Oil Profits Intensify Tax Push

NEW YORK (AP) - The Carter administration says the recent profits of oil companies demonstrate the need for a "windfall-profits tax." But analysts say the president's proposal would have had little impact on those earnings.

With several oil companies reporting their profits at least doubled in the third quarter over last year, the administration has renewed efforts to push the controversial tax through Congress.

Conoco Inc., the nation's ninth-largest oil company, said Tuesday its thirdquarter earnings were 134 percent above last year's third quarter - more than double. Gulf Oil Corp., ranked fifth, reported a 97 percent increase.

Earlier, Exxon, the world's largest oil company, had posted a 118 percent gain for the quarter; Standard Oil Co. (Indiana), a 49 percent increase; and Atlantic Richfield Co., 45 percent.

"The third-quarter earnings reports of major U.S. oil companies dramatize the merits of our proposed windfall-profits tax, which is fair both to the oil companies and to the American people," Treasury Secretary G. William Miller said Tuesday, echoing a statement the president made Monday.

Miller said the tax is needed to develop alternate energy sources and assist poor families overburdened with high fuel

President Carter proposed the tax earlier this year to dampen the profits oil companies earn from the decontrol of domestic crude-oil prices, which began several months ago. The tax actually would be on the extra revenue, not profits, from decontrol. Without the tax, oil companies would keep more of the

Asking for Pledge

United Way volunteer Bob Gentry calls a local business this week to follow up on a previous phone call urging participation in this year's Deaf Smith County United Way campaign. Most businesses in Hereford have been contacted by letter and telephone, and pledges are scheduled to be turned into Sugarland Mall Thursday. Anyone wanting to contribute who has not been contacted by United Way workers may call the United Way office today or the YMCA in the mall Thursday. AMA Said Wrong For Restricting Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) - The American Medical Association illegally restrained competition among its physician members by restricting their advertising and solicitation of patients, the Federal Trade Commission decided today.

The commission ordered the AMA to stop imposing the restrictions. But, reversing an earlier initial decision by an FTC administrative law judge, the ruled that the AMA I "reasonable ethical guidelines" governing acceptable advertising. "Ethical principles of the medical profession have prevented doctors and organizations from medical disseminating information on the prices and services they offer, thus severely inhibiting competition among health care providers," commissioner David Clanton said in the FTC opinion. "It is especially important that price advertising remain as unfettered as possible," the opinion added. Although the AMA had no immediate comment today, the association is thought likely to appeal the FTC's ruling decision, the AMA said it would appeal any unfavorable ruling. In permitting the AMA to publish "reasonable ethical guidelines," the commission recognized that the association has a valuable role to play in deceptive advertising by physicians. In allowing some self-regulation of advertising and solicitation, the FTC declined to follow the law judge's preliminary ruling, which came nearly a year ago.

That decision would have barred the AMA from any regulation of physician advertising for two years and would have allowed the AMA to issue advertising guidelines thereafter only with FTC approve'.

The law judge, Ernest G. Barnes, had said the AMA's prohibition against its members soliciting patients has devel-

He's already anted up a campaign contribution. And Jimmy Carter hasn't even gone through the formality of saying he'll run.

Press secretary Jody Powell; U.S. Marshal Earle McLauglin of Burlington, Vt.; James Earl Carter III, son of the president; Anne Wexler, an assistant to the president, and her husband, Joseph D. Duffey, chairman of the National Endowment for the Humanities, didn't wait either.

Each gave $250 to the Carter campaign.

In politics, early money is the best. It provides the wherewithal for a campaign. to break quickly from the starting gate; it is the money that raises more money.

A number of those who work in the White House, in U.S. embassies abroad and in the bureaucracy have hurried in to help Jimmy Carter with campaign contributions.

Reports on file at the Federal Election Commission show that John M. Sullivan, a Carter classmate at Annapolis appointed to run the Federal Railroad Administration, also gave Carter $250, as did his wife, his son and his daughter.

Gene Stuckey, a rural mail carrier in Statesboro, Ga., and his wife, Nellie, gave $1,000 each. Stuckey is past president of the Georgia Rural Letter Carriers Association.

Of course, most of the $2.4 million raised so far by the Carter-Mondale Presidential Committee came frompeople outside government. And there is nothing in the law to prevent people who owe their jobs to Jimmy Carter from contributing to his campaign.

