growth in the first three months of the year after rising almost 7 percent in the vigorous, final quarter of 1978.

The last quarterly decline was recorded in the January-March 1978 quarter with a 0.1 percent drop.

A recession traditionally is defined as two consecutive quarters of "negative growth." And that's just what economists in and out of government say the United States is in for, if not more.

Growth figures are important because they reflect personal and industrial well-being, which in turn reflects the ability of Americans to get and hold jobs and acquire income.

The Carter administration, which for months denied that a recession was on the way, reversed itself last week and acknowledged that the economy was in for declining output, possibly through the end of the year.

The administration forecasts that gross national product, adjusted for inflation, will fall 0.5 percent in 1979. It rose 4.4 percent last year.

The deteriorating economic conditions, which Carter's advisers said could cost more than 1 million persons their job before December, was blamed on the impact of price hikes enacted by the

Civiletti Appointment

Miffs LULAC Head

DALLAS (AP) - President Carter's announcement that he will nominate Deputy Attorney General Benjamin Civiletti to step up to attorney general guarantees a fight from "incensed" Hispanics, the president of the League of United Latin American Citizens said Thursday.

Ruben Bonilla is a long-standing Civiletti foe because of Civiletti's refusal to prosecute in the deaths of two Mexican Americans in Texas. Law officers allegedly were involved in each case.

Carter accepted the resignation of Attorney General Griffin Bell, a fellow Georgian, Thursday, and said he would nominate Civiletti for the job.

Bonilla said he was in Washington to lobby against that action, which had been rumored, when he learned of Carter's decision.

"We were hit with a midafternoon bombshell," Bonilla said.

The recently elected head of the nation's largest Hispanic organization immediately contacted Capitol Hill lawmakers in an effort to marshal resistance to Civiletti's confirmation.

He said he met with Reps. Mickey Leland of Texas, Ed Roybal of California and Robert Garcia of New York, then set up a Friday meeting with Sen. Lloyd Benisek of Texas. Bonilla said he would try to meet with Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass. Roybal is chairman of the House Hispanic Caucus.

"Speaking for LULAC, I can say that the Hispanic community is incensed with this appointment," Bonilla said. "It violates the pledge of the president to be sensitive to the aspirations of the Hispanic Community."

Bonilla gained the LULAC presidency earlier this year on a platform of coalition political tactics by blacks and Hispanics, and he said the Civiletti challenge will be the first test of his strategy.

"LULAC is calling on all Hispanics in America to join a coalition effort between

Local Armour Facility Announces 150 Layoffs

Hereford's Armour Foods beef processing plant will suspend second shift operations "probably for one week," it was announced this morning by General Manager Tom Hamlett.

The suspension is expected to affect some 150 second shift workers, some of whom will take vacation leave they have acquired, according to Hamlett.

There had been rumors in the community that the work force would be reduced, or that the plant might close.

Hamlett withheld comment on the rumors until this morning, when he said the decision was made to suspend the night shift operations.

"This is due to extremely unfavorable conditions between the dressed beef and the live beef markets," stated Hamlett.

"If these conditions change, we could quickly adjust the decision on the second shift operations," he added.

The Armour plant here currently employs a work force of 380.

If the government ever leaves U.S. oil companies alone, the price of gasoline will go up to around $1.50, predicts Edward Roberson, longtime Hereford gas wholesaler.

"But it will level off, and possibly come down," he adds.

If the government continues to strongly regulate oil company profits, "there's no telling how high the price of gas will go," Roberson said.

Roberson, a year and a half ago, saw the writing on the wall, and sold his Texaco wholesale agency on S. Main to Jack L. Case, an ex-Turkey banker.

"I was a consignee where everything was consigned to me. Texaco then decided to change everything from a consignee basis to a distributor basis, and you'd have to buy everything. Well, this has become the type of business where you either get in now in a big way or you better get out," Roberson said. "It's getting too expensive."

"Besides that, I'm 67-years-old."

Roberson calls himself "a semi-retired, part-time employee" at the Texaco company. "I enjoy it like this. I can go home at night and sleep like a log because I don't worry about anything, and I can play golf whenever I want to."

Roberson blames the federal government for what he calls "a real gasoline shortage." He said the oil companies' troubles began 25 years ago.

"The government stepped in 25 years ago and took away the depletion allowances on these oil wells. Well, the companies and the drills started parking their drilling rigs by the thousands," Roberson said.

"That's when the oil companies went foreign. They told the United States that in 25 years, we'd be in one heckuva mess. And look where we are today."

"The answer is for the government to get out of this mess and turn the oil companies loose. The oil companies aren't going to find the oil until they can make money at it. There's a lot of oil here in this country, but nobody's going to try to find it."

"Out of every dollar, the oil companies wind up with about three cents, and they have to pay dividends. You know darn well, you can buy stock in any oil company—they're owned by American

41 Crewmen Rescued After Collision

SAN JUAN, Puerto (AP) - A supertanker and a small freighter collided in the Atlantic overnight, setting both ships ablaze and forcing the crews to abandon ship, the U.S. Coast Guard said today.

Rescue efforts were underway this morning and 41 crewmen were reported picked up, including all those from the tanker.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the collision occurred between 7 and 8 p.m. Thursday about 20 miles east of Tobago.

The Coast Guard identified the ships as the tanker Aegean Captain and the freighter Atlantic Express.

Both vessels are registered in Liberia, according to Lloyd's Register of Shipping.

The circumstances of the collision were not yet known, the Coast Guard spokesman said. It was not known how much oil the tanker was carrying.

It was also not known how many crewmen the freighter carried, he said, but five men had been picked up by early morning.

All 36 of the Aegean Captain's crew had been picked up, he said.

Crowds Rejoice

In Nicaragua

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) - Sandinista leaders and guerrillas converged on Nicaragua's capital today to tackle the tasks of relief and reconstruction as jubilant crowds up and down the little Central American country celebrated the downfall of the Somoza dictatorship.

Two of the five members of the junta arrived in Managua with members of the new cabinet from Costa Rica. The other three junta members were expected today from Leon, their provisional capital since early Wednesday.

Concluding a seven-week uprising, the Sandinista guerrillas took control of Managua early Thursday, two days after President Anastasio Somoza fled to Miami Beach and a day after his handpicked successor, Francisco Urcuyo, flew to Guatemala.

About 700 guerrillas poured in from Leon, 55 miles northwest of Managua, and charged into the deserted Bunker Somoza's military headquarters. Some grabbed weapons and uniforms. Others entered the dictator's apartment, and one guerrilla couple posed for photographers, on Somoza's bed with a red and black Sandinista flag tacked up over the headboard.

Arraignment Set

For Grain Dealer

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - Clutching a briefcase in one manacled hand and a package of cigarettes in the other, Iowa Park grain dealer Robert Johnson was booked into the Tarrant County Jail Thursday after being extradited from Idaho on federal charges.

"I'm sorry, not today," said Johnson when newsmen asked him to comment on charges he transported stolen grain.

Arraignment was set for today before U.S. District Judge Eldon Mahon. Court sources said Mahon probably will enter a plea for Johnson, who has been in jail in lieu of $1 million bond set by an Idaho Judge. Johnson has not employed an attorney.

Johnson, arrested in Rexburg, Idaho, on a traffic charge, was a popular prisoner.

"He's a pleasure to travel with," said U.S. Marshal Clint Peoples, one of three federal officers guarding Johnson on his commercial jetliner flight.

The former-millionaire businessman wore a straw cowboy hat, t-shirt and a blue windbreaker as he stepped from the airplane onto Texas soil.

More than two years ago, companions reported that Johnson fell from a boat in the Gulf of Mexico and drowned.

Surviving Twin Giant

Funeral Held

HENDERSONVILLE, N.C. (AP) - When Billy McCrary was buried in a quiet, hillside cemetery, the carnival career of "the world's largest twins" was buried with him.

McCrary, 32, weighed 747 pounds and his twin brother, Benny, tipped the scales at 727.

For nearly three years, the two mountain boys who grew up near Hendersonville toured the world, met royalty and political leaders and entertained thousands with their size.

Billy died Saturday of injuries he sustained in a motor bike accident while he and his brother, who performed as the McGuire Twins, were making an appearance in Niagara Falls, Ontario.

Billy McCrary was no ordinary person and his funeral Thursday, accordingly, was no ordinary service.

McCrary was buried in a specially designed maple coffin, nearly twice as wide as a normal casket, and a crane was used to maneuver it out of a Hendersonville funeral home.

Heavy earth-moving machinery was used to lower the casket into a grave more than twice as wide as a normal grave.

blacks and Hispanics in mounting a campaign of opposition against the confirmation of Civiletti," Bonilla said. He said efforts to that end would include a letter-writing campaign and testimony at Civiletti's confirmation hearings.

Bonilla also called a recent Civiletti trip through the Southwest a "dismal" showing. "He told us right there in Dallas that Hispanics should not look to the federal government as frequently as in the past...that federal law was not meant to supplant common law remedies available under state law. We just want to remind Mr. Civiletti that if it were not for existing federal law, minorities would not have many of their rights and privileges across the Southwest."