As yet, there's no accounting for how much money supporters of Sen. Edward

Justice Department Files SEDCO Lawsuit

HOUSTON (AP) - The Justice Department, claiming SEDCO Inc. used an unseaworthy rig and caused the massive Gulf of Mexico oil spill, has filed a multi-million dollar claim against the company founded by Texas Gov. Bill Clements.

Clements, whose interest in SEDCO has been placed in a blind trust, said Tuesday in Austin that the claim was "purely politically motivated."

The Dallas company is operated by Clements' son Gill.

The Republican governor said the federal government under President Carter's administration was "twirping the same song" as top Democrats inside Texas who have filed suits or called for SEDCO to offer compensation.

The Justice Department filed its claim in U.S. District Court in Houston, asking $6 million for cleanup costs and an undetermined but "substantial" amount for SEDCO owned the oil rig used to drill the Ixtoc I oil well in the Bay of Campeche when it blew out June 3.

The thousands of barrels of oil discharged daily mounted to become the world's largest oil spill, some of it arriving months later to soil Texas beaches and threaten ecologically sensitive waterways.

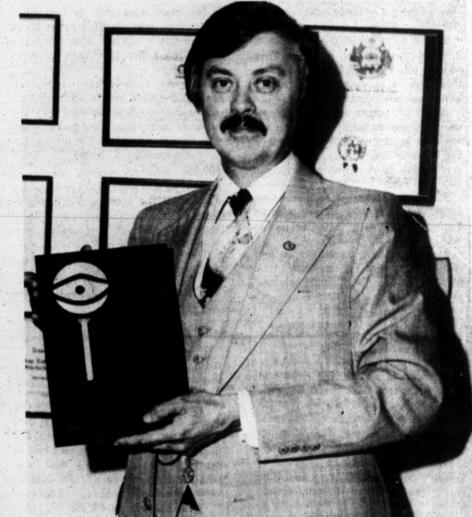

The Justice Department claimed SEDCO's oil rig was unseaworthy and its crew incompetent and negligent.

The claim was filed in response to SEDCO's attempt to have a federal judge clear it of all blame or limit liability to $300,000, the amount the company said it would have earned through leasing the rig to a Mexican oil drilling firm.

The Justice Department also filed a (See LAWSUIT, Page 2)

Clutching copies of hospital and doctor bills, 400 elderly activists swarmed over Capitol Hill on Tuesday to complain for themselves and to put in a word for their children who are also bent over by explosive health care costs.

Their stories included: -Evelyn Donner Day of Mequon, Wis., who brandished a bill of $25,155.50 for 39 days in the hospital for heart

-Dorothy Ryan of Youngstown, Ohio, who said the family of a friend who died of a stroke was charged thousands of dollars for "hospital incidentals." She held aloft the total bill that came to

-House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, who told the group about one of his employees, who complained of dizzy spells and went to a local hospital. Four hours later he was told he had high blood pressure, and presented a bill for $1,150.

Rachael Doll of York, Pa., who said her husband's medical bills following a heart attack were covered by insurance, but added, "a lot of people don't have the insurance."

What they want is congressional passage of an administration bill that would force most of the nation's hospitals to hold down their expenses or else be slapped with federal mandatory controls on their revenues.

"People are hurting," said Bill Hutton, executive director of the National Council of Senior Citizens. "We must put a stop to these unbearable hospital costs.

It won't be an easy fight though. Those wanting controls on hospital revenues are up against medical groups that have poured hundreds of thousands of dollars into the so-far successful drive to stave them off.

Prosecutor Storms

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) - A prosecutor stomped out of the courtroom during Cullen Davis' murder-solicitation trial, complaining that the third wife of the millionaire industrialist was allowed to give "non-responsive and self-serv-

Begin Wins Test

In Israeli Session

JERUSALEM (AP) - Prime Minister Menachem Began won his first test in the winter session of the Israeli Parliament as predicted, defeating a parcel of five no-confidence motions by a 12-vote margin.

Corn in Storage

Up from Year Ago

WASHINGTON (AP) - Corn in storage from previous crops totaled 1.29 billion bushels on Oct. 1, up 16 percent from a year ago, says the Agriculture Department.

The Oct. 1 corn inventory also was the highest at the beginning of a new harvest season since 1964 when about 1.54 billion bushels were on hand, the department said Tuesday.

Farmers are currently harvesting a record corn crop estimated at 7.39 billion bushels. The Oct 1 "carryover" of old corn plus the new harvest will represent most of the U.S. supply of feed grains through 1979-80.