Bonilla said appointment of Civiletti

"would deal a very fatal blow to President Carter's reelection chances and would hamper the prospect of his carrying Texas in 1980, where he received an overwhelming mandate from Hispanics."

Bonilla said he has received "substantial" indications of support for his cause.

Workers' Comp Upheld

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - The State Insurance Board ordered a 5 percent increase Thursday in workers' compensation rates, adding $50 million to the $1 billion that Texas businessmen already pay annually for the coverage.

Board members indicated the entire workers' compensation rating system might be examined between now and the next hearing on the subject in November.

The Texas Association of Business (TAB) said businessmen are caught in a workers' compensation "cost crisis" and urged the board to make an "in-depth study of why this problem exists."

Asked later if the board would follow up on the TAB request, board Chairman William P. Daves Jr. said, "Yes, I think we will. We will want to get better informed on the subject before we review rates again. ... To the extent time would permit, we would want to take a look at it between now and November."

"The spirit is there," said board member Lyndon Olson Jr. Rate increases ordered Thursday are supposed to cover higher benefits for injured workers that take effect Sept. 1.

The minimum weekly benefit will rise from $21 to $23, and the maximum benefit will increase from $105 to $119.

Benefits are linked to the average wage in manufacturing and are changed each Sept. 1 to reflect increases in the wage that took place in the previous calendar year. For each $10 increase in the average wage, the minimum benefit rises $1 and the maximum jumps $7.

Board actuary Charles Porter said existing premiums are not high enough to cover the rise in benefits.

Gerald Dorsey, TAB general counsel, noted that an actuarial consultant had found the board's workers' compensation rating procedures were inadequate.

Under questioning, Porter said the board never had ordered an in-depth review of the rating process as a result of the TAB's past objections.

The TAB's written request said Texas manufacturers pay about $5.89 per $100 in payroll for workers' compensation insurance. Only five other states pay higher rates, it said.

While rates are among the nation's highest, the TAB said, only one other state pays a lower weekly disability benefit to workers who earn as much as the state's average wage for factory workers.

"This is especially frustrating to our members who know very well that the leading writer of workers' compensation coverage in this state has consistently reported new record underwriting profits year after year - a situation which this board would not find typical if the profitability results of all insurers writing workers' compensation coverage were examined," the TAB said.

Workers' compensation rates were cut 5.3 percent, effective Feb. 1, the first reduction in nine years.

Burton To Join Security Service

Art Burton, chief deputy of Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department, has resigned that position to become director of polygraph services of Security Protection Systems, a Lubbock security and private-investigation firm.

Daniel B. Gallagher, president of the company, made the announcement of Burton's appointment today. Burton also will assist in all phases of private investigation work for the company.

Burton, commissioned by the New Mexico State Police Academy in October, 1964, has served in numerous phases of law enforcement. He worked for the New Mexico State Police and Dalhart city police before coming to Hereford as sheriff's deputy. He was chief criminal investigator for the sheriff's office before his promotion to chief deputy.

Burton, who received his associate degree from Amarillo College, is licensed in Texas as a polygraph examiner. He received his degree from the Baxter School of Lie Detection in San Diego, Calif., last year.

He is an instructor in both the Amarillo Continuing Education Department and Police Science Program of Amarillo College. He also is an instructor at the Panhandle Regional Police Academy.

Security Protection Systems is a West Texas corporation headquartered in Lubbock with a branch office in Hereford. Burton will work mostly in Hereford in his new capacity.

people. I just don't know where this figure of 300 percent increase in profits came from.

"Oil companies are actually making less than the manufacturers in the United States, so I can't understand why Carter and that mess in Washington are trying to make scapegoats out of the oil companies. All the oil companies are saying is they're gonna make money or they're not gonna do the oil."

Roberson moved to Hereford at age 11 in 1922 from Cleburne, Texas. His father was in the real-estate business and owned a dairy on a section of land west of town.

"We were milking 45 or 6 or 7 head of cattle and in 1930, butterfat went from 30 cents a pound to 8 cents. We gave away our cows all over this part of the country. We couldn't even afford to feed them. Yes, it was a little bit rough," Roberson said.

"So my dad traded his equity for a mile of this creek where the sewer system is now. He just got out of the dairy business. People think it's hard to make a living now."

Roberson married Tiny Lee Springer in 1931 and went to work as bookkeeper and parts man for the local Ford dealership. He later moved to Amarillo and bought a dry-cleaning plant with a barbershop in the front part of the operation.

"We dry cleaned suits and dresses for 35 cents apiece, three for a dollar, and made a living."

Roberson, during World War II, worked as an inspector at both the Amarillo and Liberal, Kan. Army air bases. He returned to Hereford in 1945 and bought a Texaco service station on the corner of Miles and U.S. Highway 60.

"I ran it for eight years, then I decided I wanted to get into the wholesale end of it, so I tried to buy this. I couldn't get it, so I bought the Conoco wholesale agency and ran it for eight years. Then, Jimmy Allred came along," he said.

Allred, Roberson, Carlos Anderson and Calvin Godd formed a corporation and purchased the local El Paso National Gas Co. distributorship, which later became Tip Top Oil Co. Roberson, who was president of the company, worked at the Shell-owned company for four years, then purchased the Texaco agency in 1965 when it came up for sale.

Roberson said Hereford has been good to him.

"Twice in my life, I got up and said that I'm gonna get away from here. But I came right back. This is one little town you can make a living and the people are so friendly. I wouldn't live anywhere else," he said.

Roberson and his wife have an adult son and daughter. Roberson is a director of the Deaf Smith County Hospital District.

OPEC has raised prices by more than 50 percent since last year.

O. William Miller, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and President Carter's choice to replace W. Michael Blumenthal as Treasury secretary, gave an even gloomier forecast to Congress earlier this week.

Miller said the nation's output could fall as much as 2 percent this year and that as many as 1.4 million people could lose their jobs.

"It appears likely that they (the new Commerce Department figures) will indicate that real gross national product declined somewhat after advancing only marginally in the first quarter," Miller told Congress.

In other economic news Thursday: The most recent Associated Press-NBC News poll found that more Americans than ever now say their families' finances have been damaged by inflation. Nearly one-third of those interviewed earlier this week said their families' financial picture had worsened over the last 12 months, the highest such response in three years.

The Commerce Department reported that the personal income of Americans rose 0.5 percent in June. The total for wages, farm income, interest and dividends had risen 0.7 percent in May.

The Treasury Department announced that it had discontinued its investigation of alleged below-market prices on imported Mexican vegetables. The anti-dumping investigation was stopped because Florida growers withdrew their complaint to see if the United States and Mexico could resolve the issue during discussions.

their face-to-face meeting.

One Adams associate said Federal Aviation Administration chief Langhorne Bond and Federal Railroad Administrator John L. Sullivan, a Carter campaign veteran, are under consideration to replace Adams.

Bell, who had long said he intended to leave before the end of the year, was asked if his resignation was announced now to make Carter's actions appear broader than they might otherwise seem.

Bell replied: "Hold on two or three more days; you'll see that it's pretty broad. They don't need one more body."

A high administration source compared Schlesinger to Blumenthal and Califano, who were fired. "There are different sorts of resignations and acceptances," this source said. Powell declined to comment on reports that Andrew Young, often embroiled in controversy as U.N. ambassador, might be asked to take another post, possibly that of HUD secretary.

The drumbeat of departures riveted attention throughout the government. Many congressmen expressed fear that the sharp changes would undo gains Carter made with his recent energy proposals.

Asked to explain the departures, Powell said Carter is hoping to improve future administration performance. But at a news conference Califano said Carter told him Wednesday night that a major reason for the shakeup was to "get the Cabinet and the administration ready for the 1980 elections."

In addition, Califano said Carter cited a problem with his performance "related to friction with certain members of the White House staff" - Jordan, Powell and budget director James McIntyre.

Mrs. Harris said at a news conference she had no plans to change any of Califano's controversial policies and was unlikely to alter her blunt outspoken manner in dealing with other administration policymakers.

Blumenthal told a gathering of Treasury employees he was happy with Carter's decision and was confident Miller would continue the same anti-inflationary policies.

down 8 percent from more than 6.62 million in the same period of last year.

Looking to the third quarter, the report said feeders expect to market about 6.23 million cattle, down 5 percent from more than 6.52 million in July-September of last year.

Cattle prices have dropped from their record levels during the spring-at some points averaging around $77 per 100 pounds for Choice-grade steers on the Omaha, Neb., market - to around $65 or so. Department experts say "fed" cattle prices may remain fairly stable in coming months, depending on demand, feed costs and the outcome of corn and other crops this fall.

The number of cattle on feed in the seven major producing states - which are reported monthly as well as quarterly - totaled 7.56 million on July 1, down 5 percent from 7.98 million a year ago. Those seven states account for about three-fourths of the nation's beef that reaches consumers.

The July 1 inventory in the seven states included an increase in one: California 709,000 head, up 3 percent from a year ago.

Declines were reported in the other six: Arizona 363,000 head, down 3 percent; Colorado 880,000 down 30 Iowa 1,180,000 down 4; Kansas 1,290,000 down 7; Nebraska 1,380,000 down 5; and Texas 1,760,000 down 5.

Clements Scores High in State Poll

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - A poll of 1,000 Texas voters in 200 counties showed Gov. Bill Clements getting a much better grade than the Legislature.

The Henson Hopkins & Shipley poll also showed a higher percentage disapproved of the flight of the Killer Bee senators than approved.

A statement on the poll said the results "suggest that some of the state Senate Bees up for re-election in 1980 may end up being stung by the voters on election day."

Sixty percent of the 1,000 voters gave Clements a grade of "A" or "B," according to the poll, while only 6 percent gave him a failing grade of "F."

Thirty-two percent rated the Legislature "A" or "B," however, with 15 percent giving lawmakers an "F."

"These data suggest that in the mind of the public Gov. Clements topped the Legislature," said a statement from the polling firm.

"Fully 85 percent of all survey respondents were aware of the Killer Bee episode," the statement added, "and among those who watched the Bee flight, a plurality of 45 percent of all Texans disapproved of the swarm. Only 29 percent of survey respondents approved of the Bees."

The 12 Bee senators fled to break a Senate quorum and prevent passage of a bill establishing a presidential primary in March 1980, two months before the regular party primaries.

The telephone poll employed a random sample of 1,000 eligible voters and was conducted two weeks after the Legislature adjourned May 30.

George Shipley said the poll was "an internal survey" that the firm makes quarterly to determine the mood of Texans. He said it was not paid for by any politician and the results of the poll belong to the firm.

The Abundant Life

OUR MORALITY

BY BOB WEAR

WE MUST NOT BE USING OUR RIGHT OF CHOICE and our personal liberty to destroy our "right of choice and our personal liberty." This is being done now, in a variety of ways. The falsely conceived view, "I am free to do as I please" is a curse to the only known concept of "true freedom." In a sense, we are free to do as we please; but it is not absolute freedom; it is not license. We are not really free to invade the inherent rights of others, and, to whatever extent we do, we undermine our own rights. Regardless of what we may think about it, the law of life supports a corresponding consequence for each act, right or wrong.

MANY VERY BAD DISTORTIONS ARE ABROAD IN THE LAND. There is too much of the view that we can disregard all restraints, all controls, all guidelines, and all personal responsibility. We can do this, but we cannot afford to pay the horrendous price. Much of this is being done, but we are not getting by; because there are always attending penalties, even though some may be delayed. One way or another penalties for abuse of life and the true and decent things of life must be paid, and the penalty is high.

IF WE ARE GOING TO PLAY FAST AND LOSE with time-tested and time-proven standards of decency, purity, virtue, honesty and integrity; we are going to destroy ourselves and everything we hold dear. Every desirable aspect of life is supported by high levels of morality and decency. Therefore, if a social order or a nation is to survive; a high percentage of the involved persons must seek and uphold this climate of decency and morality. If the time comes, when the majority no longer care; the whole structure will collapse. Historically, it always has. A look into the past reveals the future.

TRUE GRANDEUR OF HUMANITY is in moral elevation; sustained, enlightened and decorated by the intellect of men. - C. Sumner. ALL OF HISTORY REVEALS that people and nations have been strong or weak according to the level of their moral standards. It is a fact that the decline and eventual fall of the personal life structure and the collective social structure of peoples occur when there has been widespread forsaking of moral standards. Here is the message for us. We are doing just what others before us have done, and they are no longer with us today.

EVERYTHING ELSE OF VALUE is tied to the morality of people. Physical strength, financial strength, successful trade and commerce, and everything else of value must survive, while being supported by moral honor and decency. WE ARE NOT GOING TO SOLVE the energy crisis, remedy our economic woes, re-strengthen the home, reduce the crime, lessen the staggering public expenditures of monies, or do anything else we want to do; until we do what we have to do: Find our way back to some semblance of old-fashioned morality and decency.

Police Thursday investigated three reports of barking dogs, a call concerning loud music and two fight complaints. Officers wrote 15 tickets and investigated a minor traffic accident in the Montgomery Ward parking lot, Park and Miles.

Testimony To Highlight FGBM Meeting

John Hartly, an instructor at Holy Family School in San Diego, Calif., will offer testimony during the July meeting of the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International here Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Hereford High School cafeteria.

A buffet supper will be served at a cost of $3.50 per plate, with serving time from 7-7:30 p.m.

Hartly entered a Roman Catholic religious order at an early age, and left the order at the age of 36.

He was "born again" a few years later, and will offer testimony at the upcoming gathering.

The Hereford chapter of FGBMFI holds a prayer breakfast on a monthly basis.

The organization is an international services arm of the entire church, serving all churches.

Local officers include Jonny Cloud, president, Leo Harper, vice president, Kit Sanders, secretary, and Jimmie Allred, treasurer.

Assembly of God To Have Speaker

NEIL ESKELIN
SPRINGFIELD, Mo. -- Neil Eskelin, director of development at Evangel College here will speak at First Assembly of God Church, 606 E. 15th St. at the 10:50 a.m. service on Sunday, July 22, the Rev. H.T. Goodwin has announced.

An Evangel faculty member since 1967, Eskelin was named director of development in 1976. His portfolio includes admissions, alumni activities, campus development, and intercollegiate athletics.

Eskelin is producer and co-host of "Evangel Football," nationally syndicated one-hour

TV highlight program. This fall it was shown on Christian television stations in Detroit, San Francisco, Chicago, Los Angeles, and other cities.

As a faculty member, Eskelin taught speech, broadcasting and journalism, and was debate coach. Before coming to Evangel he was program director of the Christian Broadcasting Network. He is author of several textbooks, including "Speaking in Public," published by Prentice-Hall.

Organizations of which Eskelin is a member include the Missouri Writers Guild; Springfield Chamber of Commerce; Rotary International; and Phi Delta Kappa, the professional education fraternity. He is past president of the Southwest Missouri chapter of Phi Delta Kappa.

Eskelin's B.A. in speech was earned at Florida Southern College, and his M.A. was earned at Ohio State. His graduate major was also speech.

Evangel is a four-year Assemblies of God college of arts and sciences, accredited by the North Central Association. Enrollment is 1460.

To Attend Camp

Hereford High School cheerleaders will be traveling to Dallas to attend camp next week at Southern Methodist University. The girls will spend a week in Dallas learning new cheers and routines. Bottom from left are Laura Martin, Kelly Cherry, Chema Gonzalez, Diane Warden, and Alice Vargas. Standing are Janae Pagett and Mary Griego.

Twenty Certified In CPR Technique

The American Heart Association conducted a CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) course this week. Twenty people were certified at the end of the two-day session.

CPR is a technique by which a heart attack, drowning, suffocation, choking, or electrocution victim is sustained by heart compressions and artificial ventilation.

Fifteen of the certified students are Hereford postal employees and their spouses. The following persons were certified:

Rick and Wendy Lee, Glenn and Paula Breeding, James

Gamez, Kenneth and Janice Carroll, Larry Paschel, Rocky Lee, Oneta Rudd, Gene and Cynthia Streun, Duane and Theresa Albracht, Max and Pat Goforth, Douglas Strange (Instructor), Nolan Grady, JoAnn Dwyer, and Lori Brandt (Instructor Trainer).

The next CPR class will be held Monday and Tuesday evenings, August 20 and 21, from 6-10 p.m., at the Community Center. Anyone interested in learning this life-saving technique is invited to attend the sessions. One can call 364-0635 to register. The course is free of charge.

Family Activities Scheduled Sunday

Encounter '79, a three-day period of activities for youth and family groups, will be conducted by Bill and Melanie Beachy in First United Methodist Church beginning Sunday.

The Beachys, a young couple engaged in a full-time music ministry, have also had extensive experience in youth ministry and emphasis will be on youth in their programs here. Rev. William McReynolds, First United Methodist Church pastor, invites all residents of the community to attend the meetings.

After conducting the morning worship service at 10:55 a.m. Sunday, the visiting couple will meet the congregation informally at a covered dish dinner at noon in the church fellowship hall.

Family activities and games are scheduled from 1 to 3 p.m. The Beachys will direct the evening worship period at 5 p.m. and an afterglow session for youth at 6 p.m. in the McCathern home, 140 Redwood.

Weekday programs will include a picnic for youth at Palo Duro Canyon State Park Monday; a watermelon feast with elementary age girls and boys and a youth swimming party Tuesday as well as services of music and worship.

Ann Landers

Plea To Mothers

DEAR ANN: I am writing in response to the letter about the newborn infant found in the trash can of a filling station restroom. As a registered nurse who has worked in a hospital nursery, I can inform these mothers that they have alternatives.

If you are pregnant and don't know what you are going to do when your time comes, go to the nearest hospital or medical facility and present yourself to the emergency room staff. They will take it from there. If you don't have any money, there is no need to worry. Nobody expects you to pay if you can't. If you are embarrassed or ashamed, don't be. The nurses and doctors aren't there to judge you. They are there to help.