But demand for corn and other grain is expected to hit a record level in the coming year, including potentially record sales to the Soviet Union.

Thus, Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland officially announced Monday that farmers will not be required to set aside part of their land in order to qualify for price supports on feed grains next year. A similar suspension was announced for wheat growers on Aug. 1.

The inventory report, issued quarterly by USDA, said 60 percent of the old-crop corn as of Oct. 1 was stored on farms, about the same proportion as a year ago when old-crop corn totaled about 1.1 million bushels.

Cheerleader Dies in Celina

CELÍNA, Texas (AP) - Cindy Morris died suddenly, almost thankfully, without pain and without suffering.

The 17-year-old Celina cheerleader, paralyzed in a fall last August, died of internal bleeding early Tuesday.

School Superintendent Perry Morris said his daughter's work here was done, and she had suffered enough.

"I know she wouldn't have been happy. She told me Saturday, she told me and her mother: ' I'll walk again. I'll either walk here or I'll walk in heaven," said Morris. Cindy died at 2:05 a.m. Tuesday at Presbyterian Hospital in Dallas. Her mother, Verna, was with her, Morris said. She had been scheduled to enter a rehabilitation clinic in Houston later this week.

The Good Lord was not go-fer," Morris said. "For her to lie there the rest of her life, we just don't feel that was her purpose."

Cindy was the object of a day of fund-raising activities in her hometown of Celina a month ago, billed Cindy Morris Day.

Local residents held a bake sale, a magic show, a garage sale, kissing booths and games to raise money for Cindy's soaring medical bill. More than $50,000 had been raised to offset the $1,000-per-day medical bills.

"Everybody has been real good," said Morris. He said Cindy, who was stricken with cancer of the kidney at the age of 7 but had overcome the disease, had kept her spirits high until the end.

"She's touched a lot of lives in the last two months. We feel that was her purpose here - to help someone else," he said.

"We feel like Cindy is in a Celina, a small town in Collin" better place now. She's happy now. She's walking now," he Morris said Cindy died when a blood vessel in her neck ruptured and "she just bled to death." He said the artery had been weakened by a breathing device inserted in her neck, without which she would have suffocated.

Hans Shultz, assistant director of nursing at Presbyterian, said Cindy had hemorrhaged slightly Monday but X-rays in the afternoon and again at midnight revealed no problem. But she began hemorrhaging again about 1 a.m. and died an hour

"All the nurses that had taken care of her so long — they were all in tears because she was doing so well." Shultz said. Cindy was injured in August during a cheerleader workout in Minow said courts, the FTC and other federal agencies can regulate unfair practices by doctors. "What we ask is that we also have a role. We don't say that doctors have all the answers. But they have some."

The AMA's advertising restrictions are embodied in its Principles of Medical Ethics, adopted early in the century to help end medical quackery.

Barnes said the standards, as they prohibit advertising, are unfair and illegal because they eliminate comretition.

Contributions -

The restrictions seek to prevent a doctor from informing the public about his practice in any way that "sets him apart from other physicians," Barnes

He said doctors have conspired through the AMA and its affiliated state and county medical societies with the effect of depriving "consumers of the free flow of commercial information that is indispensable in making informed 200,000 members prevent customers from being told what health services are available. "The costs sto the public in terms of less expensive or even, perhaps, more improved forms of medical services, are great," he said.

State and local medical societies can take disciplinary steps against violators that can make it very difficult to practice medicine. The AMA, which represents about 60 percent of the nation's physicians, is the parent for many of the state and local medical associations that enforce the AMA codes.

Association lawyer Newton Minow, in urging the commissioners to overrule the law judge, said doctors' advertising has led to instances of patients being lured to doctors who cause them physical harm.

Movie producer Joseph E. Levine hedged his bet by giving $1,500 to a Draft Kennedy committee and $1,000 to Carter.

Not all of Carter's supporters are big names. Contributions arrived from the executive director of the President's Commission on Personnel Interchange; a member of the Joint Federal-State Land Use Commission in Anchorage, Alaska; the director of the Office of Foreign Disaster Assistance; and a member of the Federal Mine Safety and Health Review

Director Richard Celeste each gave $1.000.

Georgians W.B. Schwartz Jr. and Mrs. Anne C. Chambers, Carter's ambassadors to the Bahamas and Belgium respectively, sent in $1,000 each and so did their spouses. Milton Wolf, ambassador to Austria, gave $1,000. John C. West, ambassador to Saudi Arabia, gave $1,000 and his wife gave $500.

Among Carter's contributors from business are seven partners of Salomon Brothers, a Wall Street firm; three top executives of the Coca Cola Co.; Henry Ford II; Armand Hammer, president of Occidental Petroleum and his wife. Frances; Benjamin Swig, owner of San Francisco's Fairmont Hotel; and the chairmen or presidents of Delta Airlines: the Penn-Central Corp.; General Mills; Honeywell, Inc.; Merrill Lynch & Co.; Columbia Pictures; MCA Corp.; Caesar's World; and Orion Pictures.

Two ex-senators, Ralph Yarborough of Texas and Albert Gore of Tennessee, sent checks. And so did the mother of Sen. Dennis DeConcini, D-Ariz. Ivan Allen Jr., former mayor of Atlanta, and his wife gave $1,000 each.

Carter confidant Charles Kirbo gave $750 and his wife, $500. Frank Spinks, a Georgia public service commissioner, gave $1,000. Martin Luther King Jr.'s widow, Coretta, gave $500 and so did his Former New Mexico Gov. Jerry

Proposed Rule Will Make it Tough

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - It'll take more than a white coat and four tough years of training to become a dentist in Texas if the State Board of Dental. Examiners a adopts a proposed rule.

the licensing exam if the proposed rule goes into effect. Carl Hardin, board executive director, says the dental schools can no longer provide patients for the prospective dentists to work on during the licensing

"With the increase in the number of graduates from Texas schools and the increase in the number of out-of-state applicants, it has become impossible for the schools to furnish patients," says Hardin.

During the dental exam the applicant must show his skill by working on a live patient. Under current rules, the schools supply the test mouths. They are chosen from patients who go to the schools for low-cost dental care.

But there are not enough patients to go around, says the board in a rule proposed for Nov. 23 adoption. "Now maybe they'll have to get an uncle or something," Hardin said.

Under the proposed rule the board would set standards for In addition to the tough trainthe patients brought in by the ing and traditional garb, appliapplicants. Hardin said board cants will have to bring their members will check the patients own patient to work on during before the applicant begins the exam.

What about bringing a relative or friend who could be convinced to smile depite what was going on in his mouth? No advantage, says Hardin. "The question of family does not enter into it. Although the family member would smile and maybe not complain, the ultimate test is the expertise with which the work was done." said Hardin. Texas' three dental schools graduate about 450 prospective dentists a year, according to Hardin. He said

"There are times when I wonder myself who is driving, officer!"

IN WASHINGTON

Martha Angle and Robert Walters The 'character' quotient

WASHINGTON (NEA) - President Carter insists he hasn't sought to revive the memory of Chappaquiddick among Democratic voters, but that doesn't mean his campaign strategists ocratic voters, but that doesn't mean his campaign strategists are necessarily planning to ignore the issue.

No less an authority than Carter pollster Patrick H. Caddell predicts that Chappaquiddick will "of course" be an issue, in one guise or another, in any primary contest between the president and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

It's an integral part of the "character" issue that consistently has been one of Carter's greatest political assets, and Caddell believes there's no reason not to capitalize on that strength

Furthermore, Caddell says he agrees with the assessment of another prominent expert on public-opinion research, Peter D. Hart, that polls often underestimate Kennedy's Chappaquid-dick-related liabilities.

Hart told a press seminar held here recently that he is wary of poll results that indicate voters no longer care much about the 1969 incident in which a young woman drowned after an accident in Kennedy's car.

Questions about Chappaquiddick, as well as other sensitive or emotional issues that people aren't willing to discuss freely with a pollster, need to be phrased obliquely to produce meaningful results, Hart says.

In other words, some voters might respond "no" if asked whether they'd vote against Kennedy because of Chappaquiddick. But if those same people were asked indirect questions about whether Kennedy has the "character" to be president, the results might be strikingly different.

Connally seeks to peak — twice

Republican presidential hopeful John B. Connally is about to launch an expensive and unusually early television cam-paign built around a series of half-hour programs, each speci-ally designed for broadcast in a different region of the coun-

Although the timing appears to be premature, Connally and his advisers believe that Ronald Reagan, the putative leader in the contest for the GOP presidential nomination, is a "paper tiger" whose campaign will be among the first to

"If Connally is highly visible when Reagan falters, he could be perceived as the "giant killer" and the rightful heir to the position of front-runner.