Do you want to remain anonymous? Fine. Give a false name and address or simply refuse to give a name. You'll be listed as "Jane Doe." If you don't care about the baby, that's your business. No one will make you feel ashamed or guilty. Your baby will be taken to the nursery and later placed with an adoption agency. You don't have to see it or even know what sex it is.

If you are pregnant now,

Many mental health problems stem from inadequacy in interaction with others, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

IF YOU ARE BETWEEN THE AGES OF 55-65 and are not in a Bible study class, we invite you to join us for Bible study at First Baptist Church each Sunday at 9:45 a.m. ground floor ADULT IV DEPARTMENT present yourself to the emergency room of any hospital for a check-up. If you can't pay, it's free and it could make a lot of difference in the way you feel. This might be critical to the health of the innocent life you carry. Every pregnant woman (especially the teenager) should be under medical observation. Please follow these instructions. You deserve a break. -- I Am Concerned

DEAR CONCERNED: Your advice is good, but it doesn't hold for every hospital. Private hospitals can refuse some patients, and they do.

A woman in early stages of pregnancy should go to a public hospital.

Any hospital will try to determine a patient's identity for a medical history, so it's best to tell them. They will, however, respect a request for secrecy.

DEAR ANN: I would like to post the following on my front door but I don't have the nerve. Please print it, Ann. Perhaps it will make someone, somewhere, more considerate when visiting in the home of a friend or relative.

HOUSE RULES

1. Don't come over unless you have been invited. If you'd like to come, please phone ahead to make sure the visit is convenient for me. (I love your company.

but I don't appreciate being caught in my bathrobe with dirty dishes in the sink and nothing to offer in the way of refreshments.)

2. If your shoes are wet or dirty, please don't make me ask you to remove them. I'd prefer you did it on your own.

3. If you don't know where to put your coats and purses, just ask me. Please don't put them on my dining room table. Purse hardware, zippers, buttons and clasps are hard on natural wood surfaces.

4. If you don't see an ashtray or a coaster, please don't put your glasses on my tables -- or your ashes on my rug.

5. If you bring your kids, keep them under control. Ask me where I would like them to play, and then be sure they go there. When I give them something to eat or drink, see that they go to the kitchen. It should be YOUR suggestion, not mine.

6. If you aren't willing to adhere to these common-sense rules, please do us both a favor and stay home. -- No City, No State, Please

DEAR NO STATE: Every one of your rules is reasonable. No person should resent being asked to adhere to them. In fact, individuals who have good judgment shouldn't have to be asked. They know.

Bob Wear Leaving; Reception Slated

As of August 1, 1979, Bob Wear will terminate his ministerial service with the Central Church of Christ in Hereford.

His second tenure with the Hereford church has lasted a total of 15 years out of 45 years in which he has served the Hereford congregation.

Wear and his wife, Vinita, will be moving to Canyon, where they own a home; he will be associated with personal business interests.

A farewell reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Wear is planned Sunday, July 22, from 2:30-4 p.m. in the Fellowship Room of Central Church of Christ. Friends in the Hereford area are invited to attend.

Shower Honors Recent Bride

Mrs. Thornton Monroe of Amarillo was feted Tuesday evening with a post-nuptial shower in the E.B. Black Historical House.

The former Alvina Birkenfeld and Thornton Monroe were married June 30 in Nazareth.

The honoree's mother-in-law, Cecelia Monroe, assisted her in receiving guests.

Hostesses for the courtesy were Pat McNeese, Mary Alice Bomer, Dixie Fortenberry, Jo Charest, Betty Lookingbill, Kay Hall, Tenna Reinauer, Rosalie Gilbreath and Margaret London.

Experts provided by the United Nations Development Program have discovered in El Salvador geo-thermal fields which will be used to generate 100 million watts of electric power annually for at least 50 years.

TAKE THE TIME
By PATSY GILES

Have you ever heard this excuse, "Well, I would, but I just don't have the time."? Often, we neglect to do something that we know is important because we think that a great amount of time is required.

Today let's consider some important things that take relatively little time, but do so much good.

- Listening to a lonely child;
- Sending a letter or card to someone in the hospital;
- Telephoning a shut-in;
- Picking up small items for an older person, who doesn't drive, as you do your own shopping;
- Watching a neighbor's sleeping baby, while you are sitting reading;
- Writing a letter for someone who is physically unable to do so himself;
- Hugging a family member;
- Helping a lost child find his mother;
- Smiling at a person going about his affairs;
- Telling a business associate that he is doing a good job and is appreciated;
- Telling someone close how much you love him;

Advertise now!

Think this is the wrong time of year to advertise? Sure, business is slow, but the smart advertiser makes his advertising dollar work even harder during this time of year:

1. New customers move into Hereford daily. The smart advertiser attracts this new business into his store. If the newcomer shops with you first, chances are he'll be back again and again.
2. People stop trading with your competitors for one reason or another, and the smart advertiser attracts this business with effective advertising.
3. Advertising is designed to build business and one of its strongest effects is familiarity or repetition; consistent advertising pays. The smart advertiser never lets the buying public forget he is still in business.

The smart advertiser always thinks of his advertising dollar as an investment in greater sales volume, never as an expense of doing business.

Fifth Straight Win For Herd

By MARC HERRING
Brand Sports Editor

PLAINVIEW — After allowing four runs on two hits in the first inning, Hereford's Robert Martinez blanked the Graham All-stars the rest of the game to collect a 6-4 win in the second round of the 13 year old Babe Ruth state tournament yesterday here.

Martinez, who allowed only the two hits in the game, suffered through a first inning that had Graham send nine batters to the plate. Two fielding errors and mental mistakes on the part of the Herd infield gave Graham the chance to overtake the 2-0 lead Hereford had accumulated in its half of the first.

Hereford's scoring came after two outs when singles by Mickey Stengel and Martinez allowed Dale Holigan to poke a single to the outfield to score both men.

Neither team scored again until the sixth frame as both pitchers tossed near perfect games the last six innings of play. The difference came on the number of bases on balls issued as that nemesis hurt the Graham team throughout the contest.

In the sixth, consecutive walks to Ronny Collier, Charles White and Joe Villareal set the stage for the heroics of Jeff Streun.

Streun, in his fourth trip to the plate in the game, blasted a single into left centerfield to score two runs and even the score. Another single, this time by Craig Jones brought in Villareal.

Streun in an attempt to score from second, was cut down at the plate by an excellent throw from Graham centerfielder, Chuck Heffington.

With the score at 5-4 and two outs, Stengel collected his second base hit of the game to drive in the final run.

Martinez then set the Graham batters down in order the last two times at bat to preserve the fifth consecutive victory for the team in post-season play.

Martinez struck out 10 batters in the seven inning contest, and walked one. In contrast, Joe Muston, hurler for the Graham stars, struck out two but issued seven free trips to the Hereford batters.

Offensive stars for the game were Streun and Holigan as both collected two RBIs and one hit each. Defensively, Stengel stopped a possible Graham rally in the fifth by making two plays from his position at shortstop to quell the threat.

In other games in the tournament, Dumas was the first squad to bow out, after falling to Plainview 15-6. The other game had Lubbock a 3-1 winner over Lamesa.

Action today will pit Muleshoe and Lamesa at 1 p.m., followed by Plainview-Graham at 3:30 and Hereford against Lubbock at 6 p.m. The last game of the night will have the winners of the first two games going against each other with the loser eliminated from the double elimination affair.

Manager Gene Combs will send Mickey Stengel to the mound for the confrontation of unbeaten tonight. With everyone healthy, Combs feels that Hereford has a real good chance of beating anyone in the tournament.

"We have an advantage over Lubbock from what I've seen," Combs said, "we've got more speed and hustle, although they are bigger and can hit the long ball. But at the same time they seem sort of slow."

Tournament play will continue through the weekend with the probable final games to be played on Sunday according to tournament officials.

ChiSox Continue To Dominate Rangers

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The Chicago White Sox are 12 games out of first place in the American League Western Division and seven games below .500, but they can't blame the Texas Rangers for their fifth place standing.

Chicago rapped out 26 hits—including five home runs, two triples and six doubles—Thursday night in battling from behind twice to sweep a double header, 9-6 and 5-4.

It was the White Sox' 10th victory in 12 games this year, and over two seasons Chicago is 9-4 at Arlington and 12-2 at Chicago for a 21-6 record.

"We sure hit the ball well tonight. It's nice to do that. Maybe the three days off helped us," said Chicago manager Don Kessinger.

"We've been very fortunate against Texas, but they're a great ball club. I'm very happy with the wins we've had, but in spite of our success against them, no, I wouldn't want to have to play them every day."

Ralph Garr hit a two-run homer in each game and added a single and double in the first contest. Jorge Orta hit a double and triple in both games and Lamar Johnson hit a three-run homer to win the first game, then came back with three singles in the nightcap.

"I've been making good contact and swinging the bat good all year, but tonight I was finding the holes," said Orta who tripled in the eighth inning of the second game and scored on Johnson's single for what proved to be the winning run.

Steve Trout, 8-3, won the first game after surviving a shaky first inning in which the Rangers scored three runs and got half their hits off him.

Ken Kravec, 9-8, was the winner in the second. He gave up only five hits, including three home runs. A two-run shot by Richie Zisk and a solo homer by Pat Putnam gave Texas an early 3-1 advantage.

Ed Farmer, who as a Ranger gained notoriety several weeks ago when he disabled two Kansas City batters in a single game by hitting them, came on to pick up the save in both games. It gives him three saves for the season, all against Texas since the Rangers traded him.

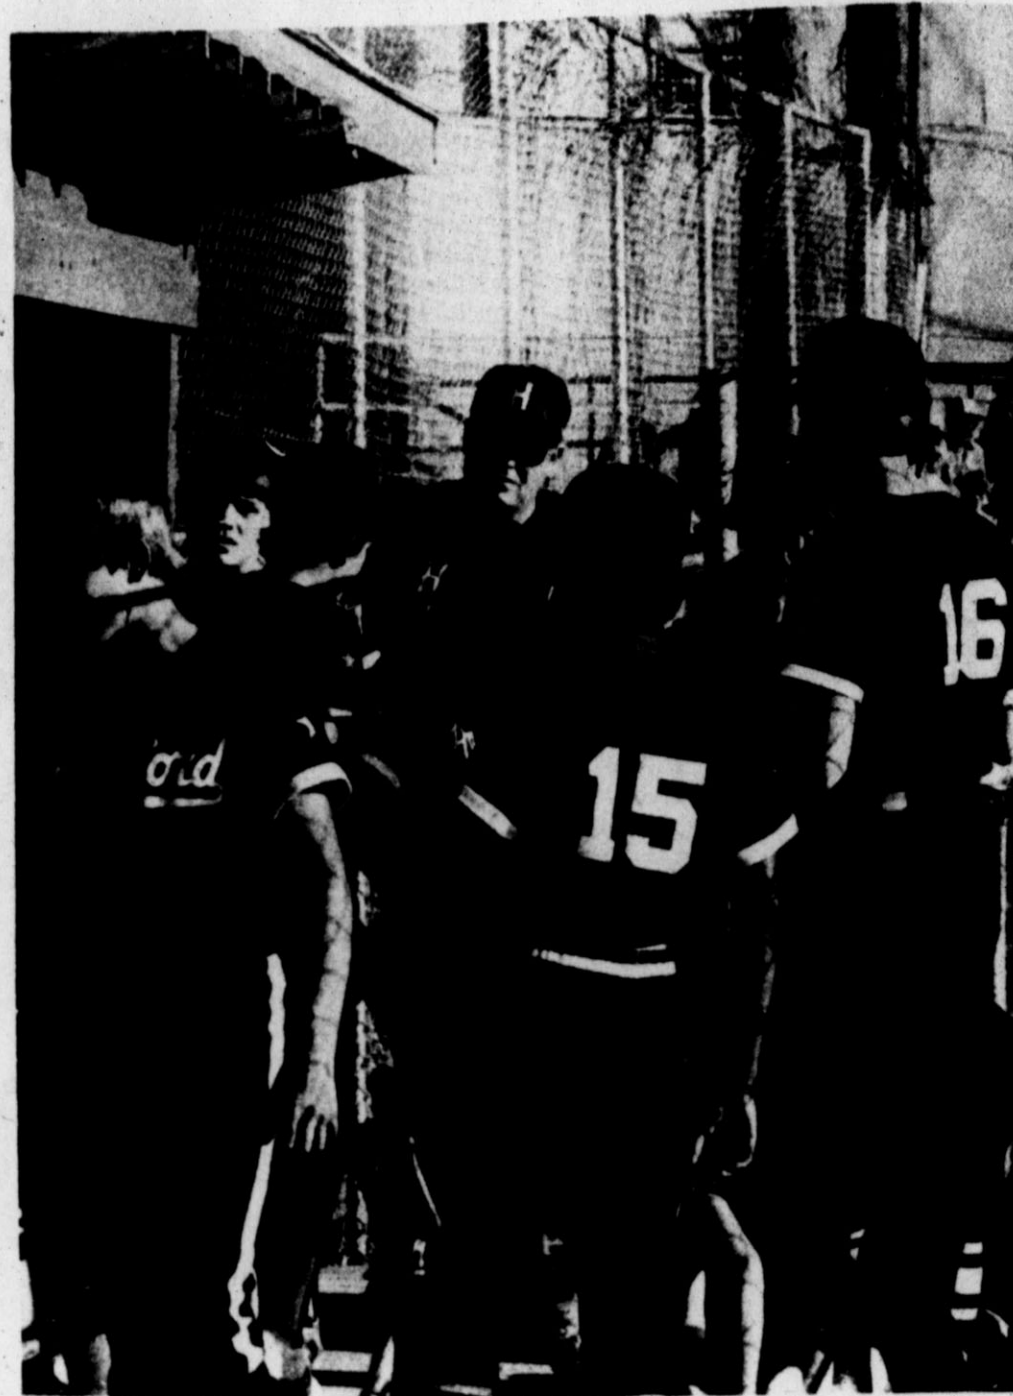

Jim Sundberg's infield single loaded the bases in the ninth right after Kessinger summoned Farmer in the first game, but he struck out Larvell Blanks to end the game.

Farmer rescued Kravec after Buddy Bell's homer in the eighth inning of the second game move to within 5-4. Farmer mowed down all five men he faced although Zisk sent Chet Lemon to the fence on a 4-0 foot shot to center in the ninth.

"Farmer has really just pitched super ever since we moved him into short relief," Kessinger said.

Farmer said he feared Zisk's long drive had tied the game.

The wind was the only thing that kept it in. I've seen the ball jump off his bat before, when I was on the same team with him, and I thought for sure it was going out."

Rally Time

A talk in the dugout proved to get handsome results for the Hereford 13 year old All-Stars as they made a magnificent comeback to edge Graham, 6-4, in the sixth inning of the second round of Babe Ruth playoffs in Plainview. (Brand photo by Marc Herring)

Rosen Quits As President Of Yanks

NEW YORK (AP) — George

Steinbrenner, principal owner of the world champion New York Yankees, has begun looking for a new president for the American League team after Al Rosen resigned "to explore several other business opportunities."

Rosen, in a statement issued by the Yankees, said "contrary to speculation, I have not, nor will I, accept any of those business opportunities in the near future."

Rosen's resignation, which had been rumored for several days, apparently was triggered by a dispute between Rosen, Steinbrenner and Manager Billy Martin.

Martin, who has been embroiled in controversy several times during his two tenures as manager, said of Rosen: "I feel sorry for him."

In accepting the resignation, Steinbrenner, after two days of meetings and conversations with Rosen, said in a statement: "When he (Rosen) told me of one of the opportunities, I gave him my best advice. I did not see, frankly, how he could turn such an offer down."

Rosen is rumored to be joining Bally, a corporation which will soon open a gambling casino in Atlantic City, N.J. Bally is run by Bill Weinberger, a longtime friend of Rosen's.

Last year, when Steinbrenner surprised a Yankee Oldtimers' Day crowd by announcing that the recently fired Martin was returning to manage the team and that Lemon would become general manager in 1980, it was also announced that General Manager Cedric Tallis would be retiring following this season.

It also is rumored that Steinbrenner may take over as president.

Rosen, 55, was lured out of private business by Steinbrenner to take the Yankees job two years ago. He is one of 16 limited partners who jointly own the club with Steinbrenner. Steinbrenner is listed as the principal owner.

Rosen's troubles reportedly began last month when Steinbrenner replaced Lemmon, a close friend of Rosen's and a former teammate on the Cleveland Indians, with Martin about four months before Martin was due to return to the team.

And Martin failed to return seven phone calls from Rosen during the Yankees' West Coast road trip last week and Steinbrenner and Rosen were reported to have had a shouting match over the telephone regarding the rescheduling of last Friday's nationally televised game against the California Angels.

When Steinbrenner berated Commissioner Bowie Kuhn about the starting change from 7:30 p.m. PDT, to 5:15 p.m. to accommodate the telecast, he learned that Rosen had accepted the change.

"There is no doubt, as in any venture, that George and I have had disagreements," Rosen said. "However, I want to make it positively clear to everyone that they never involved any shouting or yelling matches. Our close friendship of 15 years would preclude any overt altercations."

Tim Mara obtained the New York Giant National Football League franchise for $500 in 1925.

Astro Lead Drops To Four Games

PITTSBURGH (AP) - For better and for worse, the Pittsburgh Pirates and Houston Astros both picked up where they left off before the All-Star break.

"You've got to play like this to win a pennant," Phil Garner said Thursday night after he, Willie Stargell and John Milner rapped homers to help the surging Pirates sweep a doubleheader from Houston 9-5, 4-2.

"We're going through one of those things," said Manager Bill Virdon of the Astros, sagging leaders in the National League West.

The Pirates, winners of four in a row and eight of their last nine games, climbed to within 2 1/2 games of first-place Montreal in the NL East.