In addition, there's a highly credible theory that holds that Connally must "peak" twice — once late this year to attract and then diffuse criticism of his character, then again next year to win the requisite primary elections.

The $1 million television campaign is seen by some observers as part of the strategy to encourage voters' doubts about Connally's "wheeler-dealer" image to surface and be favorably resolved in 1979 rather than in 1980.

Only the bitterness remains

The presidential popularity polls conducted by Iowa's Republican party probably will soon be forgotten — especially because they're unrelated to the official selection process but the bitterness over alleged vote buying could linger for

Charges and countercharges abounded when the Iowa GOP recently held a candidate "cattle show" and fund-raising dinner at Iowa State University in Ames, Iowa.

Candidate George P. Bush's campaign staff denied charges made by opponents that many of its well-heeled backers had earlier in the year purchased blocks of "season tickets" for the entire package of 1980 state Republican functions.

Aides to both John B. Connally and Robert J. Dole were accused by competitors of attempting to sway the voting by soliciting wealthy supporters to buy the $50 dinner tickets required to participate in the "straw poll."

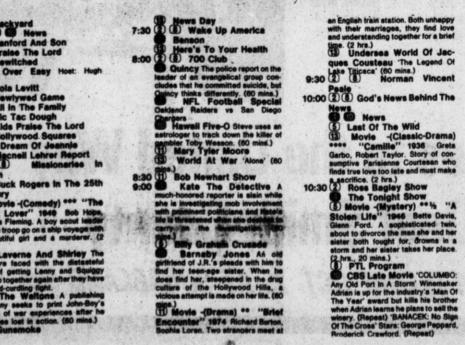

The Connally campaign denied the accusations. Dole backers did buy almost $20,000 worth of tickets — but something went wrong because he finished only third in the voting.

Kings Manor Auxiliary Announces Bingo Party

Recently Kings Manor Auxiliary held their semi annual meeting in the Lamar Garden room of the manor with a program on "Range of Motion Therapy" given by John Cox, Physical Therapist at Deaf Smith General Hospital.

Cox was quoted in saying "range of motion means the amount of movement in a persons joints. Physical therapy of the joints helps in three ways:1) promotes blood circulation 2) lubricates the joints and

3) improves and maintains joint mobility. This should be done twice daily for best results, and this calls for volunteers."

After his program, Lottie Wertenberger shared an experience she had as a volunteer. She stated that volunteers are needed for a day a week and an hour each day. If anyone is interested in becoming a volunteer they should contact Betty Henson at the Red Cross

Spurs, Blazers, Lakers Win in NBA

By ALEX SACHARE AP Sports Writer

Cotton Fitzsimmons doesn't play any vacations in Portland, Ore. In fact, he'd just as soon not make any business trips to the Rose City, either.

"It's damn tough to win here. I'm getting tired of it." said Fitzsimmons, coach of the Kansas City Kings. Not even a trio of three-point goals by Kansas City's Otis Birdsong in the final 90 seconds could keep the Kings from dropping a 90-88 decision to the Portland Trail Blazers Tuesday night.

The Blazers are now 7-0, the best start in their 10 seasons in the National Basketball Association. Five of the victories have come at the Portland Memorial Coliseum, where the Blazers have played before 105 consecutive sellouts of 12,666.

In other NBA games, the Milwaukee Bucks beat the Phoenix Suns 114-108, the San Antonio Spurs stopped the Boston Celtics 129-120, the San Diego Clippers defeated the Denver Nug-

Baseball Writer Dies

NEW YORK (AP) - John Drebinger, one of the nation's leading baseball writers for nearly a half century, died Monday at a Greensboro, N.C., nursing home, it was announced. He was 88.

After an eight-year stint with Basketball the Staten Island Advance. Drebinger joined the sports staff of The New York Times in 1924. For 35 years, from 1929 through 1963, Drebinger wrote the page-one story for The Times on 203 consecutive World Series games.

gets 132-127, the Los Angeles Lakers downed the Utah Jazz 102-87, the Chicago Bulls edged the New Jersey Nets 108-103, the New York Knicks trounced the Indiana Pacers 136-112 and the Atlanta Hawks beat the Cleveland Cavaliers 121-111.