"We're a second-half ballclub, and we're excited at being this close," said Pirate second baseman Rennie Stennett. "We know we have to play September ball from now on, and we know we have the club to do it."

Houston, by contrast, has lost 10 of its last 21 games, and its lead in the NL West has been cut to four games over Cincinnati.

"We're not putting runs together," Virdon said. "Our pitching wasn't really that bad tonight. The long balls made the difference."

Art Howe had four hits for the Astros in the opener, to no avail.

"We're still on top. Once we get things together, we'll widen that lead again," Howe said. "Myself, I'd like to play Cincinnati the rest of the year to find out who is better." In the nightcap, Milner hit a first-inning homer and Bruce Kison blanked the Astros on four hits until the ninth, when he needed relief help from Grant Jackson.

Milner's homer followed Tim Foli's single off loser Joe Niekro, 13-5. Pittsburgh added two more in the fifth on an RBI single by Kison and a sacrifice fly by Dave Parker.

After allowing a one-out single to Ashby in the third, Kison, 6-4, retired 17 consecutive batters until he ran into trouble in the ninth.

In the opener, the score was tied twice before Garner's two-run homer in the sixth inning gave the Pirates a 7-5 lead. "I haven't hit the ball well with men on base. It felt good to get a game winner," said Garner, who'd been sidelined since July with a hand injury.

Stargell had broken a 3-3 tie in the third with his 19th homer after a walk to Parker.

Loser Ken Forsch, 9-6, worked the first six innings and gave up seven runs. Dave Roberts, 1-2, pitched 2 2/3 innings of scoreless relief to earn the triumph.

"You've got to have the pitching," said Garner. "And you've got to have guys coming off the bench to do a job like Milner did tonight. You have to do that to win a pennant."

free agent rookie quarterback Steve Kraus of Westminster the other a 28-yarder from free agent rookie Al LaMura of Missouri Valley.

"He's a big target and he runs faster than it looks," offensive coordinator Dan Reeves said of Cosbie. "He made two great catches."

Kraus also threw a 27-yard screen pass to fullback Todd Christensen that went for a touchdown. Christensen was last year's No. 2 draft pick who spent the season on injured reserve. He's working in the backfield again, after a two-week experiment at tight end.

The highlight of the Thursday workout was a brief rookie scrimmage. Tight end Doug Cosbie, third-round draft choice from Santa Clara, caught two touchdown passes during the scrimmage.

One was a 34-yard toss from lander Dennis Clark, both at 141.

Nicklaus shot six birdies on the first 10 holes but had to settle for a 2-under 69 after a disastrous back nine. Clark, a former New Zealand amateur, also shot a 2-under 69.

Ballesteros' 65 was the best round of the day. It equaled the course record that Longmuir also had equaled the day before.

Ballesteros' round was remarkable in that he birdied four of the last five holes. The back stretch is regarded as the most difficult part of the course, and it finished off such dogged competitors as defending champion Jack Nicklaus.

"Sevvy's finish must have been fabulous," Irwin said, and the jovial young Latin modestly thought so too.

But he was willing to give much of the credit to Trevino, who played with him.

"At the 10th hole, he (Trevino) pointed out that I was not following through with my left leg. That helped me. After that, I played better," Ballesteros said.

Longmuir, the 26-year-old former truck driver who shot 65 Wednesday, was far from downhearted about finishing the second day in third place.

"I am not at all depressed," he said. "I didn't play well, but I tried hard, and I got as many pars as possible. It could have been a lot worse."

Behind fourth-placed Watson were, Nicklaus and New Zea-

Rookies Hold Scrimmage

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) - Veteran center John Fitzgerald will be out of action until Monday at the Dallas Cowboys training camp. While the other veterans and rookies continued two-a-day workouts Thursday, Fitzgerald was having an abscessed molar extracted.

The highlight of the Thursday workout was a brief rookie scrimmage. Tight end Doug Cosbie, third-round draft choice from Santa Clara, caught two touchdown passes during the scrimmage.

Cousineau Signs CFL Pact

By BARRY WILNER AP Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) - As a kid, Tom Cousineau never dreamed he'd be a pioneer.

Just a couple of months ago, when he was the No. 1 pick in the National Football League draft, the Ohio State All-American linebacker appeared on the verge of accomplishing a childhood ambition. Now he may become known as a sporting trendsetter.

"Any kid in the U.S. playing football grows up dreaming to play in the NFL," Cousineau said Thursday after signing a multiyear contract with the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League. "I'm no exception but this is a very positive move."

"It's a possibility it will set a precedent. But that's not why I did it."

That the 22-year-old, 6-foot-3, 227-pound Cousineau did was become the first top pick in the NFL draft ever to bypass the NFL and sign with another league. He turned down what the Buffalo Bills termed "an offer in excess of any ever sought by a No. 1 draft choice."

He did it because the Alouettes' package outdid the Bills' best offer.

Although terms of the contract were not disclosed, Jimmy Walsh, Cousineau's attorney, said: "Montreal won more than Buffalo lost. It was a better business deal for Tom in Montreal. Better for money and from other standpoints."

Cousineau's signing lends credence to the CFL's position as a viable alternative to the NFL for graduating collegians.

"Jimmy came to us about a month ago," Alouettes General Manager Bob Geary said. "I guess he was looking for someone to compete with the Bills. We thought we lost him two weeks ago. It was a monetary thing but we got it worked out."

The CFL season began two weeks ago and Cousineau said he will be ready to step into the lineup next Wednesday.

"I'm in good shape. There'll be a period of adjustment to a different game," he said. In Canadian ball, there are 12 men on the field at once, a team gets just three downs to move the ball 10 yards and the field is 110 by 65 yards.

"But it's that way for any player coming out of college. In college, especially in the Big Ten, you don't see the passing game like in the pros. In Canada, because it's so wide open, the passing game is even more important."

"I set a standard for myself and I expect to live up to it."

The Alouettes, who have been in the Grey Cup (the CFL's Super Bowl) four of the past five years, winning in 1974 and 1977, expect him to live up to their deal. Other American stars, such as Johnny Rodgers and Anthony Davis, have bolted for the NFL in the midst of their pacts with CFL teams.

"There is nothing in his contract to allow him to play in the NFL before his contract ends here," said Robert Berger, vice president of the Alouettes and son of team owner Sam Berger.

"He's not a slave and we want him to be happy, like all our players. But there is no 'escape clause.'"

Irwin Leads British Open By Two Strokes

By WINSOR DOBBIN AP Sports Writer LETHAM ST. ANNES, Eng land (AP) - Golf fanatics have argued for years whether the U.S. Open or the British Open is the world's leading tournament.

Hale Irwin, the current U.S. Open champion, doesn't profess to have the answer. But he could well answer the question "who is the Open champion?" by winning the British tournament as well.

Irwin went into today's third round at Lytham St. Annes with a 2-stroke advantage over young Spaniard Severiano Ballesteros.

Irwin shot his second successive 68 for a 6-under-par total of 136.

"There are those in the States who feel the U.S. Open is the tournament that matters," Irwin said. "Our friends across the pond think this is the big one. To win both would really settle the argument as to who won the Open."

The last man to win both opens in the same year was Lee Trevino in 1971.

"I would dearly love to win the British Open," Irwin said. "It would be a big, big feather in my cap. It is pretty special."

Irwin's round included three birdies on the front nine and not a single bogey. The round lifted the bespectacled American above overnight leader Bill Longmuir.

The little-known Briton shot a 3-over-par 74 to end the day at 139, one shot behind Ballesteros. Two-time British Open winner Tom Watson was fourth at 140, after carding a 3-under 68.

Ballesteros' 65 was the best round of the day. It equaled the course record that Longmuir also had equaled the day before.

Ballesteros' round was remarkable in that he birdied four of the last five holes. The back stretch is regarded as the most difficult part of the course, and it finished off such dogged competitors as defending champion Jack Nicklaus.

Reinfeldt Signs Contract

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) - Houston Oiler starting safety Mike Reinfeldt today has a signed contract and an unworried mind as he and the other Oiler veterans begin their first day of training camp at Angelo State University.

"I didn't want to be a holdout so I'm glad we've got it set-led." The third-year pro said Thursday after signing a multi-year contract. "I was looking for a little longer contract and that's what I eventually got."

Oiler rookies have drilled since July.

Reinfeldt, who had signed a pair of one year pacts with the Oilers, said he could now concentrate on helping the Oilers become a better defensive unit.

"When you sign one year contracts, you spend about three or four months in the off season worrying about that," he said.

The signing of Reinfeldt means there are only two Oilers without contracts.

Angry Dinner Goes Nicely

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Well, Ron Dillman somehow pulled it off again.

He threw his annual bash, a dinner for the town's 100 angriest, most outspoken, most critical citizens, all collected in one room. Dickey. Yet not a single fist fight broke out, not even a respectable shouting match.

The event was his yearly Letters-to-the-Editor banquet.

"It never crossed my mind that anything untoward might happen," Dillman said. "This was our 16th banquet. Every one has been a pleasant, stimulating occasion. Don't forget, these are thoughtful, concerned people."

My, yes. They are the ones who remind us to pray, feed the birds, be temperate and fly the flag on the Fourth.

But they are also the rare ones in this impersonal society who are willing to discipline their thoughts, write them down, sign their names, take the heat and be involved.

In an age of letter-writing machines and recorded phone answers, real human beings who actually take pen in hand fall in the category of an endangered species.

Ron Dillman is the addressee. He is editor of the Commercial-News, the target of the thoughtful, concerned messages that appear daily under the heading "Your Views."

A sampling: "Your readers may be uninformed but are not as dumb as you think." So began Dan Brown's letter. Dan was at the party.

"Where do you get off?" wrote Sandra Purdy. "How can you tell people how to live? Who do you think you are?" Ms. Purdy was at the party, too.

Those are the sort of letters, out of about 899 his paper receives each year, that earn their authors a chance to eat beef (appropriately) with Dillman and his staff.

The idea of throwing a party for the 100 "best" letters was that of a former editorial-page editor, Bob Wright, since retired. Ron Dillman went for it in a hurry.

"We're serious about involving ourselves with our readers, finding out what they expect of us," he said.

"Every two or three months, we pick about 50 citizens at random, sometimes just take names out of the phone book. We invite them to a restaurant and ask them to tell us what we are doing right and what we are doing wrong. We call these meetings accountability sessions. Sometimes they get downright nasty."

SUZY CHAFFEE'S fancy moves are not restricted to the ski slopes. Now she has taken up roller skating along the sidewalks of New York. "Skating is great for coping with the energy problems and it's healthy," she explains.

Today In History

By the Associated Press

Today is Friday, July 20, the 201st day of 1979. There are 164 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1969, American astronauts Neil Armstrong and Edwin Aldrin Jr. became the first men to land on the moon. Armstrong said, "That's one small step for man, one giant leap for mankind."

On this date: In 1910, the South American country of Colombia declared independence from Spain.

In 1861, the Congress of the Confederacy began holding sessions in Richmond, Va.

In 1917, the lottery draft in World War I went into operation.

In 1944, Radio Berlin reported that Adolf Hitler had narrowly escaped death in a bomb plot.

In 1945, the U.S. flag was raised over Berlin as American troops prepared to take part in the occupation government after World War II.

In 1953, the Soviet Union and Israel established diplomatic relations.

Ten years ago: John Fairfax of Britain was being honored in Hollywood, Fla., after becoming the first person ever to row alone across the Atlantic.

Five years ago: Heavy fighting raged on Cyprus after an invasion by Turkey, and the U.N. Security Council was called into urgent session to discuss the situation.

One year ago: There was a revolt in Bolivia against the government of President Hugo Banzer Suarez.

Today's birthdays: Explorer and mountain climber Edmund Hillary is 60 years old. Auto executive Benson Ford also is 60.

Thought for today: We may well go to the moon, but that's not very far. The greatest distance we have to cover still lies within us - French President Charles de Gaulle, 1980-1970.

Local Toastmasters Welcome Members

Betty Roberts and Bob Nigh were welcomed as new members when Toastmasters International Club No. 275 met in regular session Thursday morning at Dickie's Restaurant. Guests Bill Sarpalus and David Alvarado were also welcomed by the group, which included 14 other members.

while Rocky Lee acted as Table Topic Master.

Mrs. Roberts won best speaker of the day honors following her "ice breaker" speech entitled "I Am A Woman." Bill Allen was voted best evaluator, while Nigh and Mrs. Kelly tied for best table topic speaker.

President Janice Kelly presided over the business session after which the program was turned over to Toastmaster for the Day, B.J. Gilliland. Nigh introduced the word for the day, which was "languid." Greg Black was Chief Evaluator.

Others giving speeches were Bill Dannevik and James Self. Other table topic speakers included Clyde Bonner and Bob Hillerby.

The Toastmasters meet every Thursday at 6:30 a.m. at Dickie's. Visitors are welcome.

Post-13 Funds Cause Strikes, Sickouts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Despite predictions a year ago that California's passage of revenue-slashing Proposition 13 would cause local governments to crumble and public employees to revolt, not much happened.

Until now. Frustrated with few or no pay raises from depleted post-13 coffers and goaded by double-digit inflation, thousands of government workers have taken to the streets in sickouts and illegal strikes.

It is "only the tip of the iceberg," says William Robertson, head of the powerful AFL-CIO Los Angeles County Federation of Labor.

Tens of thousands more workers — from garbage men to police officers to teachers — could be on strike by September.

Are the long-predicted doomsday chickens coming home to roost with Proposition 13?

Much of the answer will depend on a current budget battle between Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. and the state Legislature. The legislators said they would try again today to override Brown.

California's largest and most volatile public labor group is its 220,000 state employees, who received no pay raise at all last year. Brown imposed a wage freeze when voters approved Proposition 13.

The historic ballot initiative, which slashed local property taxes by 57 percent, robbed local government coffers of $7 billion a year revenues, and Brown decided the money that would have gone for state pay raises was more urgently needed to bail out local governments.

Earlier this month, the Legislature voted to authorize a 14.5 percent wage boost to mollify bitter workers and help make up lost earnings. But Brown blue-penciled more than 5 percent of that raise.

An initial attempt by the Legislature to override the governor's cuts failed on Monday, which touched off a flurry of wildcat walkouts by state workers.

If the funds are not restored in legislative action today or sometime soon, says Keith Hearn of the giant California State Employees Association, massive strikes and sickouts are inevitable.

Workers were angry and disappointed — maybe somewhat intimidated — when Governor Brown slapped on the pay freeze and hiring freeze after Proposition 13. But in the face of possible massive layoffs of public workers, they didn't do anything," Hearn says.

"They're not going to put up with it again this year, and unless we get an equitable raise, we're going to see lots of strikes."

The following job actions occurred this month alone:

—Los Angeles County, the nation's largest with more than 7 million residents and 70,000 employees, has been plagued with two weeks of "rolling sickouts" that have hobbled hospitals, the sheriff's department and other agencies.

—Police in suburban Santa Monica staged a three-week sickout that forced weary supervisors and administrators to drive patrol cars and work 12-hour shifts seven days a week.

—The Southern California inland hub of Riverside was struck by city workers for the first time in its 106-year history.

—Sheriff's deputies in San Bernardino County are staging a work slowdown. Deputies in Monterey County struck for four days. —Garbage collectors in the agricultural heartland city of Fresno staged a week-long sick-out and strike.

—In San Diego County, the AFL-CIO Central Labor Council formed a special Public Employees Council to coordinate actions of several unions that officials say are likely to strike.

"The outlook is not very good," says Lori Kakos of San Diego's labor council. "Workloads have increased, but the money hasn't. Morale is way down."

Between April and June, strikes and sickouts were staged by State Water Project workers, the California Highway Patrol, state prison guards, Riverside County employees and Santa Barbara County office workers and sheriff's deputies.

Discontent also is running high among many of the state's 250,000 teachers, according to John Donaldson of the California Federation of Teachers. CTA represents 187,000 of those teachers.

"Only about 20 percent of the school districts in the state have signed contracts for next year, and I expect that by the time September rolls around, strikes will either prevent schools from opening or occur shortly thereafter at 20 to 40 major districts," Donaldson said.

Before Proposition 13, local governments simply adjusted property tax rates upward to cover increased costs. That ended with 13, which mandated a property tax ceiling of 1 percent of assessed valuation.

Now "bailout funds" from the state have become essential to local governments, and it is difficult for cities and counties to settle labor contracts until they know how much money they will have.

Last year, the state quickly came through with $5 billion in emergency funds, but this year's bailout plan became bogged down in the state Legislature.

As a result, many local governments have stood firm on their meager pay raise proposals — Los Angeles County was offering just over 2 percent — while contracts expired and workers resorted to strikes, sickouts and slowdowns.

"You don't hear many complaints when workers in the private sector get raises of 8, 10 or even 12 percent," Hearn said bitterly. "It is ridiculous to believe that public employees should settle for less."

Song Promoter Does Job via Telephone Calls

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Pam Zimmerman picks up her tan telephone, dials radio station KGLO in Mason City, Iowa, and chats informally with music director Steve Locker for 20 minutes.

They discuss the weather, his recent minor illness, his work schedule and make other small talk.

Then she asks the bombshell: "Are you adding Waylon this week?"

Translated, she wants to know if the station has added Waylon Jennings' current record to its playlist.

Ms. Zimmerman does not sing, play the guitar or write songs, but she has an important job in the Nashville music business.

It's her job to call radio stations and try to get them to play songs recorded by artists at RCA Records and its subsidiary, Free Flight Records.

Her title is RCA's Nashville manager for small market promotions. And if you think your teen-age daughter ties up the phone, you ought to see Ms. Zimmerman.

She's on the phone eight hours a day, calling radio stations in towns like Poughkeepsie, N.Y., Titusville, Fla.,

Bemidji, Minn., Chehalis, Wash., Coquille, Ore., and Santa Maria, Calif.

She is, in the final analysis, a combination salesperson-telephone solicitor.