Portland, which has held its opponent under 90 points five times this season, was leading 88-79 with 1:46 remaining when Birdsong began firing from long

"It's only a desperation thing," he said. "We didn't set up for them, we just took them. I happened to be in the right

He hit three in a row, tying the score with 32 seconds remaining. As Portland worked for a shot, the Kings were called for kicking the ball, which meant the 24-second clock was reset and the Blazers were able to play for the final shot of the

The Blazers worked the ball inside to Tom Owens, who missed an eight-footer. But forward Kermit Washington leaped over Reggie King. tipped the ball off the backboard and into the net at the buzzer.

"I warned our team to keep Kermit off the board, but how do you do that?" said Fitzsimmons. "He just goes up over you. I guess Kermit can get an offensive rebound anytime he Birdsong led all scorers with 29 points and Phil Ford added 20 points and 11 assists for Kansas City. Owens led the balanced Blazer scoring with 17.

Clippers 132, Nuggets 127

Lloyd Free scored 11 of his 32 points in the first quarter as San Diego exploded for 40 points and went on to a hand the winless Nuggets their sixth stright loss. David Thompson had 36 points for the losers.

San Diego again played without center Bill Walton, who was scheduled to have his ailing left foot examined today in Los Angeles. The injury has kept him out of all of San Diego's seven

Lakers 102, Jazz 87

Los Angeles clinched its victory with a 14-5 burst to start the final period, opening up a commanding 86-70 lead. Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Michael Cooper led the Lakers' balanced attack with 17 points

Spurs 129, Celtics 120

George Gervin and Larry Kenon scored 28 points apiece and led a fourth-quarter surge that carried San Antonio past Boston. The score was tied 100-100 before the Spurs broke the game open with a 26-10 surge, Gervin getting eight points and Kenon seven in that spurt.

Dave Cowens had 32 points and Larry Bird 22 for the Celt-

Bulls 108, Nets 103

Rookie David Greenwood sank three free throws in the final 36 seconds to help the Bulls beat the Nets. Greenwood, a first-round draft choice from UCLA, scored a pro-high 20 points.

Knicks 136, Pacers 112

The Knicks, using an aggressive, pressing defense, broke the game open with a 31-10 spurt in the first half and were never in trouble. Toby Knight led the way with 34 points, 22 of them in the first half, while Alex English scored a career-high 37 points for Indiana.

Hawks 121, Cavs 111

The Hawks outscored the Cavs 34-20 in the second period to take command. John Drew poured in 27 points to top Atlanta while Mike Mitchell had 35 for Cleveland.

Bucks 114, Suns 108

Milwaukee raised its record to 6-1, best in the Midwest Division, by handing the Suns their fourth straight loss. Marques Johnson led the way with 32 points and Brian Winters hit a clutch jumper in the final minute to put the game away.

It's A Kids Game

By WILL GRIMSLEY AP Special Correspondent

"Baseball is a kid's game. I'm an adult playing a kid's game. I admit it. It's like having a license to steal."

Pete Rose is a baseball anachronism - a Ty Cobb in tight-fitting double knits, a $3.2-million commodity with a corner lot psychology, an anachronism whose affluence has not dulled his enthusiasm

Who is this stubby little guy, who is methodically destroying Ty Cobb's proudest records, who is threatening to become the greatest hitter of all time. whose fighting grit has enthralled a nation?

Biblically speaking, by his words ye shall know him:

"Money doesn't determine how well I play. I've got to give it 101 per cent every time I go out on the field, whether I make $12,000, as I did at Cincinnati in 1965 when I got 209 hits, or whether I make $800,000 or $900,000 as this year when I got 208. I never see my checks, anyhow." (They all go to agent-

At 5-11, 200 pounds, Rose can't be considered a model athletic specimen, at 38 he is getting long on the tooth as ball players go. Critics say he can't run or throw.

"I know how to run. I know how to throw. But nobody says I can't hit. I always could hit. As for my age, I've seen some guys over the hill at 28 and others good at 40 like the Cy Young winner last year (Gaylord manager. I play for a team, the city and the fans. But the one thing I regretted going to Philadelphia was that I had to be a part of Danny getting fired. It wasn't Danny's fault. Every man on the team was responsible. I was responsible."

Rose, who erased another of Cobb's records by getting 200 hits in his 10th season and who was on base more than 300 times counting 96 walks, showed his true character when he was presented the Aqua Velva Cup for compiling the year's longest hitting streak - 23 games. The award carried cash prize of $23,000 - $1,00 for each game.

"I gave that away wee ago," Rose said. "I gave it the coaches, the trainers ar clubhouse crew. Just as I gav away nine Jeeps to guys in Cir cinnati when I left there. Tho guys don't get paid much, be they are always helping out pitching batting practice, get ting things you need.

"I not only care for the stars I also care for the little people.' Rose paused and, provin he's human, added:

"Besides, it's a tax writeoff."

Steelers Favored Over Cowboys

burgh Steelers are three and one-half point favorites for Sunday's meeting with the Dallas Cowboys and Tom Landry says 'that's about right."

"I hope we can play a good game but they ought to be favored," said the Dallas coach. "They are playing very well again and they are at home."

However, don't construe Landry's statement as running up a white flag. "We feel good and we feel like we can win," said Landry. "We might not have felt that way at the start of the season. But there was a question about our defense then. Our defense is getting much better." Asked if he was miffed that the Cowboys had to play in Pittsburgh for the second consecutive year during the regular season, Landry laughed and said "I was surprised."

The meeting in Pittsburgh this year came about because of the National Football League's new scheduling which called for the National Conference Eastern champion to play the American Conference Central champion on the road in 1979.

Landry said he doesn't look upon the meeting as a Super Bowl rematch.

We had our chance to win that other game (the Super Bowl) and we didn't,"said Landry. "They don't give you a trophy if you beat 'em Sunday. They just give you one game."

The Cowboys posted a 7-1 record in the first half of the season-best in the NFL.

"It would be a miracle for us to go 7-1 in the second half of the season because we play all the contenders," said Landry. "We have to play Pittsburgh, Washington, Philadelphia, and Houston. That's a lot of contenders to go through.'

"The Steelers put on a re-markable display last night," said Landry who watched their 42-7 victory over the Denver Broncos Monday night. "Nobody could have beaten them the way they played. Fortu-

PALESTINE, Texas (AP) -Two of three Texas prison inmates who slashed a warden's throat, injured a guard and escaped from the Coffield Unit of the Texas Department of Corrections near here were captured early today.

A Texas Department of Public Safety spokesman said the two men were captured before dawn in a wooded area of Rusk County near Henderson.

The men abandoned an automobile stolen in the escape and were on foot at the time they were apprehended, he said. Officers were combing the woods for the third escapee. The DPS identified the escapees as Raul C. Martinez, Federico Reyna and Joe S. Arriola, but were unable to determine the names of the two men who were apprehended. The men were described as armed and dangerous, a DPS spokesman said.

The unidentified warden was in critical condition with his throat slashed, A guard suffered a broken arm and was listed in good condition.

The men escaped from the prison unit in an automobile equipped with an inter-city police radio system, officers said.

United Way... responds to your comments

COMMENT: It appears to me that with a dozenplus agencies to support, each organization would do its own soliciting and receive more money than thru the one drive, to be divided among all. I don't know how your division is justifiably made. ANSWER: The business people of this community have expressed themselves in many ways, about their disgust with some organization calling on them every month for support. It seems that most of the support is expected to come from businesses or thru business to include their employees. Business people are not going to put up with that for long. Also the volunteers who help to make the solicitation would become so "burned out" that soon few people would work on 12 different drives. Each drive would have some expense. It is a fact that it is less expensive to conduct one drive rather than 12. The division of the money collected is based on the need of each agency. Each one is required to bring their needs to a Budget And Admissions Committee. The goal of the total trive is made by adding together the needs of all agencies. If the total is more than the United Way Board feels this community can support, all agencies are cut and each agency is asked to trim their expenses.

COMMENT: I think when the kids have a part in helping agencies such as selling candy, light bulbs, etc., they feel a part of the project. This is important. Also the United Way Fund can not go around to meet all their needs. I would be happy to purchase what they have to sell to help their organizations.

ANSWER: The comment above is typical of the many we received in favor of a product sale. Because of the survey and these comments, one of the first actions taken by the new board of directors in their first meeting this year was to reinstate the product sale. The board appreciates all your comments and you will have an opportunity to buy Campfire Candy in November. Buy a bunch...Christmas isn't far away.

Student, 15, Dies After Beating

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) - The flag was at half-staff. Television cameras and police officers were evident and the 39 remaining Rodeo Club members wore stunned and solemn expressions. There was something very wrong Tuesday at usually sedate Holmes High School.

Fifteen-year-old Billy Barnett Jr., described as a quiet, polite sophomore member of the Rodeo Club, had died Monday afternoon while being beaten after school by six other Holmes students from a rival faction.