Her calls follow a predictable one-two step. First, there's small talk.

Then she asks if the station is playing a certain RCA record. If not, she gently suggests that the music director listen to it — again if he's already heard it. She may also say that the song is selling well or cite other stations that have added it to their playlists.

During her call to Locker, he told her his station was adding a competing record.

"Oh boy," she told him. "What (chart) action have you seen on it?"

Near the end of the 30-minute conversation, she suggests: "Listen to the Waylon record again. You'll love it."

She doesn't go for the throat. Says an associate, "She's real smooth."

Her orange-carpeted, well-appointed office is a tribute to her telephone touch. In it are cigarette lighters, T-shirts, a pink Easter bunny and other gifts sent to her by her telephone acquaintances.

"Honestly, I have people who call and say, 'Where have you been. You haven't called lately.'"

She uses a WATS line and the receiver has a shoulder rest. On her desk on a yellow sheet of paper is a roster of 200 stations with the name of their music director, telephone number and a space for her notes.

On the wall behind her is a map with flags stuck into cities with stations that she calls. On a wall facing her is a blackboard with the names of artists across the top and a listing of stations playing the artists' current song below each name.

There are occupational hazards, like laryngitis.

"Yea, you get it occasionally," she chuckled. "I'm fighting strep throat right now."

Here's the Answer
By ANDY LANG AP Newsfeatures

Q. — There is aluminum siding on our house. It has been there for many years and seems to be in good condition, but we would like to change the color of it. Can it be repainted and, if so, will it last as long as longer than paint on wood?
A. — Yes, it can be repainted. Because it is all impervious to moisture, the aluminum's new coat of paint is likely to last two or three times as long as paint applied to wood.

Q. — I do not understand how young people can buy homes these days. Is there something about the situation that I do not know?
A. — A survey last year showed that 45 percent of a home-buying families had more than one wage earner. That one explanation. Another, that despite the high price and soaring interest rate people have discovered that home ownership gives them at least a partial defense against inflation, since most houses appreciate 10 to 15 percent in value every year.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Basic calorie equation

DEAR DR. LAMB — No, no, a thousand times no. Your statement that overweight people are warmer because they have the insulation of fat simply cannot go unchallenged. There is an important area that you people in medical science forget. You're always saying that the calories consumed must be less than the calories expended. That's frustrating even if it is true.

You've forgotten about basal metabolism. My thin husband can sit and read in the depths of winter in a cool house wearing a sleeveless shirt with perfect comfort. It seems reasonable to assume that he can do this because he's able to burn food for warmth. On the other hand, overweight people are only warm during or following vigorous exercise.

I realize that for some, thyroid deficiency is the culprit. I've had my thyroid tested and it's normal. Of course, the thyroid is involved in metabolism. I suggest that researchers should study the thin as well as the obese to find out what the problem is. We deserve a better answer than simply that the output must exceed the intake.

DEAR READER — You have quite a few misconceptions in your letter that deserve to be clarified. In the first place, whether you feel hot or cold has very little to do with what your body temperature really is. We know that skin temperature is not a reliable indication of body temperature. That's one reason that we prefer to put the thermometer under the tongue and some prefer a rectal temperature. We have such a thing as core temperature which is the temperature we use to study metabolism.

A person may feel hot or cold in relationship to the blood flow to the skin. That's where the nerve fibers are that give you the sensation of being hot or cold regardless of what your body temperature really is. Exercise, particularly if it's vigorous, increases body temperature and stimulates an increased circulation to the skin so that excess body heat can be lost. When this occurs, the skin is warmed and you feel warmer.

So the real culprit isn't necessarily thyroid, but it has a lot to do in many instances with the circulation in the skin.

And what makes you think that most fat people are cold? I've received letters from numerous overweight people complaining about feeling hot while their spouses were perfectly cool. And what makes you think people haven't studied thin people? The truth is they have.

And what makes you think that outgo or use of calories doesn't include basal metabolism? Of course it does. The calories used by your body depend on the calories used at rest and during exercise. So the basic equation used by nutritionists that "calories in" equals the "calories used" by your body plus the "calories stored" as fat applies whether you like it or not. I wish I could change it for all the people who have trouble with calories but there's no way I can.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm a 21-year-old college student and I really have a problem with bad breath. I had my usual dental checkup before returning to school in the fall and had a cavity or two filled. I thought this would take care of the problem. However, it hasn't. It is constantly bad. It doesn't come and go. I was wondering if you would have any suggestions as to what else might cause it or what I might do to alleviate it before I lose all my friends.

DEAR READER — Your idea that a dental checkup would solve your problem simply emphasizes how effective advertising has been that bad breath is limited to the mouth. That's not really true. Bad breath is a symptom and it can be caused by many factors.

Anyone who has a constant problem such as you describe should certainly see his dentist. During such a visit it's important to ask about breath. Regardless of how good you are at keeping your own teeth clean, there are other dental problems that can cause bad breath. These include pyorrhea or infections around the roots of the teeth that you can't simply brush away.

There are other things in the mouth besides your teeth that can cause bad breath. One of the most common causes for bad breath that is often ignored is the tongue. It needs to be cleaned and brushed regularly just as your teeth are. Why? Because food and secretions are deposited on the tongue. Bacteria can grow on this food just the same as they can with food particles around your teeth. Everyone should brush their tongue regularly.

Because bad breath is a symptom and has many causes and you need to understand it, I am sending you The Health Letter number 9-4, Halitosis: The Breath Problem And What To Do About It. Other readers who want this issue can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

As The Health Letter I'm sending you explains, you can also have bad breath from the sinuses and the throat.

And bad breath can come from the lungs. That may surprise you. You can understand it, though, when you realize that an alcoholic breath is caused by alcohol escaping from your blood directly into your tiny air sacs and passing out with air.

That also explains why mouth washes and various tooth pastes are of limited value. You may temporarily mask the odor coming from your lungs but you won't get rid of it unless the basic problem is corrected.

Abnormal chemicals coming out of your bloodstream can occur with a variety of illnesses or problems. Bad breath can be caused by a poor diet, particularly one that's markedly restricted in carbohydrates and causes the formation of chemicals we call ketones. All of this means that if there's nothing in your dental or nose and throat area, you should see your family doctor for an overall check to see if there's any other factor related to your body chemistry that can contribute to bad breath.

Of course, there are a host of things people can do for themselves. You might think about these before you do anything else. These include avoiding any foods or spices that contribute to odors. The classic ones in this example might be onions, garlic and other spices. It's also important to eliminate cigarettes. Many coffee drinkers don't realize it but a lot of coffee will produce an odor as well.

Finally, sleeping at night with your mouth open dries the mouth and inhibits the normal cleansing action of saliva. This can lead to a foul odor when you first get up.

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY — My draperies with foam backing came with directions saying to wash them in the washer and then tumble dry. My problem is I do not have a washer and dryer — just a wringer type machine. I cannot afford the price of a dryer asks for doing this. They really need cleaning and I thought you might tell me how I could wash them. — WINIFRED

DEAR WINIFRED — I suggest that you take your curtains to a coin laundromat where they have washers and dryers that could be used according to your directions. If that is not possible perhaps you have a neighbor or friend who would let you use theirs. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — When making large amounts of chili, stew, soup, etc. to go in the freezer I put it in ice cube trays with the dividers removed. I line each tray with foil, let it hang over the sides and put these trays in the freezer. When they're frozen I fold the excess foil over the contents, remove from trays and put in plastic bags. These shapes stack nicely and do not take much room in the freezer. — MRS. G.R.B.

DEAR POLLY — I like to make latch hook rugs and find the work is easier to do on a hard surface but I also like to be in the living room with my husband while he watches TV. So I put my adjustable ironing board in front of the couch where I sit and set it at the correct height for my work. I have a comfortable level for my work area where I can relax, look at TV, listen to my husband's comments and spend an enjoyable evening working on my rug.

Such an ironing board can also be used as a TV table in front of the couch, with a pretty cover on it. An adjustable ironing board can also be used for a bed tray when one is confined to bed, or for a typing desk with room for spreading one's papers out. — EVELYN

DEAR POLLY — When heating milk or cream soups first rinse the pan with cold water. Do not dry and then find the soup or milk will not scorch. — MRS. J.M.

Polly will send you one of her signed thank you newspaper coupon clippers if she sees your favorite Pointer, Peeve or Problem in her column. Write POLLY'S POINTERS in care this newspaper.

FAITH CAN PROVIDE COMFORT WHEN SORROW STRIKES

Sooner or later, sorrow must cast its dark shadow over all our lives, in many forms and in varying degrees; either directly or indirectly through someone we know. It may be occasioned by the death of a loved one or a dear friend; or possibly a major event such as a broken relationship, a career disappointment or a child in deep trouble. Whatever the source, God's love is ever present to provide comfort and a positive way out of the abyss of sadness; and once you have discovered this, you can help someone else to find it. If you acquire the habit of seeking God's guidance at the Church of your choice BEFORE sorrow strikes, you will automatically do so whenever it does.

For what human ill does not dawn seem to be an alleviation?