Officials said Tuesday that Barnett died when a congenitally weak artery burst in his brain, not from injuries suffered in the fight.

Administrators and teachers, admittedly surprised that there had been any problems, hoped that tensions would be eased when stunned students learned of the medical examiner's ruling from teachers and extensive newspaper and television reports. They took steps Tuesday to calm the situation and prevent further fighting.

"The news of the ruling might help some, but I think it will take a long time to overcome the damage that's been done," said Charles Brown, 47, principal of the 3,100-student surbuban high school in northwest San Antonio. "It will take a long time to outlive something like this."

Police investigators said-they were told the fight stemmed from tension between "kickers," students who belong to the Rodeo Club, take agriculture classes and dress in country-and-western style, and "pot heads," students who allegedly smoke marijuana and dress in "hippie" fashion.

assailants. Some of the wit- reports of threats, he added. nesses admitted they were frightened and refused to talk to reporters.

Barnett was followed off the bus collapsed, his assailants fled. Police initially treated the care as a homicide.

"The artery happened to rupture during the altercation. There weren't enough injuries to blame this on the altercation," Bexar County Medical Examiner Dr. Ruben Santos

Unable To Forget

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Rowdy Newingham emerged from captivity scarred, emaciated and in many ways shackled to haunting memories of four years, two days and 17 hours in Viet Cong prison camps.

Living chained in a 4-foot-tall tiger cage, he dwindled from 203 to 78 pounds on a diet of insects and grass. His ribs and shoulders bear the scars from frequent beatings.

"I've got more scars on the inside than the outside. I've learned to live with it," said Newingham, 36, who has found it hard to put the ordeal behind

"I have to talk about it. I figure if I keep it bottled up inside, then I'll really have problems."

Newingham attributed his survival to "a little bit of hate, a whole lot of pride and a whole lot of trying to show the Vietnamese that Americans have the best country ever." He returned two years after his family had been notified he was dead. His wife filed for divorce the day after his release was announced as part of the prisoner exchange program brought about by the Paris He kept a copy of his death

"I had more time to think about my values. I think I am a more sensitive person, because I had so much time for soul searching," said Newingham.

His experience has made him a fierce supporter of anti-Communist efforts of U.S. foriegn policy. Under no circumstances, he said, will he go to see a Jane Fonda movie, regardless of the content.

During the next four years, he endured the mental torture of being told almost every day that he would be killed - and wondering why he was not.

"It starts to warp your skull after a while. Sometimes I felt like saying, 'Go ahead, do it, kill me. At least that would stop all the suffering. It would have been very easy to lay down and just die." he said.

Doctors examined him upon his release found he had suffered from beriberi, mala parasites.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Hair spray does it again

DEAR POLLY - I have read the column for years but never thought I would be in a situation to ask for help. Now a ballpoint pen has messed up a beautiful white synthetic sweater badly. My big problem is what to do, — MRS. R.K. — The American Institute of Laundering suggests applying ordinary hair spray to ballpoint ink stains, allow it to dry and then launder as usual. Repeat if necessary. - POLLY. DEAR POLLY - To save energy we have TV-watching quality parties. We invite neighbors and friend to watch special programs 211 like the World Series, Academy Awards, hockey games, etc. This 50

DEAR POLLY - On a recent trip to the cabin at the lake I forgot to take any pants hangers so I took two clip clothespins and clipped them on a regular metal coat hanger and then put the pants, skirts or slacks in the clip clothespins.

Buttons are now so expensive so whenever I discard a garment I first cut off the buttons, slip them on a string and tie the ends together so when I need buttons there is no more searching around for matching ones. - MARY P. DEAR POLLY - I would like to pass on to the reader who wanted to know how to clean coffee stains out of her electric , percolator the suggestion that came with mine. Fill percolator with water as you would do if making coffee and add two teaspoons of cream of tartar. Let this perk and then empty pot and rub well with anything that is not abrasive. DEAR POLLY - I use a bulb-type baster to suck the excess grease from the pan in which I have cooked hamburgers and find this is easier than draining off the fat.

Also, I keep a pair of swimming goggles in the kitchen to put on when I peel onions. — CONNIE

DEAR POLLY — About a week before going on a vacation or a weekend trip, I make a list of the things that will be needed. I have three children and under each child's name (and my husband's and mine, too) I put down each item of clothing, etc. that will be needed as I think of it. When trip
